Construction Begins on Water Tower Foundation

The 9 1/2 foot deep foundation will support the 400,000 gallon water tower, which should be completed in approximately 12 weeks.

A new anticipated permanent fixture, the water tower, began evolving in the village last week.

Footers, which are supports for the concrete base, are currently being installed and 143 cubic yards of concrete will be poured onto the footers to set the base of the new 400,000 gallon water tower. The "neck" of the tower will sit on a 9 1/2 foot deep concrete foundation.

The new water tower will be located behind the McDonald's and Chelsea A & W restaurants off M-52. Plans for the new water tower have been in the works for months. It is to replace the current 100,000 gallon water tower that was built in the mid-1920s. The old structure is partially supported by stilts and is outdated to meet the village's daily water supply needs.

"During May and June, we go through some 600,000 gallons of water per day," said water department head Dan Rosentreter.

He explained that sprinklers are the major culprit for depleting the village's water supply during the warmer weather months.

The village gets its water supply from underground wells, located off of North St. Each well is capable of producing 200,000 gallons of water per hour. Rosentreter said. The wells only work when the water supply becomes low enough for a sensor to be activated. The pumps then pump water to homes, businesses and reach the current water tower to replenish the water supply.

the water tower will extend to 143 feet tall and is comparable to Pittsfield township's water tower, next to I-94 at exit 177-State St. (Pittsfield's water tower holds 350,000 gallons of water and Scio's water tower, along 1-94 at Baker Rd, has a 1,000,000 gallon capaci-(Continued on page six)

She takes over the position from Fred A. Mills on July 1.

Christine Annese is the newest assistant superintendent of business and operations in the Chelsea School District as of Monday night when the school board unanimously approved her two-year contract and appointment to the position, effective July 1.

Chelsea School District voters will choose a new school board trustee and help decide whether a countywide millage issue passes in next Monday's June 10 annual school elections. The millage involves a permanent 1.5 mill request from the Washtenaw Intermediate School District for the Education for Employment Program.

They lost the war, but they appear to have won at least one small battle. For the first time in many years, a few village residents turned out to express their displeasure about a proposed rise in village property taxes. The protest came after council levied 10.94 mills in operating millage, a rise of .34 mills over last year. Then, council examined a purchase proposal for six, new chairs for $1,900. Several senior citiznes told council they are having a tough time making ends meet on fixed income.

Chelsea Downtown Development Authority's streetscape and parking lot construction project began Monday as workers started demolishing sidewalk on the west side of Main St. from Orchard to South Sts. The four and one-half month project is scheduled to be completed by Oct. 15. It should substantially change the look of downtown Chelsea.

★ The EPA's Toll on the Mackinac Bridge

By Burton W. Foisom

The next time you cross the Mackinac Bridge, divide your $1.50 toll money into two piles. Put four quarters into one pile to pay for the cost of operating the bridge. Put the other two quarters into a second pile for repainting the bridge with lead-free paint. Now, do this each time you cross the bridge for the next 21

Here's the story behind this: For nearly 30 years after the Mackinac Bridge was completed in 1957, it was painted with a lead-based paint. Every nine years or so it was sandblasted and repainted. However, more recent guidelines from the fed-Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) dictate which paints can be used and how they must be removed. To comply, the Mackinac Bridge Authority will soon begin removing the bridge's paint by a process called "enclosure," whereby the structure is cleaned within a tentlike covering to keep paint chips from falling into the water or blowng onto populated areas.

The cost of enclosure is staggering: nearly $50 million, which the Authority wants to pay for by budgeting $2.2 million each year for the next 21 years. Since a little more than four million vehicles cross the Mackinac Bridge annually, each vehicle would pay about 50 cents more if the cost were spread evenly. On June 1, however, the tolls on trucks will almost double, partly because of the EPA order. Trucks are only about 5 percent of the bridge traffic, however, so cars may soon be paying more too.

-Unfortunately, this enclosure scheme is a huge waste of money. No one has ever documented any harm caused by paint chips falling off the Mackinac Bridge. The greater risk, in fact, may be from workers inhaling paint particles or having accidents during the enclosure process. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has rolled over for the EPA rather than resist this unfunded federal mandate.

"Enclosure could be very dangerous to the workers and is not likely to be worth the effort," says Sanford Weiner, a research associate at the Center for International Studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. "For Michigan to embark on this without so much as a study of the costs and benefits, as well as the risks, is foolish."

Others agree. "It's flirting with death," said State Senator Walter North, a former chief executive of the Mackinac Bridge Authority. "We have strong Michigan winds that could hit that tent, break it apart, and kill someone in a passing car. That's why I always said no to enclosure when I was in charge."

The irony here is that the expenses and risks of enclosure are being undertaken after most of the environmental damage from lead has been removed. The federal Department of Health and Human Services reports a sevenfold drop in the national levels of lead in human blood in the last 25 years: The switch to lead-free gas and aluminum cans (in place of tincans, which often contained lead) helps explain this drop. According to the EPA's own data, the air we breathe today in the U.S. is 20 times freer of lead than it was in 1970. Furthermore, Lakes Michigan and Huron are up to four times cleaner than they were 25 years ago. In any case, most of the lead-paint problem was from lead paint inside buildings, not outside, and especially not from Enclosure is not only dubious science, it's bad economics as well. The extra toll will increase the costs of doing business in the Upper Peninsula. Tourism, hunting, log-ging, and other enterprises will suffer, which won't help the struggling economies of northern Michigan counties. If it weren't for this wasteful repainting scheme, we could actually cut tolls rather than raise them; in a typical year, the bridge. runs a surplus of about a million dollars after all operating and maintenance costs are accounted for.

Using automated toll booths on the bridge instead of toll collectors could save a minimum of $500,000 each year, according to officials in the Michigan Department of Transportation. That would further support the case for lower, not higher, tolls—except that now, the Bridge Authority would probably want to apply such savings to the cost of meeting EPA's unpredictable man-

For the next 21 years, unless pressure is brought to bear on the EPA, we will be risking lives and spending almost $50 million with little to show for it. The bridge will not necessarily be better or safer. Little if any environmental gain will result. Counties that need traffic will lose some and tourists will have less to spend. But the bureaucrats in Washington will rest more easily knowing that their latest guidelines have been met.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

Doolittle makes it a rule to be against Ringe and outfielder Kelly Hense anything Democrat Clem Webster is for. But Saturday night at the country store, Ed found himself in Clem's corner on how California and Texas could take control of the country.

> Clem opened the session wondering why Phil Gramm and Peter Wilson ain't pushing the plan that comes around every time their state legislatures set. Clem reminded the fellows that moves always are underway in both states to make more states out of them. For spite, for fun or for real, somebody puts in a bill to split them up. It's North and South California, because what they want from Guvernment are so different. In Texas the call is for five or more for the same reason.

Ed said he was suprised the two Republican candidates for President don't see how they could easy-drum up backing for divide and conquer. Now that the only thing Republicans in Congress have to fear is Republicans in Congress, Ed said, it's a small step to outvoting most of the country in the Senate, regardless of party. Make one Texas five and control New England, or pack com-mittees and target states that depend on Federal service you control.

Practical speaking, declared Bug Hookum, the idee has less of a chance than the snowball you know where. Always, the splithood lobby wants attention to somepun else, usual economy or environment. We are the United States, Bug said, and we can't help ourselves by watering down the power of states. Bug said: he is yet to see anything done in Washington for states that states

Actual, Zeke Grubb said, he wouldn't dismiss the notion out of hand. The best move Orange County, Calif. could make was to declare itself a country, he said. It could raise its national debt limit and print its own money, he said, but that would be the hard way. Obvious, it meets all requirements for foreign aid, which is to say its Guvernment is corrupt and flat broke. The Federal Guvernment would have to rescue this poor little country for fear it would side with some other country, or worse, sick its refugees on us.

Clem picked up on what Bug said about the real agenders of moves to split up California and Texas. Clem was of a mind that the environment has come to be a political means to all kind of ends, and some of them are downright scary. With all politicians, environment is a pawn in the game, but Republicans are more willing to sacrifice it. No sooner did Republicans get control of Congress and more state legislatures than natural resources become victims of big business. Clemnoted that North Carolina recent adopted a policy that lets big companies pollute air and water if they ask first. One Power Company boughtmore than half the "pollution rights" offered this year to the whole country.

This "right" to pump all kind of chemics in the air is sold to the highest bidder on the Chicago Board of Trade. like pork bellies.

All we got to do, as a consultant. to the CIA put it, is "procedurize the process" to make it legal. But that don't make it right. Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

As a 13-year Chelsea resident I have viewed our school system from the perspective of a parent, former coach, former rec. director and as a concerned citizen.

l also consider myself to have a keen sense of humor and under normal circumstances would find the R.E.A.D.Y. Campaign very funny.

No one wants to see rust flake down on our children's heads as they go to and from classes but I also feel with the exception of maybe a few premature scalp conditions, this is not an issue. Possibly the rust can act as a fire retardant to extinguish some of the Camels and Marlboros on the sidewalks.

The real issues and the ones we should all be concerned with are the teen pregnancies, substance abuse, the drop-out rate and what I consider an abnormal failure rate for upper class persons.

The R.E.A.D.Y, Campaign addresses none of these questions or has any answers.

As a society and as individuals we have done our best to show these kids double standards, advs. geared towards substance abuse and inconsistent punishment and rewards.

With all of our phony behavior as adults the kids still manage to see through it.

They know that people will vote for the bond just to increase their own property values or to pat certain members on the backs.

They also know that the same people who whined about the construction of a mobile park last year "we will have to build new schools!" are now at the forefront of the bond issue.

They watched our conference vote down the admission of both Willow Run and Ypsilanti High schools on a purely racial basis.

They have witnessed the deterioration of our schools through the lack of any proper maintenance schedule on gym floors, lights, paint, doors, locker rooms, etc. And finally every female athlete,

And finally every female athlete, their parents, and their coaches have seen the inequities in the girls sports programs.

If R.E.A.D.Y. is willing to honestly make an attempt at discussing these problems then maybe Chelsea will take their bond proposal a little more seriously.

Rainey L. Bassemier Chelsea

To the Editor,

School Tax and Bonds.

For the first year in a very long time we have had some relief from the high tax bills. We have had one performed of the schools in the country are floating bond proposals. They think we have a little money left over and they want it. The $45 million that the Chelsea schools are asking for is way out of line. We will be paying on that for the next 20 years. Before this is paid out they will have the school tax back on our tax bill and they will still be collecting the sales tax increase and lottery money.

The high school on Washington St. is of very poor design and proof of bad planning. Land is becoming a premium in this area and it should be put to its very best use.

There is plenty of room at all of our schools to add onto them. At the high school they can build in between the rooms that are spread out here and there and make it one unit. It's a dumb idea to have the kids go outside from one class to another to begin with.

There is plenty of room at North, South, and Beach. And why not go two floors and double the use of the land and plan ahead and design these buildings for future expansion. We all know population is expanding.

It's time Chelsea schools show some responsibility to the tax payers. Let's cut out the fat and glitter.

Go back to the drawing board and cut this down to $20 mil. or less.

Once we get stuck with this bill it

Once we get stuck with this bill it will be for a very long time. Vote NO and make them do it right. That's a huge amount of money! I have trouble understanding how it will cost so much. Maybe I read it wrong in the paper.

Norman M. Walker.

Editor, Chelsea Standard

Many people are understandably concerned about the cost of the Chelsea Bond Issue. I am writing this letter to show that the true cost is less than many of us may have expected.

As you may have read, for a family with a home valued at $100,000, annual property taxes would increase $300. That's the bad news.

The good news is that no one will actually pay that much, for several reasons.

First, because property taxes generate federal income tax deductions, a family in the 31 percent fax bracket will see its federal income tax reduced by $93 per year, so that the net cost of the bond drops to $207. Second, for a family whose property tax exceeds 3.5 percent of its income, the State of Michigan refunds 60 percent of tax increase. In the example, the family would get $124 back from the state, further reducing its net tax increase to $83. People over 65 may qualify for even greater tax reductions.

A second concern of some people is that, because passage of the bond issue will increase property values, property taxes will increase in the future by more than if the bond issue fails. Actually, because of the changes in the state property tax system resulting from Proposal A, increasing property values cannot cause an increase in-property taxes by more than 5 percent per year (this year the limit is 2.6 percent). Since our property values will increase by more than this rate in any case, passage of the bond issue will not raise property taxes by increasing property values. Dear Editor and Chelsea School District Residents:

INVEST IN CHELSEA-What an appropriate slogan being used by the Committee to Support the R.E.A.D.Y. campaign! Chelsea has always taken care of Chelsea (invested in Chelsea), and school district residents have been supportive of and generous to their public schools. In turn, the schools have always striven to provide the very best education for the youth of our community. The ability to continue to deliver the best must now be supported with modern, user-friendly, and efficient buildings equipped with the best technology to prepare our students for the jobs of the

While I have decided to close out my career with the Chelsea School District on June 30th, I am vitally interested in the success of the bond issue on June 12, 1995.

The Board of Education has worked diligently to ascertain the needs of the schools and the desires of the community. The ballot proposal reflects the result of many public meetings to obtain input from the community, and a very thorough survey conducted by phone calls to a random sample of registered voters of the district. The Board has also received a detailed technology plan for the district that has been developed by several hard working community members over a two-year period of time. The plan calls for a phased implementation that will allow for the training of school personnel and the purchase of equipment over a period of time to take advantage of the latest innovations as they are made available by the manufacturers.

The results of all of the Board efforts are accurately presented in the proposal to construct a new high school, a third elementary school, renovations at North, South and Beach schools, renovations of the existing high school to provide a self-supporting community center, and to provide the most effective technology system and equipment available.

Prior to the passage of Proposal "A," residents correctly asked how much these new buildings would increase the operating millage. Since Proposal "A" prohibits the district from asking its voters for any operating millage, there cannot be an increase in operating millage as a result of constructing new buildings: Since the SEV can increase only a percentage equal to the Consumer Price Index (CPI) or 5%, whichever is less (for 1995 this is 2.6%), the debt levy increase in the future is also capped. The time and energy have been expended to project the operating budgets for 1995-96, 1996-97, and 1997-98, and the Board feels confident that the increase in income from additional students and the more energy-efficient buildings will allow the operating budgets to be balanced, providing that the State lives up to its commitment for per-pupil State Aid.

I urge everyone to vote YES on June 12 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Beach Middle School. We must INVEST IN CHELSEA, INVEST IN OUR CHILDREN, INVEST IN OUR GRANDCHILDREN. Fred A. Mills,

Every two years the Road Commission is required by federal law to inspect the condition of each of its 104 bridges. The Trinkle Rd. bridge was rehabilitated in 1967, and a recent inspection indicated it had deteriorated to the point where it cannot safely carry traffic.

The Road Commission has applied for Federal and State Critical Bridge Funds to replace the bridge; however, such funds have not been awarded to date. Each year the State establishes a priority of bridges throughout the State which are awarded the Critical Bridge Funds. Closure of the structure should raise the priority of the Trinkle Rd. bridge relative to other bridges on the State

Last year, due to the shortage of funds, no Critical Bridge awards were made to any county or local bridges in Michigan. Consequently, it cannot be determined when such funding might be made available.

The total cost of replacing the 28foot bridge is anticipated to be approximately $300,000.

The Road Commission is investigating short term options for reopening the bridge until full replacement funding becomes available. The feasibility of implementing these options is uncertain at this time. According to commission, member Herman Koenn, "The closure of the Trinkle Rd. bridge points out the problems being experienced throughout the State of Michigan with its deteriorating road and bridge system. Recent studies have shown that Michigan spends less per capita on highway purposes than any other state. While efforts are underway in Lansing to consider a fuel tax increase, it is still uncertain if and when any increase may be forthcoming. In the meantime, our resources are insufficient to adequately maintain our roads and bridges."

Dry Trail Walk Includes Dip Netting at Park

Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission naturalist Matt Heumann will lead a trail walk at Independence Lake County Park on Sunday, June 11, beginning at 10

This dry trail walk will include dip netting of some of Cordgrass Marsh's aquatic inhabitants.

"Bring extra nets if you have them," Heumann said, "but all creatures will be released."

The Chelsea Standard, Wednesday, June 7, 1995.

THIS UNSAFE BRIDGE has been closed on Trinkle Rd. between Fletcher and Lima Center Rds. The 28-ft. span has been placed on the Critical Bridge list with the hopes that federal funds may be granted to help pay a portion of the replacement cost.

A RECENT INSPECTION of this Trinkle Rd. bridge over Mill Creek between Fletcher and Lima Center Rds. has shown the structure has deteriorated to the point where it can no longer safely carry traffic. As a result, the Washtenaw County Road Commission has closed it as of June 1. All possible options for the short term are being considered in the hopes that it may be reopened some way, but without funding, it is closed indefinitely.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Sylvan Township

Domestic Assault and Battery

Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 19000 block of Old US-12, May 25. A 38-year-old township woman told police her 37-year-old husband assaulted her between 11:10 p.m. May 24 and 12:40 a.m. May 25. The victim said her husband drank approximately 10 beers prior to the attack. They argued in the car on their way home from her parents' house. The victim said he grabbed her by the throat while she was driving along Old US-12 near their home. She turned in her mother-in-law's driveway and began walking toward the residence. He followed, she said, and punched her right side. The suspect's mother witnessed the attack. When the woman's daughter came on the scene, the woman said her husband struck her again in front of her daughter. That blow, she said, knocked her down. The suspect was arrested a short time later and lodged in county jail.

Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 800 block of Glazier Rd., May 31. A 46-year-old man and his 39-year-old estranged wife are both filing charges against each other. The woman, who admitted to drinking alcohol prior to the assault, says her estranged husband pushed her into his front yard after she came over to discuss an issue related to their children. She said he was yelling at her to leave his property, then pushed and kicked her. He says he asked her to leave his property and she slapped him in the face. He admitted to pushing her and also said she pulled off his glasses and scratched his face and chest. He denied punching her, however. The incident happened around 11:30 p.m. May 30. The woman was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital's emergency room for treatment. Her injuries included scratches on her chest, a bruised shoulder and bruised face. His injuries included scratches on both sides of his face and chest. Both called the emergency telephone number 911 for assistance. Police, however, didn't arrest anyone because it could not be determined who was the first aggressor. A prosecutor will review the case for criminal charges.

Domestic assault and battery was reported on W. Cedar Dr. near Cavanaugh Lake Rd., May 29. A 31-year-old township man told police his 29-year-old wife attacked him around 12:30 a.m. Both were administered preliminary breath tests and registered blood/alcohol levels too high to legally drive. The assault took place after they left a gathering at the suspect's parents' home. The victim said he fell asleep in the car on the way home. He reportedly awoke to a blow to his head by the suspect. She thit him two more times, he said. When they exited the vehicle, both reportedly fell on the ground. She ran to the home and pushed the storm door into him as he attempted to follow her. She told police she feared retaliation and was fleeing from him. The glass in the storm door broke andshe reportedly grabbed three steak knives from the kitchen and threw them at him. When the victim grabbed one of the knives from her he was cut. The victim's injuries included a lump on the left side of his head and a cut thumb. The suspect suffered a swollen right hand. Damage included the broken window in the storm door and broken kitchen window. The suspect was arrested and lodged in county jail.

Violation of the Public Health Code

Violation of the Public Health Code was reported in the 18600 block of Old US-12, May 25. While investigating a domestic assault and battery, police found cocaine and suspected crack on the suspect, a 37-year-old township man. The man was at a neighbor's home using the telephone. Police asked him what he had in his mouth. They convinced him to spit it out. The powder in his mouth tested positive as cocaine and a crystal substance also in his possession is suspected to be crack. The man was lodged in jail. A prosecutor is reviewing the case.

track team competed in nine events and earned medals in five events on May 30 in the Selby Classic, an Honor Roll meet held at Jackson High school.

The top finisher for the Bulldogs was Jeannie Spink, who won the 3200 in her season's best time of 11:44.1.

This was the first time this season that Jeannie has been able to focus on just the 3200," said coach Bill Bainton. "She had the advantage of running fresh and it helped her."

Courtney Thompson was third in: the discus with a throw of 109-3. Thompson also jumped 5-0 in the high jump in a non-placing effort. The Bulldogs' 1600 relay team of Jennifer Space, Melissa Hand, Rachel Weirauch and Katie Spink combined for a season best of 4:13.8. Weirauch also lowered her freshman school records in the sprints as she placed fourth in the 200 at :26.9 and fifth in the 100 in :12.8. Heidi Wehrwein had her career best throw, placing fifth in the discus at 106.0.

Athletes from Chelsea's girls Wehrwein also competed in the shot

Other Bulldogs who competed in the meet, which brings together the nine best athletes in each event from the Jackson area were Kim Herrst, who threw the shot 30-2, Jill McKinnon finished in :17.7 in the 100 hurdles, and Heidi Kemnitz finished in :52.2 in the 300 hurdles.

Six Chelsea girls competed in the Class B State Track Meet at Midland on last Saturday. Senior Courtney Thompson was the only Bulldog to score. Thompson finished eighth in the discus with a throw of 109-2.

"It's a great way for Courtney to finish her high school career," said coach Bill Bainton. "She has high jumped in the state meet before, but this year she worked very hard in the discus and chose to focus on that dies. Angie Stanifer of Tecumseh event in the state. She was listed 17th, so maybe her previous experience paid off."

Jeannie Spink ran the 1600 in 5:32.9 and the 3200 in 11:57.8 to finish in the middle of the pack in "The distance competition was pretty tough. Only five of the 27 runners in the 1600 were freshman and only one of them placed: Hopefully it was a learning experience for Jeannie," Bainton said.

The 1600 relay team of Melissa Hand, Jennifer Space, Rachel Weirauch and Katie Spink ran a season best of 4:11.8 and won their heat, but weren't able to place in what Bainton called a "pretty fast field."

"We knew it would be tough to place when the winner of the 'slow' heat, Frankenmuth, ran 4:08," Bainton explained.

Several SEC performers did well. Lincoln's Justina Phillips earned allstate honors with a second place in the 100 and a third in the 100 hurwas second in the 200 and 400 and anchored her 800 relay to a state championship. Stanifer trained with local runner John Bauer over the winter. Tecumseh finished in a tie for fifth in the team standings.

Wescott walked two batters and took the loss, making his record, 4-3, on the season.

In the nightcap, the 'Dawgs rallied for the kill and earned their 20th victory of the season, 4-2, with some excellent pitching from Jeff Branch and Casey Wescott. Sound n-vestment

THE BOND IS A SOUND INVESTMENT

The Bond is an investment in our children

Our children are our most precious investment and we need to provide the best we can for them. By investing in our schools we give our children tools for their future and show our children we value and care about them.

The Bond is an investment in our homes

Our homes are the largest monetary investment most of us will ever make. It has been proven that property values rise when communities pass bond issues to renovate and build new schools. Voting yes for the Chelsea Bond will protect and build upon the investment we have made in our property and our homes.

 The Bond is an investment in our community Good schools mean good communities. When we give to our schools, our schools give back to our community through good academics, life-long education, facilities for the entire community, and welltrained future work force and good art and music programs. Primarily, our schools give us good children. Let's invest in our children as we would in our homes, parks, businesses and downtown.

 Our elected School Board has unanimously approved and recommended the passage of this Bond for Chelsea Schools.

Let's trust them and . . .

Zion Lutheran Church Dedicates New Addition

Zion Lutheran church, 3050 S. Fletcher Rd., dedicated an addition to its complex on Sunday, June 4, at its Pentecost celebration. After the worship service, a congregational pot-luck was held to celebrate the many blessings that have been found in the life of the congregation. The people of Zion rejoiced to know that God has been with them throughout history.

Zion traces its roots back to St. Thomas Lutheran church of Freedom township, which was formed in 1842. In December 1867, Zion Evangelical Lutheran church dedicated its church building on the northwest corner of Fletcher and Waters Rds. The people of Zion continued to worship in this church building until Oct. 20, 1974. On this date the current church building was dedicated and utilized for all regular worship. This church building was: connected with the parish hall, which had been built in the mid-1940s.

The new addition to Zion makes the church building and parish hall handicap accessible. It has also created more room in the adjacent area of the church building as well as additional office space. New carpeting also had been installed.

The more accessible entrance fits with part of Zion's mission to share. the Good News with all people. Zion invites anyone to come and worship at the church. Sunday services begin at 10:15 a.m. until the end of June when 9:15 a.m. summer hours take effect. The last Sunday of each summer month, worship is held in the historic Old Zion across the road.

Zion Lutheran church annually hosts an ice cream social, which will be held this year on Tuesday, July

No Charges Filed In Dog Attack

As reported in The Standard two weeks ago, Leora Conley and her dog, Tiny, were attacked by a larger dog while walking on Main St. in front of Heydlauff's Appliance

According to Chelsea police chief Lenard McDougall, the case is closed and the department is not seeking criminal charges against the dog or its owners.

Conley is still recovering from hip surgery, resulting from the May 17 accident. Tiny died as a result of injuries sustained in the attack.

The attack dog has been correctly identified. The initial police report stated the dog was a "bulldog-type" dog. The earlier article failed to clarify the officer's wording, stating it was a bulldog.

Conrad Knutsen Runs Unopposed For Board Seat

He's come this far and isn't about to leave the Chelsea-School-District if he can help it.

Conrad Knutsen, the school board vice-president, is running for re-election on the June 12 ballot. Knutsen has served the schools for the past four years and is hoping voters grant him the opportunity of serving them many more. He is chairman of the board's policy committee and is a member of the personnel committee.

Originally hailing from Philadelphia, Pa., Knutsen earned his bachelor's degree in secondary education from Temple University. From there, he went on to Eastern Michigan University and earned his master's degree in biology, focusing mostly in genetics.

Knutsen has been involved in the community almost since he moved here in 1980 to take a research position at the University of Michigan. Since then, he has been involved with the Chelsea Recreation Council, of which he is a past presi-

Knutsen also is a past president of the Chelsea Women's Fastpitch Softball Club. He also serves as the Kiwanis Club's vice-president and on the board of directors of Chelsea United Way.

Knutsen said that he and the rest of the school board have been through many things, and have grown to work more smoothly: together. Knutsen said the Leith shooting two years ago really shook. up the school district.

"I feel good about being a member of that group of people," he said. Knutsen said he would like the school district to move toward changing the way it educates children. He said he has visited schools where teachers interact as a whole rather than in departments. He said this interaction offers teachers the opportunity to communicate with their fellow educators and effectively bring interactive teaching into the

That and the fate of the $45 million school bond proposal rests in the community's hands next week. Knutsen said many people may not realize that about half of the $3.5 million requested for technology is to install the wiring and cables necessary to keep Chelsea's children in competition for a better education.

"Many people think that once these computers are installed, they'll be outdated," he said. "What they might not realize is that we need to install the infrastructure so that future technology can be used."

VILLAGE MANAGER JACK MYERS presented two awards to water department head Dan Rosentreter on behalf of The Michigan Rural Water Association. The first was to recognize the village's water department as a 1995 nominee for Water Utility of the Year. The MRWA also recently recognized the village as a progressive community participating in MRWA's Wellhead Protection Program, which is in its fourth year. It saluted the village for "having the foresight of the importance to protect" Chelsea's ground water and commended the village and its citizens of being a community that is "looking into the future."
