Christmas in April Still Accepting Volunteers for Annual Clean-up

Workers will repair eight homes on April 29

Chelsea residents may soon have the opportunity to play Santa for their fellow residents on April 29. Christmas in April will allow the community to get involved in worthwhile projects for their fellow friends and neighbors for the fourth year in a row.

Dick Shaneyfelt is this year's chairman for the Chelsea area, part of Washtenaw County's Christmas in April campaign that started five years ago.

The county organization expects to improve the living conditions for 100 families.

Selected residents in neighboring communities such as Dexter, Ann Arbor, Manchester, Milan, Saline, Whitmore Lake and Ypsilanti will benefit from this program.

This year, Chelsea's chapter expects to perform major repairs on eight area homes, as well as provide maintenance and yard work.

"Four homes are what we call 'clean and rake and run' job sites," Shaneyfelt said. "For these homes, we do general cleaning and yard work for the elderly and handicapped. Each site will take about two to three hours per site and we have roving bands of workers to do this."

He said the remaining four homes will require various kinds of plumbing, painting, glazing and caulking, electrical, plumbing, roofing and some yard work. Lunch will be provided at various sites for the workers.

Local community selection committees determined which homes were chosen on a basis of economic need of the homeowner, the scope of repairs, and the willingness of the homeowners to assist in the repairs. The over-all determination depended on the number of volunteers who signed up and the amount of contributions that were collected.

The campaign is associated the national organization of the same name in Washington, D.C. As of May 1994, 132 Christmas in April programs had been incorporated into local communities in 40 states.

During 1994, more than 3,700 homes were repaired by more than 120,000 volunteers. More than $24 million of work was completed and low-income, elderly and disabled persons in more than 328 cities and towns across America were grateful for these efforts. Since its inception in 1989, more than 520,000 volunteers of Christmas in April USA affiliates have rehabilitated 18,590 homes.

Over the three years, more than 400 Chelsea volunteers have worked on 24 homes doing just about every kind of work, Shaneyfelt said.

Scott Hinderer Dies After 6-Year Battle with Leukemia

Scott Hinderer touched the Chelsea community with his courage and zest for life. But yesterday, Hinderer lost his life to the disease he and his family tried so hard to fend off.

Hinderer, 10, died yesterday at his home in Chelsea after a six-year battle with Leukemia and unsuccessful bone marrow transplant. His funeral will be held 1 p.m. Friday at Zion Lutheran church. Burial will follow at Zion cemetery in Freedom township.

Hinderer was diagnosed with the fatal blood disease in 1989 during a routine visit to a doctor's office. The doctor found the young boy had an enlarged spleen. Since that time, Hinderer has undergone aggressive treatment for Leukemia. He began chemotherapy from the fall of 1989 through January 1993 at the University of Michigan Medical Center. From January 1993 to August 1993 he was disease-free and off chemotherapy. However, on Aug. 17, his mother, Linda Murdock, and father, Ted Hinderer, learned their son's Leukemia had relapsed. That is when they were told his only hope was a bone marrow transplant, an expensive procedure because screening for donors is not covered by health insurance.

After Murdock received the news of her son's relapse, it was decided that he would be put back on chemotherapy. Within another six weeks, the disease was back in remission. Once all his family members were tested and found unsuitable for a bone marrow match, the search was extended to unrelated donors through the National Marrow Donor Program in Minnesota. The NMDP data base holds information on more than one million potential donors.

When the information on Hinderer's blood was placed in the nationally-linked computer, 166 potential matches were found for him. Finally, last year a donor was found, a 47-year-old Frenchman. The transplant took place at Harper Hospital in Detroit and required several weeks of hospitalization for Hinderer. He spent the following months convalescing at home. The treatment took quite a toll on his immune system. To cover his medical expenses, funds were raised within the community through organized dinners, dances and other locally-sponsored fund drives.

Hinderer, a fourth grade student at South Elementary school, enjoyed athletics, fishing, drawing and painting. He particularly enjoyed baseball, and also played soccer, football and basketball on teams organized through the Chelsea Recreation Department. He played video games, exhibited pigs and lambs at Chelsea Community Fair and enjoyed science. He likely will be remembered for his ability to make friends, love of school and church and hard-fought battle.

SCOTT HINDERER, pictured last year with his mother, Linda Murdock, died yesterday after a six-year battle with Leukemia. His funeral will be held Friday at Zion Lutheran church.

Village Council Hears Recommendations for Martin Merkel Land

Planning Commission studies possible effects on village.

At Tuesday's Village Council meeting Planning Commission chairman Tim Eder, along with Margaret Schlanker, made preliminary recommendations for the Martin Merkel property and presented their study for review to the Village Council.

In May of 1994, property owner Martin Merkel petitioned the village council to amend current village boundaries to include a 157-acre parcel north of Freer Rd. At the time, the owners and developers wished to put a manufactured home park on the site.

A proposed mobile home park on the Martin Merkel property has been hotly debated at village council meetings in the past. Merkel, along with partners Phil Jenkins and Steve Tracy, proposed the annexation last June to the council. The land was used for growing soybeans and corn last summer in the agriculture-proud community of Lima township.

At the June 14, 1994, village council meeting, residents presented petitions with 640 signatures opposing the annexation of the Merkel property. Lima township officials asked Chelsea's village council to reject the annexation request last summer, citing the incompatibility with existing land uses and inconsistency with township and village master plans. Chelsea's village council referred the matter to its Planning Commission for review.

"Lima township wants to preserve the rural community and agriculture use to preserve open space which will maintain the difference between urban and country," said Greg McKenzie, Lima township planning commission chairman at that meeting.

At that June meeting, no one spoke in favor of the proposed annexation request, but plenty of people were against it. Emotions ran high as residents learned that the proposed mobile home park would generate a high density use that would surround much low-density residential and agriculture uses.

On Jan. 17, a public presentation of the commission's draft report was held. Approximately 35 residents attended the presentation, with 17 of them providing comments.

At the presentation, concerns over the village's ability to provide needed services was the main topic. Residents said they would like the following changes to be instituted in the community:

- a decrease in the scale of any proposed development.

- a control in timing of developments to ensure the village can adequately accommodate the increased demands without overburdening existing systems.

- developments should be phased and controlled to provide an appropriate pace of growth.

The commission took these requests into consideration when conducting the study.

The Hosmer report, prepared by financial consultant Jack Hosmer in June 1994, analyzed two types of proposed housing developments on the same 89-acre site. They are a manufactured home park and a single family residential development. Both would create 400 new housing units, the report indicates.

The Commission thought residents might assume that these are the only two options available; other options may exist.

Last July, the council referred the matter to the Planning Commission on whether this property should come into the village and, if so, what the land use should be constituted as.

The Planning Commission studied the matter and its possible effects on the village. Each planning commissioner researched one or more of the issues after consulting with village planner Carl Schmitt.

Last summer, Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation chairman Fred Barkley said that when the zoning ordinance was written several years ago, a tract of land for trailer park use was set aside to be used in appropriation with the size of the community.

"The Merkel property that lies west of Freer Rd. (extended) should be included within the Village boundaries at an appropriate time in the future," the report indicated. "We also recommend that at that time, the property is brought into the Village, it be zoned as low density residential and developed in phases as a planned unit."

The report indicated that the boundary change, zoning and development shouldn't take place until:

- an update is made to the 1976 General Development Plan (GDP) for the north area of the village (north of the railroad tracks).

- a traffic study is completed as part of the GDP update.

- construction is completed of new clarifiers (filters a substance to remove impurities) on the waste water treatment plant and expansion of the water supply.

- a revision is written of the Planned Unit Development section of the Village Zoning Ordinance.

The report listed the existing conditions, the general development plan policies, as well as electrical, water and sanitary sewer services statistics.

Police, fire, public schools, streets and access, public services vs. generated revenue, as well as an analysis of development reports were studied with recommendations made for each to the Village council.

The site is within Lima township, but developers have requested the village to incorporate a 157-acre parcel that includes the 89-acre site into the village boundary. The Hosmer report indicates that the proposal occur in phases that span over several years, with a five to 10 year completion targeted date. At present, neither proposal has been submitted to the Planning Commission.

The Commission explains that it was unclear what the other 69 acres in the 157-acre parcel would be used for.

The surrounding land on the southern and eastern boundaries consists of a tree nursery, sheep farm and a cattle breeding facility.

The Merkel property borders Letts Creek, Dexter-Chelsea Rd. and Jackson St.

District Library Law Attorney Addresses Planning Committee

Cynthia Faulhaber was the guest speaker at last month's District Library Planning Committee meeting. Ms. Faulhaber, an attorney with the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, was one of the principal authors of the state of Michigan's District Library Law and has assisted most of the libraries that have pursued District status.

Ms. Faulhaber presented the committee with a checklist of decisions and issues for becoming a district library. She also gave the group a sample District Agreement. The District Committee is responsible for tailoring this agreement to the specific needs of the Chelsea Community and negotiating its acceptance with the governing bodies of the Village of Chelsea and the townships of Lima, Lyndon, Sylvan and Dexter.

The District Committee, which is simultaneously making a needs assessment and financial study for the library, hopes to be able to present a comprehensive package to the governing bodies this summer. Acceptance of the agreement would establish the Chelsea District Library, maybe before the end of this and rural, to start neighborhood watch programs. This can be a powerful deterrent in preventing crime, she assured listeners. Members Paul Schaible, left, and Elmer Kiel, discussed the program with her.

Marx Doing Well on Some U.S. Campuses

It's a study in bizarre contrasts. Even as desperate Cubans risk their lives to escape communism, the teaching of Marxism continues to flourish on U.S. college campuses. But with a "modern" twist.

By Philip C. Clarke

Unlike the radical '60's, today's Marxists for the most part are not planning worker revolutions or the collapse of capitalism. Instead, they're offering schemes for economic equality and social justice. "These days," says the Wall Street Journal's education reporter Amanda Bennett, "Marxist academics are studying the economics of race and sex; the concepts of comparable worth and welfare reform, the future of world trade and the environment." All of which sounds a lot like the agenda to today's mainstream liberals.

Indeed, rather than folding their tents with the collapse of the Soviet Union, the neo-Marxists are adapting to changing times. An academic conference titled "Marxism in the New World Order" drew 1,500 enthusiastic participants. At this year's annual meeting of the American Economics Association, a session on "What It Still Means to be a Marxist in Economics" drew a standing-room only audience. Freed from association with the failed Soviet Union, "Marxian economics has regained the liveliness and the debates," says Richard Wolff, a Marxist professor at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. "It's fun."

Well, maybe Marxism is a ball for some academics. But it's more likely to be a tragedy for millions of people forced to live under what used to be called Marxism-Leninism. Actually, Karl Marx, the 19th century German philosopher and revolutionary, had little to say about communism, which took over in Russia during and after World War I. It was under the machinations of Vladimir Lenin that Marxism-Leninism began its bloody, 70-year drive for world domination.

Both Lenin and his successor, Josef Stalin, have become non-persons among today's Marxist intelligentsia—Stalin after his murderous proclivities were exposed by Nikita Khrushchev in 1956, and Lenin after his evil past was fully uncovered only recently. According to Dmitry Volkogonov, senior military advisor to President Boris Yeltsin and a prominent Russian author and historian, Lenin's "main quality was his enormous, fanatic belief in the Communist Utopia. To achieve it in practice, Lenin would not stop at anything: terrorism, lies and hostage-taking." Volkogonov said a study of 3,724 once-secret Soviet documents confirmed that Lenin unquestionably initiated the terror that Stalin carried on to kill millions of Russians. And contrary to previous Communist Party portrayals of Lenin as a patriotic hero, the historian found that he frequently referred to the Russian people as "fools" and "idiots."

Today's Marxists seem to have no difficulty in consigning Lenin to the "dustbin of history." And they offer ready explanations for the failure of the former Soviet and East European systems. Power was never equally distributed in the Soviet Union, says Stephen Resnick, another University of Massachusetts at Amherst economics professor. Instead, he says, the Soviet system was a form of state capitalism.

Mainstream economists scoff at such Marxist alibis. Paul Samuelson, emeritus professor of economics at MIT and author of a classic economics textbook, puts it this way: "Some Americans went from believing in the Soviet Union and becoming disillusioned, to believing in Castro's Cuba and becoming disillusioned, to Mao's China and becoming disillusioned. If you are a serious student of history, you have to ask yourself if it's the system that cannot work."

Yet, modern American Marxists still believe the system can work. John Roemer, a Marxist professor of economics at the University of California at Davis, would distribute equal numbers of shares in U.S. companies to all adult Americans in the form of vouchers. He argues that the basis of socialism is not state planning and ownership but "egalitarianism." Antonio Callari, a professor at Franklin and Marshall College, would impose a so-called "social tariff" on imports from countries with repressive social policies. Julie Mattaei, a Wellesley College economics professor, says today's Marxists are concerned with an "analysis of how institutions are oppressive, based on gender, race and sexuality." And Stephen Resnick, the University of Massachusetts economics professor, among others, would like Congress to pass a law giving workers control over all company profits. "The workers at General Motors," he says,

"should get the profits of General Motors."

Somehow, a lot of these "new" Marxist schemes have an old and familiar ring.

Council Rejects Move To Hike Sewer Contract

A motion to add $23,950 to an existing contract for the Freer Rd. sewer construction project died at the Village Council meeting last Tuesday night.

Village manager Jack Myers updated the council sewer work project, and made several recommendations to the board. Myers said several residents have complained about the project.

"Street repair and maintenance are two major problems," Myers said.

Currently, no sidewalks are available on the west side of Freer Rd. It is because N. Freer Rd. is wider than S. Freer Rd., explained assistant village manager Bruce Pindzia.

Council trustee Brian Cashman commented, "There's water along Freer Rd., south of the high school driveway, going along the road."

Myers proposed that he would like to have premium curbs, gutters and sewer catch basins added to the construction.

Concert in Park Series Planned

Reggae and Irish folk is just a sample of the variety of music you'll find at this year's concert in the park series. Four Sundays of music, comedy, food and fun are planned for July 2, 16, 30 and Aug. 13 at Pierce Park.

The concerts will be sponsored by Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, Chelsea Recreation Council and Chelsea Community Hospital.

The cost would increase the contract by approximately $23,950, he said. The funds would come from the local streets (major) fund. The 30-foot deep sewer project starts at Freer Rd., and continues along the back of the high school parking lot.

In discussion, trustee Richard Rigg asked Myers if residents would be required to pay for curb cuts. Myers said they wouldn't.

Council trustee Joe Merkel commented that a lot of kids walk to the high school and they have to walk around the sewer project construction on Freer Rd. to get to school.

Pindzia said that additional water results in increased pavement deterioration. He said the proposed gutters would collect the added water, thus resulting in less damage to pavements.

Trustee Robert Clark made the motion to add the increased monies to the contract. The motion was not seconded and subsequently died.

Christmas in April Seeks Volunteers

The community has raised about $20,000 to date. Currently, $4,200 in donations has been collected. "This year we are off to a good start, if we could have a day without rain," Shaneyfelt said. "It has rained every year so far."

Lions Clubs, Rotary Club, Chelsea High school National Honor Society students, and the Knight of Columbus members are just some of the groups who have signed up so far.

Among the area churches who have volunteered so far for Christmas in April are St. Paul's, St. Mary's, First Congregational and North Lake United Methodist.

There is an age limit of 18 years. Because of this, the local boy and girl scouts are unable to participate. Instead, they will be conducting a canned food drive under parental supervision for Faith in Action.

If anyone would like to volunteer, forms are available at the village offices and at Faith in Action. For more information, call 475-8193. To make a donation, make checks (no cash) payable to Christmas in April, Chelsea Area and mail it to 20160 Brown Dr., Chelsea.

"We are still accepting volunteers," Shaneyfelt said.

Planning Commission Approves Arby's Preliminary Site Plan

Chelsea residents may soon be able to "taste the difference" at a new Arby's restaurant in Chelsea. At its last meeting on March 21, the Planning Commission approved the preliminary application of a site plan for a new Arby's restaurant in Chelsea, said planning commission secretary Mark Wesley.

Brighton resident Joseph Colyer had filed an application request for site plan approval with the commission. At the March 21 meeting, the commission made some recommendations that it would like to see added to the preliminary site plan.

"They still have to come back with a final site plan," Wesley said. "We want to look at it very closely."

The preliminary application included a new restaurant, access road and a parking lot on a parcel of land, owned by Ann Arbor resident Rene Pappo.

"They still have to come back with a final site plan. We want to look at it very closely."

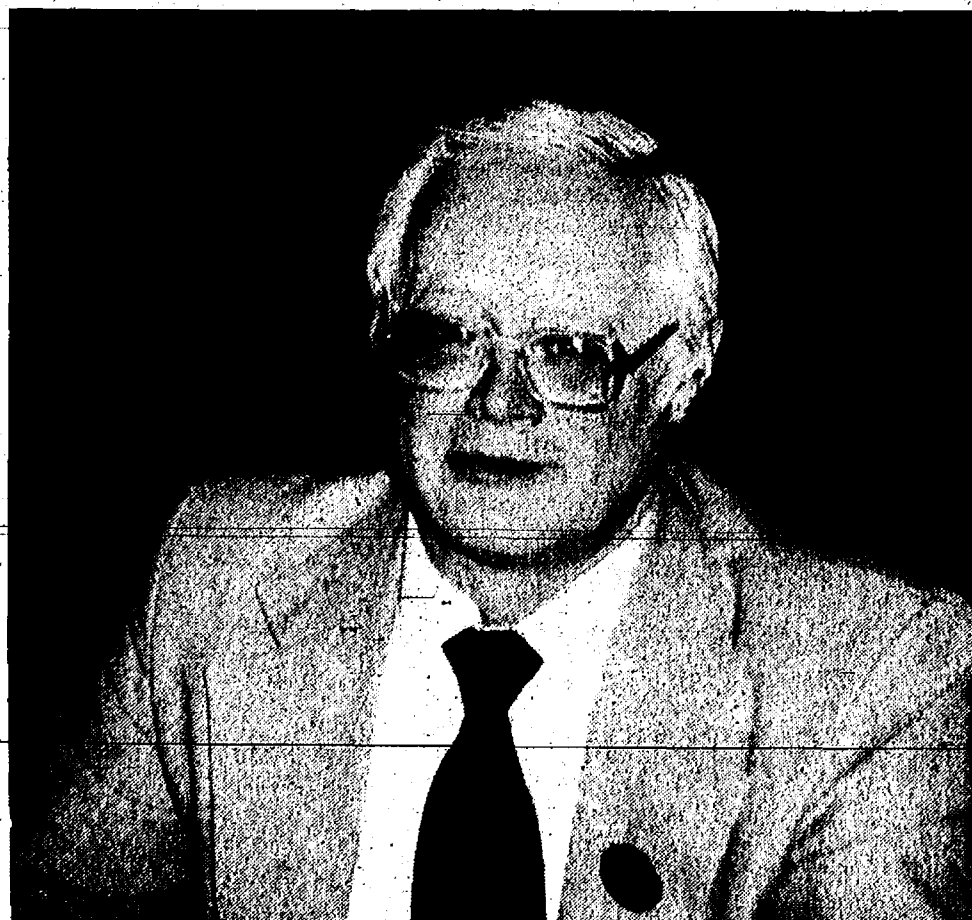

— Mark Wesley, Planning Commission secretary

One major concern of the planning commission was of the access road to be located at Brown Dr. and M-52, Wesley said. The restaurant, if approved, will join the businesses bordering exit 159 off of I-94.

The Planning Commission meets at 7:30 p.m. on the third Tuesday of each month at Sylvan Township Hall. Its next meeting is scheduled for April 18.

Woman's Club Hears Talk on Chelsea's Future

Woman's Club of Chelsea members gathered in the McKune Memorial Library Club Room for their March 28 meeting. There were 19 members present.

Guest speaker, Ann Feeney, was introduced by Ginny Johnson. Ann and her family moved to Chelsea in 1972 and since that time she has become one of Chelsea's most avid supporters. Currently, she is executive director of the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce. She has also been recently elected as president of the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) and is also a charter member of the Historical Society.

Her program for this day was entitled "Chelsea in the Future." However, first she reviewed many of the changes the community of Chelsea has seen come to pass. Downtown has seen many changes. Many of these changes have come about through the involvement of the DDA. Along with that came the co-operation and interest from its citizens to keep downtown alive and prosperous.

The updating of the water treatment plant in 1988 proved to be a turnaround for residential building. Since 1990 800 new families have been welcomed through the Newcomers Welcome Service.

Ann also talked about the many businesses that are being carried on by second and third generations—a sure sign that Chelsea is the place to be.

Changes that Chelsea can look forward to dealing with in the future are the possibility of becoming a city, a medical waste incinerator in the Industrial Park, the approaching bond issue and building a new school, and the mobile home park issue is not going away as it is being brought into the courts.

In conclusion Ann's comment was, "We have to encourage development to keep what we have." Chelsea will continue to change.

Following Ann's presentation, president Shirley Smith presided over a short business meeting.

Hostesses for the evening were Mary Lou Bower and Billie Zenz.

The club's next meeting will be on April 25 at McKune Memorial Library.

Michigan Still Ranks As the 'Chubby' State

By Debbie Barrow
Extension Home Economist

Michigan has one of the nation's chubbiest, least healthy populations, according to a state-by-state report card on American health.

The report, Behavioral Risk Factor Survey, part of a national study co-ordinated by federal health officials, found that nearly 30 percent of Michiganders were overweight, putting the state in sixth place nation-wide—down from third place in 1992 and first in 1991.

This change in ranking doesn't mean Michiganders are getting slimmer—it means the obesity rates in other states may be catching up to ours.

State residents also kept their reputation as hard drinkers, rising to second in the nation for prevalence of drinking and driving, up from fourth place.

On the bright side, officials were cheered by the high rates of seat belt usage in Michigan (84 percent say they buckle up), health insurance coverage (more than 90 percent say they're covered) and an apparent decline in smoking.

Smoking dropped from an average of 28 percent of Michiganders in the late 1980s to 25 percent in 1993. Michigan now ranks 13th nationwide in the percentage of people who smoke, down from second in 1990. Officials say that more years of data are needed to confirm a decline.

To fight obesity, the state will embark on its first organized program to improve Michiganders' diets in 1995. Using the Five-A-Day program, developed in California, which promotes eating at least two servings of fruit and three servings of vegetables a day, promoters will place brochures, posters and other promotions at Michigan supermarkets and other sites.

Other listings for Michigan include fifth in the percentage of residents (6 percent) who have ever been told they have diabetes and 22nd in the percentage (22 percent) ever told they have high blood pressure.

Twenty-five percent could not tread water for five minutes.

Health experts say there are no simple reasons why Michigan residents are notorious for having poor health habits. Some point to the state's historic role as a leading dairy producer for contributing to our high-fat diets. Ethnic background may also play a part—the obesity rate among blacks was nearly double that of whites.

The risk factor survey is based on thousands of phone surveys conducted nationwide by state health departments. The effort is co-ordinated by the federal government's Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Brownie Troop 301 Makes Music

South Elementary school Brownie Troop 301 enjoyed making a "kitchen band" recently as part of the Music Try-It. The second grade girls played a variety of kitchen-found items, and kept beat to several popular tunes. They also sang rounds, learned a song in sign language and sang in French. The Brownies also participated in action songs, such as "head-shoulders-knees and toes."

Brownie Troop 301 has met weekly since October 1994 and are an active group. They have earned the following Try-Its: Girl Scout Ways, My Body, Food Fun, Safety, Science in Action, and Music. In May, a trip to the Hands-On Museum, will focus on Water Everywhere.

Brownie Troop 301 has also tried to serve the Chelsea Community. At Christmas the girls carolled at the Chelsea Retirement Home and passed out Holiday cards and candy-canes. They are making Easter Baskets now, which will be taken to Chelsea Community Hospital, West End.

Council activities that Troop 301 has been involved with are Thinking Day and the Father-Daughter Banquet. The girls will help with Scouting for Food in April.

In addition to the many activities they do, the girls in Brownie Troop 301 have fun. Crafts, games, songs, snacks, giggling, running and friendship abound at the meetings (held Tuesdays after school).

Troop 301 is led by Laura Hamm and Judy Gentz.

Grain Dealers Act Changes Sought By Grain Farmers

Michigan farmers hope the Legislature will soon approve changes in the state's Grain Dealers Act to provide more security to farmers who sell grain to truckers.

"The amendments would provide a separate standard for truckers," said Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. "The effect would be to provide a measure of assurance that the farmer would be paid for the grain."

Nelson said many truckers had difficulty complying with the stringent requirements of the Act, which are mostly applicable to grain elevators. "Therefore, the truckers were buying grain in violation of the Act and putting the farmers at risk. The new standard provides a mechanism which we hope will allow truckers to comply with the law," he said.

Sylvan township clerk Richard Kern was notified by county clerk Luella M. Smith that extra precautions should be taken to secure the voting machines since it was believed a state recount was possible because of the close results in the contest for one of the posts on the Wayne State University Board of Governors. Pending a decision on the possible state recount, Kern said, no check would be undertaken on whether or not the Sylvan township machines were improperly adjusted so that cross voting for candidates for constable was not possible.

McKune Memorial Library director Ann Holt will review Family by Ian Frazier at McKune-Memorial Library's Brown Bag Book Club April meeting on Monday, April 10. Family, Ian Frazier's first book since his 1989 success Great Plains, tells the history of his family in America, from the early colonial days to the present, Holt said.

"It is a story of middle-class life told using letters and other family documents. He reconstructs 200 years of family history, visiting small towns his family lived in, and studying the historical events that touched their lives," Holt added.

Embraced by the Light, by Betty J. Eadie, originally scheduled for review in April by Marge German, will now be the Book Club's June selection.

CHELSEA FIREFIGHTER STEVE JASKOT participated in a fire attack on an vacant house on Cavanaugh Lake on Saturday. The house is owned by Chelsea resident Dave McLaughlin. Fire fighters from Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Northfield township and Henrietta township banded together to learn from, and teach each other, safety precautions and procedures of fire fighting.

FIREFIGHTER ONE (FF1) ROOKIES hose down a burning house during a fire training exercise on Cavanaugh Lake Saturday. FF1 rookies use ladders tracks to put out fires from the air and onto a roof. Once these firefighters become certified, they will learn a fire attack sequence, where experienced firefighters set small fires to carpeting, drapes and furniture. The fires are fought one at a time in various rooms throughout the building.

'Hang the Moon' Drama Opens Friday at Purple Rose Theatre

Purple Rose Theatre Company will produce Hang the Moon, a new drama by Suzanne Burr, for an eight-week limited engagement of performances through May 21. Six low-priced previews of Hang the Moon will be held Thursday, March 30 through Thursday, April 6, with the Official Opening Night on Friday, April 7. Performances for the remainder of the eight-week engagement will be Wednesdays through Saturdays at 8 p.m. with Sunday shows at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. through Sunday, May 21. All performances are at the Purple Rose Theatre Company's Garage Theatre, 137 Park St.

Written by Michigan playwright Suzanne Burr, Hang the Moon centers around Eddie Cooper, a middle-aged veteran who has been unable to leave the memories of Vietnam behind. Troubled by the choices he had to make during his military service, Eddie refuses to face the realities he encounters in civilian life. Locked deep in his mind are passionate, yet painful memories of a young child he befriended while overseas. With the help of his sister, Rose, and his military buddy, Frankie Ferrano, Eddie is willing to finally leave the military hospital and face the future. The love, understanding and care of his family and friends help him overcome his guilt-ridden past and begin a new life.

Hang the Moon was written by Suzanne Burr, a recipient of a 1994 Creative Artists Award from the Arts Foundation of Michigan. Ms. Burr became an Associate Member of the Purple Rose Theatre Company Playwrights Unit, where the script received two developmental workshop readings during 1994. This activity was sponsored by the Arts Foundation of Michigan in conjunction with the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs. Ms. Burr has received a Hopwood Award in Creative Writing from the University of Michigan, where she also teaches screenwriting. Later in May of this year, an excerpt from Post Partum, her new full-length work in progress, will be presented in the New-Voices Bijou Festival, co-produced by Ann Arbor Civic Theatre and Ann Arbor Playwrights.

Steve Dixon (Ypsilanti) will lead the cast of Hang the Moon in the role of Eddie Cooper, with Milfordian Luster (Detroit) as his sister Rose and Guy Sanville (Haslett) as his friend Frankie Ferrano. The remainder of the cast includes Joseph Albright (Detroit), Dan Brinkle (Jackson), Olivia Kasle (Ann Arbor), Bert Matias (Chicago), Parker Plague (Canton) and Robert Starko (Ann Arbor).

Hang the Moon is being directed by T. Newell Kring, artistic director of the Purple Rose Theatre Company. Set design is by Rob Murphy and lighting design is by Dana White. Costume design is by Susan Holls Naum and sound design is by Joe Jenkins. Anthony Caselli is the stage manager for the eight-week performance run.

Tickets for Hang the Moon vary in price from $10 to $25.

Reservations may be obtained by calling the Purple Rose Theatre Company Box Office at (313) 475-7902. Ticket reservations are recommended due to the limited capacity. The PRTC Box Office is open Monday through Friday from 12 noon to 6 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays of performances beginning one hour prior to curtain.

Michigan Man Keeps Lincoln's Memory Alive

As soon as they heard the news of Abraham Lincoln's death, Michigan residents gathered evergreen boughs to adorn the slain president's funeral bier in Illinois. Now as the 130th anniversary of the nation's first presidential assassination nears, one Michigan man is dedicated to keeping Lincoln's memory alive.

In the March/April 1995 issue of Michigan History Magazine author Mary Dempsey reveals Lincoln's many Michigan connections and introduces one of the nation's leading Lincoln scholars, Oakland County resident Weldon Petz.

Petz, a former big band musician and retired school administrator, developed an interest in the nation's 16th president at an early age. That interest never diminished and has resulted in Petz writing numerous articles and a book, and acquiring more than 40,000 pieces of Lincoln and Civil War memorabilia.

"Mr. Petz has distinguished himself with his tireless, 60-year drive to understand and champion Abraham Lincoln," said Secretary of State Candice S. Miller, Michigan's official historian. "As a person who shares the nation's heritage with countless students and scholars, he is an important part of our Michigan heritage."

Also featured in the March/April 1995 issue of Michigan History Magazine is the exciting conclusion of "The Case Against Mi'o Radulovich," the story of a U.S. Air Force lieutenant caught up in the era of McCarthyism, a discovery of the art and life of Detroit stained-glass artist Ignace Schott, and a look at the mail-order kit home produced by Bay City's Lewis Manufacturing Co.

The nation's leading state history magazine, Michigan History Magazine is a colorful bimonthly published by the Michigan Department of State's Bureau of Michigan History. Single issues are available for $2.95 each at outlets across the state. One-year subscriptions for $12.95 and single issues are available directly from the magazine by sending a check or money order made payable to "State of Michigan" to: Michigan History Magazine, 717 W. Allegan St., Lansing 48918-1805. Telephone the magazine's toll-free number, 1-800-366-3703, to use Visa or MasterCard.

Grade Schools Finish March Is Reading Month Competition

North school's theme this year was Jog Around the World. Students read books at home and then filled out jogging shoes with the book titles. The cafeteria at North school has jogging shoes all around it with an enormous earth in the middle.

To celebrate the students reading, teachers performed two storybook skits: "Miss Nelson Is Missing" and "The Gunniwolf." All North school students then participated in a jog around Lanewood with their principal, Bill Wescott.

For March Is Reading Month, South Elementary school's theme was "Pig Out on Books." During the month every student received a pig bookmark and pig sticker. All the students were called to "get caught reading" and when caught were rewarded with a pig pencil, word find puzzle and reading award.

South school's reading month ended with an assembly with a play done by the teachers. The play was "The Three Little Wolves and the Big Bad Pig!"

Highlight of the assembly was a visit by the Rodgers family pet pig Wilbur and seeing South school's principal Mrs. Stieber kiss the pig.

No Bids Submitted For Sibley Rd. Farm House in March

No bids were received in March from contractors who might want to purchase and move the Sibley Rd. farm house, according to village manager Jack Myers at last Tuesday's Village Council meeting.

Myers said the property was advertised for 30 days but to no avail, culminating in $400 in advertising costs.

The council voted, 7-0, to extend the bid process through April. The minimum bid is $4,000. The cost includes having contractors purchase and move the farm house from its village-owned site.

The bid will be posted in Sylvan township Hall throughout the month of April.

Myers asked the council if it wanted to pay for advertising for another 30 days. In discussion, council members thought advertising would prove to be futile since no bids were received the first time.

Sibley Rd. House is an old farm house that borders the industrial park. It is on land the village would like to rezone for industrial property. Once the farm house is taken from its foundation and relocated, village council can rezone the parcel and sell the land as part of the industrial park.

A previous bid was submitted for $101 in January to move the house. That bid was not accepted by the council. Myers again requested bids in March in hopes of getting a better price for the farm house and moving expenses.

There are nine lots for sale in the industrial park totaling 17.47 acres.

Storyteller LaRon Williams Will Perform for Library Week

Master Storyteller LaRon Williams will address what he calls "the great mysteries of Life" in a presentation of traditional tales of wit, pathos and humor on Wednesday, April 26 at 7 p.m. His performance will be held at the Chelsea Historic Depot Meeting Room.

Williams will bring multi-cultural stories from around the world, with an emphasis on African and African-American tales that appeal to people of all ages and cultures.

His playful baritone voice and skillful, theatrical interpretations of African-American folk tales create an experience which his audiences have referred to as one of "goose-bumpy delight."

Over the past few years, LaRon Williams has earned a reputation as one of the premier storytellers in the state of Michigan. He has remarkable rapport with his audience.

Both the kids and the adults just loved him when he came to South," said Anne Merkel, South school PTSDO president. "He used dialect, facial expressions, and movement to tell amazing stories—I've heard that when the groups are small enough he makes sweet potato pie."

"I like to explore what I call the 'great mysteries' in life—birth, death, and how things came to be the way they are," Williams said. "I incorporate singing, acting and visual art—and occasionally home cooking into my stories."

With his voice he creates thunder, or the sound of water falling, and delivers chilling versions of traditional songs. He often uses stand-up props of his own design. These abilities, together with his mastery over a wide range of dialects and vocal inflections enable him to conjure up complex scenarios, and to bring an array of characters to life; including talking animals, deities, and trolls.

He also uses many traditional instruments, including djembe drum and mbira from Africa, bones from the U.S., and the jaw harp. Songs and games are also featured.

"I am motivated, in part, by the belief that the power and beauty of African culture should be shared," Williams says. "The lessons of struggle, perseverance, and survival of

LaRON WILLIAMS

Africans in the Western Hemisphere is part of a legacy we all should recognize and own.

"Ultimately, love of one's own culture is not enough. We all have to take the time to tell each other our stories—with all the joy and triumphs and pain and smiles they bring," Williams said. "We have to know and accept the ways in which we're different, and become aware of and appreciate the ways in which we're alike. Most importantly, we must learn to use that knowledge—not to ascribe hierarchy or to produce winners and losers—but to promote understanding and resolution."

Williams is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University. His unique and varied background includes theater, visual arts, film and video production, gymnastics, modern and traditional dance, vocal and instrumental music, child care, food service, and newspaper reporting.

One of Williams' recent performances was on the stage at Ann Arbor's Power Center. He also has performed in libraries, theaters, churches, schools, and on radio and TV in several states on both sides of the Mississippi.

Williams' presentation at the Depot is sponsored by Friends of McKune Memorial Library. It is free and open to the public.

Car Keyed at Wolverine Bar

A malicious destruction of property was discovered after a woman had gone to the Wolverine Bar on March 28. The woman did not notice any damage at the time and went home.

The next day, her son noticed a scratch mark on the 1994 Mercury's passenger side, resembling a key scratch. The scratch began at the middle of the door and continued to the area under the rear window.

Weather Cancels Tennis Team's First Match

Mother Nature certainly hasn't helped out Chelsea's boys' tennis team lately.

"Our first match (March 28) was canceled due to inclement weather," said new Bulldog tennis coach Rahn Rosentreter. He said the match has yet to be rescheduled.

Provided Mother Nature doesn't show her mean streak again, the team will face off at home against Haslett on Tuesday, April 11 at 4 p.m.

"If it's not outdoors, it's canceled," Rosentreter said.

Rosentreter said first-flight and second-flight singles positions haven't been determined this early in the season with Nathan Butler and Dan Johnson both vying for the top seed. The No. 3 singles spot belongs to Scott Boughton. The No. 4 singles position could be filled by either Steve McDonnell or Jason Middleton, he said.

"Everyone, but Middleton, is a returning letter winner" in singles, Rosentreter said.

Doubles positions are secured, he said. Mike Bainton and Kevin Myers will comprise the No. 1 spots. Ben O'Connor and Dan Aeonger are No. 2 doubles partners, while Ryan Chase and Mark Valchine will take up the No. 3 positions.

Rounding out the team roster are Scott Hammett, Bob Armstrong, Jacob Bell, Ben Muha and Richard Murphy. Rosentreter plans on more players trying out.

"I'm sure we'll pick up some stragglers," he said.

Rosentreter took over the Bulldog tennis team after last year's coach, Terry Curtis, retired and moved up to northern Michigan.

Zoning Classification Conflicts Prompt Proposed Streetscape Study

Rezoning request stays dormant until Planning Commission can complete study

Ann Arbor resident Rene Papo went before the village council last Tuesday night in the hopes of getting a parcel of land he owns rezoned. Papo said he wondered how much longer the rezoning of his land would take. He said he is interested in developing the land as soon as possible.

Papo said the land is classified as C-3, highway commercial property.

Some conflicts arose among council members and Papo as to whether the land is zoned C-4, restricted commercial property, and whether it has been, or can be, rezoned from C-4 to C-3 status. Village president Richard Steele said he would like to see a development plan in order to alleviate further conflicts on the matter.

Planning Commission chairman Tim Eder said the commission recommends that the land not be rezoned. Eder told the council that the commission would like to complete a streetscape study of the land. This study would examine the architecture, landscape as well as other factors, which affect the surrounding community.

Commission secretary Mark Wesley said that bids would be contracted with developers in order for the streetscape study to be completed.

"A streetscape study is to determine how land is to be best developed," Wesley said. "We're trying to avoid the 'strip mall' look. We want to preserve the character of the village."

The council motioned to table the rezoning request for Papo's property along Old US-12 until a streetscape study could be completed.

The motion carried, 7-0.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

CHELSEA SOFTBALL FANS expect a great season to develop this spring on the strong arms of Carey Schiller, right, now a senior who achieved all-state honors last year as a pitcher/outfielder, and Lisa Beard, who provides an especially powerful pitch and great outfield ability. Both are great hitters and can play outfield when not pitching. The team is working out this week in the Charleston, S.C. area and will return Sunday. Their first game will be a visit to Fowlerville on Tuesday, April 11. The home-opener will be Saturday, April 15 against Detroit Murray Wright. Game time is 11 a.m.

BULLDOG CATCHERS Lori Ritter and Melissa Messner are fine-tuning their skills in preparation for the spring season. Both joined their team in the Charleston, S.C. area this week for spring training.

They will show off their talent in a home-opener Saturday, April 15 against Detroit Murray Wright. Game time is 11 a.m.

Boy's Track Team Builds on Success Stories, Creates Future Champions

□ A record 55 members make up this year's team

Success has paved the way for Chelsea's boy's track team in the past, and hopefully in the future as well. That reason is believed to be the cause of the overwhelming response for the 55-member team this year, said coach Pat Clarke.

"In my 26 years of coaching, this is a record turnout for the track team," he said. "We're still looking at people and getting our guys out."

The season actually started at the Siena Heights Invitational on March 18. The team went to the meet, which wasn't scored, Clarke said. From there, the team geared up for the Eastern Michigan University Relays on March 24. A total of 54 teams participated in the event, with some teams coming up from Ohio. The team of Scott Hawley, Chad Brown, newcomer Josh Metzler and Dan Wehrwein placed 10th in the 3200-meter relay. In the sprint medley, the team of Hawley, Mark Hand, Jim Irwin and Wehrwein placed third.

Hand didn't stop there. He competed in the high jump with a personal-best height of 5 feet, 8 inches. Hand was unable to place in this event, even though it was his best jump.

In the long jump category, Dave Tracey also had a personal best achievement. He cleared 12 feet in the sand. Unfortunately, his jump didn't qualify for placement.

The next meet is scheduled for Tuesday, April 11 at 4:30 p.m. at Lincoln.

Clarke didn't make any predictions on this season's standing, but did comment, "We will show up to all the meets."

The team lost three seniors; two-time state champion Dave Beeman, shot put, discus; Dan Stimpson, all-league hurdler; Rob Frost, all-league sprinter — to graduation last year. Also graduating was Corey Brown, who was a distance runner in the before mentioned 3200-meter relay team. Corey Brown now runs distance for the University of Michigan.

Seniors Hawley, Wehrwein and Ryan Schultz, who replaced Corey Brown in the 3200-meter relay, are returning all-state competitors. Hawley runs mid-distance, while Schultz runs distance. Wehrwein competes in the long jump.

Other returning seniors are Brian Atlee, distance; Chad Brown, distance; Josh Inwood, hurdles; Kevin Kolodica, 400-meter and relays; Eric LeFurge, distance; Karsten Lipiec, distance; Josh Metzler, distance; Charles Sell, mid-distance; Bryndon Skelton, hurdles; Adam Skyes, shot put; Jason Valchine, hurdles; and Jeremy Ziegler, hurdles.

Juniors are Tom Barkman, shot put; Josh Bernhard, shot put; Kevin Cross, high jump, long jump and 200-meter; Pat Flynn, distance; Garth Hammer, shot put; Mark Hand, high jump, long jump and relays; Kevin Holmes, long jump and sprints; Jim Irwin, sprints; Tom Irwin, sprints; Eric McCalla, shot put and discus throw; Damon McLaughlin, shot put, discus throw and sprints; Jason Scior, high jump and sprints; Mike Smith, distance; Peter Straub, long jumps and sprints; Dave Tracey, pole vault and sprints; and Tim Wesner, 400-meter.

Sophomores are Mike Albert, pole vault and sprints; Brian Bloemsaat, sprints and long jump; Robert Bullock, distance; Chris Dronen, high jump, hurdles; Deacon Holton, distance; Jake Hurst, distance; Blase Lipiec, distance and pole vault; Aaron Sporer, distance; and Dan Weir, distance.

Freshman are Matt Adams, hurdles and high jump; Aaron Atlee, distance; Joe Barkman, shot put; Kevin Bloemsaat, pole vault and sprints; Chris Frayer, hurdles; Rob Frayer, pole vault and distance; Joe Frost, 200-meter; Matt Kennedy, high jump and hurdles; Matt Kolodica, distance; Mike McPike, distance; Zack Parham, 100-meter; Ben Wehlan, shot put and sprints; Adam Wanty, sprints; and Brent

"In my 26 years of coaching, this is a record turnout for the track team."

Pat Clarke
Boy's track coach

Young, pole vault and sprints.

Eric Swager is the assistant coach and works out with the distance runners. Brian Zangara is a volunteer coach, also for distance runners.

"Brian used to be one of my runners," Clarke said.

Last year, the boy's track team was third in the league, second in the region and third in the state.

"This year, we should be in the middle of the pack in the league," Clarke said.

The toughest competition for the Bulldogs will be Pinckney — the No. 1 favorite, Clarke added. Lincoln, their competition on April 11, is ranked second.

"Lincoln graduated most of its team last year," Clarke said.

Will the team be as successful as last year? Clarke hopes so.

Swim Team Honors Top Athletes at Annual Banquet

□ Matt McVittie is first Bulldog swimmer to achieve All America status

Chelsea High school boy's swim season came to a close last Wednesday evening at the annual dinner and awards presentation. The banquet took place at an area restaurant, where everyone was treated to a wonderful meal and atmosphere. The focus of the evening, of course, is on the accomplishments of this year's fine swimming squad.

The team finished their season 8-4 in dual meets, third in the SEC conference meet, and an outstanding eighth place at this year's class B, C, and D state swimming and diving championships.

Listed below are the awards given at this very special evening.

Each team member was recognized for the years that have been committed to the squad.

Senior plaques were given to Bergman, Fox, Kevin Kolodica, Steve Straub, Ziegler and McVittie.

All-conference awards were earned by Desarbo, 100-backstroke; Bergman, 50-freestyle, 200-medley relay and 200-freestyle relay; Steve Straub, 200-freestyle relay; Kevin Kolodica, 100 breaststroke, 200 medley relay and 200 freestyle relay; McVittie, 200 individual medley, 100 freestyle, 200 medley relay and 200 freestyle relay; and Curt Street, 200 medley relay.

All State Awards were earned by the 200 freestyle relay team for the second year. The team consists of McVittie, Steve Straub, Kevin Kolodica and Bergman.

McVittie qualified for All State in the 200 freestyle and the 100 freestyle.

"These events will also be qualifying him for All America," said coach Dave Jolly. "He's the first All America to come through our program."

The Ann Arbor News named Kevin Kolodica and McVittie to the all area swim team. McVittie also was named to the Detroit Free Press Dream Team for his outstanding accomplishments during the season.

The Coach's Award went to Matt Kolodica, while the Most Improved Swimmer went to Kevin Kolodica. McVittie was named the Most Valuable Swimmer.

Runaway Comes Home

A 14-year-old female went on a trip to Jackson and failed to return home on March 24. The girl left with her friend and her friend's mother to visit the friend's brother, who resides in Jackson.

The female and her friend left the brother's home around 7 p.m. and decided to go for a walk. They never returned to the brother's house. The female called home around 9 p.m. that evening, but failed to state where she was.

The mother filed a missing persons report the next day. The 14-year-old returned home two days later after the report was filed.

Accidental Shooting

An accidental shooting was reported at Cook's Party Store, 1534 Sugar Loaf Lake Rd., March 29. A 47-year-old township man employed at the store came in at 6 a.m. to open it up for business. The store owner, a 73-year-old township woman who lives in an apartment in the rear of the store, told police she heard him come in and then she heard a loud noise. When she responded, the woman said she discovered the employee had accidentally shot himself in the leg while cleaning a gun kept at the business. Huron Valley Ambulance was called and the man was taken to the University of Michigan Hospital emergency room. He told police that he accidentally dropped the gun and it discharged. The bullet hit him in the right calf but did not strike any major arteries or bones.

A 48-year-old township woman told police $21,940 worth of property was stolen from her home, including several guns, computer games, cash, jewelry and electronic equipment. His companion denied the assault and said the other man was trying to kick him out of the home they shared. He is accusing the other of throwing him out the sliding glass door. The older man told police the man crashed through the glass door to gain entry after he threw him out. The girl called the emergency telephone number 911 after her father fell asleep. A deputy woke up her father to interview him about the incident. The man admitted to grabbing his daughter and pulling her hair. She told the deputy she wants to be emancipated. Council Tables Building Request

Huron Valley Ambulance authorities have approached the village council regarding a fire barn to be constructed by the white house behind the hospital on Old US-12. HVA has been saving for three years and plans to build the barn, which would house an ambulance, as well as four village fire trucks in two bays if the village concedes.

Council trustee Joe Merkel reported that the village's share would be $300,000 if the village decides to give its approval. He said Chelsea State Bank has agreed to lend $330,000 for 10 years to cover the project's expenses.

Payments would be approximately $4,100 per month over the next 10 years, Merkel said. Upkeep of the building would require an additional $5,000-$7,000 annually after the 10-year payment period is complete, he said.

The hospital will own the building and the property upon which it rests. HVA has requested a 99-year lease on the building. Groundbreaking is slated for May.

Fire chief Dan Ellenwood has said the barn "would be very beneficial." He said he is in favor of having additional fire trucks in another location other than its present Middle St. housing in the unfortunate outcome if the building and/or trucks are damaged by fire or natural disaster. Currently, the Middle St. location is the only place the village houses fire trucks.

Merkel again reminded the council that a decision has to be made soon, as groundbreaking begins next month.

The discussion was tabled until the next council meeting on April 11 at 7:30 p.m. in Sylvan Township Hall.

THIRD GRADE STUDENTS at South Elementary school celebrated Founders' Day by participating in many pioneer activities. The students "attended" a one-room schoolhouse, played pioneer games, and made butter and ice cream. Jessica Taylor is shown kneading dough used in making bread.

Student Becomes Disruptive in Beach Principal's Office

A Beach Middle school student became disorderly when he was told by the principal to wait in the outer office regarding an incident occurring the previous day. The student became disruptive after being told he would have to wait in the outer office for his parents to arrive to discuss a disciplinary problem.

Before the student left, he yelled obscenities at the principal and slammed the door. He then proceeded to kick a chair and desk, causing the items to slam into the office door. The student left the outer office and wasn't able to be found.

The principal contacted the student's mother, who told the principal to "take care of it." The principal became concerned by the male's emotional state and for other students' and teachers' safety and contacted police.

The student had become disruptive in his science class the day before and was told to report to the office. He did not report to the office, but instead to the counselor's office.

The counselor told the student to go to the office. He did not. The principal asked the male to come to the office and he complied.

The principal had a past agreement with the student that if he had trouble, he was to report to the office and "work it out." The student said he did not want to report to the office and wouldn't comply with teacher's or counselor's directions anymore. The principal told the student to think it over and they would talk about it the next morning.

The principal reminded the student of the agreement the next morning. The student again said he would not go to the office. The principal called the student's mother for assistance and to come to the school.

The mother refused and told the principal to let her son go anywhere he wanted. The principal asked the student to wait in the outer office causing the student to become disruptive.

Hit & Run Accident Investigated

A hit and run accident was the subject of an investigation conducted by Chelsea police on March 30 at the Tower Mart. On the 500 block of Main St., a car was damaged in a parking lot. The car was damaged on the front right and rear right passenger sides.

Christopher Davis Makes U-M Fall '94 Dean's List

Chelsea resident Christopher Davis is one of some 5,400 University of Michigan (U-M) students to make the Dean's List at U-M for the fall 1994 semester.

Davis, a 1993 Chelsea High school graduate, was honored at the University's annual Honors Convocation on March 19. A total of 6,392 awards were recognized at the convocation. Davis earned Class Honor and James B. Angell Scholar awards.

Of the total, 5,134 students were Class Honors, recognizing an undergraduate academic record equal to half A's and half B's for two terms (one term for new students) during 1994. All 1,018 Angell Scholars have maintained an all-A record for two or more consecutive terms as undergraduates.
