Chelsea Village Bookkeeper Rosentreter Pleads No Contest

Nancy Rosentreter To Resign Position, Pay Restitution

Chelsea Village bookkeeper Nancy Rosentreter has pleaded no contest to stealing $44,000 from the village's landfill account. The no contest plea is equivalent to a guilty plea for the purposes of sentencing. Rosentreter, 50, was an 18-year village employee. She now faces a maximum sentence of 10 years in jail on the embezzlement charge. She will also lose her retirement and other benefits. In addition to her plea, Rosentreter has agreed to pay $22,000 in restitution for half the missing funds. She also agreed to resign her position. Rosentreter was suspended from her job with pay Sept. 20, a week after auditors made a presentation to council on the village's financial condition. Auditors

Plante & Moran Company were hired after an incident in late August when the village discovered certain irregularities in the handling of payment of a bill from the village's electric department. The auditors conducted an internal investigation, as a result, and discovered further discrepancies. The investigation was then turned over to the Michigan State Police.

Plante & Moran's audit reveals cash is missing from the village's landfill account between 1988 and August 1993, occurring on several different companies' accounts.

Rosentreter was arraigned in front of District Court Magistrate George Parker Oct. 17. On Oct. 24, she was suspended from her job without pay.

Rosentreter is expected to receive her sentence Jan. 12.

Chelsea School Board Takes Official Action To Fire Stephen Leith

Chelsea School District's Board of Education took official action Monday night to sever all official ties with former science teacher Stephen S. Leith, who was convicted of murder in the Dec. 16, 1993 slaying of superintendent of schools Joseph Piasecki.

The board adopted a resolution to discharge the former teacher, who had initially fought to keep his job.

Leith filed an appeal with the State Tenure Commission, but dropped the move during a pre-hearing conference held Nov. 14 with the school district's attorney, superintendent Ed Richardson and administrative law judge. It was during that meeting when Leith agreed to dismiss his claim filed to contest the decision of the board to end his employment. State Tenure Commission administrative law judge James R. Ward executed and filed a stipulation to dismiss order. Monday's board action was the final step in discharging Leith from his employment with Chelsea School District.

Leith's employment was officially terminated effective Monday. He will be given a copy of the board-adopted resolution discharging him by the board secretary.

It has been reported that Leith fought the termination of his employment because he mistakenly thought it would allow him to keep his teaching certificate intact. After the pre-hearing conference in November, Leith agreed to voluntarily revoke his own teaching certificate and abandon his tenure appeal.

Leith is serving a life sentence for fatally shooting Piasecki and injuring English teacher/union steward Phil Jones and high school principal Ron Mead during a disciplinary hearing held Dec. 16, 1993. Leith was convicted of the murder charge, intent to do bodily harm and three counts of committing a felony with a firearm.

Leith, 40, admitted to killing Piasecki, 47, with four shots from a 9 mm semi-automatic pistol fired from almost point blank range. But his defense claimed he was insane at the time of the shooting and that his violent impulse stemmed from reaction to use of the anti-depressant drug, Prozac. Leith's defense attorney argued that the chronically-depressed Leith was a victim of wrongly prescribed medication that altered his personality and caused mood swings.

Next week marks the year anniversary of the tragic incident that shook up the school district, as well as the community.

Education Foundation Awards Fall Mini-Grants

Chelsea Education Foundation recently announced the recipients of its mini-grants for Fall 1994. Each year the Foundation funds grants to Chelsea organizations and individuals to support educational projects and events. The Foundation is interested in supporting innovative projects that address educational needs in the Chelsea community. The following are this Fall's recipients:

- Multi-media Country Presentation/South Elementary School—$900 to implement a multi-media country presentation for a 4th grade class. The goal of this project is for students to plan, design and create a multi-media project on a specific country at the Washtenaw Intermediate School District. Completed country reports will be electronic productions which may include cultural music, moving video of ethnic dance, voice-over narrations and scanned in pictures and maps. Completed projects will be presented on June 7, 1995 at "County Night" at South School. (Submitted by Tracy Cattell Heydlauff and Laurel McDonald.)

- Art Appreciation Program/North & South Elementary Schools—$935 for "Picture Person," an art enrichment program for 1st through 5th graders that uses large reproductions of art masterpieces to encourage critical and creative thinking by learning to look at art with insight. Artists and their works are grouped by such themes as sculpture, still lifes, urban environments, women artists, African American Art, etc. (Submitted by Janet Alford and Patti Rogers.)

- Intergenerational Friendships/North Elementary School—$200 to continue this program between the Chelsea Retirement Community (CRC) and a 5th grade class. Now in its fifth year, CRC residents become "adoptive grandparents" for the students and visit them at school. The students also visit the CRC. This program fosters a greater interest and appreciation for differences in ages. (Submitted by Barbara Brown.)

- Spanish Program/Chelsea High School—$345 for High School Spanish II students to dramatize Spanish stories and supplementary activities for presentation to elementary school children. This project gives students an opportunity to increase language fluency in a dramatic form and encourages them to be active rather than passive learners. (Submitted by Hazel Hermosillo.)

"All of these projects had such potential for increasing the depth of the curriculum," said Mary Green, program chair for the Foundation. "They all allowed the students to go deeper into the material."

Local Crime Wave Spurs On Meeting

In response to a rash of vehicle thefts and break-ins in the area, a community meeting has been organized tonight.

Residents of the village and surrounding townships, including Lima, Lyndon, Sylvan and Dexter, are urged to attend the meeting tonight, 7:30 p.m. in the Village Professional Center, 515 S. Main St., Chelsea.

The meeting is being organized by concerned citizens who are interested in forming a Neighborhood Watch. Representatives from the prosecutor's office, juvenile court, local law enforcement, the sheriff's department and supervisors from surrounding townships have been invited to speak.

Arts Center Wins Euthusiastic Support

Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts won enthusiastic support last week when more than 100 people attended the initial fundraiser. "Putting It Together," an evening of musical entertainment and great food at The Common Grill, raised $3,000 which will be used to establish a non-profit organization to promote the arts in the Chelsea area.

Guests at the fund-raiser were entertained by local performers who also served as waiters. Billing themselves as "The Four Founders," Steven P. Hinz, Lisa Hinz-Johnson, Roxanne Kring and T. Newell Kring kicked off the evening with Stephen Sondheim's "Putting It Together"—a song about creating support for the arts. These talented individuals are the organizers of the Arts Center.

Highlights of the evening included Lori Pelham singing "I've Got a Feelin' I'm Fallin'," Robin Hissong's performance of "Perhaps Love," and Roxy Kring's moving rendition of "If I Sing." Joe Deiderich was a hit when he replaced his tuxedo jacket with black leather and sang "In the Still of the Night." A favorite of the evening was Lisa-Hinz Johnson who took a break from her role as accompanist to steal the show singing Irving Berlin's "I Love a Piano."

In addition to the performers, credit must be given to others who made the evening possible. The organizational talents of Norma Hushke helped bring the entire evening together. Kathy Finger coordinated advance publicity and ticket sales, and Art Finger served as Master of Ceremonies.

Efforts to establish the Arts Center are already under way. According to Steve Hinz, music teacher and director for choirs in the Chelsea schools, programs will be in place by next fall, and planning for a permanent facility is now being initiated.

Steve said, "During the past week, so many people have shared their enthusiasm for the project. I was overwhelmed by the response." Newell Kring, artistic director for The Purple Rose Theatre Company and freelance stage director, pointed out that Steve is the initiating force behind the Arts Center. "I'm very supportive of the concept," said Newell. Newell's involvement came about partly as a result of Roxy Kring and Steve Hinz working together on activities such as The Washington Street Show Choir and

Chelsea High School's musical, "The Boyfriend."

Lisa Hinz-Johnson, professor of voice at Adrian College and local voice instructor, notes that Chelsea is the perfect place to embark on this venture. "It's exciting to see a village the size of Chelsea supporting the arts," said Lisa. "The enthusiasm for the music programs within the schools and for The Purple Rose Theatre will carry over to this new effort."

Focus of the Arts Center will be on arts education for young people, but programs will be available for the entire community. Initial plans include private studios for voice stu-

No one is saying much of an official nature about what will happen next in village council's efforts to remove village manager Robert Stalker from his job. Village council asked for Stalker's resignation during a closed session Nov. 20. Council had scheduled an executive session for last night's meeting to discuss union negotiations and possibly the Stalker situation. Village president Richard Steele refused to comment on any aspect of the Stalker situation or whether it would be discussed last night.

Village planning commission approved site plans for Book-Crafters, Inc. and Chelsea Internal Medicine at their regular meeting last week. Book-Crafters plans to expand their North St. Parking lot, in some places within five feet of their east lot line. The company agreed to construct a 6', solid wood fence along the lot line to provide more privacy for adjoining residences. The approval was contingent on a second engineering review of plans for stormwater drainage.

Chelsea Board of Education members and district administrators will visit at least four elementary schools designed by two architectural firms before deciding which firm will handle the district's facilities plan. Scheduled for visits are schools built by Kingscott & Associates in Ypsilanti and Rochester and Greiner Co. in Brighton and Farmington. All the schools have been built in the last four years.

State budget cuts are hitting a variety of facets of the Michigan resident's way of life. First, social services and education; second, state police and sheriff's departments; now, state recreation area. The Nature Center at Waterloo Recreation Area has been eliminated, effective Jan. 3 when all operations will be ceased. Lack of state funds and the program's operation in the red area deemed the chief reasons for nature center termination.

Free throws were the name of the game Friday night as the Bulldogs sunk 29 in 39 attempts at the line for an amazing 74 percent average. Contributing 16 of these free throws was senior captain Jeff Dills. In 20 attempts, Dills shot 80 percent from the line and 73 percent from the floor to tally an excellent offensive night with 32 points.

A public hearing of the Sharon Township Zoning Board was held Tuesday evening, Dec. 15, to decide whether the Michigan Livestock Exchange should be granted permission to build and operate a livestock auction similar to the one which they had planned to build in Sylvan township earlier this fall. Following discussion, which lasted approximately one hour, the board dismissed to meet quietly for 15 minutes and vote on the issue. Permission was granted to the Exchange to build and operate under "Conditional Land Variance" a livestock exchange.

DNR's version of Keystone Cops

By Sen. Jack Weiborn

I am not sure whether Mother Nature laughs or cries when she contemplates the strange behavior of the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). Consider the Sichuan pheasant caper, for example. Parts of this episode could easily be interpreted as a Keystone Cops comedy, but the pheasant experiment is no movie and it is certainly no laughing matter to taxpayers nor to the pheasants.

This is a 10-year, $8 million saga that began in 1985 when DNR scientists journeyed to the other side of the world to gather pheasant eggs from the mountains of China's Sichuan province.

Secure in the knowledge that their adventure was being financed by taxpayers, the DNR globetrotters brought the eggs from their natural environment to Michigan where they were hatched in incubators, raised in pens, and released into the woods.

There the pheasants were promptly eaten by politically correct predators, including federally protected hawks and owls as well as the furry but bloodthirsty foxes and minks that consumers seldom wear now for fear of attracting a wild pack of animal rights activists.

The quick demise of pen-reared pheasants in the wilds was no surprise to veteran observers of nature not employed by state government, but DNR officials did not anticipate the slaughter. They had intended to replenish Michigan's rapidly dwindling pheasant population.

Critics claimed that, rather than bringing eggs from China, it would make more sense to bring experienced pheasants who know a little bit about surviving in the real world. Instead, the DNR started a survival training school for its pen-reared pheasants.

Predators were brought to the pen to teach the pheasants about the hazards they would face when released into the woods. The lesson plan was simple but harsh: the teachers ate as many pheasants as they could stomach.

Who says there's no such thing as a free lunch? The DNR figured that the surviving pheasants, by watching their brothers and sisters die, would learn to fear the predators and to avoid them. At first the predator teachers could not believe their good fortune.

"Everybody thought the predators would just kill and kill and kill," a DNR school administrator was quoted as saying in the April 2, 1989, Lansing State Journal. "The problem with all of these predators is to get them to hunt." The predators apparently had a sense of sportsmanship and knew the difference between hunting and eating a captive audience, but eventually the DNR coaxed them into their roles as classroom "hunter" teachers.

A reluctant fox named Lady refused to teach with DNR administrators present, so they left her in the pen overnight and she killed 30 birds.

"On the first morning in the Sichuan pen, Lady killed six birds in 35 minutes," the Lansing State Journal reported. "Then the rate started dropping off and she failed to kill a single bird in her last two visits to the pen."

I am not a scientist, but the fox probably just got sick of Sichuan pheasants, the way a human gets sick after eating 30 turkeys on Thanksgiving Day.

However, the DNR sees what it wants to, and it saw the fox's dropping kill rate as a sign that the pheasants had learned their lesson. "I think they've pretty much learned what Lady is all about," said a proud DNR official. Unfortunately, if the pheasants did learn anything they forgot it before they got to the forest. In fairness to the pheasants, it should be pointed out that 80 of them were unfairly burdened with DNR-installed backpack radios before being released to the "real world."

Five years after survival training school began, the DNR finally admitted, according to an article in the October 15, 1994, Detroit Free Press, that "its Sichuan experiment has failed, beaten by huge numbers of furred and feathered predators that eat pheasants."

DNR wildlife chief George Burgoyne said that when the $8 million Sichuan rearing program ended in 1996, the agency would change its emphasis from raising Sichuans to providing more habitat for the ringneck pheasants that have lived here since the 1920s.

However, when a member of my staff asked a DNR official why the experiment, an admitted failure, could not be ended immediately, he was told that the final report was still being written, that the Free Press article was based on a partial, preliminary report. In other words, the program from the beginning, no matter how ill-conceived, was destined to last at least until every penny of the $8 million allotment was spent.

In China the Sichuan pheasants did well because hunters control-ed the predator population, but, as one DNR official said, that's "socially unacceptable" here, so the future effort to increase the pheasant population will involve "land management."

In this case "land management" means turning forests into prairies, cutting down trees that help federally protected owls thrive, for example. This could help. While animal rights activists are in the woods protecting the trees and owls from DNR chainsaws, consumers might get up the nerve to start buying fur coats again.

It would have been a lot simpler to just let nature take its course and maybe put out some public service announcements encouraging people to save the pheasants by buying fur coats.

Taxpayers would have saved a lot of money and the pheasant population would have increased, but then history would have been deprived of the DNR's performance as the Keystone Cops.

'A Christmas Carol' Will Be Presented at Michigan Theatre

■ Chelsea residents Tara Platt, Roxanne Kring, Spencer Gallagher featured performers

Charles Dickens' holiday classic, A Christmas Carol, will be presented by the Purple Rose Theater Company and the Michigan Theater Foundation, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9 and 10, at 7:30 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 10 and 11 at 2:30 p.m. at the Michigan Theater, 603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor. Tickets may be purchased by calling (313) 668-TIME, or by visiting Schoolkids Records (523 E. Liberty) or any Ticketmaster outlet. This special event is made possible with support of the following sponsors: Ann Arbor Area Community Foundation, the Ann Arbor News, Briarwood, Ford Motor Co., Great Lakes Bancorp, Meijers, Parke-Davis Pharmaceutical Research Division, and The Pistons-Palace Foundation.

A Christmas Carol is probably the best-known and most widely-read of all Charles Dickens' works. Generations of children have grown up reading and watching the transformation of Scrooge, as he discovers the joys of giving. As the story begins, Ebenezer Scrooge is a miserly cold-hearted misanthrope. He is a man who would answer the biblical question "Am I my brother's keeper?" with a resounding "Humbly!" "If I had my way," Scrooge shouts, "ever idiot who goes about with a 'Merry Christmas' on his lips should be buried with a stake of holly through his heart!" Through a series of frightening revelations and prophecies presented by the Ghosts of

SPENCER GALLAGHER

Marley, and Christmases Past, Present, and Future, Scrooge evolves into a kind "mensch" who can empathize with the economic and physical struggles of the Cratchits, and share with them the generous spirit of Christmas.

In 1993, a production of A Christmas Carol was jointly produced by The Purple Rose Theater and the Michigan Theater, and became an audience and critical success. Returning to the Michigan Theater stage by very popular demand, the current production is once again directed by T. Newell Kring, acclaimed Artistic Director of the Purple Rose Theater. Carol cast members will include Philip Kerr as Scrooge, Erik Fredricksen as Marley's Ghost, and Geoffrey Beauchamp as Cratchit, all reprising their feature roles. Philip Kerr has appeared on Broadway in Macbeth, Otherwise Engaged, A Flea in Her Ear, and Three Sisters. He has also appeared off-Broadway at Playwright's Horizons and Manhattan Theatre Club, as well as with most of the finer LORT/regional theatres, including American Conservatory Theatre, Guthrie Theatre and Cleveland Playhouse. Eric Fredricksen began his professional career at the Guthrie Theatre, and has worked extensively on television and at such prestigious theatres as Seattle Repertory Company, LaJolla Playhouse, and the New York Shakespeare Festival. He is a founding member and past president of the Society of Fight Directors, and is the "Chair" of Theater at the University of Michigan. Geoffrey Beauchamp is no stranger to Michigan audiences, having performed extensively at the Meadowbrook Theater, with roles in Amadeus, Ten Little Indians, Dial M for Murder, and Deathtrap. He has also appeared on television on the daytime dramas "Ryan's Hope," and "Guiding Light."

Chelsea resident Roxanne Meggers Kring (Mrs. Cratchit) has been seen most recently by local audiences in Ann Arbor Civic Theater's production of South Pacific and in the Chelsea Area Players' Gypsy. Tara Platt (Martha Cratchit) is a 16-year-old senior at Chelsea High school. She made her acting debut at age nine, and has appeared in numerous stage roles, films, commercials, and voice-overs. Spencer Gallagher (Ignorance/Schoolboy) is the son of Judy and Kevin Gallagher, and is a third grade student at Chelsea's North school.

Also appearing in A Christmas Carol is popular Chelsea Area Players performer, Joe Diederich (Fezziwig). Joe was seen most recently as Emil in Ann Arbor Civic Theater's production of South Pacific and in last summer's musical The Unsinkable Molly Brown at the Crosswell Opera House.

Debate Team Qualifies For State Competition

What does a pear have to do with debate? Members of the Chelsea High School Debate Team, who qualified for the state meet on Saturday, can tell you. They can also tell you much more than you could possibly want to know about the immigration policy of the United States.

This year's debate topic is the U. S. immigration policy. Debate is a great opportunity for high school students to learn about logic, organization, and teamwork.

The team, coached by William Coelius and Janna Matsos, has done exceptionally well all season, earning three team trophies, two individual trophies for Melissa Messner and Lori Ritter, and the top record in the Jackson area league. Matsos is quite excited about being involved with the state tournament and has high hopes. A student at Eastern Michigan University, Matsos is currently student teaching under Coelius. She goes out of her way to make learning special and is well loved by her team.

The qualification for the state tournament places Chelsea's team in the top 25 teams state-wide. The team is comprised of Jessica Flintoft, Evan Knott, Lori Ritter, Steve Straub, and Mark Wallace. Of the state meet, Wallace comments, "Yep. We've got a chance to do well." Straub sums up the thoughts of the team by stating, "I just love debate... I just love it."

The five team members going to state represent the entire Chelsea team which includes Josh Inwood, Nikki Leidner, Melissa Messner, Aaron Mitchell, Mike Peterson, Tara Platt, Corrie Schoenberg, and Kate Steele. All team members have done extraordinarily well this year. Each school, however, may send only five representatives to state.

The meet will be held at Michigan State University on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9 and 10.

CHS Concert Choir Rehearsing Daily for Madrigal Dinner

In preparation of the upcoming Madrigal Dinner Dec. 15, members of the Chelsea High School Concert Choir rehearse daily and select groups meet twice a week in the early morning.

This annual event is designed as a fund-raiser and guests will be taken back 300-400 years to enjoy the wonderful sights, sounds, music and cuisine of the 16th century.

The tradition of the advent candles goes back many years. Although there are many variations, usually there are four advent candles, one for each Sunday of Advent, and the Christ candle, lit on Christmas morning. Perhaps by lighting the advent candles each week, we can all be reminded of the true reason for celebrating Christmas.

The Second Advent Candle: the Shepherd's Candle (Candle of Proclamation)

This candle honors those who came from the fields to see and share the good news of Christ's birth. Today, we share the good news in word, song, and decorations.

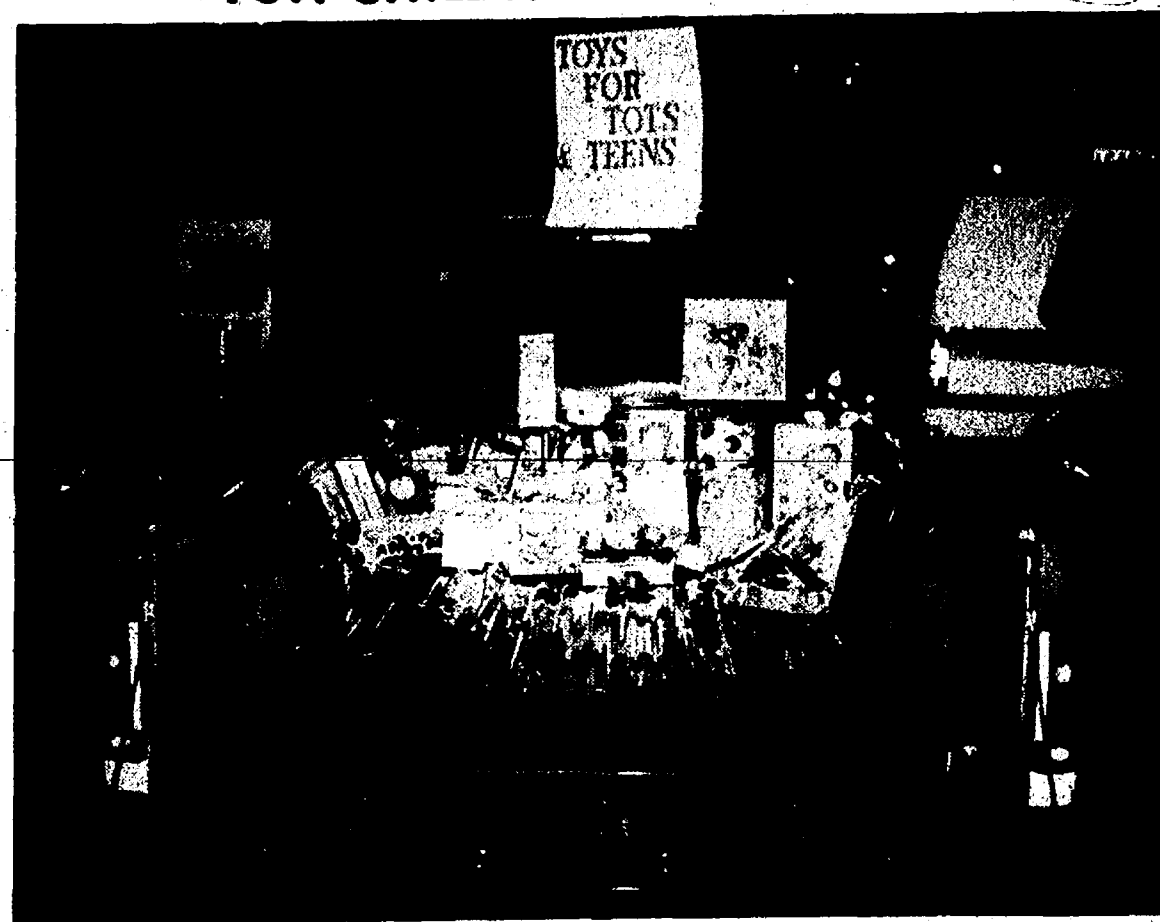

And they came with haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning the child Luke 2: 16-17

Astronomy 101 Class Offered Chelsea Kids

Third and fourth grade students in Chelsea Elementary schools will have the opportunity to learn about the solar system.

On Friday, Dec. 9, Charlie Taylor, a research fellow for Parke-Davis, and also an amateur astronomer, will bring his home-made 4 ft., 6-inch reflecting telescope and a scale model of the solar system. Students will hold planets and demonstrate their position in the solar system.

North Elementary classes will meet in the Multi-Purpose Room from 12:50 to 1:30 p.m.

South school students will meet in the cafeteria from 1:50 to 2:30 p.m.

This is one in a series of Exploration Workshops to be offered grade school children this year. The program is sponsored by the Chelsea School District, a part of the Talent Development Program as developed by Laurie Bissell, Chelsea schools curriculum director and is co-ordinated by Mary Jane Eder.

Programs of note that have been sponsored or funded by CEF include WRAP (Waterloo Recreation Area Project), a summer environmental education camp; Girls in Science, a hands-on science program for young girls held in co-operation with the University of Michigan Aerospace Department; annual mini-grants; scholarships and community forums on important educational topics.

dents and for piano students, a choir of boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 13, and theatre classes for all ages. Short term courses will also be offered in such areas as visual arts and musical theatre.

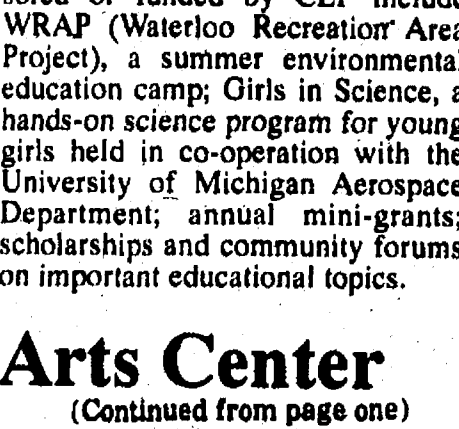

Considering the success of their first fund-raising effort, founders of The Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts hope to have an annual funds drive in addition to accepting ongoing contributions. When asked if the dinner-performance at The Common Grill would become a "tradition," Steve Hinz commented, "It would be fun to do it again next year. But perhaps we'll change the name of the program to 'Keeping It Together'."

Safe House Holds First Public Tour

The first public tour of the new SAFE House was held Sunday, Dec. 4. The building, which is 80% finished, has been built primarily by tax dollars. SAFE House hopes to move to its new building some time early this year.

The open house took place at 4100 Clark Rd. (parallel to Washtenaw in back of the Sheriff's Department). There were refreshments, entertainment and children's activities. The Junior League of Ann Arbor presented SAFE House with a check for $1,000 in honor of this tour.

The building has happened because the current SAFE House (which is leased from the state) is falling apart. Recent problems with the furnace, and septic tank have accelerated the need for a new building. The old shelter is not on a bus line nor is it accessible to wheelchairs.

In October of 1992, voters of Washtenaw county passed a 1/4-mil property tax designated for the construction of a new building to house domestic violence victims, including children. This historic action marks the first time in the country that a domestic violence shelter was built with tax monies by the community. The building is owned by the county and will be leased to the Domestic Violence Project, Inc./SAFE House for 50 years at $1 a year. The building will cost $3.5 million, $3.3 million will be covered by the millage tax. SAFE House is raising the additional $200,000 (primarily for furnishings and equipment).

The building covers 30,000 square feet. It has 20 bedrooms and will house 45 people (plus cribs). (The current shelter is 28 beds plus cribs). It includes a Children's Center; Educational Center and Non-Residential Counseling facilities, in addition to the shelter. The architects are Ann Arbor Architects Collaborative and the construction company is Phoenix Construction.

Housing Starts Continue at Steady Level

Michigan housing project starts for October 1994 fell from September 1994, but by only .6%. The year to date totals for 1994 are up 8% over 1993.

"Mortgage rates and lumber prices continue to creep upward," stated Mike Theunissen, president of the Michigan Association of Home Builders. "But in spite of the cost increases the housing market remains stable. This especially seems to be true in multi-family dwellings as indicated by the increase in 1994 year-to-date unit totals. Year-to-date project totals for 1994 are still the highest in comparison to 1990, '91, '92, and '93."

Michigan Association of Home Builders is comprised of more than 10,000 member companies, thus providing service to over 370,000 people in the home building/construction industry. MAHB also represents 36 local home builder associations throughout the state.

The aftermath of alcohol use cost this nation more than $100.4 billion in 1992. That's $404 for every man, woman and child.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINER Maureen Schiffman and Coco the Kazoo Playing Monkey are coming to the annual Christmas Sing program at Dexter Area Museum. Schiffman will sing and play her mandolin with her prankster Coco and the dancing puppet punchanella. PEACE KEEPER: Navy Chief Petty Officer Paul McCormick, son-in-law of Noel Brown of Lima township, was one of 10,000 Navy and about 2,000 Marine Corps members who patrolled the waters just miles off the coast of Haiti. McCormick was an electronics warfare technician on board USS Wasp. Wasp, homeported in Norfolk, Va., is the largest amphibious assault ship in the world. McCormick and his crewmates were part of an amphibious ready group that spent seven weeks steaming the Caribbean waters off Haiti. The amphibious ready group is part of a larger multi-national task force responsible for carrying out United Nations Security Council sanctions aimed at restoring democracy in Haiti. McCormick, 35, entered the Navy in November 1983.

Manchester Girl Delegate To National 4-H Congress

Katrina Bihlmeyer of Manchester, will be among 1,400 youths (ages 16-19) gathering in Orlando, Fla. for the 73rd National 4-H Congress, Dec. 3.

Delegates from all 50 states and Puerto Rico will be joined by state advisors, national 4-H staff, trustees, donors and volunteers for the 4-H congress.

While building on its history of educating American youth to solve "issues critical to their lives, their families and society," the 1994 Congress is leading the way into the future with its bold, new Workforce Preparedness Initiative.

Katrina is the daughter of John and Nancy (Mshar) Bihlmeyer of Manchester. She is well known throughout the area both for her 4-H and school activities.

Through the new program, which is being launched at this year's Congress, delegates will receive information and skills to help them in career applications. Visits to business will be the source of further exposure to various worksites and career opportunities. Industry leaders, trustees, donors and state advisors will address and interact with delegates in a variety of other sessions. Delegates will also learn more about living in a culturally diverse society including an international assignment to learn more about the people, culture, history, and economics of the 11 countries featured at EPCOT Center.

More than 5.4 million youths, ages 5-19, participate in 4-H. Members, of which more than 30 percent live in metropolitan areas and more than 25 percent are members of ethnic or racial minorities, are involved in diverse programs. From mechanical science to small engines and aerospace, marine science, environmental stewardship, workforce preparedness, home and personal management to citizenship and international and domestic exchanges, today's 4-H agenda focuses on the concerns and interests of contemporary young Americans.

Supporting these activities are nearly 700,000 volunteers, 4,300 professional staff members and 1,200 paraprofessionals throughout the country.

Ranger, the first U.S. aircraft carrier, was launched at Newport News, Virginia in 1933.

Views On Dental Health.

GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S.

FLUORIDE FACTS

Dental literature is replete with facts on the effectiveness of fluoride in preventing tooth decay. How does it work? Sugars in the mouth set up a favorable environment for the growth and development of germs. These germs produce acids that cause decay and leave behind deposits that injure the gums. One of the big defenses against this process is fluoride which builds up the resistance of teeth to these acids. It should be in your child's drinking water so it can be absorbed in his growing teeth; it should also be in your child's toothpaste, and applied regularly on his teeth by the family dentist.

fluoridate its water supply) reports that tooth decay has been cut in half among its school children, and credits fluoride for this improvement. As an added plus, Chicago parents are saving an estimated $20 million a year in dental bills.

In areas where the water is not fluoridated, children's teeth can be substantially protected against cavities by fluoride in drop or tablet form.

Toys for Tots & Teens Campaign Underway

Toys for Tots & Teens campaign, sponsored locally by Palmer Ford-Mercury of Chelsea, has begun. Dates for the toy drive are Nov. 28 through Dec. 15.

It is requested that only new toys without gift wrapping be brought to the Palmer Ford-Mercury new car showroom, 222 S. Main St. The dealership is open Monday through Thursday until 8 p.m., Fridays until 6 p.m. and Saturdays until 3 p.m. Your donation entitles you to register for a 13" color television donated by the dealership.

Toys may also be left at the Mobil Perkery Pantry, 501 S. Main St.

Things were busy at Palmer Ford-Mercury after Thanksgiving. The truck used for the Toys for Tots & Teens was brought into the snow-room and the toys received late last year were put in the truck to start off this year's campaign.

This marks the sixth year of the Toys for Tots & Teens campaign in Chelsea. Suzie Palmer Weber heads up this campaign, which is responsible for over 75 families during the holiday season. The families are primarily in the Chelsea area but the generosity of the community has served other surrounding areas with the excess donations.

Both North and South school students will donate toys to the campaign in place of an individual gift exchange. Chelsea has always shown the true spirit of Christmas in their generosity to Toys for Tots & Teens, and, it starts with our youth. You are encouraged to match their spirit of

Long-time Chelsea Fire Chief Resigns

Life-long firefighter and long-time Chelsea Fire Chief Dan Hanker is stepping down from his duties after submitting his resignation to the village council last Nov. 22.

Hanker's resignation takes effect Dec. 31. Assistant fire chief Dan Ellenwood, also a long-time Chelsea firefighter, will replace him. Ellenwood was appointed fire chief by council at the Tuesday night meeting.

Ellenwood's appointment was based on a recommendation by fire commissioners and councilmen Richard Rigg and George Merkel.

Village manager Jack Myers said Hanker resigned to spend more time with his family. The former Dana Corp. employee who recently retired, was serving the end of his second, three-year term. Prior to council making three-year appointments, the firefighters voted on the selection of their chief.

The fire chief position pays an annual stipend of $4,000 plus an hourly rate for fire runs. Ellenwood will serve from Jan. 1, 1995 through the end of Hanker's three-year term, which ends February 1996.

SPORTS

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Coaches, Athletes Earn Recognition

Chelsea athletes and coaches were honored this year as leading area teams with talent and skill.

Chelsea High school varsity basketball coach Charlie Waller was named Coach of the Year by The Ann Arbor News for the 1994 Class B-C-D. Waller is credited for turning the team around from a 6-15 record three years ago to 34-11. Chelsea cagers finished second in the Southeastern Conference with a 10-2 record this year. The team's only defeat came when three-time conference champion Pinckney beat the Bulldogs.

Waller began his coaching career with Chelsea athletics 20 years ago as a coach in the junior high program. He also coached high school softball at Chelsea for 12 years before taking the head coach position for the varsity cagers.

Another outstanding accomplishment for the Chelsea varsity cagers was the naming of Bulldog Courtney

Thompson, a senior, to the Class B girls' basketball all-state honorable mention team last Thursday.

A 6' 3" center, Thompson averaged 17.3 points per game and 4.6 blocks in 24 games. She also led the team to a Class B regional final this year. Thompson also led the SEC in field goals shooting and is being recruited by Northwood University, Adrian College, Albion College, Spring Arbor College and Hope College.

Besides earning all-state recognition, Thompson was named captain of The Ann Arbor News' Class B-C-D All-Area team.

Earning recognition throughout the area for her swimming talent was Bulldog Betsy Schmunk. A senior, Schmunk was named to the Ann Arbor News' Class B-C-D All-Area Team.

Schmunk won the consolation heat, earning seventh place over-all, of the 200 freestyle relay. Her time was a season best at 2:00.82. Schmunk also finished fifth in the 500 freestyle with a time of 5:26.74. At the SEC meet, Schmunk placed second in the 200 and 500 freestyles.

Also earning recognition on the local swim team were swimmers Erin Hack and Christy Lonskey, who were named to the second team, and Kim Grossman, who was named honorable mention.

Chelsea swim coach Dave Brinklow joins coach Waller as outstanding coach of the year. Brinklow was given the honor by The Ann Arbor News for 1994 Class B-C-D.

Brinklow is recognized for leading the Bulldogs to a ninth place finish at the Class B-C-D state meet after the team finished 20th last year. The Bulldogs were 10-1 this year and finished third in the SEC, behind champion Milan and runner-up Dexter.

Varsity Bulldogs Ready For '94 Basketball Season

The Bulldogs have been gearing up for the '94 varsity basketball season with vigor as the team returns for another fight for the district title.

After winning the district championships two consecutive years and going to regionals last year, the Bulldogs are hoping for a return engagement.

This year's line up includes 12 varsity players, six returning letterman and six newcomers. Returning players are Case McCalla, Chad Brown, Bryndon Skelton, James Diesing, Scott Colvin and Nick Brink. Newcomers to the varsity squad are Kevin Cross, Kevin Holmes, Sam Morseau, Damon McLaughlin and Chris Dronen, all junior varsity players advancing to the varsity level, and Kevin Coy, a senior who played on the junior varsity squad his sophomore year.

After three weeks of training, the team is ready to go. The only apparent weakness coach Robin Raymond sees for the varsity cagers is lack of height. The tallest player stands at 6'1", which is the shortest tallest player in the past 15 years.

Raymond, who is entering his 13th season as varsity coach, says quickness is a definite asset for the squad. "We should be strong defensively. Our outside shooting should be good."

As for style, Raymond says Bulldog fans can expect tough defense. "Our style is, we like to pick up full court on defense; we play mostly man-to-man defense and normally our style is pretty aggressive defensively. We like to get after the ball."

Offensively, Raymond expects the Bulldogs to run the ball up the court. "We run fast break all the time. We like to have a lot of movement off offense with a lot of picking and cutting."

For a successful season Raymond says the team has to work on two factors. "We have to rebound the ball and we have to play good inside defense."

The team played its season opener against Williamston Tuesday night. On Friday, the Bulldogs travel to Saline for their first league game.

JV Cagers Honored At Annual Banquet

Chelsea High school's junior varsity girls' basketball team was honored at its annual banquet held Wednesday, Nov. 30.

The 13-player team ended its season 15-5 and 9-3 in the Southeastern Conference.

Freshman Hilary Spooner was named Most Improved player at the banquet. Teammates Melissa Carty, Michelle Lucas and Carrie Williams, all sophomores, were named Players of the Year.

Award winners include Angie Carpenter, Robyn Raymond, Emily Arend, Carty, Cindy Richard, Williams, Lucas, Christine Hodgson, Sarah Pruess, Rachelle Skelly, Rebekkah Burby, Spooner and Christine Herdon.

The team is coached by Chelsea High school teacher Paul Terpstra.

A new consumer survey by the beef industry finds the more well done a steak is cooked, the less satisfied people are with the flavor. Perception of beef flavor is also improved through outdoor grilling.

Pinckney Pirate Nicole Cushing Named Tops

Pinckney High school's Nicole Cushing appears to be the best player in the seven-team Southeastern Conference.

Cushing garnered recognition this past week when she was named Player of the Year in girls' basketball by The Ann Arbor News.

Holding 15 school records, Cushing placed 10th in the recent Miss Basketball voting for the state of Michigan. This season she averaged 20.6 points, 10 rebounds, four steals, 3.8 blocks and 2.4 assists.

Cushing has received honors for her basketball playing skills since her freshman year. She was a second team, All-SEC selection, that year and has served on the SEC first team all four years. She was also named to The Ann Arbor News' All-Area first team her sophomore year. Cushing has also led her Amateur Athletic Union team and the Motor City Blazers to consecutive national tournaments.

A versatile player, jumping in every position this year except for shooting guard, Cushing has been an All-SEC sprinter, long jumper and thrower for the Pinckney track team.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Sylvan Township

Warrant Arrests

Hans D. McConeghy, 19, of Jackson was arrested on a warrant by Leoni township police and turned over to the sheriff's department on 1-94 near Notten Rd., Dec. 1. McConeghy was wanted by the sheriff's department for a misdemeanor charge of expired vehicle license plate.

Webster Township

Domestic Assault and Battery

Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 6400 block of Todd Dr., Nov. 22. A 19-year-old township man and his 15-year-old brother apparently argued over use of the telephone and began fighting. Their father called police to report the assault around 8:45 p.m. The younger sibling sustained a scratch on his neck, and said he was grabbed and choked. The older sibling said his younger brother started the fight and kicked him in the hip. The father says he only saw his older son restraining the younger one. The younger boy also reportedly smashed a television set in his room out of anger.

Lyndon Township

Drunk Driving

A 25-year-old Munith man was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor and for having an unlawful blood/alcohol level on Werkner Rd. near Island Lake Rd., Nov. 27. The vehicle the man was driving was reportedly involved in a roll-over collision about 1 a.m. No injuries were reported. When the Munith man, who was driving, was interviewed by police, a deputy noted smelling a strong odor of intoxicants. He admitted to consuming alcohol at Shooters Lounge prior to driving. His blood/alcohol level was tested at .16 percent, which is considered legally intoxicated.

Lima Township

Credit Card Fraud

Credit card fraud was reported in the 13400 block of Old US-12, Nov. 26. A 67-year-old township woman told police her husband passed away recently and the obituary appeared in the newspaper. Shortly after, she received a call from a man identifying himself as a representative of her deceased husband's insurance company. He asked for the dead man's credit card numbers, and the woman complied. She was later notified by the credit card company that someone was trying to get another woman's named listed as a user of the card. As a result, she canceled the credit cards immediately.

Larceny

Larceny from a vehicle was reported on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. near Lima Center Rd. near the Four Mile Lake access road, Nov. 26. A 41-year-old Westland man at the lake duck hunting told police someone broke into his 1985 Chevy pick-up and stole a semi-automatic shot gun, a Craftsman tool box, a floor jack and Canadian goose decoys. The items are worth $1,800. His truck sustained $100 in damages when the thief broke into it.

Recovered Stolen Vehicles

A 1993 GMC van was recovered in the 13800 block of Luick Dr., Lima township. The vehicle was reported stolen out of Chelsea Police Department. It is valued at $10,000. It was found at the same location another vehicle was stolen from. Chelsea police called a wrecker to tow the vehicle so they could dust it for fingerprints.

A 1994 Jeep Cherokee was stolen from the 13000 block of McKinley Rd., Nov. 29 and another Jeep was broken into. The incident was reported by the vehicle owner, a 45-year-old township man. It happened between 11 p.m. Nov. 28 and 7 a.m. Nov. 29. He said the spare set of keys to the 1994 Jeep were left inside of it. The thief entered his garage through a south side door. After the man drove his daughter to school, he discovered the Jeep in a field on McKinley Rd. with the grill broken off and the right turn signal indicator broken. Stolen were a radar detector and other items.

Stolen Vehicle

A 1991 Chevy S-10 pick-up was reported stolen from the 13800 block of Luick Dr., Nov. 21. The owner is a 26-year-old Jackson man. He said he left the ignition key in the truck, which is valued at $10,000.

Dexter Township

Stolen Vehicle

A 1989 Chevy van was reported stolen from the 14000 block of McKinley Rd., Nov. 29. A 54-year-old township man told police the van was stolen sometime between 1:20 p.m. and 2:15 p.m. while he exercised in the basement. The vehicle owner said he came upstairs to get dressed and found his jeans in another location. Missing were his wallet and keys to his vehicle. He noticed the door from his house to garage ajar. He looked inside the garage and found the van missing. The vehicle number was entered into the Law Enforcement Information Network and recovered Dec. 1 on Walsh Rd. lake access site on Pierce and Bush Rds.

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported in the 3000 block of McKinley Rd., Nov. 29. A 43-year-old township woman told police a portable compact disc player was stolen between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. The woman also reported someone had been in her car overnight and took her briefcase. She found the briefcase near her shed. She believes the suspect may be the same who stole her car keys and car in August. She believes the suspect may have made a copy of her keys to break-in.

Recovered Stolen Property

A 44-year-old township man reported finding a daytimer containing personal papers, a carbon dioxide tank, gym bag and other items. The owner is a Jackson man. The items were recovered in a stolen vehicle.

Confiscated Property/Impound

A 40-year-old township man was stopped for speeding along Dexter-Pinckney Rd. near Fleming Rd., Nov. 17. Police discovered he was driving with an expired license plate on his 1990 Toyota. The license plate was confiscated and his vehicle was impounded as a result. The incident occurred about 10:48 p.m. His license plate expired in May 1994.

Warrant Arrests

William L. Knaf, 29, of Chelsea was arrested on a warrant after police were dispatched to the 5700 block of Stofer Rd. regarding an assault and battery, Nov. 8. Knaf was the victim in the assault, but had three outstanding warrants calling for his arrest. The warrants involved driving with a suspended driver's license and driving with an expired vehicle license plate.

Assault and Battery

Assault and battery was reported in the 5700 block of Stofer Rd., Nov. 8. A 29-year-old township man was assaulted by her live-in girlfriend's ex-husband around 8 p.m. The woman's ex-husband, a 38-year-old Chelsea man, allegedly returned their children home after a visit and exchanged heated words with the woman's boyfriend. The suspect apparently threatened the victim and swung his fist, but did not strike the victim. The victim does not want to press charges.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

On behalf of many families, individuals and visitors to Chelsea, I'd like to publicly thank Jack Myers, village manager, and Dave Bulson, superintendent of public works, for the much-needed improvement in the condition of the Pierce Park portable toilets. Also, they made a good decision by increasing the number from just two to three units, which does help with the heavy level of use in the park. I hope that they will also consider the addition of an accessible toilet next year, too.

Chelsea parks are experiencing much greater use all year round, with many families, children's play groups, local organizations and others in the community who enjoy these important resources. Also, many visitors and tourists gain their first impression of Chelsea based on a visit to the park, and we hope to provide the best image possible.

Because we are all very proud of Chelsea, I hope that we will always try to educate ourselves to take good care of our parks. We can all help to teach our children to keep the facilities clean, use trash receptacles, and respect the natural beauty of the parks. There will be much more growth in Chelsea's future, so we will all benefit from learning to show our care and concern for everyone's enjoyment of the parks.

Thanks to the Village leadership for all of their efforts. I look forward to continued awareness of needed improvements next year.

Jennifer Kundak

Dear Editor:

The Ecology Center of Ann Arbor has criticized me for inaccuracies made in advertisements I placed in The Dexter Leader. In deference to their desire to have the record set straight, I would appreciate it if you would print the following to correct these inaccuracies.

I certainly wish to apologize for these inaccuracies and would like to issue a public retraction of those points that have been inaccurate.

1. With respect to the cleanup issue, the Ecology Center has issued specific statements indicating that discharge into Huron Creek should be 0.3 parts per billion (ppb). Technically, that is not insisting on non-detect. The recent defeat of the special environmental tax in Scio township by a margin of 2-1 is an indication that the public does not support the position of "near zero" discharge.

Paradoxically, the Ecology Center does not take this position in the case of the Ellsworth Rd. site, which is owned by the City of Ann Arbor. Does the receipt of millions of dollars from the city influence the actions of the Ecology Center?

2. I am truly sorry that our advertising may have suggested that the Ecology Center was part of Greenpeace. The President of the Ecology Center's Board of Directors is an admitted full-time employee of Greenpeace. Statements from the Ecology Center with respect to chlorine and other issues are identical to statements made by Greenpeace. The letter from Tracey Easthope to the Detroit Free Press certainly gives the community the impression that Ms. Easthope is acting as a spokesperson for Greenpeace.

3. With respect to the Board of Directors, I am pleased to notice on the latest financial statement that the Ecology Center no longer pays non-working Board of Directors more than Ann Arbor City Council members and that this practice has been corrected or eliminated. This statement is not audited, however, it has been "reviewed" by auditors.

4. Adam Banner is self employed and is not an employee of Gelman Sciences. His letter to the Detroit Free Press pointing out inaccuracies of Tracey Easthope's position and her lack of scientific education was his own initiative.

With respect to statements about legal activities, it may be true that a relatively small amount from the Ecology Center budget goes into legal expenses; however, that figure is deceptively low. Legal work has been performed for the Ecology Center on a contingency basis. That way, these costs do not show up as direct expenses. Much of the work of their so-called "toxic department" is directed toward uncovering information about industrial operations that could be used during legal proceedings against companies found to violate reporting requirements, such as Johnson Controls.

We would be interested in participating with the Ecology Center for educating the community on matters related toward the cleanup of the Great Lakes and risk evaluation.

One project we might jointly work together on is pressuring the State of Michigan to clean up their own Act 307 sites. The worst site in the state is the Jackson County prison. In the five years that have passed since state-wide publicity, nothing has been done to clean up this site. Instead of focusing attention on a minuscule improvement of cleanup at the Gelman site, more efficient use of funds could be spent by focusing on sites that could be major environmental problems.

Charles Gelman, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
Gelman Sciences

WASHINGTON STREET SHOW CHOIR was very fortunate to have had the opportunity to work under the direction of Brent Holland, (placement) a nationally recognized professional choreographer from Indianapolis, Ind. The group recently spent 18 hours of intense instruction with Brent and learned many exciting new routines for the upcoming year. WSSC was honored to work with this very enthusiastic teacher and promises all the fun and hard work will be something to see at performances scheduled in February and May.

About one third of the 97,000 jobs listed each year through the national Interstate Job Bank are managerial and professional occupations, with about 12 percent in structural and 19 percent in clerical and sales occupations. The median salary for all jobs listed in the Interstate Job Bank, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor and used by all state employment service offices, is $20,000 a year.

Water Rate Increase OK'd

Chelsea Village Council approved a 20 percent water rate increase after receiving assurance from its bond council Tuesday night, Nov. 22.

The hike will take effect Jan. 1, as will an increase in tap-in fees and a $25 surcharge for discontinuous. A larger-user discount will also be eliminated. The council has also committed to re-addressing 12 percent fee increases in 1996 and 1997.

Village manager Jack Myers said the increase is necessary to provide additional revenue to build a new 400,000 gallon water tower and provide distribution lines. The needed tower is proposed for an acre parcel behind A&W restaurant donated by developer Rene Papo & Associates.

Construction of the water tower is expected to cost $700,000.

CHELSEA MUSIC BOOSTERS have expressed appreciation to the community, including friends and family members of all music students, for their interest and support of the performing arts. Efforts to purchase new uniforms for the high school music programs have proven successful. Through many fund-raising events including the successful fall car wash-a-thon, dinner-dances, proceeds from the snow cone sales, etc., the boosters have raised enough over the last three years to outfit the groups represented in photo above. Left to right are Michelle Smith, wind ensemble; Hillary Smith, chamber orchestra; Bryan Jankovic, concert choir; and Karsten Lipiec, wind ensemble.

to right are Nathaniel and Kaycie Susan, son and daughter of the Will Susans, Gilda Elkins, Eleanor Baeske and Eugene Seitz portraying the shepherd with his Corriedale sheep.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

My wife and I raised three wonderful daughters. They've all grown up, moved out, and now have families of their own. One of my favorite memories is taking my daughter, Janet, to Four Mile Lake to fish for Pike. Janet was 13 years old at that time, and had never caught a Pike. We only caught one "keeper" that day, and, as you may have guessed, Janet caught it. It was not a monster pike, being only 28 inches long, but to Janet, it was Moby Dick. She was so proud of that fish! We took our usual picture of the fish, and because it was such a big event in her life, she asked if we could put the picture in the newspaper.

I would imagine most people reading this true story would think, "Isn't that nice." Even if they had never fished with their father, they would have "good" thoughts about a family doing something they enjoy. Up to this point, in most people's eyes, I would be a "good guy" for spending time "bonding" with my daughters. No one would have written letters to the editor of The Chelsea Standard speaking out against fishing. That's because anti-hunters view fishing as being "O.K." I doubt if Jean Vargas would have written a letter to the Editor similar to the one she wrote appearing in The Chelsea Standard on Nov. 30, 1994: "I was equally upset that your paper printed three pictures of hunters (fishermen) with the deer (fish) they had killed (caught). Maybe they feel pride for their actions. I find them disgusting and wonder why I, who choose not to hunt (fish) have to view their trophies in my community paper! There are many more constructive activities that are worth photographing in this community!"

No one would have asked, "How could you kill Charlie the Tuna?" Why is it during deer season they ask, "How could you kill Bambi?" I guess it's because people who have never worked on a farm, or haven't spent much time around wildlife, have a hard time understanding the difference between the "real" world of animals and a Walt Disney movie. By the way, feeding popcorn to Mallard ducks on a park pond does NOT qualify you as having spent time around wildlife.

For years, The Chelsea Standard printed pictures of deer hunters with the bucks they had taken. Were these hunters proud? You BET they were! They were proud for the same reason others are proud when they win the demolition derby at the Chelsea Fair, win the tractor pull, get an award at the 4-H show for raising the biggest pumpkin, or raise a "Blue Ribbon" lamb.

Several years ago, a woman wrote a letter to the Editor saying she had moved to Chelsea from the city to escape violence, and now she was forced to look at pictures of dead deer who had died a "violent" death. The Chelsea Standard issued a statement saying they would print only half of the pictures of hunters with their bucks. My response to that woman is "Don't move into our community and then try to change a way of life that has existed for decades. If you don't like life in the country, by ALL means, feel free to move back to the city, or wherever it is you came from. If it offends you to look at the pictures, then I think the obvious answer is... don't look. Sorry to hear you are so traumatized by seeing these pictures in the paper. You must be a real basket case at Polly's Market around the fresh meat section."

I don't expect everyone to enjoy hunting or even approve of it, but currently, it IS a legal activity. In America, everyone has the constitutional right to work within the framework of the law to change any law with which they may not agree. They may not always be victorious, but they have the right to try. So I say to the anti-hunters. "Have at it, but quit trying to force your opinions, values, and way of life on me."

I am tired of seeing the animal rights whackos show up at the Buck Pole at Mill Creek Sporting Goods in Dexter each year just long enough to get their face on TV or in the paper, and then go to their home, in the land of OZ, and tell each other what marvelous people they are because only THEY "care" about the animals. According to the TV and the paper, several of these "demonstrators" are members of P.E.T.A. (People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals). I am reminded of an interview I saw on TV several years ago where, the founder of P.E.T.A., I think her name was Ingrid Kirk, was asked, "Your motto is, A rat is a pig is a dog is a boy. With that motto in mind, if you saw a drowning rat and a drowning baby, which would you save first?" I will never forget her response: "...I'd have to think about that," she said.

Enough said... end of story.

Grit Drying Bed Purchase OK'd by Village Council

Chelsea Village Council approved purchase of a grit drying bed that will dry material from street catch basins before it is disposed of. At the Nov. 22 meeting, the council approved a not-to-exceed amount of $10,000 for the grit drying bed, which will be kept at the waste water treatment plant. In the past, the material had been sucked out of the catch basins with a street sweeper and dumped in refuse haulers. Now, the material must be dried and disposed of in an authorized landfill. For now, the village is taking the material to an interim transfer station.

NATIVE AMERICAN STUDIES: During their social studies unit about Native Americans, the first grade classes at South Elementary school were given a presentation on Native American history, culture, dances, and artifacts. Holiday Blood Drive Slated By K.C. Council

On Wednesday, Dec. 14, Dexter Knights of Columbus Council #2959 will be holding a community blood drive from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The community is invited to participate in this holiday blood drive, to be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 8265 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., Dexter.

Appointments are not necessary, but to schedule one please call Christine at (313) 971-6534.

The blood drive was scheduled to help boost the area's blood supply before the holidays due to a decrease in collections. Type O donors are especially needed.

To donate blood, an individual must be at least 17 years of age, weigh at least 110 lbs., and be in general good health. A person may donate blood every eight weeks.

Card of Thanks 19

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all the wonderful relatives and friends who have contributed in any way to show their friendship, love and concern for my beloved husband and me. The many prayers and other contributions did much to alleviate the difficult times. We are really appreciative of the many visits Barney received both at the hospital and at home. It is difficult to name all the wonderful people who contributed in any way to comfort us. However, I want to especially thank our wonderful neighbors and friends who did so much for us—the D. Keizers, Oma Parsons, Wavelene Cole, Herb Pearson, the R. Swanbergs, Judy Pavitt, Helen Van Loon. A special thanks to Joe Brennan, the Eucharistic minister who provided Barney with the Spiritual Food which did much to help him through the days. Gratefully,

Mary Besso.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank everyone at Chelsea High school, including Ron Mead, Gene LaFave, Barb Sullivan and all of our son's teachers for their help following Jared's auto accident Nov. 17. Special thanks to the students who have sent cards, called or visited. You have all helped a new transfer student feel welcome at a difficult time and our family is very grateful for your concern.

Jim and Martha Klumpp.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank all our friends and family for all their many kindnesses, calls, flowers and food. Special thanks to Doctors Michael Smith, Gerald Waldyke, and Leslie Barnard for their special care and concerns; also to the Rev. Peggy Paige for her comforting words.

The Family of Paul Widmayer.

Bids Opened for Freer Rd. Special Assessment District

Bids for the sale of bonds for the Freer Rd. special assessment district were accepted yesterday afternoon with four financial institutions submitting bids.

Chelsea Village manager Jack Myers unsealed the bids at 3:30 p.m., reporting Roney & Co., First of America Brokerage Service, Inc., Comerica Securities and Kemper Securities, Inc. placed bids. The village council will award the bid at its Dec. 13 monthly meeting.

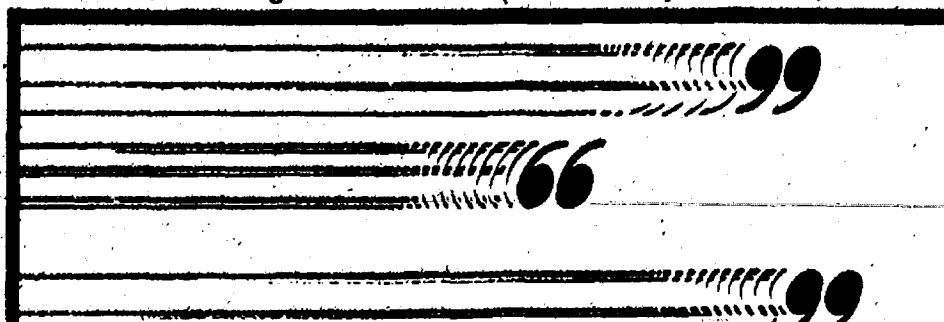

The four financial institutions are bidding for the right to buy bonds for the Freer Rd. special assessment district. Gleason Construction of Holland, O. has already been awarded the contract for construction of the sewer.

Construction of the Freer Rd. sewer will provide a lift station on Freer Rd. and bring sewer lines across the road, near the high school parking exit, across school property, south-westerly to Book St. and due south. The Flanders St. lift station will be removed and both sewers will tie together.

The Washington Monument has a stairway of 896 steps.
