SPEAKER for the Memorial Day address was Dr. Wilfred Lane, a veteran of World War II and Chelsea native. Master of Ceremonies was Jim Knott, left, above. The Rev. Wayne Hawley of North Lake United Methodist church gave the invocation and benediction. A larger than usual crowd attended this year's service as the nation was observing the 50th Anniversary of D-Day, June 6, 1944 when the Allied Forces landed on Normandy beaches to begin the defeat of Nazi Germany.

Memorial Day Speaker Asks Are We Worthy of These Sacrifices?

By Wilfred Lane

When I was asked to speak here today, I hesitated to accept, because I wasn't sure that I had a topic worthy of the occasion. But after some consideration, I decided to share with you a few of my thoughts regarding Memorial Day.

I feel that it is appropriate that someone of my age group, someone who was involved in the events which occurred 50 years ago this summer, be the one to speak here today. I am proud to say that I was one of the thousands upon thousands of the Allied Forces who were poised on the British Isles, ready to be launched across the English Channel to take part in the largest amphibious assault in the history of our universe.

Many of my new-found comrades never returned to their loved ones. Some of my high school classmates are lying here in this very cemetery, while others are resting where they fell on foreign soil or in the oceans where they fought and died.

In the nine wars that the United States of America has been engaged in, the common citizen soldier, the lifeblood of the American military, in war time, has always been given a reason to bear arms, a goal to attain, or an ideal to uphold.

It is with this information as a background that I would like to pose my question to you. That is, do you feel that we have been faithful to those who have made the supreme sacrifice for us, those who died, that in so doing, all men shall live in freedom?

Ever since our founding fathers decided that they had endured British tyranny long enough and the first minuteman fell on the bridge at Concord, independence from oppression and democratic rule have been worthy of giving up one's life on the field of battle. However, people are still dying to attain these goals. Ideals which General Washington's troops were dying for in order that a new country might be born.

In less than 100 years after we had gained our precious independence, our embryonic country was again embroiled in another conflict. This time, it was a civil war, a war in which brother fought against brother. Men in blue and grey who died in places like Antietam and Gettysburg were told that their sacrifices might unite a divided nation, and that all men would be free regardless of the color of their skin or their religious convictions.

You'll be the first to admit, that this terrible inequality still exists in areas of housing, education and in the work place to name but a few. Injustices are still very real, not only in some third world countries, but in our own nation, professed to be the most civilized in the world. Abraham Lincoln probably said it best in his Gettysburg Address when he prayed that the fighting and dying in that terrible conflict would result in placing all men on an equal basis, that a wounded nation might continue to stand and that the "government of the people, by the people and for the people should not perish from the earth."

Now I ask you, were these pleadings of a saddened president and a war torn nation merely needless rhetoric? It would almost seem so when we realize that today, these inequalities still exist not only in

Year-End Activities, Graduation Set This Week for CHS Seniors

Chelsea High school is expected to graduate nearly 180 seniors during a ceremony slated Sunday, June 5.

Prior to graduation several year-end events are planned, including the following:

Baccalaureate

The 1994 baccalaureate will be held tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship is sponsoring the services, which will include six pastors from the organization with the Rev. Franklin Giebel of Our Savior Lutheran church delivering the message to the graduating seniors.

Music Awards

On Thursday, June 2, all the senior musicians will be honored at a special recognition banquet held in the cafeteria.

Class Night

The high school faculty, scholarship committee, local businesses, local organizations, many colleges and a host of other groups will take the time Friday, June 3, to honor and recognize Chelsea High school graduates. The senior awards evening will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. Scholarship winners, departmental award winners, Presidential Academic Award recipients and students earning special awards will be named.

Graduation

Commencement ceremonies will be held Sunday, June 5, at 3 p.m. on the football field, if weather co-operates, otherwise it will be held in the gymnasium.

Graduation will begin with a procession, followed by the National Anthem, welcoming remarks by high school principal Ron Mead, a performance by Chelsea High school's chorus, a student address by Christine Koch, a performance by Chelsea High school's band, a student address by David Seitz, certification of graduates by interim superintendent Howard Osterling, presentation of graduates by Mead and diplomas presented by the board of education. The ceremony will follow up with a senior slide show by senior officers.

Adult Graduation

Chelsea adult graduation will be held June 9 at 7 p.m. in the media center. State representative Mary Schroer will attend, as will school district staff.

Baccalaureate Set Tonight at Chelsea High

The separation of church and state may not be over, but the church is again welcome at the Chelsea High school.

An earlier United States Supreme Court ruling, which says you can not exclude church groups from using school facilities if you make them available to other outside community services, has paved the way for the Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship to sponsor this year's baccalaureate services at the Chelsea High school auditorium.

A baccalaureate is a worship service thanking God for blessing the children and a time to congratulate the children for using God's blessing.

The 1994 baccalaureate will be Wednesday, June 1 at 7:30 p.m. for all senior students who wish to attend.

Chelsea High principal Ron Mead said he wants everyone to know the service is not a school sponsored activity and is not mandatory to attend.

"First let me say I think it's healthy," Mead said, "as long as everyone understands it's an optional event."

The baccalaureate's return to the high school marks the end of a five year hiatus in which the service was performed at various churches throughout the community. Most church officials said returning to the high school was a positive step for the community.

The Rev. Richard Dake of the Chelsea First United Methodist church, who is the chairman of the Baccalaureate Committee, said the school offers a place people of all denominations can come and worship together.

"It feels good for us (to be back in the school)," Dake said. "We want to offer a (baccalaureate) worship service that is non-denominational."

"In Chelsea there has always been a co-operative relationship between community and church."

The service will include six pastors from the Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship with the Rev. Franklin Giebel of Our Savior Lutheran church delivering the message to the graduating seniors.

Chelsea High school graduation ceremonies are set for Sunday, June 5 at 3 p.m.

Grass Lake Man Dies In Car Fire

Jackson County Sheriff's department reported a fatal accident involving one vehicle early Saturday morning.

Rescue workers, including the Chelsea Fire Department, responded to a car fire on the 1400 block of Harvey Rd. in Waterloo township at 2:30 a.m. on May 28.

A sheriff's department official said, Michael Brainerd, 31, of Grass Lake was travelling alone eastbound on Harvey Rd. when he failed to negotiate a turn in the road.

The car veered off the road striking a tree. The impact from the accident engulfed the car in flames, killing Brainerd.

Use of a seat belt or alcohol is unknown at this time. The case is still under investigation by Jackson County Sheriff department detectives.

Adult Ed Graduation Set June 9

Chelsea and Manchester Adult Education will hold commencement ceremony on June 9, at 7 p.m. in the Chelsea High School Media Center. Six adult graduates from the two school districts will receive their high school diplomas after completing all required course work.

State Representative Mary Schroer will be in attendance as will members of the Chelsea and Manchester School District staff. A reception will follow the ceremony in the Media Center.

School Millage Vote, Board Election Set Monday, June 13

During the next two weeks the Chelsea School District will be very busy with end of the year events.

In addition to graduation, the school district will hold a very important millage election. Residents will vote on one mill for building maintenance and 18 operational mills.

The 18 mills will only be assessed on non-homestead property.

If successful, this millage election will result in an 80% reduction in school property taxes for homestead property and a 29% reduction in non-homestead school property taxes.

These 18 mills are required by legislation in order for the school district to receive the same funding as last year plus 3 percent.

If anyone has any questions about the millage they may contact Fred Mills, assistant superintendent or Howard Osterling, interim superintendent.

In addition to the millage election, the district is holding its annual school board election. Four candidates are running for two positions. The four candidates are Jane Diesing, Rodney Craig, David McWhorter and Dayle Wright. Residents will have an opportunity to meet each of these people at a forum on Friday, June 3, at 1 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Center at Faith in Action, or Tuesday, June 7 at 7 p.m. in the board room in the administration building at the high school.

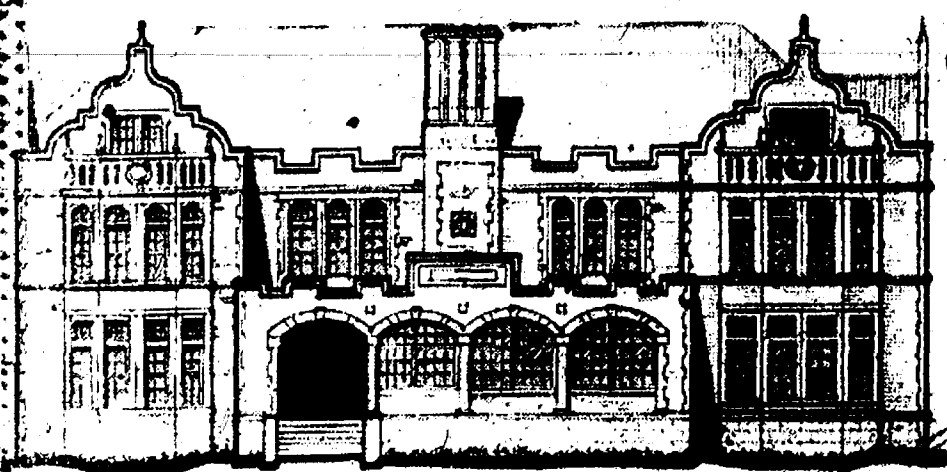

UNDER BRIGHT SUNNY SKIES the American Legion Color Guard led Chelsea's Memorial Day Parade to Oak Grove Cemetery. Pat Merkel served as parade marshal again this year.

A SALUTE to deceased veterans of U.S. Wars provided a solemn moment in Chelsea's Memorial Day services Monday. Following the salute the High School Band played "Taps" and the national anthem to conclude the program.

4 Years Ago . . .

Wednesday, May 30, 1990—Village of Chelsea and the Department of Natural Resources have apparently reached a compromise that will allow the village to use its new landfill cell and avoid closing the Werker Rd. facility. Village council approved the compromise, hammered out by village attorneys and the state attorney general's office. Village manager Robert Stalker was informed of the tentative agreement Tuesday in a telephone conference.

Property tax rates for the Village of Chelsea will drop nearly two mills for 1990. Village council last week authorized a total levy of 14.78 mills, down from 16.6 mills in 1989. The reason for the rollback in rates is due to a 20 percent increase in property assessments. In 1989, the village State Equalized Value was $81.55 million while this year it is $73.85 million.

Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority has unanimously endorsed a proposal for a Saturday downtown farmer's market proposed by the new owners of Farmer's Supply Co. Before the idea can become reality, village council has to grant a special use permit so the market can be located in the parking lot between the Chelsea Depot on Main St. Greg Raye and H.K. Leonard came up with the plan and presented the idea at a May 21 meeting of the DDA. The plan calls for the market to expand to the east side of the depot as it grows in popularity.

Village of Chelsea, along with area townships, may participate in a household hazardous waste drop-off sponsored by the Washtenaw County Environmental Services Bureau. An exact date for the drop-off has not been established, and neither the village or townships have officially voted to participate. The county wants the village to pay up to $2,500 for the one-time service, and the village wants to know if the townships are interested in participating and sharing the costs.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Getting the Military into Social Work

If you thought the military's job was just to wage war and defend the nation, guess again. It's now being called on to save the environment, combat AIDS and fight global warming.

By Philip C. Clarke

Since America's founding, our armed forces have fought to guarantee this nation's security in more than a dozen wars. Now our military is being called on to protect the nation from threats of a quite different nature.

The Clinton Administration is in the process of redefining the term "national security" to include the spread of AIDS, population growth, global warming and environmental pollution.

With White House approval, Deputy Secretary of State Strobe Talbott is leading the charge to re-cast the role of the nation's military. Specifically, the Pentagon will become more involved in humanitarian and social missions, and what Talbott calls "soft power." "Soft power," as opposed to "hard power" of, say, a Marine battalion going ashore into battle, will involve the military in combat against such ill-defined transnational problems as refugee relief and natural disasters around the world.

Under Talbott's plan, the military also will increasingly take part in United Nations peacemaking operations as well as "peacekeeping" missions.

One hopes lessons have been learned from the U.S. military's participation in the U.N.'s rescue operations in Somalia which tried to go beyond humanitarian needs to nation-building with ill-fated results. Nonetheless, the Talbott plan calls on the U.S. military to engage in future diplomatic and humanitarian missions, acting not as a global cop but as a sort of global social worker.

While the Department of Defense opposes such non-military activities, nearly $6 billion already has been allotted to the Pentagon for environmental operations. Sherri Goodman, named Deputy Undersecretary of Defense for Environmental Security, recently moved into new offices in the Pentagon. Her newly created position—with a larger operating budget than the Environmental Protection Agency—is in charge of making the military "environmentally friendly." In addition to overseeing the clean-up of the nation's military bases, the Office of Environmental Security will see to it that the military uses ecologically compatible technologies, like converting many army vehicles to natural gas, replacing ozone-damaging coolants in our nation's nuclear warheads and protecting endangered species found on military bases. Future roles for the new office may include conducting global warming research.

"This is another example of using defense money for things that have nothing to do with defense," say retired U.S. Army General Daniel O. Graham, director of High Frontier, the Washington-based pro-space defense think tank. Adds Graham: "This is a case of the Clinton Administration supporting the 'Greens,' this time with defense money. It is supporting 'pop-culture' social causes at the expense of our nation's security. The military should not be used as a laboratory for social experimentation."

Graham points out that in time of tight defense budgets, every dollar counts. "Clinton spent $20 million on creating something called the 'National Defense Center for Environmental Excellence,' another $57 million on AIDS research, and millions more on frivolous environmental programs. Is that really what we should be spending our defense dollars on?" asks Graham. "The military's role is to defend this nation against military threats, not against global warming."

"Taking money and resources away from the military's core tasks," warns Graham, "hurts our men and women in uniform. Every defense dollar spent on global warming research takes a dollar away from giving our people good training, or state-of-the-art equipment to ensure their success in combat. This diversion of resources not only endangers their lives, but the security of this nation."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Budgets are big in the papers these days. Ed Doolittle noted at the county store Saturday night, as local Governments work on how to hold taxing and spending to the best light where folks think they're getting instead of paying more for less. All elected boards are trying to balance wish lists and what taxpayers will hold still for, he went on, and as always they will be stuck with education and other circumstances beyond their control that will make outgo go up by some percent.

Furthermore, Ed went on, more than usual this budget season reminds that Democrats' idea of good Government is coming up with new ways to draw money out of the governed. Republican Ed said the Administration and the Congress majority are in cahoots, and they are setting up nights setting examples for Governments in the rest of the country to follow for their new fiscal years.

Excise is the way to go, Ed went on, because it can be called different names and hid under other taxes. The way Congress has been exposing tobacco on TV, excising it in committee and subsidizing it in secret, he declared, you know it sees a gold goose where it pretends to fear the country's worst health hazard. For sure, he went on, the political safety of excise taxes ain't lost on local Governments. Everywhere he looks this year he sees plans to charge for public services already supported by the public.

All Governments are careful not to call these "revenue options" taxes, Ed said, but a $15 annual household user fee for the county landfill means higher cost for the same service and tax by any name. The way user fees are growing, Ed declared, Tax Freedom Day when we quit working for all our Governments and start working for ourselves will move from May to August, where we need a holiday.

Natural, Democrat Clem Webster demanded equal time. Egged on in recent years by Republican Administrations, he said, all the Federal departments have been piling mandates on states and cutting back on money to help meet em. Local Governments have took to following the excise example as the only way to hold down tax on income and property. For instant, towns in all parts of the country that already tax cars as property are charging fees for using them. On top of all the property tax, zoning, building and inspecting fees, Clem said, counties are checking in with environment impact fees on new homes. This is a tax for no better reason than another tax, was Clem's words.

Zeke Grubb full disagreed with Clem and Ed. For his money, Zeke said, paying for services you use is an idea whose times ought not to be gone. Being taxed for what you don't want and won't use is what riles him. If a builder puts up a house or a shopping center that causes erosion, he ought to fix the problem, not everybody, was Zeke's words. When fees for some can lighten the load on all, Zeke said he's for them, but he would stop short of police, fire, library, parks and other services Government can do better for all than any can do for himself.

Personal, I see Ed and Clem as black and white, and Zeke as the grey there has got to be some of in every issue. Michigan got the camel's head in the tent by throwing out the local property tax. Now it's open season on everything everywhere.

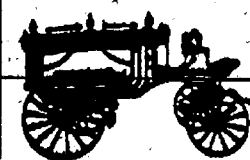

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

A Letter of Thanks to Our Dad On 50th Anniversary of D-Day

By Floyd Boyce

As a kid growing up we could never get my dad to tell us his "war stories" from World War II. It was probably more painful for him than we as kids could ever know.

Television has portrayed World War II's soldiers as great heroes and the stories had tidy Hollywood endings. We wanted to hear all about fighting the Nazi German military threat in Europe and his battles against the Japanese in the Pacific. Much as we tried he gently refused to talk about it.

Only in the last few years (I'm now 42—he's 77) has he been willing to not only talk about it—he has actually written much about it. Perhaps he realizes his own mortality. Perhaps he has opened his memories so that our children's children can appreciate it all. My great-grandfather's Civil War diary has been an inspiration to him. Now he has likewise written his own experiences of D-Day for posterity.

His correspondence with Stephen E. Ambrose of the University of New Orleans has provided us with his story. Ambrose has been instrumental in assembling one of the most extensive books about D-Day, its battles, its commanders and its common soldier's experiences. It is titled "D-Day, The Climatic Battle of WW II."

In the spring of 1944 with several years of military training as well as a commission from Officer's Candidate School, Ellis Boyce was 28 years old. Preparations were being made in England for what was generally accepted as the inevitable invasion of Nazi occupied France. The exact time and place of the invasion became the variables in this chess game.

Lieutenant Boyce (later Captain Boyce) was about to take part in D-Day—the most climactic battle of WW II.

His unfolding war experience from here was not tidy or easy at all. The extremely rough seas in the English Channel on D-Day made young men's hearts flutter even more than we could imagine. Boarding the LCP's (landing craft) from the larger transport ships and in the darkness (3 a.m.) intensified the affair.

Like Civil War soldiers about to march into death, injury and/or the unknown, the men in the landing craft surged toward the ominous beach ahead.

Dad's craft became so waterlogged that the men bailed it out with their steel helmets to keep from sinking.

The landing wasn't like Hollywood either. The pictures we've seen of men splashing out into knee-deep water was not Dad's experience. Unloading under gunfire in water over their heads and with heavy equipment on caused many to sink and drown immediately. As the luckier men were able to escape the cold water menace (imagine swimming in the Atlantic in early June), the German machine gun and artillery placements left no inch of Omaha Beach uncovered by fire. Land mines also took many lives. Dad's unit suffered 85% casualties.

The horror of war had now left an everlasting imprint on his memory.

As I look at his Silver Star citation for gallantry in action while being wounded—something which he has always modestly belittled—I can only imagine the footsteps he took on D-Day. His run and crawl across the beach from the low-tide mark to the high tide mark was accomplished twice (the second time to retrieve a communications radio from his fallen comrade) was in order to complete his mission... in his giving of his carbine to an infantryman who had lost his... and his Purple Heart for being wounded now stands out in his children's memories.

We thank you, Dad, for what you did 50 years ago. We hope that your second trip to Normandy, France on June 6, 1994 will give you closure to this part of your life. We hope it gives peace as you share that peace with your comrades from five decades ago. We are very proud.

From the children of Ellis C. Boyce.

Following the stock market crash of 1929, the Hoover Administration urged—and many industries and unions adopted—work-sharing. For example, the United States Steel Corporation in 1929 had 224,930 full-time employees. The number shrank to 211,055 in 1930, to 53,519 in 1931, to 18,938 in 1932, and to zero on April 1, 1933. All who remained on the payroll on this last date were part time, and they were only half as numerous as those on full time in 1929, according to "The American Worker," a U. S. Department of Labor publication.

BEACH MIDDLE SCHOOL BAND under the direction of retiring Warren Mayer followed the Color Guard in the parade to Oak Grove Cemetery where Memorial Day services were held Monday.

INTERPRETIVE NATURALIST Lisa Lava-Kellar visited South school fifth graders in Mrs. Stevens' and Mrs. Nance's classes with her program on the Great Lakes. Ms. Lava-Kellar demonstrated the glacial action which formed the lakes. She talked about animals native to the lakes and about how exotic species have been introduced. The students examined preserved sea lampreys and zebra mussel shells. This lesson was made possible by a mini-grant from the Able-Lerner Committee. Pictured above is Ronnie Castleberry holding zebra mussel shells.

Memorial Day Speaker Asks Are We Worthy of These Sacrifices?

other countries, but here in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

In 1917, our country was again involved in another war. This time we came to the aid of our European Allies. Our troops were again told that they were fighting aggression, to make the world safe for democracy and "to fight the war to end all wars." Don't these ideals have a familiar ring? Did we so soon forget the promises we made to our dead and permanently maimed buddies, or did our doughboys who fell in France do so like their predecessors only to be soon forgotten?

Again on Dec. 7, 1941 our Pacific fleet was ambushed and all but crippled by a sneak attack by Japanese Imperialists at Pearl Harbor on the day that Franklin D. Roosevelt so aptly labeled "the day that would live in infamy," and in so doing, ignited the most monumental war in history.

This of course is the war which we are commemorating this year. It was 50 years ago June 6, 1944 that the high water mark of World War II occurred. D-Day, as it came to be called, was the day our forces went ashore on the enemy held beaches of France to attack Fortress Europe. At this time, we were told that our mission was to rid the world of tyrannical dictators once and for all, to return the enslaved peoples to their homelands as well as to enable the oppressed countries to regain their independence. Again these reasons for fighting and dying have a repetitious sound. Were these ideals reason enough that our nation's youth should die on the Normandy beaches, in the flak filled skies over Germany or on the blood soaked islands of the Pacific?

Several years ago, my family and I returned to the invasion beaches of France. We viewed the white crosses row on row of our American dead at the cemetery at Colleville. We also saw the graves of our enemy, most of whom were buried in common graves, with little or no identification. At that time, I asked myself, "Have all of these conflicts been fought in vain? Has all the killing and maiming of young bodies gone for naught?" Not a day passes that the news media doesn't tell us of peoples and nations that are struggling and dying for freedom. Aren't these the very freedoms that our comrades have fought and died for over the years in these many conflicts? Have we so soon forgotten the promises we made to our dead who lie buried around us?

Since that time, our brave young people have been engaged in the Korean War and the terrible Viet Nam debacle. To the list of victims of the Viet Nam War add the name of Louis Puller who suffered terrible wounds, that never healed. A close friend stated that "I don't think he died a casualty of the accident in Viet Nam but I think he died a casualty of loneliness that he felt from being set apart." Recently we were engaged in Desert Storm, a war, the fallout of which is still very fresh in our minds.

In each of these conflicts, the troops who took part were told like our previous soldiers had been told, that they too had a mission to accomplish and ideals to uphold that were worth giving up their lives for. Must we always resort to war and bloodshed to resolve differences that should be settled by sensible, caring and humane diplomacy? I certainly hope that our countrymen, the brave men and women who have given their lives that these injustices should not exist, shall not have died in vain. Show your gratitude to our honored dead by promoting peace, love and harmony among all people and to quote our president who recently said "Make our country worthy of those who we are honoring here today."

It was not my intention to criticize or be repetitious concerning my reasons that we Americans have forsaken the memory of our hallowed troops, our countrymen who gave their last full measure of devotion that we may be gathered here today. On the contrary, the mere fact that I felt comfortable speaking here, that I was able to voice my opinion without fear of retribution or retaliation is one of the basic freedoms that have been bequeathed to us by our fallen war dead. Remind your children and your grandchildren when they are enjoying these privileges, the right to vote, the privilege of attending a meeting, to be able to read a book or newspaper with differing points of view; that these are some of the blessings of living in our democratic society, and remind them too what sacrifices made these blessings possible. These are the freedoms that we must cherish here on Memorial Day 1994!

In closing I would like to thank the American Legion for the honor of inviting me to speak here today and I especially want to thank you, my audience, for your kind attention. God bless you all and God bless America. Thank you.

Amy J. Thomson Named to WSU's Pres. Honor Roll

Chelsea resident and recent graduate Amy J. Thomson recently was named to the President's Honor Roll at Washington State University for the 1994 Spring term.

Thomson had to have earned either a 3.75 grade point average with at least nine graded hours during the semester, or had a cumulative grade point average above a 3.5.

Thomson graduated from Washington State University, which is located in Pullman, Wash., after the Spring semester.

Ahrens, Squires On Dean's List At Madonna U.

Two Chelsea residents were recently named to the Dean's List for the Spring term at Madonna University.

Mitzi Ahrens and Kathryn Squires were named to the list which honors students for their academic achievement for the past semester's grades.

Ahrens, who also graduated this semester, was honored for her class work towards becoming a legal assistant.

Squires, a senior at Madonna, received her high marks while studying for a degree in general science.

Washtenaw CC Announces Honors

Several Chelsea area residents were honored for their outstanding grade point averages for the 1994 Winter semester at Washtenaw Community College.

Washtenaw CC recognized its high honors and honors students at a special Honors Convocation held at the Washtenaw Community College campus on Thursday, May 12.

High honors students had to have earned a grade point average of 3.8-4.0, while honors students must have scored between a 3.5 - 3.799 grade point average.

High Honors recipients from Chelsea were: Kelly A. Dale, Gayle A. Gorton, Laura J. Hafner, and Rochelle L. Tirb.

Chelsea honors awards went to Aaron M. Berenter, Rebecca J. Erskine, Debra S. Gallagher, Charles Peiter, Christopher S. Pontz, and Erik Jon Tjolsen.

Melissa Johnson Earns Degree at College of Wooster

Melissa Anne Johnson of Chelsea has received a bachelor of arts in history from The College of Wooster in Wooster, O.

Johnson's senior Independent Study project examined the myth and the realities of the middle class 19th century woman. She recently presented her research at the 8th National Conference on Undergraduate Research.

While at Wooster, Johnson was a College Scholar and a member and service project chair of Pi Kappa, a local women's social organization. She also served as an intern at the Community Action Center, which provides help to low-income families; and was a volunteer for the Adopt-A-School program, in which students give assistance in elementary school classrooms. Johnson was also a volunteer for the Humane Society and involved with women's rugby.

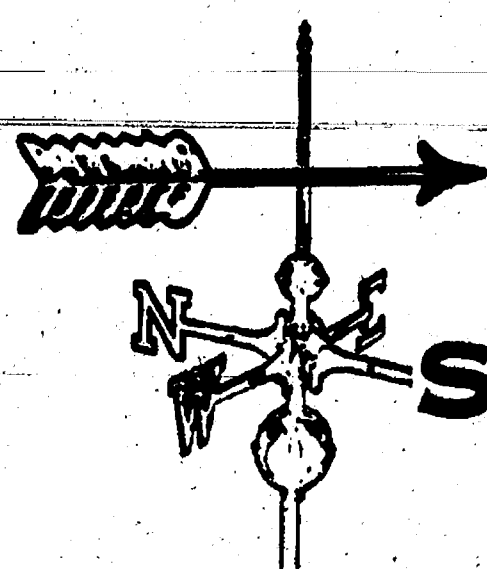

Johnson is the daughter of Willard H. Johnson and Gale Johnson, both of Chelsea.

Wooster is one of only a few institutions in the country that has Independent Study as a graduation requirement. Established more than 40 years ago, Wooster's nationally regarded Independent Study program encourages students to become actively involved in their own learning, with the result that a high proportion of Wooster graduates go on to earn doctoral degrees.

Thomson Earns Degree from WSU

Washington State University recently held Spring commencement exercises, and Amy J. Thomson of Chelsea was among those eligible to attend.

Thomson graduated after completing her studies in Communication after WSU's 1994 Spring term. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communication from Washington State.

We don't know who it was who said that people too frequently leave their mouths running with their minds in neutral. It's easy to "speak our minds" without putting much of the mind into what we say.

It is well to remember that someone is listening to us when we speak. The things we say represent us and our minds to those who hear us. Realizing that our minds are being judged, we may be more careful about what we say.

Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, American Legion, announced this week that the traditional Fourth of July ice cream social and fireworks display has been cancelled this year because of work being done on the grounds at the Community Fair property. Legion committees stated that because of the work being done on the grounds, it was feared parking of the great number of cars which customarily attend the annual event would prove hazardous.

Dottie-O-Dairy Joins Progeny Test Program

Dottie-O-Dairy owned by William VanRiper, Chelsea, recently joined the American Breeders Service (ABS) Progeny Test (PT) program.

The PT program enables test herds, like the Dottie-O-Dairy, to use semen from young, unproven ABS sires. In return, these test herds provide ABS with information about the offspring from these young bulls. After supplying ABS with this information, VanRiper will receive compensation for each ABS-PT calf born and for each ABS-PT daughter included on the sire's USDA summary.

The program's goal is to have each progeny-tested young sire graduate the program with a highly-reliable sire summary, while giving test herds the opportunity to use the genetics of tomorrow—today. This program is unique because it gives test herds the option to choose which bulls they would like to use from a large selection of young ABS-PT sires.

Since genetic evaluations rely on the data supplied by PT herds, ABS screens potential herds carefully, before adding them to the program. The Dottie-O-Dairy herd was selected based on superior management practices, efficient record-keeping and accurate animal identification.

Producers interested in more information about the ABS Progeny Test program should contact their local ABS Representative or call 1-800-ABS-STUD.

American Breeders Service is a global source of bovine genetics and related products.

American consumers are paying very little more for groceries in the first quarter of 1994 than they did in the fourth quarter last year. Slightly higher in price were pork chops, bacon, eggs, milk, potatoes, cereal, shortening and mayonnaise. Items that went down in price this quarter included ground chuck, sirloin tip roast, chicken, apples, flour and white bread.

Chelsea 475-8663 MON & THURS OPEN SAT 9-3

THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY of Chelsea Bike and Sport Center on S. Main St., is being observed by Ray Schemanske, owner and operator. On April 15, 1993 he opened the bike store and has steadily increased the inventory as well as the services he provides. If it's bikes or related sports equipment you can probably find it at Chelsea Bike & Sports.

Chelsea Bike & Sports Center Celebrates 1st Anniversary

What do you do to celebrate your business' first birthday? You have a sale, of course.

At least that is what Ray Schemanske, owner of Chelsea Bike & Sports at 1178 S. Main, is doing.

Schemanske, who opened the bike store on April 15, 1993, will celebrate the one-year anniversary with a sale from June 2-6.

The store has seen its ups and downs during the past year, Schemanske said.

"Our biggest problem has been getting our name out there," he said. "Chelsea is still pretty small."

"We're still a few years away from being able to support the store."

Schemanske, who is originally from the Livonia area and now resides in Grass Lake, is a 1992 graduate from the University of Michigan. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration.

The business, which he runs along with two other employees and Mom, sells bikes along with in-line skates and equipment for family sport use. Although, Schemanske is looking to expand into other sporting goods areas as well as increase the service he provides to the bikes and equipment he sells.

The biggest surprise over the past year has been the work load, Schemanske said.

"Lots of hours," he said. "I knew it was going to be a lot, but it was still more."

Schemanske is looking for bright things in the future, including his own marriage. Schemanske is set to be wed in September to Diane O'Connor, an accountant from Farmington Hills.

★ Summer Structure Advised for Students

Students thrive when they have structure and a sense of purpose during the summer months. That's the advice of MetLife/NASSP National Principal of the Year Ann Blakeney Clark, principal, Alexander Graham Middle School, Charlotte, N. C.

"It's crucial for parents to help their youth find structured activities that will cultivate existing talents and interests," Clark said. "Doing so will ensure that students continue their education throughout the summer."

Clark has found that there are a number of low-cost, readily-available summer activities for students throughout the country.

"In most localities, parents can take advantage of departments of parks and recreation, YWCAs and YMCAs, churches, and scouting," she indicated. "Many of these organizations have low cost, sliding scale fees, and/or free summer programs for school-aged youth."

"Colleges, universities, and public schools are other resources which sometimes offer academic, athletic, and enrichment classes and camps."

Employment, whether paid or unpaid, also will provide structure and experience while reinforcing a sense of purpose, responsibility, and pride.

"Volunteering opportunities exist at museums, hospitals, schools, churches, and other non-profit and locally governed organizations," Clark said. "Paid employment has the added bonus of a financial reward, which can help students learn money management."

Clark added that many local newspapers print summer calendars of activities and some schools provide listings of local programs, camps, and jobs.

At home, parents can provide structure by encouraging their youth to set learning goals.

"Request a summer reading list from schools," Clark recommended. "Then send or take your kids to the library, and inquire about special programs for school-aged youth. Many libraries offer a range of programs from storytelling to computer training."

Clark also urges parents to take advantage of the break from school accountability and homework to plan special family time.

"Even simple and inexpensive outings can be very-rewarding and memorable," Clark said. "Bike riding, picnics, or simply backyard stargazing are opportunities to spend time together and have uninterrupted and relaxed conversation."

The bottom line is that students who focus on things other than television, video games, and hanging out with friends gain more from the summer break.

"Typically, in the fall we find that most students are anxious for the school routine to begin again, indicating there is value to some structure," Clark concluded. "Most importantly, getting back into the school routine is much easier for students who have had some structure throughout the summer."

The National Principal of the Year program is sponsored annually by NASSP and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

SPORTS

Let's Go
Bulldogs!

Varsity Bulldogs Win 1, Lose 2 At Invitational

Chelsea High school's varsity baseball team played three games in the St. Joseph Invitational May 28. The Bulldogs claimed victory over the host, but lost the other two games to opponents Lansing-Sexton and Stevensville-Lakeshore.

The first game saw the Bulldogs beat St. Joseph's, 2-1. Junior Jeff Branch pitched a five-hitter with just five walks. His over-all record is 8-4.

Leading hitters for Chelsea were Eric Dougherty with two hits, Pat Steele with one hit and one RBI, Case McCalla with a double and Colby Skelton with one hit.

Lansing-Sexton beat the Bulldogs, 9-1, in the second game of the invitational. Senior Matt Powell pitched six solid innings.

Lansing-Sexton scored six unearned runs in the seventh inning to break open a close 3-1 game. Chelsea only saw two hits, by McCalla and Dirk Wales.

Stevensville-Lakeshore defeated Chelsea 16-2. Sophomore Nick Brink hit a two-run homerun. Teammates Pat Steele, Gabe Bernhard, Ed Greenleaf and Branch also had hits.

The Bulldogs end the season with a 23-10 over-all record. The team will go to the district tournament hosted by Dexter, Saturday, June 4 after taking on Brighton tonight.

Chelsea's Young Golf Team Shows Promise at Regionals

Wait till next year.

Chelsea girls golf coach Helen Bareis, who is retiring at the end of the school year, is leaving behind an up and coming group of golfers.

Chelsea finished up its season last week at the Regional tournament on Monday, May 23 and at the Central 8 Conference finals on Thursday, May 26.

The promise of a bright future glowed during regionals on May 23 as a team of two seniors and four sophomores led Chelsea to a sixth place finish with a team score of 485. 13 schools participated in the regional tournament.

Sophomore Jessica Inwood led Chelsea at Regionals shooting a 113 for 18 holes at Reddeman Farms. Lisa Hughes, senior, was next for Chelsea with a round of 117.

Liz Holdsworth, sophomore, and Sarah Stolaski, senior, rounded out the low rounds for the Bulldogs with scores of 122 and 133, respectively.

Bareis said her girls have shown steady improvement since the season began.

However, promise turned to disappointment on Thursday when Chelsea finished seventh out of eight at the Central 8 Conference finals.

Part of the reason for such high scores was the absence of both seniors, Hughes and Stolaski, who were at a school function.

Chelsea finished with a team score of 527 on the challenging University of Michigan golf course.

Inwood again led the Bulldogs with a 125. Holdsworth shot a 126 and Lesley Davis (134) and Erin Armstrong (142) completed Chelsea's scoring.

Bareis said the team's group of sophomores will be tough in the future.

"They (the sophomores) should come into their own by the time they're seniors," Bareis said. "In time they should be pretty well in contention for the league."

"If they continue to improve and stick with it," she finished.

Bareis said the fact that these were her final tournaments coaching was something she has come to deal with. "It's something I've accepted," she said. "It's time to move on and try something else."

Chelsea's junior varsity girls golf team got in a little exercise also this past week.

Helen Bareis took five of her remaining players to Saline on Tuesday, May 24 for a dual meet.

The girls scored a 312 for the meet. Individual scorers were Aubree Gerardi with a 69 for nine holes. Gerardi is a first season junior and could add some depth to next year's varsity squad.

Twin sisters Shannon and Erin Longe both shot low rounds for Chelsea with Shannon edging out her sister 71-67.

Beth Vogel was Chelsea's other scorer with a round of 88.

JV Softball Team Ends Season With 11-1 Conference Record

Chelsea's junior varsity softball team won both games of a final double-header against Stockbridge on Tuesday, May 24. The Bulldogs finished a strong season with a record of 23-4 and 11-1 in the SEC.

Danielle Longe pitched the first game for the Bulldogs, facing 34 batters and striking out 10. It was a close game until the top of the fifth inning when Chelsea bats combined for five runs on five hits.

Stockbridge challenged in the bottom of the seventh, but it wasn't enough. Chelsea won 12-7.

Two hits or more came from Longe, Sara Petty, Jenny Paddock, and Nikki Lane. Chrissy Vargo, Kyle Kentala, Tina Richardson and Laura Hurst each added a hit for the Chelsea win.

The Bulldogs earned a convincing win in the second game with a final score of 18-8 in five innings. Sara Petty led the Chelsea defense on the mound with Kacie Ruhlig behind the plate. Petty faced 27 batters, striking out five, allowing only two hits and three walks.

The team was a bit shaky on defense, committing six errors for the game, but the bats continued to swing, pounding out a total of 10 hits.

Two hits or more came from Kristy Cox, Hilarie Szczygiel, and Richardson, Carrie Williams, Melissa Bycraft, Vargo, and Lane.

In earlier play, Monday, May 23, Chelsea split a double-header with Dexter. Chelsea won the first game

8-4. Nikki Lane started the first game on the mound with Kerry Lynch catching to complete the Chelsea battery. Lane struck out 10 of 26 batters she faced.

Lynch gunned down one of two runners attempting to steal second base. Chelsea's key hit came from Cox who drove in three runs with a double.

Two hits or more came from Bycraft with two singles.

Chelsea lost the second game of the day on eight defensive errors. Dexter came up with five runs on two hits and six Bulldog errors in the first inning. Chelsea never recovered.

Longe pitched the first five innings, facing 29 batters, striking out nine, giving up seven hits. Petty came in for the final two innings to shut down the Dexter bats.

Down 8-2 in the bottom of the seventh, Chelsea attempted a drive of their own with two runs on a walk and two doubles from Lynch and Kentala. But it was too late and not enough. Chelsea dropped the game 8-4.

Boys Place Third at SEC Meet Next Up, State Meet June 4

In what was essentially a warm-up for the State Championships, Chelsea's boys track and field team placed third in the Southeastern Conference (SEC) meet Wednesday, May 25.

Chelsea finished with 89 team points along with three individual and a relay team winner. Ypsilanti Lincoln, one of the favorites to win the Class B title, took the SEC title with 160 points, followed closely behind by Class A school Pinckney, which had 139 points.

Senior David Beeman again led the Bulldogs. Beeman set two new meet records while winning both the shot put and discus field events.

Beeman's shot put toss of 57'2" broke his own record, which he set at last year's meet, by two feet. While his discus throw of 173'9" broke a 17-year meet record by 13 feet.

Beeman's accomplishments are beginning to even surprise Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Beeman's performance speaks for itself," Clarke said.

Not to be outdone by his teammate was Cory Brown, senior, who also set a new meet record with a run of 4:20.4 in the mile.

Brown edged out favorite Ryan Swan of Pinckney by leaning in ahead of him. Swan ran an identical time to Brown.

The time broke a 13-year record by four seconds.

Clarke said his team performed well at the meet and he was quite impressed with the three records.

"We had a good meet," he said. "It's outstanding to break three records."

The other first place finisher for Chelsea was the 3200 meter relay team of Dan Wehrwein, Scott Hawley, Ryan Schultz and Cory Brown.

The team ran the race in 8:23.2. Second place finishers for Chelsea were David Stimpson, 110m hurdles (15.4 sec.), Ryan Schultz, 3200m (9:48.2), and Scott Hawley, 800m (1:59.7).

The 1600m relay team of Wehrwein, Hawley, Kevin Kolodica and Cory Brown placed third with a time of 3:32.5.

All first, second and third place finishers were automatically named to the All-Conference Team.

Other placers for the Bulldogs were Mike Hand, seventh place long jump (18'7"), Jim Irwin, sixth place 100m (11.8), Ryan Schultz, fifth place 1600m (4:33.0), Peter Straub, seventh place 400m (1:54.0), Bryndon Skelton, 8th place 300m hurdles (1:43.0), Wehrwein, fourth place 500m (2:00.7), Bob Frost, fourth place 200m (1:23.7) and Chad Brown, seventh place 3200m (10:22.0).

The relay team of Jim Irwin, Kolodica, Tom Irwin and Rob Frost placed fourth in the 800m (1:36.2) and fifth in the 400m (1:46.3).

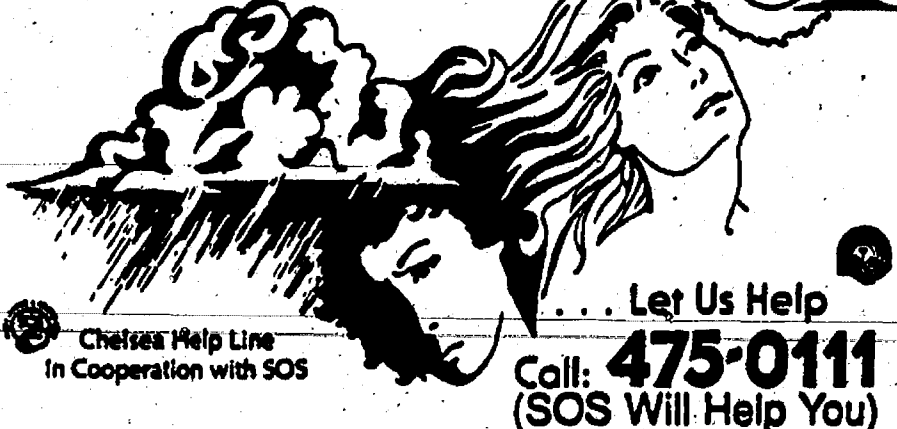

Up next for the boys track and field team is the Jackson County meet on Tuesday, May 31 and junior varsity all-comers meet at Ann Arbor Pioneer. The JV meet is one last chance for those athletes not qualified for the state meet to run.

The state meet is set for June 4 in Saginaw.

Clarke said four teams (Lincoln, Fremont, Albion, who won the regional and Comstock) look to be the favorite for the Class B title, but as to rule out Chelsea.

"Whoever has a good day will win (the title)," Clarke said.

JV Bulldogs Lose to Pioneer

Chelsea High School's junior varsity baseball team suffered a 5-8 loss to Ann Arbor Pioneer May 24, putting another blemish on its 6-19 record.

Bulldog Kent Young led the team with hits. He also served as pitcher for five innings. Teammate Ryan Lafferty pitched two.

Scoring highlights include singles hit by Jesse Petty and Young. Jordan Dyer hit a sacrifice fly. Other players with hits in the first inning were Scott Stewart and Ray Hatch.

In the second inning, Matt Tuttle hit a single and Scott Hurst drove a runner home.

The third, fourth and fifth innings saw little action for the Bulldogs. In the sixth, Jeff Sarns hit a double and drove a runner home. In the final inning, Chelsea saw action from Dave Eaton, Aaron Grammatico, Tuttle and Petty.

Five Chelsea Errors Lead to 4-3 Defeat

Sometimes good pitching just is not enough.

Chelsea's varsity baseball team lost to Ann Arbor Pioneer 4-3 on May 24 in a game they probably should have won.

Chelsea demonstrated the good pitching that is needed with the District Tournament upcoming. However, poor team defense allowed four unearned runs on five errors and gave the game away for the Bulldogs.

Coach Wayne Welton said his team will need to improve its defense if they have a chance to win the district title.

"Our season's success from here on out will be dependent on if we can make the key play in the game," Welton said. "Whether it is pitching, hitting or fielding; and not necessarily the great defensive play just the routine you have to make."

The Bulldogs did get outstanding pitching performances from junior Jeff Branch and sophomore Sam Morseau.

The two Bulldog pitchers combined to give up only two hits and no earned runs.

Branch started the game and pitched five stellar innings despite being tagged with the loss. Morseau pitched an inning of shutout relief and struck out two Pioneer hitters to keep Chelsea within striking distance.

Pat Steele made the game interesting with a two-out RBI single in the sixth of the seventh to make it 4-3. However, the rally was short lived as the next batter grounded to the shortstop to end the game.

But Matt Powell also added an RBI single for Chelsea.

Farm Bureau estimates that once President Clinton's proposed energy tax is fully phased in by fiscal 1996, 7.5 cents would be added to the cost of each gallon of gasoline, 8.3 cents to diesel and 2.3 cents to propane. The typical midwestern corn farmer will pay approximately $1,600 per year in additional direct and indirect energy taxes.

Girls Track Team 2nd in Season SEC Standings

Chelsea High School girls track team finished second in the Southeastern Conference league track meet Tuesday, May 24, with 86 points. Pinkney was the meet champion with 183 points. Dexter was third with 58½ followed by Saline with 58 and Lincoln with 54. Tecumseh had 46½ and Milan 30.

The second place and their 5-1 dual meet record put the Bulldogs second behind Pinkney in the final league standings, ending their three-year reign as conference champions.

Although Pinkney won only four events, just one more than Chelsea, the Pirates dominated with depth, placing two or three people in 10 of the 12 individual events and finishing in the top three in all four relays. "Our hope to catch them was that the rest of the teams could cut into their depth but it just didn't happen," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

"We ran very well, but Pinkney was just too deep."

Chelsea did have nine athletes earn all-league honors in six events, three individual and three relays.

The Bulldogs made a strong showing in the field events paced by Erin Schiller's repeat as league champion in the high jump with a leap of 5'-4". Schiller is a three-time all-conference performer in the event. Courtney Thompson also earned all-conference honors, finishing third at 5'-0".

Heidi Wehrwein threw her best ever in the shot put, taking fourth with 33'-2".

Laurie Schiller finished fifth in the long jump at 14'-8¾". Erin Hack was one of seven finalists in the event but was bumped out of sixth in the final round of jumps.

In the discus, Mara Smith was fifth with 102'-5" and Jessica Flintoft sixth with 95'-4".

Chelsea started the running off with a win from the 3200 relay of Jenni Space, Beth Bell, Sarah Henry, and Melissa Hand in 9:56.6. Hand became the Bulldogs' third league champion of the night when she won the 800 in 2:22.2, which ties the school record set in 1978 by Shelley Warren. Hand, Space, Henry, and Katie Spink combined for second, earning all-league in the 1600 relay in 4:14.8. Space also finished fourth in the 800 with a 2:27.4. "Melissa had a great night, and that was a strong triple for Jenni. They have really run well in the big meets."

The final all-league performances came from Beth Bell and the 400 relay. Bell ran her best 400 ever, narrowly missing a school record, as she was second in 1:00.9.

The 400 relay of Sarah Schick, Keri Kentala, Erin Schiller, and Bell finished second in :52.8.

Katie Spink, Kentala, Erin Schiller, and Bell took fourth in the 800 relay in 1:51.2.

Kentala was fourth in the 100 hurdles in :17.5 and sixth in the 300 hurdles in :52.1. Schick added a fifth in the 100 at :13.6 and Erin Schiller was fifth in the 200 at :28.0.

★ Making 'The Pill' More Effective

Women on the popular lower-dose birth control pills should take the pill at the same time—plus or minus two hours—every day for it to be most effective. But not many women know that—or if they do, they don't act on that knowledge, according to a University of Michigan study.

That failure may be one reason why an average of 6.2 women out of every 100 on the pill get pregnant each year.

"There actually are six simple behaviors or rules to follow that make the pill most effective. Some of the rules are obvious, others less so," said Deborah J. Oakley, professor of nursing at the U-M.

"But surprising numbers of women don't follow them as consistently as they should, and I suspect they don't because the doctors and nurses may not mention the rules in the first place. Or if they do go over the rules, they don't give women the special, individualized help some may need to figure out how to fit all six into their own lifestyles," Oakley said. "It is not so easy to remember to take the pill at the same time each day."

Oakley's conclusions are drawn from a 26-month study of 612 women on the pill conducted at a Michigan Public Health Department family planning clinic. Oakley found that less than 11 percent of the women reported they "always" followed all six rules.

The six rules are:

- Take only your own pills.
- Take them in the prescribed order.
- Take all the pills in the pack.
- Take a pill daily.
- Take the pill within two hours of the same time each day.
- Use an alternative method of birth control as a back-up if necessary.

Nearly 100 percent of the women took only their own pills and always took them in order, Oakley said. However, 16 percent had at least one pill left over in at least one of the months, 40 percent reported they did not use a back-up method of birth control if they had missed more than the prescribed number of pills allowed, and 58 percent said they had not taken a pill every day. And only 16.7 percent took the pill at the same time each day.

Policy makers and researchers have given substantial attention to when and why women first decide to begin taking the pill, Oakley said. "Clearly, however, there is a real need to help women plan and do specific behaviors if the pill is to be maximally effective."

Helen and Phil Barels

Teaching Couple To Retire After 28 Years

Parting is such sweet sorrow, and Phil and Helen Barels' retirement from the Chelsea school system might be the most sorrowful.

Phil and Helen Barels are retiring after this their 28th year. Both are teachers at Chelsea High school and are coaches in the Chelsea school system.

Phil is the football coach at Beach Middle school, and former coach of the varsity football team at Chelsea. Helen is the girls golf coach for Chelsea.

"After 34 years of teaching," Phil Barels, who also taught in Clinton, said, "Enough's enough. It was time to go."

"It was just time to do something different," said Helen, who will still volunteer her services in the hospital gift shop.

The couple are both Chelsea High school graduates, who went on to marry and return to their hometown to teach.

Both, Phil and Helen, played down their both working at the high school together.

"It's something that just happened," Phil, a ninth grade health and physical education teacher, said. "A job's a job. It worked to our advantage because we had a lot of the same kids (in our classes)."

"We very seldom saw each other," Helen, a Michigan history, speech and physical education teacher, said. "We were not in the same area all the time."

Neither has any set plans for the future, although Phil would like to remain in the driver's education program and a trip west to Los Angeles has been kicked around.

Both say they will miss the students at Chelsea, even though the children have changed over the years.

"I enjoyed my teaching," Helen said. "The kids have changed, but that's okay there are still a lot of good ones."

And what will these two teaching Barels miss about teaching? The meetings.

"I'm not going to miss the extra meetings," Phil said.

"The meetings and schedules," Helen elaborated, "Always having to be somewhere. I won't miss that."

However, the Chelsea school system will miss them!

North School Fitness Day Offers Varied Activities

On Friday, May 20, North Elementary school students enjoyed their first Fitness Day. The day was devoted to a variety of activities from aerobics, folk and square dance to karate, jogging, and an outside obstacle course.

Guest speakers provided information about health, nutrition, athletic training and adolescence.

A special performance by the "Heartbeats," an Ann Arbor jump rope troupe, highlighted the day.

Students were made aware that fitness can be achieved in many ways and is a life-long enjoyment.

Dramatic Presentation Slated Sunday at Christian Fellowship

The play, "Come Unto Me," will be presented to Chelsea Christian Fellowship church on Sunday, June 12 at 10 a.m. This is a one-man dramatic presentation depicting the life of Jesus. Jesus is portrayed by the Rev. Douglas Webber, who shares in an intimate style the love, humor and sensitivity of Jesus.

The Rev. Webber is an accomplished vocalist and presents musical selections during the enactment.

All are welcome to attend this unique look into the life of Christ as the Chelsea Christian Fellowship church welcomes and encourages you to be with them. The church is located at 337 Wilkinson. If you would like more information, please call 475-6305.

Our Own Parkinson Support Group

Did you know that Chelsea Retirement Community has its very own Parkinson Support Group? It meets on the second and fourth Monday of the month at 1:15 p.m. Both resident and non-resident Parkinson patients, their spouses or major caregivers and other interested persons are welcome.

The group updates its members on the latest information and treatment of Parkinsonism, shares personal experiences and concerns, deals with feelings and questions, and maintains an active exercise program. It draws upon expertise of professionals and the experience of its members. Linda Jasman, physical therapy technician and emergency medical technician specialist of our Rehab Center is the co-ordinator.

For further information see the monthly activity schedule. Or call Linda at 1-423 or Heath Goodwin at 475-0727.

VILLAGE OF CHELSEA NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

The Village Council of the Village of Chelsea will hold a public hearing on a proposed increase of .28 mills in the operating tax millage rate to be levied in 1994.

The hearing will be held on Tuesday, June 14, 1994 at 7:30 p.m. at Sylvan Township Hall, 112 W. Middle Street, Chelsea, Michigan.

The date and location of the meeting to take action on the proposed additional millage will be announced at this public meeting.

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from ad valorem property taxes, 2.69% over such revenues generated by levies permitted without holding a hearing. If the proposed additional millage rate is not approved the operating revenue will increase by 2.78% over the preceding year's operating revenue.

The taxing unit publishing this notice, and identified below, has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

Giant Sand Sculpture Kicks Off World Cup

A 90-ton Looney Tunes sand sculpture will kick off World Cup USA at Briarwood Mall in Ann Arbor.

The massive, three-dimensional sculpture of a Looney Tunes soccer match will be on display from Saturday, May 28, through Monday, Aug. 15, in Briarwood's Grand Court. Made only of sand and water, it will take about 600 hours to create.

It is the first such Looney Tunes sand sculpture in America, according to its creator, master sculptor Todd Vander Pluym. Vander Pluym has done only one other Looney Tunes Sculpture, and that was in Australia.

"It's a real challenge getting the figures exactly right," explains Vander Pluym. "If the eye ends up one inch lower, it just won't look like Bugs Bunny."

Live Looney Tunes characters will visit the sand sculpture and pose for free pictures with young visitors.

Photos and Looney Tune characters, who will alternate every 25 minutes, will be available Saturdays and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. as follows: June 11-12, Bugs Bunny and Daffy Duck; July 9-10, Tweety and Sylvester; Aug. 13-14, Bugs Bunny and Daffy Duck.

"Parents may also want to bring their children out from Monday, May 9, through Saturday, May 14," suggests McIntosh. "They can watch workers building a giant 20-foot-by-24-foot sandbox and then filling it with enormous mounds of sand."

Briarwood is located at S. State and Eisenhower Blvd., Ann Arbor.

RETIRING CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL teachers were treated to a limousine trip to a retirement lunch at the Common Grill Thursday. Chelsea Education Association provided the recognition. Present for the occasion were, from left, Phil and Helen Barels, Tom Morrison and Terri Curtis. Jon Schaffner was also eligible but unable to attend.

Michigan History Remembers 'The Longest Day'

"O.K., let's go."

With these words, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of the Allied Expeditionary Force, ordered the invasion of Hitler-held western Europe. At 6:30 a.m. on June 6, 1944, American, British and Canadian troops came ashore at Normandy, France, during the war's greatest amphibious invasion. The stories of Michigan's battlefield and home front participants in World War II's "longest day" appear in the May/June 1994 issue of Michigan History Magazine, on sale now.

In this expanded issue of Michigan History Magazine, 43 Michiganders remember the sights and sounds of D-Day, whether they were landing on the beaches of northwestern France or pausing in their daily activities for a moment of meditation and prayer. Michigander servicemen reminisced about falling victim to high surfs, beach traps, mines and German crossfire. Others recounted their memories of awakening to banner headlines or radio bulletins blaring the news, "Europe Invaded!" Nearly all recalled their sense of hope that they or their loved ones would come through the operation unharmed and that the D-Day assault would defeat Hitler and end the war in Europe.

"Michiganders demonstrated great sacrifice and valor during World War II," said Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, Michigan's official historian. "D-Day was one more event in which Michigan, as this nation's Arsenal of Democracy, played a vital role."

Also in this issue former Michigan State University president Walter Adams recounts his recent pilgrimage to Normandy's D-Day cemeteries and enshrined battlefields to reflect on one of the most cataclysmic events of his life—when he and his comrades fought for the liberation of France.

Other feature articles in the May/June 1994 issue of Michigan History Magazine include a look at Edsel Ford, the "gentle businessman" who presided over the Ford Motor Co. and who avoided publicity as zealously as his father Henry sought it; a special tour of the Detroit Institute of Arts' colorful Art of the American Indian Frontier exhibit, one that provides evidence of the Native American spiritual concern with balance, meaning and symmetry through contrasting colors; and a visit to the Manistee's field of dreams where baseball is played as it was in the 1880s.

Michigan History Magazine, the nation's most popular state history magazine, is published six times a year by the Michigan Department of State's Bureau of Michigan History. The magazine, which offers a contemporary perspective on Michigan's past, is available by single issue ($2.95) or by annual subscription ($12.95/year).

County Sheriff's Deputies Nab Credit Card Thief, Investigate Local Crime

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies investigated several incidents in Dexter Village and Scio, Lima, Lyndon, Sharon and Dexter townships, May 19-24.

Dexter Village
Malicious destruction of property was reported at Wylie Wonderland on the middle school's playground. A 41-year-old Dexter woman called police shortly after 9 a.m., May 21, when she noticed damage to Wylie Wonderland while there with her children. A deputy investigated and discovered approximately $400 in damages from a wood support post being broken off and pulled partially out of the ground.

A 41-year-old Pinckney man was arrested as a disorderly person after he was caught urinating and consuming alcohol in public. The man was arrested in Warrior Creek Park behind the village offices on Main St. about 8 p.m., May 22. Police were dispatched to the park for a disorderly person complaint. Because there was no description, it took the deputy about 15 minutes before he found the suspect. The deputy was questioning two other men in the park when the suspect was discovered sitting on a park bench. The deputy and two witnesses saw the suspect drink from a brown beer can concealed in a paper bag and then saw the suspect urinate in public. The officer arrested the suspect, noting in his report that the suspect was "very intoxicated." When the officer tried to help the man in the police car, the man attempted to kick the officer and as a result fell on the ground. The suspect sustained minor facial injuries and was transported to the University of Michigan Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance.

Larceny of credit cards was reported in the 3300 block of Central St., May 25. An employee of Federal Environmental stole Visa and Amoco credit cards from an 80-year-old Dexter woman after completing asbestos removal from her home. The employee is to have allegedly taken the credit cards from the woman's purse, but he claims to have found them in the duct work while removing asbestos. Police caught up with the thief when his girlfriend attempted to get a photo identification for the cards at the Cash Connection in Detroit, May 24. The employee became suspicious because the woman was nervous and her boyfriend kept coming inside to check on her. The employee called the cardholder's credit card company to get more information. She was able to obtain the cardholder's telephone number and call the victim. The victim said she did not know her credit cards were missing, so she called police. The employee confiscated both cards. While police were investigating the case, they discovered Federal Environmental employees were recently in the victim's home, upon talking with the company owner and the employee of the Cash Connection, the suspect was identified by description. He came in for an interview and initially denied the theft. However, the deputy called the employee at Cash Connection, who said the suspect called shortly to threaten her, and said his name was "Marty," which was the suspect's name. The case has been sent to the prosecutor for review.

Scio Township
A 24-year-old Ann Arbor woman is suspected of crashing her vehicle while driving under the influence of liquor, May 19. Police report an investigation is underway for the crash on Huron River Dr. near E. Delhi Rd. The woman was found unconscious in-

Flower Seed Packets Given To Recognize Cancer Survivors

McAuley Cancer Care Center at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, is distributing free flower seed packets during the month of June in recognition of National Cancer Survivors Month.

"Planting seeds and watching them grow and bloom is a symbolic way to celebrate life after cancer," said Joy Stair, McAuley Cancer Care program director. "We encourage everyone to join us in our celebration."

Seed packets may be picked up at the McAuley Cancer Care Center adjacent to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, or by calling the McAuley Referral Line at (313) 712-5400 (800) 231-2211.

side her 1991 GEO Metro. She was not wearing a seatbelt and sustained serious injuries after hitting a tree. Both ambulance and hospital personnel told deputies they smelled a strong odor of intoxicants on the woman. A deputy received permission to have the woman's blood drawn at the University of Michigan Hospital to determine her blood/alcohol level. Deputies are awaiting lab results before asking for a warrant from the prosecutor.

John R. Decator, 35, of Grass Lake was arrested on a bench warrant on I-94 near Zeeb Rd. after a traffic stop May 19. He was taken to county jail.

Larceny was reported in the 3700 block of W. Liberty Rd., May 23, at Rosendale. An assistant manager, a 30-year-old Ann Arbor man, told police someone stole stainless steel lids valued at $800. The lids were reportedly packaged and stored outside the building between May 19 and May 23. When the assistant manager unpacked them, he discovered the missing lids. However, there were no signs of tampering to the package.

Assault and battery was reported in Scio Farms Estates near Peartree and Chestnut Sts., May 23. A 14-year-old male resident told police at about 7:30 p.m. he was riding his bicycle when the suspect, a 18-year-old male resident, crashed into him while he was stopped on his bicycle. After crashing, the younger boy said the older boy chased him on foot. They ran across the street and the suspect punched the boy on the side of his head and on his head with a closed fist. Then, the victim said, the older boy punched him again and kicked his back. A witness verified the victim's story. When interviewed, the suspect told police he was mad because he got hurt during the biking accident, so he chased the younger boy down and beat him. He said afterward he realized what he did was wrong, so he stopped and went home. The victim refused medical treatment. Police photographed his injuries for evidence. A prosecutor will review the case.

A runaway was reported in the 2500 block of Blueberry Rd., May 21. A 15-year-old girl was reported as a runaway at 4:30 a.m. May 21 by her father. He said she did not leave a note or take any extra clothing. He also told police she has run away in the past and returned the next day.

Larceny from a motor vehicle was reported at Jackson Automotive on Mett Dr. near Jackson Ave., May 20. A 47-year-old Dexter woman told police five transmissions and five 55-gallon drums filled with scrap iron and automotive parts were stolen from her husband's truck. The stolen items are valued at $1,150. The incident happened between 5 p.m. May 19 and 8:30 a.m. May 20.

Peter J. Bedolla, 33, of Ann Arbor was arrested on a warrant after a traffic stop on Baker Rd. near Marshall Rd., May 21. Bedolla was arrested for a misdemeanor assault in Ann Arbor. He was transferred into the Ann Arbor Police Department's custody.

Lima Township
Assault and battery was reported at Stivers on S. Fletcher Rd., May 23. A 23-year-old Chelsea woman told police a 46-year-old Gregory man assaulted her as she and her husband left the restaurant. She told the police the incident happened after her husband approached the suspect to talk about baseball. She said the suspect, who her husband doesn't get along with, became enraged so they decided to leave. While leaving, she said, the suspect followed yelling and making threats. The victim said she was standing between the suspect and her husband when the suspect punched her on the right side of her face with a closed fist. Then, she said, a friend of the suspect pushed her husband against a window, causing it to break. A witness verified the victim's account of the assault. The suspect told police the woman's husband approached him and made threats. He said he was invited to come outside and fight. He denies striking the victim, but said a pushing match ensued. He admitted to consuming eight beers in two hours at Stivers before the incident occurred.

Lyndon Township
Breaking and entering of a storage unit was reported at Chelsea Storage on Brown Dr., May 24. Stolen were $1,125 worth of household items, including a cassette tape deck, arm chair, end table, lamps and computer printer. The incident happened between 10:30 a.m. May 20 and 9:30 a.m. May 23. Management analyzed closed circuit video tapes and found no suspicious activity. The victim is a 36-year-old Chelsea man.

Sharon Township
Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 1600 block of Walker Rd., May 19. A 17-year-old girl was attacked by her 19-year-old sister. The girl sustained scratches on her chest, a black eye and swollen knee after her older sister assaulted her and threw an electric fan at her. The victim told police the attack occurred around 4 p.m. She said her older sister has become violent toward her and her mother since her parents divorced recently. She said they argued earlier that day and it escalated into a physical altercation. A deputy is requesting a warrant from the prosecutor for the 19-year-old suspect's arrest.

A suspicious incident was reported in the 15800 block of Below Rd., May 20. A 25-year-old township man told police he and his wife were in their backyard pricing items for an estate sale when they heard someone on their front porch about 4 p.m. They heard someone attempt to open the screen door. Both investigated, but found no one; however, the screen door was slightly ajar.

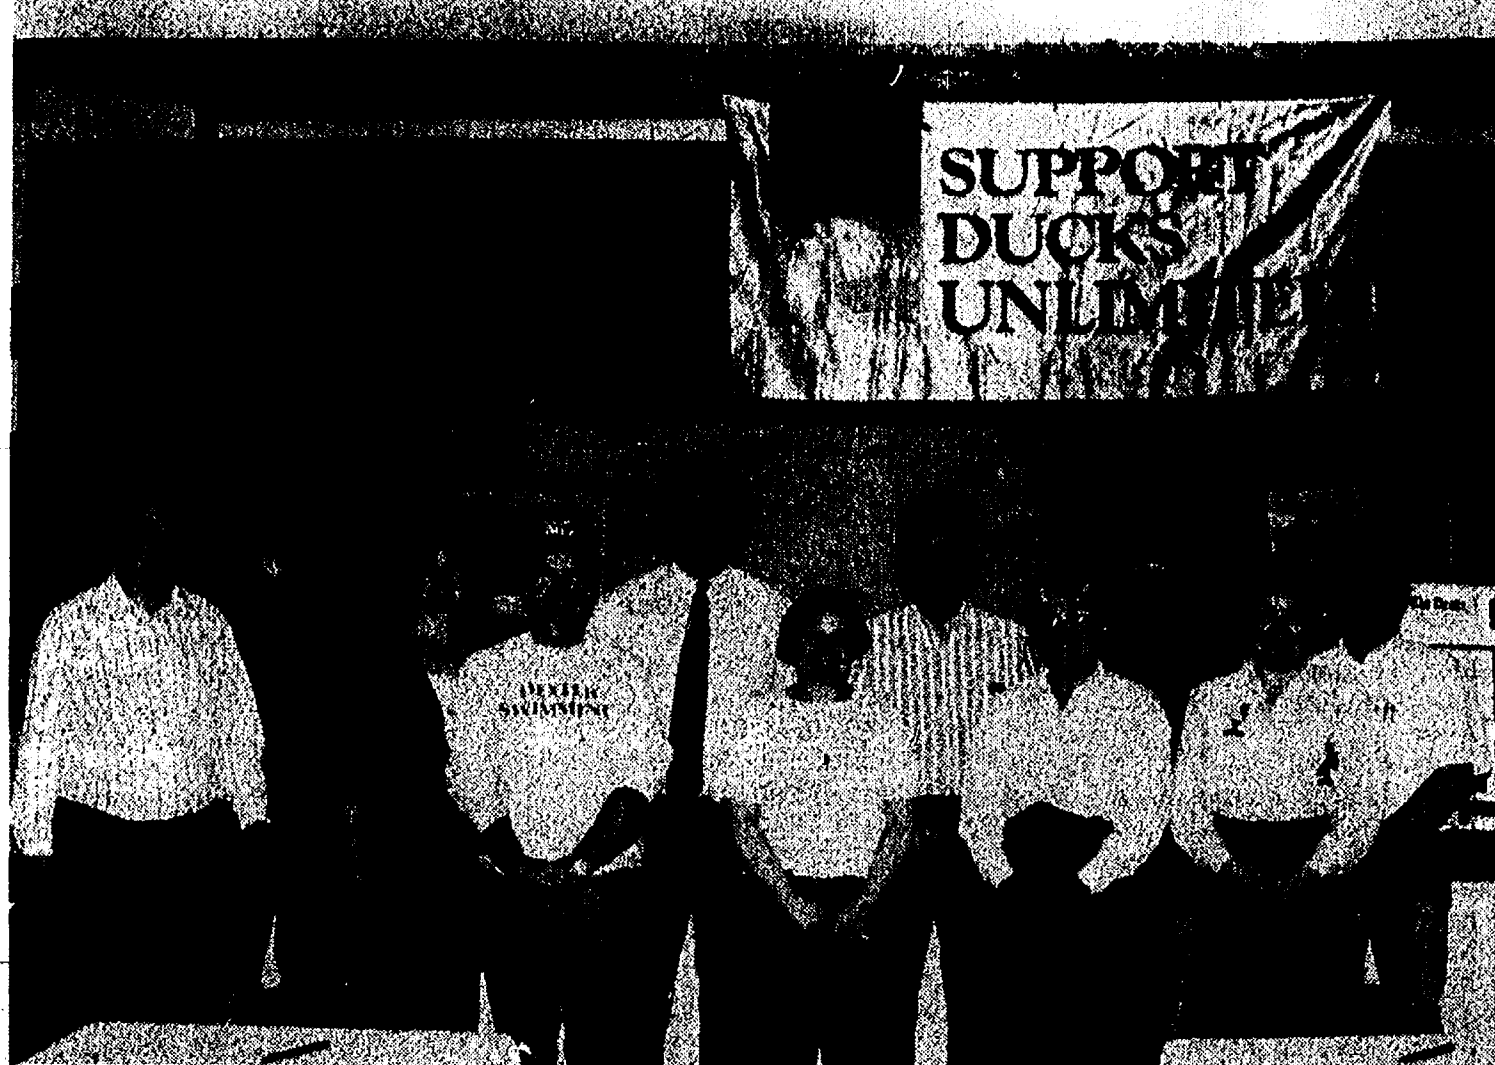

Dexter Township
A 23-year-old township woman was reported missing from the 9000 block of North Territorial Rd., May 20. The woman's 31-year-old husband told police he last saw her at 2:30 p.m. when she left for work. Her shift ended at 12:30 a.m. and she never came home. Usually, he said, she gets a ride home from two co-workers. She is a waitress and was told by the woman's employer that she was at a friend's home and "okay." The employer said the woman did not want to make contact with her husband.

A breaking and entering was reported in the 9900 block of Florence Rd., May 20. A 29-year-old township man told police someone broke into his home between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., stealing $300 worth of diamond earrings and $70 worth of gold earrings. Thieves damaged a door jamb and broke a window while trying to break in. Damage is estimated at $100.

Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 9700 block of Portage Lake Ave., May 21. A 32-year-old township woman told police her 35-year-old boyfriend struck her on the back of the head with a bottle and chased her, threw her to the ground and hit her in the face with his fists because he was upset with a punishment given to her 12-year-old son. The woman suffered a laceration above her left eye, and both eyes were swollen with blood covering her left cheek. She said her husband was consuming alcohol prior to the assault. She refused medical treatment. Her boyfriend was arrested and she was given a victim's rights form. A deputy contacted a domestic violence safe house and notified the on-call team of the incident. In addition, police were called back to the home May 23 on a civil problem. The woman was getting her belongings to move out about 2:30 p.m. The man called police and said she was "harrasing him." Police assisted the woman and left the scene.

Matthew R. Cawood, 18, of Ypsilanti was arrested on Hankerd Rd. near Noah Rd., May 22, on a bench warrant. Cawood was wanted by Pittsfield Township Police for retail fraud.

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 9800 block of Horseshoe Bend, May 24. A 46-year-old township woman reported eggs were thrown at her home, causing $100 in damages to the aluminum siding. The incident happened between 10 a.m. May 21 and 6 p.m. May 22. The police report was filed for insurance purposes.

Dexter Man Aboard Aircraft Carrier in Mediterranean Area

Navy Airman Apprentice Jeffrey E. Mercer son of Vickie L. Couley of 7964 Grand, Dexter, departed recently for a six-month Mediterranean deployment aboard the aircraft carrier USS George Washington, homeported in Norfolk, Va., the lead ship in its Joint Task Group. Commissioned July 4, 1992, this is the ship's maiden voyage.

More than 12,000 Atlantic Fleet sailors and Marines comprise elements of this JTG which includes units of the aircraft carrier USS George Washington Battle Group and the four-ship USS Guam Amphibious Ready Group. The JTG is made up of cruisers, destroyers, frigates, attack submarines, support ships, and more than 85 aircraft, along with an amphibious assault ship, a tank landing ship, a dock landing ship and an amphibious transport dock. Deploying with the Guam ARG are approximately 2,000 Marines from the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit, (Special Operations Capable).

Carriers, their aircraft and escort ships are uniquely capable of providing global presence. From Operations Desert Shield and Storm to the continued support of United Nations operations in Bosnia, Somalia, Haiti and Iraq, naval forces continue to be the force of choice in dealing with complicated regional conflicts that require a powerful, mobile and sustainable presence, from the sea.

The 1989 graduate of Dexter High school joined the Navy in March 1991.

Researchers are developing a milk product for the military that can compete against the ever-present temptation of soft drinks. Ordinary, reconstituted, non-fat dry milk is not very popular with soldiers, so scientists are trying to come up with a powdered milk that mixes easier with water and tastes better.

VOTE JUNE 13th

EDUCATION: Bachelor's degree in sociology and social work from IMU.

OCCUPATION: Social Worker and Counselor.

CHILDREN: Chelsea High School graduate, now attending Concordia College. Michelle, Chelsea Senior for 1994-95 school year.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES: Crisis Counselor when needed; Washington, D. C. trip adult sponsor, supporter of Chelsea School activities for over 25 years.

COMMUNITY SERVICE: Working with church youth groups, member of ELCA Lutheran Southeast Michigan Synod Education Committee and SE Michigan Synod member of the Lutheran/Roman Catholic Covenant Committee.

PRIORITY IF ELECTED:

"I would strive to establish a holistic approach to the Chelsea School Board. "Holistic" is a term used to describe the working relationship between parts and the whole. When applied, this suggests that education, human development processes, human needs, environment, families, community programs, activities, leadership, relationships and resources are interwoven and interrelated. Clearer communication will foster a bond between all of these parts, enabling them to work together, meeting new challenges and opportunities for change."

Card of Thanks 19

The family of Sarah Shanahan would like to send thanks to everyone who sent us cards, flowers and gifts of food at the passing of Grandma. Many thanks go out to the staff of City & Country Convalescent Home and all the people who helped care for Grandma at home over the years. Thanks to our families, friends and co-workers for their support. To Father Dupuis and St. Mary's Altar Society for the nice luncheon, to the Mitchells for their help in so many ways. And special thanks to the Bill Castleberry family and the Buddy Wahl family just for being there for us. Everything was greatly appreciated. Thanks so much.

Tom, LeeAnn, Scott and Stacy Shanahan.

ROBERT MIDA bagged this big turkey May 2 north of Chelsea on private land. The bird weighed 23 lbs., had 11 1/2" beard, and 1 1/4" spurs. Bob says while he was scouting for a possible location for turkeys, he walked up on two. They flew up and he shot this one on the fly, all within a 30-minute elapsed time. His brother Bill and son Jason, each shot a bird within 20 yards of this same spot. The bird was served for Mother's Day. Bob was kind enough to offer some tips for preparing the bird. To save your fingers, dress the bird immediately, cool for two or three days and the feathers will pull out easily. If you want to pluck the bird immediately, dip it in scalding water, then cool water and the feathers should come out easily.

One Who Cares

We would like to use a little space to tell everyone who does not already know that Richard Jahnecke, one of our friends in the Garden Apts. has been on the job as a volunteer a long time and is a guy we can depend upon to perform many jobs, and do them very well.

To name a few: transporting residents (pushing) them to rehab, to chapel, to appointments, and in general taking them wherever they want to go; helping distribute the morning papers early each morning, saving Velma a lot of walking; and many times he has been seen bringing the directory boards in the lobbies up to date. This last job, with his help and others, make them a pleasure to read.

These are a few jobs, skimmed off the top. Then of course gardening will soon be here, and he likes to share his veggies with us all. He does all this, and keeps up his housekeeping too, as his wife Iry is a patient in Nursing. The Lord has been good to him and he smiles.

Po' Folks (Tax Day) Party

With the feeling that old clothes are more fun than new ones and Hobos lead a great life, the guests at the "Po' Folks" party on April 15 was a relaxed and happy crowd. For fun many were clad in old threadbare and tattered outfits with plenty of colorful patches. Even the "Pan Handler" and the "Bag Lady" were represented.

The Domino Farm Band provided the music and dispelled any gloom that might have lingered because of that last envelope sent to the "Tax Man." The enjoyment of the audience was evident by the participation of many in their dancing and singing.

It was a difficult task to determine the best "Hobo," but it was decided that Rose King with her participation and garb won the honor of best.

The refreshments were in keeping with the spirit of the occasion and enjoyed by everyone. A big "thank you" to all who planned the fun afternoon.

Stress . . .

In the series of excellent library adventure programs the presentation on Saturday, April 16 was made by Joanie Yoder, daughter of Dancy House residents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Selleck. Joanie Yoder, author and Christian Conference speaker, is a resident of Redding, England, and is in the States to visit her parents and family members and to fulfill speaking engagements.

Speaking on the theme of "Stress and the Christian Faith," she made engagingly clear the truth that "We are made not for stress but for peace, the kind of peace that only the Prince of Peace can make possible, declaring that the ultimate remedy for stress in today's world is Christ Jesus, Savior and Lord."

Winsomely pointing out that by letting God's life and love to flow through us any demand then made on us becomes a demand of Him whose resources are adequate for anything that may ever face us. He and He alone can give us peace at all times and in all circumstances however severe.

With engaging directive she pointed out "that every time of stress is opportunity to come to Christ afresh, to plow through life with Him in whatever yoke is upon us, knowing that He bears it with us. By praise and prayer and confident trust in Christ victory over stress is won.

Joanie Yoder's visits at our community is always a highlight and our prayers and gratitude are with her as she continues her Christ-centered ministries in Europe and here.

Our Grandparents' Program

This 1993-1994 year is the fifth year that Barbara Brown's fifth grade class at the Chelsea North Elementary has made monthly visits to adopted grandparents here at the Chelsea Home.

The first visit was to get acquainted. From the information they received from us they went back and wrote biographies for their language class. They presented them to us at the following meeting. Some of the youngsters brought their scrap books and photos to show pictures of their families. At another meeting we visited the ice cream parlor for a treat. In April each child ate their lunch with their adopted grandparent in the dining room or in their apartment.

In May the grandparents are invited to visit the youngsters' school to experience their morning session and see their accomplishments. Our June visit is usually an outdoor picnic at the Chelsea Retirement Home.

Much love and pleasure has been exchanged by both, a very worthwhile project. Every year the children and their new friends enjoy the experience.

Carry Your Cross

Are you willing and ready to carry your cross? Everyone has one, you know. Yours might not be the one you have or have had in mind.

"The Pageant of the Crosses" (presented on Maundy Thursday in the Chapel) is the story of six ladies who thought they were ready to accept their crosses, but each found some reason to refuse it when it was offered. It was too small or too large; too ugly or too beautiful or life was too busy at the time.

However, after thinking it over, each returned to claim her cross and carry it proudly in a stirring recital.

The six ladies—in order of appearance—were: Bess Purdy, Marian Schilling, Jeanette Bailey, Zoe Stroebel, Edythe Scovill, and LaNu Kelly. Berniece Frederick was the narrator.

Arley Lake supplied the music and Fred Venus and Ed Lake created the stand and most of the crosses.

Chaplain Gordon Schleicher conducted the Communion Service following the presentation with assistance from Charles Cookingham, John Elber, Kearney Kirkby and Fred Venus.

As the worshippers silently left the Chapel, each was given a small gold colored cross and a prayer card supplied by Chaplain Gordon.

It was an inspiring and different service, and hopefully, an inspirational preparation for the Easter culmination of lenten worship.

Roger 'Pete' Stein

Lilburn, Ga.
(Formerly of Chelsea)

Peter Stein of Lilburn, Ga., died Tuesday, May 24, 1994 at his home after a short illness. He was born June 1, 1927 in Wayne. He served in the U.S. Navy and was a graduate of Michigan State University.

He is survived by his wife, Alberta Powers Stein, a former teacher at North Elementary school in Chelsea.

He is also survived by his mother, Irene Stein; brother, Howard Stein, Jr.; sister, Audrey Baber; four children, Gary Stein, Paul Stein, Dale Stein and Karen Heldt, as well as six grandchildren and two step-grandchildren.

Prior to retirement and moving to Lilburn, Pete lived in Ann Arbor for 20 years and Chelsea for 15 years.

ED GREENLEAF, left, of Chelsea Lanes has presented a check in the amount of $1,475 to Chelsea D.A.R.E. officer Matt Phillips. Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall was present for the occasion.

Bowlers Help D.A.R.E. Program

Chelsea Lanes Bowlers, bowled for D.A.R.E. during their regular scheduled league sessions. One session out of league season bowlers contribute one cent per pin for the three game series. The voluntary contribution from the 11 leagues that participated amounted of $1,475.

Leagues that participated included Junior House, men; Senior House, men; Town Club, ladies; Leftover, mixed; Rolling Pin, ladies; Leisure Time, ladies; Come On's, mixed; Chelsea Lanes, mixed; Tri-City, mixed; Suburban, ladies, and Chelsea Realty, ladies. The Leisure Time, ladies contributed the largest amount of money per bowler, while the Junior House men's league contributed the largest gross amount.

All bowlers deserve a thank you and the D.A.R.E. program that serves the students will be funded for another year. Chelsea schools graduated 210 students from the D.A.R.E. program this year, according to Matt Phillips, the Chelsea Police Department D.A.R.E. officer.

Future of Village Hall Delayed Until June 14

A decision on the future of the Village Hall was tabled by the Village Council during its regular meeting May 24.

The decision was tabled until June 14 because the representative from Ann Arbor Architects Collaborative, who is performing the feasibility study for Chelsea, failed to show for the meeting.

Village manager Jack Meyers said the delay would not affect the village's progress much.

"We've worked with it this long," Meyers said. "A couple of weeks isn't going to affect us any more."

Ann Arbor Architects Collaborative representative Dan Jacobs said he did turn in the group's findings to the council after the meeting.

The study is to determine what course of action, whether to move the police or fire departments or both or neither, would best serve Chelsea.

Jacobs said the council would now look over the findings and make a decision on the course of action to take.

He also said that the study's findings included additional options that were first not included.

"Although it is possible to do either option," Jacobs explained, "There are drawbacks to both. The council will decide on changing to another option or continue."

One option that appears to be out of the question is for police and municipal offices to remain where they are, together.

"Is it possible to stay in the existing building?" Jacobs said. "It is not an option. The 12,000 feet of space available does not fit into the projected 10-12 year envelope."

The two main options appear to be either moving the municipal offices to property owned by the village on Park St. or add on to the fire station and incorporate the police department with it.

However, Jacobs said other options are out there to explore including moving one or both offices to another site in the downtown area.

BookCrafters Names Joe Murphy May Employee of Month

Joe Murphy was recently named May Employee of the Month for BookCrafters' Michigan Division.

Joe has worked as a member of BookCrafters' production team for the past year and has served in the Press Room as an ink mixer and, presently, as a Press Helper. Looking toward the future, Joe would like to continue getting the experience that will enable his advancement to Press Operator.

Joe's co-workers recognized his service to BookCrafters and its customers at his nomination.

Joe and his wife, Joanne, live in Ann Arbor. In his time away from BookCrafters, Joe helps his father out with the crops on his Ann Arbor area farm.

Hospital, Schools Food Service Directors Decide To Trade Jobs

Two food service workers, Fran Ferry and Sharon Tschirhart are trading places.

Fran Ferry, school district food service director for 13 years said she felt she needed a change and is looking ahead to retirement, she decided to go back to the hospital for a few years, gradually going to part time.

"I'm actually phasing myself out," she said.

She grew up in Chelsea and her maiden name was Fran Reed. Graduating from Chelsea High school in 1961, she has made her home on North Territorial Rd., near North Lake, Chelsea, for 31 years. Her husband, Ron works for Associated Spring in Saline and they have three sons: Ron, Jr., 27, Randy, 24, and Craig, 21.

"I've seen Chelsea stay small for a long time and go through growth spurts," Fran said. "Chelsea is a close-knit community, although, it's not as close now with the building of malls and subdivisions. Growth takes a toll."

Sharon Tschirhart, Chelsea Hospital food service supervisor, has lived in Pinckney for 21 years since moving from Ypsilanti. Sharon and her husband, Steven, have two adult children, a girl and a boy, ages 18 and 21. Steven is employed at Ford Motor Co., in Plymouth.

Having worked at the hospital 14 years, Sharon says she, like Fran, welcomes a change. Fran has worked a total of 17 years, first at the hospital, then on a contract basis for the schools.

"It will be a welcome change for both of us," she said. "It will be a challenge."

Village Council Sets June 14 for Public Hearing On Millage Rate Increase

A public hearing to discuss the proposed additional .28 mill increase was set for June 14 by the Village Council during its May 24 meeting.

The increase, which raises the millage to 10.10 mills, will raise the money needed to meet the general operating budget, village manager Jack Meyers said.

Meyers said the Village Council has the authority to pass the millage without bringing the issue to a public vote, since the 10.10 mills is not high enough to require a public vote.

However, the council will hear public comment on the millage during the June 14 meeting.

Meyers also said the village should see a decrease in its mills at tax time.

By refinancing the bonds from construction on the waste water treatment plant, the village was able to lower those mills from 2.65 to 1.85.

Meyers called the .8 drop "a real decrease in millage."

The bond for the waste water treatment plant was originally issued on Oct. 1, 1987 and is not due to be paid off until the year 2007.

The public hearing for the millage on June 14 makes it the second public hearing set for that date. The Village Council will also hear public comments on Cable TV rates that night.

Jackson, Wilkinson Selected As Sites for Summer Paving

If you take Jackson St. or Wilkinson St. home from work you may want to find an alternate route this summer.

Chelsea's Village Council accepted a bid by Klett Construction to begin street paving this summer.

Jackson St. from McKinley St. to East St. and Wilkinson St. from Wellington St. to Old US-12 will be this summer's re-pavement projects.

Both streets will be closed to through traffic during construction times. However, residents and emergency vehicles will be allowed access.

The Village Council chose Klett Construction over two other bids during a meeting on May 23.

Klett, who recently bought out Ajax Co. in Jackson, brought in a bid of $115,406.96, which was almost $35,000 less than the next lowest bid.

Village manager Jack Meyers said Klett's numbers were verified by the council and checked out to be in order.

Dates for construction to start will be set at a pre-construction meeting on May 31, Meyers said.

Scouting Groups Work For Faith in Action

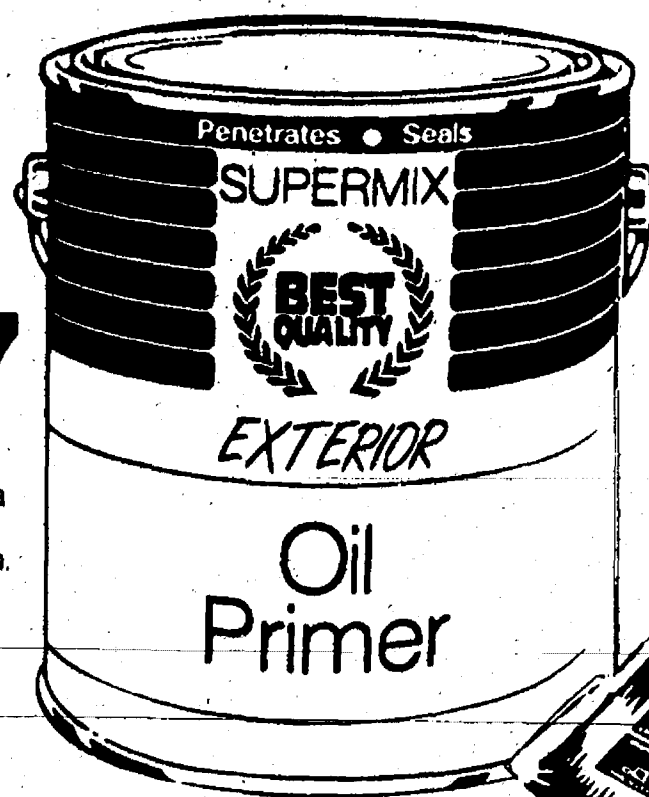

Chelsea Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Brownies joined forces on the Saturdays of April 16 and 23 to conduct a food drive for Faith in Action in the Chelsea area. Over 4,000 units of food were collected, reports Jerry Beaumont, president of Faith in Action/Chelsea Social Service. He calculates that if each unit of food is worth $1, the Scouts' efforts made it possible for Faith in Action to have over $4,000 to use for rent, medical needs and many other needs of our community.

The Scouting activity was organized by Steve Wright, Den 5 leader of Pack 455.
