VOLUNTEERS from St. Paul's church helping the Christmas in April project, worked on Elsie Paul's home, 152 E. Summit St. last Saturday. Paul is confined to bed while she is nursing a broken shoulder from a fall in her home. Dortha Henry rakes the yard, while Duane Schroen unloads boxes. Hazel

Schroen applies caulk to the windows as Donald Locker uses a nail gun to fix the porch. Brian Hickey takes a breather from all the hard work and Teresa Burman completes some touch-up painting.

EDNA SCHANZ, 86, hands out instructions to the workers at her home last Saturday. Her home, located at 1175 Trinkle Rd., received much needed bathroom repairs and window replacements, as well as a new roof from Christmas in April volunteers.

Lions Club members Al Thompson, Egan Lipps, Duane Penhallegon and Norm Colby work on the roof, while Don Kvarnberg hays shingles to the roofers.

DELORES GILLESPIE'S home, 12050 Jackson Rd., Dexter, was a jobsite for the Christmas in April project last Saturday. About 30 Rotary Club volunteers worked on Gillespie's home. Pictured on a tree

Christmas in April Deemed Huge Success

■ A daycare was set up so parents could bring their children to the job site.

On Saturday, April 29, the sun was shining and anticipation filled the air as 100 Chelsea area volunteers set out to work on nine homes in Chelsea. The Christmas spirit was in the air — the Christmas in April spirit, that is.

The work the volunteers did consisted of re-roofing a home, cutting down trees, repairing porches and glazing windows, painting, electrical repairs, carpentry work, window washing and raking, cleaning and hauling.

"It was a remarkable sight to see," said Christmas in April chairman Dick Shaneyfelt. As one neighbor put it, "Isn't it wonderful to see people doing this for others?"

On one job site, the neighbors saw what was going on and joined in.

"It never ceases to amaze me at the out-pouring of support we get from the community," Shaneyfelt said. "We had 100 volunteers out here today. Of that 35 were from the youth community."

The youths came from Chelsea High school's National Honor Society, St. Mary's Youth Community, St. Paul's UCC, North Lake Methodist, and United Methodist.

Various local chapters were also involved — the Chelsea Lions Club, the Chelsea Rotary Club and the Knights of Columbus. Each organization took on a home of their own.

"The people of St. Paul's came running when I told them we were going to work on the home of a long-time member," Shaneyfelt said. "One of their members opened a day care for 20 children, allowing parents to work."

The support from the merchants was great. Chelsea Glass donated a quantity of glass, Heydlauff's volunteered to dispose of the old refrigerators we collected, BFI furnished trash containers at the Landfill and the village offered to haul them away. Johnson's How-To came to the rescue during an emergency on Saturday, and Chelsea Lumber was very generous in supplying materials and service once again this year.

The volunteers ate very well again this year. One of the home families gathered and prepared a meal for all working on the job site. Gina's Cafe furnished the food prepared by the Lions on their job site. The rest were catered by Cottage Inn and Thompson's Pizza. The people at Thompson's came in five hours early just to make pizza for the crews. This is the fourth year they have done this.

Village Mobil helped with the beverages. One of the statements of the day came from Egon Lipps, a four-time house captain, when he said, "Next year, when we do this, I think I'll stay on the ground and let the young kids do the heavy work."

"Thank you volunteers," Shaneyfelt said. "Thank you Chelsea."

State Treasury Delays Approval of Proposed $45 Million School Bond

■ Board members first anticipated an approval from the State Treasurer on April 10. At the board's May 1 meeting, the board still hadn't been given any indication as to why the delay is occurring. As the May 15 deadline fast approaches, the board has to scramble to get the bond on the June 12 ballot.

Michigan's Department of the Treasury has kept the Chelsea school board waiting for approval of its $45 million proposed bond issue. A decision was expected to be announced at Monday's school board meeting. Expected is the key word.

The Treasury told Superintendent of Schools Edward Richardson that they were meeting May 3 to discuss Chelsea's bond issue.

Board members approved the language at their March 20 regular meeting. An approval from the State Treasury was expected by April 10. Since that first delay, the board expected to have to Treasurer's approval by April 17.

The board had intended to approve its final draft for the bond proposal at its April 17 meeting, more than two weeks ago, but was forced to delay that vote once again — this time to the May 1 meeting.

One of the delays may be caused by the many bond proposals that cross the State Treasury's desk at this time of the year, Richardson said. Many schools are trying to get items approved so they may appear on ballots before the new school year begins.

"They have given us no reason for the delay," Richardson said.

The board has an absolute deadline of May 15 to give its final approval before the bond issue can go to a vote before the public. That means the Treasury has no more than two weeks to grant its approval and recommendations.

The board sent in its application early enough in the hopes that no delays in the event that a delay should occur. But no one ever expected that a delay of this matter would take this long.

All that the State Treasury would tell Richardson is that they are meeting today. It is not known if they will grant their approval in time for the May 15 deadline — the date of the next school board meeting.

The board is going ahead with its preparations for the election to be held on June 12. At Monday's meeting, the board approved election inspectors for the annual school election. Those who were approved are Charlotte Bentley, Kathleen Arnett, Antoinette Hawker, Elsie Heller, Miriam Klemmer, Dorothy Koenigster, Frances Manzel, Marjorie Plumb, Arlys Spink, Memarie Walter and Lorena Wenk.

"All of these people have worked elections in the past," Richardson said.

School board vice-president Conrad Knutsen's seat is up for reelection this June. Knutsen has declared his intent to run for reelection. The term of office is a four-year term.

Chelsea Helpline Has New Logo

Chelsea Helpline presented cash awards to three Chelsea High school art students who designed the new Helpline logo which has replaced the original logo used since the beginning of the Helpline in 1990.

The new logo, conceived by Aaron Fredette and refined with the help of Erin Montgomery and Bill Daut will be used on all advertising of the Chelsea Helpline phone number. Aaron, Bill and Erin were students of CHS art teacher Cathy Opoka, last semester.

The new logo has been appearing in The Chelsea Standard and on the calendar cards since the first of the year. It will soon be seen in local merchant's windows and on company bulletin boards.

The Chelsea Helpline is a non-profit organization financed by the Chelsea Kiwanis Club and the Chelsea United Way, which provides a local telephone number that connects with trained volunteers of SOS located in Ypsilanti. SOS provides a sympathetic ear and referral services to those requiring more than just someone to talk to. All calls are anonymous and are free to anyone in the 475 phone exchange.

Farmers Market Starting 6th Season

Saturday, May 6, will be opening day for the Chelsea Farmers Market. The Market runs 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Municipal Parking Lot off Park and Middle Sts., Chelsea.

The Market features fresh, seasonal produce, plants, and arts and crafts. Vendors are required to produce their own merchandise. New vendors are always welcome.

This is the sixth season for the Chelsea Farmers Market. The market has grown from its original start in 1990. H.K. Leonard and Greg Raye conceived the idea and spurred it into a reality for downtown Chelsea. With plenty of space for expansion and parking, the Market is thriving.

Vendors are looking forward to seeing the Market regulars and meeting new customers.

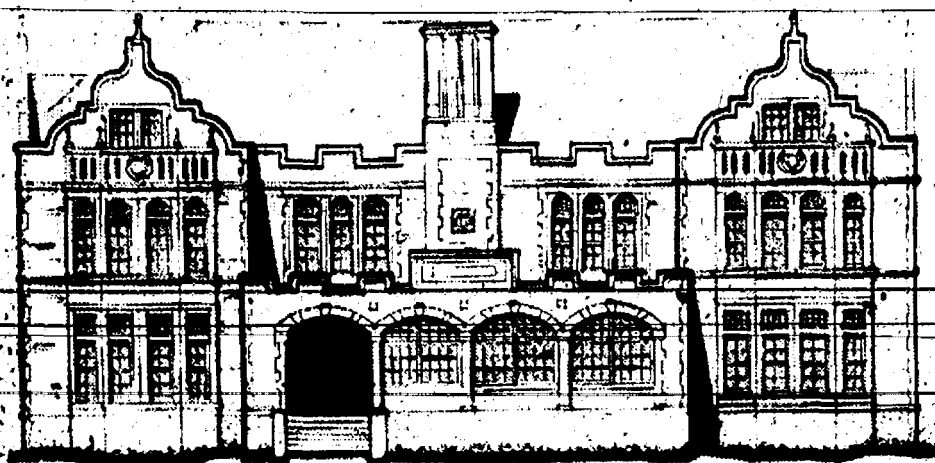

FIRE CHIEF DAN ELLENWOOD (center, white helmet) supervised a controlled burn Sunday for the removal of above house and garage at 1290 S. Malh St. Starting at 8 a.m. firefighters began a series of training lessons by igniting fires in various rooms and teaching proper techniques for controlling the fire. In photo above, training had been completed and chief Ellenwood has ordered the interior fire started which was beginning to break through the roof. Photo below shows the intense fire as the chief and owner Dick Kolander, center, observe the progress. Kolander will be constructing a new commercial building on the site as soon as the area is cleared. Among tenants will be a full service bank branch by Security Savings from Jackson.

Chelsea School District and other out-of-formula districts were given a one-year reprieve after the state legislature voted last week to delay a property tax freeze until next year. Chelsea School District faced the prospect of losing $787,000 in revenues for the 1991-92 school year if the first version of the property tax freeze had passed the House of Representatives. The senate voted 33-0 to freeze assessments two years at 1990 levels, but pressure by school districts and other governmental agencies, who had already worked out their budgets, persuaded legislators to delay the freeze.

Developer Rene Papo said work should continue on his new office complex between Chelsea Community Hospital and Old US-12 next week. The new facility, which Papo said will house physicians as well as the hospital's billing department, should be completed in about three months. The billing office is now at Chelsea Shopping Center, another Papo development. That space is scheduled to become the site of a Chinese restaurant and a frozen yogurt store.

Chelsea-area residents who like Chinese food may not have to drive all the way to Ann Arbor to get it by the end of the year. Gina Panteley, owner of Gina's Cafe, and Rene Papo, whose Arcus Corporation owns Chelsea Shopping Center where the cafe is located, plan to enter a joint venture to bring a Chinese restaurant to the village.

A panel made of Village President Charles Ritter, Phil Hume of the planning commission, Dan Murphy of the economic development commission and realtor Paul Frisinger answered questions and offered suggestions to reverse the recent losses of Chelsea's economic base, and jobs, at the April 28 meeting of the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce.

The golden anniversary dinner of the Woman's Club of Chelsea will be held Tuesday, May 12, at 6:30 p.m. at Win Schuler's in Jackson. In this, their 50th year, club members have invited all past presidents to attend. The club will honor charter and honorary members on this occasion and plan to make it as special as possible in every day.

★ Private Efforts in the Public Interest

By William J. Koshelnyk

One of the most cherished modern myths is that environmental problems can best be solved by government. Conventional wisdom argues that to protect the quality of air, water, and natural habitats, we must create regulations and bureaucracies to control economic life.

A quiet revolution, however, is underway within the environmental movement. It is challenging the dominance of government by demonstrating that nature is often best served by private efforts and, most revolutionary of all, by the concept of private property.

Some effects of this revolution can be seen in Michigan through the work of the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation, headquartered in Lansing. Since 1982, MWHF has been working to restore wetlands, stream beds, and upland areas which were once home to a wide variety of wildlife species but which had been lost to farming, development, or the destructive side effects of logging, mining, and other activity. The organization is responsible for more than 200 restoration projects around the state—undertaken entirely with private funds and in ways that not only meet sound environmental objectives, but also protect the rights of property owners without encouraging the growth of government.

MWHF contracts with landowners to manage restoration projects. Each landowner pays only $200 at the most; MWHF picks up the rest of the tab. The owner retains all rights to the property—including the right to post it against trespassers—but agrees to leave the restored area undisturbed as a wildlife habitat for a period of ten years. Work is done by MWHF staff members and volunteers who have undergone the foundation's training process. They handle everything, from the initial survey of the site to follow-up studies of wildlife rehabilitation after the work is complete.

The MWHF, in about half of its projects, has worked to improve wetlands or land that was once water-covered, breaking up drainage systems and cleaning out fill material to reclaim natural habitat for waterfowl. This reflects the particular interest of the group's founder and principal benefactor, the late Russell H. Bengel of Jackson.

Bengel was a businessman and politician (he served two terms as mayor of Jackson) who had a passionate love of the outdoors. He stipulated that MWHF should not depend on government funds, and that it was to concentrate on capital improvement projects that would "provide a net increase in wildlife habitat restoration" throughout the state. Bengel set up the foundation and endowed it with $1 million. The yield from that endowment plus earnings from sales of wildlife art and related items support the group's activities.

MWHF's projects are typical of numerous non-government environmental programs sponsored all over America by many national and local organizations. These private initiatives don't add to our tax burden and they help to minimize the intrusion of government into our lives. They enlist landowners in the cause of protecting the environment by supporting ownership rights rather than diverting land into the public sector. Moreover, they are often more effective than efforts conducted in the public sector.

Government agencies, being creatures of politics, are limited in the ways they can act. They are often forced to behave in ways that reduce the effectiveness of even the most well-intentioned programs. Dennis Fijalkowski, executive director of MWHF, offers a small illustration: the efforts of Michigan's Department of Natural Resources to repopulate certain wild bird species. The DNR, responding to widespread concern about the loss of pheasants, has been trying to find new species that can thrive in Michigan.

But Fijalkowski maintains that the problem is not in finding the right pheasants. The problem is the loss of pheasant habitat. Michigan's pheasants were getting along quite nicely, he told the Detroit Free Press, "until farmers started plowing from roadside to roadside and tearing out shelter belts." What's needed, he insists, is "to educate farmers as to why they should leave some habitat for pheasants and other critters."

Private groups like the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation are growing in importance and proving that private, dedicated individuals can act in the public interest more effectively than government bureaucracies. No endless research studies that never come to a conclusion. No subsidies of public money. No new rules or regulations or other intrusive decrees. Just people seeing problems and taking the initiative to solve them.

It's a very old idea, but it's a departure from the conventional environmental movement that captures headlines. And, it's nice to know, it's catching on.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

After I read the news in the paper front to back I sometime thumb through it back to front and glance at the ads. One night last week I took note of a half-page ad for portable telephones. It's not that I'm in the market, it was the prices that caught my eye. I was surprised that for $9.99 I could buy a car phone that runs off the cigaret lighter.

Then I saw the astrick with the price. I found the matching astrick at the bottom of the page, where tiny type said the price didn't include $309 to "activate" the phone and get a "minimum service commitment with an authorized cellular carrier."

Instead of $10 to talk, the tag is $320. This ad called to mind the pitches for satellite digital TV that offer 200 razor sharp channels for $35 a month. You have to ask to find out about the $700 receiver you got to buy to pick up the pictures.

I brought up strings attached to bargains during the session at the country store Saturday night, and it tickled raw nerves all around. Zeke Grubb allowed that what aggravates the fire out of him are deals where you spend just pennies a day. When you count the pennies, he said, you always see you're making the usual monthly payment to some charity or company. Then add 17 percent interest on pennies on the revolving pay plan, Zeke went on.

Bug Hookum checked in with a complaint about all the Not Sold in Stores stores that want you to use their 800-numbers to call in your credit card number. After you cut the deal they tell you about the postage and handling that cost more than what you agreed to buy. But Bug said what puts the stopper in the creative financing jug was a newspaper ad he saw last week where you can buy a new car for $6 a day. When you do the math and read the fine print, Bug went on, you pay about $200 a month for six years with a balloon payment at the end.

Practical speaking, declared Clem Webster, it all comes down to knowing if it sounds too good to be true, it is. Clem said he tried to trade trucks one time with a dealer who told him if he could make one payment he could make 60, so what's the worry. This is the kind of salesmanship that gives new meaning to 0 annual percent rate on new cars, Clem went on. When you talk deal you see the interest is built in the price and the payment.

General, declared Ed Doolittle, credit is a drug abused by everybody, including Governments up and down the line. The ad Ed said he wants to see is where the astrick points down to the line that says everything down and nothing to pay the rest of your life. Until we are willing to give a passing glance at spending within our means, Ed went on, we ought to put a hold on borrowing beyond our means. If we treat credit like a drug we got to decide who writes the prescription to keep it legal, was his words.

Personal, I can see where it's hard to get ahead when your monthly outgo is half again as much as your monthly income. Life boils down to the hurner you go the behinder you get. I like how Indiana is trying to help them who can't help themselves. I see Washington is taking a look at Indiana's "Personal Responsibility Agreement" with folks on welfare. Maybe that would work with credit.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Resident Questions Snow Removal Bill

■ Pierson believes he should have been given a timely warning about the snow removal before receiving the $64 bill since he was out-of-town at the time.

Darren Pierson went before village council last Tuesday night to question a bill he had received from the village for sidewalk snow removal.

Pierson said he was charged $64 for the village to clear his sidewalk. He said he was in Florida at the time the snow removal notice was posted on his front door in January. Pierson's wife was staying in the house when the notice was posted.

The notices — large bright red tags — are attached to the front door of any property owner who doesn't comply with the village policy. Police chief Lenard McDougall said the reason why the charges are so high is so village residents will think twice about leaving their sidewalks unshoveled in the future.

Pierson countered, "Sixty-four dollars is more than an awful lot to pay to have your sidewalk shoveled."

McDougall said: "It's cheap if you consider the lawsuit behind a slip and fall on your sidewalk."

He reminded those present that he is still recovering from a fall incurred on a sidewalk nearly four months ago.

A public notice for ice and snow removal was published in the Dec. 21, 1994 edition of The Standard. A Village of Chelsea Ordinance No. 94 indicates: "All owners or occupants of real estate in the Village of Chelsea must remove any accumulations of ice and snow which obstruct the free use of the sidewalk by pedestrians within 48 hours after the accumulation of such snow or ice."

The land applies to those properties adjoining a public right-of-way upon which a sidewalk had been built. The police chief reserves the right to make a complaint or assign an officer to issue a citation, as provided by Public Act 366 of 1984.

The Department of Public Works, on order by the police chief, removes any snow or ice accumulation as soon as possible. A notice of the amount billed is mailed to the owner by the village administrator. The owner has 30 days to pay the citation. If they fail to do so, the owner is responsible for the unpaid amount plus a penalty and collection fee of ten percent, or $50, whichever is greater to be levied as a special tax or assessment.

"The village council may elect, in addition to imposing the special assessment, to commence any action to collect such amount and penalty in an action at law together with the cost of prosecution," the ordinance indicates.

The ordinance went into effect on June 21, 1985 and a reminder notice has been published annually prior to the first snow of the season.

Pierson requested that the village post a warning on his front door. McDougall said he did post a warning on his property and on all offending properties. He said he posted the notices all in the same day and gives the property owners 24 hours to remove the snow until the Department of Public Works is called in.

Pierson said he did not know if his wife had seen the notice in time or was aware of the written warning and what steps she had to take in order to clear the sidewalks to avoid a citation.

Pierson agreed to pay the $64 fine after learning that a warning had indeed been attached to his door.

Pierson said he grew up in Chelsea and moved away when he attended college, but recently moved back to the area about 18 months ago.

Council Discusses HVA Fire Hall

What seems like a good idea at the beginning may not be such a good idea after investigating all avenues. Village council members learned this lesson at its last meeting on April 25.

The "good idea" was a proposed $317,000 fire hall. Village council trustee Joe Merkel sits on the committee that was approached by Huron Valley Authority (HVA) more than a month ago to fund the building and subsequently lease it for 99 years.

The possibility of a fire hall is still in the discussion stages, and no final decision has been made on whether the village will become part of this project. Merkel was previously advised that the hall would cost approximately $300,000. Chelsea State Bank has agreed to lend $330,000 to the village for 10 years to cover expenses.

Village manager Jack Myers questioned the fact that the village would not own the land or the proposed building, but would still be committed to a 99-year lease once the building is up and running.

Trustee Bob Clark said he didn't think that the village should spend that much money on this type of a project. The project would cost the village $4,100 per month for ten years — once taxes and additional expenses were incurred. Upkeep of the building would require an additional $5,000-$7,000 annually after the building is paid off.

The council hasn't made a final decision on whether to fund the project.

HVA plans to break ground in the first week of May on the fire hall to be located behind the white house by the hospital on Old US-12.

Fire chief Dan Ellenwood said the fire hall seemed like a good idea at the beginning, since additional fire trucks could be housed in a different location if needed.

"It's like putting all your eggs in one basket," Ellenwood said. "We're cramped. We could use the extra space."

Council Approves Gas Energy Conversion Feasibility Study

■ Cummings and Barnard Engineers, Inc. will conduct the $8,500 study.

Village council unanimously approved a Landfill Gas Energy Conversion Feasibility Study proposal to be completed by Cummings and Barnard Engineers, Inc., Ann Arbor, at its last meeting on April 25.

The company, based in Ann Arbor, submitted a bid of not less than $8,500 for the feasibility study. The study is being completed because methane gas has to be removed from the ground or else gases will begin to contaminate the ground. It will not be known how contaminated the ground is of methane gas until it is removed.

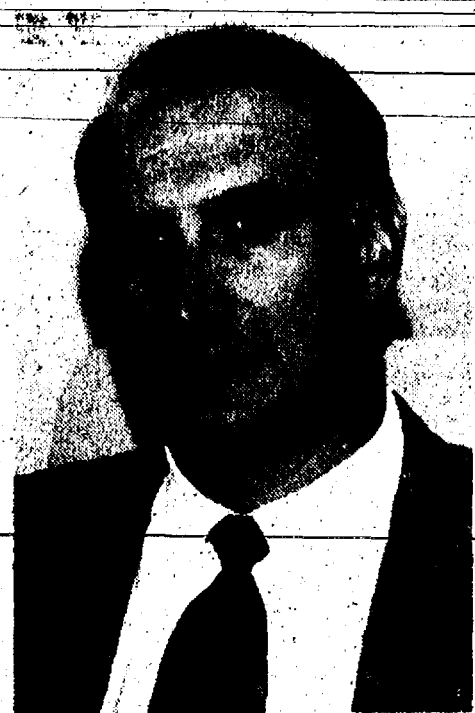

Methane is a colorless, odorless, flammable gas that is saturated by hydrocarbon that is lighter than air. It forms explosive mixtures with air or oxygen that occurs naturally as a product of decomposition of organic matter in marshes and mines, especially in natural gas. Methane must be removed from the ground before a possible explosion occurs.

The study is not a budgeted item; however, expenses are to be taken out of the landfill budget.

Also part of the study is to explore the possibility of operating an approximate six-kilowatt generator, which would obtain its power from natural gases. The village currently operates off of three megawatts of power.

"You cannot do a kindness too soon; you never know how soon it will be too late."

—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

If more people followed this advice from Emerson's essay on Compensation, the world would be a far better place. For some reason, we tend to procrastinate on doing acts of kindness, perhaps because we think there will be a better time tomorrow, or next week, or next month.

When a death occurs, grief is often intensified for those of the bereaved who recall the nice things they intended doing for the deceased, but just never got around to it, until too late.

We are always available to help, whether planning in advance of need or providing comfort and advice to bereaved families. Call on us, anytime.

They are: president, Shirley Smith; Donna Lane and Janet Fuks co-chair the vice-president's position; Cheryl Schoenberg, secretary; Dorothy Mielke, treasurer; and Lois Moore, parliamentarian.

A new budget was also presented and approved.

During the past year the Woman's Club of Chelsea contributed to United Way, FIA/CSS and the McKune Memorial Library. Also a fund has been established for the purpose of furnishing a room in the library expansion program sometime in the future.

The club will finalize its activities for the past year with their annual dinner to be held at the Common Grill on May 9. They will also host the Marathon Bridge Dinner on May 18 at Our Savior Lutheran church.

Hostesses for the evening were Dorothy Mielke and Beth Lysteria.

Library Friends Planning Annual Geranium Sale

Friends of McKune Memorial Library will hold their fifth annual Geranium Sale on Saturday, May 20 at the Library. Red, white and pink geraniums in 4-inch pots will be available.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to pay the cost of the Children's Summer Reading Program, and to purchase additions to the Joseph Piasecki Compact Disk Collection.

Senior Citizens Prom Promises Festive Evening

Chelsea senior citizens can remember with fondness the days back when they went to their own prom.

They now have the opportunity to make some new memories by attending this year's Senior Citizen's Prom, to be held at 8 p.m. on May 13 at Beach Middle school, 445 Mayer Dr., Chelsea.

"We know it's truly spring when it's prom time," said senior citizen co-ordinator Pat Kaminsky.

Chelsea Lions Club members host this fun event for area senior citizens. Music is to be provided by "Al Townsend's Couriers."

"It's great to listen and dance to," Kaminsky said.

A $1 donation is requested at the door. Food and festive punch, coffee and tea will be available to those in attendance.

Hors d'oeuvres will be provided by Chelsea Community Hospital.

Just like a high school prom, prom goers have the opportunity to pose for pictures. The pictures may be kept as a memento of the evening, Kaminsky said.

Single ladies need not to worry about coming alone. Kaminsky assures them that they will have a good time.

"Lions Club members are not shy about asking ladies to dance," advance in order for Lions Club members to finalize preparations for the dressy affair.

"The Lions need to know how many corsages to order and we want to have enough food," Kaminsky said.

She said that if someone has made a reservation, but is unable to attend to please feel free to call and cancel.

"I've been going to this event for the last three years," she said. "Everybody always has a good time."

Lima Extension Group Has Lesson on Consumers Rights

Lima Town Hall, the historic stamping grounds for Lima Extension Study Club meetings throughout the years, was again used for the April 19 meeting by hosts Jane Schairer and Margaret Sias. At 10:30 a.m. with pot-luck food dishes in hand, 12 members arrived to hear the lesson on Consumers Rights presented by Barb Wing. Barb reviewed the written material she had reprinted for our group from Consumer Services, a service we have available to us in Washtenaw county from the MSU Co-operative Extension Office. She covered topics such as Michigan's item pricing laws, advertising requirements, rain checks on sale items, what to do if over-charged, etc!

Prior to lunch an April business meeting was conducted by president Barb Wing and secretary-treasurer Alice Gardner. All were reminded that the May 9 Spring Rally will be substituted for the regular meeting. It again will be held at St. Andrew's United Church of Christ in Dexter. Registration is at 5:30 p.m.; cultural arts set up at 5 p.m. Plants, house and garden, are to be brought for a F.C.E. fund-raiser. A horticulturalist will be the guest speaker. Also a reminder that May 23 is Tri-County Tour Day in Milan.

Amish recipes were distributed to members to be furnished June 14 for the Food & People lesson meeting at Olive Wiseman's.

LOUISE TIMMERMAN, left, treasurer of Friends of McKune Memorial Library, received the Allyn Seltz Friend of the Year Award at McKune's third annual Volunteer Tea on April 22. The award, was presented by Mary Green, immediate past president of the library booster club, and the 1994 Seltz Award winner. Timmerman received the award for her extraordinary contributions to the success of the Friends activities during the past year.

Three Students Qualify for State Forensics Tournament, Two Chosen As Alternates

Lori Ritter, Ana Morell-Samuels and Tara Platt qualify, while Dan Black and Bekkah Knight are chosen as alternates for the state competition to be held May 5-6 at Western Michigan University.

"Forensics appeals to a wide variety of kids," said forensics coach and Chelsea High school teacher Bill Coelius.

That foresight might just have led to the reason why so many students chose to participate in forensics competition at Chelsea High school. The team has focused and practiced for their tournaments. And all of that practice has paid off for five worthy students.

In a regional tournament held at Birmingham Seaholm High school on April 25, three students qualified for the state tournament, while two others qualified as alternates.

"We hit them with the 1-2-3," Coelius said.

Lori Ritter was the number three person in the impromptu category. She will join Ana Morell-Samuels, who placed second in the broadcasting category, and Tara Platt who took the top spot in the storytelling division, at the state tournament at Western Michigan University on May 5 and 6.

"Ours is an especially tough region to qualify for," Coelius said.

"We compete against a lot of Class A schools."

Dan Black and Bekkah Knight were chosen as alternates for the state competition in the duo category. They performed a scene from "Prelude to a Kiss."

The students will have a busy week-end ahead of them. Chelsea High school's prom will be held on May 6. Coelius said the tourney should be completed by 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, which doesn't leave much time to get into town for the prom.

"All of the state qualifiers have an excellent opportunity to make the final round of state competition," Coelius said.

Will the forensics state qualifiers make the night a double celebration? Judging by their performances so far, it looks very promising.

Pastel Drawing Class Offered for Senior Citizens

A new class will be starting at the Chelsea Senior Nutrition Program. John Moga, a part-time humanities instructor from Washtenaw Community College, will be teaching interested senior citizens about pastel drawing.

The class will be held on six consecutive Thursdays between May 4 and June 8 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Seniors interested in taking part in the class are invited to attend the first session on May 4. The classes will be held in the Faith in Action building on the Chelsea Community Hospital campus. The Faith in Action house is the first building located on the right along the old service drive.

The class is offered as part of the Emeritus Program for Senior Citizens, said Arlene Larson, Senior Nutrition Program representative.

She said there is no charge for the class; however, seniors may be expected to pay a nominal fee for materials that are to be used in the class.

Seniors are invited to stay for lunch after the class, Larson said. Donations will be accepted for the meal, but are not required to attend. For more information, call Larson at 475-0160 between 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

If you drive around Michigan's countryside, you may wonder why you see so many irrigation rigs. After all, it seems to rain a lot in the summer, especially when you have a picnic planned. But in fact, during the agricultural growing season Michigan has less rainfall than any state east of the Mississippi. That's why so many of our farmers depend upon irrigation to ensure they get a good crop.

World Famous Equestrian Coming Here

Jimmy Wofford, Olympic and World Medalist in the three-day equestrian games, will be teaching a two-day clinic at Seneca Equestrian Centre on the corner of Trinkle and Steinbach Rds., Dexter on May 22-23.

Wofford has spent his life studying the equestrian skills that have earned him numerous awards including two team silver medals in the Three-day Event at the 1968 and 1972 Olympics in Mexico and Munich as well as an individual silver medal at the alternate Olympics at Fontainebleau in 1980. He was also a member of the bronze medal World Championship team in Kentucky in 1978.

Though the list is long on his accomplishments in the saddle, he has also built an excellent reputation as a teacher to the aspiring equestrian. To read his list of students is like reading a Who's Who in Upper Level Eventing.

On May 22-23 he will be teaching event riders from the Midwest the skills needed to successfully guide their horse over various jumps in a Stadium Phase.

Wofford will also be returning in June to expand on the first clinic by instructing riders over cross country jumps that might be negotiated in competition, including banks, drops, water and various log and brush style fences.

Senator Alma Smith Will Hold Regular Hours in District

State Senator Alma Wheeler Smith (D-Washtenaw county) will be available to meet with constituents four Mondays every month, starting on May 1. The informal "office hours" will be held, on a rotating basis, at four locations in different parts of the 18th Senate District.

"I invite my constituents to join me with questions or concerns about legislation, problems with state bureaucracy, or just to come and say hello," the Salem township Democrat said. "I hope that these meetings make it easier for my constituents to come and meet with me. I look forward to getting to know more of my constituents personally."

The office hours will be held from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. at the following locations:

1st Monday of Every Month: Charlie's Country Squire, 2600 Washtenaw Ave., Ypsilanti.

Every 2nd Monday: Sweetwaters Cafe, 123 W. Washington, Ann Arbor.

Every 3rd Monday: Gina's Cafe, 1120 S. Main St., Chelsea.

Every 4th Monday: Cafe Marie, 1759 Plymouth Rd., Ann Arbor.

In the case that Senator Smith has a schedule conflict for any of the meetings, a member of her staff will be available to meet with constituents.

Monroe Power Plant Among the Nation's Top Producers

Detroit Edison's Monroe Power Plant was the nation's second-largest coal-fired electricity producer last year, according to a utility survey.

The survey, conducted by Southern Company Services, showed that the Monroe Power Plant produced 20.36 million megawatt-hours (MWh) in 1994, second only among coal-fired plants to Georgia Power Co.'s Bowen power plant. Bowen, with a capacity of 3,199 megawatts, generated 23.44 million MWh last year.

The top producing power facility was the Palo Verde nuclear plant, operated by Arizona Public Service Co., which generated 23.17 million MWh.

The Monroe Power Plant, with a capacity of 3,000 megawatts, provided approximately 46 percent of Detroit Edison's total power generation in 1994. It is the largest of the utility's nine operating power plants.

WCC Review Course Highlights Fluid Power, Hydraulics

Individuals interested in preparing for the Fluid Power Specialist or Hydraulic Technician certification examinations will benefit from an eight-week course at Washtenaw Community College in May.

Fluid Power Specialist and Hydraulic Technicians Exam Review Course is sponsored by the WCC Office of Technical Education. It meets eight Wednesdays, May 3 through June 21, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

This course is designed for individuals who already have a good background in hydraulics, but need to brush up on various topics prior to taking the certification exams. Instructor Gary Schultz has taught fluid power and robotics at WCC for over 10 years. He is also an industry consultant in fluid power and machine design.

For more information on this course and fee schedule, call the Office of Technical Education at (313) 973-3533.

SPRING AND WILDLIFE:

What To Do If You Find Wildlife Babies

By Kathy Zarnowitz

The sun lingers in the sky a few minutes more with each passing day—a sneak preview as to what lies ahead this summer. You gradually gravitate outside, perhaps to examine the garden plot or to take a long, lazy stroll. And whether you realize it or not your contact with wildlife increases, even if you possess an urban address.

Here's a scenario: It's a warm Saturday morning and you are trimming back the bushes, removing the weeds from the garden, and raking under the pine trees. Then you move a wood pile. Your attention is drawn to the spot where the wood pile used to be. You perceive a slight movement in the ground. When you pull back the grass and fur, you discover little mice. No, they have long ears. "They're tiny rabbits!" you think. "The mother isn't around. I must have scared her off, and now they are abandoned. Orphaned. I'll bring them inside. I'll just pick up the nest..."

STOP! Before you seize that nest from the earth, call the Humane Society of Huron Valley. HSHV will connect you with a Friends of Wildlife volunteer who will help you determine if the young rabbits are indeed orphaned.

Friends of Wildlife will field hundreds of similar phone calls in 1995, involving many species. Yet, in most cases, it is safe to assume that, unless you see a dead adult of the same species nearby, they are probably not orphaned. Most wildlife young are left alone for extended periods of time while the mother forages for food nearby.

Domestic pets frequently molest infant rabbits, which frustrates the efforts of rehabilitators. Most rabbit infants do not survive these attacks, especially from cats. Should you discover a nest of rabbits in your yard, restrain your pets for approximately three weeks. This will give the rabbits time to part company and relocate elsewhere. It's better to let the mother rear her young.

If you discover grounded baby birds, line a berry basket or margarine tub (with holes punctured in the bottom) with dry grass and return it to the tree. Older baby birds should be left alone. The parents are nearby, offering encouragement to the fledglings until they can fly.

The following are some practical tips concerning wildlife young:

1. Before you mow in the spring: Walk slowly through the area to be mowed first to check for rabbit nests if the grass is unusually tall. The nests are usually slight depressions in the ground.

2. If a female raccoon nests in your chimney, she will relocate her babies at weaning time (approximately six weeks after birth). When they leave, cap your chimney to prevent the mother from returning next spring.

3. Occasionally, a squirrel's leaf nest is destroyed by storms and the young tumble to the ground. If no leaf nest is found, search for a cavity nest. Place the young in a box and position it on a tree branch. The mother may retrieve them.

4. Raccoons and fawns are left alone for several hours at a time. They are probably not abandoned, unless a dead adult is discovered nearby. Depart quickly and quietly. If the animal is still there the next day, call Friends of Wildlife.

Occasionally, it may be necessary to carefully remove the infants. A Friends of Wildlife volunteer will explain how to temporarily house them until proper care can be administered. Unless otherwise instructed by a volunteer, DO NOT FEED THE INFANTS.

And what about those baby rabbits found under the wood pile? We recommend that you place some pieces of twine in a "X" across the top of the nest. After 6-12 hours, if the twine has been disturbed, the young are probably still receiving care.

If you have any questions about wildlife young, contact Friends of Wildlife by calling the Humane Society of Huron Valley at (313) 662-5585.

If you are interested in learning about rehabilitating orphaned or injured wildlife, Friends of Wildlife is offering one-day workshops (9 a.m.-4 p.m., including lunch) on May 13 or May 20. This workshop will train you in wildlife care so you may become a certified rehabilitator and volunteer with Friends of Wildlife in their raise and release program.

Local Graduates Honored at EMU Commencement

Approximately 1,980 Eastern Michigan University graduates were honored in two commencement ceremonies on April 23 in Bowen Field House.

Of the graduates, approximately 1,400 were bachelor's degree recipients and 580 received advanced degrees.

The commencement address was delivered at both ceremonies by Bruce T. Halle, 1956 EMU alumnus and chairman and chief executive officer of Discount Tire Co.

Halle, who received an honorary doctor of business administration degree from the University, was cited for his professionalism and entrepreneurial success in building Discount Tire into the largest independent tire dealer in North America. He also was noted for demonstrating "the importance of civic duty and compassion" and exemplifying "care and concern for the well-being of others" through his involvement with charitable organizations, particularly the March of Dimes and Muscular Dystrophy Association.

EMU president William E. Shelton presided over the ceremonies.

Candidates for bachelor's degrees graduating with honors included 53 Summa Cum Laude (3.9 to 4.0 grade point averages), 104 Magna Cum Laude (3.7 to 3.89) and 123 Cum Laude graduates (3.5 to 3.69).

In addition, approximately 42 students graduated from the University Honors Program.

Local students who graduated summa cum laude were Mary S. Murphrey and Jan S. Sizemore from the University Honors Program, both from Pinckney.

Graduating magna cum laude were Diane C. Daniel and Carrie A. Mueller, Chelsea; Hillary H. Edwards, University Honors Program, Grass Lake; Aron J. Gannon and Kristen L. Snoddy, University Honors Program, Dexter; and Carol L. Tregoning, Pinckney. Cum laude graduates were Laura Brown, Mary A. Katakowski and Nancy L. Mullins, all from Pinckney.

Chelsea graduating seniors are Melissa A. Handloser, Carol L. Hanke, Sandra N. Holmes, Jeffrey D. Levell, John M. Packard, Bohdana M. Wohlar and Brian Zangara.

Dexter students who received degrees are Katherine J. Driscoll, Jessica L. Frost, James L. Gregory, Christine M. Henderson, Kirk Pederson, William T. Wanzeka and Monica Wikaryasz. Grass Lake graduates are Ellen Arta and Tamara M. Sheufelt. Donald J. Deremo was the only student from Gregory to earn his degree.

Manchester graduates are Lori A. Fitzgerald, Linda K. Mussio and Laura L. Stidham. Pinckney resi-

We've all experienced spaghetti that was all stuck together in big clump because we didn't use enough water when we cooked it or we didn't add cooking oil to the water. But pasta producers may be able to use new U.S. Department of Agriculture research to select spaghetti varieties that are naturally less sticky. Spaghetti gets sticky when cooked because certain components of the starch in the pasta leach out into the water.

SJMH Now Offering Additional Lifeline Units

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's Lifeline Program is now offering 100 additional units to service Monroe, Washtenaw and western Wayne counties. Lifeline is a Personal Emergency Response Service (PERS) that allows people to signal for 24-hour emergency assistance from their homes by pressing a button.

More than 350 units are now in service in the three counties. "Lifeline is another way that SJMH extends its high-quality care to our patients and the community," said

Rhonda Koch, Lifeline program coordinator. "There are hundreds of area residents who benefit from Lifeline, such as the elderly and those recuperating at home from illness or surgery."

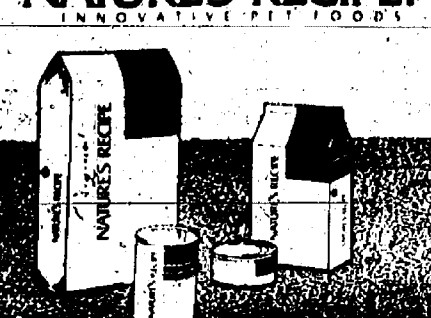

More than 2,000 health care facilities in the United States use Lifeline to help people with physical limitations remain in their homes. Lifeline units are installed by retired Michigan Bell, Ameritech and AT&T employees who volunteer their time and talents to the program.

In the Beginner Pageant, Sally Soroosh of Dexter took top honors for the second consecutive year in the pre-teen division. Also from Dexter, Jenny White won the junior beginner title. Katie Sullivan of Dexter took the junior intermediate title while Hillary Wiedmayer of Manchester won the senior division intermediate pageant.

The new "Miss Majorette of Michigan" who will compete for "Miss Majorette of America" (baton's premier honor) are: Heather Fox (juvenile of Lambertville), Stacey Leatherbury (pre-teen of Grand Haven), Casey Olds (junior of Farmington Hills), Michelle Reicosky (senior of Okemos), and Melony Owens (collegiate of Ypsilanti). Both Leatherbury and Owens are former members of the Chelsea Baton Corps.

Walkers Needed May 6 For A Joint Parade

Walkers are needed to participate in the second annual A Joint Parade—A Celebration of Mobility; this is a one mile non-competitive walk on Saturday, May 6, at Gallup Park in Ann Arbor. Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. and the walk starts at 9:30 a.m. The event will raise money for orthopedic research and education and increase public awareness of the role orthopedics plays improving the quality of life for Americans of all ages.

A Joint Parade involves recovered orthopedic patients, their friends and family members, as well as orthopedic surgeons, nurses, physical therapists, sports medicine professionals—anyone who has been touched by orthopedics. Walkers are encouraged to ask friends, family members, neighbors and co-workers to sponsor them in the fund-raising walk.

"This is not your average walk," noted Dr. Michael Massini, M.D., orthopedic surgeon at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and co-chair of the local event. "This is a celebration of new mobility and an improved quality of life due to orthopedics." Half of the money raised at the walk will stay in our communities to fund orthopedic research, education and patient service programs," said co-chair John Grady-Benson, M.D., orthopedic surgeon at the University of Michigan Hospitals.

For information or to register for the walk, call the local event office, Ann Arbor Bone & Joint Surgery, at (313) 712-2230.

Marlene Piasecki Receives Award from Crime Victims' Rights Awareness Program

State Senator William Van Regenmorter presented a special award to Marlene Piasecki on April 27 at the fourth annual Crime Victims' Rights Awareness and Recognition program in Lansing.

The special award was presented to an individual who best exemplifies the triumph of the human spirit over devastating tragedy.

Mrs. Piasecki is the widow of Joseph Piasecki, the late superintendent of the Chelsea Public Schools who was shot to death by a teacher at school. Since her husband's death, Mrs. Piasecki has been very active in Crime Victims' Rights. She has been a strong advocate of Trust-in-Sentencing legislation before the Michigan Legislature.

"Out of this tragedy, victims of crime in this state have found a tireless advocate," Van Regenmorter said. "Marlene is to be commended for her strength of spirit."

The Lansing event was part of National Crime Victims' Rights Week. The week is designed to provide crime victims and those who serve them with an opportunity to educate citizens about violence and victimization, and to encourage support for victims' rights and services.

Heart & Sole Races Recognized in Top 50

Chelsea Community Hospital's Heart & Sole 10K, 5K and 2 Mile Run-Walk was recently included in the Michigan Runner's list of Top 50 Road Races in Michigan. The list is compiled each year by balloting of runners and includes local favorites like the Briarwood-Runs, Dexter Ann Arbor (First of America Run), and the Michigan Big 10 Run. In its sixth year, the Heart & Sole has had more than 2,400 participants of all ages (3-81) and abilities joining in for fun and fitness.

This year's Heart & Sole, co-sponsored by the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled for Saturday, June 3 at 8 a.m. A new 10K course will take people through downtown Chelsea.

On Friday, June 2, from 4 to 7 p.m. in the hospital dining room, there will be in-person registration, a pre-race spaghetti dinner, and in the private dining room, a runner's workshop. Chelsea Scout Troop Backpacks in Tennessee

By Larry Gorton

Have you ever walked backwards over the edge of a cliff at the top of a mountain? The Explorers of BSA Troop 454 from Chelsea did! Yep, all four scouts and their adult leaders (including me!) took that exhilarating step backwards over the edge of a 100-foot drop at the top of one really high mountain!

But, don't worry Mom, that wasn't our adventure, or was it? Oh no, that's too dangerous to do at first. We had to practice, we had to work up to it. So, after a six-mile hike with full packs, we ventured backwards over a 50-foot drop instead. And, of course, it was all performed safely as part of our repelling and backpacking adventure week down in the beautiful Cumberland Mountains of northeast Tennessee.

The LDS church in Chelsea is the charter organization for Scout and Explorer Troops 454. Matt and Jimmy Donnellon, Ed (Scoutmaster) and Jimmy Hall of Manchester, and Matt Adams and Larry and Tyler Gorton of Chelsea spent four days backpacking and repelling during spring break this year.

We had near perfect 70+ degree weather to enjoy the lush vegetation and breathtaking scenery of Pickett State Park and Daniel Boone National Forest. The sights and sounds of a remote waterfall are some of my fondest memories. Perhaps best of all—NO BUGS!! That's right, I think we found paradise! A rustic camping terrain, a clear, babbling brook and repelling to our heart's content.

Boy's Track Team Defeats Milan

Chelsea's boy's track team faced a cold wind and overcast day on Tuesday, April 25, but was able to trounce Milan, 84-53. The team placed in each event, save for the high jump and 800 relay. The win boosted Chelsea's record to 2-1 over-all, and 1-1 in the Southeastern Conference. The team compiled 10 firsts, nine seconds and seven thirds.

Highlights include: Senior Dan Wehrwein won two events and anchored the winning 1600 relay with a personal record 0:51.8 400 meter. Dan also ran a personal record 166 meter at 4:47.0.

Junior Jim Irwin won the 100 meter in a personal record 0:11.3 and ran on the winning 400 meter relay.

Senior hurdlers Jeremy Ziegler and Bryndon Skelton swept the 110 meter high hurdles with personal records.

Senior Chad Brown had a season's best 11:09 to win the 3200 meter.

The 400 meter relay of Jim Irwin, David Tracy, Tom Irwin and Jason Scibor ran a season's best of 47.0 to win. This was more than a one second improvement.

Eric McCalla took first in the shot put with a personal best of 42' 4". Teammate Adam Skyles chipped in a third-place finish with a throw of 39' 7 1/2". Skyles came back in the discus, earning a first-place berth with a distance of 109.7 feet. McCalla was not far behind in second with a distance of 108.10.

Dan Wehrwein came up a mere one and one-half inches short behind Milan in the long jump, taking third with 17' 3 1/2". The Bulldogs competed, but were not able to earn points for a finish in the top three.

Rounding out the field events, Dave Tracy flew through the air into second place in the pole vault, measuring 11 feet.

Brian AtLee, Scott Hawley, Josh Metzler and Chad Brown celebrated a smooth victory at the finish line after coming in first in the 3200 relay in 9:07.14. They beat out the competition by .41.78. Ziegler and Skelton place first and second, respectively, in the 110 high hurdles. Ziegler led the pack in :16.55, while Skelton closed the gap at :16.60.

Boys Tennis Team Defeats Columbia Central, River Rouge, Wins Pinckney Invite

Chelsea's mens tennis team gave a valiant effort against rival Dexter on April 21, but lost 5-2. The teams were originally scheduled to meet the day before, but rain delayed that meeting until the next day.

All four of the singles matches were succumbed to the Dreadnaughts. In No. 1 singles, Nathan Butler lost 6-2, 6-1, to Dexter's Darren Caviani. Ben Johnson lost to Jaime Ortiz, 6-2, 6-3 in No. 2 singles. Scott Boughton fought to the end in a tie-breaker, but was unable to overcome Tim Sullivan, 7-6, 7-4, 6-3 in No. 3 singles. Jason Middleton lost in No. 4 singles to Dreadnaught Chad Huard, 6-2, 6-3.

In doubles competition, Bulldogs Mike Bainton and Kevin Myers beat Dexter's Winston Howard and Mike Dorrow, 6-2, 6-3 at the No. 1 spot. Dan Koenigter and Ben O'Connor succumbed to Dexter's Jason Weinmann and Aaron Zollweg, 6-4, 6-0 for the No. 2 spot. In No. 3 doubles, Chelsea's Mark Valchine and Ryan Chase earned a big victory over R.J. Meske and Doug Weeks, 6-1, 6-1.

Chelsea's record fell to 0-3. But the numbers don't entirely reflect what the team has accomplished so far this season. With each match, the team is consistently improving, even though the over-all numbers may not indicate it. In each successive matchup, the Bulldogs have increased individual wins over their opponents.

The team faced off against Brooklyn Columbia Central Tuesday afternoon, April 25.

Tuesday's match against Columbia Central resulted in the team's first victory, 5-2. In the singles division, Butler lost, 6-3, 6-3. Johnson came back with a win, 6-2, 6-3. Boughton kept the winning streak going by defeating his opponent, 6-0, 6-2. Chase moved up to playing No. 4 singles; he was defeated, 6-2, 5-7, 6-1.

The doubles competition also claimed victories for the Bulldogs. Bainton and Myers won, 6-0, 6-2. O'Connor and Koenigter defeated their opponent, 6-3, 7-6, 7-4 in a tie-breaker. Valchine and Steve McDonnell rounded out the victories, in the No. 3 spot, winning, 6-1, 6-0.

The team carried that sweet victory with them to the next matchup, against River Rouge. It was the team's first time playing on their home courts since the construction was finished.

"The courts still need to be painted," Rosentretter said.

Chelsea suffered only one loss in the meet. They trounced the opposing team, 6-1. Butler added to his winning streak, 6-0, 6-4, as did Johnson, 6-1, 6-3. Boughton didn't want to be left out, so he made sure to win his match, 6-1, 6-4. Chase, (Continued on page 14)

Girls Track Sweeps Milan, Places Sixth at Invitational

The girls track team beat Milan, 113-15, on April 25, upping their season record to 3-0 and their SEC record to 2-0.

Twenty-seven runners scored for Chelsea as they won every event and came within a point of sweeping the field events. Courtney Thompson won the discus and the high jump. Chrissy Hodgson was second in the high jump at 4-8, her best ever, with Laurie Schiller third. Heidi Wehrwein was second in the discus with Becca Burby third. Wehrwein also won the shot put, with Cindy Richard second in her best of 29-9 3/4. Katie Spink had her career best jump of 14-11 to win the long jump, with Erin Hack second with a season best of 14-6 and Laurie Schiller third.

Jill McKinnon won the 100 hurdles in 17.6 seconds. Sarah Schick took the 100 in 13.5 with Krystal Baird second and Katie Wells finishing third for her first point. Jeanne Spink won the 1600 with Meghan Ziegler third. Spink also won third in 12:56.3. Melissa Hand won the 400 in 1:03.9 with Schoenberg second. Both runners were in the event for the first time. Cindy Richard led a Bulldog sweep of the 300 hurdles in :55.0 with Heidi Kemnitz second and Keri Kentala third. The Bulldogs also swept the 800 with Jenni Space first in 2:38.1, Katie Spink second, and Sabrina Flannery third.

The Bulldogs survived a dropped baton to win the 800 relay with the team of Kentala, Spink, Kemnitz and Rachel Weirauch. The team of Sarah Schick, Rachelle Skelly, Krystal Baird and Weirauch won the 400 relay. Melissa Hand, Meghan Ziegler, Sarah Metzler and Karen Pieper won the 3200 relay, and Katie Spink, Rachel Schoenberg, Jenni Space, and Kim Niehaus took the 1600 relay.

The girls track team ran in the Mason Invitational on Friday and finished with 60 points. Holt won the meet with 90 points with Jackson Northwest second with 86, and Okemos third with 70. The next four teams were closely bunched between 55 and 63 points.

Freshman Jeannie Spink was the Bulldogs only winner as she won the 3200 with a season's best of 12:04.9.

She also was second in the 1600 in 5:38.0, also a season best. Jennifer Space was third in the 800 in 2:35.9, her best of the year. The 3200 relay of Katie Spink, Karen Pieper, Meghan Ziegler and Sabrina Flannery was third in 10:50.2. Pieper, Ziegler, Flannery and Sarah Jedeale all ran at or near season bests in non-scoring efforts in distance races.

"We ran very well in the distances, scoring 30 of our 60 points there. Jeannie ran two excellent races in a solid distance field," said coach Bill Bainton.

Two other freshmen, Rachel Weirauch and Cindy Richard, also were double scorers. Richard was fifth in the 100 hurdles in :28.4. Freshman Emily Wineland in the 100 hurdles and Rachelle Skelly in the 100, advanced to the finals, but did not score.

"This was very good experience for these people. It was the first time they've had to run in qualifying heats, and they handled the extra races very well," explained Bainton.

Heidi Wehrwein paced the Bulldogs in the field events, taking third in the discus at 99-9 and fourth in the shot at 31-9 1/2, a season best. Jessica Flinoff added a fourth in the discus. Erin Hack picked up a fifth in the long jump.

The 800 relay of Katie Spink, Heidi Kemnitz, Keri Kentala and Jenni Space was fifth in 1:56.5. The 400 relay of Sarah Schick, Leigha Young, Krystal Baird and Rachel Weirauch was sixth in :55.1, and the 1600 relay of Space, Katie Spink, Kemnitz and Kentala was fifth in 4:29.0.

"We ran pretty well," said Bainton. "We scored in all but two events, which is better than anyone else, so we have a solid line-up, and we keep improving. This was the first meet of this format for about half our team as varsity runners, and they handled it well."

The girls next meet is a quad at Fowlerville on Tuesday, then they're home on Thursday to make up the Saline meet. That shapes up as a key SEC meet since Saline defeated defending champion Pinckney last week. They complete a busy week at the Corunna Relays on Friday.

Freshman Baseball Seesaws Competition

Chelsea's freshman baseball team seems to be having a kind of see-saw style of a season. Their 4-3 record began with a win and loss earlier in the season, a win against Ann Arbor Huron, a loss to Milan, a win over Tecumseh, and ended with a loss and a victory over Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Chelsea 11, Ann Arbor Huron 9 The Bulldogs faced Ann Arbor Huron on April 24, chalking up a victory 11-9. Scott Basar pitched four innings, striking out one and walking five. Ryan Hubbard, 1-1, took over the reins, pitching for two and one-third innings. He also struck out one batter, walking two. Don Reilly took the save for the remaining two-thirds of the game, striking out one batter.

Leading hitters were Reilly with a trio of hits, including a triple and two RBIs. Basar had a triple on two hits, while Tom Holdsworth added a double and one RBI on two hits. Chris Herter and Rob Ellis each added one hit. Mike Kolessar batted in one run on his double, while Hubbard batted in two runs on his hit.

Milan 7, Chelsea 4 Milan defeated the Bulldogs on April 28. Reilly took the loss, lowering his record to 1-1. He struck out 10 batters and walked eight in seven innings. Reilly and Holdsworth each contributed one RBI on their single hits. Kolessar, Ellis and Adam Schaper also had hits.

Chelsea 10, Tecumseh 4 Hubbard earned the win, upping his record to 2-1. Basar had a banner of a day, as he led the hitting for Chelsea with a triple, a home run and four RBIs. Ellis drove in two batters on his two hits. Holdsworth, Herter, Adam Erskine, Hubbard and Sean Stickney each added one hit to the scoreboards.

Ann Arbor Pioneer 11, Chelsea 1 Chelsea 7, Ann Arbor Pioneer 4 Reilly (2-1) took the loss, pitching four innings in the first game of a doubleheader. Erskine filled in for Reilly, who had struck out three, pitching the remaining two innings of the contest. He struck out two more Pioneer batters.

Herter left home plate with two hits, as did Kolessar. Reilly had a hit and Stickney doubled. The second game of the doubleheader contest worked in the Bulldogs' favor. Herter claimed his first win of the season for Chelsea, pitching six innings. He had an incredible first win, that included 10 strike-outs.

Softball Team Bags Two Wins

■ Freshman off to good start after rain delays.

Chelsea's freshman softball team celebrated two well-deserved victories last week. On Tuesday, the team played a doubleheader at Ann Arbor Huron. In both games, the Bulldogs came out on top, 18-10 and 23-7.

Emily Arend pitched the first game against Huron. Melissa Yekluis took over the mound duties in the second game of the doubleheader for Chelsea. Yekluis was outstanding as she struck out eight of 12 batters. Leading hitters for both games were Stacey Johnson and Kristin Brink.

The team played against Plymouth-Canton last Friday, ultimately leaving with the victory, 25-22.

"It was a real back and forth game," said coach John Ruhlig. Arend began the pitching duties, but was relieved by Yekluis. Kathy Messner remained behind home plate catching. Leah Thompson and Stacey Melton took lead hitting honors in the contest.

"I'm happy we're scoring so many runs," Ruhlig said. "But I would like to cut down on how many runs our opponents get."

CHS Baseball Team To Play in Great Lakes Invitational Tournament

Many of the Chelsea High school baseball players' dream to play in a major league stadium will come true on May 9 as the Chelsea Bulldogs take on the Ramblers from Fraser High School at Tiger Stadium.

The first annual Great Lakes Invitational Baseball Tournament, sponsored by the Southeastern Michigan Jeep Eagle Dealers, will slide into Tiger Stadium May 9 and 10. This event will feature the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, the University of Detroit Mercy and the University of Dayton baseball teams, along with Fraser-High school, Chelsea High school, Detroit Country Day and Grosse Pointe South High school baseball teams.

The baseball action will kick off May 9 at noon featuring Chelsea and Fraser High school. The second game will follow at 4 p.m. with the Spartans battling the Flyers. The final game will be at 7 p.m. featuring the University of Michigan Wolverines against the Detroit Titans.

On May 10, the afternoon will begin with Country Day playing against Grosse Pointe South at noon. The tournament consolation game will follow at 4 p.m. and then the championship game will conclude the event at 7 p.m. An awards ceremony will follow at the end of the evening.

Leading the Spartans is pitcher Trevor Harvey who in the 1994 season went 7-5 to lead the team.

Offensively, the Spartans are led by catcher/first baseman, Matt Riggins. Riggins batted .336 with seven doubles and eight home runs in 1994.

Guiding the Wolverines will be center fielder Brian Simmons, who is projected by Baseball America as a pre-season All-American second baseman. Simmons is a switch hitter batting .400 from the left side and .250 from the right. Another Wolverine to watch is co-captain right fielder Rodney Goble, who has a .322 batting average and leads the team in stolen bases. Matt Ferullo will help the Wolverines as a solid pitcher, currently posting strikeouts in eight innings, while leading the team in innings pitched.

The University of Detroit Mercy has their heavy hitters ready. Shortstop Jamie Lopocolo demolished his opponents, hitting at a batting average of .354 with 17 homers and 67 RBIs. Starting Titan pitcher and captain will be senior Dave Roman who last year had a 3.86 ERA and a .433 batting average with 36 RBIs.

The University of Dayton is training to play against their northern counterparts, with pitcher Brian Huss, who led the team in victories with seven in 1994. Bringing in the big bats for the Flyers is sophomore outfielder Collin Abel who hit .444 in the fall.

Beach Girls Track Team Defeats Milan

Beach Middle school girls track team opened the season with a 98-30 win over Milan Middle school on a cold April 25.

"It was a good team effort on a long, cold night," said coach Ann Schaffner. "There was significant improvement over last year from our eighth graders, and because several seventh graders contributed greatly."

In the field events, Chelsea overpowered Milan in each category. Amy McCalla placed second in the shot put, while Megan Marshall claimed third. In the high jump, Beach took second and third, this time with Deb Postiff and Karla Detting, respectively.

The girls didn't even let Milan get the opportunity to try and place in the long jump. McKenna Houle took the top honors, jumping 13' 2-1/2". She was followed by Kim Tourou in second and Katie Henry placing third.

In distance competition, Deb Adams ran the 3200 meter, placing second. Her teammate, Jocelyn Temple wasn't far behind in third. In the 55 hurdles, Tina Wiese flew by her opponents in 10.75 seconds. Marshall was right behind her, making the second place honors hers.

In the 800 relay, the team of Tourou, Karen Kuhl, Henry and Houle beat out Milan in 2:04.1. Beach continued to dominate in the 800 meter, making the top honors their own. Margaret Schick led the pack in 2:46.0, while Jessica Gillespie and Detting placed second and third, respectively.

Distance runners Diane

Richardson (6:34.0), Postiff and Sara Stankevich proved they've got what it takes in the 1600 meter, claiming the top three places.

Sprinters Mora Arnold and Annie Bullock tried to catch up to Milan in the 100 meter, but settled for second and third, respectively. Beach didn't let Milan take a first place glory for long, but snatched it away in the 400 meter. Lindsey Brink (1:10.9), Sarah Martin and Jenni Martin didn't look back as they made the event their own.

Another relay team celebrated a victory, this time in the 3200 relay. Adams, Postiff, Gillespie and Richardson pulled together for the win in 13:00.

In the 200 hurdles, Henry (3:34.09) and Wiese were the first and second place winners. Sprinting in the 70 meter, Houle and Liz Menge weren't able to win the race, but shut out any more Milan tracksters from placing by taking second and third, respectively.

In the 200 meters, Tourou crossed the finish line in 29.3 seconds to win the race, while teammate Lauren Turok finished in third place.

The 1600 relay produced a win for Beach by the team of Brink, Stankevich, Sarah Martin and Schick in a flat five minutes. Likewise, in another relay — the 400 — Beach dominated once again. Marshall, Jessica Heaton, Menge and Arnold ran for a time of 59.38.

The next meet for the Beach girls track team at Pinckney on May 1.

DREW HENSON leaped to a second-place finish for Beach Middle school in the long jump in the meet against Milan Middle school on April 25.

Beach Boys Track Gets Season Off To Slow Start

The team loses to Milan, 78-58, in their season-opener.

The 1995 Beach Middle school boy's track season got off to a slow start, losing to Milan, 78-58.

"The Bullpups saw a large improvement over their performances of last year," said coach Dave Jolly, "however the power of Milan's squad was a little too much."

Outstanding performances were turned in by the following Chelsea athletes. In field events, Drew Holloway was second in the long jump. Mike Holloway and Dan Seward took first and third, respectively, in the high jump. Vince Scheffler rounded up a second-place finish in the shot put.

In the 3200 meter run, Beach dominated the event, with Aaron Ruhlig, Ryan Cook and Matt Hicks coming in 1-2-3. Seward earned a second rating in the 55 hurdles. The 800 meter run offered Brian Groesser and Josh Hack to take second and third.

Jeff Kolodica was second in the 1600 meter run, while teammate Dan Graff came in third. Taking the top honors in the 100 meter dash was Mike Holloway. In the 400 meter run, Ross Jackson came in second.

The 2000 relay team of Setta, Daniel Dault, Kolodica and Hack went ahead of the competition and staked a victory. Rourke Skelton came in the No. 2 spot in the 200 meter hurdles. Henson and Grant Bollinger sprinted to a second and third place finish, respectively, in the 70 meter dash. Scheffler came in the No. 3 spot in the 200 meter dash.

Chelsea's next meet is at Pinckney on Monday, May 1.

KIM TOUROO races for Beach Middle school to a first place victory in the 200 meter run at the meet against Milan Middle school on April 25. Tourou went on to place second in the long jump in the meet.

TINA WIESE leads the race in the 55 hurdles for Beach Middle school on April 25. Beach took the victory against Milan Middle school, with a score of 98-30. Wiese went on to place second in the 200 hurdles.

JUST INCHES above the ground, McKenna Houle took first place for Beach Middle school with a leap of 13 feet, 2 1/2 inches. She went on to run on the 800 relay team, and the 70 meter dash, earning a first in the relay and a second in the dash in the meet against Milan Middle school on April 25.

JV Baseball Suffers Five Defeats to Opponents

Last week just wasn't their week, as the JV baseball team succumbed to five straight defeats. Their record now stands at 0-7. The team has won a game, but it was a scrimmage against Fowlerville, which doesn't count in the standings.

Chelsea played Milan on April 25, with the final score in Milan's favor, 8-2. In the second inning, Josh Fraker walked, while Damon Henson got a hit and on base. Henson made it to third base on walks, with Fraker coming in at home for a Bulldog run. Jamie Bauer got on base, driving in Henson for the RBI. Chene Freeman took the loss in four innings. He struck out three and walked five.

The team traveled to Willow Run on April 27, playing Lincoln. The day ended with a Bulldog defeat, 15-5.

"The weather was freezing and awful," said coach Jim Ticknor.

John Tyrrell pitched five innings, striking out five and walking nine. Bauer took over for the last inning, striking out two and walking six.

In the third, Andy Kargel got on base on a fielder's choice. Fraker added another base hit and drove in the run. Nick Woods waked, stole a base and grounded out in the fifth, while Justin Strong hit a sacrifice fly, but managed to earn an RBI. Fraker also stole a base and passed the ball on an error.

Freeman made a fielder's choice in the sixth, he also released a wild pitch, had an error and stole a base.

The April 28 doubleheader at Carleton Airport turned out to be a cool, sunny day, but the nice weather helped Carleton with the first win, 14-4. Pitching may have cost the Bulldogs the game, as Freeman walked 11 Carleton players, pitching for five innings. Freeman also struck out six. Justin Strong was Chelsea's leading hitter with two. Ryan Slane drove in a run in the first. Strong came back in the fifth by stealing a base. John Beeman advanced on an error and a wild pitch, but grounded out.

Chelsea stuck it out for the finish in the second half of the doubleheader. The game was tied until the last inning, with Carleton scored a run, thus admitting defeat for the Bulldogs, 12-11. Jesse Wiese pitched for five and one-third innings, striking out two and walking seven.

Justin Strong led the Bulldog hitting offense with three, including a double in the first, while Jay Schick, Tyrrell and Fraker each connected with two. Schick drove in Strong in the first with a double, chalking up an RBI. Tyrrell followed suit, driving in Schick with a double, thanks to a Carleton error.

"We finally hit the ball like I thought we could," Ticknor said. "I hope it can continue. It was fun to be competitive."

The team duked it out at Ann Arbor Huron on May 1, losing 7-3. John Beeman took the loss in six innings, striking out two and walking four. Wiese and Kargel singled in the third, in which two runs were scored. Another run was scored in the fifth on an error, wild pitch and two walks.

"We need to come ready to play every day," Ticknor said. "We will get better."

JV baseball's next match ups are at Dexter on Thursday and River Rouge on Friday.

Man Asks Police If Warrant Exists

A man called Chelsea police last Saturday afternoon to inquire if he had a warrant out for his arrest. Police chief Lenard McDougall said he could not divulge that information over the telephone and informed the man that he would have to come to the police station to find out. McDougall advised the man to bring bond money.

When the Petersburg man arrived at the station, he said he wanted to take care of any warrant he might have. A misdemeanor warrant for assault was issued on Feb. 16 by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. Bond had been set at $2,000, with 10 percent needed to post bail.

The man posted $200 in cash for bail, which McDougall issued an interim bond receipt that was complete with all the court information. The man had 10 days to appear in court.

National Honor Society Members Attend Conference Luncheon

On March 15, Chelsea students attended a luncheon at Weber's Inn for members of their National Honor Society league. The NHS members met students from other schools, heard short speeches from the presidents of the Honor Societies of other schools, and listened to astronaut Jack Lousma speak on his experiences in space and the new perspective they gave him on life in our world.

Chelsea National Honor Society president Mark Wallace addressed the group and spoke on the differences in NHS this year. Chelsea's National Honor Society has undergone many changes in demography and organization, the most drastic being a huge increase in membership.

Having more students qualify for NHS has been advantageous in many ways. For instance, this year's first biannual blood drive was far more successful than past blood drives. The NHS members collected 102 units of blood, which could help 408 patients. The drive collected more blood than any other Southeastern Michigan blood drive held on Dec. 14, and surpassed all previous collections at Chelsea High school. The next blood drive is scheduled for April 27, and if you are interested you may sign up by calling Anne Frederick at 475-7369.

The tutoring program run by NHS has also been very successful this year. Although the skeleton of the past structure has been kept, a completely new tier of weekly tutoring sessions has been added at the middle school to help not only those recommended by teachers, but anyone who is interested. NHS has also added a tutoring program for emotionally impaired and learning disabled students and has seen great results.

On March 24, the NHS held its annual Muscular Dystrophy bowl-a-thon. Upcoming activities this semester include the second blood drive, annual tag day fund-raiser, and a tutoring training session with Washtenaw Literacy.

The officers of NHS, president Mark Wallace, vice-president Jessica Flintoft, secretary Evan Knott, and treasurer Lori Ritter, along with advisors Barbara Pruess and Paul Terpstra are very happy with this year's changes. And they are putting into place more changes and programs which will be fully developed next year.

The group is starting a relationship with Habitat for Humanity in Ann Arbor and with a school for learning disabled students.

As always, the group is still looking for ways to help the community, state, and country.

If you have questions about the National Honor Society or have need of help from a service organization with many able minds and bodies, feel free to call Mark Wallace at 475-3886.

RONALD C. SMEENGE

Pilgrim's Progress Presented

On Sunday, April 23, St. Barnabas Episcopal church provided the Chelsea area with the unique opportunity to see and hear Ronald C. Smeenge's nationally acclaimed presentation of John Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. His dramatic interpretation of this 17th century narrative is extremely timely during the Easter Season as it is a reminder of each person's pilgrimage through life.

The audience, representing many different denominations and age groups, was held in the grip of the story and the storyteller's ability to make it come to life. He bridged the span of time between the original telling and today's generations by the force of his characterization, his intensity and his becoming before the audience's eyes the multiple personalities depicted in Bunyan's "dream."

Smeenge has gained considerable attention with his presentation which will soon be released as a video tape in response to the demand for a means by which Pilgrim's Progress can be brought to the classroom.

Purse Stolen From Car

A woman's purse was taken from her 1992 Ford Explorer that was parked in the Village Plaza alley near the Secretary of State's office on M-52 Saturday morning.

The woman said she had left her window down with the motor running while she went to talk to one of her employees. She said she wasn't gone more than five minutes. When she returned, she discovered her purse was gone.

The woman went to talk to a local restaurant employee, who had recently taken out the trash. The employee said she noticed the car was running, but didn't notice anything else suspicious.

Upon investigation, Chelsea police checked all the exterior trash receptacles and the adjacent field. The officer also checked the roof, restrooms and trash receptacles alongside any open doors in the mall area. The small tan purse has not been found.

playing only his second time in the singles circuit, came up short, 7-6, 6-2.

The doubles partners kept on winning and winning. Bainton and Myers took their match, 6-0, 6-0. O'Connor and Koeniger put another win in their pockets, 6-1, 6-0, while Valchine and McDonnell closed up the gap of victories, 6-3, 6-0.

The team packed up their racquets and went traveling to compete in the Pinckney Invitational on Saturday, April 29. For the first time in five years, Chelsea took over the reins of the championship. Pinckney came in second, while Dexter strolled into a third place finish. Davison tied up the end of the invite in fourth. Pinckney has won the invite since 1990.

"It was a pleasant surprise," said coach Rahn Rosentreter.

Johnson came in second and Chase rallied a third place finish in the singles division.

Bainton and Myers, O'Connor and Koeniger, and Scott Hammett and Jason Middleton snagged the titles in their doubles categories. Valchine and McDonnell came in second the No. 3 doubles competition.

"A lot of credit has to be given to the seniors for their leadership," Rosentreter said. "They all should be leaving with winning records."

NORTHWEST AIRLINES
Some People Just Know How To Fly™

LONDON EXPRESS...
ALL ABOARD

JOY LEITZ and PAM HARMALA of Chelsea, two winners of a week-end trip to London, join Edward McNamara, Wayne County executive, and Andrea Newman, a vice-president of Northwest Airlines, prior to boarding a trolley to take them to Detroit Metropolitan Airport. Leitz and Harmala were among thousands of people with watchful eyes, anxious ears and luggage in hand, who attended a Northwest Airlines "High Tea" reception, on Thursday, April 20, in hopes of winning a London vacation package. The winners must have brought their lucky charms as well, as six couples won World Business Class tickets and hotel accommodations, compliments of the airline. To be eligible, the London hopefuls had to bring valid passports and luggage for departure that evening. After a random drawing, the winners were whisked away to Detroit Metropolitan Airport by an English trolley to board the flight immediately after the reception. They returned on Monday, April 24. The British-style reception, located at the Hyatt Regency Dearborn, was a celebration of Northwest's inaugural non-stop service from Detroit to London. With WJR's Ronna Romney, as the master of ceremonies and Edward McNamara, Wayne County Executive, conducting the drawing, there was standing room only for guests.

JEFF MOORE, right, bagged this giant turkey Monday in the Waterloo Area land near Clear Lake. The turkey weighed in at 23 1/2 lbs. and had an 11-inch beard. Jeff used a 12-gauge shotgun at 35 yards. Tom Mesnard, on left above, went along to serve as caller to attract the birds. Jeff was one of only 150 applicants who were awarded permits to hunt in the area covering portions of Jackson, Ingham and Washtenaw counties.

The team's record is 2-0. Games that were rained out against Ann Arbor Pioneer and Adrian have yet to be made up. The freshman softball team meets up for a doubleheader with Bedford on Tuesday, May 2. They then play Monroe-St. Mary's on Friday, May 5.

St. Louis Center Honors Four At Recognition/Dinner Dance

On Saturday, April 22, St. Louis Center held their annual Recognition/Dinner Dance, to recognize the Center's most significant contributors and supporters during the past year. This event is one of St. Louis Center's biggest fund-raisers of the year, and is co-ordinated by the St. Louis Parents Association. Two people were honored with Friendship Awards, for their outstanding personal contributions to the Center, and two Citizenship Awards were given for outstanding corporate support.

All of this year's winners were from the Chelsea community, and Friendship Award winners for 1994-95 were Mrs. Ann Merkel and Kenneth Unterbrink.

Ann has served on the Community Advisory Board for over 10 years, and has chaired the Fall Silent Auction for the past three years. Ken has worked on many behind the scenes projects during the past 15 years, has obtained major contributions of auction items over the years, and is a past Grand Knight of Chelsea K. of C. Council No. 3092, which holds many fund-raisers on behalf of St. Louis Center.

This year's Citizenship Award winners were Lloyd Bridges and Chelsea Community Hospital. Will Johnson accepted the award on behalf of CCH. Lloyd has contributed to St. Louis Center in many ways as a benefactor of the Center, and has co-chaired the Fall Auction during the last three years with board member Bill Grant.

Chelsea Community Hospital has also been very generous to St. Louis Center. Since 1988, they have hosted the Fall Auction, and donated their facilities, services, and staff in support of this event. They were also acknowledged for the special care that they provide for the boys of St. Louis Center whenever called upon for medical or psychological services.

This year's awards were presented by Fr. Enzo Addari, director of St. Louis Center, and Mrs. Gayanne Harris, president of the SLC Parents Association. County Commissioner and SLC board member Joe Yekulis acted as master of ceremonies, and over 200 people were in attendance. The band, Shades of Blue, provided the evening's entertainment for their sixth successive year.

Wildflower Walk Held at Geology Center May 6

The community is encouraged to join Gerald E. Eddy Geology Center park interpreter Lisa Gamero on a wildflower walk at 1 p.m. on May 6 to discover the beauty that nature has to offer during this time of year. The center is located at 16345 McClure Rd., Chelsea.

The public has the opportunity to learn about some of the most common wildflowers that blanket our woods during this spring season.

The event is free and open to the public.

A Michigan State Park Vehicle Permit is required for entry into the park.

FORMER VICE-PRESIDENT of the United States Dan Quayle signed an autograph for Lily Sacks, an eighth grade student at Beach Middle school, during his visit to Concordia College April 20. Quayle was in Ann Arbor to attend a fund raiser at the college. Lily's father, Andy Sacks, is a professional photographer who snapped the picture while on assignment. Regular Meeting.

Tuesday, April 11, 1995

Present: President Steele, Clerk Morrison, Village Manager Myers, Assistant Village Manager Pindzia.

Trustees Present: Cashman, Clark, Daut, Merkel, Hammer, Rigg.

Others Present: D. Rosentreter, D. Ellenwood, G. Mitchell, C. Ritter, D. Wenk, A. Farley, L. Farley, S. Morse, C. Burgess, B. Murphy, D. Murphy, M. Eder, T. Osborne, F. Mills, D. Bulson, M. Sweet, B. Bauer, J. Rutherford, K. Faustini, J. Yelsik, B. Yelsik, M. Reesman, B. Roberts, M. Foster, M. Murphy, G. Murphy, R. Eder, S. Bareis.

The first order of business was public participation and Mr. Ritter asked the Council why the incinerator project was not on the agenda.

President Steele responded by indicating that the Council had not received anything official at this point.

Mr. Ritter also spoke to Council regarding the $5,000 earnest money Trustee Merkel requested. Mr. Ritter felt that the purchase of this land was for the incinerator project. Mr. Steele stated that it was not for the incinerator project, but to add onto the Industrial Park.

Mr. Ritter asked Council whether or not they had been meeting with the principals of the incineration company regarding an offer. President Steele and other Council members explained that they did meet with the company, however, they did not discuss an offer and they were just performing fact-finding activities.

Trustee Merkel explained to Mr. Ritter in greater detail that the Council did meet with the company, however, they never had a quorum during any of the two meetings held. He also stated that the $5,000 was for development of the Industrial Park because the Council is getting short of property on that side of the Industrial Park. Also, he stated that the incinerator company approached the Council—there has been little confirmation. But, he felt the Council must look at all possibilities. Trustee Merkel also stated that the public will be told all facts and figures. He mentioned that the Council was not trying to pull the wool over anyone's eyes.

Ms. Eder read a portion of a letter to the Council dated April 10, 1995, regarding the deep concern over the Council's consideration of a medical waste incinerator in or near Chelsea. She submitted the letter and signatures. (A copy of the letter and signatures are attached as Appendix A.)

Mr. Ritter stated that there was no need to have a by-pass until the Village put up the no left turn signs as well as the rounded corners in the downtown area.

Mr. Murphy read a statement from Mr. Boham and Mr. Johnson, Chelsea Hospital, opposing the medical waste incinerator.

Mr. Knight, representing BookCrafters, stated he was very concerned regarding the potential medical waste incinerator and that if BookCrafters had known the possibility existed they may have considered its addition elsewhere. Mr. Knight also mentioned that BookCrafters was concerned regarding the long-term negative impact on recruiting and employee retention. Mr. Knight also stated that he would not be convinced it (the medical waste incinerator) is safe.

Ms. Rutherford, representing the Playground Committee, communicated its opposition to the medical waste incinerator. She also stated they respect the process the Council was undertaking. However, they feel that the Village residents need timely information regarding development. She also stated the Playground Committee felt the community needed a decisive decision to not move forward. The Playground Committee is working on a strict timeline relative to the new playground and they are currently planning for an area near the potential medical waste incinerator. The committee feels the incinerator will negatively impact donations, volunteers, safety and use of the facility.

Mr. Eder spoke on his behalf. He stated he was very concerned. He spoke to the Council regarding what he supports. He felt that we have a clean and healthy industrial park and it should stay that way. He feels that with any Industrial Park expansion the Council needs to pay special attention to the type of industry attracted and that a mix is needed. He also stated he was concerned about the ground water wells located in the same area as the potential medical waste incinerator. Mr. Eder spoke to Council as well as Residents regarding a study from the State of Minnesota, stating alternatives to this type of incinerator. Mr. Eder stated that there is no such thing as a dioxin-free/toxin free incinerator.

Mr. Ritter stated that one major disadvantage to the medical waste incineration was that the DNR can come in and not communicate a clear go, no go situation.

Mr. Wenk spoke regarding his opposition to the medical waste incineration. President Steele mentioned that if the company comes forward with an offer, Council will hold a Public Session.

Mr. Wenk stated that generally he feels no one wants a medical waste incinerator.

President Steele indicated that there will be no agreement prior to the Public Session, no closed doors. He mentioned that the Council needed to collect information regarding this matter to become better informed.

Trustee Daut stated there are issues that come up on a regular basis and are discussed in terms of information gathered. He also stated that there was no need to react until a proposal is in front of the Council, rather that gathering information enables the community to learn, pull together and investigate individual's concerns.

Trustee Merkel again stated that the property next to the Industrial Park was being considered as an Industrial Park addition.

Mr. Ritter stated that Trustee Merkel indicated someone was willing to purchase the property and Council needed to react quickly. Mr. Ritter also mentioned that not one word was mentioned about incinerator in the meeting minutes.

President Steele indicated that Council has not received anything official. Mr. Eder stated that the Residents were not looking for a fight, just asking the Council to take action—not to react—but to firmly state they are not interested.

President Steele indicated that he doesn't want to tell anyone they can't bring a proposal to Council.

Ms. Mitchell, co-chair for the Community Playground Project Committee addressed Council regarding its needs to proceed with a drive and parking area as well as its need to meet tight timelines on other aspects of the playground construction. She also asked Council whom she should contact regarding outstanding issues the committee needs addressed. Trustee Cashman indicated that the survey should be complete in the next week and then the committee could determine the location of the drive and parking area. President Steele indicated that Ms. Mitchell could contact Assistant Village Manager Bruce Pindzia.

Mr. Ritter asked Council if the 100 year flood plan had been addressed in relation to the building of the playground off Sibley Road.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Rigg to accept the Consent Agenda. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Daniel Ellenwood, Chief, Chelsea Fire Department presented his monthly report for the Month of March 1995.

Cecil Clouse, Landfill Superintendent, reported that everything was still moving along.

Dave Bulson, Public Works Superintendent, reported that the Freer Road work had progressed down to the area of the Chelsea School District bus garage.

Brad Roberts, Wastewater Treatment Plant Superintendent, reported on the OSHA survey. He stated 99% of the problems were small and have been corrected. There was just one item outstanding and that was item 6D.

Assistant Village Manager Pindzia reported that the Village had hired Jim Drolett. Jim works part-time from 12:00 noon until 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the Zoning Department.

Dan Rosentreter, Water Superintendent, reported that they were working on well capacities.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to remove from the table the cost estimate from Soil and Materials Engineers for evaluation of groundwater monitoring data—Werkner Road Landfill. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Rigg, to recommend acceptance of proposal from Soil and Materials Engineers and that it will be a cost saving. Motion withdrawn by Hammer, second withdrawn by Rigg.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Rigg, to accept the proposal from Soil and Materials Engineers for evaluation of groundwater monitoring data—Werkner Road Landfill for a shared cost not to exceed a total $12,530.00 collectively, specifically with the intent on eliminating some of the wells. This acceptance is contingent upon Dexter, Lyndon, Lima and Sylvan Township approval. Roll Call Vote. Ayes: Cashman, Hammer, Daut, Rigg, Clark, Merkel, Steele. Motion carried.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to remove from the table the Streetscape Study Proposals. All Ayes. Motion carried.

The Council discussed the need for additional information prior to formally acting on the Streetscape Study Proposals.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Clark, to table the Streetscape Study Proposal and discussion of bids. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Cashman, supported by Rigg, to remove from the table the Papo re-zoning request. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

With great interest I read Mr. Daut's letter two weeks ago and Mr. Eder's last week concerning the Medical Waste Incinerator. Two experts in their field and two well written letters.

I think it is about time to get official petitions around to again let the village council members know the vast majority of people do not want the incinerator—bypass or no bypass. Why the song and dance? Is the council waiting to see what the Med. Waste Co. will offer. They don't seem to realize we do not want it at any price. They cannot guarantee that 10-20 years from now our air, water and soil will not be contaminated.

Our children have enough unknown perils awaiting them without possibly creating another for the sake of a bypass.

Mr. Daut stated he would vote against the incinerator if that's what the people wanted. Thank you Steve, at least you have gumption enough to tell us where you stand. How about the other members?

Has there been anymore "unofficial" contact with the company? If this is so great, then why aren't we fighting with 50 other communities to get this?

Dave Murphy.

To the Editor,

A major change is taking place in the way the federal government decides what is safe for us to drink and breathe—undermining a quarter century of progress in environmental health and safety laws. Surprisingly, discussion of giving up safety centers on a bogus claim of costs—even to Michigan's senators and representatives in Congress.

The change, innocuously called "Risk Assessment," requires cost-benefit analysis for every regulation with costs more than $1 million. In February, the House passed it embedded within the "Contract with America." Although scientific sounding, this amounts to nothing more than bean-counting to determine environmental safety.

For toxic chemicals, there are two separate hurdles. First, even chemicals known to be toxic will be assumed safe in the absence of absolute scientific proof. Second, even proven toxins can be controlled only if the dollar values of health benefits outweigh costs of implementation. In other words, banning even a known toxic is possible only if it costs less than paying for the death and sickness it creates.

EPA Administrator Carol Browning testified before Congress: "We don't think that under the risk provisions of the Contract With America we could have banned lead in gasoline, and that would have been tragic." Her conclusion was based upon an attempted cost-benefit analysis of protecting children from lead poisoning. By the way, that grisly analysis concluded that benefits to children were $4,558 per retained IQ point and $2 to $10 million per life saved.

Ironically, risk assessment will create a staggering bureaucracy—counter to the Contract's stated goal of downsizing government. The real agenda is to create "paralysis by analysis," stalemating environmental laws. Even Senator John Chaffee has termed his party's proposal "a prescription for deadlock."

It seems that political pressure to pass the Contract is simply too strong to allow careful consideration, much less critical debate, of pseudoscience concepts like risk assessment for brainlessly guiding all decisions regarding the Clean Air Act, Clean Water act, and other environmental laws.

Welcome to the Brave New World of Risk Assessment. If we let Congress put this one over, shame on us!

Church Broken Into, Window Damaged

The culprit of a breaking and entering of the First United Methodist church on last Friday afternoon hasn't yet been located.

Access was gained by a window in the restroom. Earlier in the day, a boy was allowed to use the restroom, which is the same area of the forced entry.

The window's hinges were damaged and the screen had been removed. Partial fingerprints were recovered by Chelsea police at the scene. Nothing was reported missing from the church.

LINDSEY TILL and Lee Bailey know just how to make the new Touch Screen work and are eager to show others — another demonstration by first graders at Tech Expo on May 11.

JEAN-CLAUDE SOLOMON, is a first grade expert on "The Treehouse" — some new software being used in Mrs. Holefska's classroom to enhance the language arts.

BEN SPENCER and Deborah Solo like to team up and show everyone the interactive CD-Rom programs being used in Mrs. DeVries classroom at North Elementary school.

Kids, Teachers Excited About Computer Technology in Schools

From a touch screen computer in the first grade, to videotaping performances of stories in second grade, to finding information using CD-Roms, technology is opening all kinds of doors for learning in the Chelsea schools.

At North Elementary school, one of the most exciting new developments in technology has been the purchase of a power Mac, a very powerful, easy-to-use computer with lots of interesting applications. Teachers have been exploring two applications in particular. One is the use of electronic mail (e-mail), and the other is navigating the internet.

E-mail allows people in different places to communicate via computers. For example, someone in Chelsea can send a message to someone in another country through e-mail. With the right software and appropriate phone line connections, all the person in Chelsea has to do is write a note on the computer, and then send it to the other person. The person on the other end soon gets the note, reads it, and then can write back. E-mail relies completely on the ability to read, and write, and use a keyboard. Many teachers find that e-mail provides a powerful incentive for reluctant writers to start writing more, because they have the opportunity to write for real readers, who will write back to them. E-mail emphasizes writing as communication, rather than writing as a matter of mastering rules and forms.

The new power Mac in the North School Media Center is making it possible for Chelsea teachers to get in touch with teachers across the country, and with teachers nearby. For example, Barb Locks, the media specialist at North, is exploring ways of getting in touch with a teacher in the Saline schools who is helping others in that district learn about the uses and the future of technology. Another possible use of e-mail is to provide opportunities for kids to interact with kids in different school districts around particular issues. For instance, the Global Rivers Environmental Education Network (GREEN) brings students and teachers together to learn about improving the quality of watersheds, and how to apply science in their daily lives.

The new power Mac is also providing teachers with opportunities to explore the internet, which is like learning how to use an electronic library. Using an electronic library is different from looking things up in a card catalog, because information is stored in lots of different ways. For example, Chelsea students might learn one strategy for exploring the electronic resources at the University of Michigan's library, and another for using the data base at Michigan State. Donald Locker, a member of Chelsea's technology committee, used this analogy to explain the process of learning to use the internet. "It's like going to Meijer's in search of vacuum cleaner bags. First, you have to decide whether they will be in the small appliance section, or in the cleaning supplies section. And when you get to cleaning supplies, you have to figure out whether they will be near the dust cloths, or next to the garbage bags."

Bringing more technology into the schools may change education for kids. It certainly presents new challenges for teachers. Teachers become learners, trying to master new information and new technology. One of the most powerful things they then share with their students is their sense of discovery, their willingness to try and fail and try again, their joy in succeeding. That kind of excitement about learning is contagious, and that seems to be what is beginning to happen in our schools.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Lyndon Township

Larceny

Larceny of a boat was reported at Cook's Grocery Store, 1534 Sugarloaf Rd., April 17. The 73-year-old store owner told police someone stole an aluminum boat, valued at $500, sometime between April 14 and April 17. The boat is rented through the store and is not kept locked up. Police have no leads and have closed the case.

Illegal Entry

Illegal entry was reported in the 11100 block of Boyce Rd., April 18. A 50-year-old township woman told police she suspects her former boyfriend of breaking into her home between April 13 and April 17. She returned home from a week-end vacation to find the glass in her basement door broken out. She suspects her former live-in boyfriend, who she asked to move out in March, because he was upset when he stayed over two days and then was asked to leave again. Nothing was discovered missing and it was noted some of his belongings are still in the home. Damage is estimated at $50.

Dexter Township

Arson/Larceny

A 47-year-old township woman reported finding her garbage container on fire at the end of her driveway in the 9600 block of Alice Hill Rd., April 18. He neighbor initially called her to tell her about the fire. When she investigated, the woman found a Len's Rubbish recycle bin on fire. She threw dirt on it to extinguish the flames. Damage is estimated at $50.

Lima Township

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported at Reddeman Farms, 555 S. Dancer Rd., April 19. A 51-year-old Chelsea woman who manages the golf course told police someone broke in and stole $64. Thieves gained entry by throwing a large rock through a front window. The rock also created a hole in the wall. The exact amount of damages was not reported.

Threats/Harassing Telephone Calls

A 43-year-old township man reported his former wife has been calling and making threatening telephone calls. He said the 39-year-old Chelsea woman threatened his wife once and left a message on their answering machine. The police informed the woman of a law pertaining to harassment via the telephone. The woman agreed not to call again and her ex-husband agreed not to prosecute unless it happens again.

Police To Broadcast Tornado Warning At Noon Saturday

Residents shouldn't be alarmed this Saturday when they hear a loud warning signal. It's just the police department testing its tornado siren at noon. The siren would be used to alert community members in the event that a tornado descend should upon the village.

Residents are urged not to call the police department on Saturday when they hear the warning siren. Many people have called in the past because they are unfamiliar with the sound.

The siren will be tested at noon on the first Saturday of every summer month.

Seniors Will Celebrate Mother's, Father's Day With Dinner Party

Birthdays for those born in May and June will also be celebrated at the dinner.

Chelsea Senior Citizens Center plans to celebrate Mothers and Fathers Day with a dinner at 6 p.m. on May 19 in Chelsea High school's cafeteria. Also on the evening's agenda is a birthday party for those who were born in May or June.

This year's entertainment is the "Choral Connection." They are a 20-member group. Some members of the Chelsea Area Players are joining the "Choral Connection" in the entertainment.

Alice Rhodes will accompany the group on the piano. Chelsea Area Players members who plan to sing are Norma Graftlund, Deanna Hicks, Julie Tite, Tom Layher, Barry Nemon and Barbara Stark-Nemon. Also on hand will be the group's director, Carolyn Tjon-Burnstein.

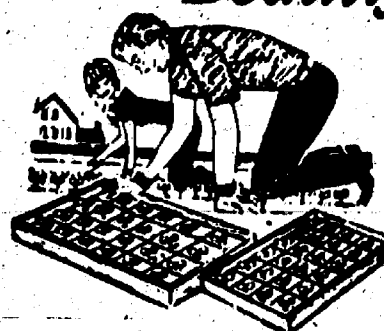

"The 'Connection' sings a wide range of popular songs — some have been reworded and they're very funny," said senior citizen director Pat Kaminsky. "They do some dancing as well."

A dinner consisting of ham, au gratin potatoes, broccoli spears, gelatin salad, rolls, sherbet and cookies will be served at 6 p.m. The entertainment is to follow the dinner. The cost is $4 for May and June birthday people and $5 for others. To make reservations, call Kaminsky, at 475-9242 by May 12. Each birthday celebrant will be presented with a carnation from Chelsea Greenhouse.

"We'll celebrate Ma and Pa's Day and birthdays," Kaminsky invites. "Join us for a great time."

USDA researchers say their efforts to map the chromosomes of cattle and hogs could lead to better breeding and eventually better meat for consumers. By making genetic traits easier to identify, the researchers expect the maps to lead to a number of improvements within the meat and livestock industries, including speeding up the breeding of animals with favorable genetic traits.
