MICHIGAN STATE POLICE TROOPER Dave Koetsier (pictured) accompanies trooper Brad Breedveld in manning an outpost housed in the Chelsea Fire Hall. Since January, the outpost has been open to service complaints through Washtenaw county's central dispatch. The Chelsea outpost covers Lima, Lyndon, Sylvan and Dexter townships.

Michigan State Police Man Outpost in Chelsea

As of January, the Michigan State Police have manned an outpost at the Chelsea Fire Hall with the intent to better service citizens in surrounding townships.

The idea behind the outpost program is to cut response times by strategically placing troopers at three outposts, as well as the Ypsilanti Post. The good news locally is for residents of Lima, Sylvan, Lyndon and Dexter townships. They are encouraged to call the Chelsea detachment of the Michigan State Police. But if it is an emergency, they should call 911.

Since 1990, the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and the Michigan State Police have consolidated dispatching. They work under the "closest car" concept which sends the patrol unit closest to a request for service to the call.

The Michigan State Police Department has its critics who contend troopers are selective about their calls. Sgt. Steve Farrell of the Michigan State Police says that just isn't true.

"If a trooper is dispatched to a call he will go to a call. They don't have the option to turn down a call."

"We can get to any call in the county within 10 to 15 minutes, any place in the county we have an officer working."

However, a problem arises when troopers are assigned to special detail. The state pulls troopers out of their posts to cover special operations like the World Cup Soccer Tournament held in Pontiac and a KKK rally held in Lansing. Farrell says the State Police Department's primary responsibility is to the citizens of the state. The Ypsilanti Post has no control over officers being pulled away on special detail.

"It's not the post decision. It's a decision made at headquarters and we have to comply."

Farrell said the Michigan State Police Department has a good working relationship with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. He credits the sheriff's department for making the outpost program possible. "This would not be effective without the help of the sheriff's department."

The outpost program began as an unofficial pilot project in 1990. Farrell was the first trooper to work out of an outpost at the Zeeb Rd. sheriff's substation. March 1993, an official pilot project was undertaken for a year and proved to be successful after evaluated by commanders. Since then, district and Lansing headquarters have given the program their blessing.

Farrell is a strong believer in the outpost concept. "We can more effectively handle complaints by having these outposts." And he says it is a better utilization of resources.

"We believe working together with the sheriff's department we can provide the best service possible to the citizens of Washtenaw county."

Another charge against the State Police is that there are too few of them. This complaint is something Farrell does not deny, but lives with under budget restrictions.

"A lot of times we have been short staffed. Our resources have dwindled like many of the other state agencies. We wish we could put 20 officers out there during a shift, but the fact is on a midnight shift we might have one car."

The outposts are manned with one trooper during the day shift and one during the afternoon shift. In Chelsea, they are troopers Dave Koetsier and Brad Breedveld. Together, Farrell says, Koetsier and Breedveld have 35 years of experience.

Farrell says it is not the Michigan State Police Department's concern who gets a call, but that the call is answered.

"If we start worrying about trivial matters like who is a better department or who gets more dispatch calls, we've lost sight of what we're really

Council Asks Planners For Recommendation on Proposed Trailer Park

Amidst a growing chorus of citizen opposition to a proposed 157-acre trailer park on the Village's northeast border, Village Council, at its regular meeting of June 28, voted unanimously to refer the annexation to the Planning Commission.

Council asked that the planners study the impact such a large scale development would have on the Village's over-all urban service capability. Traffic congestion, sewer treatment capacity, police and fire protection needs, and school crowding issues were discussed as just some of the important topics needing consideration before making a decision on the petition by the developers.

Owners of Scio Farms Estates mobile home park in Scio township, Phil Jenkins and Steve Tracy, along with their local partner, Martin Merkel, are asking Council to approve the annexation for a trailer park which would be similar in scale to the Scio park. Phil Jenkins is a resident of Ann Arbor who owns Sweepster, Inc., in Dexter. He is the prime source of financial backing for the park.

Steve Tracy, Jenkins' former son-in-law, who runs the Scio Park for Jenkins, is the chief spokesman for the partnership.

Martin Merkel, local resident, is heir to the 157-acre parcel which once comprised a much larger farm and was owned by the Merkel family since 1900. Over the last 20 years Martin Merkel has sold off pieces of the old farm. The 157 acres now at issue is all that remains of the original Sears/Merkel homestead.

Many residents at the meeting expressed an interest in addressing Council on the annexation. However, Richard Steele, Council President, refused to provide additional opportunity for citizen comment. He indicated that "... plenty of time was provided at the last meeting for comment and because the item is not up for action there is no reason to hear more tonight."

During citizen participation time, however, Ann Feeney, local resident and executive director of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce rose to express her personal view that the trailer park would be "bad for Chelsea."

In addition, Nancy Harvey, local resident, read into the record excerpts from an article in last week's Dexter Leader which described the crime problems in Scio Farms Park owned by the Jenkins/Tracy duo. In the article, Deputy Harry Valentine of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department was quoted as saying that his fellow deputies have nicknamed him "the trailer park police" because of all the runs he has to make to the parks in Scio township.

A letter from Jane Dissing, president of the Chelsea School Board, was also received by Council. In the letter she indicated that the School Board "is opposed to the annexation of a 157-acre parcel to the Village without infrastructure and facilities to service such a large potential growth of residents."

Dissing went on to explain that given existing overcrowded conditions "the additional residents from a 157-acre parcel could go beyond the ability of the school district to provide and maintain facilities for that additional number of students."

The Planning Commission is expected to begin work on the trailer park annexation issue at its next scheduled meeting of July 19.

In other Village Council action, new industrial pre-treatment standards were enacted which require local industries to reduce the amount of heavy metals they release into the public sewers. When Dave Longworth, owner of Longworth Plating Co., rose at public hearing to oppose the new stricter limits, Council members explained that the standards are set by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Chelsea, therefore, cannot set less stringent requirements than the DNR would approve.

Dayspring Gifts Sold To Owners of Ideation

Chelsea native and businesswoman Laurel Gravelyn has sold Dayspring Gifts to an Ann Arbor-based company that owns and operates four Hallmark gift stores and produces gift catalogs. Gravelyn sealed the deal Friday with Paul "Skip" Ungrodt, the owner and chairman of Ideation, Inc., a catalog company headquartered in Ann Arbor.

"Skip" Ungrodt and his son Tom, who serves as vice-president of retail stores, operate both Hallmark Crown House of Gifts stores in Ann Arbor, as well as gift shops in Jackson and Lansing. Their long-lasting relationship as merchants in the area is what made Gravelyn's decision a little more palatable.

"I think it's a great opportunity for Chelsea because Mr. Ungrodt is a wonderful merchant," Gravelyn said Friday just hours after the sale was finalized.

Gravelyn, who has owned and operated Dayspring Gifts for 17 years, is leaving the business to spend more time with her family.

Tom Ungrodt called the deal a "mutual agreement." The Ungrodt's will adhere to Gravelyn's wishes to retain current staff. Carolyn Chase will continue as store manager. The Ungrodt's have brought in Denny Nisch as general manager.

Ideation is a company started by "Skip" Ungrodt 30 years ago. He too was a Hallmark gift store operator. Now, in addition, he produces catalogs for 500 independent gift stores throughout the United States, turning out 12 million a year. The catalogs are purchased by independent gift shop retailers and sent out to customers in their store areas.

The Ungrodt's have a sincere loyalty to Hallmark. Paul Ungrodt says Hallmark and gift shops go hand-in-hand. The Chelsea store was appealing to the father and son duo because of its location. They plan to continue the rich tradition of quality cards and gifts Gravelyn has held true to all these years.

JESSICA FLINTOFT

Jessica Flintoft Wins Girls State Governor's Seat

Girls State saw one of Chelsea's own run for the highest office and win after sweeping the election for governor.

Jessica Flintoft, who will be entering her senior year at Chelsea High school this fall, was elected governor of Girls State, 381-145.

Flintoft and fellow Girls State delegate Angie Tanner attended the American Legion Auxiliary's government camp of sorts June 11-19 on the campus of Central Michigan University. Both girls were sponsored by the Chelsea American Legion.

A total 548 girls from all over the state attended. While there, they were given the task of setting up state and local government, from a governor's office, senate and legislature to county commissions, city councils and various committees.

The week began with participants being assigned party allegiance. Flintoft ran under the wing of the Federalist party. Both parties held conventions, and after a 10-hour meeting came up with platforms.

Flintoft and others seeking the governor's office garnered 80 signatures apiece for the nomination, and they gave speeches. In the end, however, Flintoft received the support of the electorate.

"I think I seemed more personable in a way. I am not a big government expert, but I think I seemed like

A large number of Chelsea residents, men, women and children, visited the Village of Chelsea's Wastewater Treatment Plant during the facility's Open House held June 30. Village president Richard Steele was among the Chelsea village officials who helped greet dozens of interested visitors.

The 11-member diving team of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department will soon be able to operate a little more safely thanks to a $2,500 grant from the Civic Foundation of Chelsea. The money will be used for the purchase of underwater radiocommunications equipment.

Chelsea native son Jeff Daniels will be appearing on two national late night talk shows in the next few days. On July 6, Daniels will be a guest on the Johnny Carson show and July 17 on the David Letterman show. Both appearances will be to publicize his latest film, "Arachnophobia."

The village has received a signed agreement from the Department of Natural Resources accepting the terms of compromise worked out several weeks ago concerning stipulations in the village's new landfill operating license. And the village has started using the new cell. DNR and the village argued for months about a $680,000 bonding requirement when the license was issued late last year. The compromise allowed the village to provide a $380,000 letter of credit instead, which the village secured through Chelsea State Bank.

How does the recent Michigan Supreme Court decision declaring that public school districts must provide free textbooks and supplies for their pupils affect the Chelsea School District? According to business manager Fred Mills, all the ramifications of the decision are not yet known, but it appears that it will cost the district a minimum of $35,000 in funds which were not budgeted to provide for the textbooks, fees and supplies normally absorbed by the students. The decision was the result of an Ann Arbor lawsuit initiated by Prof. Daniel Fustfeld and Lillian Bond. In its ruling, the Supreme Court interpreted language in the 1962 State Constitution obliging the Legislature to "maintain and support a system of free, public schools."

This year's wheat harvest will produce a relatively short crop, said Ron Satterthwaite of Blass Elevator Co. He revealed that this was due to federal government controls cutting back on wheat quotas and because people didn't plant as much as usual.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Privatizing the War on Crime

By tradition, most Americans believe that fighting crime is by far the biggest attention getter in Washington these days. But a recent study suggests that Congress would do better to call for more private support rather than simply add ever more anticrime laws to the books.

By Philip C. Clarke

Most Americans have come to believe that the major responsibility for fighting crime rests with the government. There's good reason for this. Public spending to apprehend criminals has more than doubled since 1965. And the number of justice system personnel has increased by almost four times since the mid-1960s.

Despite these increases, however, the over-all crime rate continues to rise. Back in 1960, nation-wide there were two reported serious crimes for every 100 people. Today, that figure is about six serious crimes per 100 citizens. As a result, the private sector has become increasingly involved in fighting crime, and in a big way.

Retail stores typically hire their own security guards, install video monitors, tag items with magnetic strips to prevent theft, and so on. Many communities have "neighborhood watch" campaigns. Homeowners often install security alarms connected to a private security force. All of this adds up to some impressive statistics.

A study by the Dallas-based National Center for Policy Analysis (NCPA) finds that there are nearly three times as many private security guards as public police officers. In fact, the private sector now spends nearly twice as much on crime prevention as does the public sector.

The NCPA report argues that even more could be done on the private side. And it suggests that using more private sector initiatives could lower the taxpayers' over-all cost of fighting crime and improve effectiveness. The NCPA notes, for instance, that private bail bondsmen have strong financial incentives to make sure that criminal defendants show up in court. A bail bondsman posts bond for a defendant, and if the defendant fails to appear, the bondsman must forfeit the money. If the defendant does appear, the bondsman normally keeps 10% of the bail money.

On average, these financial incentives appear to work effectively in keeping most criminal defendants from skipping town. The fugitive rate for defendants out on private bail is under 1%. By contrast, some 8% of those out on public bail evade court appearance. The National Center for Policy Analysis in its report offers 10 suggestions as to how the private sector can be used to better fight crime:

1.) Contract out non-crime or non-emergency functions of the police department to private security firms and pay bonuses to their officers who help cut the crime rate.

2.) Make greater use of reserve law enforcement officers. There currently are some 250,000 police reservists in the United States, who are required to serve a minimum number of hours each month.

3.) Shut down public bonding agencies and use private bail bondsmen instead.

4.) Increase the use of private rewards for criminal convictions, including bounties offered by commercial insurance policies. As the study says, "This would raise the arrest rate sharply and boost the recovery of stolen property from today's meager one-third."

5.) Pay bounty hunters for recovery of criminals who are wanted on bench warrants—which are orders by judges to arrest people charged with criminal offenses.

6.) Use private attorneys to prepare or litigate criminal cases. Victims of crimes, the study argues, should be allowed to hire private attorneys to prepare cases, and thereby extend public prosecutors' resources.

7.) Integrate criminal prosecution and civil remedies, such as financial compensation to victims. This will, the study suggests, raise the price of crime to criminals and more adequately compensate victims.

8.) Require convicts eligible for probation or parole to post a private bond to guarantee good behavior. Thirty-eight percent of people arrested for felonies are either on probation, parole or pretrial release. According to the study, "Privatizing the probation and parole systems could quickly become one of the most important and most effective private methods of crime deterrence."

9.) Allow more private construction and management of prisons. Private companies typically can build a prison with 20% less money than can public firms. And savings up to 15% can be realized if private companies manager the prisons.

10.) Employ more prisoners. Originally, prisons were meant to be self-supporting, with inmate labor paying the cost of incarceration.

As the NCPA study shows, there are plenty of creative ideas that can both help fight crime and save taxpayers money. Whether Washington's lawmakers and bureaucrats are listening is another matter.

Adrian College Hosts Talented Area Students

A student from our area is among the more than 100 talented high school students at Adrian College from June 29-July 9 attending the Michigan State Board of Education Summer Institute for the Arts, Science and Technology.

Evan T. Knott, son of James and Janice Knott of W. Middle St., is a student at Chelsea High School where he is active in the marching band, orchestra, musicals, National Honor Society and debate. During SEEKS, he is studying environmental chemistry.

At Adrian the program is called SEEKS—Sustaining the Environment through Education, Knowledge and Skills. High school juniors and seniors participate in intensive programming in "The Interrelationship of Humanity to the Environment." Study areas include improvisational theatre, creative writing, dance, archeology, environmental journalism, sculpture, animal behavior and ecology, landscape architecture, freshwater ecology, environmental chemistry and cultural anthropology.

Adrian faculty and visiting experts encourage interdisciplinary thinking with activities ranging from discussions to lab and field experience to art performances.

Flintoft Wins Top Seat at Girls State

everyone else," Flintoft said about her vote of confidence.

"I was very honored to be elected. I thought it was pretty neat."

As governor, Flintoft was charged with adopting a budget and implementing party platforms. Flintoft appointed a cabinet and looked over bills. The biggest project, however, was the budget. Flintoft said it was adopted just 20 minutes before the close of the fiscal year.

Flintoft said the thought of attending Girls State right after school let out for the summer wasn't too thrilling. The prospect of waking up for an early day and going through formalities like saying the Girls State Pledge and singing the Girls State Song weren't appealing to her. However, it turned out to be fun and worthwhile, she said.

As for aspirations of a political life after flirting with it during her three-day governorship, Flintoft says she does not have any particular interest in politics. Although, she will finish her senior year at Chelsea High School involved on the local leadership front, serving as student council president and vice-president of the National Honor Society.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows that gather around the drink box at the country store go out of their way not to agree on much, but when talk gets around to the country's birthday, there's not a naysayer in the bunch. Ed Doolittle took note Saturday night that America is 218 years young and, all things considered, in reasonable good health. Everybody joined in wishing her many happy returns to the day.

Immediate, though, Clem Webster said there's no way to consider all things because by the very nature of America and her people more are added by the minute. For instant, Clem went on, he read just last week where truck farm futures has took hold and it is spreading fast. He explained that this is where a whole community joins in paying farmers in advance to help them get through the season without going deeper in debt. Folks in town then help sell what they don't use themselves.

Bug Hookum said this sounds to good to be true for very long. How long, he ask, will paying in advance work before some mortgage to the eyeballs farmer figures out he can take the money and then take a 747 to the Australian Outback. For every plan there's a counterplan, Bug said, and in freewheeling America, bless her, folks set up nights working on both.

Bug's point was well took. Ed Doolittle read a few weeks back where a church in Oregon sent $90,000 to some African country to pay taxes on $4 million that had been left to the church in a will there. After the money was gone, the church learned that hundreds of other churches here had got the same letter telling about the big bequest. Ed recalled back in the Great Depression when the fellow got off the boat from Italy and set up a stand in New York City offering 10 percent daily return on investments. He took in 100 times more than he paid out every day, and it took a week to get him stopped because he didn't have a trader's license.

Clem agreed that all it takes in this country is a marketing idea. He noted that some of us get tired of July 4 Uncle Sam tire sales, and fireworks complete with 45 chances on a double wide in the house trailer lot. But, Clem said, we'd rather have them than rules against them. Free enterprise is one of America's greatest inventions, and the more of it the better, was Clem's words.

The fellows were general agreed that taste depends on the taster. As much as he would like to draw a line on T shirt slogans, Zeke Grubb said he stops short of agreeing on who's going to do the drawing. This college boy wants everybody who sees him to know that he has learned what happens when you go to the bathroom happens, Zeke said, and that old man pays $75 for a shirt that is a walking billboard for a baseball team, and who's smarter.

General, Ed said, the genius of American marketing is creating the product and then creating demand for the product. The best example he knows of is promotion going on in cities that paid hundreds of millions for the new NFL teams. Before a ball is kicked, he said, they will get their money back in clothes, hats, advance season tickets, pictures, posters, trinkets, gadgets and whatever else can be imagined.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Fruits, Vegetables Help Maintain Healthy Body Weight

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist

A balanced diet that's high in fruits and vegetables and low in fat helps to maintain a healthy body weight. And if you're trying to lose weight, fruits and vegetables are important because they're low in fat and calories and high in vitamins, minerals and fiber.

The "5-A-Day" program, sponsored by the National Cancer Institute, recommends that Americans eat five daily servings of fruits and vegetables for better health. The new USDA Food Guide Pyramid calls for three to five vegetable servings and two to four fruit servings daily.

"Though this may sound like a lot to eat in one day, serving sizes are smaller than most people think," says Debbie Barrow, county Extension home economist. "A 6-ounce glass of fruit juice is considered one fruit serving. If you drink two glasses, you will have your two fruit servings for the day."

Eating a healthy, low-fat breakfast, such as a bowl of bran cereal with skim milk and a glass of orange juice, is also important to maintaining a healthy weight.

"Many people have the misconception that skipping breakfast will help keep calorie intake down," Barrow says. "However, skipping breakfast can lead to overeating at other meals. A simple, balanced breakfast can actually help control appetite throughout the day."

As unlikely as it sounds, snacking can also help maintain healthy weight.

"By choosing snacks wisely, you can help meet your nutritional needs and get an energy boost to fuel your body between meals," Barrow says.

Here are some nutrient-rich snacks that count toward the 5-A-Day goal:

- One cup of orange juice (100% of vitamin C).
- One small carrot (100% of vitamin A).
- Half of a cantaloupe (33% of potassium).
- One banana (33% of vitamin B6).
- One cup of vegetable juice (100% of vitamin C).
- A half cup of grapefruit sections (almost 100% of vitamin C).

Sallie (Wilson) and Raymond Spencer

Sallie Wilson, Raymond Spencer Wed at Zion Lutheran Church

Sallie A. Wilson and Raymond M. Spencer were united in marriage Dec. 17 at Zion Lutheran church in Chelsea. Their parents are Marge and Ted Wilson of Chelsea and Joyce and Charles Spencer of Gregory.

The bride wore a floor-length gown, made by her mother, of ivory winter satin with antique beaded lace and a matching headpiece. She carried silk calla lilies, dried red roses and eucalyptus. Her bouquet, as well as those of the attendants, were made by her sister, Karen Dixon of Ann Arbor, who also served as the matron of honor.

Other attendants included Melanie Flanigan of Ann Arbor, Marty Van Zandt of Jackson, Jennifer Loomis and Amy Springstead, both of Kalamazoo.

Best man was Dan Bellus of Chelsea. Groomsmen were David Dixon of Ann Arbor, Paul Tavara of Belleville, Dan Elliott of Gregory and Tyson Thatcher of Middle Point. O. Chuck Spencer of Chelsea and Lloyd Ford of Grand Rapids served as ushers.

Tigra and Dean Delben of Saline handled the guest book and Jack and Nancy Wilson of Canton cut the cake. The couple currently reside in Hillsdale.

CHS Class of '74 Reunion Set for Saturday, July 23

Reservations are still being accepted for the Chelsea High school Class of 1974 20th year reunion to be held Saturday, July 23rd at Chelsea Rod & Gun Club.

Biographies from late reservations may not make printing deadlines for the booklet, but the committee will take dinner reservations up till July 18.

The last planning meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, July 12, 7:30 p.m. at Schumm's Restaurant. Volunteers are needed to help decorate, set-up and clean-up. If you can help, attend the July 12 meeting or call Larry Dull at 475-3414 or Ruben Coury at 475-0644.

Chelsea Hospital Seeks Volunteers To Help in Chemical Dependency

Chelsea Community Hospital is asking for volunteers to help in the Older Adult Chemical Dependency program. People who have an understanding of chemical dependency from their own experience or experiences with a family member are especially wanted. Volunteers participate in programming, attend family day and spend time with patients in activities. Some clerical help is needed.

Please contact Margaret Kuhl or Gina Artz, Chelsea Community Hospital, 313/475-1331, ext. 3405.

EDUCATORS VISIT CHELSEA Community Education Programs: Representatives from 18 school districts and universities from Indiana, and Wisconsin visited community education programs in Chelsea on June 29. The tour was part of a three-day training program sponsored by the National Center for Community Education in Flint. Participants were learning about philosophy and the process behind the concept of community education. The group toured programs in Chelsea so they could see an illustration of small town community education in action. Those touring Chelsea included Gerry Tracryk of Hurley, Wis., George Pintar of Deming, NM., Mary Ann Bowman of Amery, Wis., Scott Hoffman of Burlington, Wis., Anna Clapp of Lincoln, Ill., Alice Petra of Lincoln, Ill., Sheila Everhart of Waupun, Wis., Mary Slegler of Chicago, Ill., Shirley Schiffer of Oregon, Wis., Shane Tiedeman of Flint, Diane Pickelmann of Bancroft, Wis., Charlene May of Merrill, Wis., Julie Surprenant of Oregon, Wis., Tom Zerbel of Waupun, Wis., and Stan Potts of Madison, Wis. Chelsea director of Community Education Jeff Rohrer hosted the tour.

DAVID P. SEITZ David Seitz Granted Scholarship By Chrysler Corp.

A total of 101 sons and daughters of Chrysler's U.S. employees received grants totaling about $164,000 this year through the Chrysler Corporation Fund Scholarship Program. The students were selected from among 1,082 applicants, and were awarded scholarships ranging from $500 to $4,000. They were judged by an outside agency based on their academic aspirations, financial need and a recommendation by an adult professional.

David Seitz son of Gary and Jill Seitz was one of the 1994 scholarship recipients. David will be attending the University of Michigan this fall.

Safety belt use is currently 52 percent in Michigan. An estimated 250-300 lives would be saved each year with 70 percent safety belt use.

Players Plan Spozalizio After Musical Opening

Chelsea Area Players plan to hold an enormous celebration, "Spozalizio," following the opening night performance of "The Most Happy Fella," Friday, July 22, at a location to be announced.

A spozalizio is an Italian wedding celebration; in honor of the newly-married couple, Tony and Rosabella ... all are invited to participate.

Tickets for this celebration are available at the Chelsea Pharmacy along with regular tickets for the show. This celebration will feature a taste of Nappa Valley in keeping with the theme of the summer musical.

This celebration is the idea of director, Dr. DIANN L'Roy, who is returning to Chelsea to work with the players on this summer's musical project. DIANN has taken a leave of absence from her job in Texas for a good portion of the summer out of a love for the theater and the Village of Chelsea. The Players are very happy to have her directing a show after so many years.

Chelsea Area Players are also pleased to announce that they will be presenting a check to the school district for their portion of the newly installed curtains at the George Prinsing Auditorium. The Players expressed their appreciation to all who contributed to the fund-raising events at "Curtain Up," "Face the Music," the Magic Show, and through direct donations. Anyone who assisted in any way to this project is invited to sign the giant check which will be presented in a gathering before the opening night performance.

Further details on the check signing and presentation will be forthcoming.

Brown Bag Book Club Meets July 11 at Library

McKune Memorial Library's newly established Brown Bag Book Club, which meets on the second Monday of each month from June to November, will hold its July meeting on Monday, July 11. Discussion leader Maureen Walz will review "All the Pretty Horses," by Cormac McCarthy. The meeting is scheduled from 11:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. upstairs at the Library.

The club's lunch hour format includes the review and discussion of a book selected by one of the club's members. It is not necessary for participants to have read the selection.

The book to be reviewed by host Lawrence Ogden on Monday, Aug. 8 will be announced at the July meeting. "Griffin and Sabine," written by Nick Bantock, will be reviewed on Sept. 12, by Louise Timmerman.

The Pulitzer prize winning novel "A Thousand Acres," by Jane Smiley, will be discussed by Daphne Hodder on Oct. 10.

A non-fiction book by Steve Pinker titled "The Language Instinct" has been selected by Ann Feeney for the Nov. 14 meeting.

The Brown Bag Book Club is sponsored by Friends of McKune Memorial Library. Anyone interested in joining the group should bring a brown bag lunch to the Woman's Club Room, upstairs at the Library on Monday, July 11. Beverages will be provided.

Meetings are free and open to the public. Copies of the 1994 schedule are available at McKune Library.

Drs. Swan Moving To Traverse City

Doctors David and Lynn Swan have decided to relocate to Traverse City this July. "This has been the most difficult decision we have ever had to make," says Lynn. "It means saying goodbye to a wonderful community where we've established roots. But it also provides a new challenge and the opportunity to pursue a long-term dream while our children are still young."

Lynn will be leaving her post as medical director for the University of Michigan Family Practice Center in Chelsea, and Dave has turned his practice over to Dr. Mark Burye, a 1982 graduate of the U. of M. Dental School.

In 1983 when he was a senior in the U. of M. School of Dentistry, Dave spent two weeks working in Traverse City as part of a program to bring needed dental services to the children of migrant farm workers.

"Lynn was born and raised in the upper peninsula and my family has had a cottage up north for over 25 years," says Dave. "We've always loved the north county, especially the northwestern lower peninsula and Lake Michigan, but opportunities for practice were scarce when we were setting up."

Since that time the Swans would occasionally make inquiries about practice opportunities and last winter Dave was contacted by Traverse Dental Associates. "They were looking for a third partner to replace a dentist who was leaving. They have the largest practice in Traverse City and an outstanding reputation," says Dave.

"To make a long story short, we hit it off immediately on both a personal and professional level. Lynn has always had opportunities as a family practice physician but, for me, this was more like a once-in-a-lifetime chance. We suddenly were faced with a tough decision." After three months of negotiations and soul searching, as well as countless sleepless nights, the Swans decided to go for it.

Lynn has been with the U. of M. Family Practice Department for over 10 years, since she was a resident physician fresh out of Medical School.

She currently leaves the position of medical director for the Chelsea Family Practice site where she has been involved in teaching, administration, community teaching, and patient care.

"The thing I've enjoyed most about Chelsea has been the friendly and caring nature of the people. From the day Dave and I decided to settle here we were welcomed with open arms and offered chances to get involved with community activities," says Lynn.

Lynn has lectured at local and state continuing education courses and has published nationally. She also serves as secretary for the medical staff at Chelsea Community Hospital and has been recognized as "Teacher of the Year" in the past by the family practice residents. She will work with Munson Medical Center, also rated in the top 100 hospitals nationally just as Chelsea Community Hospital and U. of M. are.

On a local level, Lynn has been involved in several community groups and activities, most notably spearheading the effort to raise funds for and install the new playground equipment in Pierce Park.

Lynn and Dave have been part of the St. Mary's Guitar Group since moving to town and are the parents of three children, Jillian, 7, Daniel, 5, and Benjamin, 3.

"It matters not what you are thought to be, but what you are —Publius Syrus"

What a shame that this simple truth is not more widely accepted. The countless hours we spend trying to create the "proper image" with our neighbors and acquaintances could be saved.

Of course, it is only natural for anyone to want the approval of his peers. However, we are too often concerned with "what people think" rather than with the kind of person we really are. Our goal should be our own satisfaction with our lives. When we ourselves are contented with what we are, the opinions of others are unimportant.

We take pride in providing this community with an essential service in accordance with the highest ethical standards and traditions of our profession.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Aug. 4, 1960—Combined purchases of series E and H United States savings bonds by residents of Washtenaw county totaled $1,682,943 in the first six months of this year, it was announced today by John R. Meadows, volunteer chairman of the county Savings Bonds Committee. This compared with $1,887,017 in the January to June 1959 period and represented achievement of 42.0 percent of the year's Treasury-assigned sales goal of $4,001,000.

World War II veterans have two more years in which to obtain Veterans Administration-guaranteed home, farm and business loans. C.N. Nixon, acting manager of the VA regional office in Detroit, said today that President Eisenhower has signed a bill just passed by Congress which extends the July 25, 1960 cutoff date to July 25, 1962.

Deb Bauer Named Outstanding New Investment Rep

Deb Bauer, the Chelsea representative for the financial-services firm Edward D. Jones & Co., recently traveled to Toronto, Ontario, Canada to attend a regional meeting for the firm. She was one of 59 Jones representatives from two regions who attended the meeting.

Bauer was recognized at the meeting as the region's outstanding new investment representative.

"Because most Jones branches are one-broker offices, periodic regional meetings provide a valuable way to interact with our peers," Bauer said. "At the meeting, I gained helpful information and enjoyed the opportunity to share ideas and learn from other Jones representatives."

In addition to meeting with Jones representatives, Bauer also participated in vendor presentations and motivational speeches by Charlie Plumb and Craig MacFarlane. Edward D. Jones & Co. representatives regularly work to expand their knowledge by attending meetings such as this one.

Swans Moving

since 1987 when he hung out his shingle in February of that year. He says "that was a courageous decision also. We had just bought our first house, Lynn was seven months pregnant with our first child, and we didn't know many people in town."

As his practice was growing Dave took the opportunity to get involved in community activities himself. He is a past president of the Civic Foundation of Chelsea, served as treasurer of the Chelsea Rotary Club and as vice-president of Chelsea Social Services at the time it was merging with Faith-in-Action.

Dave has also been the dental director for the Chelsea Retirement Community since he came to town, as well as a member of the hospital medical staff, dental co-ordinator of the annual Health-O-Rama, and advisor to the hospital's swing-bed program for patients awaiting placement into nursing homes.

Earlier in his career, Dave was a dental instructor for the U. of M. General Practice Dental Residency and the last two summers he and Lynn have volunteered a week of medical and dental services to Bay Cliff Health Camp located in the upper peninsula.

"It has been a privilege to live in and serve the Chelsea Community," says Dave. "We've always tried to give our best to our patients and the community and our lives have been truly enriched by the relationships we've made here." They've purchased a home on Grand Traverse Bay and expect to see some familiar faces visit us in the future! The Swans' address after July 15 will be 4029 Bay Valley Drive, Williamsburg 49690.

Chelsea Community Hospital is hosting a farewell tea for the Swans on Wednesday, July 13 from 4 to 7 p.m. in the hospital dining room. All patients, friends, and colleagues are invited.

Sure-Fire Repellents Keep Coming Along, But So Do the Mosquitoes

So, you've planted lots of mosquito plants and bought a bug zapper, and for good measure, some citronella candles—now you'll have mosquito-free evenings, right? Not quite.

Tom Ellis, a Michigan State University Extension entomologist, says that things that hum, zap, burn or grow (as in plants) are pretty much a waste of money.

Mosquito plants are all the rage. The implication is that if you have a mosquito plant, or several, your yard will be mosquito free.

Ellis says the plants do contain a chemical that is slightly repellent and that he can't recall ever seeing a mosquito plant with welts on it. But for the plant to provide even a modicum of protection to people, they would have to tear off plant leaves, crush them and rub them on their skin. Probably a bit gauche for the backyard party.

Hand-held sonic devices that repel mosquitoes? If you listen carefully to the device, you'll hear a low hum—unless it's drowned out by the humming of the mosquitoes closing in on you. Ellis notes that a few years ago sonic devices were being sold as a way to attract fish. Get the message?

Ellis says the bug zapper is proof positive that nobody listens to scientists.

A lot of entomology science has been done on bug zappers, Ellis says, and research has shown that bug zappers do attract hordes of insects. They're not as efficient at killing them, however.

"The upshot is that a bug zapper attracts insects into the yard faster than it kills them," Ellis says.

"If you measure the number of insects in the yard before the bug zapper is turned on, then measure the number of insects in the yard after the zapper is turned on, you'll find that after a while, there are more insects in the yard when the zapper is on than there are when it is off," Ellis said. "So really, the only person you are helping out is the guy next door who doesn't have a zapper."

Of course, there may be an element of satisfaction in sitting in the backyard in the evening gazing at the zapper's black light (actually, it's kind of blue) and listening to insects being electrocuted while you dig at your mosquito bites (a little more calamine lotion, please) and dodge the June bugs and moths and other insects attracted by the glow of the zapper.

And the citronella candle? Ellis says that the mosquito-repellent ingredient is carried in the candle's smoke. So you might get some relief if you sit in the smoke. What about the soot? It might go nicely with the crushed mosquito plant leaves.

Ellis says that there is a skin lotion on the market (we can't mention brand names here) that does provide protection from mosquitoes: for 30 minutes, tops, if you don't sweat.

Science isn't sure if it is a chemical in the lotion that repels the mosquitoes or, if perhaps, mosquitoes just don't like to walk around on sticky skin looking for a place to bite.

Ellis says products containing DEET, which has been on the market for about 30 years, work about as well as anything to repel mosquitoes.

"Depending on the concentration of DEET in the product, the user, his or her physical activity and the weather, a person may have several hours of protection against mosquito bites," Ellis says.

He cautions parents not to use a repellent containing more than 20 percent DEET on children and that they, not the children, should apply the spray.

"It should be applied prudently because the chemical is absorbed by the body," Ellis says. "It might be better to apply low concentrations of DEET to the skin more often than to use the higher concentrations. If people read the label and follow directions carefully, they shouldn't have any problems."

Homeowners can help reduce mosquito numbers by draining standing water in the yard and in stored or discarded objects, and by cleaning the eavestroughs. Mosquitoes lay eggs in these places. Several generations of mosquitoes occur between spring and fall.

Fogging the backyard bushes with insecticide will kill mosquito adults and provide a few hours of relief—until a new batch of mosquitoes moves in or it rains.

Wearing light rather than dark-colored clothing seems to make a person less attractive to mosquitoes.

Cut back your physical activity level in the evening, Ellis suggests. The female mosquito (the males don't bite) is attracted by the carbon dioxide you exhale. The greater your physical activity, the more carbon dioxide you exhale and the more you will attract mosquitoes. Maybe the converse will reduce the number of bites.

Perhaps a better solution is to screen in your porch and give your candles, plants, zapper and sonic "repeller" to the neighbors and let them battle the bugs. Just a thought.

FLOWER SALES AT FARMER GRANT'S Market have increased since store owner Larry Grant came on line with the Internet. He now offers his wares through something called a "computer mall." Grant is pictured with his mother, Olivia Grant, who runs the flower shop at the market.

Local Merchant First Florist To Use New Internet 'Computer Mall'

A local businessman has found a creative avenue for advertising his products and services in the computer age, and at the same time has generated a lot of media attention while doing it.

Larry Grant of Farmer Grant's Market on Jackson Rd. has teamed up with a local computer whiz who tapped into something called an "electronic mall" as a means of advertising and offering services through the Internet, a global web of computer networks.

Jon Zeff, president of Branch Information Services in Ann Arbor, approached Grant about this service in December. By mid-February, Grant was sold and on-line in time for Valentine's Day.

"It looked like a good idea, so we did it," said Grant. Grant sold 40 orders of flowers for Valentine's Day via Internet and the days preceding Mother's Day saw flower sales numbering that holiday's total in one day. Customers are from all over the world, including Asia and Europe, but mainly from the United States and Canada.

Manchester Community Fair Opens Tuesday

The 50th annual Manchester Community Fair will be held July 12-16. Theme for the Fair is "Fifty Years of Family Fun . . . At the Fair," celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the Fair.

Start off the Fair with the parade at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 12 with Richard and Irene Britten as parade marshals. Then follow the parade of floats, fire trucks, and many more entries as it winds its way through downtown Manchester to the Fairgrounds on Alumni Memorial Field, at the corner of Vernon and Wolverine Sts.

As soon as the parade arrives at the Fairgrounds, a Fair Queen will be chosen from the 12 contestants who were judged during the day. In the Entertainment Pavilion at 7:30 p.m. there will be a demonstration by the Chelsea Tae Kwon Do and then at 8:30 p.m. Dick Andrews, a D-J for listening or dancing.

Wednesday, July 13 is Walco Foods Day at the Fair. Everyone can ride all day, from 1 p.m. til closing, for only $7 and a coupon from the flyer that Walco Foods has available.

At 1:30 p.m. is the pet judging, with the lamb judging at 6 p.m., swine judging at 8:30 p.m., and steer judging at 8 p.m. Following there is the mule pull and in the Entertainment Pavilion will be the Sizzlin' Gold Star Dancers with Country Line Dance.

Thursday, July 14, is Senior Citizens Day and all 62 years and older will be admitted free until 5 p.m. Also, a program for Seniors at 2 p.m.

Its two for one day—two can ride the same ride for the price of one—that's 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. A compact tractor pull at 7 p.m. also the North American Flyball demonstrations and at 8:30 p.m. watch the boys and girls sell their lambs, steers and swine at the annual auction beginning at 8 p.m.

Also, in the Entertainment Pavilion there will be Country Dances with demonstrations and instructions by Bruce and Sharon Hunt.

Friday, July 15 is Kids Day at the Fair, and they can ride all they want for $7 from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. courtesy of the Manchester Community Fair. There will be games and prizes in the afternoon.

Chelsea Students Attend World Affairs Seminar

From Angola to Zimbabwe to Chelsea, Mich., students representing more than 50 countries gathered during the week of June 12-17 at the University of Wisconsin for the 18th annual World Affairs Seminar.

World Affairs Seminar is an educational program for selected high school students from all over the world. Participants have the opportunity to learn about the customs, traditions and heritage of people from other countries. Purpose of the program is to bring about a better understanding of world problems by providing the opportunity for students to discuss current issues with young people from around the globe.

Chelsea High school seniors Keri Kentala, Tara Platt, Corrie Schoenberg and Mark Wallace were chosen for this year's program in Whitewater, Wis. They attended lectures, films and group discussions as well as informal talks on the important issues of the day. They developed friendships with students from Germany, Russia, Puerto Rico, Mexico, and Switzerland as well as other parts of the United States.

Seminar fees for Chelsea's students were paid by the Chelsea Rotary Club and Chelsea Lions Club.

$50,000 PRIZE WINNERS: And it couldn't happen to a nicer couple! Clyde and Maryann Myers walked off with the top prize of $50,000 in the Michigan Lottery's weekly television game show on June 25—or at least some of that amount, after the IRS got their share! Clyde is on medical disability retirement from Dana Corp., after suffering a heart attack in 1987.

Free Fishing Clinic For Kids Set Saturday

A free Youth Fishing Clinic for youths ages 7-14 will take place Saturday, July 9, from 9 to 11 a.m. at Gallup Park Livery, 3000 Fuller Rd., Ann Arbor.

Sponsored by the Washtenaw County Bassmaster Club, the program is designed to introduce young people to equipment and basic techniques. Rod and reel are included with instruction. Space is limited.

Please call 682-9319 to register.

Retired Machine Repairman Wins $50,000 in Detroit TV Game Show

Clyde D. Myers, 58, a retired machine repairman from Chelsea, will be packing his bags soon for a vacation in Hawaii. The former Dana Corp. employee won $50,000 Saturday night, June 25 on "Megabucks Giveaway," the Michigan Lottery's weekly television game show.

Myers, who listed bowling and inland-lakes bass fishing as his favorite pastimes, said he and his wife, Maryann, have been talking about taking a special vacation.

"We enjoyed Hawaii and thought we might go back there," he said. "Then Maryann brought up the idea of a trip to Alaska." With their $50,000 top Megabucks Giveaway prize, the Chelsea couple may be able to do both. Myers said he also will put some in his retirement account.

At the end of four rounds of play, Myers was tied with contestant Mike Smith, of Allen Park. Each had accumulated $900—the highest of any of the players—by winning cash prizes concealed behind letters on the F-O-R-T-U-N-E game board.

In order to break the tie, each had to select another letter on the game board. The one uncovering the highest number would win the game prize of $5,000 and a chance to open the "Megabucks Vault" containing the $50,000 top prize.

In the playoff round, Myers went first. He picked letter T, and got 71. Smith followed with letter R, which concealed the number 41. This made Myers the winner of the $5,000 game prize.

Myers then had a chance to select the correct key from behind four numbered doors that would unlock the Megabucks Vault containing the $50,000 top prize. Smiling, the soft-spoken retiree asked for key number 3, and it was the key that opened the door to the $50,000 top prize.

All "Megabucks Giveaway" contestants receive full "star" treatment, including limousine service for travels around Detroit and a special luncheon at The Whitney Restaurant. Before the show, each visits a television makeup artist and is photographed with the show's hosts, Aggie Usedly and Chuck Gaidica.

The weekly show stems from the Michigan Lottery's instant games. To be part of "Megabucks Giveaway," players must send in three non-winning tickets, one from each of three different instant games. Six entries are randomly drawn every week.

"Megabucks Giveaway" is taped Friday, at WDIV-TV Channel 4 studios in Detroit. Unless pre-empted it is scheduled for broadcast Saturday at 7:30 p.m. with live drawings of the Daily 3, Daily 4 and Lotto games inserted. The half-hour show is fed by satellite to a state-wide network of nine stations.

Girls Varsity Softball Team Members Receive Awards for Great Season

Chelsea High school softball had a number of athletes recognized for their play this season.

Every team success is a team effort, with every member contributing to that success. The team was very successful this year due to the great effort put forth by everyone on the team. Those players recognized excelled due to hard work on their part, as well as on the effort their teammates put forth to help them be the best ball players they could be.

This year Shannon Shemanaky and Martha Merkel received Honorable Mention recognition from the coaches in our own SEC League. Shannon played second base, while Martha played first base this season.

Loren Zuehlik received the team's, "10th Man Award," recognizing her all around contribution to this year's success.

Nicki Plasecki received the Kim Boyd award for her ability to combine academics and sports, as well as the effort and sportsmanship she put into playing the game.

Nancy Pidd was voted first team SEC at third base, second team third base on the Ann Arbor News All Area Team for B-C-D schools. Nancy also received the team award for being "Most Improved."

Jacki Crawford, this year's team captain, received numerous awards for her outstanding play. Jacki was awarded the team's Coach's Leadership Award not only for her great play but for the leadership she displayed both on and off the field the entire season. In addition, she was voted by the coaches as a first team outfielder, in the SEC, All District team, All Region team, and First Team on the Ann Arbor News All-Area team for B-C-D schools.

Carey Schiller had an outstanding year, receiving numerous awards. First, Carey was the Co-MVP winner of this year's softball team. She was a key player in the team's success this season. Carey was voted first team at every level as a pitcher. She was first team SEC, first team All-District, first team All-Region and first team on the Ann Arbor News All-Area team for B-C-D schools. Lastly, Carey received the highest recognition possible from the state by being selected to the Class B All-State Team, by the coaches of the MHSSCA (Michigan High School Softball Coaches Association).

Lisa Beard, like Carey, had an outstanding season, contributing much to the success of this year's Chelsea varsity softball team. Lisa was the Co-MVP of this year's Chelsea team.

Lisa was selected to the first team SEC as an "At-Large Player," in recognition of her all-around performance in the league as both a pitcher and outfielder.

She was selected first team All-District, first team All-Region, and first team on the Ann Arbor News All-Area team for Class B-C-D schools, as an outfielder. In addition, Lisa also received the highest recognition possible from the state, by being selected to the Class B All State Team by the coaches of the MHSSCA.

All of these ladies contributed greatly to this year's success and the recognition they have received is well deserved. Congratulations to them and all of their teammates on a great season.

SOCCER CHAMPIONS: The Chelsea Travel Soccer team, sponsored by The Common Grill and Arend Tree Farms, won the under-14 division of the Southeast Michigan Soccer Association. The team finished the spring season with an 8-1 record against teams from Adrian, Clinton, Milan, Tecumseh and Ypsilanti. Members of the

Aquatic Club Wins 2nd Meet Of Season Over Orchard Hills

Chelsea Aquatic Club won their second meet of the summer season against Orchard Hills. Final score was Chelsea 475, Orchard Hills 247. The meet was held at the Cameron Pool in Chelsea on July 1 and 2.

Chelsea swimmers and divers performed excellently while trying to maintain their B league championship title.

The next summer dual meet will be on July 8 and 9 also in Chelsea, followed by two away meets.

Chelsea results follow.

Connie Mack Team Bombed By South Lyon

Chelsea's Connie Mack baseball team played only one contest last week as they hosted South Lyon.

South Lyon opened the scoring in the first inning as they scored one run on a two-out single. Chelsea tied it, 1-1, in their half of the first as Jason Sprawka was hit by a pitch, moved to second on a ground-out to short by Dusty White and James Courdway singled his home.

The rest of the game, Chelsea was able to hold South Lyon off the scoreboard only in the fourth inning. They gave up four in the second, seven in the third and five in the fifth.

The Bulldogs could only manage two base runners after the opening inning and suffered a 17-1 set back. Chelsea collected two hits—Courdway's single and a single by Ashley Coy.

Sam Morseau started on the hill for Chelsea and was relieved by Courdway in the third.

"We just couldn't get anything going," according to coach Akel Marshall. With the loss Chelsea's record drops to 0-6 for the summer.

Next game will be Thursday, July 7 against South Lyon in Chelsea, a double-header, at 5 p.m.

On Saturday, July 9 the team will meet Saline, in Chelsea, a double-header at 2 p.m.

Deputies Report Area Crime

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies investigated several incidents in Dexter Village and Scio, Webster, Sylvan, Sharon, Lima and Dexter townships June 2-29.

Dexter Village

Found property was reported on Grand St. near Broad St., June 29. A 74-year-old Dexter man found an overnight bag containing clothing and other items. He turned it over to police, who placed it in their property room.

Sylvan Township

Malicious destruction of property and illegal entry was reported in the 19100 block of Bush Rd., June 28. A 50-year-old township man told police an ex-boyfriend of his live-in girlfriend's daughter damaged his home while trying to climb in a window. The incident happened June 28 at 7:30 a.m. The girl said she awoke to find the 19-year-old suspect half way through the window. The man said he wanted to talk to her. The home sustained $70 worth of damage to the vinyl siding and window screen.

Sharon Township

Breaking and entering was reported in the 18000 block of Pleasant Lake Rd., June 25. A 50-year-old township man told police a table grinder valued at $200 was stolen from his garage. He said the rear garage door was left unlocked.

Lima Township

A 25-year-old Chicago man was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor and for having an unlawful blood/alcohol level. He was stopped by police on I-94 near Fletcher Rd., June 29. Fatal crash investigators were on the scene of an accident when the Chicago man was observed in his vehicle spinning out of control for no apparent reason. He was stopped and given field sobriety tests, which he failed. A breath test revealed a .18 percent blood/alcohol level.

Dexter Township

Larceny and malicious destruction of property was reported in the 9900 block of Huron River Dr., June 29. A 67-year-old township woman told police she is missing china and a pressure cooker. The last time she remembers seeing them was sometime in 1993. She didn't notice the items were missing until the morning of June 29. She also noticed a loveseat, which was once inside a small apartment behind her residence, was moved outside. It sustained water damage.

Ann Arbor Tennis Tourney Expands to All of County

For the first time in its long history of great summer tennis competition, the annual Ann Arbor City adult Tennis Tournament will include players from all of the county of Washtenaw. Prior to this year only those residents within the boundaries of the Ann Arbor Public Schools were able to compete in this tournament, but according to Barb Greiner, head administrator for tennis for the Community Education and Recreation office, there has been a desire to boost the number of entries in certain divisions. Including tennis players of the surrounding communities in the county is anticipated to enhance the numbers.

Competition will begin on the week-end of July 9-10 with the mixed doubles for the husband-and-wife teams and the open mixed doubles. Deadline for these entries is slated for Tuesday, July 5, at 4 p.m.

The various men's and women's singles and doubles matches will follow on the next week-end of July 16-17 and will continue throughout that week concluding with the finals on Sunday, July 24. Deadline for entries has been set for Monday, July 11. Gordon Boettcher will be the new director of the adult tournament this year.

In addition, a junior tournament under the direction of Oliver Wreford will be staged the week of July 18-22. Junior players from all over the county are eligible to participate in the different age divisions for boys, girls and doubles plus mixed doubles. All tournament players are expected to attend an important informational meeting on Sunday, July 17, at 6 p.m. at the conference room of the Balas III Building (Community Education and Recreation) at 2765 Boardwalk in Ann Arbor. Deadline for the junior entries is Monday, July 11 at 4:30 p.m.

Tournament entry forms have been mailed to previous competitors, but local tennis and swim clubs and recreation offices, including Dexter, Chelsea, Saline, Ypsilanti offices, are also providing forms. Local libraries have forms as well.

Entries must be mailed or returned to the office of the Community Education and Recreation Department at 2765 Boardwalk before the designated deadlines by 4:30. The department's telephone number is 994-2300, ext. 232 from 8 to 4:30.

Forms have been left with Kristen Raeder in the Chelsea Community Education office at the Chelsea High School. In Dexter, applicants may obtain entry forms in the lobby of the Pool Building where the community education office is located.

Students Elected to Mock Offices at Citizenship Seminar

The 198 high school juniors and seniors who attended the 31st annual Michigan Farm Bureau Young People's Citizenship Seminar, held June 20-24 at Calvin College in Grand Rapids, elected a number of their peers to mock offices.

Mike Riedlinger of Bay county was elected chairman of the Populist Party and Matt Scramlin, Oakland, as chairman of the Federalist Party.

Also elected were Nicole Ruiz De Castilla of Huron county as county clerk, Georgia Stroven of Newaygo county as register of deeds, Lesley Solowczuk of Washtenaw county as drain commissioner, Joel Spector of Bay county as treasurer, Dan Decker of Huron county as prosecuting attorney, Dan Wresinski of Manistee county as sheriff, Zac Padgett of Shiawassee county as state representative and John Hyatt of Muskegon county as state senator. Michelle Ver-rill of Genesee county and Aliceson Robinson of Calhoun county were elected as justices of the state supreme court.

Elected as precinct delegates were Sara Block of Benzie county, Jonathan Markel, Muskegon; Elizabeth Olson, Bay; Michael Sanders, Alcona; Tracey Ziegler, Livingston; Jennifer Brown and Gwen Thelen, Clinton; Marcia Courtier, Gratiot; Kara Egger, Saginaw; Eric Fox and Chet Stuart, Kalamazoo; Kristy Grabow, Iosco; Amanda Grantham and Kara Robb, Allegan; Allison Karay, Monroe; and Charlie Lewis and Rosemary Rinke of St. Clair county.

WASTEWATER SYSTEM DISCHARGES VILLAGE OF CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

Ord. No. 96 eff. Aug. 20, 1985
amended June 28, 1994

An Ordinance: regulating the discharge of pollutants from non-domestic users within the Village of Chelsea.

Articles III, IV and XIII amended as follows. Remainder of Ordinance unchanged.

THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA ORDAINS:

24.090

ARTICLE III REGULATIONS

24.091 General Discharge Prohibitions

No discharger shall contribute or cause to be discharged, directly or indirectly, any of the following described substances into the POTW or otherwise to the facilities of the Village of Chelsea:

a. Any liquids, solids or gases which by reason of their nature or quality are, or may be, sufficient either alone or by interaction to cause fire or explosion or be injurious in any other way to the operation of the POTW, including, but not limited to, wastestreams with a closed cup flashpoint of less than 140 degrees Fahrenheit or 60 degrees Centigrade using the test method specified in 40 CFR 261.21.

b. Solid or viscous substances which will or may cause obstruction to the flow in a sewer or other interference with the operation of the POTW such as, but not limited to: grease, garbage with particles greater than one-half (1/2") in any dimension, animal guts or tissues, paunch manure, bones, hair, hides or fleshings, entails, whole blood, feathers, ashes, cinders, sand, spent lime, stone or marble dust, metal, glass, straw, shavings, grass clippings, rags, spent grains, spent hops, waste paper, wood, plastics, gas, tar, asphalt residues, residues from refining/processing of fuel or lubricating oil, mud, and glass grinding or polishing wastes.

c. Any wastewater having a pH less than 6.0 or higher than 9.5 or having any other corrosive property capable of causing damage or hazard to structures, equipment or personnel of the system.

d. Any wastewater containing toxic pollutants in sufficient quantity, either singly or by interaction, to injure or interfere with any wastewater treatment process, constitute a hazard to humans or animals, or to exceed the limitation set forth in the Ordinance. A toxic pollutant shall include but not be limited to any pollutant identified in the Toxic Pollutant List set forth in Appendix A (24.235) hereto.

e. Any noxious, malodorous or toxic liquids, gases, vapors, fumes or solids which either singly or by interaction are capable of treating a public nuisance or hazard to life or are sufficient to prevent entry into the sewers for their maintenance and repair or may cause acute worker health and safety problems.

f. Any substance which may cause the POTW's effluent or treatment residues, sludges or scums to be unsuitable for reclamation and reuse or to interfere with the reclamation process. In no case shall a substance discharged to the POTW cause the POTW to be in noncompliance with sludge use or disposal criteria, guidelines or regulations developed under Section 406 of the Act; any criteria, guidelines or regulations affecting sludge use or disposal developed pursuant to the Solid Waste Disposal Act, the Clean Air Act, the Toxic Substances Control Act, Resource Conservation and Recovery Act or State standards applicable to the sludge management method being used.

g. Any substance which will cause the POTW to violate its NPDES and/or other Disposal System Permits.

h. Any substance with objectionable color not removed in the treatment process, such as, but not limited to, dye wastes and vegetables tanning solutions.

i. Any wastewater having a temperature which will inhibit biological activity or cause structural damage in the POTW resulting in interference; but in no case, wastewater with a temperature at the introduction into the POTW treatment plant which exceeds 40°C (104°F).

j. Any slugload, which shall mean any pollutant, including oxygen demanding pollutants (BOD, etc.), released in a single extraordinary discharge episode of such volume or strength as to cause interference to the POTW.

k. Any unpolluted water except such water as may be discharged to a sewer which is designated to carry storm water.

l. Any wastewater containing any radioactive wastes or isotopes of such half-life or concentrations as exceed limits in compliance with applicable State or Federal regulations.

m. Any wastewater which causes a hazard to human health or creates a public nuisance.

n. Any petroleum oil, nonbiodegradable cutting oil or products of mineral oil origin in amounts that may pass through or cause interference.

o. Hauled septic or industrial wastes except at locations and at times as designated by the Village Manager. Any removal of manhole lids, or other access to the sewer system for the purpose of discharging wastes at times and/or locations other than those designated by the Village Manager, or without the expressed written permission of the Village Manager, shall be considered a violation and shall be subject to enforcement action including fines and penalties subsequently described in Article VII.

When the Village Manager determines that a Discharger is contributing any of the above enumerated substances in such amounts as to interfere with the operation of the POTW, the Village Manager shall: 1) advise the Discharger of the impact of the contribution on the POTW; and 2) develop effluent limits for such Discharger to correct the interference with the POTW.

24.092 Limitations on Wastewater Strength

a. National Categorical Pretreatment Standards
National categorical pretreatment standards as promulgated by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) pursuant to the Act shall be met by all Dischargers of the regulated industrial categories. An application for modification of the national categorical pretreatment standards may be considered for submittal to the Regional Administrator by the Village Manager, when the Village's wastewater treatment system achieves consistent removal of the pollutants as defined by 40 CFR 403.7.

b. Right of Revision

The Village reserves the right to amend this Ordinance to provide for more stringent limitations or requirements on discharges to the POTW where deemed necessary to comply with the objectives set forth in Section 24.011 of this Ordinance.

c. Dilution

No Discharger shall increase the use of potable or process water in any way, nor mix separate waste streams for the purpose of diluting a discharge as a partial or complete substitute for adequate treatment to achieve compliance with the standards set forth in this Ordinance. The Village Manager may impose mass limitations or Dischargers which are using dilution to meet applicable Pretreatment Standards or Requirements, or in other cases where the imposition of mass limitations is appropriate.

d. Supplementary Limitations

No Discharger shall discharge wastewater containing concentrations of the following enumerated materials exceeding the following values. The listed concentrations are based upon daily maximum concentrations as determined by the indicated sample type.

Material	Concentration (mg/l)
Ag (silver)	0.025
Cd (cadmium)	0.004
CN (total Cyanide)	0.13
Cr + 6 (hexavalent chromium)	1.00
Cr (total chromium)	1.00
Cu (copper)	1.00
Grease & Oil of Animal, Vegetable or Mineral Origin	50.00
Hg (mercury)	Non-detectable
Ni (nickel)	0.85
Pb (lead)	0.23
Zn (zinc)	1.00
Polychlorinated Biphenyls*	8.83 x 10 ⁻⁴

*Discharge of the indicated material at detectable levels shall be a specific violation of this Ordinance. The analytical method and reported detection level shall be as follows:

Material	Analytical Method	Detection Level
Hg (mercury)	EPA 245.1	0.0005 mg/l
polychlorinated biphenyls	EPA 608	0.0002 mg/l

unless a higher level is appropriate because of sample matrix interference.

24.093 Limitations on Wastewater Strength

a. Grease, Oil, and Sand Interceptors
Grease, oil and sand interceptors shall be provided when it is the opinion of the Village Manager that they are necessary for the proper handling of liquid wastes containing grease in excessive amounts, any flammable wastes, sand, or other harmful ingredients; except that such requirement shall not apply for private living quarters or dwelling units. Where required, interceptors shall be located as to be readily and easily accessible for cleaning and inspection. Grease and oil interception shall be constructed of impervious material capable of withstanding abrupt and extreme changes in temperature. They shall be of substantial construction, watertight, and equipped with easily removed covers which, when bolted in place, shall be gastight and watertight. Required grease, oil and sand interceptors shall be maintained by the owner, at his expense, and shall be in continuously efficient operation at all times. The owner shall maintain records, subject to review by the Village Manager, showing the dates and means of disposal of materials collected in required interceptors. Any removal and handling of collected materials from required interceptors must be performed by currently licensed waste disposal firms.

24.093 Accidental Discharges

Each Discharger shall provide protection from accidental discharge of prohibited or restricted materials or substances established by this Ordinance. Where necessary, facilities to prevent accidental discharge of prohibited materials shall be provided and maintained at the Discharger's cost and expense. Detailed plans showing facilities and operating procedures to provide this protection shall be submitted to the Village Manager for review, and shall be approved by the Village Manager prior to construction of the facility. Each existing Discharger shall complete its plan and submit same to the Village Manager within 180 days after the effective date of this Ordinance. No Discharger who discharges to the Chelsea POTW after the aforesaid date shall be permitted to introduce pollutants into the system until Accidental Discharge Protection Procedures have been approved by the Village Manager. Review and approval of such plans and operating procedures by the Village Manager shall not relieve the Discharger from the responsibility to modify its facility as necessary to meet the requirements of this Ordinance. Dischargers shall verbally notify the Village Manager immediately upon the occurrence of a "slugload" or accidental discharge of substances prohibited by this Ordinance. The notification shall include location of discharge, date and time thereof, type of waste, concentration and volume and corrective actions. Any Discharger who discharges a slugload of prohibited materials shall be liable for any expense, loss or damage to the POTW, in addition to the amount of any fines imposed on the Authority on account thereof under State or Federal Law.

Dischargers shall notify the POTW, EPA, and MDNR in writing of any discharge into the POTW of a substance which, if otherwise disposed of, would be a hazardous waste under 40 CFR 261 in accordance with 40 CFR 403.13(p).

Signs shall be permanently posted in conspicuous places on Discharger's premises advising employees whom to call in the event of a slug or accidental discharge. Employers shall instruct all employees who may cause or discover such a discharge with respect to emergency notification procedure.

24.094 Bypass Not Violating Applicable Pretreatment Standards or Requirements

A Discharger may allow any bypass to occur which does not cause Pretreatment Standards or Requirements to be violated, but only if it also is for essential maintenance to assure efficient operation. These bypasses are not subject to the provisions of Paragraphs 24.095 and 24.096.

24.095 Notice

a. If a Discharger knows in advance of the need for a bypass, it shall submit prior notice to the Village Manager, if possible at least ten days before the date of the bypass.

b. A Discharger shall submit oral notice of an unanticipated bypass that exceeds applicable Pretreatment Standards to the Director within 24 hours from the time the Discharger becomes aware of the bypass. A written submission shall also be provided within five (5) days of the time the Discharger becomes aware of the bypass. The written submission shall contain a description of the bypass and its cause; the duration of the bypass, including exact dates and times, and, if the bypass has not been corrected, the anticipated time it is expected to continue; and steps taken or planned to reduce, eliminate, and prevent recurrence of the bypass. The Village Manager may waive the written report on a case-by-case basis if the oral report has been received within 24 hours.

24.096 Prohibition of Bypass

a. Bypass is prohibited, and the Village Manager may take enforcement action against a Discharger for a bypass, unless: (1) Bypass was unavoidable to prevent loss of life, personal injury, or severe property damage; (2) There were no feasible alternatives to the bypass, such as the use of auxiliary treatment facilities, retention of untreated wastes, or maintenance during normal periods of equipment downtime. This condition is not satisfied if adequate back-up equipment should have been installed in the exercise of reasonable engineering judgement to prevent a bypass which occurred during normal period of equipment downtime or preventative maintenance; and (3) The Discharger submitted notices as required under Paragraph 24.095 of this section.

b. The Village Manager may approve an anticipated bypass, after considering its adverse effects, if the Village Manager determined that it will meet the three conditions listed in Paragraph 24.096a of this section.

24.100

ARTICLE IV FEES

24.101 Purpose

It is the purpose of this section to provide for the payment of fees from Dischargers to the Village's POTW, to compensate the Village for the cost of administration of the pretreatment program established herein.

24.102 Charges and Fees

The Village of Chelsea shall adopt charges and fees which may include: a. Fees for monitoring, inspections and surveillance procedures; b. Fees for reviewing accidental discharge procedures and construction; c. Fees for permit applications; d. Fees for filing appeals; e. Fees for sampling and laboratory analysis; and f. Fees for equipment; and g. Fees for cleaning and maintaining sewers downstream of required grease, oil, and sand interceptors including up to $500.00 per day when, in the opinion of the Village Manager, the owner has failed to maintain continuously efficient operation at all times.

ARTICLE XIII

Effective Date

Sec. 1301 Effective Date
This Ordinance shall become effective 30 days after passage and publication. (Ord. No. 96 eff. Aug. 20, 1985; amended June 28, 1994).
Dated: June 28, 1994.
Published: July 6, 1994.

IRS Earned Income Tax Credit Will Increase Take-Home Pay

Every little bit helps when you're raising a family, and many low income workers can take home extra money in every paycheck, thanks to the federal Advanced Earned Income Tax Credit.

"This year, over 320,000 Michigan taxpayers received larger income tax refunds because of the earned income credit," said IRS acting district director Charles Gilbert. "Eligible individuals can take that extra money home now, instead of waiting until next year, by electing the Advanced Earned Income Credit at work." Gilbert said that working families who earn less than $23,755 in 1994 and have at least one child living with them can file Form W-5, "Earned Income Credit Advance Payment," with their employer and receive a small increase in each paycheck.

Taxpayers and employers who want more information on the Advanced Earned Income Credit may call the IRS, toll-free, at 1-800-829-1040, Gilbert said, or order Publication 596, Earned Income Credit, by calling 1-800-829-3878.

"Put extra money in your pocket right now," Gilbert said. "Take advantage of the Advanced Earned Income Credit."

Your Physician Can Help in Domestic Violence Situations

Anyone can be an abuser. Anyone can be the victim of an abuser.

This is one of the key messages now being revealed in the tragic O. J. and Nicole Simpson marriage.

Regardless of your income, privilege or stature, you can be caught up in the cycle of violence—one that usually intensifies over time and often ends in death," says Thomas C. Payne, M.D., chair of the Michigan State Medical Society Task Force on Family Violence.

It's a message Doctor Payne and his colleagues around the country have been working hard to learn and to share as they have conducted major educational campaigns on domestic violence.

Wisconsin internist Kevin Fullin, M.D., founder of one of the country's first hospital-based services for battered women, drove his message home when he was interviewed in 1990 by Robert McAfee, M.D., a Maine surgeon, who now is president of the American Medical Association.

"I understand you treat battered women," Doctor McAfee said to Doctor Fullin.

"Yes, and so do you," replied Doctor Fullin.

Doctor McAfee realized then that many of his surgical patients could be battered women whom he had failed to recognize or treat as such. He also realized that many of his colleagues probably were unaware that their patients could be victims of abusers.

So he launched a nation-wide campaign to raise physicians' awareness of and ability to treat abused persons.

He recognized that physicians often could be the first to identify abuse victims, and had a unique ability to offer comfort and help.

Since 1992, the AMA has produced four protocols for physicians and other health care professionals to help them recognize and treat victims of child abuse, child sexual abuse, domestic abuse and elder abuse. That same year, the AMA launched its National Coalition of Physicians Against Domestic Violence, an informational network which disseminates the latest details about legal, social and health care efforts to stem family violence.

There now are more than 6,000 members of that Coalition across the country.

The Michigan State Medical Society, led by Doctor Payne, joined the campaign two years ago. The MSMS convened a forum of concerned professionals from health care, law enforcement, social work, government agencies, law and the judiciary. MSMS held courses for its physician members and sponsored conferences on the problem overall and on establishing hospital-based support services.

One of the MSMS products is a Michigan guide to domestic violence designed specifically for physicians and other health care professionals—how to recognize the signs, broach the subject to suspected victims and get them to services and treatment.

The book summarizes Michigan laws, and lists shelters by county. It also dispels common myths about domestic violence.

Three thousand copies of the book, entitled "Reach Out: Intervening in Partner Abuse," have been distributed to physicians, hospitals, and representatives of the groups mentioned above.

Major points made by the MSMS resource guide:

—Domestic violence is one person dominating and controlling the other. It is not "mutual combat" or two persons in a fist fight.

—In over 96 percent of domestic assaults, the man is the perpetrator.

—Domestic violence goes beyond the physical and includes emotional abuse and sexual abuse. Battering is a reign of force and terror. It is a number of tactics (intimidation, threats, economic deprivation, psychological and sexual abuse) used repeatedly.

—The vast majority of batterers seem to be totally normal and are often charming, persuasive and rational. The major difference between them and others is that they use force and intimidation to control their partners. Battering is a behavioral choice.

—A woman often is in greater danger when she tries to escape. Assaults deliberately isolate their partners, and deprive them of support and avenues for escape. They dramatically escalate their violence when a woman leaves, or tries to, because it is necessary for them to reassert control and ownership.

—Battered women do not always stay in violent relations. Many abused women are very active on their own behalf, and some do leave their abusers permanently.

—To end domestic violence, we must scrutinize why it is usually men who are violent in partnerships. We must examine the historic and legal permission that men have been given to be violent in general, and to be violent toward their wives and children specifically.

—Physicians and others seeking to help violence victims must be sensitive to the woman's safety. It must be her decision to take action based upon what she feels is safe for her.

To join Doctor Payne and his colleagues in learning about domestic violence and how to help its victims, you may obtain information and resources from the Communications Department, Michigan State Medical Society, P.O. Box 960, East Lansing 48826-0960. Most materials are free. A copy of "Reach Out: Intervening in Partner Abuse," costs $18. Checks should be made out to the Michigan State Medical Society.

The Michigan State Medical Society, headquartered in East Lansing,

Joe Mikulec, owner of Max's Restaurant and Catering and vice-chairman of Ypsilanti Area Republicans, has announced his candidacy for the Michigan State Senate in the new 18th District. The seat he is pursuing is being vacated by Democrat Lana Pollack. This district was reapportioned in 1991, gaining Saline township and losing Saline City, Augusta township and York township.

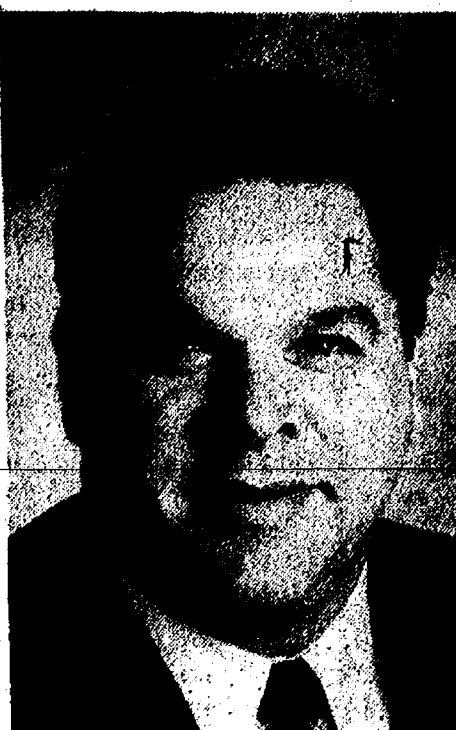

Mikulec is running to bring control of the government in Lansing back to the voters in the Districts. He believes that over the past several years, the interests and concerns of the 18th District have not been well represented in the legislature. As a long-time business owner, family man and resident of the district, Mikulec has an understanding and respect for the people that has been missing for a long time, he says.

"I care about the people of the 18th District and the State of Michigan," says Mikulec. "I want my children to grow up in a positive, healthy community with safe, high-quality schools that prepare them for a bright and prosperous future. I'm willing to go to Lansing to make that happen."

Among Mikulec's priorities are lowering taxes, creating jobs, returning control of the schools to the parents within each community and waging an aggressive fight against crime.

"Like many other people within our district, I'm sickened by the recent string of Ann Arbor rapes and other such crimes," continues Mikulec. "We must take strong, decisive action to put these criminals in prison and keep them there for their full sentences. No releases. No parole."

Mikulec is receiving strong, broad-based support from people throughout the 18th District, including former prosecutor William Delhey, Mayor Ingrid Sheldon, Ann Arbor City Council members Julie Creal, Peter Fink and Jane Lumm, County Commissioners Mike DuRussel, Ray Schultz and Marty Straub, and Dexter City Council member James Adams.

Mikulec has been married for 18 years, has two children and is a long-term resident of Washtenaw county. He attended Eastern Michigan University, majoring in education.

His many school and community activities have included past membership on the Ypsilanti Chamber of Commerce Executive Board, and a former position as an assistant wrestling coach at Ypsilanti High School.

Mikulec is currently a member of the Washtenaw United Way Advisory Committee and is actively involved with the Ypsilanti Area Republicans.

Poster Commemorates Parks 75th Anniversary

A beautiful poster commemorating the 75th anniversary of the Michigan State Parks System is being distributed free throughout the state.

The poster is a collage of 23 activities that take place in state parks and was designed by Ben Graham and illustrated by Barbara Hranilovich, both of Lansing.

The poster will be available in all of Michigan's 98 state parks and recreation areas beginning July 2, and will also be mailed to over 4,000 public and private schools throughout Michigan. Altogether, 425,000 posters were printed.

Measuring approximately 18 by 26 inches and printed on 60-pound enamel stock, the poster resulted from a joint effort between the Mead Publishing Paper Division, Consumers Power Co., the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC), and the Department of Natural Resources. Mead donated the paper on which the poster is printed and Consumers Power contributed $30,000 to cover printing and distribution costs.

Meijer stores will also have 1,000 posters in each of their 53 stores available for free distribution during the July 2-3rd week-end. Another 5,000 posters were delivered to First of America Bank in Marquette to be given away. First of America recently donated $10,000 to MUCC to help further the organization's efforts to gain citizen support for a state park endowment fund.

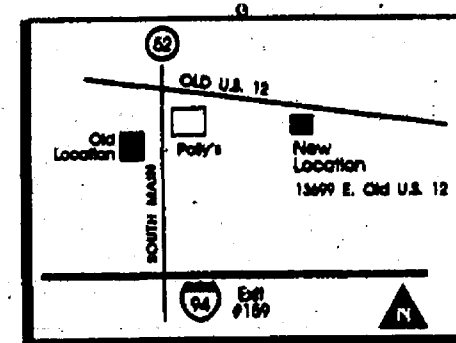

Posters may also be obtained by sending $3.50 to MUCC to cover shipping and handling. A special heavyweight poster suitable for framing is also available from MUCC for $15. Please send check or money order to: State Parks Poster, MUCC, Box 30235, Lansing 48909.

Home Builders Assoc. Dedicates New Office

Home Builders Association of Washtenaw County (HBA) celebrated the dedication of their new office building and the 10th anniversary of the Showcase of Homes on June 10. The association building was constructed through the volunteer labor, materials, and services of its members. The formal celebration was attended by over 800 representatives of the business community and building industry.

A special "Hall of Fame" award was presented to Harry D. Dier, Dier Builders, for his long-term dedication to the Home Builders Association and his extensive involvement in the construction of this new facility.

Also recognized were the original

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
NOTICE OF RECEIPT OF APPLICATION FOR A CONSTRUCTION PERMIT FOR THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA TRANSFER STATION

The Jackson District Office Waste Management Division, Department of Natural Resources, has received an application for a construction permit for the Village of Chelsea transfer station. The proposed project as shown on the site map will be located within the current fenced area of the closed Village of Chelsea landfill in Section 25, T1s, R3E, of Lyndon Township in northwest Washtenaw County.

The complete application package may be reviewed by appointment at the Jackson District Office of the Waste Management Division, Department of Natural Resources, located at 301 E. Louis Glick Highway, Jackson, MI 49201, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, 517-780-7900. Copies of the complete application package may be ordered from the Waste Management Division at the address listed above for the cost of production and mailing.

The Department will hold a public hearing in the vicinity of the proposed disposal area if a request for such a hearing is submitted in writing by the applicant or the municipality involved, or if a petition containing a number of signatures equaling at least 10 percent of the registered voters of the municipality where the project is to be located who voted in the last gubernatorial election is submitted to the Department. Such a petition shall be validated by the clerk of Lyndon Township. Requests for public hearings should be submitted to the Department within 30 days of this notice. Per the Solid Waste Management Act the Department Director has to make a final decision on the permit application by September 30, 1994.

If you have any comments on this proposal, please forward them to Mr. Bruce Currie, Department of Natural Resources, Waste Management Division, 517-780-7936, by no later than 30 days after the publication date of this public notice.

NOTICE OF
PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO
CHELSEA VILLAGE ZONING ORDINANCE

Notice is hereby given that the Chelsea Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing, as the statute in such case provides, for amendment of the Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance (Ordinance No. 79)

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE CHELSEA VILLAGE ZONING ORDINANCE, ORDINANCE NO. 79, AND TO PROVIDE REGULATIONS AND LIMITATIONS UPON THE HEIGHT OF BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES IN ALL ESTABLISHED ZONING DISTRICTS.

The Village of Chelsea Ordinance:

Section 1. Section 3.08, Height of Buildings or Structures, former Section 5.19, is hereby deleted and the following provision substituted in its place and read:

Section 3.08, Height of Buildings or Structures. No building or structure shall exceed a height of forty (40) feet. This limitation shall not apply to the following fixtures and structures provided that they otherwise comply with all other provisions of this and any other applicable Ordinance: parapet walls, chimneys, smoke stacks, church spires, flag poles, radio and television towers, penthouses for mechanical equipment, water tanks, water towers, and utility structures.

The aforesaid hearing will be held in the Sylvan Township Hall, 112 W. Middle Street, Chelsea, Michigan on Tuesday, July 19, 1994 at 7:30 o'clock P.M. Copy of the above mentioned Ordinance is available in the office of the Planning and Zoning Department, 104 E. Middle Street, Chelsea, Michigan and may be examined prior to the date of the hearing.

Mystery Book Club Reschedules July Meeting to July 11

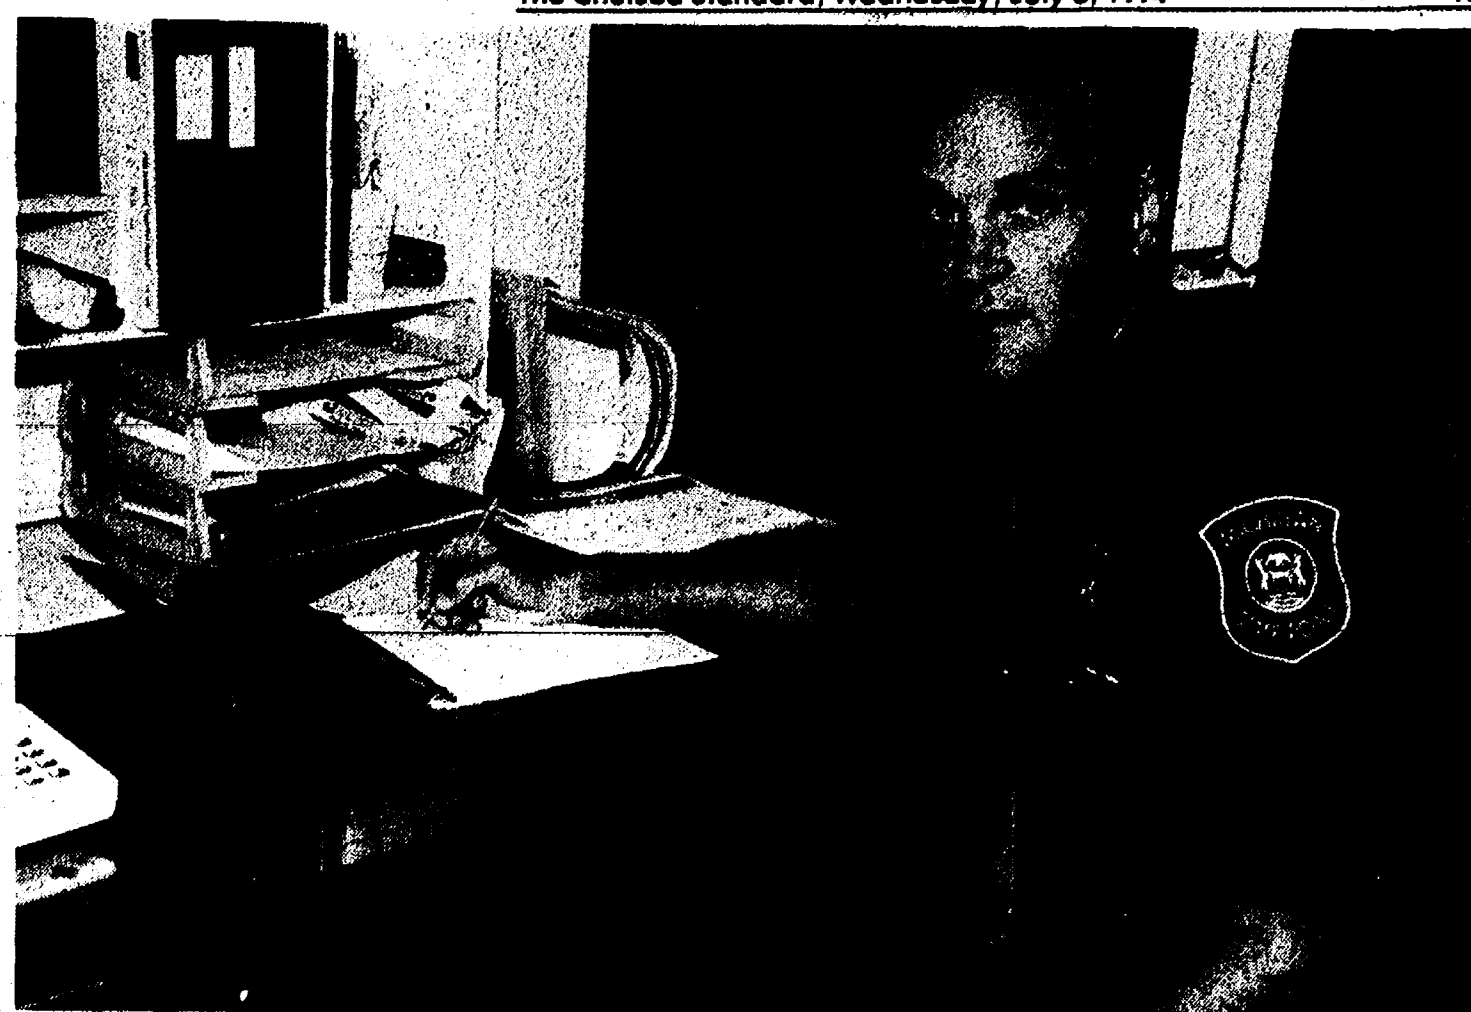

McKune Memorial Library Mystery Book Club, which usually meets on the first Monday of every month, will hold its July meeting at 7 p.m. on the second Monday, July 11, at the Library.

The club will discuss the novels of one of the most popular of the modern American mystery writers, University of Michigan graduate Kenneth Miller, who writes novels under the name Ross McDonald. Club member Louise Timmerman will be the hostess and discussion leader for the meeting.

McDonald, an Edgar award winning mystery author, writes in the style of Dashiell Hammett and Raymond Chandler. His detective, Lew Archer, was the inspiration for the movie Harper, and for the TV series Lew Archer.

The club, which discusses the novels of a wide variety of mystery writers, is sponsored by the Friends of McKune Memorial Library and will resume meeting on the first Monday of each month in August.

New members and visitors are welcome at any time. For further information call the McKune Library at 475-8732.

MICHIGAN STATE POLICE TROOPER Brad Breedveld (pictured) accompanies trooper Dave Koetsier in manning an outpost in the Chelsea Fire Hall. Since January, the outpost has been open to service complaints through Washtenaw county's central dispatch. The Chelsea outpost covers Lima, Lyndon, Sylvan and Dexter townships.

Chelsea Outpost

out there for, which is to help people in any way we can."

Farrell points out that the sheriff's department contracts with many townships and villages for service, but those who don't pay for police services aren't patrolled. "The only time they get service is if it is a 911 call. A lot of them have been neglected over many years, and now they're getting police service," Farrell says, crediting the outpost program.

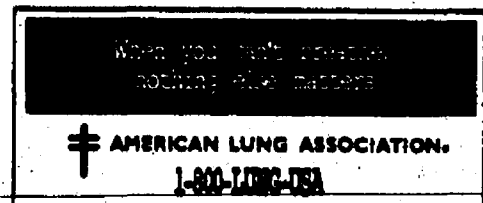

On the other hand, Farrell says, if a township contracts with the sheriff's department it is more likely a deputy will be in the township and the closest unit to take it.

Another component of the outpost program, says Farrell, is community-oriented policing. Farrell describes the program as "officers being in their area, rather than having a different officer every day."

"They are out there. They work those townships and become familiar with the people. They get involved in the community."

Farrell says officers routinely get involved in the community, attending township meetings and community functions. He said troopers have and will continue to be present at the Chelsea Community Fair and Manchester Chicken Broll. If they're needed at other community events, Farrell said they will be there.

Farrell encourages area residents to call their new community cops. He said both are people-oriented and have handled all types of complaints. Trooper Breedveld is also a member of Emergency Services. He has experience handling hostage situations and other emergencies throughout the state. Koetsier has worked out of the Ypsilanti Post for more than 17 years.

AFTER 41 YEARS of working with the Washtenaw County Road Commission, Emerson "Skip" Wheeler retired Thursday, June 30. Skip started the job on July 20, 1953 and when he retired he was the last member of the crew hired for the Chelsea Yard to stay his entire employment period until retirement. He was hired by the then Chelsea Yard foreman, Wilbert Breitenwischer. Most of the 41 years Skip has worked as a grader operator and truck driver. When he started there were 11 men working out of Chelsea, now, with more—and better equipment—there are seven. The Chelsea yard is responsible for maintaining I-44 from M-32 west to the Jackson county line and M-32 from Scio Church Rd. north to M-106 in Stockbridge, as well as secondary roads in the area. Yard foreman Dick Miller, right, above, was present to extend his wishes for a long and enjoyable retirement.

Donating Memorabilia May Be Tax Deductible

Michigan residents wishing they had more tax deductions this year, may start planning for the 1994 tax year by contacting the Michigan Historical Museum now. The museum, located in Lansing, is seeking some key artifacts to complete its upcoming 20th century exhibits, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin said today.

The state-operated historical museum began construction of its final phase of permanent exhibits—entitled "Michigan in the 20th Century"—in early November. Although plans and designs are complete, the museum needs key artifacts to illustrate Michigan's more recent history.

"Michigan residents can provide the detail-work for our 20th century exhibits in artifacts ranging from fair ribbons and Michigan-made magic paraphernalia, to a Model T chassis," said Secretary Austin, the state's official historian. "Items sitting in a garage or attic, as new as Michigan-made furniture from the 1950s and Motown musical items from the 1960s, donated to the museum may result in federal and state income tax advantages."

Gifts to the museum are deductible for federal income tax purposes. They may also qualify for a special tax credit under Michigan's Income Tax Act. Consult a tax advisor for specific details.

Farm Credit Services Re-Elects Don Baldus

The board of directors of the Farm Credit Services of Southeastern Michigan, FLCA, elected its officers at their organizational meeting held recently, at the Central Office, Adrian.

Donald Baldus of Dexter was re-elected as chairman, and Fred Feight elected as vice-chairman.

Donald Baldus from Washtenaw county, owns a centennial farm operation in partnership with his step-son, John Heller. He has served in an active leadership role in Farm Credit for many years. He is involved with many community activities including active membership in Webster United Church.

Fred Feight from Lenawee county, self-employed farmer for 40 years, farms in partnership with two sons. He is a member of Michigan Farm Bureau, MMPA, and Lenawee Holstein Association and attends First Baptist church of Tecumseh.

PCA Officers Elected

The board of directors of the Production Credit Association of Southeastern Michigan, elected its officers at their organizational meeting held recently.

Gary Weidmayer was re-elected chairman, and William Stutzman was re-elected vice-chairman.

Weidmayer, from Washtenaw county, owns and operates a dairy farm located near Manchester. He is involved in many community and farm related activities including Farm Bureau, the American Washtenaw County Farm Council, and he is a member of Bethel church.

Stutzman from Lenawee county, together with his brothers, Ed and Jim, are stockholders and owners of Stutzman Farms, Inc., and Farm Resource Management. Both are cash crop enterprises located near Ogdenville. Bill is active in the community and is a member of the Ogdenville Community Bible church.

FCS Officers Elected

Selected to the FCS joint officer positions were Donald Baldus, chairman, and Gary Weidmayer, vice-chairman.

James F. Schiller, of Adrian serves as the chief executive officer, and holds the corporate positions of president, secretary, and treasurer for Farm Credit Services, for both the FLCA and PCA.

Farm Credit Services of Southeastern Michigan is a locally owned co-operative lending institution, part of the Farm Credit system which provides short, intermediate, and long term credit and financially related services to farmers in Southeastern Michigan's territory.
