CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1995

22 Pages This Week 2 Supplements

COLOR GUARDS from the VFW Post 4076 and the Herbert J. McKune American Legion Post No. 31 led Chelsea's Memorial Day parade down the village's streets Monday morning. They, along with the rest of the parade, convened at Oak Grove Cemetery.

MARK HELMS, Chelsea High school assistant principal, was the featured speaker at the Memorial Day ceremonies held at Oak Grove Cemetery Monday morning. Helms encouraged the public to never forget the men and women who gave their lives for their country and to renew their sense of appreciation for the fallen American heroes. Helms is pictured with, from left, master of ceremonies Jim Knott and the Rev. Wayne Hawley.

Two Charitable Groups Join Forces To Form The Chelsea Foundation

Creation of The Chelsea Foundation, a new community entity born of a merger between the Civic Foundation of Chelsea and the Foundation for Community Care, was announced today by Randy A. Musbach and Arthur E. Dils, chairpersons of the two former foundations. Musbach, an attorney with offices in Chelsea, will serve as the Foundation's first chair.

"Our goal will be to contribute to the future of the community we love, so that future generations may benefit from the generosity and thoughtful-ness of local people," said Musbach. Purposes of the Chelsea Foundation will be to provide leadership in addressing community concerns, helping donors to meet their charitable objectives, and to provide support to local non-profit organizations.

The foundation's primary focus will be the development of permanent "community capital" to improve the quality of life in the areas of health and human services, environment, education, community development, youth and the arts.

The major thrust of funding for the foundation will be from residents of the greater Chelsea area who appreciate the community in which they have lived or worked and raised their families, and want to see the community preserved. The Chelsea Foundation will be a way to ensure that the goals of these donors will be met on a perpetual basis.

"Gifts to The Chelsea Foundation may consist of funds set aside in wills, property, stock, or other means. They may be unrestricted, designated to a field of interest, advisory in nature, or very specific as to their use," said Musbach. "The community foundation principle ties together the interests of individuals who love this community and the interests of local agencies, relieving them of extensive government reporting, grant paperwork, auditing and accounting. The past 15 years has seen an explosion in the creation of community foundations in large and small communities in Michigan and across the nation. The community foundation is the fastest growing form of philanthropy in America. Using income from the wide variety of available fund types, community foundations such as The Chelsea Foundation can respond appropriately not only to today's needs but also to the uncertainties of the future."

Potential benefits to donors include federal tax deductibility and a tax credit from the State of Michigan. In addition to Musbach, officers of The Chelsea Foundation include: Walter F. Hamilton, president; Children's Orchard, Inc., vice-chair; Douglas A. Tomney, chief financial officer; Chelsea Milling Co., secretary-treasurer.

Council Delays Approval Of Liquor License, Entertainment Permit

Local business owner Gina Pantely is hoping to receive a liquor license and obtain an entertainment permit in order to operate within state guidelines for a new restaurant and banquet center, tentatively called the Pierce Lake Grill.

"All the details have been taken care of except for the council approving the liquor license," Pantely said.

Pantely currently does not have a liquor license. She said her architects are waiting to go ahead with their plans until they get council's approval.

A lawyer representing Gina's Cafe approached village council last Tuesday for a Class C resort license. The new establishment is slated to be located between Village Motor Sales and Chelsea Animal Hospital on M-52.

One requirement that council handed down was that the restaurant and banquet center has to be at least 500 feet from the church.

Council elected to table the issue until the June 6 meeting when they have the opportunity to discuss a possible entertainment permit.

The banquet center would include seating for approximately 200 people, Pantely said. The facility could be used for wedding receptions, showers retirement parties, graduation parties, etc. A separate restaurant would be built adjacent to the banquet facility.

"I think the town could use a banquet hall," Pantely said.

An entertainment/dancing permit is needed in the event that wedding parties choose to have a band perform.

Residents Honor Nation's Heroes in Memorial Day Ceremonies Monday

It seemed quite appropriate that it rained on Memorial Day.

The day was overcast as were the somber faces of residents who remembered loved ones who had served or are presently serving their nation.

Residents who attended the village's Memorial Day parade were reminded of the wars that the United States has fought in as color guards from the VFW Auxiliary Post 4076 and the Herbert J. McKune American Legion Post No. 31 led parade-goers into reflection.

The crowd erupted into applause as the color guards made their grand entrance onto Main St. They were followed by parade marshal Pat Merkel, who was joined in a car by family members.

Chelsea's High school marching band serenaded the gathered crowd with selections suitable for the occasion, as they were followed by local boy and girl scouts.

Finally, Beach Middle school's marching band finished up the salute to America's fallen heroes by playing music as well.

As the parade passed Main St., onlookers hurried to catch it again as entries came down East St., and turned onto Middle St., slowly making its way up to Oak Grove Cemetery.

The ceremonies got underway under a veil of on-again, off-again misty rain. Master of ceremonies Jim Knott welcomed the gathered crowd to the cemetery ceremony.

The Rev. Wayne Hawley began the invocation with a poem by a social activist, thinker and famous Christian who was framed by his country.

"Oh God, keep our whole country under your protection. Wipe out sin from this land. Lift it from the depths of sorrow, Oh Lord, our shining light. Save us from deep grief and misfortune, Lord of all nations. Bless us with your wisdom so that the poor may not be oppressed and the rich not be oppressors. Make this a nation having no ruler except God. A nation having no authority but that of love."

The Rev. Hawley revealed that the poem was written by a man who was framed by his country: Japan. He said the man, who lived before and during World War II, was deeply concerned about the direction Japan was going toward, such as oppressing the poor and increased violence.

Following the invocation, the bands played "America" as a solemn crowd stood by quietly as the music wafted through the still air.

As the last notes of the ballad rang through, Knott introduced Mark Helms, who was the featured speaker. Helms implored the community to remember those who have served, or are presently serving their country.

"Never forget those who have made the supreme sacrifice, the ultimate sacrifice, in serving their country," Helms said. "Never take their service for granted."

He asked those present to renew their sense of appreciation for Memorial Day.

"Be thankful for those who have served our nation and those who have fallen, so that we all are able to enjoy the vast freedoms that we experience today in the United States," Helms said. "I'm concerned, that in our society today, we have lost that sense. We cannot allow that to happen because so many have paid the price."

A 21-gun salute rang through the air to honor those fallen heroes. A bugler played "Taps" as a fitting farewell. The crowd then sang the national anthem as their salute.

The Rev. Hawley ended the ceremony by delivering the benediction, asking God to remember those who have died.

Merkel Asks Council To Delay 157-Acre Annexation Request

■ Merkel said he wants to explore his options and will keep in contact with council about future requests.

A year-long annexation battle with the community has come to a temporary halt.

Martin Merkel recently sent a letter to village president Richard Steele requesting that council table the annexation of his 157-acre parcel of land north of Freer Rd., alongside Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

In the letter, Merkel said he wants to explore his options and will keep in touch with council regarding his former request.

Steele said he thought it was appropriate to table the issue and Council subsequently approved the request, 7-0, at its May 23 meeting. It was noted that if Merkel decides to go ahead with another annexation request, he will have to approach council once again for approval.

The request for annexation began in May 1994 when Merkel, along with partners Phil Jenkins and Steve Tracy, petitioned village council to amend current village boundaries to include his parcel of land. At that time, the owners and developers wished to put a manufactured home park on the site.

The hotly debated topic was further petitioned—this time by village residents—at the June 14, 1994 council meeting. Residents had submitted a petition accompanied by 640 signatures opposing annexation into the village limits.

Lima township officials had further requested that council reject the annexation request on the basis of incompatibility with existing land uses and inconsistency with township and village master plans. Emotions ran askew when residents learned that the proposed manufactured home park would generate a high density use that would surround much low-density residential and agriculture uses.

The site is within Lima township, but developers have requested the village incorporate the 157-acre site, of which 89 acres had been set aside for the manufactured home dwelling. It is unknown, according to the Planning Commission, what the other 69 acres would be used for.

The surrounding land on the southern and eastern boundaries consists of a tree nursery, sheep farm and a cattle breeding facility. The Merkel property also borders Letts Creek and Jackson St.

At that time, village council referred the matter to the Planning Commission for review. On Jan. 17, 1995, the public had the opportunity to attend a presentation of the Commission's draft report of that review. Approximately 35 residents attended the presentation, of which 17 provided comments regarding the proposed annexation.

The residents' major concerns were whether the village could provide needed services, ensure a controlled growth rate as to not overburden existing systems, seek a decrease in the scale of any proposed development.

The Planning Commission outlined its preliminary recommendations to council at its March 28 meeting and submitted the study for review.

Their recommendations included: an update be made to the 1976 General Development Plan for the north area of the village (north of the railroad tracks); a traffic study is completed as part of the GDP update; construction is completed of new clarifiers on the waste water treatment plant and expansion of the water supply; and a revision is written of the Planned Unit Development section of the Village Zoning Ordinance.

For now, the 157-acre parcel of land remains undeveloped and unzoned until Merkel petitions council and requests annexation.

Council Sends Village Hall Study To Committee

As pointed out at the last village council meeting, the proposed village hall construction needed to be addressed. Council heeded that advice and propelled head on into locating various alternative sites for new village offices.

Several different sites have been looked at, with the need arising to eliminate some of the sites to concentrate on the village's best interests and needs for new village offices.

Is there enough support in the downtown area for a new office? Would moving the village offices away from the downtown area be beneficial to the village? These are just some of the questions that village council members are attempting to address.

Trustee Frank Hammer, in the past, has favored keeping the new village offices in the downtown area. He said the council has nearly exhausted the selection of possible proposed sites in the downtown area. Hammer pointed out that the downtown area could use more parking as well as more access to the village offices.

Although some space exists in the downtown area, most of it cannot accommodate the needed square footage for the proposed offices.

One possible alternative is the Schneider Estate property. It houses two buildings with approximately 9,000 square feet. The parking situation would house more than enough ample parking spaces for village employees and the general public.

Another possible alternative that could be explored is Washington St. The St. Mary's building also has been explored as a possible site, but was found to not meet the village's needs.

"We need a building to accommodate us 20 years down the road," Hammer said.

The council still is considering the sites on either side of Park St.

Council assigned a committee to look over the various site possibilities. That committee is to report back to council in the future with its analysis and any recommendations.

Cars Keyed By Sharp Instruments

Two separate malicious destruction of property reports were filed with Chelsea police last week when vehicles were keyed by suspected sharp instruments.

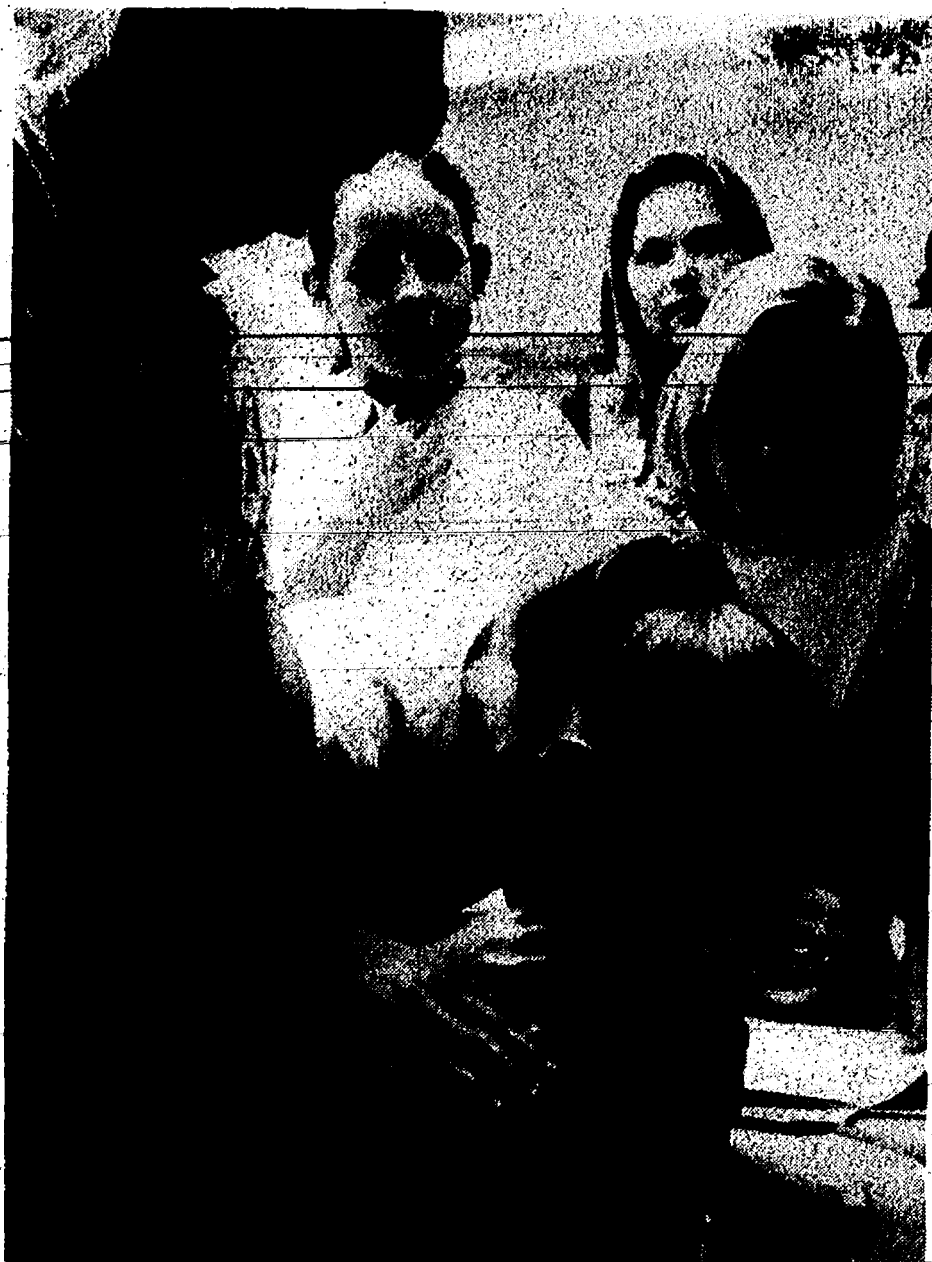

The first incident took place on May 26 in the Municipal Parking Lot No. 1. Profanity had been carved on the right side of the 1989 Dodge Aries by a sharp instrument, police reports indicate. The damage included the front and rear passenger doors.

The second incident took place when a vehicle was parked at Chelsea Community Hospital the morning of May 27. The 1989 Dodge pickup truck had been parked for approximately 10 minutes when the damage was discovered. Profanity was written on the door of the vehicle.

Grass Lake Child, Family Attend Fetal Surgery Reunion

Blake Schultz is a celebrity in his own right — he is the first survivor of an experimental fetal surgery that was conducted nearly six years ago.

The Grass Lake child and his family recently celebrated his success at a Mother's Day reunion held in San Francisco, Calif. on May 13.

Back in 1989, Beth Schultz found out that the baby she was carrying had developed a diaphragmatic hernia. Doctors were able to detect the hole in Blake's diaphragm through prenatal tests.

If the hole had not been detected, his stomach, intestines and other organs would have squeezed into his chest cavity, which would have caused his lungs to not develop.

At the time of Blake's surgery, about three-quarters of all babies who developed this type of hernia died because they were unable to breathe at birth.

Newborns often die because the undeveloped lungs are not strong enough to support life outside the womb. Several babies were born alive, but did not survive long after.

In order to repair the hole, doctors at the University of California at San Francisco, led by fetal surgery pioneer Dr. Michael Harrison, cut into Beth Schultz's uterus and pulled Blake's arm out through the hole. Harrison and his team had performed six diaphragmatic hernia operations on pregnant sheep before operating on Blake.

After attaching wires to monitor his heart and oxygen levels, doctors put his misplaced stomach, intestines and other organs in their proper places and patched up the hole with a Gore-Tex patch. Another patch was inserted to enlarge Blake's growing abdomen. After that was completed, they put Blake's arm back into the uterus and closed the incision.

The procedure only took 54 minutes. Beth Schultz had received anesthesia that crossed over to her placenta and anesthetized both mother and unborn child.

The surgery had been performed before on other fetuses, but no one had survived until Blake Schultz. He was born one month premature on Aug. 5, 1989, weighing in at 5 pounds.

Blake was transferred to the University of Michigan Hospitals, where he was finally allowed to go home almost four months later on Dec. 6, 1989.

At the reunion, Beth Schultz met with other mothers who have undergone this type of surgery.

"We met a mother whose baby girl had not survived this surgery," said Karen Wireman, Blake's grandmother. "She said she felt that her baby's death helped to contribute to Blake's survival."

Wireman said they also got to meet other children who are survivors of fetal surgery.

Blake, who is hearing impaired, now attends preschool and will start kindergarten in the fall.

Village Council Sets June 13 As Public Hearing for Millage

Village council set June 13 as the date for a public hearing on the millage at its May 23 meeting. Residents have the opportunity to attend the meeting and express their comments.

There is no added millage request this year, said village president Richard Steele.

The public hearing will be on the agenda during the council's regular meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. at Sylvan Township Hall. An annual meeting about the millage is required by law to be held once a year.

Last year, the council discussed a .28 mill increase, which raised the millage to 10.10 mills. (A 10.10 mill rate was not high enough to require the public to vote on the increase.) The money is presently being used to meet the needs of the general operating budget.

Also at that June 13 meeting, another public hearing is scheduled for an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate for Ann Arbor Machine.

Life & Times of Mary Todd Lincoln Offered in Lecture

Sheri Teller, historian and lecturer, will present an engaging glimpse into the life and times of Mary Todd Lincoln at the annual education meeting of the Waterloo Area Historical Society on Sunday, June 4 at 2 p.m. Teller's first-person interpretive lecture is free to the public and will be held at the Waterloo Farm Museum, 9998 Waterloo-Munith Rd., in Waterloo township.

Mary Todd was born in December, 1818, in Lexington, Ky. Her mother, Eliza Parker Todd, died in July, 1825 of childbirth complications at the age of 31, leaving six children. Mary was six and one-half years old. A year and a half later, her father, Robert Smith Todd, married Elizabeth Humphreys, the stepmother to whom Mary was never reconciled.

Mary excelled in school and was interested in politics. In November, 1842, she married Abraham Lincoln in Springfield, Ill.

Mary Lincoln was exceptional not because she married Abraham Lincoln (that was result, not cause) but because of the range of her experience, the persistence of her tragedies, and the means of her survival. "Mary Todd Lincoln, a biography by Jean H. Baker, p. xv.

There will be an opportunity to ask questions after the program. Refreshments will be served.

Shopping Tips Can Help Lessen Negative Effects on Environment

By Debbie Barrow
Extension Home Economist

Everywhere you look in stores and supermarkets, you see claims that products and their packaging are "ozone friendly," "biodegradable" or "environmentally safe." But what exactly do these claims mean? Because there are no uniform definitions for many of these claims, you can't always take them at face value, says Norman Dean, president of Green Seal, a non-profit organization that tries to help consumers separate the honest claims from the false ones.

Dean says there are a few basic ways you can shop to reduce negative impact on the environment.

- Avoid excessive packaging, especially individually wrapped servings. Choose packaging that's made from recycled materials, such as cardboard. Or look for products in packaging that's easy to recycle, such as paper, glass or cardboard.
- If you buy plastic products, check with local recyclers to find out what kinds of plastic they accept for recycling. Almost every plastic container has a code number on the bottom indicating the type of plastic. Some types can be recycled—others can't. If there's no number on the container, it may mean it has ingredients that prevent it from being recycled.

• Paper products such as coffee filters and bathroom tissue should be unbleached. Chlorine bleaching products to whiten them can create dioxin, a toxic substance that gets into our lakes, rivers and streams.

• To help reduce solid waste, look on the label of recycled paper products for the percentage of post-consumer waste. "Postconsumer waste" refers to paper that someone has actually used and returned. It should be no less than 20 percent for most products; 10 percent for facial tissue. Some companies recycle only scrap paper from their manufacturing process and then claim their products are "recycled."

• Buy as few products containing hazardous substances as possible. Use less hazardous alternatives to common household products when you can. Protect clothes against moths with cedar chips instead of mothballs. Wash windows with equal parts of water and white vinegar instead of glass cleaner. Try spraying a mixture of equal parts of white vinegar and lemon juice instead of using air freshener.

• Most of the nearly 3 billion household batteries purchased and disposed of annually in the United States contain toxic metals that can be dangerous to human health if the metals leach out of landfills. To help reduce the problem, buy rechargeable alkaline batteries. Though initially more expensive, they can be reused as many as 25 times.

• To save energy, wash clothes in cold water. Many detergents are formulated to work effectively in cold water.

• Buy garden hoses made from recycled tire rubber (they will be labeled). This helps reduce the amount of tires in landfills. Burning tires emit pollutants into the air and water.

• When possible, use soaker hoses. By seeping water through thousands of tiny pores, such hoses use 50 to 75 percent less water than most conventional watering systems.

"The weakest among us has a gift, however seemingly trivial, which is peculiar to him and which, worthily used, will be a gift also to his race..."

—Ruskin

This concept should be in the back of everyone's mind. If life is to be bearable, we must have self-respect... we must have a measure of esteem for our ability to accomplish something worthwhile. There are times in every life when we wonder if it is all worthwhile. We seem to be so ineffective, unable to do the things we need to do. Ruskin tells us that we all have a special gift which no one else has. And, if we use this gift properly, it will benefit the entire human race. Everyone is important if he wants to be. Our fine reputation is the result of our sincere desire to be helpful.

Beach Parent Orientation Slated Thursday

Beach Middle school will host an evening of Middle School Orientation for parents of current fifth grade students of North and South Elementaries. This program for parents will be Thursday, June 1, in the Beach cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Parents will be taken on a 10-stop tour of Beach Middle school to begin the program so it is important that parents arrive promptly at 7:30 p.m. At each stop of the tour sixth grade staff will give a brief explanation of the program the students will encounter during the 1995-96 school year.

Following the tour, parents will meet in the cafeteria for refreshments, a brief presentation by the Superintendent of Schools regarding the June 12 bond issue, a review of the new student assignment book, a brief presentation by the Beach Parent Group, and a question/answer session with the principal.

EAR PIERCING

CORRIE SCHOENBERG CHS Senior Places 3rd in Italian Songs Michigan Competitions

Corrie Schoenberg, Chelsea High school senior, placed third in the first annual Italian Songs and Arias Vocal Competition for Michigan high school students on Sunday, May 21. The competition was sponsored by the Verdi Opera Theatre of Michigan at the Italian-American Cultural Center in Warren.

The Verdi Opera Theatre of Michigan is a non-profit organization dedicated to encouraging and developing public appreciation of the music of Giuseppe Verdi, as well as the music of other opera composers and composers of other popular music for theater. This is done through concerts, workshops, dinner-theatre performances, various media promotions and the active participation of the members in the society's cultural activities.

From 30 applicants Corrie was chosen as one of the 10 finalists to perform at the May 21 competition concert. She sang "Se Tu M'Ami" by Parisotti and "Deh Vieni, Non Tardar" by W. A. Mozart. The three judges were from Michigan Opera Theatre, Wayne State University, and Oakland University.

Corrie has studied privately with Lisa Hinz-Johnson for the past four years and will be attending Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., in the fall pursuing a dual degree in vocal performance and English.

Antique Appraisal Clinic Slated in Dexter, June 3

Individuals and families are invited to bring their antique items to the Antique Appraisal Clinic sponsored by the Dexter Heritage Guild, Saturday, June 3, at the Dexter Area Museum, 3443 Inverness St., Dexter.

A representative from DuMouchelle's will be present to do the appraisals.

The clinic is an annual event, and proceeds benefit the Dexter Area Museum.

In the past, people have brought pieces of jewelry, paintings, music boxes, and farm tools.

Hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Any item which may be hand-carried is welcome. Donations of $5 for an oral appraisal and $7 for a written appraisal are requested.

For items appraised at $1,000 or higher, a $12 donation will be requested.

For further information, please call 426-2473.

Sports Physical Forms Available on June 5

■ Sports physicals for the 1995-96 school year are scheduled for June 21.

Sports physical forms for all Chelsea students entering grades six through twelve for the 1995-96 school year will be available at Chelsea High school, Beach Middle school and the athletic director's office after June 5. All sports physicals are scheduled for Wednesday, June 21.

It is the student's responsibility to obtain a form, have the health history portion completed and signed by his/her parents or guardian, complete the school district athletic department portion of the form, and present the completed form to the physician at the time of the physical.

These examinations are intended to detect any significant health problems which would prevent a student from participating in athletics within the Chelsea School District, as well as to meet the Michigan High School Athletic Association guidelines requiring an annual physical. This is not intended to serve as a substitute for a comprehensive health evaluation by your regular physician.

The physical examinations will be performed at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center, 775 S. Main. Physicals will be given according to the last names. Student's last names beginning with a last initial of A-E will report at 2 p.m.; F-J will report at 2:30 p.m.; K-O will report at 3 p.m.; P-T will report at 3:30 p.m.; and U-Z will report at 4 p.m.

The fee for the sports physical will be $5 to be paid at the time of the examination.

THANK YOU

Thank you from St. Mary's Parish Family to the volunteers, businesses, and clergy of other churches whose help was essential in our hosting successfully the Shroud of Turin exhibit which was displayed from May 15th through May 21st at our Parish Center Hall. Approximately 2,000 adults and children viewed the exhibit, and expressed thanks and appreciation for the wonderful opportunity which this display provided.

Hats off to all for YOUR willingness to do whatever needed to be done, from preparation to closing. Special thanks to the Wolverine Bar and to McDonald's for donations toward refreshments; to the women who so generously donated so many home-baked goods; to the Chelsea Greenhouse (Sandy) who took special time from her busy schedule that week-end to help by loaning several large green plants to place in various areas throughout the exhibit, enhancing the Parish Hall surroundings, who delivered and picked them up again at the closing, and donated a beautiful floral arrangement for the Registry table; and to Manna Book Store for providing an assortment of articles for people of all ages who viewed the exhibit.

YOU did it in a wonderful way—the smiles, the warmth, and the caring YOU put into it. YOU'RE SPECIAL PEOPLE!

Cool April Blamed for Sales Decline

Cool weather appeared to take the spring out of Michigan retailers' April sales.

For the first time since the monthly Michigan Retail Index was launched last July by the Michigan Retailers' Association and the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, more retailers reported sales decreases than reported increases from year ago levels. Forty-one percent said sales increased, while 45 percent said sales declined and 14 percent reported no change.

It was the third consecutive month for sluggish sales and the worst of the three months. In February the split was 48-36 and in March 52-32.

Optimism for rebounding sales in May, June and July remained high, as 67 percent said they expect to increase sales. Only 12 percent said they expect sales to decline from year-ago levels.

"Sales have been slow throughout the first part of 1995, and it appears April was the toughest month of all," said Larry Meyer, MRA chief executive officer and former director of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

"Consumers cut back on spending after last year's buying spree. Plus, it's tough to sell spring clothes or patio furniture when the weather doesn't co-operate."

"It is encouraging, however," Meyer added, "that retailers continue to show a high level of optimism that sales will pick up along with the temperature."

Sales activity was down all across the state. Sales decreased in every region except Northern Michigan. Even there, fewer than half reported sales increases.

Only gifts retailers reported increased sales, with 58 percent reporting increases and 31 percent reporting decreases. Electronics and computer retailers, as well as furniture and appliance retailers, reported the largest declines.

Gas Engine, Tractor Show Set at Hudson Mills Park

Antique tractors, gas engines and steam engines; antique tractor pulls; a pedal pull for youngsters; gas engine and tractor swap meet; music; horse drawn hayrides; and more, are all part of the "Antique Gas Engine and Tractor Show," to be held at Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter Friday-Sunday, June 2-4 beginning at 10 a.m. each day.

A country music show by "Dixie Cross Roads," including dance instructions, will be held Saturday, June 3 at 6 p.m. at the Activity Center of the park. An old-fashioned "sparks show" will follow at dusk.

A junior pull, ladies pull and lightweight tractor pull will be held on Friday, June 2; and antique rubber tire tractor pull will be held on Saturday, June 3; and the antique steel wheel tractor pull will take place on Sunday, June 4.

Saturday's activities will also include a pedal tractor pull for youngsters, beginning at 1 p.m., and a horseshoe tournament will be held beginning at 1 p.m.

Farm animals to view and touch and horse-drawn hayrides will be available Saturday and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. All activities are "free."

Rare Plant Hunt Slated for June 4

Matt Heumann, a Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission naturalist, will lead interested persons on a rare plant hunt at Park Lyndon North on Sunday, June 4, beginning at 10 a.m.

Heumann will lead a troupe of intrepid volunteers on a search for rare plants to add to the Embury Swamp Natural Features inventory, which now contains more than 500 species of plants. This hunt is not recommended for children under 10 years.

The event is free and the public is invited to attend.

"Walkers should be advised to expect mud, insects, poison sumac, bushwhacking, strenuous walking and a great adventure," Heumann said.

Park Lyndon North is located on North Territorial Rd. in Lyndon township, one mile east of the intersection of M-52.

For more information, contact Heumann at 971-6337, weekdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Girls Golf Team Claims Sixth at Conference Finals

Rain battled the Bulldogs as they struggled to hit their shots.

Torrenting rain storms kept interrupting the Central "8" Conference finals that were held at Oak Pointe Golf Course on May 25. Golfers lamented that at every other hole, the downpour seemed to start up again. The weather also made it difficult for the competitors to hit their shots and hold on to their clubs.

Chelsea's girls golf team finished the finals in sixth place with 452 strokes. Ann Arbor Pioneer won the title for the third consecutive year with 368. Saline was second at 391.

Brighton third at 404, Howell fourth at 415, Ann Arbor Huron fifth at 416 and Pinckney finished seventh at 502. Ypsilanti also participated in the conference finals, but only three golfers, so no score was kept.

Bulldog golfer Lesley Davis said she couldn't even use her woods because the grass kept catching the clubs.

"The conditions were just awful," she said.

Liz Holdsworth led Chelsea with 108. Erin Armstrong was a stroke behind at 109. Davis shot a 113 and Jessica Inwood finished at 124.

The team made some improvement as they finished seventh last year in the Central "8" Conference Finals.

Michigan farms will pick about 930 million pounds of apples this fall, down nine percent from last year. Jonathan harvest is near completion, and Empire and Rome harvests are gearing up. The U.S. apple crop is about 10.9 billion pounds, up one percent from 1993.

Boys Track Team Places Third in SEC Championship Meet

In the SEC Championship meet for boys track on May 25, Pinckney took the top honors with 124 points. Lincoln was second at 108, Chelsea third at 80.5, Milan fourth at 74 points, Saline fifth at 61 points, Tecumseh sixth at 47.5 points and Dexter in seventh with 32 points.

Pinckney took over the reigns from three-time defending champion Lincoln to become the SEC Championship meet winners. Pinckney was also named the dual-meet champions.

Dan Wehrwein was Chelsea's only competitor to win three of his events in league meet. He took the 800 run, plus anchored the winning relays in the 1600 and 3200.

"We ran very well," said coach Pat Clarke. "Dan Wehrwein ran a season's best 1:41.41 to place sixth and Josh Metzler ran a lifetime best 4:42.0 to place seventh. Peter Straub placed sixth in the 400 meter run in :53.8."

Scott Hawley ran a season's best 2:00.4 to place second in the 800 meter, in addition to running on two winning relays.

Bryndon Skelton (:41.8) and Jeremy Ziegler (:42.2) came in 5-6 in the 300 hurdles, respectively. Ziegler came back in the 11- high hurdles, upping his placement to fifth in :53.9.

Eric McCalla had a personal record in the shot put, 42-8, to place fourth, as teammate Adam Skyles placed eighth with a distance of 40-7.5. Mark Hand jumped a 18-7 long jump to place fourth.

David Tracy was the only pole vaulter to place for Chelsea, in fifth, clearing the bar at 11-6.

Sprinting for the Bulldogs, Jim

Irwin (:23.9), Tom Irwin (:24.2) and Mark Hand (:25.0) placed 4-5-7, respectively. Jim Irwin dashed forward to third in the 100 meter, crossing the finish line in :11.4.

The 3200 relay team of Scott Hawley, Chad Brown, Ryan Schultz and Dan Wehrwein won their event with a season-best time of 8:10.92. Likewise the 800 relay team of Jim Irwin, Kevin Kolodica, Tom Irwin and Mark Hand combined for a first-place finish and a season's best time in 1:36.4 to win the league.

The 1600-meter relay team, comprised of teammates Peter Straub, Scott Hawley, Kevin Kolodica and Dan Wehrwein, claimed the victory in 3:31.47. The 400-relay team of Jim Irwin, Dave Tracy, Tom Irwin and Jason Scibor came in for a rewarding fourth place in :47.0.

Dan Wehrwein bypassed the competition in the 800 run, coming in a grand fashion in 1:59.43 for first. Scott Hawley was just inches behind him, finishing second in 2:01.

All-league runners for the Bulldogs were Jim Irwin, Tom Irwin, Dan Wehrwein, Scott Hawley, Chad Brown, Ryan Schultz, Kevin Kolodica, Mark Hand and Peter Straub.

The Bulldogs finished the SEC Championship meet in third and over-all in third. Their dual meet record was 8-2 over-all.

"We have a record nine boys who qualified for next Saturday's (June 3) state meet at Midland," said coach Pat Clarke. "It's been a quite a good season."

Part of the team ended the season by competing in the Jackson Selby Classic on May 30. The JV team ends their season on June 1 at Pioneer.

Varsity Softball Team Fares Well in Novi Tournament

Chelsea's varsity softball team traveled to the Novi Invitational on Saturday, May 27.

"We played four excellent teams, losing one game to Hartland, 2-0," said coach Joe Beard. "Hartland is ranked second in the state in Class A."

All of Chelsea's games were close and they received excellent pitching from Carey Schiller and Lisa Beard.

Lisa Beard pitched against Farmington Mercy and Ladywood, beating Farmington, 2-1, and Ladywood, 2-0. She allowed six hits and struck out 15 in 14 innings, allowing no earned runs, to raise her record to 14-2 on the season.

Carey Schiller pitched against Hartland, allowing seven hits, while striking out two and giving up just one earned run in taking the loss, 2-0. Schiller came back against a good Novi team, allowing just three hits while striking out nine and giving up no earned runs.

in winning, 3-1, to make her record, 14-6.

"At this level of play, pitching and defense become very important and Chelsea's pitching and defensive play rose to the occasion," said coach Joe Beard. "The girls did a tremendous job today defensively, making the plays when they had to. We faced strong pitching on Saturday and we did what we needed to do with the bats when it counted."

Leading hitters for the weekend were Carey Schiller with four hits, Tina Richardson with five hits, Lisa Beard with three hits, and Nancy Pidd, Danielle Longe and Charlotte Ziegler each with two hits.

"It was a very good tournament for Chelsea," coach Beard said. "It will help us to get ready for a tough district this year."

Chelsea's record is now 28-9. Their next game is at Ann Arbor Huron on Thursday and the districts at Milan on Saturday, June 3.

Varsity Baseball Team Splits Games at Invite

Chelsea's varsity baseball team demolished St. Joseph in play on last Saturday at the St. Joseph's Invitational, 3-0.

"This was one of the best performances of the year for the Bulldogs," said coach Wayne Welton. "The Bulldogs played a great opening game versus St. Joseph in this tournament of high profile baseball programs from across the state of Michigan."

Chelsea led early on in the first, scoring two runs. They didn't score again until the sixth with another. Sam Morseau took the win with a one-hitter, a shutout and striking out 11 batters. His record improved to 5-2.

"He was at his very best," Welton said.

Leading hitters for Chelsea were Scott Colvin with two, batting in one RBI. Ryan Wagner was

3-for-3 with two doubles and one RBI.

The tables were turned as Stevensville Lakeshore shut out the Bulldogs, 10-0, in the second game of the tourney.

However, the second game found little for Chelsea fans to cheer about.

"Seven errors, six walks and over-all sloppy play led to an embarrassing 10-0 defeat," Welton said.

Scott Colvin had the only hit for Chelsea. Jeff Branch (6-2) took the loss, striking out six, walking six and giving up three runs.

Chelsea's over-all record is 19-11-2. Their next match-up is a doubleheader at Brighton on June 1. The Bulldogs play in the district this Saturday at Milan. Chelsea plays against the Dexter/Lincoln winner at 10 a.m.

Female Arrested In Domestic Assault

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department requested assistance from Chelsea police on May 29 for a suspected domestic assault in progress on W. Cedar Lake Dr.

A man had suffered cuts to his face and refused medical treatment. The female was arrested for domestic assault.

Man Arrested On Outstanding Warrant

A Jackson man was arrested on May 27 for an outstanding Chelsea police bench warrant for failure to appear in 14-3 District Court on a traffic citation.

Michael John Mullins, 39, had been cited for an improper registration plate on his motorcycle.

Rod & Gun Starts Range Noise Abatement Project

Early this month the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club began work on a joint demonstration project with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC). The three organizations hope to accomplish both habitat improvement on club land and containment of the noise from the Rod & Gun Club rifle and pistol ranges.

On April 8 and 9, as Phase I of the project began, the club grounds were bustling with activity from about 25 club members along with personnel from the DNR and MUCC.

Phase I consists of transplanting established pine trees around the club rifle and pistol ranges from other areas of club land. The club also planted many seedling conifers which will further confine sound as they grow into mature trees. Trees act as natural sound dampeners which muffle sounds such as traffic noise, factory noise or gun noise. Conifers have the advantages of relatively rapid growth as well as retaining their needles (hence their "muffler" qualities) throughout the year. The highway department has used this principle for several years in planting trees along roadways to dampen the traffic noise wherever busy roads pass through residential or school areas.

Along with the primary goal of reducing noise to surrounding areas, this project will also improve wildlife habitat on club grounds. The additional trees around the range areas will provide nesting habitat for birds and squirrels, as well as a more attractive surrounding for human users.

The transplanting operation also created several small meadow areas which make the land more attractive to animals such as rabbits and deer. Interestingly, noise from the ranges does not appear especially disturbing to wildlife. Rod & Gun Club land is home to such shy animals as deer, wild turkey and fox. Tracks from all three have been observed on or near the ranges.

Phase II of the project will consist of constructing an enclosed firing area on the rifle range. The enclosure is now in the planning stages, and is being designed to contain much of the sound generated by the firing of hunting rifles. It will also increase the comfort of the shooters. Construction will begin in early summer and should be complete before the fall hunting season.

In the past year, the club ranges have been used by the Boy Scouts, the Chelsea Police, and the Michigan State Police, as well as by members and their guests. The ranges have been in place for many years, and are among the ranges protected by the Range Protection Acts passed by the State legislature and signed into law last year by Governor Engler. Even so, the club would prefer to be a good neighbor and to continue its tradition of public service.

CHELSEA'S U-14 GIRLS SOCCER TEAM has played nine games this season and now have a 6-2-1 record. Two more games remain on the season schedule, May 31 and June 4. To date teams played include Adrian No. 1, and 3, Tecumseh, Clinton, Ypsilanti, Jackson and Chelsea junior varsity. Coaches are Jim Paul and Paul Seelbach, standing in back row. Team

BOY SCOUT TROOP 425 traveled to Camp Munhake May 19-21 to compete in various activities put on by other scout groups from around the district in the Annual District Scout Show and Family Camp-out. They put on their own station that consisted of teaching other boys how to make rope and a cooking demonstration on making doughnuts. Their activities earned the troop a first place award at this outing. On Saturday night at the Fire Bowl, it was announced that Andrew McGuire and Ben Hicks were picked candidates to become members of the

Eight Chelsea Tae Kwon Do Students Earn Black Belts

On May 5, eight Chelsea Tae Kwon Do (Korean Karate) students graduated and earned their new black belt ranks. Black belts are ranked by degrees, from first to fourth, with fourth being classified as a Master.

This spring, United States Chung Do Kwon Association black belt testing proved to be truly awesome in all respects of the word, said Rod Barbour, a second-degree black belt.

Testing for all other belts is concluded every month or every other month, said Karon Barbour, a first-degree black belt.

Stephen King earned his degree black belt, performing a concrete break while suspended in the splits between two chairs.

King also showed his speed and timing with a Nunchaku demonstration performed to music, which had the entire crowd caught up in the execution of the art. A Nunchaku is a metal chain with two pieces of wood hanging from the end of the chain.

Dan Williams, Rod Barbour and

Joel Kapp earned their second degree black belts with displays of their sparring techniques and their concrete and board breaks, which demonstrated their power.

Karon Barbour, Gina Jacobs, Rob McDonald and Elizabeth Menge all graduated to the rank of first degree black belt.

After many years of training towards their goal, they proved their ability to rise above their fears and reach the coveted black belt in Tae Kwon Do. Through their forms, sparring and breaking demonstrations, these four martial artists proved their desire to obtain their goal through exceptional performances.

Master Michael Foxson has been an instructor for many years at the Chelsea School of Tae Kwon Do. Nearly half of the senior class has earned their black belts under his tutelage. With their newly earned black belt ranks, though, these students have only just begun to learn the art and science of Tae Kwon Do.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL third grade teacher, Mrs. Quilter, and parent volunteer, Bill Kalmbach, oversee Ariel Kennedy and Beth Anne Robertson as they create their multimedia report on "Pirates."

North School Third Graders Create Multi-Media Reports

Students in Mrs. Quilter's third grade class at North Elementary school utilized the computer technology at Washtenaw Intermediate School District (WISD) to create multi-media reports on Mysteries of the Deep.

Children paired together to research topics such as shipwrecks, pirates and sea life. An outline was then constructed for six pages of material to be taken along with pictures, tapes, and objects to WISD Wednesday and Thursday, May 24-25.

Following a period of instruction, students then proceeded to choose background colors and type style for their reports.

Photographs were taken of the pairs of students with a quick take camera and later transferred to their computer files for use at the end of their projects.

Pictures and small objects were placed in a scanner and also transferred to the student's computer files.

Music, voice, and animation enhanced the reports which were recorded on video tapes for the students to take home at the end of the day.

The project was made possible through Mrs. Quilter's participation in a multimedia workshop this past summer funded by a grant from the McCall Fund.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

As members of the Committee to Support the R.E.A.D.Y. Campaign, the question most often asked about the school bond has been:

"What will become of our old high school if we build a new high school?"

This letter will answer that question.

The school bond will change the current high school into a new Community Center.

1. The central administrative offices for the school district will be in the same location and will be remodeled.

2. The auditorium, gym, cafeteria and connected classrooms will be updated and will be rented and used by the community, businesses and organizations.

3. The library and connected classrooms will be rented and used by Washtenaw Community College and local businesses for education, programs and job training.

4. Additional classrooms will be rented out for other educational programs. When the school district needs future space for students, these classrooms will be reclaimed and used.

This new Community Center will benefit all our community members, from our youngest children to our senior citizens. It is a sound investment in the education and well being of our community.

We urge all citizens of Chelsea to vote YES to pass the school bond on Monday, June 12, 1995, at Beach Middle school. Absentee ballots may be picked up until 2 p.m., Saturday, June 10 at the Chelsea High School Administration Building Office.

Mary Jane Eder and Jill Taylor

Dear Editor,

Ten years ago my mother died. We buried her at Maple Grove Cemetery. She always thought of it as a fine resting place. It's quiet and peaceful, she would say.

As of the Friday before Memorial Day nothing had been done to this fine resting place. The grass uncut, piles of rubbish in the back, this was not the resting place my mother envisioned. Nor is it a place that I now foresee as my final resting place.

After many phone calls and even driving out to see township officials, the grass was finally cut, I don't believe that money from the cemetery fund paid for such a poor job. A few goats could have done a better job. No trimming was done, entire patches of long grass stood, big piles of rubbish left.

I was disgraced and ashamed. I even brought my own equipment to make my family's area somewhat presentable. Many families of the departed have moved on and are unable to give the care reserved for the dead. That doesn't mean we, as strangers to them, shouldn't give the respect that the departed deserve.

A quiet, peaceful resting place, one that the living take care of, grass neatly and timely mowed and trimmed, rubbish promptly removed. I don't believe that is too much to ask or too much to give.

President Clinton Calls for More Ag Research

Michigan Farm Bureau praised President Clinton's call this week for "more agricultural research, not less." The President made the comment in Ames, Ia., during his first national rural summit.

"Agricultural research is the key to allowing farmers to use technology and also meet the growing challenges of increasing agricultural production," said Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau. He said Michigan farmers especially hope that Congress will appropriate $800,000 a year for the next five years to do research on apple fireblight. Fireblight is a bacterial disease of apples that is causing severe damage to Michigan apple orchards.

Farm Bureau policy also calls for research on: alternative sources of energy from agricultural products, such as ethanol and biomass fuels; improved ecosystem and resource management, new crop varieties with higher nutritional values, acceptable means of recycling chemical containers, biodegradable packages and containers that can be made from renewable agriculture and forestry resources, proper means to dispose of hazardous waste and improvement in agricultural mechanization.

Candidates from Chelsea include Christopher Casteel, Gayle Gorton, Lynn Lewis, Matt Peckham, Paula Summey, Sharon Carpenter, Susan Depping, Loren Keezer, Susan Lindner and Rochelle Tirb.

Candidates from Grass Lake include Andre Renier and Karen Zimmer.

Nursery and perennial plant growers contribute substantially to the state's economy. They had $200 million worth of wholesale and retail sales in 1993. The industry employed about 2,700 people full-time, 1,000 permanent part-timers and 6,000 seasonal workers. A great deal of Michigan's nursery industry is centered in southeast Michigan.

TIM KINKEAD Missionary to Taiwan Speaking At Free Methodist

Tim Kinkead, Free Methodist missionary to Taiwan, will speak at the Chelsea Free Methodist church on Sunday, June 4, at 8:30 and 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Kinkead first went to Taiwan in 1986, under the Volunteers in Service Abroad (VISA) program. He was readily accepted by both the Chinese people and missionaries, and his effective Christian witness and teaching skills were soon recognized.

Although Kinkead felt led to this ministry and to career missionary service, he felt that he probably would not be appointed. The reason? Tim Kinkead is legally blind. Because of his gifts, however, and the fact that he soon was able to navigate the city of Kaohsiung alone, he was appointed as a career missionary in October of 1990.

Since his arrival in the country, Kinkead has been engaged in small group English and Bible classes, all geared toward evangelism. He has also worked with the churches in Kaohsiung in discipleship.

While on home assignment, Kinkead will continue his work toward a degree in World Missions and Evangelism at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky., and speak in churches on weekends, traveling by bus.

He is a graduate of Malone College in Canton, O., and has taken graduate studies from Fuller Theological Seminary.

The public is invited to hear this young man tell about his work with the Chinese in Taiwan.

Chelsea Free Methodist church is located at 7665 Werker Rd.

KEVIN KENDRICK Granted Scholarship to University of Colorado

Chelsea-area resident, Kevin Kendrick, has been awarded a full-tuition scholarship to the College of Music of the University of Colorado at Boulder.

The scholarship, based on a personal audition as well as achievements in academics and music, will run for four years and is worth nearly $60,000.

The University of Colorado has one of the top-rated music programs in the United States. Kevin will be studying under well-known percussionist, Dr. Doug Walters.

The son of Frank and Ann Kendrick of Lyndon township, Kevin will be graduated next week from the Interlochen Arts Academy in Interlochen.

Squad Pushes Local Man Over Finish Line

JIM KESKENY of Pinckney was the first to lead the pack of runners in the First of America Run held Saturday. Keskeny is pictured with his squad of pushers from the Brighton Area Road Striders and Ann Arbor Track Club.

■ Jim Keskeny completes Half Marathon in under two hours.

When Jim Keskeny of Pinckney rolled passed the finish line in the 22nd annual First of America Run from Dexter to Ann Arbor he did so in record time.

"It was a hell of a good, satisfying thing," Keskeny said after the MS Squad, a team of seven runners, helped him cross the finish line just under two hours in the half marathon event. "They made a point to stick together, so they could finish together."

Keskeny's time was 1:46:57. He did it with the help of Joanne Russell, Dale Thibodeau, Jim Young, Wally Phillips and Keith Peterson from the Brighton Area Road Striders and Ann Arbor Track Club members Renee Burke and Julie Bedford.

Keskeny, 51, entered the local race this year despite warnings from naysayers who said he wouldn't receive a warm welcome because his participation may threaten the athletic integrity of the race. "It has grown to be accepted in the community now," Keskeny said of his efforts to raise awareness and money for the Multiple Sclerosis Society by being pushed in races.

"A lot of us are limited in some ways and we have to find a different way to do things," said Keskeny, who was diagnosed with MS nearly 30 years ago. In 1982, the disease placed him in a wheelchair.

Keskeny came up with the idea of being pushed by a squad of runners when he entered the Marathon International De Paris in 1989. He solicited the support of a semi-professional football team and completed the 26.2-mile event with a good time. Keskeny remembers the race to be bumpy and hot. He skated over cobblestone streets in blistering hot weather. He calls it the "shake and bake."

Last fall, he participated in the Detroit Free Press Marathon and remembers that race as "the longest car wash." He said it was drizzling rain, cold and windy.

But Saturday's race, he said, was like coming home. "It's good to be in your own back yard. It's not like doing a run in a strange country or city. You're doing it with people you feel at home with and seeing sights your used to seeing. I thought I was dreaming. It felt like something out of a movie."

And his efforts will net the MS Society approximately $4,000. He collected a $2,000 donation from an out-of-state foundation and smaller sums from other contributors. But Keskeny has of yet to solicit his regular backers, which he estimates will bring in an additional $1,000.

Half Marathon participants started at Dexter High school and traveled Baker to Shield to Parker roads before hitting Dexter-Chelsea Rd. to Central St. to Huron River Dr., ending the race on Main St. in Ann Arbor between Ann and Huron streets. Local runners in the Half Marathon were Dexter residents Brian Maiville, Wendell Wickre, James Kotsones, Stephen Seymour, Rick Harrington, Marcia Bennett and Herbert Linkner; Chelsea residents were Gordon Watson, Chuck Marshall, Roger Katakowski and David Parham; and Manchester residents were John Kozminski and Nicholas Puscas.

Keskeny said runners and participants in wheelchairs passed him and his team somewhere along Huron River Dr. "It was neat to hear words of encouragement from them," Keskeny said.

Over 4,000 people participated in the event, which also included a 10K run, wheelchair race, non-competitive fitness walk, a 5K run, race-walk and special four block event for assisted walkers.

Keskeny has set his sights even higher for next year. From Paris to Detroit to Dexter, Keskeny will enter a new frontier as he sets out to participate in a run at the State Capitol in Lansing. He wants to put together a new MS Squad, this time comprised of state legislators and aides. Keskeny says he has selected the Capitol because he wants to broaden his coverage area when it comes to heightening awareness about MS.

And two years down the road, Keskeny wants to organize a racing event in Argentina, when the International Federation of MS Societies holds its conference. The race will serve as a way to educate the public about MS by having participants similar to himself join in.

"We all gotta have a little bit of a goal to be shooting for," he said, noting that if it happens he will extend his goal to include all seven continents. "I'll probably never get to all seven, but three or four would be more than I expected," he said.

Keskeny is serving a four-year term as the United States representative on the Persons with MS Committee of the International Federation of MS Societies. Last fall, Keskeny traveled to Europe to address the International Federation of MS Societies at the organization's annual conference held in Budapest, Hungary. Up until eight years Keskeny had not left the northern American continent.

VOTE YES - MONDAY, JUNE 12, 1995

LET'S RENOVATE, REALIGN & REPAIR OUR SCHOOLS

Electrical, heating, ventilation and communication systems are outdated and need repair. Realignment through new construction and renovation will provide a safe, healthy atmosphere and up-to-date schools. We must furnish our children and our grandchildren with the valuable tools and experiences they need to compete in the real world.

Two portable classrooms at South School. These classrooms are not equipped with bathrooms or coat hooks.

OUR SCHOOLS ARE OVERCROWDED

South School 220 students over capacity
 North School 169 students over capacity
 Chelsea High 150 students over capacity in five years

Building new and renovating old will realign our schools to stop overcrowding. This will allow teachers to give more time and attention to each student.

OUR SCHOOLS NEED ATTENTION

South School Built - 1950's
 North School Built - 1950's
 Chelsea High Built - 1950's
 Beach School Built - 1968

We renovate, repair and reinvest in our homes. We should do the same for our schools. The only way to build new schools and renovate old schools in Michigan is through bond proposals. By law, this money cannot be used for operations, salaries or maintenance.

In the past, Chelsea schools have enjoyed a reputation of excellence. Is that reputation still deserved with deteriorating facilities and overcrowding?

THE NEED IS HERE TO STAY, BUILDING COSTS GO UP DAILY-IT WILL NEVER COST LESS.

Our elected School Board has unanimously approved and recommended the passage of this Bond for Chelsea Schools. Let's trust them and VOTE YES!

Chelsea Student Studying in Africa

Phillip Patterson, son of James Patterson of Midland and Christine Jeffries of Chelsea, is on a 24-day, four-country trip to Africa as part of Northern Michigan University's International Business Seminar course.

Without the help of a travel agent, the 12 students participating began planning the trip to Kenya, Tanzania, Zambia, Zimbabwe, and South Africa last August.

Patterson, a senior majoring in marketing at NMU, will study the economies, infrastructure, and culture of the countries they are traveling through, and will meet with two universities—one in Iringa, Tanzania and one in Capetown, South Africa—with hopes of starting student exchange programs between those schools and NMU.

Patterson will return to the U.S. in late June.

GVSU Announces Winter Dean's List

Several local students have been named to Grand Valley State University's dean's list for the winter semester.

Chelsea students include Laura J. Hafner, Jason W. Johnson and Dana A. Schmunk. Jennifer A. Daymon, from Gregory also was named to the list.

Pinckney students include Brianne L. Boerma, Matthew S. Miller and Melissa J. Watkins; Tracy D. Lockwood of Whitmore Lake also was named to the dean's list.

Grand Valley State University wishes to acknowledge the achievements of those individuals who were placed on the dean's list for the winter semester. The list includes those students who have maintained a 3.5 grade point average and been enrolled in a minimum of 12 credits.

Hub Caps Stolen

Two hub caps were discovered stolen from the front passenger side of a 1989 Pontiac 6000 series car.

The car was parked in a driveway on the 100 block of Wilkinson St. on May 19.

Drive-offs Abound at Local Gas Stations

Several gas larcenies are being investigated by Chelsea police. Four separate police reports were filed from May 23-29.

The first drive-off occurred on May 23 at approximately 8:36 p.m. at the Cheker Gas. The suspect vehicle, a black in color pickup truck, was last seen driving southbound on M-52 after putting $10 worth of unleaded gasoline in the gas tank. Upon investigation, the license plate was discovered to be canceled.

The second drive-off occurred on May 24 at approximately 8:33 p.m. at the Village Mobil. A red Ford Taurus station wagon was suspected of pumping in $17.68 worth of special blend gasoline.

The Perky Pantry reported the third and fourth drive-off incidents. The first report contained three drive-offs, occurring at 4:02 p.m., 7:26 p.m. and 9:07 p.m. The first suspect was driving a white in color Jeep Cherokee, the second suspect was driving a white in color station wagon. There was no information available for the third suspect. The employee on duty said that all the subjects were "kids."

The Perky Pantry again reported another drive off on May 29 at approximately 10:29 p.m. A driver in a black Mustang was suspected of pumping in $9.40 worth of gasoline and leaving the scene without paying for the gasoline. The Mustang was reportedly last seen driving westbound on Van Buren St. Upon investigation, officers did not see any vehicles in the immediate area fitting the suspect description.

OLYMPIC MILE: Second grade teacher Mrs. Piper leads North Elementary school students on the Olympic mile as part of the May 26 Fitness Day activities.

North School Students Observe Fitness Day

Mild temperatures and blue skies were the ideal scenario for Fitness Day at North Elementary school on Friday, May 26. Second grade teacher Mrs. D'Ann Gietzen and Physical Education teacher Mrs. Cheryl Vogel organized a wide variety of activities for grades K-5 to experience throughout the day.

Community members from various professions joined the North School staff to teach children not only about the importance of diet and exercise but also about safety, CPR, and various forms of dancing.

Activities that were conducted outdoors were Tae Kwon Do by instructors Master Mike Poxson and Rod Barbour, biking by Eric Hansen, The Olympic Mile by second grade teacher Mrs. Martha Piper, Form Running by athletic director Wayne Welton, and the Obstacle Course by North School principal Bill Wescott and parent volunteers.

Indoor activities included CPR by Dr. Howlin; a talk by police officer Matt Phillips; Nutrition by Frances Wheeler; Aerobics by Tami Bush, Bev. Schlegelmilch and Jane Pieper; folk dancing by music teacher, June Warren; athletic training by John Robinson; square dancing by Bob Benedict, and Line Dancing by Judy Bareis and third grade teachers Mrs. Quilter and Mrs. Schlupe.

SPECIAL FRIEND DAY for North Elementary school first grade students was observed Tuesday, May 23. Children greeted relatives, neighbors and friends with songs and then joined them for refreshments. During a tour of the classrooms, guests were also treated to stories. Pictured here is grandmother Jane Carpenter with Kyle Carpenter, and Mandy Egler with grandmother, Barbara Egler.

Legal Notice 21

MORTGAGE SALE
Default has been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by MUNDHLER AND AHLAM ZOMA, husband and wife, Mortgagee, whose address is 1396 E. Michigan Ave., Ypsilanti, Michigan 48198 to MADISON NATIONAL BANK, 1800 E. 12 Mile Road, Madison Heights, MI 48071, Mortgagee, dated December 20, 1993 and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, on March 13, 1994 in Liber 2950 of Washtenaw County Records, on page 389, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest the sum of $261,437.50.

And no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on June 29, 1995, at 10:00 a.m., local time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder, immediately inside the main lobby of the Washtenaw County Court House, Huron St. entrance, Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with the interest thereon at 13 percent and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest in the premises. Which said premises are described as follows:

All of a certain piece or parcel of land situated in the City of Ypsilanti in the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, described as follows:
Township of Ypsilanti, Washtenaw County, Michigan described as: Lots 1, 2 and 1N, of "Ypsilanti Farms," as recorded in Liber 19 of Plats, Washtenaw County Records. Commonly known as: 1396 E. Michigan Ave., Ypsilanti, MI 48198.

Tax Item No. 11-640-001-00 & 11-640-016-10. During the 6 months immediately following the sale, the property may be redeemed.

Village Planning Commission Looking for New Members

The Village of Chelsea is inviting interested residents to submit nominations for service on the Village Planning Commission. Planners are seeking to fill at least one vacancy on the nine-member panel at present.

The primary functions of the Planning Commission are to prepare a long range plan for future growth and development in the Village and to evaluate proposed site plans and special use permit applications for proposed business, commercial and multiple-family residential developments slated for the Village. The Planning Commission also recommends to Village Council revisions and amendments to the Village's zoning ordinance.

"This is a busy time for Chelsea and I hope that some residents will be willing to help us plan and manage growth within the Village," said commission chair Tim Eder. "There are several large residential developments on the horizon that will have a major impact on Chelsea's future. We need people to help us review these proposals with an eye toward accommodating planned growth but, at the same time, maintaining the unique character of the Village."

Other items on the Planning Commission agenda include an update of the Village's long-range plan for the north side of town. Some of the issues involved in this study include a possible expansion of the industrial park and a by-pass route for truck and other traffic to avoid congestion on Main Street. In addition, the Commission has been busy in the past few months preparing reports to Village Council on proposed boundary changes (annexations) that could result in the construction of mobile home parks.

Persons interested in serving on the Planning Commission should submit a letter and/or a resume describing their interest and any special skills, experience or qualifications to the Planning Commission, care of Bruce Pindzia, assistant village manager, Village of Chelsea, 104 E. Middle St., Chelsea. No special qualifications are required, other than residency within the Village and a commitment to the future of the Village. Candidates should be available for regular meetings on the third Tuesday of each month, and work sessions on the first Tuesday evening of each month.

Former Village Bookkeeper Sentenced for Embezzlement

A former Chelsea bookkeeper was in Washtenaw County Circuit Court last Thursday to be sentenced for embezzlement charges stemming from incidents from 1988 to 1993 that she took an estimated $44,000 from a village account.

Washtenaw County Circuit Judge Kurtis T. Wilder sentenced Nancy Sue Rosentreter, 50, to 45 days in the Washtenaw County Jail, which will be served on week-ends beginning June 3.

Wilder said that Rosentreter should not go unpunished because it would "send a message that it was OK to violate the law, to take a 'loan' from a public agency, interest-free, pay it back and that's the end of it."

Basil Baker, Rosentreter's counsel, suggested that community service would be more appropriate for sentencing rather than jail time. He cited this reason because Rosentreter is now working a 56-hour full-time job in Chelsea and is undergoing counseling.

Court records indicated that she has paid back most of the funds she took from the village's landfill account between 1988 and August 1993. It has been reported that the alleged embezzlement took place on several companies' accounts.

On Sept. 20, 1994, the nature of the offense was brought to the attention of village officials, a week after a council meeting in which village auditors made a presentation to the council about Chelsea's financial condition. Discrepancies had been discovered in the recording of receipts. The case was at first treated as a personnel matter at the Village Hall until police took over the investigation.

It was learned that the investigation started when the village learned of irregularities in the handling of payment of a bill from the village's electric department. The village hired the accountant firm of Plante and Moran Company to conduct an internal investigation. After further discrepancies were discovered, the case was turned over to Michigan State Police.

Rosentreter, an 18-year village employee, was suspended from her job without pay on Oct. 24.

Last December, Rosentreter pleaded no contest to one count of felony embezzlement. A no contest plea is treated the same as a guilty plea at sentencing.

Drugs Found in Man's Mouth Upon Arrest

Domestic assault and suspected suicide attempt was discovered on May 25 when a man was arrested on an outstanding bench warrant when Chelsea police assisted the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department in the 18600 block of Old US-12.

Jimmy Collinsworth was arrested and transported to the Washtenaw County Jail. Officers noticed that Collinsworth had something in his mouth, indicate police reports. When Collinsworth opened his mouth, it was discovered that he had in his possession two to three packets of cocaine and "crank."

The cocaine was in a small envelope and the "crank" was a zip lock baggie, reports indicate.

A son, Carter James, May 11, at U. of M. Women's Hospital, Ann Arbor, to James and Patricia Depping of Brighton. Grandparents are Stan and Loretta Pritchard of Ann Arbor, and Louis and Patricia Depping of Chelsea. Carter has a brother, Jackson, 2.

Never Forget Those Who Made Ultimate Sacrifice

By Mark Helms

Good morning. The weather looks like it's going to hold off. It's still a great day. I'd like to thank Mr. Jim Knott and the VFW for having me speak this morning.

I want you to know that I'm truly humbled to speak to a group of people who I know amongst the crowd that there are men and women who served during World War II, thank you; in Korea, thank you; who served during Vietnam, thank you; during the Gulf War, thank you; and who have served at other times in our history.

I know that there are family members here today who have lost loved ones in service to the country, loved ones who have paid the ultimate sacrifice.

I really mean that I'm truly humbled to be able to address such a group of people that includes those groups of people in this crowd today. I, myself, have not personally experienced those sorts of experiences, but I can only tell you that I can only speak from my heart this morning. Over the years of my life, I have come to develop a sense of appreciation for people who have served, part for those who have made the ultimate sacrifice. For me, I started to have a sense for this when I was a second lieutenant. I worked for a colonel, for an amazing guy. His name was Col. Lawton. The only way I can describe this man is just an awesome leader.

This is a man who had a presence, had great courage and integrity and character and a man who truly loves his country and soldiers. And I was fortunate to work for him for two years when I was a young officer. Col. Lawton was the recipient of a medal of honor during Vietnam in 1969 for bravery. And he taught me a lot of things, but one of the things he instilled in me was to have a real sense of appreciation for those who have fought for our country. And for that I was very thankful. I want you to know that.

This particular day on May 30 that we call Memorial Day (and some call refer to it as Decoration Day), really had its beginnings and its roots back at the end of the Civil War.

There are several different accounts of the first ceremony. One wonderful account occurred in the spring of 1866 in a small town called Columbus, Miss., where a small group of women decided to honor their loved ones who had died during the war. And they went to a small cemetery and laid flowers and wreaths beside the graves. Appropriately done. The other thing that they did though in that same cemetery there were 40 Union soldiers ... this was in the south ... buried in the same cemetery, so they went and decorated their graves as well. This gesture was recorded in a poem called "The Blue and the Grey."

MARK HELMS, Chelsea High school assistant principal, was the featured speaker at the Memorial Day ceremonies held at Oak Grove Cemetery Monday morning. He asked the public to remember those who have served, and who are currently serving in the armed forces on the national holiday.

This poem, subsequently, was published nationwide and one of the interesting things it did was that it began to heal the wounds between the North and the South and make the nation once again the United States of America.

The other account of the first ceremony, and really the official account, occurred in the spring of 1866 in Waterloo, N.Y. The community of Waterloo went out to the cemetery in May and laid wreaths and graves beside those fallen Union soldiers in their community. In fact, 100 years later, in 1966, the government officially recognized that ceremony by a congressional resolution and presidential proclamation that Waterloo, N.Y. is officially considered to be the birthplace of Memorial Day.

Just why May 30 was elected has never really been documented, but we do know that it's close to the anniversary of the final surrender of the Confederate army on May 26, 1865.

And so the beginnings of celebrating this day go back to the Civil War as our nation honored these soldiers from both the North and South who died.

As time passed, as we moved through history, the United States fought other wars. Memorial Day became the occasion for commemorating lives lost in all military conflicts and service.

Today, May 30, is a national holiday. It's a day of the Indianapolis 500. It's a day of family get-togethers and picnics, of relaxation. It's a day of this: gathering. Gatherings at this very moment are occurring through the entire nation and in some parts of the world honoring those who have fought. It's a day like that.

So before we go on with the day's activities, I ask you to consider two things, if you please. Number one, never forget. Never forget those who have made the supreme sacrifice—the ultimate sacrifice—in serving their country.

In the crowd today, I'm sure some of you can think of someone who has made that sacrifice. People, like Marcus Fletcher, who comes to my mind. Marcus lost his life earlier this year while serving his country and went to be with the Lord. I've recently come to know his father, David, and learned what a tremendous young man this man was and of his great devotion to God and country.

Never forget. Secondly, renew your sense of appreciation today. Let's just do this today. And be thankful for those who have served our nation and those who have fallen, so that we all are able to enjoy the vast freedoms that we experience today in the United States. I'm concerned, that in our society today, that we have lost that sense. Don't take those freedoms for granted. We cannot allow that to happen because so many have paid the price.

This past year of 1995, we are celebrating the 50th anniversary of World War II. We recently passed V-E Day—Victory in Europe—and will

Beach Students Enter Pieces In Art Show

It's art show time once again at Beach Middle school and the sixth, seventh and eighth grade artists have worked their hardest to make new and interesting pieces of artwork.

The students have done projects demonstrating sketching, right brain drawing, sculpting, perspective, op art and more.

The very best have been selected to be seen by the public during the art show on Tuesday, June 6 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the art rooms and hallways of Beach Middle school.

The students are taught under the direction of art teachers Judy Parker and Bev Yelsik.

All are welcome to the art show free of charge.
