CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1994

AN OPEN HOUSE has been set for Sunday by First United Methodist church to mark the completion of Phase I in their building program. Construction on the new wing began in September, 1992. Total cost of the construction was $654,000.

Methodist Church Open House Marks Building Expansion, First Phase

Chelsea First United Methodist church will celebrate the growth of ministries in the church and dedicate "Phase I" of a building expansion with an open house on Sunday, Sept. 25.

The community is invited to share this special event which will focus on the history of the congregation, as well as celebrate the current expansion of ministry. The new wing, dedicated during the worship services, includes a convenient drop-off area, a handicap accessible entrance, an elevator, a gathering area, restrooms, coat racks, pastoral offices, and a large meeting room.

Special worship services will be held at 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m., with the sermon, "Why We're Here." From 9:45 a.m. to 10:45, Sunday school classes will be available for all ages. Following both services, tours of the church will be available and refreshments will be served. Displays exemplifying important ministries of the congregation, including United Methodist Men, the music ministry, the caring ministries, and others, will be set up in the back of the sanctuary.

Chelsea United Methodist church has a long history. In 1853, the pastor of the Lima Center Methodist church sensed a need to establish a Methodist Society here and the Chelsea church was established. Originally the Chelsea congregation shared a minister as part of the Lima Circuit and services were held in an old brick school. The congregation quickly grew as new settlers came to the village and realized the need for their own church building. The first building was built on the current site, donated by Elisha Congdon, and dedicated on Sept. 8, 1859. The building was used for 40 years, before a fire destroyed it on Jan. 8, 1899. The present building, built on a plan of an old Scotch church with fieldstone donated by local farmers, was dedicated on Feb. 14, 1900. The education wing, made necessary by the large growth of the Sunday school, was dedicated in September of 1959.

As ministries of the church have continued to grow, the congregation recognized the need for additional space to be used for Sunday school classes and choirs, a handicap accessible entrance, library, and a new social center. In September of 1992, the church broke ground on the new wing. The total cost of the construction was $654,000. The church began using the new wing in the spring of 1994.

Even more important than the growth in the facilities is the growth in the church's ministries. There are now 14 Sunday school classes plus the crib nursery, with 232 participants of all ages. To complement the Sunday schools, there are various special groups that meet throughout the week, including United Methodist Men, United Methodist Women, United Methodist Youth Fellowship, several study groups, and short term classes.

The music program has grown to include five vocal choirs and four handbell choirs, as well as the special music provided by many individual musicians. A listening ministries has been started, and a part-time visitation minister has been hired.

The building is also used by various music groups, for family counseling by Huron Valley Child & Family Counseling, and to house volunteer groups that come to work at the Chelsea Retirement Community. The church is always looking for new ways to grow and minister to the community.

As a church committed to the teaching of Jesus and the principles of Methodism, the church's direction in the future will be guided by its mission statement: "The Chelsea First United Methodist Church is a Christian fellowship that responds with excitement to God's Spirit. We exist to praise God, and be servants of Jesus Christ in the world today. We believe that the love and grace of Christ and the power of the Holy Spirit is offered to all individuals. As we share in faith, we desire to be equipped for service and mission in the name of Christ. We shall share in a common ministry of celebration, compassion, concern for social justice and witness of the Good News of Christ."

All members of the community are invited to come and see the ministries of the First United Methodist church, share in this special worship service, view the current facilities, and look at the plans that are in the works for the future.

County Board Approves Golf Course Property Annexation to Village

Chelsea's borders have suddenly expanded, thanks to a recently approved 300-acre annexation of land planned for a new golf course and home development.

The annexation, petitioned by Papo & Associates, was approved on Sept. 7 by the Washtenaw county Board of Commissioners.

The partnership donated and sold some 232 acres to the county Parks and Recreation Department for development of the $3.1 million 18-hole golf course, scheduled to open for play next summer.

The county sold $1.4 million in bonds last year to finance golf course construction. The bonds are expected to be paid off from anticipated course revenues projected to generate $370,000 by the end of the decade.

Papo retained acreage just east of the course for home development.

"All that land was (requested for annexation) before we purchased it. Ultimately, we would have requested that the property be included in village limits" said county parks director Fred Barkley.

"The property was located (within the borders) of three governmental units, Chelsea, Sylvan and Lima townships. Now, the property is all located in Chelsea."

The acreage is bordered by Old US-12 to the north, by M-52 to the west and by I-94 to the south.

The parks and recreation department wanted to be annexed in order to obtain water and sewer service from the village.

Barkley notes that the annexation won't have any significant impact on the village other than that. "Nothing. It has no impact on taxes. Consequently, it has no impact."

He said the project was "moving right along" with seeding of nine holes last week. "Hopefully, we'll be seeing grass growing before too long."

The remaining nine holes will be seeded for later turf growth in the early spring.

By dormant seeding now, county officials hope to avoid turf growing problems in the spring that would delay opening the course.

"It will be in playable shape. It will enable us to get the grass to grow in next spring. Then, we should be ready to open no later than July," he said.

Next spring, Barkley said, construction of a cart storage, maintenance building and clubhouse will begin along with parking lot paving work.

PIERCE LAKE GOLF COURSE and Recreation Area has been formally annexed into the Village of Chelsea. The back nine of the course has now been seeded and grass should be growing very soon. It is expected that the grass will need mowing this fall before winter arrives. Above photo is of the 18th hole which promises to be a beauty, set between the background of trees and a flowing creek in the foreground which crosses the property before it empties into Pierce Lake. The proposed clubhouse to be constructed next spring will be just beyond this green, to the left, and front on Pierce Lake. The par 72 course for the 18 holes will be from 6,673 yards to 5,276 yards, depending on which tees are used.

United Way Campaign Opens With $105,400 Goal

Chelsea United Way launched the 1994-95 Campaign with a Kickoff Breakfast at Chelsea Community Hospital Friday morning.

Honorary chairman Howard Holmes, president John Rutherford, budget committee chair, Scott Broshar and representatives of several of the agencies which Chelsea United Way supports addressed the over 40 business people, professionals and educators who attended.

The campaign will run from Sept. 16 to Nov. 1.

Highlights included the announcement of the 1994-95 fundraising goal and the display of the "new" logo.

Holmes expressed his appreciation of the work that Chelsea United Way volunteers do in raising money for the 15 designated agencies serving the community.

Rutherford explained that Chelsea United Way is independent of and does not support United Way of America. None of the contributions to Chelsea United Way is used for administrative salaries. The volunteer board directs the fund-raising and distribution of all donations.

Budget and Allocations chair Broshar made the most important announcement of the morning: the Campaign Goal for 1994-95. This year's fund raising goal is $105,400. The amount reflects the continuing need in the community for the many kinds of support and assistance that are provided by the agencies supported by Chelsea United Way.

Agency speakers included Virginia Boyce of Catholic Social Services; Marcia Katz of the Association for Community Advocacy (ACA); Barbara Wineka of Hospice of Washtenaw County; Dale Warty of the Salvation Army; Charlie Martel of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross and Blake Thomson of Chelsea Help Line.

Over 85% of those helped by Catholic Social Services are not Catholic. One of their fastest growing programs is aiding grandparents in raising grandchildren.

ACA helps those with disabilities deal successfully with their world. Hospice helps those with terminal

Canadian Woman Killed in Rollover Accident on I-94

Erzsébet Kert, 69, Ontario, Canada died shortly after her car crossed through a highway median in Sylvan township, colliding with another vehicle about 3 p.m. on Sunday.

She was taken to University Hospital in Ann Arbor where she died after being treated for massive injuries and trauma, officials said.

State police said Kert lost control of her vehicle which crashed in the westbound lane of I-94, south of Chelsea.

After losing control of the car, Kert went through the center median and two highway lanes before a rollover collision with an oncoming vehicle ejected her from her car, police said.

Police said there was no apparent reason for the accident. The victim was reportedly not speeding, according to investigating officer Dave Koetsier.

"I can't find any reason for the accident," he said. "For whatever

CROSSING MOM: Kathy Bouchard helps South school students cross Main St. while her son, Danny, 4, and grand-niece, Allison, 23 months, play on a blanket in background. Bouchard serves as a crossing guard four times a day at her corner location at Main St. and Pierce.

Crossing Guard Mom Mixes Child Care, Safety

Kathy Bouchard epitomizes a busy mom.

She serves as a crossing guard at the corner of Main St. and Pierce four times a day, to help students cross the village's busy thoroughfare on their way home from South school.

What makes Bouchard different from most crossing guards is that she combines it with day care. And she appears to enjoy her work.

She was hired for her part-time job a day before school opened by the village police department.

Bouchard received her crossing guard training from police chief

Lenard McDougall who continued to check up on her a few days after she started, she said. "He would drive by a couple of times each day."

Bouchard who lives on W. Middle St. must be at her post four times a day, beginning at 7:30 a.m. Her crossing assignment lasts anywhere from 30 to 45 minutes during each stint, concluding about 4 p.m.

Because of her varied hours, she needs to bring her children with her, including son, Danny, 4, and her grand-niece, Allison, 23 months, whom she babysits for her divorced niece. "It saves on child care," she said.

Last Friday afternoon, Bouchard had the two kids with her as she prepared for class to let out at South and the arrival of her daughter, Julie, a third grader there.

Danny and Allison had plenty to do. Bouchard had brought a stack of coloring books for them to color. And while both occupied themselves, she watched for the children to reach her post.

One of the first was Dora Personke. "He's always got a smile," she said while greening him and then halting traffic so she could lead him across Main St.

Developer Rene Papo has submitted site plans to the village for one of the most extensive housing projects ever attempted here. The project would be located on 55 acres just south of the Chelsea Medical Center off Old US-12. Included are plans for 72 single-family homes, 112 apartment units in eight buildings, and a single building of 24 apartments dedicated to housing for senior citizens. In addition, a 2,000-square-foot child care center is planned.

Secretary of State's office may well remain in downtown Chelsea, although the problems of keeping it there have become fairly complex. Representatives of the Downtown Development Authority met with state representatives recently at the All Season Comfort building on W. Middle St. for a site inspection of the building.

Harper Shoe Co., Chelsea's only retail shoe store dedicated to shoe sales, is moving from Village Plaza into the vacated Chelsea Pharmacy building downtown. Owner Darlene Harper said she'll be out of her current store by Oct. 1 and will re-open within a few days. Harper said the primary reason for the move is street window exposure, which she does not have at her current location.

The first trophy ever won by a Chelsea debate team was taken home Saturday afternoon, Oct. 10, following an invitation meet at John F. Kennedy High school in Taylor, at which 33 schools competed.

A total of 12 debaters from Chelsea composing three teams attended the event, according to the team's coach, William Coelius. This is the fourth season for Chelsea debaters, the first in which there are seniors on the team, Coelius commented. He predicts that this is the strongest team ever at Chelsea. Ironically, it was the novice debaters who had never competed before who won the trophy, third place in their division.

★ Comparable Worth or Incomparably Worthless?

By Lawrence W. Reed

Panned a decade ago as "the looniest idea since Looney Tunes" and left to die as an idea whose time ran out before it got off the ground, "comparable worth" may be about to re-surface as an issue in the November elections.

Comparable worth—known also as pay equity—is not to be confused with "equal pay for equal work," which is the law of the land. Equal pay for comparable work—endorsed by all Democratic candidates in August's gubernatorial primary—is an entirely different animal.

Equal pay for equal work requires that a woman be paid the same as a man, or another woman, who is doing exactly the same job. Comparable worth, by contrast, focuses on paying an entire profession or occupation the same wage as another, very different, profession or occupation that is determined by some outside authority to be of the same "worth" or value to an employer.

The idea is that individual workers who perform jobs of substantially comparable value to their employer should be paid similar wages. If the work done by an accountant is deemed to be as valuable to an employer as that done by a typist, for example, the law would require the two employees to earn the same wage. In Minnesota, firefighters in the city of St. Paul were ranked as having the comparable worth of the city's librarians.

When many people seek employment in an occupation for which there is declining demand, the tendency in free markets is for wages to fall, sending a signal that people should look for a different line of work. Likewise, wages rise during a labor shortage, sending a signal that more people are needed.

A comparable worth scheme imposed on private sector employers would arbitrarily and effectively abolish the role of supply and demand in the labor market. Conditions in the market wouldn't matter, because someone's "calculation" of the value of one job compared to another would take their place by force of law.

Employers and employees can always produce "experts" who will rank jobs differently than any arbitrary formula, which is why imposing comparable worth in Michigan would produce a playground for lawyers and a bottomless pit of costly litigation. It rests on the dubious notion that the relative worth of different jobs can be mystically divined and distilled into a cookbook recipe by "experts" who aren't even in the kitchen.

Advocates usually tout comparable worth as a tool to end discrimination against women in the workplace. They see wages in female-dominated occupations lower than wages in male-dominated occupations and assume that the disparity is entirely caused by discrimination. However, many rational factors explain the disparity.

Men, for instance, do not leave their jobs to have children and are less likely than women to leave their jobs to care for children. Men are less likely to move if their spouses must relocate for professional reasons. Men are usually physically stronger than women and tend to work in jobs that have a higher probability of physical harm. (Men, in fact, account for 94 percent of the occupational fatalities each year). Differentials between the pay of men and women exist because women entering the work force generally have less education and fewer skills and are higher risk for employers than their male counterparts.

reason, she just drifted to the right, and that's when the accident started," he said.

James Rich, 49, Saline, was the driver of the vehicle which collided with Kert's. His vehicle struck the victim's on the passenger side, causing it to rollover and ejecting Kert from the car.

Rich was also taken to University Hospital where he was treated and released, officials said.

Researchers from the Department of Agriculture and Industry have found a way to lower the cost of making biodegradable plastic knives and forks by 40 percent by adding 30 percent more cornstarch. That should reduce environmental problems while expanding markets for Midwestern corn.

WCA Plans New Projects For Chelsea

After a very successful summer of a multicultural arts series which focused on the art and culture of France, Native Americans, and African-American Americans, the newly formed Chelsea chapter of the Washtenaw Council for the Arts is looking forward to offering Chelsea bigger and better things.

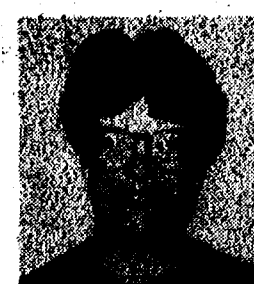

With its main purpose of bringing more of the visual, performing, and literary arts to Chelsea, its next major project will be a competition to design two murals for an alley in downtown Chelsea.

Prizes will be awarded to 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place designs and materials will be provided for the energetic artists to paint the murals themselves.

Theme for the competition will be "The Passage," which is intentionally conceptual to promote highly imaginative artists to design solutions. More details and entry forms will be available in the near future.

Also some projected ideas for winter are a watercolor workshop, Joy of Writing workshop, creativity workshop for visual artists, a silent film festival, and a fun course in origami.

The next meeting of the Chelsea Chapter of the WCA will meet Thursday, Sept. 29 at 7 p.m. at Maureen's, located in the basement of the Sylvan building. All citizens interested in participating and sharing their ideas of what they'd like to see happen in the arts, in Chelsea are welcome to attend.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows got to talking about the balance of nature Saturday night at the country store after Clem Webster opened the flood gates with a report where San Antonio has got a new row going about its water.

Clem said San Antonio is built over a big underground lake that gives the city some of the best water in the country. Regular tests show the water is fine, but some folks don't want to leave well enough alone, and they are scaring more folks. They put up a fight some years back and got fluoride added to their water. Now they want to build treatment plants and add more chemicals. They say pollution from sewage plant runoff, all the paving, factories and shopping malls is bound to get to their water supply sooner, not later. City leaders are caught between fixing what ain't broke and doing nothing to head off a public health crisis, was Clem's words.

The fellows were general agreed that San Antonio's luck can't hold, and Bug Hookum added that Mother Nature could keep her balance if she didn't have people pushing her from all directions. Wherever man tinkers with nature things get out of kilter, Bug said, and the more he works at fixing problems he causes the worse they get. Clem said man is part of nature, and it is his nature to change. Clem noted all the kinds of domestic animals, crops, food production and preservation that nature never would of come up with by herself.

But Bug come back with a reminder of how we usual out-smart ourselves. Right now, Bug said, we're flirting with global ruin by wiping out tropical forests that nature needs to keep her balance in all plant and animal life. Furthermore, Bug said, anybody who's seen what kudzu can do knows we ought to of left it in China, where nature put it. We brought it here to stop soil erosion we started, and we traded one problem for another. Kudzu covered the South before we found out cows would eat it, and that it is a source of protein for people. Now that we think we can eat our way out of this jungle, Bug went on, comes word that Son of Kudzu has snuck into the country. It grows faster and bigger, and it's smothering all other plants, especial where kudzu had been beat back.

But it was Zeke Grubb who allowed nature gets mixed up about as much as people do. He ask why a fellow can't face the big decisions in his life when he's 17 and knows everything, instead of when he's 40 and ain't sure of anything. Why is the outside of our bodies made to stand straight up, he wanted to know, when our insides work better flat out. We come in the world bald and toothless, Clem point out, and if we live long enough we go out the same way, no matter how hard we try to change the system. He's not so sure this ain't nature's way of telling us she gets her way in the end every time.

As for change, I see where some fellow has collected words that mean what they were has been replaced by something different, if not better. His retronym list includes natural turf, black and white TV and day baseball. He said phoneless car is coming. Right now, I read that folks keeping up with technology are putting machines on car phones that say they can't answer because they're home.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Couples Bridge Marathon Begins Season on Oct. 2

The first meeting of the 1994-95 season of the Couples (Pairs) Bridge Marathon for the benefit of the Chelsea Community Hospital will be held in the Woodlands Room of the Hospital on Sunday evening at 6 p.m., Oct. 2.

This group of bridge players meets on the first Sunday of each month at 6 p.m. (so early risers may get home by 9:30) to play four hands of bridge with five different couples (or pairs) for a total of 20 hands. They pay $3 per person, with 25 cents being used toward the evening's prizes, and $2.75 going to the hospital. This is tax deductible, of course. Over the eight-month period (October-May) last season the group raised more than $450 for the hospital.

This is a fun group, most of the time playing with their partner, but occasionally changing partners. There are prizes at the end of the year also for anyone having attended at least four times during the year. The hospital furnishes tea and coffee, and members of the group volunteer to bring other refreshments.

If anyone is interested in being on the calling list for play, please contact either Marlene Rademacher (475-5020) or Roberta Barstow (426-3887). If you decide to attend at the last minute, just drop in by 6 p.m. since play starts right on time.

Ushers were Jeff and Pat Carrigan, brothers of the bridegroom, of Muskegon, Ed Keefer of Grand Rapids, Grant Meyers of Muskegon and Todd Hamilton of Lansing.

A reception given by the bride's parents was held after the service at the Marriot Courtyard in Ann Arbor with 200 in attendance. Erica Gradwell of Ithaca, N.Y. was in charge of the guest book. Paula Lickavec, cousin of the bride, of West Branch, was a cake cutter. The couple spent a week long honeymoon in Cancun, Mexico. They have moved into a home in Battle Creek.

Keep Your Fresh Fishing Catch Safe

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist

If you are planning to do some fishing this summer, you need to give some thought to safety. Boating safety is important, but equally important is the safety of your catch. You need to make sure that the lakes, streams and rivers you fish in are not contaminated, and you need to take precautions with your catch to make sure it is safe to eat.

Check the Michigan Department of Public Health's "Fish Consumption Advisory" to make sure your fishing location isn't contaminated. Once you have a safe site, follow these guidelines to prevent foodborne illness.

Finfish—
Scale, gut and clean fish as soon as they are caught. Be sure to bring clean equipment to do this. Live fish can be kept on strings or in live wells as long as they have enough water and can move.

Food, raw or cooked, that has been sitting at outdoor temperatures for more than two hours is not safe to eat. At 80 degrees F or hotter, food should not sit out for more than one hour.

Wrap the cleaned fish in watertight plastic containers and store on ice. Place 3 to 4 inches of ice on the bottom of a cooler. Alternate layers of fish and ice. Store the cooler out of the sun, if possible, and cover it with a blanket. Keep the lid of the cooler closed as much as possible to minimize ice melting.

Once you get your catch home, eat it within one to two days. If you know you won't be able to eat the fish within two days, freeze it. Use frozen fish within three to six months to ensure quality.

Cook all finfish to a temperature of 140 degrees F or hotter to kill bacteria, viruses or parasites that might be present.

Shellfish—
For food safety, crabs, lobsters and other shellfish must be kept live until cooked. Store them in live wells or out of water in a bushel basket or laundry basket under wet burlap.

Crabs and lobsters are best eaten the day they are caught. Live oysters should be cooked in seven to 10 days; mussels and clams in four to five days.

Cook shellfish to 185 degrees F or hotter for a least four minutes.

Caution: Never eat raw shellfish. The 1994 "Fish Consumption Advisory" will soon be available at stores where fishing licenses are sold, at Michigan Department of Natural Resources field offices and at local health departments. You can also call the Michigan Department of Public Health toll-free number, 1-800-648-6942.

Michigan apple production for 1994 is expected to hit 900 million pounds, down 12 percent from last year. Summer apple varieties are already being picked, so check your local farm market to get a fresh supply.

Petitions Seek Action on Truth-in-Sentencing Bills

Eight out of ten Americans are likely to be victims of violent crime at least once in their lives.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Justice, the chance of being a victim of violent crime is now greater than that of being hurt in a traffic accident.

The U.S. leads the world with its murder, rape and robbery rates. Many of these crimes could be prevented if violent criminals were not paroled before serving their minimum sentences.

Michigan Senator William Van Regenmortel sponsored two "Truth-in-Sentencing" bills that were overwhelmingly supported by both the Senate and the House of Representatives. These bills were also supported by Governor Engler, who signed them into law five months ago.

These laws, known as Public Acts

217 and 218, are on the books only. They have never been put into effect.

When, and if, Public Acts 217 and 218 become effective, all violent criminals will be required to spend 100% of their minimum sentences in secure confinement. There will be no more time off for good behavior for these criminals, instead time will be added to their minimum sentences for bad behavior.

Please sign the petition for Safe Streets to give a loud and clear message to our legislators and governor that we want these laws, which the public wholeheartedly supported, to become effective immediately.

These petitions may be signed at the Chelsea Police Station, Gemini Salon, the Village Shoppe, any one of the Chelsea schools, Chelsea Office Supply, Cavanaugh Lake Store, The Laundry Room, Dexter Card & Gift, or Dexter Sunoco.

Sylvan Township's Chris Todd Pedals For Make-A-Wish Foundation Benefit

Chris Todd of Sylvan township put his pedaling power on the line for the benefit of the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan when he took part in a 300-mile bicycle challenge from St. Ignace to Camp Dearborn in Milford last month.

The bicycle marathon was held Aug. 12-14, and helped raise more than $200,000 to help make wishes come true for children with life-threatening illnesses.

Todd and 164 other riders personally raised a minimum of $500 in pledges through their participation in the bicycle rally.

Mobil Oil sponsored the event for

Make-A-Wish through a gasoline promotion held last spring.

Make-A-Wish of Michigan grants wishes to Michigan children aged 2 1/2 through 17 who are suffering from life-threatening illnesses.

"The happiness of this life depends less on what befalls you than the way in which you take it..."

—Elbert Hubbard

Certainly everyone hopes that good fortune will follow him in whatever he does and that nothing unfortunate will ever befall him. Life, as we all know, is not like that. It may be just as well, because strong character is unlikely to grow out of never-ending good fortune.

Hubbard tells us we can learn to be happy under almost any condition if we take ill fortune in the proper spirit and frame of mind. Learning to be realistic and optimistic when things don't go right will immeasurably lessen the impact of future disappointments.

We are accustomed to working closely with clergymen as well as with the family to ensure services which are perfectly appropriate.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

The Multi-Lake Sewer for North Lake, Silver Lake and Half Moon Lake is not a Clean Water Act Project as some people think. This Sewer Project is nothing more than the Dexter Township Board catering to the Special Interest Groups and for perks for themselves. There will be 2,000 taps, when there are only 500 property owners who wanted only a feasibility study. The rest of the 1,500 taps will go to further development such as a big Trailer Park and Sub-Divisions. Of the 500, many of these people do not want this sewer and the Township Board will not let them out. Yet, they let some of their friends out and not others. There will be many residents that will lose their homes. Too bad that the Dexter Township Board does not care for its citizens. Its time that the citizens of Dexter Township should consider replacing this Board with officials that care.

Did you know that the Township Board does not have any written by-laws to rule by. I know because I wrote to them under the Freedom of Information Act for a copy. James Drolett, Dexter Township Supervisor, advised me of this. Mr. Eisenbeiser also advised me that they do not have any and he is supposed to keep the records. This means that they rule the Dexter Township without any guide for good government. They just do anything they please.

Oh well, when the Multi-Sewer brings more congestion and more pollution maybe then the Citizens of Dexter Township will wake up and do something about the direction we are going. More congestion, more crime, more taxes? If you care, why don't you do something about it?

Dear Editor:

We are residents of Florida, but still get The Chelsea Standard every week. We read your article on the new Chelsea Swimming coach, John Crispin, and were thrilled! My husband, my sisters, and I all swam for coach Crispin at the Ann Arbor Y, and Huron Valley Swim Club (respectively) in the 1970's. We have fond memories of being on his teams; he is a super coach and an even better "teacher." Chelsea Aquatics Club is very lucky to have him—and in for a real treat!

Thanks Coach Crispin. We are happy you and your family have come home to Michigan.

Two Area Residents Named to Dean's List

Among Bowling Green State University's 215 students who were named to the dean's list this summer were Michael Spade of Chelsea and James Black of Dexter.

Spade and Black achieved grade point averages of 3.5 or better on a 4.0 scale to qualify for the recognition.

Spade is a senior in the Arts and Sciences College and Black is a senior in the Education and Allied Professions College.

BEFORE. Frank Waller (right) put this 1973 Cadillac together for Sept. 10 test at state USA Demolition Derby in Saline. The vehicle, built just three days before the competition, looked good entering the crash-course challenge against 48 other entries.

AFTER. Waller's 007 Air Dog outlasted nine other derby car finalists in the state championship event. But it took a beating before being sidelined by fire, losing several tires and most of its radiator core with chains holding down its well-gauged hood.

Local Demo Driver Earns 5th Place, Car-building Lesson in State Event

Only the strongest cars survive in demolition derbies. Chelsea driver Frank Waller found that out the hard way.

And despite making a strong showing in a rebuilt 1973 Cadillac, Waller was forced to take the black flag in the third heat of the 1994 USA Demolition Derby state championship on Sept. 10 in Saline.

Waller finished fifth in a field of 49 derby drivers. He was forced to end his aggressive run after his car caught fire.

The winner, Phil Carrick of Remus, won his second state championship in a row, out driving runner-up Ted Cooper of Montague. Carrick's 1974 Impala was structurally sound and still running well after the derby ended.

Some 48 drivers from across the state, Michigan and Canada competed in the championship event. They qualified by winning demolition derbies in Michigan during the summer.

A number of the entrants were previous state champions with many derby wins to their credit.

"The competition was ferocious and the construction of the cars was almost unbelievable," Waller said.

Waller faced a number of obstacles preparing for the state championship, including getting a vehicle ready just three days before the big car-crunch competition.

A 1978 Mercury Marquis Waller drove in a Labor Day derby was too damaged to run again. And his back-up Ford wagon couldn't be entered because station wagons aren't permitted in USA contests.

So just days before the championship, Waller put a new derby car together. With the help of two former Chelsea Fair derby winners Matt Kemp (1994) and Chris Gieske (1992), he built one out of an old Cadillac.

It performed well in three derby heats and was still running after losing several tires and most of a four-cored radiator before fire finally forced its ouster.

Waller was sponsored in the event by Chelsea Parts Peddler, Discount Tire, Ann Arbor, and R.T.'s Auto Salvage, Ypsilanti.

Waller, who entered his first derby competition at the Chelsea Fair two years ago, is looking forward to competing again for the state championship. "I can hardly wait for next year," he said.

Local Police Joining in Washtenaw 24-Mile Law Enforcement Torch Run

On Thursday, Sept. 22, local Washtenaw County Law Enforcement and Corrections agencies will join together to participate in the 10th annual Michigan Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics.

The Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics, hosted by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police (MACP), will be held Sept. 17-24, and will cover over 2,500 miles. A state-wide, five-day, 700-mile, non-stop relay marathon will begin in the upper peninsula's Cooper Harbor on Saturday, Sept. 17, and will conclude on Saturday, Sept. 24 in Detroit. Smaller Torch Runs in hundreds of communities throughout Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas, (such as the Washtenaw County Torch Run), are also being held during the week in an effort to raise a total of $350,000 for the state's Special Olympic programs.

Participating in the Washtenaw county 24-mile run are law enforcement and corrections teams from the Ann Arbor Police Department, Washtenaw County Sheriff Department, Eastern Michigan University Department of Public Safety, U. of M. Department of Public Safety, Huron Valley Men's Facility, Cassidy Lake Boot Camp, Michigan State Police Post #26, Saline Police Department, and Chelsea Police Department.

The run will begin at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Sept. 22 at Old US-12 and Rank Rd. (Jackson/Washtenaw county line), and will conclude at the University of Michigan's North Campus Commons Little Caesar's at Bonisteel and Murfin at approximately 2 p.m., where Little Caesar's Pizza will provide refreshments for the Torch Runners and Special Olympians.

Since its inception, the Michigan Law Enforcement Torch Run has raised $700,000 for Special Olympics. Special Olympics provides training and athletic opportunities for mentally impaired children and adults. In Michigan, over 20,000 athletes, along with 18,000 volunteers and coaches, participate in Special Olympic programs. The non-profit organization receives no state or federal funding. It relies entirely on the donations of time, materials and money from businesses, as well as individuals and organizations throughout the state.

As part of their goal, each Washtenaw County Torch Runner raises a minimum of $100 to participate in the event. Anyone wishing to support Michigan Special Olympics is encouraged to call either: Captain Gary Kistka, Ann Arbor Police Department, (313) 994-9256, or Deputy Jon Scicluna, Washtenaw County Sheriff Department, (313) 971-7185.

Man from Hell In Western Pacific

Navy Seaman Apprentice James B. Allred, son of James D. and Pam L. Allred of 11600 Langden, Hell, Mich., is currently midway through a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific aboard the repair ship USS Jason, homeported in San Diego, Calif.

While deployed, USS Jason serves as a floating repair shop for more than 33 ships and units assigned overseas in the Western Pacific Ocean. The Vulcan-class tender is designed to do everything from rewinding electrical motors and refurbishing pumps to making parts in the ship's foundry and machine shop and repairing electronic equipment.

As one of 840 crewmembers aboard the 529-foot-long ship, Allred plays a valuable role in supporting U.S. Navy units deployed far from home.

Michigan has over 1,900 miles of highways with paved shoulders that are suitable for bicycle commuting.

WTU Members Tear Down Illegal Tree Blinds

Members of several chapters of Whitetails Unlimited recently spent a lot of volunteer time tearing down illegal and unsightly tree blinds from state land. The tree blinds were left by "the small percentage of irresponsible individuals who can give hunters a bad reputation" according to Jack LeSage, president of the Western Washtenaw County chapter of WTU.

Working at the request of the Michigan DNR, members of three WTU chapters have added this to other ongoing projects including habitat improvement for all wildlife, youth education and hunter ethics. Several projects completed in 1994 include the planting of fruit trees on state land in conjunction with the Vietnam Veterans of America, while hosting patients from the Ann Arbor VA Hospital; conducting a youth day on a local farm, with lectures from DNR officers, plus hands-on field experience and a recent purchase of night vision equipment to enable local Conservation Officers to nab poachers.

The night vision equipment will be presented to CO Mike Bailey at the Sept. 22 fund-raising banquet being held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter which will feature auctions and raffles of art work by such noted wildlife artists as Terry Redlin and John Eberhard. In addition, the first public offering of "Snowbird," Catherine McClung's latest release, will be the highlight of the auction. Joining McClung will be Harry Antis, long-time supporter and WTU's national artist of the year in 1993-94.

Anyone attending is encouraged to bring along deer racks of eight points or greater to be displayed and/or scored by Terry Kemp of Commemorative Bucks of Michigan. From last year's banquet, five new entries were made in the CBM record book.

For more information on WTU programs and the banquet call Jack LeSage, (313) 663-4801.

Stamps Commemorate Wide Variety of Subjects

Whether it's a birthday card for a friend, a holiday greeting to relatives, or a personal letter for that special someone in your life, a commemorative stamp adds a finishing touch to any correspondence.

Each year the Postal Service issues a variety of colorful stamps commemorating American history, people and events.

Stamps making their debut in 1994 included Stars of the Silent Screen, a delightful series illustrated by Al Hirschfeld honoring legendary names from the early days of movies; Victorian-style love stamps in two denominations featuring doves and roses, perfect for mailing wedding invitations and replies; and stamps featuring artist Norman Rockwell, labor leader George Meany, and humorist James Thurber.

The Legends of American Music series continued with Jazz/Blues Singers and Popular Singers. These stamps send your cards and letters off with a song.

The courage and loyalty of Buffalo Soldiers were honored with a beautiful stamp designed by Mort Kunstler.

World War II (1944), "Road to Victory," was the fourth in a set of five planned miniature sheets commemorating the 50th anniversary of America's involvement in World War II.

To commemorate the United States' hosting of World Cup Soccer in 1994, three stamps and a souvenir sheet were issued. For the 25th anniversary of the moon landing, a beautiful stamp and souvenir sheet were issued.

The CSAC receives more than 40,000 letters a year, suggesting hundreds of different subjects. It can take three years or more before an approved suggestion becomes a stamp.

While much has changed since the first commemorative stamp was issued in 1893, some things remain the same. Stamps are colorful, miniature works of art that inspire collectors of all ages with great accomplishments of the past, from the landing of the Mayflower to the landing of men on the moon.

Anyone may suggest a subject for a stamp. Send your suggestions to the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee, Room 4474E, 475 L'Enfant Plaza SW, Washington, D.C. 20260-2437.

State Sends Village, Township Back to Bypass Drawing Board

It's back to the drawing board for M-52 bypass planners.

The state Department of Transportation has rejected a proposed route for the long-planned bypass, designed to help reroute traffic from Chelsea's downtown area.

The state has told local officials they should relocate the bypass in order to divert more than the estimated 20,000 vehicles that pass through Chelsea each day.

The proposed route west of the village wouldn't impact that much traffic to make it feasible. In fact, state transportation planner Andy Erwin says it would likely discourage more drivers from using it.

"We suggested if they could find another route that provided some relief to M-52, and was locally supported, we'd be willing to look at it. There's also the issue of funding," he said.

Village manager Jack Myers said that state officials believed the proposed route "was too far west. They didn't feel it would pull too much traffic from I-94."

Village president Richard Steele, Sylvan township supervisor Jerry Dresselhouse and village planner Carl Schmitt will jointly review

State transportation planners indicated the village could widen M-52 and Main Street as a lower-cost plan for an alternative bypass plan. But that's not considered a viable option.

The bypass is now estimated to cost between $8 million and $10 million, with up to $5 million or more of that likely needed for right of way acquisition.

"They do not see that a bypass will have a great impact on traffic. That it would be cost-effective to build," Steele said of M-DOT reaction to the bypass after a recent meeting on the proposal in Chelsea.

He notes that Sylvan township has included the bypass as a long-term project on its recently updated master plan.

And the village wants to reduce the traffic that now bottlenecks downtown during rush hour periods. But finding the best solution is difficult, Steele said. "Obviously, we need something."

"The first step is finding a route acceptable to M-DOT. That's the challenge. I think we can find a route if we sit down with the township and the Washtenaw County Road Commission."

Assistant village manager Bruce Pindzia notes that time is running out on finding another route because of land availability.

"Our problem is, if we don't find a solution, all that raw land on the west side (of Chelsea) will be developed. And then there won't be land for a bypass."

Widening Main St. into a four-lane road is not considered a feasible option, either. Although it would only cost about $800,000 to $1.5 million for such a project, it would disrupt business and the village character, officials say.

"It would be four lanes through town, starting from the hospital area. Nobody wants that," Myers said. "That would change the whole concept of the village."

Erwin said that is "always an alternative. I don't think they support that at all. They're not interested in widening it. They want a new facility."

"We're waiting to hear back from the village and the township. We've got limited funding available. And we've got many more projects planned than we have money for," Erwin said.

School Board Votes To Strip Leith's Teaching Certificate

The Chelsea Board of Education approved a resolution Monday officially seeking the termination of Stephen Leith's teaching contract in the school district.

But when the former Chelsea High school science teacher, convicted of murder last month in the Dec. 16 shooting death of school superintendent Joseph Piasecki, loses his tenured teaching status will depend on whether he appeals the action.

Superintendent Ed Richardson, Piasecki's successor, said Leith still has 20 days to file an appeal on charges that he violated the teacher Tenure Act in connection with Piasecki's murder and wounding of high school principal Ron Mead and union steward Phil Jones.

Despite receiving a life sentence, Leith talked about using his teaching abilities to help other inmates in prison during his sentencing.

At that time, he also acknowledged being mentally ill and requiring psychiatric treatment.

School officials aren't sure what action Leith might take. He requested and was granted approval to have his teaching status reviewed by the school board in closed session.

As a convicted felon, he automatically loses his right to vote, own a weapon or hold public office.

Official charges accusing Leith of violating his tenure status were filed by Richardson, Mead and assistant school superintendent Fred Mills. The school district is also seeking termination of Leith's state teaching certificate.

The resolution was forwarded Tuesday to the state prison in Jackson where Leith is currently incarcerated.

Lt. Marcus Pletcher Lost At Sea After Air Collision

There's no question Lt. J.G. Marcus Blue Pletcher, 25, was a top gun in life.

The Sylvan township resident was a 1987 graduate of Chelsea High where he was an honor student who played on a conference championship football team and ran track.

But his dream was to become a Navy fighter pilot modeled after the Tom Cruise character in the movie, "Top Gun."

Few of us ever realize our dreams, but Pletcher did.

Tragically, the Naval Academy graduate's dream job cost him his life when his F-14 fighter collided with another during a training flight from Oceana Naval Air Station at Virginia Beach, Va., a week ago.

The jet reportedly went down more than 40 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

He was the radar intercept and weapons system officer aboard the doomed jet that was piloted by Lt. Karl Scott Belczyk, of Collingdale, Pa. Neither were seen after their plane went down in the Atlantic Ocean.

The second jet returned safely after the collision, landing at a Marine air base in North Carolina.

An extensive air search that followed reports of the downed aircraft about 10:30 p.m. last Wednesday was called off more than 20 hours later.

Naval patrols continued to look for signs of wreckage, but both victims were presumed lost at sea.

Marcus' parents, Valeta and David Pletcher, a contract engineer with Roush-Ford in Allen Park, attended a special memorial service for their son on Monday in Norfolk.

He said a "classified" investigation is underway to determine the cause of the mishap. He's not sure what it might reveal or whether he will ever find out the nature of the accident.

The two F-14s were on radar before the collision. However, only the second was visible afterward. There was no indication whether Marcus and Belczyk ejected.

Both were reportedly on a routine training flight unrelated to military operations or exercises in the Caribbean.

But David Pletcher is concerned that his son's jet which had been assigned to the aircraft carrier Dwight Eisenhower had been pulled off for base operations, and the transition in operations and age of the aircraft might be partly responsible.

"It had all been directed to the Mediterranean and the Middle East. But (the jets were) coming off 10 days early for the Haiti invasion (so a fleet of helicopters could be placed on the ship). I can't help but think it was a different operation," he said.

Pletcher doesn't want to assess blame. He just wants to know what happened to his son. He is consoling himself and his family's loss through his deep religious convictions and faith.

"We dedicated all five of our children to the Lord. If He wants to take one back, we can't question His infinite wisdom. If there was anyway I could take his place, I would have gladly done it. He was so young."

In many ways, "Mark," as he was known by his family, accomplished more than most.

"We, of course, feel that way. We don't feel like we should be bragging."

Those who knew his son can brag for him. "He was as fine a kid as I have ever known," said Chelsea High school athletic director Wayne Welton who coached Marcus on the football team.

"He played mostly outside linebacker. He was a very good player. He was a pleasure to coach. And when he came back on leave, he used to come by and say hello. He was just a quality kid. He'll be missed."

Assistant school superintendent Fred Mills called his death "just a tragic loss to this community and the country."

And Chelsea football coach Gene LaFave described him as a "great kid. He had great courage, certainly, dying in the line of duty. He was very bright. He was on the 1986 championship team, and he was well thought of by his teammates. He is certainly in our prayers."

The fourth of five children, Marcus knew early on what he wanted to do.

His father, a Navy veteran who served during the Korean War and later as head of the naval reserve unit in Jackson, remembers taking him to see "Top Gun," and later to the air base where the movie was shot. Ironically, his final flight would take off only a short distance away in the jet that he always wanted to fly.

After graduation from high school, Marcus entered the Naval Academy on an appointment from former Rep. Carl Pursell.

From there, he advanced to Navy flight school in Pensacola, Fla., where he wound up first in his flight training class, qualifying him to fly the F-14.

A memorial service will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday at Cole Funeral Chapel in Chelsea. Visitation will be at the chapel from 2-9 p.m. Wednesday and from noon-1 p.m. Thursday.

Marcus is to receive full military honors at burial including an honorary fly-over.

The family has requested that memorial contributions be made to the Lt. Marcus Blue Pletcher Memorial Scholarship Fund in care of Chelsea Christian Fellowship, 337 Wilkinson, Chelsea 48118.

Safety Sparks 17-Point 4th Quarter Explosion For Win Over Milan

It was only two points. But it might be the most important the Bulldogs get all season.

A fourth quarter safety, Chelsea's first scoring of any kind this season, switched on the Bulldogs and helped them light up the scoreboard against the Big Reds last Friday.

It led to a 17-point scoring binge in a four minute span that sparked Chelsea to a dramatic 17-14 victory over previously unbeaten Milan.

And it wiped out the bitter memory of two straight shutout losses by a combined 69 points to Mason and Saline.

The unexpected turnaround on a dreary night sent the home team and fans into a gleeful post-game frenzy. "We need some wins. That's top notch," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave of his team's comeback effort.

But for three and a half quarters, the coach was less than pleased with his charges as he watched them botch scoring opportunities with ill-timed penalties and poor execution.

Despite showing signs of improvement on both sides of the ball, Chelsea couldn't sustain any drives against Milan in the first half. The team's lone scoring opportunity was halted at the Big Reds' 16 and ended on a missed 22-yard field goal.

On defense, Chelsea did a good job bottling up Milan's big play attack led by quarterback Mike Byrd and tailback Destin Woolard.

However, the Bulldogs still found themselves trailing 7-0 at halftime after Milan scored following a Chris Desarbo fumble at Chelsea's 31.

Milan cashed in on the turnover seven plays later when Byrd hit junior wide receiver Josh Brown on an 8-yard roll out pass on fourth down.

The play came with Milan needing less than a yard for a first and goal, and the Bulldogs expecting a run. That play would turn out to have significance for both teams later in the game.

The second half opened in a steady rain, with Chelsea's Casey Wescott driving the kickoff deep to Milan's one. But a slick 70-yard return brought the ball back to the Bulldog 29.

Five plays later, Milan scored on a 4-yard off tackle slant by Woolard. The key-play of the short drive was a fourth down 16-yard pass from Byrd to tight end Ryan Schultz, who led all receivers with five catches for 137 yards.

After that, however, the Bulldogs all but shut down Milan's offense.

On offense, Chelsea had scoring chances after recovering a pair of Milan fumbles inside their opponent's territory.

Midway through the third quarter, the Bulldogs fell on a Byrd fumble at the Milan 39 yard line. After moving the ball to the 28, the drive stalled.

On their next possession bridging the third and fourth quarters, Chelsea quarterback Pat Lynch led his team into position for a touchdown set up by an 18-yard Bryndon Skelton punt return.

The Bulldogs moved the ball to the Milan 12 before a holding penalty, illegal procedure call, and a sack pushed them back to the 39, forcing a punt.

Wescott got off a beauty that was downed by Chelsea at Milan's one yard line.

The game turned on the next play. Instead of running, Milan coach Steve Robb opted for a roll out pass out of his team's end zone. The play had the Bulldogs fooled, as Byrd hit Schultz down field for an apparent 30 yard gain. However, Milan was flagged for holding.

Because the penalty occurred with the quarterback holding the ball in the end zone, it was ruled a safety. Two points for the Bulldogs.

After 10 and a half scoreless quarters, the drought was over.

The play excited the bench and a boisterous Niehaus-Field crowd, which had been waiting for a reason to cheer. It found plenty in the next four minutes.

On the ensuing free kick, the Bulldogs pulled off a double reverse with Skelton taking the ball 60 yards untouched for the score behind a wall of blocking along the Chelsea sideline.

"I think that changed the momentum," said Skelton of the safety.

And the return "was wide open. The wall was unbelievable," he said.

So was the sudden outburst of scoring. Thirteen seconds, nine points after Wescott booted his first PAT of the season.

Now back in the contest, Chelsea's defense had its best series of the year, a three and out stand in which the Bulldogs threw Byrd and Woolard for a pair of losses on reverses before Jason Sprawka nearly picked off a third down pass.

After Milan punted, the Bulldogs went on their first touchdown drive of the season aided by two big plays by Lynch and a lucky bounce.

Starting at Milan's 49, things got off badly when Lynch threw to Jeremy Zeigler behind the secondary and the ball slipped through his hands.

But on the next play, Lynch booted up the middle on an option, running 8 yards before getting the ball jarred loose. For several moments, the ball bounced crazily for 14 yards as players on both sides went after it. Finally, Lynch covered it. And then he drove his team for the winning score.

Lynch made two critical plays in the final drive, hitting Skelton with a 7-yard pass on third down that set up a fourth and four at Milan's 12.

The senior quarterback then found a hole to his right on an option keeper and took it 11 yards giving Chelsea first and goal at the one.

Desarbo ran it in from there, giving the Bulldogs offense their first TD and lead of the season, 15-14.

LaFave then gambled, going for a two-point conversion instead of a PAT kick wanting to give his club a field goal margin with 2:30 left in the game. It paid off when Lynch connected with Skelton in the corner of the end zone.

Milan gave the Bulldogs a scare in the final moments, as Byrd found Schultz down the middle for a 24-yard completion after the kickoff. The Big Reds got 10 more on a screen pass, putting the ball inside the Bulldog 25.

But a clipping call brought the ball back to the Chelsea 46. And the threat ended when the Bulldogs' Josh Inwood recovered a fumbled snap by Byrd on the following play.

Milan got the ball back with 12 seconds left. And the game ended on a controversial note when a desperation flea flicker pass was intercepted by Chelsea's Peter Straub and a late hit on the junior led to a brief skirmish between rival players in front of the Bulldog bench.

Despite the flare-up, both teams left peacefully and shook hands at midfield.

THE BULLDOGS faced defeat Thursday as the Dexter Dreadnaughts beat the young team 7-0. Pictured is Chelsea's Eric Freitas (21) doing battle with Dexter's Joel Parsons (10).

For Robb, the loss was hard to take, especially when his team had the game in hand. "We handed them the game on a silver platter. We made mistake after mistake on offense, and it obviously killed us."

But Skelton and his teammates felt they would break out for the win. "We knew it. We knew we were going to win at halftime," he said.

LaFave said the game plan was to keep the score close by controlling the ball and avoid turnovers. "The game plan obviously worked," although not as expected.

"Somebody has to step up. It was the kickoff receiving team that did that," he said of Skelton's TD return.

But he also singled out his defense for solid play including Inwood, Straub and Casey McCalla. "This is one of the great wins" for the program, he said.

JV Football Team Pounds Milan 41-0

The Chelsea junior varsity football team broke out of a two-game losing streak with a 41-0 victory at Milan last Thursday.

The team scored six touchdowns en route to its first win of the season after losses to Mason and Saline.

Running back John Beeman led the team in rushing with 107 yards on 13 carries, while quarterback Dusty White had 72 yards on the ground and a pair of TDs. He also completed eight of 17 passes for 86 yards.

Jake Hurst also ran for a pair of scores and hit five of six extra point attempts to account for 17 Bulldog points, while intercepting a pass that set up another TD.

Coach Tucker Steele said his team was poised for a big performance.

"We moved the ball up and down the field all night. We're a good football team," he said.

Beeman got the Bulldogs' first touchdown on a one-yard plunge in the first quarter off the opening kickoff, before White snuck over for the team's next score in the second quarter after a long drive.

White scored again in the third quarter three plays after a punt block by Chelsea's James Hadley was recovered by teammate Kevin Bollinger at Milan's 20.

A few minutes later, Jamie Holhausen ran in from six yards out to give Chelsea a commanding lead. Hurst scored the team's final touchdowns on a run around end and a 5-yard jaunt up the middle.

Steele praised his defense which put a lid on Milan's offense. The unit was led by Hadley who had four tackles for losses. Others playing well were Ryan Slane and Brian Hall.

Chelsea enjoyed a 17-3 edge in first downs.

Backup quarterback Shane Freeman moved the team well, Steele said, while the second-team defense held Milan to just 30 yards total offense.

Steele said his team is rounding into form and gaining confidence with each game. Next up for the JV squad is a 7 p.m. home game Thursday against Lincoln.

Ten Alumni Voted for Bulldog Hall of Fame

Former Chelsea head football coach Phil Bareis and defensive coordinator brother Richard Bareis will join 1993 senior players David Brock, Ed Greenleaf, Matt Montange, Barry Anttila, Pat Steele, Colby Skelton, Don Poppenger and Tim Wescott as inductees in the Bulldogs football Hall of Fame.

The inductees will be honored at half-time of Chelsea's Sept. 30 home game against Jackson County Western.

The coaches and players were selected for induction by a vote of present football staff members, according to coach Gene LaFave.

Phil Bareis coached varsity football from 1966-1978 and won "a mythical football championship," LaFave said.

Richard Bareis coached football and wrestling. "Both were great contributors" to Chelsea High school and continue to be, he said.

The large contingent of senior inductees is a reflection of their success as individual and team performers, helping lead the Bulldogs to two straight undefeated seasons from 1992-1993.

"This is an unusual group. Usually we have one to four kids. I think that the quality of the kids is remarkable."

They participated on a team "that for the first time in league history went 9-0 two years in a row," he said.

The Bulldog football hall of fame began in 1979 during LaFave's first year as coach. "We've inducted people from 1970 forward," he said.

Home Game to Saline, 5-1

Chelsea's 12-and-under soccer team will look to get back on the winning track Wednesday after losing 5-1 to Saline last week.

Saline's high-powered attack proved to be too much for the young soccer squad coached by Jim Hicks and Charlie DeGryse.

Despite the Sept. 14 loss, goalie Charles DeGryse had a strong game in goal while Craig Forshee tallied the team's lone score.

The home setback moved Chelsea's record to 1-2. The team is playing a 10 game schedule this fall against teams from Clinton, Adrian, Saline and Tecumseh.

Chelsea hosts Clinton at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Immanuel Field.

Saline Noses Out Bulldogs Ending 13-Meet Win Streak

Despite capturing three of the top five places in a Sept. 13 dual meet against Saline, the boys cross country team was edged by the Hornets, 26-29, ending a 13 conference meet winning streak.

As has been the case all season, Chelsea got strong performances from senior co-captains Ryan Schultz (2nd, 17:19), Chad Brown (3rd, 17:19) and Scott Hawley (5th, 17:33).

But the team failed to place any other runner lower than ninth costing it a victory under hot, humid running conditions on the 3.1 mile course at Hudson Mills Metro Park.

The meet came down to seventh and eighth place finishes by Saline's Mike Vaughn (18:00) and Craig Woehrl (18:04).

They nosed out the Bulldogs' Josh Metzler, who finished one second behind Woehrl, to put the Hornets over the top.

Saline was led by one of the Southeastern Conference's premier runners, Pat Morris, who finished with a meet-best time of 16:52.

The Hornets were also paced by Philip Brandon who ran fourth with a time of 17:24.

"Saline put together a fine team effort," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We are still weak at 4-7 (running spots), and it cost us. We'll get better, I can promise you that," he said.

In spite of the loss, Clarke praised sophomore Tim Lawrence's effort for the Bulldogs. He finished 10th with a time of 18:17.

Boys Cross Country Team Eases To Victory in Huron Invitational

With a top score of 57, the boys cross country team was an easy winner over 12 others during last Saturday's Huron Invitational.

The Bulldogs were led by senior Ryan Schultz who finished third with a time of 17:02.

Other top pacesetters were co-captains Scott Hawley (7th, 17:12) and Chad Brown (8th, 17:15).

Turning in strong performances were senior Josh Metzler (16th, 17:49) and Ashley Coy (23rd, 18:13). All five were meet medal winners.

Kevin Kolodica also ran one of his best times of the year at 18:18 to finish 28th while Tim Lawrence came in 34th at 18:30.

Six Chelsea Youths Advance to PP&K Sectional

Six of 48 local youths have advanced in the NFL Gatorade Punt, Pass & Kick competition held last Saturday by the Chelsea Recreation Department.

The six were individual winners in age groups 8-13 with highest cumulative totals for one punt, pass and kick.

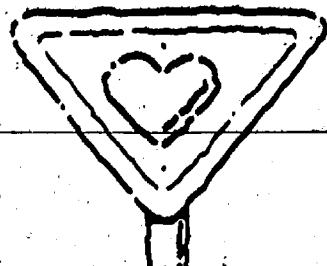

They included Aaron Hall (134'9") in the eight-year-old group; Jimmy Baker (226'10") in the nine-year-old group; Joseph Tripodi (267'8") in the 10-year-old group; Tony Scheffler (247'3") in the 11-year-old group; Benjamin Myers (232'4") in the 12-year-old group; and Vince Scheffler (251'6") in the 13-year-old group.

Those winners will now move on to a sectional competition scheduled for 1 p.m. Oct. 16 in Saline. They could qualify for the team championship competition held at the Pontiac Silverdome at half time of the Detroit Lions-Green Bay Packers game.

The competition enables youngsters to showcase their talents in punting, passing and place-kicking with scores based on distance and accuracy.

A number of current NFL players have competed in the event including Buffalo quarterback Jim Kelly, Philadelphia's Randall Cunningham, Miami's Bernie Kosar and Dan Marino.

Frosh Grid Team Loses To Monroe

Chelsea freshman football team dropped a 28-7 decision to Monroe Jefferson last Tuesday, Sept. 13.

Jefferson scored on their second possession with a 40-yard touchdown pass after recovering a fumbled punt.

The Bulldogs then held the ball for 14 plays, but the drive stalled with three consecutive broken plays. Scott Basar punted to Jefferson's one, but the Bears drove 99 yards for their second touchdown then added another later in the second quarter to lead 22-0 at half-time.

Jefferson scored again in the third to lead 28-0.

Chelsea finally scored early in the fourth quarter on a five yard run by Bob Kranick. The TD was set up by a 26-yard pass from Adam Erskine to Chris Hatch. Don Reilly kicked the extra point and the Bulldogs trailed 28-7.

After holding Jefferson on the next series, the Bulldogs blocked a punt. When the ensuing drive stalled, Don Reilly attempted a 35-yard field goal which was just wide. Jefferson took over and ran out the clock.

Defensively, the Bulldogs had a great deal of trouble with Jefferson's wing-T offense which relies on fakes and ball handling. "We just weren't able to control their running game at the line," said coach Bill Bainton. Offensively, Bainton cited the passing of Adam Erskine who split time with Joe Frost at quarterback, the receiving of Chris Hatch, who caught two passes for 56 yards, and Chris Frayer who had over 70 yards on three kickoff returns.

Spink Leads Cross Country Victory

Freshman Jeannie Spink led the Chelsea girls cross country team to a convincing 19-36 Sept. 13 victory over Saline.

Four of her teammates, Melissa Hand, sister Katie Spinks, Karen Pieper and Meghann Ziegler ran third through sixth to cement the win.

Spink outdueled Saline's Rita Arnt, defending league champion, finishing with a meet-best time of 20:55.

That was 20 seconds faster than Arnt who ran the 3.1 mile Hudson Mills Metro Park course in 21:18.

Under less than ideal running conditions on a hot, humid afternoon, junior co-captains Hand and Katie Spink both gutted out painful foot injuries to finish the course just five seconds apart.

Hand finished with a time of 21:28 and Spink, 21:33.

Chelsea coach Pat Clarke said both showed great courage and "turned in super efforts" to pace the team win.

The Bulldogs also received personal best performances from Pieper (21:36) and Ziegler (21:54), both freshmen, to complete the near race sweep.

The victory over last year's Southeastern Conference and regional champions was a significant one, Clarke said. It gives his young team confidence and moves it to 2-0 in the conference.

Girls Cross Country Team Runs Away From Field in Huron Meet

Chelsea's girls cross country team continues to run in impressive fashion.

The young hurriers ran roughshod over their Division II competition at the Huron Invitational last Saturday, placing four runners in the top five spots to win going away in the eight-team race.

The Bulldogs finished with 24 points outdistancing second place finisher, Tecumseh, by 48 points.

Freshman Jeannie Spink and her sister Katie, a junior, placed first and second just 19 seconds apart. Jeannie ran a meet-best time of 20:35 while her sister finished at 20:54.

Right behind them were teammates Melissa Hand (21:04) and Karen Pieper (21:16) who ran fourth and fifth, respectively.

Trenton's Jennifer Perry finished third at 21:01 to help her team place third in the meet.

Also running well were freshman Meghan Ziegler (12th, 21:49), sophomore Jenny Space (23rd, 22:35) and Melissa Williams (36th, 23:05).

"The girls continue to run spectacularly despite adversity," said coach Pat Clarke. "Our top six girls all ran very well, but we will miss our co-captain Melissa Hand who is out with illness for awhile."

Clarke gave no indication whether the junior might return.

In winning her first-ever invitational, Jeannie Spink is fast-becoming a major force as a long distance runner.

The freshman phenom narrowly beat her sister, Katie, the Bulldogs co-captain who ran her best time ever.

And Hand showed her competitive will in completing the Huron course despite illness.

In finishing 23rd, Space ran her best time of the season, Clarke said. She'll be counted on more now than Hand is out indefinitely. "We'll need Jenny and some others to step up," he said.

Slow Start Sinks JV Girls in 35-30 Loss to Jackson Lumen Christi

Held scoreless in the first quarter, the junior varsity girls basketball team couldn't overcome the slow start and lost a non-conference road game to Jackson Lumen Christi, 35-30.

The Bulldogs trailed 15-9 at the half, but couldn't make up their early scoring slump despite scoring 21 second half points in the Sept. 13 contest.

"We got down 6-0 in the first quarter. But after that, we played them even," said JV coach Paul Terpstra.

At the end of the third quarter, the Titans held a 31-19 lead, before Chelsea began finding the range.

The team outscored Lumen Christi 11-4 in the closing minutes, but it wasn't enough, Terpstra said. "We made some steals and executed our offense."

Michelle Lucas led the Bulldogs in scoring with 14 points. Christine Herndon added 7 points and Cindy Richard, 4, Sarah Pruess, 3, and Suzie Steele, 2. Herndon also grabbed a team-high eight rebounds while Steele had six steals.

The team will play Williamston on Wednesday before opening conference action on the road against Milan this Friday.

Terpstra said his squad still needs work on its shooting. Against Lumen Christi, the team shot 29 percent. But that was an improvement over recent games.

"Right now, we're doing a good job of getting good shots. We're just not able to put them in the basket. With young players, you have a lot of inconsistency."

He said the team needs to work on both those areas as it moves into its conference schedule.

Chelsea's T-Attack Sparks Bulldogs in Comeback Victory

The Chelsea girls basketball team remains unbeaten.

But the Bulldogs faced their toughest outing of the season in knocking out Jackson Lumen Christi in a Sept. 13 road game.

Chelsea staged a 19-8 fourth quarter rally to outscore the Titans by nine points enroute to its fifth straight win, 51-42.

The Bulldogs were led by the Double-T combo of 6'3" senior forward Courtney Thompson and 6'1" junior center Annie Terpstra.

But Chelsea's play was lackluster through much of the contest. The Bulldogs trailed 24-18 at half and 34-33 after three quarters. At one point in the third, they fell behind by as many as 10.

The Bulldogs "played very poorly in the first half," said coach Charlie Waller. And it took "great team defense" to turn the tide in the fourth.

Chelsea went on a 10-0 spurt down the stretch to wipe out a 42-41 Titan lead and secure the victory.

Thompson and Terpstra accounted for 36 of the team's 51 points while grabbing a combined 41 rebounds.

Thompson, who scored 10 points, grabbed a game-high 24 rebounds, while Terpstra led the Bulldogs with 26 points, in addition to hauling down 17 rebounds.

Other contributors were Kate Steele with 7 points, Carlotta Ziegler, 5, Kasie Ruhlig, 2, and Jessica Inwood, 1.

The following project description is based on the "Final Feasibility Study for Sewerage Service, Dexter and Lyndon Townships, Washtenaw County, Michigan, North Lake, Silver Lake, Halfmoon and Blind Lakes," dated July, 1994, and modifications thereto prepared by McNamee, Porter & Seeley, Inc.

The Project consists of a low pressure sanitary sewer collection system, individual grinder pumps, regional pumping stations, transportation force mains and a wastewater treatment facility.

The sanitary sewer collection system will consist of approximately 67,000 feet of 1 1/2 inch to 6 inch diameter low pressure sewers. This sewer system will generally be constructed in the road right of ways at the lakes. It is proposed to construct the collection sewers along the north, east, and south sides of Silver Lake; the west, south, and east sides of Halfmoon Lake; the north half of Blind Lake; and entirely around North Lake. Individual grinder pump stations will be located on the properties to be served. Non-residential property and multi-family residential property may be served by duplex grinder pump stations as required by the projected flow from the property.

Locally collected sanitary wastewater will be discharged to three regional pumping stations located on Dexter Township Road south of Silver Lake, on North Lake Road east of North Lake, and on Hankard Road east of Halfmoon Lake. Regionally collected wastewater will be discharged through approximately 21,000 feet of 4 inch to 8 inch diameter force mains to the proposed wastewater treatment plant site located north of North Territorial Road in Section 16 of Dexter Township. A new wastewater treatment plant will consist of a Sequential Batch Reactor type treatment system and sludge handling and storage facilities. Treated wastewater will be discharged to the groundwater, via open sand beds, under the provisions of a Groundwater Discharge Permit issued by the State of Michigan.

Vehicle Taken Without Permission

A 16-year-old Gregory boy reported his 16-year-old friend took his 1982 Ford Mustang from his home in the 1200 block of Joslin Lake Rd., Sept. 12, without permission. The boy was spending the night at the victim's home. When the victim awoke the next morning, his friend and his vehicle, valued at $4,000, were missing. The victim told police his friend had talked about running away from home. The suspect's mother told police the boy called from Ohio to say the car broke down on the highway.

Recovered Stolen Vehicle

Police recovered an ATV a 43-year-old Chelsea man reported stolen. The vehicle was found in the 1900 block of Waterloo Rd., Sept. 6. It is valued at $2,500. The vehicle sustained $1,000 in damages.

Malicious Destruction of Property

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 9600 block of Joslin Lake Rd., Sept. 12. A 39-year-old township woman told police someone blew up her mailbox with explosives at 4:50 p.m. The mailbox is valued at $50.

Assault and Battery

Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 100 block of Dancer Rd. A 33-year-old woman told police her ex-boyfriend broke in her home by kicking in two doors after she took his keys from him at Dexter Pub so he wouldn't drive home drunk. Two of his friends drove him to her residence to retrieve his keys. Once he gained entry, the suspect reportedly pulled two telephones out of the wall.

TIPS FOR CONSUMERS From Tom Ashcraft, President The Better Business Bureau

Radio & TV Investments?

"Double your money in three months by buying rare coins!" "Invest in our commodities and earn 50%!" "Get rich quick with wireless cable!" Sound familiar? Many radio and TV shows which appear to be thoughtful interviews with investment experts may actually be long paid commercials by promoters who make incredible claims to get your money. Folks in the Chelsea area and throughout Eastern Michigan need to be aware of this practice.

Of course, a number of financial advice programs are completely reputable and provide excellent ideas on ways to invest. But others have been produced to look exactly like the legitimate kind. They have the usual smooth, outgoing program host and the dignified financial advisor "guest" who is entertaining and brilliantly knowledgeable. They may interview "average people" who claim to have made big profits with the investment program of the "guest." Some "shows" even take apparently candid phone calls from listeners who ask questions or offer testimonials. But beware; there are several warning signs to watch for if you want to protect yourself against questionable sales pitches:

- Promises of high profits with very low risk. The talk show "expert" is not objective; he returns again and again to the wonders of his own special program or product. He insists that the return on his investment will skyrocket, while risks are almost nonexistent. Some recent products advertised this way include rare coins, gold and gold futures, wireless cable franchises, stamps, commodities and second mortgages. All of these can be very risky investments which carry the possibility of substantial loss; yet the talk show guest may sugar-coat the dangers.

- Haste. "We need your money right now!" Legitimate investment experts usually counsel you to look at long-term growth; the paid commercial people want your money overnight.
- Discipline. Has the talk show "expert" been in trouble with his industry? Call the hotline of the National Association of Securities Dealers, 800-289-9999.

If in doubt, call the radio or TV station and ask if the show is an infomercial paid for by the promoter. Talk to local experts about the claims made by the promoter. And be sure to check the company out with the Better Business Bureau by calling us 24 hours a day at (810) 644-9100 or writing: BBB, 30555 Southfield Rd., Suite 200, Southfield, MI 48076. THE REV. GERMANO PEGORARO, S.C., director of the Pious Union of St. Joseph, welcomes friends and neighbors to an open house at their new headquarters in Grass Lake.

Pious Union of St. Joseph Prays for Suffering, Dying

St. Louis Center on Old US-12 west of Chelsea is familiar to many of us, as are the mentally impaired young men who reside there and the Catholic priests who established the school 25 years ago, administer it, and care for the boys.

But Sunday, Sept. 25 you are invited to an Open House just up the road from St. Louis Center, where this same order of priests, the Servants of Charity, has opened their new headquarters for another ministry, a ministry of prayer for the suffering and dying. It is called the Pious Union of St. Joseph.

Already this organization has nearly 300 members from Michigan, including more than 100 from the Chelsea area.

"The moment of death is the most important moment of our lives!" explained the Rev. Fr. Germano Pegoraro, director of the Pious Union. "If we die at peace with God, we will be eternally happy in Heaven. If not, we will not reach our salvation."

The Pious Union began in Italy at the turn of the century. In keeping with the mission of the Servants of Charity to help the handicapped, the elderly, the suffering and the dying, the order's founder, Blessed Louis Guanella began the Pious Union of St. Joseph. "My founder's mission was to help the suffering people, especially the most neglected—the handicapped, the elderly," said Fr. Germano. "His love for them had no limit. He tried to also reach those hard to reach—the dying."

When Fr. Germano retired from his active daily work with the young men at St. Louis, he directed his attention to this aspect of the ministry of the Servants of Charity. He founded the Pious Union of St. Joseph in America. It was approved in 1987 in the Diocese of Lansing by Bishop Kenneth Povish, who then became its first member in America. The new offices are located on the eastern edge of the village of Grass Lake, on Old US-12 which is called Michigan Ave. in Grass Lake. From Chelsea, it is the first house just before the village limits, 971 E. Michigan Ave. Or take I-94 to the Mt. Fr. Germano, the Servants of Charity, and the Pious Union are inviting you to stop by during the day on Sunday, Sept. 25. There will be a buffet at 10 a.m., Mass at 11 a.m. and an afternoon reception until 4 p.m. for touring the buildings and grounds.

The Greek revival farmhouse now contains the offices of the Pious Union for the production of its magazine, Now and at the Hour, plus a small devotional prayer room. One day Fr. Germano hopes that the barn on the 30-acre grounds can be transformed into a Chapel and that perhaps a hospice may even be built!

But come see for yourself. Meet these dedicated Servants of Charity and consider this labor of love that they embrace on behalf of those most in need.

Someone DOES Care...

BRIAN D. SCHAD of Chelsea, a fifth grade teacher at Lawton Elementary school, Ann Arbor, spent part of the summer in Oklahoma as one of four master school mathematics teachers conducting a summer institute on middle school mathematics. Schad has had extensive training at the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation in Princeton, which funded the institute hosted by the Oklahoma State University Mathematics Department. Participants were involved in a variety of activities and labs during the week, including origami and paper folding, building 2D and 3D models, and exploration with shadows. Instructors at the institute for Oklahoma teachers, were, left to right, Dr. Douglas Alchele, OSU Regents Professor of Mathematics and Institute director; and institute teachers Joan Fox, Hampton, Conn.; Brian D. Schad, Chelsea; Ellen M. Delaney, St. Paul, Minn.; and Joseph R. Georgeson, Glendale, Wis.

Safety Tips Given for Going to School

"It's hard to believe that another summer has passed and soon we're seeing the familiar sights of those yellow school buses on the road again," states Sheriff Ron Schebil of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. "As youngsters begin a new school year, I would like to take a moment to remind parents of a few simple tips that can help ensure their child's journey to and from school will be a safe one."

With the number of rural areas in Washtenaw county, many children must ride the bus to school. Here are some Safety Tips parents can give their children when riding or waiting for his/her school bus:

TIPS FOR CHILDREN

When Waiting for the School Bus:

Always be on time at the bus stop.

Always wait quietly and orderly so that the bus driver can see you.

Always stand back and away from moving traffic.

Never accept rides with "friend" strangers who offer to drive you to school.

When Getting on the School Bus:

Wait for the bus to come to a complete stop.

Never crowd around the door of the school bus.

Go directly to a seat on the bus and remain seated.

When Riding the Bus:

Always be courteous to the bus driver and other passengers.

Remember where the Emergency Exit is and how to use it.

Never put your head, arms or hands out the window.

Never throw food or trash on the bus seat, floor, or out the window.

Do not distract the bus driver.

Never drink alcohol or take drugs. Always report people taking or selling drugs to your teachers, principal or parents.

When Leaving the School Bus:

Wait in your seat until the bus comes to a complete STOP.

Always use the hand rail by the bus door when exiting the bus.

Stay alert to any moving traffic as you step onto the sidewalk or curb.

Look both ways before you cross the street. Never cross the street until it is safe to do so and the bus driver can see you.

Of course, many children are either unable to or prefer not to ride the bus. Instead, they travel back and forth to school by bicycle or on foot. Parents first need to ask themselves: "Is my child ready to walk to school alone?" If the answer is yes, prior to the opening of school, help your child select the safest route for biking or walking to and from school (or the bus stop). In addition, during the first few days of school, plan to walk both ways with your child. Start well ahead of time, rather than hurrying and running, so that a pattern is established for walking safely.

So, how do you determine what the safest route may be for your child? There are no magic formulas to choosing the safest route, but by following these guidelines, your child may avoid being injured or placing their life in danger:

TIPS FOR PARENTS

Direct Route—Children should take the most direct, safe route. Instruct your child to go directly to and from school, without loitering. Playing tag, pushing each other and "horsing around" along the way can result in traffic accidents where children are distracted and suddenly dart out into the street. Parents should walk the exact route that is chosen with your child, discuss why it is the safest and why other possible routes may be more dangerous, even though they may be shorter. Repeat this procedure until your youngster is thoroughly familiar with the route and understands why it is important to their safety to follow it. Insist that your child take the same route each day, so that you will always know the path they are following.

Fewest Street Crossings—Select the route that involves the minimum number of streets to cross. Consider the street width, length of time it takes to cross each street, traffic volume, traffic speed, and whether there are sufficient gaps in traffic for crossing.

Special School Crossings—Pedestrian tunnels or overpasses may be provided next to school grounds to compensate for existing hazardous conditions. Use these crossings when planning safe routes.

Protected Crossings—Whenever possible, try to restrict crossings to those intersections guarded by a police officer, adult crossing guard or safety patrol member.

Complicated Intersections—Avoid confusing and complicated intersections, unless crossing guards are assigned to assist children.

Group Crossings—Select those routes where as many youngsters as possible will merge at one place when crossing a hazardous street. Large group crossings permit a more effective utilization of crossing guards.

Traffic Signals—Look for intersections that have a signal with a separate pedestrian interval or WALK/DON'T WALK indicator. Make sure your child is familiar with the right-turn-on-red ruling and turns indicated by colored arrows. Instill an awareness of the potential danger created when motorists drive through crosswalks while turning during a pedestrian WALK or solid green light. Have children wait for a new green light cycle before crossing, checking for oncoming vehicles as they make their trip across the street.

Sidewalks, pathways, and bike paths—Use protected walkways at every opportunity, for they provide buffer zones away from the traffic flow. If a roadway must be used, stress walking on the LEFT facing on-coming traffic and staying as far away from the traveled roadway surface as possible.

Obstructed Views—Avoid those streets where there are objects blocking a child's view of oncoming traffic. Roads where vehicles often exceed the speed limit, rough street surfaces at crossings, sharp grades or curves, blind corners and intersections with bus stops or parking near crosswalks are all potential problems for children.

Safe Bicycle Driving—BEFORE they are permitted to ride their bicycle to and from school, your child should be well-instructed on responsible cycling. This means that they should be able to maintain their balance and maneuver their bicycle without difficulty (such as starting, stopping, signaling, going around curves and up hills, etc.) and they should know and obey all the traffic signs and signals.

Other Safe Routes—DON'T FORGET... Identifying safe routes to a friend's home, the playground, movies, stores, and other places your child may travel day-to-day should also be as carefully planned out with the safest route to and from.

Of course, there is one area of IMPORTANCE that should be discussed with your child on a regular basis!

Never Talk To or Go With Strangers—Tell your child never to enter a stranger's car or house, never accept money, gifts or drugs from strangers, and never let a stranger touch them or join them in play. It is important to teach your children to "Just Say No!" Take the time to remind your children to:

1. Play in groups—never alone—and never in vacant buildings or alleys.

2. Immediately tell you about any unusual actions of any grown-up they encounter.

3. Take notice of playmates they may see getting into a stranger's car. (Children should be instructed on getting the license number of any stranger's car who tries to bother them or their friends.)

4. If a stranger attempts to strike up a conversation, offers them candy or uses other means to lure them away from their normal surroundings, they should decline and immediately tell their parents, or if at school, their teacher. (NOTE: It's important to convey to children that there are certain people that they can depend upon, such as parents, law enforcement officers, and teachers.)

Lastly, parents should make it a point to know the character of the adults who become friendly with their children; i.e., know the background of baby-sitters or anyone who has charge of your children in your absence.

Sylvan Township Board Proceedings

Regular Meeting
September 6, 1994

The regular meeting of the Sylvan Township Board was held September 6, 1994 at 7 p.m. in the Sylvan Township Hall, 112 W. Middle Street, Chelsea, MI 48118.

The following board members were present: Supervisor Dresselhouse, Clerk Koch, Treasurer Pearsall, Trustee Heller and Trustee Lesser.

Also present were: Charles Burgess and Richard Steele. Minutes were approved as presented.

Motion by Heller, supported by Pearsall, to pay bills as presented. Carried.

Supervisor Dresselhouse reported to Board on a meeting which has occurred with MDOT regarding the proposed bypass. Also present at that meeting were representatives from the Village and Washtenaw County Road Commission. MDOT has provided to the Village of Chelsea and the Township an overhead view of a plan for the bypass. MDOT has studied the traffic volumes south of town there are about 5,000 vehicles a day, up north around Werkner there are about 4,500 vehicles a day, and in town there are about 20,000 vehicles a day. MDOT states that the majority of traffic is generated within the downtown area. MDOT projects about one-half of the vehicles coming from the north would not use the bypass because their destination is downtown. Therefore, only approximately 2,500 vehicles would be using the bypass from the north. Based on that it is not cost beneficial and does not warrant building a new road for 2,500 vehicles. An alternative is to re-time the signals in town but admittedly that is only a short-term solution. MDOT stated they will never widen M-52 and never make one-way bypasses because the Village objects. The State is very comfortable to do nothing at this time. The State says there are not any acceptable one-way streets in town. MDOT projects the cost to build the bypass would be approximately $9 million. Three options, leave things alone, build a bypass or widen M-52. If we wait long enough and let the proposed area for the bypass develop when it comes time to build, there will be no room to build and MDOT will not get into that. MDOT suggests we get pro-active with the public. MDOT suggests the proposed bypass is too far West. They would like to see something closer to town. The meeting concluded that the bypass is not a dead issue; however, it would have to be built by someone other than them and if the standards are met they will take it over only if the Village or the County will take over the old M-52. The bypass committee will come up with an alternate route and meet with MDOT to explore its location and funding.

Dresselhouse also reported on the status of Power Fone, Inc. in regards to their location for a Tower, Ameritec's plans for the existing tower, Dr. Feller's proposal to subdivide a portion of his land at Cavanaugh Lake, the status of the Washtenaw County Parks and the updating of the General Development Plan in which the Planning Commission welcomes public comments and suggestions.

Motion by Pearsall, supported by Heller, to levy .9621 mills unless it is determined that the Board can levy 1.0000 without the vote of the people for December 1994. Carried.

Motion by Heller, supported by Lesser, to send Supervisor, Clerk and Treasurer to MTA's District Meeting. Carried.

Motion by Lesser, supported by Pearsall to adjourn.

LuAnn S. Koch, Clerk.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING TOWNSHIP OF DEXTER, WASHTENAW COUNTY

TO: ALL RECORD OWNERS OF, AND PARTIES IN INTEREST IN, LAND IN THE PROPOSED SPECIAL ASSESSMENT DISTRICT DESCRIBED HEREIN

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Township Board of the Township of Dexter, Washtenaw County, Michigan (the "Township"), will meet at 7:30 p.m., Eastern Daylight Savings Time, on October 4, 1994, at the Dexter Town Hall, 6880 Dexter-Pinckney Road, Dexter, Michigan 48130, and during such meeting will conduct a public hearing to hear objections to a sanitary sewer improvement project, the cost thereof and the special assessment roll therefor for the construction of a sanitary sewer system as follows:

MULTI-LAKE SANITARY SEWER SYSTEM PROJECT DESCRIPTIONS OF PROPOSED IMPROVEMENTS

Proposed Sanitary Sewer Improvements and Related Special Assessment District Project Description

The following project description is based on the "Final Feasibility Study for Sewerage Service, Dexter and Lyndon Townships, Washtenaw County, Michigan, North Lake, Silver Lake, Halfmoon and Blind Lakes," dated July, 1994, and modifications thereto prepared by McNamee, Porter & Seely, Inc.

The Project consists of a low pressure sanitary sewer collection system, individual grinder pumps, regional pumping stations, transportation force mains and a wastewater treatment facility.

The sanitary sewer collection system will consist of approximately 67,000 feet of 1 1/2 inch to 6 inch diameter low pressure sewers. This sewer system will generally be constructed in the road right of ways at the lakes. It is proposed to construct the collection sewers along the north, east, and south sides of Silver Lake; the west, south, and east sides of Halfmoon Lake; the north half of Blind Lake; and entirely around North Lake. Individual grinder pump stations will be located on the properties to be served. Non-residential property and multi-family residential property may be served by duplex grinder pump stations as required by the projected flow from the property.

Locally collected sanitary wastewater will be discharged to three regional pumping stations located on Dexter Township Road south of Silver Lake, on North Lake Road east of North Lake, and on Hagler Road east of Halfmoon Lake. Regionally collected wastewater will be discharged through approximately 21,000 feet of 4 inch to 8 inch diameter force mains to the proposed wastewater treatment plant site located north of North Territorial Road in Section 16 of Dexter Township. A new wastewater treatment plant will consist of a Sequential Batch Reactor type treatment system and sludge handling and storage facilities. Treated wastewater will be discharged to the groundwater, via open sand beds, under the provisions of a Groundwater Discharge Permit issued by the State of Michigan.

In the special assessment district described herein (the "Project"), and to hear objections to the following special assessment district tentatively designated by the Township Board as the district against which the cost of the Project is to be assessed:

Farmer's Almanac Out Now With New Edition

There is something refreshing, and even downright delightful, about getting more than you expected out of anything, especially The Old Farmer's Almanac. Where else can you find a 203-year-old publication loaded with new, fascinating things to read every year?

While you probably know The Old Farmer's Almanac is filled with wit and wisdom, contains the 1995 weather forecasts, and has plenty of interesting articles and advertisements... who would have thought that the 1995 edition could also help you find the perfect mate? Or clue you in to the healthiest vegetable of all? (No, it's not Brussels sprouts.)

On Sept. 13, 1994, The 1995 Old Farmer's Almanac—still with its recognizable yellow cover and nail hole in the corner—can be found at newsstands, supermarkets, and bookstores all across America. Plus, with a price tag under four dollars, it's probably cheaper than you ever thought, considering it has hundreds of pages packed with entertaining, informative articles guaranteed to spice up your life—or at least your bedtime reading!

Even though it's the nation's oldest continuously published periodical, the Almanac prides itself on remaining up-to-date. In the opening pages of this year's edition, readers will find a section entitled "Consumer Tastes and Trends for 1995." Do you have any chain-saw or hobo art, old computers, or hammered aluminum handbags or jewelry? These are some of the "hot" collectibles for the coming year. Also listed are food, fashion, and home trends, plus new answers to old questions, including "Where does lost airline luggage end up?" and "Is it safe to go swimming after eating?"

While always looking to the future, The Old Farmer's Almanac remembers the past as well. Can you name "The Most Prayed-For Man in World War II"? Or the key player in "The Revolution That Began on Tuesday, Oct. 23, 1945"? The answers are war correspondent Ernie Pyle (who was killed by a sniper 50 years ago while reporting on location on Okinawa) and Jackie Robinson (the first black to play baseball in the Major Leagues). The Jackie Robinson story is excerpted from the script of Ken Burns' nine-part film on baseball, which airs nationwide on PBS beginning Sept. 18.

"Our goal is to pack the pages of the Almanac with useful wit, wisdom, and entertaining, insightful articles," explains Judson Hale, the publication's 12th editor since it was founded in 1792. "We also throw in some uncommon information. Where else would you find a Gestation and Mating Table that includes rams and boars right next to a list of plants that attract butterflies?"

The 80 percent-accurate weather predictions in The Old Farmer's Almanac always seem to get a lot of attention. The general November through March forecast for the country calls for near record amounts of snow for the upper Great Plains, Great Lakes, New York, New England, and much of the Appalachians, as well as the higher elevations of the western part of the country, including southern California.

Over-all, precipitation totals for the winter will be well above normal for much of the country, but well below normal from the central Great Plains to the Gulf of Mexico, in portions of Florida, and in the extreme Northwest.

The popular "Anecdotes and Pleasantries" section offers insight into the bathing habits of today's college students; how to get rid of cockroaches, itchy-bitsy spiders, fleas, and ants in your house; and even something to think about while listening to a boring speech. (i.e., try creating the shortest sentence that includes all the letters of the alphabet, such as Quick frowzy lambs vex the pen judge.)

Lately, the historic Old Farmer's Almanac no longer stands alone on the newsstand. The Almanac editors now produce three other annual periodicals: the Hearth & Home Companion in July; the Gardener's Companion in January; and a brand-new HomeOwner's Companion in March. These offer even more down-to-earth, sensible information and advice for readers particularly interested in traditional Almanac subject categories covering the home, food, and garden. (Customized versions of these three publications, as well as The Old Farmer's Almanac itself, are made available as promotional tools for groups and companies.)

The Old Farmer's Almanac licensing program is growing by leaps and bounds, with a complete line of licensed food and lawn and garden products appearing in stores all across the country. Other licensed products include vitamins, wallpaper, decorative tins, and clothing—all utilizing the Almanac's good name that signifies reliability, quality, and traditional down-home values.

With predictably more within its pages than you ever imagined, The Old Farmer's Almanac guarantees that you will find something to tickle your fancy. And, if you're still puzzling over the healthiest vegetable... try sweet potatoes. They're loaded with beta-carotene, vitamins A, C, B, potassium, and even dietary fiber. Who would have thought it?

Questions About State's Fall Color Answered

Q. What is the best time to view Michigan's fall color?

The color show peaks in stages, beginning at the top of the state, where cooler temperatures arrive first, and, subsequently, moving downward. Peak color is generally found in the Upper Peninsula between mid-September and early October; in the Northern Lower Peninsula between late September and mid-October; in mid-Michigan from early to mid-October and in southern Lower Michigan from mid-to late October.

Q. What makes the leaves change color?

Weather conditions in early September largely determine the success of the fall color display. If there are bright sunny days and cool nights, a good show can be expected. Daylight length is also significant. Shorter days cause leaves to stop producing chlorophyll and lose their green color. Also, rain helps growing conditions. An adequate amount of summer rainfall means tree leaves will be bigger and healthier when they turn to autumn shades. Although rain is desirable, continuous cloudy weather is not since that would stop the sugar production that creates the brilliant red leaves.

Q. How many species of trees are there and what colors do they turn?

In Michigan's 18-million acres of forests, there are close to 100 different species of trees. Michigan's autumn foliage boasts a mixture of red, yellow, gold and orange hues. Some of the prettiest trees for color viewing are aspen, oak, maple, birch and sumac.

Motorcycle Safety Courses Continue at WCC This Month

Countersteering and maneuvering safely on streets are two of the skills motorcycle veterans will learn with the Motorcycle Safety program sponsored by Washtenaw Community College during September.

The performance-based session offered this month is available to anyone 16 years of age or older and a licensed driver. It was developed for the more experienced rider who wants to sharpen their skills or learn advanced techniques using their own motorcycles. Successful completion meets the licensing requirements for the state of Michigan.

The week-end classes are located on the WCC campus. All students must provide and wear a DOT-approved motorcycle helmet that fits properly. Participants are also asked to wear sturdy long pants and jackets, full-finger gloves, eye protection, and rugged over-the-ankle boots. For more information and fee schedule, call Continuing Education at (313) 677-5027.

MERIT SCHOLARS: Chelsea High school seniors Joshua Metzler (left) and James Drain have been selected as National Merit Scholarship semifinalists.

National Merit Scholar Semifinalists Enjoy Test-Taking Competition

Chelsea High school seniors Josh Metzler and James Drain are looking forward to college.

And both know that winning a National Merit Scholarship will separate them from thousands of other college-bound students and possibly pave the financial way to the school of their choice.

They were named last week among 15,000 semifinalists for national merit consideration. A decision on their selection as finalists won't be known till spring.

Well-rounded students, they combine high academic achievement in the classroom with a variety of outside activities.

Last year, Josh, 17, the son of Arlene Seelbach of Chelsea and Michael Metzler of Ann Arbor, was named outstanding junior in math, science, English and social sciences at Chelsea High.

He also came in ninth in Michigan's math prize competition and is a member of the state's American Regional Math League.

In addition, Metzler runs varsity cross country and track.

High school principal Ron Mead says of him, "He's the smartest kid I've ever met."

And Metzler's school advisor, football coach Gene LaFave concurs. "He's an excellent student. He has a 3.91 GPA on a 4.0 scale. He's now qualified in testing in the upper half of the 99 percentile in his class."

Drain is cut from a slightly different cloth. A transfer student, he has been at Chelsea High for just two years.

Although born in Redford, he's lived most of his life outside the state, in Florida and Nevada. He went to Bonanza High school in Las Vegas before moving to Chelsea last summer.

The son of Michael Drain, James, 17, received awards for poetry in both ninth and 10th grades while running cross country as a freshman.

This year he's a member of the high school Spanish club.

But he's made a bigger splash by becoming the school's first-ever male cheerleader.

"He's new to our district. He's very outgoing. He's been an active participant in school," said Sue Carter, Drain's advisor. "He has a lot of talent and he is very persuasive."

"He's a bright young man," says Mead. "Both are really nice young men."

And both enjoy knowing where they stand academically. That's what makes the merit scholarship competition special for them, they acknowledge.

"Personally, I like taking tests. I like to know where I'm standing," Metzler said.

Drain agrees. Both say test-taking is a form of competition that stimulates them more than classroom work, where personal achievement and desire are measured by GPA's. Still, they do all right on that score as well.

"There's pretty much no competition" in the classroom among students. "It's what you work to achieve," Drain said.

And he likes taking chances, such as becoming the school's first male cheerleader. "I'm pretty open. They asked me to be on the team and I thought it would be a lot of fun. It turned out to be awesome."

"So here I am doing it and having a blast," he said.

Given a choice, the bearded Metzler said he would like to go to M.I.T. or Harvard. He is a whiz in both math and physics, subjects he thoroughly enjoys. In that regard, he takes after his father, a physicist with the Environmental Research Institute of Michigan.

As a career goal, Drain said he would like to work in international business. He's already traveled a lot during his life. "I stayed in Mexico. I've moved around a lot," he said.

Even if they aren't chosen as national merit finalists, both know they will be heavily recruited.

"If you're a semifinalist you get a lot of attention," Drain said. Their advisors have indicated they could possibly hear from more than 100 schools.

"The schools will be going after you and you can make some good scholarship money for college," Drain said.

Hatch Stamping Receives Tax Break For Industrial Park Improvements

The Village Council has approved a seven-year tax abatement for Hatch Stamping Co. on industrial and personal property for its stamping business operations at the Chelsea Industrial Park.

The 50 percent tax abatement, unanimously approved by council on Sept. 13, will apply toward company business equipment purchases totaling $236,250.

Hatch Stamping, 635 E. Industrial Dr., requested the abatement as part of an industrial facility exemption certificate for recently installed machinery.

Because the company operates in an industrial development district, it's eligible for the exemption certificate.

In addition, the village had previously promised Hatch it would authorize tax abatements as part of the company's purchase of six industrial park lots.

"One of the contingencies of the sales agreement between the village and Hatch Stamping for the industrial park lots is that the village will favorably act upon" 50 percent tax abatement applications for building improvements and equipment purchases.

In approving the exemption certificate, council can make the Hatch improvements "eligible for tax abatements in the form of an industrial facility tax," according to the abatement proposal.

The tax would be equal to 50 percent of ad valorem tax otherwise due.

With council approval, the abatement application now goes to the state Department of Commerce and Tax Commission for final authorization of the exemption certificates.

A company spokesman noted that the abatement covers "multiple pieces of equipment" including tool room machinery so the firm can make its own tools. It also opened a dye shop earlier this year.

The various improvements have prompted the company to hire 75 new employees. All told, the company employs more than 200 people, the spokesman said.

Prepare for Federal Tax Examination By Assembling Records

Tax filing season may be over, but many taxpayers are still dealing with the IRS as a result of a notification that a tax return for a previous year is being audited.

"Taxpayers preparing for a federal income tax audit should begin by gathering the appropriate records," said IRS acting district director Charles Gilbert. "Returns are usually selected for examination to verify the accuracy of income, exemptions or deductions. Thus, the taxpayer will need to bring receipts, canceled checks, or other documentation related to these," Gilbert said. "The letter notifying the taxpayer about the examination specifies the items that will be discussed at the meeting," he said.

According to the IRS, if the taxpayers filed a joint return, either spouse, or both, are permitted to keep the appointment. An attorney, certified public accountant, enrolled agent, or the individual who signed the return as preparer may represent the taxpayer. Anyone who is knowledgeable about the taxpayer's books and records may accompany the taxpayer, in order to provide requested information.

"However, if the taxpayer is not present, the representative must have written authorization to represent the taxpayer," Gilbert said. "Form 2848, Power of Attorney and Declaration of Representative, may be used for this purpose."

Gilbert added that when the audit is completed, if the taxpayer agrees with the examiner's findings, an agreement form is signed and the taxpayer pays any additional tax due, plus interest from the due date of the return. If the examiner determines that the taxpayer is entitled to a refund, it will be issued within a few weeks and will include interest due the taxpayers from the due date of the return.

"If a taxpayer does not agree with the examiner's findings, the case may be reviewed informally by a supervisor, or the taxpayer may file an appeal, either within the IRS, or through the courts," Gilbert said.

"The examining agent will explain this procedure to the taxpayer," he added.

IRS Publication 556, Examination of Returns, Appeals Rights, and Claims for Refund, provides more information on this topic and may be ordered by calling the IRS toll free on 1-800-829-3676.

EYE CARE FOR SENIOR CITIZENS
 Decreased vision in the over-65 age group is very common, and the older we are, the more likely we are to develop an eye disease.
 The most common eye diseases causing blindness in older Americans are cataracts, glaucoma, macular degeneration, and diabetic retinopathy. Other problems affecting senior citizens' eyes, but unlikely to cause visual loss include: dry eyes, drooping eyelids, floaters, and increased tearing or watering. No one should ignore visual problems because of their age or disability. Handicapped and elderly persons need and deserve good vision as much as anyone else.
 Everyone 65 or older should have an eye examination at least every two years. Checkups should be more frequent if you have diabetes, cataracts, or glaucoma in the family, or if you have degeneration of the retina. In addition, any of the following symptoms should be checked by your doctor: blurred vision even with glasses on; increased difficulty seeing in dim light; distorted or double vision; red or painful eyes; excessive watering or watering of the eyes; crossed or wandering eyes; recent onset of floaters or flashes of light.
 Up to one-third of new cases of blindness in the elderly could have been prevented, so don't neglect your eye health.
