ONE HUNDRED TWENTY-THIRD YEAR—No. 34

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1995

18 Pages This Week 2 Supplements

SANDRA MERKEL, right, representing the Merkel family, presented a $9,000 check to Marti Reesman, president of the Chelsea Education Foundation to start an endowment fund in memory of the late Mary Merkel. Scholarships will be provided by the fund to assist persons pursuing education in the nursing profession.

Education Foundation Accepts Mary Merkel Endowment

The Chelsea Education Foundation recently accepted a gift of $9,000 from the Merkel family of Chelsea to establish the Mary Merkel Fund for Nursing Education. The Foundation will administer the endowment fund, which will support students pursuing nursing education and other types of health care and nursing efforts in the Chelsea community.

The Mary Merkel Fund is in memory of Mary Merkel who died in 1989 and received nursing care at Chelsea Community Hospital, the Chelsea Retirement Community and in her home. The fund was developed by the Merkel family in memory of her own interest and support of the nursing profession.

"The family began this fund because of Mary's special love of nursing and because the family hoped to support nurses in the community where she lived," said Sandra Merkel, spokeswoman for the Merkel family. "In addition, Mary wished to be a nurse, but was unable to fulfill that wish," said Merkel. "However, three daughters-in-law, a sister and a granddaughter of Mary's all became nurses."

Primary purpose of the Fund will be to support scholarships for persons entering or currently enrolled in associate, bachelor's or master's degree nursing programs. It is the intent that at least one $500 scholarship will be awarded each Spring. Funds may also be used to support health care and nursing education programs within the Chelsea community.

Scholarship or grant recipients will be selected from applications from residents of the Chelsea community. A review committee comprised of members of the Chelsea Education Foundation Board of Trustees, the community and where possible, the Merkel family, will recommend recipients to the Board of Trustees of the Chelsea Education Foundation.

Chelsea Education Foundation will promote the growth of the Mary Merkel Fund for Nursing Education through its annual fund-raising efforts.

For more information regarding the Mary Merkel Fund for Nursing Education, please contact the Chelsea Education Foundation, P.O. Box 295, Chelsea 48118.

Purple Rose Theatre Holding Auditions for 'Hang the Moon' Cast

Purple Rose Theatre Company will be holding auditions for its third production of the 1994-95 season, Hang the Moon. Auditions for adults will be on Monday, Jan. 30 and Tuesday, Jan. 31 from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Auditions for the child's role will be on Saturday, Feb. 4 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. These auditions are for individuals who were not seen at the general auditions in August. They are by appointment only and will be held at the Purple Rose's Garage Theatre, 137 Park St., Chelsea.

Hang the Moon by Suzanne Burr, will be directed by T. Newell Kring. Available roles are: one African American female, early 50's; one Asian American male, 40 or older; one African American male, early 40's; two males, early 40's; 2 males, 20-40; and one Asian American child, 10-14, to portray a young boy.

Purple Rose Theatre Company operates under an Equity SPT category 3 contract, using both Equity and Non-Equity actors. Callback dates and times to be announced.

All auditionees must present two contrasting contemporary monologues, combined time not more than three minutes. Please bring a head shot and resume.

For an appointment and directions to the Garage Theatre, please call the Administration Office at 313-475-5817 starting Tuesday, Jan. 17, between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., Tuesdays through Fridays.

CAP Completes Cast For Winter Play

Chelsea Area Players have announced that production is underway for their winter show "Lend Me a Tenor", a comedy written by Ken Ludwig. The Friday and Saturday performances of this winter's production will be a dinner theatre with performances scheduled for 8 p.m. Feb. 10, 11, 16, 17, and 18, at Chelsea Fairgrounds. Thursday, Feb. 16 will be a dessert only production, with dessert available for an additional charge.

The show is being directed by Tony Caselli; co-produced by Cindy Gaken, Clara Smith and Shelley Wheaton; with production management by Nancee Sanville and technical direction by Scott Marsh. In addition, Nancy Davis is creating the costumes. Bonnie DeLong is coordinating the properties, Maryann Guenther is the house manager, Ginny Wheaton is the food chairman, Linda Miliken is handling ticket publicity and advertising.

The following talented actors have been cast for this production: Matt DeLong (as Max), Phoebe Strong (as Maggie), Frank Dillon (as Saunders), Mark Nelson (as Tito), Jerri Cole (as Maria), Dan Brinkie (as the Bellhop), Christine Purchis (as Diana), and Lisa Neda (as Julia).

The play takes place in 1934, with The Cleveland Grand Opera Company staging a production of Othello. The lead is to be sung by none other than touring guest star Tito Merelli, world famous tenor. Unfortunately for the company, this is only the beginning and before you know it they are on a roller coaster ride of mistaken identity, love lost, bad shrimp and love found!

Tickets are currently on sale at the Chelsea Pharmacy (1050 S. Main St.) Questions regarding tickets or volunteer opportunities may be directed to co-producer, Clara Smith at 475-8713 or 475-9800.

Home Meal Service Needs More Drivers

Home Meal Service of Chelsea is always looking for volunteers to deliver meals to the seniors and homebound folks in the area.

Meals are picked up daily at the Retirement Center and during the week at the Senior Nutrition Center at Faith in Action House. It takes about an hour to run the route and most drivers deliver on a bi-weekly basis.

"Meals on Wheels," as it is often called, started in Chelsea in 1972 through Church Women United. The need for this type of program has been constant, with some fluctuation in numbers from year to year. During the course of a year as many as 40 individuals will receive meals for varying amounts of time.

Many of the drivers are retired persons who have received a great deal of satisfaction bringing a hot meal and a smiling face to folks whose opportunities to get out are limited.

Mary Erskine is the co-ordinator and may be reached mornings at 475-9494 and evenings at 475-2821.

Report Complete on Annexation Request

Planning Commission To Recommend Low Density Housing.

Community outcry over a proposed 89-acre trailer park on the northeast side of town has hushed in the past six months since the request for annexation was referred to the village planning commission. But with a draft report completed and a recommendation ready for the village council, the planning commission again wants input from the community.

The planning commission will hold a public meeting to present the report Jan. 17, 7:30 p.m., at Sylvan Township Hall. Residents are encouraged to review copies of the report, available from assistant manager Bruce Pindzia at village hall, before attending the meeting.

The report looks at how expansion of the boundary and the development of the property might affect the village. It also recommends that the property be developed as low density residential.

The report is not good news for developers Martin Merkel and Steve Tracy. The duo was planning a manufactured home park with 400 units, which would increase the number of village housing units from 1,446 to 1,886. The 28 percent increase could swell to 54 percent if the entire 157 acres were developed, the report concludes.

With the potential for 785 mobile home units in the developer's plans, planning commission chairman Tim Eder says Chelsea's population could increase by 50 percent and change the character of the community.

If the council accepts the commission's recommendation and eventually annexes the total 157-acre parcel from Lima township into the village, Eder says all that will be permitted on the site is low density, single-family housing. He says a planned-unit development is preferred. The commission's recommendation also calls for inclusion of a community park along Letts Creek at a minimum size of 15 acres.

"Development in the area, when it occurs, should be clustered and should include a community park," the report states. "By cluster development, in small sections, greater density than the minimum size lot would otherwise allow would be permitted, so long as the maximum number of dwelling units does not exceed the total for the entire parcel."

According to Eder, the commission examined the possible impact a mobile home park could have on the village and found it would put a strain on the school system and village services, such as police, fire, water and sewer.

Officials Speculate on Impact of Trailer Park

Chelsea police, fire and school officials' comments on the possible impact the 89-acre Merkel-Tracy development could have on services have been included in a report drafted by the planning commission.

Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougal and assistant Linda Collins have stated police workload will increase by 26 percent to handle the proposed 400-unit trailer park at a cost of $98 a run. McDougal recommended the planning commission talk with police agencies serving area trailer parks to get a firmer grasp on other related issues.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Department Lieutenants James Fink and R.J. Smith told the commission per resident, Scio Farms Estates development does not involve any more police response or crime than any other residential area in the township. They said it is the officers' perception who work the beat that more time is spent responding to calls within the trailer park. However, Fink and Smith also said if the township increased the amount of the contract, the sheriff's department would add an additional officer to work in the two-square-mile area that includes the trailer park. The trailer park holds 17 percent of the township's population.

Chelsea Fire Chief Paul Hanker stated he did not see water access or pressure as an issue since fire trucks carry their own water. It was also noted that the development would only be six blocks from the current station and could be reached promptly in an emergency.

At the current rate of one run per 7.9 housing units, Hanker believes an additional 400 units would add about 51 runs per year for a 26 percent increase in fire services with construction of the trailer park.

Assistant superintendent of schools Fred Mills restated the Chelsea School District is firmly opposed to the boundary change and proposed manufactured housing park. His comments are based on the current overcrowding of schools and the lack of suitable infrastructure and facilities to service such a potential increase in number of students.

The board of education is also concerned that such a development would produce a large number of students that could further tax the district's ability to provide and maintain facilities. Also, such a project is perceived by the board to be capable of generating only 20 percent of the debt service income for new construction, which could be expected from a traditional subdivision.

Eder said Chelsea School District officials are against the development because of concerns about overcrowding in the schools. The school district is presently considering a bond proposal to build a new high school and third elementary school to accommodate its already growing student population.

Even though the planning commission is recommending annexation, annexation isn't endorsed as an immediate action. The commission doesn't want annexation to take place before several tasks are completed, including updating the 1976 General Development Plan for the north area of the village and completion of a traffic study. The commission also wants new clarifiers for the wastewater treatment plant and expansion of the village water supply before the land is annexed.

The commission's report states the main route through the village is already taxed. "Proposed developments, including the Merkel property, residential development surrounding the newly constructed golf course and commercial development will continue to increase the current traffic load on roadways already at or near capacity," the report states. It is further stated that a complete traffic study targeting Dexter-Chelsea Rd., Freer Rd., Old US-12 and M-52 is necessary before proceeding with additional future development plans.

Regarding the wastewater treatment plant, the report states when all undeveloped areas which have already been promised service are developed, daily requirements will likely equal or exceed capacity. A new well should also be planned and constructed to accommodate any additional developments.

Costs of public services compared to revenue generated was not addressed in the report because more precise information is needed from the developers regarding their plans.

WASHTENAW COUNTY SHERIFF Ron Scheibl was guest speaker at Monday's Kiwanis Club at the invitation of Don Cole, left, past president, and Grace McCalla president. The sheriff pointed out that they were aware of the crime problems and tragedies that have struck Chelsea in the past year and told of measures his department has taken to correct the problems.

★ New GOP Congress Off and Running

Now that they're in control in Congress, Republican lawmakers need not wonder what to do next. They're getting plenty of advice, some of it good.

By Philip C. Clarke

The best advice came from the voters. Exit polls after the voting in November showed that 55% of the electorate want the GOP Congress, and not President Clinton, to take the lead in setting policy. And 68% are in favor of smaller government even if it means fewer services.

The voters also had some news for those political "experts" who have insisted that pocketbook issues were all-important. (Remember the Democrats' 1992 campaign slogan, "It's the Economy, Stupid!") Well, guess what? Exit polls revealed that 58% of those who swept the Republicans to power in November put the solving of moral and social problems ahead of economic problems by 58% to 36%. And 65% of the voters said they were more likely to support the political party or candidate whose top priority was a reversal of the country's moral decline and breakdown of family life.

This is a clear mandate for the new Congress to "defund the Left," as National Review puts it. Indeed, with the swing to the Right on Capitol Hill, we'll be hearing renewed demands for cutbacks in such liberal "playgrounds" as the National Endowment for the Arts and Humanities—including taxpayer financing of pornographic exhibits—the Public Broadcasting Corporation, and federally-funded education programs that distribute condoms in schools and promote "alternative lifestyles" together with multiculturalism, ethnicity and the like.

The Administration's "Goals 2000" education curriculum will have to be thoroughly re-examined to include at least an appropriate treatment of America's own historical and cultural antecedents. There also will likely be a move to tighten U.S. immigration laws to protect our borders from an ever-growing flood of undocumented "illegals." Welfare reform surely will strengthen parental rights and curb federal subsidies for abortions and teenage pregnancies out of wedlock. Voluntary prayer in the schools will get a favorable new look, and the new Congress will be urged to phase out ethnic and gender quotas as currently mandated by overreaching civil dictates.

As for taxes, it's safe to say there won't be any increases, and, in fact, we'll likely see some selective tax cuts wherever possible and practical. The Republican "contract" with America makes clear that a balanced budget and term limits will have the priorities they deserve. Also ethics-in-government. Voters have made clear they're fed up with scandals, corruption and intramural political squabbling that detract from the nation's business.

On a personal basis, we like the advice Walter Cockerham, a former North Carolina State Senator, offered to newly-elected fellow Republicans in a letter to the editor of the Greensboro, North Carolina

News & Record. "Beware," says Cockerham. "You didn't win a popularity contest. Voters removed entrenched liberals from their pocketbooks." He also warns against "well-wishers lobbying special interests," as well as "bureaucrats (who) will treat you like God's gift... hoping you will help them build a bigger bureaucracy." As for the liberal media, the former State Senator cautions that "they will wait for you to do or say the wrong thing, then crucify you and the Republican Party."

"Don't be fooled (into) playing the role of Mr. Nice Guy," advises Cockerham. "Voters expect you to trim the bloated bureaucracy and to eliminate give-away programs and vote-buying, pork barrel appropriations." He reminds the incoming GOP lawmakers that "Crime is a top priority. Voters are tired of laws without teeth. They want protection from the criminal element. They're tired of country club prisons and short sentences for those who refuse to obey the law. Beware of trial lawyers' control in this debate."

Finally, warns the former state legislator, "If you allow the Democrats, bureaucrats, lobbyists and liberal media to be the 'squeaking wheels that get the grease,' and forget who elected you and why, then prepare for a shock in two years—and just sign in (for) temporary duty."

4 Years Ago...

Wednesday, Jan. 9, 1991—

The new year is expected to be a tough one for Chelsea Village government as it deals with major expenditures involving the landfill, public works garage and the sewer system, according to village president Richard Steele. Steele talked about the expenses, as well as other challenges facing the village, in an interview with The Standard last Saturday.

Chelsea Board of Education has selected the architectural firm of Greiner, Inc. of Grand Rapids for the first stage of its proposed school construction and renovation project. The board took action Monday night in their first regular meeting of 1991. The district will spend a maximum of $8,500 with the company for their services up to a bond issue in either June or September.

The village has requested a meeting with the state concerning the apparent decision to close Chelsea's Secretary of State branch office in February due to budgetary problems. Village president Richard Steele has written a letter requesting a meeting within a couple of weeks.

Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority has proposed a plan to remove all parking meters from downtown and relocate some handicapped parking spots. The plan is scheduled to be the topic of a public hearing at village council's next meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 15.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR

Bug Hookum got the floor early at the country store Saturday night to note that this is year wrap-up time, as it is as regular as a new calendar. The papers are packed with facts, figures and spins in all directions on how things were and guesses, wild and otherwise, on how things are going to be. Depending on which authority of which persuasion is being quoted, Bug said, we are told how good and how bad a year the Government, the auto industry, farmers, freeloaders and everybody and everything else had.

"After we waded through all the Top 20 lists of events local, state, national and world, Bug told the fellows, we realize they all sum up human misery. People even killed one another over who got the Nobel Peace Prize. When we get tired of reading about mass murders, airplane crashes and other disasters natural and man-made in this country we can always turn to international events and share the miseries of wherever we look.

This idea that bad news is news no matter how old it is set Bug to lamenting that it's about time for another try at a good news newspaper. Bug noted that the pattern has been that every few years somebody with more money than sense will be convinced that folks are ready for a steady diet of good news. All last just long enough to get the bad news that good news won't sell.

Practical speaking, broke in Zeke Grubb, one thing we can be sure of is that everything will be big good or big bad. "Billion" is always in there somewhere. Usual, Zeke went on, it means dollars or starving people, but now with the Hubble Telescope seeing clear it covers years, miles and light in such a way that when you see a piece with Hubble in it you learn that what you learned yesterday ain't so.

What we need, Zeke declared, is news we can understand. Use to, the papers would tell us that a new bomb had the power of so many tons of dynamite, now they tell us the new rocket has so many megatons of lift and leave us to work it out. Zeke recalled years back when a sanitation engineer was trying to explain river pollution to a legislature full of former farm boys. He got nowhere with oxygen loss, toxins and chemic formulas, Zeke said, but when he said the bad stuff going under the bridge was equal to six dead mules a day he got their attention.

As for a billion, Zeke went on, one way to see it is that if you give your old lady that many dollars and told her she could spend $1,000 a day she wouldn't pester you for money for the next 3,000 years. That makes some kind of sense even to a fellow that spent the prime of his life talking to the south end of a north-bound mule, was Zeke's words.

The billion business made the rounds, and Clem Webster put another spin on it. He read where advertising agents see us folks past three score and 10 as a $120 billion a year market, and they have figured out that the best way to sell to us is let us sell to one another. That's why, Clem said, we are seeing more of us in television and print ads.

Personal, we can take spinning too far. Old folks might sell oatmeal to one another, but pritty girls move the shaving cream. We may not be able to imagine the budget deficit billions, but our imaginations are active in other areas, and the same goes for wimmen.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Washtenaw Council For Arts Names New Executive Director

Washtenaw Council for the Arts has announced that Susan L. Froelich has been named to the executive director position of the council, to replace Nan Chezek, who retired on Dec. 31.

Ms. Froelich has been co-ordinator of the Ann Arbor Street Art Fair since 1986, and will continue in that position. She was executive director of the Plymouth Community Arts Council for three years and an independent arts consultant. From 1978 to 1984 she was exhibit gallery director for the Ann Arbor Art Association.

She is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, and is currently completing her master's degree.

Susan has served on several boards of arts agencies, including the Washtenaw Council for the Arts for four years from 1985 to 1989.

She assumed her responsibilities on Jan. 1, 1995.

Eat A Variety of Foods To Avoid Boredom With Diet

By Debbie Barrow, Washtenaw Extension Home Economist
By now you have probably heard that eating a variety of food is one of the basics of a healthful diet. Eating a variety of foods helps ensure that we get a wide range of vitamins, minerals and other nutrients essential for a well balanced diet.

This sounds simple to do, but is it? It should be. We live in a world of super supermarkets. Nearly 40 new food products are introduced into distribution each day. Scores of fast food restaurants offer hundreds of items, and grocery shelves are stocked with thousands of foods. It's hard to imagine not getting enough variety.

The Food Guide Pyramid provides a guideline for eating different foods from each of the suggested five food groups. We need to eat a certain number of servings from each food group and we're encouraged to eat different foods within each food group.

Yet, the average American eats with very little variety. We often prepare the same recipes, order the same fast food meal, consume the same types of bread and cereal, and drink the same kind of juice day after day.

If you see yourself in this picture, you may want to try your own survey. Think about what you have eaten the past three days. Write everything down by food group. Start with grain foods, such as bread, cereal or pasta. Then do the same for each of the other food groups—vegetables, fruits, dairy or calcium foods, and meats or protein foods. How many foods reappear on the list?

If you are lacking in variety or are stuck in one or two food groups, start thinking about ways to increase variety in your diet. Look at your grocery list and try substituting for your usual purchases something different in that food group. Buy a fruit, vegetable or grain you haven't had in a long time, or try something you've never had. Try something seasonal or local.

If you do one thing each week, you'll be adding to your food variety and you'll be chasing away the hum-drum food blues. And you'll start to understand what is meant by variety being the spice of life.

Free Yoga Classes Set

Chelsea senior citizens may take advantage of a program that brings free yoga classes to their hometown.

The 1995 Washtenaw Community College winter yoga class will be held at the Faith in Action building located on the old service drive to Chelsea Community Hospital. Classes will be held on Thursdays through March 9 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The free classes are sponsored by the Chelsea Senior Center and the Washtenaw Community College Emeritus Program. Classes are offered free for people 65 years and older. To register by telephone call 677-5019 or call Arlene Larson, director of the Chelsea Senior Center. Participants may also enroll during their first day of class.

Yoga classes for senior citizens will return to Dexter's St. James Episcopal church in the spring. Classes are taught by Dexter resident Lucille G. Lighthouse-Brochu.

Fraudulent Check Growth Is Alarming

Using a personal computer, scanner and laser printer, anyone can print and pass a bogus check that looks and feels legitimate.

In 1992 more than $4 billion of fraudulent checks were cashed and that number is growing by approximately 20 percent a year.

"Check fraud is growing and becoming a big problem for individuals as well as corporations," says Debi Childs.

A felon only needs the equipment and a genuine check to start a fraud scheme. Legitimate checks are easy to access. Every check a company issues, from payroll checks to vendor payments, is vulnerable to check fraud.

"Although large corporations that issue thousands of checks a month probably face greater opportunities for fraud, mid-size and smaller companies are just as susceptible," Childs says. "In fact, smaller companies are probably the least capable of absorbing the financial effects and inconvenience of fraud."

Warning Signs

Establishing an early detection method can minimize loss from check fraud. By reporting counterfeit checks as soon as they are cashed, companies can help authorities track down frequent offenders. Most state statutes require companies to report fraudulent checks within a "reasonable" time.

Childs says companies should either reconcile their bank accounts as soon as they receive their statements, or utilize a Controlled Disbursement Account with Full Reconciliation Services. With these services, companies receive daily check clearing information.

Preventing Check Fraud

When counterfeit corporate checks appear legitimate, liability for fraud costs is hard to assign. Criminals are rarely caught after their checks are cashed and less than 15 percent of all check fraud loss is recovered. Desktop publishing counterfeits are the number one crime problem facing banks says the American Bankers Association. Statutes in most states are placing more onus on check issuers, who should exercise "care" when writing and distributing checks.

Although companies should consult their attorneys and accountants for specific advice on prevention measures, Debi Childs says, she offers these basic tips for potentially preventing fraud:

- Individualize your check stock with colored paper or ink, and multiple type fonts. Other special printing effects, such as watermarks or holograms, also make checks more difficult to copy.

- Separate staff duties to avoid insider fraud. The same person should not be responsible for controlling check stock, writing and signing checks, processing payments and reconciling the bank statement.

- Use laser-printed checks to eliminate check stock, which is easy to steal. Be certain to limit access to the computer and the printer as well as the tool that prints the authorized signature.

- Use electronic funds transfer to eliminate check stock and virtually all your exposure to check fraud.

Positive Pay is a cash management service that banks offer to help companies detect fraud. Developed specifically to fight fraud, positive pay enables a bank to compare the checks a company issues against the checks that are presented for payment on a daily basis. When a bank detects a "mismatch" or potential fraud on a corporate account, it gives the company an opportunity to withhold payment of the check.

"Positive Pay is an insurance policy protection against fraud," states Childs.

All companies need to examine their exposure to check fraud and take the necessary steps to prevent and detect its occurrence.

Brighton Hospital Awarded Accreditation

Brighton Hospital has achieved accreditation from the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Health-care Organizations as a result of its demonstrated compliance with the Joint Commission's nationally recognized health care standards.

Formed in 1951, the Joint Commission is dedicated to improving the quality of the nation's health care through voluntary accreditation. Brighton Hospital was accredited after the Joint Commission conducted an intensive on-site survey and found that Brighton Hospital had demonstrated compliance with the Joint Commission's national standards.

"Above all, the national standards are intended to stimulate continuous, systematic and organization-wide improvement in an organization's performance and the outcomes of care," says John Clem, director, Hospital Accreditation Services, Joint Commission. "The community should be proud that Brighton Hospital is focusing on the most challenging goal—to continuously raise quality to higher levels."

Ivan C. Harner, president of Brighton Hospital, spoke of his pride in staff whose members ask what needs to be done to be accredited by the Joint Commission. "In addition, they appreciate the educational aspect of the survey and the opportunity to interact with the team of surveyors."

Harner called the accreditation, "proof of an organization-wide commitment to provide quality care on an ongoing basis."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

In reference to the pro-hunting letters printed last December regarding the annual Dexter Buck Pole contest, where freshly killed deer were hung from poles by their ankles for public display, I felt several points needed to be made.

First, a Brian J. (who was too fearful to give his last name) attempted to convince your readers that hunters only hunt for recreation and not to kill. If this were the case then why must hunters take weapons into the woods with them? After all, the trees are not likely to harm them. Perhaps Mr. "J" doesn't get out much because recreational blood shed occurs every hunting season across the entire state. Further, strange that he wouldn't print his full name since there have been no cases of animal activists harming anyone, whereas there have been many incidents of hunters killing hunters.

Secondly, the activists who protest against the buck pole have never denied that some of the hunters eventually eat their victims, the activists just want the general public to see what the hunters do to their victims before they devour them. In a sense, the activists have put the hunters on public display, showing anyone who cares to see what male homo sapiens look like desperately trying to convince themselves that they are "men."

A simple trip to the doctor would tell them who's got the higher testosterone levels. The Dexter Buck Pole is also proof that hunters do not collect their food in the same manner as coyotes, as Mr. "J" erroneously stated. Usually, only the most genetically weak and sick animals become the prey of natural predators. Coyotes do not continuously seek out deer that have the biggest antlers. You see, coyotes do not have walls to hang their victim's heads on. Natural predators have an innate ability to act in an environmentally responsible way, careful not to weaken the gene pool of their prey. Coyotes go with nature, not against it. They do not selfishly dump thousands of tons of rotting bait into our forests either.

Thirdly, why won't it work to blame hunters for the increasing number of deer vehicle collisions? It's their money that's paying for the mismanagement programs that purposely increase deer numbers in order to provide the hunters with targets. And it's their voices demanding such irresponsible actions on the part of the Dept. of Natural Resources. Russ Reister who also wrote a pro-hunting letter even admitted this. Hunters really ought to have a meeting and get their stories straight. Learning the facts, perhaps, could help them. When Merrill Petoskey became chief of the DNR's Wildlife Division, he told the state NRC that he intended to increase Michigan's deer herd from 500,000 to a million by 1981. This DNR/hunter goal was surpassed in 1989 with a herd of 2 million deer. Currently, the deer population is being maintained, or "managed" at about 1.8 million. A 1975 Detroit Free Press article entitled, "Trees Fall in Favor of Bigger Deer Crop" stated, "The DNR's Wildlife Division wants to keep clear-cutting until 1.2 million acres of forest land have been stripped." It continued, "it's necessary because a forest managed by nature, instead of by a wildlife division, can support only a fraction of the deer needed to provide for half a million hunters." Forest stripping, under the Michigan Deer Range Improvement Program, provides more food for deer resulting in increased reproduction. This is a program still in existence today.

Lastly, animal rights is a natural extension of human rights, suggesting that humans should extend their circles of compassion to include all living creatures, not just those of our species. Besides, when animals do gain equal consideration regarding pain and suffering, all humans will have already gained such rights. The goals of the animal rights movement are not aimed at excluding humans, but rather at including animals in addition to humans.

Dear Editor,

This is in response to a letter from Bryan and Anita Herter in last week's Chelsea Standard concerning a water main break on Friday, Dec. 23.

Although you received a phone call from a Village dispatcher explaining the misunderstanding and apologizing for the inconvenience, you still chose to respond publicly, which is why I am responding.

You see my husband, Dan Rosentreter, is the Water Department Superintendent for the Village of Chelsea. I know the hours he puts into his job and the dedication he has for it.

That Friday evening we were doing last-minute Christmas shopping in Ypsilanti when Dan's beeper went off. During the entire evening from pay phones through Ypsilanti he was in contact with a water department employee who was called in to check on the situation. Your tax dollars were hard at work when Dan had to decide whether to call in four employees and pay them time and a half plus holiday pay on a budget that hasn't had a rate increase in the last 9-10 years. (as of Dec. 1994), or to decrease pressure and monitor the situation.

The pressure was decreased and residents at the furthest point on the line were contacted to make sure they had enough water.

At no point was anyone informed by Dan that the leak would be repaired; only that the situation would be checked into. He DID NOT receive any calls from dispatch to inform him of any problems nor did the water department employee who comes in on the week-end to check charts, etc.

Apparently the apology and explanation were not satisfactory enough; however, I hope the true spirit of Christmas was not lost along with the bubbling water.

Karen Rosentreter.

Dear Editor:

I recently read your paper's story about the retirement of Fire Chief Paul "Bud" Hankard. Bud is not retiring, he is retiring from his job as Chief of the Chelsea Fire Department. Secondly, I wish to make the public aware of this man's career.

Starting as a firefighter in the fifties he has progressed through the ranks to become chief. The changes that occurred were from the small town fire department, to the highest level of training, most cost efficient, best equipped, and over-all respected department in Washtenaw county and Southeastern Michigan. The Chelsea Fire Department protects over 15,000 people and over 150 square miles. To be at the helm is a tremendous responsibility. To manage a department of this as a part-time job shows an overwhelming dedication to firefighting as a duty and a commitment to the community.

A modest man, Bud refused praise. He is the best fire chief I have ever worked for and this community should all say "thanks" for doing a job well done. For myself and my family, thanks Bud.

Plan Tax Strategies for More Retirement Income

If you're retired, or soon will be, don't make the mistake of thinking that tax planning is only for people who are still working or who have large retirement incomes. The changes made by the 1993 tax law take a bigger tax bite out of many levels of income, including the moderate incomes of many retirees. But with just a little planning, it's still possible to minimize those taxes and enjoy more of your retirement income.

That's especially important if you have only a moderate income in addition to your Social Security payments. The new tax laws could reduce that income considerably by taxing as much as 85 percent of your annual Social Security payments. And if those extra taxes mean you need to generate additional income by selling appreciated property, such as stocks or real estate, you could find yourself facing expensive capital gains taxes, and possibly even higher taxes on your Social Security benefits.

How do you steer around the obstacles to get the most financial security? A free booklet, "Tax Strategies to Increase Your Retirement Income," can help you make your retirement finances more rewarding by identifying five important areas to consider in light of the new tax law. The booklet gives tips on minimizing the tax on your Social Security benefits, planning for itemized deductions, tax planning with your IRA, keeping the gain on your personal residence and avoiding a capital gains tax.

This informative and easy-to-read booklet also discusses charitable remainder trusts and charitable gift annuities as financial planning techniques that may dramatically increase your spendable income and also reduce your current income tax liability.

To receive a free booklet, "Tax Strategies to Increase Retirement Income," write the American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. TXS, Washington, D.C. 20069, or call toll-free 1-800-843-8114, Ext. 52, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays Eastern time.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Sylvan Township

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported in the 2600 block of Simpson Rd., Jan. 3. A 33-year-old township man told police someone removed a battery from one of his vehicles to steal his 1969 Chevrolet. The vehicle, valued at $10,000, was recovered at Cambridge Club apartments on Zeeb Rd. in Scio township. The sheriff's department auto theft unit has been assigned to investigate further.

Malicious Destruction of Property

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 900 block of Lowery Rd., Dec. 28. A 29-year-old Maybee man told police seven windows were broken out of his excavating equipment when rocks were thrown at it. Damage is estimated at $1,000.

Webster Township

Missing

A 40-year-old township man reported his wife and three children missing from their home in the 7900 block of Fisher's Way. The man told police his wife took their two daughters and 8-month-old son to her sister's Dec. 27 and returned home to spend the night. However, the next day she turned up missing and some of the children's belongings were gone. It was noted in the police report that the man's wife was arrested Dec. 26 for domestic assault and battery after striking him.

Larceny

Larceny was reported in the 7600 block of Quail Ridge Rd., Jan. 3. A 29-year-old Ann Arbor man told police he suspects a former employee of stealing $225 worth of tools from a garage on a work site. The Ann Arbor man said he chased the ex-employee off the job site earlier. The tools were stolen between Dec. 26 and Jan. 1.

Lima Township

Stalking

Stalking was reported in the 8900 block of Jackson Rd., Jan. 2. A 31-year-old township woman told police her former boyfriend, whom she has two children with, has been stalking her. Her boyfriend, 44 years old and convicted on domestic abuse charges, had been serving time in the county jail. He was released to a drug treatment program in Romulus, but ever since released he has been calling her collect. The woman has refused to accept the charges, but fears he may retaliate. A prosecutor will review the case for additional charges.

Dexter Township

Malicious Destruction of Property

Malicious destruction of property and illegal entry was reported in the 4100 block of Wylie Rd., Dec. 26. A 21-year-old township woman told police her 34-year-old boyfriend, a Dexter man, entered her home illegally Dec. 26 at 10:35 a.m. She said they had broken up the night before and he returned to talk. When she refused to open the door, the man apparently broke it down. She called 911, but he left before police arrived. Police are seeking the man on additional charges. A warrant is out for his arrest.

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 9300 block of Annet St., Dec. 31. A 34-year-old township man told police 150 feet of Christmas lights were destroyed around 2:30 a.m. He said he heard a loud noise and investigated. He discovered the light cord ripped apart. Damage is estimated at $75.

High school was Marilyn Pajot, according to an announcement by General Mills, Minneapolis, Minn.

Chelsea physicians, contacted concerning reports that the liver ailment known as hepatitis had affected a large number of children in Chelsea schools, said that this was not true. Because of the alarm felt by some parents they felt it was wise to clarify the situation.

Eight foxes sighted and five bagged was the score for the 50 hunters who participated in the annual fox hunt in this area. All five were downed in the Sharon township area.

Proceeds of the "Peanuts for Polio" sale, held over the past month, have amounted to $208.39. Boy Scouts, a square dance group known as the Chelsea Promenaders and the Chelsea Lanes bowling leagues, all contributed money earned for the fight against polio by the March of Dimes.

Task Force Ideas Raise Hopes for Preserving Farmland

The state's largest farm organization said the recommendations of the Michigan Farmland and Agriculture Development Task Force demonstrate that real progress is being made toward the goal of protecting agricultural land.

"It is important that this state has programs encouraging the voluntary protection of the farmland required by our agriculture industry," said Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau and a member of the Task Force. "More and more, this is the message from farmers all across the state."

The Task Force recommended the use of a variety of voluntary methods and incentives for maintaining land in agriculture, including the establishment at the township level of voluntary agricultural security areas that would provide incentives to landowners to commit to keeping their land in agriculture, the creation and funding of a state program to purchase development rights on farms from willing farmers and legislation to enable local communities to create their own programs to purchase or transfer development rights.

"Farm Bureau is happy with the recognition of the economic importance of agriculture in Michigan, and we're anxious to work with the Governor and legislators as they consider implementation of the Task Force recommendations," said MFB Legislative Counsel Vicki Pontz.

Money Management

Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants

All tax preparers are not the same. They possess varying levels of expertise and hold different credentials. If you're thinking about hiring a tax preparer to do your 1994 return, the Michigan Association of CPAs (MACPA) suggests you begin your search as soon as possible so you have sufficient time to investigate and evaluate your options.

Experience
If you are aware of any significant tax issues you expect your preparer to handle when doing your return, find out if he or she has experience in this area. For example, a recently divorced single father will want a tax preparer who is knowledgeable about the tax ramifications of divorce and how it affects his return. Similarly, if you've recently sold a rental property at a loss, you'll want a tax preparer who can advise you on reporting that loss. Generally, an experienced CPA can handle tax issues such as these.

Credentials and Expertise
It's usually wise to select a preparer who has been in business for at least several years. However, should you opt to go with a less experienced preparer, be sure that individual has access to more experienced professionals who can address any complex tax issues that may arise during the preparation of your return.

The complexity of your return, and not necessarily the amount of your income, should guide you in selecting a tax preparer. Essentially, there are five types of preparers:

Certified Public Accountants (CPAs)—These accountants have passed a rigorous examination which includes an entire section on tax issues. Many specialize in taxes and are experienced in handling complicated tax issues. In addition, if they are members of the American Institute of CPAs, they must meet stringent continuing education requirements to maintain their membership.

Commercial Agents—These are individuals who work for large national organizations. They usually work only during tax season and have been trained by the organization. They are not, however, required to have a minimal level of education, nor have they passed an exam administered by a regulatory body.

Enrolled Agents—These tax preparers must pass a two-day examination given by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) or meet an IRS experience requirement. In addition, enrolled agents who are members of the National Association of Enrolled Agents or its state chapters must take at least 30 hours of class work in tax matters each year.

Public Accountants—Many public accountants are tax advisers. These individuals have not taken the exams and are not obligated to meet the experience requirements of CPAs. In some states, public accountants must be licensed, but in others anyone can claim the title.

Tax Attorneys—Like CPAs, tax attorneys must meet continuing education requirements and are subject to regulations by the states where they practice. Most tax attorneys don't specialize in tax return preparation. Instead, they tend to be more involved in tax planning and tax litigation.

Keep in mind, too, that only enrolled agents, CPAs, and tax attorneys are authorized to practice before the IRS, meaning they can represent you throughout the entire IRS audit process.

Fees
Some tax preparers work for a fixed fee while others charge hourly rates. In either case, be sure to clarify, in advance, how much or on what basis the preparer will charge you to do your return. Keep in mind, too, that it's up to you to provide the preparer with the information necessary to do your return. Unorganized or missing files are likely to result in more work for the preparer and higher costs for you.

IRS Penalties
All preparers must follow IRS regulations and other rules in preparing tax returns. Failing to do so can cause them to incur hefty fines. However, ultimately, you are responsible for the accuracy of your tax return.

Pinckney Area Man Aboard Assault Ship In Adriatic Sea

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Scott R. Riley, son of Billie L. Williams of 9245 Lakeview Rd., Pinckney, has been serving off the coast of Bosnia-Herzegovina with the amphibious assault ship USS Nassau, the lead ship of the USS Nassau Amphibious Ready Group (ARG).

Riley is one of nearly 1,600 Sailors and 2,000 Marines who were ordered off the coast of Bosnia as a prudent measure in light of recent developments. U.S. naval forces have maintained a continuous presence in the Adriatic Sea in support of United Nations operations there since July 1992.

Riley left the U.S. in late October for a six-month overseas deployment with the ARG which includes USS Nassau, USS Gunston Hall, USS Ponce and the 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit. Departing from Norfolk, Va., Riley traveled to the Mediterranean Sea where the ARG was scheduled to take part in several multinational amphibious landing exercises.

The 1988 graduate of Huron High school of Ann Arbor, joined the Navy in September 1991.

Revenue Commissioner Notes Error on MI-1040 Income Tax Form

The State Revenue Commissioner has issued a notice that explains an error on the Michigan Income Tax Form MI-1040EZ. This single-sheet form can be used by single income tax filers who claim no deductions against their income.

The error occurs on Line 6 of the form. The line asks the taxpayer to record their "adjusted gross income" (AGI) from their federal income tax form. This part of the instruction is correct. However, the line continues "from Federal-1040EZ line 4". Reference to "line 4" is incorrect. The correct reference is "line 3."

All instruction materials that accompany the MI-1040EZ Form use the correct reference. If the taxpayer uses their federal AGI on the Michigan form, they will be correct. If the taxpayer uses line 4 from the federal return, they will be inserting the wrong information necessary to complete the Michigan tax form.

The Bureau has indicated that corrections to affected MI-1040EZ income tax returns will be made at the time the returns are processed, based on W-2 information accompanying the return. Taxpayers will be notified if their return is recalculated based on a corrected AGI.

Tax preparers and tax advisors are being notified of this correction and all forms distributed from the Bureau of Revenue through its office and through the toll-free "FORMS-2-ME" telephone line will note the correction on the front of the form.

Views On Dental Health

GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S.

WHAT IS ROOT CANAL?

Years ago, a badly infected tooth was doomed to be pulled. Today, that's a last resort. Root canal treatment consists of: 1) the removal of the infected pulp that lies within the root canals of the tooth, and 2) the sealing of the root ends to prohibit any further infection.

The pulp is the tooth's center core of soft tissue (nerves, blood vessels and fibers). When the dentist removes a "nerve" from a tooth, he really removes pulpal tissue that contains the nerve.

Removing the pulp from the tooth does not produce a "dead" tooth. It will be very much alive and functioning because it has a source of blood and nerve supply from the surrounding tissues that hold it in place. The tooth will have no sense of feeling because the nerve has been removed, but the tooth itself will be fine; it should last as long as your other teeth and could even be eventually used as an anchor tooth for a denture or bridge.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S., 3108 Baker, Rd., Dexter. Phone 426-8336.

Five Cheese Fondue

- Ingredients:
- 1 Garlic clove
  - 14 oz. County Line Old World Swiss Cheese (grated)
  - 7 oz. County Line Monterey Jack Cheese (grated)
  - 7 oz. County Line Mild or Sharp Cheddar Cheese (grated)
  - 7 oz. County Line Provolone Cheese, available in deli section (grated)
  - 5 sl. County Line Processed Singles

- 2 1/2 C. Dry white wine
- 2 Tbl. Kirsch
- Pepper to taste

Rub fondue dish with cut clove of garlic. Add grated and sliced cheeses and wine. Bring gently to a boil, stirring constantly. Season with pepper. Add kirsch and stir. Keep hot with fondue stand and sterno or other canned heat. Use skewers or small forks for dipping.

Serving variations: Use a variety of fresh vegetables that have been blanched in boiling water with salt, then drained and rinsed with cold water. Try serving your favorite French bread sliced and toasted. Oven-roasted or pre-boiled red-skin potatoes make another enjoyable alternative.

IRS Offers Variety of Tax Help

"Although new tax laws were passed last year, Michigan taxpayers will find few changes on their 1994 federal tax returns," said IRS district director Arlene Kay. "When you prepare your return, use our forms and instructions, and last year's return as a sample, or guide, and you may well be able to prepare the return without assistance. If necessary, additional information and assistance is available from a variety of sources."

Ms. Kay said that the Ann Arbor office of the IRS, located at 2850 S. Industrial, Ste. 200, will be open Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. to assist walk-in taxpayers.

"Our TELETAX system also provides tax information 24-hours a day through a pre-recorded message system. This computer assisted program has information on over 150 tax topics and may be reached by calling us toll free on 1-800-829-4477," said Ms. Kay.

"We also have many information publications available to assist taxpayers as they prepare their federal returns," she added. "Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax, is an over-all guide to individual income taxes, and will answer most of the questions taxpayers have. This publication, and many others, are available by calling, toll free, 1-800-829-3676."

"And this year our telephone assistants are available 10 hours a day, Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. to answer taxpayers questions. The toll free number is 1-800-829-1040."

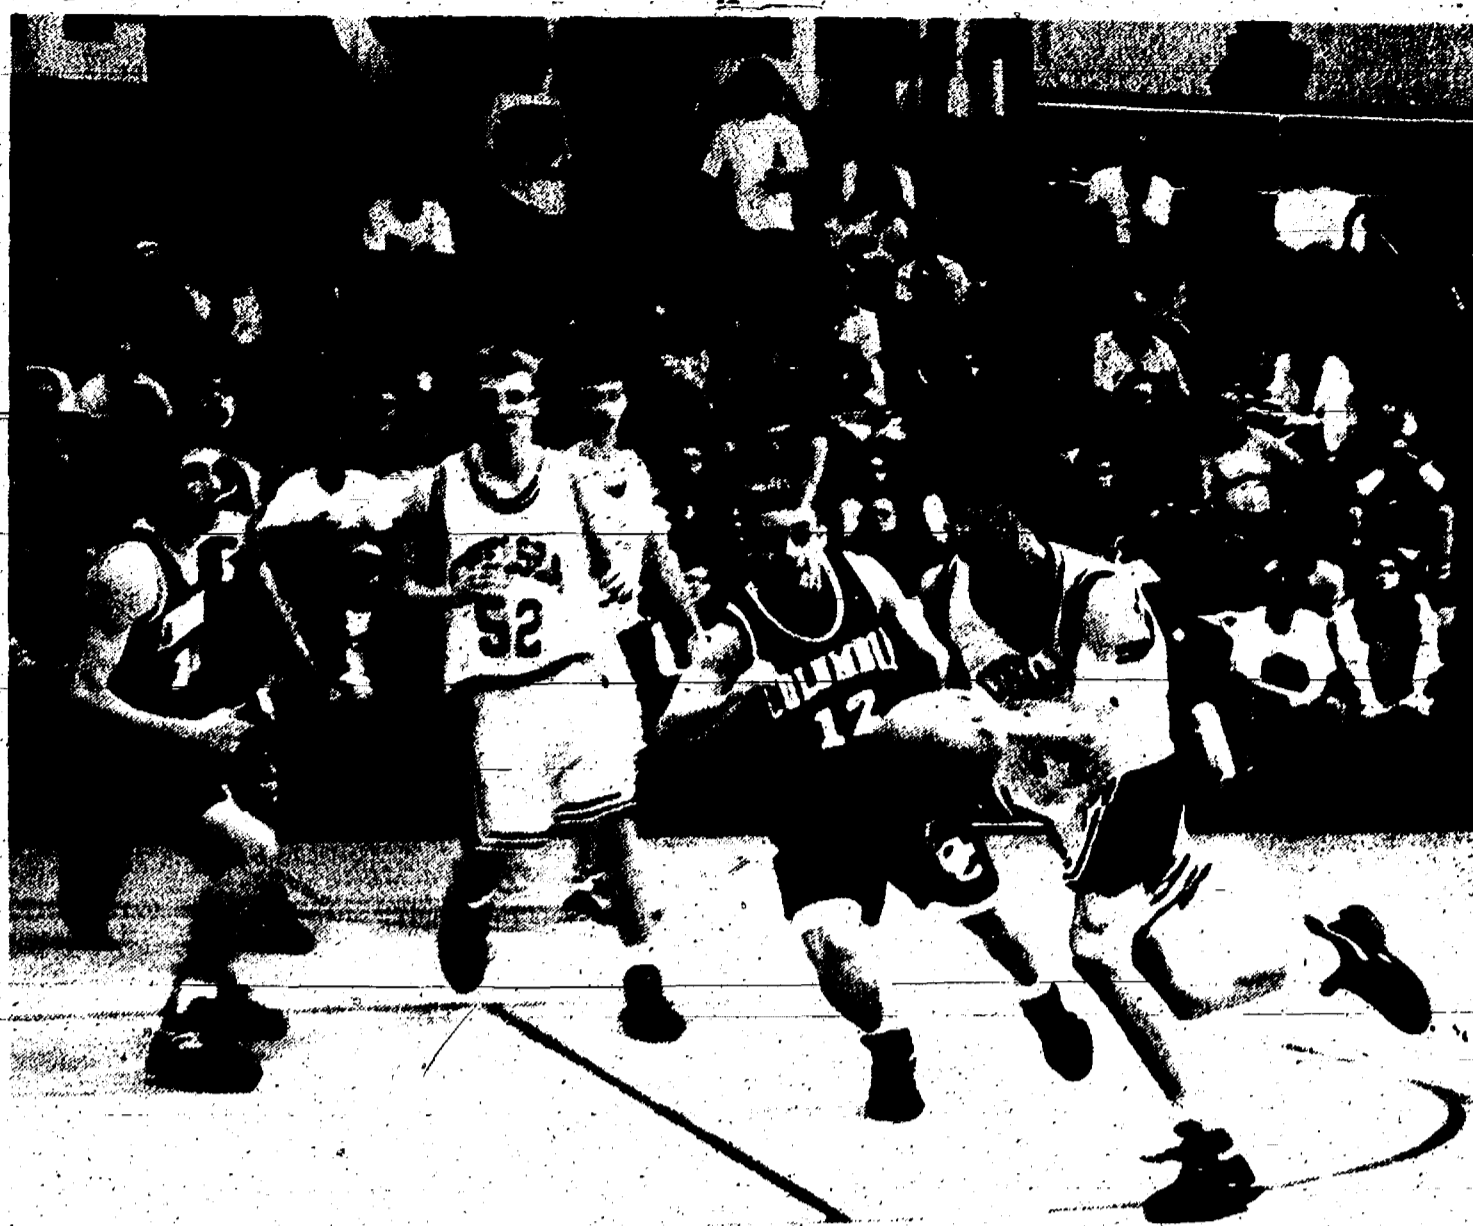

"My best advice? File early, double check your return to avoid errors that may cause a delay," she said, "and remember that information and assistance is available from the IRS to help reduce your tax burden."

Putting Together An Emergency Food Supply

By Debbie Barrow, Washtenaw Extension Home Economist

Winter power outages can be an inconvenience if they last any length of time. First, you have the problems of keeping warm and feeding your family during the outage. And second, it can cost you money if you have to toss out food that spoiled while you were without power.

When preparing for winter storms and power outages, stock your cupboards with foods that do not need to be refrigerated. Canned food is better than bottled food for winter storage because glass jars and bottles can break if they freeze. Canned foods can be kept for up to a year as long as they aren't leaking or bulging.

Keep plenty of canned foods, such as ready-to-eat meats, fruits and vegetables on hand. Be sure you have a manual can opener on hand. You may have to eat the food cold, or you can heat it up with candle warmers or chafing dishes in the house. If you're not literally snowed in and can get outside, you can use a charcoal grill, hibachi or camp stove to heat food. If you are heating it in the can, be sure to remove the paper label so it doesn't catch fire.

Other items to keep on hand for winter emergencies include:

- Smoked or dried meats such as beef jerky.
- Canned juices, milk and soups.
- Instant coffee, tea and hot chocolate.

- Powdered milk.
- High energy foods such as peanut butter, jelly, crackers, nuts, trail mix.
- Cookies, candies, sweetened cereals.
- Vitamins.

It's important to have enough water stored to see you through an emergency. Figure one gallon of water per person per day. You can store the water in clean, empty plastic milk containers. Be sure to change the water several times over the course of the winter. Use it to water houseplants or to do household cleaning chores rather than dumping it down the drain.

After the crisis, you will need to evaluate the potential safety hazard of foods that were in your refrigerator or freezer.

In a well filled freezer, food will probably stay frozen for 15 to 20 hours if you keep the door closed. If the power outage is likely to be longer than that and you're not snowed in, consider moving your food to another location that's not experiencing the power outage. If that's not possible, consider buying some dry ice to keep the temperature low. If you still have ice crystals in the food after the power comes on, it should be safe to refreeze it immediately.

Foods stored in the refrigerator pose a greater food safety risk. If cooked foods such as cooked meat, poultry, pot pies, casseroles, stews and chili stay at a temperature higher than 40 degrees F for more than two to three hours, they should be discarded because the potential for bacterial growth is high.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

CHELSEA VARSITY BULLDOGS may be the shortest team Coach Robin Raymond has ever put on the floor, but they are quick and at their best in a running transition game. Members of the team are, left to right, Sam Morseau, Kevin Holmes, Kevin Coy, Damon McLaughlin,

Bulldogs Tally 2 Wins

■ Bulldogs Crush Manchester, 68-49; Narrowly Beat Columbia Central, 66-65.

Chelsea High school's varsity cagers tallied two more wins last week to increase its record to 7-0 overall. The team stands 3-0 in the league.

The Bulldogs were set to take on Southeastern Conference rival Dexter last night and Tecumseh on Friday.

Chelsea's 68-49 victory over Manchester last Tuesday proved the Bulldogs were faster than the Flying Dutchmen as Chelsea used a second quarter run to capture the win.

Chelsea began the game with a 13-1 run in the first quarter. Manchester, however, stayed close, ending the quarter on a 13-3 run to narrow the Bulldog lead to 21-18. The Bulldogs picked up the pace in the second quarter, scoring the first 18 points. Senior guard Chad Brown scored seven of his team-high 13 points during that spurt. Teammate Nick Brink, a junior, added four of his 10 points in that same quarter.

Other Chelsea scorers were Case McCalla with 10 points and Kevin Cross with six.

Chelsea's 66-65 victory over Columbia Central

Friday saw the Bulldogs come together in the second quarter and hang tight in the fourth.

The Bulldogs jumped out to an 11-4 lead in the first quarter, but Columbia Central quickly stole the advantage to end the quarter four points ahead of Chelsea.

That was the last time Columbia Central had control, giving it up to Chelsea 35-30 in the second quarter and 46-45 in the third.

"This was the first game we've had where there was a lot of pressure in the last quarter," Chelsea coach Brian Raymond said. "It wasn't a one or two point game. From a team standpoint, it was nice to play well under pressure against a good team. I thought the players did a good job of playing our late game plays we called. Every time they made shots, we were able to come back and shoot or make the free throws."

The fourth quarter saw Chelsea complete six free throws—two by Bryndon Skelton, two by Brink and two by Brown. Manchester attempted a last minute final play and succeeded with a three-pointer at the buzzer. The final basket left a one-point margin with Chelsea on top. Chelsea scorers include Brink with 26, McCalla with 13, Brown with 11, Skelton with eight, Damon McLaughlin with four, Cross with two and Sam Morseau with two.

The Bulldogs take on Tecumseh on Indian turf Friday, Jan. 13.

Wrestlers Pin Milan, 55-20

Chelsea Bulldog varsity wrestlers scrimmaged Milan Big Reds on Thursday, Jan. 5 with Chelsea winning by a 55-20 margin.

Coach Kerry Kargel reported the following results from the meet.

100 lbs., Todd Pearsall (C) wins by void.

106 lbs., Zac Eresten (C) wins by void.

112 lbs., Rob Bullock (C) lost to John Bacon (M), 17-1.

119 lbs., Chris Hatch (C) wins by void.

126 lbs., Ray Hatch (C) defeats Dave Bordine (M), 7-0.

134 lbs., Brent Young (C) defeats Shawn Birchmeier (M), 14-2.

142 lbs., double void.

151 lbs., Ryan Ludwig (C) moved up a weight class and suffered his first and only defeat of the season in a close match to Shawn Beaton (M), 4-2.

160 lbs., Andy Kargel (C) pinned Dean Parris (M), in 3:23.

172 lbs., Mike Thayer (C) pinned Brandon Flynn (M), in 1:00.

185 lbs., Jordan Dyer (C) won by void.

215 lbs., Joe Barkman (C) won by void.

Hwt., Sean Garcia (M) won by void.

CASE MCCALLA (52) scored 13 points Friday in a hard-fought game with Brooklyn Columbia Central which ended in a one-point victory for the Bulldogs, 66-65. In the Manchester game Tuesday, Jan. 10, Case scored 10.

JV Cagers Get Their First Victory Against Manchester

Chelsea junior varsity basketball team romped over Manchester on Tuesday, Jan. 3 on the Chelsea home court, 65-33.

Chelsea hit the highest point total of the year with 11 different players scoring in the team's first win against five losses.

Pressure defense resulted in 25

Chelsea steals with Ashley Coy and Jake Walker leading with four steals each.

The defense held Manchester to 13 first half points and scoreless the entire third quarter.

Lance Ching, Nathan Butler and Dusty White were singled out by coach Dave Quilter as playing well offensively.

"This is the best we've played all year. We forced turnovers and got a lot of easy baskets. A lot of players played well and contributed to the victory," Quilter added.

On Friday, Jan. 6 the JVs took the floor in Chelsea against Brooklyn Columbia Central in hopes of extending their one-game winning streak. But such was not to be as they lost, 60-53.

After getting off to an early lead in the first half of the first quarter, the Bulldogs found themselves down by three at the end of the period.

In the second quarter, Columbia, which is undefeated this year, went to a zone and Chelsea found themselves 12 points behind at half-time.

Chelsea came storming back in the third quarter and tied the game, and went ahead by two in the fourth period. Columbia hit a few baskets to climb back but Chelsea hurt their own chances by hitting only 5 of 16 free throws in the fourth quarter.

"Two factors hurt Chelsea's good effort against Columbia," coach Quilter commented. "We adjusted poorly to Columbia's zone in the second quarter and we let them get away from us. In the fourth quarter we hit only 5 of 16 free throws. Columbia is a good ball club and we came back against them in the second half with defense and good pressure. We need to adjust more quickly to different defenses," coach Quilter added.

American's are eating "hotter." Consumption of dried red pepper has nearly tripled during the past 20 years, thanks in large part to the growing popularity of Mexican and other highly spiced cuisines. American consumption of other "hot" spices—black pepper, mustard and ginger—has also skyrocketed.

Varsity Volleyball Team Uses Depth To Win Tournament

After losing its season-opening match against Milan on Thursday, Jan. 5, the Chelsea varsity volleyball team bounced back to win the 1995 Chelsea Invitational Volleyball Tournament held at the high school on Saturday, Jan. 7.

Chelsea advanced from pool play seeded second in the pool behind Ann Arbor Pioneer, and defeated Ann Arbor Huron in the quarterfinals, 15-4, 15-4. Chelsea then defeated defending champion

Pinckney in the semi-final match 9-15, 15-9, 15-8. Chelsea next faced White Lake Lakeland in the final match and won the first game easily, 15-4, but had to come from behind from a score of 14-14 to win, 16-14, and seal the match.

Chelsea was able to utilize its bench all day long to help players maintain their energy until the end of the day.

Leading the way defensively were, Jessica Knight, Cindy Tripp, Carrie Buss, and Liz Holdsworth. Leading blockers were Kori White, Erin Baird, Heidi Wehrwein, and Erin Montgomery.

Leading attackers were Kori White, Amy Petty, and Heidi Kemnitz, while Sara Petty and Erin Montgomery shared the setting duties.

Chelsea's next match is at home Thursday, Jan. 12 against Lincoln. Matches begin at 6:30 p.m.

Bulldog Wrestlers 9th In Western Invitational

In a 16-team Western Invitational tournament Saturday, Chelsea matmen placed ninth.

Coach Kerry Kargel said he was "pleased with the team's overall performance. Placing ninth in this very tough tournament is good, even if we voided three weight classes."

"Ryan Ludwig, Ray Hatch and Jordan Dyer continue to turn in outstanding performances and several of the younger kids are showing promise," Kargel continued.

Chelsea results are as follows in the tournament.

142 lbs., Ryan Ludwig (C) pinned Ben Gase (Marshall) in 3:02, then defeated Joe Roy (Clarkston) 13-5; then, defeated Nathan Johnson (Mason) 5-1. In the finals, Ryan defeated Bill Darling (Leslie) 11-10. Darling took first place in the tournament at 142 lbs.

126 lbs., Ray Hatch (C) defeated Aaron Shepard (Northwest) 13-6; then defeated Jason Boyer (Western) 6-4. In the finals, Ray lost to Jesse Laycock (Clarkston) 6-2, to take second place in the tournament.

185 lbs., Jordan Dyer (C) pinned James Herr (Hudson) in 5:32; then defeated Rust

St. Barnabas Church Holds Annual Meet

St. Barnabas Episcopal church 1995 Parish Annual Meeting was called to order following the Church School's Christmas Season Program. Elected to serve as members of the Bishop's Committee to three-year terms were: John Christ, Monica Hogan and Carrie Kauffman. Other business conducted included the approval of the 1995 budget, election of delegates to Convocation and Convention, statements of appreciation for the work of Peggy White, (parish secretary), Mona Molnar (treasurer), Mona Molnar and Jerri-Lynn Levitt (church school).

Discussions were held regarding the new, smaller Diocese of Michigan and its implications of all the parishes and missions of the diocese. The meeting was well attended with the majority of St. Barnabas families attending.

ReCellular Expands International Business

ReCellular, Inc., the nation's largest refurbisher of cellular equipment, announced today it has made arrangements to purchase and refurbish more than 40,000 cellular phones from two Latin American cellular communications companies. The agreements mark an important step for ReCellular becoming a world leader in refurbishing cellular equipment.

Under the arrangements, ReCellular will purchase more than 30,000 used cellular phones from Movicom/Compania de Radiocomunicaciones Moviles, a company based in Buenos Aires, Argentina, for refurbishment in 1995. In addition, ReCellular will acquire more than 10,000 used cellular phones from Telcel, a cellular carrier based in Mexico City, Mexico, for refurbishment in 1995.

ReCellular purchases used cellular equipment from cellular communications companies and refurbishes them through a state-of-the-art process that restores cellular equipment to a "like new" functionality and appearance. Refurbished cellular equipment is then sold to cellular communications companies, including some of North America's leading cellular carriers and their authorized dealers and agents.

"We are extremely happy to form partnerships with two companies who are leaders in the wireless industry in their respective countries," said Eric Forster, ReCellular's vice-president of marketing and sales. "Latin American markets offer an excellent opportunity to grow our business and to provide companies with an outlet for used and traded-in cellular phones."

Currently, Movicom is conducting a trade-in program for its customers as part of the company's transition from Advanced Mobile Phone Service (AMPS) technology to Narrow-Band Advanced Mobile Phone Service (NAMPS) technology. To date, Movicom serves more than 150,000 customers in Argentina. ReCellular is the primary purchaser of available AMPS cellular phones from Movicom, thereby enabling Movicom to liquidate their stock of AMPS phones.

"Selling our used AMPS phones to ReCellular not only provides us with immediate cash, it eliminates the need for us to catalog and store the unused equipment," comments Hugo Fuentes of Movicom. "ReCellular offers us a turnkey solution to shedding unused and traded-in equipment."

Telcel, which serves more than 300,000 customers in Mexico, conducts marketing promotions allowing customers to trade in their current phones for higher-grade phones upon renewal of their cellular service contract. ReCellular is purchasing all available used and traded-in cellular phones enabling Telcel to turn their stock of "frozen assets" into cash.

"ReCellular provides us with promotional opportunities for our customers that focus on the environmental benefits of recycling phones," says Lic. Pedro Arzani Milan of Telcel. "These value-added benefits help us reduce customer churn."

In addition to purchasing used cellular phones overseas, Forster said the company plans to acquire cellular parts and accessories from "second sources" or foreign manufacturers of cellular equipment and establish refurbishing facilities in other countries.

Since its inception in 1991, ReCellular has refurbished nearly 500,000 cellular phones. Serving some of the nation's largest cellular carriers and dealers, the company refurbishes more than 800 phones each day, as well as cellular parts and accessories. ReCellular's corporate headquarters and manufacturing facilities are located near Dexter on Newman Blvd.

★ Holiday Engagements Need Wedding Budgets

With Christmas and New Year's being a popular time for those tiny gifts that sparkle and bring life-long commitments, January is the time that many newly engaged couples ponder the cost of a wedding. If you're among them, one of the first things you probably did instinctively was to take a good look at your savings. Especially if you already know that the average cost for a wedding for 188 people is $17,484! With a price tag like that, you have to carefully consider what you want for that special day.

First, you need to learn if your parents or future in-laws are willing and able to pay for wedding expenses. If they are, don't assume they will automatically fall into the traditional roles of who pays for what (if there even is a set tradition anymore). Be certain you understand what they will cover and what their limits are. If you are going to pay some or all of the wedding expenses yourself, take an honest look at your savings account and decide what you can afford. Is the special day worth taking out a loan? Do you want to use your savings for a house down payment or to have a big wedding with all the extras?

Once you have set your price limit, stick to it. There's a lot of details and items on the budget. That means there's a lot of areas where salespeople can bump you up to a more expensive option. Know your needs and compare prices. Sometimes the bigger package may be more economical. For example, if you order a photography package and then your mother orders several additional photos, you may have been better off with the bigger package to start.

Before you set your heart on a particular style of wedding, get some price estimates. You might think an outdoor wedding will cost less money, but you'll be in for a surprise. For an outdoor wedding, you need to rent a sound system, dance floor, lights and the dishes for the meal, all of which would be readily available at a hall. What do you think costs more: a buffet meal or a sit down meal? Usually it's a buffet, since guests can go back for seconds. Call around to various halls and ask questions. Different caterers and restaurants will have different answers. Some will charge for room rental, others will waive it if you have a meal. If you have friends that were recently married, they can be a good resource too.

There are lots of wedding planner books available that provide good budget work sheets. Work sheets help you think about all those miscellaneous expenses such as attendant gifts, aisle runner or candles, which seem minor but will add up quickly.

Develop a good organizational system for all your receipts. Get a file, label it "wedding" and file every receipt and contract in it for safe keeping. A receipt may be the only proof you have that the deposit was paid. With the contracts, make sure you get all the details in writing. Details mean exactly what kind of flowers the florist will use, and what payment adjustments will be made if less expensive flowers are substituted.

Order any limousines in person so you can see exactly what you're getting for your money. Also, make sure you know the delivery dates for the wedding dress, tuxedos, etc. Tuxedos that are rented will be required back by a certain time or you'll be charged extra. That means making sure the groom's tux gets back even if you both leave town after the reception. Make notes of all the details and who you talked to on what date. If there's a problem later, it won't help your case to say "some guy told me when I called a couple of months ago..."

Realize that you and your fiancé have a life-time of major financial decisions ahead of you. A wedding is only the first one. It will be a learning experience for how you both handle money and there will likely be some conflict somewhere along the way. Working out some of these basics in your wedding budget will help your beginning be not only more affordable, but more enjoyable too.

Send your financial questions to: "Your Money Matters," Michigan Credit Union League, P.O. Box 5210, Detroit 48235.

Tecumseh Players Schedule Audition Dates for Comedy

Tecumseh Players will hold auditions for their upcoming comedy "You Can't Take It With You" on Monday, Jan. 30 and Tuesday, Jan. 31 at 7 p.m. in the Tecumseh Civic Auditorium. The show requires seven women and 12 men in a wide range of ages.

Also needed are managers and crew in all areas of production (sets, props, make-up, wardrobe, and publicity). Experience is not required, and this is a wonderful opportunity to become involved in the community and the theatre. All help, regardless of quantity is most welcome.

For more information, please call (517) 423-4019. Show dates are March 9-11.

Medicine and You: Guidelines for Persons Over 65

By Debbie Barrow, Washburn Extension Home Economist

If you're over age 65, chances are you're taking more medication now than ever before. One reason is that persons over age 65 suffer from more chronic conditions than younger people. Recent studies show that the average person over 65 takes between two and seven prescription medications daily and has more than 13 prescriptions filled per year.

Unfortunately, almost 40 percent of all adverse drug reactions reported each year involve people over 60. And, according to recent reports, almost a quarter of a million older adults are hospitalized each year for harmful reactions to prescription or over-the-counter medicines.

With aging, many body processes change and often slow down, affecting the way medications are absorbed, distributed, metabolized and excreted. For example, changes in the digestive tract affect how the medications are absorbed or enter the bloodstream. The circulatory system and liver and kidneys may slow down, which can affect how quickly the drugs are absorbed and excreted.

Body changes, including weight loss, can influence the amount of medicine you need to take and how long it remains in your body.

Because of these body changes, you run a greater risk of drug interactions or drug/food interactions.

A drug-food interaction occurs when two or more medicines react with each other to cause unwanted effects, cancel each other's effectiveness or increase the medication's effects.

Drug-food interaction occurs when medicine reacts with the food you eat. It's possible that what you eat or drink can impair the effectiveness of your medicines, interfere with the rate at which a drug is absorbed or affect the way nutrients are absorbed.

Alcohol is known to interact with many prescription and non-prescription medicines. Because the body's tolerance to alcohol decreases with aging, these interactions may become more significant.

Side effects are unintended feelings or conditions you may experience when taking a medication. Many medicines, prescription and non-prescription, have side effects. Most side effects are not serious, but some can be bothersome and even serious.

Don't attribute a new feeling—a change in mood or a physical symptom—to old age. Ask your doctor or pharmacist if it could be related to your medicine. If you experience a side effect your doctor has not warned you about, call him or her immediately.

Legal Notice 21

MORTGAGE SALE—Default has been made in the conditions of a mortgage made by ROBERT L. ROWE to COMERICA BANK, successor by merger to Manufacturers National Bank of Ann Arbor, Mortgagee, dated September 15, 1988, and recorded on October 4, 1988, in Liber 2265, on page 657, Washtenaw County Records, Michigan, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date hereof the sum of Four Hundred Twenty Eight Thousand Eight Hundred Ninety Six Dollars and 05/100 Dollars ($428,896.05), including interest at variable applicable rates.

Under the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, or some part of them, at public venue, at the Main Lobby of the Washtenaw County Courthouse, Huron St. entrance, Ann Arbor, Michigan, at 10:00 o'clock a.m. on February 16, 1995.

Said premises are situated in Pittsfield Twp., Washtenaw County, Michigan, and are described as: Commencing at the East quarter corner of Section 8, T3S, R6E, Pittsfield Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan; thence along the East line of said section and the centerline of South State Street, South 1° 06' East 824.50 feet; thence South 88° 54' West 832.00 feet; thence North 76° 39' 30" West 197.88 feet for a place of beginning; thence along the arc of a circular curve concave to the Northeast, radius 396.71 feet, chord bearing North 54° 57' 30" West 100.25 feet; thence along the arc of a reverse circular curve concave to the Southwest, radius 462.71 feet, chord bearing North 51° 17' 30" West 107.98 feet; thence North 34° 55' East 380.73 feet; thence South 47° 37' 15" East 128.00 feet; thence South 30° 04' 30" West 369.59 feet to the place of beginning. Being a part of the Southeast quarter of said Section 8, Pittsfield Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan 625 State Circle #12-08-400-1005.

The redemption period shall be six months from the date of such sale unless determined abandoned in accordance with 1946C-134, in which case the redemption period shall be 30 days from the date of such sale.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE

A DRAM SHOP ACTION
TO: Any person or business who may have sold, given or furnished alcoholic liquor or beverage to Robert Eugene Rice on Thursday, September 1, 1994.

RE: These offices have been retained to pursue a potential action against you arising out of an accident which occurred on Thursday, September 1, 1994 at approximately 11:35 p.m. at the intersection of Page and Portage Roads in Jackson County.

Our clients, John Stanford and Kathy Ely were injured as result of an automobile accident caused by the negligent operation and driving of Robert Eugene Rice.

Although there is very limited information available, our investigation reveals that Robert Eugene Rice was drinking at the Wolverine Tavern in Chelsea, MI, and may have been drinking at other retail liquor licenses throughout that day, and may have been served at any or all of them while visibly intoxicated.

This notice is provided pursuant to MCLA 436.22(5) MSA 18.993(5).

STATE OF MICHIGAN

Probate Court

County of Washtenaw

PUBLICATION NOTICE

Decedent's Estate

File No. 94-106,171-SE

Estate of MELINDA SUE HAFLEY, Deceased.

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS:

Your interest in the estate may be barred or affected by this hearing.

NOTICE: A hearing will be held on January 24, 1995 at 9:00 a.m. in the probate courtroom, Ann Arbor, Michigan, before Judge John M. Kirkendall, P-16010 on the petition of LaVerne & Delorse Hafley, requesting they be appointed personal representative of Melinda Sue Hafley, who lived at 651 Pierce Road, Chelsea, Michigan and who died 10/13/94.

Approved motion to send the members of the Board of Review to Board of Review Training on February 28.

Meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.
Respectfully submitted,
Arlene R. Bareis, Clerk.

Are the Boomers Ready To Retire

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist
It's Jan. 2, 2011, and the first boomer is officially retiring. Is he financially ready to retire? The scenario might look like this:

Our boomer is a little bewildered by the financial realities facing him. He thought there would be plenty of money to cover a modest lifestyle and some travel, and he's shocked that he's going to have to make some sacrifices in this new phase of life.

What happened? First of all, our boomer doesn't have much of a pension. He was with his company only 12 years before retiring and he can't draw full Social Security for another year because of changes enacted in the '80s.

Like many other boomers, he changed jobs or employers about six times during his career. Each time, he cashed out his pension because there always seemed to be a crisis—they needed a new car, braces for one of the kids or college tuition. Like many boomers, he and his wife had children later in life and were paying college tuition until their 60s. Personal savings just didn't accumulate the way they should have.

When questioned, our boomer admits that he thought all the media attention to planning for retirement was just so much gloom-and-doom. He thought that it didn't apply to him.

He also counted on inheriting a sizable amount from his parents and was surprised when they outlived their own money and depended on his in their final years—a situation that holds true for about 40 percent of the boomers.

His cousin is retiring next month—and she's worse off in many ways. She's single, has always worked and had good jobs, but like many women, she'll end up with only about 40 percent of what she needs to enjoy the same lifestyle she had while working. As a matter of fact, she can't really retire at all. She's going to have to find some part-time work to supplement her income. And her life expectancy is longer, so she'll live longer than her cousin—on less.

A study done in the mid-'90s by consultants WEFA Group and Arthur D. Little found that almost half of all Americans had no pension coverage. The eligibility age for full Social Security coverage climbs to 67 by 2022. Thanks to so many medical advances, the boomers will live longer than their folks and will have to stretch their money further.

In 1993, a Phoenix Mutual Life survey of the boomers found that most of them believed that they'd need 60 percent of their final income to be comfortable. Financial planners recommend a minimum of 70 percent—or even more if you're planning to travel or continue to have expenses for your children. What the boomers didn't realize was that, on average, their pensions and government benefits were going to add up to only about 35 percent.

Our boomer always thought there would be enough time to make up that money—somehow it would all fall into place. He also assumed that the value of his house would continue to increase so he'd have assets to convert to cash—and that didn't happen.

In other words, our boomer didn't accept the reality of aging.

Our boomer's wife, however, was able to contribute to a 401(k) plan and she contributed the maximum she could. Those contributions reduced her taxable income but didn't affect their cash flow that much.

She also had an IRA with tax-deferred earnings and used direct deposit so it was automatically taken each month. She also made good choices about investing, and as a result her pension and savings are impressive. When she retires in 2012, they'll both benefit from her smart investment moves.

What should our boomer have done?

He should have done the following—and so should you!

If you haven't received a benefit from Social Security, call (800) 777-1213 to find out about your future benefit. Ask your pension plan administrator for an analysis of what to expect when you retire. Plan to amass enough savings to make up the difference between those sources and 70 to 80 percent of the amount you anticipate earning before you retire.

—Use the power of interest compounding. Later contributions will never catch up with compounded earnings on investments you've already made or make now.

—Save regularly and systematically and don't let financial crisis interfere. When you need to cover unexpected expenses, use your short-term savings or borrow before touching retirement funds.

—Be prudent but not too conservative in your pension investments.

Sylvan Township Board Proceedings

Regular Meeting

January 3, 1995

The regular board meeting of the Sylvan Township Board was held January 5, 1995 at 7 p.m. in the Sylvan Township Hall, 112 W. Middle Street, Chelsea, MI 48118.

The following board members were present: Supervisor Dresselhouse, Clerk Koch, Treasurer Pearsall, Trustee Heller and Trustee Lesser.

Also present was Charles Burgess. Minutes were approved as presented.

Motion by Lesser, supported by Pearsall to pay bills as presented. Carried.

Zoning Inspector Burgess reported 4 zoning permits, 2 variances and 8 violations were issued in December.

Supervisor Dresselhouse reported on a meeting to take place with the Village of Chelsea, Washtenaw County Road Commission and the Township for a final review of the by-pass plans prior to submission to MDOT. Also Dresselhouse reported that MTA has invited him to sit on a panel regarding Public and Private Roads at the upcoming MTA Convention held in January.

Discussion was held regarding the contribution to AATA. Motion by Koch, supported by Heller, to make a contribution of $800.00. Motion carried by a 4-1 vote.

Upon the resignation of Bill Pearsall, on the Zoning Board of Appeals a motion was made by Lesser, supported by Heller, to appoint Tom Bareis to fulfill Pearsall's term which will run until June 1996. Carried.

Motion by Pearsall, supported by Heller, to adjourn.

LuAnn S. Koch, Clerk.

Florence E. Beach

Chelsea
Florence Eileen (Clem) Beach, 82, died Thursday, Jan. 5, 1995 after a long illness on the Beach Centennial Farm in Lima township, Washtenaw county. She was born in San Antonio, Tex., on July 14, 1912, the daughter of John L. and Lillian (Benton) Clem, Jr., and the granddaughter of Maj. Gen. John L. Clem (Johnny Clem), the drummer boy of Chickamauga and Shiloh.

She is survived by her husband of 61 years, Gen. Dwight E. Beach, U.S. Army, Retired, five children, nine grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

The children are Ann (Don) Jaekle of Madison, Conn., Dwight, Col. USAR, (Carol) Beach, Jr., of Houston, Tex., Cynthia (Richard, Col. USA Retd) Guthrie of Cajone, Peru; Lillian (Jack, Rear Admiral USNR) Mumaw of Barrington, Ill., and Florence "Twinkie" Beach of Chelsea.

The grandchildren are Donald (Laurie) Jaekle of Andover, Mass., Cynthia (Brian) Cote of Vienna, Va., Dwight, Capt. USAR, Beach, III, of Houston, Tex., John (Debi) Beach of Yale University, Dawn Beach of Houston, Tex., Laura, 1st Lt. USAR, Guthrie of Columbia University, Park Guthrie of Modesta, Calif.; Jennifer Mumaw of University of Illinois, and Michelle Mumaw of University of North Carolina; one great-granddaughter, Emily Jaekle of Andover, Mass.

Mrs. Beach is also survived by one sister, Lillian Groos of San Antonio, Tex.; one nephew, John Groos of San Antonio, Tex.; one niece, Cynthia Coleman of Metairie, La.; and one cousin, William Dougherty of San Antonio, Tex.

For 35 years as an Army wife, Mrs. Beach traveled the world and lived on Army posts or civilian communities in Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, North Carolina, New York, Maryland, Washington, D.C., Virginia, Panama, Korea, and Hawaii. She settled 32 different houses in her lifetime. She was very active in the various places all for the support of her husband and children.

Mrs. Beach was involved in the PTA, Officer's Wives Clubs, and similar organizations and was a member of the Colonial Dames of America. She was confirmed an Episcopalian but attended the Congregational church in Chelsea. Mrs. Beach lived in tenements and mansions always making a real home. She had many friends and could handle any situation with grace and elegance. Her family was her life and she was very proud of her children and grandchildren, all of whom are college graduates or undergraduates. For 47 months during WW II and 16 months during the Korean War, she raised the family by herself and did a magnificent job. At one time during WW II, she had a father, husband, uncle, two brothers-in-law and a cousin in the military. Her uncle and one brother-in-law (Kenneth Beach who did not return) were prisoners of the Japanese captured on Bataan.

High points in her later life were her 50th and 60th wedding anniversaries when all children and grandchildren with spouses were present here in Michigan. They came from all over the world.

Friends called Sunday 3-5 and 7-9 p.m. and Monday 12 noon until the 1 p.m. funeral service at the Cole Funeral Chapel, Chelsea, with the Rev. Dr. Lynn Spitz-Nagel officiating. Burial followed in the Beach Plot at the Lima Township Cemetery, Chelsea.

Memorial contributions may be made to Chelsea Community Hospital or First Congregational Church of Chelsea.

reads: "This plaque is dedicated to Will Connelly in recognition of his contribution of time and talent which made possible the acquisition and restoration of this depot building for the community of Chelsea. Without the leadership and dedication of Mr. Connelly this building would have been lost to posterity. With this plaque, the Chelsea Depot Association wishes to express its thanks to Mr. Connelly from all of the citizens of the area for his unselfish contribution to this community. Dec. 7, 1994."

Beach Middle School Winter Art Show Chelsea Day In Florida Scheduled Tuesday Set for Feb. 11

Beach Middle School's Winter Art Show is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 17 from 6:30 until 8 p.m. Tempera paintings, watercolors, pencil drawings, and various media sculptures are among the works created by the sixth, seventh and eighth grade students.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend. Admission is free.

Chelsea Students on Hope Dean's List

Four Chelsea students attending Hope College in Holland have been named to the Dean's List for the first semester of the 1994-95 school year. Included on the list are Kyle Plank, a senior; Julie Weiss, a junior; and Melissa Thiel and Erin Schiller, both sophomores.

To be included on the Dean's List a student must have at least a 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

Chelsea Day In Florida Set for Feb. 11

Chelsea Day in Florida will be observed Saturday, Feb. 11 at the Hudson Community Club in Hudson, Fla.

Festivities will start at 11 a.m. and a pot-luck dinner will follow at 12:30 p.m. Participants should bring their own table service and a dish to pass. Coffee will be furnished.

Every year this event seems to increase in popularity and attendance, and with the large number of Chelsea area people in Florida, there should be a real reunion.

For further information, call Laureta and Laurance Boyer, (813) 862-5701, or write 7510 Hawthorn Dr., Port Richey, Fla. 34668.

McKune's Mystery Book Club Members Read MacDonald

Irwin Maurice Fletcher, Gregory MacDonald's irrepressible 'Fletch' will be the main event at McKune Memorial Library's Mystery Book Club meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 6 at 7 p.m. upstairs at the Library.

Club member Rhona Veling will present information on the life and career of Gregory MacDonald, two-time winner of the Mystery Writers of America's prestigious Edgar Award for best mystery of the year. A discussion of MacDonald's novels will follow her presentation.

Mystery writer P. D. James has been selected by club member Yvonne Herron as the featured author for the March 6 meeting.

The club, which discusses the novels of a wide variety of mystery writers, is sponsored by the Friends of McKune Memorial Library. New members and visitors are welcome at any time.

For further information call the McKune Library at 475-8732.

Purple Rose Offers General Acting Courses

Purple Rose Theatre Company will offer a General Acting Course dealing with performance techniques. The General Acting Course will be held Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. for six weeks beginning Feb. 7 at the Purple Rose Theatre Company's Garage Theatre, 137 Park St., Chelsea.

Janet Maylie, a professional actress and acting instructor with the University of Michigan Department of Theatre and Drama, returns for her third year of teaching the PRTC Course. Under her instruction, the General Acting Course will cover a range of topics, including monologues, cold readings, prepared two-person scene work and content-less scene work. In addition to her teaching responsibilities, Ms. Maylie has also appeared as Sally in the PRTC production of Shoe Man and as Dr. Howard in the PRTC production of The Vast Difference.

The course will be limited to 18 students. Due to the limited enrollment, participants must register in advance starting Tuesday, Jan. 24. Payment of enrollment fee will be required prior to the first day of class and is non-refundable.

For more information or to register, call the Purple Rose Theatre Company Administration Office at (313) 475-5817. Regular office hours are Tuesday through Friday between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Grade School Kids To See Antique Clothes

Third, fourth and fifth-grade students at both of Chelsea's elementary schools will be treated to a display and discussion of antique clothing on Friday, Jan. 13.

Gloria Mitchell will be showing her extensive collection of antique clothing which she started 20 years ago. She was and is an antique dealer with her husband, John, at their shop in Traverse City.

Gloria will also be showing her collection of antique bathing suits, dating from the early 1900's.

North Elementary school students will meet in the multi-purpose room from 12:50 to 1:30 p.m. South Elementary school students will meet in the school cafeteria from 1:50 to 2:30 p.m.

This is one in a series of Exploration Workshops to be offered grade school children this year. The program is sponsored by the Chelsea School District, a part of the Talent Development Program as developed by Laurie Bissell, Chelsea schools curriculum director and is co-ordinated by Mary Jane Eder.

Builder's Pre-Licensing Class Set By Comm. Ed.

A comprehensive 16-hour seminar to prepare people to pass the Michigan state builder's licensing examination will be offered by Michigan Builders Institute with Chelsea Community Education. The seminar will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, Jan. 17-26, from 6 to 10 p.m., at Chelsea High school.

The course is for people who want to subcontract the construction of their own homes, building trades people who are now working without a license and want to work legally, and real estate investors. The cost of the seminar is $160 per person and includes all materials including a course textbook and sample test questions.

Pre-registration is required no later than Friday, Jan. 13, to Chelsea

Community Education. Please call 475-9830 to register during office hours.

The instructor is a licensed builder with extensive experience teaching builder's pre-licensing classes. He is able to answer questions related to all facets of home building. Michigan Builders Institute teaches in 70 schools throughout Michigan.

For a free brochure and current schedule, call Michigan Builders Institute at 810-651-2771.
