Tracy Dufek Crowned Chelsea Fair Queen

■ A senior at Chelsea High school, Dufek is looking forward to her reign.

When 17-year-old Tracy Dufek was crowned 1995 Chelsea Community Fair Queen Friday night, it was a big surprise for the local girl who was coaxed into running just a few months prior to the fair.

"There was a lot of talent this year, and it could have gone any way," Dufek conceded.

But Dufek brought down the house during the talent competition with her vocal performance. She sang "Corner of the Sky" from the musical Pippin. The performance also brought her the Talent Award, in addition to the crown. Other performances that evening included a magic act, baton twirling, a flag routine, forensics presentation and a poetry reading.

Dufek said she selected the "Corner of the Sky" tune because it's upbeat and entertaining. "It has a very positive message throughout it. It talks about finding your place in the world and not giving up," said the Chelsea High school senior. She selected the song with the help of her vocal coach, Lisa Hinz-Johnson.

It was Dufek's sponsor, Tech Unlimited, which persuaded her to compete in the fair queen contest. The company's president asked her to compete based on his dealings with Dufek in the Washington Street Show Choir. This year will be the teen's fourth year with the choir.

"I decided it would be fun, and to go for it," she said. But that was after seeking the advice of her mother, Linda, and vocal coach. "I talked to both of them and we all agreed it would be a good experience," Dufek said.

She joined 11 other contestants in the quest for the title. Danielle Longe was named first runner-up, Jeanine Mouilleseaux was named second runner-up and Laura Roskowski was named third runner-up. Carrie Pratt won the title of Miss Congeniality.

The contest was the first time Chelsea's newest fair queen had competed for a title. Dufek said she hasn't visited the fair since beginning high school three years ago because it has coincided with Chelsea High School Marching Band's annual trip to Cedar Point. Dufek said she wasn't sure what to expect.

But by just being herself and keeping a positive attitude, Dufek says she was able to capture the title. She said both the personal and private interview segment of the competition was the toughest part. "You go in there nervous, and when you are, you don't necessarily sound like yourself. In the end, if you just be yourself, that's what they want," she said.

Dufek said it was during the private interview that she shared her life motto with the judges. "Smile, it makes the good times better and the hard times easier to bear," is what she told them. "And I went on to say I believe if you have a positive attitude in life, things will be easier and life in general will come easy."

Not only did the competition help Dufek and the other contestants improve their self confidence and teach them about self presentation, it created what is expected to be long-lasting friendships. Dufek said she especially enjoyed working with the fair princesses, girls ages five to nine assisting the contestants throughout fair week.

58th Annual Fair Tallies Record Year

■ Fair board members don't have official numbers, but they're sure results will top past years.

Chelsea Community Fair officials say this year's event was the biggest and most profitable in the fair's 58-year history.

"We broke records every day. The gate was better than every other year, every night," said Ken McCalla, fair board president.

McCalla estimates 40,000 to 50,000 people attended the five-day event. Ticket sales, however, will not be reported until after Thursday. Fair officials could neither provide a tally for livestock sales nor report any top dollar figures, but they expect a record high.

McCalla attributes the better than average fair turn out to beautiful weather and an alternative method of advertising. "I think the weather was a big factor. It was about the best week we've had all summer with low humidity and no problems," McCalla said.

The fair saw people from all over Michigan attend. Fair officials were able to determine their residency based on a nightly cash drawing in which people filled out their names and addresses to qualify. "There were people from Clinton, Napoleon and a few down the Livonia way," McCalla said. He believes the addition of billboard advertising attracted people from surrounding communities. Billboards were placed at five locations, including two in Jackson, one at the US-23 and I-94 exchange, one in Adrian and another at I-94 near the Baker Rd. exit. McCalla said the fair board elected the alternative advertising method after attending a fair convention where other communities touted their use. "Others had success with it, so we thought we'd try it," McCalla said.

The demolition derby appeared to be the most popular event. Even with additional bleachers installed, McCalla said, it was a standing room only crowd.

Another popular and entertaining event was line dancing by the Diamondback Country Dancers held Saturday in the Multi Purpose Arena. The hour-long show featured the well-known Belleville dancers stepping to popular country western tunes.

The addition of a rodeo this year also proved to be a wise decision. "We had a lot of input from people who enjoyed it. It's nice having something different other than motors running," McCalla said referring to the event's rodeo replaced, the motorcross. "We took a shot that it would work. It was scary. It cost $9,000 to get it in, but it sure paid off."

Carnival rides topped last year's numbers. McCalla said Pugh Shows reported record ticket sales by Thursday, the second day of the fair. He attributes high ridership to the addition of four more rides for children.

With the fair coming to a close on Saturday, McCalla said Sunday's clean up wasn't too bad. "I was home by 2 p.m.," he said. Livestock exhibitors and fair board members pitched in and everything was back to usual that afternoon. "It really went great," he boasted.

BRIAN SCHILLER, center, sold his grand champion pen of hogs to Reuben Lesser at Thursday's Fair auction. The auction bid was $1.75 lb. for the 464 lbs. on the two animals. Fair Queen Melody Smith delivered the championship pennant to the buyer.

McKune Library Making Change to Computer Service

McKune Memorial Library has announced major improvement in services with the addition of computer services scheduled to be fully operational by the first of next year. McKune is participating with 55 other members of The Library Network, Michigan's largest library consortium, in installing the DRA (Data Research Associates) automation system. All of the other libraries are currently in the process of changing over from an older computer system.

This change allowed McKune to be able to join in a remarkable venture. The other libraries are expected to be able to join in a remarkable venture. (Continued on page three)

RIDE 'EM COWBOY: Kent Sprague, 3, of Chelsea won second place in the three to five year old division of the annual costume contest held in conjunction with the Children's Parade, organized by Chelsea Kiwanis. The parade was held Tuesday, Aug. 22 to kick off the Chelsea Community Fair.

Wednesday, Sept. 18, 1991—
Area voters go to the polls Monday in a special election to determine whether Chelsea School District will get a massive physical overhaul over the next three years. Before the voters will be a $22.75 million bond proposal for a new early elementary school, renovations at North and South Elementary schools, some renovations, as well as a new building at Chelsea High school. It is the largest bond proposal ever offered in the Chelsea area.

A group of concerned Chelsea citizens is targeting what it hopes will be a grass roots campaign to have property laws changed. Approximately 30-40 Chelsea area people, featuring everyone from prominent business people and school officials to retired senior citizens, have an appointment tomorrow in Lansing to meet with state Rep. Margaret O'Connor and state Sen. Lana Pollack. They want to express their dismay, anger and frustration with the state's property tax laws.

The fun downtown has just begun. Workers made an unexpected discovery while cutting away pavement across Main St. on the north side of Middle St.—a huge void under the road. The road was being cut so the new main electrical cable, to serve the east side of Main St., could be buried under the road. About a third of the way across they found a hole two or three feet deep, about the same width and several feet long. Dirt should have been in its place to hold up the road.

It will be a little more costly for village residents who forget to pay utility bills or bounce a check under a new policy adopted by council last Tuesday, Sept. 10. Residents will be charged a two percent penalty for delinquent bills beginning with the January billing period. In addition, a $15 charge is being implemented for a bounced check.

Edna Walker has decided to sell her tractors and other farm equipment and give up her 60-year career of farming on the farm where she was born. Walker was born in 1908 the eldest daughter of Frank and Elizabeth Guenther Grieb who resided at 2401 Fletcher Rd. Later the couple gave birth to a second daughter, Emma, who died in 1946. Edna attended the Jerusalem school on Sager Rd. until the eighth grade, walking the mile and a half each way, rain or shine, snow or sleet. Sometimes she'd stop at her grandmother's home at the corner of Scio Church and Fletcher roads. After her completion of eighth grade, Edna went to work on her parents' farm. This decision was based in part on the fact that tuition had to be paid for high school. During her 60 years of farming, Edna married William Walker, a German immigrant who came to this country in 1923.

Chelsea is fielding its first varsity cross country team this year, but has good potential, and a couple of strong contenders for regional honors, according to coach Pat Clarke. The runners are Robin Boyer, Ken Buxton, Jim McGinn, Dan Hoover, Howard Schenk, Mike Agopian, Jon Schenk and captain Dave Buxton.

Approximately 50 Chelsea residents and representatives of local industries participated in a lengthy and often heated discussion of the sewer service charge and the method in which it is billed, during the village council meeting Tuesday night. Part of the discussion focused on the differences between the percentage rates established for residents and industries, but the most intense debate occurred over the percentage billing method itself. It was discovered during the discussion that alternatives suggested at the meeting would also result in inequities in the amount residents would have to pay, and an ultimate but reluctant consensus favoring the present method was reached. The village council did agree, however, to give the matter further study.

Joe Aspiranti (32) and Randy Brier (22) were named gridgers of the week. Aspiranti is a senior half-back and has been playing for Chelsea High since his sophomore year when he and his family moved here from Detroit. Brier, also a senior, is beginning his grid career at CHS this fall. He has been a baseball player for four years and has been playing with the varsity team since he was a sophomore.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

The Bomb That Saved 500,000 Lives

By now the breasting over the alleged "injustice" of dropping the atom bomb on Hiroshima has subsided. That should allow us to have the last word.

By F. R. Duplantier

The 50th anniversary of Aug. 6, 1945 was supposed to make us all hang our heads in shame. Newsweek accompanied pages of ugly pictures with a poll reporting that Americans now think dropping the bomb on Japan was "wrong." But the poll demographics tell a different story. The senior citizens whose lives were on the line in World War II approve of the bombing, while the younger generations that don't remember World War II have the luxury of sanctimonious second-guessing.

For the men who fought World War II, the atom bomb was a life-saver. Dropping the bomb on Hiroshima meant the difference between life and death to hundreds of thousands of our best and brightest young men. Dropping the atom bomb on Hiroshima meant that those fine young American men could come home, grow up to live normal lives, marry and raise families, instead of dying a tortured death 5,000 miles away. What the Hiroshima bomb accomplished was to preempt General George Marshall's horrendous plan to defeat Japan: an island-by-island invasion at a projected cost of a half million American deaths.

Marshall couldn't have had any illusions about the hideous human cost of such an island-by-island invasion. Only a reckless disregard of American lives could cause a U.S. leader to send American troops to invade Japanese home islands. But that was the Marshall plan.

Admiral William D. Leahy, Truman's military adviser, predicted that 30 to 35 percent of U.S. soldiers would be killed or wounded during the first 30 days of an invasion of Japan. The Hiroshima bomb saved those lives, as well as those of about 400,000 Allied prisoners of war and civilian detainees held by the Japanese, whom Japan had planned to execute in the event of an American invasion. President Harry Truman didn't have any difficulty making the atom bomb decision. He told reporters in 1947 that "I didn't have any doubts at the time" because the decision saved 250,000 to 500,000 American lives.

The argument is made today that we should not have dropped the bomb because "Japan was already seeking to surrender." In an interview with veteran journalist Philip Clarke in 1962, Truman answered, "The bombs were dropped after Japan had been warned that we had discovered the greatest explosive in the history of the world, and then we asked them to surrender. They did not do it." Japan didn't even surrender after the Hiroshima bomb was dropped. It took the second atom bomb at Nagasaki, three days later, to induce surrender.

Instead of being haunted by the ghosts of Hiroshima, Americans today should remember the American heroes of Iwo Jima, Guadalcanal, Midway, and Okinawa, and rejoice that the survivors of those bloody battles lived to come home to America instead of being killed on the beaches of Japan.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle got the floor early during the session at the country store Saturday night, and he weighed in quick with two clippings that got him thinking about the place of women in our world. One told where women students now outnumber men in 20 of the country's top medical schools, and 43 percent of all medical students are women. The other was a report on a piece in a medical journal where career women are suffering what doctors call stress disease.

What Ed wondered is, does one explain the other. Stress comes from putting too much pressure on yourself, which amounts to taking yourself too serious, and you can catch it anywhere. Ed recalled that when he was a boy a neighbor woman hung herself from the hay loft. She had a husband and they had healthy children and a good farm. She had hung out a big wash that morning. Shortly after, three cows got out and run through the clothesline. Her oldest girl said when her Ma saw all the clothes stomped in the mud she started crying and shaking and walking toward the barn.

For sure, Ed said, when little troubles pile up on folks long enough they are going to fall under the weight. And it stands to reason men and women doctors dealing with sick people all day might feel more stress than they would doing the wash. But Ed went on to note that the piece on stress disease said it does strange things to women. They grow hair on their faces and chests, and one doctor said several of her stress patients "can't sing soprano any more." These career women are being told to stay home and rest. Since there weren't any women in the store, the fellows voted unanimously in favor of keeping women home. Bug Hookum said women ought to be as liberated as they can stand to be, but anything that starts turning them into men is bad. The trouble is, Bug went on, at least some of the women took jobs and caught stress "disease" to get away from housework and kids that were driving them crazy. Maybe they figure it's better to sing bass than to lose their minds, was Bug's words.

General, the fellows agreed where you look for stress is where you find it. Zeke Grubb saw an item in the paper recent about folks who come to their country church in Alabama and found their central air conditioner had been stolen. Some time during the week somebody had unhooked all the pipes and wires and hauled everything off. This is cause for stress in the congregation, Zeke said, mostly from trying to decide if the theft was a deed of the Devil or a lesson from the Lord. It could of been a case of the ends justifying the means.

What Bug meant was, a stemwinding fire and brimstone sermon is more apt to go breezing over the heads of folks setting in the cool than the hot. What the Alabama church is dealing with Bug went on, is a question of how the preacher can best go about his mission of disturbing the comfortable and comforting the disturbed.

Bug recalled that before air conditioning preachers got help from funeral home fans. When we swung the fan we saw the name on it and we were reminded that every minute we're drawing closer Lord to Thee. Then the preacher would say we know not the day or the hour. It was stress for our own good, was Bug's words.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Tracy Dufek Crowned 1995 Chelsea Community Fair Queen

Dufek's duties as fair queen will include attending other area fairs. She will be in charge of next year's fair queen program and emcee the talent night. "I am looking forward to working with the candidates next year. I hope to be a good role model," she said.

A senior at CHS, Dufek is considering five different colleges for next year. She plans to study opera, and has been working on several classical pieces over the past few years. She doesn't intend to enter any more beauty contests, but hasn't ruled out musical competition. "I liked it, but I'd rather go toward more classical-type competition," she said.

Tracy Dufek is the daughter of Linda and Frank Dufek of Lima township. She has won many music awards and has attended Master Classes at the University of Michigan School of Music and Interlochen Arts Camp.

ed to be on-line in October. McKune has the challenge now of bar-coding every item in the collection. The library will close in December for up to two weeks to accomplish this task.

DRA will replace the current circulation system, as well as automate the collection; however, McKune is planning to maintain the adult card catalog indefinitely. Those using the state-of-the-art technology will be able to see McKune's holdings as well as those in the other 54 libraries! Most items can be borrowed by Chelsea residents if McKune does not own a title or if their copy is checked out. It is possible when DRA is fully operational to provide access to a variety of informational databases such as magazine and newspaper indexes, encyclopedia, business directories and health resources. And, of course, the new system will eventually provide direct access to Internet—the Information Superhighway. Dial-in access from home is also a possibility. All these benefits will depend on funding and the needs of the community.

The DRA shared system will expand the ability to access resources beyond the walls of any one community library. McKune Memorial Library believes that this new automation system will provide its patrons with the best in library technology.

LADIES DAY saw Joanne Wells, pictured, garner the top award Friday, Aug. 25 when she was named Junior Homemaker of the Year. She garnered 72 points in the contest. Melissa Yekulis, also pictured, was named runner-up in the junior homemaker division. Stephanie Cashman garnered third place, Laura Roskowski captured fourth place and Laura Luther took fifth place. Kolanders Meet For Family Reunion

Members of the Kolander Klan met Saturday, Aug. 19 at the Dexter-Huron Park. Jill Steward, attending for the first time, came from California for the annual event.

Following the pot-luck dinner and announcements of births, marriages and recent graduates, reminiscing was the theme of the history part of the program. Memories of the grandparents on the farm at Dead Lake and memories of some of the first generation born in the United States were discussed.

Awards were given for the oldest man and woman attending, person traveling the farthest, graduates and to others, including a very large number 2 on the decorated handle for Leo Kolander who always opens the first bid on articles given for the "white elephant" sale.

Games for all ages were played, such as egg-tossing contest, bubble gum blowing, pie eating contest and a candy filled pinata.

Those attending unanimously voted to retain the third Saturday in August as the annual date of meeting. In 1996 all will gather on Aug. 17.

DONALD A. COLE
Owner/Director

If you want to know a man, watch him work.

On Labor Day, we should be grateful to all the people who work faithfully and steadily to provide material, goods, and services for the maintenance of our lives and for the establishment of our homes and communities in which we live.

Unfortunately, many people find themselves in the "rut" of working. Although we work to provide a home, a car, clothes, food, and other necessities, accumulating money and material goods is not the ultimate goal of working. Work fills a basic human need. It provides meaning and order in our lives. It provides a way to serve our fellow humans.

At the Cole Funeral Chapel, we know that our labors can help other people through a very difficult time. When we keep that goal in mind, it helps us to work with more enthusiasm and care, and keeps us out of the "rut." On this 1995 Labor Day, we hope you take time to consider the importance of your daily work.

This Year's Blueberry Crop Rated 'Excellent'

There is a severe case of the blues at Zabinsky's Blueberry Farm this year. The harvest has produced a bumper crop of blueberries. Leo Zabinsky, retired owner of the farm, has handed over the operations of the farm this year to Shawn Raymond, a Chelsea resident.

"It has been a great year so far, with large quantities of berries. We are averaging six to ten pounds per bush," stated Shawn, who has worked on the farm for several years. "When Leo asked me to consider running the farm for this year, I just couldn't resist. Farming is a great complement to the sit-down computer work I do." Shawn has lived in the Washtenaw area for eight years and works for the University of Michigan.

The job of running a blueberry farm is a year-round project of cultivating, pruning the bushes, pulling trees among the rows, mowing, and removing blackberry and raspberry canes next to the bushes. Zabinsky's Blueberry Farm sits on a peat bog of about 20 acres with soil that is a natural for blueberries. The Chelsea area has several wild blueberry bogs that support a fair amount of berries. Zabinsky's has several varieties of blueberries to suit all tastes. Bluecrop and Bluejay, early varieties that ripen sooner than most, are big berries that have a slight tang to the taste. Jersey is the main crop grown at Zabinsky's. "This year's Jersey crop is excellent, huge berries, very sweet and lots of them," stated Shawn. "Zabinsky's is very much an annual event for many people. Most of the die-hard customers are extremely grateful that we are open for business. They love this patch and enjoy the chance to get out into the country."

Most people will freeze their berries and use them all winter. Blueberries are one of the easiest fruits to freeze. Pick and freeze is the common way of taking care of the berries. Blueberries can then be taken out by the handful for pancakes, cereal or muffins.

The Zabinsky Blueberry Farm is open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. seven days a week through Labor Day. The farm is located on Beach Rd. Take Dexter-Chelsea Rd. to either Lima Center or Dancer and follow the signs, or call 426-2900. Zabinsky's blueberries are also available for sale Saturdays throughout the summer at the Chelsea Farmer's Market.

BLASE LIPIEC sold his second place lightweight steer for $1.50 per lb. to Gina's Cafe. Gina in turn donated it back to St. Louis Center who resold it for $1.00 per lb. to Ann Arbor Machine Co.

JEREMY KING sold his fourth place medium lightweight steer for $1.00 per lb. to Chelsea Milling Co. in Thursday's Chelsea Livestock Fair Auction. The steer weighed 1,140 lbs.

JAY BARBER sold this third place lightweight steer for $1.50 per lb. to Krull Construction in the Thursday evening Chelsea Fair Livestock Auction. The animal weighed 955 lbs.

BRANDON TRINKLE sold his third place medium heavyweight steer in Thursday's Chelsea Fair Livestock Auction for $2.00 per lb. Buyer was Pilot Industries. The animal weighed 1,205 lbs.

Anableps, small tropical fish, have two-part eyes, the top half projects above the water and can see through the air, the lower part, different in structure, lets the fish see underwater.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY FAIR BOARD took time off from their busy schedule Saturday to ride in the Fair Parade. This is the group of volunteer workers who spend untold hours throughout the entire year to assure the interesting programs, and smooth operation for the five-day fair. It doesn't "just happen." These are the people who make sure it does!

Livestock Auction Total Expected To Set New High Mark for Fair

Although official totals have not yet been determined on the Thursday livestock sale, it is expected that total sale revenues will be higher than in 1994.

Last year 154 animals (steers, hogs and lambs) were sold at auction while this year only 149 animals were sold. This included 76 lambs, 31 steers and 42 hogs.

Again this year Gina's Cafe topped all bidders for the grand champion lamb at $18 per pound for the 120-lb animal, sold by Joshua Hofing. Last year Gina's paid $20 for the champion lamb, also raised by Joshua Hofing.

Stephanie Wesolowski showed the reserve champion animal which was brought by Polly's Market for $15 per lb.

A new record high of $5.25 lb. was paid by Lane Animal Hospital for Melissa Bycraft's grand champion steer which weighed in at 1,240 lbs.

To keep top honors for the steer sale in the family, sister Celeste
Bycraft showed the reserve champion.
It was sold for $3.50 lb. to National Computer Resources.

Wolverine Food & Spirits bid
$1.75 lb. for Kate Huehl's 1st lightweight at 990 lbs.

James Bauer Construction bid
$1.00 lb for Lindsay Powers' 1st medium lightweight steer weighing in at 1,140 lbs.

Again it was Gina's Cafe buying
Kay Bulmon. Gina paid $3.00 lb. for the 150-lb animal and donated it to St. Louis Center.

The reserve champion hog was shown by Krystal Welshans and was purchased by Chelsea A & W Restaurant and Pork Avenue
Excavating for $2.00 lb. It was then donated to Timbertown and resold to Rowe Insurance for $1.00 lb.

Following is a list of the animal owners, placing of the animal in the judging, weight, buyer and price per pound. Some market hogs weighed more than 250 lbs., but buyer only paid for 250 lbs. Double Equipment raised price on any lambs bid at less than $2 to a minimum of $2 per lb.

SPORTS

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Girls Basketball Team May Become 'Good'

Chelsea girls basketball team opened the season on Aug. 29, the first day for students at Chelsea High. The Bulldogs faced off against Jackson County Western on the Lady Bulldogs' Home court. Junior varsity began the action at 5:30 and the varsity played after their game.

The varsity featured returning three-year letter winner Annie Terpstra. Annie is a senior and will lead a senior dominated team in the 1995 SEC championship. Terpstra has collected All-League Honors the last two years as well as Ann Arbor News All Region Honors. She has been one of the leading scorers in the area for the last two years.

Annie will most likely be joined on the starting five by three other seniors and a junior. Jessica Inwood will join Annie as captains of the 1995 Bulldogs and will play forward with Terpstra in the middle as the center. Heidi Wehrwein is leading the race for the other starting forward, filling the shoes of graduated Courtney Thompson, who will be playing this year at Spring Arbor College.

Out front will be senior guard Heidi Kemnitz, who has made great progress this year. Heidi will lead the Chelsea defense with her excellent quickness. She will work with point guard Kasie Ruhlrig the only junior in the starting rotation. All five of these young ladies played on the 20-4 varsity team from last year.

Leading the reserves is senior Suzy Steele playing swing man (person) getting time at both guard and at forward. Juniors Carrie Williams, Chrissy Hodgson, Michelle Lucas, and Melissa Carty join the reserves from last year's outstanding JV team. Cindy Richard completes the team as the only sophomore on this year's squad.

This year's team is coached by Charles Waller and his son, Frank Waller. Coach Waller commented that this year's team has a great deal of talent, but has not yet meshed as a unit. The team returns Terpstra who has started for two years, and Inwood and Ruhlrig who played a great deal last year with senior starters in front of them. Ruhlrig and Inwood are the shooters from outside and their development must balance the inside play of Terpstra. Waller said: "We could be good! But first it takes hard work and focus!"

Chelsea faces a tough SEC race this year with three time champ Pinckney returning a strong group of girls from both their varsity and JV teams. This excellent program will change coaches this year without missing a heartbeat. Outstanding Matt Seidl moves on, but is replaced by our own excellent Rhan Rosenreter, moving up from the JV's.

Pinckney may not be favored this year as a strong Milan team brings almost everyone back, led by 6'4" Heather Frank who seems to have made great progress. Class A Saline will field a strong team, while Tecumseh will continue to give teams the fits in the Tecumseh Jungle! Dexter and Lincoln will be the big question marks. Dexter may be strong but with the change of coaches it is hard to tell. Come see the girls play, the basketball is better and better!

Chelsea Bulldogs Face Mason in Home-Opener

Next three contests expected to present tough challenge for Chelsea.

The Bulldogs' home-opener against Mason is expected to be a close contest with both B-B Class schools battling for the first win of the year Friday on Chelsea turf.

"It's a big ball game," admits Gene LaFave, Chelsea varsity football coach. "They're very good. It will be one of those closely contested games."

For the past seven years or so, Chelsea has narrowly beaten the Lansing-area school by a four-point margin or less. But since 1993, the Mason team has turned the tables. And last year, the team gave Chelsea a severe, 28-0, whipping. Chelsea concluded the 1994 season 3-6.

"They run the football at you. We're going to have to stop their run, and we're going to have to be balanced in order to be successful," LaFave said.

Chelsea's coach describes Friday's opponent as big, physical and strong. "They'll present a great challenge," LaFave said. "But Chelsea's big too. We're up for the challenge."

Dusty White, a junior, will lead the Bulldogs as quarterback. He is 5'9" and 150 pounds. John Schick will serve as running back. The 6'1", 185-pound junior will be joined by returning starters Kent Young, as tight-end, Garth Hammer, Tom Barkman, and Damon McLaughlin as guard. All are over 6-feet tall.

"They run the football at you. We're going to have to stop their run, and we're going to have to be balanced in order to be successful."

—Gene LaFave, varsity coach will join junior Justin Strong, Casey Wescott and John Tyrell as defensive back. Wescott will provide the punting and place-kicking and Tyrell will serve as noseguard.

Jamie Holzhausen, a junior, has come up from the junior varsity ranks to join the Bulldogs. Paul Bragalone will also return as a starter.

LaFave calls the varsity Bulldogs a "balanced team." He thinks games slated against Mason, Saline and Milan will present a "formidable challenge."

"If we get through the first three ball games, we'll be successful," LaFave promised.

The Bulldogs have completed their fourth week of training. Over the summer, players have lifted weights, participated in a passing league and attended football camp at the high school.

Golf Team Struggles Through Tournament At JC Western

Chelsea High school boys golf team traveled to Concord on Friday to compete in the Jackson County Western Invitational Golf Tournament. Out of 24 teams Chelsea could manage only a 23rd place finish with its young and inexperienced team. However, a couple of younger players had very encouraging performances.

Jake Szczygiel, a sophomore, shot an 89 to lead the varsity team and Ben Stafford, a sophomore on the golf team for the first time, shot a 99. "Both of these young men have competed well for their first experience at the varsity level and should improve as the year moves along."

Other team scores for Chelsea were Steve McDonald with 107, Justin Kusterer with 117, and Matt Hand, a freshman golfing on the varsity for the first time, a 119.

Winning the team competition was the host school Jackson County Western with a team score of 312. Other SEC school scores were Tecumseh, 4th, with 314, and Saline, 8th, with 324. Chelsea's team score was 410.

The next varsity action will be in their first SEC match on Wednesday at Tecumseh Country Club against Tecumseh.

JV Golf Team Members Chosen

The 1995 Chelsea junior varsity team was finalized this week as eight freshmen demonstrated some good potential for the future by finishing at the top of the qualifying tournament for this year's JV team. Qualifying in the top position with a three round average of 54 was Matt Freeman followed by Ryan McDonald with 55, Joe Mignano with 58.3, Aaron Smith with 62.3, Josh Miller with 63.3, Brian Groesser with 63.3, Justin Fusco with 64.3, and John Carter 66.3.

The JV team will compete in a 10-match schedule beginning Wednesday with a match at Tecumseh.

Hole-in-One at Hudson Mills Course

Judy Jahnke of Ann Arbor reported a hole-in-one on Sunday, Aug. 27 at Hudson Mills Golf Course. She hit her first hole-in-one on the 118-yard No. 8 hole after playing golf for 18 years.

Tennis Team Wins Romulus Invitational

A strong Chelsea girls tennis team won the Romulus Invitational Tennis Meet Friday, Aug. 25. The girls won at every position but No. 3 singles.

Coach Marta Learman was pleased with the team's strong performance. "Last year at this same event we were last of six teams," she said. "This year we placed first of four."

The top four singles positions on the team are held by Liz Holdsworth, Aubri Shermet, Anne Frederick, and Autumn Allen.

Coach Learman noted especially strong performances at first and third doubles, who won in straight sets. The top three doubles positions are held by Claire Issaz and Laura Hurst, Leslee Parker and Emily Arend, and Bree Wireman and Sara Walters.

Other tennis team members include Catie Zaroli, Kindra Weid, Emily Arend, Jenna Hall, Jenna Sporocca, Megan Marshall, Lauren Varady, and Shontay Young.

The 19-member team includes several returning varsity letter winners as well as a very strong freshman group. Coach Learman reports a solid varsity line-up. She is looking forward to this season.

"The girls have worked hard and we expect a winning season," she declared.

The girls tennis season is intense, with 16 meets scheduled between Aug. 29 and Oct. 13. Home meets are on Sept. 5 versus Columbia Central, Sept. 18 versus Jackson Northwest, Sept. 28 versus River-view, and Oct. 3 versus Ypsilanti.

Coach Marta Learman is assisted by Mrs. Carolyn Parker.

Community colleges enroll approximately 5.5 million credit students and an estimated 5 million people in non-credit courses designed for worker training, personal enrichment and lifelong learning.

JEFF KLINK was winner of the feature event in Tuesday's Demolition Derby. It's a bit of a puzzle as to how he kept it together but we understand he was trying to sell the remains during Saturday's parade.

JEFF PRENTICE was winner of the second heat in Tuesday's Demolition Derby and feature runner-up later in the evening. He was sponsored in the derby by Atkinson Chiropractic.

Faith in Action Starts Changeover To Fall Seasonal Clothing

Each year at the Fall and Spring Seasons, Faith in Action begins a changeover of clothing to make room for appropriate seasonal wear. In order to accomplish this we must request that donations stop for a brief period of time.

This year we are asking all of your clothing donations stop until Sept. 18 after which please bring us only Fall and Winter clothing as we do not have the space to store Spring/Summer type clothes until next Spring.

Faith in Action appreciates the support they receive from the communities. Your donations make it possible for FIA to assist many people and, in fact, in 1994 because of you Faith in Action was able to help over 8,000 of our friends and neighbors.

Faith Lutheran Starts New Sunday Hours After Labor Day

Faith Lutheran church held an outdoor worship service Sunday, July 9, at Hudson Mills Metropark. Over 40 people attended and stayed for the picnic which followed. The day concluded with a softball game and a water balloon fight.

After Labor Day Faith goes back to its fall schedule of Sunday school at 9 and worship at 10 a.m.

Unlicensed Teen-ager Takes Mother's Car

A 14-year-old girl will be petitioned into Juvenile Court for taking her mother's vehicle without permission and driving it without a driver's license.

The girl's mother called Chelsea Police Aug. 18 after her daughter took the family car from their home in the 500 block of Wilkison St. The woman said she believed her daughter was enroute to Cleary's Pub. Three girls, ages 13 to 14, were passengers with the suspect.

Police were initially unable to find the girl, but did track down her accomplices. The suspect was later located after she called her mother, and turned herself into police. She was released to her parents.

Marijuana Cigarette Confiscated by Police

Violation of the Controlled Substance Act was reported in the parking lot at Perky Pantry, 501 S. Main St.

A 38-year-old Belleville woman and a 46-year-old Whitmore Lake man were questioned in the parking lot Aug. 25 after Chelsea Police received a tip that the couple had marijuana in their possession.

The Whitmore Lake man, driver of the 1987 Pontiac Convertible the couple was in, was searched first and no marijuana was found. A search of the woman, however, turned up a marijuana cigarette, which was confiscated by police.

Chelsea Police Write Citations

Chelsea Police issued three citations to a 25-year-old Jackson man for operating an unregistered motor vehicle, driving with a suspended driver's license and for having no proof of insurance.

The man was stopped on Railroad St. near McKinley St. in his 1978 Chevy Caprice after police noticed the vehicle's license plate was expired. The suspect admitted the license plate did not belong to his vehicle. He told police he just purchased the car and hadn't insured or registered the vehicle with the state.

Kriegers Hosting Two Taiwanese Students

On Aug. 5, a group of children from Taiwan, China arrived at Metro Airport for a summer camp program sponsored by a Chinese church in Ypsilanti. Two of the children have been hosted by Don and Marlene Kreiger in Chelsea for the month.

The children will leave Detroit Metro Airport this week-end to fly back home.

They are, respectively, I-Nung pronounced Enung. She is 14 years of age and can speak some English, as they are taught that in their schools as a second language. She has sisters still in Taiwan. She has received several calls by phone from her family since being here. E-Nung has one sister who came and is hosted in Ann Arbor. I-Nung is in the eighth grade in Taiwan.

Wan-Lin is 12 years of age and also speaks English. She also has brothers and sisters back home and has heard from her family several times since arriving here. Wan-Lin is in the sixth grade.

Some of the things they have done while with the Kriegers is as follows. They have enjoyed the Jackson County Fair. They all went to Sea World of Ohio. Hands on Museum of Ann Arbor, they picked raspberries, the Toledo Zoo, Ann Arbor Art Museum.

They have also been shopping several times. They bought in line skates because here they could get them for under a $100. In their country they would have to pay about $200. They painted the big rock in Ann Arbor and left their footprints in paint also. They painted bye-bye Mich. on the rock. They commented that the Toledo Zoo is much larger than any they have in Taiwan. They saw polar bears for the first time.

Both girls say they would like to return to the United States to study when they are a little older.

Free Face Travel Guide, Calendar of Events Offered

Autumn-color seekers will find more than two dozen suggestions for fall-color tour routes in Michigan's new 1995 Michigan Fall Guide and Calendar of Events—and a whole lot more. Travelers can select from routes in the Upper Peninsula and the Lower Peninsula and those that circle the Great Lakes. Each featured tour gives the approximate number of miles in the route and includes a listing of some of the scenic highlights along the way. A regional peak-color-period map providing the approximate dates for best fall-color viewing and the annual fall calendar of events listing hundreds of activities, festivals, and events statewide will assist travelers in planning their autumn getaways.

In this year's 64-page fall guide there is again a fairly comprehensive listing of Michigan's cider mills and apple orchards. At a glance, travelers can select a cider mill that fits the needs of their autumn outings, i.e., those with farm markets, U-pick apples, baked goods, pumpkins, picnic areas, etc. And photographers and romantics will be relieved to learn they don't have to travel to Madison County, Ia., to admire covered bridges. Michigan has four of its own and the names and locations are provided in the guide.

For a free copy of the 1995 Michigan Fall Guide and Calendar of Events, write the Michigan Travel Bureau at P.O. Box 3393, Livonia 48151-3393; or call toll-free (800) 543-YES, from anywhere in the United States and Canada. Travel advisors are available to assist travelers in planning their vacations and week-end getaways 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. (EST) Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Travelers also may order information during non-staffed times by leaving their name, address, and phone number on the voice messaging system.

Beginning Sept. 15, get the latest fall-color conditions 24-hours a day by calling (800) MI-4-FALL for weekly updates on the progression of Michigan's autumn color, provided by AAA Michigan.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Lima Township

Assault and Battery

Assault and battery was reported in the 13000 block of Old US-12, Aug. 16. A 16-year-old Chelsea boy wants to press charges against the boyfriend of his girlfriend's mother after he allegedly assaulted him. The incident happened Aug. 6 at 3:30 p.m. when the boy intervened during an argument between his girlfriend and her mother. The suspect reportedly called the teen a name and pushed him. The suspect, however, denies touching the boy. He said he pointed his finger at the boy and ordered him to leave the house. The man said he is upset his girlfriend's daughter has been staying out all night with the teen. It was also noted that the teen is on probation after he was convicted of stealing cars, stealing property and breaking into several residences in the area. A prosecutor will review the case.

Webster Township

Trespassing, Malicious Destruction of Property

Trespassing and malicious destruction of property was reported in the 7900 block of Park Lane Dr., Aug. 19. A 37-year-old township man told police he found a Chevy S-10 pick up stuck in his driveway. Police noted the victim's driveway looks like a road leading into a wooded area. The vehicle was found abandoned with a key still in the ignition. Police traced the vehicle back to the owner who said his 25-year-old son, a Milan resident, was driving the vehicle last. Damage is estimated at $100.

Lyndon Township

Assault and Battery

Assault and battery was reported at Burrin Lake Campground on Burrin Lake Rd., Aug. 15. A 35-year-old Madison Heights man told police his 14-year-old son was attacked by another teen for wearing a bandanna on his head. A 14-year-old boy staying with his grandparents in Grass Lake allegedly pulled the bandanna from the teen's head because he thought the boy belonged to a gang. The suspect then struck the victim in the left eye.

Threats

Threats were reported in the 500 block of Oakdale Dr., Aug. 17. A 34-year-old township woman told police she received a letter from her ex-husband, a 35-year-old Grass Lake man, which is somewhat threatening. The woman said she is concerned because she was a victim of domestic violence when she was married to the man seven years ago. She asked police not to interview the man or seek criminal prosecution. She only wants a report made for information purposes.

Acne Seen As First Sign of Puberty, Strikes Even Younger Students

Day One of the school year may mean contending with a new teacher and unfamiliar classmates for most pupils, but for many the anxiety level is raised by a first case of pimples. Now that children are maturing earlier than their grandparents did, increasingly younger school children are experiencing what may be the initial sign of puberty—pimples—sooner than ever before, even as early as fourth grade, doctors say.

Researchers have found that children who mature ahead of their peers, particularly girls, may develop more severe cases of acne. Pimples left untreated can cause facial scarring, and therefore children who suffer acne should seek treatment as early as possible.

"Acne scars its youngest victims both physically and emotionally," says Dr. Laura Skellchock, M.D., assistant clinical professor, Department of Dermatology, University of California at San Francisco Medical Center. "Early treatment can help to prevent long lasting damage to the body and the psyche."

As early as age 12, the emotional damage can come in the form of low self-esteem and anxiety. Some 35 to 40 percent of teen-agers say they have such feelings as a result of pimples, according to a survey by the American Medical Association of 1,000 teens, ages 12-18.

"Acne destroys a teen's self-image and affects whether they will run for class office, compete for a place on athletic teams or try out for the school play," Dr. Skellchock says. "Some teens come to my office very withdrawn to the point of being depressed. You really begin to worry about their mental health."

"The psychological effects of pimples are widespread and underestimated," continues Dr. Skellchock. "She notes that pimples occur in an overwhelming 80 percent of girls and 90 percent of boys during adolescence. Altogether, more than 16 million American teen-agers suffer from pimples, the most common skin disorder in the United States."

Acne Results from Hormonal Changes

Pimples are caused by hormonal changes, often occurring at the onset of puberty. Researchers say American children are reaching adolescence far earlier than their grandparents and great-grandparents did. Some researchers now believe that because of a higher fat diet, the average American female begins menstruating at age 12 compared to age 17 for a woman who lived in the 1700s. The change has been gradual, decreasing by two to three months per decade over the past century in the United States, researchers say.

Doctors now say acne caused by changes in the sex hormones—particularly androgens in both sexes and testosterone in boys—may be the earliest sign of puberty. Androgens are typically hormones that stimulate masculine activities, such as development of male sex characteristics. Androgens usually begin to increase in children who are approximately 10 years old, although they have been seen to increase in children who are as young as 7.5 years old, researchers say. Researchers believe that while girls get pimples earlier because they mature earlier, boys eventually develop more severe pimples because they make more testosterone.

The Mechanics of Acne

In response to such hormonal changes, oil glands in the skin (called sebaceous glands) begin to produce an increased amount and more viscous type of oil. At the same time, cells lining the canal of the oil gland thicken, making it narrower. Acne results when the canal becomes blocked with a mixture of oil and newly shed cells. If the oil plug is exposed to air it becomes discolored and is called a blackhead. If the oil plug is trapped under the skin's surface, it becomes a whitehead.

Early treatment is the key to preventing the facial scarring that accompanies some acne cases, researchers say. Over-the-counter products may help in some cases, but in others professional help is necessary.

"If after six to eight weeks of using an over-the-counter product, you see no positive results or even a worsening, it's time to see a dermatologist who can diagnose and treat you," says Dr. Skellchock. Pimples can be controlled with the right treatment, such as topical tretinoin, antibiotics or benzoyl peroxide.

The Dermatological Division of Ortho Pharmaceutical Corp., a

Johnson & Johnson company headquartered in Raritan, N.J., manufactures various skin care products, including Retin-A® (tretinoin), a prescription therapy indicated for the treatment of acne vulgaris and available through health care professionals. The company provides a toll-free number for consumers who would like to receive information about pimples: 1-800-203ACNE.

Have We Found
The Holy Grail?

Most of us have in our picture memory, part of the legend of the Holy Grail. Now sometime after the Last Supper, the grail (a cup or utensil) which held the wine, was lost. Knights in shining armor traveled to far lands on big white chargers, in search of what became known as the Holy Grail. Of course never finding it. The wine at the Last Supper was a symbol of Christ's blood and death on the cross. When we take communion in chapel, we are renewing Christ's spirits within us. The modern day Knight (man or woman) keeps looking for the grail, symbolic of a cup of cold water given to a thirsting soul on a hot summer day. What do you do when you have the opportunity to become the Good Samaritan? Could you be the man in the following story?

Timothy was on his way to breakfast of ham and eggs, hash browns, etc. Let Timothy tell it: I saw this friend crying near the nursing station. I found out that he had just had a call from a village about 15 miles away. The friend told him that his wife had died suddenly during the night. He had called neighbors and no answer. His son lived 75 miles away and he did not answer the phone. Here was a man in distress, and no luck in getting anybody to help him. I said, get your coat and hat, we're going over to see your friend right away.

We arrived shortly at the home of this grief stricken man. Between the three of us we alerted the doctor, the funeral director, and a neighbor lady to stay at the house. Not being able to reach his son we three drove to his home in a distant town. He had been working out in the yard and could not hear the phone. He drove his car with his father. We stopped to see that everything was going to be all right, and we came on home, and do you know, I was not hungry all the time I was away.

I think Timothy found the Holy Grail.

The second part of our story finds Audrey and Jane. Jane was a lady resident here at CRC about a year. Her husband had died just before she came here. Audrey was a neighbor and had been here about three years.

Jane was lonesome and finding it a little difficult getting into the social life. She stayed in her room a lot. Audrey and others had told her about the daily activities. Finally Audrey invited her to go to dinner with her. Audrey and Jane now went together to the sitting room, the ice cream parlour and the square dance in the Town Hall. Things were looking up with these two friends.

One day they were visiting and Jane said, I would like to tell you of some experiences in the circus. Before I was married I traveled many years with a large circus. My regular job was selling tickets to the big top. But like all folks with the show we all had several regular jobs helping put up the tents, setting up the seats, putting the props where actors could get them. Then the thing I liked best was helping the couple who had a trained dog act. I helped feed, exercise and wash the dogs. The dogs, liked me and I liked them. Many times mornings I would watch the dogs being put through warm-up paces. One day I even put the dogs through some routines in a regular performance, all dressed up in circus togs. After the circus I was married and had a happy life. After my husband's death, I sort of dropped out of everything. The nice thing was when Audrey found me and got me to stop thinking about myself all the time.

Would you say that Audrey found the Holy Grail?

This roving reporter picked the names used and the stories out of thin air. But they could happen any day.

M. C. Martin.
