Village Employee Suspended Pending Police Investigation

An unidentified village employee, suspected of tampering with financial records, has been suspended pending completion of a Michigan state police investigation of the case, according to village manager Jack Myers.

The nature of the alleged offense was not disclosed, but it was first brought to the attention of Chelsea officials on Sept. 20, a week after a council meeting during which village auditors made a presentation on the village's financial condition.

In a press release issued by Myers office, he noted that "village auditors in examination of the books and

Chelsea School Board Approves Donation For Piasecki Memorial

The Chelsea Board of Education has approved a $1,000 contribution toward creation of a sculpture in the memory of late school superintendent Joseph Piasecki.

The sculpture, which is being designed by the emergency room physician who treated Piasecki following his shooting in December, is to be given to the Chelsea School District for display.

The memorial is being sponsored the Chelsea Education Foundation.

School board members Monday approved the donation for the memorial, expected to cost $5,000.

The proposed 14-inch table-top bronze, being designed by Dr. Patrick Munson, will not be a bust of the school administrator.

Instead, it is expected to convey Piasecki's enthusiasm for education and love of children, according to the foundation's Piasecki Memorial Committee chairwoman, Mary Jane

She said the proposed memorial would likely show a man holding the hands of teachers holding the hands of children in flight.

The image is designed to convey the idea of giving children roots to grow on and wings to fly, a favorite saying of Piasecki's that will likely be used as a caption for the memori-

Once completed, the bronze is to be displayed in all Chelsea schools for one year.

"It's our hope that during that year, parents and children will have an opportunity to see the sculpture, and from it, grasp Joe's enthusiasm for education," said school board president Jane Diesing.

The foundation is sponsoring the permanent memorial with endowment funding that helped fund four $500 scholarships given to Chelsea High school seniors last spring.

Besides the school board donation, the 1993 Chelsea High school senior class donated $1,200 for the memorial in addition to the foundation's $3,000 contribution.

Chelsea Schools, Hospital Will Dedicate New Fitness Program for the school personnel involved.

Chelsea Public Schools and the Chelsea Community Hospital have joined in the implementation of a new program designed to promote fitness as part of every student's

The program was developed by Project Fit America, a national, nonprofit organization based in San Francisco that administers academic programs in schools, grades I through 12, to get children physically fit and to teach lifetime cardiovascular health habits. It includes permanent, state-of-the-art outdoor fitness equipment that was installed this summer, a cardiovascular fitness and wellness curriculum with more than 100 lesson plans, and inservice staff development. The program is specifically designed to address the deficit areas where the nation's children are failing fitness tests. Use of the equipment focuses on the development of lower body, abdominal, upper body, and cardiovascular endurance. Curriculum materials develop understandings of cardiovascular fitness as well as teaching about nutrition and general body health.

A representative from Project Fit America was in Cheisea on Sept. 22 and 23 to provide inservice training

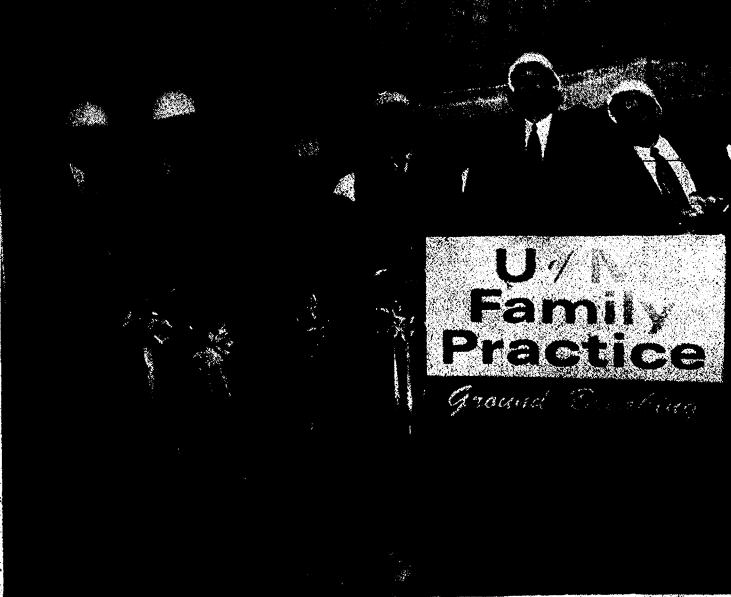

As part of its commitment to improve the health of the residents of the communities it serves, Chelsea Community Hospital is fully funding the program, which has curriculum materials for grades 1 through 12. The outdoor fitness equipment is located at both of the elementary schools.

On Friday, Oct. 7, the equipment will be dedicated at an opening day celebration at North school at 9 a.m. and at South school at 10:30 a.m. The leadership of the schools and the hospital, the parent-teacher organizations, and students will participate. Members of the board of education, village council, and other governmental officials have been invited.

The public is welcome to attend. The equipment is available for use by the general community at times when school is not is session. Chelsea Community Hospital will consider the possibility of extending the sponsorship of this program in the future to other communities in its Wednesday, Oct. 3, 1990-Chelsea School District's Facilities Committee reaffirmed Monday night its earlier recommendation to build a new elementary school, renovate the existing elementaries and high school, and expand and upgrade outdoor facilities. The committee held a work session with the board of education Monday night and showed near unanimous support for the general building concepts, said assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

Chelsea-area resident Dick Coy, owner of Coy Laboratory Products of Scio township, owns the land and plans to move his business there by February. He plans to sell four other parcels to other light industrial firms that won't have to rely heavily on water and sewer facilities. The area is serviced by wells and septic systems.

Rick's Market, located on M-52 and Werkner Rd. has voluntarily closed its doors following an incident on Sunday evening, Oct. 12. The store locked its doors Thursday, Oct. 16 after customers complained of foul tasting and odorous foodstuffs. The reason for all of this mess is apparently the result of the misapplication or overapplication of an Orkin patented pesticide that was utilized to fumigate the store's interior. According to owner Terry Rickerman's attorney from Dexter, "We've had a contract with Orkin out of Jackson for about 10 years. They come in monthly to spray for pests, thereby keeping the market free of any insects that could come in with the stock." This time, the own-

Closing the Gap in Economics Education

When it comes to teaching economics in our schools, there's a basic problem: Many of our teachers don't know enough about what they're teaching.

By Philip C. Clarke According to William Walstad, director of the University of Nebraska's National Center for Research in Economic Education, "Many practicing teachers have never taken an economics course, yet they're teaching it." And as for the students, he says, "a good portion of them never get instruction in eco-nomics." Or, if they do receive any, they often are shortchanged by teachers who cannot explain the

The results are inevitable and unsettling. In a 1992 survey by the National Center and the Gallup Organization covering 1,005 high school seniors, college seniors and the general public, all three groups got failing marks on such basic questions as unemployment, profits and supply and demand. The college seniors got 51% right, the public 39% and the high school seniors answered only 35% of their questions correctly. And at a recent series of workshops for business and economics teachers in five cities conducted by the investment Company Institute, a Washington, D.C., trade group, 22% of the teachers had "little or no knowledge" of mutual funds, the nation's most popular investment vehicle.

As Walstad explains, business economics usually are taught, if at all, as part of social studies courses or the like. Yet, he contends, an understanding of economics is more important than ever in today's highly competitive world of trade and finance. "Almost everyone must deal with economics—in our careers, as consumers and as voters. You cannot escape it, and in that sense I see it as critically important as math, reading and the sciences."

Fortunately, a number of academic institutions are now trying to strengthen teachers' qualifications by providing specialized undergraduate courses in economics. And according to Janet Treichel, director of the National Business Education Association, "An increasing number of people with bachelor's degrees in business administration are returning to school to get a teacher certification." Some, she says, find the academic world more to their liking than the pressures and uncertainties of the corporate world.

Among the educational institutions weighing in with specialized instructional material, primarily at the high school level, is the Durell Institute of Monetary Science at Shenandoah University in Winchester, Va. Following the success of its innovative teaching kits on "The ABCs of Money and Banking" and formally turned over ownership of the new concession stand at Chelsea High school to the school district on Monday.

The $60,000 project, built in part with a school district loan, was opened for the high school football team's first home game on Sept. 9.

Spokesmen for the boosters said the organization has nearly paid off all project costs. Thus far, the group has paid out $48,247 for various building expenses, with a $12,500 lumber bill still outstanding. The Boosters hope to pay off their remaining debts on the building and the district loan with a raffle for a pickup truck. The group expects to repay the district loan by next spring,

The Chelsea Athletic Boosters way, the Boosters are proposing to add a next press box facility at Niehaus Field.

> "We hope to get started in the spring on the press box," said Booster spokesman Lloyd Lafferty.

School board member Sandra Merkel thanked the boosters for the gift, saying the concession stand would provide future money for "extracurricular activities. We thank you for that," she said.

Another board member, Conrad Knutsen, said the project brought attention to the boosters, and that the community appreciates its efforts.

Assistant school superintendent Fred Mills shared that view, noting "They have some sweat equity" in that building, referring to the long hours put in by booster members Once that project is out of the constructing the facility.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Coffee prices have tripled just in time for cold mornings when we need a caffeen fix to get kick started. Zeke Grubb lamented at the country store Saturday night that it calls to mind when OPEC shut off the oil spigot at the start of summer travel.
Only this is worse, Zeke told the felold folks hardest,

General, the fellows were agreed that a man without his morning coffee can get downright dangerous, but Bug Hookum ask why less coffee in Brazil now means higher prices here now for coffee already on store shelves and in wholesale warehouses. Market experts will call it the natural law of supply and demand, Bug allowed, and they will talk of building capital reserve against higher product cost, but you got to know the natural law of control and greed works up and down the line.

Speaking of nature and her laws, Bug saw a ray of sunlight in a report where scientists say that by the end of the 22nd century the average temperature of Earth will be up 10 degrees. Bug said he didn't check why this is. It could be on account of bigger holes in the ozone so the sun can fry us sooner, he said; or that thought of what Lincoln said and glaciers will melt faster and drown speaking and removing all doubt.

Yours truly, went on, is not how hot or cold we're going to be in 200 years, it's that for all the preaching to the contrary we still got scientists who believe there'll be a 22nd century. Bug's report led Ed Doolittle to talk about the weather and how people still keep trying to do something about it. He had a clipping where the Archbishop of Canterbury was ask to pray for rain in some part of England, and he wouldn't do it. The Archbishop said it wouldn't do any lows, because it hits us stay at home good, and farthermore if he prayed and it rained it would make more work for him. If folks thought his prayers were answered there'd be no end to it. Expecting prayer to solve every problem is bad for the character, the Archbishop said, because people would depend on him instead of themselves. The fellers fell into a general discussion of prayer. Clem Webster took note that folks are lining up for and against laws that say school children have to be quiet at least one minute a day. One side worries they might use the time to pray and the other fears that they won't. The simple truth, Clem said, is that if teachers could keep them quiet an hour a day their prayers would be

CHRISTINE GUINAN

Former Chelsea Cheerleader Combines Coaching, Cop Beat

Christine Guinan, who used to lead cheers at Chelsea High school, now carries a gun and badge as a Farmington police detective.

But the police officer hasn't left the cheerleading sideline.

These days, Guinan, the daughter of Robert and Mary Guinan of Cheisea, supervises the Farmington High school cheerleading squad.

She combines that volunteer role with duty as a school liaison officer for the Farmington Police fighter as well. Department.

And she's finding that the dual posts help her to communicate better with students. "Kids come up to me Farmington Observer.

Let Us Help

To the Editor.

We are writing to voice our concerns about the transportation provided by the Chelsea School District.

The bus ride home for our first grader is one hour and twenty minutes. We live four miles from the school. The transportation department insists that our child is not on the bus longer than one hour since routes don't officially start until they leave the middle school at approximately 3:10 p.m. Elementary students board transfer busses one half hour before homebound busses ever leave the middle school. Has this arbitrary time of 3:10 p.m. led the transportation department to believe the system is streamlined?

Some busses (including our child's) are overcrowded and filled with three children per seat. This may be legal but is extremely unsafe.

We encourage parents and school board members to go to the afternoon transfer site at the middle school and witness what we require of our small children. Leaving one bus to find another of 22 busses can be traumatic.

We urge parents to write the school board with their concerns about the current transportation system.

Perhaps more busses could be purchased to help alleviate the overcrowding and long route times or money used to make feasible a twotiered system (staggered starting and dismissal times for elementary/middle and high schools).

To the Editor:

Last week's article (Sept. 21, 1994) in Viewpoint on Public Issues was indeed a strange one. It sounded like an article written 20 years earlier, before women's rights were seriously considered. The author, Lawrence W. Reed of the much maligned Mackinaw Center for Public Policy, states that "the differential between the pay of men and women entering the work force" is because of women's lesser education and fewer skills. He attributes it also the higher risk for employers hiring women because of childbearing. And the author is opposed to equal pay for equal work or comparable work. But the facts are otherwise.

Jobs occupied by women pay approximately $.69 as opposed to the same or comparable ones by men paid at $1.00. It used to be thought to be due to reasons such as the author of the recent article suggested. That Comparable worth means that secretaries are paid as much as janitors. No differential in education, etc., exists. Librarians do perform as valuable work for the city as the fire fighters. It has nothing to do with supply and demand. It has a great deal to do with perception of the value of "women's work" as opposed to "men's work." Cases which have gone to arbitration have supported the comparable worth position. (And arbitrators are traditionally selected from the ranks of employers, not unions.)

The view that women are more likely to be uninterested in careers does not take into consideration current world economics. Two incomes are necessary to maintain a household in most homes today. To pay a woman less because she is female is an insult to the family, to the male as well as the female, and to society in general. Your writer needs to reconsider his position.

Thank you for your extensive coverage of the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce first annual House Party held Sept. 23 at the fairgrounds. It was a wonderful evening made possible by the support of the community and lots of hard work by many people and organizations.

What was missing from the photos was the role the Knights of Columbus played in the evening activities. The Knights, headed ably by Joe Yekulis and Ken Unterbrink, were responsible for the Monte Carlo portion of the evening activities. Nearly 70 volunteers acted as dealers and pit bosses. The Knights dealt with the State Gaming Commission, securing the necessary license and will report the results to the same department.

The Chamber board hopes this cooperative effort is only the first of many House Parties put on by the two organizations and wish to thank all those who worked so hard to make the evening a night to remember.

Ann E. Feeney Executive Director Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce. For Japanese Exchange Visit Ten Beach Middle school families are preparing for a major cultural exchange visit by Japanese middle school-age students.

The 10-member group chaperoned by four adults will be in Chelsea from Oct. 10-17 as the first stop on a two-week visit to the U.S. Also planned are stops in New York, Washington, D.C. and Seattle, Wash.

The local visit is the result of behind the scenes efforts by Chelsea's Deborah Oakley and her son, Brian, who taught in Shimizu, Brian Oakley now resides in Seattle, the final stop on the exchange group's tour.

Several Shimizu Board of Education officials visited Chelsea last fall. Because of the community's warm reception during their stay, they decided to organize a student trip here this fall.

Those traveling here are from the villages of Shimizu and Mikage, Japan, communities comparable in population to Chelsea.

During their stay, the guests will be treated to a variety of activities on a busy agenda. They will arrive on the evening of Oct. 10 and attend a brief school reception where they will meet their host families.

Chelsea Families Preparing

As part of their itinerary, the visitors made several special requests, including spending time in "a real American home," attending a foot-ball game and barbecue. They will get to do all three.

Also planned are trips to a Lansing planetarium, museum, a tour of Jiffy Mixes, downtown Ann Arbor and the University of Michigan campus, and a pot-luck dinner in the historic Chelsea railroad depot building.

And they will attend the Oct. 14 Chelsea homecoming football game against Tecumseh, enjoying a tailgate meal beforehand and hot chocolate afterward at a local cafe.

Other group activities will include a hayride, bonfire and hot dog roast.

Arrangements and planning for the exchange visit has been co-ordinated by Beach Middle school principal Darcio Stielstra along with several teachers, volunteers and host families in the community.

The visitors will be staying with the families of these middle school students: John Baird, Kathryn and Brad Harper, Annalise Hofing, Louisa Hubbard, Rachel Mead, Brian Phillips, Emily Taylor, Dan

Wright, Lindsay Williams and Katie

The host students and their guests will jointly attend the field trips and special events, while getting acquainted during their home stays. Stielstra said preparation for the visit has been on-going for the past

And most of his contacts have been with Hiroaki Honsono, a Shimizu school board member. Besides the 10 Japanese students, the chaperones will include two school board members, a school principal and teacher.

Their activities will differ slightly from the students', Stielstra said, visiting and studying a variety of educational institutions and programs.

However, the aim of the visit is to develop cultural ties. That was the goal when the Japanese educators proposed the visit.

"Their request was for some kind of shared community relationship, as sister cities if you will; to learn more about our respective cultures," Stielstra said.

As of now, there are no plans for a reciprocal visit by Chelsea students. But Stielstra notes, "I don't know that that won't happen."

Domestic Dispute Leads to Stabbing Incident, No Charges

A Chelsea man who was stabbed by his girlfriend during an early morning altercation on Sept." 23, called it "no big deal" and declined to press charges.

Police were called to the apartment of the victim after his girlfriend stabbed him with a 13-inch steak knife that opened a superficial wound in his arm, according to police reports.

The victim had reportedly been fighting before the stabbing incident. Their arguments allegedly escalated when the victim continued smoking a cigarette in his girlfriend's presence after she'd asked him to put it out because she was feeling ill.

When he failed to do so, she took it from him and stubbed it out, prompting a fight between the two. After the woman was shoved against the refrigerator, she allegedly grabbed a knife and cut the victim, police said.

After noticing blood on the victim, she called 911 sending police and an ambulance to the scene.

The man was treated for the cut, but declined to talk about the incident with police. And he refused to

30-Year 4Max ARM

5.95% rate

8.498% APR

Why didn't Mary Schroer vote to keep guns out of our schools?

On September 21, State House Republicans and Democrats voted overwhelmingly to protect our children by automatically expelling students who carry guns and other weapons to school.

Out of 110 State Representatives, Mary Schroer and just 22 others voted against that bill. Yet her own campaign literature says "...we must make getting guns out of the hands of youngsters a top priority."

Marty Straub believes that there's a time and place for guns. School is not one of them. On November 8, elect Marty Straub your new 52nd District State Representative, a real candidate who's on our side - for a change.

Most adjustable rate mortgages can jump 6% over the life of the loan. Ouch. Not the case with our 4Max ARM, which can jump no more than 4%. And as a homeowner, you'll save money with lower monthly payments the first year. Ahhh, much better.

Typical APR (annual percentage rate) includes interest on loan and other fees. and is based on a $100,000 loan with an 80% loan-to-value ratio. The APR may increase after closing, interest rates and terms are subject to change at any time

Stolen Vehicle Recovered in Jackson City

Three days after a car was reported stolen from a parking lot at Chelsea Community Hospital, it was recovered in Jackson, according to Hospital employee Nancy Syrowik found her 1989 red Ford Bronco missing from its parking spot near the emergency room entrance at about 10:50 p.m. on Sept.

Syrowik had gone to the vehicle during an evening break from 6:10 to 6:25 p.m.

But when she left the car, she apparently forgot to remove the keys from the ignition, she told police. Last Friday, the Bronco turned up in Jackson. It was recovered and returned to Jackson police headquarters. No details were released on the vehicle's recovery.

But it reportedly sustained damage to its drive shaft, and Syrowik said five cassette tapes were missing along with some unmailed letters.

GARDEN CORNER

O. When do I harvest Jerusalem artichokes?

A. Harvest tubers after heavy frosts in late fall or before new growth starts in early spring. Tubers left in the soil over winter and not harvested in spring will produce new plants.

Q. How do I know my winter squash are ready for harvest?

A. The rind will be quite hard and in most cultivars, the area where the fruit rests on the soil changes from greenish cream to rich orange.

Pioneer Day Slated At Farm Museum

Waterloo—The Waterloo Area Historical Society takes pleasure in inviting its friends to the annual Pioneer Day harvest celebration to be held Sunday, Oct. 9 from 12 to 5 p.m.

This special event will encompass three essential components of life in the late 1800s: home and farm, church, and school.

The Waterloo Farm Museum, located at 9998 Waterloo-Munith Rd. (3 miles NW of the village of Waterloo in the Waterloo Recreation Area) will come alive with artisans and craftsmen eager to demonstrate spinning, dried flower arranging, horse shoeing, wood carving, cider making, scherenshnitte, pottery making, beekeeping, basketmaking, wheatweaving, and broom making.

Artists, musicians, a storyteller, farm animals, Civil War re-enactors, tractors and engines, will delight, entertain, and instruct.

Self-paced tours of the 10-room Victorian farmhouse are also offered.

A visit to the farm would not be complete without a leisurely, horse drawn wagon ride down a tree-lined road.

While at the farm museum, please take the opportunity to purchase a Waterloo Area Historical Society membership or renew an existing membership.

Parking and admission to the farm museum grounds are free.

Depression Screening Day Slated Thursday

Mental health professionals from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor VA Medical Center and Washtenaw County Community Mental Health are joining together to offer local residents the opportunity to learn about the signs and symptoms of childhood, adolescent and adult depression and to participate in a free screening as part of National Depression Screening Day, Thursday, Oct. 6.

This free program will be held in the Community Room at Briarwood Mall from Noon-8 p.m. on Thursday, National Depression Screening Day, which highlights Mental Illness Awareness Week, was developed by Harvard psychiatrist, Dr. Douglas Jacobs. Last year, this four-year-old national effort attracted more than 56,000 people to 1,300 sites across the country. Nearly 200 people were screened at four sites in Washtenaw county alone. National Depression Screening Day inaugurated the concept of screening for a mental illness.

Participants at the Depression Screening will hear a brief talk on the causes, symptoms, and treatments of depression in children, adolescents and adults, followed by a short video. Individuals will complete an anony-

"We hope that this effort to provide mental health screening for depression will educate members of our community about the signs and symptoms of depression and encourage those suffering from depression to seek evaluation and treatment," said Dr. Gregory Dalack, assistant professor of psychiatry at the University of Michigan and chief of the Mental Health Clinic at Ann Arbor VA Medical Center.

Stolen Pets Often Sold in Black Market

How many of us let our dogs and cats outside to roam unattended, or give up pets we cannot keep through "free to good home" ads in our local newspaper? With the best of intentions, too often we become the easy prey of pet thieves who sell as many as two million stolen pets each year into a vast black market.

According to the shocking new book "Stolen for Profit: How the Medical Establishment is Funding a National Pet Theft Conspiracy," many beloved pets wind up in puppy mills, dog fighting rings, satanic cults, and biomedical research laboratories. Companion animals who trust humans are naturally the most desirable to animal researchers. High-demand animal research has created a multi-million dollar market for stolen dogs and cats, run by a syndicate that is as well-protected as the Mafia.

Our pets are delivered into suffering and death by "dog dealers" licensed by the Department of Agriculture. Unscrupulous dealers, and their unlicensed accomplices known as "bunchers," steal pets from our neighborhoods, buy them from pounds and at huge "dog auctions," and take them from "free to good home" ads, then warehouse them in filthy, disease-ridden kennels where many of them perish prematurely.

The few inadequate laws in place to protect our pets go largely unenforced. It is up to caring pet owners in every community to demand that Congress strengthen and enforce existing laws, so that pet thieves and their accomplices are prosecuted and punished.

To find out how you can protect your pets and help end the national tragedy of pet theft, write to: Pet Theft Project, c/o In Defense of Animals, 816 W. Francisco, Bivd., San Rafael, Calif. 94901. To report a stolen pet or information about pet theft operations in your community, call the National Pet Theft Hotline at 1-800-STOLEN PET.

Bulldogs Shutout Western To Earn Third Straight Win No one will accuse the Buildogs' first one 32 yards to set up Chelsea's appearance of more lightning and of being a football juggernaut.

But after a long, stormy night's journey into day, Coach Gene LaFave's club won its third straight game on Saturday, beating non-conference foe, Jackson County Western, 14-0.

Except for a steady rain and lightning display early in the third quarter on Friday night which initially suspended play for 90 minutes and the game's eventual outcome for 19 hours, there was very little drama in the ho-hum shutout victory.

The Buildogs controlled the serimmage and the game from start to finish, but never looked especially sharp in doing so.

Still, a win is a win. And now with just four games left on its schedule, Chelsea has a chance to coax a third straight Southeastern Conference championship.

But it won't be easy. While the Bulldogs have a shot at deciding their own destiny, they must do it by winning their three remaining league games, starting with Friday's road matchup against Dexter.

It will be homecoming for the Dreadnaughts, who have lost five straight to Chelsea. And Dexter five of 11 for 67 yards and two interwould like nothing better than to bump the Dawgs from conference contention.

Bulldogs have yet to out rush any team they've played this year. And that was the case against Western, which outgained Chelsea by 101 to 78-yard margin on the ground.

But Chelsea was superior to Western through the air, as quarter-back Pat Lynch played pitch and catch with his favorite receiver, Bryndon Skelton, to give his team just enough offense to win the game. The senior wide receiver caught six passes for 127 yards, including a 49-yard TD reception. On defense. Skelton also had a pair of interceptions. He returned the first score. And his second ended Western's final drive.

Lynch, who completed nine of 20 passes for 155 yards, opened Chelsea's scoring with a six yard option run on Friday night.

The five-play scoring drive began at Western's 32, and was highlighted by a 15-yard pass from Lynch to Skelton and a roughing call on another Lynch-Skelton pass. The next day, the senior signal caller hit Skelton with a deep sideline pass to give the Bulldogs all the points they needed against Western. In between, Lynch threw two interceptions, although neither proved disastrous.

That's because Chelsea benefitted from strong defensive line play in the first half, limiting the Panthers to just seven yards rushing.

Despite piling up rushing yards in the second half, most came between the twenties. And although they finished with more than 100 yards rushing, the Panthers had difficulty moving the ball. Their passing game was largely ineffective. Like the Bulldogs, Western managed just 10 first downs. Quarterback Scott Beasley was rain canceled further action Friday.

Following a daylong rain, the skies finally cleared for the game's resumption at 4 p.m. Saturday. And the contest was concluded in just 45 minutes, minus the normal fanfare of cheerleaders, band music and most of the hometown fans. Despite the victory, LaFave was hoping his team would produce more on offense. But he noted that the weather was a factor, as both quarterbacks had problems throwing the ball. "The weather certainly was a major factor. It changed the intensity level" from Friday night to Saturday afternoon, he said.

Still, it's hard to argue with a team's performance when it pitches a shutout. "That's what you want defensively. We're making some big plays,"

But the coach was also concerned about his team's turnovers. "We made a lot of errors. We had three turnovers."

And LaFave knows his team cannot afford a repeat of that if it hopes to compete for the title, now a distinct possibility.

"They had the ball most of the night," said coach Tucker Steele.

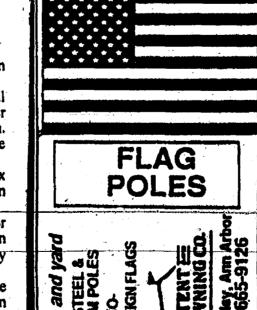

The Bulldogs managed only six first downs all game, and just two in the first half.

Steele said Western's superior size was the difference, especially on its offensive line, which repeatedly knocked the Bulldogs back.

"At this level, it's hard to stop the wishbone offense," which Western employs, Steele said.

Chelsea's John Beeman led the team in rushing with 69 yards, while quarterback Dusty White had an offnight throwing for just 19 yards.

He was continually harassed and sacked six times.

The freshman football team evened its season record at 2-2 with a thrilling come-from-behind 15-14 victory over Lincoln on Sept. 27.

The Bulldogs got on the score-board first when Bob Kranick raced 40 yards on a first quarter sweep. Don Reilly kicked the extra point, putting Chelsea on top 7-0.

That margin held up until late in the second quarter, when Lincoln drove 55 yards in eight plays for a score. However, the Railsplitters were stopped on a two-point conversion try.

And Chelsea took a 7-6 lead into haif.

Lincoln went out in front in the third quarter after downing the second half kickoff at its own one.

Two plays later, the Railsplitters burned the Bulldogs on a 93-yard run. This time, Lincoln hit on a twopoint conversion pass to take a 14-7 pall on the ground with little probem against the Railsplitter defense, hey couldn't put the ball in the end zone until late in the game.

A heavy rush led to a poor punt, setting up Chelsea's winning drive at the Lincoln 35. The Bulldogs scored seven plays later when Reilly ran in from the three. Chelsea then went for two points, and Reilly converted on the same running play as the touchdown, putting the team up 15-14 with 3:54 left in the game.

Chelsea then held Lincoln on four blays after the ensuing kickoff. Taking over on downs, the Bulldogs then ran out the clock for the victory. Coach Bill Bainton was very pleased with the team's effort, noting hat it played with a lot of heart, especially after the Railsplitters scored on the long run.

Bulldogs Fall to SEC Golf Leaders

Chelsea's golf team, facing the Southeastern Conference's two top teams, fell to both during a threeway match last week at Brookside Country Club.

The Bulldogs were upended by Saline and Tecumseh, battling for first in the SEC.

Saline won the Tuesday, Sept. 27 match with a score of 159, while Lecumseh, 173, finished nine strokes better than Chelsea, 182.

The loss dropped Chelsea's record to 4-8 in conference play. Saline is undefeated at 11-0, and Tecumseh is second at 9-1.

The SEC leaders squared off Monday in a match to decide the conference race.

For Chelsea, Adam Beauchamp topped the Bulldog leader board in the team's final league match with a nine-hole score of 40, four strokes over par. That was only one stroke behind Saline's David Ping and Jecumseh's Eric Schlegel who each finished with 39 to share medalist

Eighth Grade Team Wins Pair of Games

The eighth grade girls basketball team, showing signs of improvement, rang up a pair of victories last

While Chelsea led only by two points at half against Milan, it broke open the hard-fought contest in the second half to win going away.

Miranda Harris, Kristin Ellis and Katie Royce led a balanced scoring attack with five points each.
Amanda McConeghey had four points, while Lisa Zimmerman and Amanda Tarantowski each had three points.

Also scoring were Amy Bergman, Karen Kuhl, Katy Long and Karessa Johnson, each accounting for two points.

Other members of the eighth grade team are Margaret Schick, Jenna Sparaco, Karla Dettling, Jenna Hall and Rachael Zincke.

Tecumseh Beats Chelsea's U-12 Soccer Team 2-1

Despite taking an early 1-0 lead against Tecumseh last Saturday, the Under-12 Chelsea soccer team wound up losing the game, 2-1.

Tecumseh scored two unanswered goals after Kent Rheames had put Chelsea on top.

Charles DeGryse was in goal for
Chelsea, which saw its record fall to 2-3 on the season.

The team's next game is this Sunday at 3 p.m. against Adrian at Immanuel Field.

CUP WINNER: Bill Bainton of Chelsea is shown holding the firstplace trophy he earned for winning the Dr. Williams No Protest Cup race held over Labor Day week-end. The annual event is a 16-mile sailboat competition on Lake Michigan.

Chelsea Family Crews Small Sailboat to Historic Cup Victory

Bill Bainton and family have been racing sailboats on Lake Michigan and Pentwater Lake.

But this year, the Bainton crew managed a feat no other had ever performed in the annual Labor Day, Dr. Williams No Protest Cup Race, a 16-mile offshore sailboat competition on Lake Michigan, just off the Pentwater pier head.

His crew not only won the "B" fleet division in a 27-foot Catalina, but also earned the race's over-all competition on corrected time. That

For more than 28 years, Chelsea's marked the first time in cup race history that a "B" fleet boat had achieved that distinction.

> The Pentwater Yacht Club, which hosts the race, has two divisions in the offshore fleet. Boats over 30-feet are in the "A" division, and those under 30-feet are in the "B" division. The race featured 17 boats ranging in size from 25-feet to 42-feet. Bainton was ably assisted in the race by a family crew that included wife, Sue, son, Mike, Daniel Roysen of Ann Arbor and Jeff Hodges of ball team scored a convincing 26-2 win over Milan and then dropped a narrow 18-14 decision to Tecumseh last week.

Lindsay Brink and Patricia Herndon led the team's scoring attack against Milan in the Sept. 26 home game with eight points apiece.

Joceyln Temple, Carrie Harris, Deb Adams, Mora Arnold, and Molly Edman each scored two points." Herndon also had a team-high seven rebounds, while Tracie Kern grabbed five and Liz Menge, four. On the defensive end, the team was led by Lindsay Powers with

In a road contest against Tecumseh on Sept. 29, the team took a 10-7 lead into the half, but managed just two baskets in the second.

Coach Ann Schaffner blamed turnovers and lack of intensity in the loss to Tecumseh.

Herndon scored six points and pulled down six rebounds to lead the team in both departments. Harris had four points and five steals, and Arnold and Deb Postuff added two points each.

JV Girls Basketball Team -Cruises Past Lincoln, 39-13

The junior varsity girls basketball team jumped to a 14-0 first quarter lead and cruised to a 39-13 victory over Lincoln, in a Sept. 27 home

The win moved the team's record to 5-3 on the season and 1-1 in the Southeastern Conference.

Christine Herndon led the team in scoring against Lincoln with 13 points. She also added nine rebounds.

Also scoring for the Bulldogs were Michelle Lucas with eight points, Mellissa Carty, seven, Hilary Spooner, four, Carrie Williams, three, Cindy Richard and Rebekkah Burby, two each.

Richard also grabbed eight rebounds and Lucas, seven.

The key to the victory was running out to the early lead by pressuring the ball upcourt and controlling the boards underneath, said coach Paul Terpstra.

"In the first quarter our inside people scored 10 of the first 14 points. We were able to control the inside game," he said.

"In the second half, everyone got a chance to play, and things got a little ragged." The Bulldogs shot 27 percent from the field and 45 percent from the line on 11 of 24 attempts.

Despite the win, Terpstra said his squad still needs work on ball handling and execution after committing 33 turnovers. "That's way too many."
With Lincoln out of the way, the team faces a difficult four-game stretch starting on Tuesday, when it faced Dexter at home.

After that, are games against Tecumseh, Pinckney and Saline. "Those are four tough games in a row. We'll see how the kids respond," Terpstra said.

Rain Soaks Runners, Not Spirits at Chelsea Invitational

In a steady rain last Saturday, Chelsea's cross country teams hosted the school's invitational at Hudson Mills Metropark in Dexter.

The 11-team meet was run different than most, pitting runners from each school according to class, rather than by squad.

That afforded some freshmen and sophomore harriers valuable experience as they got a chance to compete against kids of their own age and

In the boys' freshmen race, Pinckney had three runners finish in the top 10 to take first place with 16 points. The team was led by Ryan Ran who sped the Dexter course in Dexter's James Burke was the top performer in the sophomore race, but Chelsea took first place with 17 points. The team was led by Ashley Coy (fourth place, 18:06), Tim Lawrence (fifth, 18:18) and Robert Bullock (eighth, 18:35).

The freshmen and sophomore girls contests proved to be the tightest races in the invitational, with defending Class D champion Whitmore Lake barely nosing out Chelsea, 11-10.

Whitmore Lake's Betsy Spear finished first in the race with a time

In the boys' junior competition; Tecumseh was the winner with 21 points, while Chelsea had three top 10 finishes in the senior boys' event to win that race.

Bulldogs Coast To Easy Win Over Lincoln

The Bulldogs coasted to their second straight Southeastern Conference victory last week, overwhelming Lincoln 69-22 at home.

Despite Chelsea's size advantage, Lincoln did a good job of controlling the team's twin towers, Annie Terpristra and Courtney Thompson in the Tuesday, Sept. 27 contest.

The two combined for just 24 points, with Thompson scoring 16 and Terpstra, eight. The 6'1" junior center also grabbed 10 rebounds. But the Bulldogs lit up the Railsplitters from the outside, as Jessica Inwood pumped in 10 points, including two three-pointers. Also hitting from beyond the arc were Thompson, Kate Steele and Kasie Ruhlig. Lincoln's Katie Stetler and Justina Phillips led their team in scoring with six points apiece.

The Bulldogs raced to a 19-6 first quarter lead and expanded it to a 26point margin at the half, 36-10. In the second half, the Bulldogs payred it on, outscoring Lincoln 33-12 in recording the team's seventh win in eight games.

The loss left Lincoln with a 2-7 season mark and 0-1 SEC record.

Chelsea returned to action in a home game Tuesday against Dexter.
