BILL BOTT, right, executive director of the Chelsea Civic Foundation, was awarded a plaque by Foundation president, Randy Musbach at their last meeting of the 1994 year. The award was made in recognition of the outstanding volunteer service Bott contributed in overseeing the acquisition of a land parcel of approximately 18 acres from Dana Corp. for recreational purposes in the Village of Chelsea.

Former Village Bookkeeper Receives Delayed Sentence

Nancy S. Rosentreter faces up to 10 years in jail for embezzling village funds.

Nancy S. Rosentreter of Chelsea, convicted of embezzling more than $22,000 from the village, received a delayed sentence and was ordered to pay restitution in Washtenaw County Circuit Court Thursday.

The long-time village bookkeeper was accused of embezzling village funds after a co-worker noticed discrepancies in the landfill account last August. Village manager Jack Myers was notified and he ordered an independent audit. The audit showed $44,000 in cash was missing over a six-year period.

Rosentreter pleaded no contest on the embezzlement charge Dec. 1. The no contest plea is equivalent to a guilty plea for the purposes of sentencing.

Rosentreter was initially suspended from her job with the village Sept. 20, a week after auditors made a presentation to council on the village's financial condition. The investigation was turned over to the Michigan State Police, and on Oct. 24 Rosentreter was suspended without pay. She later agreed to resign her position "altogether" and pay $22,000 in restitution.

The 50-year-old Rosentreter's delayed sentence calls for her to make restitution before May 11. Rosentreter faces up to 10 years in jail on the charge. She will also lose her retirement and other benefits.

Free on bail, Rosentreter has four months until her new sentencing date.

Chelsea Help Line Introduces Newly Designed Logo, Video

At the Jan. 16 meeting of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club, a new Chelsea Help Line logo and video were introduced.

Based on a Focus Group Session conducted with Chelsea area leaders, the logo was revised to emphasize that the Help Line is for people of all ages. The talent of Chelsea High school art students was enlisted. The art classes of Kerry Kargel and Cathy Opoka worked on the project.

The art work selected was the product of Aaron Fredette, Bill Daut and Erin Montgomery.

The board is very excited with the new look and feel that it clearly shows that the help line is for everyone. Board members are presently Bill Chandler, Lenard McDougall, Ron Mead, Mary Tomac, Jeanne Thomson and Blake Thomson.

The focus group also felt a need for some way to explain what the Help Line is and how it functions. The board decided that a video was the most effective presentation to provide for a consistent presentation of the Help Line concept to the largest number of groups and individuals in the Chelsea area. The board enlisted the aid of local professionals Bill Colelius and Amy Thomson to produce the video. Any organization or group may obtain a copy of the Chelsea Help Line video by asking a member of the board or at the McKune Library.

Chelsea Help Line is now entering its sixth year with a fresh look and a stronger commitment to help anyone in need. To be effective, they feel that they need to have the logo in as many locations as possible so people will be reminded that there is always someone out there who cares.

Here are some common questions and answers about the Chelsea Help Line.

Q. WHO can call for Help?
A: Anyone, from young children to senior citizens.

Q. WHEN Can I call?
A: Anytime—24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Q. HOW will my call be handled?
A: You may call anonymously and your call will be kept confidential.

Q. WHY should I call?

A: Sometimes when people are having problems, they feel helpless and alone. Having an opportunity to talk to a concerned objective person can provide the support and focus necessary toward solving these problems.

Q. WHAT HELP can I get?

A: You will receive assistance and support from a trained volunteer crisis counselor for working through anything that is troubling you. Typical calls involve concerns about personal and family conflicts, depression and suicide, substance abuse, sex and relationships, emergency food and shelter. These services are provided to you free of charge.

Q. WHERE is Chelsea Help Line Located?

A: The Chelsea Help Line is a local phone number answered by the SOS Community Crisis Center, located in Ypsilanti. This organization has been providing crisis intervention services to residents of Washtenaw county for over 20 years. In 1944 the Help Line has received over 40 calls per month.

Thanks to you it works!

Sibley Road Farm House To Be Moved

It appears an old farm house isn't worth more than $101 to area movers.

The Village of Chelsea was asking a minimum bid of $4,000 to contractors interested in purchasing and moving the old Sibley Rd. farm house from its village-owned site. The village only received one bid, which was for $101.

The farm house, which borders the industrial park, is on land the village would like to rezone for industrial property. Once the farm house is taken off its foundation and relocated, village council can rezone the parcel and sell the land as part of the industrial park.

Village manager Jack Myers said he will let out the bid again in March in hopes of receiving a better price.

There are presently nine lots for sale in the industrial park, totaling 17.47 acres.

Public Opinion Sought On Tentative Plans for Village Office Building

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce and the Village Council are co-sponsoring a meeting to gather input on village plans to construct a new office building.

Architect Dan Jacobs of Ann Arbor Architects Collaborative is desiring to receive as much input from community members as possible concerning their wishes.

An open meeting will be held Monday, Jan. 23 at the depot, beginning at 7:30 p.m. where Jacobs will present tentative plans for a new building and possibly a new concept for an adjacent parking area. Site under consideration is village owned property between Springer Agency and the Purple Rose Theatre on Park St. There will be ample time allotted for the audience to make comments and to ask questions.

All business people and property owners in the village are urged to attend.

Anyone who has specific questions and would like to submit them in advance, may call the Chamber office at 475-1145 and the request will be forwarded to Jacobs.

Chelsea Students Competing In Future City Competition

Three students from Beach Middle school seventh grade will be among students from 23 metropolitan Detroit middle schools to compete in the National Engineers Week Future City Competition to be held Thursday, Jan. 19 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

Beach students Liz Kaminsky, Danielle Patt and Ben Reynhout have built a computer generated scale model future city design to enter in the competition.

This is the first year Chelsea has participated in the competition. Teacher Mrs. Mary Baker, able learner co-ordinator, has been overseeing the project. Engineer for the project is David Reynolds of Ann Arbor.

"It's an exciting event," said Mark Stratton, the competition's coordinator at the Society of Manufacturing Engineers, the sponsor. "Teams of students, a teacher, and an engineer will compete based on the city design, the scaled model and essay on recycling. Students have submitted computer-generated plan designs and are now building a scale model of their city design, with one working component."

By participating in this competition, middle school students are enhancing their team work, problem-solving and computer skills. They are also learning how math and science knowledge can be applied to real-world applications.

The Detroit regional winner will compete against Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas, Milwaukee, New York and Los Angeles regional winners at the national competition held in Washington, D.C. during National Engineers Week, Feb. 22-25.

The National Engineers Week Future City Competition is sponsored by the National Engineers Week Committee, in co-operation with the MATH-COUNTS Foundation and National Sciences Educational Leadership Association. The Detroit regional competition is coordinated by SME. Since the program began in 1992, it has been recognized by the education and engineering communities as an innovative program. It has also been recognized by the White House.

National Engineers Week was founded in 1951 by the National Society of Professional Engineers to increase public awareness and appreciation of the engineering profession and of technology. Thousands of engineers, engineering students, teachers and leaders in government and business participate in National Engineers Week each year.

SME, headquartered in Dearborn, is an international professional society dedicated to advancing scientific knowledge in the field of manufacturing engineering and management. Founded in 1932, SME has some 75,000 members in 70 countries. The Society also sponsors more than 300 chapters, districts and regions and 220 student chapters world-wide.

Armed Robbery Reported

McDonald's Restaurant robbed at gunpoint.

A gun was held to a McDonald's Restaurant manager's head Thursday when armed robbers broke into the fast food chain minutes before closing and made off with $2,000.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the Zeeb Rd. McDonald's shortly after 11 p.m. for a report of an armed robbery. Deputies arrived just four minutes after the call came in to find the suspects long gone.

Deputies interviewed three victims, two employees and a manager on duty. The victim working the counter told deputies three to four men in ski masks and dark hooded jackets busted through the west side doors to the main dining room, vaulted the counter and ordered her to the ground. One of the men asked her where the safe was. When the 31-year-old township woman hesitated, one of the suspects slapped her in the head with his hand. The employee then told the men where to find the manager.

A second employee, working the grill, told deputies the suspects ordered him to the ground, slapped him and asked him to open the safe. When the 21-year-old Belleville man said he didn't know how, the gunman jabbed him with the barrel of the gun described as an Uzi about 2.5 feet long.

When the suspects located the manager, they put a gun to her head and escorted her back to the safe. At gunpoint, the 27-year-old Saline woman was ordered to open the safe. After getting $2,000 out of the safe, they ordered the manager to lay on the floor next to the other workers. The trio remained on the floor approximately 15 seconds before getting up to lock the drive-through window and doors and calling police.

Detectives were called to process the scene. Photographs were taken and latent prints were obtained. The identity of the suspects are unknown.

CHELSEA HELP LINE leaders were present at the regular Kiwanis Club meeting Monday evening to unveil a new redesigned logo and a video to tell the public what they are and how the service works. Members of the Focus Group present to tell the story were, left to right, Blake Thomson, Bill Chandler, Mary Tomac and Ron Mead. Police chief Lenard McDougall another active member, was unable to be present Monday.

Trash Bag Stickers To Be Phased Out

Village residents can expect a change within the next three months when it comes to curbside pick-up of trash.

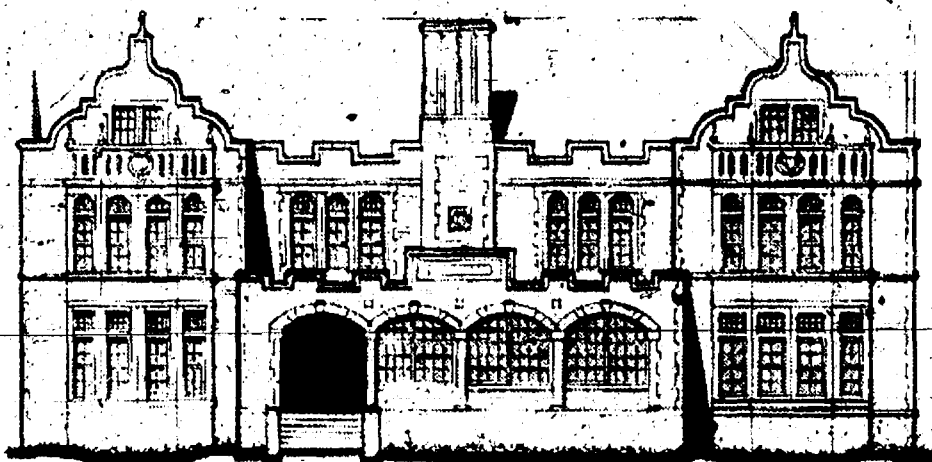

The village will be replacing the use of stickers with 30-gallon bags. Village manager Jack Myers said yesterday that he expects the change to be phased in over the next three months.

The reason for the change, Myers says, "The stickers don't stick so well in the wintertime. We have a lot of complaints."

The village has about 12,000 stickers left to sell and the new bags haven't been purchased yet. Myers says the bags may be blue with "The Village of Chelsea" printed in black. The price will remain the same, $1.50 per bag of trash for village pick-up.

Myers anticipates a loss in revenues with the change because the bags will cost a few more cents than the stickers. The $1.50 charge will be maintained for at least a year until council re-evaluates the costs involved.

★ Welfare Reform: Have We Gone Far Enough?

By Lawrence W. Reed

Welfare programs may well be the most unpopular of all government initiatives—criticized by the social scientists who observe the effects, disdained by the taxpayers who pay the bills, and even unloved by many of the people who collect the benefits.

Thirty years and $3.5 trillion after Lyndon Johnson fired the first shot in the War on Poverty, the enemy has won. The poverty rate, which fell dramatically in the 20 years before the "war" began, has been essentially flat to slightly higher ever since. A new consensus seems to be emerging from among those who work closely with the poor: welfare has made worse the very problems it was intended to cure, and created a few new ones along the way.

Welfare perpetuates poverty, undermines the work ethic, breaks up families, and promotes illegitimacy. The Maryland State Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) even argues that welfare "is a major contributory factor to the crime problems we face today." Unlike private efforts that stress character-building, one-on-one mentoring and a spiritual dimension, the impersonal public dole does nothing to resolve the behavioral poverty that keeps millions in demoralizing dependency.

Recognizing this reality, the Engler administration embarked in 1991 on what has become one of the most ambitious efforts to reform welfare in the 50 states. The administration abruptly ended the General Assistance program for able-bodied, childless adults in October 1991. It adopted a "social contract," whereby welfare recipients are expected to seek work, go to school, or perform community service work in exchange for their benefits.

To encourage productive work, the administration is permitting recipients to keep more of their earnings without having that income count against their welfare check. Before this change, the tax-free value of AFDC, food stamp, and Medicaid assistance for a family of three in Michigan (about $1,000 per month) was roughly equal to the income that could be earned at a minimum wage or entry-level job—hardly a situation that recommended work over welfare.

These and other changes produced tangible results. Nearly 25 percent of Michigan's AFDC (Aid to Families With Dependent Children) recipients are working, which is three times the national average and up from 16 percent just two years ago. Average earnings from work and hours spent in volunteer activity are up as well. Fewer families are receiving assistance than at any time since 1989.

While those results are welcome, it's too early to break out the champagne for at least two reasons. First, a good share of the progress cited may actually be due to an improving economy and could evaporate with the next recession. Second, many of the gains to date were the relatively easy ones to achieve. Without sweeping change, problems inherent in the welfare system will continue to fester and make it difficult to produce further real progress.

Governor Engler himself expressed a healthy skepticism about government welfare programs when he told ABC's David Brinkley on Nov. 27, "Replacing liberal micromanagement with conservative micromanagement would only be a slight improvement; it's time for wholesale reform." For starters, Governor Engler wants the federal government completely out of the welfare business. It ought to be turned back to the states, he says, where government is closer to the people and where the real innovation in welfare reform has been percolating anyway.

Replacing federal reform with state reform will not go far enough, however, unless it further reduces the role of government and makes assistance to the needy a private initiative. In the words of John Fund of the Wall Street Journal, "Ask yourself: If you had a financial windfall and wanted to help the poor, would you even think about giving time or a check to the government?"

The privatization of welfare could be pursued in any number of ways. The cold-turkey approach would be to simply abolish it altogether and hope that families, churches, and charities would take up the slack.

Though the response might pleasantly surprise many who think government is the only game in town, a less painful transition to a privatized scenario could involve more generous tax incentives for donations to private groups that work to alleviate poverty. Or, state and local government might contract out to such groups; that happens now with great success in child foster care, for instance. Those seeking public assistance could be given a choice between government welfare (which is likely to become increasingly proscriptive and punitive) or private programs that offer personalized help.

The present welfare system has produced such disastrous consequences that it's hard to imagine how a radical overhaul could do worse. If we nurture the spirit of self-help and the idea of neighbor helping neighbor, we might end up spending less for success than government spends now for failure.

True welfare reform may actually mean learning to trust ourselves again. That would indeed be revolutionary.

Child Study Club Will Hear Talk By School Superintendent

Chelsea Child Study Club will kick off the new year with its January meeting focusing on its 1995-96 theme of "New Directions." Martha Huettner, club president will present Ed Richardson, superintendent of Chelsea schools.

The meeting will take place on Jan. 24 at 7:30 p.m. Guests are welcome and should call Jane Deising, hostess, at 475-2341, or Linda Leatham, 475-9612.

The Chelsea Child Study Club's purpose is to associate together for parent education and to establish bonds of friendship. The focus is on families, home, community and membership. New members and guests are encouraged and welcome.

ABWA Chapter Will Meet Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the Chelsea-Dexter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will be held Jan. 24 at Cousins Heritage Inn in Dexter. A social hour begins at 6 p.m. and dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Speaker for this month's meeting will be Cynthia D'Amour, a member of MAIA Chapter of ABWA, who will discuss how our minds process information and how this processing impacts our daily life—at home and at work.

For more information on the meeting or ABWA, contact Dorothy Bates at 426-8387.

Marathon Bridge Play Continues at Chelsea Hospital

On Sunday evening, Jan. 8 the fourth meeting of the Couples (Pairs) Bridge Marathon for the benefit of the Chelsea Community Hospital was held in the Woodlands Room at the Hospital. Ten couples participated.

This evening couples played with each other just one round; the other four rounds were played with different partners, so there were individual winners rather than couple winners. The top score for the evening's 20 hands was 5,240, amassed by Bill Rademacher. Just 20 points behind the winner was a 5,220, giving second place to John Bohlender. Marlene Rademacher was a close third with a 4,620 for the evening's play.

Refreshments were brought by Joan VanOrman and Marilyn Wojcik of Chelsea. Coffee and tea were furnished by the Chelsea Hospital. Refreshments are brought by a different couple each week the group plays.

The same format will be followed for the rest of the season, using best scores to qualify for year-end prizes in this marathon event, which takes place the first Sunday evening of each month. The group begins play at 6 p.m. so that working people may get home at a reasonable hour, usually by 9 or 9:15 p.m. Play takes place in the Woodlands Room of Chelsea Community Hospital. A donation to the Hospital of $2.75 is contributed each evening they play, and a quarter is also added to be used for prizes for the night's play. Of course, the amount given to the hospital is tax deductible. Mixed pairs may play, so think about a partner beginning Feb. 5 and give Larry Wiedmayer (475-9091) a call for any further information, or just show up at 6 p.m. Larry and his son, Eric, are filling in while the Barstows are on vacation.

Lima Extension Group Celebrates Christmas Season

Red bows dancing and weaving in the wind from green wreaths and garlands was the greeting 17 Lima Extension Study Club members received Dec. 14 as they approached the home of Janet McCalla. The smell of pine candles burning, Christmas music playing, and the aroma of crunchy hot chicken salad, all added to the fun, excitement, and charm of Christmas at Jan's again this year! Relishes and rolls were added to the decorated tables by the co-hostess, Shirley Porter.

Moving to the living room around the Christmas tree after lunch the ladies were presented a paper with 24 Picture Hints to 24 Christmas songs. A very provocative game, experience, yet fun, as thoughts were shouted out then quieted again as they listened to music in the background for ideas. The song names were finally revealed as the beautifully wrapped Christmas exchange presents were waiting to be handed out. Bags and bags of food and toilet articles were left under the tree for a member to deliver to Safe House in Ann Arbor as the groups "Christmas to Others!"

Debra Mowatt To Pay Back Stolen Money

A Chelsea resident working as a bookkeeper for an Ann Arbor gift shop received a delayed sentence for embezzlement and was ordered to start paying restitution Friday.

Debra J. Mowatt, 39, pleaded no contest to a charge of embezzlement Sept. 30. The no contest plea is equivalent to guilty for the purposes of sentencing.

Mowatt was investigated by Ann Arbor Police Department for stealing money from the Crown House of Gifts office at 222 S. State St. A bookkeeper at the shop, Mowatt was accused of taking the money by writing checks to herself off company accounts and then destroying records. The larcenies occurred from the time she was hired in May 1992 through May 1994.

Mowatt was ordered to pay $250 a month. A delayed sentence was handed down by Circuit Court Judge Melinda Morris.

Red Cross Offers First Aid, Safety, Child CPR Classes

Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross is currently accepting registrations for its Community First Aid and Safety and Infant/Child CPR classes.

The nine-hour Community First Aid and Safety class will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 24, and Thursday, Jan. 26, from 5:30 to 10 p.m. Participants must attend both sessions and will receive certification in first aid and CPR. Class fee is $45.

The Infant/Child CPR class will be held Saturday, Jan. 28, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. In addition to rescue breathing, first aid for choking and CPR, the class includes valuable information on injury and accident prevention for children of all ages. Class fee is $30.

Both classes will be held at the Red Cross offices, 2729 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor. Preregistration is required. For more information about these courses and other Red Cross health education classes, call (313) 971-5300.

Farm Bureau Against Suggestions of Moving State Fair Location

The president of the state's largest farm organization criticized suggestions that the Michigan State Fair should be moved from its present location in Detroit.

"I think it's very unfair to be making these kinds of statements," said MFB President Jack Laurie, who also serves as chairman of the State Fair Council. "We had a very successful Fair in 1994. Our attendance was up significantly and participation by sponsors in southeast Michigan increased dramatically. We think the Fair is on a real roll right now and we'd like to continue that."

Laurie said the agricultural industry benefits from having the State Fair in southeast Michigan. "The current location is an excellent site for bringing rural and urban people together and showing urban people what's happening in agriculture today, where their food comes from and what the modern agricultural industry is all about," he said.

Another major concern about moving the State Fair to another location in the state is the impact that action would have on local county fairs, according to Laurie.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Underway

It's that time again! One of the most anticipated events in the country, the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale begins on Jan. 6 and ends on Jan. 29.

For over 50 years, Girl Scouts have been selling cookies door-to-door and at booth sales. Customers can call the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council at 313-971-8800 or 1-800-49-SCOUT to order cookies over the telephone.

Eight delicious varieties are available this year including a new Fat-Free cookie, the Cinnamon Oatmeal Raisin Bar. Old favorites include: Thin Mints, Caramel DeLites, Peanut Butter Patties, Shortbread, Lemon Pastry Creams, Peanut Butter Sandwiches and Strawberry 'n Creme. Each box costs $2.50.

Over 14,000 girls in 1,000 troops will participate in this year's sale. Through the cookie sale experience girls learn to set individual and group goals, to answer questions with confidence, to follow through on a commitment, to greet people, to handle money responsibly and to work with others.

The cookie sale is an activity of the Girl Scout Program and helps fund achievement recognitions for girls while helping troops with expenditures such as trips, community service projects and special projects. Cookie sale funds also help Huron Valley Girl Scout Council with expenses associated with volunteer recruitment, support training, program development and membership.

With nearly 3.5 million members, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council serves 14,000 girls and 4,000 adults and is partially funded through seven United Ways.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Sylvan Township

Domestic Assault and Battery

Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 100 block of Cavanaugh Lake Rd., Jan. 5. A 49-year-old Ann Arbor man told police his 46-year-old ex-wife assaulted him when he picked their son up for hockey practice. He said he knocked on the door to the home and his son answered. The boy said he would be out shortly, and when the man turned to return to his car, he said the woman hit him in the head with her fist. The man also reported she struck the passenger side window with a baseball bat when he dropped the boy off later that day. He told police she was apparently upset that he came up to the door. The case remains open while police attempt to contact the woman accused of assault.

Webster Township

Sheep at Large

A 61-year-old township man has been told to keep his sheep on his own property after the sheep, which have reportedly been roaming neighbors' yards for years, ate the bark off several neighborhood trees. A 46-year-old township man told an animal control officer that a herd of sheep the suspect owns destroyed several maple and mountain ash trees on his property. Damage is estimated at $2,135. The complaint was reported Dec. 21. Several neighbors along Donovan Rd. also reported damage to their pine trees.

Dexter Township

Attempted Breaking and Entering

Attempted breaking and entering was reported in the 8500 block of Orchard Rd., Jan. 5. A 40-year-old township woman told police she believes someone tried to enter her home between 7:30 a.m. and 3:40 p.m. She returned to the house to find a bench, which is usually kept in front of the house, under her son's bedroom window. Police found footprints in the snow leading to other windows of the home, but no forced entry was gained. The woman said nothing appeared to be missing.

Drunken Driving

Larry V. Ramsey, 43, of Dexter township was involved in a snowmobile accident Jan. 8 that appears to be alcohol related. Police are investigating a roll-over crash involving Ramsey on Arnold Rd. near Dancer Rd. When police arrived on the accident scene Ramsey was being treated by Dexter Area Fire Department personnel for injuries sustained in the crash. Two of Ramsey's Arnold Rd. neighbors were interviewed by police. They did not see the crash. They found him lying on the ground next to his snowmobile. Ramsey was transported to the University of Michigan Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance. Police noted smelling a strong odor of intoxicants coming from Ramsey. They followed up at the hospital and sought permission from the prosecutor to obtain a search warrant to get a sample of Ramsey's blood. The sample has been sent to the Michigan State Police-Crime Lab in Lansing to determine Ramsey's blood/alcohol level at the time of the crash. Ramsey has admitted to drinking alcohol prior to driving and driving too fast along Arnold Rd. His wife confirmed that he had been drinking alcohol earlier in the day.

Attempted Juvenile Assault

Attempted juvenile assault was reported in the 13700 block of Edgewater Dr., Jan. 9. A 37-year-old township woman told police her 14-year-old son cut her with a knife, threatened her fiancé's life and attempted to harm himself about 9 p.m., Jan. 8. The boy was reportedly playing hockey with his mother's fiancé and the man's son when an argument ensued. The boy ran in the house and his mother's fiancé followed. The boy told police he grabbed a knife to protect himself because the man was yelling at him. The boy told the man to leave him alone or he would kill him. When the boy's mother tried to take the knife from her son, she said her finger got cut and her son began making stabbing motions toward his stomach. When the knife was taken from the boy, he ran in the bathroom.

Lima Township

Vehicle Crash

Kimberly D. Corser, 26, of Jackson was issued two citations after she crashed her 1978 Chevy on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. near Wylie Rd., Jan. 12. During dense fog, Corser said she was driving eastbound on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. when a vehicle veered in her lane, causing her to swerve off the roadway. Her vehicle struck a sign and group of trees. She was not injured, however.

FUND-RAISER; "Por favor, amigos! Vengan a la fiesta en el Common Grill!"

Mexican Dinner To Benefit Education Foundation

Hold on to your sombreros, amigos!

Chef Craig Common has finished his menu planning for Chelsea Education Foundation's annual fund-raising dinner and auction. This year's event, with a Mexican fiesta theme, is scheduled for Jan. 30, with cocktails offered at 6:30 p.m. and dinner served at 7:30 p.m.

Dinner will begin with a first course of BBQ duck and wild mushrooms quesadilla with mango relish. After a second course of Mexican tortilla soup, guests will be served tamarind glazed chicken with green mole sauce, grilled red Mexican shrimp with citrus salsa, and black beans and rice.

For those able to save room for dessert, the Grill will offer Kahula creme brulee.

Admission to the Fiesta is by advanced reservation only, but tickets are still available. Reservations may be made in person at the Common Grill or by telephone with Mary Green (475-7035) or Marti Reesman (475-9319) of the Chelsea Education Foundation.

All profits will go to support the education and grant programs of the Foundation.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

After reading the letter in The Standard from the people who had water pressure problems during Christmas, we must tell you about our experience with the water department. When we returned from our daughter and son-in-law's home on Father's Day, we discovered about a foot of water had dripped through our basement wall from a broken water line outside; and it was still coming in quite fast. We did not know what to do; so we called the village office. A police officer answered and said he would call someone.

A short time later Dan Rosentreter came and turned the water off at the curb. He came inside to see if he could be of further assistance. He told us we needed a sump pump and thought he could find one. Where could we have gotten one at 10 o'clock on a Sunday night? He and Gary put on boots and finally got it working. After about 11 p.m. when Dan saw that the water leak had stopped and the water was being pumped out of the basement, he left.

We tried to pay him for being so very helpful; but he refused it. We asked if we could give the money to his children and he refused that too. Our new furnace and air conditioner would have been ruined without his help. We did have to replace the water heater.

The people of Chelsea are very fortunate to have a young man like Dan Rosentreter to manage our water department, which must be very difficult at times. We are very grateful to this thoughtful young man and still wish we could do something for him.

Lucille Grossman.

Washtenaw County Pollution Prevention Program Updated

At this time, many Washtenaw County businesses should have received the 1995 status sheets from Washtenaw County Pollution Prevention Program (PPP). You will note this year Local Emergency Planning Committees (LEPC's), Environmental Services, Fire Marshals and Fire Chiefs have worked to streamline the initial reporting requirements for SARA Title III, Fire Fighter Bulletin #33, and the PPP. By reporting by March 1, 1995 to Washtenaw County Environment and Infrastructure Services, PPP, Fire Chiefs, and LEPC's can access your information to help satisfy these other reporting requirements.

On Thursday, Feb. 2, 1995, Environment and Infrastructure Services and Emergency Management staff will be offering a two-hour workshop to aid in filling out the status sheets. The workshop site will be in the Emergency Management Conference Room, located at 2201 Hogback Rd., in the Washtenaw County Service Center. A confirmation letter will be sent to those who register. Call Environment and Infrastructure Services (PPP) at (313) 971-7446 to register for this workshop if interested.

Farmer's Tax Guide Now Available at Extension Offices

Now that Christmas is over, one very important farm job involves records and taxes. The 1994 Farmer's Tax Guide is now available, free of charge at the Monroe, Lenawee, Washtenaw and Wayne County Extension offices.

Publication 225, the Farmer's Tax Guide, explains how federal tax laws apply to farming. This publication is a useful guide to figuring taxes and completing the farm tax return.

There are about 18 administrative and tax law changes for 1994 briefly described, as well as about 27 important reminders included. There were no major changes passed by Congress; however, the 25% deduction for health insurance costs expired for 1994.

This free guide is an excellent reference with chapters covering topics such as: self-employment taxes, basis of assets; dispositions of property used in farming; depreciation, depletion and amortization; installation sales; retirement plans; gains and losses; and 13 other topics.

In the Ann Arbor and surrounding areas, the Farmer's Tax Guide may be picked up at the Washtenaw County Extension office, 4133 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor, (313) 971-0079.

Half of the alcohol consumed in this country is accounted for by the 10 percent of the population who drink the most heavily.

Prepare Ahead for Family Home Fire Emergencies

With proper planning, children have a much better chance of surviving tragic home fires, AAA Michigan advises.

Families can develop an emergency life saving plan and prevent critical fire situations by following a few simple guidelines, according to AAA Michigan Community Safety Services Manager Jerry Basch.

"For a few dollars and a little family planning time, a family can prepare for fire emergencies," reports Basch. "Smoke detectors and home fire safety drills are keys for a quick home emergency exit. Family members may only have three minutes to get out safely before being overcome by smoke and gases."

According to the Department of State Police, Fire Marshal Division, 55,622 fires were reported in Michigan during 1993. More than 230 people died as a result of these fires and 755 were injured. Property losses for the year totaled $338 million.

Although the number of fires in Michigan has been steadily decreasing since 1988 (from 72,958 to 1988 to 55,622 in 1993), the number of lives lost has not. In 1993, say state officials, 233 civilian deaths were reported, 13 more than in 1988 and 15 more than in 1992.

The irony of the fire safety issue in Michigan is that the one age group most affected by fire—children—is least able to prevent it from happening.

Last year, 71 children under 10 perished in Michigan fires, accounting for 30.5 percent of all civilian fire deaths, a 10 percent decrease from 1992.

Chelsea physicians, contacted concerning reports that the liver ailment known as hepatitis had affected a large number of children in Chelsea schools, said that this was not true. Because of the alarm felt by some parents they felt it was wise to clarify the situation.

Eight foxes sighted and five bagged was the score for the 50 hunters who participated in the annual fox hunt in this area. All five were downed in the Sharon township area.

Proceeds of the "Peanuts for Polio" sale, held over the past month, have amounted to $208.39. Boy Scouts, a square dance group known as the Chelsea Promenaders and the Chelsea Lanes bowling leagues, all contributed money earned for the fight against polio by the March of Dimes.

EDWARD E. FREYSINGER, of Canton has been appointed to vice-president and administrator of Seaway Hospital in Trenton. Since September 1992, Freysinger has served as director of the Oakwood-Canton Health Center. Before joining Oakwood Health Services, he served in several executive positions in the Catherine McAuley Health System at McPherson Hospital, Flint. As hospital administrator, his responsibilities include managing the daily operations of the 203-bed facility. Freysinger received his undergraduate degree in business from Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti. He holds a master's degree in health care administration from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Freysinger's sister and brother-in-law, Connie and Karl Luckhardt live in Chelsea. Seaway Hospital is a 203-bed hospital servicing the downriver area and is a member of Oakwood Health Services, a 1,919-bed regional health care network, and one of the leading health care delivery systems in southeastern Michigan.

Scio Resident Named to State Tenure Commission

Governor John Engler has announced the appointment of James Cameron to the State Tenure Commission. The Commission decides on appeals by teachers who contest decisions made by their local school boards concerning tenure rights. Members are appointed by the Governor.

James M. Cameron, Jr., of Ann Arbor, is an attorney with Dykema Gossett PLLC in Ann Arbor, since 1978. He previously was a teacher at Detroit Country Day School in Birmingham. Cameron earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from Harvard University in 1973, and his Juris Doctor from Washington College of Law, the American University, in 1978. He is a member of the American, Michigan and Washtenaw County Bar Associations; is a Trustee of the Ann Arbor Board of Education, and is a member of the Dicker Elementary PTO, and the Scio Township Zoning Board of Appeals. He is a former member of Ann Arbor Zoning Board of Appeals, the Ann Arbor Elected Officials Compensation Commission, and the Ann Arbor Board of Canvassers. Cameron is appointed to represent local boards of education and replaces Wilbur Haas, of Trenton, for a term expiring August 31, 1999.

Michigan DNR Trains Park Officers at WCC

For two years, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has sent park and recreation officers to Washtenaw Community College (Ann Arbor) to receive specialized training. These officers, who are charged with the stewardship of Michigan's state parks, come from the four corners of the state, including Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

DNR training began at WCC in 1993 with a basic course that includes conflict resolution, firearms safety, field notetaking, and pressure point control tactics, among other topics. Since then, a mid-level management training program has been introduced that includes interpersonal skills such as conflict resolution, problem-solving, and employee motivation. Because these full-time officers often have seasonal people working for them, this training has proved to be very valuable.

The DNR proposed the program in 1992 to WCC Public Service Training Director Ralph Galvin. Through his research, the curriculum was fine-tuned and developed for a more functional setting, in other words, trainees learn applied skills they can use in their day-to-day operations rather than a more traditional theoretical or general knowledge approach. WCC is the only educational facility in Michigan to provide this training.

The five-week, 192-hour program has seen 60 officers successfully complete their training to date.

While still a volunteer option for the approximately 350 park and recreation enforcement officers in Michigan, it is anticipated that all officers will eventually complete this training. There is also the likelihood that it could become entry-level training for all new officers.

The first session (Class #3) will be held Jan. 30-March 3. The next session (Class #4) runs March 20-April 21. To ensure that field officers are more effective dealing with visitors with their diverse backgrounds, a new block of instruction was added in 1994 which focuses on improving communication skills as a method to de-escalate conflict and enforce rules in a non-confrontational manner.

While participating in training, parks and recreation officers will stay locally at the Sheraton. They will also attend classes in full dress duty uniform, an interesting contrast to WCC's usually informal styles worn by students. Thirty-one officers, both men and women, are expected to participate in Class #3.

The recent passage of Proposal P has also set the ground work for future training initiatives. The Proposal allows the Parks system to create an endowment to refurbish and protect Michigan state parks. That initiative, which also applies to park and recreation officers, is the reason two training sessions have been scheduled by the college for 1995.

THE SAFETY SMART SCARF, a new business venture for a Manchester woman, is designed to be safer than drawstrings and other scarves worn by children.

Area Resident Designs 'Safety Smart Scarf'

A Manchester resident has designed and produced a scarf for children and adults that is not only smarter and safer than traditional scarves, it's warm, comfortable and made from recycled pop bottles.

Breda Miller took on the project in response to the tragic death of an Ann Arbor child resulting from the drawstrings on her coat getting caught on a playground slide. After cutting off the drawstrings from her daughter's winter coat, Miller found that the hood would not stay up and traditional scarves tied around the neck with long tails were as dangerous as the drawstrings that she had just removed. Working with Polartec 200 fleece, a bit of Velcro and a new sewing machine, Miller developed the Safety Smart Scarf. She has launched this cottage industry from her Manchester home and has employed the sewing talents of Manchester residents to meet the growing demand for the special scarf.

In creating her own company, BeesWing, Inc., Miller drew on her experience in marketing and sales, as well as her best experience yet—being a mother of two, Daniel, 6, and Chloe, 3. The name of Miller's company came from a pet name her father, now deceased, used to call her as a child.

Miller's scarves are one size fits all because for children, the scarf is designed to be worn outside their hood, keeping it up and their faces warm. It is especially helpful for children with asthma or other respiratory difficulties to protect their lungs from the bitter cold air. For adults, the scarf may be worn inside the coat collar and easily pulled up over the mouth and nose when it's really cold outside. The Velcro closure at the back of the scarf gives it a safe, break-away feature for children and it also makes it easy to dress children in a hurry. For adults, the closure ensures a snug fit.

Now, about those recycled pop bottles. The fabric BeesWing uses is made by Malden Mills, the premier manufacturer of polar fleece in the United States. Malden produces Polartec 200 in larger quantities, such as Lands End and L.L. Bean. Malden Mills produces Polartec 200 in a recycled series that contains 50 percent post-consumer recycled polyester. "It's so soft and warm and fuzzy, it's hard to believe it's made from pop bottles," said Miller. Recycled Polartec comes in purple, red and navy.

Of particular interest to Chelsea residents is the company's new Maize and Blue model, which is a navy scarf with a stripe of Polartec maize on the front. The Safety Smart Scarf is available at The Rainbow Patch on Main St. in Chelsea or directly from BeesWing. Priced at $10, it is a smart way to be safe and warm this winter.

For information about fund raising, call BeesWing at (313) 428-0808.

Washtenaw Home Builders Association Presents Top Honors

At the annual Awards and Recognition program on Jan. 4, the Home Builders Association of Washtenaw County presented its top awards to three of the association's most deserving members.

The "1994 Builder of the Year" designation was awarded to Robert Murray of Murray/Durbin Builders. Murray was instrumental in the construction of the new association office building, which was officially dedicated in June of last year. He has participated with the Showcase of Homes event for the last 10 years, serves on the Community Service Committee, Policy Manual Committee, and is currently the first vice-president of the association.

The "1994 Associate of the Year" designation was awarded to Mike Appicelli of Dow Chemical. Appicelli is the past chairman of the Associates Council of the Home Builders Association and served as chairman of the "Builders Home & Improvement Show," which will be held this year on March 31, April 1-2. A new honor, the "Community Service Award," was created to recognize those members of the association who reach out into the community and make a difference. This year's "Community Service Award" was presented to Gyll Stanford of Stanford Enterprises. Stanford, with the assistance of the Washtenaw Remodelers Council, spearheaded a project during "Christmas in April" Washtenaw" which enabled a handicapped individual to move more freely and independently. This project involved extensive rehabilitation to the existing structure and was an overwhelming success due to the design ability and dedication of Stanford.

TOOTH FOOD

The first thing to teach your children about preventive tooth care is that good eating habits are important. Foods that keep the whole body healthy will also keep teeth, gums and jawbones in good condition. Milk, cheese, meat, eggs, vegetables, fruits, whole grain breads and cereals are excellent for healthy teeth and gums.

If your child eats between meals, remember that snacks should be low in sugar. In-between-meal treats such as candy, cookies, ice cream, sugared chewing gum and sweet drinks may play havoc with a child's teeth. Bacteria which are normally present in the mouth combine with sugar to form acids—acids which attack tooth enamel. Eventually, it causes cavities.

When sweets are eaten between meals there is more apt to be a chance for cavities to develop, since the child will probably not brush right after—before acids have a chance to form.

Some toothworthy snacks for children are: apples, oranges, bananas, plums, peaches, fruit juices, milk and cheese. The greater distance between sweet junk foods and teeth, the better.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S., 3108 Baker Rd., Dexter. Phone 426-8336.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH of Chelsea and the adjoining parsonage on E. Middle St. looked like this before Feb. 18, 1884 when a raging fire destroyed them and a section of stores along Main St.

ONLY THE FOUNDATION remained of the First Congregational Church building on E. Middle St., after a disastrous fire destroyed the church and parsonage on Sunday, Feb. 18, 1884.

Congregational Church Destroyed in 1884 Fire

First Congregational Church of Chelsea is preparing to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the present church building.

A centennial celebration is planned to begin special services at the church on Jan. 29, 1995.

Construction of the present church building was completed in 1894 and it was dedicated on Jan. 31, 1895.

In researching the history of the church building Marge Hepburn found an account of the fire which destroyed the church in The Chelsea Herald of Feb. 22, 1884. It is being reprinted here to show the disastrous consequences of a fire in the early days. Note the presence of some names still prominent in Chelsea.

$43,000 Fire

About 2 o'clock p.m. Sunday, as Alton Fletcher and Chas. Miller were passing east on Middle street they noticed smoke issuing from the rear windows of the Babcock block, occupied by the Glazier Oil Stove Company. Upon investigation they found that the building was on fire and gave the alarm.

The chemical engines and bucket brigade were soon at work, but they failed to stay the progress of the flames and a telegram was sent to Jackson for a steamer, which arrived here in about an hour after the telegram was sent. All this time the flames were roaring and seething within the two-story double store and also had communicated to Frank Staffan's building on the north, which is part of the Chelsea House. By this time the roof and floors of the Babcock building fell with a crash. The heat was then so intense that the Congregational church on the east caught fire and before the flames had consumed that building, the parsonage which is east of the church was also in flames.

At this time the steamer arrived from Jackson and had a stream of water on the Chelsea House proper, and succeeded in saving that building. The firemen then turned their attention to A. Mensing's residence east of the burning parsonage and succeeded in saving it although it was badly scorched. Shortly after this the fire began to wane and it was evident that it was under control.

R. S. Armstrong & Co. moved their stock of groceries and drugs; L. & A. Winans moved their jewelry stock, and Chas. Whitaker also moved his stock of hardware, but neither of these buildings were much damaged. Nearly all the household goods were removed from the hotel. The household goods belonging to Rev. O. C. Bailey were also removed from the parsonage before the fire reached it.

The Glazier Oil Stove Company, loss on stock, etc., $25,000, insurance $13,500.

Frank Staffan, loss on building, $1,800, insurance $1,000.

R. S. Armstrong & Co., stock damaged by moving, $500, covered by insurance.

C. E. Whitaker, stock damaged by moving, $500, covered by insurance. The Chelsea fire department lost all the furniture in their hall. No insurance.

The furniture in the G. A. R. and W. R. C. hall was damaged considerably by being moved. No insurance.

Mrs. Emma Gillam, loss on Chelsea House and furniture, $1,500. Fully insured.

The roof and north wall of the Winans building was damaged considerably. Covered by insurance.

L. Babcock, loss on double store, $6,000, insurance $4,000.

The Congregational Society, loss on church and parsonage, $7,000, insurance $5,200.

Rev. O. C. Bailey, damage to household goods by moving, $200. No insurance.

A. Mensing damage to household goods, $200. Insured.

Gilbert & Crowell, insurance agents, succeeded in saving their books and office furniture.

The fire came at a very unfortunate time for the Glazier Oil Stove Company, as they had just stocked up for the year's business, and all the finished castings were stored in the burned building. But Mr. Glazier informs us that a full force of polishers will be put to work at once, and the company will soon be filling orders as usual. The Company have temporary offices over the Chelsea Savings Bank.

It is not known at present whether L. Babcock will rebuild his double store or sell the lots, but it is hoped they will be rebuilt. This is the third time he has been burned out on the same lots.

Frank Staffan informs us that he will rebuild as soon as possible. The Congregational society have been talking of building a new church for several years and now we may expect to see a handsome edifice on the site of the old church. The parsonage will also be rebuilt.

It is thought the fire originated either in the furnace room of the basement or in the office on the first floor.

Conservation District Sets Annual Meeting

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District has announced its annual meeting, to be held Thursday, Jan. 26, 6:30 p.m. at the Washtenaw County Farm Council Grounds, Ann Arbor-Saline Rd.

An all-you-can-eat Pancake & Sausage Dinner will be served. Cost for the Dinner is $2.00 per person with children 12 and under free. Reservations are needed and should be made by Jan. 23. Please call the District Office at (313) 761-6721 to make reservations.

Jim and Neil Bohnett, of Saline township will be recognized at the meeting as the 1994 Conservation Farmers of the Year, for conservation activities on their farms in Saline and York townships.

An election of two District Directors will also be conducted at the meeting. Candidates for the director positions are Bruce Breuninger of Lima township, Jeff Horning of Freedom township, Matt Koenn of Sylvan township and Donald Rentschler of Lodi township. The two candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be elected to three-year terms. All occupiers of three or more acres of land within Washtenaw county are eligible to vote in the director election.

The meeting is open to the public and will also include reports on conservation activities during 1994 and a drawing for door prizes donated by area businesses.

Bulldog Cagers Fall To Dexter, Tecumseh

By Ben O'Connor

The height disadvantage finally caught up to the Bulldogs a week ago Tuesday and Friday night. After warding off the other giants of the SEC with accuracy and quickness, Chelsea's effort at last fell a little short.

The dry spell began last Tuesday when the dogs hosted the Dexter Dreadnaughts. One of Chelsea's big men, Scott Colvin was out with a broken wrist and sprained ankle; Junior Kevin Cross filled in the gap for Chelsea and contributed four points, but it was not enough as both Chelsea and Dexter fought tooth and nail keeping the score by quarters to two points or less, until the fourth.

Dexter's Dave Conger tallied 12 points—and was a deciding factor in the Dreadnaughts win as well as Ben Weaver and Brandon Worley with 11 and nine points, respectively. These three posed an even match for the Bulldogs' fast-break offense. Had the Dogs been at top performance level it might have been a different story, but Dexter edged away to win 53-49.

"The key to Dexter's winning as with Tecumseh's, was our inside game," remarked Coach Robin Raymond. "Conger and Davidson controlled the inside and we were forced to take more shots from three-point range."

As a result of the 23 shots taken from three-point range, the Bulldogs broke a school record by hitting nine. Nick Brink was the high scorer of the game with 22 points, followed by Chad Brown with 10 points and four assists; Case McCalla with 7, Kevin Cross with 4, Bryndon Skelton with 3 and Sam Morseau also with 3.

Chelsea traveled to Tecumseh with the hopes of rekindling the fire that had driven them before. With Tecumseh's big man Brad Allen nicely hyped, Chelsea knew they were going to have to become more of a force inside. Even with the return of Colvin, this proved to be a difficult task as Allen led the Indians to a 61-52 win making them sole holders of first place in the SEC.

Chelsea's game plan was to double-up on Allen, but in doing so had to leave one of the other capable Indians open, namely, Richard Caplander.

"Our intent was to stop Allen inside," said Coach Raymond, "about all we did was slow him down. Tecumseh did a good job of exploiting him."

Whenever Allen was in trouble, he dished to Caplander, who had 17 points to Allen's 22.

One of the key factors in holding off Tecumseh was Chelsea's Case McCalla, who had a great game with 11 points, 8 rebounds, and 4 assists.

Chad Brown also had 11 points and kept Chelsea's fast break game from dying. Brown also hit a three-point buzzer-beater before half-time in answer to a Tecumseh half-court hoop by Scott Oxley.

"In a game like this, when you double-up on a man," said Raymond, "you like the officials to let you play. Unfortunately, they were blowing the whistle a little too often; we could have used a few more bumps."

Other scorers from Chelsea in Friday's game were Nick Brink with 21, Scott Colvin with 8, and Bryndon Skelton with 1.

The Bulldogs will finish up the first round of SEC play Friday when they host Pinckney. As of Friday the Bulldogs stand at 3-2 in the SEC as do Pinckney and Dexter; Tecumseh is 4-1. Dexter will play Tecumseh this Friday at home. If Dexter manages to knock off Tecumseh, there will be a three-way tie for first. Chelsea should be back to full strength by Friday when both Kevin Coy who was out with injury and Colvin have had time to recuperate.

Coach Raymond also hopes to see more balanced scoring Friday.

"Right now we have about four guys getting all our points. We should have six or seven getting on the boards to be effective," Raymond added.

JV Cagers Lose to Dexter, Tecumseh

Chelsea junior varsity basketball team got off to a slow start against Dexter Tuesday, Jan. 10 and found themselves down 7-0 to start the game. For the balance of the first half Chelsea played the visiting Dexter team on even terms to be down by 6 at half-time.

The third quarter hurt as Dexter out-scored the Bulldogs 22 to 8. In the fourth quarter the teams played even for a final score of 48-69.

Dexter's free throw shooting was a big factor in the game as the Dreadnaughts hit 24 of 29 shots, 89% for the game.

"The third quarter hurt us," coach Dave Quilter said as "Dexter came out with great enthusiasm and out-scored us by 14. We played hard during the game, but not smart," Quilter added. "As a team we tried to steal way too much and got out of position on defense, giving up the lane and the easy shot or dump pass," the coach concluded.

Scoring was led by Brian Bloomensaat, Jake Wacker and Nathan Butler each totalling 7 points. Paul Bragalone and Tim Lawrence each had 5; Ashley Coy, Jason Sprawka and Casey Wescott each had 4; Ben Pontiff had 3, and Dusty White scored 2.

Dexter hit 50% of field goal attempts to 35% for Chelsea.

Free throw shooting for Chelsea was 7 of 18 for 39%, while Dexter was 24 of 29 for 83%.

Against Tecumseh Friday night the junior Bulldogs were blown out by Tecumseh 58-37.

Chelsea's second half defense, allowing Tecumseh only 20 points, was hurt by the fact that the offense scored only 11.

In the second half, Tecumseh scored as many points in each of the third and fourth quarters as they did in the entire first half.

Coach Quilter said "We ran our defense in the first half and ended up with a lot of good scoring opportunities but we didn't score!" In the second half he said "we got away from running plays and once again a team was able to get the ball in the lane and get some easy baskets."

Paul Bragalone led the scoring with 10 points, followed by Nathan Butler with 9, Ashley Coy with 8, Bloomensaat with 3, Justin Strong, Casey Wescott and Dusty White with 2 each, and Tim Lawrence with 1.

For the game the Bulldogs shot 24% (9 of 38) from the floor and 53% (17 of 32) from the charity stripe. Tecumseh hit 44% from the floor and 62% from the line.

Next Friday Chelsea will be hosting the Pinckney Pirates. Game time is 6 p.m.

Swim Team 2nd In 6-Team Invitational

Chelsea varsity swimming team participated in the first annual West Bloomfield Invitational on Saturday, Jan. 14. The meet was won by West Bloomfield (207 pts.), followed closely by Chelsea with (184). Livonia Churchill was 3rd (140 pts.), Novi was 4th (126), Trenton 5th (123), and Troy Athletes finished out the six team field at (56 pts.).

The meet had a four-heat format with the winner of each heat receiving a medal and the highest points. This helped teams with depth.

First-place finishes were as follows. 200 medley relay: Rob Frayer, Matt Kolodica, Chris Frayer, Mike Hushke, 1:55.58.

200 free (heat 2): Chris Frayer, 2:02.66.

50 yard (heat 2), Curt Street, 25.80; (heat 3), Christian Desorbo, 24.76.

6 dive diving: Jason Fox, 151.4 pts. 100 fly (heat 1), Chris Frayer, 1:06.41; (heat 2), Aaron Heaven, 1:04.37.

100 free (heat 1), Jeremy Zeigler, 54.02; (heat 2), Matt McVittie, 49.33.

200 free relay: (heat 2), Jim Bergman, Peter Straub, Curt Street, and Aaron Heaven, 1:40.12. (Heat 3), Matt McVittie, Steve Straub, Christian Desorbo, Mike Hushke, 1:35.48 (a pool record).

100 breast: (heat 2), Matt Kolodica, 1:11.94; (heat 3), Peter Straub, 1:07.53.

Boys Swimming Team Defeats Okemos, Adrian

*Chelsea boys swimming team finished a big week with victories over Okemos, 103 1/2 to 82 1/2, and Adrian, 106 to 80.

Outstanding performances were turned in by the 200 medley relay team of Curt Street, Peter Straub, Chris Grossman and Jim Bergman in 1:52.29.

Steve Straub and Aaron Heaven combined for a 2-3 finish in the 200 free. They finished at 2:01.61 and 2:02.25, respectively.

Matt McVittie had the most impressive swim of the week with a first-place finish in the 200 IM. His time of 2:01.06 ranks him among the top three swimmers in the state in that event.

Jim Bergman had his best performance of the season in the 50 free when he stopped the clock at 24.95. Chris Grossman won the 100 fly in both meets, posting a season best time of 1:02.33.

McVittie also had a season best performance in the 100-yd. free, winning in easy fashion at 48.94.

"The 200 free relay made a state cut on its way to first place. McVittie, Straub, Kevin Kolodica and Milo Hushke stopped the clock at 1:35.01.

Straub kept the winning ways for JV DREADNAUGHT Matt Revelli (30) had his hand on the ball as Bulldog Brian Bloomensaat (44) battled him for control in last Tuesday's game pitting Dexter against Chelsea. In the end, the Dreadnaughts captured the victory, 69-48.

RAY HATCH won all three of his matches Saturday at the Athens Invitational meet to claim a first-place championship in the 126 lb. weight class. This was Ray's first championship of the season.

Varsity Wrestlers Place 7th in Athens Invitational

Chelsea varsity wrestling team traveled to the Athens 15-team Invitational Saturday and placed seventh in the final standing.

By the time the smoke had settled from the intense competition, Chelsea had two champions for the day, Ray Hatch and Jordan Dyer.

Ray Hatch at 126 lbs. first defeated Andy Pizion of Jackson Northwest, 10-1; then major decisioned Jeremy Cobb of Bronson, 10-0. In the finals, Ray defeated Brian Van Beveren of Haslett, 5-2, to earn his first championship of the season.

Jordan Dyer at 185 lbs. first pinned Mike Cross from Coldwater in 1:09; then technical failed Jesse Spradlin of Union City, 16-1; then defeated Tom Helfrich of Jackson Northwest, 8-4. In the finals, Jordan wrestled Lewis Verie of Bronson, who had defeated Jordan last week at the Western Invitational. In a very exciting match, Jordan defeated him this time, 3-2.

At 142 lbs., Ryan Ludwig placed third. Ryan pinned Matt Gordon of Edwardsburg in :56; then major decisioned Shawn Brown of Albion, 12-4. Ryan then wrestled Jacob Ott of Harper Creek in a match marred by poor officiating. The match went into overtime where the referee called Ryan for stalling, awarded his opponent 1 point, and said Ryan lost the match. Coach Kargel and Ryan both appealed to the referee but he would not listen and disqualified Ryan. Coach Kargel then went to the head official and it was determined that the referee had made an error and Ryan was reinstated. He went on to defeat Kevin Deiman of Allegan, 7-1, to place third.

At 134 lbs., Koby Foytik placed fourth. In an interesting first match, Koby wrestled Julie Walker of Mendon/Centreville and pinned her in 0:20; then defeated Don Schalaus of Athens, who was seeded third, 11-3; then lost to second seeded Brian Davis 17-9. In the consolation finals, Koby lost a close match to Craig Eaton of Edwardsburg, 1-0.

At 172 lbs., Mike Thayer placed third. Mike pinned Scott Krasian from Allegan in 2:45; then pinned Andy Hemker of Bronson in 4:58; then lost a close match to Joe Boudre of Jackson Northwest, 8-5. In the consolation finals, Mike major decisioned Corey Carpenter of Coldwater, 12-2.

Also participating in the tournament were Todd Pearsall at 100 lbs., who went 0-2 for the day; Kevin Bollinger at 112 lbs., 1-2; Chris Hatch at 119 lbs., 0-2; Mike Alber at 151 lbs., 1-2; Andy Kargel at 160 lbs., 1-2; and Joe Barkman at 215 lbs., 0-2.

Chelsea also sent a squad to the Eaton Rapids Junior Varsity Invitational on Saturday.

Brent Young at 134 lbs. placed first in the A Division.

Matt Tuttle at 126 lbs. placed third in the A Division.

Brian Hall at 160 lbs. placed fifth in the A Division.

Brian Bloemsaat at 134 lbs. placed first in the B Division.

Also participating in the tournament were Robert Bullock at 112 lbs., and Mike Kolesar at 151 lbs.

Sandhill Soaring Club Offering Lessons on Gliding

Sandhill Soaring Club of Gregory, will sponsor a Ground School program on Monday nights for 10 weeks beginning Feb. 20, at the Ann Arbor Airport Administration Building, just south of I-94 off State Rd., in Ann Arbor.

The class will cover every aspect of gliding/soaring for the beginner and will be an excellent refresher for non-current pilots.

Classes will be from 7 to 10 p.m. each week. Early enrollment is urged as space is limited.

For information, call (313) 761-1132.

U-M Dental School Offers Athletes Free Mouth Guards

The University of Michigan School of Dentistry will offer free, customized athletic mouth guards to elementary, junior high, high school and college students in Washtenaw county. Fittings will be 9 a.m. to noon Jan. 21 at the Mouth Guard Clinic, third floor, School of Dentistry Building.

The impression process takes about 10 minutes. The finished guards will be available for fitting and pickup about two hours after the impressions. No appointments are necessary. Students will be taken "first come, first served," while supplies last. The clinic will be able to make 125 mouth guards.

U-M faculty members, dental students and local dentists will make the protective mouth guards that are required for most student athletes.

"A U-M School of Dentistry study shows that the customized mouth guards are considerably more comfortable than those bought in stores," said William C. Godwin, U-M professor of dentistry and specialist in sports dentistry. "When we surveyed the men's and women's lacrosse teams at Ann Arbor Pioneer High school, 34 of 36 players preferred the customized mouth guards made at the clinic to those available in stores. The more comfortable the guards are, the more likely students are to wear them."

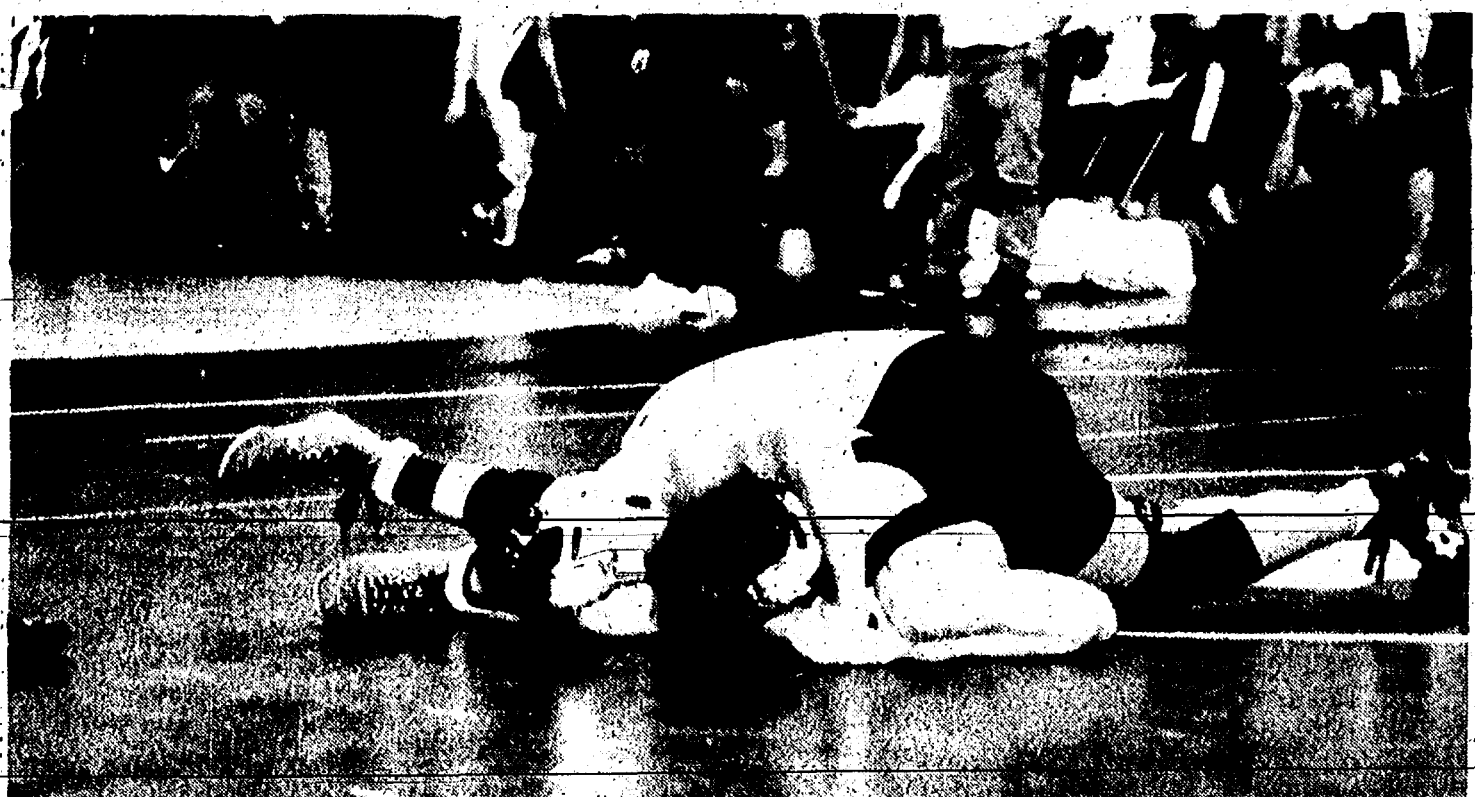

MIKE THAYER was on his way to a third place finish in the Athens Invitational meet Saturday, Jan. 14 as he won a major decision over Corey Carpenter of Coldwater in the consolation finals.

ANDY KARGEL, wrestling at 160 lbs., won one match and lost two in Saturday's competition in the Athens Invitational.</

RAY HATCH, wrestling in the 126-lbs. class, won two matches to advance to the final round where he was defeated in the Jackson Northwest Invitational meet Saturday, Jan. 7. He placed second in the tournament for his weight class.

TODD PEARSALL wrestling in the 100 lbs. weight class, won 1 match and lost 2 in the Jackson Northwest Invitational meet on Saturday, Jan. 7.

JORDAN DYER wrestling at 185 lbs., won all four of his matches for a first-place championship at the Athens Invitational meet Saturday, Jan. 14.

JV CAGERS Dexter and Chelsea met on Bulldog turf last Tuesday to do battle. Pictured is Chelsea's Tim Lawrence (24) head-to-head with Dexter's Roger Betz (32). Dexter captured the win, 69-48.

Beach Middle School Wrestlers Begin Season With Win

Beach Middle school's boys wrestling team opened their season Saturday, Jan. 14 at the Hillsdale Tournament. Chelsea made a strong showing, finishing in fourth place among 10 teams. A total of eight Chelsea wrestlers received medals at the tournament.

Derek Egeler, at 115 lbs., won his weight class by winning three matches during the day. Jon Baird, Dan Graft, Dave Moody, Dan Dault, and Matt Kalmbach each took third place honors at their respective weight classes. Rourke Skeleton and Chris Wentz placed fourth at their weight classes. Five other Chelsea wrestlers (Jeremy Price, Grant Bollinger, Vincent Scheffler, Jeff Martell, and Mark Helms) won matches during the day, helping Chelsea earn a total of 140 points to finish 4th in the tournament. Other area Middle Schools who competed in the tournament were Dexter, 6th place, and Saline, 9th place.

In addition to placing 4th in the tournament, Chelsea had the honor of having one of its wrestlers receive the Pin Award for the most pins in the least time: Matt Kalmbach received the award for pinning three opponents in a total time of 1:45.

Beach wrestlers will begin the dual meet season with a home opener against Lincoln Middle school on Tuesday, Jan. 24 at 4 p.m.

SEC RIVALS Dexter and Chelsea went head-to-head last Tuesday in a game that saw the Bulldogs end their win streak to Dexter, 53-49. Pictured is Bulldog Chad Brown (14) up against Dreadnaught Steve Schwarzenberger (12).

Michigan Soybean Performance Report Now Available at Extension Offices

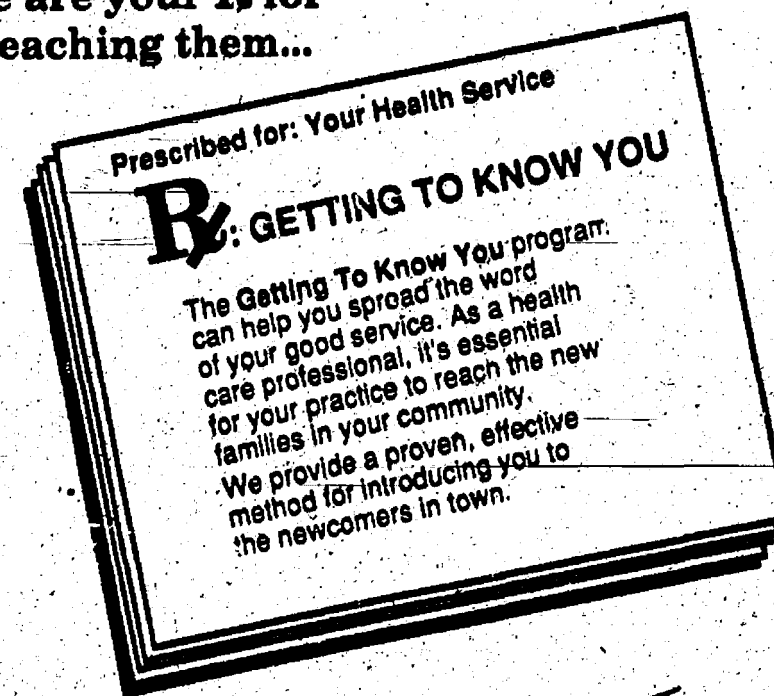

The 1994 Michigan Soybean Performance Report is now available at the Washtenaw, Monroe, and Lenawee County Extension offices. Listed are results of 120 public and private soybean varieties at the Lenawee location as well as the six other testing locations around the state of Michigan.

Yield is the primary consideration in selecting a variety. At the Lenawee testing location for example, yields range from 72 bushels per acre to 43 bushels. The average yield was almost 59 bushels, and the plot suffered an estimated 20% yield loss due to hail just before harvest.

For more information about soybean research or demonstration plot results, contact the Washtenaw County Extension, 4133 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor (313) 971-0079.

SOLAR SYSTEM STUDY: North Elementary school students participated in an assembly presented by Mobile Ed. entitled Starlab Planetarium. Students gathered in a large dome and Mark Spaulding (pictured) began with a slide presentation of the solar system. He then introduced students to the stars in the northern hemisphere as well as the Greek constellations, and all the myths and legends that go with them.

Pro. Development Seminar Series Scheduled at WCC

Business professionals interested in learning how to manage their work world more effectively will benefit from the professional development seminar series presented by the Washtenaw Community College Business-Industry Center this February.

• Dealing with Difficult People. Wednesday Feb. 1, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Participants will learn how to interact successfully with aggressive and hostile people, respond to chronic complainers, and improve their relationships with their bosses.

NEW this February:
• Introduction to Team Learning. Thursday, Feb. 9, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. This course provides an overview of team learning and team dynamics.

• De-cluttering Your Desk and Your Life. Thursday, Feb. 9, 7 to 9 p.m. A cluttered work area can mean lost documents and missed messages from important customers. In this seminar, participants discover new ways to get their desktop clutter under control and keep it under control.

• Conflict, Criticism and Anger in the Workplace. Thursday, Feb. 16, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Participants will learn how to decrease frustration and increase productivity through conflict resolution techniques and "win-win" communication strategies and techniques.

• The New Paradigm Shift: Attitudes & Leadership. Monday, Feb. 20, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. In this seminar, participants will discover emerging leadership methods that will help them keep your organization successful in today's global economy.

NEW this February:
• Introduction to Mental Models. Thursday, Feb. 23, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The ladder of inference, right hand vs. left hand columns, the hexagon technique are featured in this course.

• Being the Boss: Effective Supervisory Skills. Thursday, Feb. 23, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. This course is an overview of the basic elements of supervision, including performance appraisals, for current or soon-to-be supervisors and managers.

• Creativity in the Workplace: Out of the Box Thinking. Monday, Feb. 27, 7 to 9:30 p.m. This course is designed to help individuals discover the creative person inside.

To find out more about these one-day seminars, and fees, contact Continuing Education registration at (313) 973-3616.

Seminar Slated on Grandparent Adoptions

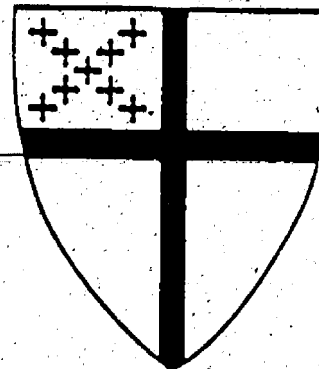

Grandparents as parents, sponsored by Catholic Social Services is offering a seminar on the topic of Legal Guardianships and Grandparent Adoptions.

Card of Thanks 19

CARD OF THANKS

The families of Paul and Lorraine Herrst would like to thank all the friends, family, and neighbors who have helped in our time of mourning. Your prayers and gifts of money for the children are greatly appreciated. A special thank you to St. Mary's church and Father Dupuis. Ford Motor UAW 892, Recellular, and Chelsea Schools for their offers of help. All expressions of sympathy, including visitation, cards, flowers and memorials are a comfort to the families. Sincerely, The Carver, Coval, Herrst and Schwab families

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Lela Kathleen Parks wishes to extend our thanks and appreciation for all the acts of kindness and caring which have helped us through the loss of our beloved daughter and sister. The cards, visits, telephone calls, visitation and funeral meant so very much. The floral offerings were all beautiful and the donations to Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and Hospice of Washtenaw are very much appreciated. We wish to thank the pallbearers and our friends at the First United, and Village Methodist Churches of Waterloo for the great dinner prepared for the many people who attended the funeral. Special thanks to Craig Goodlock for singing so beautifully and to organist Sandy Augie. A special thanks to Caskey Funeral Home, especially to Jeff Caskey for his caring services. Thanks to Reverend Wayne Wilber and Wilbur Silvernail for their comforting words. We shall never forget how good everyone connected with Hospice of Washtenaw was to our Lela, especially Sharon Daniels and Linda Zera. Special thanks to Karen Otleski and Linda Prinzing for being such faithful and caring people throughout her illness. To Diana Grimm for her special poem, and all who shared their kindred spirit that day. Johanna and Glen Parks and Family.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE

A DRAM-SHOP ACTION
TO: Any person or business who may have sold, given or furnished alcoholic liquor or beverage to Robert Eugene Rice on Thursday, September 1, 1994.

RE: These offices have been retained to pursue a potential action against you arising out of an accident which occurred on Thursday, September 1, 1994 at approximately 11:35 p.m. at the intersection of Page and Portage Roads in Jackson County.

Our clients, John Stanford and Kathy Ely were injured as result of an automobile accident caused by the negligent operation and driving of Robert Eugene Rice.

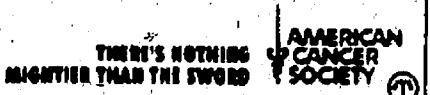

Although there is very limited information available, our investigation reveals that Robert Eugene Rice was drinking at the Wolverine Tavern in Chelsea, MI, and may have been drinking at other retail liquor licenses throughout that day, and may have been served at any or all of them while visibly intoxicated.

This notice is provided pursuant to MCLA 436.22(5) MSA 18.993(5).

Donating Memorabilia May Be Tax Deductible

Michigan residents wishing they had more tax deductions this year, may start planning for the 1994 tax year by contacting the Michigan Historical Museum now. The museum, located in Lansing, is seeking some key artifacts to complete its upcoming 20th century exhibits, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin said today.

The state-operated historical museum began construction of its final phase of permanent exhibits—entitled "Michigan in the 20th Century"—in early November. Although plans and designs are complete, the museum needs key artifacts to illustrate Michigan's more recent history.

"Michigan residents can provide the detail-work for our 20th century exhibits in artifacts ranging from fair ribbons and Michigan-made magic paraphernalia, to a Model T chassis," said Secretary Austin, the state's official historian. "Items sitting in a garage or attic, as new as Michigan-made furniture from the 1950s and Motown musical items from the 1960s, donated to the museum may result in federal and state income tax advantages."

Gifts to the museum are deductible for federal income tax purposes. They may also qualify for a special tax credit under Michigan's Income Tax Act. Consult a tax advisor for specific details.

If you have 20th century (or other) Michigan artifacts that may be of value to the Michigan Historical Museum, contact the Museum's Collections Unit, 717 W. Allegan St., Lansing 48918-1800. Telephone (517) 373-1509 or (517) 373-1559.

Among the 20th century artifacts still needed are:

- Model T chassis, circa 1913-20,
- Cadillac Starter, 1912
- Auto luggage rack, 1900-30,
- Auto-related toys and games, 1900-30,

- Brake and cable items made in Adrian, early 1900s,
- Fire alarm box, 1910-20,
- Items relating to Army's Polar Bear Unit, WW-I,

- Souvenir items or giveaways from early movie houses,
- Model cars: 1903 Cadillac, 1907 Packard, 1920 Detroit Electric,

- Early 20th century naturalization items (e.g. class books),
- Milk bottles or caps from around the state with dairy name, city,

- Early 20th century fair items (e.g. ribbons, premium books),
- Early labor union items,

- Books by Michigan authors, 1900-30 (e.g. Hemingway, Curwood),
- Magic paraphernalia manufactured in Colon,

- Items relating to Michigan professional sports teams: admission tickets, pennants, esp. 1930-50 and 1960s,

- Items produced all over state for the WW-II effort, not limited to auto, factories (e.g. the Gibson Guitar Co. produced radar equipment)

- Items from 1957 Detroit Auto Show
- High-fashion furniture made by Michigan designers or companies, 1960s,

- Items relating to civil rights, women's rights, Native American rights, war protest and social issues, 1960s,

- Items relating to Michigan performers/writers of music, 1960.

The Michigan Historical Museum system is operated by the Department of State's Bureau of Michigan History, the official state agency responsible for preserving, protecting and interpreting the state's past.

Money Management

Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants

When it comes to financial recordkeeping, people generally fall into two categories, those who still have the first check they ever wrote and those who would be hard-pressed to locate last month's credit card statement. If you fall into the latter category, the Michigan Association of CPAs (MACPA) offers the following advice to help you identify and organize important records.

Your Home and Possessions

Records and receipts for improvements you've made to your home can be valuable tax-savings documents. The cost of improvements to enhance the value of your home, such as a new roof, kitchen renovation, or landscaping, can be added to your home's purchase price to increase its cost basis. An increased basis reduces the capital gains taxes you may owe if you sell your home for profit.

It's also a good idea to keep canceled checks, receipts and photographs or a videotape of jewelry, furniture, collectibles or other major purchases. Should you have to file an insurance claim in the event of damage, loss or theft, you'll need these documents to substantiate their value.

Securities Records

Investors need to keep trade confirmation forms concerning all purchase and sales of securities and mutual funds. For tax purposes, you'll need to know what you paid for an investment; what you sold it for; what dividends you received; and which were reinvested; and any brokerage commission you paid. Trying to reconstruct this information years later can be time-consuming.

Tax Records

Generally, the IRS has three years from the due date of your return to challenge your tax return. If a return is filed after the original due date, the IRS has three years from the date it receives the return to question your return. However, if the IRS can show that you under-reported income on your tax return by more than 25 percent, it then has six years to audit your return. For these reasons, the MACPA recommends you retain your tax returns and supporting documents for six years. Be aware that if you fail to file a tax return, or if you file a false or fraudulent return with the intent to evade tax, the IRS can come after you at any time.

There are certain tax documents you should hold on to indefinitely. One is Form 8606, the form you are required to file when you make non-deductible contributions to your Individual Retirement Account (IRA). You should keep copies of Form 8606 until all your IRA funds are withdrawn in order to verify what part of your withdrawal was funded with after-tax money.

Credit Card Receipts,

Monthly Statements

Keep receipts of purchases until you've compared them to your monthly credit card statements. If any errors show up, you may want to keep the statements a few months longer. If your credit card company offers a buyer-protection or extended warranty plan on items purchased with the credit card, keep your receipts and statements until the period of coverage expires.

Cash Machine Receipts and Canceled Checks

Keep all cash machine receipts until the transactions have been properly credited to or debited from your account. For canceled checks and bank statements, you can generally follow the six-year tax return rule, except for documents that record purchases such as stock or real estate, which you may need in the future to support your cost basis in the event you sell these items.

Insurance Policies

Make sure you have copies of all current life, auto, health and homeowners' insurance policies. It's a good idea to keep old policies for several years after the expiration date in case a delayed claim is filed.

Where To Put It All

The MACPA recommends important documents that are valuable or difficult to replace, like birth certificates, securities, passports and deeds, be stored in a fireproof family safe or in a safe deposit box. Also, you should keep copies of these same documents in a more accessible place. It's generally not a good idea to store your insurance policies and will in a safe deposit box because some states will seal a box upon the death of its owner.

As far as other financial records are concerned, the key is to set up a record-keeping system that works for you and that you can regularly maintain.

Marion G. Given

Chelsea
Marion G. Given of Chelsea, formerly of Northfield, Mass., age 90, died Friday, Jan. 13, 1995 at Chelsea Community Hospital. She was born June 5, 1904 in Cambridge, Mass., the daughter of Otto F. and Frieda (Rath) Gans.

Mrs. Given moved from Northfield to reside with her daughter here in Chelsea for the past four years.

After their marriage, Sid and Marion moved to Northfield, Mass., where they were employed by the Northfield Seminary (now Northfield Mount Hermon Schools). Sid was manager of the laundry and Marion eventually was head librarian at Talcott Library. At the time of her retirement she and her husband had served the schools for a combined total of 70 years. She was a life member of O.E.S.

She married Sidney H. Given in Cambridge, Mass., on June 6, 1925 and he preceded her in death on Dec. 23, 1975.

Survivors include three daughters, Fran (Ronald) Zatorski of Chelsea, Barbara (Donald) Levasseur of Hinsdale, N. H., and Dorothy (Donald) Clough of Winter Haven, Fla.; one son, Frederick E. Given of Charlestown, N.H.; one daughter-in-law, Phyllis Given of Belfast, Me.; and two sisters, Dorothy Colby of Spring Hills, Fla. and Florence (Flossie) Provost of Waltham, Mass.; 20 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her eldest son, Sidney H. Given, Jr., in 1993, and her eldest grandson, Martin G. Given in the Vietnam War.

Her family received friends Monday 7 to 9 p.m. at the Cole Funeral Chapel, Chelsea. Burial will be at Barber District Cemetery in Northfield, Mass.

Arthur Prentice Bear

Pearland, Tex., and Ontonagon
Arthur Prentice Bear of Pearland, Tex., and Ontonagon, age 85, died Monday, Jan. 9, 1995 in Sweeny, Tex. He was born Nov. 26, 1909 in Wilkensburg, Pa., the son of Oliver and Jennie (Prentice) Bear.

He was educated at the University of Illinois, graduating in 1933 with a B.S. degree in engineering. He was employed at U.S. Steel in Chicago from 1933 until his retirement in 1970.

On March 2, 1935, he married Permilla (Gladys) Nehmer of Ontonagon, in Phelps, Wis., and she preceded him in death on Dec. 5, 1989.

Survivors include two sons and daughters-in-law, Thomas and Cynthia of Chelsea, and Theodore and Joyce of Pearland, Tex.; five grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; a nephew and a niece. A brother, Edward of Wilmette, Ill., preceded him in death in 1988.

Services will be held in Riverside Cemetery, Ontonagon, in the spring. Memorial contributions may be made to Siloa Lutheran Church, Ontonagon 49953.

Arrangements were by Cole Funeral Chapel.

Helen Vie Glenn

Chelsea
Helen Vie Glenn of Chelsea, age 90, died Friday, Jan. 13, 1995 at the Chelsea Retirement Community. She was born Oct. 18, 1904 in Wayne, the daughter of Homer and May (Simms) Hubbard.

Mrs. Glenn moved to Chelsea from Wayne. She was a member of the Congregational Church, the Eastern Star, and the Rebeccas in Wayne.

She married Hubbard Glenn in Wayne, on July 25, 1929, and he preceded her in death in 1956. She is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Graveside services were Monday, Jan. 16, 11 a.m. at Oak Lawn Cemetery, Stockbridge. Memorial contributions may be made to Chelsea Retirement Community. Arrangements were by Cole Funeral Chapel, Chelsea.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL STUDENTS enjoyed a presentation of antique clothing Friday as part of the Exploration Workshop program. Gloria Mitchell, who has been collecting antique clothing for 20-25 years, displayed bathing attire from the late 1800's to the present day. She is pictured here in a late 1800's bathing suit which was never intended for use in the water.

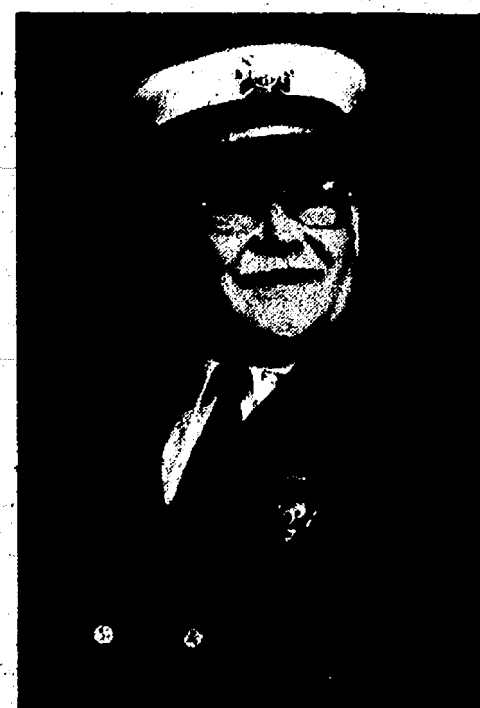

Fire Chief, Assistant Sworn In Last Week

Chelsea Village Council witnessed a change within the ranks of Chelsea Fire Department last Tuesday when assistant fire chief Dan Ellenwood was sworn in as chief and firefighter Bill Paul was sworn in as interim assistant chief.

Long-time fire chief Paul "Bud" Hankerd resigned from the top post Nov. 22, stepping down Dec. 31. Ellenwood was appointed by council to replace him for the remainder of Hankerd's three year term, ending February 1996.

Paul has stepped into Ellenwood's former position as assistant chief. He will fill in during the remainder of that appointment, which is set to expire in March 1996.

The appointment of both men was based on a recommendation by fire commissioners and councilmen Richard Rigg and Joe Merkel.

DNR Honors 21 Partners in Responsible Conservation

Twenty-one groups and individuals were honored in 1994 by the Natural Resources Commission (NRC) and the Department of Natural Resources for their exemplary service in working in partnership with the DNR on a variety of special programs.

The "Partners in Responsible Conservation" awards are given by the NRC and DNR each year to recognize the accomplishments and contributions of those who have worked with the DNR to promote the wise use and management of Michigan's valuable natural resources.

"Without the level of support exhibited by these groups and individuals, many projects and initiatives would not become a reality," Harnes said. "These awardees are truly partners with the DNR, and the resource is the benefactor."

Nominations for the awards are solicited from DNR employees and the general public. This year's recipients were awarded their certificates at special dinners held in conjunction with the meetings of the NRC.

Partners in Responsible Conservation award recipients included John and Mavis Kosielec, Ann Arbor, and Bill Baker, Pinckney; Great Sauk Trail Council; Boy Scouts of America. For contributions made in developing, improving and maintaining the Potawatomi Trail, a 17-mile circular trail in the Pinckney Recreation Area. The Boy Scouts of America have had a long-standing relationship with this recreation area, spanning over 30 years.

A SEWER MAIN PROJECT is requiring street excavating along West Middle St. The sewer line serving Washtenaw County Road Commission yard and four homes on Middle St. west from Wilkinson has had freezing problems with a shallow sewer pipe.

Department of Public Works crews are correcting the problem by replacing pipe and burying it about 12 feet. The work should be completed in another day or two.

Purple Rose Theatre Company To Present 'Only Me and You'

Purple Rose Theatre Company will produce Only Me and You by Kim Carney as the second production of the 1994-95 season. Previews of Only Me and You will be held Thursday, Jan. 19 through Thursday, Jan. 26, with the Official Opening Night on Friday, Jan. 27.

Performances for the remainder of the eight-week engagement will be Wednesdays through Saturdays at 8 p.m. with Sunday shows at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. through Sunday, March 12. All performances are at the Purple Rose Theatre Company's Garage Theatre, 137 Park St., Chelsea.

Written by Michigan playwright Kim Carney, Only Me and You focuses on the relationship between two women whose lives are ultimately changed after an informal meeting in the theatre. Taylor, a struggling actress, finally lands a leading role in a play which should boost her career. While researching the role, Taylor interviews Connie, a disturbed young woman suffering from the same illness that troubles the character which Taylor hopes to realistically portray. After their brief meeting, Connie becomes fascinated with the actress and weaves her way into Taylor's professional and personal life. Taylor's innocent search for character insight soon turns out to be more than she bargained for. This Purple Rose Theatre Company production of Only Me and You will feature Tamara Evans as Taylor and Suzi Regan as Connie.

Only Me and You is the second original script by Ms. Carney to be produced by the Purple Rose Theatre Company over the past two years. During the summer of 1993, her comedy Nooner had an extended run of 11 weeks at the PRTC's Garage Theatre. Ms. Carney is an active member of the PRTC Playwrights Unit, who collaborate on a regular basis with Artistic Director T. Newell Kring to develop their original works. Ms. Carney's earlier works have been produced at other Michigan theatres, including Photographic Memories at the Boarshead Theatre in 1987 and again recently at the Baldwin Theatre; Bombshells, produced at the Boarshead Theatre in 1988 and at the University of Detroit Theatre Company with her one-act, Influence, in October, 1992; and Life is a Beach, which was produced at the Millennium Theatre in 1993.

Only Me and You is being directed by Guy Sanville, an Associate Artist of the Purple Rose Theatre Company who appeared as Crash Baker in the recent Purple Rose production of Thy Kingdom's Coming.

Mr. Sanville has collaborated earlier with Ms. Carney and directed the PRTC production of Nooner. Set design is by Francesca Callow and lighting design is by Rob Murphy. Costume design is by Edith Leavis Bookstein and sound design is by Joe Jenkins. Anthony Caselli is the rehearsal stage manager and D.D. Segrest will be stage manager for the eight-week performance run.

Tickets for Only Me and You vary in price from $10 to $25. Preview prices range from $10 to $12.

Only Me and You will run for eight weeks from Jan. 19 through March 12. The remainder of the Purple Rose Theatre Company 1994-95 season includes: Hang the Moon, a new drama by Suzanne Burr (March 30 through May 21) and a Summer production to be announced at a later date (June 8 through July 30).

Reservations may be obtained by calling the Purple Rose Theatre Company Box Office at (313) 475-7902. Ticket reservations are recommended due to the limited capacity. The PRTC Box Office is open Monday through Friday from 12 noon to 6 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays of performances beginning one hour prior to curtain.

WEST MIDDLE ST. TRAFFIC may at times be somewhat delayed as a sewer main project requires some street excavating. The sewer line serving Washtenaw County Road Commission yard and four homes on Middle St. west from Wilkinson have had freezing problems with a shallow sewer pipe. To correct the long-standing problem village DPW crews are replacing the pipe and burying it about 12 feet. The work should be completed in another day or two and normal traffic flow may continue.

TAX SEASON 1995

Attention Retirees:

How Secure Is Your Social Security?

As part of the 1993 Tax Act, up to 85 percent of your Social Security may be subject to federal income tax as of January 1, 1994. If you're married and your provisional income (half of your Social Security benefits plus your tax-free income and adjusted gross income) exceeds $44,000, you may be subject to higher taxes than in past years. Individuals will be subject to higher taxes if their provisional income exceeds $34,000.

If you're concerned about how this new law will affect the taxation of your Social Security, your local Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative can give you a report that calculates what portion of your Social Security benefits will be taxed. The calculation can also show you whether shifting some of your assets to tax-free or tax-deferred investments could help reduce your tax burden in the future.

Call your Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative to schedule an appointment for this free Social Security tax calculation. He or she can work with you and your tax professional to develop an investment strategy that fits your needs.

Muni Bonds — Interest Rates Are Up, But Supply Is Down

The good news for investors looking for tax-free income is that today's yields on tax-free municipal bonds (muni bonds) are more attractive than they have been in the past three years, thanks to rising interest rates.

The bad news is that investors may have a hard time finding tax-free bonds of the maturities, issuers and quality they want. That's because the supply of tax-free bonds has declined more than 40 percent since 1993 and is likely to continue to fall. In the first ten months of 1993, $247 billion worth of muni bonds were issued, while only $138 billion were issued in the first ten months of 1994.

If you're in need of tax-free income and a high-quality bond is available in your area, now is the time to act. Contact your investment representative for information on bonds currently available.

Can I Afford Retirement?

The answer to this question is a primary concern for individuals of all ages, from those just starting to think about a savings plan to those within a few years of retirement. Because Social Security and employer pensions are funding a smaller part of retirement income, greater emphasis must be placed on personal savings. In fact, a company plan and your Social Security benefits combined will only provide about 54 percent of the income you will need for retirement*. The remaining 46 percent must come from personal savings and investments.

Because IRAs provide the benefit of tax-deferred growth, they are among the best tools available for building retirement savings. If you're already contributing to an IRA, you're already enjoying the benefits of tax-deferred growth. But, is your IRA working hard enough? Even a small change in the rate of return you're earning could have a significant impact on those dollars. The chart below illustrates the value of a $25,000 IRA after 10 years invested at seven percent, nine percent and 11 percent.

If your IRA isn't working as hard as it could, it may be time to consider some new alternatives. Edward D. Jones & Co. can offer you a variety of IRA investments that meet your retirement needs, and may earn a higher rate of return than your current IRA. Transferring your IRA is easy.

Step 1: Bring in your present IRA for a free, no-obligation analysis. Step 2: If you decide a change is in order, your investment representative will provide the paperwork. Step 3: Your investment representative will help you select an investment strategy to meet your retirement goals. Sound like a good idea? Your local Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative can prepare a free computerized IRA analysis that will show you what your IRA could be worth when you retire, based on the value and rate of return of your current IRA. It can even show how that amount will change if you increase the rate of return you're earning by even a small amount.

You've worked hard to prepare for retirement, so it's important to make sure your money keeps working just as hard.

If you feel your current IRA isn't meeting your retirement objectives, call your local Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative to schedule an appointment. Together, you can develop an investment strategy that fits your criteria for safety and growth.

Attention CD Owners

Attention Small Business Owners:

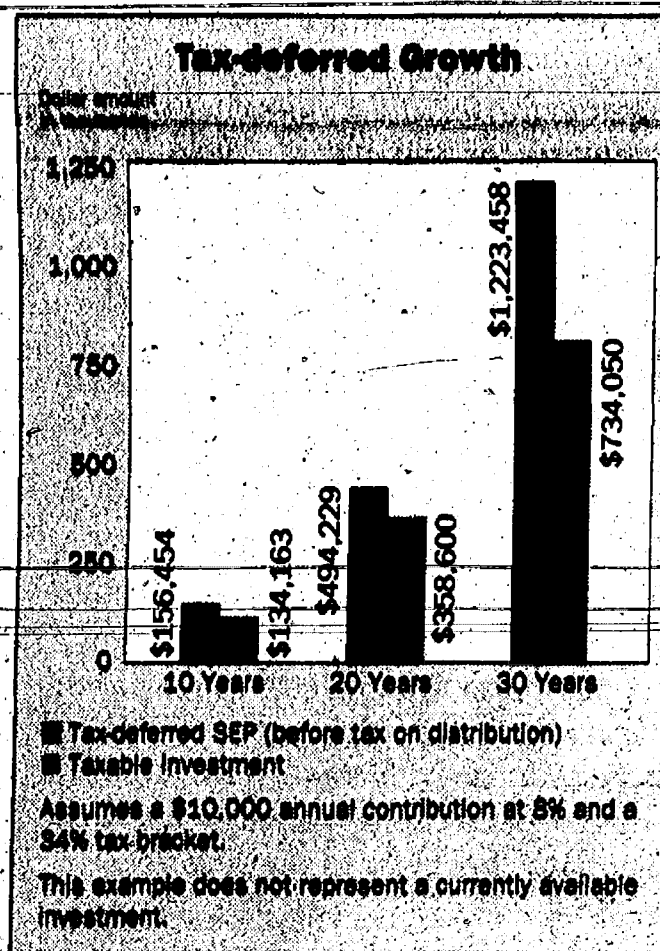

Did you miss the December 31st deadline for establishing a business retirement plan? Don't worry. You still have time to establish a retirement plan for a 1994 contribution. How? Through a Simplified Employee Pension (SEP) plan.

A SEP is the only plan that can be established and funded through your business' tax filing deadline, including extensions (the deadline for calendar year corporations is March 15; for sole proprietors and calendar year partnerships, it is April 15*). In addition, SEP contributions are a deductible business expense — which means greater tax savings for you!

Most importantly, you benefit from the advantages of tax-deferred growth! Since you pay no taxes on your earnings until you begin withdrawals, every dollar contributed works to earn interest for you. Over time, those dollars really add up. The following chart illustrates the benefits of making contributions to a tax-deferred account versus a taxable account.

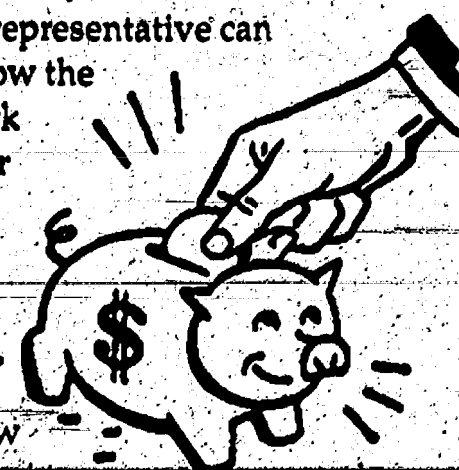

In addition, contributions to a SEP are flexible: Contribution percentages can vary from year to year, and annual contributions are not required. Plus, no additional Internal Revenue Service (IRS) filings are required.

If you are interested in establishing a SEP, all you have to do is call. Your Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative can show you how the SEP can work for you, your employees and your business.

At Edward D. Jones & Co., we know how hard you've worked for your money, so we'll do everything we can to help you develop an investment strategy that fits your criteria for safety and growth.

*April 15, 1995, is a Saturday. As a result, the set-up and funding deadline is Monday, April 17 for self-employed businesses.

If you're looking for tax relief, don't overlook the benefits of tax-free investments. investment in order to receive the same amount of after-tax income that a tax-free investment pays.

For example, if you're in the 28 percent tax bracket, you would need to earn 7.64 percent on a taxable investment to get the same amount of after-tax income you would get from a tax-free bond paying 5.5 percent.

Because you don't pay federal income taxes on the interest you earn from tax-free investments, they can actually give you more after-tax income than taxable investments with higher yields. ■

Growth Stocks Get Boost from Tax Act of 1993

Many high-income earners felt the effects of higher tax bills last year due to the Tax Act of 1993. That's because the Act increased the maximum tax rate on ordinary income (like dividend income) from 31 percent to 39.6 percent.

Taxpayers in high-income tax brackets can find some relief, however, through long-term investments in the stocks of growth companies. Rather than paying high dividends, growth companies put more of their earnings back into the business to increase their capital gains potential.

Capital gains are attractive from a tax perspective because they are taxed at a maximum rate of 28 percent as long as the investor holds the stock for more than 12 months. Dividend income, interest income and short-term capital gains, on the other hand, are taxed at up to the 39.6 percent maximum rate.

That means that an investor in the 39.6 percent tax bracket with $1,000 in interest income would pay $396 in taxes, while the same investor would pay only $280 in taxes on $1,000 of long-term capital gains. That's a savings of 29 percent, $116.

Although all growth stock investors can benefit from increased capital gains potential and the favorable capital gains tax rate, investors who buy and hold their quality growth stocks have an added benefit — tax deferral. That's because taxes on capital gains are deferred until the year the investor sells the stock.

Over time, these advantages can make a big difference, because more of your money stays invested and compounds tax-deferred. In general, the longer your money stays invested, the better.

For example, consider the case of two individuals who both start with $10,000 and buy growth stocks that appreciate 12 percent in value each year and pay no dividend. One individual, the buy-and-sell investor or trader, buys and sells a different growth stock each year, while the other individual, the buy-and-hold investor, buys only one growth stock and holds it over the investment period. The following graph shows the after-tax accumulated wealth each investor achieves over 10-, 20- and 30-year time periods.

As you can see, a buy-and-hold strategy is better for the investor. And, the longer the investment period, the greater the advantages. Over a 30-year period, a buy-and-hold investor who buys a growth stock with an annual return of nine percent will even out-perform a high-turnover investor who buys and sells growth stocks with an annual return of 12 percent.

Although tax consequences should always be considered in an investment decision, they should never override fundamental considerations of quality and suitability to the needs of the individual investor. Also, because of the complexity of tax laws and regulations, it's a good idea to consult your investment representative and your tax professional before making a tax-related investment decision.

If you would like more information on growth stocks, your local Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative can show you a number of high-quality household-name companies that fit your investment needs. ■

Investment Ideas to Make 1995 Less Taxing

Many taxpayers were shocked when they filled out their 1993 tax returns as the tax increases legislated by the Tax Act of 1993 became a reality. If you haven't already taken steps to reduce your tax bill, the sooner you act, the better.

Tax-free investments like municipal bonds, tax-free unit trusts and tax-free mutual funds can help protect your hard-earned income. Each of these investments has unique characteristics and benefits, so it's important that you choose the one(s) best suited for your individual needs. A well-rounded portfolio should probably contain a mix of the three to achieve an over-all balance of investment objectives.

The chart to the right lists the major characteristics of the three types of tax-free investments: 1) tax-free municipal bonds, 2) tax-free unit investment trusts and 3) tax-free mutual funds.

Tax-Free Municipal Bonds

Municipal bonds are issued by a state or a political subdivision (such as a county, city, town or village) to fund important public projects and services, like highways, hospitals, housing and public education.

Municipal bondholders receive fixed-interest payments every six months over the life of the bond and receive their original investment (their principal) when the bond matures. Maturities can be short-term, or as long as 30 years. The interest earned from municipal bonds is free from federal income tax and, in some cases, state and local tax. In addition, some municipal bonds carry insurance as to the timely payment of principal and interest.

Investors can own individual municipal bonds, or they can own municipal bonds through other investments, like unit investment trusts and tax-free mutual funds.

Tax-Free Unit Trusts

A municipal bond unit trust is an investment in a fixed, diversified group of municipal bonds. The bonds are selected by investment professionals and monitored for quality.

Like individual municipal bonds, unit trusts offer tax-free interest and a fixed rate of return. Some trusts are also insured as to the timely payment of principal and interest. Investors can choose to receive

Investing in 1995: The View from Capitol Hill

The November 1994 elections resulted in a major swing in political power from the Democrats to the Republicans. This is the largest gain by Republicans in nearly 50 years. Republicans have indicated that their top priorities include reductions in government control, lower taxes and a balanced federal budget. There has also been discussion about a reduction in the capital gains tax rate as well as a tax-rate cut for middle-class Americans in 1995. Such tax cuts would make investing more attractive and accessible for many Americans.

It is important to remember, however, that the success of any legislative agenda is not guaranteed. It is even more important to remember that the political climate does not dictate the long-term performance of the stock market. The U.S. economic system is much more powerful than the political system, and many well-known, well-established companies and the stocks they issue have survived decades of political change.

For example, health care stocks suffered a dramatic decline in value when major health care reform was under consideration two years ago. Since then, health care stocks have recouped their losses, and many have reached new highs.

The bottom line, as always, is that investment decisions should not be based on election results or short-term movements of the market. Regardless of the political climate, the basic rules of successful investing will serve you well: Stick to quality — The soundness of your overall investment strategy is only as good as the quality of the individual investments you own. Investors should look for well-managed companies with long track records of growth and performance.

Diversify — No single investment performs well under all market conditions. Diversification spreads your assets among a variety of high-quality securities, so your success is not tied to one company or one type of investment. Invest for the long term — Most successful investors make their money over time, not overnight. The most consistently successful strategy for building long-term financial security is to buy and hold high-quality common stocks.

These are just a few general guidelines investors can follow to reach their financial goals, regardless of who holds political power. For help planning an investment strategy that fits your agenda, not the government's, contact your local Edward D. Jones & Co. representative. ■

An Important Message for Every Investor

Three-Day Settlement (T+3)

Beginning June 1, 1995, the Securities and Exchange Commission will adopt a new rule that will affect the way investors buy and sell securities. Under the new rule, called T+3, investors will have three business days instead of the current five to pay for securities they purchase or to deliver certificates they sell.

The new rule should help curb risk in the marketplace, especially in times of market turbulence, like a downturn or a steep sell-off. The new ruling also means that investors will receive the proceeds from any sale sooner and will see their reinvestment dollars start working for them two days earlier.

T+3 will mean adjustments in the way many investors conduct their securities transactions. In most cases, using the postal service to remit payment or send in certificates for a trade will not be fast enough. In short, funds for securities purchased may need to be on deposit in an account at the time a transaction is executed.

Investors can prepare for three-day settlement by holding their securities in firm name. Holding securities in firm name simply means that investors turn their stock and bond certificates over to their investment firm to be placed in safekeeping on their behalf. When securities are held in firm name, investors don't have to worry about delivering funds or certificates when they buy or sell securities. Transactions can be handled immediately because their investment representative will have their securities on hand. That means their money keeps working for them at all times.

Plus, by holding investments in firm name, investors avoid the risk of having their certificates lost or stolen if they're kept at home. Holding investments in firm name also eliminates the need for and cost monthly, quarterly or semiannual payments. They can also choose to reinvest their interest payments to purchase more units of the trust so that returns compound over time.

Tax-Free Mutual Funds

A tax-free mutual fund is a professionally managed pool of 30 to 100 bonds that are exempt from federal taxes, and in some cases, state taxes.

Mutual funds have no set maturity date, so investors can sell their shares on any business day. However, the selling price can be higher or lower than the purchase price depending on current interest rates. Because share prices fluctuate, monthly payments will vary. Like unit trusts, mutual funds offer the option to reinvest income for compounding return.

Tax Swapping: Turn Your Investment Loss Into a Win

Believe it or not, you can turn an investment loss to your advantage. It's a strategy called tax swapping, which simply means that you sell an investment at a loss to offset a capital gain and replace it with a similar investment. Although tax swaps are typically employed at year end, you can take advantage of swaps year-round.

Tax swapping is particularly appropriate now that the increase in interest rates over the past year has caused a drop in bond prices. If you plan to hold your bonds to maturity, then price declines aren't as important, because you will always receive your initial investment at maturity. If, however, you sell a bond that has experienced a price decline and buy a similar bond at approximately the same price, you convert a "paper" loss to a real loss. You can then use this loss to offset any amount of capital gains and up to $3,000 of ordinary income when you pay your 1994 tax bill.

Here's an example of how a bond tax swap might work.

THE LIFE OF A BOND TAX SWAP

1. You buy 50 corporate bonds issued by ABC Co. with a face value of $50,000. The bonds pay 6.35 percent and are due Dec. 15, 2005.
2. Interest rates rise, and the value of your bonds drop from $1,000 each to $800 each.
3. You sell your ABC bonds and declare a $10,000 loss. (The original value of the bonds ($50,000) minus the current value of the bonds ($40,000) equals a loss of $10,000.)
4. To replace the bonds you sold, you purchase 50 corporate bonds issued by XYZ Corporation with a face value of $50,000. The bonds pay 6.35 percent and are due June 1, 2023.

5. The $10,000 loss you declared can now be used to offset up to $10,000 in capital gains. Say, for instance, you sold 100 shares of your favorite stock for a profit of $7,000 earlier this year. You can use $7,000 of the loss to offset that gain. This would translate into a tax savings of $1,960 assuming the proceeds of the stock sale are taxed at 28 percent ($$7,000 \times 0.28 = $1,960$). The remaining $3,000 could then be used to offset ordinary income for an additional tax savings of $840, again assuming a tax rate of 28 percent ($$3,000 \times 0.28 = \840). This does not include the cost of swapping your bonds, which must also be taken into consideration.

Was your capital loss more than your capital gain? That's okay. Any excess capital loss can be carried over to future years indefinitely to offset future gains or ordinary income.

Of course, there are some restrictions. The Internal Revenue Service won't recognize a tax loss if you purchase the same bond or a "substantially identical" bond within 30 days before or after the date of sale. Securities are considered substantially identical if they come from the same issuer and have a similar interest rate or maturity.

Reducing your tax burden isn't the only advantage of swapping investments. Swaps can help you achieve several investment objectives, such as:

- increasing current income
- diversifying your portfolio
- improving the quality of your portfolio
- extending or shortening maturities
- increasing total yield to maturity

To learn more about how you can turn a loss into a win, contact your local Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative. ■

Annuities: Sometimes It Pays to Wait

Annuities are emerging as a popular retirement planning vehicle for individuals. In fact, experts estimate that in 1994, more than $50 billion of annuities were purchased.

Why the interest?

Annuities are attractive because they provide tax-deferred growth. Since you don't pay taxes on earnings until you withdraw money from your annuity (typically at retirement), the dollars that would have gone to the government stay invested and compound over time. The example below illustrates the benefit of tax-deferred growth for a $10,000 one-time investment, assuming eight percent interest compounded annually and a 28 percent tax bracket.

There are two basic types of tax-deferred annuities for you to choose from: fixed and variable. Fixed annuities allow you to invest your money at a guaranteed rate, for a guaranteed period of time. You can select among a variety of maturities. Most fixed annuities offer you the opportunity to access your money while it is accumulating. Generally, you can select an annual withdrawal, or you may choose to guarantee a fixed income stream for the rest of your life. These withdrawals would be subject to any contractual limitations, as well as applicable IRS regulations.

Variable annuities offer you the potential growth opportunities associated with the stock and bond markets while providing the benefits of tax deferral. The investment sub-accounts inside a variable annuity are managed by professional money managers. In addition, variable annuities offer a unique death benefit: upon your death, your heirs will receive no less than your initial investment, less any withdrawals taken, regardless of the market value of your annuity at that time.

If you're concerned about your financial security during retirement, your local Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative can help you determine whether an annuity is appropriate for you. ■

The Value of Tax-Deferred Growth

	Value after 10 years	Value after 20 years	Value after 30 years
Taxable investment	$17,507	$30,650	$53,659
Tax-deferred investment*	$21,589	$46,610	$100,627
Percent you're ahead with tax deferral	23.3%	52.1%	87.5%
Dollars you're ahead with tax deferral	$4,082	$15,960	$46,968

*Tax-deferred amounts have not been adjusted for taxes due upon withdrawal. This example assumes an 8% rate of return and does not represent currently available rates.
