ONE HUNDRED TWENTY-THIRD YEAR—No. 42

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1995

22 Pages This Week! 2 Supplements

Marge Plumb observe. The $525 was the result of the fourth annual Scotch Doubles Charity Bowl-a-Thon, held recently at Chelsea Lanes. About 45 couples participated in the tournament.

Council Candidates See Growth as Major Issue

Chelsea's future growth is the major issue on at least five people's minds these days, as they are seeking election as a Village Council trustee March 13.

The three trustee positions open are for two-year terms. Five candidates seek these posts.

Incumbents Brian Cashman and Steve Daut, along with candidates Robert Clark, Jim Machnik and Harry Thurkow, vie for three seats on the council. Suzanne Morrison seeks re-election to the uncontested clerk post and Bill Personke seeks re-election to a three-year library board seat.

Chelsea's small town charm and the niche it has formed beside Ann Arbor has drawn families into it and the town raises them under the guise of closeness: a quality not to be lost in the town's development.

The capabilities of the village to serve its current residents, candidates say, is an additional threat posed by annexation and development.

Cashman, a board member since 1992, said he is a "cautious progressive" who would like to preserve the community.

"Clearly the growth is going to happen," said Cashman. However, development can occur while maintaining character, he added.

"It's important for a community not to stagnate," said the five-year village resident.

Cashman, 44, said in conjunction with the other members of the seven-member village board, "We've made progress."

"In a sense, it's a team," he said. As part of the team, he is working on a set of problems and his search for solutions is a way of giving something back to the community.

Incumbent Daut, an environmental consultant, said, "The greatest challenges are trying to balance the needs of everybody."

Council members face residents with the question, "How do you keep it (Chelsea) wonderful as it grows?" said Daut.

Trustees are up against development pressure, said Daut, such as six to eight annexation requests in the last six months. Additionally, these requests must be weighed against aging roads, water delivery system and general village services.

Adding acreage must be handled very carefully, said Daut.

"Because of our aging infrastructure, we are going to have problems serving current residents," said Daut.

"But at the same time, you want to be fair," he said, of those seeking annexation.

Lifelong resident Robert Clark, 29, said he believes in controlled growth for Chelsea.

"Chelsea should step up and establish its own identity," said Clark. "I don't want it to be a little Ann Arbor," added the Chelsea Lumber yard supervisor.

Self-employed landscape construction worker Jim Machnik isn't a newcomer to village elections. He ran for village president last year.

Machnik, 39, said he isn't against development, but is concerned about proposed trailer parks.

"The scope of the project is too big for the size of the community," Machnik said.

Harry Thurkow, the 50-year-old owner of the Chelsea Hearing Aid

Village Election Slated Monday

Who: Incumbents Brian Cashman and Steve Daut and candidates Robert Clark, Jim Machnik and Harry Thurkow vie for three seats on the council. Suzanne Morrison seeks re-election to the uncontested clerk post and Bill Personke seeks re-election to a three-year library board seat.

Where: Voters may cast their ballots for village council at Sylvan Township Hall, 112 W. Middle St.

When: The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Centre said he is in favor of change that is good for the community.

Thurkow said he is cautious of accelerating or of impeding the village's growth. He said the question to consider concerning growth is, "at whose expense and at what speed?"

Candidates also offer more than just their views on Chelsea's growth.

For instance, Cashman, a U-M Information Technology Division manager, said installing a fiberoptic network for Chelsea residents is an idea he is toying with.

A fiberoptic network uses fiber to transmit information whether it be televised, computerized or whatever. The benefit to fiberoptics is that it has a much higher data rate than the wiring used to transmit electricity.

Cashman explained that since the Village owns its poles and wires used to conduct electricity and pays a crew to maintain them that the fundamental resources for housing a fiberoptic network are available, at least to think about.

"We would be an information service provider," said Cashman.

Along with Cashman, incumbent Daut said his career has been able to add to his ability to provide for the needs of the Council.

For instance, Daut said, he was able to act as "village advocate" in dealings with the leakage of underground storage tanks.

"I've been able to lend my technical expertise," he said.

Candidate Clark is attempting to "get involved" in community politics. Running for the Village Council is a start.

Clark said he didn't have a specific agenda but feels everyone should be involved in village government, so he is taking action.

Clark also said the Council should be thinking about the future in its decision making.

"Everything they've always done before is wait until tomorrow and see where we are then," said Clark.

Machnik said, if elected, he would like to have Village Council and Planning Commission meetings televised on Chelsea's own cable access TV channel.

"There's great truth in that TV camera," he said.

Township annexation concerns Machnik as well.

"People aren't going to want to annex if they can get sewer and water," he said. "The township doesn't want to give the land up."

Challenger Thurkow said he'd like to take a turn on the Council to weigh the problems and choices that come up against its members. Thurkow said he would like to take on the village's concerns and consider what takes precedence in each specific issue.

Also on the ballot are a clerk position, two library board trustees positions and an assessor.

Suzanne Morrison is running unopposed for clerk. Bill Personke is seeking re-election for a three-year term as library board trustee, while another seat remains open.

No one is running for the assessor position. However, voters can write-in candidates for library board trustee and assessor if they desire.

If no one is elected to these positions, Village President Richard Steele will appoint people to fill them.

Koenn Reappointed to Road Commission Board

The Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners recently appointed Herman Koenn, a Sylvan township resident, to a third six-year term on the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

Koenn was first appointed in 1983. He rejoins Fred Veigel and Norman Kennedy on the three-member board.

Choral Concert Slated Tuesday At High School

Tuesday, March 14 is the date set for a gathering of choirs, including the 46-member Middle School Choir and the 62-member High School Concert Choir.

Under the direction of Steven P. Hinz, the evening will begin with selections performed by the 7th and 8th graders including "Amazing Grace" and "Any Dream Will Do." Hinz reports, "The Middle School Choir is doing some great musical interpretations as they mold and perfect their three-part singing."

Once again, proud to be donning new concert wear, the Chelsea High School Concert Choir will perform pieces by American and Italian composers and African-American Spirituals. "This choir is challenging themselves with a set of difficult numbers by Samuel Barber. The complex harmonies and melodic leaps provide an interesting setting of beautiful poetry by James Stephens," says director Hinz.

Also performing will be featured soloists representing each grade level.

This evening of enjoyment will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the George Prinzing Auditorium at Chelsea High school. The public is invited and admission is complimentary. Bring the whole family to enjoy the talents of these youth.

Surovell, Spear Join Real Estate Firms

Edward Surovell Co./Realtors has announced its acquisition of the Ann Arbor-based realty firm of Spear & Associates. This move, bringing together the resources of two of Washtenaw county's leading real estate firms, promises to have a major impact on the burgeoning and highly competitive Ann Arbor area market.

Spear & Associates has been a dominant figure in the Washtenaw county real estate scene since its founding in 1971. Currently, the firm operates offices in Ann Arbor, Saline, Chelsea, and Dexter, reflecting its strong presence in suburban Washtenaw county. The firm has been the No. 2-ranked company in home sales for all but 4 of its 24 years in business. In 1994 alone, Spear claimed 8.9% of total units closed for the Ann Arbor Area Board of Realtors' MLS and 8.4% of total sales volume in Washtenaw county.

In 1994, the Edward Surovell Company claimed 14.4% of total units sold, making it the uncontested leader in Washtenaw county home sales. With these combined resources, the Surovell Company will become far and away the dominant firm in Washtenaw county, ahead of every other real estate enterprise in number of associates, number of homes sold, and dollars closed.

According to Edward Surovell, president and founder of the company that bears his name, the companies will do business under the name Edward Surovell Co./Realtors. The only exception will be Spear's property management operations, which will continue to use its current name.

Village Budget Undergoes $200,000 Increase; Various Projects Under Construction

The unanimously approved 1995-96 general operating budget for the village of Chelsea was incorrectly reported in last week's edition. The correct '95-96 budget is $2.1 million, while last year's budget was $1.9 million, according to Chelsea village manager Jack Myers. The figures incorrectly indicated the '95-96 budget was $1.9 million and the '94-95 budget was $2.1 million.

The approximately $200,000 increase was determined by a 2.6 percent cost-of-living increase as indicated by the U.S. Consumer Price Index, which measures changes in prices, while keeping the number of items constant over time. The CPI does not include taxes into account when it publishes its figures.

Myers said the state's sales tax increase, from four percent to the current six percent, contributed to the increased budget, along with incoming taxes from construction sites and the state's revenue sharing. The budget went into effect at the start of the fiscal year March 1.

In other village projects, the sewer still is under construction at this point. The 30-foot deep sewer begins along Freer Rd. and Washington St. and is to exit at the Chelsea High school parking lot. "In a week or so, they should be opening Freer Rd. back up, if everything goes well," Myers said.

Bids for a 400,000 gallon elevated water storage tank have gone out, Myers said. He said he won't sign the bids until a bond has been issued. Once a bond has been issued, Myers said construction is to begin, which should last roughly nine months.

A water distribution line is also part of this project. The line will begin east of M-52 from the north side of the McDonald's restaurant and end at the Polly Shopping Center area.

The line is targeted to undergo construction at the end of March, providing the bond sells, Myers said. The water storage tank project is estimated at $700,000, of which $150,000 will be funded via the Water Department, Myers said.

An electric substation joins the construction ranks in the Industrial Park. The station will increase the current 4,160 kilo-volt amps (KVA) to 13,200 KVA only in certain parts of the park and northern boundaries of the village. The station is expected to be up and running by April 1, Myers said. The village will operate dual voltage for some time, Myers said; however, consumers' electric bills will not be affected. The station will ensure that demand for electricity won't be overloading circuits, just in time for the summer months when air conditioners take up much of the available power. Myers said the station will take some of the load off of the southern circuits as well. "It will be a better system for industrial use," he said.

The final project underway is a solid waste transfer station, located next to the Chelsea landfill off of Werkner Rd. The $510,000 bonded station has been authorized by the village, Myers said. The steel frame is taking shape, while the concrete should be almost completed, he said. Trash that is to be taken to the station is to be compacted. From there it will be transferred to the landfill, instead of being contracted out of the village.

"It is more economical to pick it (trash) up, than to contract it out," Myers said. He said approximately $60,000 has been saved since the village has incorporated trash collection.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

★ How the FDA Can Cost Lives

Will the new, Republican-led Congress take action at last to lift the crushing burdens of government overregulation? At one federal agency, it could literally be a matter of life and death.

By Phillip C. Clarke

When it comes to most government regulations, the critics' chief complaint is that they cost too much. And there is certainly some justification for the charge. One economist, for example, has estimated that federal regulations alone cost the economy some $500 billion a year. But in some cases, the costs go beyond taxpayers' money; they involve human lives.

The Washington Legal Foundation, a public interest group that promotes limited government and private enterprise, has mounted an information campaign against one such regulatory body which, it says, lets people die unnecessarily. The name of this government agency may come as a surprise. According to the Legal Foundation, it's the Food and Drug Administration, or FDA. But, you might say, the FDA is designed to protect consumers from unsafe food and drugs. How can its regulations be harmful? As the Washington Legal Foundation contends, it's not so much what the FDA does that's harmful—it's what they don't do that creates the problems.

The FDA, as it is commonly known, is charged with ensuring that all drugs are safe and effective. To carry out this mission, the agency has set up a review process which all new drugs must go through. In the early 1960s, this process took an average of about two-and-a-half years and cost, in inflation-adjusted terms, between $16 million and $20 million for each new drug. Today, from the laboratory to the pharmacy, a new drug takes about 12 years and costs upwards of $250 million dollars!

This costly, time-consuming process has all sorts of fall-outs. According to critics, many drugs are much more expensive than they need to be. Under U.S. patent law, drugs, as for other "inventions," have a patent life of 17 years. For most inventions, this means that the company or inventor has 17 years to recoup any investment. But for most drug companies, the time to recoup is drastically shortened to about five years. Naturally, this encourages pharmaceutical companies to increase prices on their new drugs.

Ironically, the higher drug prices have prompted many policymakers to call for the government to start covering the cost of developing prescription drugs. But wouldn't it be simpler just to reduce all the red tape that drugs have to go through? Simpler and more humane, because the cost of lengthy drug approval times can be measured in human lives, as well.

Here are some of the human costs that were uncovered:

• After preliminary testing, the FDA took 3½ years to approve Interleukin 2, a revolutionary kidney medication. In that time span, 3,500 kidney patients died. Ironically, 9 European countries already had approved the drug.

• The American Heart Association, reports the Legal Foundation, "estimates that at least 1,000 lives were lost during the time an approved (Continued on page five)

Surovell, Spear Join Real Estate Firms

Spear's sales office in Ann Arbor will be merged with the Surovell operations. The suburban locations will remain in their present facilities for the immediate future.

As Surovell notes, "This acquisition represents a true joining of strengths. Spear's strong out-county presence will blend very well with our more recently opened offices in Saline and Chelsea and will give us greater than ever capacity to provide outstanding service to all of Washtenaw county. We're especially pleased that this acquisition will now enable us to offer commercial brokerage and leasing services. We've been looking for an appropriate opportunity for years to enter that field."

Surovell goes on to point out that the acquisition brings together two firms that have shared a long relationship built on professionalism and mutual respect. "Phil Spear has been one of the major forces shaping Washtenaw county real estate in modern times," Surovell says. "The rapid growth of his firm during the early 1970s represented a significant departure from earlier patterns of small-office real estate. Phil deserves respect for introducing many significant innovations, including a highly creative book on Ann Arbor which for many years set the standard for relocation information. Spear was also the first to produce a map of the area using the services of a local cartographer to incorporate unique aspects of Washtenaw county." Surovell adds that many of Ann Arbor's most creative, respected, and successful real estate professionals got their start with Spear & Associates.

For his part, Phil Spear is equally positive about the move. "Spear & Associates has been in business for nearly a quarter of a century," he says. "At the age of 70, I feel ready to back off from management responsibilities somewhat. Having seen the Edward Surovell Company grow through the years into a leadership position in Washtenaw county, it was obvious to me that this was the best choice, one that would work to everyone's advantage."

The Edward Surovell Company was founded in 1982 and experienced rapid growth from the start. Today, the Surovell Company operates two offices in Ann Arbor as well as locations in Chelsea, Saline, and Jackson. The firm is especially strong in relocation services thanks to its affiliation with PHH, and is widely known for its extensive and very visible participation in community activities.

With the acquisition in place, the new business entity will have over 100 agents and represent a combined 1994 sales volume of $270 million, making it a formidable presence in the southeastern Michigan real estate market.

School Board OKs Plan for Bond Issue

The Chelsea School Board approved the general plan of the proposed $45 million bond issue Tuesday evening.

Superintendent of Schools Edward Richardson stressed that the board has only approved, not voted on, the general plan for the bond issue.

He said the board also approved to apply to the state's Department of the Treasury for their approval on the general plan.

In conjunction, the board approved the idea to ask the school's attorneys to create the resolution if the bond issue goes to a vote.

The general plan would include a new high school, a third elementary school, renovation of all existing schools — of which some of the old high school would be used for community education classes and include updating various technologies within the schools.

The schools are 35-45 years old and are quickly filling up the allotted space for students.

Projections are that by the year 2005, approximately 1,466 students will be enrolled in grades K-5 and approximately 962 students will be enrolled in the high school.

Currently, both elementary schools house 500 students each (1,000 total) and the high school houses 800 students.

Richardson added that the Treasury has to give its approval before anything else can happen at this point, but said attorneys are preparing resolutions in the event that the Treasury does approve the general plan.

The school board hasn't set a date to vote on the general plan for the bond issue, Richardson said.

Wednesday, March 6, 1991—

Village of Chelsea voters will go to the polls next Monday, March 11, to elect three village trustees, a clerk, two McKune Memorial Library board members, and decide a library millage proposition. Candidates for trustee include incumbents Stephanie Kanten and Tom Dorer, and newcomer Allen Anderson, who is finishing his second term as village clerk. Dennis Hall decided not to seek a third council term.

After several years of false starts, Village of Chelsea has apparently decided to overhaul its General Development Plan and Zoning Ordinance. The planning commission talked several years ago about working on the plan but an onslaught of local development projects put the revisions on the back burner. The commission voted last week to work on the plan in conjunction with long-time village planning consultant Carl Schmitt, who will direct the project.

Chelsea Village Council has begun screening applications for the vacant village manager's position. The village received 55 applications and village president Richard Steele said he was pleased by the overall quality of the applicants. Once council narrows the number down to about a dozen, Steele said, the personnel committee will whittle that number to about six candidates who will be interviewed.

Chelsea School District plans to hire a new South Elementary school principal by mid-April. Current principal Bob Benedict announced earlier this year that he plans to retire at the end of the school year in June after spending 28 years in the district. Monday was the deadline for applications and 39 were received, according to assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

Under the supervision of the Washtenaw County Emergency Medical Services Commission and the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners, implementation of a program to enhance medical response primarily in the western portion of the county was begun. The program was initiated in order to enhance medical responses in the township where it had been difficult to respond to emergencies in a timely manner because of distance involved and the distribution of incident priorities. The sheriff's department had upgraded training and equipment to provide better service.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Life is full of ups and downs. Zeke Grubb allowed at the country store Saturday night, but you wouldn't know it from reading the papers. When, he ask the fellows, did you read about a real big up. Say what you will about President Clinton, Zeke said, but say that the biggest down he's had to deal with is how to get his ups out where folks can learn about them.

Zeke said he has studied the situation up one side and down the other, and he is full convinced that folks who report the news think good news is no news. For instant, you have to look hard to find an up about travel in this country, and that's because safe is up and death is down. He said he found two ups in a magazine in his doctor's office last week. One was about the drop in highway deaths, and the other was that the magazine was only two months old.

The piece reminded that 54,589 Americans were killed on the roads in 1973. By 1993, the number of deaths had dropped to 40,115, even though 60 million more drivers drove a trillion more miles. This works out, the magazine figured, to a drop from 5.5 to 1.7 deaths per 100 million miles drove. Everybody who has read that up in the paper or heard it on the evening news raise your hand, was Zeke's words.

And there's more ups on the roads, Zeke went on. The same magazine said 10 years ago half of highway deaths involved drunk drivers, now it's only 44 per cent and falling. Safer cars is the big reason for safer roads, Zeke reported, and it's got to help that use of seat belts is up from 18 percent in 1984 to 66 percent now.

General, Zeke said, the magazine even found an up in a down. It said traffic jams improve traffic safety by reducing speed. It noted California has the highest car use rate and the biggest traffic jams in the country, and it has the lowest fatality rate at 147 per 100 million miles.

You got to wonder, Zeke said, why good news ain't news. He said his preacher allows we just want ups in our lives, but we got to have the downs to appreciate the ups. But who decided we only want to learn about the downs in other lives, he wanted to know. When an airliner crashes, Zeke said, the always papers slip in that silly static about how much safer planes are than cars, and he always has trouble with this. Do the news people think that calms the few that fly, scares all that drive, or what. For sure, it's not took to be good news, because that's still not news in their eyes.

The fellows general agreed. Bug Hookum said to his mind the news people get by on self fulfilling prophesy. They say readers just want to read the terrible things, so they put out nothing but terrible things, and when folks buy the papers that proves they're right. This is the same frame of mind that makes a woman buy shoes two sizes too small so she can look forward to the pleasure of taking them off at night. The plain truth is that most folks want to look on the bright side, but they have a hard time finding it, was Bug's words.

Clem Webster endorsed Bug's stand, and he declared ups are where we find them. For instant, his old lady had gout last week and her whole church circle come to set around and gossip. Clem said his up was breaking the sound barrier when he told all of them to go home.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Natural Ability Keeps Local Artist Busy at Home, Work

■ Sue Sherrill to be among local artists at Pioneer Craft Fair.

An artistic eye and an ability for detailed craftsmanship has helped Sue Sherrill transform a hobby into a career that helps others.

The local artist, who has been nationally recognized for her porcelain miniatures, is embarking on a career in occupational therapy. But she hasn't forgotten her roots, nor a worthy cause. The 25-year village resident will continue to dress in historic garb and participate in the 22nd annual Pioneer Craft Fair.

Sherrill first debuted at the local fair 19 years ago. She has returned on and off over the years, demonstrating the steps involved when making porcelain miniature dishes and porcelain dolls. Her newest artistic endeavor, however, involves wood. She is presently making a cherry wood deck for her daughter. But it is her ability to work with a variety of materials that has pushed her into the field of prosthetics. And it is through her work there that she has become interested in occupational therapy.

Sherrill works as senior orthopedic prosthetic technician for the University of Michigan Hospital. She designs specialty items and equipment that makes the lives of patients easier.

"I have a lot of skills, natural ability to do that," she says of the job she has held with U-M Hospital for the past eight years.

Sherrill describes herself as a craftsman in wood, glass, metal and plastics, among other materials. It is through her design work at U-M Hospital that Sherrill has become inspired to go back to school and get a degree. She is presently taking classes at Washtenaw Community College and plans to transfer to Eastern Michigan University to earn her bachelor's degree.

A native of Los Angeles, Calif., Sherrill moved to Dexter in 1969 with her husband, who was completing graduate work at the University of Michigan.

Sherrill has no formal artistic training, just plenty of demonstrated natural ability. "I am a maker of things," she says. "I experiment and work with things. I can literally design anything."

Because of her busy schedule with school and work, Sherrill hasn't had time to pursue all her artistic avenues. She dabbles here and there, and says she hasn't sold the porcelain miniatures she is renowned for in the past eight years. When she returns to the Pioneer Craft Fair, it will only be to demonstrate. "I really don't make them anymore. I am just there because it's fun and I've always kind of done it."

Sherrill says she has developed her own technique when it comes to making the porcelain miniatures. She hand carves each piece beginning with the clay. Then, Sherrill hand paints each intricate, tiny detail. She says clients have, for example, sent her photographs of ancient teapots they want reproduced, and she has done it.

At the Pioneer Craft Fair, however, she will most likely be demonstrating porcelain dollmaking. As in the past, she will demonstrate each step involved in the process. She will have the mold there and a head in each stage of the making. She says people often approach and, when they do, she demonstrates any aspect of the craft they are interested in. To add flavor to the fair, she will be donning a historic outfit she has made by hand. Sewing is another of her fortes.

"I experiment and work with things. I can literally design anything."

Sherrill will join more than 50 other artists who will demonstrate their expertise in stained glass making, woodworking, tating, spinning, weaving, duck carving and basketry. The fair will be held March 18 at Dexter High school from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the Dexter Area Museum, helping to support its programs, operation and maintenance.

Lima Extension Group Studies New Food Labeling Law

Decorations of hearts and flowers Feb. 22, at the home of Mary Ann Burgess, were telling 13 Lima Extension ladies that it is still February even if we had to meet a week late due to inclement weather the week before.

Alice Gardner started the lesson to "Unravel the New Food Labeling Law Mystery" for us. She explained why, how, and to what food items are affected and she instantly was receiving much discussion and feedback.

As the lesson led to calories and fat grams found on the label, Shirley Porter gave her lesson on fats in your diet. She taught how to keep track of fat intake called "Health Dividends." Some valuable information was handed out which should help.

Sunlight through the sun roof gave a feeling of warmth to the table so brightly decorated for a valentine luncheon as the group sat and enjoyed the pot-luck foods. Co-hostess Norma Seyfried poured coffee and tea.

During the February business meeting, called to order by Barb Wing, future lessons were discussed and members present got a headstart at picking their recipes for the June Amish luncheon at Olive Wiseman's.

Lima ladies please note that Monday, March 13, is our meeting Extravaganza. We leave Lima Town Hall at 11 a.m. We have reservations at Emerald City, Washtenaw Ave., at 11:30. From 1:30 to 3 p.m. we all take a lesson titled "Medicare Update" at the MSU Extension office, Carpenter Rd. Call Olive or Barb by March 10.

JULY WEDDING PLANNED: Scott Johnson of Chelsea, and Connie Wilson of Napoleon have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jessica Napier-Johnson of Chelsea, to Charles Alexander, the son of Max and Kathy Alexander of Chelsea and the late Mary Alexander. The future bride is a 1994 graduate of Chelsea High school. She is currently attending Washtenaw Community College. The future bridegroom is a crew chief in the United States Air Force currently stationed in Wichita Falls, Tex. He graduated from Chelsea High school in 1994. A July wedding is planned.

The foundation also reports that "the lives of more than 150,000 heart attack victims may have been saved had the FDA not delayed approval of the emergency blood-clotting drug TPA by a year-and-a-half."

And as the Washington Legal Foundation concludes: "We all want safe and carefully tested medicine and treatments. But let's have them in our lifetime . . . not long after we've died in agony from a disease other nations have controlled for years."

Congressional Republicans would do well to train their reformist guns on the FDA, an agency that can be "hazardous to your health."

"Within us all there are wells of thought and dynamo of energy which are not suspected until emergencies arise. Then we find it simple to double or treble our former capacities and amaze ourselves with results . . ."

—Thomas J. Watson

The individuals who built many of the world's biggest corporations must have had many opportunities to test this theory. In business, perhaps more often than in domestic life, crises arise which must be met and skillfully handled.

When a mistake might mean disaster, how comforting to realize that our capacity to react to emergencies is far greater than expected and that we can obtain results that will amaze even ourselves.

You can be sure your wishes are followed exactly by making pre-need arrangements well in advance of need with us. Financial aspects can be pre-arranged also.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I read with absolute amazement the short article entitled "No Bull" on page 4 of the March 1995 issue in another publication. I cannot fathom why ZBA chair Harry Thirkow would take a "hard line" on the matter of the corn and cow hanging outside the Common Market. Are they in bad taste? Do they somehow detract from the charm or ambience of the village main street? Have they somehow attracted undue attention? Obstructed someone's view? What is the problem?

It would seem to me that Craig Common is once again under criticism for attempting to improve the appearance of Main St. It wasn't too long ago that I read letters of condemnation about the color he chose to paint the exterior. Does anyone remember what the building looked like for years before it was painted that "terrible yellow"?

Competition for the best storefront appearance in all of Chelsea would be limited to just two, the Common Market and the Common Grill.

Craig's efforts have not only improved the appearance of the main street of our quaint little village and given all of us locals a great place to dine and shop, but have brought in people from surrounding communities to taste the charm of Chelsea along with the great food available at the Grill or Market. Perhaps these visitors have even spent time and money in other businesses in Chelsea.

I would like someone to tell me who has done more in the past few years to draw people to the village, and to improve the quality of life here than Craig Common.

I find it absolutely appalling that the ordinance might make tasteful and artistic decorations illegal in a village that not only tolerates but encourages a painted rock at the very entrance to our community. Is it not also a sign? Seems I see a different sign on its face every other day. Why isn't anyone concerned about what message that rock gives to the visitors to our community? What about the toxic waste this graffiti monolith creates and has at its base? Why isn't this "spirit rock" at the high school where it belongs? When I wrote a letter to the editor of The Chelsea Standard years ago, I was chastised for not understanding the purpose of the rock. It was also pointed out that the graffiti would not spread to the other rocks, playground equipment, garbage barrels, porta-john or the gazebo. Has anyone looked at those items lately.

I am a businessman, and I feel Craig Common's efforts should be applauded and appreciated. If Mr. Thirkow has a clever, artistic and subtle ear in mind, he should also have a right to display a similar sign. You also state that the ordinance requires signs to be flush to the building. In a brief look around today, I noticed several "violations" namely, Merkel's, Seitz's, the Village Bakery, the Wolverine and others.

Let's wake-up Chelsea and start worrying about what's wrong with our appearance rather than criticizing what's right and positive.

Sincerely,
Zane R. Niesen

Cub Scouts Off to Good Start

Cub Scouts of Den 7, have been busy in their first year as Wolf Scouts.

Led by den leader Stephen Akers and assistant leader Rodger Stewart, these scouts have so far completed a five-mile hike, a model train show, two bowling trips, and sold Christmas trees. They've made Christmas wreaths, bird feeders, Bobcat scarf slides, snack tins, and sail boats for the Pack 455 Regatta. Nick and Jon took first places in the race. Currently they are working on their Pinewood Derby cars for the Pack 455 race, March 18 at South school.

These ambitious second grade, 7-year-olds, worked hard to receive their Bobcat badges, Wolf badges and Gold and Silver Arrow point achievements at the recent Blue and Gold Banquet. Doug and Corey were Tiger Cubs last year. The group meets in South school every Wednesday, and future plans include making bird houses and "Scouting for food" in the village, in April, for the needy.

Michigan History

★ Emigrants' Map Touts Michigan's Advantages

There's no unfolding or attempting to refold "Farmer's Map of Michigan" while traveling the westward route. In fact, there aren't any routes drawn or pictured in the 1831 pocket-sized pamphlet. But there are descriptions of the various types of terrain, settlements, villages, rivers and coastline of the Michigan Territory before it became the 26th state admitted to the Union.

Farmer, a Detroit resident and surveyor and preparer of "maps," had to issue a second edition of his original 1830 publication. He estimated 15,000 people moved into the territory in 1830 and expected double that number in 1831, adding to the already 35,000 people living in Michigan.

Farmer's "map"—one of the holdings in the University of Michigan's Clements Library—divides the Michigan Territory into plains, openings, and prairies, all inviting adventurous people of western New York and the New England states to establish new homes to the west. The plains were described as containing some timber, but with no underbrush.

They "wear the aspect of a cultivated forest," Farmer wrote.

The openings were just that, open land with patches of woodlands. And the prairies were described as having a heavy growth of grass and being free of timber. There were two types of prairies, according to Farmer, the dry prairie with a rich soil and the wet prairie which he mentioned would be good for planting early pasture and as being excellent for growing hay.

"The prevailing wind is sweet," Farmer wrote, describing the same wind in winter as being "quite piercing." Considerable snow falls, he told his readers, but, "nevertheless, the area is favorable to wheat, rye, potatoes, and turnips."

Farmer gives a county-by-county description of the territory with populations, what will grow in each area, descriptions of the towns, the kind of timber found, and comments on the rivers. He predicted that the area watered by the Grand River, (the six or seven thousand square miles from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven with fertile soil and what Farmer called "a good and safe harbor") would "become one of the most important sections of Michigan."

"Wild land" in Michigan in 1831 was selling for $1.25 an acre for "ready" cash. It came with, Farmer wrote, "an indisputable title direct from the United States, under the seal of the President."

This was not the only publication about Michigan Farmer had on the market. His "Map and Gazetteer of the Surveyed Part of Michigan" sold for $2 and his "Gazetteer and Map of Michigan and the Contemplated Territory of Ouisconsin or Huron" sold for $3.

The University of Michigan's Clements Library is open 9 a.m.-noon and 1-4:45 p.m. Monday-Friday. Exhibits in the library are open noon-2:30 p.m. Monday-Friday.

VICKIE HINDERER was one of 19 missionaries who visited Romanian orphanages last December. The missionaries took over many needed items just in time for the Christmas season.

Romanian Orphans Grateful To See Chelsea Homemaker

■ Vickie Hinderer made orphans' wishes come true.

Vickie Hinderer, a Chelsea homemaker, recently returned from Romania just in time to celebrate her family's Christmas after making many Romanian orphan's Christmas dreams come true.

Hinderer, along with 19 other women from across the nation, flew to Romania last Dec. 5, and returned a short nine days later. The trip, organized by Leadership Training International in Ocala, Fla., allows Christian missionaries the opportunity to see first-hand the pleading faces of the impoverished children.

Hinderer said that each person must find a sponsor to help fund the trip. She said her sponsor was the Chelsea Full Gospel Church.

"The trip was another wonderful experience," Hinderer said. "The people were grateful for everything we brought."

Some items that were taken over were medical supplies, hats, gloves, clothing, personal care packages, in addition to whatever materials the sponsor churches provided.

Plans are in the works to go on another trip this December. Hinderer said that the Leadership Training International organization would like to expand the trip to 12 days.

"We only had about three to four days in Romania — after traveling," Hinderer said.

The traveling she endured included a seven-hour layover in Amsterdam, a 12-hour bus trip each way from Hungary to Romania, and a 3-4 hour bus trip each day from her Clug hotel though the mountains to orphanages in Jibou and other small towns.

The group planned to conduct seminars while visiting, but were unable to due to time constraints. Instead, Hinderer's group spent the day in the church leading the ministry and passing out the much-anticipated Christmas presents.

Another time-consuming obstacle was the weather and winding roads. Hinderer said the weather was in the 30s, but not as severe as Michigan's weather can be.

"We didn't see any snow, but the roads had a kind of 'black ice' on them," Hinderer said. "Plus, we had to drive through the mountains, with all types of curves. It made driving treacherous."

According to Hinderer, each orphanage houses about 150 children. Her group visited one newborn, one girl's and one boy's orphanage while completing their missionary work.

She said the orphanages aren't up to American standards, but the Romanians do as well as they can with their conditions.

She said the children crowd the roads when they see a bus on its way. "The children swamped the bus as soon as we pulled up," she said. "You can almost cause a riot if you're not careful."

Geology Center To Recreate 1700s Through Living History Program

The Waterloo Natural History Association and the staff of the Eddy Geology Center are sponsoring an "Explorers of the Great Lakes" living history program Sunday, March 12 from 1-2 p.m.

Randy Baker, joined with Lisa Gamero, will guide visitors back to the late 1700s in Michigan. Both will be wearing costumes and will tell of the life experiences of a typical French-Canadian voyageur in the Great Lakes Region.

Baker and Gamero are members of the Stanford Voyageur Brigade.

Baker will recreate the voyageur whose occupation was to load freight onto wooden canoes and transport them across rivers and lakes. Gamero will recreate a trapper's trade by explaining how one made a living by going inland and setting traps, making trades with the American Indians and working with the voyageur to load his furs onto the freight loaders.

Baker will bring some hand-made supplies that were carried in the canoes in those days. He is unable to bring the canoes because they are 26 and 32 feet in length.

Gamero said the 32-foot canoe was too big for the Michigan rivers and was used on loaders traveling from the Great Lakes into Quebec.

The 26-foot canoes were used on the major rivers like the St. Joseph and the Grand, Gamero said. Eventually, a 16-foot wooden canoe was created to navigate Michigan's tiny rivers, she said.

The living history program will be conducted in a classroom inside the Center.

"But if the weather is nice, we may have it outside," Gamero said.

Following the presentation, there will be a question and answer period, she said.

To get to the Waterloo Recreation Area, take I-94 to exit 157-Pierce Rd. Take a left onto Bush Rd. and follow it to a blacktop driveway, which is McClure Rd.

Science Olympiad Returns to WCC

On March 18, middle and high school students from Washtenaw, Lenawee, Livingston, and Monroe counties will converge on the Washtenaw Community College campus to test their science expertise.

They will meet to compete in the Region 9 Science Olympiad, a series of spirited tournaments consisting of 32 individual and team events that demonstrate biology, earth science, chemistry, physics, computers, and technology expertise.

The Science Olympiad is an international, non-profit organization devoted to improving the quality of science education, increasing student interest in science, and providing recognition for outstanding achievement in science education by both students and teachers.

ZACH SMITH, former Chelsea band student and now a professional trumpet player, presents a clinic for Beach Middle school trumpet students. In addition to appearing at The Ark in Ann Arbor, the trio will be presenting a concert Thursday, March 9 at the high school auditorium.

Zach Smith Will Perform in March 9 Concert at Chelsea High

Former trumpet player in the Chelsea Bands, Zach Smith, will be performing with his band, The Dixieland Power Trio, March 9 in the George Prinzing Auditorium.

Smith's band will be performing in Chelsea on Thursday and at The Ark in Ann Arbor on Friday night.

Zach graduated from Chelsea High school in 1982 and pursued jazz studies at North Texas State University.

Since graduation from North

Texas State he has continued to work as a professional musician. His positions have included writing music and hiring performers for cruise ships, performing with the Four Topps, Harry Conick, Jr., and other performers, and he currently is a talent agent in the Washington, D.C., area.

The Dixieland Power Trio has gained a wide audience on the east coast and their fame has spread to the midwest. This past summer they performed at The Ark in Ann Arbor.

Their performances earned them an invitation to perform at The Ark's Folk Festival last month. After an overwhelming standing ovation and encore in a packed Hill Auditorium the DPT was asked back to perform a March concert at The Ark.

"When I heard they were playing in Ann Arbor, I immediately called Zach to see if they could perform in Chelsea," said Chelsea band director Bill Gourley. "Their music is an exciting new sound—encompassing dixieland, jazz, and rock and roll. They play everything from Beatles to Duke Ellington. It's just plain fun music," Gourley said.

The Dixie Power Trio will perform Thursday, March 9 at 8:15 p.m. at the George Prinzing Auditorium. Tickets are $3; Senior citizens $2. A family ticket sells for $12.

Fresh vegetable and melon acreage this fall is down slightly from last year over-all but onion production is at a record high due mainly to better weather conditions. Acreage went down for snap beans, broccoli, cauliflower, celery, sweet corn, head lettuce, bell peppers and tomatoes. Harvested acreage went up for cabbage, carrots, cucumbers and eggplant.

Free Throws Cost Chelsea Game, 58-53

The rim usually is a basketball player's best friend. But that best friend didn't keep his loyalty from Pinckney last Friday night as five free throws were all that stood in the way of a Bulldogs victory.

Chelsea's varsity basketball team fended off Pinckney until a fourth-quarter free throw bonanza exploded, ending in disappointment for Chelsea, 58-53.

"We had several opportunities with good shots in the quarter," said Chelsea head basketball coach Robin Raymond. "It was one of those nights where it hit the rim and bounced out."

Chelsea jumped out to a big lead in the first quarter, leading Pinckney, 14-6. They increased their lead to 18-9 by the end of the quarter.

However, the second quarter proved to be just the opposite as Pinckney completed a role reversal and outscored Chelsea, 17-10.

Pinckney's surprised Chelsea as they unleashed an unwelcome attack with their benched sophomore, who scored eight-of-11 to make his presence known.

But Chelsea was up to a challenge. It managed to give Pinckney a taste of its own medicine — and reclaimed the lead, 28-26.

After the halftime festivities, the game got back into action — and was closer than ever.

Chelsea and Pinckney played a game of seesaw, with each scoring on top of the other — right up to the fourth quarter.

"We missed a lot of easy shots in the fourth quarter," Raymond said.

Those easy shots paved the way for Pinckney's gain, as it closed the gap, 54-53.

Chelsea fell behind as they converted just 3-of-8 at the foul line in the fourth, however, skill was on Pinckney's side with 8-of-10 celebrated attempts.

With two seconds left in the game, Pinckney scored to make the score, 56-53.

Both teams had free throw attempts. Chelsea hit the rim, while Pinckney bagged two more for a guaranteed win, 58-53.

"In a close game, you need to convert on free throws," Raymond said. "Those shots just didn't go in last night."

Shooting from the floor, Chelsea was eight-for-18 in the first quarter and 13-for-42 for the rest of the game.

Chelsea was eight-for-16 in free throws for the game, and Pinckney was 16-for-19.

The numbers just weren't adding up for Chelsea Friday night.

"Defense was good," Raymond said. "We forced Pinckney into 19 turnovers, whereas we only had nine turnovers."

Leading the Bulldogs in scoring were Case McCalla with 20 points; Scott Colvin, 11; Nick Brink and Kevin Coy each bagged seven; Chad Brown, six; and Bryndon Skelton with two points.

This game was Chelsea's last of the year as it heads into the district tournament at Columbia Central in Brooklyn.

The Bulldogs need three wins to advance to the finals.

"We would be a sleeper at this point," Raymond said. "Tecumseh and Milan have a chance to win it."

The Class B district championship game is to take place 7 p.m. Friday, March 10 in Brooklyn.

The Bulldogs ended the season 10-10 over-all and 5-7 in the Southeast Conference.

"Our committee is working to obtain some additional celebrities, but the over-all willingness in the sports and media community for a first year event such as ours is just overwhelming," said Al Zangara, tournament chairman.

St. Louis Center, a non-profit organization located in Chelsea, is a residential/educational home for mentally impaired male youngsters and adults. Celebrating 35 years of accomplishment, the home develops independent living skills, establishes responsibility and freedom, and stresses individual achievement necessary to the residents' development. Volleyball Team 2nd in SEC

Chelsea Bulldogs varsity volleyball team finished its final week of the regular season with a loss to Lincoln, a victory over Saline, and finishing first at The Ann Arbor Huron/Ypsilanti "Brat" Invitation Tournament.

Chelsea played Lincoln on Monday, Feb. 20, at Lincoln and fell victims to the Railsplitters, 9-15, 9-15 in the best two-of-three match.

Chelsea played Saline at home on Thursday, Feb. 23, at home, celebrating Senior Night and emerged with the victory, 15-7, 15-11.

On Saturday, Feb. 25, Chelsea participated in the 16-team invitational tournament hosted jointly by Ann Arbor Huron High school and Ypsilanti High school, and walked away as tournament champions. Chelsea faced Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard, Greenhills, and Pinckney in pool play, and advanced to the quarter-finals to face league rival Dexter.

Chelsea defeated Dexter in two straight games in the best two-of-three match with scores of 18-16, 15-8, to advance to the semi-finals.

Chelsea advanced to the finals after defeating Milan, 15-6, 15-5.

The Bulldogs faced Milford Lakeland in the final match where Chelsea won the championship, 15-10, 15-11.

Amy Petty was named as Chelsea's All-Tournament Players with each of the top 12 teams having one player named. Senior players Amy Petty, Kori White, Cindy Tripp, and Jessica Knight all had strong performances for the day. Carrie Buss played well as setter, along with Sara Petty, and Sara's strong defense helped lead Chelsea through the play-offs. Heidi Kemnitz's five kills against Dexter came at crucial moments in the match. Erin Montgomery and Liz Holdsworth shared right-side duties for the day while Erin Baird and Heidi Wehrwein helped by teaming up at the middle hitter positions.

The Bulldogs finished the season second in the SEC with a league record of 9-3, and were 36-7 over-all.

Researchers say they may have a cheap and safe way to combat bee mite infestations that cost beekeepers millions of dollars and which threaten the world-wide pollination of crops. Ohio State University scientists say a mixture of solid vegetable shortening and powdered sugar placed near bee hives cuts down on the number of bees killed by mites. The scientists don't know exactly why the technique works.

Rebounding Puts JV Cagers in Loss Column Over Pinckney, 53-33

Pinckney dominated the court last Friday night by outrebounding Chelsea's junior varsity cagers — which led to their demise, 53-33.

Pinckney jumped out to a quick lead controlling the backboards and scoring some easy baskets as Chelsea's offense sputtered.

The Pirates nabbed the ball 30 times off the backboard, while the Bulldogs only were able to snare 15 rebounds, with six players each claiming two rebounds.

By the end of the first quarter, Chelsea fell behind, 15-6, and wasn't able to take the lead the rest of the night.

"We came out flat and let them score some easy lay-ups," said coach Dave Quilter. "We dug ourselves a hole we could never get out of."

The second quarter wasn't kind to Chelsea as well, and by the half, they were outscored, 28-13.

At the half, the team had the opportunity to regroup and refocus their attention on winning. But their effort didn't pay off as the Bulldogs continued their downward slump.

"Our intensity on offense and defense was spotty," Quilter said. "We let them dominate us on the backboards."

That domination persuaded Chelsea throughout the third and fourth quarters, but they showed Pinckney that they were still a team to be reckoned with.

The Bulldogs gave the Pirates a close run for their money with 13 turnovers to Pinckney's 16.

Free-throw shooting was neck and neck all evening. Chelsea shot 50 percent with 13-of-26, while Pinckney lobbed nine-of-16 for a 56.25 rating.

Even though these efforts didn't go unnoticed, the scoreboard failed to show it, as the end result proved victorious for the Pirates, 53-33.

Paul Bragalone led the scoring for Chelsea with 10. Ashley Coy and Tim Lawrence followed with six. Brian Bloemsaat and Casey Wescott each contributed four points, with Jason Lantis and Jason Sprawka landing two and one points, respectively.

The junior varsity cagers finished with a 4-16 record over-all.

Stage Set for Making Progress on Agricultural Issues

The president of the state's largest farm organization said 1995 is an especially critical year of legislative opportunity for agriculture.

"With the recent changes in Lansing, and especially in Washington, D.C., we have a chance to aggressively pursue—and actually see action on—some exceptionally important legislative priorities," said Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie in his President "Column" in The Michigan Farm News.

Laurie said that on the state level this year, farmers may finally see progress on protection of private property rights, implementation of the Farmland Preservation Task Force recommendations, major tort reform, additional funding for roads and bridges, workers compensation reform and health care reform.

On the national scene, Farm Bureau has the opportunity to implement a sound 1995 Farm Bill, pass a measure that preserves the minor use pesticides important to Michigan farmers, gain approval of federal protection of private property rights and reform the Coastal Zone Management Act.

"The stage is set, but ultimate victory will be achieved only if Farm Bureau members are creative, aggressive and insistent that lawmakers jettison much of the excess baggage that is weighing down the growth of Michigan agriculture," said Laurie.

IRAs Can Save Money For Most

When April 15 hits this year, you don't have to pay your taxes! That's right, April 15 is not the deadline for filing your federal income taxes in 1995. Because April 15, 1995, falls on a Saturday, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has extended the deadline until Monday, April 17, 1995.

But as the April 17 tax deadline approaches, taxpayers are searching for tax deductions. Many should consider an IRA. IRAs (Individual Retirement Accounts) are tax-deductible, tax-deferred investments. "Some people will save significantly on their taxes because they are able to deduct the contribution they made to their IRA," explains Al Zawacky, spokesperson for the Michigan Credit Union League. "But even if an individual is not looking to lower taxes or is not eligible for the tax deduction, an IRA can still be a very valuable investment."

IRAs are designed as a long-term savings plan for retirement and there are strict rules imposed by Congress to discourage early withdrawals. The growth of an IRA is tax deferred, which means that individuals pay no tax on income earned from interest, dividends or capital gains until the money is withdrawn, presumably at retirement. That allows the IRA to grow more quickly than other investments that are taxable. If, however, an individual withdraws the money before age 59½, the individual will likely be obliged to pay the income tax due on the amount withdrawn, plus a 10% penalty on the withdrawal to the federal government.

Here's an example of how compounding can add up in an IRA. Suppose an individual at the age of 35, with an income in the 28% tax bracket invests $2,000 in an IRA. Assume the contribution is not tax-deductible and earns 8 percent annually. When the person retires at 65, they will have put $62,000 into the investment. The IRA will now have a total value of $266,427, that means it earned $204,427 in interest. Had the individual chosen a non-IRA investment, the total value would be only $171,676. That difference of $94,751 is due to the fact that the IRA earnings were tax-deferred. Of course, if the contributions are tax-deductible, the earnings are even greater.

Before Congress passed the Tax Reform Act of 1986, most everyone could deduct up to $2,000 a year for their IRA contributions. "Approximately 90 percent of individuals and 75 percent of couples still qualify for deductions," says Zawacky. "Major factors that affect the deduction include income and participation in an employer's pension plan."

There are three categories of individuals and couples who are able to fully deduct their contributions. • Anyone not an active participant in an employer's qualified (Internal Revenue Service-approved) retirement plan. This applies to taxpayers who are single, or married and filing jointly when the spouse also is not covered by a qualified plan, no matter how much they earn.

• Anyone married, filing jointly, and one or both are covered by a qualified plan—and their modified adjusted gross income is less than $40,000.

• Anyone single and covered by a qualified plan, but has a modified adjusted gross income less than $25,000.

However, even if an individual does not fall into one of these categories, they may still be eligible for a partial deduction, depending on their income. Credit unions, banks and other financial institutions can figure out how much individuals would be able to deduct if they decide to open an IRA.

The Michigan Credit Union League has a free brochure available "IRAs: The Common Person's Tax Shelter." Anyone interested should send a self-addressed stamped envelope to IRAs, Michigan Credit Union League, P.O. Box 5210, Southfield 48035-0993.

Whenever any Bond or Bonds shall be surrendered for transfer, the Issuer shall execute and the transfer agent shall authenticate and deliver a new Bond or Bonds, for like aggregate principal amount. The Transfer Agent shall require payment by the bondholder requesting the transfer of any tax or other governmental charge required to be paid with respect to the transfer.

The Transfer Agent shall keep or cause to be kept, at its principal office, sufficient books for the registration and transfer of the Bonds, which shall at all times be open to inspection by the Issuer; and, upon presentation for such purpose, the Transfer Agent shall, under such reasonable regulations as it may prescribe, transfer or cause to be transferred, on said books, Bonds as hereinafter provided.

If any Bond shall become mutilated, the Issuer, at the expense of the holder of the Bond, shall execute, and the Transfer Agent shall authenticate and deliver, a new Bond of like tenor in exchange and substitution for the mutilated Bond, upon surrender to the Transfer Agent of the mutilated Bond. If any Bond issued under this Ordinance shall be lost, destroyed or stolen, evidence of the loss, destruction or theft may be submitted to the transfer agent and, if this evidence is satisfactory to both and indemnity satisfactory to the Transfer Agent shall be given, and if all requirements of any applicable law including Act 324, Public Acts of Michigan, 1972, as amended ("Act 354"), being sections 129.131 to 129.135, inclusive, of the Michigan Compiled Laws have been met, the Issuer, at the expense of the owner, shall execute, and the Transfer Agent shall thereupon authenticate and deliver, a new Bond of like tenor and bearing the statement required by Act 354, or any applicable law hereafter enacted, in lieu of and in substitution for the Bond so lost, destroyed or stolen. If any such Bond shall have matured or shall be about to mature, instead of issuing a substitute Bond the Transfer Agent may pay the same without surrender thereof.

Section 7. Payment and Security of Bonds. The Bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable from the Net Revenues and to secure such payment there is hereby created a statutory lien upon the whole of the Net Revenues which shall be a first lien to continue until payment in full of the principal of and interest on all Bonds payable from the Net Revenues, or until sufficient cash or Sufficient Government Obligations have been deposited in trust for payment in full of all Bonds then outstanding to maturity, or, if called for redemption, to the date fixed for redemption together with the amount of the redemption premium, if any. Upon deposit of cash or Sufficient Government Obligations, as provided in the previous sentence, the statutory lien shall be terminated with respect to the Bonds, the registered owners of the Bonds shall have no further rights under this Ordinance except for payment from the deposited funds, and the Bonds shall no longer be considered to be outstanding under this Ordinance.

Section 8. Bondholders' Rights: Receiver. The holder or holders of the Bonds representing in the aggregate not less than twenty percent (20%) of the entire principal amount thereof then outstanding, may, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, protect and enforce the statutory lien upon the Net Revenues of the System, and may, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, enforce and compel performance of all duties of the officers of the Issuer, including the fixing of sufficient rates, the collection of Revenues, the proper segregation of the Revenues of the System, and the proper application thereof. The statutory lien upon the Net Revenues, however, shall not be construed as to compel the sale of the System or any part thereof.

If there is a default in the payment of the principal of or interest on the Bonds, any court having jurisdiction in any proper action may appoint a receiver to administer and operate the System on behalf of the Issuer and under the direction of the court, and by and with the approval of the court to perform all of the duties of the officers of the Issuer more particularly set forth herein and in Act 94.

The holder or holders of the Bonds shall have all other rights and remedies given by Act 94 and law, for the payment and enforcement of the Bonds and the security thereof.

Section 9. Management: Fiscal Year. The operation, repair and management of the System and the acquiring of the Project shall be under the supervision and control of the Village Council of the Issuer. The Village Council may employ such person or persons in such capacity or capacities as it deems advisable to carry on the efficient management and operation of the System. The Village Council may make such rules and regulations as it deems advisable and necessary to assure the efficient management and operation of the System.

Section 10. Rates and Charges. The rates and charges for service furnished by and the use of the System and the method of collection and enforcement of the collection of the rates shall be those in effect on the date of adoption of this Ordinance.

Section 11. No Free Service or Use. No free service or use of the System, or service or use of the System at less than cost, shall be furnished by the System to any person, firm or corporation, public or private, or to any public agency or instrumentality, including the Issuer.

Section 12. Fixing and Revising Rates: Rate Covenant. The rates now in effect are estimated to be sufficient to provide for the payment of the expenses of administration and operation and such expenses for maintenance of the System as are necessary to preserve the System in good repair and working order, to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds as the same become due and payable, and the maintenance of the reserve required and to provide for all other obligations, expenditures and funds for the System required by law and this Ordinance. The rates shall be fixed and revised from time to time as may be necessary to produce these amounts, and it is hereby covenanted and agreed to fix and maintain rates for services furnished by the System at all times sufficient to provide for the foregoing.

Section 13. Funds and Accounts: Flow of Funds. The following funds and accounts into which the proceeds of the Bonds and the Revenues from the System shall be deposited in the manner and at the times provided in this Ordinance, which funds and accounts shall be established and maintained, except as otherwise provided, so long as any of the Bonds hereby authorized remain unpaid.

(A) WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM RECEIVING FUND. Upon and after the effective date of this Ordinance, the Revenues of the System shall be set aside into a separate fund designated the WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM RECEIVING FUND (the "Receiving Fund"). The Revenues credited to the Receiving Fund are pledged for the purpose of the following funds and shall be transferred or debited from the Receiving Fund periodically in the manner and at the time and in the order of priority hereinafter specified.

(1) Operation and Maintenance Fund. Out of the Revenues credited to the Receiving Fund there shall be first set aside in or credited to the OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE FUND (the "Operation and Maintenance Fund"), which shall be established and maintained for such purpose, quarterly a sum sufficient to provide for the payment of the next quarter's expenses of administration and operation of the System and such current expenses for maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve the System in good repair and working order. Revenues in the Operation and Maintenance Fund upon the date of delivery of the 1995 Bonds shall remain in said fund.

(2) Bond and Interest Redemption Fund. There is hereby established a separate fund to be designated as the BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND (the "Redemption Fund"). There shall be deposited in or credited to the Redemption Fund the proceeds of the 1995 Bonds representing accrued interest, if any, and shall be used to pay interest on the 1995 Bonds on the first interest payment date. After the transfer required in (1) above, Revenues shall be transferred quarterly, commencing March 1, 1995, from the Receiving Fund, before any other expenditures or transfer therefrom, and deposited in the Redemption Fund for payment of principal of and interest on the 1995 Bonds and to fund a Bond Reserve Account as hereinafter provided. There shall be set aside at the time of delivery of the 1995 Bonds and quarterly thereafter to the next interest payment date an amount equal to that fraction of the amount of interest due on the next interest payment date, the numerator of which is 1 and the denominator of which is the number of full and partial months from the date of said delivery to the next interest payment date. There shall be set aside each quarter beginning on September 1, 1995, an amount not less than 1/2 of the amount of interest due on the next interest payment date on the 1995 Bonds. There shall also be set aside each quarter commencing March 1, 1995 an amount not less than 1/4 of the amount of principal due on the 1995 Bonds on the next principal payment date. Except as hereinafter provided, no further deposits shall be made into the Redemption Fund (excluding the Bond Reserve Account) once the aforesaid sums have been deposited therein. Any amount on deposit in the Redemption Fund (excluding the Bond Reserve Account) in excess of the amount needed for payment of principal of the 1995 Bonds for the then current principal payment period, plus interest on the 1995 Bonds for the then current interest payment period, shall be used by the Issuer for redemption of the 1995 Bonds in the manner set forth in this Ordinance, or, if such use is impracticable, shall be deposited in or credited to the Receiving Fund.

If for any reason there is a failure to make such quarterly deposit in the amounts required, then the entire amount of the deficiency shall be set aside and deposited in the Redemption Fund out of the Revenues first received thereafter which are not required by this Ordinance to be deposited in the Operation and Maintenance Fund, which amount shall be in addition to the regular quarterly deposit required during such succeeding quarter or quarters.

There is hereby maintained in the Redemption Fund a separate account to be designated the BOND RESERVE ACCOUNT (the "Bond Reserve Account"). There shall be deposited into the Bond Reserve Account an amount from funds on hand in the System available for such purpose to fund the Bond Reserve Account to the Reserve Requirement. Commencing June 1, 1995, there shall be withdrawn from the Receiving Fund at the beginning of each quarter and set aside in and transferred to the Bond Reserve Account, after provision has been made for the Operation and Maintenance Fund and the current requirements of the Redemption Fund, the sum required to maintain the Bond Reserve Account at the amount required by the Reserve Requirement. Except as hereinafter provided, no further deposits shall be made into the Redemption Fund for the purposes of the Bond Reserve Account once the aforesaid sums have been deposited therein. The moneys in the Bond Reserve Account shall be used solely for the payment of the principal of and interest on the 1995 Bonds as to which there would otherwise be default.

If at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in the Bond Reserve Account for such payment, then the moneys so used shall be replaced from the Net Revenues first received thereafter which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for operation and maintenance or for current principal and interest requirements for the 1995 Bonds.

No further payments need be made into the Redemption Fund after enough of the principal of the 1995 Bonds have been retired so that the amount then held in the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), is equal to the entire amount of principal and interest which will be payable at the time of maturity of all the principal of the 1995 Bonds then remaining outstanding.

The moneys in the Redemption Fund and the Bond Reserve Account shall be invested in accordance with Section 15 of this Ordinance, and profit realized or income earned on such investment shall be used or transferred as provided in Section 15 of this Ordinance.

(3) Replacement Fund. There is hereby established and shall be maintained a separate depository account designated REPLACEMENT FUND (the "Replacement Fund"), the money credited thereto to be used solely for the purpose of making repairs and replacements to the System. Out of the moneys of the System remaining in the Receiving Fund each quarter after provision has been made for the deposit of moneys in the Operation and Maintenance Fund and Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), there may be deposited in the Replacement Fund such additional funds as the Village Council may deem advisable. If at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in the Replacement Fund for the purpose of which the Replacement Fund was established, the moneys so used shall be replaced from any moneys in the Receiving Fund which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account).

(4) Improvement Fund. Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, after meeting the requirements of the Operation and Maintenance Fund, the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), and the Replacement Fund, there may be next set aside in or credited to a fund to be designated IMPROVEMENT FUND (the "Improvement Fund"), such sums quarterly as the Village Council may deem advisable to be used for additions, improvements, enlargements or extensions to the System, including the planning thereof.

(5) Reverse Flow of Funds: Surplus Moneys. In the event the moneys in the Receiving Fund are insufficient to provide for the current requirements of the Operation and Maintenance Fund, the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), the Replacement Fund, or the Improvement Fund, any moneys and/or securities in the funds of the System established by this Ordinance shall be transferred, first, to the Operation and Maintenance Fund, second, to the Redemption Fund, third, to the Replacement Fund, and fourth to the Improvement Fund.

All moneys remaining in the Receiving Fund at the end of any fiscal year after satisfying the above requirements shall be transferred to Redemption Fund and used to call Bonds or portions thereof for redemption; or at the option of the Issuer, transferred to the Replacement Fund or the Improvement Fund and used for the purposes for which they were established; provided, however, that if there should be a deficit in any of the funds or accounts described in this Section, on account of defaults in setting aside therein the amounts hereinafter required, then transfers shall be made from such moneys remaining in the Receiving Fund to such funds in the priority and order named in this Section, to the extent of such deficits.

Section 14. Depository and Funds on Hand. Moneys in the several funds and accounts established pursuant to this Ordinance, except moneys in the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) and moneys derived from the proceeds of sale of the Bonds, may be kept in one or more bank accounts at a bank or banks designated by resolution of the Issuer, and if kept in one bank account the moneys shall be allocated on the books and records of the Issuer in the manner and at the times provided in this Ordinance. The moneys in the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) for any series of the Bonds shall be kept on deposit with the bank or trust company where the principal of and interest on the series of Bonds are currently payable. Moneys representing proceeds of the Bonds shall be kept as provided in Section 16 of this Ordinance.

Section 15. Investments. Moneys in the funds and accounts in the Receiving or Improvement Fund or any other investments permitted by Section 24 of Act 94, and moneys derived from the proceeds of sale of the Bonds may also be invested in any investment permitted by the provisions of Section 24 of Act 94. Investment of moneys in the Redemption Fund being accumulated for payment of the next maturing principal or interest payment of the Bonds shall be limited to obligations of the United States of America or obligations the principal and interest of which are fully guaranteed by the United States of America and which bear maturity dates prior to the date of the next maturing principal or interest payment on the Bonds. Investment of moneys in the Reserve Account shall be limited to obligations bearing maturity dates or subject to redemption at the option of the holder thereof, not later than five years from the date of investment. In the event investments are made, any securities representing the same shall be kept on deposit with the bank or trust company having on deposit the fund or funds or account from which the purchase was made. Profit realized or interest income earned on investment of funds in the Receiving Fund, the Operation and Maintenance Fund, the Replacement Fund and the Improvement Fund shall be deposited in or credited to the Receiving Fund at the end of each fiscal year. Profit realized on interest income earned on investment of moneys in the Redemption Fund, including income derived from the Bond Reserve Account, shall be credited as received to the Redemption Fund.

Section 16. Bond Proceeds. From the proceeds of the sale of the 1995 Bonds there shall be immediately deposited in the Redemption Fund an amount equal to the accrued interest and premium, if any, received on the delivery of the 1995 Bonds. The balance of the proceeds of the sale of the 1995 Bonds shall be deposited in a bank or banks designated by the Village Council, qualified to act as depository of the proceeds of the 1995 Bonds under the provisions of Section 15 of Act 94 in an account designated WATER TOWER CONSTRUCTION FUND (the "Construction Fund"). Moneys in the Construction Fund shall be applied solely in payment of the cost of the Project, including any engineering, legal and other expenses incident thereto and to the financing thereof.

Any unexpended balance of the proceeds of sale of the 1995 Bonds in the Construction Fund remaining after completion of the Project may, at the discretion of the Issuer, be used for further improvements, enlargements and extension to the System; if, at the time of such expenditures, such use is approved by the Michigan Department of Treasury, if such permission is then required by law. Any remaining balance after such expenditure, if any, shall be paid to the Redemption Fund and may be used for the purpose of purchasing 1995 Bonds on the open market at not more than the fair market value thereof, but not more than the price at which the 1995 Bonds may next be called for redemption, or used for the purpose of paying the principal of the 1995 Bonds upon maturity or call of the 1995 Bonds for redemption.

Section 17. Bond Form. The Bonds shall be in substantially the following form:

Village of Chelsea, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan (the "Issuer"), for value received, hereby promises to pay, but only out of the hereinafter-described Net Revenue of the Issuer's Water Supply System (hereinafter defined) the Principal Amount shown above in lawful money of the United States of America to the Registered Owner shown above or registered assigns, on the Maturity Date shown above, unless prepaid prior thereto as hereinafter provided, with interest thereon from the Date of Original Issue shown above or such later date to which interest has been paid, until paid, at the Interest Rate per annum shown above, payable on August 1, 1995, and semiannually thereafter. Principal of this bond is payable upon surrender of this bond at the corporate trust office of _____, Michigan or such other transfer agent as the Issuer may hereafter designate by notice mailed to the registered owner not less than sixty (60) days prior to the date of any interest payment date. Interest on this bond is payable by check or draft mailed by the transfer agent to the person or entity who or which is, as of the fifteenth (15th) day of the month preceding the interest payment date, the registered owner of record, at the registered address as shown on the registration books of the Issuer kept by the transfer agent. For prompt payment of principal and interest on this bond, the Issuer has irrevocably pledged the revenues of the Water Supply System of the Issuer, including all appurtenances, extensions and improvements thereto, to the "System", after provision has been made for reasonable and necessary expenses of the operation, maintenance and administration of the System (the "Net Revenues"), and a statutory first lien thereon is hereby recognized and created.

This bond is one of a series of bonds of even date of original issue aggregating the principal sum of $550,000, issued pursuant to Ordinance No. _____ (the "Ordinance") duly adopted by the Village Council of the Issuer, and under and in full compliance with the Constitution and statutes of the State of Michigan, including specifically Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring and constructing water supply system improvements consisting generally of a water storage tank and related pumps and equipment, transmission and distribution lines, removal of existing water tower, and related appurtenances and attachments and the sites therefor, in the Issuer.

For a complete statement of the revenues from which and the conditions under which this bond is payable, a statement of the conditions under which additional bonds of equal standing may hereafter be issued and the general covenants and provisions pursuant to which this bond is issued, reference is made to the Ordinance.

Bonds maturing in the years 1996 to 2005, inclusive, shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

Bonds or portions of bonds in multiples of $5,000 maturing in the year 2006 and thereafter, inclusive, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the Village, in such order of maturity as the Village shall determine and within a single maturity by lot, on any interest payment date on or after February 1, 2005, at par and accrued interest plus a premium as follows:

1% of par value of each bond or portion thereof redeemed on or after February 1, 2005, but prior to February 1, 2008; and
1/2 of 1% of par value of each bond or portion thereof redeemed on or after February 1, 2008, but prior to February 1, 2011.

No premium shall be paid on bonds or portions thereof called for redemption on or after February 1, 2011.

Notice of redemption of any bond or portion thereof shall be given by the transfer agent at least thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption by mail to the registered owner at the registered address shown on the registration books kept by the transfer agent. Bonds shall be called for redemption in multiples of $5,000 and any bond of a denomination of more than $5,000 shall be treated as representing the number of bonds obtained by dividing the denomination of the bond by $5,000 and such bond may be redeemed in part. Notice of redemption for a bond redeemed in part shall state that upon surrender of the bond to be redeemed a new bond or bonds in aggregate principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of the bonds surrendered shall be issued to the registered owner thereof. No further interest on a bond or portion thereof called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided funds are on hand with the transfer agent to redeem the bond or portion thereof.

This bond is a self-liquidating bond and is not a general obligation of the Issuer and does not constitute an indebtedness of the Issuer within any constitutional or statutory limitation, but is payable, both as to principal and interest, solely from the Net Revenues of the System. The principal of and interest on this bond are secured by the statutory lien hereinafter mentioned.

The Issuer has covenanted and agreed, and does hereby covenant and agree, to fix and maintain at all times while any bonds payable from the Net Revenues of the system shall be outstanding, such rates for service furnished by the System as shall be sufficient to provide for payment of the interest on and the principal of the bonds of this issue and any additional bonds of equal standing as and when the same shall become due and payable, and to create and maintain a bond redemption fund (including a bond reserve account) therefor, to provide for the payment of expenses of administration and operation and such expenses for maintenance of the System as are necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order, and to provide for such other expenditures and funds for the System as are required by the Ordinance.

This bond is transferable only upon the books of the Issuer kept for that purpose at the office of the transfer agent by the registered owner hereof in person, or by the registered owner's attorney duly authorized in writing, upon the surrender of this bond together with a written instrument of transfer satisfactory to the transfer agent duly executed by the registered owner or the registered owner's attorney duly authorized in writing, and thereupon a new registered bond or bonds in the same aggregate principal amount and of the same maturity shall be issued to the transferee in exchange therefor as provided in the Ordinance, and upon the payment of the charges, if any, therein prescribed.

It is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required by law to be done precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the series of bonds of which this is one have been done and performed in regular and due time and form as required by law.

This bond is not valid or obligatory for any purpose until the transfer agent's Certificate of Authentication on this bond has been executed by the transfer agent.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Village of Chelsea, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, by its Village Council, has caused this bond to be executed with the (manual/facsimile) signatures of its President and its Clerk and its corporate seal or a facsimile thereof to be printed on this bond, all as of the Date of Original Issue.

Section 18. Covenants. The Issuer covenants and agrees with the holders of the Bonds that so long as any of the Bonds remain outstanding and unpaid as to either principal or interest—

(a) The Issuer will maintain the System in good repair and working order and will operate the same efficiently and will faithfully and punctually perform all duties with reference to the System required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Michigan and this Ordinance.

(b) The Issuer will keep proper books of record and account separate from all other records and accounts of the Issuer, in which shall be made full and correct entries of all transactions relating to the System. The Issuer shall have an annual audit of the books of record and account of the System for the preceding operating year made each year by an independent certified public accountant, and a copy of the audit shall be mailed to the underwriter or financial institution originally purchasing any issue of the Bonds. The auditor shall comment on the manner in which the issuer is complying with the requirements of the Ordinance with respect to setting aside and investing moneys and meeting the requirements for acquiring and maintaining insurance. The audit shall be completed and so made available not later than four (4) months after the close of each operating year.

(c) The issuer will maintain and carry for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds insurance on all physical properties of the System and liability insurance, of the kinds and in the amounts normally carried by municipalities engaged in the operation of water supply systems, including self-insurance. All moneys received for losses under any such insurance policies shall be applied solely to the replacement and restoration of the property damaged or destroyed, and to the extent not so used, shall be used for the purpose of redeeming or purchasing Bonds.

(d) The issuer will not sell, lease or dispose of the System, or any substantial part, until all of the Bonds have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest or provision made therefor as herein provided. The issuer will operate the System as economically as possible, will make all repairs and replacements necessary to keep the System in good repair and working order, and will not do or suffer to be done any act which would affect the System in such a way as to have a material adverse effect on the security for the Bonds.

(e) The issuer will not grant any franchise or other rights to any person, firm or corporation to operate a System that will compete with the System and the issuer will not operate a system that will compete with the System.

(f) The issuer will cause the Project to be acquired and constructed promptly and in accordance with the plans and specifications hereof.

Section 20. Additional Bonds. Except as hereinafter provided, the issuer shall not issue additional Bonds of equal or prior standing with the 1995 Bonds.

The right is reserved in accordance with the provisions of Act 94, to issue additional Bonds payable from the Revenues of the System which shall be of equal standing and priority of lien on the Net Revenues of the System with the 1995 Bonds but only for the following purposes and under the following terms and conditions:

(a) To complete the Project in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor. Such bonds shall not be authorized unless the engineers in charge of construction shall execute a certificate evidencing the fact that additional funds are needed to complete the Project in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor and stating the amount that will be required to complete the Project. If such certificate shall be so executed and filed with the issuer, it shall be the duty of the issuer to provide for and issue additional revenue bonds in the amount stated in said certificate to be necessary to complete the Project in accordance with the plans and specifications plus an amount necessary to issue such bonds or to provide for part or all of such amount from other sources.

(b) For subsequent repairs, extensions, enlargements and improvements to the System or for such purposes and for the purpose of refunding part of any Bonds then outstanding and paying costs of issuing such additional Bonds including deposits which may be required to be made to the Bond Reserve Account. Bonds for such purposes shall not be issued pursuant to this subparagraph (b) unless the Adjusted Net Revenues of the System of the then last two (2) preceding twelve-month operating years or the Adjusted Net Revenues for the last preceding twelve-month operating year, if the same shall be lower than the average, shall be equal to at least one hundred twenty percent (120%) of the maximum amount of principal and interest hereafter maturing in any operating year on the then outstanding Bonds and on the additional Bonds then being issued. If the additional Bonds are to be issued in part for refunding outstanding Bonds, the annual principal and interest requirements shall be determined by deducting from the principal and interest requirements for each operating year the annual principal and interest requirements of any Bonds to be refunded from the proceeds of the additional Bonds. For purposes of this subparagraph (b) the issuer may elect to use as the last preceding operating year any operating year ending not more than sixteen months prior to the date of delivery of the additional Bonds and as the next to the last preceding operating year, any operating year ending not more than twenty-eight months prior to the date of delivery of the additional Bonds. Determination by the issuer as to existence of conditions permitting the issuance of additional Bonds shall be conclusive. No additional Bonds of equal standing as to the Net Revenues of the System shall be issued pursuant to the authorization contained in this subparagraph if the issuer shall then be in default in making its required payments to the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Redemption Fund.

(c) For refunding a part of the outstanding Bonds and paying costs of issuing such additional Bonds including deposits which may be required to be made to the Bond Reserve Account. No additional Bonds shall be issued pursuant to this subsection unless the maximum amount of principal and interest maturing in any operating year after giving effect to the refunding shall be less than the maximum amount of principal and interest maturing in any operating year prior to giving effect to the refunding.

Section 20. Sale of 1995 Bonds: Designation of Transfer Agent; Insurance. The issuer shall receive bids for the 1995 Bonds in accordance with the notice of sale approved by the Village Council, award sale of the 1995 Bonds to the successful bidder determined in accordance with Act 94 and this Ordinance, and take all further necessary steps to issue and deliver the 1995 Bonds. The Village President, Village Treasurer, Village Clerk and the Village Manager each is authorized to: (1) select a transfer agent for the Bonds; (2) purchase municipal bond insurance for the Bonds; and make appropriate changes to the Notice of Sale, if necessary.

Section 21. Application to Michigan Municipal Bond Authority. The Village Manager is hereby authorized to make application to MMBA for placement of the Bonds with MMBA. The Village Manager is hereby authorized to negotiate the placement of the 1995 Bonds with the MMBA on the terms and conditions set forth in this Ordinance and in particular this Section 21 thereof.

If the 1995 Bonds are sold to the MMBA, the 1995 Bonds may be delivered in the form of a single fully-registered bond and the serial maturity amounts and dates shall be treated as principal installment payments.

If the 1995 Bonds are sold to MMBA, then the interest on the 1995 Bonds shall be at a rate or rates as set forth in the Purchase Contract between the issuer and MMBA, the form of which is on file with the issuer on the date of this Ordinance and pursuant to which the 1995 Bonds are sold to the MMBA (the "Purchase Contract"). The dated date, payment dates of the principal and interest on the 1995 Bonds and other bond details may be changed without further action of the Village Council to dates not more than six months earlier or later than the dates specified herein as specified in the Purchase Contract as finally accepted and executed as provided in this section. The redemption dates and redemption premiums may be changed without further action of the Village Council to conform to the dates and premiums specified by MMBA, provided however that the redemption premium may not exceed three percent (3%) and the first redemption date may not be earlier than February 1, 2003.

So long as the 1995 Bonds are owned by MMBA, the 1995 Bonds shall bear additional interest as follows: In the event of a default in the payment of principal or interest on the 1995 Bonds when due, whether at maturity, by redemption, or otherwise, the amount of such default shall bear interest (the "additional interest") at a rate equal to the rate of interest which is one percent above the MMBA's cost of providing funds (as determined by the MMBA) to make payment on the 1995 Bonds of the MMBA issued to provide funds to purchase the 1995 Bonds but in no event in excess of the maximum rate of interest permitted by law. The additional interest shall continue to accrue until the MMBA has been fully reimbursed for all costs incurred by the MMBA (as determined by the MMBA) as a consequence of the issuer's default. Such additional interest shall be payable on the interest payment date following demand of the MMBA. In the event that (for reasons other than the default in the payment of any municipal obligation purchased by the MMBA) the investment of amounts in the reserve account established by the MMBA for the 1995 Bonds of the MMBA issued to provide funds to purchase the 1995 Bonds, fails to provide sufficient available funds (together with any other funds which may be made available for such purpose) to pay the interest on outstanding bonds of the MMBA issued to fund such account, the issuer shall and hereby agrees to pay on demand only the issuer's pro rata share (as determined by the MMBA) of such deficiency as additional interest on the 1995 Bonds.

So long as the 1995 Bonds are owned by MMBA, the 1995 Bonds shall be payable as to principal, premium, if any, and interest at the principal corporate trust office of the bank or trust company designated in writing by MMBA, or at such other place as shall be designated in writing to the issuer by MMBA ("MMBA's Depository"), and the issuer agrees that it will deposit with MMBA's Depository payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds in immediately available funds at least five (5) business days prior to the date on which any such payment is due, whether by maturity, redemption or otherwise. If and so long as the Bonds are held by the MMBA, (a) the Treasurer shall perform the notification, bond registration and transfer functions of the transfer agent, and (b) provisions relating to transfer and authentication of the Bonds may be deleted from the form of Bonds.

The forms of Purchase Contract and the Revenue Sharing Pledge Agreement, each between the issuer and MMBA and on file with the issuer are hereby approved. The President, the Clerk and the Village Manager of the issuer each is hereby authorized to execute and deliver the Purchase Contract and the Revenue Sharing Pledge Agreement substantially in the forms approved, with such changes and insertions (including but not limited to final bond terms and sale details) as may be necessary or desirable, permitted by law and not materially adverse to the issuer. The Village President and the Village Manager each is hereby authorized to accept or reject the interest rates and purchase price offered by MMBA, subject to the limitations contained herein.

In the event the 1995 Bonds are sold to MMBA, the issuer pledges as additional security for the Bonds the taxes collected by the State of Michigan and returned to the issuer under Act 140, Public Acts of Michigan, 1971, as amended, and hereby authorizes the President and the Clerk to enter into a Revenue Sharing Pledge Agreement with MMBA, authorizing the State Treasurer to transmit the revenue sharing moneys assigned and pledged thereon directly to MMBA or its designees if payments of the 1995 Bonds are not made in accordance with Sections 5 and 7 of this Ordinance.

In the event the 1995 Bonds are sold to MMBA, the issuer hereby pledges its limited tax full faith and credit for the payment of the principal and interest on the 1995 Bonds if so required by MMBA. In such event, should the Net Revenues of the System at any time be insufficient to pay the principal and interest on the 1995 Bonds as the same become due, then the issuer shall advance from any funds available therefor, or, if necessary, levy taxes upon all taxable property in the issuer, subject to applicable constitutional and statutory tax limitations, such sums as may be necessary to pay said principal and interest. The issuer shall be reimbursed for any such advance from the Net Revenues of the System subsequently received which are not otherwise pledged or encumbered by this Ordinance.

If the 1995 Bonds are purchased and held by MMBA, the form of the 1995 Bonds shall be changed as follows:

USE IF BONDS SOLD TO THE MMBA: Notwithstanding any other provision of this bond, so long as the Michigan Municipal Bond Authority (the "MMBA") is the owner of this bond, (a) this bond is payable as to principal, premium, if any, and interest at the principal corporate trust office of _____, Michigan, or at such other place as shall be designated in writing to the issuer by the MMBA (the "MMBA's Depository"); (b) the issuer agrees that it will deposit with the MMBA's Depository payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on this bond in immediately available funds at least five business days prior to the date on which any such payment is due whether by maturity, redemption or otherwise; and (c) written notice of any prepayment of this bond shall be given by the issuer and received by the MMBA's Depository at least 40 days prior to the date on which such prepayment is to be made.

In the event of a default in the payment of principal or interest hereon when due, whether at maturity, by redemption or otherwise, the amount of such default shall bear interest (the "additional interest") at a rate equal to the rate of interest which is one percent above the MMBA's cost of providing funds (as determined by the MMBA) to make payment on the bonds of the MMBA issued to provide funds to purchase this Bond but in no event in excess of the maximum rate of interest permitted by law. The additional interest shall continue to accrue until the MMBA has been fully reimbursed for all costs incurred by the MMBA (as determined by the MMBA) as a consequence of the issuer's default. Such additional interest shall be payable on the interest payment date following demand of the MMBA. In the event that (for reasons other than the default in the payment of any municipal obligation purchased by the MMBA) the investment of amounts in the reserve account established by the MMBA for the bonds of the MMBA issued to provide funds to purchase this Bond, fails to provide sufficient available funds (together with any other funds which may be made available for such purpose) to pay the interest on outstanding bonds of the MMBA issued to fund such account, the issuer shall and hereby agrees to pay on demand only the issuer's pro rata share (as determined by the MMBA) of such deficiency as additional interest on this bond.

NOTE: This paragraph is to be used if there is a full faith and credit pledge. This bond is primarily a self-liquidating bond, payable, both as to principal and interest, primarily from the Net Revenues of the System. The principal of and interest on this bond are secured by the statutory lien hereinbefore mentioned. As additional security, the issuer has pledged its limited tax full faith and credit for payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds of this issue, which includes the issuer's obligation to levy taxes, if necessary, within applicable constitutional and statutory tax limitations.

Section 22. Repeal, Savings Clause. All ordinances, resolutions or orders, or parts thereof, in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such conflict, repealed.

Section 23. Severability: Paragraph Headings: and Conflict. The paragraph headings in this Ordinance are furnished for convenience of reference only and shall not be considered to be part of this Ordinance.

Section 24. Publication and Recording. This Ordinance shall be published in full in The Chelsea Standard, a newspaper of circulation in the Village of Chelsea, qualified under State law to publish legal notices, promptly after its adoption, and shall be recorded in the Ordinance Book of the issuer and such recording authenticated by the signatures of the President and Clerk.

Biotechnology means better tasting tomatoes year around. Because the fruit softens more slowly, tomatoes bred through biotech can stay on vines longer before shipping to market, thereby adding flavor and color. This also will be possible with other fruits such as peaches, bananas and strawberries.

Michigan farmers grew about 94,000 head of sheep and lambs this year. Wool is one of the primary products. Shearing takes place in the spring by professional shearers. The fleeces are then bagged and shipped to a processor, where the wool is washed to remove dirt and grease. The grease is separated from the wash water and purified to produce lanolin, the natural ingredient used in cosmetics, creams and lotions.

Scott Holmes To Travel Across Europe To Play Soccer As Ambassador

Chelsea resident Scott Holmes has earned the opportunity to travel to Europe this summer to do something he loves: play soccer.

Holmes, 17, has been selected as a member of the East-West Soccer Ambassadors, an organization that specializes in sending youth overseas to serve as budding diplomats for their country, while at the same time playing their favorite sport.

Holmes, a midfielder/forward, will travel to Germany, Denmark and Sweden. East-West representative Norm Weber said Holmes had his choice of continents and countries for showcasing his soccer skills.

Holmes, who takes his trip July 12-30, said he first heard of the trip while reading an advertisement in a soccer magazine. He said he also knew of a friend who had traveled to Australia through the organization.

Holmes will meet his international teammates upon arriving in Denmark.

"I will be working with 17 other kids and four coaches," he said.

Once in Denmark, Holmes will train for a few days at the Vildbjerg Sports Center with East-West coaches and the Dutch Federation FA licensed coaches.

Weber said after the training period, the team will go to Gothenberg, Sweden, to compete in the Gothia Cup, which includes 900 teams from 50 countries. After the Cup, they will return to Denmark for the Dana Cup, which includes 700 teams from 45 countries, he said.

Weber said Holmes will be on tour with seven other teams from the East-West organization.

In addition to playing soccer, Holmes will have the opportunity to explore some of the cities in which he will be playing in as well as getting to know his opponents and swapping culture stories, Weber said.

He may be able to meet some higher-up government officials, all through a private luxury coach that will accompany the group throughout the trip, Weber said.

Holmes said he tried out for the trip at the Canton Soccer dome, but was unable to finish his tryout due to illness.

"I ended up going to Bay City to try out," he said.

Holmes, the son of Dudley and Dawn Holmes of Chelsea, said his family and friends are excited about the trip.

"I haven't talked to my soccer coach yet," he said.

Holmes, Chelsea High school's junior class president, was named to the Second-Team-All Conference for soccer. He hopes to play collegiate soccer upon entering college at one of the leading law schools in the country.

Holmes is responsible for paying for the trip, which will cost about $3,600.

Soccer has always been a part of Scott Holmes' life.

"I have a kindergarten picture of me holding a soccer ball that was sitting on my backpack. I had brought it in for Show-and-Tell."

He has been playing soccer since the first grade and has played in the soccer club at Chelsea High school, where he will graduate in 1996.

Holmes credits part of his hip skill in soccer to the two-year training he received in Tae Kwon Do. He was awarded his black belt in January 1994.

Dawn Holmes said her son has previously played for the Ann Arbor Recreation Department and was a member of their Premier Traveling Team.

The part of South America known as Patagonia gets its name from a Spanish word that means big feet. The Indians who lived there when the Spaniards arrived were tall and wore large boots stuffed with grass.

Council Votes To Use Trash Bags, Not Stickers

Trash night is soon to leave Chelsea streets lined in orange.

Uniform street-side orange garbage bags, bearing a white Chelsea logo, are to replace the trash bag stickers the village is currently issuing, the result of a unanimous Village Council decision made Feb. 28.

Village Manager Jack Myers said the Council purchased 100,000 trash bags to start. The 33-gallon bags are to be sold at 1 1/2 cents per bag, the similar going price of the unsuccessful stickers.

The stickers are being rejected because of complaints that they fall off in cold weather and because of the ability for the stickers to be stolen from curbside bags.

The problems with uniformity do not disappear in issues as seemingly insignificant as choosing trash bags. For instance, some people like bags with drawstrings, some don't, some like a star-shaped bottom, some like a square-shaped bottom. Council members chuckled over such quibbling questions.

The fact is that stickers are running low, Myers said, and a decision must be made.

So, the bags will come with ties.
