A PAVING PROJECT backed up traffic for several days on Main St. and M-52. In this picture, paving contractor workers slowly guide traffic through the heart of downtown Chelsea last Friday afternoon with the aid of cones, while northbound vehicles wait for congestion to ease.

HEAVY EQUIPMENT: An Ohio-based contractor hired by M-DOT spent several days in the village last week using this machine and others to put down a new asphalt surface and sealant on side streets as part of a joint state and village road project. The work at times snarled traffic during peak commuter hours, causing irate motorists.

Traffic Snarled By M-DOT, Village Project Road Work

A state Department of Transportation contracted M-52 road project can be blamed for last week's commuter snarlup on Main St. that at times slowed rush hour traffic to a crawl through Chelsea.

The good news is that the micro-surfacing project is now complete.

"There's been a lot of irateness" about the road work, said village manager Jack Myers of complaints he'd received about its impact on downtown traffic conditions.

"It's an M-DOT project through town. Traffic has been pretty bad," Myers admitted.

Originally, the Ohio-based contractor was supposed to come in three months ago, working during off-peak week-end hours to surface M-52 and Main St.

But weather problems and other delays moved project work back to last week.

With traffic normally heavy through the downtown area, the construction simply exacerbated it.

As part of the M-52 surfacing, the village also had a sealant put down on East, Middle and Park streets for $16,000, Myers said.

"Originally, they weren't going to do up to the curbs. But we thought it would be good to get the side streets done."

The village also had traffic tape markings put down as a cost-savings from traditional traffic paint.

Crews had recently come in with equipment to grind down road and intersection markings in preparation for that work.

District Voter Survey To Serve as Springboard for Bond Proposal

A Chelsea School District survey of local registered voters last May is the springboard from which school officials expect to launch plans for a major bond proposal calling for construction of a new high school and renovation of other district facilities.

The poll, conducted by School Public Relation Consultant Services of Menominee and Williamston took place over a three-day period in May. As part of the survey, 368 people were interviewed, with 42 percent of the sampled group comprised of voters with children currently attending Chelsea schools.

The second major subgroup listed as non-parents was made up of 58 percent of voters with no personal ties to the district. They either included those who have pre-school age children only, no school age children or whose children are enrolled in other schools.

The survey's over-all sampling error was plus or minus five percent, with a slightly higher percentage for sampling error within the two smaller sub-groups.

As the district finances to unveil plans for a bond issue to finance construction of a new high school, renovate the existing facility on Washington St. and other district schools, the survey results give school officials a good place to start in evaluating public sentiment.

The survey shows that four out of 10 voters (40 percent) recognize there is a shortage of classroom space in Chelsea schools, while three percent believe there is a shortage "in some of the buildings."

Among the subgroups, 56 percent of the public school parents compared with 28 percent of the non-school parents believe there is a classroom shortage.

Another two of 10 (23 percent) think there are sufficient classrooms for the number of enrolled students, while 34 percent, particularly those with no children, admit they don't know the capacity or enrollment in local schools.

Voters who have been in school buildings the past few years recognize a classroom shortage more keenly than those who haven't visited them (47 percent versus 19 percent).

And elementary (60 percent) and middle school parents (69 percent) recognize a shortage significantly more than high school parents (41 percent).

On whether voters would back a future bond issue, voters in the sample responded this way: Six out of 10 (59 percent) said they would vote "for" a bond issue that contained improvements to fill an existing need.

The question was put this way to respondents: "If the district presented a bond issue to voters next year, for those improvements where you feel a need exists—do you think you would vote for it, or against it?"

Chelsea Festival of Lights Slated for Friday, Dec. 2

Mark your calendars now for the annual Chelsea Festival of Lights on Friday, Dec. 2.

The Festival of Lights is always a popular event that helps start off the official holiday season.

This year's events will begin at 6:30 p.m. with the lighting of the Rotary Tree of Lights at Pierce Park and Santa Claus' first appearance of the season.

The Living Creche, sponsored by the Chelsea Area Ministerial Society, will be presented on Main St., near McKune Memorial Library. Santa Claus will hear the little ones' wishes at the UAW Hall, with complimentary photos by Dayspring Gifts.

Area stores will be open for evening browsing.

The Festival wraps up at 9 p.m. with the All-Community Sing at the Chelsea Depot.

More fun events are planned, so be sure to be in Chelsea on Dec. 2!

School District Will Unveil Bond Proposal For New High School

Plans for the largest capital improvement project in Chelsea School District history will shortly be unveiled by school officials.

They will soon be proposing bond-financing for a new high school, conversion of the existing facility for elementary school use, and other district building improvements.

School superintendent Ed Richardson, who has already met with select community leaders for a preliminary briefing on the proposal, says administration and Chelsea school board members will meet with a group of 100 on Oct. 18 to review the matter.

According to Richardson, no bond plan will be advanced until it is fully endorsed by the board.

Depending on when that occurs, Chelsea residents could be asked to vote on the issue by next June, possibly in conjunction with a planned school board election.

As currently proposed, plans call for rebuilding the high school on a 50-acre district-owned site on the corner of Freer and Trinkle roads, not far from the current campus.

The existing structure would be "retrofitted" for use as another elementary school.

At the same time, upgrading electrical service and mechanical systems at the district's remaining school buildings, Richardson said.

Under the plan, there would be no additional development of high school athletic fields for football and track, although new soccer, baseball and softball fields might be proposed.

The current gym would be turned over for community use, while Niehaus Field would remain the home of Bulldog football games and track meets, along with other school events such as graduation.

The improvement package will be expensive, running in the multi-million dollar range, Richardson said.

Although officials have met with architects on the project proposal, there are no hard numbers available yet.

"We don't know the scope of the bond," he said, although suggesting it could be similar to a $26 million school bond issue approved by Dexter voters in the fall of 1993.

If adopted by voters, the district improvements would be repaid over 20 years or more.

The superintendent said the bond issue is being sought to solve a number of school building problems.

They include a lack of classroom space, heating and cooling and electrical system inefficiencies in most facilities, especially at Chelsea high school.

The high school, designed and built in California campus style in the late 1950's with outdoor walkways linking school buildings, is costly to heat in winter and impractical for future enrollment needs, school officials say.

By the close of the century, student enrollment at the high school is expected to climb by nearly 200, rising from 780 to 990 students, fueled by growth in the district's elementary schools.

Currently, both North and South elementary schools are operating far above design capacity and staffing, each by more than 100 students.

And even if there is no change in district enrollment or residential growth through the end of the century, there will be insufficient space for the projected student growth at the high school.

"So, we're running out of space, bottom line," Richardson said.

Two years ago, when the district proposed a bond for a new elementary school, voters defeated it.

While aware of that, school officials say this plan would satisfy the need for a new high school and additional elementary school space, a combined proposal which residents have indicated they would support.

Last spring, Chelsea residents were surveyed on school needs, with 40 percent of those polled saying they would back construction of a high school.

Only 30 percent of those surveyed said they would favor building an elementary school.

From that presumed level of public support, school officials plan to campaign for adoption of the district-wide improvements and bond passage.

Entries Sought for Holiday Song Contest

The December holidays are quickly approaching, with lots of celebrations and, of course, singing. Do you have an idea for a holiday song that's unique to Chelsea?

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a contest to find the best holiday song, written with Chelsea in mind! The carol can be set to original or traditional music (no copyrighted music, please), and all lyrics must be original.

Members of the Chelsea Area

Chamber of Commerce will award a cash prize to the holiday song that best illustrates Chelsea past, present or future.

Send a tape (no written lyrics, please) of your Chelsea Holiday Song Contest entry to the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, 114 N. Main St., Chelsea 48118 by Nov. 21.

The winning entry will be announced at the annual Festival of Lights Community Singalong on Dec. 2.

RENOVATION WORK continued on the front porch at McKune Memorial Library last week. The Library Board is seeking to rebuild the library's front entrance to resemble the building's historical appearance. The project is expected to be finished in November.

McKune Library Renovation Work Tied to Historic Preservation Goal

Renovation work on McKune Memorial Library's front porch continues, with completion expected sometime in late November.

The project was motivated primarily by concern for public safety, according to library board member Dayle Wright.

Most of the balusters supporting the cement railing around the perimeter of the porch had fallen, and cracks in its flooring raised concern about structural integrity.

Looking at possible repair costs ranging from $15,000 and $20,000, the Library Board decided to proceed with porch reconstruction that also met its long-term goal of rebuilding the structure according to its original appearance, Wright said.

Although the $47,000 renovation cost is more than a simple structure repair job, the plan was considered more cost-effective because of anticipated higher costs for stone work at the base of the porch, Wright said.

Plans for library expansion, show the porch as a simple entryway, replicating the historic appearance of the building which did not have a full-length front porch.

When expansion occurs, that entry will be purely decorative. It will be replaced by a barrier-free entrance required by guidelines under the Americans With Disabilities Act.

Unfortunately, Wright notes, the porch renovation couldn't be modified to meet those regulations.

Meanwhile, the library now has a book deposit box so patrons can return books after library hours. New library director Ann Holt borrowed the deposit box from the Jackson District Library system, her former employer, for more convenient book returns.

The book deposit is located at the temporary rear entrance of the library. Library officials have asked the village to assist in putting in lighting on the north and rear sides of the building.

Wednesday, Oct. 10, 1990—

In what may mark the final stop in a long journey for Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority, a public hearing will be held Tuesday, Oct. 30 on amendments to the DDA's tax increment financing plan. The plan has taken various forms over the last couple of years and recent developments may make it as much a property-purchasing plan as a beautification plan.

Zoning items dominated the agenda of the Chelsea Village Council last Tuesday, Oct. 2. Council officially approved the establishment of a separate zoning board of appeals, although the vote was not unanimous. The zoning board would decide all variances as well as special rule on decisions by the zoning inspector.

The village fall pick-up last Saturday ended up costing the village more than $10,000, although some of it is a matter of number juggling. According to figures compiled by the village, $6,326 should be transferred from the general fund to the landfill fund to cover the cost of burying the trash in the village landfill. The figure represents the amount the village would have collected had the rubbish come from another source.

Waterloo Historical Society will host its annual Pioneer Day celebration at the Waterloo Farm Museum on Sunday, Oct. 14. This exuberant fall festival recalls a time when the season played a more critical role in day-to-day living and presents, by demonstration, some of the skills necessary to take advantage of the harvest's bounty.

Budget Cutbacks May Be Hurting U.S. Defenses

Only three years after flying missions during the Gulf War, Navy Commander Lee Holbrook's squadron of EA-6B "proowler" aircraft, the 132nd Tactical Electronic Warfare Squadron, has been grounded. What's the problem? They've run out of gas money!

By Philip C. Clarke

Wishful thinking to the contrary, the end of the Cold War has not ushered in a new era of peace. Old ethnic rivalries have flared into bloody conflicts. Thousands are dying in the killing fields of Rwanda, Bosnia, Moldova, Azerbaijan, Tajikistan and Sudan, to name but a few. The United States has assumed the role, for good or for ill, of a "global cop," or international angel of mercy, and now has more operations going on overseas than it had at the end of the Cold War.

America's uniformed men and women are being asked to spend more time overseas on duty for less pay and job security. For example, the deployment overseas for an Air Force Special Operations Wing used to average between 60 and 100 days per year. It is now double that, and some units have been away from home for more than 200 days. With pay caps on and the threat of being involuntarily severed from the service at any time because of personnel cutbacks, troop morale is suffering.

At a time that operational duties of our armed forces are rapidly expanding, that massive refugee interception efforts are tying down U.S. ships and planes in the Caribbean, and that war clouds continue to threaten the Korean peninsula, the Clinton Administration is conducting the most rapid defense cut-back since the end of World War II.

Commander Holbrook is not the only squadron commander to run out of gas money. Three entire carrier air wings, and a half-dozen anti-submarine patrol squadrons have been grounded after running out of funds for fuel. Earlier this year, a Navy task force found itself out of operational money and stranded in Australia.

Other military services are feeling the crunch, as well. Air Force readiness is down because of a lack of funds for aircraft maintenance; the Army has been forced to curtail troop exercises, and less than 90% of the Marine Corps' equipment is battle ready—the first time this has happened in more than 10 years.

The Clinton Administration's so-called Bottom-Up Review of defense needs was supposed to trim only fat, not muscle. Post-Cold War military forces, though reduced in size, were to have retained the capability to intervene simultaneously in two regional wars, if necessary. Above all, there would be no return of the "hollow military" of the Carter years. "If the military structure under Carter could be termed 'hollow,' the Clinton force structure is going to look downright vacuous," says retired Army Lieutenant General Daniel O. Graham, director of High Frontier, the Washington, D.C.-based pro-defense think tank. "The Bottom-Up Review called for some large cuts in the military, but the Clinton budget falls $150 billion short of even this reduced force level."

For example, the Clinton plan calls for a reduction from 15 aircraft carriers to 12, but only provides enough money for eight. With the shortfall in funding, this means that in real terms the Army is going to be cut by 33%, the Air Force by 44%, the Navy by 48% and the Marine Corps by 29%. How this is supposed to maintain our nation's military readiness escapes me.

Defense planners had been hoping to take advantage of the nation's high-technology lead to make up for reduced troop levels. But this hope, too, is being dashed. Military research and development budgets have been slashed by over 50%, and at least half of the nation's defense research labs are being shut down. Major new programs designed to replace aging weapons systems are being canceled and investment in the next generation of military systems are being put on the back-burner.

"America risks losing its high-tech edge if we do not research new systems," says Graham. "Given the rapid spread of high technology weapons around the world, our soldiers may find themselves fighting foes as well armed or better."

For example, while the Clinton Administration is about to cancel its new F-22 air superiority fighter, some Third World nations are investing in modern Russian SU-27 and MiG-29 fighters that are a match for anything in America's present-day arsenal. By the turn of the century, many of America's front-line fighters will be older than the men and women flying them!

At the end of the Second World War," say General Graham, "we slashed our military forces so drastically that they were unable even to hold off the North Koreans when they blitzed into the South in 1950. We paid a heavy price in American lives because we were not prepared."

Washtenaw Historical Society To Hear About Superior Township

On Sunday, Oct. 16, at 2 p.m., Ina Hanel will discuss her published research of the history and development of Superior township. Appropriately, her talk will be given in the Superior Township Hall, 3040 N. Prospect St., Ypsilanti.

Hanel, who just completed a Masters Degree in Historic Preservation at Eastern Michigan University, is also a geologist by training and previously worked on the origin of gold in northern Ontario.

Hanel has shifted her interests to settlement geography, and has spent the last two years making an inventory of the structures on each section of Superior township.

Her research documented all residential and commercial properties by age and by the ethnicity of the builders. The latter was done to compare developments in Superior township, which was largely settled by Yankees, with developments in Freedom township which was largely settled by Germans.

Her research is not only interesting for its historical information, but is also a useful planning tool for Superior and other townships.

Hospital Auxiliary Plans Holiday Bazaar, Bake Sale on Nov. 4

Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary will hold a "Holiday Bazaar and Bake Sale" on Nov. 4, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Hospital dining room corridor. Proceeds from this event will go toward medically related scholarships. A raffle will be featured with drawings for a queen size quilt, crystal bowl, doll, Common Grill gift certificate, and a large knitted afghan. Crafts, hand knitted and crocheted items, assorted baked goods, including the popular "cookies extravaganza" will also be on sale.

The home-made cookies (could be peanut butter, molasses, chocolate chip, and sugar), lemon bars, pecan pie tarts, chocolate brownies and other tantalizing treats can be purchased for holiday get togethers or in small portions just to eat on the way home.

Common Market Offers Shoppers Uncommon Provisions

Executive chef Craig Common, owner of Chelsea's Common Grill, doesn't believe in doing business in an ordinary way.

And so it only stands to reason that he wouldn't run a garden variety supermarket.

No, the Common Market, is anything but that.

His new Main St. business had been slowly building curiosity and customer interest since renovation work began in July on the corner storefront shop, formerly housing Schneider's Grocery, a local institution for more than 70 years.

While Common owns the business, he is only leasing the commercial property, which remains in the hands of the Flintoft family, the building's owners.

As workers painted, added lighting and the business name, while redoing the interior this summer under a design created by the Birmingham-based Peterhansrea architectural firm, passers-by would peer inside.

And restaurant patrons would ask when the new place would open, says Common Market general manager Larry Fogarty.

Soon, came the indefinite response.

In fact, "opening soon" became the watchword message of the only advertising that Common ran in this paper and the Ann Arbor News before his store actually opened its doors at noon on Thursday, Sept. 29.

Despite the inauspiciously announced start-up, it had the desired effect. The pent-up demand was palpable with customers ready and waiting.

"Business has gone real well, great!" says Fogarty.

"The real reason behind the unannounced opening, however, was more perfectionist concern than marketing genius."

"We wanted to get open and work out the bugs, first," Fogarty said, pointing out that a planned grand opening is still a few weeks away.

But one glance around the market suggests little reason for operational worry.

A sharp, well-lighted place, the store features green and white vinyl tiled floors, white-tin ceiling and a simple commercial mission: "The basic goal is to provide the best quality produce, fruit, meats and seafood in the Washtenaw county area," Fogarty says.

The market's appearance combines trendy flourishes (exposed brick and track lighting) in a general store motif (green-stained wood produce racks, baskets and old-fashioned ornamental signage).

As customers enter, they are greeted by appealing freshly-cut flowers and the aroma of an espresso bar with lulling classical music playing in the background.

Right away, you know this isn't your average supermarket, even though it offers all the staples, fruits, vegetables, baked goods, dairy, meat products and deli service items you'd expect to find in one.

Uncommon provisions, reads a sign on the east wall, using word play on the owner's name to convey the market's distinctive and eclectic food theme.

There is no mistaking that. The store provides a feast for the eyes and palate, offering a wide selection of gourmet and niche products from the U.S. and overseas.

The store also plans to offer as many local, regional and state products as it can. It now stocks a variety of Michigan dried fruits, area micro-brewed beers and specialty pastas and sauces from a Birmingham company.

Most likely the average shopper won't be stopping here to buy the family's weekly groceries. But you could be drawn there almost daily to pick up something for an evening meal or special event.

Let's say you need some pine nuts, mixed baby greens, tangerines, a bottle of Australian Chardonnay, Asagio cheese, sea salt, fresh fennel, truffle mousse, key lime cheesecake, or Canadian pickerel, hey, no problem.

Crazy about olives? Five varieties are on sale, from Greek to French Picholine. Need some mushrooms? You have a choice from Shitake to Portobello.

What color pepper are you looking for, green, yellow, red or orange? The store carries all four. Need a special sauce for vegetables, salad or pasta? How about trying some Porcini Mushroom oil.

Can't find Marsala wine to flavor that veal piccata or a bottle of Madeira for dessert, both are available at Common Market, sharing nearby shelf space with Dom Perignon champagne, priced at $99.95 a bottle.

It's really a place where a chef might shop.

"We don't want to do what everyone else is doing," Fogarty says.

The idea for the market was conceived a year and a half ago.

With Common Grill averaging some 15,000 customers a month, and daily traffic on Main St. averaging 20,000 cars a day, working out the business math for the upscale convenience market was a no-brainer.

Like any other entrepreneurs, Common, 43, and Fogarty, 32, looked around, saw no one filling the need for a local specialty grocery, and decided to start one.

The two met four and a half years ago. Their relationship began with a casual conversation while Common was getting a carpet estimate at a local store where Fogarty worked at the time.

Soon after, Fogarty started as a waiter at Common Grill, before working his way into management.

That beginning is not unlike Common's, who apprenticed in the kitchen of a Chuck Muir restaurant, eventually moving from line cook to executive chef.

The market seemed a perfect segue from the restaurant business.

"We saw the traffic that goes by here everyday. We're not stupid. We just saw what this town was missing. There's no reason to go to three different places to shop for everything you want, if you can get it at one," says Fogarty.

So he and Common traveled around the Detroit metro area visiting similar types of store operations for ideas in running their own.

"It's always going to be changing, evolving," Fogarty said. The store plans on offering extensive product samplings, and relying on customer advice for new products and services.

Fogarty says he's working 16 hours a day to get Common Market off the ground. But the hard work and early business appeal is paying off.

Already, the store is developing steady local customers, with a number of familiar faces from the restaurant, he says. "It's a little hometown gathering," Fogarty said.

SHOPPERS BROWSE at the newly-opened Common Market on Main St. The market offers basic grocery staples plus a wide selection of gourmet items, meats, seafood, deli products, wine and liquors. The market is the latest venture of Chelsea chef and restaurant owner, Craig Common.

PRODUCE INSPECTION: Common Market general manager Larry Fogarty checks over produce at the store. Fogarty says the goal of the store is to make it the best of its kind in western Washtenaw county, providing the widest assortment of seasonal produce, high-quality meats and gourmet items as possible.

Internships Offered Women Re-Entering Today's Job Market

The Center for the Education of Women at the University of Michigan is offering a program of administrative internships that will begin in January 1995. The internships are short-term (12-24 weeks) project-oriented work experiences sponsored by a variety of units at the U-M and various community agencies and businesses.

Women who are interested in re-entering the job market or changing career direction with at least a bachelor's degree, an interest in developing marketable, transferable skills, and who are not currently in the middle of an educational program are eligible and encouraged to apply.

All internships pay an educational stipend of $1,440 for 240 hours of work (20 hours per week for three months). Longer internships are paid proportionately more. In addition to the stipend, these internships provide the opportunity to gain self-confidence in a work setting, to refresh old skills and learn new skills, and to receive a letter of recommendation.

Descriptions of the various internships will be available at CEW after Oct. 1, and should be read before applying. These descriptions may be purchased at the Center for $1 or mailed for $2. Application letters and resumes must be received by Nov. 2.

CEW is located at 330 E. Liberty St., Ann Arbor 48104.

For more information about this program and the application procedure, please contact the Center for the Education of Women at 998-7210.

Brown Bag Book Club Meets Oct. 10 At McKune Library

McKune Memorial Library's Brown Bag Book Club, which meets on the second Monday of each month from June to November, held its fifth meeting on Monday, Oct. 10. Discussion leader Daphne Hodder reviewed the Pulitzer Prize winning novel A Thousand Acres by Jane Smiley. The group meets from 11:45 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. upstairs at the Library.

The club's lunch hour format includes the review and discussion of a book selected by a club member or a special guest. It is not necessary for participants to have read the selection.

A non-fiction book titled The Language Instinct by Steven Pinker, professor and director of the Center for Cognitive Neuroscience at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been selected by club member Ann Feeney for the Nov. 14 meeting.

The Brown Bag Book Club is sponsored by Friends of McKune Memorial Library. Anyone interested in joining the group should bring a brown bag lunch to the Woman's Club Room, upstairs at the Library on Monday.

WATERLOO FARM MUSEUM was swarming with people Sunday afternoon for the annual Pioneer Day exhibition showing how our ancestors lived in the old days. The Farm Museum is operated by Waterloo Historical Society from spring until late fall each year. They also sponsor a Christmas show each December. It is located about three miles northwest of Waterloo on Waterloo-Munith Rd.

ABE LINCOLN, alias Bill Ames, Washtenaw County agriculture agent, and his wife Linda drew many surprised looks as they wandered the grounds Sunday at Waterloo Farm Museum. The occasion was the annual Pioneer Day sponsored each October by the Farm Museum.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, Nov. 3, 1960—
Last Friday evening, Chelsea High's Bulldogs earned at least a share of the 1960 Washtenaw Conference title by overwhelming a stubborn Dexter eleven, 40-6. The victory was achieved before a Dad's Night crowd of close to 2,000 spectators.

McKune Library New Book List

The Children's Room at McKune Library has added some new titles to their collection which include:

"Your Dog's Wild Cousins," by Hope Ryden. In which the author compares her own pets to their 15 wild cousins within the dog family.

"Town Mouse and Country Mouse," retold by Jan Brett with an unusual twist to this old favorite. Suspense and humor combined with Ms. Brett's wonderfully detailed artwork make this a beautiful retelling.

"The Magic School Bus in the Land of the Dinosaurs," by Joanna Cole. Ms. Frizzle's class is exploring again! This time the trip involves a tour of the Triassic, Jurassic and Cretaceous periods.

New books for older students include:

"Father Water, Mother Woods," By Gary Paulsen provides us with essays recounting adventures through the seasons along the rivers and in the woods of northern Minnesota.

"Julie," by Jean George is the sequel to the Newberry-award-winning Julie of the Woods. This time Julie has decided to return to the modern world, a decision that affects both her father and the wolf pack that had treated her as one of their own.

"Deep Sea Explorer, The Story of Robert Ballard, Discoverer of the Titanic," by Rick Archbold. In search after search for the wreck of the most famous of lost ships, Dr. Ballard found nothing, until...

"Across America on An Emigrant Train," by Jim Murphy follows the journey made by the young Robert Lewis Stevenson from Scotland to California. Photographs, engravings and lithographs add to the unique and lively historical look at the building of the transcontinental railroad.

"We're playing like, you know, the Pops."

FITNESS EQUIPMENT DEDICATION: North school students, Chelsea Hospital administrators, State Representatives, School Board members and the PTN were on hand for a special dedication ceremony of the new fitness equipment Friday at North Elementary school. Project Fit, a National 501 charity, funds K-12 school programs that aim to make

CORY BROWN, University of Michigan track athlete and former North school student, talked to North school students last Friday, Oct. 7 at the Project Fit America Dedication. Chelsea Community Hospital donated the fitness equipment. State Representative Mary Schroer, Chelsea schools superintendent Edward Richardson, Chelsea School Board president Jane Deising, and hospital administrator Will Johnson were in attendance for the special dedication ceremony.

Voter Survey

The breakdown showed seven out of 10 public school parents (71 percent) would vote in favor while only 50 percent of those with no children in the district would vote in favor of it.

In order to pass a bond issue, 31 percent of all respondents said the district would have to prove or convince them of overcrowding problems. The figure was only slightly higher (33) for non-parents than public school parents (29 percent).

Of those sampled, 22 percent said voters should be informed in detail on the facts and figures of the bond proposal. The figure for public school parents (24 percent) was just a bit higher than for non-school parents (20 percent).

Setting priorities and being clear about issues and costs were regarded as important factors in passing a bond plan according to 13 percent of those surveyed.

On specific building questions, 40 percent said they would vote for a new high school and 30 percent for an elementary school.

That is also the breakdown of voter response to the bond proposal the school district is planning to unveil.

Four of ten voters (40 percent) say they prefer to build a new high school, and use the current high school as an upper elementary school for grades four and five.

Within the subgroups, nearly half of the public school parents (47 percent) prefer that option as opposed to 36 percent of non-parents.

Three of 10 voters (30 percent), including 32 percent of public school parents and 29 percent of the of non-parents, prefer building an elementary school for grades four and five.

In the remaining mix, are seven percent who wouldn't select an option, six percent who want a different one, three percent who prefer the least expensive, 11 percent who are undecided, and two percent who declined to respond.

Business Technology Expo Slated Oct. 21-22

The all-new Business & Technology Expo, hosted by the Ann Arbor Area Chamber of Commerce, will be held Friday, Oct. 21, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 22, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the University of Michigan Sports Coliseum, Ann Arbor.

Over 100 exhibitors will be showcasing Washtenaw county's finest retailers, manufacturers, technology firms and service providers. There is no admittance charge and plenty of free parking is available.

For directions and further information, call (313) 665-4434.

Humane Society Hosts Bowl-A-Thon on Nov. 19

Get out that bowling ball and help promote animal welfare in the community by participating in the Humane Society of Huron Valley's (HSHV) Second Annual Fur Bowl. The bowlathon will take place at Colonial Lanes Bowling Center, 1950 S. Industrial Highway in Ann Arbor, on Saturday, Nov. 19. Check-in will begin at noon, followed by three games of bowling from 1 to 4 p.m.

Proceeds from the bowlathon will directly benefit the homeless and abused animals housed at the HSHV shelter in Ann Arbor. The Fur Bowl is open to bowlers and non-bowlers alike with participants soliciting donations from friends, family, and co-workers. Prizes will be awarded at the Fur Bowl for raising the greatest amount of money for the animals. Pledges are due the day of the event in order to be eligible for prizes. This year's Grand Prize is three days at Grand Traverse Resort Village, Grand Traverse Bay, courtesy of Carlson Travel Network, Dearborn.

Pre-registration is necessary. All registration fees and forms must be received by Tuesday, Nov. 1. A registration fee of $10 per bowler covers three games of bowling, shoe rental, a 1994 Fur Bowl gift, and entry in the "Mystery Game" contest. Bowlers may form their own teams of four bowlers per lane; however, all registration fees and forms must be submitted together.

So, if bowling and animals are right-up-your alley, and you'd like a registration form or further information, call the Humane Society at (313) 662-5585, ext. 113, Monday through Friday.

The Humane Society of Huron Valley is a private, non-profit organization dedicated to the prevention of cruelty to animals. The shelter is open for pet adoption seven days a week from noon until 6:00 p.m.

The Fur Bowl event is chaired this year by Laurie Barks of Ypsilanti.

Changes Sought Endangered Species Reform Legislation

Reforming the Endangered Species Act (ESA) is one of the prime goals of Farm Bureau and a coalition in Washington, D.C.

Congress is beginning to hear the horror stories of people running into conflicts with the ESA, according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau. "The move is on to a common-sense, reality-based reauthorization of the ESA," he said.

Farm Bureau is part of the National Endangered Species Act Reform Coalition, and committed to four major reforms in the ESA: determining which species should be protected must be based on sound science and subject to peer review; the act must be implemented in the open with maximum opportunity for public comment; the socio-economic impact of proposed ESA decisions must be fully considered and the options with the least adverse socio-economic impacts must be selected; and private property rights, including water rights, must be fully protected and compensation must be provided where the use and value of property has been diminished substantially by the ESA.

"If somebody is going to lose the value of their land for society's goals, then the public should bear the cost of that goal," said Almy. "Only then will we be able to get a true measure of the cost of the ESA." Reauthorization of the ESA has been put on hold until the next Congress. Farm Bureau is supporting a recently introduced bill that would prohibit any further listing of endangered species or habitat creation until that act is reauthorized.

Nature Programs Slated Saturday At Hudson Mills

Two nature programs will be held at the Activity Center of Hudson Mills Metroparks near Dexter.

"The Bounty of Fall—Nuts, Berries and Seeds," a look at the fruits of the season, comparing and contrasting their characteristics such as size, color, edibility, dispersal methods and more, will be held Saturday, Oct. 15 at 10 a.m. Pre-registration is required.

"Make Your Own Cider." Bring your apples, containers and muscle power, and take home some delicious cider during this program to be held Saturday, Oct. 15. Appointments for using the press can be made for times between 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Bring a maximum of one bushel of apples and two, one-gallon containers. Farmers Could Lose Health Insurance Tax Deduction

The demise of health care reform in Congress may spell doom for the 25 percent income tax deduction for health insurance premiums paid by farmers and other self-employed people. The deduction expired Dec. 31, 1993.

Farm Bureau has championed a 100 percent tax deduction for the self-employed. During consideration of health care legislation this year, all the major proposals (including the Administration's) have contained language either increasing or extending the tax deduction for self-employed people.

Legislation is being introduced to restore the 25 percent deduction for the 1994 tax year, according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau. "Whether or not Congress will enact this in the few remaining days that it will be in session this year remains to be seen," he said. "We are making the argument that this is not a change in existing health care law, it is only an extension of a provision that enjoys broad support."

ical education teacher at the high school and an assistant football coach. Kennedy is orchestra director and strings teacher at Chelsea High. Culver is 6th grade strings and choir teacher at Beach. She lives in Chelsea. Jeanne Hicks-Caselli is a 6th grade block teacher at Beach. She had served as a substitute teacher in Chelsea and as academic tutor. She was captain of her swim team in high school. Four other new teachers were unable to be present Monday. They are Tamara O'Bryant a math teacher at CHS. Regina Kaudstrup is media specialist at Chelsea High. Karen Bertrand is a kindergarten teacher at South school. Christopher Orlandi is mathematics teacher at Chelsea High and also assists in coaching football.

Turkey consumption patterns have changed over the last decade. In 1994, 51 percent of all turkey bought is used in sandwiches; one-third is used as a base dish or the main part of a dish. In 1983, those figures were reversed.

Barkley Briefs Village On Pierce Park Golf Course Development

While work on Washtenaw county parks department's golf course project in Chelsea is proceeding as expected, construction bids have come in higher than expected.

As a result, county parks director Fred Barkley says building plans are being downsized to stay within budget limits.

"Everything has been expensive; bids have come in higher than anticipated," Barkley noted during a recent Village Council briefing on the project.

To compensate for that, the parks department now intends to combine the maintenance and golf cart storage building, rather than build separate facilities for each. The clubhouse may also be cut in size for financial reasons.

"Because our construction costs had run higher than anticipated, we're waiting to make a final determination on the size of the buildings," Barkley said.

When conceived, the project was estimated to cost $3.1 million. And Barkley says he has no intention of exceeding that amount, even if it means making tough decisions on building needs.

"The budget we set couldn't be exceeded. We've modified some of the construction until we know what our costs are relative to the actual construction.

"We were able to negotiate with the low bidder to an amount we could live with. Now, we're talking with the architect about the buildings and landscaping."

He said it "seems sort of dumb" to remove a forest of trees to construct the course and then replant them to improve its appearance and playing condition. But that's the case.

Barkley said the parks department also plans to create an "attractive entrance" for the Pierce Park course, putting in split-rail fencing and plantings along the entry road off M-52.

Despite views to the contrary, Barkley made it clear that the roadway is owned by the parks department and would be maintained by it.

In developing the course, the parks department met several requirements from Sylvan and Lima townships, including providing access off M-52, instead of Old US-12, and not selling alcoholic beverages on site.

Only one major site plan change occurred, he said, that was the acquisition of additional land to accommodate the relocation of buildings because of wetlands restrictions.

The parks department has obtained surface-water discharge and soil erosion permits to meet state and county environmental regulations.

And it has also reached an easement agreement with abutting property owners on the west side of the course, granting them utility access in exchange for a pedestrian easement through their property.

That was sought to provide a future walkway from downtown Chelsea to the course, Barkley said.

In addition, brush is to be cleared around Pierce Lake to make it visible from Old US-12.

Otherwise, work is going as expected. "We're on schedule. Building a golf course is largely moving dirt and planting seed. Nine holes of the course are completely constructed, including the irrigation system."

With seeding finished, the focus will now shift to grow-in maintenance and mowing.

We'll have nine holes open next summer, with the other nine open the following spring.

And when golfers are allowed on the course, they will be paying $16 a round, similar to the fee now charged at the Hudson Mills course, Barkley said.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Dexter Humbles Chelsea in Fitting Homecoming Script

In the afterglow of a shut-out victory over Jackson County Western, Chelsea coach Gene LaFave gave his team a back-handed post-game compliment.

He told his young kids that he loved coaching them in practice during the week, but would just as soon have someone else coach them on game night.

That's because from week to week, the coach isn't sure what kind of performance he can expect from his team—blowout losses or focused victories.

In this up and down season, the Bulldogs once again showed their schizophrenic personality against an arch-rival they have owned for years.

On a gorgeous autumn evening last Friday in Dexter, Chelsea played the role of homecoming guest to humiliating perfection, as the dreaded Dreadnaughts pummeled the Bulldogs, 47-12.

The 35-point drubbing burst the Bulldog's bubble. It essentially knocked them out of the race for the Southeastern Conference crown, and a possible outside shot at a state play-off berth.

The loss wasn't as bad as Chelsea's opening blankings against Mason and Saline, two talented and experienced teams headed for big years.

But it may have been the most stunning loss in LaFave's coaching career. It definitely was in terms of his record against Dexter.

Before last week, his teams had only lost twice to the neighboring school, in 1984 and 1988.

So, the loss snapped Chelsea's five-year winning streak against Dexter and more modest three-game streak built with wins over Milan, Lincoln and Western.

The defeat also marked another negative first: the first time a Dreadnaught team had ever scored more than 13 points in a game against a LaFave-coached club.

Afterward, all the coach could do was shake his head and mutter, "Unbelievable. Unbelievable. We broke down in every phase of the kicking game."

Things started badly on the opening kickoff and went downhill after that, as Chelsea found itself repeatedly victimized by big plays.

The Dawgs, looking to use some early trickery, instead fooled themselves when they fumbled a reverse handoff on the kickoff to Dexter at the 25-yard line.

After a running play lost three yards, Dexter quarterback Paul Burgett hit Brandon Worley on a 28-yard scoring pass. Senior Steve Schwartzberger booted the placement giving his team a 7-0 lead with only 50 seconds gone in the game.

Chelsea responded with an 11-play drive on its second possession and closed the deficit to one point when quarterback Pat Lynch connected with Paul Bragalone on a 5-yard touchdown toss.

But the Bulldogs missed the extra point, and never got closer to Dexter again.

Moments later, Schwartzberger brought the first-quarter scoring to a close when he galloped 87 yards for a touchdown on the following kickoff. His extra point failed. But he got plenty of chances to redeem himself, kicking five of six PAT's while personally accounting for 11 points in the game.

In the second quarter, Chelsea's loss of punter Casey Wescott, who broke his arm in practice last week, began to take its toll.

A pair of shanked punts by backup punter Mike Thayer, including one out of Chelsea's end zone, set up Dexter within easy striking distance of the Bulldog goal line.

And the Dreadnaughts cashed in on each opportunity, despite continually putting themselves in a hole with penalties. They had 11 on the night for 100 yards.

The key series of the contest came after a short punt and two straight penalties moved Dexter back to near midfield. The Dreadnaughts overcame a third and 25 situation with a deep pass completion, giving them a first down at the Chelsea six.

Several plays later, Todd Voskuhl scored on a 2-yard run, expanding the score to 19-6, after a two-point conversion pass failed.

When the Bulldogs failed to move the ball after the next kickoff, a poor punt put Dexter back in business at the Chelsea 13. A 1-yard plunge by fullback Ryan Balcom capped a quick four-play touchdown drive.

However, Chelsea looked like it might cut into the 26-6 deficit before half when it began moving the ball on a series of screens and quick passes to beat penetration and strong pressure from Dexter's defensive line.

But with a first down on the Dexter 40, a Lynch screen pass was intercepted by defensive tackle Wesley Korican who rumbled to the Chelsea 10, where the turnover was quickly turned into seven more Dexter points.

After a holding call moved the ball back, Burgett connected with Worley again for 18 yards and a touchdown on a crossing pattern.

Worley was one of several stars on Dexter's senior-dominated team, making several outstanding diving and leaping catches for touchdowns. He had three on the night, including a 35-yarder in the third quarter, in which he got behind double coverage in the Bulldog secondary.

Chelsea showed brief fire when it went for an on-side kick opening the second half.

The Bulldogs recovered the ball and marched it into the end zone on four plays. The drive featured senior Case McCalla, who caught a 20-yard seam pass, ran a sweep for a first down before scoring on a dive play, while rotating at running back and tight end.

With 10:27 left in the third, the Bulldogs had life. But they couldn't capitalize on the quick TD. They never threatened after that while giving up two more touchdowns.

On a night when Dexter's homecoming featured a Disney theme with a victory slogan, "You'll need more than magic, Chelsea," the visitors couldn't have been more accommodating.

Even Dexter coach Rich Grannis seemed shocked by the outcome, suggesting it was the result of focus on the "rivalry and homecoming."

"We seemed to make the big plays when we needed them. It was our best game offensively and defensively."

"We needed that," he said of the win, putting his team in a position to challenge league-leading Saline at home on Friday.

While the Dreadnaughts' (4-2 over-all, 3-1 SEC) conference hopes are soaring, the Bulldogs (3-2, 2-2 SEC) have come back to earth.

"They beat us," LaFave said. "They made a lot of great plays. They were a confident team once they got on top. I just never expected this," he said.

With Tecumseh in town Friday for homecoming, the Bulldogs must put the embarrassing Dexter loss behind them for another year.

But it's hard to look ahead with little to look forward to.

A TACKLE by Dreadnaught Paul Wisniewski (7) started the game with a quick touchdown, maintained brought Bulldog Bryndon Skelton (2) down. Dexter the lead and posted a 47-12 victory by game's end.

Chelsea Cruises Past Dexter, Tecumseh To Stay Unbeaten in SEC

Chelsea's varsity girls basketball team continued to show why it's on top in the Southeastern Conference, moving down arch-rival Dexter and Tecumseh.

The team's Oct. 4 victory over Dexter was never in doubt as the Bulldogs jumped out to a 16-3 first-quarter lead and pushed it to a 15-point, 31-16 lead at half.

Chelsea also outscored the Dreadnaughts in both quarters of the second half to secure the 59-41 win.

Coach Charlie Waller had worried about playing Dexter (1-8, 1-2 SEC) because the Dreadnaughts started the season playing a tough non-conference schedule.

But his team never gave him reason for concern, as junior center Annie Terpstra scored 20 points and grabbed 11 rebounds to spark the convincing victory, Chelsea's eighth in nine games.

The Bulldogs, undefeated in conference play, faced Pinckney and its standout senior center, Nicole Cushing, in a showdown of SEC leaders at home Tuesday night.

Cushing led her team to a 9-point win over Class A Huron High school last week, scoring 25 points and snaring 11 rebounds, to go with several assists and steals.

In Chelsea's final tune-up before that match, the Bulldogs manhan-dled Tecumseh, 60-44 last Thursday. Courtney Thompson and Terpstra dominated inside, as Chelsea outrebounded the Indians, 42-19.

Thompson, who led the team in scoring with 22 points, hauled down 19 rebounds, matching Tecumseh's team effort.

Terpstra was also a force, getting 19 points and 12 rebounds.

Meanwhile, the Indians were led by Amy Sill who scored 13 points, nine of them on three-pointers. She also had four rebounds, four assists and three steals in a losing cause.

Swimming Team Records State-Qualifying Performances in Loss to Unbeaten Milan

Chelsea's girls swimming team continued to rack up state-qualifying performances while moving its record to 6-1 last week.

In a battle of unbeaten, the Bulldogs lost to Southeastern Conference leader Milan, 118-68, last Thursday after recording a pair of victories over South Lyon, 71-31, and Willow Run, 86-15, in an Oct. 4 double dual meet.

The first three events of the Milan meet in Chelsea's pool produced state-qualifying times, as the 200-meter medley relay team of Kim Grossman, Erin Hack, Kelly Bowers and Carey Schiller combined for a time of 2:03.27, to finish third.

Betsy Schmunk qualified in the 200 freestyle with a first-place finish, and Bowers qualified in the 200 individual medley with a second place finish.

Christine Lonskey, Sarah Broshar, Angie Wilson and Cara Heitman finished fourth in the 200 medley relay, while Erin Armstrong, Beth Vogel, Michelle Dymond and Carrie Smith were sixth.

In the 200 freestyle, Erin Baird placed fifth and Stephanie Wesolowski, sixth.

Broshar was fourth in the 200 individual medley and Beth Vogel, fifth.

In the 50 meter freestyle, Hack took second, Schiller, fourth, and Wilson, sixth.

Lonskey was second in diving, Alicia Vogel, fourth, and Jill Holloway, fifth.

Bowers placed second in the 100-meter butterfly, Heitman was fifth, and Beth Vogel, sixth.

Grossman was second in the 100 freestyle, Schiller, fifth, and Dymond, sixth.

Schmunk was third in the 500 freestyle, Baird placed fifth, and Stephanie Wesolowski, sixth.

The 200 free relay team of Hack, Schiller, Baird and Schmunk finished second. Broshar, Wilson, Dymond and Heitman were fourth, while Hillary Smith, Carrie Smith, Jill Wesolowski and Stacy Melton were sixth.

Grossman took second in the 100 backstroke, Lonskey, fourth, and Armstrong, fifth.

In the 100 breaststroke, Hack was third, Broshar, fourth, and Hillary Smith, fifth.

Grossman, Bowers, Baird and Schmunk captured the 400 free relay; Wilson, Stephanie Wesolowski, Heitman and Lonskey were third and Beth Vogel, Carrie Smith, Wesolowski and Meton, were fifth.

Chelsea Seventh, Eighth Grade Football Teams Open Season

Chelsea's seventh and eighth grade football teams opened their respective seasons on Sept. 20 with home losses against Milan.

The seventh grade team scored its lone touchdown in a 14-6 defeat to Milan on a 60-yard run by Aaron Montero.

The eighth grade team lost 20-8 to Milan, getting its only score on an 8-yard TD pass from quarterback Mark Helms to receiver Rourke Skelton. Mike Holloway followed with a successful two-point conversion run to close out Chelsea's scoring in that contest.

On Sept. 27, the eighth grade team coached by Mark Schneck won on the road, beating Lincoln 20-0.

Chelsea recorded three touchdowns in the shut-out victory with Matt Knight scoring a pair of touchdowns and Holloway the other on a 65-yard run.

Helms also hit Skelton for a two-point conversion after Knight's first touchdown in the third quarter on a 4-yard run.

Cross Country Teams Finish First, Third in Ypsilanti Meet

Jeannie Spink and her sister, Katie, led the Chelsea girls cross country team to a first-place finish in the Ypsilanti Invitational, while senior co-captain Ryan Schultz ran second to pace the boys team in the cross country event last Saturday.

The Spink sisters recorded second and fifth place finishes to catapult the girls team to a 14-point meet victory over second place Ida.

The Bulldogs won the invitational with a low-meet total of 54 points. Jeannie, a freshman, ran the Ypsilanti course in 20:05 while her sister, Katie, a junior, finished with a time of 20:50.

Chelsea's Karen Pieper (13th, 21:38), Meghann Ziegler (15th, 21:42) and Jenny Space (19th, 22:01), all finished in the top 20.

Rachael Schoenberg ran 28th with a time of 22:26 and Sabrina Flannery came in 31st, with a time of 22:37.

Shultz ran an outstanding race to complete the course in just 16:48, one of his best times this season in helping the boys team finish third in the 13-team invitational.

Scott Hawley (8th, 17:15) and Chad Brown (16th, 17:41) also ran strongly for the Bulldogs.

Rounding out the varsity's top seven performances in the competition were Josh Metzler (23rd, 17:57), Tim Lawrence (31st, 18:08), Ashley Cox (35th, 18:14) and Kevin Kolodica (40th, 18:20).

Pinckney won the boys' meet with a score of 58 while Dearborn took second with 60 points. Chelsea was third with 80 points, well ahead of fourth-place finisher, Saline.

Chelsea U-12 Soccer Club Splits Against Tecumseh, Loses to Adrian

Chelsea's U-12 boys team split a pair of games with Tecumseh, and lost to Adrian in soccer club action last week.

Despite an early first-half goal by Chelsea's Kent Reames, the team was beaten in the Oct. 4 road contest against Tecumseh, which scored two second half goals for the win.

Two days later, Chelsea evened things with Tecumseh, downing its No. 2 team by a 3-2 margin.

Chelsea jumped out to a 3-0 lead on goals by Reames, Craig Forshee and Greg Kennedy, and then hung on as Tecumseh scored a pair of goals in the second half.

The team ended the week on a losing note, getting shut-out by Adrian 3-0.

After a scoreless first half, Adrian got all its goals in the second half to defeat Chelsea. Once again, Chelsea goalie Charles DeGryse continued his strong net-minding effort.

The team will face Saline on the road Sunday in its next game.

JV Team Wins Handily Over Dexter, Loses to Tecumseh

In two error-filled games last week, Chelsea's junior varsity girls basketball team split contests against Dexter and Tecumseh.

The Bulldogs had an easy time in beating Dexter at home on Oct. 4, 37-20, and then lost two days later to Tecumseh, 36-26, in a road game.

Chelsea ran off the first 14 points of the game against Dexter and never looked back.

The quick start cushioned sloppy play by both teams throughout the game, as the Bulldogs committed more than 50 turnovers in the victory.

The team was led by Christine Herndon who had 13 points and seven rebounds for game highs in both categories.

Michelle Lucas added seven points and five rebounds, while Cindy Richard chipped in with five points, Melissa Carty, four, and Robyn Raymond and Hillary Spooner, two each.

"We were able to get the ball inside to our inside people for eight of our first 14 points," coach Paul Terpstra said.

While the Bulldogs shot 36 percent from the field on 17 of 47 shots, they were abysmal at the foul line, hitting three of 19 free throws.

Last Thursday night, Tecumseh used a fourth quarter run to put away the Bulldogs in a game that was tight through much of the contest.

After three quarters, Tecumseh held a 20-18 lead over Chelsea, but then went on a 16-8 spurt to ice the win. A pair of three-pointers down the stretch did in the Bulldogs, Terpstra said.

Richard and Herndon shared scoring honors in that game, each accounting for six points. Lucas added five points, Sarah Preuss four, Carrie Williams, three, and Raymond, two.

With 42 turnovers against Tecumseh, an average of more than 10 a quarter, the Bulldogs must improve their ball-handling and execution, the coach said.

"We just got to do something about that," he said.

Chelsea faced its most difficult test of the season Tuesday in a home game against Pinckney. "It's going to be tough. Pinckney is a good team," Terpstra said.

Freshmen Lose to Fowlerville, 36-7

Taking advantage of Bulldog miscues, Fowlerville defeated Chelsea's freshman football team 36-7 last Thursday.

Despite playing the game close through the first half, the Bulldogs saw the game slip away in the second half after committing several costly turnovers.

Fowlerville got on the scoreboard first. But Chelsea responded with a touchdown of its own set up by a 71-yard run by Bob Kranick. Chris Frayer dove in from the one, and after Don Reilly kicked the extra point, narrowed Fowlerville's lead to 8-7.

That was as close as the Bulldogs would get all night. Fowlerville added a touchdown in the second quarter and tacked on a two-point conversion to go up 16-7 at half.

A late first half drive stalled following a penalty after Chelsea moved the ball to Fowlerville's seven yard line. The drive was highlighted by a 25-yard hook-up between Adam Erskine and Chris Hatch, who made a diving catch on the play.

Beauchamp Leads Chelsea to 9th Place Finish in Golf Regionals

Chelsea's Adam Beauchamp posted an 84 at Tomac Woods Golf Course in Albion to help the Bulldog golf team to a ninth-place finish last Friday in the Michigan High School Athletic Association regionals golf tournament.

The team's four members combined for a total 18-hole score of 365, with Ryan Fisher carding a 90, and Josh Bernhard and Jim Tallman each firing a 91.

The tournament was won by Jackson Lumen Christi with a low score of 308. Coldwater was second at 310, and Jackson Northwest was third at 314. Those three schools now advance to the state tournament.

Tecumseh was the top performing team from the Southeastern Conference, finishing fourth at 317.

Dexter placed eighth at 352, Lincoln was 17th at 399, and Milan was 18th at 400.

Chelsea concluded its golf season on Monday with a league tournament at Cascades Golf Course in Jackson.

CHELSEA MUSIC STUDENTS say "one size will not fit all!" Pictured above, Aarohi Batzforfer and Amanda Warren measure for "hopeful" new choir robes! The Chelsea Concert Choir has grown from 43 to 65 students this year and has "outgrown" the number of choir robes available to them! Chelsea Music Boosters will sponsor a "Free Car Wash-a-Thon" Saturday, Oct. 15 from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. at Chelsea State Bank, Chelsea Shopping Center. Music students hope "pledge sheets" will raise enough monies for new choir robes and additional band and orchestra uniforms needed!

Chelsea Color Guard Wins Fourth Straight EMU Title

The Chelsea color guard, continuing a tradition of excellence, took first place in the Eastern Michigan University Band Day color guard competition for a fourth straight year.

It marked the eighth time in 12 years, Chelsea's student-run color guard has either placed first or second in the event.

Under the direction of high school advisor Phil Jones, the unit performed a routine to the song, "Jacob and Sons," from the Andrew Lloyd Weber musical "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat."

Choreographed by guard co-captains Amy Oake, Kim Schnell and Tracy Dufek, the 22-member squad has been rehearsing the routine since band camp in August.

And their hard work paid off when they were rated the top color guard among 30 participating in the Oct. 1 EMU Band Day competition.

The judges' decision was announced during half-time of Band Day festivities.

"I believe the seventh or eighth time the guard has finished in first place, and they placed second the other four occasions," said Chelsea band director Bill Gourley.

Warren Mott took second and Bedford was awarded third place in the competition.

Gourley and Jones cited cohesiveness and teamwork for the unit's outstanding performance record.

The first-place finish was especially rewarding this year because many on the color guard are only first-year members.

In earning this year's title, one opposing color guard member was overheard suggesting the reason "Chelsea keeps winning is because they hire professional choreographers."

The Chelsea parent who heard the remark thanked the person for the tribute to the color guard's hard-working and talented members.

They include juniors Danielle Longe, Nikki Lane, Anna Norton, Brooke Arthur, Rachel Benjamin; sophomores Andrea Myers, Rianne Jones, Erin Longe, Sarah Wilson, Jackie Setta, Shannon Longe; and freshmen Corrine Foytik, G-Jo Pearce, Stacy Schulz, Megan Williams, Carrie Stubbs, Kristen Brink, Krystal Baird, and Melody Smith.

The color guard performs weekly during the football season in conjunction with the Chelsea High school marching band during half-time of home games. It will also participate in a Nov. 7 marching band concert.

Polly's Market Worker Reports Bike Theft

A Polly's Market employee reported the theft of a bicycle valued at $400 sometime before 8 p.m. last Saturday, according to police.

Shannon Armstrong told police he left his bicycle behind the supermarket when he came to work at 11:30 a.m.

He checked it during a 3:30 p.m. break, but found it missing when he was preparing to leave work four and half hours later.

Police said they had no leads in the theft of the yellow Diamondhead model bike.

Athletic Boosters Will Award Truck at Homecoming Game

Chelsea Athletic Boosters have planned several activities to complement the Homecoming festivities Friday, Oct. 14.

The winner of the 1994 Dodge Ram truck will be selected at half-time of the Homecoming game. The Boosters have been selling raffle tickets for months in anticipation of this night. One lucky person will be chosen this Friday night.

Tickets are still available at area stores and will be available at the game prior to the drawing. Only 200 more tickets remain to be sold and the price is $20 per ticket. This is a major fund-raiser for the Boosters.

The Athletic Boosters will have the Concession Stand open with hot dogs, popcorn, hot chocolate, coffee and snacks. The Concession Stand will be running a Concession Special for the evening. A family meal special with 1 large Domino's Pizza (cheese or pepperoni), 4 soda pops with Bulldogs cups, and a touchdown towel for $12. Families coming from the parade can enjoy dinner at the Football field.

Single stem football mums will be on sale. This is an opportunity to say it with flowers to those special dates, moms, grandmothers, and wives. The Boosters Raffle will be held to support individual/team sports. Tickets are available at the game for $1 or 6/$5. The winner takes up to a maximum of $99.

Homecoming is a great time for the School Community to rally together. The Athletic Boosters hope to see you at the parade and at the game for a great evening.

Youth Admits BB Gun Shooting

A Chelsea youth has admitted shooting out the window of a passing car on Main St. shortly before 9 p.m. on Oct. 3.

The youth and a friend were randomly firing a bb gun from several locations in Pierce Park when the incident occurred, according to a police report.

The driver, Gary Moody, was southbound on Main St. and driving past the park when he heard an explosion and the shattering of his passenger door window, he told police.

He immediately stopped the car, and got out to chase the youths who ran into the nearby woods. Spotting two bicycles, but no trace of the youths, Moody went across the street to a gas station to call police.

Tracking footprints left by the youths, police trailed them to a cornfield. But when they couldn't find the suspects, police impounded the two bikes left behind.

After the boys returned to find their bikes gone, they went to Village Hall to file a report on them.

The boys were then questioned about the shooting. That's when the youths, 14 and 12, admitted their involvement, police said.

Finally, the world's answer to weight management...

CitriSlim™
by VAXA

WHY ARE OVER 100 MILLION AMERICANS OVERWEIGHT?
The Truth Revealed!

PROBLEM: Weight Loss & Fat Management

MYTH: To lose weight, all we need to do is simply cut back on the fats we eat and get into an exercise program.

FACT: Dietary fats are not the only contributing cause of weight problems; instead, much of our stored body fat actually comes from an excess of carbohydrates and proteins being turned into stored body fat!

EXAMPLE: You eat a fat-free, 400 calorie meal, and you burn around 75 calories within the first 3 hours of digestion. Did you know that the remaining calories from your meal will eventually be converted into and stored as FAT?

SOLUTION: Use VAXA's CitriSlim, which contains the powerful CitriMax™ form of (-)-Hydroxycitric acid, a naturally-occurring substance from the fruit of the Garcinia cambogia tree, as well as other potent ingredients. (-)-HCA naturally and effectively inhibits the conversion of excess carbohydrates and proteins from being turned into fat. (-)-HCA truly is Nature's Perfect Diet Formula!

OVER 20 YEARS OF SCIENTIFIC STUDIES ON (-)-HCA SHOW THAT (-)-HCA:

INHIBITS FAT SYNTHESIS 40-70%

- decreases synthesis of triglycerides and cholesterol
- aids the body in lowering harmful LDL Cholesterol
- increases glycogen stores, naturally providing more energy
- naturally reduces appetite
- may enhance natural fat burning
- is completely safe to use (as safe as eating oranges!)
- does not cause any side effects; no jitters, nervousness, insomnia, racing pulse, or rapid heart rate because (-)-HCA does not affect the Central Nervous System (CNS)
- will not cause rapid weight gain when discontinued; no dreaded yo-yo effect
- is far more powerful in inhibiting fat production than any other form of hydroxycitric acid
- is convenient and easy to use; take 1 capsule before every meal

As you can see, no other weight management product in history does what VAXA's CitriSlim does!

Call 475-6091 or 1-800-VAXA-734 now and try a bottle just for $29.95 and watch what happens to your waistline over the next 3 weeks!

(Distributor wholesale inquiries welcome! Ask for M. Gray.)

30-Day Money Back Guarantee if not completely satisfied!

Why Weight? You have nothing to lose...but inches!

Girl Scouts

Brownie Troop #82

Brownie Troop #82 met Monday evening, Oct. 10, at 5:45 p.m. at the South School Music Room. All 14 Brownies were present, as well as leaders Jan Fedele and Nancy Myers.

The girls made name tags, then went outside on the South school playground to make nature rubbings with crayons and construction paper, one of the activities needed for the Nature Try-It Patch.

After being outside, the girls made a Brownie ring and discussed some of the activities they would like to do during this first exciting year in Brownies. They recited the Girl Scout Promise and listened to the Girl Scout law.

After a snack of brownies and juice furnished by Haley Eder, the meeting concluded.

All the Brownies are looking forward to their next meeting, Monday, Oct. 17, at 5:45 p.m. at the South School Music Room.

NORTH SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE last Thursday gave third grader Talasha Moore an opportunity to proudly share school work with her mother Jacquelyn Campbell.

HEARING AIDS

Q. What can I do to prolong the life of my hearing aid?
A. Hearing aids are an investment that merits care to insure long life. A few simple guidelines can help:

- 1) Follow the directions given by your dispenser for care and maintenance of your hearing aids.
- 2) Come in and have them cleaned and adjusted if necessary. At Miracle-Ear we will conduct sound field testing to determine the level of functional gain you're receiving. Sound field testing is done at several frequencies with and without your hearing aids. This data is then correlated to your audiogram to verify proper gain.
- 3) Keep your hearing aids dry. Don't wear them while showering or swimming. Wipe your hearing aids with tissue each evening (or more often if you perspire a lot) to keep perspiration and skin oils from entering the internal cavity of the aids.
- 4) Keep aerosols like deodorants, perfumes, and hair spray away from your hearing aids.
- 5) Protect the aids from falling, when inserting do over a towel or soft surface.
- 6) Store in a safe place away from pets.

Kraft Starts McKune Speaker Series With Alaska Talk

Dr. Robert Kraft, Eastern Michigan University professor of English Language and Literature will be the featured speaker at McKune Memorial Library's 1994-95 Grapevine Series, a series of presentation-discussion programs featuring local literary stars and experts. Kraft's presentation titled, Alaska: An Entertaining Glimpse at Two Cultures, will be Sunday afternoon, Oct. 16, at 4 p.m. at McKune Memorial Library. The series is co-sponsored by Friends of McKune Memorial Library of Chelsea, Maureen's and Serendipity Paperback Book Exchange.

Dr. Robert Kraft is a Professor of English at Eastern Michigan University and the creator and first director of EMU's Faculty Center for Instructional Excellence. He received his undergraduate degree from St. John's University in Minnesota, his master's degree from the University of Minnesota and his doctorate in American Literature from the University of Washington in Seattle. He teaches courses in American Literature and in Professional and Technical Writing.

Kraft developed his interest in the Athabascan Tribes of Central Alaska and the unique cultural heritage of the State during recent visits there. His presentation will use both videotape and poetry to give a glimpse of both cultures.

"The Athabascan Tribes live in harmony with the rugged beauty of their surroundings, with the animal life they depend upon, and with one another," Kraft explains. "They have clung to their ancient beliefs and folkways, which are still passed on to the younger generations—even as their youth are being educated in a white man's culture."

"Alaska's two cultures are in some ways separate but equal," Kraft continued. "There is the 'white man's (that us)' culture, which has a lot to do with gold, oil tourism, and—let's face it—exploitation of natural resources. Then there is the 'red man's' culture, still in many ways pure, pristine, and not changed much in 10,000 years. You will be struck by the great contrasts between these two cultures."

Kraft has received all the major faculty awards EMU offers, among them the 1982 Distinguished Faculty Award for Excellence in Teaching. In 1986, he was awarded the State of Michigan Distinguished Faculty Award by the Michigan Association of University Governing Boards.

In addition to many published articles, Kraft frequently speaks at national conferences about teaching in higher education and about professional writing and publishing.

Grapevine Series presentations are free and open to the public. An alternate accessible meeting site can be arranged. For further information call McKune Library 475-8732.

CROP Walk Raises $6,000 in Pledges

Beautiful weather and over 140 walkers contributed to a very successful CROP Walk. Over $6,000 in pledges were gathered by the walkers and additional donations will be accepted until Oct. 30. Those wishing to donate may contact Jan Roberts, 475-3615.

This year's Chelsea CROP Walk was dedicated to the memory of Mark Weirauch, former pastor at Zion Lutheran church. Pastor Weirauch was committed to walking and working for CROP and serving the Chelsea community. His family led off the walk Sunday, Oct. 2 and greeted the walkers as they returned.

In addition to the walkers, many thanks go out to the sponsors. This year, Gina's Cafe provided 150 CROP t-shirts for walkers. Other sponsors include Chelsea Lumber, McDonald's, Lesser Farms and The Chelsea Standard.

CROP Walks are held all over this state and country to support programs of Church World Service. CROP is the name given to local community hunger education and fund-raising events sponsored by CWS, an international relief, development and refugee resettlement agency. 25% of funds collected in our community will return to Chelsea's Faith-in-Action and Chelsea Social Services.

Lowering fat intake in the diet can lower the risk of heart disease. Diet experts recommend eating more fruits and vegetables, along with fiber rich cereals, grains and beans.

SHERIFF'S REPORTSylvan Township*Recovered Stolen Vehicle

A 1986 Chevrolet Camaro Z-28 reported stolen out of Pleasant Lake was recovered in the 4900 block of Loveland Rd., Oct. 4. A 59-year-old township man called police when he discovered the vehicle at the bottom of a hill crashed against rocks. Marks on the roadway indicated a second vehicle pushed the Camaro down the hill. Damage is estimated at $2,000. The vehicle is valued at $4,000.

Police recovered a Dodge Dakota pick-up reported stolen out of Lyndon township. The vehicle was recovered on McClure Rd. near Lowrey Rd., Oct. 1. Police were initially dispatched at 4:15 p.m. to respond to a vehicle discovered in a ditch. Apparently, the truck owner's 17-year-old son took his father's truck and lost control of it, striking several large trees. Police noted a strong odor of intoxicants inside the vehicle. The vehicle owner, however, will not press charges against his son. The boy was cited for driving without acquiring a driver's license and speeding.

Webster TownshipJoy Riding

A township couple is asking police to have their son petitioned into Probate Court for taking their Dodge van without permission Oct. 2. The incident happened in the 7100 block of Webster Church Rd. between 11 a.m. and noon. The couple's 14-year-old son apparently went joy riding in the van. A prosecutor will review the case.

Drunk Driving

A 20-year-old Pinckney man was taken to the hospital at 2:30 a.m. Sept. 30 after he was involved in a suspected drunk driving accident. Police were dispatched to an injury accident on North Territorial Rd. near Webster Church Rd. earlier that morning. They discovered the man's vehicle ran off the roadway and struck several trees before coming to rest on the shoulder of the road. A preliminary breath test revealed the man had a .087 percent blood/alcohol level. He was transported to the hospital with injuries, and he agreed to a blood test.

Lima TownshipAttempted Arson

Attempted arson was reported in the 8900 block of Trinkle Rd., Oct. 4. A 59-year-old township man told police someone tried to set his porch on fire when they lit several newspapers underneath it. Police found three piles of newspapers laying along the bottom of the wooden porch. Two of those piles had been ignited and charred the bottom of the railing to the porch. The incident occurred between 11 p.m. Oct. 3 and 6 a.m. Oct. 4.

Dexter TownshipStolen Vehicle

A 27-year-old township man reported his 1994 Grand Am containing $150,000 worth of computer equipment stolen from the 9500 block of Half Moon Lake Dr., Oct. 3. The vehicle is valued at $10,000. The man said he left the keys inside of it.

Attempted Breaking and Entering

Attempted breaking and entering was reported in the 9500 block of Alice Hill Dr., Oct. 4. A 55-year-old township man told police someone removed the screen to his home's window to gain entry, but was unsuccessful. It was also noted in the report that the home was broken into about a week ago and cash was stolen. Police have no leads.

Carrying a Concealed Weapon

A 19-year-old Dexter man was stopped for speeding on Island Lake Rd. near Rider Ct. about 4 p.m., Oct. 5. A vehicle search led to the discovery of an unloaded Ruger 22 caliber automatic handgun with its serial number filed off hidden underneath the seat. The man claimed the gun belonged to the passenger in the vehicle. Police confiscated the weapon.

Child Neglect

Child neglect was reported in the 9700 block of Portage Lake Ave., Sept. 29. A 36-year-old township man told police his girlfriend, also the mother of his four children, is missing and has abandoned the children. He said she left Sept. 24 after an argument between the two of them. The Department of Social Services has been contacted.

Girl Scout Registration Underway for New Year

Girl Scouts are preparing for another troop year of fun and friends. Huron Valley Girl Scout Council has begun its membership drive for girls ages 5-17 and adult volunteers.

Girl Scouting offers a wide range of activities such as Kayaking, Backpacking, Scuba Diving, Traveling, Math and Sciences activities and more. Through Girl Scouting's contemporary program, girls develop self-esteem, make new friends, and become a vital part of their community.

"The Girl Scout troop provides a supportive small group environment for girls to learn new skills, explore issues that face girls today and have fun together," says Gail Scott, CEO for Huron Valley. "Through activities in Math and Science programs, girls have an invaluable opportunity to participate in hands-on experiences with women from the community." Adult leaders also are encouraged to register as Girl Scout members and can serve Girl Scouting in several capacities. Girl Scout troop leaders, consultants, and guest speakers are just some of the many volunteer positions available to both men and women. Girl Scout membership dues are still only $6 annually.

For additional information about Girl Scouting, please contact Huron Valley Girl Scout Council at 313-483-2370 or 1-800-552-4929.

With nearly 3.5 million members, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. Huron Valley Girl Scout Council serves 14,000 girls and 4,000 adults in Washtenaw, Livingston, Monroe, Oakland and Western Wayne counties and is partially funded through the United Ways of Plymouth, Washtenaw, Chelsea, Livingston, Manchester, Monroe County and Southeastern Michigan.

Tecumseh Man Arrested for Drunk Driving

A Tecumseh man has been charged with drunk driving after he was stopped by Chelsea police shortly before midnight last Friday.

The driver, who was observed crossing the center line after having difficulty negotiating a curve off I-94 on to M-52 in village limits, was then stopped by police.

He initially told police that a leaf spring problem was the cause for the drifting of his pickup truck across the roadway.

But he later acknowledged consuming three beers that night without having anything to eat, according to a police report.

He reportedly failed five field sobriety tests before being given a breathalyzer, the report said.

He was later taken into custody and transferred to Washtenaw county jail, a Chelsea police spokesman said.

Gas Theft Reported

A driver pulled up at Perk's Pantry gas station on Main St. shortly before 5 p.m. on Sunday, pumped $12 worth of gas, then left without paying, according to police.

The theft report was filed by a station attendant, who described the culprit as a white male with dark hair, driving a dark blue vehicle, possibly a Ford LTD.

The attendant failed to obtain a license plate number or any other descriptive information to provide leads in the theft, police said.

Ride-A-Thon Will Benefit Handicapped

Now is the time to register for the third annual Therapeutic Riding Ride-A-Thon. Plan now to spend a wonderful day trail riding and driving while supporting Therapeutic Riding's major fund raiser.

Chrysler Proving Grounds will again be the site of Therapeutic Riding's Ride-A-Thon. The Sunday, Oct. 16 event is designed to raise funds for Washtenaw county's horseback riding program for children and young adults who are physically or mentally challenged.

The public is invited to ride horseback or drive their horse-drawn vehicles from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Proving Grounds. Horse-drawn wagon rides will also be available.

New aspects of the 1994 Ride-A-Thon will be a display of Chrysler vehicles which have been modified for handicapped use; the participation of the Waterloo Hunt Club and the Huron Valley Horse and Vehicle Club; and volunteers from the Washtenaw County Buffalo Soldiers who will monitor the trails on horseback.

Participants are asked to raise a minimum of $30 in pledges. All riders and drivers will receive grooming bins stocked with horse treats and a free lunch. Participants who raise the most in pledges will be awarded prizes.

Riders and drivers should register by completing a registration form and sending it along with the entry fee of $30. Entry fee at the site on the day of the event will be $35. Club fee (for groups with more than 10 participants is $25 per participant). For more information, call 313-426-2447 or 313-434-8708.

Last year 128 riders and drivers raised over $14,000 for Therapeutic Riding, Inc., which provides therapeutic and recreational horseback riding for over 140 individuals each year in a series of classes. Therapeutic Riding maintains the program's horses, pays trained instructors and therapists, and provides student scholarships.

JAN ROBERTS and daughter Sonja were among the 140 persons joining in Chelsea's CROP Walk Sunday, Oct. 2. In photo above they are modeling the CROP t-shirts contributed by Gina's Cafe. The walkers raised in excess of $6,000 to help in the world-wide fight against hunger.

FLAG PRESENTATION: In a brief ceremony Friday, Chelsea's VFW Post 4076 donated a 3 by 5 foot, all-weatherproof, United States flag to Chelsea Community Hospital. Because of age the Hospital's flag needed to be replaced and this was accomplished with the aid of Mary Harris, chairperson for the Hospital Auxiliary. Bruce Doughten, nuclear medicine technologist, will now have a new flag to raise each morning. Representing the VFW Post 4076 were Bob Reed, Fremont Boyer, and Rodney Farmer. Accepting the flag for the Hospital was Willard H. Johnson, president and Bruce Doughten, nuclear medicine technologist, diagnostic imaging. From left to right in above photo are Bob Reed, Fremont Boyer, Willard H. School District Remediation Project Estimated at $112,000

Chelsea school district expects to spend an estimated $112,000 to clean-up gas deposits from an underground storage tank at the district's fleet garage.

However, the district is expected to be reimbursed for that expense by the state, according to school spokesman, Dr. Henry DeYoung.

While the tank was removed from the garage several years ago, the district is still trying to remove the lingering underground contamination.

Five test wells were dug in the past year to monitor the pollution level there. And DeYoung said he was hoping the preliminary vapor extraction testing might lead to removal of the contaminants.

The Ann Arbor engineering firm of McNamee, Porter & Seeley performed the initial work, and plans to bid on the additional remediation, DeYoung said.

Two similar projects are taking place in Chelsea at the village Department of Public Works building and on a private lot adjacent to McKune Memorial Library on Main St.

"We will have to install additional equipment to remove the pollution," DeYoung said, noting that it might take more than a year to complete the district remediation project.

DeYoung said he was knocked over by the estimated cost of the clean-up effort. "It's amazing. It's a lot of money. Thank goodness, this district is eligible for MUSTFA (Michigan Underground Storage Tank Fund Administrator) funds.

The district will "front load" project payments before being reimbursed by the state approximately 60 to 90 days after the funding request, he said.

Work on the project, mandated by the Department of Natural Resources, is expected to start next March, DeYoung said.

Judges Rate Chelsea Band 'Superior'

Chelsea High school marching band received a first division finish and "superior rating" from judges in an Oct. 3 band contest.

The marching band was among 18 from Washtenaw, Monroe and Wayne counties performing in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra District 12 marching band festival.

Judging in the event took place at two locations, with Chelsea's marching band performing at Ypsilanti High school.

Each band was given 15 minutes to complete its program for a panel of three judges, who rated them on the basis of music, marching and general effect.

The judges scored Chelsea high in all three areas, noting that the band demonstrated outstanding musicality and quality of musicianship.

The Boy Scouts of America was chartered in 1910. The U.S. was the 12th country of the world to set up organized scouting; England was the first, in 1908.

ALICE CHANDLER THIERMAN celebrated her 105th birthday on Sept. 20 with a party at Lakehouse West, Sarasota, Fla., where she resides. Alice was born in Chelsea and was Post Mistress here until she married. She then moved to Columbus, O., until her husband, Henry, retired and they moved to Deerfield Beach, Fla., and resided there for 27 years. Nine years ago she moved to Sarasota to be closer to her daughters, Barbara Marshall of Venice and Martha Peters of W. Va., and Englewood, who are pictured with her. She also has a son, John, who resides in Columbus, O. She has six grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

The Chain Saws For People Who Want To Act Like Lumberjacks, Not Work Like Them.

If you know a little about the timber business, you know that Stihl chain saws have been used by professional woodcutters for over sixty years.

So maybe you think Stihl equipment is "too good" for a suburbanite or farmer or anyone else who needs to cut wood on an occasional basis.

Well, we're happy to tell you that Stihl makes a whole series of chain saws with your needs in mind.

But don't confuse

The Stihl 021. Superb power-to-weight ratio, isolated carburetor, electronic ignition. $600.00

The Stihl 023. All the features of the 021, plus 30% more power. $600.00

The Stihl 025. More powerful than the 023, plus convenient side chain tensioner. $600.00

The Stihl 026. Designed for professional use, or the demanding weekend-woodcutter. $600.00 them with discount-store chain saws.

All Stihl saws are designed for performance, ease of handling and starting, and durability.

Now, about the 026 shown at the bottom: we'll admit we sell this saw to professional woodcutters. But it's also bought by people who simply put a lot of hours on a saw every year.

And by the way, when were you ever unhappy because you bought a product that was too good?
