FAMOUS CHARACTERS from history made a brief appearance at South school last Thursday. To conclude an intensive study of their favorite character, members of Mrs. Stevens' 5th grade class read biographies and historical stories and then climaxed it all with a dress-up day in a costume depicting the character. Present were F.D.R., Mickey Mantle, Pochahontas, Ben Franklin, Albert Einstein, Adolf Hitler, and others. Students in their costumes were, front row, left to right, Justin Walters,

Construction Expected To Start By May 15 on Area Golf Course, Park

It looks like the golf course and park project around Pierce Lake is on track after both Lima and Sylvan township planning commissions recently granted special use permits for the development.

"We're aiming for construction to start by May 15," said Fred Barkley, director of Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation, Monday, March 28.

"We're in the process of preparing final site plans and bid documents; and a picture of the plan will be available in about a week," Barkley said.

According to the present schedule, the golf course will open August 1995.

The county park project includes a 200-acre golf course and a 25-acre park. The property is located east of M-52 off Old US-12.

The project is being funded by a $400,000 grant from the Michigan Land Trust Fund which was applied toward the land purchase. The county will spend an estimated $3.5 million to build the golf course and year-around park. On Sept. 8, the county board of commissioners voted to back the sale of $1.4 million in bonds to fund construction. The remaining funding will come from parks and recreation monies.

The golf course is expected to generate at least 36,000 rounds per year. The course will be open to the public on a first come, first served basis.

The park will be staffed year around with winter ice skating and cross country skiing. There will be no charge for these activities.

The club house will be used as a warming area in the winter and may have skates and skis available for rent. It will also house a snack bar offering soft drinks and sandwiches. No alcohol will be served.

Arcus Corp., which sold the property and donated 50 acres, retained 107 acres including about 60 acres for housing to be developed.

Education Foundation Makes 5 Mini-Grants

Chelsea Education Foundation recently announced the recipients of its 1994 Mini-Grants. Each year the Foundation funds small grants to Chelsea organizations and individuals to support educational projects and events. The Foundation is interested in funding a wide range of educational projects, both in and outside of the schools, that benefit the Chelsea community.

The following were the recipients of this year's awards:

• North Elementary School Student Council—$250 to create, enhance and preserve a wildlife habitat on the school grounds,

• McKune Memorial Library—$250 to help build an audio collection for preschool through high school students,

• Preprimary Impaired Program, Chelsea School District—$400 to purchase on (WOLF) communication device that enables non-verbal children to communicate with each other and with verbal children and adults,

• Chelsea High School Outdoor Club Caving Trip—$500 to replace tents, rope and head gear for annual caving trip to Kentucky,

• Fourth Grade Teachers—North Elementary School—$400 to update and replace computer software for fourth grade students.

"It was exciting to see the breadth of the Mini-Grant proposals," said Dayle Wright, special member of the Mini-Grant Review Committee. "It was difficult to choose between so many good projects."

The Chelsea Education Foundation is a non-profit organization founded in 1990. The Foundation is dedicated to enriching the educational experiences available to all members of the Chelsea community.

Drive Started To Fund Bone Marrow Search

Scott Hinderer needs a bone marrow transplant and as always the residents of Chelsea are rising to the challenge. Two weeks ago The Chelsea Standard featured a story about Scott's plight. After reading the article, Gilda Elkins, a Chelsea resident and an employee of Great Lakes Bancorp, decided she wanted to do more to help Scott.

Having her blood tested as a potential donor wasn't enough for Gilda. She approached her employer about becoming involved in a bigger way. Great Lakes Bancorp has agreed to donate $250 to sponsor the testing of one of the 166 individuals who may be a possible match for Scott. They would also like to challenge the other businessmen and women of Chelsea to do the same. All donations have a specific purpose.

Checks should be made to the Zion Lutheran Church, Scott Hinderer Trust. They will then be forwarded to Harper Hospital in Detroit where the transplant will probably be performed.

The first priority will be to fund the search for a compatible donor. Secondly, there are many medical expenses associated with Scott's illness that are not covered by his medical insurance. Once a donor is found, the medical insurance will take over and the actual transplant will be covered by it.

It is very important to note the far-reaching potential of your donation. Once these 166 people are tested the results will be entered into the National Marrow Donor Program where they will become available internationally as well as locally. You could be responsible for saving the life of a child in Hong Kong, a mother in Los Angeles or a little boy in Chelsea, Michigan.

Gilda Elkins' sister, Peggy Gillespie, died of leukemia several years ago before bone marrow transplants were really being done. From personal experience, she knows Scott's struggle is a painful and urgent one.

Great Lakes Bancorp will be sending an appeal to every business in Chelsea requesting their involvement in this fund drive. Letters will be followed up with a call from a Great Lakes Bancorp employee. If you are interested in making a donation, please send it directly to the Zion Lutheran Church, 3050 Fletcher Rd., Chelsea 48118.

For more information on how you can become involved in this challenge, please call Gilda Elkins at 769-6300, ext. 3451.

SCOTT HINDERER, 9, third grader at South school is shown here with his faithful 2 1/2-year-old Black Lab friend, "Gert."

Local Spotter Training Course Being Offered

"Skywarn," a basic severe weather spotter training course, is being offered at various locations around the area.

The Chelsea meeting will be conducted Tuesday, April 5, at the UAW Local 1284 Hall on M-52 south of I-94 in Sylvan township beginning at 7 p.m.

Marc Brekenridge, director Washtenaw County Emergency Management, a representative of National Weather Service and trained instructor will be featured speakers.

Chelsea Amateur Radio Club and the UAW Community Service committee are promoting the seminar for the 16th consecutive year.

Other seminars are scheduled:

- Thursday, March 31, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., at the Lincoln High school cafeteria on Willis Rd. in Augusta township.

- Saturday, April 16, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., at Washtenaw County Emergency Operations Center, lower level of sheriff's headquarters on Hogback Rd.

Training courses are offered free of charge. During the summer, a three-minute blast of the siren will be sounded at noon the first Saturday of each month to test equipment.

Village Receives Inquiry About Dana Corp. Site

Chelsea Village Council is considering a proposal by an outside company that wants to purchase two lots in the industrial park.

Jack Myers, village manager, said Monday, March 28, that he had recently received a telephone call expressing interest in the Dana Corporation building, which will be available in about a year when Dana relocates to another state. The caller represents an automotive fabricating company, similar to Dana, that is interested in moving in about a year.

SHERI NETLER

Sheri Netler Heads New Library Post

Chelsea's McKune Memorial Library has a new administrative assistant at its helm.

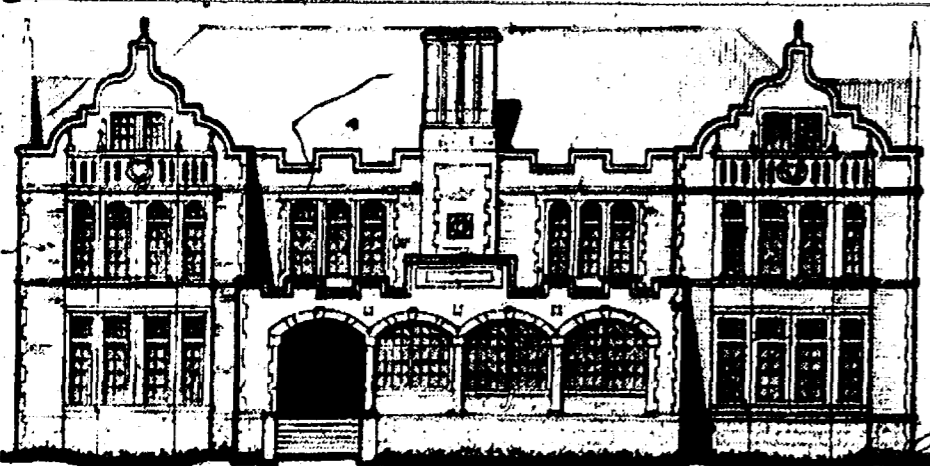

Sheri Netler, an Ann Arbor resident, recently took over the new post. Her working hours are set Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Netler was employed for seven years at the library of the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research, and she has extensive experience in word processing and secretarial services. She attended the University of Michigan and plans to return for her library degree.

"I was drawn to the Chelsea position because the work is satisfying when you need to be able to do many things," she said.

Netler's responsibilities include supervising the front desk, circulation area, and assisting library director Joanne Walker with business matters. She is presently becoming familiar with acquisitions while assisting with ordering 40 additions to the CD collection which includes a range of music from classical to rock.

The village may be on the verge of signing two new tenants for the industrial park. No one will say for the record just what the businesses are, although one of them is believed to be a local company that wants to expand. Washtenaw Development Council Executive Director Gretchen Waters discussed the possible new clients during last Tuesday's village council meeting as part of an attempt to get the village to re-join the organization. The village dropped out of WDC earlier this year, although the vote was 4-3 to retain membership. However, because it involved an unbudgeted expense, a 5-2 vote was required.

A 29,000-square-foot center for the treatment of alcohol and drug abuse by adults is scheduled to be built on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital starting next year. The project, a joint venture of the University of Michigan and Chelsea Community Hospital, will allow the hospital to expand the services it already provides through its 24-bed Kresge House.

Chelsea Village Council president Richard Steele faces one of his first major tests of support from village council next Tuesday as he plans to nominate former village president Charles Ritter for the vacant village council seat. The seat became available when Steele, a former trustee, was elected president. A year remains in the term.

In the eight days prior to Tuesday, March 20, 104 people had taken part in the village's recycling program at the village landfill. Landfill operator Cecil Clause told village council that virtually all the users came from the village and Sylvan, Lyndon, Lima and Dexter townships.

A mixture of bad weather—cold, snow and rain—delayed the start of all Chelsea High school spring sports because fields and tracks were not useable. Athletic director Philip Bareis said he hopes to get on a regular schedule next week.

Chelsea school district voters will decide next week whether or not to approve a 3.2-millage increase for operating purposes.

Nanette Push's pitching is the key to Chelsea's success in the upcoming girls softball season, coach Bill Wescott says. Push has recorded more strikeouts than any other pitcher in Chelsea history.

Sandy Eldswick, a former executive director of the Washtenaw County Cancer Society and a professional figure skater, has been named Spaulding for Children's development director, replacing Kathleen Cavanaugh.

Chelsea's Fred Holdsworth traded from the Detroit Tigers to the Milwaukee Brewers last winter, is pitching for the Brewers' Triple-A farm club in Vancouver, B.C., and has had a good spring.

★ Protecting the Public from Competition

By George C. Leet

Government regulation is often sold as a way to protect the public from harm, but the case of a Grand Rapids company that may soon close its doors tells a very different story.

Federal Armored Service, Inc. provides intrastate armored car deliveries of coin, currency, and valuables as well as courier service of documents such as cash, letters, payrolls, and commercial papers. It's in deep trouble because of Michigan's utterly ridiculous and anti-competitive trucking regulations.

In this state and in 41 others which regulate trucking, the "authority" to haul goods is granted by state government—the Michigan Public Service Commission (PSC) in our case. The PSC is empowered to determine who can be in the trucking business, what goods they can and can't transport, where they can haul them, and what rates (called "tariffs" in the trade) they can charge their customers. Doing business as a Michigan trucker means playing an elaborate and costly game of "Mother, May I?" with state bureaucrats—filling forms and begging permission every step of the way.

The regulatory apparatus, moreover, is routinely used by some of the regulated firms in an effort to discourage newcomers and keep rates artificially high. In many respects, the system bears striking resemblance to the guilds of the Middle Ages—trade associations that were protected by law from real competition.

In September, 1992, one of Federal Armored's largest competitors filed a complaint with the PSC, alleging that Federal had served customers it had no authority to serve, had failed to charge customers in accordance with its published tariffs, had given rebates, had billed on a monthly basis instead of every seven days as the PSC requires, and had violated a number of other regulations. The motive of this competitor was obvious—if Federal were found guilty of these charges, it would be declared "unfit" to hold authority and then its customers would be up for grabs.

What this competitor couldn't achieve in the marketplace, it hoped to achieve through the bureaucracy.

Federal Armored's president, Harry Larkin, spent 14 days on the witness stand and his firm's attorney fees for the case exceeded $600,000. After 15 months of deliberations, 6,600 pages of transcripts and 458 exhibits, the PSC made its decision known on Dec. 20, 1993: Federal was found to have committed at least 23,976 violations of the Motor Carrier Act. Yet, there were no public health or safety questions involved, no alleged fraud, and no complaints against Federal Armored by any of its customers. As cited by Detroit News columnist Jon Pepper on Feb. 8, the PSC actually affirmed, "The absence of shipper objection . . . is irrelevant to Federal Armored's fitness."

What were the company's crimes? For one, it was found to have served customers without "authority" to do so. Many banks it served had undergone mergers and name changes but the firm had continued to serve them without filling the "appropriate" paperwork. Each time it transported materials for its old customers, even to and from the same locations, it was breaking the law because the bureaucrats weren't informed of the name changes and hadn't been asked, "Mother, May I?"

Much of Federal Armored's business involved carrying coin and currency to and from the Detroit Federal Reserve branch bank for commercial banks. The company would bill its customers for the round trip, but the regulations required that it bill for the prescribed amount each way. Federal Armored was guilty of giving its customers unauthorized "rebates" by only charging them half the fixed rate.

The PSC's opinion states that rebates are "one of the more egregious violations of the Act" because they undermine the "ability for competitive carriers to compete on an even playing field." So the ugly truth is out: these trucking regulations are not intended to protect the public; they are intended instead to protect existing truckers from the aggressive competition that inevitably accompanies a free market.

The punishment which the PSC has meted out—the suspension of all but two of Federal Armored's "authorities" to do business and fines that will approximate the firm's entire retained earnings—will cause at least 150 Michigan workers to lose their jobs. It may very well bring about the demise of the entire company. It will also inconvenience numerous banks which had utilized the company's services.

If there is some deep and compelling public reason why trucking firms shouldn't be allowed to make contracts to serve willing customers, it has yet to be revealed. Meanwhile, 22 full-time staffers at the PSC are wasting taxpayer money in regulatory witch-hunts. Why shouldn't Michigan follow the lead of the eight progressive states that have seen fit to leave trucking to the marketplace?

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb told the fellows at the country store Saturday night that his old lady was struck with a talking spell after supper one night last week. Zeke said he was surprised because she wanted to speak her mind on two items in the paper that had got her attention recent. One was about an ironing contest for men, and the other told where the first woman had gone on duty as an airplane fighter pilot.

Usual, Zeke noted, his old lady limits her discussions to other women in the church, either at the church or in the circles they form at one another's houses once a month. He said she works him in when it comes time to list what he has or has not done that he ought to have or not. Zeke said he steers clear of the women when they swarm at his house, and when his old lady has choice words for him alone he tries to keep an outside door to his back at all times.

But last week, Zeke said, his old lady wanted his thinking on the changing places of men and women. She read where a department store in Lincoln, Neb., held an ironing contest for men, and men actual took part in it. The one that women judges said done the best job on a shirt won the prize, an iron. She told Zeke she had heard about housewives and other strange doings in family life, but this was the first evidence she had seen.

A few days later, she said, the papers told where an Air Force woman took her place with men as a fighter pilot at a base in North Carolina. There are women pilots in the military, but she is the first on regular combat duty. All the high ups said she has proved herself and that she will do all the things the men do. What is odd about these two events, she said, is their timing. Men are ironing shirts now that shirts don't need ironing, and women are flying fighters when there's nobody to fight. We got all kinds of wrinkle-free fabrics to go with push button washers and dryers, she said, and we got push button airplanes in a world where no country can put up a serious challenge to the United States.

Zeke said he agreed with his old lady, as usual, but he went on to tell her that the Tailhook tale is another side of the story. Official, a secretary of the Navy, an admiral and the military woman that complained have quit over someone that didn't happen more than two years ago. Unofficial, Zeke said, the military men closed their ranks and got on with men's business as usual. What Zeke didn't tell her but shared with the fellows is his thinking that the Indians had it right to start with. They were in charge of the hunting and fishing and the women looked after everything else.

General, the fellows agreed that Zeke's report was flawed fatal. Bug Hookum ask Zeke since when did his old lady ask his opinion on anything. Bug said Zeke reminds him of the two lanes going in the Pearly Gates, one for men that ruled their wives and one for them ruled by their wives. St. Peter got curious about a scrawny fellow in the section for wife dominators and ask him why he was standing there by himself.

The fellow shook his head and said all he knew was that this was where his old lady told him to stand when he got there.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Sandra and Stephen Kiss

Chelsea Couple Married at St. James United Church of Christ

Sandra Carraher of Chelsea and Stephen Kiss of Chelsea were married Nov. 27 at St. James United Church of Christ, Saline.

The bride is the daughter of James and Jean Carraher of Westland. The bridegroom is the son of Steve Kiss of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

The couple's wedding was officiated by the Rev. Rick Lane in front of 100 guests.

Laura Tallman of Manchester served as the maid of honor. She joined bridesmaid, Susan Carraher of Detroit, sister of the bride, in wearing a tea-length tulle dress with a gathered tulle portrait neckline accented with rhinestones and a fitted velvet bodice. Both carried bouquets of yellow freesia, dendrobium orchids, ivy, alstroemeria lilies and roses with pearls.

The bride wore an ivory French tulle and Alençon-lace gown. It had short, off-the-shoulder tunnel sleeves, a basque waist, semi-cathedral train and heavily hand-beaded clear sequins.

Other attendants were Allison Bradley and Alex Tallman, nephew of the bride. Brian Bradley served as the best man and Bob Tallman served as an usher.

The couple's reception was held at Weller's Carriage House in Saline. Afterward, they left for a five-day wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, Nev. Both are living in Chelsea and are graduates of Michigan State University.

Weight Management Class Series Starting At Chelsea Hospital

Chelsea Community Hospital is offering a Weight Management Program beginning Thursday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hospital's Large Administrative Conference Room.

This series of 12 classes is taught by a registered dietitian, and covers topics such as low calorie cooking, exercise and weight reduction, shopping tips, eating out on a low calorie diet, information on fad diets with particular emphasis given to assessing behavior modification techniques helpful to each person's weight reduction program.

For more information and to register, call the Education Department, 475-3935.

Woman's Club Hears Program on Changing Health Care Patterns

Woman's Club of Chelsea met March 22 at the home of Linda Cole. Marjorie Hepburn introduced the speaker, Chris Hayer, A.C.S.W., who spoke on the changing patterns in Health Care, expectations concerned with Health Care Reform and resources presently available for acute and extended care. An informative question and answer period resulted in meaningful discussion.

The business meeting was conducted by Lois Moore, president. Two guests were welcomed: Carol Stidwell and Alberta Wade. Assisting as co-hostesses were Mary Lou Bower and Beth Lyster.

The Annual Business Meeting for members only will take place April 26. Business will include annual reports and election of officers. The final meeting of this season will be the Annual May Dinner May 10.

The Woman's Club of Chelsea meets monthly, September to May, for fellowship and community service. Anyone interested in more information may call the membership chairperson, 475-3019, or president, 475-8743.

Students are taught artificial respiration, one rescuer CPR and first aid for obstructed airway (choking) for an adult or infant/child victim. Participants successfully completing the class will receive certification by American Heart Association.

Pre-registration is required by calling the Education Department, 475-3935.

Weekly Meditation Classes Slated At Chelsea Hospital

Weekly group meditation to support those interested in learning how to meditate, and those wishing to deepen their commitment to the practice is offered each week in the Women's Health Center of Chelsea Community Hospital.

This weekly group meets every Tuesday from 6 to 8:30 p.m. in the Women's Health Center with Allison Hine. There is no fee and no registration.

Genealogical Society Sponsoring Workshop

Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County will sponsor the Everton Workshop Saturday, April 16, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Washtenaw Community College Liberal Arts and Science Building, Ann Arbor.

The Evertons will present their popular "Climbing Your Family Tree Can Be Fun" genealogy research seminar.

Four topics will be covered: Finding Your Female Ancestors, Canadian Sources in LDS Family History Centers, British Research, and Immigration/Emigration.

The cost for the seminar includes a year's subscription to the Genealogical Helper. Bring a brown bag lunch. Mail your registration by April 2, to: Charole Callard, 1033 Parnona Rd., Ann Arbor 48103. Make checks payable to: Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County.

The Evertons will have publications for sale and GSWC Library duplicates will be available for purchase.

A primary risk factor for heart disease is lack of regular exercise.

Moderate exercise three times a week is sufficient to decrease the risk. The kinds and amounts of food eaten also helps reduce the chances of a heart attack.

College Week Set For June 22-24 On MSU Campus

By Terry Jones, Extension Home Economist
College Week, a three-day, live-and-learn educational program sponsored by Michigan State University Extension's Home Economics Program, will take place June 22-24 on the MSU campus in East Lansing.

The more than 35 classes, workshops, tours and evening programs are designed to enlighten, energize and entertain you while you experience the atmosphere and lifestyle of a college campus and meet some friendly people, says Joan Witter, College Week program co-ordinator.

Classes deal with current issues and concerns in the areas of parenting, financial planning for the '90s, food and nutrition, health issues, public policy issues, leadership, personal development and housing. Classes will be taught by Extension staff members, MSU faculty members and resource specialists from around the state.

Featured speakers are Sheila Feigelson of Ann Arbor, a nationally-noted specialist in HRD, humor resource development, who will help participants look at ways to increase their laugh levels; and Dan Clark of Salt Lake City, an award-winning athlete who fought his way back from a paralyzing injury, who will speak on "The Art of Being Alive," and Maureen Burns of Greenville, who will discuss "Run With Your Dreams."

For 67 years, College Week participants of all ages and backgrounds have come to the MSU campus each year for three days of education and enjoyment.

"This year close to 800 participants are expected to attend," Witter says.

The cost of the program is $150, which includes meals, two nights' lodging, all registration fees and class materials. Participants live and dine in a university residence hall. A number of extracurricular events are planned, including afternoon workshops, local tours, and special evening activities.

Persons who wish to attend College Week and commute each day may do so for a conference fee of $65, which includes lunch each day. People can also choose to attend College Week for one day: The one-day fee is $35 and includes lunch.

For further information about College Week, contact your local county MSU Extension office at 313-971-0079, 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, or write to Extension Home Economics, College Week, 103 Human Ecology, Michigan State University, East Lansing 48824, or call (517) 353-9353.

American consumers spend about $23 billion each year for fresh beef in grocery stores. Fresh beef represents more than seven percent of all grocery store sales.

Karl Fink Seeking Circuit Court Position

District Judge Karl V. Fink has announced his candidacy for the position of Judge of the Washtenaw County Circuit Court to fill the vacancy which will exist when Judge Ager retires at the end of his current term.

In announcing his candidacy, Judge Fink stated: "For over 15 years I have served the citizens of Washtenaw county as District Judge, handling thousands of cases. At the request of the Circuit Court, I have been assigned as Circuit Judge handling every type of Circuit Court case, and I continue to do so. I have been a supporter of a Unified Court for Washtenaw county and I want to see it fully implemented. As a Circuit Court Judge, my District Court experience will make me uniquely qualified to help achieve this. As Judge, my goal is to treat each individual appearing in court, in whatever capacity, with dignity and respect, and to decide cases on the facts and the law in such a manner that the public will know that I handle matters before me promptly, fairly and impartially. I look forward to the opportunity to serve as Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge."

Judge Fink, 54, was raised in Ypsilanti where he graduated from high school in 1967. He then entered the University of Michigan where he was on the wrestling team, receiving his Bachelor of Business Administration degree in 1961. He entered the United States Army and served as a paratrooper and assistant personnel officer and wrestled on an international sports military wrestling team.

After his Army active duty, Fink entered U-M Law School, from which he received a Juris Doctor degree in 1965. He entered private practice in Ypsilanti with his father, Robert V. Fink until he became a Washtenaw county assistant prosecuting attorney in 1967. During his five years in the prosecutor's office, he was promoted to senior assistant prosecuting attorney and then had supervisory responsibility for all cases from the 14th District Court area and for all appeals from all Washtenaw county courts. In 1972 he re-entered private practice with his father until Robert V. Fink was appointed 14th District Court Judge. At that time, Fink merged his practice with the firm Ulrich Pear & Fink, P.C. where he practiced until becoming a judge.

Judge Fink has been admitted to practice before all Michigan Courts, the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, the United States Tax Court and the Supreme Court of the United States. In 1972 and 1973 he was elected by Washtenaw county lawyers to represent sent them in the State Bar of Michigan Representative Assembly.

In 1978 Fink was elected District Judge and he has been re-elected twice. As Judge he has heard cases in Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Milan, Saline, Manchester, Ypsilanti, Pittsfield township and Ypsilanti township. Judge Fink has been Chief Judge of the 14th District and is now Chief Judge Pro-tem.

Judge Fink is a member of various community organizations and is on the advisory board of the Salvation Army of Ypsilanti and on the board of directors of Community Partnership, a substance abuse prevention organization.

He and his wife, Jane, a psychotherapist in private practice, have six children and two grandchildren.

Retailers Assoc. Distributes New 6% Sales Tax Table

The Michigan Retailers Association has mailed the new 6 percent sales tax table—authorized by voters March 15 when they approved Proposal A—to all Association members and other interested retailers.

"Although the new sales tax table doesn't take effect until May 1, we want to provide retailers with the information immediately," said Larry Meyer, MRA vice-chairman and chief executive officer.

"We have mailed thousands of copies of the new schedule as a public service in order to give retailers plenty of time to adjust to the sweeping changes."

All MRA members receive a tax schedule automatically. Other retailers may call MRA's toll-free number, (800) 366-3699, to request a copy, Meyer said.

The tax table was provided by the Department of Treasury and is being printed and mailed at Michigan Retailers Association expense.

Meyer predicted retailers will be able to make the collection changes with a minimum of problems or inconvenience.

The Michigan Retailers Association represents 4,000 retail companies operating more than 5,600 stores across Michigan. It is the largest state retail trade organization in the United States.

Farm Group Says Bill Lacks Property Rights Protection

A House wetlands bill, H.R. 3465, fails to provide property rights protection, and does not define or classify wetlands based on their function and value. The legislation should establish a reasonable definition of wetlands that excludes lands more suited to other purposes, according to Michigan Farm Bureau. The state's largest farm organization is encouraged by an amendment that appears to exempt prior-converted cropland from wetlands regulation.

"Central to the wetlands issue is the need to protect private property rights," said Al Almy, MFB director of public affairs. "We believe any wetlands legislation that passes Congress must contain adequate protection of private property rights. Congress should pass legislation that requires compensation if restrictive government regulation reduces the value or use of private property."

Almy said that Farm Bureau is also concerned that H.R. 3465 includes a broad definition of activities requiring a wetlands permit, requires consultation between different federal agencies in making wetlands determinations and allows the involvement of third parties in wetlands appeals regarding private property.

Almy called on Congress to define wetlands and develop delineation guidelines based on sound science. He said that in order to protect "true" wetlands, without imposing regulations on lands suited to other purposes, Congress should require three essential criteria—visible evidence of water, saturated soils and a predominance of wetlands vegetation.

Job Training Agency Gets Federal Technical Assistance Funding

Doug Rothwell, chief executive officer of the Michigan Jobs Commission, today announced the award of $31,487 in special Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) Technical Assistance funds to the Washtenaw County Job Training and Placement Division.

In announcing the award Rothwell said, "This grant reflects our commitment to provide service delivery partners with access to the kinds of specialized technical assistance services that will enable them to function more efficiently in carrying out their job responsibilities."

The agency will use grant funds to contract with an independent consultant firm to provide staff training regarding the impact of the recent JTPA amendments on local program delivery, to implement management changes which meet revised federal program standards, and to modernize the agency's internal fiscal control procedures.

John Barr Announces For 14th District Court

John Barr has announced his candidacy for Washtenaw county 14A District Court. Barr is seeking the seat that will be left vacant with the retirement of Judge Thomas Shea.

Barr was voted the attorney most qualified for the district judgeship in a recent judicial qualifications polling of the Washtenaw County Bar Association.

Barr is the president of the Washtenaw County law firm of Barr, Anhalt and Sacks, with offices in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. He has been in practice in Washtenaw county since 1959. Barr is the Ypsilanti city attorney, appointed in 1981. He has also represented Augusta and Canton townships, and the Tecumseh DDA.

He is a past president of the Washtenaw County Bar Association, and past president of the Michigan Association of Municipal Attorneys. He is past chair of the Michigan Municipal League Legal Defense Fund, and is listed in "Who's Who in the Midwest," and "Who's Who in American Law." He presently serves as chair of a hearing panel for the State Bar Attorney Discipline Board.

Barr is active in community work. He is past president of Ypsilanti Family Service, past co-chair of the attorneys section of Washtenaw United Way, and has served in various leadership roles for the Boy Scouts of America including vice-president of the local Scout Council.

Barr said: "My many years of legal practice have prepared me well for the role of district judge. But, the people have a right to expect more of their judge than an extensive knowledge of the law. We also need judges who can lead the court system into the information age through the extensive use of computer technology. The people deserve judges who will increase the accessibility and responsiveness of the courts, finding ways to speed decisions and make the courts more user-friendly. I am committed to making all of those things happen."

"Most of all, however, we need judges who will work to encourage confidence and respect for law among the people of our community. As judge, I will provide leadership in the effort to educate our youth and to get citizens more involved in grass roots efforts to reduce crime, violence and drug use. For example, I support the idea of holding actual court sessions at middle schools throughout the county so that students can see, first hand, how the system works."

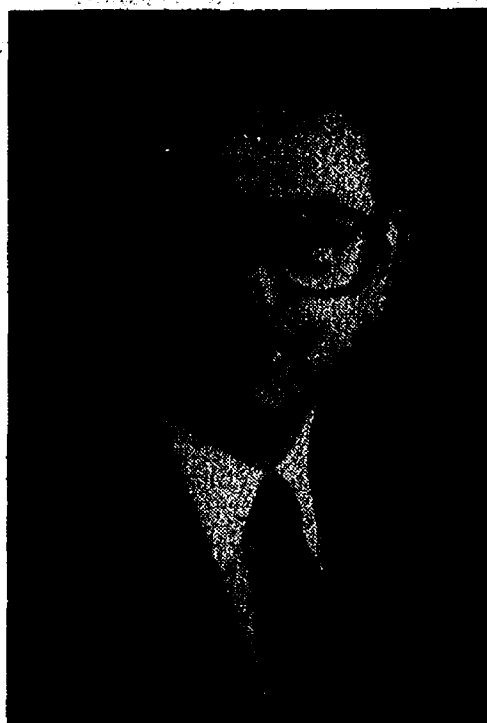

Barr is married (Marlene Joy) and has three adult children, all in college.

Bill Ager Running For Circuit Court

William F. Ager, III, has announced his candidacy for the Washtenaw County Circuit Court. Ager, 44, is an Ann Arbor native and is a partner in the law firm of Gage, Beach and Ager, in Southfield.

In announcing his candidacy, Ager stressed his experience as a litigator. "I am firmly committed to allowing all parties to have their day in court. My role on the bench will be a continuation of my practice, enabling people to seek justice on a level playing field. The issues facing the court today are very complex. In addition to knowing the law, a good judge must be independent, thoughtful, and fair, able to respond to people not as case numbers, but as individuals. My wide range of experiences lends strength to my ability to be that kind of judge."

Bill Ager grew up in Ann Arbor, graduating from St. Thomas High school before attending Michigan State University, where he was a walk-on member of the MSU freshman basketball team. After a career-ending injury, he transferred to the University of Michigan, graduating in 1972. While in college, he participated in the Harvard Studies Program, travelling and studying in the Soviet Union. Soon after graduation, at the height of the Vietnam conflict, Bill joined the U.S. Army, serving both as a Russian interpreter/translator and on the staff of the Army's fledgling Freedom of Information Center. After receiving an honorable discharge in 1976, he worked in several public service organizations, including Head Start and the Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children.

Working on behalf of those unable to defend themselves eventually brought Bill to the decision to seek a degree in law. In 1982, he graduated from the Detroit College of Law, joining the firm of Bushnell, Gage, Doctoroff, and Reizen in Southfield, taking on cases in products liability, personal injury, medical malpractice, discrimination and commercial litigation. He has been a partner at Gage, Beach, and Ager since 1990, practicing in the courts in Michigan and Texas.

Ager's father, William F. Ager, Jr., is retiring from the Washtenaw County Circuit Court. Bill and his wife, Barbara, a registered nurse, live in Loch Alpine with their three children.

BOY SCOUTS

TROOP 477

The scouts of Troop 477 started the medicine merit badge on March 14. It is being taught by Dr. Chapman from St. Joe's Hospital. 15 scouts (the ones first class and up) started the badge. They talked about the Canadian and U.S. health care plans. Five kids are expected to report on two things each, next week.

Eric Johnson, scribe.

Scouts of Troop 477 went on a sub-marine, in Muskegon. They arrived at 6 p.m. on Saturday, March 5. The sub was called the USS Silverides, a World War II submarine. When it came to getting assigned bunks, everyone wanted a top bunk, but many got foot-low bunks. Ben Stoddard passed off his scoutmaster conference and board of review. The sub smelled bad, but the 21 scouts and four leaders had a great time.

...and the dead shall be raised incorruptible.
—Bible, New Testament

Easter is not only the most significant date in the Christian calendar, it is also a very happy season, and for good reason! Jesus' triumph over death, promising us eternal life after death, must certainly be the most glorious of all events... at least for those who believe in Jesus as the Son of God.

The promise of a better life after death and reunion with those who have gone ahead is the most perfect solace for any who grieve. Because of Easter, death has lost its sting... its terrible finality. Our hope is that people of all faiths will worship God in their own way on this Easter... with reverence and thankfulness.

EMILY AREND, an 8th grade student at Beach Middle school, has been chosen as first-place winner with her essay on "My Roots in America and How I Can Nourish Them." Emily's English teacher at Beach school, Mary Baker is displaying a plaque engraved with her name which will be displayed in the school. Emily is holding an award certificate commending her for the efforts.

Emily Arend Wins Essay Contest on 'America & Me'

Emily Arend, an eighth grade student at Dwight Beach Middle school in Chelsea, has been named a local winner in the 25th annual America & Me Essay Contest, sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance.

Emily has received an award certificate for the achievement and her name is engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school.

Emily's first-place essay now advances to the state level competition, from which the top 10 essays in Michigan will be selected. The top 10 state-wide winners, who will be announced in May, will receive plaques and U.S. savings bonds valued from $500 to $1,000. In addition, the top 10 essayists will be honored at a banquet in Lansing and at a meeting with Michigan's top governmental leaders in late May.

A team of finalist judges that includes top governmental leaders will determine the top state-wide winners.

Several thousand eighth grade students from almost 450 Michigan schools participated in the 1993-94 America & Me Essay Contest, which was conducted with the help of Farm Bureau Insurance agents across the state. The topic of the 1993-94 contest was "My Roots in America and How I Can Nourish Them."

Started in 1968 and open to all Michigan eighth grade students, the contest encourages Michigan youngsters to explore their roles in America's future. As sponsor of the contest, Farm Bureau Insurance has earned 11 national awards from the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge.

Emily's winning essay follows.

"My Roots in America and How I Can Nourish Them"
By Emily Arend
3512 Notten Rd., Grass Lake
Beach Middle School, 8th Grade

It seems most appropriate that a girl growing up on a Christmas tree farm should be writing about her "roots" in America. I am the fourth generation of a Christmas tree growing family and it gives me great pride to know my ancestors were hardworking people and true pioneers in the Michigan Christmas tree industry.

In 1939, my great-grandfather planted spruce seedlings on 10 remote acres of his farm in Salline, Michigan, and thus established my family's roots in Christmas trees. In those years, trees were not readily available and the city folks drove as far as the Upper Peninsula to cut a fresh Balsam fir. Others bought pre-cut trees, imported from Canada, in retail lots around town. My great-grandfather realized that people needed a local source for freshly cut trees. His wife believed in holiday traditions and invited family and friends to cut a tree at the farm. Soon she was donating trees to local businesses, churches, and shops.

My grandfather, a forestry student at the University of Michigan, encouraged his father to plant more species and began to look for more land. This "hobby" was beginning to consume valuable farm land, and the corn and wheat were still top priority. What started out as a hobby then, has grown to become a 400-acre business today.

Although I had nothing to do with our farm's beginnings, I plan to nourish these roots by promoting the use of real Christmas trees. If people understand the advantages that real trees offer our environment, then perhaps they will support the Christmas tree growers in our state.

It is essential that my generation protects the earth by not polluting the air we breathe. Trees are valuable resources because they put oxygen into the atmosphere. One acre of Christmas trees can supply the daily oxygen necessary for 18 people. Trees also absorb carbon dioxide and other harmful gases, delaying the global warming "greenhouse effect" on the earth.

After the holidays, a real tree can be recycled. It can be chipped up and used as mulch in the garden, sunk into fish ponds to serve as a feeding place and refuge, or placed in a yard as a bird feeder or winter shelter.

There is a common misconception that cutting down real trees at Christmastime will destroy valuable forests. In reality, for every tree harvested on a Christmas tree farm, two or three seedlings are planted in its place.

Looking beyond the environmental benefits of a live tree, it also symbolizes hope, peace, and goodwill. A tree with all its trimmings has an enchanting effect on us. Just the fragrance of a freshly cut tree can stir up images of Christmases past and cherished memories as well. I hope to encourage my generation to carry on the family tradition of cutting down the Christmas tree, decorating it, and letting its splendor be a gift for the whole family to enjoy together.

County Deputies Report Runaways, Break-ins

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies investigated several incidents in Dexter Village and Scio, Lyndon and Dexter townships, March 18-23.

Lyndon Township
Criminal sexual misconduct was reported in the 2000 block of Island Lake Rd., March 20. A 14-year-old township girl told police her 19-year-old step-brother fondled her and tried to rape her. The incident happened March 19. Police received a call about 10 p.m. to meet with the girl in the 9000 block of Beeman Rd., where some family friends brought her after she called for help. The girl told police she was outside with her step-brother and two of his friends using the trampolines. The siblings' parents had left for a party. The girl said her step-brother picked her up and carried her to his bedroom and locked the door. Once inside, he covered her mouth with one hand and fondled her with the other, according to the police report. Then, she said, he tried to rape her, but she managed to push him off. He then unlocked the door and left the residence with his friends, she said. That's when she called her Beeman Rd. friends to pick her up. The girl told police her step-brother had been consuming alcohol prior to the incident, and he had tried similar incidents in the past. The girl was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital's emergency room. Both Chelsea police and deputies searched for the suspect, but were unable to locate him. Social services were also notified of the incident.

Dexter Township
Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 9700 block of Dexter-Pinckney Rd., March 20. A 64-year-old homeowner told police someone threw baby jars filled with white paint at his home. One of the jars smashed a double-pane window to the home, causing $200 in damages. Deputies confiscated one of the unbroken jars to submit for possible fingerprint analysis. The victim told police that someone has also been harassing his family with hang-up telephone calls.

Malicious destruction of property was reported at Inverness Country Club, a golf course on North Territorial Rd., March 20. A Pinckney man told police someone drove a vehicle over the golf course, damaging two greens, marker flags and a rain shelter. The incident happened between 6 p.m. March 18 and 11:15 a.m. March 20. Damage amounts to $600. A livestock kill was reported in the 11000 block of North Territorial Rd., March 23. An 83-year-old township man told police eight sheep were killed by dogs. Damage is estimated at $540. The incident happened March 21 between midnight and 6 a.m. A copy of the police report has been sent to the animal control officer, who will investigate the dog at large complaint.

1994 Michigan Fishing Guide Ready April 1

The 1994 Michigan Fishing Guide will be available by April 1 from all Department of Natural Resources license agents and at DNR district offices state-wide. Rules for the 1994 Guide apply from April 1, 1994, to March 31, 1995.

There are a number of new rule changes for the 1994-95 fishing season, which may be found on Page 24 of the guide. Several of the more important new rule changes include the following:

It is now illegal to "snag" any fish, including salmon, state-wide; all fish taken must be hooked inside the mouth;

Drowned river-mouth lakes (listed at the bottom of Page 23) will be closed to lake trout fishing from the day after Labor Day through April 30; and Significant changes on the regulation of ice shanties are detailed on Page 11.

An "important corrections sheet" containing corrections to the fishing guide will also be available where fishing licenses are distributed, and should be used along with the 1994 Michigan Fishing Guide.

This year, for the first time, the fishing guide includes a stockholders' report on fisheries revenues and expenditures, along with 1993 accomplishments. This report is located on the last two pages of the guide.

Various important telephone listings including DNR district offices may be found at the bottom of page 21 of the guide.

Made an old man
Out of our pal.

Gary has hit fifty
And he's aged a lot
Bentley our buddy
Has gone to pot!

His get up and go
Has already been spent.
His get up and go
Has already went.

Happy Birthday, Bentley
It can now be told
Gary is now
Half a century old.

KARL GRUNINGER of Mt. Clemens won the competition for the 1993 Michigan Wildlife Artist of the Year, sponsored by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs with a painting of a mourning dove. Gruninger entered the contest for the first time. He takes home a $2,000 cash prize, and will have his painting on the cover of Michigan Out-of-Doors 1994 Wildlife Art Calendar and featured in the April 1994 issue of Michigan Out-of-Doors magazine. Gruninger, 37, said acrylic painting is his favorite medium and he likes to paint birds and mammals. He started painting wildlife 10 years ago and holds an associate degree from Macomb Community College. He is employed as a commercial illustrator.

Tax Credit Available to Low-Income Families

With less than a month left to go before the April 15 filing deadline, Governor John Engler today encouraged every Michigan family that qualifies to take advantage of the Earned Income Credit (EIC).

The EIC is provided by the federal government and can be worth up to $2,384 to low-income working families.

"It is critical that families know that they will not automatically get the credit like they have in the past," said Engler. "Please, take the time to check and maximize your tax cut."

In prior years, the EIC has been sent to more than 350,000 families in Michigan. To qualify, parents must have worked at least part-time during 1993, earned less than $23,050, and had one or more children living with them. The credit is available both to married and single parents. Foster parents may also be eligible.

In order to receive the credit, the IRS requires the families to submit Schedule EIC (along with Form 1040A or 1040, not form 1040EZ). Engler noted that over 15 million families in the nation qualify for this credit and that many families in Michigan are unaware that the credit is available.

Families can obtain free help from IRS operators during regular weekday business hours by calling 1-800-829-1040. You can also listen to a recorded message about the EIC by calling 1-800-829-4477, available 24 hours a day. Request topic 601 for the English EIC message and topic 604 for advanced EIC information. For the Spanish EIC message, request topic 959 and for advanced EIC information, topic 960.

The IRS phone number for hearing impaired persons who have access to TDD equipment is 1-800-829-4050.

There is also a free income tax assistance program to help families fill out their tax forms. To get help, families can visit a local Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) clinic and have their tax forms completed at no cost by an IRS-trained volunteer. To obtain the location of the nearest VITA center, call 1-800-829-1040.

Immunization Clinic Stated in Manchester

Parents can get shots for their tots in Manchester on Wednesday, April 20. Washtenaw County Health Services will be providing immunizations for infants, children and adults from 9:30 a.m. until 12 p.m. The location is the Manchester Area Senior Citizens building, 214 N. Macomb St.

For more information or to make an appointment, call 484-7200 or 971-5790.

Police Make Arrests, Investigate Complaints

A larceny was reported at the Chelsea Beach Club, March 19. A video camera recorded a female customer stealing items valued at $55. The case has been referred to the prosecutor's office.

An area woman was arrested after police found open intoxicants in her vehicle. Police stopped her for speeding on Wilkinson St., March 24. The officer discovered a six pack of beer with all the bottles open. The woman was arrested and taken to Washtenaw county jail.

Larceny was reported on Manchester Rd., March 26. A 15-year-old house guest stole a portable TV. It was recovered, and the homeowner declined to press charges.

An area man was stopped for speeding on Main St., March 27. The traffic stop led to the discovery of marijuana. The man was also driving with a suspended driver's license and expired registration and license plates. The case has been referred to the prosecutor.

Americans are eating less than the recommended amounts of fruits and vegetables. A study by the California Department of Health Services found that many consumers said that eating fruit and vegetables was inconvenient, and preparing them took too much time. The produce industry is trying to help consumers with tips about selection, preparation and menu planning.

Builders Pre-Licensing Seminar Slated in May

A comprehensive 16-hour seminar to prepare people to pass the Michigan state builder's licensing examination will be offered with Chelsea Community Education. The seminar will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays, May 2, 4, 9 and 11, from 6 to 10 p.m. at Chelsea High School, 500 Washington St., Chelsea.

The course is for people who want to subcontract the construction of their own homes, building trades people who are now working without a license and want to work legally, and real estate investors. The cost of the seminar is $180 per person and includes all materials including a course textbook and sample test questions.

Pre-registration is required no later than Thursday, April 28, to Chelsea Community Education. Please call 475-9830 to register during office hours.

The instructor is a licensed builder with extensive experience teaching builder's pre-licensing classes. He is able to answer questions related to all facets of home building.

Michigan Builders Institute teaches in 72 schools throughout Michigan.

For a free brochure and information about the class, call Michigan Builders Institute at 610-651-2771.

Average monthly earnings in 1987 were about $600 for female high school graduates and about $1,300 for male high school graduates, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. For women with a master's degree, average monthly earnings in 1987 were $1,600; for men with a master's degree, almost $3,000.

Many Activities Planned for Library Week

"Love Your Library Week," a celebration of McKune Memorial Library sponsored annually by Friends of McKune, will be held during National Library Week, April 16 to 23. A number of activities organized around the theme "Reach for the World-Read!" will highlight this week-long celebration of the importance of McKune Memorial Library in the community.

Bring your brown bag lunch to the Library on Monday, April 18, when the "Brown Bag Book Club" will hold its organization meeting. The meeting time, lunch hour meeting schedule, and initial reading selections will be discussed during this first meeting. Everyone is welcome to join this new general book club.

A veterinarian from Lane's Animal Hospital will present a special program for families on Monday evening, April 18 at 7 p.m. The program will feature stories about actual experiences taking care of diseases and injuries of a wide variety of pets. Specific information about pet care also will be presented with special emphasis on how young family members can contribute to taking good care of family pets.

On Tuesday evening, April 19, at 7:30 p.m., Dr. Allen Cichanski, Eastern Michigan University professor of geography and geology, will take his audience along on some of his many visits to, climbs up and flies over the Cascade mountain range in a presentation titled, "Mt. Ranier: Fire and Ice." Cichanski will present slides and discuss this spectacular region of the United States.

On Wednesday, April 21 at 7:30 p.m., members of the Cherm and Sporer Families will share two families' stories of how and why they fired up their personal computers to cruise the information highway. These Chelsea area families will explain the various ways family members use online services to find information, do their homework, exit to "bulletin boards," play games for fun and learning, and communicate with their professional colleagues and friends in other countries.

William X. Kienzie, author of 18 best selling mysteries that combine his keen understanding of life in Detroit with a first-hand look at newsrooms, morgues, police stations, catholic churches and rectories, will speak on Thursday evening, April 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the Chelsea Depot Meeting Room.

Kienzie's books and his hero, Father Robert Koester, are well known to mystery readers. His abilities also became known to millions of movie fans through Donald Sutherland's portrayal of Detroit's priest-detective in his 1979 novel "The Rosary Murders."

A computer crime will be featured at the Library's annual Mystery Party for teens. Pre-registration is required for this annual event, which will be held at the Library at 7 p.m. on Friday, April 22.

All of the speakers except William X. Kienzie will make their presentations at the McKune Library. Kienzie's April 21 presentation will be given at the Chelsea Depot Meeting Room.

The Love Your Library Week celebration will begin Saturday, April 16 with an Open House and Volunteer Recognition Tea. The Open House is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Volunteer Recognition Tea which is scheduled from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., will honor volunteers who have worked in the Library and members of the community who volunteered to help the Friends of the Library between March 1, 1993 and Feb. 28, 1994.

Members of the business, education and professional community in the Chelsea area are invited to a Community coffee hour on Thursday, April 22 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The traditional "Love Your Library Week" used book and bake sale, "Treasures, Texts and Treats" will be held Saturday, April 23 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Children and adult fiction used books and bake sale items will be sold on the lawn at McKune.

All of the events are free and open to the public.

For further information call the Library at 475-8732.

Two of every five Americans will be involved in an alcohol-related crash in their lifetime. In 1989, an estimated 22,415 people were killed and 345,000 injured as the result of alcohol- and other drug-impaired driving crashes. (MADD, National)

Mystery Book Club Will Discuss Anthropolgy, Art

McKune Memorial Library Mystery Book Club will discuss the novels of Edgar Award-winning author, Aaron Elkins at their April meeting on Monday, April 3, at 7 p.m. Club member Lew Green is the host for the meeting.

Elkins, a former anthropology professor, writes one mystery series that features "the bone detective," physical anthropologist Gideon Oliver. His second sleuth-hero, Chris Norgren, is a museum curator, and expert on Renaissance and Baroque art.

The club, which discusses the novels of a wide variety of mystery writers, is sponsored by the Friends of McKune Memorial Library. New members and visitors are welcome.

For further information call the McKune Library at 475-8732.

Chelsea Players Take 'Godspell' on the Road

The recent CAP production of "Godspell" was such a success that it will soon go on the road to Flint. The Holy Redeemer parish in Burton, (Greater Flint area), approached CAP with a request to recreate the entire show at their church.

This is a tremendous honor for a community theater organization and especially for the talented cast and production staff who worked so hard to deliver a quality performance.

Anyone who did not have an opportunity to see the show in Chelsea, can now see it in Flint. Show dates are Saturday, April 30, and Sunday, May 1, at 8 p.m. Holy Redeemer church is located on Bristol Rd., at I-475 in Burton. From Chelsea, take US-23 north to the Bristol Rd. exit (exit 121). Go east (right) two miles to I-475. Church is on the northwest corner.

Other upcoming CAP events include an encore to the "Curtain Up" fundraising event held in October of '93. This event will feature new numbers from the talented CAP membership. The show will be held at the Wolverine Lounge on Sunday, May 22. Two dinner shows (3 and 6 p.m.) will offer patrons a break from cooking and a fun afternoon/evening of entertainment. This is not a repeat of the Common Grill program held in October.

All proceeds from this event go directly to pay for the newly installed stage curtains at Chelsea High school. CAP is committed to cover half the cost of the new curtains and is currently half way to this goal. This worthwhile endeavor benefits all who use the auditorium at CHS.

Tickets will be available by calling 475-0754.

One day we hope to save you future disappointments.

You no doubt have told yourself someday you are going to get serious about an Individual Retirement account. You're not alone. You have a lot of company when it comes to putting off at least learning all there is to know about an IRA.

If you're ready to make the determination that an IRA could be good for your future, stop in. You have until April 15th to take advantage of possible state—and federal tax deferrals for reported 1993 earnings.

Even though you may have already filed your 1993 tax reports, an IRA could earn you refunds now by filing an amended return.

Remember at Chelsea State Bank there are no IRA set-up charges or annual fees.

Make that "someday" now. We have IRA knowledgeable people ready to work with you. This is a visit to the bank you owe yourself.

Varsity Baseball Team Heads to Florida For Spring Training

Chelsea High school's varsity baseball team is warming up for the upcoming season with spring training in Venice, Fla.

Prior to departure Friday, Wayne Welton, coach and athletic director, commented on the current season: "There are 11 returning players—nine seniors, one junior, and one sophomore—and I feel like we're solid. We have depth of experience," he said.

"But I feel this team is inexperienced on the mound—Colt White graduated and is now pitching at Northwood Institute and Chris Dunham is starting at Ferris State," said Welton. "Pitching prospects are: Jeff Branch, junior, and Sam Morseau, left handed sophomore."

"Seniors to pitch are: Colby Skelton, Aric Daugherty, Matt Powell, Jason McVittie, Tim Wescott and James Courdway."

"Catching will be done by Scott Colvin, a sophomore, and Ryan Wagner, a junior."

"First-base is open but we're considering: Case McCalla, a junior; Ed Greenleaf, a senior; and McVittie and Morseau could also see action here."

Girl's Softball Team Begins Spring Training

Chelsea High school girl's softball team is traveling to Isle of the Palms, S.C., for their spring training.

The team and coach Joe Beard departed Friday, March 25, for the town located 20 miles from Charleston.

Motorcycle Safety Courses Available At WCC During Spring

Countersteering and maneuvering safely on streets are two of the skills motorcycle novices and veterans will learn with the Motorcycle Safety Program sponsored by Washtenaw Community College.

There are three experience level classes (novice, performance-based and experienced) open to those who are 16 years of age or older and a licensed driver. Successful completion meets the licensing requirements for the State of Michigan.

Four time formats are available including one week-end, two week-ends, eight week-nights, and five week-days. Classes will be located on the WCC College campus.

For more information and fee schedule call (313) 877-5027.

Novice Sessions: (introduce basic riding skills, motorcycle controls, street riding strategies and advanced maneuvering—motorcycles provided).

Session 1—April 8 and 15, 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. April 9, 10 and 16, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Session 2—May 20, 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. May 21 and 22, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Session 3—June 3, 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. June 4 and 5, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Additional sessions scheduled through September. Call for further information.

Experienced Rider Course Sessions (advanced riders explore advanced riding skills and strategies on rider's own motorcycle).

"Matt Powell and Dirk Wales will share duties at second base and third base will be covered by Don Pop-penger, a senior, and junior Ryan Ludwig."

"Tim Wescott, senior and team captain, will be our shortstop."

Sophomores Nick Brink and Colby Skelton will play both infield and outfield. Skelton will play a lot and in our line up he's our version of Tony Phillips of the Tigers."

"With returning players, we're a veteran team, but we're inexperienced on the mound. We face Saline in the April 21 league opener. Their pitching is experienced and a key for them."

April 12 is first non-league game at Carlton Airport.

"We're excited and can't wait to get to Florida," said Welton.

"We will have plenty of practice and some fun too; we camp in a tent donated by the army and it's amazing what they learn about each other."

Nine Teams Compete In Special Swim Meet

A special swim meet was held at the Charles Cameron Pool in Chelsea Thursday, March 24 under the direction of Nancy Cooper. Nine teams competed in many events. Volunteers from Boysville helped direct the meet.

The meet was won by Pioneer High school of Ann Arbor. Chelsea High placed second and Dexter High was third. Beach school, coached by Kathy Gilbert, was fifth.

The three top teams each choose one of their athletes as most valuable swimmer and they were presented with a medal. Winning for Chelsea High was Tracy Keezer. He placed well in all his events.

Swimmers placing first in their races won a swimmer pin. From the high school winners were Melinda Ostrander, Shawnette Kranick, Mary Kranick, Bobby Vasas, and Tracey Keezer.

Winning pins from Beach were Jeremy Carducci and Nick Elkington.

Others who helped Chelsea High score were Michelle Rorabacher, Martha Taylor, and Benita Schnaidt.

Scoring points for Beach were Gloria Minneboo, Becky Klaus, Marc Tuttle, Franco Tibera and Chris Moore.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Learning Mother Nature's Lessons

Floods, fires, hurricanes, earthquakes, killer snowstorms—"Mother Nature" has really been testing our survival skills lately. The question is, are we learning any lessons?

By Philip C. Clarke

Touring the Los Angeles area after last October's devastating wildfires, Interior Secretary Bruce Babbitt said it was reminding of the flooding in the Mississippi Valley where many of the homes destroyed were built on floodplains. "We've seen it again and again," said Babbitt. "Can't we think more intelligently how to encourage people to live outside the pathway of danger?"

Authorities for years have been urging people not to build homes in flood-prone areas, but to little avail. And despite the recurrence of dangerous out-of-control fires, residential communities continue spreading throughout regions of southern California prone to drought and high winds. Besides human casualties, losses from property damage run into the billions of dollars—with taxpayers nationwide obliged to underwrite federal emergency relief and rebuilding costs.

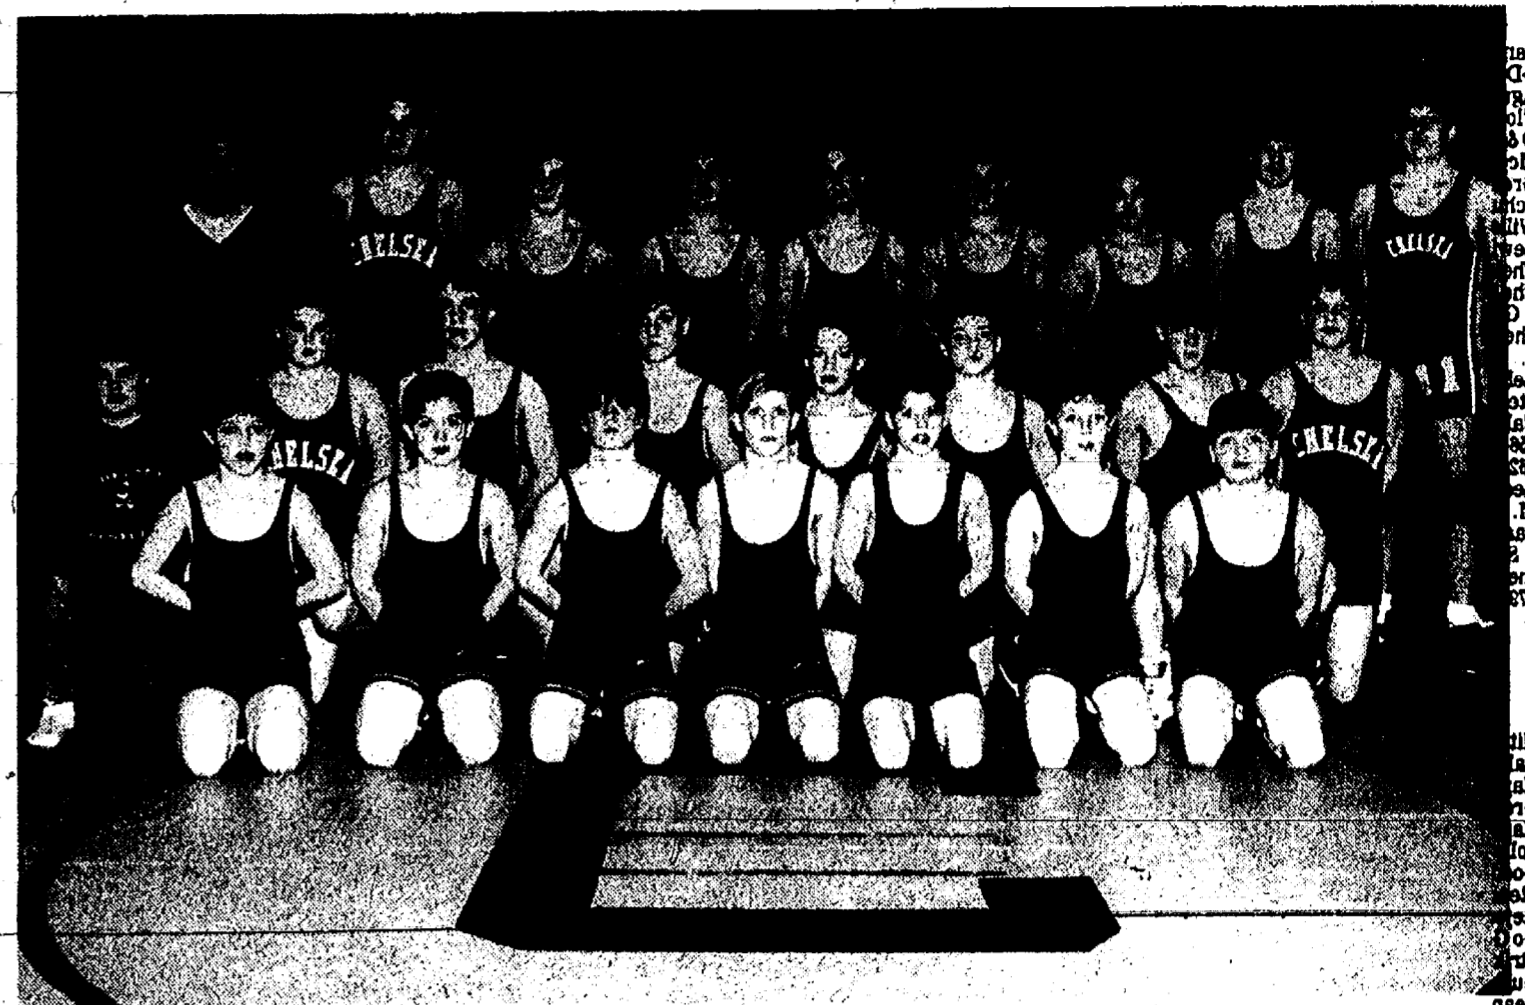

When it comes to such natural disasters as hurricanes and earthquakes, damage control can be difficult if not impossible. Few structures can withstand hurricane winds of 150 miles per hour and more, and there's little or no advance warning of the inevitable earthquakes that strike Californians living above the fault lines extending beneath the state's coastal region. But there is more that can and should be done about the costs involved.

Californians have been hit hard. Some estimates of reconstruction costs from the earthquake that struck the Los Angeles area in January run as high as $30 billion. Yet, only about 1 in 4 homeowners in the state carry earthquake insurance. And even in the quake-prone L.A. area, only 40% of the people are covered. As California Insurance Commissioner John Garamendi says: "People are risk takers. They think theirs is the home that will escape." There's also the cost factor. "Earthquake insurance," says State Farm spokesman Rock Jenkins, "is something a lot of people don't want to pay for."

Indeed, such insurance doesn't come cheap. It costs up to $300 a year on top of average homeowners' insurance of $500 to $600. And most earthquake policies carry a 10% deductible, meaning that an owner of a $300,000 home must pay $30,000 out of pocket before collecting insurance for total destruction. And there's yet another reason why many people don't take out insurance: They assume Uncle Sam will bail them out. As insurance industry executive John Snyder says, "Every time disaster struck in the past, the federal government was there to get people out of the ditch."

And some "ditch"! Hurricane Andrew that hit south Florida and Louisiana in 1992 caused an estimated $30 billion in damage—$16.5 billion of which was covered by insurance. The BEACH MIDDLE SCHOOL wrestling team completed their season in early March with a good record. Against SEC teams they won 2, lost 3 and tied 1. They were 4th out of 12 teams in the Hillsdale tournament, and 5th in the Tecumseh tourney with 11 teams competing. Brent Young, in the 120-lb. weight class went 12-0 for an undefeated season. Members of the team are, front row, left to right, Ben Stafford, Dan Graft, Nathan Smith,

CHS Track Team Places 11th at Huron Relays

Chelsea High school's track team finished seventh over-all with 30 points at the Huron River Relays

March 25 at Eastern Michigan University.

"It's the most ever," said coach Pat Clarke. There were 52 teams from Michigan and Ohio.

"Lincoln won for the first time ever with 57 points."

Chelsea's team placed in the following events:

Sixth in the 3200 meter relay with a time of 8:41.3. Runners included Dan Wehrwein, Scott Hawley, Chad Brown and Cory Brown.

Chris Taylor placed fourth in the pole vault with a height of 13 feet.

In shuttle hurdle relay, Chelsea finished sixth with a time of :33.7 by David Stimpson, Paul Bragalone, Jeremy Ziegler, Dan Wehrwein.

Dan Wehrwein, Peter Straub, Cory Brown and Chad Brown, ran the distance medley relay in 11:41.7 to finish tenth.

David Beeman took first place in the shot put with 54' 8". Beeman, senior, is defending state champion. Matt Dymond, scored 14th with 40' 8", his lifetime best distance.

"Beeman won by over two feet," he noted, "there were 100 shot putters."

Cory Brown, Rob Frost, Kevin Kolodica and Scott Hawley ran the sprint medley relay in a time of 3:52.7.

"Scott Bragalone placed and that's unusual for a freshman," said coach Clarke.

"This is the best showing by any Chelsea team," said Clarke, who is in his fourth year as a track coach.

Chelsea finished sixth last year. "We're trying to get back into competition."

Next meet is April 12 with Lincoln at home.

"Lincoln has strong sprinters and over-all strength," said Clarke.

Aquatic Club Places 4th for Season in Swim Championships

Chelsea Aquatic Club (CAC) finished 4th (816 points) out of nine area swim teams in the SMSL Fall Championships held Dec. 18 through 20. CAC swimmers captured 10 first-place finishes during the championship events.

Kim Grossman broke the league 100-yard backstroke record in the 13-14 age group and Josh Hack broke the previous league record in the 11-12 age group 100-yard I.M. event.

CAC families drew their winter swim session to a close as they celebrated at a dessert pot-luck held March 24 at South Elementary school. Parent president, Wendy Broshar, thanked parents for their help and support during the winter swim season.

Purple Rose Theatre Will Present New Drama, 'Keely & Du'

Purple Rose Theatre Company will begin preview performances of Keely and Du, a new drama by Jane Martin, on Thursday, March 31 at the Purple Rose Theatre Company's Garage Theatre, 137 Park St., Chelsea.

Previews of Keely and Du will be held Thursday, March 31 through Thursday, April 7 with the official opening night on Friday, April 8. Performances for the remainder of the limited eight-week engagement will be Wednesdays through Saturdays at 8 p.m. with Sunday shows at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. through Sunday, May 22.

Keely and Du examines the social and moral issues surrounding the debate between the pro-choice and right-to-life movements. Keely, a pregnant rape victim, is kidnapped by a conservative pro-life group and forced into seclusion to complete her pregnancy. During her confinement, Keely is cared for by Du, an elderly nurse who displays an air of kindness while staunchly believing in the group's mission. The two women, despite their stark differences, beliefs and backgrounds, develop a mutual respect for each other throughout their months of confinement. Both Keely and Du are forced to recognize the humanity of each other, while seeking to answer their internal questions about the realm of human forgiveness.

The Purple Rose Theatre Company production of Keely and Du will be the Michigan premiere of this volatile drama by the author who writes under the pseudonym, "Jane Martin." Originally produced at the 1993 Humana Festival of New Plays at the Actors Theatre of Louisville, Keely and Du was highly acclaimed by the national media. Regional theatres across the country, including Hartford Stage Company, Houston's Alley Theatre and Florida's Tampa Playhouse, have all presented new productions of Keely and Du during the 1993-94 season.

In the title roles of Keely and Du are Suzi Regan as Keely and Bee Vary as Du. The remainder of the cast includes Phillip Locker as Walter, the leader of the pro-life group Operation Retrieval, Dennis T. Kleinamith as Cole, Keely's ex-husband, and Candace Hind as a prison guard.

Keely and Du is being directed by T. Newell Kring, artistic director of the Purple Rose Theatre Company. Lighting design is by Daniel C. Walker, costume design by Edith Leaver Bookstein and sound design is by Joseph Jenkins. Wendy M. Henning is the stage manager for the production.

Reservations for Keely and Du may be obtained by calling the Purple Rose Theatre Company Box Office at (313) 475-7902.

Area Residents Among 150 To Present Work at EMU Symposium

Eastern Michigan University's 14th annual Undergraduate Research Symposium, March 18, featured the work of six area residents.

Sponsored by EMU's College of Arts and Science, the Undergraduate Research Symposium is an annual one-day event to recognize and showcase the scholarship and research of EMU undergraduates. Featuring 108 oral presentations and 29 poster presentations, this year's symposium highlighted the projects of 150 EMU students with the support of more than 80 faculty sponsors.

From Dexter, Ellen Fischer, daughter of Theodore and Leatrice Fischer, presented "Women and Authority in Pre-colonial Africa." Her research was sponsored by history lecturer Joseph Engwenyu. Aaron Gannon, son of John and Susan Gannon, presented "Do Trichomes Affect the Suitability of Soybeans as Hosts of Mexican Bean Beetles?" His research was sponsored by biology professor Glenn Walker and associate biology professor Cathy Bach.

JOHN ROUSSEAU has been promoted from general manager to president of Hatch Stamping Company in Chelsea. Rousseau joined Hatch Stamping Company in 1991 from the Chrysler Corporation, where he had worked for the past 19 years. Rousseau has a bachelor's degree from Central Michigan University.

From Chelsea, Sandra Holmes presented "Description and Use of a Feeding Device for Enriching the Environment Cynomolgus Monkeys." Her research was sponsored by assistant biology professor Peter Reinthal.

From Manchester, Michelle Kuhl, daughter of Greg and Dianne Kuhl, presented "HIV Education: Performing Personal Narratives." Her research was sponsored by communication and theater arts assistant professor John Capecci.

From Pinckney, Todd Dickinson presented "Action Research for School Teachers," a cross-sectional study of research that leads toward action. His research was sponsored by associate professor of mathematics David C. Johnson.

From Whitmore Lake, Eugene S. Tian presented a "Study of RC Circuit at Ultra Low Frequencies." His research was sponsored by associate physics professor Nathi L. Sharma.

The symposium is noted because it showcases student excellence and recognizes student/faculty relationships. Student participants for the symposium were selected through faculty nominations followed by department head approval. Although most student presenters were from the College of Arts and Sciences, students from EMU's other colleges also participated.

Area Residents Recognized at U-M Ceremony

Area residents were recognized at the University of Michigan's annual Honors Convocation held March 20.

Of 5,200 students who received recognition at the ceremony, 15 are Dexter residents, 12 are Chelsea, three are Manchester, five are Grass Lake, two are Gregory and two are Whitmore Lake residents.

Those from Dexter include Carol Anderson, Elizabeth Brickman, Shannon Brines, Brian Bucher, Lauri Bullen, Eli Cohen, Rupert Davies, Michael Kelley, Elizabeth Lundy, Kelly Moody, Matthew Perry, Nathan Redmond, Michael Socks, Hsin Wang and Carol Wilson.

Those from Chelsea include Eric Frisinger, Stacey Gallagher, John Hall, Craig Maynard, Christine McLaughlin, Linda Mullison, Timothy Pelter, Matthew Postiff, Scott Postiff, Shana Radcliffe, Chad Starkey and Elizabeth Williams.

Those from Manchester include John Golding, Amanda Smith and Christopher Wiethoff.

Those from Grass Lake include Diana Apostolou, Ross Johnston, Kathy Kental, Jennifer McEachern, Lydia Pelton.

Those from Gregory include Barbara Kolesar and Carmen Smith.

Those from Whitmore Lake include Carrie McNamara and Cecret Norris.

All area residents named, except Brickman and Cohen of Dexter and Apostolou of Grass Lake, received Class Honors, recognition of an undergraduate's academic record of at least half A's and half B's for two terms during 1993. Brickman, Cohen and Apostolou joined Dexter's Lundy, Kelley and Perry, Chelsea's Matthew Postiff, Manchester's Smith and Grass Lake's Johnston as James B. Angell Scholars for maintaining an all-A record for two or more consecutive terms as undergraduates. Bucher and Bullen, in addition to receiving Class Honors, were among just 237 freshmen to receive the William J. Branstrom Prize, a book of their choice, for ranking in the top five percent of their class.

Everybody's Science

★ Crop Pest Tricked
Into Helping Save Corn
By Linda Cooke

Scientists are recruiting what seems to be an unlikely candidate to protect corn from nasty fungi—a brown, hairy beetle that spreads the fungi.

As the dusky sap beetle wanders through a corn field, its hairy body brushes over ears of corn and deposits the fungi that cause aflatoxin. If this toxin reaches sufficient levels in the kernels, the infected corn cannot be fed to livestock.

"Sap beetles attack corn at harvest time when insecticide can't be applied because of the possibility of chemical residues entering the food chain," says Fernando E. Vega, a post-doctoral entomologist with USDA's Agricultural Research Service in Peoria, Ill.

That means this beetle—about the size of a housefly—is free to roam in corn fields. Vega and co-researcher Patrick F. Dowd invented a trap for the beetles so their wandering ways and hairy bodies could be put to work to protect the corn.

Once lured inside the trap by sex attractants, the beetle's hairy body becomes covered with spores of "good" fungi such as Bacillus subtilis, a natural enemy of the fungi causing aflatoxin. Usually in less than an hour, the beetles exit through the bottom of the trap, carrying the fungal spores on their bodies.

Next stop for the beetles is the corn field, where they spread the fungal spores on corn ears. When aflatoxincausing fungi appear, especially in hot weather, they are met with stiff resistance from their natural enemies already in place on the corn plants.

To see how well their strategy works, Dowd and Vega put blue dye in the dozen sap beetle traps on a University of Illinois research farm near Havana, Ill. Results: the beetles spread the dye to 58 percent of nearby wounded corn ears.

To eliminate the problem of the beetles themselves, the researchers say they could add a delayed-action pathogen to the trap. Harmless to corn, other plants and animals, the pathogen would kill the beetles after they gather to hibernate.

Other crops that could be protected by this natural biocontrol system include apples, mangos, and figs—all susceptible to damage by sap beetles. Dowd and Vega are doing the beetle research at the ARS National Center for Agricultural Utilization Research in Peoria.

Farmers Support
Legislation Favoring
World Trade Pact

The American Farm Bureau Federation's board of directors recently announced the organization's support for the recently concluded GATT trade agreement.

In voting its approval, board members of the nation's largest farm organization stated, "Farm Bureau supports passage of the implementing legislation for the GATT agreement and will strongly oppose additional cuts in the nation's domestic or export programs for agriculture."

"Farm Bureau has long been in support of more open markets and the reduction of trade distorting export subsidies," said Ken Nye, director of commodity activities and research for Michigan Farm Bureau. "The Uruguay agreement did not accomplish all that farmers had hoped, but it represents a significant step toward freer trade. The agreement formalizes a reversal in the European union's ever-increasing reliance on export subsidies and a number of important market-access opportunities, especially in the crucial Asian region," Nye added.

The agreement requires reductions in subsidized agriculture, 36 percent in budgetary outlays and 21 percent in volume over the next six years calculated on base years 1986-88. It further requires cuts in aggregate import protection by 36 percent over six years and requires that all non-tariff barriers be converted to tariffs or tariff-quotas. It requires a 20 percent reduction in some trade-distorting internal supports and establishes a code to prevent the use of sanitary and phytosanitary regulations as disguised trade barriers.

The average hired farm worker in Michigan this summer made $8.11 an hour. That's up 43 cents an hour from last year.

IRS Offers
Variety of Tax Help

"Although new tax laws were passed last year, Michigan taxpayers will find few changes on their 1993 federal tax returns," said IRS district director John Hummel. "When you prepare your return use our forms and instructions, and last year's return as a sample, or guide, and you may well be able to prepare the return without outside assistance. If necessary, additional information and assistance is available from a variety of sources."

Hummel said that the Ann Arbor office of the IRS, located at 2850 S. Industrial St. will be open Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. to assist walk-in taxpayers.

"Our TELETAX system also provides tax information 24-hours a day through a pre-recorded message system. This computer assisted program has information on over 140 tax topics and may be reached by calling us toll free on 1-800-829-4477," Hummel said.

"We also have many information publications available to assist taxpayers as they prepare their federal returns," he added. "Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax, is an overall guide to individual income taxes, and will answer most of the questions taxpayers have. This publication, and many others, are available by calling, toll free, 1-800-829-3678.

"And, of course, telephone assistants are available Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to answer taxpayers questions. The toll free number is 1-800-829-1040."

Hummel urged Michigan taxpayers to file electronically to speed up refunds and eliminate errors. "My best advice? File electronically, and file early," he said, "and remember that information and assistance is available from the IRS to reduce the burden on taxpayers."

Domestic Violence Support Group Begins in Chelsea

The Domestic Violence Project/Safe House will be providing a weekly drop-in support group for women who have been or are in an abusive relationship. This will be held every Wednesday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at First Congregational church, 121 E. Middle St., Chelsea, beginning April 6. For more information call the Domestic Violence crisis line, 996-5444.

Domestic Violence Project/Safe House Needs Volunteers

Domestic Violence Project/SAFE House, which provides services to survivors of domestic violence, needs your help! Volunteers are needed in all program areas including answering the crisis line, providing child care, counseling, facilitating support groups, and public speaking. Volunteers are also needed for the On-Call Team, which provides immediate assistance to survivors of domestic violence after an arrest has been made. Training is provided free and begins May 13.

If you want to take an active part in stopping domestic violence in our community, there is a place for you in one of these programs! Please call 996-5444 to schedule an interview. People of color and formerly battered women are especially encouraged to apply. Men are encouraged to apply for the Children's Program.

Chelsea Care Halts Sale of Tobacco Products

Michigan Academy of Family Physicians launched its Health 2000 Award Program this month with a presentation to Chelsea Care Pharmacy in recognition of its policy to cease the sale of tobacco products. Dr. Mindy Smith, M.D., of Chelsea, and an active member of the Michigan Academy of Family Physicians, a 2,700-member state medical specialty society, presented an award to Einar Tjolsen, pharmacist/director, Carrie Coeselman, Diann Murphy, Paula Muhs, and Amy Hetzler, pharmacists at Chelsea Care.

According to information from the Michigan Pharmacists Association, over 60 pharmacies from around the state have ceased the sale of tobacco products. Over the next several weeks the Academy will present awards to all pharmacies identified to date.

In presenting the award, Dr. Smith, "the MAF and the discipline of family medicine embrace the promotion of healthy lifestyles and preventive care as an integral part of their existence and is pleased to recognize Chelsea Care for their efforts in health promotion."

Marion Merrell Dow, Inc., of Kansas City, Mo., has provided an educational grant to the Academy in support of this program.

The Michigan Academy of Family Physicians represents some 2,700 family physicians and medical students and is headquartered in Okemos. It is a constituent chapter of the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national medical specialty society representing over 75,000 family physicians nationwide.

Deciphering Tax Talk

With the passage of a new tax law and the arrival of tax season, taxes are on everyone's minds and lips. To help you better understand all that tax talk, the Michigan Association of CPAs offers the following definitions of common terms.

Adjusted Gross Income (AGI)—The amount of income used as the basis for determining your eligibility for certain deductions. Specifically, it refers to the balance you obtain after reducing your gross income by certain adjustments and deductions, such as alimony and deductible contributions to Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs).

Taxable Income—For individuals, taxable income is adjusted gross income reduced by certain deductions, adjustments, and personal exemptions. It is the amount you use as the base to calculate your tax liability.

Marginal Tax Rate—The tax rate at which each additional dollar of income over a specific ceiling is taxed. For example, under the new tax law, married individuals filing jointly are subject to a marginal tax rate of 36 percent on taxable income in excess of $140,000.

Capital Gains Tax—The tax paid on the gain realized on the sale or exchange of a capital asset, such as stocks and bonds. The current maximum capital gains tax is 28 percent.

Luxury Tax—A 10 percent excise tax that applies to luxury cars valued at $30,000 or more for 1993. As a result of the new tax law, in future years this $30,000 threshold will be indexed for inflation. The new tax law repealed the luxury tax on equipment installed after 1990 to help disabled people operate a vehicle. It also did away with the luxury tax on big-ticket purchases of boats, aircraft, jewelry and furs.

Casualty Loss—Casualty losses result from a sudden, unexpected or unusual event, such as a fire, hurricane or flood. Within certain limits, personal casualty losses are deductible from your AGI.

Child and Dependent Care Credit—A credit of up to 30 percent of the expenses you incur for care of a qualified dependent when the expenditures make it possible for you to work.

Dependent—For tax purposes, dependents are individuals whom you support financially, and meet certain other requirements, such as relationship, residency, and income tests.

Dependency Exemption—A fixed deduction that you may claim for any individual who qualifies as your dependent. For 1993, each exemption is worth $2,350. The exemption phases out if your AGI exceeds $108,450 for single individuals, $162,700 for married individuals filing jointly, $135,600 for heads of household, and $81,350 for married individuals filing separately.

Earned Income Credit—A credit of up to $3,370 is available to lower income taxpayers. The 1993 tax law expanded the credit to include some childless couples as well as those with children, beginning in 1994.

Itemized Deductions—Deductions from your AGI for such items as medical expenses, state and local taxes, charitable contributions, unreimbursed employee business expenses, moving expenses, qualifying home mortgage interest, investment interest expense and casualty and theft losses. There are specific requirements for each of these items. In most cases, taxpayers whose total itemized deductions exceed the standard deduction (see below) can itemize their deductions.

Miscellaneous Itemized Deductions—These include certain unreimbursed job and business expenses, expenses directly connected with the production of income, and fees for tax-preparation services. Miscellaneous expenses are deductible only when the combined total exceeds 2 percent of your AGI.

Moving Expense Deduction—A deduction for certain expenses necessitated by an employment-related job transfer, provided that the distance between the taxpayer's new job and former home is at least 35 miles farther than the distance between the taxpayer's old job and the former residence. For tax years beginning in 1994, the distance test is increased from 35 to 50 miles.

Standard Deduction—A deduction that may be claimed by those who choose not to itemize deductions on their tax return.

If you're still unclear about the meaning or relevancy of these and other tax terms, consult your CPA.

New Brochure Touts Michigan As Being Tops in Auto R&D

Michigan's supremacy in automotive research and development is the message Michigan First is sending with a new brochure directed to both in-state and out-of-state audiences.

"Michigan, the State of the Future for Automotive Research and Development" is an eight page, three-color brochure. It uses photos of sporty, futuristic cars from Chrysler, Ford and GM to bring the point home that Michigan is where the auto industry creates the future.

"Michigan's strength is not only in the manufacturing of cars and trucks," said John Currie, Michigan First president. "It is also in the brilliant minds, the vision and the engineering expertise we have available in this state."

He noted that Michigan has the largest concentration of advanced vehicle research, development and engineering resources in the world. Michigan has 98 major automotive research and development centers, including those of Chrysler, Ford, General Motors, Toyota, Honda, Mazda, Hyundai, Nissan, Volkswagen and Saturn. Eighty-six percent of the U.S. technical centers for auto suppliers are also in Michigan.

The Automotive R&D brochure is the first in a series of publications on Michigan's special strengths. Michigan First, the non-profit corporation established to attract new business to Michigan, is also producing attraction pieces for the state's target industries. Wood products, plastics and Michigan's trend-setting telecommunications policies and outstanding infrastructure are the next topics Michigan First will cover.

"We also are working on some general 'business in Michigan' booklets and brochures," Currie said. "We have seen a real void in letting our own people—as well as folks in other states—know what good things are happening in Michigan's business climate. The brochures we are producing will help get that word out. Material on these subjects is often three or four years old, and does not include the exciting developments taking place in the state today."

The Auto R&D brochure is available to local economic development agencies. Many have begun using it as a helpful addition to their own materials. Michigan First introduced the brochure at the February Society of Automotive Engineers' show, where Michigan First worked with the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce to tout some of the state's advantages. The Chamber is continuing to use the brochure.

Can your home be located quickly in case of an emergency?

A reflective address sign on your mailbox is the answer!

The Fire Dept., Police and Ambulance Drivers will find your home quickly if you have a large, reflective sign!

CHELSEA BOY SCOUT TROOP 454

is sponsoring a sale of reflective sign kits.

The kit contains a 6"x18" green sign, two sets of address numbers and 2 screws and washers for the normal mailbox wood post installation.

The price is $20 per kit.

Scouts will be canvassing the area starting March 26.

Card of Thanks 19

THANK YOU

A special thank you to the Surgical Staff, Dr. Wilhelm, Dr. Howlin, the nurses and the nurse's aides on the East wing at Chelsea Hospital, my very dear friends and family for all of their love, support, care, cards, flowers, food, calls and comfort during my hospital stay and since my return home.

Ella Branham.

THANK YOU

The past eight years it has been my privilege to serve the taxpayers of Chelsea. Thank You! I will miss the contacts and the satisfaction of having touched someone and helped them. However, when one's health deems it necessary to step back and give someone else the privilege, so be it.

Kathleen Chapman.

Legal Notice 21

MORTGAGE SALE—Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by SOUTH CENTRAL STATE EMPLOYEES CREDIT UNION, a Michigan Corporation, of Jackson, Michigan, mortgagee, to TERRY M. STODDARD and IMOGENE C. STODDARD, husband and wife, of Kalamazoo, Michigan dated July 14, 1987, and recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw, and the State of Michigan on August 5, 1987 in Liber 2182 page 922, Washtenaw County Records, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date hereof the sum of twenty-seven thousand nine hundred forty-three dollars and fifty-three cents ($27,943.53) including interest at 11.00% per annum.

Under the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, or some part of them, at public venue, at the main lobby of the Washtenaw County Court House, Huron Street entrance, Ann Arbor, Michigan at 10:00 o'clock A.M., local time, on the twenty-eighth day of April, 1994.

Said premises are situated in the Township of Ypsilanti, Washtenaw County, Michigan, and are described as Lot 7, Hill Crest Subdivision, according to the plat thereof as recorded in Liber 4 of plats, page 41, Washtenaw County Records. Commonly known as 1981 Hawthorne.

Tax Code: 11-360-007-00

During the 6 months immediately following the sale, the property may be redeemed except in the event the property is determined to be abandoned pursuant to MCL 600.3241a, the property may be redeemed during the 30 days immediately following the sale.

Dated: March 22, 1994.

Young Missionary

Her mother was Hawaiian, her father German. While growing up in a small town near Chicago, Joyce Miller wanted to serve the Lord. "A light blinking in my head," she described it.

After graduating from Valparaiso with a BA in Spanish and business, the light was still blinking. Ministry itself didn't seem to be the answer, but the appeal of the Peace Corps did. 27 months in South America brought tremendous satisfaction to Joyce, but the light still blinked: "Serve the Lord!"

A year as an administrator with the Girl Scouts wasn't the answer to her call. A year of recruiting for the Peace Corps proved very interesting and the light became steady and bright. "The ministry" was her decision.

Three years at Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago brought a call to the Rev. Miller to serve as an intern at Lord of Lights church in Ann Arbor. Since the congregation is made up of young university students, Joyce made a request to meet and associate with some older people (over 35). I invited her to visit CRC since most of the residents here qualify. She happily accepted my invitation and eventually conducted a service in the Lutheran tradition in our Chapel. Eventually Joyce will return to the seminary for further study. From there only God knows how she can serve Him. God works in mysterious and wondrous ways.

—John Eibler

Men in Action

Theresa Vander Horst has proposed and Men's Club executive has agreed: that some of our men would convey men from K-1 and K-2 to our general meetings. This would require four men from our club each month to be available. The plan would be flexible and the same men would not be required each month. Men who volunteer would pick up those in the nursing at 8:20 p.m. on the day of our meeting. Names and room numbers would be provided on the same day at noon.

This will be an on-going activity; so in order to spread the load it will mean we will need a pool of pushers. May we have your name for the pool? Call me at 475-2758 please. The first meeting will be April 13th.

The suggested pool: Ross Leaver, Marion Martin, John Eibler, Richard Jahncke, Fred Maitland, Ron Brunger, Lou Scovill, Charles Cookingham, Scott Crichton, Ed Lake, Bill Schillhaneck, Fred Venus.

—Ray Brownell.

Men's Club News

On Wednesday, April 13, the Men's Club will present Faye Stoner, Washtenaw County Naturalist. She will offer a program, "Spring Comes to Michigan." There will be offered a recording of the "music" of a frog pond, as its denizens greet the new season.

Also, the Men's Golf Sub-Club will begin play for the 1994 season, starting Monday, April 18. Players should plan to leave the Dancy House, front door, at 8 a.m. and proceed to Waterloo Golf Course. Play will continue weekly, as long as weather remains suitable, till about Oct. 10.

Grief Group Can Help

Grief is the way we get over a loss in our life and find a new beginning for ourselves. We have all experienced many losses in our life—retirement from work, move from home and neighbors, close family members, a valued pet, etc.

Grief is our emotional response to loss. Loneliness is the result of keeping the loss inside. The feeling that "nobody will listen to my story."

When we have that feeling we need to be able to share our hurt with

When you give blood, you give another birthday, another laugh, another hug, another chance.

Gordon E. Van Riper

Kewanee, Ill.
(Formerly of Chelsea)
Gordon Everett Van Riper, 76, of 28 Pine Tree Rd., Kewanee, Ill., died Wednesday, March 23, 1994, at North-west Hospital in Tucson, Ariz.

He was born Dec. 7, 1917, in Flat Rock, the son of Everett Gary and Grace Woodward Van Riper. He was reared and educated in Ida. He graduated with a bachelor of science degree from Michigan State University, and received his master's and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Wis.

Mr. Van Riper was awarded the Michigan State Green Helmet and Phi Kappa Phi. He was a member of Sigma Phi fraternity at the University of Wisconsin.

He married Elizabeth S. Gillespie on Feb. 5, 1941, in Chelsea. She preceded him in death a year later.

He then married Janice E. Dancer in Chelsea. He then married Barbara J. Woodford Finnegan on Nov. 22, 1976, in Galva, Ill.

She survives, as do one son, James E. Van Riper of Omaha, Neb., a stepson, Randall J. Finnegan of Long Island, N.Y.; a step-daughter, Carol J. Finnegan Hughes of Chatham, Ill.; one brother, William Van Riper of Chelsea; and four sisters, Virginia Garnecki of Palmdale, Calif., Patricia Smith of Jackson, Mary Ellen Pierson of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Nancy Kiel of Ann Arbor.

Also surviving are three grandchildren and two step-grandchildren.

Preceding him in death were his parents, one daughter, one grandson and one brother.

Mr. Van Riper owned and operated the Van Riper crop and dairy farm in Michigan. He then was an assistant associate professor of agronomy at the University of Nebraska, and later was the manager and research coordinator for the Tech Center at John Deere and Co. in Moline, Ill. After that Mr. Van Riper owned and operated the Jay Dee Equipment Co. dealership in Kewanee and Bradford, Ill., retiring in 1981.

Mr. Van Riper was on the governing board and vice-president of the Agricultural Research Institute, an affiliate of the National Academy of Science; a member of the American Society of Agronomy, the Crop Science Society of America, the Alpha Zeta Farmhouse, Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Sigma, Gamma Sigma Delta, the Council for Agricultural Science and Technology, the Agricultural Council of America, Top Farmers of America, past president of the American Grassland Council, vice-president of the Illinois Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Black Hawk College Advisory Committee, the Henry County S.C.S. Committee, the Kewanee Chamber of Commerce, past president and current member of the Kewanee Rotary Club, Midland Country Club, the First United Methodist church of Galva and the Kewanee Downtown Revitalization Alliance.

Funeral services were at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the First United Methodist church of Galva, with the Rev. Dan Huck officiating.

Visitation was from 5-8 p.m. Monday at Cavanagh and Schueneman Funeral Home, Kewanee. Burial followed in Bradford Cemetery.

Memorials may be made to his church, the Kewanee Hospital Foundation or the Kewanee Rotary Foundation.

Irene Conley

Chelsea
Irene Conley of Chelsea, died Wednesday, March 23, 1994, at the age of 72. She was born May 18, 1921 in Kentucky, the daughter of Loyd and Julia Fletcher Adams. On May 20, 1950 she married Homer Conley who survives.

Also surviving are her two sons, Dan Hughes and his wife Evelyn, of Florida, Gary Hughes and his wife Elizabeth, of Texas; a step-daughter, Norma Sue Conley of Ohio; four grandchildren, MaryAnn and Floyd Alexander of California, Steven Hughes of Florida, Cindy and Bob Davis of Florida, and Christy and Lonnie Whitfield of Florida; two great-grandchildren, Arielle Alexander and Kyle Davis, and one step-grandson, Chadd Alexander; one brother, Harold Adams and his wife, Marjorie, of Chelsea, one sister, Venus Lawler and her husband, George, of New Jersey, and a dear friend Rita Hughes; several nieces, nephews and many friends.

She was preceded in death by three brothers and a sister.

Irene was employed with Ford Motor Co. for 30 years, retiring in 1977 and was member of UAW Local 892. She attended the Baptist Church, as well as many other churches.

Funeral services were held Saturday, March 26, at 11 a.m. from the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home with the Rev. G. Harry Bonney of the Chelsea Free Methodist church officiating. Burial followed in Oak Grove East Cemetery, Chelsea.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to Arbor Hospice.

Arrangements were by Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education, Monday, March 21, were Diesing, McCalla (8:25), Roberts, Redding, Eisenbeiser, Merkel, interim superintendent Oesterling, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Mead, Stielstra, Stieber, assistant high school principal Helms, community education director Rohrer, special education director DeYoung, guests.

Meeting called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Jane Diesing.

Board approved the minutes of the March 7, 1994, meeting.

Entered as official communications were (1) a memo from South School faculty members regarding a recent gas leak in the building, (2) information relative to National Library Week activities at McKune Memorial Library, (3) information relative to the Open Meetings Act as it pertains to the superintendency applicants, and (4) information relative to MASH Regional Meetings/Awards on April 21, 1994.

Present at the meeting were several parents who expressed their concerns relative to certain incidents on a particular bus route. Their concerns will be taken under consideration by interim superintendent Oesterling within the next two weeks.

In action items, the board:

- approved the opening of checking accounts at Chelsea State Bank for North and South Elementary Schools,
- approved the conducting of a community survey relative to a building program,
- approved a field trip for Pam Holmes' students to travel to Stratford, Canada, to view "Hamlet,"
- approved the Essential Skills curriculum for 7th- and 8th-grade students,
- approved mutual-gains negotiations, through National End Dispute Center, at a cost not to exceed $7,000.

The Board reviewed a first draft of a sexual harassment policy. Meeting adjourned at 9:05 p.m.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
This letter is in regards to the letter about the Varsity Cheerleaders and the Grosse Ile basketball game. I am a varsity cheerleader and believe me when I say it was not our choice to stand there.

As you know, the game was held at Willow Run. The Willow Run staff told us that in front of the stands was the only place that we could cheer because of the TV cameras on either end. The Grosse Ile cheerleaders stood on the end because in front of their stands were the basketball team's benches and the announcer.

In no way were we rude or inconsiderate. When people in the stands yelled at us to sit down we did most of the time. We didn't all of the time because that is the reason we are there. To cheer on the team and get the crowd going.

This cannot be done from the bottom of the gym floor.

One last comment is the fact that there were more available seats. The bleachers were not at all crowded and we did not stretch across the whole Chelsea side. This means that if you had that much of a problem, you should have moved up or to the side.

Thank you,
Adrianne Balze
1993-94 Varsity Cheerleader

Paul Lopez Enlists In Air Force Delayed Program

Paul J. Lopez, son of John and Anna Boote of Chelsea, enlisted in the Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program on March 8.

Lopez, a 1994 graduate of Chelsea High school, is scheduled for enlistment in the Regular Air Force on Sept. 8, according to Staff Sergeant Deon Brown, Air Force recruiter, 2500 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor.

Upon graduation from the Air Force's six-week basic training course in San Antonio, Tex., he is scheduled to receive technical training in the electronics career field.

He will earn credits toward an associate degree in applied sciences through the Community College of the Air Force while attending basic and technical training schools.

State Transportation Grants Promote Economic Growth

Governor John Engler announced that a $360,240 state transportation grant for road improvements helped create 120 new jobs at Johnson Controls in Washtenaw county.

The money is part of a $17 million investment state-wide in roads and infrastructure to retain and create jobs by supporting industry expansion. The grants, part of the Transportation Economic Development Fund (TEDF) are funded by driver license and vehicle registration fees.

Governor Engler said nearly 11,000 jobs would be created state-wide in 30 communities from the combination of state and local support, and $764 million in private investment.

"The TEDF has shown once again that it is an important tool in promoting economic growth and job creation," he said.

The project entails reconstruction of a road to provide improved access to the new plant. Johnson Controls, Incorporated is a manufacturer of automotive seating systems.

Americans more and more are turning away from baked, boiled and mashed potatoes in favor of french fries and potato chips. In 1973, we ate 52 pounds of fresh potatoes per person each year. That figure has declined to 47 pounds of fresh versus 86 pounds of processed potatoes.

School Board To Utilize Mutual Gains Strategy

Chelsea School Board has adopted the use of a training program in Mutual Gains Negotiations through the National Education Dispute Center at a cost under $7,000. The first training meeting will be held April 27. All school district staff, board members and administrators will participate in a half day program.

According to assistant superintendent Fred Mills, "Mutual Gains is a philosophy of negotiation which avoids an adversarial role." "This approach involves determining common problems and identifying solutions."

The cost of the program includes a series of training and re-training events for people involved in mediation, facilitation, as well as assistance with resolving any emerging disputes. "Everybody needs to know how the concept works," said Mills. "I feel it is important for everybody to know the concept or philosophy of cooperative effort on mutual problems. Hopefully to come out with mutual gains."

To be wronged is nothing unless you continue to remember it. —Confucius
