ONE HUNDRED TWENTY-THIRD YEAR—No. 25

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1994

22 Pages This Week Plus Supplement

A COLLISION at the corner of Cavanaugh Lake and Pierce Rds. Nov. 5 around 9 a.m. caused two local women to go to the hospital with injuries and caused severe damage to their cars. Elizabeth T. Haist, 44, of Chelsea and Mary J. Stofflet, 31, of Chelsea were taken to the University of Michigan Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance. Haist was cited for failing to yield for a stop sign when she slammed into Stofflet's Dodge Shadow. Haist was driving a Ford Escort. Like Stofflet's vehicle, Haist's was severely damaged.

Chelsea School Board Presented Elementary Talent Development Plan

If a plan to promote student talent in the Chelsea School District gets the board of education's blessing, the district's high achievers and others interested in additional learning will be offered more opportunities.

Laurie Bissell, the district's curriculum director, made a 30-minute presentation to the board Monday night that introduced a new plan called "Elementary Talent Development for the 1994-95 School Year." The proposed plan, Bissell said, is seen as an interim plan for this school year, and will be introduced as a pilot program adaptable to change. It has been in the works since June. A committee comprised of parents and teachers put together the plan for board approval.

The program is designed to provide additional curriculum challenges for high-ability students grades first through fifth, as well as in the classrooms of their peers.

"The goal is to challenge and provide enrichment for all children whether or not they are identified as able learners," Bissell stated in the plan's introduction. "However," she says, "students who heed the further challenge will be given the opportunities."

One enrichment aspect of the plan is a component called "Exploration Workshops." Workshops conducted by community members will teach students things from fly fishing and dog training to sign language and music. The workshops will be held during the school day and will be offered as an elective students may attend. The workshops will be held weekly to biweekly and last from 30 minutes to an hour. Teachers will also refer students, who are further interested in what they have learned through the workshops, to the library where they can explore on their own, Bissell said.

Another higher learning alternative the plan will provide for children is structured programs. Examples include Junior Great Books, Odyssey of the Mind, Pentathlon Games, Future Problem Solving, Scenario Writing, and Science by Mail. Teachers will be encouraged to receive training in one of those programs, if they haven't already been trained, so they can facilitate the programs. Junior Great Books is slated to run from November through March and Odyssey of the Mind will run January through March.

A program called "Special Math" is another component of the plan. Students at each grade level will be provided with activities to meet their needs. Students who need additional challenge will be given activities that have a faster pace and greater depth.

A major component of the talent development plan will be training and exposing teachers to different ways to enrich and expand programs for students. A teacher at each grade level will be designated as a resource person. They will provide training, co-ordination and sharing of methods and resources with other teachers at their grade level to provide for the children who need additional challenge. The resource teachers will receive in-depth training in curriculum compacting and creating challenges for students; attend conferences on educating able students and addressing their affective needs; meet with grade-level teachers monthly for informal training; meet with other resource teachers and with the curriculum director monthly; identify resources for teachers; obtain training for a structured program; organize and help grade-level teachers arrange weekly special math; work with teachers to develop identification procedures and work with co-ordinator of exploration assemblies and cognitive coaches.

Some view the program as a replacement to a gifted and talented teacher position eliminated during budget cuts last spring. Board approval is necessary because funding is needed and because it is an addition to curriculum already offered. A decision is expected by the next board meeting.

Planning Commission To Amend General Development Plan

Chelsea Village Planning Commission is expected to adopt an amendment to its long range general development plan after working on it for nearly two years.

The commission is expected to adopt the changes at its Tuesday night meeting. Also on the agenda for the commission's consideration are site plan approval for construction of a 59,848 square foot warehouse addition at BookCrafters and special land use and site plan review for a proposed small animal clinic at 1475 S. Main St.

Planning commission chairman Tim Eder said Monday that the amendment to the general development plan will be the first change to the long range plan in 17 years. The plan hasn't been updated since 1976.

The plan encompasses the area south of US-12 out to the highway, including the golf course and county park and development along the M-52 corridor. It will not force current property owners to make their structures conform retroactively, Eder said.

The small animal clinic, proposed by Ann Arbor resident and veterinarian Paula C. Rode, would conform to the general development plan once amended, according to Eder.

Eder says the planning commission wants to take advantage of the parks and golf course by requiring pedestrian pathways in its plan; and the commission wants to control growth along M-52, particularly strip mall development.

Eder said the planning commission has held several public hearings over the past two years to hash over changes to the plan. The planning commission and property owners, he said, have compromised and come to resolution over touchy issues. Now, Eder says, the planning commission faces little opposition over the proposed amendment. And most people who were opposed to the plan a year ago have become agreeable after hashing over it with the planning commission, he said.

Assistant manager Bruce Pindzia said the amended general development plan will change land uses in the defined area. But, he said, the plan is just a guideline and flexible policy for the community to follow. The plan talks about land use, but doesn't define residential and commercial areas like the zoning ordinance does.

Proposed land use changes in the general development plan call for commercial rather than high density residential units along the east side of Old Manchester Rd. and medium density residential along the west side of Old Manchester Rd.

The plan also addresses transportation issues. It narrows down a specific portion of a bypass proposed to alleviate traffic congestion in the downtown area. Pindzia says the plan looks at the southern end of it and addresses where to connect roads.

Chelsea Judge Bronson Dies Suddenly Saturday

District Judge Kenneth Bronson, chief of the 14A District Court since 1985, died Saturday afternoon at the age of 60. Funeral arrangements were held Tuesday.

Bronson, who underwent emergency heart surgery earlier in the week, was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital last Monday. A court employee drove him there after he complained about not feeling well.

Bronson had a long and distinguished career in the state of Michigan. After receiving law degrees at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, he worked as an instructor at University of Michigan and in private practice before becoming city attorney for Ypsilanti from 1959-1975. He was a judge for 14A District Court of Washtenaw County from 1975-1985, and became the Chief Judge in 1985.

Several awards were presented to Bronson during his career, including Distinguished Service Awards from Saline-1985, Dexter-1982, Chelsea-1982 and the Blair Moody Award from the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association - 1983. He also wrote articles for several journals and was Editor of the State Bar Journal from 1975-1980.

Bronson was known by his colleagues as an outstanding judge whose decisions were extremely fair. He had a reputation for being colorful, and received attention for working on behalf of Carolyn King, the first female to play Little League Baseball in Ypsilanti.

Festival of Lights Committee Seeks Volunteer Helpers

The annual Chelsea Festival of Lights committee is looking for individuals or groups interested in participating in the Festival on Friday, Dec. 2.

Helpers are needed to help staff Santa's Workshop and the All-Community Sing, or to join the planning committee for the 1995 Festival.

Interested persons should call Festival of Lights chairman Allen Cole at 475-1551.

Bronson was also a member of several organizations, including the Michigan Bar Association, American Judges Association, County Bar Association and Ann Arbor Bar Association as well as the Bayview Yacht Club in Detroit and the Rotary Club.

Surviving Bronson are two sons: Keith of Las Vegas, Nev., and Andrew of Ypsilanti, his parents, Charles and Anne Bronson of Sarasota, Fla. and two nephews, Michael and Daniel Bronson. His brother, The Honorable S. Jerome Bronson, preceded him in death in 1987. Also, his pet dog Jacob was a much loved companion and often visited the courthouse.

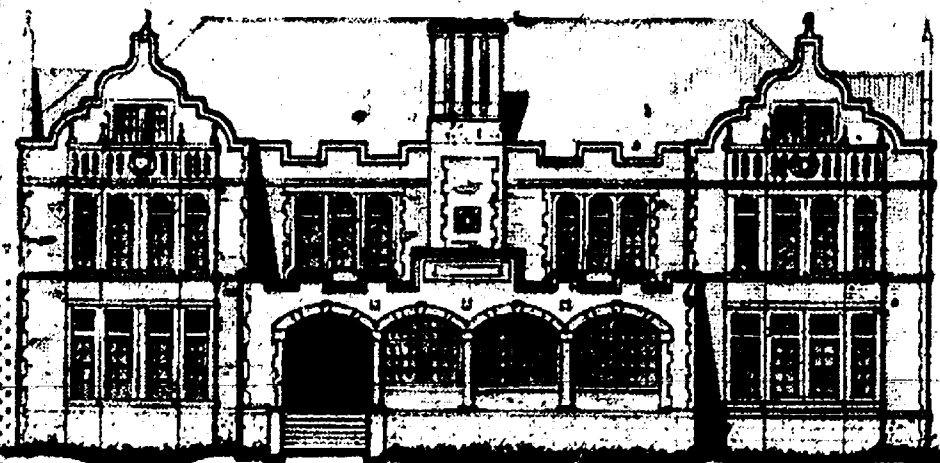

Donations in his name may be made to Ann Arbor's Temple Beth Emeth Building Fund, where Bronson was a founding member. There will also be a scholarship fund to be established in his memory at the University of Michigan Law School.

Governor John Engler will appoint Judge Bronson's replacement, who will serve out his term, which ends in January 1999.

GAIL FINCH CAST HER BALLOT in the general election Tuesday, Nov. 8. She and voters across the state will decide the fate of candidates like governor John Engler and opponent Howard Wolpe and Incumbent candidate Mary Schroer and opponent Marty Straub for 52nd District Representative. Finch is pictured with precinct worker Vera Briston.

Wednesday, Nov. 7 1990—

After several months of negotiations, the state has apparently decided to move the Chelsea Secretary of State branch office from downtown. Until two weeks ago, Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority was confident the office would remain downtown based on their conversations with state officials. DDA had planned to purchase the All Season Comfort building on W. Middle St., complete substantial renovations, and rent it to the state.

On Tuesday morning, Nov. 18, the Chelsea branch of the Secretary of State's office was notified that it was among 45 branches to be closed effective Dec. 31. Some offices will be terminated as of Jan. 31. The notice of closure, received from the Secretary of State in Lansing, came as no real surprise for any of the three employees who are employed there.

On Sunday, Nov. 30, noted local photographer Dale Fisher will offer to the interested viewing public a collection of his natural photographs, taken from the lofty and not-so-lofty heights of a helicopter. The photographic art show will begin at noon and last until 5 p.m. in the Events Building at the Chelsea Fairgrounds. The vast array of framed photographs will be shown to the public free of charge.

Meabon's TV Furniture and Appliance store was broken into. Upon arrival, Chelsea Police noted that the perpetrators of the crime had entered the building by breaking a window and then unlocking a door. The burglar alarm was shut off and $65 in bills and change were taken.

Several Chelsea area organizations have appointed representatives to attend an open meeting of the Dexter Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday evening, Nov. 22, to lend support to the Dexter organization in its efforts to have toll-free telephone service installed between Chelsea and Dexter.

Two large barns and large quantities of hay, straw and grain were destroyed in a spectacular fire which was discovered at about 10 a.m. yesterday on the Jack Bradbury farm. However, team work of the Chelsea and Dexter fire departments, together with the assistance of road crews working on the nearby Interstate 94 construction, and the help of neighboring farmers who hauled truck loads of water in milk cans kept the blaze confined to the two barns and saved a third large barn located only three feet away.

'Big Brother' Will Be Watching You

Construction on the "information superhighway" is well underway with technological marvels to behold—and a potential for loss of personal freedoms.

By Philip C. Clarke

When the Clinton Administration made a priority of the information superhighway it was trying to get on the wave of innovation and new technology that already had started. From Silicon Valley in California to Route 128 in Boston to the Research Triangle in the Raleigh-Durham area of North Carolina, hi-tech companies have been coming up with communications and computer inventions that will make business and life more enjoyable.

Consider, for instance, a recent report in Investor's Business Daily about a so-called "smart card." This smart card will make paying bills and buying goods and services as easy as running it over a scanner.

Today, credit cards or money machine cards have a magnetic strip on them which contain pertinent information, such as the holder's account number. But it can hold only 40 characters. In addition, to read the card, a machine has to call up a central computer and relay the card's information.

But the new smart card, by contrast, will include a computer chip that can contain the equivalent of up to three pages of information, or roughly 9,000 characters. And it won't require a phone call to a central computer. The scanner at the retail establishment will be able to read all the relevant information right there.

The benefits of the smart card may not seem so obvious at first. But businesses like Mastercard are pushing for them for a couple of reasons. One, they will have to spend far less money on transaction costs, like paying for phone lines into central computers. According to the company, these transaction costs account for about $600 million annually.

Another reason is that the smart card will make credit card theft and fraud much more difficult. At present, a thief can buy a $40 decoder at any electronics store and start using a stolen credit card right away. Deciphering the smart card, on the other hand, will require a sophisticated machine costing thousands of dollars, as well as technical expertise that most of today's criminals don't have. With credit card fraud costing the banking industry some $1.2 billion a year, it's no wonder companies are pushing for the smart card.

This is all being done in the private sector, and ownership and use of these smart cards will be strictly voluntary. But what about a mandatory smart card? An identification card, for example, which contains your tax and income information or your medical information? Such a smart card would be a powerful tool in the wrong hands—crooks, for example, or unfortunately, in the arsenal of the government.

Apparently, however, that's the way the Clinton Administration wants to go. The President has done a lot of selling of his health care plan by holding up a plastic card. Calling it a health security card, Clinton says owning that card would mean health care that can never be taken away. But the card would contain among other things, all your medical information, back to childhood. And because the government would issue the card, it would have all that information, too—a powerful source of personal data.

But the Clinton team hasn't stopped there. Recently, it announced a series of proposals to bring in some more revenue. One of the proposals called for a national identity card with smart card capabilities. Issued at birth, this card would be used, according to Administration sources, to make sure that people paid their taxes. Officials estimated that it would bring in $340 million over five years.

But what would such identification and health security cards cost in terms of personal freedom. Although the Constitution was designed to limit governmental authority and preserve individual rights, these smart cards, if mandated by Washington, would give federal bureaucrats almost unlimited access to the private lives of Americans. Clearly, it's time to tell Uncle Sam, "Not so fast!"

Health Insurance Tax Deduction May Still Get Attention

The tax deduction for health insurance premiums paid by farmers and other self-employed people may yet be handled by this Congress.

House Speaker Tom Foley has indicated that Congress may consider the 25 percent deduction during the special session Nov. 29-Dec. 1 for consideration of the GATT world trade agreement.

"Farm Bureau is very supportive of the effort," said Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau. "There was a lot of talk this year in Congress about improving access to health insurance and enacting a national health insurance bill, which did not happen. We think it would be very unfortunate to leave the self-employed of America in worse shape than when we started the debate by allowing their insurance deduction to lapse."

The lame-duck Congressional session was intended to deal only with the GATT agreement, which Congress must pass with an up or down vote and no amendments. Although lawmakers are not precluded from taking up other matters, Foley's announcement regarding the tax deduction was somewhat of a surprise on Capitol Hill since the special session had been earmarked exclusively for the trade debate.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

You know how papers put a paragraph at the end of a piece telling about the guest writer. One caught Zeke Grubb's eye last week, and he brought it to the session at the country store Saturday night. It said the writer was Lunsford Cowell, "a lawyer in Washington dealing largely with matters related to the Western Hemisphere."

If that ain't covering the waterfront, Zeke said he wanted to know what is. In this day of specialists, he said, we get heel pain doctors and pet abuse lawyers, and here comes a fellow that not only deals with everything in our half of the world, he deals in a big way. You got to wonder, Zeke went on, how Mr. Cowell ever found time to turn out half a newspaper page on how America has got too much democracy for its own good, and that we could solve our problems easier if decisions were left to a few.

The fellows picked up quick on Zeke's comment, and Clem Webster said Cowell made the best possible case for specialization. If he thinks this country would be better off with less personal freedom he needs to quit dealing largely and stick to American history, was Zeke's words. Mr. Cowell was sent to the woodshed with a reminder from Bug Hookum that Winston Churchill said American democracy is the worst form of Government, except for all the others. Bug went on to say what America needs is more Americans involved in their Governments. He said we got the lowest percentage of voters of all democracies.

For sure, Ed Doolittle said, we got the highest percent of grippers and worriers in any hemisphere, and we must have a field of research that specializes in new worries. For instance, Ed saw recent where a study at the University of Maryland found the more intelligent people are, the less they laugh. Turned around, Ed said, this means the more we laugh the dumber we are, so bliss really is ignorance. Ed said what worries him is that a public school would spend public money to give happy people somepun else to worry about.

Practical speaking, Clem said, we can thank TV for giving us more to worry about. The 30-second political ad by one candidate to lambast another leaves us worrying why the fellow couldn't think of anything good to say about himself. Recent, Clem went on, he saw a pretty girl selling crackers on TV. She held one up and said it combined the taste of real peanut butter with the taste of real cheese, and he was left worrying what you mix together that tastes like peanut butter and cheese, but ain't.

Actual, Ed said, there is hope, but it worries him. He saw where the Harvard Medical School has come up with a product that does not cause cancer. Natural, Ed said, you can't eat it, drink it or breathe it, but you can use it. After 14 years of research, the school found that dyeing your hair is not hazardous to your health. This was thought to lift so much worry off so many heads that it was published in the Journal of the National Cancer Institute.

Personal, I see regular listing of what won't kill us as a way to lower the worry rate in this country.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Amy Foote Chosen For Honor Society At Carson-Newman

Amy Foote of Chelsea was inducted into the Carson-Newman College chapter of Alpha Chi during initiation ceremonies Oct. 12.

Foote, a senior religion and sociology major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seneca Foote of Chelsea.

Alpha Chi is a national society which promotes academic excellence and exemplary character among college and university students. The most prestigious academic society on the Carson-Newman campus, the group invites to membership junior and senior students from all academic disciplines who have a 3.65 grade point average and are in the top 10 percent of their class.

"Alpha Chi recognizes previous accomplishments and provides opportunity for continued growth and service," said C-N faculty sponsor Dr. Ellen Millsaps. "As a phrase from its constitution suggests, Alpha Chi seeks to find ways to assist students in 'making scholarship effective for good'."

Joan and Aaron Parks

Joan Marsh, Aaron Parks Exchange Vows in July

Joan Sidney Marsh, formerly of Chelsea, and A. Christopher Parks of Toledo, Spain were united in marriage on July 23 at Fundamental Baptist church in Sault Ste. Marie, by Pastor Timothy Rader.

The bride is the daughter of Christine Cadreau of Sault Ste. Marie and William Marsh of Gregory. She is the granddaughter of Joan and Robert Taylor, formerly of Chelsea, and William and Sidney Marsh of Chelsea.

The bride wore a gown of ivory taffeta with an overlay of lace roses. She carried a bouquet of ivory roses and ivy.

Maid of honor was Maureen Murray of Cleveland, O. The bride was also attended by Amber Cadreau and Sara Parks.

Best man was Nathan Parks, brother of the bridegroom. Rex and William Marsh served as groomsmen.

A dinner reception at the church was attended by guests from Chelsea, New Mexico and Spain.

The couple honeymooned in Western Michigan and are now residing in Minnesota.

Kids, Parents and Food Preferences

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist
Babies, who eat what adults feed them, cheerfully consume fruits, vegetables, cereals and milk, but by the time they're 6 or so, most kids have learned to crave hot dogs, potato chips, soft drinks and other foods that are high in fat and/or calories and low in nutrients.

According to Dr. Leann Birch of the Child Development Laboratory at the University of Illinois at Urbana, "A six-year-old American child avidly consumes hamburgers, but the same food would elicit disgust from her counterpart in India." Why do American kids like high-fat food?

Dr. Birch and her colleagues have come up with some answers. The preference for sweets is innate in humans, but the preference for fat is probably shaped by social factors rather than genetics. Our society has plenty of high-fat foods and the sweets that kids like are often also high in fat. These foods are associated with fun and festivity and are often given as rewards for good behavior. And they are heavily promoted on television. Even if you stock your cupboards with healthy foods, your children are likely to be offered less wholesome choices at school, at parties and in other people's kitchens.

So how do conscientious parents get a child to like a healthy diet? A combination of strategies and attitudes seems to work best. It's never a good idea to force a child to eat anything no matter how nutritious it is. Also, don't get discouraged. The food your child refuses 10 times in a row may be accepted the 11th time it's offered. Remember, children—and most other omnivorous animals—are cautious about foods they haven't tried.

It's not possible or desirable to deprive a child of all sweets and treats. Even adults like a treat now and then. Research shows that giving certain foods as rewards for good behavior, especially when the adult praises the child as well and pays him favorable attention, has an effect on food preferences. Even children who aren't particularly enthusiastic about a healthy treat learn to like it under such conditions.

When it's time for a treat, try offering fruit or low-fat yogurt or some other goodie that's low in fat, rather than burgers, shakes and fries at the nearest fast-food outlet. If a high-fat treat is what the child most yearns for, that's OK once in a while, too. One thing children will learn is that some foods really are treats—not to be eaten at every meal or every day, but only on special occasions.

Using foods as bribes ("Eat your cauliflower if you want to watch TV") is not a good idea and may backfire. In Dr. Birch's study, kids who ate a food to get a reward often learned to dislike the food in question. Adults and children may eat an unappetizing food to produce a positive effect, but that doesn't make them like the food.

Chelsea Center for Development of Arts Being Organized

An exciting new venture is taking shape in the Village of Chelsea, as Steven P. Hinz, Lisa Hinz-Johnson, Roxanne Kring and T. Newell Kring are collaborating to develop a new organization entitled The Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts.

This will be a non-profit, educationally-oriented arts organization dedicated to providing arts education and increased opportunities for the arts in Chelsea and the surrounding area.

Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts will offer vital programs for all age groups, from age 5 to 105! The intent is to expand upon the programs presently available, and ensure that current opportunities continue to exist. Anticipated offerings will include a children's choir, private studios for voice and piano, classes in theater and dance, workshops in the visual arts, and many other programs.

A special evening of musical entertainment and great food is planned on Monday, Nov. 28 at Chelsea's Common Grill. Two performances are scheduled for 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Proceeds from this event will provide start-up costs, to assist with the creation of The Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts. For ticket reservations contact Kathy Finger at 475-8792.

Steven P. Hinz commented, "I am very excited about the support I have personally received from the community for the arts and music programs. There is so much room for further growth. I am personally committed to seeing the arts flourish in the Chelsea area, and we welcome your ideas, comments and suggestions for ways The Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts can meet your needs."

Steven P. Hinz has been with the Chelsea Schools for five years, and has produced and directed many local musical and theatrical productions. He is proud of his work with the Beach Middle School Choir and Chelsea High School's Concert Choir. These groups have also developed a Classical Concert Series, including an annual Madrigal Dinner. Steve is also the founder and director of Chelsea's own Washington Street Show Choir, and extra-curricular program which is an extension of the High School Curricular Music Department.

Lisa Hinz-Johnson is a graduate of the University of Michigan with a Masters in Opera and Voice Performance. Currently she is a professor at Adrian College and teaches private voice lessons to a number of students from Chelsea and the surrounding area.

Roxanne Kring is an active actor, choreographer, and director. In Michigan she has locally worked with The Purple Rose Theatre Company, Chelsea High School, the Washington Street Show Choir and Chelsea Area Players as well as the Ann Arbor Civic Theatre and The Saline Area Players. Prior to moving to Chelsea, Roxanne acted professionally in theaters throughout New York, New England, Florida, and the Midwest.

T. Newell Kring is a free lance stage director, as well as the artistic director for The Purple Rose Theatre Company, and has directed eight of its 15 productions to date. A long-time resident of New York City, Kring founded and continues to run Newplay Development Services, a consulting service for new playwrights. An accomplished musician, Newell was a conductor for the New York Harlem Opera Company's European tour of Porgy and Bess and has been music director for over two dozen musicals in New York and across the country.

This group of highly talented professionals is personally committed to seeing the arts flourish in the Chelsea area, and is anxious to join with those who are equally dedicated. Questions may be directed to Steven P. Hinz or Lisa Hinz-Johnson at (517) 265-6299 or Roxy and Newell Kring at 475-7422.

Santa's Workshop Featured in Festival of Lights

One of the highlights of the Chelsea Festival of Lights is always Santa's Workshop, where children can tell Santa about their fondest wishes. Santa's Workshop will be open from 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 2, at the UAW Hall, 218 S. Main St.

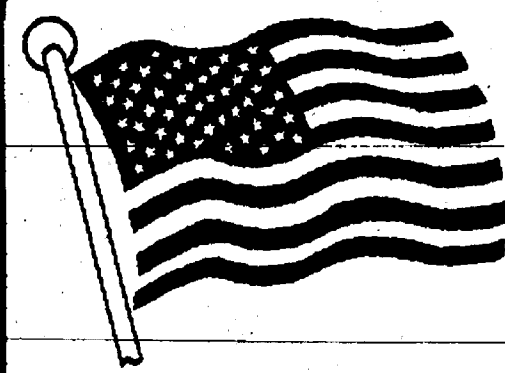

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce will not be selling 1994 Chelsea tree ornaments, however, some 1992 and 1993 ornaments will be available at the All-Community Sing at the Depot.

Among the many other contributors to the Festival of Lights are the Downtown Chelsea Merchants Association, Merkel Furniture Store, and Polly's Market.

Members of the Chelsea Children's Co-Operative Preschool staff will decorate the Workshop. The Chelsea Children's Co-Op will also provide craft projects for children to make while they wait to see Santa. Dayspring Gifts will again take photos of each child with Santa, free of charge. Chelsea Fair Queen candidates will hand out tickets that allow people to shop while they wait their turn with Santa.

"We'll have several different craft tables set up for children of different ages," said Lynn Cottrell of the Chelsea Children's Co-Op. "The children will be able to take their project home that night."

Funding for the Festival of Lights is provided, in part, by Dayspring Gifts, which will be donating $5 to the Festival for each Village of Chelsea throw blanket that it sells. Illustrations of many Chelsea landmarks are woven into the burgundy and white throw blankets.

Veterans Day

Nov. 11, 1994

Politicians thought people were disinterested in the distant past when they changed the date of Armistice Day from Nov. 11 to the last Monday in October. They were mistaken. People never quite understood why Veteran's Day was inexplicably changed to the October date. Public opinion opposed the change and the return to Nov. 11 was welcomed by nearly everybody.

It should be remembered that Armistice Day was conceived in the hope that future wars would be avoided. Veteran's Day was dedicated in that hope. Regrettably, it did not work out that way. It is important on Veteran's Day to remember that our veterans served in the hope of freedom and lasting peace. Take time to thank the veterans that you know.

Halloween Traditions Have Ancient Roots

While we typically associate Halloween with witches, pumpkins and ghosts, its origin actually stems from ancient religious beliefs, according to an Eastern Michigan University professor.

Ron Delph, professor of history, says Halloween is a hybrid holiday, originating from pagan and Christian beliefs. "Modern day has seen the night of Oct. 31 evolve into an evening of trick-or-treating, bobbing for apples, telling fortunes and listening to ghost stories, but for the pagans and the Christians, Halloween became a religious ceremony as of Nov. 1, 834, in the Middle Ages," he said. "The pagan celebration goes back even further than the Christian celebration, among the Druids, Our Halloween in America comes from Ireland and Scotland, which goes back to the Druid celebration from 200 B.C. to 400 A.D."

According to Delph, the Druids, including people from Northern France, Ireland, Scotland, and England, focused their celebration of Halloween on Samhain, the God of the Dead. "On Nov. 1 of each year, the Druids would honor Samhain with a feast. The Druids believed that Samhain would bring together all of those who died in the past year. He would collect the souls of the dead and take them to a Druid heaven," Delph said.

"During the time when Samhain would collect the souls, the Druids believed that trolls, fairies and goblins would be out. The Druids also used Halloween as their celebration of winter, because the days were becoming shorter and the nights were becoming longer. They would engage in bonfires at night to fight off the darkness."

Delph said Halloween evolved into a Catholic/Christian celebration during the Middle Ages. "Around Nov. 1, 834, the Christians decided to dedicate the day to an 'All Saints Day.' On this day, the Christians would honor the souls of all of the dead saints. This also was known as 'All Hollows Day,'" he said.

"All Saints Day is followed by a Catholic celebration known as 'All Souls Day' on Nov. 22," Delph continued. "The Catholics believed that on 'All Souls Day' the dead souls in purgatory were to be prayed for. In the Middle Ages, there was the belief that souls were to go to purgatory before entering heaven or hell. People who conducted professional prayers would wander the streets and say prayers for the dead in exchange for food. It was believed that when the souls would come home on this day there would be food waiting for them. All the houses would be lit for the souls to find."

Immigrants to the United States, particularly the Irish, introduced secular Halloween customs that became popular in the late 19th century. And, like the holiday itself, many of the symbols associated with Halloween also originate from things long in our history, according to Delph.

The Witch—The witch is the central symbol of Halloween and the one with the strangest history. Her name comes from the Saxon word wica, meaning-wise one. Witchcraft actually began as a step toward greater knowledge. When Halloween became an observed occurrence, many people feared witches, who were said to be flying about. The witch takes the leading role at Halloween today, a symbol of the evil spirits once thought to emerge at this time of the year.

The Jack-O'-Lantern—The jack-o'-lantern originates from the Irish, who celebrate a combination of "All Saints Day," the Feast of Samhain and "All Souls Day." The Irish had a tradition that they would hollow out and light up rutabagas. They were lit so the souls of the dead could find their way home. Around 1840, when many Irish immigrated to the U.S., they found that the native pumpkin made a better lantern. "The Irish turned Halloween into more of a festival," Delph said.

The Black Cat—Long before Halloween, cats were thought to possess magical powers. Among the Druids, cats were thought to be human beings changed into animals by evil powers. At the festival on Nov. 1, a number of cats were always thrown into the Samhain fires. Long after the witch-hunts, people went on accusing each other of witchcraft, believing witches could change into cats. After dark, all cats look black, which is why a witch's cat is always thought of as being black, and why black cats are thought to possess evil spirits.

Black and Orange—The black of a witch's cloak and the orange of a pumpkin remind us that Halloween once was a harvest festival as well as a festival of the dead. Orange and deep yellow are the colors most common in ripened fruits and vegetables. Orange is a symbol of strength and endurance and, together with brown, stands for autumn and harvest. In most countries, black is the color of death, which is why many people fear the night—in its blackness could lurk the threat of death, from an evil spirit, another person or a wild beast.

Devil's Night—On Devil's Night, Oct. 30, which was originally an Irish custom, it was believed that the goblins and fairies would go out and do mischief, pranks and vandalism. "To the Irish, it was a night of vendetta," Delph said.

August Figures Show Healthy Increase in Ag Trade Surplus

American farmers continue to sell more agricultural products than are imported. "It's encouraging to see our ag trade surplus in August rise to $1.3 billion," said MFB Commodity Specialist Bob Boehm. "That's an increase of $65 million over July and shows that U.S. farmers are competitive in the world economy and that our exports are increasing, especially in the value-added category." Agricultural exports for August totaled $3.5 billion, up 19 percent over the same month in 1993. Imports of agricultural products totaled $2.2 billion, up 17 percent over the same period in 1993, due in large part to higher coffee prices. For the fiscal year through August, the U.S. agricultural trade surplus is down nearly $1 billion compared to last year, but over-all ag exports are up one percent at nearly $40 billion. Vegetable exports for the fiscal year are up seven percent to $3.2 billion, fruit exports are up 10 percent to $2.3 billion, wheat exports are down 16 percent, corn exports are down 21 percent and soybean exports are down 22 percent.

Michigan Farmers Seek Ag Secretary To Serve Total Industry
Michigan farmers hope the next Secretary of Agriculture is someone familiar with the needs of production agriculture, according to the president of the state's largest farm organization. "We think the next Agriculture Secretary should be someone who has a broad understanding of total agriculture, including both crop and livestock production," said Michigan Farm Bureau president Jack Laurie. "Here in Michigan, we would strongly support someone who understands the role that so-called minor crops like fruits and vegetables play in the total scheme of agriculture." Laurie said administrative capabilities will also be important qualities in a new Secretary. "With the recent reorganization of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, it's important that a strong leader be in place to guide the reorganization through its formative stages of development," he said. A strong belief in the importance of world trade to agriculture will also be critical. "I'm confident that whoever the President selects will have that commitment to the value of world trade to our agricultural industry," he said. "President Clinton has worked diligently to bring both the NAFTA and the GATT world trade agreements to reality, and I would expect he would select someone who would share that line of thinking." Current USDA Secretary Mike Espy announced that he is resigning Dec. 31.

Melvin La Croix Completes Navy Recruit Training

Housing Starts for '94 Look Good Through September

Michigan housing project starts for September 1994 fell from August 1994 by 12.6%, but 1994 year to date totals are up 8.4% over 1993. "The year to date totals for 1994 are up over 1993, 1992, and 1990," stated Mike Theunissen, president of the Michigan Association of Home Builders. "We saw tremendous growth during March, April and May over the last two years. During the summer months we saw the numbers level out. Multi-family housing was strong during the month of September with September units up 3.8% over August units. Mortgage rates and lumber prices have decreased slightly since July, but this trend may not continue during the last quarter of 1994." The Michigan Association of Home Builders is comprised of more than 10,000 member companies, thus providing service to over 370,000 people in the home building/construction industry. MAHB also represents 36 local home builder associations throughout the state.

Discovery...

Our men of the CRC piled into the Home Van one bright day recently, to go with our activities director, Michelle and her husband Steve, on a tour of discovery. Our aim was in a general north-westerly direction. A few of our group had seen sandhill cranes on various drives that they had taken. We also had a printed map and a few directions to help us. Steve handled the van like an old pro. Besides he visited with us a little.

Before we were out of sight of Dancy House, the conversation had picked up tempo and volume so that it became everybody for himself. Lots of fun and lots of noise, and so most of us stayed awake. The scenery was swell anyway. In spite of lots of quarterbacks, Steve turned right or left mostly to suit himself. We soon hit the jackpot.

On a nice gravel road seven or eight miles from home we spotted a flock of about 75 birds on a hilltop. This of course was an estimate, they being about 150 yards away. We stopped and many fellows got out and stood along the road. The birds were sort of single file on top of the hill. One had his wings spread wide, and he was BIG. We wondered if they could see us as well as we saw them. They were not afraid. Several sets of binoculars were passed around. This turned out to be the best group sighting of the day.

We found several groups of four or five birds, also one flock too far away to count. We spent two hours finding birds near some field where grain had been cut. Also we stopped awhile at a sanctuary, where the birds gather at this time of year, going south. This is about 900 acres of lake, marshes and swampy areas. It has an overlook for visitors. We have posted a map of this location in the post office.

A New Experience...

We almost pushed the panic button on the afternoon of Oct. 18. We got the word that we were being evicted—for a few days. Before we could jump out the window or protest, the voice went on. They were only going to paint the room completely and lay new carpet. And we had to go down the hall a little ways, with all our earthly possessions. Well, they did leave the dishes in the cabinet over the kitchen sink. No ifs, ands, or buts; no excuses. All went. We had assurance that trained workers would pack up everything and we did not need to lift a finger. We sensed that meant we were not to worry, but go down town shopping, at least, go some place.

We used every minute we could that afternoon, filling all boxes, plastic and paper bags with precious things. Then Winifred and I slept fitfully, dreaming of the coming end of the world. Randy told us the next day, his plan saw us back home late Friday!

On Wednesday the men started moving our stuff. We tried to help pack, running back and forth, directing where to set everything. I told them where to put things so the walker would pass through between. I wrapped all cup and saucer displays and ceramic figures. Hope they all survive.

Several boxes of books to go the Fair sale or maybe the library. Tammy showed up and tackled the bathroom. No telephone as we could not plug our phone into a strange room. Special wall plug needed to get the clock started.

Thursday was the Reporter deadline; some notes on Sandhill Crane trip lost in move and just now found. Extension cords scattered all over like a big bowl of spaghetti. Where is

Who Needs Turkey?

It was November, 1952 in the little town of Barra do Pirai in Central Brazil. This was to be our first Thanksgiving outside the United States. Lois and I had planned to give the children a notion of the Great American Holiday, complete with all the trimmings. We were the only American family for miles around. The children were bombarded with the many Brazilian holidays and holy days and we felt they ought to know something of American ones. We planned ahead for the real thing: A turkey (chicken) dinner with the traditional fixings. This took some doing inasmuch as we could not find cranberries, yams, corn meal dressing and pumpkin pie with a dop of whipped cream.

"Fred! Fred!" Lois exclaimed. "This bottled gas has given out and we don't have a spare one. There is no way we can get back to Rio for another. I need an oven to prepare everything. What will we do?"

What you do is change the menu and find something hot enough to cook on. In this case I got out the old Coleman stove and improvised. Every Brazilian family had rice and black beans twice a day, every day, without exception. So we had rice and beans to begin with. Then we had fish called "namorada" (sweet-heart) boiled on the trusty camp stove. Canned green peas were added to the feast. Cranberries? Not to worry! Just go outside and get a bucket of "jobuchicada" which grow on the bark of the tree. They are like large grapes that taste like... well, I really don't remember. They were tart and we made sauce of them and dreamed of cranberries. Dessert: This is the best part. You put condensed milk in a double boiler and cook it until it is caramelized. The Brazilians call it "flan." It is wonderful and satisfies the most educated sweet tooth. And to top it off there is "Quadand," a root drink much like Vernor's Ginger Ale, only better.

To tell the truth, I don't think the children learned a thing about American food and Thanksgiving. They had everything they wanted and were pleased that we had rice and beans and they could go out in the sun and join their buddies and learn more Portuguese.

But wait. There is more here. I heard Lois exclaim in a startled voice, shortly after dinner: "Fred, come here and look."

What had surprised her was an enormous praying mantis perched on an open glass louver, doing his buzzing act. Before I could get to the spot he was gone. When Lois gave me his dimensions, I was certain she had invented a new kind of fish story. It was years later that I, too, saw an oversized mantis. Just goes to show you that even God's creatures pause to pray and give thanks on an American Thanksgiving.

Physicians Health Plan Granted Expanded Area

Michigan Department of Public Health has granted Jackson-based Physicians Health Plan of South Michigan, Inc., approval to expand its service area to include parts of Washtenaw and Lenawee counties. The announcement was made by Janice Dubey Messeroff, president and CEO, PHP of South Michigan, Inc.

PHP of South Michigan, a 25,000-member health maintenance organization (HMO), is part of the 200,000-member Physicians Health Plan of Michigan, Inc. which serves 25 Michigan counties.

PHP of South Michigan's service area includes Jackson, Hillsdale, Lenawee and Washtenaw counties. The expanded service area includes the cities of Manchester, Clinton, Dexter and Chelsea in Washtenaw county, and Hudson and Rome in Lenawee county.

The state awarded PHP the new service area because of the HMO's significant number of contracts it holds with health care providers in the new areas. PHP is one of Michigan's fastest-growing HMOs.

"Legally there was nothing we could do in those areas until the state approved our request," said Messeroff. "Increasingly, we've been contracted by physicians and companies, some of which are major employers in Washtenaw and Lenawee counties, that have expressed interest in our service. Now, we have the green light to work with them."

Messeroff said the new opportunity means that employees in the expanded service area can offer PHP to their employees, and that employers outside of the service area can offer PHP to their employees who live within the service area.

Physicians Health Plan of South Michigan, Inc. is an affiliate of Minneapolis-based United Health Care Corporation (NYSE:UNH), a national leader in health care management, serving purchasers, managers, users and providers of health care since 1974.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

Veterans Day, formerly Armistice Day, on Nov. 11 will be observed by the veterans organizations in this county and across our nation.

Veterans Day is a time to remember all those who have served in the Armed Forces of our great nation, their contributions, their achievements, their hopes as Americans. Many gave their lives. We remember them with respect and we honor them for their sacrifice.

Many returned to pick up a new life. Many joined veterans organizations to help meet the needs of our comrades and their loved ones who suffer mental and physical disabilities. We share a common concern for national heritage and tradition when we proclaim "for God and Country we associate ourselves together."

Let's think for a moment about the importance of a belief in God to our heritage. The Declaration of Independence states "that men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights." "In God We Trust" is found on our currency. We teach our children the Pledge of Allegiance that we are "One nation under God." We set aside a day each year to give thanks to God for all our many blessings on Thanksgiving Day.

For God and Country, as we observe Veterans Day 1994, let us recall our heritage. Let us search out family values. Let us establish our priorities. Let us determine to work to the end that our fundamental beliefs as a nation shall not be eroded.

Arthur A. Klumpp
Ft. Myers Beach, Fla.

To the Editor,

This Nov. 11 will mark the 40th Veterans Day celebration in the United States.

Originally known as Armistice Day, the date of the end of World War I, Nov. 11 was renamed Veterans Day by President Eisenhower in 1954.

There are approximately 27 million living veterans in the United States. They have served their country in war and peace; many still bear the scars of battle. Many of their comrades—our friends and relatives among them—gave us their "last full measure of devotion" on distant battlefields.

I encourage everyone to take some time this Veterans Day to join the parades, visit the memorials, and honor the men and women who have dedicated their lives and those who still serve this country. Any words we choose to thank them are overwhelmed by the nature of their service and sacrifice.

Take a moment to say, "thanks."

Sincerely,
Edward L. Gamache
Director, VA Medical Center

Brick Sale To Fund Depot Re-Roofing Job

Chelsea Depot Association is starting a fund-raising drive to get money to re-roof the depot.

While the present roof is not leaking, the Association is anticipating that the roof should be re-shingled in the next year or two to prevent problems. Bids have not been taken yet, but it is estimated the cost will be from $10 to $20 thousand depending upon the condition of the underlying roof boards.

To raise the necessary money the Depot Association is launching a brick selling campaign. The historic brick walk on the west side of the depot is about 100 feet long and contains approximately 750 engraved bricks.

With many new people in the community and with the birth of new children and grandchildren the board thought it would be appropriate to put on a brick selling campaign at this time. Bricks are $50 each and can be engraved with two lines of 10 characters per line for individual or family names.

For a brick order form contact the Depot Association at 475-0862 or any of the board members. Board members are Kathy Clark, Lynda Collins, Jackie Frank, Daleen Harper, Marg Hepburn, Gloria Mitchell, Veretta Whitaker, Dudley Holmes, Jr., Elmer Kiel, Dave Lukasiak, Dave Shiel, and Bill Chandler.

Girls Varsity Swim Team Tied For 2nd in SEC Over-all Standings

Chelsea High school girls varsity swimming team tied for second place in the over-all standings of the Southeastern Conference with a third place finish at the Conference Championships held in Chelsea last Friday and Saturday.

Milan won the meet with 343 points, Dexter was second, 276; Chelsea had 242 points; Pinckney fourth with 198; Tecumseh fifth, 73; and Lincoln sixth, 66.

"We had some very fast swims," said coach Dave Brinklow. "Both of our freestyle relays were faster than we went at state meet last year. In a championship meet, you have to place well in the prelims so you have a second chance in the finals to improve, and that is what Dexter did on Friday night. We had several 7th and 13th place finishes that couldn't move up any higher on Saturday, which made it very difficult to pick up points on Dexter."

The 200 medley relay team of Christie Lonskey, Erin Hack, Kelly Bowers, and Carey Schiller finished third with a time of 2:03.30. The team of Erin Armstrong, Sarah Broshar, Cara Heitman and Angie Wilson was 7th in prelims, 2:11.86, and Jenny Paddock, Beth Vogel, Stephanie Wesolowski and Carrie Smith were 8th, 2:19.75.

Besty Schmunk was 2nd in the 200 freestyle at 2:03.25, and Erin Baird was 7th at 2:09.95. In prelims Michelle Dymond was 17th, 2:23.76 and Carrie Smith 18th at 2:23.90.

In the 200 IM, Bowers was 3rd, 2:25.94. Broshar 7th 2:28.74, and Heitman, 10th, 2:38.20. Beth Vogel was 15th in prelims, 2:45.41.

Erin Hack was 2nd in the 50 free, :26.29; Schiller was 5th, :27.72 and Angie Wilson 23rd in prelims, :30.42.

Christie Lonskey was second in diving, 382 points; Alicia Vogel 9th, 274; Jill Holloway was 13th, 153.45; Leigh Young, 86, and Melissa Sayer, 74.

"Christie dove very well. She was consistent throughout the 11-dive meet," said coach Deb Webb.

In the 110 butterfly Bowers was 5th, 1:08.67; Heitman 10th, 1:15.83, and Wilson 12th, 1:24.57. Hillary Smith 18th, 1:24.84, Jill Wesolowski 21st, 1:36.83.

Kim Grossman set a new freshman record in the 100 freestyle with her prelim time of :57.77. The previous record of :57.83 was set in 1987 by Kelly Cross. Grossman finished 2nd in the event with a time of :57.79 in the finals. Schiller was 13th, 1:03.85 and Armstrong 19th, 1:07.85.

In the 500 free, Schmunk was 2nd, 5:34.70, Baird was 6th, 5:51.75 and Dymond 12th, 6:18.80. C. Smith was 13th in prelims at 6:17.03, and Jill Wesolowski was 22nd, 7:03.18.

The 200 free relay team of Grossman, Hack, Schiller and Schmunk was 2nd in 1:45.62, Broshar, B. Vogel, Dymond and Baird 7th in prelims, 1:58.16, and Paddock, H. Smith, J. Wesolowski, and C. Smith 10th, 2:13.06.

Boys Cross Country Place 7th in State

The varsity boys cross country team finished 7th in the Class B State meet held in Grand Rapids last Saturday.

Senior co-captain Ryan Schultz led the way with a 4th place finish at 16:46. With that finish Schultz made All-State for the second time in his career.

Senior co-captain Chad Brown ran a fine race to finish 40th at 17:37.

Sophomore Ashley Coy ran his best race of the season to place 61st at 17:51.

Dave Mathis Aces 7th Hole at Inverness

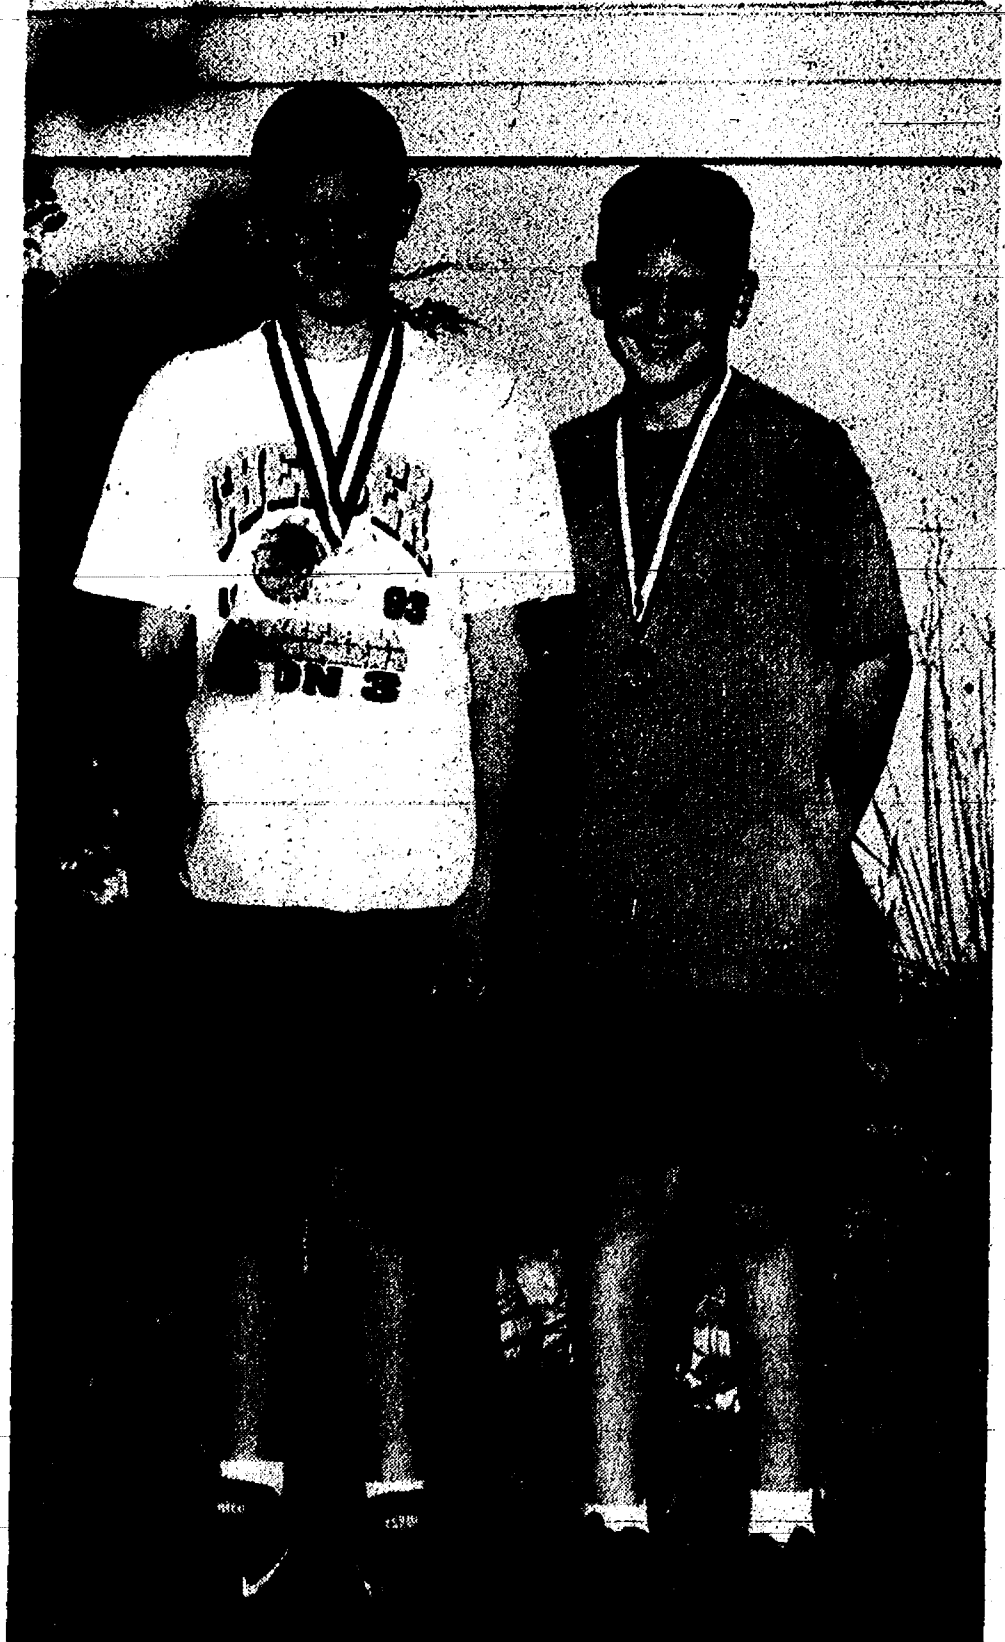

Dave Mathis of Noah Rd., Gregory, achieved what every golfer dreams about on Oct. 22 when he made his first hole-in-one.

It happened on the 7th hole of 171 yards using a five iron at Inverness Golf Course. Witnesses were Brian Hickey, John Reifel and Mark Wilson.

PP&K COMPETITORS: Vince, left, and Tony Scheffler, of Chelsea competed in the Punt, Pass, Kick, sectional competition in Saline. Vince took second, bettering his Chelsea score, but could not advance because of not winning. Tony won his age group and has been notified by the officials that he qualified first in the state and will be at the Silverdome on Dec. 4 for the finals.

JV Girls Basketball Team Wins 2 More

Chelsea girls junior varsity basketball team added two more wins to their record last week.

On Tuesday, Oct. 25 they defeated Lincoln, 45-20, and on Tuesday, Oct. 27 they handed Columbia Central a 50-36 defeat.

In the Lincoln game after a sluggish first quarter they led by only 5-0. With increased defensive pressure the Chelsea girls out scored their opponents 18 to 3 to lead at half-time, 23-3.

At the close of the third quarter the Lady Bulldogs had increased their lead to 38-6.

Scoring was well distributed with Robin Raymond getting 3, Emily Arend 5, Melissa Carty 4, Cindy Richard 12, Carrie Williams 3.

Michelle Lucas 1, Sarah Pruess 1, Rachelle Skelly 2, Hilary Spooner 8, and Christine Herndon 6.

Herdon led the team in rebounds with 10, assisted by Carty with 9 and Richard and Spooner, 7 each.

On Thursday the girls jumped out to a quick 10-4 lead against Columbia Central in the first quarter. They added 6 in the second quarter, 16 in the third and 15 in the fourth.

Cindy Richard led the team in scoring with 12. Herndon followed with 6, Arend had 5, Spooner had 8, Raymond 3, Carty 4, Williams 3, 2 and Lucas and Pruess each had 1.

Rebounding leader was Herndon with 10, followed by Carty with 9.

Junior Varsity Cagers Turn Back 2 Challengers

The JV girls basketball team improved their record to 14-4 (8-2 SEC) with two home game wins last week. Dexter was sent home on Tuesday, Nov. 1 with a 32-22 defeat. Tecumseh fared no better two days later, suffering a 34-26 thrashing by the Top Dogs.

Dexter trailed the Bulldogs closely until Chelsea pulled away in the fourth quarter, thanks to a key 3-point basket by sophomore Carrie Williams that bumped the score to 28-22 and rallied the Bulldogs on to victory.

High scorers for the game were Williams, sophomore Melissa Carty, and freshman Christine Herndon with seven points each.

Although Tecumseh pulled ahead of an early Chelsea lead by executing three 3-point baskets in the third quarter and hitting an amazing 80% of their shots from the foul line, the Bulldogs bulldozed the visitors late in the game, thanks to baskets by Herndon and sophomore Michelle Lucas, and free throws by Carty and Williams.

High scorers for the game were Lucas and Herndon with 10 points each.

The Bulldogs meet league-leading Pinckney on Tuesday and Saline on Friday.

Girls Varsity Cagers Down Dexter, Tecumseh

The Chelsea girls basketball team had a great week taking two important league wins. Dexter went down 42-39 Tuesday and Tecumseh followed suit Thursday, 72-43.

Chelsea came from behind in the fourth quarter against Dexter, led by junior Annie Terpstra with 13 points and nine rebounds. Senior Jessica Flintoft played one of her best games of the year, contributing 10 points and eight rebounds, as did fellow senior Courtney Thompson. Senior Kate Steele added five points and five assists. Kasie Ruhlig and Heidi Werhwein each delivered two points.

The Chelsea machine was hitting on all cylinders as they jumped off with a 22-9 lead at the end of the first quarter against Tecumseh. Thompson and Terpstra were the Big Dogs, with Thompson pounding in 34 points and Terpstra punching in 22. Jessica Inwood, Jessica Flintoft and Kasie Ruhlig each helped the score with baskets and by offering good inside support of the efforts of Thompson and Terpstra. Kate Steele and Charlotte Ziegler also did an excellent job of keeping the ball inside for a great offense game.

Next the Bulldogs take on the Pinckney Pirates for a share of the top spot in the league.

Take Guesswork Out of Fertilizing With Soil Test

By the time you've battled weeds and bugs and bad weather all summer, probably the last thing you want is one more garden chore to complete before the ground freezes.

So, here's one more garden chore to complete before the ground freezes: have your soil tested.

Darryl Warncke, Extension soil scientist at Michigan State University, says fall is an excellent time to collect a soil sample and have it analyzed.

"Why get caught up and delayed in the spring rush?" he says. "Get your soil tested in the fall and you'll have your results in hand next spring."

A soil test will tell you what the pH of your soil is—whether it's acid, alkaline or neutral. Soil pH influences nutrient availability. If it's too far outside a narrow range from neutral to slightly acidic, nutrients may be present in abundance but unavailable to plants. Nutrient deficiencies may occur.

Soil test results include recommendations for soil treatments to adjust pH and to provide nutrients for the types of plants you indicate you plan to grow—turfgrass, for instance, or vegetables, annual and perennial flowers, or landscape ornamentals.

Following soil test recommendations should provide the nutrients your plants need for best growth. It may also enable you to save a little money by applying no more fertilizer than plants can use.

Your county MSU Extension office has instructions for taking a sample, containers for mailing it to the MSU Soil Testing Laboratory, and information on how to interpret and use the results and recommendations. It's listed in your telephone directory under "county government."

Family Practice Center Welcomes New Residents

Every summer the University of Michigan Family Practice Residency Program bids farewell to a group of graduating resident physicians at the same time that a new group of residents is welcomed to the program.

In June 1994, four residents completed their training and headed off for various parts of the country to start new medical practices. One resident completed his training in December 1993 and another will be finished at the end of November 1994.

Adam C. Husney, M.D., worked for several months with Emergency Physicians Medical Group and will be joining the faculty and working at both the Chelsea and Ypsilanti Family Practice Centers starting in November.

Joyce E. Kafferle, M.D., has joined Manchester Family Practice and is working with Evelyn Eccles, M.D., another residency alum in Manchester.

Lawrence R. Hall, M.D. and his family have moved to the west side of the state and Larry has joined Lakewood Family Medicine in Holland.

Jean M. Skratek, M.D., has stayed in the department as a Clinical Instructor and is working at the Briarwood Family Practice Center in Ann Arbor.

Agatha K. Atko, D.O., will graduate from the residency at the end of November 1994 and currently hopes to do some traveling before starting her post-residency practice activities.

Jonathan S. Sorscher, M.D., graduated at the end of December 1993 and joined Ann Arbor Family Practice in January 1994.

In addition to the graduation of these six resident physicians, one of the first-year residents transferred to another family practice residency program for personal reasons. Lisa Hoekstra, M.D. left the program on May 31, 1994 to transfer to the Grand Rapids Family Practice Residency Program in Grand Rapids.

We were all saddened by Lisa's departure, but wish her all the best as she continues her family practice training in Grand Rapids. Lisa received her bachelor of science degree in biology and chemistry from Calvin College and therefore is already well acquainted with the western part of the state.

In July, eight new resident physicians joined the University of Michigan Family Practice Residency Program. The backgrounds and interests of these residents are as varied as those of the recent graduates.

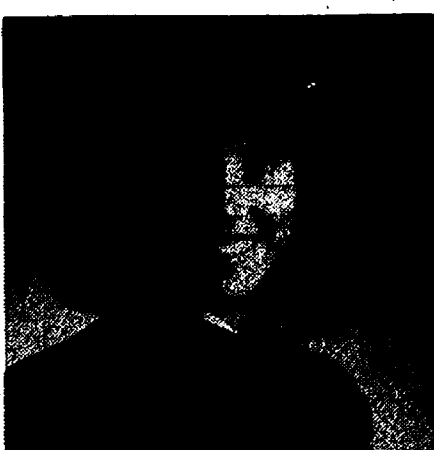

JOHN H. AFFINITO, M.D.

John H. Affinito, M.D., graduated from Northwestern University Medical School in 1994. John is originally from Whitehall, N.Y., and studied economics and accounting between September 1981 and December 1983 at Saint Michael's College in Winooski, Vt. He left to work as a member of the Chicago Board Options Exchange, where he managed a common stock and options portfolio between January 1984 and November 1988. He went back to school while working in Chicago and received his B.S.G.S. in economics from Northwestern University in 1988. He was a member of the Alpha Omega Alpha Honorary Society in medical school. John enjoys golf, skiing, basketball, and listening to music. John and his wife recently had their first child. He plans to live in a smaller community where he can practice a full range of medicine emphasizing preventive, obstetrical and well-child care.

CHAD T. CARLSON, M.D.

Chad T. Carlson, M.D. received a bachelor of science degree in history and biology from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln in 1990 and his M.D. from the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in 1994. Currently he hopes to complete a one-year sports medicine fellowship after residency. Chad enjoys golf, softball, basketball, and water skiing. He also enjoys reading, particularly historical non-fiction with an emphasis on the Civil War era. Ultimately he expects to live and practice in a small community.

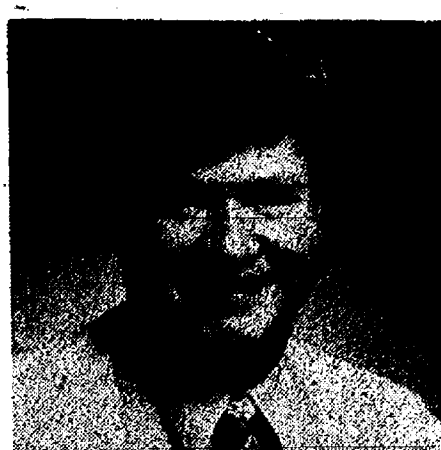

ELISA M. DeANGELIS, M.D.

In addition to the eight new first-year residents, a new second-year resident entered the program in January 1994. Elisa M. DeAngelis, M.D., joined the department on January 1, 1994 after having completed an internship in obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Michigan. Elisa received a bachelor of science degree in combined sciences from Santa Clara University and her M.D. from the University of Nevada School of Medicine in 1992. She was a member of Alpha Omega Alpha Honorary Society in medical school and is interested in practicing in a community or an academic setting following completion of residency. Elisa is also interested in working with medical indigent patients or groups like Special Olympics. She loves the outdoors, particularly downhill and cross-country skiing, hiking, and mountain biking as well as playing the piano, traveling, and photography.

MATTHEW DENNO, M.D.

Matthew Denno, M.D., received his bachelor of science degree in microbiology from the University of Michigan in 1990. Matt went to medical school in Detroit and received his M.D. from the Wayne State University School of Medicine in 1994. He and his wife, a doctoral student in political science at Michigan State University, enjoy the theater, cooking, and racquetball.

KENNETH J. GRIMM, M.D.

Kenneth J. Grimm, M.D., received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry from Johns Hopkins University in 1989. Ken went to medical school in Philadelphia and received his M.D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1994. After residency he expects to go into private practice in a rural or suburban setting where he could be involved in teaching. He enjoys music and plays the saxophone, trumpet, mellophone, and guitar. He and his wife, a bioengineer working at Wayne State University, are auto racing fans and are members of Sports Car Club of America. They both enjoy working at club races. He was an inaugural Nicholas J. Pisacano Scholar, a national honor and scholarship awarded to only 10 students by the American Board of Family Practice in 1993.

MADHU V. GUPTA, M.D.

Madhu V. Gupta, M.D., graduated from the University of Michigan with a bachelor of science degree in cellular and molecular biology in 1990. She received her M.D. from Tufts University School of Medicine in 1994. She was a Phi Beta Kappa in undergraduate school. After residency she would like to practice in a suburban/urban community and be involved in teaching. She organized a school chorus in medical school and loves vocal music and also enjoys the violin and piano, mountain biking and hiking. Her husband is an internal medicine intern at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

DAWN E. MOORADIAN, M.D.

Dawn E. Mooradian, M.D., received her bachelor of arts degree in psychology from the University of Michigan in 1989. She attended medical school at the Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons and received her medical degree in 1994. She enjoys literature, poetry, drawing, travel, and billiards. Dawn was recently married and her husband is a pediatric intern at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

MARIAN T. RYAN, M.B.

Marian T. Ryan, M.B., joins the residency from Dublin, Ireland. Marian completed her undergraduate and medical studies at the Royal College of Surgeons in Dublin in 1989. She completed her internship in 1990 and her vocational training for family practitioners (equivalent to a residency in the United States), also in Dublin, in July 1993. Marian spent an additional six months training in obstetrics and gynecology and six months in a family practice clinic between July 1993 and June 1994. Marian has emigrated to the United States with her husband who has begun his fellowship training in nephrology at the University of Michigan. She enjoys tennis, music, light opera, and walking. Marian plans to stay in the United States and pursue a career in clinical and academic family practice.

DINA Y. OZOLS, M.D.

Dina Y. Ozols, M.D. comes to the residency from Ontario, Canada. She received a bachelor of science degree in biology from the University of Waterloo in 1984 and has also completed the coursework for a doctoral degree in molecular virology and immunology from the Department of Biology and MacMaster University. She received her M.D. from MacMaster University Medical School in 1993. She hopes to work in a community-based practice and also work in an academic setting which would include teaching and research. Her interests include many outdoor hobbies, including camping, fishing and canoeing. She also enjoys gardening, swimming, and skiing. She is married to an automotive engineer and has two children.

What is a Grinder

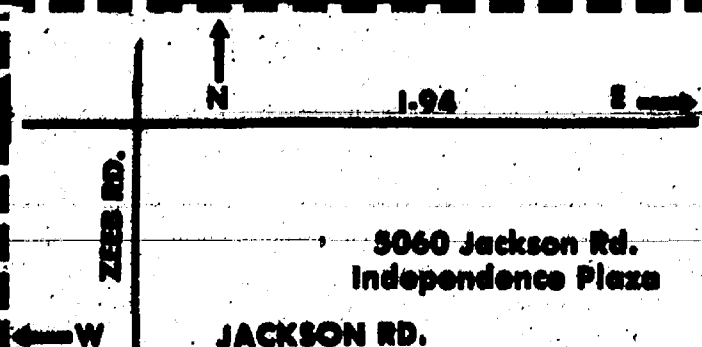

you'll say Mamma Mia when you sink your teeth into a melt-in-your mouth Grinder piled high with your favorite meats, cheese, and garnishes on our freshly baked bread. We offer 19 varieties of grinders, but don't forget to try our famous pizza too ... there simply is no other quite like it.

Excerpts from ...

Ann Arbor News, July 11, 1991

I've never been a big fan of subs, but the winning difference between a regular sub and the Mancino Grinder is the freshly baked bread. The bread turns these abundant sandwiches into something special. We tried the meatball, roast beef combo, steak and BLT and were pleasantly surprised by the quality of each of them. I will definitely be back for more ...

Sylvan Township Board Proceedings

Regular Meeting
November 1, 1994

The regular board meeting of the Sylvan Township Board was held November 1, 1994 at 7 p.m. in the Sylvan Township Hall, 112 W. Middle Street, Chelsea, MI 48118.

The following board members were present: Supervisor Dresselhouse, Clerk Koch, Treasurer Pearsall, Trustee Heller and Trustee Lesser. Also present were: Charles Burgess, Mark Heydlauff and John Foster.

Minutes were approved as presented. Motion by Pearsall, supported by Lesser, to pay bills as presented. Carried.

Mark Heydlauff and John Foster were present to discuss the condition of Witness Tree Lane and would like to establish a process to upgrade this private road. The Board informed them to get a petition signed by the property owners and return to the Board.

Shana Burke who requested to be on the agenda to discuss a Fire/Rescue bill was not present.

Zoning Inspector Burgess reported 3 zoning permits, 3 certificate of occupancy and 4 violations were issued in October. Burgess also attended and reported on the Washtenaw County Planning Commission meeting held October 12, 1994.

Supervisor Dresselhouse reported on Carl Schmitt's recommendation regarding Zoning Ordinance Revisions. These have been forwarded to Attorney Flintoft for legal language and also have been passed on to the Planning Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals. A public hearing will be held at the next Planning Commission meeting. Dresselhouse also reported on a letter from the Village regarding Landfill Remediation Plan regarding air-stripping remedial option for the landfill. Clerk Koch reported on the District Library Planning Committee Meeting held October 17, 1994. Also Ordinance #31 was published November 2, 1994 and was effective October 28, 1994. Koch also reported per a letter from Attorney Flintoft regarding an appeal for two Fire/Rescue cases. The Board will appeal.

Motion by Lesser, supported by Heller, to give authority to Supervisor and Clerk to sign Municipal Recycling Report in order to receive Solid Waste Revenue Sharing funds. Carried.

Motion by Lesser, supported by Koch, to adjourn.

LuAnn S. Koch, Clerk.

Girl Scouts

Brownie Troop #82
Brownie Troop #82 met Monday evening, Nov. 7, at 5:45 p.m. at the South School Music Room. 15 Brownies were present. All three leaders, Jan Fedele, Barbara Kindt, and Nancy Myers were present.

The Brownies made their own playdough from materials furnished by Mrs. Fedele, as an activity for a color and shape Try-It patch. After making playdough, the troop held a color ceremony and investiture for the new Brownies and the Daisies who were bridging to Brownies. Each girl received the Outdoor Fun Try-It patch, and the new Brownies received their World Association and Brownie pins.

After an active game of Duck Duck Goose, the Brownies enjoyed a snack furnished by Alison White, and the meeting closed with the friendship squeeze.

The next meeting for Brownie Troop #82 will be Monday, Nov. 14, at 5:45 p.m. at the South School Music Room.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Sylvan Township

Runaway Juvenile

A 48-year-old township woman reported her 16-year-old daughter as a runaway from their home in the 800 block of Lowrey Rd., Oct. 21. The woman told police her daughter and $100 cash is missing, as well as clothing, a radio and compact discs. The girls' name was entered into LEIN.

Dexter Township

Warrant Arrests

Kenneth D. Businger, 40, of Scio township was arrested on a warrant on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. near North Territorial Rd., Oct. 27. The man was in a vehicle stopped for speeding. A LEIN check revealed Businger was wanted on a bench warrant for failing to appear in court at a show cause hearing for drunken driving.

Adrian N. Slusser, 21, of Pinckney was arrested on a warrant on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. near Wylie Rd., Nov. 1. Slusser was initially stopped for driving a vehicle with defective equipment. A computer check revealed the bench warrant issued for his arrest. The warrant was for failing to comply with a drunken driving sentence. He was taken to the Ann Arbor Police Department.

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported in the 9300 block of Toma Rd., Oct. 21. A 53-year-old township man told police someone broke into his detached garage between 5 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Oct. 21. Mechanical tools and a battery charger, valued at $1,160 were stolen. Police have no witnesses or suspects, but the crime scene was photographed for evidence. Thieves gained entry by prying open the garage door.

Harassment

A harassment complaint was reported by a 17-year-old township girl against a 28-year-old township man who has been allegedly harassing her for two years. The girl, who lives in the 500 block of Dexter Town Hall Rd., told police she met the man about 2 years ago while working at a store nearby. She said he asked her out and kept bothering her even though she declined. He stopped coming around for a while, but reappeared recently with roses for her. The girl told police her mother told him to go away and not come back, but he isn't complying. She said she doesn't want police action, but wanted to file a report to document a possible case in the future.

Assault and Battery/Property Damage

Assault and battery and malicious destruction of property was reported in the 9700 block of Stinchfield Woods, Oct. 30. A 24-year-old township woman told police her boyfriend, 30, and she were having a verbal argument when he tried to rip a necklace of her neck and threatened to throw her out of the house. She said he threw her jacket outside and attempted to shove her out the door. Later, she said, he demanded the keys to the family car. When she didn't give them to her, she said, he smashed the driver's side door window. In retaliation, she said, she did the same to his truck. She also reported that he threw the TV remote against the wall, creating a hole, and kicked the bedroom and bathroom doors. The suspect told police she was the one to first break his truck window, and he smashed the car's window in retaliation. He was arrested for assault and battery and she was given a victim's rights form.

Scio Township

Leaving the Scene of a Personal Injury Crash

Police arrested a 60-year-old Scio township man for operating a motor vehicle under the influence or liquor and leaving the scene of a personal injury crash, Oct. 28. The crash occurred about 9 p.m. on Jackson Rd. near Wagner Rd. Police were dispatched to the area on a hit and run complaint when a witness called from his cellular telephone. The witness followed the Scio township man after he hit a vehicle driven by a 74-year-old Ann Arbor man, who injured his hand in the crash. The witness who called police on his cellular telephone followed the suspect, but lost sight of him near Scio Farms Estates. Deputies were able to track down the suspect by following a groove in the roadway left by the suspect's tireless vehicle rim. He was located at his home in the 8800 block of Jackson Rd., where he backed his vehicle in to conceal damage left by the crash. Apparently, the man had been drinking alcohol at Stivers and Bellmark Lanes and was mixing it with pain killer medication. A preliminary breath test revealed the man had a .178 percent blood/alcohol level. He told police he blacked out and couldn't recall the crash, but police noted cuts on his forehead from glass. His vehicle also suffered extensive damage with red paint from the victim's vehicle on the suspect's vehicle. A prosecutor will review the case.

Malicious Destruction of Property

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 4700 block of N. Delhi Rd., Oct. 27. A 42-year-old man told police someone struck his mailbox with a blunt object, causing $30 in damages. The victim's neighbor witnessed the property damage while he was outside working on his tractor. He gave police a vehicle description and license plate number which leads to a 17-year-old Dexter boy also suspected of tampering with telephone lines on Central St. and placing long distance calls on his neighbor's telephone line.

Animal Bite

An animal bite was reported in the 500 block of Zeeb Rd., Oct. 27, at 4:15 p.m. A 42-year-old Ann Arbor man was bitten by a pig he was trying to get out of the roadway during rush hour. The man told police he followed the pig into its yard and tried to confine the pig in its pen, but the pig knocked him down and bit him four times. The man was advised to seek medical treatment. The pig bit him so hard it broke the man's skin in four places, on two of his fingers, his lower leg and his left thigh. The pig's owner is a 48-year-old township woman who lives in the 500 block of Zeeb Rd.

Animal at Large

A pig was reported at large in the 500 block of Zeeb Rd., Oct. 27. A 42-year-old Ann Arbor man was bitten by the pig as he tried to put it in its pen. A physician in charge of disease control at the Michigan Department of Public Health told deputies there are no procedures or laws that pertain to the confinement of livestock that bite humans. He told deputies that chances the victim will get rabies are slim to none, so the pig can not be taken into confinement because of the attack. On Oct. 28, it was reported that the pig was at large again. A report of the incidents will be sent to the prosecutor to review for possible charges against the pig's owner, a 48-year-old township woman living in the 500 block of Zeeb Rd.

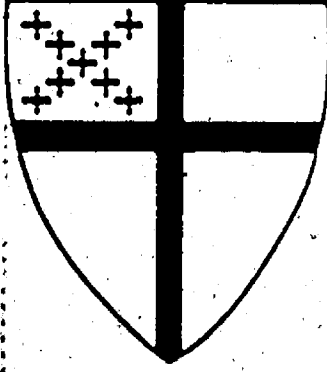

Protective Custody

A 48-year-old township woman living in the 500 block of Zeeb Rd. was taken into protective custody and transported to the hospital for psychiatric evaluation after she threatened to shoot and kill a sheriff's lieutenant, Oct. 28. It was noted in the report that deputies have been dispatched to the woman's residence several times to take reports of assault and battery she and her boyfriend have charged each other with and for police the woman has asserted that a serial rapist is stalking her. Police noted none of the woman's claims have proven to be factual regarding the rapist. She recently claimed to have an out of body experience in which she was told who the rapist is. Also, police have responded to other complaints, including her walking down the middle of Zeeb Rd. protesting the fact that a man who abducted and raped a woman on Dino Dr. near Jackson Rd. was never apprehended. The suspect was soliciting donations to help police locate the suspect. After the latest incident when the woman threatened to shoot and kill the sheriff's lieutenant, she was taken to the University of Michigan Hospital and committed.

Runaway Juvenile

A 33-year-old township woman reported her 15-year-old son as a runaway from their home in the 8400 block of Boenaro Rd., Oct. 26. She told police she has had problems with the boy smoking, not coming home and getting in trouble. He has also had charges of breaking and entering filed against him when he and a friend ran away and broke into a vacant house a while ago. The boy's name was entered into the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN).

Grade School Kids Getting Expert Help With Their Fishing

Students in third, fourth and fifth grades of Chelsea's two elementary schools will receive some expert advice in fishing Wednesday, Nov. 9, today.

Bill McRoy, a self-employed financial consultant and dealer in classic fishing tackle will talk to students about the differences between fly fishing and lure fishing. He has been an avid fly fisherman for 20 years. He will have students handle fly and regular fishing rods.

North school session will be in the multi-purpose room from 12:50 to 1:30 p.m. South school class will be in the cafeteria from 1:50 to 2:30 p.m.

This is one in a series of Exploration Workshops to be offered grade school children this year. The program is sponsored by the Chelsea School District, a part of the Talent Development Program as developed by Laurie Bissell, Chelsea schools curriculum director and is co-ordinated by Mary Jane Eder.

Ferguson Named to Consumer Council

Suzanne Ferguson of Chelsea has been named to the Consumer Advisory Council for Citizens Insurance Company of America.

Ferguson, a psychotherapist with a master's degree in social work from the University of Michigan, counsels adults and adolescents. She has offices in Ann Arbor and Jackson. She is one of seven Citizens policyholders on the insurer's advisory council. The group also includes representatives of the company's management and independent insurance agents.

The council was formed three years ago to establish a forum that would help enhance communication with and service to Citizens customers. The members meet twice a year at the company's headquarters, in Howell.

Area Student Cast in College Production

Mercedes Hammer, a senior majoring in theatre, has been cast in the Kalamazoo College production of "Blue Window."

The comedy-drama by award-winning playwright Craig Lucas will be staged Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 15-17 in the Nelda K. Balch Playhouse in Kalamazoo.

Mercedes is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank T. Hammer of Chelsea.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

Our family wanted to express our gratitude and admiration to the volunteers of the Chelsea Fire Department and commend them for the outstanding open house they shared with the community Sunday, Oct. 23. Not only did our children learn about home and fire safety in a fun and understandable way but the adults learned a thing or two about keeping our families protected, too. Each member of the force was helpful and informative on all aspects of the Department, its equipment and their role in the community's well-being.

Our many thanks and a hearty "well done" to all the members of the Chelsea Fire Department and their families. We are already looking forward to next year's open house!

GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S.

IF TOOTH KNOCKED OUT BY INJURY

Tommy was riding his skateboard down the driveway. He lost his balance and fell to the pavement. He wiped the blood from his mouth and found his upper front tooth in his hand. What do you do? Luckily, your dentist can deal effectively with this kind of dental emergency. But he'll need your help.

Collect the tooth and replace it in the socket at the site of the injury. Have your child (or you) hold it there until you reach the dentist. This will keep the tooth in its natural environment and extend the opportunity for a successful replantation. If this is not possible, wrap the tooth in a wet cloth or place it in a glass of water. Don't linger! The chances for a successful replantation are best if done within 30 minutes to an hour after this mishap.

Some parents rush their child to the dentist, but in their haste forget to bring the tooth! DON'T FORGET THE TOOTH! And don't try to clean it yourself—even if it looks messy. What you think is dirt may actually be soft tissues that will help the healing process.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S., 3108 Baker, Rd., Dexter. Phone 426-8336.

Deer Season Information Stations Open Nov. 12-14

The Department of Natural Resources will host Firearm Deer Season Information Stations again this year in St. Ignace and Clare Nov. 12-14, and in Cadillac, Nov. 12-13. Conservation officers and wildlife biologists will be available at all three locations to provide hunters with deer hunting literature and questions about deer concentrations, hunting prospects, regulations, and places to hunt and camp.

"These information stations are always popular, and they give us a good forum for promoting hunter education and receiving public input," DNR director Roland Harnes said. "Again this year, hunters will have an opportunity to talk with our conservation officers and wildlife biologists one-on-one, ask questions, and get first-hand information about the 1994 deer season."

The specific locations and hours of each station are as follows.

St. Ignace, MDOT Welcome Center (1-75 at the Mackinac Bridge): Nov. 12 (Saturday), 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Nov. 13 (Sunday), 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Nov. 14 (Monday), 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Clare, Mackie Welcome Center (US-27): Nov. 12 (Saturday), 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Nov. 13 (Sunday), 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Nov. 14 (Monday), 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Cadillac, Carl T. Johnson Center (Mitchell State Park): Nov. 12 (Saturday), 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Nov. 13 (Sunday), 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

This year in Michigan, an estimated 750,000 hunters are expected to harvest 225,000 deer, including 160,000 antlered bucks, during the Nov. 15-30 firearm deer hunting season. As of Oct. 1, 1994, Michigan's deer population is estimated at between 1.6 million and 1.8 million.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

Time to set the record straight. I was present at the United Nations flag raising in Lansing on Monday (Oct. 20) and I am disgusted with the slanted media stories concerning this.

Not all of the demonstrators were militia members clad in fatigues. I would estimate that half were just concerned citizens in everyday street clothes. I was surrounded by diversity. There were men, women, and children of many ethnic and religious backgrounds. The common denominator here was their love of being an American and all that it stands for.

Did you know that we could not hand out small American flags on the street corner? (Condoms or Satanic literature probably wouldn't have raised an eyebrow!)

Did you know that the "terrified" children bussed in for this school sanctioned event waved out the windows at my husband who was videotaping while in his fatigues?

Did you know that this threatening and menacing crowd was mostly singing patriotic songs? We certainly were not drowned out by the band—we all were singing right along with the national anthem! In fact, I heard several requests to "play that one again."

Did you know that the loudest "rabble rousers" were some modestly dressed girls from a local Christian school?

Did you know that when the U.N. flag was taken down to avoid further confrontation the militia members were across the street on the Capitol steps listening to various speakers (again of different ethnic and religious backgrounds)?

Why, if this was a celebration of diversity, were the children carrying the flags all dressed alike as U.N. peacekeeping SOLDIERS? Why not in clothes depicting their unique cultures?

The militias are made up of men and women concerned about the insidious stripping of the rights and freedoms that made America the land where diversity could flourish. That diversity needs to be protected—not squeezed into a uniform mold by a new world order. Even in our smallest villages people have different needs, concerns, and ways of life. How can these be appropriately addressed by a huge global government?

While the right to keep and bear arms is important to the militia, it is also important to you! How well will you be able to defend your home against "peacekeeping" soldiers when all you have is a table knife? Crime bills and gun laws are meant to disarm YOU! If we cannot protect and defend ourselves, we can be pushed around like sheep by dogs.

The militia members are not wild-eyed fanatics bent on a revolution. They are men and women who wish to be prepared for the possibility that life as we wish to live it may no longer be allowed by a government grown way past its bounds. Remember, it should be OF THE PEOPLE and BY THE PEOPLE, not just for the people.

Please try to educate yourself on all sides of this issue. Do not just believe what you read in the paper or see on TV. Even though you are probably too busy working just trying to make ends meet (that's what they want!), you need to think about and investigate the path your government is taking. Check out all the candidates running for public office. Don't be swayed by the argument that if you vote for someone other than a Republican or Democrat you have wasted your vote. The best candidate in your eyes deserves your vote!

WAKE UP AMERICA—BEFORE YOU GET ROYALLY STOMPED ON!

By the way, I am a thirty-something housewife with four children and a husband I don't think is so crazy anymore. And I am a militia member!

Cheryl E. Steiner.

Alumni Event Features Daniels Play

A Central Michigan University Alumni Association evening in Chelsea on Nov. 10 features the viewing of a play written by Hollywood film star and former CMU student Jeff Daniels.

The comedy "Thy Kingdom's Coming" starts at 8 p.m. at The Purple Rose Theatre, 137 Park St.

The evening begins with a 5:30 p.m. reception and 6 p.m. dinner at The Common Grill, 112 S. Main.

"This event should provide a great opportunity for an outstanding meal and a chance to see the results of a former student's creativity at work," said Carol Hyble, director of alumni relations at CMU.

Hyble said the play takes a "hilarious and biting look" at Hollywood and political censorship movements. It focuses on action movie hero Derek Johansen and his producer and screenwriter friends, who are convinced that they have a new film concept—an adventure-action movie based on the life of Jesus.

Trouble comes their way as they try to translate the words of the Bible into an adventure film that will break box office records without alienating the political and religious censors of the entertainment world.

For more information, call the Alumni Relations Office at (800) 358-6903.

Highway Deer Check Stations Open Nov. 16-20

Three Department of Natural Resources highway deer check stations will be open Nov. 16-20 for hunters to have their deer examined by DNR staff, who will gather data for use in the management of Michigan's deer herd. Hunters who bring in their deer will be awarded a successful deer hunter patch which commemorates 1994 as Michigan's 100th licensed deer hunting season.

All three of these stations will be open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Nov. 16-20;

• I-75 at the Birch Run weigh station, 2.5 miles north of Birch Run.

• US-27 at the rest area south of Shepherd.

• US-131 at the rest area south of Big Rapids.

Hunters who stop at the check stations are encouraged to have their deer in an accessible location on the vehicle so DNR staff can easily examine teeth and measure antler diameters. DNR staff will record the location where the deer was taken, the deer's age, sex, total antler points, and antler beam diameter. These data are important to help evaluate the condition of the deer herd for future management.

In addition to the highway check stations, other locations where deer may be examined include all DNR regional and district offices and some field offices. Because many field offices have restricted hours, telephone first to confirm the hours and location. To locate the nearest DNR check station (which include some state game areas, parks, and recreation areas), contact your DNR district office listed on page 26 in the 1994-95 Michigan Hunting and Trapping Guide.

Ann Arbor Drop-Off Station Shifts to New Winter Hours

Recycle Ann Arbor announced today that its Recycling Drop-Off Station located at 2050 S. Industrial Hwy. in Ann Arbor will shift to winter hours.

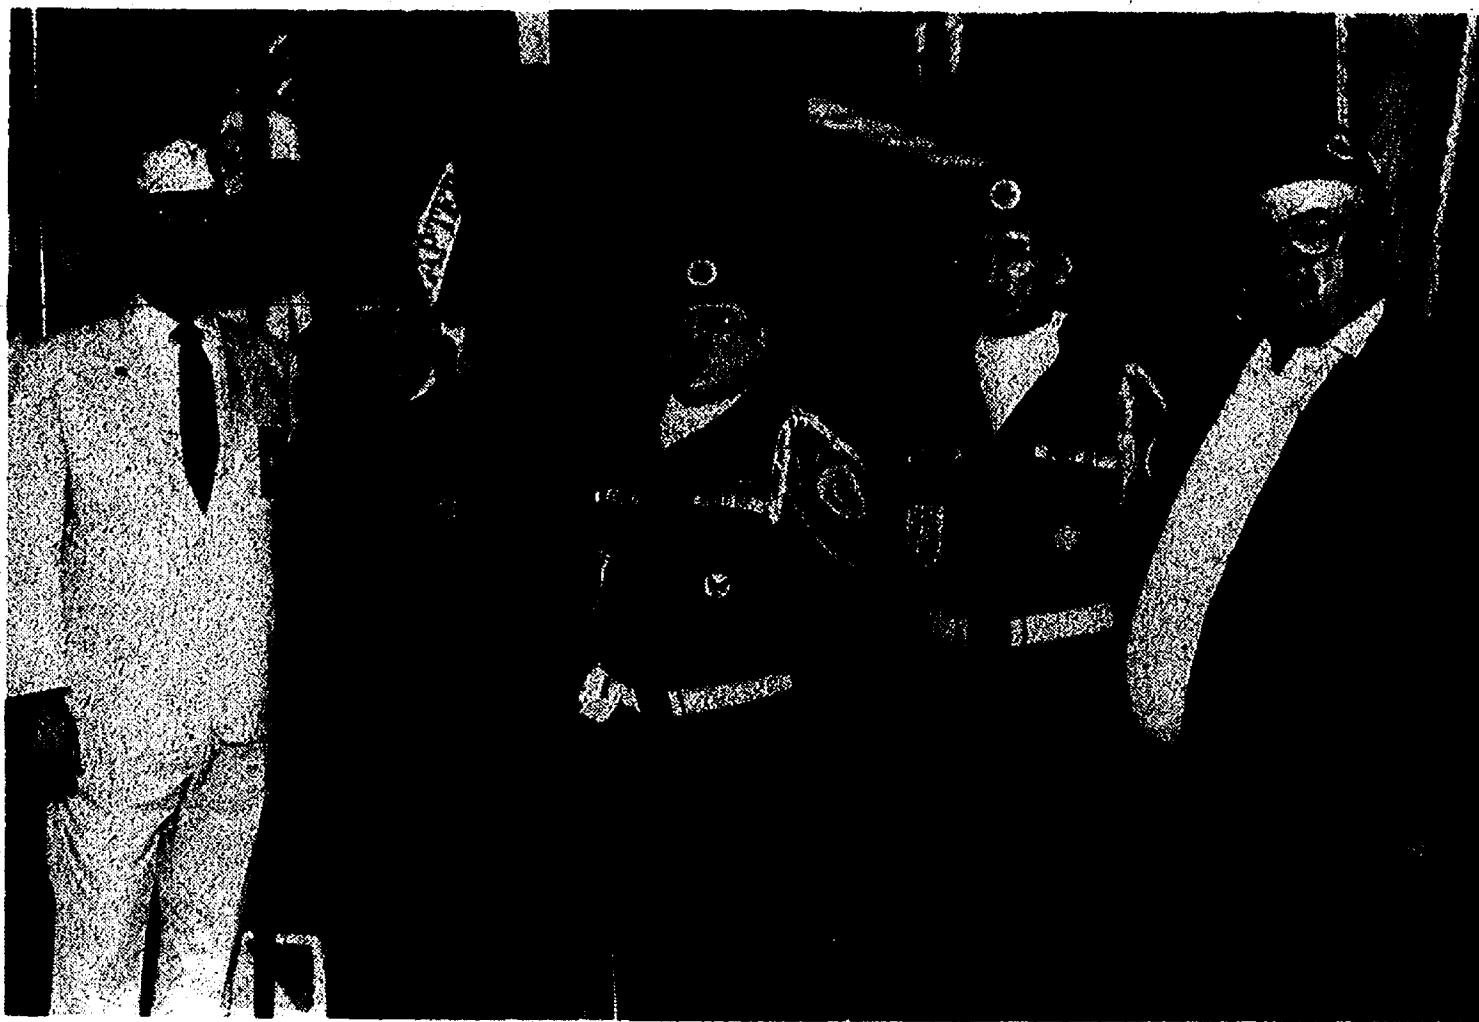

The Drop-Off Station hours are: Wednesday, Thursday and Friday: 12:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday: 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

These changes occur in conjunction with daylight savings time. Hours will be extended once again next spring.

At no cost, residents may bring recyclable materials, such as: newspapers, magazines, corrugated cardboard (including pizza boxes), rinsed glass bottles and jars, rinsed aluminum and tin cans, aluminum foil, rinsed #1 and #2 plastic bottles and jugs (remove the lids), gray-board (cereal boxes, paper towel rolls, etc.), computer paper, white paper, mixed office paper, batteries, scrap metal, oil and oil filters. Telephone books will be accepted as well.

Recycle Ann Arbor, a non-profit organization, is an established leader in the collection and processing of recyclable materials within residential and commercial communities of Washtenaw county.

For more information about the Drop-Off Recycling Station or Recycle Ann Arbor's services, call 971-7400.

WASHTENAW COUNTY COUNCIL OF VETERANS PARADE was hosted, Sunday, Nov. 6, by American Legion Post 117. Veterans from each of the Washtenaw county communities gathered in Manchester where the 1 p.m. parade drew many spectators in spite of the rain and strong winds. Afterward, participants gathered at Manchester American Legion Post 117 where refreshments were served. An impressive display of military clothing and equipment was available for viewing, and people

Retired Business Persons Remembered in Light Display

Downtown Chelsea will again be twinkling with hundreds of tiny white lights, donated by area residents in honor and in memory of retired Chelsea-area businessmen and women. A plaque listing the names of the 108 honorees will be unveiled at the Festival of Lights. All-Community Sing on Dec. 2. The plaque will then be put on permanent display at the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce office in the Sylvan Building.

The lighting of the trees was conceived and organized by Donna Palmer, who says that the Village plays a major part. "Jack Myers arranges to have the Village employees string about 180,000 lights," said Donna. "We could never have such a beautiful display without the Village's help."

There is space on the memorial plaque for more names. If you wish to remember a retired Chelsea businessperson, call Donna Palmer at 475-8531.

SYLVAN TOWNSHIP RESIDENT Kay Heiler filled out the necessary forms so she could cast her ballot in Tuesday's general election. Voters decided the fate of candidates running for state and county offices and voted on several proposals.

CHELSEA UNITED WAY board and campaign directors feel confident that the goal of $105,400 will be met. They were elated last week to find collections and pledges have hit 80% of the goal and expect the full goal will be met before they meet again on Nov. 15. These photos show the thermometers on the Post Office lawn downtown and Chelsea State Bank lawn at their S. Main St. office. In top photo are, left to right, John Rutherford, United Way president; Jim Miltner, Chelsea Community Hospital finance director; Craig Common, of the Common Grill and Common Market; Ann Currie of Allie's Cafe, and Blake Thomson, United Way campaign chairman. In lower photo, from left are United Way president Rutherford; John Mann, representing Chelsea State Bank; Phil Middlebrook of Huron Valley Optical; Dave Rowe of Rowe Insurance Agency, and Bill Chandler, United Way board director.

McKune Library New Book List

New books at McKune Library include:

The 13th Juror by John T. Lesacroat-Dismas Hardy, lawyer/investigator, undertakes the defense of Jennifer Witt, accused of murdering her husband and their eight-year-old son as well as her first husband, who died nine years earlier from an apparent drug overdose.

The Proud and the Free by Janet Dailey is an historical epic set in the Cherokee Nation of the Southern United States on the eve of the Trail of Tears.

One True Thing by Anna Quindlen. Ellen Gulden is in jail, accused of the mercy killing of her mother. She says she didn't do it, she thinks she knows who did.

Farewell to Fairacre by Miss Read. Surrounded by village neighbors with whom she shares concerns, Miss Read faces ill health and considers far-reaching decisions of her own.

Taltos by Anne Rice. Meet Mr. Ash and the Fairfield Family, travel back and forth through time and from London to Scotland to New Orleans; from the origins of the Taltos and their mystic Lost Land to the moral crisis of the present day.

Recessional by James Michener. In this fictional account, Michener illuminates the challenges of aging and the opportunities and the dilemmas older adults and their families encounter today. Set in The Palms, a Florida retirement center, the lives of several residents are followed over the course of a year.

Shadow Song by Terry Kay. The author of To Dance with the White Dog tells the tale of the summer of 1955 and "Bob" Murphy, a rural Southerner who worked as a waiter at the Catskills' Pine Hill Inn and found a love that changed his life, or almost did.
