Beach Middle School's Sixth Grade Camp Encourages Study of Science

"Beneath this Monument lies the remains of The Reverend Savage, where the altar for St. Mary's Catholic church once stood," said science teacher and one of the many sixth grade camp organizers Dave Polley.

Polley was explaining facts about Walsh Cemetery to a group of eight students and three parent assistants, as they gathered around the priest's monument during the cemetery studies class, at the 23rd annual sixth grade camp, held May 2-6, at Mill Creek Campgrounds in Waterloo Recreation Area.

Polley went on to explain "this cemetery is the burial ground for many of the first Irish settlers that immigrated to this area from Ireland during the potato famine. When the settlers arrived, they discovered the land they had purchased with the intention of farming, was of poor quality. During the Roosevelt administration the State of Michigan bought the land, creating what is now Waterloo State Recreation Area."

Approximately 200 students, divided into two groups, camping 2 1/2 days, participated in 33 activities such as cemetery studies, archery, fishing, Native American studies, medical emergencies study, geology, outdoor cooking, spinning and wool preparation, backpacking, kitemaking, orienteering, story telling, wildflowers, canoeing, Michigan mammals, square dancing, bog studies, pioneer toys, animal care, reptiles/amphibians, wilderness study, basketry, spring pond study, candle dipping, nature crafts, rain-astronomy, camp newspaper, birds, grapevine wreaths and a study about the Great Lakes.

In a sampling of classes, students attending the cemetery class went on a scavenger hunt, looking for facts on tombstones such as lambs, willow trees, unusual epitaphs, and closed the session with taking lead rubbings from the weathered tombstones, with dates as early as 1777.

The outdoor cooking class cooked a fireside meal of shish-k-bobs, hermits meals, banana boats, orange cake and mock angel food cake. Despite the ever present threat of rain, students tended the fire with "primal exuberance" said parent assistant Bob Mida, stirring smoldering coals and adding wood.

Police Officer Joins Marines

Paul Whelan, Chelsea police officer, is on leave for six months in the Marine Reserve. Upon completion of the training, he will serve one week-end a month and two weeks during the summer for six years and continue employment with the Chelsea police department.

Whelan will complete Marine combat training at Camp LeJeune, N.C., and he will obtain additional specialized training in the administrative field. Having always been computer oriented, and because the military is automating, Paul selected the specialized training in the administrative field because it was the most interesting of the choices available in the Michigan Marine Reserves.

"I joined the Marines because they stress honor and integrity, two traits that are important to people, not just the military lifestyle," he said. "They also emphasize teamwork, the Marines are a big family."

Marlene Piasecki Works To Change Legislation

On Tuesday, May 10, Marlene Piasecki testified for the Senate Judiciary Committee on sentencing guidelines.

Last week, on Monday, May 2, she participated in the presentation of petitions for "truth in sentencing" to Governor Engler by Linda Clarke, another woman whose husband was killed.

The Governor received the petitions during a press conference on the steps of the capitol. Marlene Piasecki said that he commented for all the victims of violence: "... their sentence is fixed. There's no time off for good behavior." Marlene Piasecki said she can empathize with family members seeing the person back on the street and what it must do to people.

Senate bills 40 and 41 have unanimous support on the judiciary committee where they originated with Sen. Van Regenmortel, 23rd District. The bills passed the Senate Judiciary and the House Judiciary voted them out to the full House. A three-fourths vote is needed to pass. When scheduled, Piasecki will be called to testify.

The Truth in Sentencing bills will require violent offenders to serve at least the minimum sentence imposed by the court in secure confinement. The bills would eliminate any reductions from the minimum term and would instead require "disciplinary time" (i.e., "bad time") for misconduct in prison. The "bad time" would be added to the prisoner's minimum sentence imposed by the court. The public can be assured that the prisoner will be in secure confinement until at least the expiration of his or her minimum sentence. Senate Bills 40 and 41 will accomplish the following:

- Assure that criminals convicted of assaultive crimes serve at least the minimum sentence imposed by the court in secure confinement before he or she could be placed back in the community;
- Eliminate "good time" reductions to a prisoner's minimum sentence and instead require that "disciplinary credit" (i.e., "bad time") be imposed for misconduct in prison.

She has also written to the President requesting elimination of the insanity defense. She has become acquainted with Janet Kemick, Ann Arbor, whose husband was a University of Michigan doctor who was killed the same way as her husband.

"Joe was still negotiating ...," she said. "He just asked him not to do it ... He was a gentle man."

"Even people who had to be reprimanded or disciplined have expressed to me what a good person he was and that they appreciated how he dealt with them."

"Sometimes I have wondered about what Joe would have done if it was he who had survived me," she said. "I know it is exactly what he would do (work to change the system) because he had a high regard for our political system."

So far, 40,000 signatures have been collected on the Clark petition. She says she believes in the impact on victim's rights.

Petition Drive Initiated To End Teacher Tenure

Alice Stimpson of Chelsea is working to abolish the state teacher tenure system. She and other parents are collecting signatures on petitions to be submitted to Lansing by June 21 to place the teacher tenure provision on the November ballot.

"It's pretty well received, the response has been great," said Stimpson. "We have received only three negative phone calls out of 650 during a ten-day period."

Only 30 of the 83 Michigan counties have not responded. She said it is not an easy task to collect the 205,166 signatures needed from anyplace in the state. People have sounded committed. Stimpson and two other parents in the state are working together, including Darlene Janulis, Rochester Hills and Jan Tice, Ann Arbor.

Stimpson has formed a group, the Parents' Alliance to Repeal Tenure, in response to her concern when Stephen Leith was charged with killing Joseph Piasecki, Chelsea School Superintendent in December.

She said that the District had to reach an agreement with Leith's attorney not to pay Leith while he was in jail. Leith was a science teacher at Chelsea High school and he could have continued to be paid.

"If he is not convicted, the District would have to reach another agreement or start tenure proceedings," Stimpson said.

She said, "It costs approximately $70,000 in attorney fees for tenure proceedings."

"As good as Chelsea Schools are," she said, "We just want to improve them."

German Choir Offers Concert In Ann Arbor

Wittendorf Men's Choir of Wittendorf, Germany, will present a free concert Sunday, May 15, at First United Methodist Church of Ann Arbor, 120 S. State St. The concert will begin at 7 p.m.

The Wittendorf Men's Choir is a community choir from southern Germany. It consists of about 30 singers. It was founded in 1920 and is preparing to celebrate its 75th anniversary in 1995.

The choir comes from the beautiful town of Wittendorf in the Black Forest, close to Freudenstadt. The town of Wittendorf has just celebrated its 850th anniversary in 1993.

The choir sings secular as well as sacred songs. During the year the choir regularly appears at many local festivities and in churches throughout the Black Forest area. On tours in Germany and in the neighboring countries it has won many friends.

For its first concert tour in the United States it has prepared a special program of both secular and sacred music, part of which is a slide show about one of the most beautiful and spectacular areas of Germany, the Black Forest. This slide show is accompanied by some of the most famous German folksongs (Volkslieder). By this the choir hopes to be able to bring some joy to American audiences who love Germany and German music and especially to former German citizens who now live in the United States and love to hear and see memories of Good Old Germany.

Stimpson said the petition drive seeks to put the issue on the November ballot whether or not the entire teacher tenure constitutional provision should be repealed. It was established in 1937 and a lot more laws have been established since then concerning employment.

"Teachers should be held to the same professional standards as anyone else in a profession," she said.

Information on the petition drive is available by writing to PART, P.O. Box 99, Chelsea 48118 or by calling Stimpson at (313) 475-8801.

Leith Trial Rescheduled

The trial of Stephen Leith has been scheduled for July 18, following a pre-trial examination set for June 23 at 3 p.m. in the Washtenaw County Circuit Court of Judge Donald Shelton.

On April 7, Leith was sent back for forensic evaluation regarding criminal responsibility. According to staff at the Washtenaw County Prosecutor's office the study should be completed by the June 23 pre-trial date.

Stephen Leith is to be tried for the December killing of Chelsea Schools Superintendent, Joe Piasecki. Piasecki was killed in his office as he met with Ron Meade, Chelsea High school principal, and Phil Jones, English teacher who were also shot and wounded.

Interviews are presently being conducted by the Chelsea School District to name a new superintendent. Fred Mills, assistant superintendent said that he expects a decision to be made by next week.

★ Drug Companies: The Health Care Bogeymen

By Doug Bandow

A recurring theme in the Clinton administration's efforts to sell its various initiatives is to concoct a villain, rally public support against that villain, and then argue that the proposed policy is needed to help us all put the villain in his place.

In selling the President's sweeping health care reform plan, administration officials have employed this tactic frequently—pointing fingers at doctors, insurers, and employers who don't offer insurance to their employees, among others. Their villains, by the way, always seem to be in the private sector; not even the government's own notorious VA hospitals or the gross fiscal mismanagement of its Medicaid program give this administration pause in its pursuit of ever more government.

One of the administration's bogeymen is the pharmaceutical industry. Verbal attacks on the nation's drugmakers for "price gouging" started early last year, followed by hints of price controls. President Clinton backed away from such direct restrictions, but his health care plan is riddled with measures that would impose price controls indirectly and under elaborate guise.

The attention given to pharmaceuticals by the Clinton health care planners seems odd, given their relatively small role in medical price inflation. Prescription drugs account for roughly 8 percent of total health care expenditures, half that of three decades ago and far lower than in most European countries. The "problem" is that government covers a smaller share of drug costs in the U.S., so that consumers pay more of the expense and have complained more loudly to their elected officials. The wide availability of even expensive drugs actually reduces total medical expenses, because drugs often replace far more expensive medical operations and treatments. Actigall, for instance, dissolves gallstones, and thereby saves an estimated $2 billion annually—precisely because 350,000 patients use it. The beta-blocker Timolol reduces the number of second heart attacks by 16 percent and also saves about $2 billion every year.

Indeed, because prescription drugs are so cost-effective, attempts to limit their use actually increase total medical bills. A 1988 Louisiana State University study warned that if Medicaid restricted drug coverage, over-all costs were likely to rise between 4.1 percent and 15.5 percent. Just such an attempt by New Hampshire to limit the number of prescriptions for Medicaid recipients caused an upsurge in doctors' visits, hospitalizations, and nursing home admissions. Legislators lifted the regulations within a year.

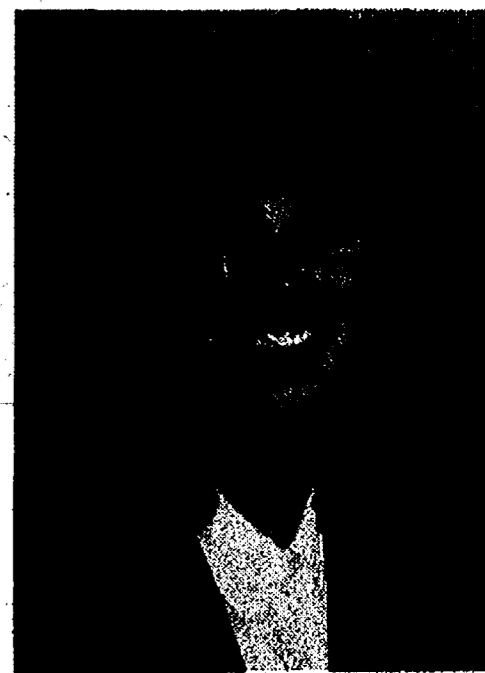

The average cost of developing a drug now runs $359 million, according to the Office of Technology Development. One important factor that has driven costs up for drug companies—and, ultimately, for the consumers of their products—is a cumbersome and time-consuming federal drug approval process. Separate applications, typically running 100,000 pages long, are required for different treatments by the same drug. And pharmaceutical firms find many more drug holes than gushers: Just five of 4,000 substances studied by firms are tested on humans, and only one of those is ultimately approved by the FDA and marketed.

The industry is, despite popular perception, very competitive. Competition in recent years has been intensifying, partly because of the introduction of many generic substitutes for brand name drugs. According to the Boston Consulting Group, industry-wide average discounts quadrupled to 16 percent from 1987 to 1992. New drug prices in 1991 and 1992 were 14 percent lower than comparable products in the past. Some of the cuts were drastic—36 percent for a new heart drug, for instance.

The industry's total profit of $10 billion in 1992 may sound large to many people, but it was less than its research and development spending of $12.6 billion. Compared with rates of return on capital invested in other industries, pharmaceutical earnings are not out of line at all. Moreover, because an estimated 70 percent of new drugs lose money, the industry could not afford to pursue the most risky or less promising opportunities if it was not allowed to have a "winner" now and then. If pharmaceuticals were ever overly-profitable, that's ancient history now.

In the case of pharmaceuticals, the marketplace is working: a highly efficient and competitive industry—in spite of costs imposed by regulation—is leading the world in the discovery and marketing of new treatments and cures. It sells far more abroad than its foreign competitors sell here.

Health care reform should involve a search for answers, not villains. If America has anything like a health care "crisis," it's not in pharmaceuticals.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The papers are full of numbers, percents and statics these days as local Governments work on their income and outgo balancing acts for the next fiscal year. Zeke Grubb took note, at the country store Saturday night that this is a play with the same plot acted out every year. The schools and all the agencies of Governments ask for everything in hopes of getting enough to get by, and elected boards that hold the strings to the public purse wind up setting budgets they hope will stop short of recall elections. All that's for sure, Zeke told the fellows: Is that public services won't get all they want, and taxpayers will get a heap more than they want. There's plenty of pain to go around before and after the budgets are made, Zeke went on, and if taxpayers and tax spenders want some small comfort they can look to Russia. He read recent where enterprise is a long way from being free in that country trying to set up an economy along the lines of Western nations.

For instant, Zeke reported, Russia puts 51 different taxes on private businesses. One team of American economists brought in to study the system found that if business owners ever got through the paperwork and paid all the taxes it would eat up 128 percent of profit. The only way to stay in business in Russia is to cheat on taxes, Zeke noted, and he figured the American experts could trade a few tricks.

Republican Ed Doolittle jumped on Zeke's report like a frog on a lily bug. Ed said Democrats are taking taxing lessons from the Russians. If state and local Governments look to Congress for a role model they'll wind up spending 128 percent more than they can pay for. He said budget makers in Washington count it a good year when they can keep digging holes to fill holes until they end up fewer billions in the hole than last year.

Furthermore, Ed allowed, if Clinton gets anything like what he wants in health care the holes can only get bigger. He said he recent read a pamphlet called "Bankrup USA" that says by early next century interest on the national debt will be more than the Federal Government takes in. Practical speaking, he went on, it's a good thing Americans are living and working longer all the time. The pamphlet said we are getting close to the point where the share of national debt owed by a baby born in this country will be more than average lifetime earnings.

When Ed let up to catch his breath, Democrat Clem Webster pointed out that the last two Republican Administrations dug deeper holes faster than any in the country's history. But Clem said it's not Ed's usual rewriting of history that bothers him as much as it is the press feeding on itself these days. Clem said he has took note that the big papers and magazines now are blaming one another for the way they've treated President Clinton. He said a Los Angeles Times column writer said recent that most reporters are Democrats, and they've been leaning way over backward to snip at Clinton so they won't look like they're letting their politics show in their work.

Personal, I am reminded that Mark Twain said truth is valuable and ought to be economized. Ed and Clem spend it wild and loose.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Eat Right, Exercise Are the Secret of Weight Control

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist
Americans have been getting heavier and heavier. And a new report says it's getting worse instead of better. During the '80s—a decade presumably noted for its increased health awareness—the proportion of Americans who are overweight rose by nearly one third.

Between 1976 and 1980, about 26 percent of adults were overweight, which made us one of the most overweight nations in the world. The percentage rose to 34 percent in 1980-81, according to unpublished preliminary data from the Third National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANES III), as reported in the Journal Obesity & Health and confirmed by the National Center for Health Statistics.

Though the detailed analysis hasn't yet been released, it will reveal that the increase in overweight has affected all groups—men and women, young and old, and various ethnic groups. For instance, overweight among American men increased over the decade from 24 to 32 percent; among women, from 27 to 35 percent.

The survey used the body mass index (BMI) to define overweight, which correlates with weighing more than the range for given heights listed in the government's chart of suggested "healthy" weights. There is much debate about how to define overweight and obesity, e.g., taking muscle mass into consideration, or looking at where the fat is distributed on the body (abdomen vs. hips). Nevertheless, by virtually any definition, Americans have been getting fatter.

This shouldn't be a surprise in light of other developments that have been reported. More and more Americans are dieting, but 90 percent regain all or most of their lost weight within five years. Crash diets don't work. Diet pills don't work. And though most Americans have flirted with exercise, few stick with it. There is a virtual "epidemic of physical inactivity," according to federal authorities.

There's no magic answer to this problem. If you're fighting a weight problem, the only way to win is by reducing intake of calories (particularly calories from fat) and increasing your energy output through a sustained exercise program and other activities.

Prevention also helps. If you're responsible for feeding kids, help them avoid obesity by teaching them to eat right and be active. And remember, the best way to teach is by setting a good example.

Woodbury Pewter is made by hand in Woodbury, Connecticut, U.S.A.

Our customers have been delighted with our selection of Woodbury Pewter. We bring you a selection of both traditional and contemporary pewterware that is uniquely "at home" with most decorative styles and settings.

Many of the items Woodbury makes are reproductions of styles made by Early American Master Craftsmen. Woodbury has been chosen to make replicas based on The Henry Ford Museum and Mystic Seaport Museum Collections.

We like Woodbury Pewter because many of the pieces can be personalized with engraving, dates, monograms, or important names. Some of our most popular engravable pieces include mugs, letter openers, bowls and covered dishes. Our customers tell us again and again how much their gift selections have been appreciated. We invite you to see for yourself.

Marine Recruit

Teamwork is familiar to Paul who grew up in the local area with his parents, two brothers and a sister. Additionally, Paul credits the hands-on experience in the scouting Explorer program with leading him into police work and molding his philosophy on police work and how to do it.

"I like the community and the people, it's a friendly caring place. I like working with youth and being involved with the schools," Paul said.

"It's important that police and youth have, not just rapport, but mutual respect because youth must have good relations while growing up for good relations as adults."

His specialty is police traffic crash investigation and prospective training may prepare him for one day going to a larger organized traffic unit where they investigate and reconstruct crashes.

Paul said that educating about drunk driving is a priority for him. He said that the rewards of police work are not in money or recognition, but in helping the community.

"If all my efforts can save a couple of lives in traffic or motivate some youth, it's all worth while."

Paul has been employed with the Chelsea police department since college graduation in 1990. He attributes his decision to join the Marines to the influence of friends such as Brian Plazacki, now stationed in Okinawa, Japan, David Ringe, former Chelsea police officer, now employed with the Saline Police and in the Marine reserves, and Marine Recruiter, Staff Sgt. John Miller. Staff Sgt. Miller continues to be available to answer questions from interested individuals who call him in Ann Arbor at 483-5464.

TO PROMOTE THE CHILI DINNER that raised $9,000, Sharon Hodgson and Scott Hinderer's third grade class at South school painted the Pierce Park rock on Thursday, April 14. Nine-year-old Scott has been struggling with leukemia since age 5, although the disease had been in remission until last summer. The Chelsea community has united to help Scott and his family by providing numerous contributions and fund-raisers which now total in excess of $30,000. Churches have received offerings for Scott, individuals have sent checks, and classmates have collected money in a jar.

Scott Hinderer Receiving Bone Marrow Transplant

Scott Hinderer is receiving bone marrow from an anonymous donor in France to combat leukemia in transplant procedures that began April 28, at Harper Hospital, Detroit, thanks to countless individuals and organizations throughout the Chelsea community.

Scott is a third grader at South school and a member of Zion Lutheran church. Financial help with the expenses associated with Scott's treatment and care continue to be donated by people around the community.

Scott's situation was brought to the attention of the community several months ago in an article that appeared in The Chelsea Standard. Great Lakes Bankcorp initiated action with a $250 donation to fund the search for a donor and with a challenge to all of the Chelsea businessmen and women to follow suit.

"Now, that a donor has been found, we need to refocus our efforts toward helping Scott's family through this stressful time," said Gilda Elkins in a May 3 letter by Great Lakes Bankcorp, Chelsea.

She said that donations in any amount will help them with the expenses that are not covered by insurance, such as travel, accommodations, and lost time from work to name a few. Checks should be made payable to Zion Lutheran Church, Scott Hinderer Trust, and mailed to Zion Lutheran Church, 3050 S. Fletcher Rd., Chelsea 48118.

Questions and requests for additional information may be directed to Gilda Elkins at 789-8300 ext. 3451 or Kimberly Johnson at 789-8300 ext. 4694. Elkins said: "Thanks for being part of this mighty miracle for Scott and his family."

Post Office Food Drive Set

Chelsea Post Office will hold its second annual food drive Saturday, May 14.

The nation-wide food drive is sponsored by the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO.

Postal patrons may leave non-perishable food items by their mailboxes, where letter carriers will pick them up. All donations will be distributed by the local food bank.

CAP To Hold Fund-Raiser At Wolverine

Chelsea Area Players will present "Face the Music," a curtain up encore, Sunday, May 22 at the Wolverine. The troupe will perform two shows, 3 and 6 p.m. and will consist of a variety of musical numbers. All proceeds go directly toward payment of the newly installed stage/curtains at Chelsea High school.

C.A.P. named the event "Face the Music" because the curtains are already installed and it's now time to "face the music" by paying for them. "The original fund-raiser 'Curtain Up,' held at the Common Grill, was a huge success, yet we still have half of our financial commitment to raise."

The shows will feature some of the area's finest musical talent in a variety of numbers sure to delight. A buffet dinner consisting of roast beef, chicken, lasagna, and baked cod, and an available cash bar will be presented by the Wolverine.

Tickets are available at Chelsea Pharmacy, Parts Peddler, Dayspring Gifts, and the Wolverine, or for more information call 475-0754. Please help support the troupe in this project and enjoy a great time of food and fun. Let C.A.P. handle your lunch/dinner plans for Sunday.

MAY IS CORRECT POSTURE MONTH

May is Correct Posture Month, a period set aside to bring public attention to the importance of posture and spinal integrity. Health authorities recognize the importance of spinal health—but do you? Do you know that good posture helps essential organs within your body to function more efficiently? That poor posture reduces blood circulation, inhibits breathing and slows body functions? Good posture enables you to do your job better...at full capacity, without suffering from early fatigue. Good posture gives you more energy by enabling your body to function most efficiently. It lets you accomplish more, because your body is working in its simplest and most effective way—utilizing muscle contraction and relaxation, balance, coordination, rhythm and timing to excel at a task. Whatever your age, whatever your activities and pace, correct posture helps your body meet the demands of everyday life. And, it will generally enable you to have more endurance, more stamina and greater mental potential. For the sake of your health and well being, the American Chiropractic Association and your family doctor of chiropractic suggests that you watch your posture, and have periodic spinal examinations.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

Please consider impacting legislation directed at keeping violent criminals incarcerated for as long as possible; as a punishment to them, as a crime deterrent to others and for our own safety in the community and workplace.

There are currently two "truth in sentencing" bills being discussed by the Michigan House of Representatives Judiciary Committee. These bills will soon be sent to the full House of Representatives for a vote. The Senate has already overwhelmingly passed both bills.

Senate bills 40 and 41, would require that criminals convicted of assaultive crimes serve AT LEAST their minimum sentences incarcerated and these criminals would be unable to earn time off for good behavior. Good behavior would be expected and time could be added to this minimum sentence for unacceptable behavior.

The sponsor of these bills, Senator William Van Regenmorter, has agreed that a strong show of public support for these bills could help to make them pass more quickly. Petitions with 34,000 signatures have been presented to the Senator.

If you agree with the specifics of Senate Bills 40 and 41, please join me in writing to Senator Van Regenmorter and Governor Engler. Your letter should contain the following information:

1. Your letter is in reference to Senate Bills 40 and 41.
 2. These bills are "truth in sentencing" bills.
 3. Passage of these bills would require that criminals convicted of assaultive crimes must serve their full minimum sentences incarcerated, with NO time off for good behavior.
 4. Optional: Give details of how you also have been victimized by crime.
- Thank you for your help.
Sandra Crawford,

Dear Editor,

On Thursday, April 30, I was surprised by village president Richard Steele, village manager Jack Myers and Masons Olive Lodge Grand Mason Monte Howard and Wanda Howard, at the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce office. They presented me with an award which named me "Citizen of the Year for 1994." Needless to say it was a wonderful surprise as well as a shock. Thank you to each organization which was involved in this honor. I am very grateful.

Chelsea welcomed our family with open arms 22 years ago. It has been our privilege to live here and become an integral part of the community. Any contribution I have made has been done joyfully and with love for all that Chelsea stands for. Mark Wallace said it very well in his award winning McClure essay, "Chelsea nurtures feelings of community and belonging. Chelsea has an extraordinary knack for making people feel welcome, comfortable and at home."

Many kind words have been expressed to me this past week. Thank you for each and every one.

Ann Feeney.

Marty Straub Seeking State Representative Post

Marty Straub has announced his candidacy for Michigan's 52nd State Representative District. His announcement comes with the encouragement of community members from across the district. "I have been urged to consider this seat for several months by people who believe 'community' doesn't seem to be present in our legislative system . . . It's all politics. This community wants a community leader, and that is what I can bring," Straub said.

Straub, a Washtenaw county commissioner since 1982, has previously been elected chair of the Board of Commissioners by both Republican and Democratic commissioners. "The State Legislature should be seen as a place where those with different opinions can exchange ideas and inevitably do the right thing for Michigan. It is not a place for political battles," Straub said. "I will bring to Lansing an ability to work with other representatives. My experience as a commissioner proves that I can work with those with differing opinions."

"We hear the politicians make a lot of promises but the promising is over. We are at a critical moment in our State's history, and the partisanship has to end. The people in this district need a leader who can work with others to ease our tax burdens, to build an environment of economic growth, and to restore safety and justice to our communities."

"I look forward to a tough road ahead."

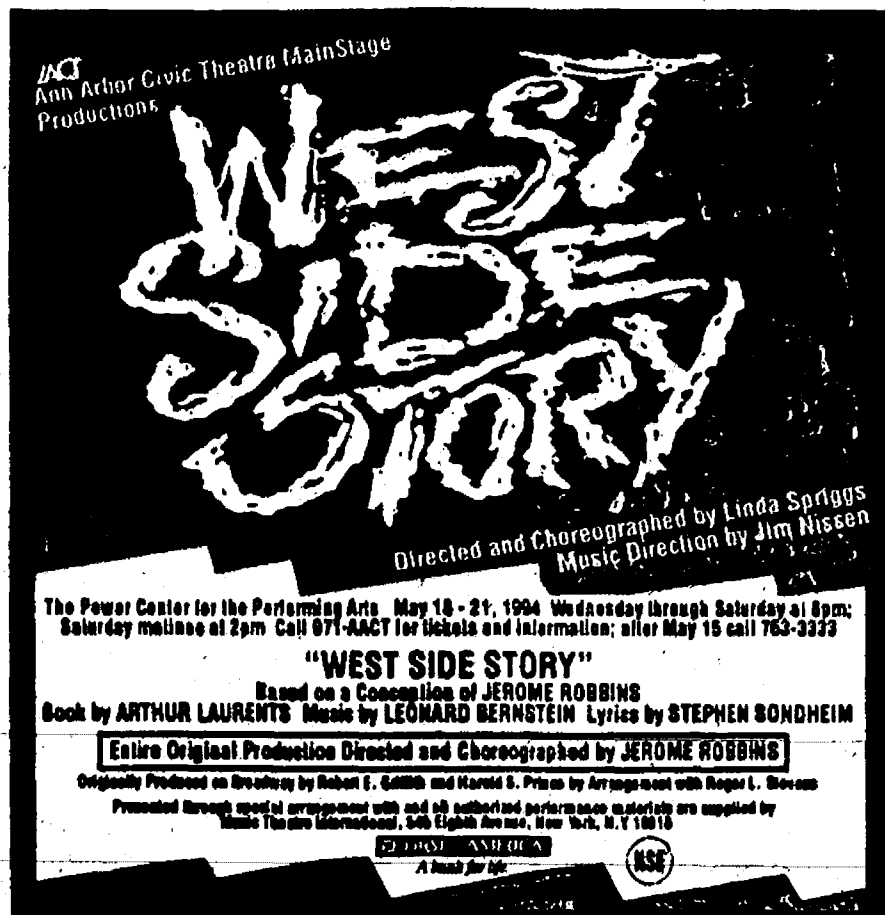

Straub noted that besides his service as a county commissioner, he is also a businessperson, Registered Professional Engineer, a member of the State Board of Professional Engineers, and a long-time member of the county Emergency Medical Services Commission, the Board of Health, the Sheriff's Special Projects Fund Advisory Board, board of the C.O.P.E./O'Brien Youth Center, the Dexter Local Development Finance Authority board of directors, as well as the chair of the Washtenaw Central Dispatch Authority board of directors.

The 52nd State Representative District includes the townships of Lyndon, Dexter, Webster, Northfield, Sylvan, Lima, Scio and Ann Arbor, as well as the northern part of the City of Ann Arbor. As a county commissioner, Straub has represented all but the Ann Arbor city and Ann Arbor township portions of the 52nd District.

Marty Straub, a Republican, is a graduate of Chelsea High school and the University of Michigan College of Engineering. He and his wife Darlene have four sons, two of whom attend Chelsea High school.

JOSH POWERS, an ambitious eighth grade student at Beach Middle school, has researched, designed and exhibited the first prize entry in the state level National History Day project. His junior individual project shows a photographic and historical development of Lima township since it was first settled. Next stop for Josh is entering national competition at the University of Maryland June 12-16. Shown here with Josh is Mrs. Judy Ward, his teacher-coach at Beach school.

Josh Powers Is State Winner in National History Day Project

Josh Powers, an eighth grade student at Beach Middle school, was announced as the winner of the state level award for the junior individual project sponsored by the National History Day organization.

On Saturday, April 30, he and Mrs. Judy Ward who has been his sponsoring teacher, were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Powers and Josh's grandmother, Mrs. Ralph McCalla, to Alma College where Josh competed against other students from around the state. The judges represented various colleges, universities, and history organizations.

The award qualifies Josh to attend the national level competition conducted at the University of Maryland on June 12-16. At that time, his project on the Geographical Development of Lima township will be entered as the Michigan individual junior project and will be judged against similar projects from 49 other states.

National History Day is a nationally acclaimed enrichment program which promotes the study of history in schools. The program is modeled after science fairs and encourages students to take a creative approach to studying history. In the process, students learn research, writing, and communication skills and gain an understanding of the importance of historical perspectives. Participating students develop research papers, display projects, media presentations, and performances based on topics related to an annual theme. The 1994 theme is "Geography in History: People, Places, Time."

Josh began working on this project in October, 1993 and has constantly devoted his free time to making this effort a winning one. Josh qualified for the state contest by winning the regional level competition held in Troy last month. Now he will make some minor changes that he and Mrs. Ward hope will further improve the quality of the project.

His next task is to prepare for the trip. This will require money. Since Josh is a young man of modest means, he needs your help. Participation in the national event requires a cost of approximately $300 per student for travel, housing, meals, and registration. Mrs. Ward hopes that the community and its public service organizations can provide some financial assistance to help Josh.

Tim Wescott was the starting pitcher in the second game. The game was called because of darkness in the fifth inning resulting in a 6-5 loss to Lincoln. Chelsea scored one more in the fourth on a walk and a single by Matt Powell. The score was tied in the top of the fifth and Chelsea threatened with a line drive to left field in the bottom of the fifth. The game was called because it was too dark to continue.

Girls Track Team Defeats Fowlerville

Chelsea High school girls track team upped their record to 6-0 with a 96-32 win over Fowlerville on Tuesday.

The Bulldogs won 14 of the 16 events. Erin Schiller and Keri Kentala each won two individual events. Schiller won the high jump at 5-1 and the 200 in :28.2 and Kentala took the 100 hurdles in :17.9 and the 300 hurdles in :52.7, both season's bests.

Schiller also ran a leg on the winning 800 relay while Kentala had a third in a Chelsea sweep of the long jump. Laurie Schiller won the long jump with a career best of 14'-3" with Katie Spink second in 14'-2". "We are very pleased with our long jumpers right now. They are all jumping consistently well and giving us solid performances," said coach Bill Bainton.

Also continuing with strong performances were the Bulldog throwers. Heidi Wehrwein won the shot at 32'-3/4" with Mara Smith third, and Smith took the discus at 107'-10" with Courtney Thompson third. Thompson also finished second in the high jump.

In the running events, Chelsea had firsts from the 3200 relay of Jenni Space, Molly Griebe, Jessica Flintoft, and Melissa Hand in 10:30.9 and the 800 relay of Spink, Heidi Kemnitz, Erin Schiller, and Beth Bell in 1:53.6. Hand won the 1600 in 5:47.4, Spink the 400 in 1:04.7, Bell the 800 in 2:30.9 and Griebe the 3200 in her season's best of 12:32.0. "Molly ran a very good race this week. She took control early with a good pace and cut 20 seconds off her time," said Bainton.

Erika Leiter had seconds in both the 1600 and 3200 runs. "Erika has been contributing some valuable points in the distance races this spring. We are lucky to have a runner like her that can double and give us those extra points," said Bainton.

Jill McKinnon finished second in the 100 hurdles and third in the 300 hurdles. Jenni Space was second in the 400 in her first try at that race, and Heidi Wehrwein was second in the 200. Laurie Schiller added a third in the 100.

Softball Team Improves Record With 2 Wins Over Tecumseh

Chelsea Junior Varsity softball team won both games against Tecumseh on Tuesday, May 10, 16-7 and 22-6.

Sara Petty pitched the first game, striking out 12 in seven innings. Tecumseh walked 13 batters, striking out only 2. Chelsea hits came from Danielle Longe, Melissa Bycraft and Petty. Successful bunting came from Kerry Lynch, Tina Richardson, Kyle Kentala, Chrissy Vargo and Jenny Paddock.

"We executed our bunts and ran the bases well early in the first game, which helped us gain a comfortable lead," noted coach Kim Eder.

Nikki Lane started pitching for Chelsea in the second game. Lane faced 12 batters, striking out 1, walking 5, and giving up 6 runs. Longe finished the game facing 14 batters, with 4 strike-outs. Kasie Ruhlig caught behind the plate, and threw out two baserunners attempting to steal.

Leading the hitting were Longe with two triples, Richardson with two singles and a triple, and Hilarie Szczygiel with three singles and a double. Two hits or more came from Szczygiel, Ruhlig, Petty, Richardson, Bycraft, and Longe.

Coach Andrea Maines noted, "We're getting stronger as a team with both our fielding and hitting. We had 15 hits in the second game. That's something to be proud of."

The team played a single game against Monroe St. Mary's on Friday, May 6, winning a close one, 3-0. Chelsea scored two runs early in the first inning on two errors, a sacrifice bunt by Longe, and a single from Richardson. Monroe threatened in the third inning with two baserunners in scoring position, but Chelsea's defense held tight.

Chelsea had runners at second and third twice, but were unable to score until the fifth inning. With a lead off walk to Petty, a stolen base, a catching error, and a slap hit from Richardson scored Chelsea's third run.

Monroe's last threat came in the seventh. With a runner at third and one out, pitcher Danielle Longe took the challenge, striking out the last two batters to finish the game. Longe pitched all seven innings with Lynch behind the plate. Longe faced 28 batters, struck out 7, allowed 2 hits and 2 walks. Lynch allowed only two stolen bases for the game and no passed balls.

"The team knew that Monroe would be tough to beat. We had a bit of trouble with our bunting which cost us a chance for two runs, but Longe pitched a two-hitter and we played a tight defensive game behind her," said coach Eder.

In earlier play, the team traveled to Dexter on Thursday, May 5 for a double-header. Chelsea merited Dex-

Hospital Provides Free Buffet, Tour of New Facilities

On Friday, May 6, Chelsea Community Hospital provided a free buffet and tour of its new Surgery and Diagnostic Center to nearly 700 people in their service area. The complete meal offered a selection of four entree, salads, vegetables and desserts. Art Dils, spokesperson for the Hospital, said "for many years, the philosophy of the Hospital has been to live up to the word 'community' which is part of our name. We believe that we should share the campus and facilities with the community we serve . . . and that the Hospital is a place to enjoy and learn, rather than just a place to come when hurt or ill."

A FAMILY AFFAIR it proved to be, as advertised, as complete families attended the free buffet dinner at Chelsea Community Hospital Friday evening. Here, Linda Daly, director of hospital records, is dining with her daughters, Erin and Katie.

lab facilities for visitors. Jeff, Lynn and Sooner Dils were among those touring the new units.

CARLOS GARCIA, a member of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. and also known as "Carlos the Magician," amused and mystified visitors with his tricks while they were moving through the cafeteria line.

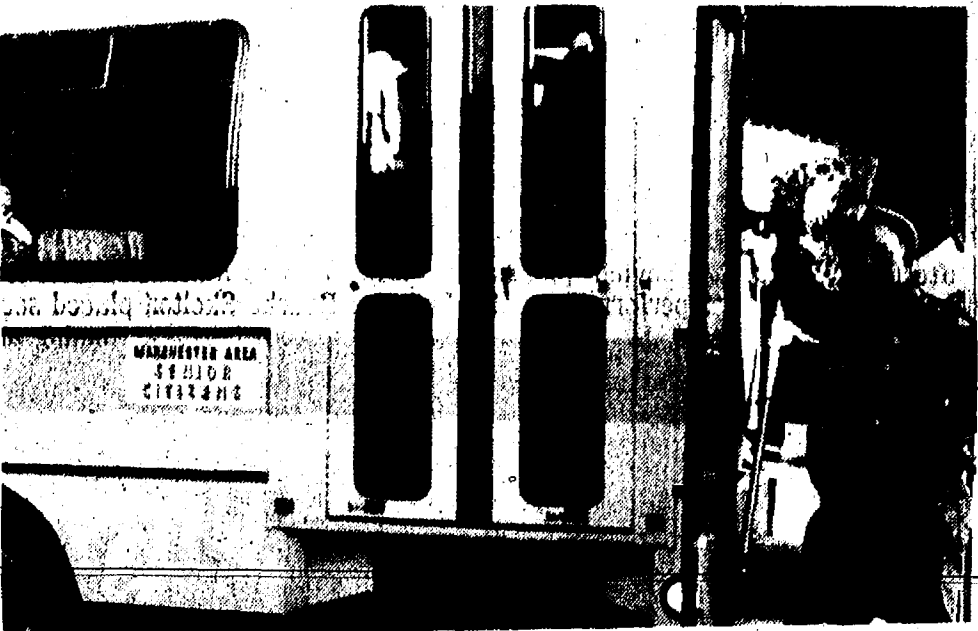

DONNA KATKA, medical technologist with Chelsea Community Hospital, showed visitors the newly expanded surgical unit.

ALENE STEINBACH, long-time Chelsea resident, and Chelsea Community Hospital volunteer, was among the many enjoying the buffet cafeteria serving.

SERVING DESSERTS in a wide assortment, were Jean DuRussel-Weston, Chelsea Community Hospital Health Education co-ordinator, and Ruth Philliben, nurse manager, head pain department.

MANCHESTER SENIOR CITIZENS who are included in the Chelsea Community Hospital service area, filled their bus and arrived early to enjoy the free buffet and tour of the hospital. Bus driver is Howard Poley.

COLORS THE CLOWN circulated throughout the hospital entertaining kiddies and grown-ups alike with magic tricks and forming balloon characters for the young folks. Also known as Kelly Howe, she is a Chelsea resident and favorite entertainer.

Local Artists Create Original Works For Upcoming Ducks Unlimited Banquet

Area wildlife artists will be donating their artwork for the upcoming Western Washtenaw Ducks Unlimited Banquet to be held Friday, May 13 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter.

Tom Coo, Susan Falcone, Hal Horton, Tom McClanahan, Catherine McClung, Marti Naudi and Jack and Sally Wilson have all created original works of art for the fund-raising auction.

Area chairperson, Peggy Plawchan, feels that many species of wildlife will be the beneficiaries of the fund-raising effort to restore and preserve marshland.

Whitmore Lake artist, Marti Naudi is once again creating an original watercolor painting for the live auction. In addition, two of her new releases of songbird prints will be available by silent auction or won as a raffle prize.

Hal Horton of Grass Lake has used mahogany to create a highly stylized carving of a marsh bird, an American bittern. Hal's carvings are also sold at Florida galleries and at Ann Arbor Area art shows.

Local artist Catherine McClung has created for auction an original watercolor vignette of a red breasted nuthatch and rosehips. Catherine, has also donated one of her signed collector's plates of Blue Jays. It is part of a series of songbird plates being published by Lenox fine china.

Chelsea's Tom Coo has recently returned from the world champion woodcarvers competition where he once again was awarded first place. He has created a hand-carved and painted feather pin for this year's banquet.

Ann Arbor's husband and wife artists, Susan Falcone and Tom McClanahan have donated works of art for the auction. Susan's print of a kestrel has an original sketch of a dragonfly on its border. A scene of a lawn amid the forest floor foliage has been donated by photographer Tom McClanahan.

Arbor artist Harry Antis. This year's sponsor print is a marshland scene of Canada Geese entitled, "In for the Evening."

In addition to the artwork the banquet will include outstanding raffle prize of sporting goods and items for the home. This year's event will again have the popular country western theme with a pig roast and buffet dinner.

Frosh Baseball Team Loses Double-Header

Chelsea's freshman baseball team lost both games of a double header with Tecumseh at home Friday, May 6 and then bounced back to win against Ann Arbor Huron 13 to 10 on Saturday, May 7.

Casey Wescott was the starting pitcher for the first Tecumseh game, he allowed six runs on nine hits with five strikeouts in six innings and Jake Walker pitched one inning allowing two hits, no runs, with one walk and one strikeout. Jason Sprawka and Casey Wescott were the leading hitters with two hits each including a double by Wescott.

In the second game, Tecumseh won with a 9 to 8 score. Pitching was shared. Jake Walker pitched one inning, allowing five runs on one hit and striking out four batters. John Beeman pitched two innings, allowing three runs on three hits with three walks and one earned run. Jason Sprawka pitched four innings holding Tecumseh to one run on two hits, with four strikeouts, one walk and one earned run.

Josh Fraker and Ashley Coy led the hitting with two hits each including a double by Coy.

On Saturday, May 7, Chelsea freshman beat Ann Arbor Huron 13-10 at home. Leading hitters were Jason Sprawka with a single and a double, Jay Schick with two hits, Casey Wescott with a double and two singles and Tim Lawrence with two hits.

Girls Track Team Wins Corunna Relays

The Chelsea girls track team won the nine-team Corunna Relays for the third consecutive year Friday night. The Bulldogs had 88 points to 80 for runner-up Corunna. Frankenmuth finished third with 76 and Flint Kearsley was fourth with 62. Chelsea set three meet records and won five events on the way to the championship.

The first of the meet records came in the high jump where the duo of Erin Schiller and Courtney Thompson combined to jump 10'-7", bettering the old meet record by 5 inches. Thompson tied the school record of 5'-4" and Schiller equaled her best of 5'-3" in setting the mark.

"This was a tremendous performance by our high jumpers. Erin has been very consistent all season and Courtney had struggled recently but had a great day Friday."

The second mark came in the long jump relay where Laurie Schiller, Katie Spink, and Keri Kentala combined for 42'-1", bettering the mark that the Bulldogs set last year. Spink was the only holdover from that group. "We didn't have a single spectacular jump, but as has been the case all season, were very consistent. Our three jumpers were within five inches of each other."

The third meet record came in the next to last race and also clinched the meet for the Bulldogs. The freshman-sophomore 1600 relay of Katie Spink, Jenni Space, Laurie Schiller, and Melissa Hand lowered the meet record by 3 seconds winning in 4:21.6. "We decided to go for that event because we have been running these girls in the 1600 relay most of the season, so we just ran them all together. We knew if they won, we would win the meet, and they certainly came through."

The Bulldogs had big contributions from other places as well. The discus team of Mara Smith, Heidi Wehrwein, and Courtney Thompson threw 285'-7" to finish second, and Smith, Wehrwein, and Carrie Ashendel combined for 85'-0" to take third in the shot. "We've had good depth in the field events this year and that helped us build an early lead in this meet." The 3200 relay team of Jenni Space, Sarah Henry, Molly Griebel, and Melissa Hand ran 10:16.8 to win by 20 seconds and Space, Beth Bell, Hand, and Griebel took the distance medley by over 30 seconds with a 13:40.4.

Other placers for Chelsea came from Keri Kentala, Beth Bell, Katie Spink, and Erin Schiller who finished third in the sprint medley in 4:12.9; Spink, Sarah Schick, Erin Schiller, and Bell who were fourth in the 800 relay with a season's best of 1:52.5; Schick, Laurie Schiller, Erin Schiller, and Kentala fifth in the 400 relay in :52.4.

Escape Notification System To Be Started At Cassidy Boot Camp

An escape notification system is being activated at the Cassidy Lake Boot camp facility in response to citizen input at the community meeting Monday, May 2.

Inspector Jerry Howell, Cassidy Lake Corrections facility, said that the Department of Corrections officials approved the escape notification system Friday, May 6, following a presentation by Bruce Curtis, Cassidy Lake Administrator.

Plans are to do a practice on May 21 and subsequently on the first Saturday of each month at 12:00 noon. It will consist of one two-minute blast. Inspector Howell said that they have to change some wiring for the switch and it will be ready to use.

"At the time of the meeting, we had no idea how long it would take to implement the system," said Howell.

The meeting was held at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club and it was attended by 56 people from the community. Officials said it was one of the largest groups in a long time. There were a lot of new people in attendance and much of the meeting was orientation.

May Is National Speech, Hearing Awareness Month

"What did you say? Please repeat that," said Mrs. Lee, an adult helping in recess. "Mitha Wah, Ethita buth kuh kow a I ut by edbo," said Johnny very excitedly.

"I'm sorry Johnny, you're going to have to slow down and say that again. I just couldn't understand you."

"I thal, Ethita buth kuh kow a I ut by edbo," Johnny repeated slowly with tears brimming.

Mrs. Lee tried desperately to translate the kindergartener's speech. Despite her 13 years of experience, sometimes she could still be baffled. She shook her head.

"I'm sorry Johnny. I just don't know what you're telling me. Wait a minute, maybe Mary will understand you." Mrs. Lee called another kindergarten student over and said kindly, "Mary, please listen to Johnny and see if you can tell me what he is saying. Go ahead Johnny." Johnny blushed and repeated his earlier statement quietly. Mary shook her head and ran off to play. Johnny walked away, keeping his eyes glued to the ground and trying hard not to cry. Mrs. Lee never knew that Jessica pushed him down and he hurt his elbow.

May is National Speech and Hearing Awareness month. Speech/language pathologists and audiologists across the nation dedicate themselves to minimizing the number of times scenes similar to the one above are played out. These professionals work hard to ensure that our children learn to enunciate all of their sounds at the appropriate ages, learn to use and understand the English language, can hear adequately, remain fluent, and learn to use appropriate social language skills.

If you have questions or concerns about the speech, language or hearing of anyone, child or adult, please contact a local speech/language pathologist or audiologist by calling your public school or the American Speech and Hearing Association at 1-800-638-6888. Individuals between the ages of birth and 25 years may be eligible to receive help through their local school district or intermediate school district. Many insurance policies and/or health plans have speech/hearing benefits as well.

THANK YOU

To our Friends, Co-Workers, Neighbors, Pastor Nancy and Family: We sincerely thank all of you for the support, prayers, cards, visits and offers of help in any possible way. This gave us the encouragement that we needed to get through the past few months. May God bless each of you and spare you the trauma we have recently had to endure.

Ellis & Doris Pratt.

Card of Thanks 19

JULIUS REULE-

In loving memory of my sweet husband who passed away three years ago the first of May 1991. We never knew that morning the sorrow would bring to lose a loved one so dear. We will ever know we miss you Julius and always will. Your vacant place no one can fill. The saddest part of all we couldn't say goodbye, you were gone before we knew and only God knows why. Sadly missed by his wife and daughter, Linda.

SYLVAN TOWNSHIP RESIDENTS

Sylvan Township will be sponsoring a pick up of large appliances. The funding for this is provided through the distribution of Solid Waste Funds. The funds distributed to Sylvan Township are based in part on the population of the Township outside of the Village limits, therefore the collection will be limited to residents outside of the Village limits.

Appliances that will be picked up are: stoves, refrigerators, washers, dryers, freezers, air conditioners, hot water heaters and microwave ovens. Due to the limited funds available and the cost to remove freon from refrigerators, freezers and air conditioners, it will be necessary to limit the number of those type units per household to three.

Appliances must be brought out to the roadside.

The pick-up will occur on Saturday, May 21, 1994. To arrange for pick up, residents must call the Township office at 475-8890 on Monday, May 16, 1994 and Wednesday, May 18, 1994 or Friday, May 20, 1994 between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 12:00 Noon.

Hospital Celebrates 'Month of the Young Child'

In April, Michigan's child advocates celebrated "Month of the Young Child," MOYC, to highlight the needs and rights of young children and their families. MOYC aims for a better today and a more promising future for children, recognizing that children have small voices and need adults to act on their behalf.

Chelsea Community Hospital Children's Center staff celebrated MOYC in several ways: On April 9, all staff attended a special Saturday morning inservice focusing on Conflict Management with Children. During the workshop each program received a special poster showing the process of "Talking It Out" during conflict management with children.

The Center children, their parents, and staff held their annual All-Center MOYC Pot-luck on April 14. A raffle was held for a quilt designed by the Center staff, children and Diane Noble, Toddler Room Teacher Aide. A drawing was held at the pot-luck and Shannon Steinbach was the winner of the quilt.

On April 21, Early Childhood Professional Recognition Day, Chris Ramos-Shearer, aide to Representative Mary Schroer, visited the Center. She spent time in the Preschool Room "job shadowing" Teacher Sharon Foster to see what an important role child care workers play in the lives of young children. Her participation was co-ordinated with Worthy Wage Day.

Children's Center staff, parents and hospital employees also showed their support by wearing or displaying purple ribbons all month.
