MOREL MUSHROOMS, which come in many varieties and colors, are in their prime picking season. The mushrooms are known for popping up overnight in wooded, cool areas. These white and yellow morels were picked on state land west of Chelsea by Gregory resident Jim Bies on May 16.

Wild Morel Mushrooms: Hot Item in Cool Areas

Mid-April to early June is the prime picking season for these wild fungi.

Morel mushroom pickers usually are unwilling to reveal their hiding spots for picking the famed spring-time delicacy. True to form, Gregory resident Jim Bies was out picking some morel mushrooms Tuesday afternoon and would only say he picked them on state land that is west of Chelsea.

Bies, who has lived in the area for 23 years, said he is a novice morel hunter who took up the hobby nearly three years ago. He said the morels that he found had sprung up overnight. His dinner plans? To saute them in butter and add a healthy dose of onions.

The height of morel-picking season is right now. The season runs from late April through early June. Morels are known for popping up within hours.

Likely spots to find the edible fungi are stands of aspen, dead elm trees, old orchards, spruce stumps and remains of previous forest fires. The best place and time to find them are in a cool dark place close to the ground in the early morning just after a "fresh crop" has sprouted.

Bies said everyone needs to be aware of what they are picking. Morel mushrooms come in many varieties.

"You need to look at the cap," he said.

A popular one, the "false" morel can be poisonous for most people. It has a striped stem, much like a true morel, but the differences end there. The cap is wrinkled and attached at the top, hanging over the stalk like a dress. A real morel is attached to the stalk and has pits, much like a sponge all over the head.

Morels come in all colors—mostly black, gray, yellow and white. A reddish-brown variety, the beefsteak, is toxic for most. Its cap is irregular shaped and is normally not hooded.

SCOTT OTTO, of Chelsea, looks forward to eating his "catch of the day"—an 8 1/2 in. x 5 in. yellow morel mushroom—as part of a steak dinner. Otto found the giant sized treat while mushroom hunting on his lunch hour.

Bies, an electronics technician at Chrysler Proving Grounds, said to make sure that a mushroom is cut in half before consumption. Insects and other creatures like to call the hollow inside of the morel home.

"I've eaten a few bugs in my time," Bies said.

The true morel is mostly made of water, Bies said, which accounts for its porous nature and soft exterior. If it is allowed to over-ripen, the porous nature becomes dark brown and crinkled.

Bies said he farms just 21 acres of farmland on Joslin Lake Rd.

Scott Otto, who is a mechanic at Palmer Motor Sales, put his lunch hour to valuable use to go mushroom hunting. He said he found one-half of a grocery bag full of wild morel mushrooms.

He said after work he was going back to collect more of the vegetable. He said he picked mostly yellow morels, but was able to find the white giant ones as well.

"There are some places we didn't get to look for because of the limited time on our lunch hour," he said. "If you want to find some, go look at some dead elm trees."

The biggest mushroom that Otto found last Thursday afternoon measured in at 8 1/2 in. x 5 in.—and weighed approximately 1/2 to 3/4 of a pound.

But Otto, like Bies, isn't revealing his hunting grounds.

"Nobody tells," he said.

Board Narrows Field of Candidates to One Finalist

Christine Annese, of the Montrose School District, has been selected as the finalist in the search for a new assistant superintendent.

The Chelsea School District has narrowed the field of applicants for the assistant superintendent position from 22 to one finalist.

The interviewing committee scaled down the list to three candidates before selecting Christine Annese as the final candidate.

Annese, who hails from the Montrose School District (approximately 20-25 miles northwest of Flint), has a master's degree in educational administration and is presently the director of finance and operation for Montrose schools.

"She still is our final candidate," said Superintendent of Schools Edward Richardson.

He and some members of the school board traveled to Montrose on May 17 to visit with Annese in her work environment.

The board has yet to approve a contract for the new assistant superintendent position, regardless of who is finally offered the position. The district's lawyers are making some changes to the contract and as of Monday night had not returned the revised contract to Richardson. Once he has received it, Richardson said board members will be sent the contract for perusal. He said he will ask for approval of the assistant superintendent position contract at the next school board meeting on June 5.

"Christine has not been offered the position, but I want her to look at the contract to see if her expectations are fully covered," Richardson told the board Monday night. "She will be calling me back to indicate if she is still interested."

Annese has the option of adding any changes or clarifications to the contract. The board must then decide if those changes are warranted before the position may be offered. If Annese declines the contract, the search will continue for a new assistant superintendent.

Once an assistant superintendent is hired, that person will be working closely with the school board and other top members of administration within North Elementary, South Elementary, Beach Middle School and Chelsea High School.

The new administrator will take over the reins from Frederick A. Mills, who has been an administrator for 29 years and has served the Chelsea School District for 32 years. Mills' retirement takes effect this June 30. Originally Mills had intended to retire in 1996, but opted to begin his retirement one year earlier. The board had been searching since January for Mills' replacement, and intends to hire someone by June 30.

The board had hoped to make a selection by the end of the month, but has been delayed by the revised contract.

Mills had indicated that he will be happy to assist in any way to orientate the new assistant superintendent.

Parade, Ceremonies Honor War Veterans On Memorial Day

Tradition is something that the residents of Chelsea can look forward to as they honor the nation's deceased war heroes for Memorial Day. A parade, along with ceremonies, is scheduled to take place on Monday, May 29 beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the Municipal Parking Lot on E. Middle St.

Jim Knott is the master of ceremonies again this year. He said he tries to pick a local person who is a veteran. This year's speaker is Chelsea High school assistant principal Mark Helms.

Past speakers have included Dr. Wilfred Lane, who served 39 months in the Army during World War II, and 1993 Chelsea High school graduate Tom Poulter, who is now serving in the Navy.

The Memorial Day festivities will honor those who have served and died for their country. The format will follow much of the same format as in previous ceremonies.

Pat Merkel will serve as the parade marshal. Marching bands from Chelsea High School and Beach-Middle School will be playing selected music honoring the fallen comrades they will never have the opportunity of knowing.

Color guards from the VFW Auxiliary Post 4076 and the Herbert J. McKune American Legion Post No. 31 plan to lead the parade at its starting point on E. Middle St. The parade will wind down Main St., turn onto East St., and convene at Oak Grove Cemetery.

The ceremonies that will be conducted at Oak Grove Cemetery, honoring many of Chelsea's lost but not forgotten veterans, will conclude the village's activities for the day. At the cemetery, Helms will deliver his address to the community.

The ceremonies will conclude with a 21-gun salute by a veteran's color guard and the playing of "Taps," plus the singing of the National Anthem.

The Parade is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Knott said that anyone wishing to march in the parade should assemble at the Municipal Parking Lot on E. Middle St. at 9:30 a.m.

Mark Helms Chosen As Memorial Day Speaker

"We should honor those who have served our nation and paid the ultimate sacrifice," said Mark Helms, who has been chosen as this year's Memorial Day speaker.

As the nation is in the midst of celebrating and remembering the 50th anniversary of the close of World War II, Helms said it is really appropriate to remember and honor those who fought for their country.

Helms was chosen to speak to the Chelsea community by co-ordinator Jim Knott. He is the assistant principal at Chelsea High School and was chosen to address the community as a result of his service to our nation and his participation in the reserve armed services.

Helms spent five years in the U.S. Army, serving from 1980-85. He was stationed at Fort Benning in Georgia, at Fort Dix in New Jersey and in South Korea. Although Helms served during a relative peace-time era, he said he knows he was lucky to not have to fight in a war.

MARK HELMS

He is an instructor at the Army Reserve Training Center in Lansing, holding the rank of Major. Helms has been teaching at the facility for four years and plans to continue teaching until he retires.

As a requirement of his reserve duties, he serves one week-end each

Sea Cadet Unit Started As Memorial to the Late Lt. Marc Pletcher

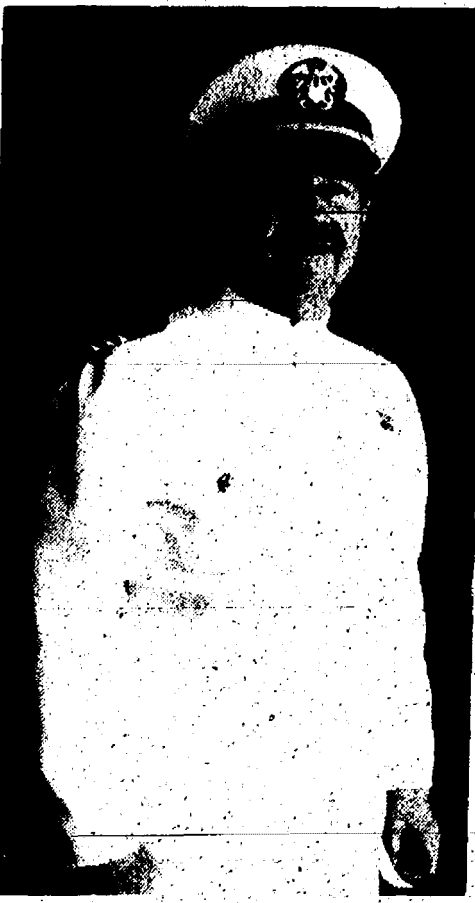

CDR Dave Pletcher USNR-R, of Chelsea, has announced that he is starting a Sea Cadet Unit as a Living Memorial in honor of his son, Lt. j.g. Marc Blue Pletcher. Lt. Pletcher was involved in a mid-air collision as a naval flight officer on an F-14 Tomcat (the Navy all-purpose fighter of "Top Gun" fame) and declared deceased after a futile search for 24 hours on Sept. 14, 1994.

Marc, as he was known by his family and friends, was an honor graduate of Chelsea High School (1987) and the U.S. Naval Academy (1991). Lt. Pletcher further distinguished himself (and was awarded the Navy Commendation Medal by the Secretary of the Navy) by being consistently placed on the Commodore's List in recognition of his outstanding performance during basic, intermediate and squadron advanced flight training (the entire period of Flight School) at Pensacola, Fla.

This commendation also cited Pletcher's meritorious service, while serving as legal officer assigned to Fighter Squadron 32 attached to the Nuclear Powered Aircraft Carrier U.S.S. Dwight D. Eisenhower (CVN69).

This commendation further stated: Lt. Pletcher's distinctive accomplishments, unrelenting perseverance and loyal devotion to duty reflected great credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest tradition of the United States Naval Service.

A memorial service will be held at Arlington National Cemetery on July 28, 1995 at 3 p.m. for Lt. Marc Pletcher in accordance with his request in his service record.

CDR DAVE PLETCHER

CDR Pletcher stated that the Sea Cadet Unit would be more effective as a living memorial than a plaque or other memorial in that the lives of hundreds of local youth ages 11 through 18 (girls and boys) can be favorably affected by providing them the opportunity to receive the same training as active duty Sailors, Marines, Coastguardsmen, Air Force and Army personnel without having any active duty obligation.

The two weeks training duty assignments range from boat camp to duty aboard a Nuclear Powered Aircraft Carrier to training with the Navy Seals.

CDR Pletcher served during the Korean War and spent 15 years in the Naval Reserve recruiting and training high school seniors in the capacity of Recruiting, Training, Executive and Commanding Officer of a Naval Reserve Division in Jackson. He said that of the 120 or so men recruited, trained and sent on active duty through that program each year, the vast majority found that they benefited immensely from the program from the standpoint of self discipline, responsibility, selecting and learning a trade or profession, travel, etc.

The curriculum includes carpentry, internal combustion and auto mechanics, electricity, fire fighting, the medical field, plumbing and many others including the aviation field.

The training also includes field trips to Air Shows, training on board Coast Guard cutters and helicopters and an 80-foot boat at Selfridge Air National Guard Base. Locally the unit can train on CDR Pletcher's water-skiing boat and raft at Cavanaugh Lake.

Experienced veterans (and others) are welcome to join the group to help make this program a success for the youth of Chelsea and surrounding areas.

Sea Cadets and their instructors and officers are authorized by the Beach Teachers Present Learning Proposal to Board

Teachers from Beach Middle School submitted a proposal to explore restructuring teaching techniques to the school board Monday night.

One concept presented was teaming. This happens when a group of teachers, usually two to five, has a common group of students to educate. It is hoped that student-teacher relationships may be improved, as well as peer relationships. Interpersonal skills would be developed as students become comfortable with their "group" and identify with working in numbers to accomplish a certain goal. A teacher-to-student ratio would be more equitable, as sixth grade BLOC teachers see two groups of students while science and math teachers see six different groups.

Teachers would have a daily common-planning period to discuss the curriculum and their respective students. They could co-ordinate homework assignments and testing schedules and have more communication with parents. Morale would improve as students learn to incorporate what they've learned in one class and use it to further develop their learning process.

Time would be scheduled into larger periods, and the planning team would decide on how to divide the time. Certain subjects, like science, art and math, require longer class periods in order to finish up projects that may be unable to be completed in the current 46-minute class period. Also students who go on field trips would not miss valuable class time as teachers could

The last piece of preparation for the Downtown Development Authority's downtown renovation plan was completed last Friday when DDA officials accepted a bid of $570,000 from Flat Rock Contractors for the majority of the work. Construction could begin as early as this week. The bid covers all streetscape work, such as sidewalk and curb renovations, installation of light fixtures, trees, benches and trash containers and construction of the parking lot behind Main St. businesses between South and W. Middle Sts. It does not cover burial of the overhead wires, which is being handled by a separate bid. And it does not cover the moving of the Eastades house from South St. to village-owned lots on W. Middle St.

Memorial Day services to honor deceased war veterans will be held Monday, May 27 in the village. The traditional parade will begin at 10 a.m. in the Municipal Parking Lot, led by members of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 of the American Legion. Parade marshal will be Pat Merkel and Don Doll will be the Sergeant of the Guard. All are veterans are invited to march.

★ A New Day for Michigan Schools

By Lawrence W. Reed

April 1995 marks the beginning of a new day for public schools in Michigan, thanks to two laws passed in Lansing a year ago.

Because of Public Act 112 of 1994, the door is open for new strategies that make use of motivated volunteers, new technology, and cost control in a friendlier environment. Because of Public Act 117, the ability of union leadership to intimidate teachers into compliance with its political agenda is now substantially reduced. Both acts take effect this month.

PA 112 amended Michigan's Public Employment Relations Act in ways that will make it easier for management to manage and for teachers to teach by addressing a range of collective bargaining matters. For one thing, it makes the start of the school year a non-bargainable issue. That's important because while it was illegal in the past for teachers to strike, the unions claimed that they were not on strike at all, but only bargaining over what day school should begin.

Michigan law since 1965 has clearly stated that "No person holding a position by appointment or employment in the government of the state of Michigan, or in the government of any one or more political subdivisions thereof, or in the public school service... shall strike. But in the decade prior to PA 112, Michigan—with just 3.7 percent of the nation's population—was home to 14.4 percent of the nation's teacher strikes. PA 112 puts teeth into previous law not only by making the start of the school year non-bargainable, but by enforcing the long-standing ban on strikes for the first time.

Striking teachers will each be docked one day's pay for every day they walk the picket line. If school boards lock out the teachers, the district will be fined $5,000 a day and board members will be hit for $250 a day. Neither unions nor school boards will be permitted to compensate themselves for strike fines in any bargaining agreement.

Strikes in the private sector are not banned, so why fine teachers in the public sector when they do the same thing? The crucial difference here is that customers are not forced to pay for the product when a private factory is shut down by a strike. When public employees close down a school, however, taxpayers keep paying for the education their children aren't getting.

In the past, many locally bargained agreements could be vetoed by officials higher up in the union. The new law prohibits this—a fact which strengthens Michigan's long-cherished tradition of "local control."

PA 112, furthermore, says that though employee health insurance benefits will continue to be bargained, school boards can no longer be forced under threat of strike to purchase the policies from the Michigan Education Association's insurance subsidiary. School boards may also now approve contracts for new charter schools, introduce inter-district choice plans, privatize non-instructional services like busing, food, and custodial service, and use volunteers in the schools—without being forced by law to "bargain" over these things with the union.

Meanwhile, PA 117 makes major changes to the Michigan Campaign Finance Act. Teacher unions can no longer automatically deduct political contributions from teacher paychecks and then get around campaign contribution limits by distributing the money to more than one political action committee (PAC) set up by the same union. The law now says that the money belongs to the teachers who earned it and that to contribute any of it to a PAC, each teacher must give the union written permission to take it. Moreover, all contributions made by multiple PACs established by a single union or its subsidiaries are considered as having been made by a single committee. PA 117 treats unions the same as the law treats corporations.

While PA 112 and PA 117 make for a new day in Michigan schools, more needs to be done. Teachers need tools to hold their union leadership—which grants itself huge annual pay increases at teachers' expense—more accountable for the way it behaves. One way to do that would be to eliminate automatic payroll deductions for the payment of union dues. If the Michigan Education Association benefits its members, the members will be happy to write their own personal checks and thereby save schools the administrative costs of collecting the money.

Ultimately, the state should liberate teachers from the burden of forced unionism and allow each teacher the freedom of choice to associate—or not to associate—with a union and its collective bargaining arrangements.

In 1994, the Michigan legislature and Governor John Engler put in place two important acts for public schools. Now it is up to the schools to see that parents, taxpayers, teachers, and children reap the maximum benefits.

Carnival Slated Over Memorial Day Weekend

A "Festival of the Lambs" will be held at Our Savior Lutheran church, 1515 S. Main St., Chelsea, from May 25 through May 29. The festival will include rides, games, and food provided by Arnold Amusements. Proceeds from the festival will be used to purchase equipment and meet expenses of the new pre-school which will open in September 1995.

In researching effective methods for raising money, the fund-raising committee decided on a carnival. "Arnold Amusements has an outstanding reputation with the churches and schools that have worked with them. They are family owned and operated and are licensed by the State of Michigan," stated Debbie Kennedy, fund-raising chairman.

Hours of the festival are scheduled for Thursday, May 25 from 5 to 9 p.m., Friday 5 to 11 p.m., Saturday 12 to 11 p.m., Sunday 1 to 6 p.m., and Memorial Day 12 to 6 p.m.

Discounted presale tickets are available at Chelsea Pharmacy and Allie's Cafe. Presale ticket prices will be 18 tickets for $5.

Admission price will be $1, with children under 5 years admitted free.

The school's curriculum will include developing children's intellectual powers, social abilities, emotional capacities, physical skills, and spiritual growth. Attention will be given to helping students learn about themselves, their world, developing a love of learning, a love of people, a love of life, and a love of God. The licensed program will be offered Mondays and Wednesdays from 8:45 to 11:15 a.m. to four-year-olds.

Tuition will be $15 per week. Information regarding registration and applications may be obtained by calling 475-3356 or 475-1404.

QUICK SERVICE
AT REASONABLE RATES

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows got to talking about odds and ends at the country store Saturday night, and they mostly covered odds before the fellow who runs the store called an end to the session. Bug Hookum got the discussion off on a tangent with a question only Bug could ask in a way that could be taken seriously.

Bug wanted to know why public bathroom doors open to the inside. He took notice of this recent when he was in the courthouse, and the more he thought of it the less he thought of it. You go out to eat, he said, and you go to the bathroom where he read the notice about law requiring employees to wash their hands before they leave. So they do, but they can't push the door with their arms to get out, they got to pull the handle with the hand they just washed. So they pick up all the germs left by customers who don't wash their hands.

That may be, Zeke Grubb broke in, but the good news is that germs don't spread that easy. He read where a boy tested handrails and library books at his school and found they were not hazardous to health. He thought students sneezing and coughing in their hands and holding stair rails and books would leave bacteria. He figured out that hard, smooth surfaces like rails, books and door handles are safe because they don't have cracks for germs to grow. Zeke said the boy got a blue ribbon for his science project that was published recent in the Journal of Clinical Epidemiology.

Practical speaking, declared Clem

Webster, there's research and then there's research. He had a clip where screening by the University of Chicago found after a six month study that losing weight could be fatal for old folks in nursing homes. Clem wondered if the researchers considered the possibility that old folks who are dying lose weight during their final days.

Ed Doolittle agreed with Clem. Ed said the weight loss study sounded to him like the economist that announced as more and more people lose their jobs the unemployment rate goes up. Ed said some research is like some inventions the world would be better off without. He was thinking of the new electronic computer player piano. Use to, the player piano read holes in paper, and now the piano computer reads the actual sheet music, and you end up with the same result at 20 times the cost.

Bug come back with another question. He said he heard a legal expert say that one of the defense lawyers in the O.J. Simpson trial made a "deliberate mistake" to throw the other side off the scent. He wanted to know how you intend to make a mistake, or if the mistake was like accidental leaks lawyers and jurors in that case have been making to reporters on purpose.

The fellows aren't TV watchers, but from reading the papers they were agreed that news leaks have taken on new meaning in recent years. Ed said straight hard news never is easy to come by because everybody slants it to suit himself. Ever since Adam's boy came home after killing his brother and answered his Pa's question with a question, Ed said people, governments, corporations and the rest have tried to put news about them in a good light.

A good leak is one you leak, Ed said, a bad one is one somebody else leaks, but now they all go to the highest bidder.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Rotary Club Strive Scholarship Program Participants Honored

Chelsea students who participated in the Rotary Strive Scholarship Program were honored at the May 2 Chelsea Rotary Club meeting. Each student was introduced and presented with a certificate by Gloria Mitchell, president of the Chelsea Rotary Club.

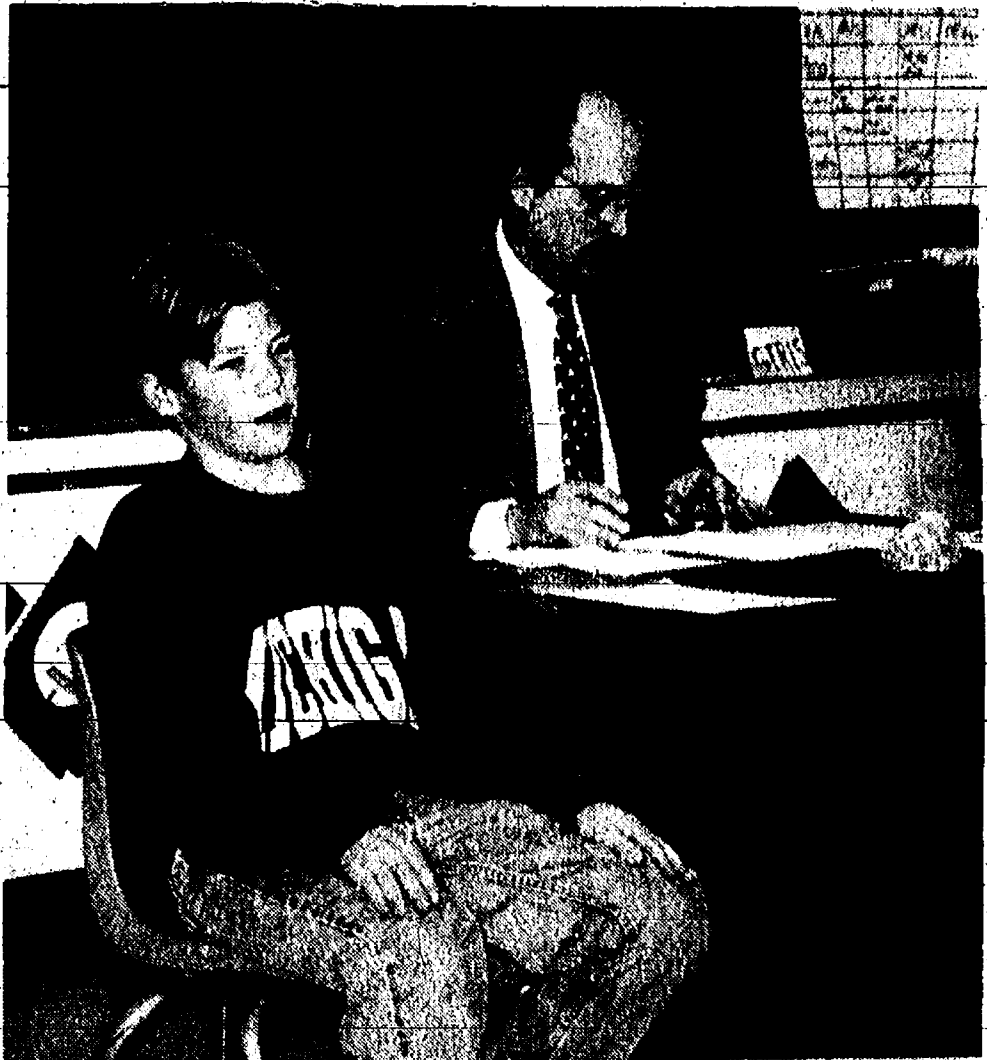

These students have worked all year to improve their grade point averages and class standings. The students met with Rotarians at breakfast meetings throughout the year and discussed work ethics, the necessity of on-going education, and personal career development plans.

Involvement in the Rotary Strive Program is designed to encourage excellence and promote personal growth. Rotary recently sent all of these students to a Rotary Youth Leadership Conference at Ridgetown College in Canada where students worked on teamwork, self-esteem, leadership, and interpersonal communications skills.

The student who has shown the most improvement in his/her grade point average will receive a $700 scholarship to the school of his/her choice. The name of the recipient of the scholarship will be announced on June 9 at class night at Chelsea High school.

Mock Trial Teaches Law Practices to Students

Students at North Elementary school recently observed Law Day, which is May 1, by studying the U.S. Constitution and government.

Meconi's students also participated in a mock trial on May 4. (A mock trial is like a play without the script.) The students playing the attorneys got the opportunity to practice their debating and questioning skills on those who sat in the "hot seat" and testified.

The case was: Jack Jones was charged with malicious destruction of property. He was accused of breaking a neighbor's window—in this case Mrs. Wiley's. The only evidence against Jones was circumstantial.

After all the evidence was presented and opening and closing arguments were heard, Jack Jones was found not guilty of malicious destruction of property.

End of Year Music Concert Slated Thursday

Chelsea High school's music department will present an end of the year concert on Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

This exciting performance will feature all three music groups: the band and the wind ensemble, orchestra and the chamber orchestra and the concert choir.

Under the direction of Bill Gourley, the band will be playing selections from "The Lion King" and the chamber orchestra will perform "Coke Walk" by Robert Russell Bennett and "Traversinfonie" by Richard Wagner.

John Kennedy will complete his first year with Chelsea High school by directing his orchestras in selections including "Holberg Suite," "Jurassic Park," "Kansas City" and "Festique."

Finally, the concert choir will perform "Shenandoah," "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," and "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel," under the direction of Steven Hinz.

The groups combined include over 400 students who have been working hard, both in school and at home preparing for this concert.

The public is encouraged to attend this free performance. Come and enjoy this evening full of music provided by very talented youth.

Dog Dies After Being Attacked On Morning Walk

Tiny was attacked by a larger stray dog while walking with her owner, Leora Conley.

A familiar sight on Main St. just won't be the same anymore.

Residents have become used to seeing Leora Conley, 86, walk her Yorkshire terrier, Tiny, every day along Main St. She would walk the dog, who was 14 years old, from her Sharon Apartment residence up toward Polly's Market.

Conley's dog died as a result of injuries sustained in an attack by a large bulldog on May 17. When the larger dog approached, Tiny became scared and wrapped his leash around her owner's legs, causing Conley to fall to the sidewalk and break her hip.

Tiny suffered a fractured neck and a severed spinal cord in the attack.

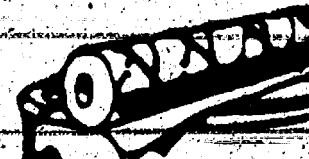

"There was nothing that could be done," said Dr. Wilfred Lane, owner of Lane Animal Hospital. "The spinal cord was severed and she couldn't move any of her limbs. It was a blessing that she passed away on her own."

Conley had surgery for her broken hip last Wednesday night. A Chelsea Community Hospital spokeswoman said Conley was reported in stable condition the afternoon following the surgery.

Chelsea police said the dog was found on N. Main St. by its owner and is being confined for 10 days. The owner said her dog had been aggressive toward certain smaller dogs in the past.

Window Smashed During Argument At Restaurant

While talking on a pay phone at a local fast-food restaurant, an Ann Arbor teen said she was approached by a Manchester teen who began yelling at her and calling her various names.

When the complainant attempted to walk back toward her 1991 Ford pickup, the suspect pushed her from behind, witnesses said. Once the complainant was inside the vehicle, she started to roll up the window. At that point, witnesses said the suspect struck the driver's side door window twice, shattering the glass and destroying the window. The window is valued at $360.

Once the suspect smashed the window, she returned to a group of people sitting at a picnic table outside the restaurant.

The complainant went to Chelsea Community Hospital's emergency room for possible glass fragments in her left eye.

The suspect admitted responsibility for the incident and is to appear in Juvenile Court.

Four of the cutest little baby faces

Andrew, Novi

Colin, Ann Arbor

Myra and Tyra, Ypsilanti

plus 355 more born last month at St. Joe's

Why do so many babies get their start in life at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor? Maybe it's the choice of birthing options we give to moms and dads. Not too many other hospitals offer both LDR and LDRP suites. Maybe it's the availability of doctors in Plymouth, Canton, Brighton, Saline and the Ann Arbor area. Maybe it's the family-focused nursing care provided day in and day out. Or the classes to help make even first-time parents feel like experts. Maybe it's the options for pain relief, including labor epidurals and Jacuzzi bath tubs.

If you're considering a new addition, come see for yourself what St. Joe's has to offer. Call now to schedule a tour and receive an information packet.

CHS Mentorship Program Expands

Thanks to the Mentorship Program at Chelsea High school, senior students have the opportunity to experience their dream career as anything from an architect to a zoologist. Each one of the students taking part in this year's Mentorship Program has an exciting tale to tell.

One notable success story is that of Ryan Fisher whose interest in marketing led him to Arthur P. Finger, national supervisor of the Gus Buster Program for Gus Macker Enterprises. With Finger's guidance, Ryan has pursued a project to learn the business and physical process of promoting, developing, and holding sporting events to help non-profit charities nation-wide. Enthusiastic about his work with Gus Macker and the opportunity offered through the high school, Ryan says, "The Mentorship Program has opened up more doors and options than any other experience in my life."

Lydia Haist is interested in international opportunities. Her mentor is Jeannine Lorenger, overseas opportunities advisor for the U. of M.'s International Center. Lydia researched articles on "cross-cultural re-entry" (readjustment to one's home after living abroad) and helped plan and organize a re-entry group for students who worked or studied overseas. Lydia enjoyed her work with Lorenger and says, "I appreciated the exposure to a program within the University of Michigan, the chance to learn about the resources the International Center provides, and the opportunity to meet people who had lived all over the world."

Working with architect Jan Culbertson of Ann Arbor Architects Collaborative has cemented Scott Hawley's desire to pursue a career in architecture and cleared up some misconceptions he had. Scott notes, "I no longer think architects are the sole 'designer' or contributor to a building. Without the Mentorship Program I would walk into a job I didn't really understand." For his project, Scott redesigned the Longworth Plating Services building as a quaint two-story market using processes a professional architect would use. With Culbertson's guidance, he compiled a full set of architectural plans, conducted a feasibility study and wrote a research paper, and built a model of the building.

Charles Eddleman of the University of Michigan's Dental-Television Unit acted as mentor for Craig Leonard. Craig's project used various aspects of film production. He directed a short video, developing it through all stages from initial idea to final editing. "This was a great experience that I enjoyed thoroughly. It will definitely help me in pursuit of a career in the film industry," says Craig.

Tara Platt's mentorship found her working at the Purple Rose Theatre Company under literary co-ordinator Anthony Caselli. Her goal was to act, direct and write a play. In PRTC's production of A Christmas Carol at the Michigan Theatre, Tara had her chance to act as Tiny Tim's older sister. She studied directing by working under T. Newell Kring on the production of Jeff Daniels' Thy Kingdom's Coming. With Tony Caselli's advice, she is writing a full-length mystery play. Tara says, "This program is the step toward the future that we, as seniors, are making."

An interest in psychobiology promoted Lori Ritter to pursue her mentorship with Dr. James Meador-Woodruff, a psychiatrist at the Mental Health Research Institute. Lori says, "I thought the experience was very rewarding. It helped me decide my plans for college." Lori's project was a study of dopamine regulation in the rat hippocampus through response to both an atypical and a typical anti-psychotic medication.

According to Jim Tallman, "The mentorship was a great experience. It helped me decide for sure that I want to be an engineer." Jim worked with Jeep engineer Ronald Ziegler at the Chrysler Proving Grounds. He observed tests of the Jeep axles, sorted and organized his data, and formulated conclusions about frequent difficulties found with the axles. He then presented a report on his findings to head engineers at the Detroit plant. In addition, Jim took part in a wind noise test that he found especially interesting.

The areas of study for the Mentorship Program are limited only by the imagination of the participants. Other students and their mentorships for the 1994-95 program are as follows:

Aimee Ellison, veterinary medicine with Dr. Arthur Temper of Lane Animal Hospital.

Amie Hatch, law with Pete Flintoft, attorney-at-law.

Karsten Lipiec, engineering with Gerald Banks.

Corrie Schoenberg, vocal performance with Lisa Hinz-Johnson.

Melissa Schulz, chemical engineering with Ann Schlenker of Chrysler Proving Grounds.

Mark Seitz, engineering with Thomas S. Ritter.

Mark Wallace, political journalism with Dennis Bozyk at Madonna College.

Dan Wehrwein, computer networking with Dave Selman at U. of M. Hospitals.

Since its beginning in 1986, the Mentorship Program has provided outstanding learning opportunities for Chelsea students. The program was conceived and established by counselor Chris Dimanin in an effort to team up highly motivated seniors with specialists in their areas of interest. The goal was to provide selected students the opportunity to realize their potential with experience that could not be provided in the regular curriculum. The program was a success, with six students per year participating.

Fifteen students completed the Mentorship Program this spring, under the guidance of Chelsea faculty member James Winter who volunteered his assistance. He and Chris Dimanin planned to work together with the larger group of students, but when a career move took the program founder out of the picture, Winter agreed to oversee the program alone. As CHS principal Ronald Mead explains, "This program was Dimanin's creation; he deserves full credit for making it possible. And this year, with no time or resources at his disposal, Winter has done a great job."

Plans are now under way for next year's seniors. Mead says he will allot class time for Winter to co-ordinate the 1995-96 Mentorship Program. As in past years, students are selected by a committee of teachers, principal and a community representative. Participants must propose a project and seek a mentor in the community. With the mentorship, The mentor must commit to a minimum one hour per week for meeting with the student, and the student must spend five to ten hours per week on the proposed project.

Students who want to participate in the Mentorship Program next year are now seeking support and networking within the community. Mentors who are as committed as the students they assist are a key-stone of this program. As Jim Winter points out, "Chris Dimanin created a great program here at Chelsea High school, and I'm glad to be a part of it. But it's the kids and their mentors who really make it work."

Sea Cadet Unit

Secretary of the Navy to wear the official Navy Uniform for drills with the Sea Cadet Arm Badge. Several Navy Recruiters and other veterans have shown an interest in helping, however, more volunteers are needed.

The Commanding Officer of one of the Sea Cadet units in the state is a retired lady school teacher.

Anyone interested in more information about the Sea Cadets, their instructors or their officers may contact CDR Fletcher at (313) 475-7275 after 7 p.m. week-days or on Saturdays and Sundays. He has two excellent video tapes that describe the program in depth plus several pamphlets that he can make available. For parents who are looking for something worthwhile, wholesome and educational for their youngsters to do during the summers and spare time during the school year this may be the answer.

Give CDR Fletcher a call; watch the 11 and 28 minute videos, read the pamphlet with your youngsters, talk to some of our veterans who will vouch for how the service type routine, discipline and training have helped make them a much better person.

The Sea Cadet's primary goal is to make the cadets better citizens. Fifty percent or so choose to serve God and country as either a career or for 3 to 4 years for full-time training and GI Bill eligibility.

The Sea Cadets will meet for the equivalent of two days per month (week-end warriors). This program will not interfere with school work, in fact the signature of the school representative is required as well as the parents prior to allowing the students to join. If the grades drop, it is recommended that they drop out until they bring them back up.

Beach Proposal

incorporate studies into the trip. Also guest speakers could be better scheduled so that more students could attend an assembly.

Teachers would have the opportunity to integrate disciplines into thematic units. Thinking skills may be further developed as teachers use themes to teach certain concepts to build interest and motivation. Teachers would learn more about other subjects and be better able to educate their students. Also duplicating learning could be decreased. Finally, students would be able to use "real life" skills in the classroom.

The second project that Beach teachers have been working on is the "Prime Time" concept. The concept is divided into four areas of concentration.

The first concentration is incorporating a 14-minute time period each day to be used for a staff member to meet with a small group of students. The 14 minutes would not be added to the school day, but each class period would be shortened by two minutes. During this time, student would be better able to talk out problems, get questions or concerns answered or just have the satisfaction of knowing there is a trusted staff member they can go to if they ever need to talk.

The proposal indicated that the 11-14 age bracket is one of the toughest times for a child to go through. Many students are more interested in developing their social skills rather than paying attention in the classroom, the "proposal" indicates.

Also another lunch period would be added to the schedule. Tell any parent to come to the cafeteria during lunch time and they will agree that a third lunch hour is needed, said various Beach teachers.

Board members said they commended the Beach teachers for the hard work on their proposal, but would like to see a more precise budget on the proposed changes.

Scientists are trying to figure out if there really are mysterious compounds in red wine that reduce the risk of heart disease. They suspect it's probably not the alcohol in the wine. More likely is that other nutrients in the grape juice contribute to making blood less likely to clot, thus cutting the incidence of heart problems.

In Loving Memory of MIKE BRAINERD

Each day we thank God for the memories we have of you. Vacations, bonfires, and fishing boats, just to name a few.

The rides along the back roads to get rocks in daddy's truck. The smile you had when you went hunting and brought home that great big buck!

The special love that we shared together as husband and wife. All the joyful times we remember in our daddy's life.

The wonderful home you made for us can never be the same. Without you here to share with us in all the fun and games.

You gave so much to others, and made so many friends. It's hard to believe that a year ago, your life here had to end.

We remember that night you left us and will never understand our pain. But we will always have memories of you to get us through each day.

Sadly missed but never forgotten by

Your Wife, Cindy,
Daughter, Ashley &
Son, Josh

Monthly Newsletter Devoted to Bond Issue

Voters in the Chelsea School District have or will receive the "Chelsea Challenge" from the schools this week. This month's issue strictly details facts and information about the $45 million school bond that might not have been passed on to the community. It is the school board's hope that the public will become better educated and better aware of what the bond entails.

Chelsea School District's big day is less than one month away. As the June 12 election date at Beach Middle School draws closer, the school board is outlining and explaining every aspect of the bond that will be on the ballot.

The official language that will appear on the ballot is:

"Shall Chelsea School District, Washtenaw and Jackson counties, Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed Forty-five million dollars ($45,000,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefore, for the purpose of:

- Erecting, furnishing and equipping a new high school and a new elementary school;
- Erecting, furnishing and equipping additions to and partially remodeling and partially re-equipping the North and South Elementary schools and the Beach Middle school;
- Remodeling and re-equipping portions of the existing high school for central administration and community education;
- Acquiring, installing and equipping the proposed and existing school facilities for technology;

• Acquiring additional land for site purposes and developing, improving and equipping playgrounds, outdoor physical education facilities and school sites?"

The newsletter indicates: "This board-approved bond issue is the result of a survey conducted in May of 1994, along with numerous face-to-face community input sessions to determine the scope of the project desired by the community."

"The board, through its surveys, analyzed the reasons why the bond issue of 1991 was defeated. Along with the significant property tax burden in Michigan that year, survey respondents indicated the specific construction projects they did not wish to be part of a new bond issue. Therefore, the board eliminated those options."

Also in that survey, community members indicated that they would like to see improvements made in one bond rather than several bond issues in each three-to-five year period.

The newsletter answers 30 of the most asked questions that are on the public's minds. Issues from renovation to additional taxes are addressed.

Chelsea voters denied a 2.5 mill, $23.3 million bond in 1991. Some residents didn't understand how the district could ask for six mills in the amount of $45 million in 1995.

"During the 1991 bond campaign, it was determined that capital appreciation bonds, or CABS, would be used for financing that project. Capital appreciation bonds would allow a school to extend the length of time it may return payment, but it would also cost additional monies," the newsletter indicates. "If traditional financing would have been used in 1991, the millage rate would have been approximately 5.3 mills instead of 2.5 mills. Therefore, because the value of all school property has increased, we will be able to raise $45 million for an additional six mills. State law now prohibits schools from using CABS for financing school construction."

Another concern of residents was what people would do if they were living on a fixed income. Residents may go to their local post office and pick up an application for a Homestead Property Tax Credit form. To become eligible for the credit, resident's property taxes must be more than 3.5 percent of their fixed income. The credit could be worth up to $1,200.

The trend in area school districts is to improve schools that are outdated and to prepare students and staff to be thrust in the increased technology of the 21st century — just a short five years away.

Many school districts are facing similar issues as well. Ann Arbor and Howell, along with Chelsea, are requesting passage of school bonds. Milan recently began taking the steps for a $10.5 million bond proposal that could be offered to voters in that district in a special election in September.

Likewise Saline and Whitmore Lake are also in the planning stages for bond proposals. Manchester residents just passed a $3.8 million bond in March for expansion purposes.

CHELSEA BOND A SOUND INVESTMENT VOTE YES - MONDAY, JUNE 12, 1995

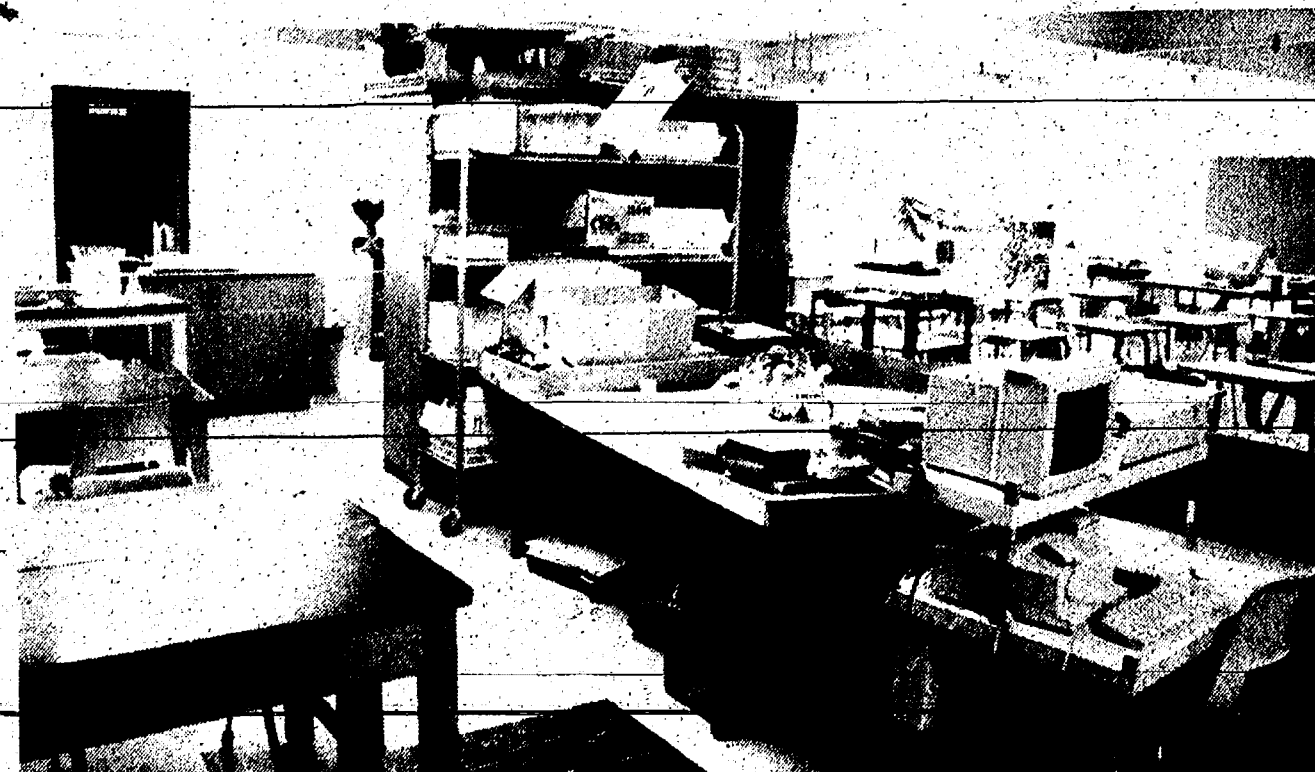

THE BUILDING FACTS

• The bond will provide a self-supporting Community Center. Renovated from the old high school campus, it will be a space for all ages that will be rented out to serve our community.

• The bond will renovate North, South and Beach Schools. Space will be added, parking problems will be fixed and plumbing, ventilation and electrical systems will be updated. These changes will provide a better learning environment.

• The bond will build a new elementary school. A new school will cure overcrowding, provide smaller classes and allow teachers to give more attention to each student.

• The bond will build a new high school. A new high school will cure overcrowding and the isolation felt by students and faculty in our current open-walkway campus. A new school will give our children the tools they need to enter their future.

A science lab at Chelsea High School. Portable storage is added because of lack of space. Most science labs do not have sinks, water, ventilation, electricity or gas.

Views On Dental Health

GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S.

IMMEDIATE DENTURES

One of the cosmetic miracles of modern dentistry is the "immediate denture." These are constructed BEFORE all remaining natural teeth are removed and inserted as soon as the final teeth are extracted. Naturally, they will need some adjustments as your swollen gums recede back to normal, but it's a darn sight better than facing the public with no teeth while your dentures are being constructed in the laboratory.

In this procedure, the back teeth are removed but the front teeth are allowed to remain. When the gums are healed, impressions are taken with the front teeth still in place and dentures are prepared. When the day of reckoning arrives, the front teeth (and perhaps a few others which may have remained) are extracted and your "immediate dentures" are inserted at the same appointment.

Healing beneath the immediate denture is usually uneventful. One might expect pain to result from wearing a denture over an area from which teeth have been extracted, but just the opposite occurs. The immediate denture acts as a protective covering for the jaw as it is healing.

Prepared by Custom Column Service as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S., 3108 Baker Rd., Dexter. Phone 426-8336.

Vietnam Veterans Plan Two Separate Memorial Services

Every year on the week-end of Memorial Day, Vietnam Veterans of America, Chapter No. 310 holds two separate ceremonies at the Washtenaw County Vietnam Veterans Memorial to honor and remember those who were lost in the Vietnam War; either killed in action or still missing in action/prisoner of war.

At 7 p.m. on Sunday, May 28, they will gather for Watchfire. In days of old, watchfires were built to help guide the soldiers who had become separated in battle back to their own camps. A watchfire will be lit at 7 p.m., the same time that watchfires are lit all across the country, as a symbolic guide for those missing-in-action to help them find their way back home. Bring folding chairs and if you like, cameras. The group will stay into the night.

At 1 p.m. on Memorial Day, Monday, May 29, ceremonies will be held at the Memorial to honor the 76 KIAs and POW/MIAs named on the Memorial Wall.

Citizen of Year Nominations Due May 31

Applications forms are now available for Citizen of the Year at the Village Offices and the Chamber of Commerce office in the Sylvan Building complex, so residents may nominate a volunteer for this honor. The deadline to submit a nomination application is 5 p.m. Wednesday, May 31.

Anyone can nominate someone. The only requirements for a nomination is that the person must have performed volunteer work for the Chelsea community, said Monte R. Howard, chairman of the Citizen of the Year committee.

Some requirements on the application ask for any organization affiliations, events that the nominee had participated in or chaired, or other efforts which may have resulted in heroic consequences. Last year's winner was Ann Feeney.

Feeney now serves on the voting committee, which consists of Chelsea Community Hospital vice-president, the Chamber of Commerce, the fire chief, the Kiwanis Club, police chief, Chelsea Community Fair Board, assistant school superintendent, Rotary Club, village manager, the village president, the Knights of Columbus and the Lions Club. The Order of Eastern Star and the Masons, who also sit on the voting committee, are co-sponsoring the Citizen of the Year contest in its second year.

The second annual banquet will be held in honor of this year's winner on July 27 at 6:30 p.m. at the UAW Local 437 Union Hall, 218 S. Main. The winner will receive a plaque with his or her name on it at the banquet. Village president Richard Steele is expected to speak at the banquet.

Tickets will be available through the Chamber of Commerce, as well as some local businesses. They will be sold after the Citizen of the Year is winner is announced by the Masons and Eastern Stars in the June 14 issue of The Standard.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Varsity Softball Team Captures SEC Title

Chelsea's varsity softball team played a doubleheader against Saline on Tuesday.

"We needed to win both games to secure first place in the SEC standing for the regular season, said coach Joe Beard.

The girls came out and played two great games against a Saline team that was undefeated in the SEC. Chelsea won the first game in five innings, 11-1 and the second game, 9-1.

Carey Schiller won both games, pitching a no-hitter in the first game and a one-hitter in the second. Her record now stands at 12-5.

"It was a great job by the senior pitcher," Beard said.

Leading hitters for the day were Carey Schiller with five hits and two RBIs. Tina Richardson had four hits. Both Nancy Pidd and Lisa Beard each had three hits and three RBIs. Lori Ritter, Martha Merkel, and Charlotte Ziegler each had two hits.

"These were two great victories for us," Beard said. "We finished second last year in the SEC and the seniors were determined to win the SEC title this year, and two wins were a must for us."

The two wins allowed Chelsea to finish the regular season play in first place and draw a bye in the first round of the SEC tournament.

On Saturday, Chelsea hosted the SEC tournament. As a result, the Bulldogs only needed to win the game against the winner of the Pinckney-Milan contest to win the SEC championship, which turned out to be Milan.

Carey Schiller pitched allowing two hits and two earned runs, while striking out nine.

Chelsea started off strong scoring two runs in the first inning. Nancy Pidd tripled to score Carey Schiller who had walked. Pidd scored on an error.

"We picked up a run in the fourth inning on three walks and a sacrifice

"The girls set a season goal of winning the SEC and I'm very happy and proud that they were able to achieve their goal. They worked hard and deserve the title."
—head coach Joe Beard

by Shannon Shemansky," Beard said.

Milan was held scoreless until the fourth inning, scoring one run on three singles. Chelsea picked up a fourth run in the fifth on a double by Lisa Beard and a two-out triple by Martha Merkel.

The score remained, 4-1, until the top of the sixth when Milan scored three runs on two singles, a double and an error.

Going into the bottom of the seventh, Chelsea and Milan were tied. With two outs, Tina Richardson got on base by an error. The next two batters walked, loading the bases. With the count at one ball and one strike, Charlotte Ziegler hit a line drive single to score the winning run and give Chelsea the outright SEC championship.

Leading hitters, besides Charlotte Ziegler, were Lisa Beard with two hits, and Martha Merkel with two hits.

Chelsea's final season SEC record was 12-1. Their over-all record is 25-8. Their next game is at Monroe-St. Mary's on Thursday.

"The girls set a season goal of winning the SEC and I'm very happy and proud that they were able to achieve their goal," said coach Beard. "They worked hard and deserve the title."

Other highlights of the regional tournament included the 3200 relay team of Scott Hawley, Chad Brown, Ryan Schultz and Dan Wehrwein taking the victory in 8:12.3 and qualifying for the state meet.

Jeremy Ziegler placed fourth over-all for Chelsea in the 110 meter high hurdles in 1:16.1. Jim Irwin (11:2) placed third, and qualified for the state meet in the 100 meter dash. The 800 relay team of Jim Irwin, Kevin Kolodica, Tom Irwin and Mark Hand combined for a fifth place finish in 1:36.6.

Peter Straub qualified for states in the 400 meter dash, placing second in the regionals in 53.6. Jeremy Ziegler placed fifth in the 300 meter hurdles in 42.2. Tom Irwin was fourth in the 200 meter dash in 23.8.

The 1600 meter relay team of Peter Straub, Scott Hawley, Kevin Kolodica and Dan Wehrwein combined for the victory in 3:30.7, thus qualifying for the state meet as well.

JUNIOR TRI-CAPTAIN KELLY CROSS led the Boston College Eagle softball team to second place in the Big East Conference. The first baseman obtained the highest batting average of all starters, hitting .333 in the 20 conference games. In 60 at-bats Cross collected 20 hits and a slugging average of .417. To complement her offensive effort she recorded 174 put-outs and was charged with only one error for a sparkling .995 fielding percentage. In all games in the 1995 season Kelly hit .326 and recorded 391 put-outs while being charged with 10 errors for a .974 fielding percentage. The three year starter also led the Eagles with a .356 on-base percentage. Cross is a two time all-state first team selection from Chelsea and an Ann Arbor News all-area selection. She also played first base for three years for the Boone & Darr drywall softball team from Ann Arbor.

Boys Track Team Loses to Pinckney

Chelsea's boys track team suffered a tough defeat at the hands of Pinckney on May 16, 94-43. The only firsts earned were from the 1600 and 3200 relays teams.

"We were behind, 38-7, after the field events and we never recovered," said coach Pat Clarke. "Chelsea senior Dan Wehrwein won the 1600 meter and 800 meter runs to lead the Bulldogs. He also anchored the winning 3200 and 1600 relays."

In the field events, Dave Tracy was in the pole vault, clearing the bar at 12-0. Adam Skyles finished third in the discus, with a distance of 117.0. Mark Hand added a second in the long jump, hitting the sand at 18-3.

Jeremy Ziegler was good for third in the 100 high hurdles in 16.5. Jim (11.4) and Tom Irwin (11.9) sprinted to a 2-3 outcome in the 100 meter dash. Jim Irwin was n't finished; he placed third in the 200 meter run in 23.9. Scott Hawley (52.8) and Peter Straub (52.9) crossed the finish line in a blur in the 400 meter run, placing second and third, respectively.

Bryndon Skelton came in second in the 300 meter hurdles in 42.7. His teammate, Chad Brown, was third in the 3200 run in 10:56.

Ending the meet for the Bulldogs were some long overdue victories. In the 3200 relay, the team of Scott Hawley, Chad Brown, Ryan Schultz and Dan Wehrwein won, as did the 1600 relay team of Peter Straub, Hawley, Kevin Kolodica and Wehrwein.

The Bulldogs record went to 8-2 on the season and 4-2 in the SEC.

Freshman Softball Team Wins Some, Loses Some

You win some, you lose some was the saying that Chelsea's freshman softball team encompassed last week.

Against Brighton on May 15, the teams lost a very close contest, 24-23.

"It was a hitter's ball game," said coach John Ruhlig. "We had a great game."

Melissa Yekulis pitched the game. The leading hitter for Chelsea was Kristin Brink, who went five-for-six with two doubles, including one with the bases loaded. Leah Thompson also doubled in the contest. Brighton scored the game-winning run in their last at-bat.

The team traveled to South Lyon for a doubleheader on May 16, taking both contests, 3-2 and 8-7. Stacey Schultz pitched the first game, while Melissa Yekulis hit the mound for the second. The leading hitter for the doubleheader was Emily Arend. She had a two-out RBI in both games and scored the winning run in the second contest.

Last Thursday, the team took on Ann Arbor Pioneer, losing 17-14.

"We were ahead most of the game," Ruhlig said. "It was a really good game." Stacey Schultz and Melissa Yekulis both occupied the pitching mound.

The highlight of the game was when Leah Thompson hit the team's first home run of the season. Emily Arend had a double, while Stacey Johnston added a triple. The team again lost in their opponent's last at-bat.

The girls finished out the week at Ann Arbor Huron on Saturday. Chelsea lost the doubleheader, 15-8 and 8-2. Stacey Schultz and Melissa Yekulis pitched the first and second games, respectively.

"It was not a very good day for us," Ruhlig said. "We struggled to get any runs scored."

Varsity Baseball Team Earns Fourth Place In SEC Tournament

Chelsea's varsity baseball team battled Jackson Northwest in a doubleheader contest on May 15, losing both games, 7-4 and 8-1.

Dusty White took the defeat, making his record 1-1-1. He pitched five innings, while striking out two, walking two and giving up six hits. David Paton took over the mound in the last inning, striking out one and walking one.

"Dusty White pitched well on only one day of rest," said coach Wayne Welton.

Case McCalla belted a two-run homer in the first, giving the Bulldogs the lead, but they couldn't hold on. Jason Sprawka had two hits as did Jeff Branch. Lance Ching added a single.

In the nightcap, the Bulldogs were outplayed by the Mounties. Errors proved to be Chelsea's downfall.

Casey Wescott had two hits. Others who contributed hits for Chelsea were Jason Sprawka, Scott Hurst, Scott Colvin and Dusty White. David Paton took the loss in four innings, while striking out two, walking two and sacrificing five runs. Jason Sprawka took over in the last two innings, striking out two, walking one and giving up three runs.

The Bulldogs traveled to Saline on May 16. They were out in each contest and lost the doubleheader, 8-1 and 9-4.

"Saline's pitcher — Tim Jones — dominated the Bulldogs," Welton said.

Chelsea's first hit came in the sixth inning, with a double by Case McCalla. Jason Sprawka and Ashley Coy each contributed singles in the seventh. Jeff Branch suffered the loss in seven innings, striking out six, walking five and giving up 14 hits.

The second game against Saline led to a Bulldog defeat with five unearned runs in the third inning. Casey Wescott accepted the loss, making his record 4-1-1. He struck out three and walked one, while giving up nine hits in seven innings.

"Casey Wescott pitched well enough to win," said Welton.

Leading hitters for Chelsea included Case McCalla, Casey Wescott, Jesse Petty and Scott Hurst. They all contributed singles in their at-bats.

Saline's Ryan Bergler shut down the Bulldogs' offense as the Hornets swept the Bulldogs and took control of the SEC race.

The SEC Tournament proved to be a toss-up for the Bulldogs on May 20. Chelsea ended up playing three games in the tourney, becoming victorious over Lincoln and Tecumseh, but losing to Milan in the last contest.

"The Bulldogs won the opener of the SEC Tournament in a poorly played game," explained Welton.

The Bulldog offense had a bad time of it, making nine errors. Chelsea scored four in the bottom of the eighth to win. Sam Morseau claimed the win and also had the game-winning RBI.

Scott Colvin had two hits, including a three-run homer — his sixth of the season. Ryan Wagner added a two-run homer to the scoreboard. Ashley Coy finished with three hits and Jason Sprawka and Case McCalla each had two. Dusty White added a single on the day.

Jeff Branch pitched four innings, with Morseau tackling the remaining four. Morseau's record now stands at 4-2.

The situation flipped for Chelsea in their second match as they succumbed to Tecumseh. Scott Colvin hit a two-run homer in the first inning, his seventh of the season. The Bulldogs had a 4-2 lead into the bottom of the seventh, with two errors. Singles allowed Tecumseh to take a 5-4 victory.

"This was a heartbreaker," Welton said. "Casey Wescott was absolutely brilliant, pitching a one hitter into the seventh."

Leading hitters for Chelsea were Ashley Coy with two hits and Case McCalla with one. Scott Colvin tripled and drove in three RBIs, while Ryan Wagner contributed a single.

Casey Wescott took the loss, making his record 4-2-1 in 6 1/3 innings. He struck out five and walked three, giving up three hits.

"This was one of the toughest losses in my 17-year coaching career," Welton said.

The winner of the game — Tecumseh — was assured second place in the SEC.

Milan and Chelsea then battled it out for the third place ranking. Milan merced the game in five innings, 14-4. They had 15 hits to Chelsea's four.

"The Bulldogs hadn't recovered from the 5-4 seventh-inning loss to Tecumseh," Welton explained.

Dusty White pitched one inning, and gave up seven runs. Sam Morseau pitched the next two innings. He gave up three runs. David Paton then took over the reins in the last two innings, giving up four runs. White took the loss, making his record 1-2-1.

Chelsea finished fourth in the SEC Tournament, with Dexter at fifth, Pinckney at sixth and Lincoln coming in last place at seventh.

The Bulldogs played Ann Arbor Pioneer on May 23 and compete in the St. Joseph Invitational on Saturday. Currently, Chelsea is third in the SEC regular season with a 8-4 record.

The Beach girls track team finished a successful season with a 96-31 victory over Lincoln and a 77-51 loss to Dexter.

"There were numerous personal best efforts throughout the line up, including two new school records," said coach Ann Schaffner.

In the Dexter meet, Katie Henry ran an excellent winning time of :33.28 in the 200 meter hurdles to break the old school record set by Cindy Richardson in 1994. The 3200 meter relay team set the school record in that event, with Jessica Gillespie, Alix Ryder, Traci Kern and Louisa Hubbard running 11:37.38.

"This event was added just this year to the junior high meets," Schaffner said.

Mora Arnold ran an outstanding 400 meter in 1:04.56 and missed the school record, one of the oldest set in 1977, by just one-tenth of a second. Margaret Schick finished the season undefeated in the 800 meter, running her personal best, a near record 2:34.98 against Lincoln. Megan Marshall had an excellent personal best shot put of 34-5 against Dexter.

Other performances, which were particularly noteworthy and personal bests were Tina Wiese in the 55 meter hurdles at :9.62, and Kim Tourroo with a fine :28.6 in the 200 meter as the girls continued their winning ways.

Megan Marshall (31-3), Amy McCalla (31-0) and Tamra Smith (25-5 1/2) dominated the shot put, coming in 1-2-3, respectively. The 800 relay team of Kim Tourroo, McKenna Houle, Karen Kuhl and Katie Henry shucked the competition, claiming the top honors in 2:03.36. Likewise in the 800 meter run, Chelsea swept Lincoln's efforts. Margaret Schick (2:34.98) came in first, Alix Ryder was second in 2:48 and Traci Kern was third at 2:51.

The sweeping continued in the 1600 meter when Diane Richardson (6:36), Deb Postiff (6:41) and Becca Williams (6:56) placed 1-2-3, respectively. The 400 meter runners need to be outdone, as they too claimed the top three spots. Mora Arnold (1:05.72), Annie Bullock (1:10.07) and Sarah Martin (1:11.54) placed, respectively.

McKenna Houle sprinted her way to a second-place finish at :14.45 in the 100 meter. Joining by Katie Henry in the 200 meter hurdles was Tina Wiese in second at :34.3 and Lindsey Brink in third at :34.5.

Liz Menge partook in the third time as lone Chelsea runner placed in her event, the 70 meter sprint, in :10.64. Kim Tourroo (:29.47) and Sarah Martin (:31.85) each had good performances in the 200 meter, placing 1-2 in that event, respectively.

Relay madness once again shined on Chelsea as the 3200 relay team of Gillespie, Ryder, Sarah Stankevich and Hubbard took the top honors in 12:29. Likewise, the 1600 meter relay team of Brink, Bullock, Gillespie and Schick also placed first in their event in 4:52.13.

"We were beaten by a good Dexter team, despite our numerous personal bests," said coach Ann Schaffner. "Each of our four relays ran season bests, but only the 800 meter relay won."

Seventh grade girls continued to make major contributions, which is cause for excitement as we think about next year. Among them were Traci Kerns, who ran the 800 meter in 2:47.2 — good for third place — and came back with a 2:53 in the 800 meter split in the 3200 relay. Annie Bullock ran a fine 1:08.39 in the 400 meter and came back with a 1:10.2 in the 400 meter split in the 1600 relay.

Marshall came in second in 34-4 in the shot put, as did Detling in the high jump, clearing the bar at 4-4. Arnold (14-2) and Henry (13-8 1/2) each placed in the long jump in first and second, respectively.

Wiese and Marshall came in 1-2 in the 55 hurdles, with times of :9.76 and :9.94, respectively.

The 800 relay team of Tourroo, Houle, Kuhl and Henry combined their efforts to win their event in 2:00.55. Also taking a victory in the 200 meter run was Kim Tourroo, coming in at :28.63.

Schick (2:35) won the 800 meter run, while teammate Karn captured third in 2:47. Richardson (6:33.3) and Houle (1:14.28) both managed to come in third in the 1600 meter and the 100 meter, respectively.

Arnold and Bullock finished 1:04.56 and 1:08.39 for a 1-2 combination in the 400 meter.

The hurdlers swept their competition in the 200, attaining a 1-2-3 placement. Henry (:33.28), Brink (:34.28) and Wiese (:34.83) were at each other's heels in their event.

Beach's girls track team ended the season with the Dexter meet.

JV Baseball Team Scores First Victory of Season

Chelsea's JV baseball team split a doubleheader against Saline last Friday.

In the first game, Chelsea was mercied in 5 1/2 innings, 11-0. John Tyrrell pitched three innings, striking out two and walking eight. Chene Freeman took over the reins in the fourth inning, striking out one.

Chelsea's only hit of the game came from Jesse Wiese.

In the nightcap, the Bulldogs lifted themselves out of their slump and earned their first win of the season, 5-3.

"We got our first win of the season by beating a very good Saline team," said coach Jim Ticknor. "We beat them by playing very, very well."

Jesse Wiese pitched all seven innings, striking out one and walking three. Leading hitters for the Bulldogs with two hits each were Justin Strong and Chene Freeman.

In the third inning, Jamie Bauer and Justin Strong each singled, while Chene Freeman drove in two RBIs on a double and Jesse Wiese drove in one RBI on a single. Strong came back in the fifth with a single. Freeman was even stronger, driving in two RBIs on a home run.

"We played our best defensive game of the year," Ticknor said.

The team played Ann Arbor Pioneer on May 23 and finish out the season on Thursday against Willow Run. Game time is 4 p.m.

Man Arrested on Three Misdemeanor Warrants
A routine traffic stop resulted in a Chelsea man's arrest on Friday, May 12. Chelsea police had stopped a vehicle driven by Ronald Jacob Bogdanski for a traffic violation on Cavanaugh Lake Rd. near Cleveland St. Upon investigation, the Law Enforcement Information Network revealed three outstanding misdemeanor criminal bench warrants that were issued by the Ann Arbor Police Department. Chelsea police confirmed the warrants and arrested the man at the scene. The warrants were issued after Bogdanski failed to appear in 15th District Court. The vehicle was also searched, but nothing was found.

Chelsea Vet Student Inducted Into MSU Honor Society
Chelsea resident Lynn M. Harshbarger was recently honored at the induction of new members into the honor society of Phi Kappa Phi at Michigan State University on April 3. Phi Kappa Phi only extends invitations to be inducted to the top eight percent of the veterinary students. Harshbarger is one of six veterinary students who received the opportunity to be inducted. She is now in her third year as a veterinary medicine student at MSU. Harshbarger said she plans to take her state board examinations in December 1996, and plans to graduate in 1997. Once certified as a veterinarian, she hopes to work either in Grass Lake or Chelsea in a mixed practice, which includes domestic animals as well as llamas, sheep and goats to name a few. Harshbarger said each vet student must put in 1,000 hours of studying before they can attend veterinary school. She said she has worked with Dr. Paula Rode at the Chelsea Animal Hospital to gain experience in the field. Students who are invited into the honor society must maintain a 3.8 grade-point average out of a possible 4.0. Founded in 1897, the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi has as its primary objective the recognition and encouragement of superior scholarship in all academic disciplines. The society believes that by recognizing and honoring those persons of good character, who have excelled in scholarship, that others will be stimulated to similar goals of excellence.

Girls Track Team Finishes Undefeated Dual Meet Season

Chelsea High school girls track team completed an undefeated dual meet season with a 69-59 win over Pinckney on Tuesday.

The Bulldogs gained an early advantage over Pinckney, as they have on opponents all season, by outscoring them in the field events. Courtney Thompson, Jessica Flintoft, and Katie Spink set the pace with career bests.

Thompson won the discus with a throw of 111-11 with Flintoft second at 104-10.

Spink headed a 1-2 finish in the long jump at 15-2 1/2 with Erin Hack second.

Heidi Wehrwein won the shot for Chelsea with a put of 33- 1/2, a season best, with Kim Herrst taking third with her season best of 32-4 1/2.

Thompson also finished second in the high jump at 5-0.

Both Spink and Wehrwein's efforts came on final trials of their competitions.

On the track, Rachel Weirauch had a hand in four firsts for Chelsea, winning the 100 in :12.9, the 200 in :27.5 and running on two winning relays.

Weirauch, Spink, Rachelle Skelly, and Shanell McWhorter ran a season best of 1:52.1 in the 800 relay, and Krystal Baird, Leigha Young, Skelly, and Weirauch won the 400 relay in :53.8, also a season best.

Young added a third in the 100, and McWhorter was second in the 200 in :28.2.

Katie Spink also had her best ever 400, finishing second in 1:01.9.

Jeannie Spink won both the 1600 and 3200 runs in 5:44.2 and 12:42.0 with Meghann Zeigler in the 1600 and Karen Pieper in the 3200 taking important thirds for the Bulldogs.

Jennifer Space was second in the 800. Cindy Richard was third in the 100 hurdles and Heidi Kemnitz was third in the 300 hurdles.

Chelsea's 3200 relay of Jeannie Spink, Space, Melissa Hand, and Pieper ran a season best of 10:00.9 while finishing second to Pinckney's 9:59.1, but according to coaches Bert Kruse and Bill Bainton, played an important role in the meet.

"They forced Pinckney's runners into an all out effort in that race, and that seemed to show later in the meet," explained Bainton. "They didn't all seem to come back in some of their other races as well as we did."

With the victory, the Bulldogs complete the dual meet half of the SEC in first place.

"This was a big win because we didn't want to be in a three-way tie with Pinckney and Saline going into the league meet," said Bainton.

Saline is in second at 5-1 with Pinckney third 4-2 going into Wednesday's SEC meet at Lincoln. Finals of that meet start with the 3200 relay at 5 p.m.

The girls track team finished third in the regional at Jackson County Western on Saturday. Northwest won with 67 points, Lumen Christi had 46, Chelsea 42, Onsted 41 and Stockbridge 39 in the very competitive 17-team field.

The Bulldogs also qualified two individuals, Jeannie Spink, and Courtney Thompson, each in two events, and the 1600 relay for the State Class B Meet in Midland on Saturday, June 3.

Thompson, a senior, qualified in the discus with a second place finish with a throw of 107-1. She also qualified in the high jump for the third time. Her jump of 5-1 gave her a sixth place in the event but equaled the state qualifying standard.

"Courtney has really worked hard in the discus this year," Bainton said. "This is a nice reward for her effort."

Spink, a freshman, bettered the qualifying standard with a fourth place at 5:25.6 in the 1600, then won the 3200 in a season best of 11:57.2.

"Jeannie has been very consistent for us this spring, and has come through with some big races," Bainton said. "It's nice that she qualified in both events."

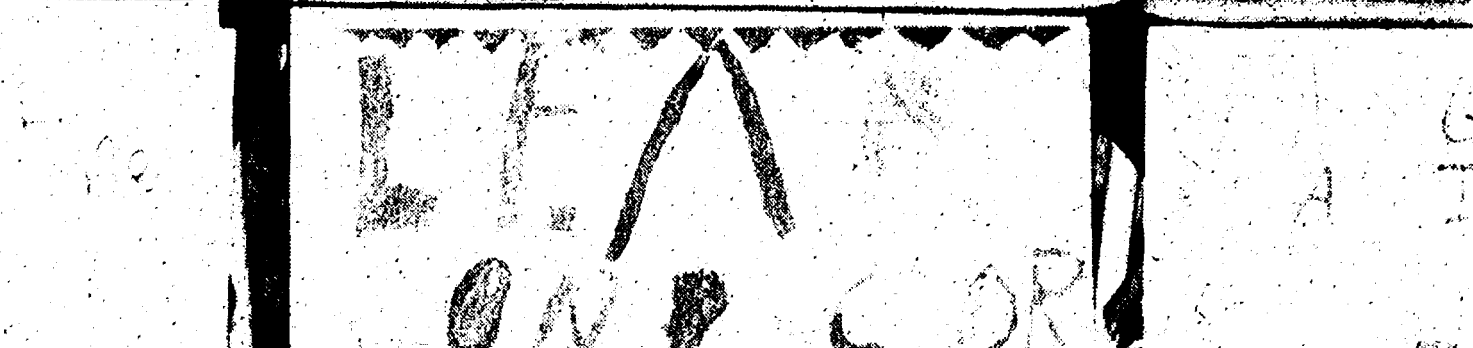

The 1600 relay was a mild surprise.

"We thought we could be pretty good," Bainton said. "We just hadn't been able to put our best together until Saturday."

The team of Jennifer Space, Melissa Hand, Shanell McWhorter, and Katie Spink placed fourth in 4:15.6, bettering the qualifying time. They did that in spite of being in the slow heat of the event.

"Fortunately we had Dexter in the same heat and matched up very well," explained Bainton. "I think the competition helped, since both teams placed and bettered the standard."

Heidi Wehrwein had two places for the Bulldogs, third in the shot at 32-3 and fourth in the discus at 105-0. Jessica Flintoft was fifth in the discus at 103-3. Rachel Weirauch was fifth in the 100 in :13.3, and Katie Spink was sixth in the 400 at 1:02.9.

SECOND GRADE STUDENTS at South Elementary school each chose, practiced, and demonstrated an experiment for the annual second grade Science Fair. Families and students from other classes attended. Cody Schiller (left) used vinegar and baking soda to make moth balls "dance." Nathan Kuhl (center) conducted electricity through a pencil, and Mark Kurta tested to see which ingredient in Taco sauce cleaned a penny. The day of the Science Fair was also designated by Student Council as Hat Day.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL students were treated to the unique blend of song and dance of the Washington Street Show Choir, Tuesday, May 16.

Volunteers Needed for Timber Town Project

The new logo for Timber Town, the Chelsea area playground project, was unveiled last week. The logo was designed by Maris Tuner, a fourth grade student at North school.

The playground, to be built on land donated by Dana Corp., is scheduled to be constructed in late spring of 1996. Timber Town is a playground that will be built by volunteers from the community, under the direction of Leathers & Associates. The recently completed playground in Brighton and Wylie WonderWorld in Dexter are examples of Leathers & Associates' designed playgrounds.

Committees are already in place and while some are still in preliminary planning stages, other committees are moving full speed ahead.

Co-chairs of the fund-raising committee, Jeff Hardcastle and Anna Dunn, are looking for individuals to help plan and organize one of the many major fund-raisers planned for Timber Town. This is an excellent opportunity to participate in a project that will benefit both the children in our community as well as the community as a whole.

If you are able to offer your services, be it for an afternoon, a few days, or several months, we need to hear from you now. Please contact Ann Reimenschneider at 475-0322 to find out how you can become involved in this exciting project!

Concerto Concert A Success

The community was treated to an excellent concert on Thursday, May 18 at the high school auditorium when four senior music students presented pieces accompanied by the Chamber Orchestra. John Kennedy, high school orchestra teacher, conducted the chamber orchestra in accompaniment to their pieces.

This concert not only affords the soloists the opportunity to play with an ensemble, but also gives the other orchestra members experience in learning to listen to and follow the lead of a soloist.

First in the program was Mark Wallace playing the challenging Bach Violin Concerto in E Major, one of Bach's most loved works. The concerto is spirited and Wallace played it with energy and authority. His performance was well loved by the audience who showed their appreciation by applauding for two curtain calls.

Music is Mark's first love, and he enjoys and plays all types, from classical to blues. He has also been very active in school activities, among other things being president of the National Honor Society and secretary of the Student Council. Wallace will attend Princeton University in the fall where he will study political science and music. His violin teacher, Professor Stephen Shipp from the University of Michigan School of Music, and Professor Shipp's teaching assistant, Elizabeth Kusi, attended the concert and were recognized.

Talented singer Corrie Schoenberg then presented the "Deh vieni, non tardar" from The Marriage of Figaro by Mozart. Corrie's clear soprano voice immediately transported the audience back 200 years to experience the tale of deceit and surprise told in the opera. Schoenberg's voice is rich beyond her years, and will certainly delight hearers for years to come.

Corrie has also been active in school, delighting audiences in her leading roles in many musical and dramatic productions throughout her high school career, and was chosen to be a member of the Chelsea All State Academic Team, a great academic honor. She will attend Northwestern University in September. Corrie's teacher, Lisa Hinz, was in the audience and recognized for her expertise in developing Corrie's talent.

Carrie Smith then presented William Squire's Tarantella for Cello, a dance which is supposed to represent the movements of a person who has been bitten by a tarantula spider. Carrie has been a valuable member of the swim team at CHS, and a member of the Chamber Orchestra for three years. She will be studying at Michigan State University in the fall. Carrie's cello teacher, Nina DeVertich, could not attend the concert.

Jessica Flintoft ended the concert with David Popper's Hungarian Rhapsody for Cello. This challenging piece, something that might have been played in coffee houses around the turn of the century, highlights an improvisational style.

Jessica has been very involved in school activities throughout her four years at CHS, being president of the student council and vice-president of National Honor Society this year. In addition she achieved the great honor of being elected governor of Girls' State last year. Jessica, who also studies with Nina DeVertich, will attend Cornell University in the fall.

The entire effect of the evening can be summed up in the fact that the audience rose to its feet to congratulate these young musicians and to thank them for the privilege of listening to their performances. They have worked hard, been taught well, and have developed the talents with which they have been gifted in order to share them with others.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor
MEMORIAL DAY 1995
This spring our nation observed the 50th anniversary of the Allied victory over tyranny in Europe.

Memorial Day is an occasion for sober thought and rededication. It is a time for us to measure our contribution to our country against the supreme sacrifice made by those whom we honor forever.

If their sacrifice has any meaning at all, it is because there are certain principles, certain values and certain eternal truths more precious than life itself. In fighting and dying, they faced death to defend man's right to liberty. In the prime of life, they gave up the comforts of home and family to safeguard another of man's rights—the pursuit of happiness.

Today, is the time for us to rededicate ourselves and to renew our nation's goals that we may be assured that those who have passed on have not given their lives in vain. Pray that there will be no further bloodshed and no further maimed, but only life and strength with which to build a better world.

This is the meaning of Memorial Day. As we remember our fallen comrades, let us with renewed faith seek to assist and guide our young Americans who will be the leaders of tomorrow to fight the greatest of all enemies—war itself.

Plan now to observe the day in your locale.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Lima Township

Recovered Stolen Vehicle

A stolen 1993 Ford Taurus was recovered by police in a farm field off Klingler Rd. near Scio Church Rd., May 7. A 36-year-old township man told police he saw the vehicle nose first in a creek while he was plowing a nearby field. The vehicle belongs to Varsity Ford. The vehicle will be checked for fingerprints and the case has been turned over to a detective.

A stolen 1989 Chevy Blazer was recovered in the 8900 block of Dexter-Chelsea Rd., May 11. Police were dispatched to a vehicle on fire. When they arrived, the Blazer was engulfed in flames. The vehicle owner was contacted and claimed the Blazer was stolen. The 42-year-old Chelsea man later filed a stolen vehicle report with Chelsea Police Department.

Malicious Destruction of Property

Malicious destruction of property was reported on I-94 near Dancer Rd., May 5. A 48-year-old Illinois man told police he was in his semi-truck when a 33-year-old Chicago man driving a Ford Explorer tried to pass him while he and the rest of traffic waited in a construction zone. The truck driver said he moved his 18-foot rig and the man in the Ford Explorer passed by going off the roadway into the grass. The truck driver said the Chicago man got out of his vehicle and yelled at him. He then reportedly threw bleach on the victim's semi-truck and left the scene. Further up the roadway, however, the truck driver reported the man pulled over and waited for him to pass, throwing a glass bottle at his truck. The bottle missed the windshield but chipped the paint on his cab. The suspect admitted to throwing the bleach, which caused $2,000 in damages, but he said the victim intentionally cut him off the roadway and then made a racial slur during their confrontation. A prosecutor will review the case.

Teamwork Is Good Business

By Dr. Stewart L. Tubbs
Dean, Eastern Michigan University
College of Business

The hero is dead. Long live the team. As more and more major companies and business schools embrace the concept of teams, it's tempting to regard this as just another fad, which will go the way of management by walking around, management by objectives or one-minute managing.

I am convinced this is anything but a fad. In fact, I would call the '90s the decade of teams, and I believe the 21st century will become the "Century of Teams," reflected not only in business, but in all major aspects of society. We have what is referred to as the Differentiation/Integration paradox. In other words, as organizations are required to become more differentiated or specialized, there is also the increased need for the disparate functions of the organization to be more closely integrated. Therefore, cross-functional teams are becoming a basic organizational necessity.

The transition to a more team-oriented society will be a particularly difficult one for the United States. According to a 1993 study of cultures, measuring the amount of individualism present, the United States ranked as the least team-oriented of the 21 nations surveyed. On a scale of 1 to 100, where the higher score represented the higher amount of individualism, America scored a 91, while Japan scored 46 and Brazil, Mexico, Hong Kong, Singapore, Taiwan and Venezuela all scored lower than Japan.

We will need to de-emphasize cherished cultural icons and long-held beliefs in rugged individualism and the self-made man in favor of a more collectivist spirit. Throughout our history, we have valued the John Wayne hero who knew all the answers, gave everyone directions, and was trusted, obeyed and worshipped.

The era of the John Wayne hero as a model of leadership is outdated. Now popular culture exhibits the new hero in the person of Harrison Ford in movies such as "Patriot Games" or "Clear and Present Danger." The Ford hero, while still saving the day and using his cunning and extraordinary gifts, is part of a team and works well with his team members and superiors.

Today we also have the phenomenon of the new generation X-ers and late baby boomers who are highly educated, relatively wealthy, with high expectations, and a desire to be in on the action. They expect to have their opinions solicited and to be listened to seriously. They want to be part of the team.

With the changing nature of leadership and the expectation to participate in decision-making, the growing role of teams is inevitable. Indeed, it appears that in order to be employable in the near future, you may well have to have some experience with teams on your resume.

The literature is full of multimillion dollar success stories from companies which have successfully adopted the team concept and are seeing real rewards. Hewlett-Packard, Dayton-Hudson, Eastman Kodak, Federal Express, Westinghouse and Colgate-Palmolive come to mind. The trend toward teamwork has shown a radical upsurge, and is continuing to climb. Surveys of employee involvement practices in Fortune 1000 companies indicate that about 20 percent of the companies were using some degree of teamwork in 1987. That number grew to almost 40 percent by 1990, and I anticipate it will be near 75 percent in 1995.

The results of using teams are clear in savings of both money and effort. Work with Ford Motor Co. developing Value Engineering Teams resulted in over a quarter of a billion dollars in savings in just a few years. Cross-functional teams of suppliers, design engineers, and representatives from manufacturing, purchasing, transportation, packaging and market research meet to analyze individual parts and brainstorm possible improvements. Some teams have come up with as many as 600 new ideas, and 200 is about the average.

At Chrysler, cross-functional teams with product and manufacturing systems engineers prevent mistakes such as designing a car that was about one inch too wide to pass through the paint booths on the assembly line. This happened before the era of teams, and the assembly line had to be torn apart and widened to accommodate the new model cars.

At the same time teamwork has firmly established its role, we are moving to self-directed teams, where the day-in, day-out tasks are the subject of team discussions. As American industry cuts out layers of management, the team is the work group and its team leader functions as its supervisor. The person who formerly functioned as a supervisor or general manager now acts as an adviser to the team.

The transition will not be an easy one, of course, and one of the biggest challenges will be developing a team-based compensation system. Yet this is also a means to facilitate change. If you make team proficiency a major component in the compensation system and one of the key responsibilities of employees, things will start happening quickly.

However it is done, it is clear that in order to remain competitive, modern organizations must develop a new way to structure work that involves more team leadership. This means a massive transformation in the way an organization operates, including a change in all internal systems, operating procedures and corporate structures. Furthermore, any organization attempting to increase team leadership will find that this is a never-ending process. An organization is never "there."

There also will be situations where very fast decisions-making is essential—in emergencies, in police work, the military—and the John Wayne model of a leader reappears. But the days of being rewarded as one retired plant manager described it, for "30 years of being an attack dog" are over.

In the larger society, teams are cropping up in education, from faculty-parent groups in public schools, to college English classes where students critique each other's writing, to future accountants who work in teams to tackle financial problems. A study from Harvard University indicated that students working in teams retained the information better and were more satisfied with classes where teamwork was involved.

The very survival of American businesses depends on the ability of today's leaders to effectively create planned organizational change through team leadership. In any organization, change must start at the top and filter down to every employee. Without top management support, no program of team leadership will succeed; and the changes must be institutionalized. This is also difficult, since organizations have a tendency to revert to their original state, and the new approach to management, which promised so much, becomes just another failed fad.

With institutionalized teamwork, we have a tool that fits the time, fills a number of needs, and keeps us competitive in the worldwide market. In fact, my research in dozens of companies over the past 25 years has shown that teaching effective teamwork has created a return on investment of over 1,000 percent in one year. Teamwork is just good business!

U-M Medical Center One of Nation's Best

The University of Michigan Medical Center has been included in the new edition of The Best Hospitals in America, a guide for individuals seeking the best possible health care facility for themselves and family members. The U-M was among 74 institutions chosen nationwide and one of two in Michigan.

Authors John W. Wright and Linda Sunshine compiled the list to satisfy the needs and concerns expressed by patients. The U-M was cited for its "state-of-the-art equipment in every area of medicine, the most advanced treatment, and a research program whose many achievements over the years have brought its funding to one of the highest levels in the country."

Ellen J. Gaucher, senior associate director of the U-M Hospitals, credits the contributions of staff and faculty members for the Medical Center's inclusion in the book. "We are very pleased to be recognized as a leader in a study that based its evaluation on the opinions of our ultimate consumer, the patient," she says.

mate consumer, the patient," she says.

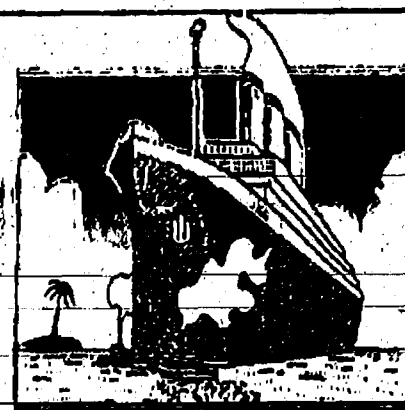

Based on the recommendations of doctors throughout the United States, the guidebook lists facilities that deliver quality care in a wide range of medical categories, employing the most up-to-date medical technology.

The U-M received special notice for its organ transplant program, the departments of Neurology and Psychiatry, and its Section of Neurosurgery. Over-all customer satisfaction was rated high for the quality of health care and the courtesy with which the staff treats patients.

"While the book acknowledges several of our leading medical specialists by name, we were not surprised to find that the concern all staff show for patients sets us apart," says Gaucher. "We have worked hard to develop both a high-touch and high-tech approach."

The Best Hospitals in America is published by Gale Research, Inc.

Eye Care

Cheryl Huey, M.D.

Ophthalmologist • Eye Physician and Surgeon

THE FIRST CATARACT SURGEON

Eye surgery was probably performed as long ago as 2100 B.C. The Code of Hammurabi from that time is the first recorded mention of cataract surgical procedures. The Code also specifies the physician's penalty in case the surgery is unsuccessful: "if he has opened the spot in a man's eye with the instrument of bronze but destroys the man's eye, his hands are to be cut off." This was certainly an effective deterrent to malpractice.

The first ophthalmologist to record a written description of cataract surgery was Susruta of India about 1000 B.C. The procedure was called "couching", and was performed by passing a needle into the eye and through the pupil to push the cataract out of the pupil, which cleared the way for light to pass through. This was done without any anesthesia. Ouch! Amazingly, this brutal procedure was performed essentially the same up until about two hundred years ago.

Great changes in cataract surgery have taken place in this century, and the past fifteen years have seen revolutionary improvements in the safety, ease, and success of cataract surgery.

Today's cataract surgery is generally performed without an overnight stay, and anesthetic procedures keep discomfort to a minimum. Restoration of good vision is very likely, and lens implants free the patient from wearing contact lenses or the thick glasses that used to be worn after cataract surgery.

We're fortunate that we live in the modern era of cataract surgery — it took a long time to get here.

COUNTRY NIGHT PROJECT: Students of Ms. Tracy-Cattell Heydlauff and Librarian Laurel McDonald of South Elementary school work together on their country projects with parent volunteer Sandi Graff. Fourth graders (from left) Keegan Peters, Brian Merkel, Stacy Peters and Tameson Phelps use a computer software program called Hyperstudio to create a multimedia report on the country of their choice. The students will combine these reports with display boards, typed reports, oral presentations and ethnic dishes and present them on Country Night at South school, Wednesday, June 7. The software program was donated as a mini-grant by the Chelsea Education Foundation.

Country Night Presentation Slated June 7 at South Elementary School

On Wednesday, June 7, fourth graders of Ms. Tracy Cattell-Heydlauff will travel past the boundaries of Chelsea when they present Country Night from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Students have worked for three months on their country projects, which will include presentations on countries of each student's choice. Presentations on Peru, England, North Korea, the Bahamas and many more will be exhibited. Display boards of each country will include maps, native costumes, sports, natural resources, products, flags and languages. Ethnic dishes will also be provided by the students and their families.

As part of their presentations, the students will provide multi-media reports on each of their countries. This multi-media part of their exhibits combine moving video, CD's, cassette tapes and books into one report. This is accomplished through a computer software program called Hyperstudio which has been co-ordinated by Heydlauff and Laurel McDonald, South school librarian.

Area Woman Wins Lottery Top Prize

A 63-year-old Washtenaw county woman has been playing the same "Cash 5" numbers for the past year. It has finally paid off—she won the $100,000 "Cash 5" top prize in the May 3 drawing.

The winner, who requested anonymity, said she realized she was a big "Cash 5" winner when she called to confirm her numbers. "I went nuts. I didn't really believe it," she exclaimed.

"I play all the time, I love them," said the winner when she came to Michigan Lottery headquarters in Lansing to claim her prize.

The winner plans to use her $100,000 top prize to pay bills. "Then I'll do something fun," she said.

She purchased her winning "Cash 5" ticket with her favorite set of numbers at Inverness Inn, 13996 North Territorial Rd., Chelsea.

Village Council Establishes Violations Ordinance Bureau

A new Municipal Ordinance Violations Bureau (Village Ordinance No. 120) was adopted by village council on May 9 and subsequently went into effect on May 17.

The ordinance was adopted pursuant to 1994 Public Act No. 12 to "accept admissions of responsibility for ordinance violations designated as municipal civil infractions for which municipal ordinance violation notices have been issued and served by authorized officials."

Those officials who will serve as enforcers of the violations ordinance are the primary zoning official Jim Drolett, village manager Jack Myers, assistant village manager Bruce Pindzia and a public safety officer, who has yet to be appointed.

The bureau will be able to collect and retain fines and/or costs for persons who admit responsibility for an ordinance violation and to repeal all conflicting ordinances or parts of any ordinances.

It will be located in the village offices and its location could be changed at any time.

One condition of the new ordinance is that village employees will always operate the bureau. Council has reserved the right to designate a bureau clerk, if necessary. If they do, the bureau clerk would be responsible for keeping records of all violations and will be required to submit a monthly report to the village council. Fines will be sent to the village treasurer and deposited into the village's general fund account.

If someone denies violating a village ordinance, or admits their wrongdoing but does not offer an explanation, this new bureau may not accept any payment. The ordinance indicates that bureau may not determine if a person is guilty of violating a village ordinance.

The new bureau will be located within the village offices. It will collect payments from those who admit violating a village ordinance.

which the violation may be admitted or denied, the consequences of failing to pay the fines and/or costs or failing to contact the bureau within the required time, and the bureau's address, telephone number and business hours.

If a person denies responsibility without an explanation, and pays the fines incurred, the bureau clerk or other designated village employees shall advise the complainant to issue and file a municipal civil infraction citation within the proper court jurisdiction. The citation may be served by first class mail.

The civil fines that would be incurred vary by the number of violations incurred within a three-year period.

The first violation results in a $50 fine; the second, a $125 fine; the third, a $250 fine; and the fourth or subsequent violation, a $400 fine. The three-year period will be determined on the date of the violation.

The bureau will further charge $10 if the fine is paid within 10 days of when the notice is served. If the fines are paid after 10 days, a fee of $20 will be applied.

When new ordinances are adopted by the village council, the bureau will proceed directly with the citation infraction as authorized by law.
