President Steele Urges Moratorium Be Imposed On Village Annexations

In response to the recent large scale annexations of land into the village, President Steele surprised Council last Tuesday, Sept. 12, by asking to halt further annexation for a time.

Steele cited the need to reassess sewage treatment capacity as well as the uncertain ability of the Village to serve all the new areas with municipal water. Over the last two years the Village boundaries have grown by hundreds of acres with the incorporation of the County golf course and surrounding lands to the south, as well as the extended acreage behind the Belser subdivision to the east.

With the latest petition made to the County to incorporate some additional 90 acres of the old Market/Sears farm on the northeast, there is concern that Village services may become overextended.

"We need a comprehensive study of our capacity to serve the potential development that is in the pipeline," said Steele. He went on to explain that development pressure is coming from all directions and that the Village has no clear, comprehensive plan to control and service the land. Steele cited the Planning Commission's effort to rewrite the general plan for the South Main corridor as an example of playing hurried catch-up with what's already happening on the ground, and the need to plan ahead for the rest of the community.

No timetable was offered by Steele to complete such a comprehensive study of the Village's infrastructure needs to absorb additional development. Instead, he asked Council for their views on the subject and suggested a legal opinion be obtained as to the options available to impose an annexation moratorium.

Fresh from a two-hour debate and discussion with Lima Township Supervisor Van Riper about the proposed Merkel annexation, and a new request of attorneys representing local resident, Harold Allen, to favorably consider annexing an additional 40 acres of land on the far west of town, Council members were highly receptive to the idea. Richard Rigg offered a resolution to establish a freeze immediately. But, in the discussion that followed, it was decided that the more prudent course of action would be to wait for advice from the village attorney and schedule action on the issue at the next regular meeting where such questions as appropriate timing and staff direction could be worked out ahead.

In any case it appears that Village Council will shortly impose a moratorium on any further annexation until they have a better handle on what basic service needs will be required for a greatly expanded village boundary, and a comprehensive plan in place to shape the anticipated growth.

Chelsea Resident Among Artists at Webster Festival

■ Ben Bower to sell watercolor pencil paintings featuring historical themes.

A local man who discovered watercolor pencil painting more than 50 years ago will be among the artists participating in the 14th annual Webster Fall Festival.

Ben Bower, a Chelsea-area resident since 1945, has been a regularly featured artist at the festival since its inception. He has also participated in other local craft fairs over the years.

Bower took up the unique drawing method while overseas. "I first learned about the water color pencils back in 1942 when I was overseas on the big island of Hawaii," Bower explained. "A friend of mine there received a box of these pencils from someone in Pennsylvania, and he wasn't interested. He loaned them to me, and I didn't give them back."

Over the years, Bower has experimented with the pencils to perfect his craft. But it wasn't until 1975 that he made it a full-time business and established Design Unusual. Up until then, he worked as office manager for the Department of Natural Resources at the Waterloo Recreation Area. It was that job which brought Bower and his wife, Mary Lou, to the Chelsea area. They raised four children here, all graduates of Chelsea High school, and now reside within the village proper.

"Everything I've done, I've learned a little bit more from. I've gotten to the point where I can make things stand out," Bower says.

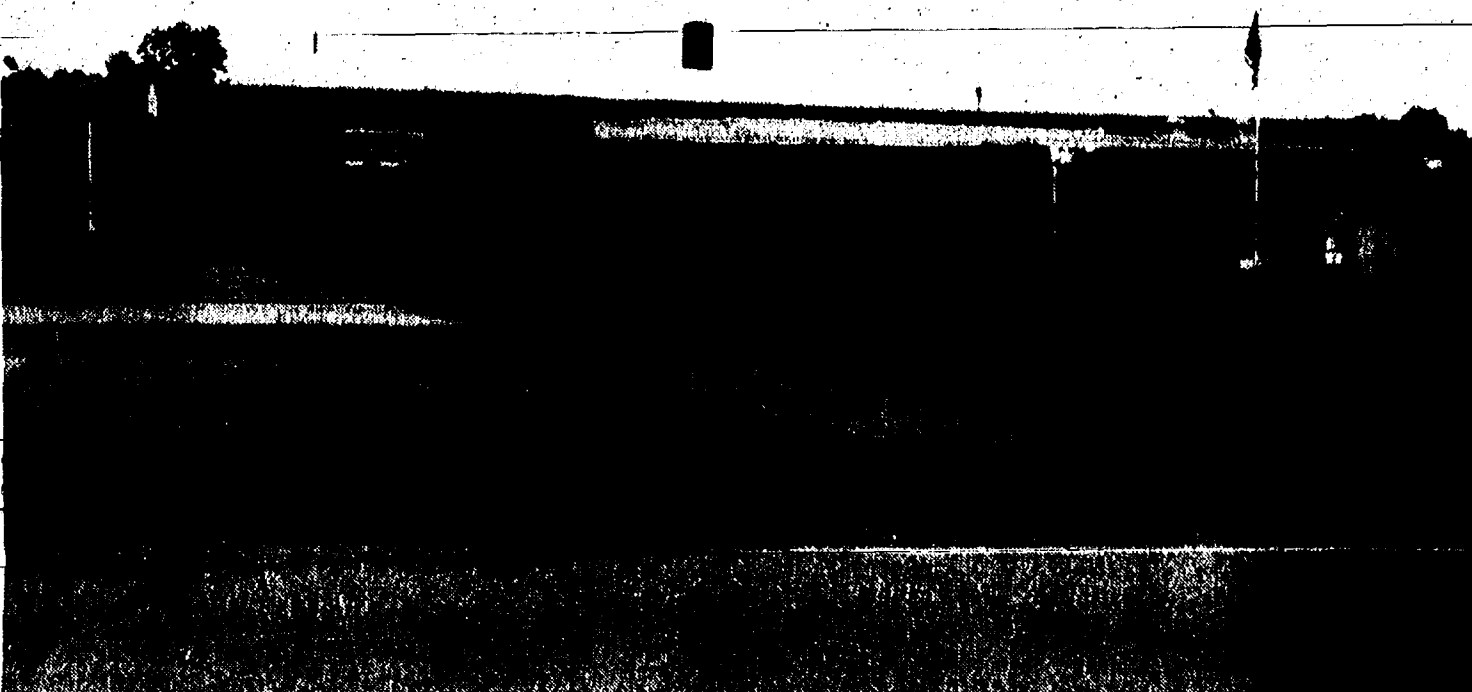

He calls himself a detailist. "Modern paintings are quite often swishes of color, less detail," he explains. "The combination of colors form a pattern without much meaning."

Webster Fall Festival is slated Saturday. It will feature 19 artists, a pig roast, entertainment, a children's zoo, hay rides and other attractions.

Bower, 75, is most noted for his drawings of old barns and historic places. He mixes modern-day places and things but gives them a historic feel, which often conjure the memories of his customers. The captions he writes below give a brief description of the setting and people portrayed.

Bower says he is inspired by history. "I am all for people remembering history," he says. "Kids today don't know where they're going because they don't know where we've been."

DAVIDSON SALES & MAINTENANCE owner Jack Davidson has signed a contract with Hi-Po, an emergency spill response company, to pay for the estimated more than $200,000 clean-up of contaminated wetlands off Gene Dr. Davidson, owner of the property, the contaminants allegedly came from, may also face fines and penalties for illegal dumping. DSM, located on Old US-12, has been closed for several months. Davidson has sold some of his assets to Mercer, a similar company in Jackson where he is now employed.

Chelsea Businessman To Pay Over $200,000 For Clean-up of Creek

■ Jack Davidson could also face fines and penalties.

The site where a Chelsea businessman is accused of dumping hazardous gasoline waste has been cleaned up, but a probe continues.

Jack Davidson, owner of Davidson Sales and Maintenance, is being held responsible for an expensive clean-up that concluded Saturday. County officials are still awaiting results from water samples drawn last week to determine if wells in the Gene Dr. area are contaminated.

"The area has been returned to its original environmental levels," said Aaron Smith, president of Hi-Po, the company hired to clean-up the mess. "There are no environmental impacts or contamination to ground water or surface water," he added.

According to Smith, natural water has begun flowing back into the creek. His company pumped an estimated 80,000 gallons of contaminated liquids and hauled 3,000 yards of contaminated soil from the site. The process involved approximately 80 manhours and the work of 20 people.

The County Drain Commission, Department of Natural Resources and Chelsea Village became aware of the contaminated wetlands near the East Branch Wilkinson drain Sept. 8 after Gene Dr. resident Scott Allen alerted officials to a strong gasoline odor and what looked like contaminated water in wetlands near the drain.

Investigators traced the source to Davidson Sales and Maintenance on Old US-12 near Gene Dr. Samples taken from the wetlands and liquid found in a storage pit on DSM property link the business to the contamination. Officials have found evidence that barrels of hydrocarbon wastes, such as gasoline, benzene, and motor oil, (Continued on page six)

United Way Campaign Sets Goal of $106,688

Chelsea United Way launched the 1995-96 Campaign with a Kickoff Breakfast at the Chelsea Community Hospital Friday, Sept. 15. Honorary Chair William Nufer and representatives of three of the several agencies which Chelsea United Way supports addressed over 30 business people, professionals and educators in attendance.

The United Way Board is aiming to complete the campaign by the beginning of November.

The slogan, "Chelsea Helping Chelsea" and the logo, used last year will continue for the '95 Campaign. The logo pin is an adaptation of an old design of stick figures joining hands, illustrating the slogan, "Chelsea Helping Chelsea."

Budget and Allocations Chair Scott Broshar announced the Campaign Goal of $106,688 for 1995-96. The amount reflects the increased need in the community for the many kinds of support and assistance that are provided by the agencies supported by Chelsea United Way.

Agency speakers included Tammy LaFler of Catholic Social Services; Terry Turner of Hospice of Washtenaw County and Sonja Jackson of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. All three agencies aid a large number of people in the Chelsea area.

Progress towards the goal of $106,688 will be observed on the traditional thermometers to be erected soon in Chelsea.

School Board Passes Items; ACT Scores Up

The Chelsea Board of Education passed all items on its agenda Monday, Sept. 18:

• Chelsea Recreation Council's proposed by-laws amendment pertaining to ownership of assets upon dissolution of the Council.

• A resident donated an Apple II GS computer system, including software, with a value of $1,155 which the Board accepted.

• The annual orchestra trip to Judson Collins Camp for high school, Sept. 15-17; for middle school, Sept. 22-24.

• The hiring of Jed Fritzmeier for orchestra director, pending satisfactory criminal history review.

• The Washtenaw County Soil

Conservation District is to be thanked for the offer of property transfer, which will not be accepted at this time.

• Bonds invested at 5.8 percent last year paid $4 million.

Superintendent Ed Richardson and members Dayle Wright, Conrad Knutsen and Jane Diesing are to attend the Governor's Educational Summit from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 19 in Lansing Center.

ACT five-year score reports for Chelsea schools are rated to be well above state and national averages.

A field trip request was approved for the Washington Street Show Choir, Oct. 13-15.

Pete Lenehan, co-president of the PTA for North School, said he was concerned that siblings should be allowed to go to school together, as this improves behavior and school performance. However, Richardson believed that this makes no difference whether they do or not.

The time students are spending riding the buses in the North School area is as long as 90 minutes, which Lenehan said is too long. As a result, his neighborhood has decided to do carpooling.

Playground equipment is to be worked on at South School.

The Board elected to go into closed session after approving all items.

Chelsea School District will be forced to make about $130,000 in cuts from its operating budget this school year due to new state legislation, assistant superintendent Fred Mills told the board of education Monday night. The legislation, House Bill 4267, dubbed the "Robin Hood bill," will force the district to give up 46 percent of its tax growth in commercial and industrial property this year so it can be redistributed by the state to poorer school districts. The legislation will take the money from 125 in-formula districts and give it to 425 out-of-formula districts.

Chelsea residents and school district administrators expressed their displeasure with state property tax laws and other issues related to school financing in a question-and-answer session with state Sen. Lana Pollack Monday night before the regular school board meeting.

Chelsea Board of Education is trying to decide what to do next in light of the overwhelming defeat of a $23.75 million bond issue last month. The board discussed the issue briefly Monday night and came to no firm conclusions about the direction it will take.

The Congregational church observed Laymen's Sunday, Oct. 15, and the pastor, the Rev. Philip Rusten, used for his sermon the topic, "The Layman in Politics and in the Church." Laymen who participated in the service included Max Hepburn was in charge during the invocation and offertory; George Frisinger who read the Old Testament lesson; Vern Hiltz who read the New Testament scripture, and Robert Foye who gave the pastoral prayer.

One new member was appointed and three incumbents were named to serve three-year terms on the Washtenaw County Planning Commission Monday. The board of supervisors named David A. Doig of North Lake to serve a three-year term on the commission.

★ Competitive Contracting Is Taxpayer's Best Friend

By George C. Leef

Suppose that you need to have some major repairs done to your home. You don't have any idea how much the job should cost and you certainly don't want to spend more than necessary to get the work done right. What do you do?

The smart homeowner that you are, you'd solicit bids from several firms you believe to be reliable and then go with the best one. You certainly would not arbitrarily exclude some reliable contractors from the bidding—after all, one of the excluded contractors might come in with a lower bid and save you plenty of money. That's the economic rationality at work. You try to get the most value for the money. Individuals have a very strong incentive to behave this way because if they don't, they lose their own money.

When government officials spend taxpayers' money, however, the incentive to strive for the best value is much weaker. Not infrequently, political decision-makers find it to be in their self-interest to restrict bidding to a favored few, or at least to exclude the unfavored. Funneling government money into the pockets of supporters may be good politics—it's been going on for centuries—but it's poor economics. Stifling competition in bidding often means that the taxpayers will pay more for the same work than they otherwise would.

One example of this is the project labor agreement (PLA). Under a PLA, work on a government facility is reserved for union labor alone, usually in conjunction with a no-strike promise. Non-union contractors who might be able to do the work or parts thereof are not allowed to bid. Two recent Michigan projects where PLAs were entered into are the Lansing minor league baseball stadium and the Calhoun County Jail.

How much does a PLA raise the cost of government construction? Obviously, there isn't any one right answer, but we can say with confidence that it raises costs significantly. In New York, the experience with the Roswell Park Cancer Institute comes as close to a controlled experiment as we are likely to get. Roswell Park comprised several construction projects, several of which were done with PLAs and several of which were not. An analysis of the winning bids in each revealed that construction costs were 26 percent higher in those where PLAs were in effect compared with those where they were not.

In another study, done by the Construction Labor Research Council, the data indicated that the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority could have reaped "significant hourly savings" on its Boston Harbor project if it had not entered into a PLA. It is not an act of compassion to pay more than is necessary to get a job done when that means that those who earned the money in the first place are worse off as a consequence.

PLAs aren't just economically bad, however. There is an important moral dimension here, too. PLAs necessarily entail government discrimination against those citizens who are excluded from a chance to bid on projects. Just as it would be morally wrong for a governmental official to say, "I won't enforce the law even-handedly because I like certain groups of people and dislike others," so it is wrong to say, "I will see to it that government contracts are only awarded to people I like." Officeholders ought to be scrupulously impartial in all their dealings with the public. They have no right to favor some citizens and disfavor others just because the former are political supporters, a practice made all the more odious because it increases the tax burden on the populace in general.

The solution to this problem is simple. The Legislature could pass a statute requiring open, competitive bidding on all government contracts in the state. Or, if that remedy is thought to intrude unduly on local self-rule, the Legislature could at least exercise fiscal prudence by requiring open bidding on all projects funded wholly or partially by state money. That would affect many projects, the Lansing stadium among them. The state is kicking in $1.28 million toward that project's $10 million cost, a figure inflated by the presence of a PLA. The Legislature owes it to the taxpayers from all parts of the state to ensure that their tax dollars are not being frittered away by local officeholders in political favoritism.

Open, competitive bidding for contracts is your best friend as a consumer and it is also your best friend as a taxpayer. We insist on it out of self-interest in the former and ought to insist on it in the latter case, too.

(George C. Leef is an adjunct scholar with the Mackinac Center for Public Policy, a Midland-based research and educational organization.)

Volunteers Needed To Work With Neglected Children

Volunteers are needed to advocate for neglected/abused children involved in protective proceedings in the Washtenaw County Juvenile Court.

The Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASAs) will be training a new class of volunteers Sept. 22 (evening), Sept. 23, and Sept. 24.

Persons interested in "Speaking up for a Child" are urged to contact Judi New at 313-971-2997 or the Washtenaw County Juvenile Court at 313-971-2240.

Advocates are expected to commit to 10-15 hours per month and be able to pass a police background check.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Nobody is safe, as the saying goes, now that Congress is back in session. You got to know, Clem Webster told the fellows Saturday night, that the honorables did some reading—and listening—during their August break, and now he's worried more about what they're not saying than what they are.

For instant, he went on, what they heard back home was what they always hear. Lower taxes and raise services. Balance the budget, but don't cut programs. So Clem is wondering how many reminded themselves that we are one of few countries in the developed world without value added taxes. In fact, while they were back in their districts France increased its VAT two percent to 20.6 percent. Some, if not most, Clem said, must see that this could do for the Federal Government what retail sales tax does for State Governments.

Farthermore, Clem said, the VAT would be paid in small bites at every step in producing goods, then hid in one chunk and paid at the retail end like sales tax. The producers and wholesalers would get credit for tax actual paid by the consumer who wouldn't notice. All consumers would fare alike, and the deal could be sweetened by backing off the income tax that always gets the dander up, was Clem's words.

Natural, Ed Doolittle had other ideas. Ed said everybody but a Democrat knows there's no such thing as a good tax, and the fewer the better. Ed reminded that the new Russia is going down this road, setting up so many taxes nobody can keep up with them. Besides, Ed went on, countries that have VATs don't have sales tax too.

Practical speaking, Ed said,

Police Investigate Theft of Tractor

Chelsea Police report a breaking and entering at Oak Grove Cemetery in the 100 block of E. Middle St., Sept. 18.

A caretaker told police a storage shed was broken into between Saturday and Monday. A 12-horse power garden tractor valued at $3,349 was stolen after someone kicked in the side door, opened the garage and loaded it in a pick-up truck.

Police are investigating the theft and looking for suspects and witnesses.

Clem's case for VAT makes the same sense the big papers make to justify charging for obits. Since when, Ed ask, is death not news. And since when can editors not edit news? Ed saw a long piece in a Sunday paper recent where the publisher said newsprint has gone up 61 percent in the past two years, and the paper had to charge so much a line for death notices. The public still gets a good deal, he said, because based on information obits usual have, the paper expects them to average only $30 apiece. The public is supposed to see how $30 is a better deal than free, was Ed's lament.

The fellows general sided with Ed. Bug Hookum said if you think like Clem and his VAT and the big city publisher and his classified obits you're ready to believe day is night, hot is cold and up is down. Bug said he read another chapter in this reverse spin book just the other day. The National Transportation Safety Board said Washington's National Airport is so dangerous it's safe. The NTSB investigator said the runways are so short, the wind so strong and the traffic so heavy that pilots stay alert out of pure terror.

The safety expert went on to say, though, that "as hazards increase, safety increases, up to a point, but beyond that point the bottom falls out." Bug said the trick must be to know when the bottom is fixing to go. He said he'd be happy to give up some hazards to increase chances that safety would stop short of losing the bottom.

Personal, if this safety logic works we ought to tell drunks to drive as fast as they can so they will get off the road and out of everybody's way sooner.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Semifinalists Named in Merit Scholarship Competition

Qualifying as semifinalists in the 1996 Merit Scholarship Competition are four local students.

Sara Mead and Ana Morrell-Samuels of Chelsea, Aaron Usher of Grass Lake and Andre Kormendi of Manchester join approximately 15,000 students from across the United States in qualifying as semifinalists.

The four local students will have an opportunity to continue in the award competition. They are among the highest scoring program participants in Michigan, representing about half of one percent of the state's seniors. They must still fulfill a number of additional requirements to become finalists and be considered in the extremely rigorous competition for Merit Scholarship awards. The requirement for finalist standing includes meeting very high academic standards in college, preparatory course work, submitting SAT scores which confirm their earlier PSAT performance and being fully endorsed and recommended by their high school principals.

In April and May, the National Merit Scholarship Competition will honor the Merit Scholar designees of 1996 in three nation-wide news media announcements, one for each type of scholarship.

Every finalist will be considered for one of the 2,000 single-payment National Merit $2,000 scholarships. As in the designation of semifinalists, recipients will be chosen on a state-by-state basis. A committee of experienced college admission officers and high school counselors will select the National Merit Scholar designees in each state, by judging which finalists have the strongest combination of abilities, achievements and personal attributes considered to be important for success in rigorous college studies.

In 1996, corporations, company foundations and other business organizations will sponsor some 1,100 Merit Scholarship awards for finalists who meet their preferential criteria. Corporate-sponsored Merit Scholarship awards are offered without regard to geographic distribution. Almost all of these scholarships are provided for children of company employees, residents of communities a grantor organization serves or finalists who have college major and career plans a sponsor wishes to encourage.

Colleges and universities that sponsor Merit Scholarship awards are expected to provide about 3,800 awards in 1996. Only finalists who notify NMSC that a sponsor college is their first choice can be considered for one of these scholarships, and all college-sponsored awards must be used at the institutions financing them. College officials select their award winners using information included in finalists' college admission application materials sent directly to the institution.

DNR Reorganization Being Praised By Farm Bureau

The state's largest farm organization is looking forward to working very closely with the soon-to-be-formed Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ).

"We believe this is an opportunity to align programs for a more user-friendly environmental department and to accomplish effective environmental policies while improving wildlife management," said Scott Everett, associate legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. Gov. Engler recently announced plans to divide the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) into two separate departments, creating the DEQ to handle environmental cleanup and regulatory functions and leaving conservation and recreation programs within the DNR.

Everett said of particular interest to Michigan agriculture is the governor's intention to have the P.A. 116 farmland and open space unit of the land and water division remain within the DNR. Other functions slated to remain with the DNR include wildlife, parks and recreation, office of litigation and program services, law enforcement, forestry management, fisheries, real estate and management information services.

The Michigan Commission of Agriculture has also gone on record supporting the governor's action creating the DEQ.

Get the investment strategy that has outperformed the DJIA 16 of the last 20 years.

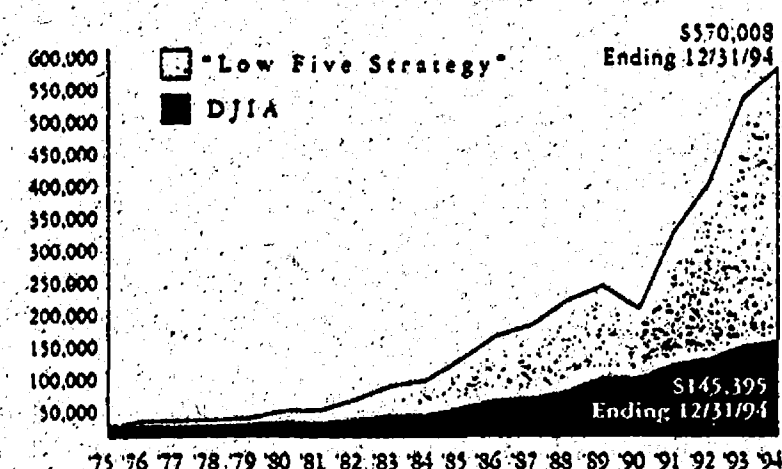

If you invest in stocks, you've probably heard that you should buy low and sell high...you've also probably found this is a lot easier said than done. Well, that's just the aim of the National Equity Trust, Low Five Series.

This investment strategy starts by establishing the ten highest dividend yielding stocks of the DJIA, then selecting the lowest priced five among them.

The trust holds these issues for approximately one year, and pays quarterly dividends. You may then decide to roll into the next series, if available, or take a cash distribution.

For an example of how this strategy has performed versus the DJIA* over time, please see the graph below. For more information on this investment strategy, call the number below.

MARKET VALUE OF $10,000 INVESTED JANUARY 1, 1975

The chart above represents past performance of the DJIA and the Low Five Strategy stocks and should not be considered indicative of future results. Individual investor results will vary. The performance of the strategy is a hypothetical example of how the Low Five Strategy could have performed if its strategy had been employed since 1975. The chart assumes that all dividends during a year are reinvested at the end of the year. It does not reflect sales charges, commissions, expenses or taxes.

old barns, buildings, people and different settings in his paintings. He starts a piece by taking photographs of the scene, often a local setting, he intends to depict. "I keep the camera in the car and every time I see an interesting barn, I take a picture." He then sketches the scene and slowly begins to add the color.

But Bower's work is much different. His detail is his signature and contributes to his popularity. Over the years, Bower estimates he has sold between 500 and 1,000 pieces of artwork. When he first took up the craft, pieces ranged in price from $5 to $25. Nowadays, Bower's work sells from $25 to $500, depending on the size and amount of detail involved. Some paintings are framed, but most are not. Bower says he invests anywhere from two to 100 hours in each piece. Much of his work will be on display and for sale at the Webster Fall Festival.

Slated Saturday, the festival will include 19 artists, a luncheon, pig roast and entertainment, such as the RFD Boys, Blackberry Jam Dulcimer group, magician Jim Fitzsimmons, Wild Swan Storyteller Sandy Ryder, pianist John Touchton, a children's zoo, hay rides and young children's crafts and games. In addition, there will be a large rummage and antique sale, country store, bake sale, blacksmithing demonstration and large display of antique cars, tractors and stationary engines. A special quilt and coverlet exhibit will be displayed in the historic Webster church.

The festival is a fundraiser for renovation and historic preservation projects of the sponsors, Webster United Church of Christ and Webster Township Historical Society. It will be held from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on the corner of Farrell and Webster Church Rds.

Contamination

were dumped into the underground septic tank behind the DSM building. A drain pipe leading from the septic tank to a nearby creek has since been removed to stop any further discharge.

Davidson, a 47-year-old Dexter resident, has entered into a contract with Hi-Po Industrial Services, an emergency spill response company, to clean up the mess. The company was initially brought on site Sept. 8 by the County Drain Commission. A week later, Davidson entered into the contract to pay any costs associated with clean-up. Smith estimated Monday clean-up costs are well over $200,000. He said he is in the process of placing a lien on Davidson's business sites in Chelsea and Cadillac.

Davidson was told by Mike Stagg, a field supervisor for the drain commission, that since he owns the property he is responsible for the clean-up costs. Davidson has reportedly sold off some of his company's assets to Mercer, a similar operation in Jackson. According to Marty Mercer, Davidson is presently employed with the company in the warehouse.

Davidson could also face fines and penalties for the crime he is accused of. The Department of Natural Resources opened a criminal investigation Thursday into the illegal discharge. Conviction on violation of Public Act 451 of 1995, which governs hazardous waste storage and disposal, carries penalties ranging from $25,000 to $50,000 in fines per day of violation, according to the DNR.

Larcenies Reported At Chelsea Hospital

Chelsea Police are investigating two reports of larceny at Chelsea Community Hospital, 775 S. Main St.

On Tuesday, Sept. 12, a 41-year-old Dexter woman reported her wallet was stolen out of the office at Chelsea Community Hospital. She noticed it missing when she prepared to go to lunch. The wallet and its contents are valued at $20.

On the same day, another hospital employee, a 27-year-old Chelsea woman, told police her wallet was stolen between 7:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. She works in the emergency room, and said she placed her purse in an office at the end of the hallway. She noticed it was missing as she prepared to go to lunch. The wallet contained $10 cash.

Break-in Reported

Breaking and entering was reported in the 200 block of E. Middle St., Sept. 3.

Chelsea Police were called to the area after someone reported liquor, wine, cigarettes and a tool set were stolen between Sept. 2 and Sept. 3.

Entry was gained by the thief unscrewing the hasp of the pad lock on the door. The items stolen are valued at $200.

Car License Plate Stolen

Chelsea Police report a larceny occurred in the 1200 block of Wilkinson St., Sept. 15.

A 49-year-old resident told police the license plate off his 1991 Ford Escort was stolen while parked in his driveway.

Shades of Autumn Liven Up Your Meals

By Debbie Barrow
Extension Home Economist

It's easy to get "S-A-Day" during the summer when markets abound with juicy, crunchy, sweet fresh fruit and vegetables. As fall approaches, however, we don't need to give up our goal of eating five fruits and/or vegetables each day.

Apples, cranberries and winter squash are among the fall offerings that bring deep, bright colors to the markets and to our table.

Here are some ways of serving these tasty fall treats.

- Stir 1/2 cup of pureed pumpkin and a teaspoon of pumpkin pie spice into 2 cups of pancake batter.

- Add applesauce to your favorite meat or turkey loaf or your favorite stuffing recipe.

- Bake winter squash topped with a combination of brown sugar, cinnamon, raisins and butter, margarine or butter substitute.

- Stuff acorn with chopped apples, raisins, cinnamon and jam or jelly.

- Mix pureed pumpkin and a dash of nutmeg and cinnamon into vanilla yogurt or any other low-fat frozen dairy product.

- Toss cranberries into your apple crisp for a burst of color and tartness.

★ An Estate Planning Primer

Concerned about the well-being of your family? The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants explains that effective estate planning can ensure that your children are properly cared for, that legal costs of administering your wishes are minimized, and that your estate—the property you have accumulated over your lifetime—is not subject to unnecessary or exorbitant taxes.

The Cornerstone Of Any Estate Plan

A will is the cornerstone of any estate plan. It outlines who will receive your property at your death and also names an executor to administer your estate. Should you die without a will, there is no guarantee that your wishes will be carried out. The laws of your state will determine how your estate is to be divided among your surviving relatives. If you have no close relatives, your assets automatically will go to the state.

Naming A Guardian

If you have minor children, your will should name a guardian to care for them in the event you and your spouse both die. If you have not named a guardian in your will, the courts will appoint someone to care for your children.

In the eyes of the law, there are two kinds of guardianships: a guardian who handles the children's day-to-day upbringing and one who manages whatever money or property you've left to them. While it may seem easiest to have one guardian handle both responsibilities, this may not always be wise. For example, if a person is well-suited to raising your children, but not particularly adept at managing finances, you should consider naming a person with more financial know-how to oversee the children's assets in cooperation with the other guardian.

The Role of Living Trusts

In general terms, a trust is a separate legal entity into which a person transfers property for his or her benefit or for the benefit of others (beneficiaries). In recent years, many people have started to utilize living trusts. These trusts, which can be established and executed during your lifetime, provide a means for you to distribute property to your heirs. Living trusts enable you to avoid probate (the process and costs associated with carrying out the terms of your will), but do not protect your assets from estate taxes.

Minimizing Estate Taxes

Generally, you may leave up to $600,000 in assets to your heirs free of federal estate taxes. The $600,000 is called the credit equivalent amount. The federal government collects estate taxes ranging from 37 cents to 55 cents on every dollar over this amount. In addition, many states levy death taxes. To minimize the tax bite on your estate, CPAs recommend that you estimate the fair market value of your property. If you think your estate will top $600,000 at the time of your death, it may be wise to begin transferring property out of your estate. An easy way to diminish the size of your estate is to give away some assets. Uncle Sam allows each person to make a gift of up to $10,000 per year (or $20,000 a year for couples) to as many people as desired without incurring taxes.

Another way to transfer assets out of your estate is through an irrevocable trust. However, since you lose all control over the trust's assets, only those individuals who are certain they have sufficient funds to maintain a comfortable lifestyle should consider this type of trust. A gift tax return must be filed by the grantor for the fair market value of the assets transferred to the trust.

Be aware that the estate tax marital deduction allows husbands and wives to leave all their assets to each other without triggering estate taxes. However, failing to use the full credit equivalent amount of $600,000 means more taxes may be owed on the second estate. It's important to review how assets are owned to make sure each spouse makes maximum use of the $600,000 credit equivalent.

Living Wills Provide Peace of Mind

As part of the estate planning process, it also may be wise to prepare a living will. A living will indicates whether or not you want to receive life-sustaining treatment in the event you become terminally ill. In the absence of a living will, the presumption is that you want treatment to continue indefinitely.

Keep in mind that wills and estate plans are not once-in-a-lifetime documents. CPAs emphasize that changing circumstances and new laws make it essential to review your estate plan every few years.

National Building Codes Are Topics For WCC Seminars

Building inspectors and officials, code administrators, mechanical, plumbing and electrical inspectors, plan reviewers and architects will get the latest updates in the 1993 BOCA National Building Code and Mechanical Code Update in two, one-day seminars sponsored by the Washtenaw Community College Construction Institute this September.

• 1993 BOCA National Building Code Update will meet Sept. 19, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Morris Lawrence Building. The fee includes a copy of the BOCA National Building Update handbook and refreshments. Lunch is on your own.

Instructor Larry Pickel will demonstrate how to identify the most significant differences between the 1990 and 1993 Editions of the BOCA National Building Code. The program has been approved by the State Bureau of Construction Codes for six hours of technical credits for Building Inspectors (BI), Building Officials (BO), and Plan Reviewers (PR) for the 1993-96 cycle.

• Mechanical Code Update is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 28, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on campus. Instructor Richard Crpnn, chief mechanical inspector for the City of Ann Arbor, provides a comprehensive study in the code changes from 1990 to 1993 pertaining to mechanical equipment and systems for both residential and commercial sites. Over 100 specific items will be covered. The program has been approved by the State Bureau of Construction Codes for six hours of technical credits for Mechanical Inspectors (MI), Building Officials (BO), and Plan Reviewers (PR) for the 1993-96 cycle.

Class size is limited, early registration is encouraged. For more information and fees, call the WCC Construction Institute at (313) 973-3533.

KAREN KOZIEL Pinckney Girl Will Compete in State Pageant

Karen Koziel, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Koziel, recently won the title of Miss Junior Pinckney and will be competing in state pageant finals in Novi this February.

Karen attends Pinckney High school and is a senior this fall. Karen spends her free time singing, acting and dancing. She has been involved in the Toledo Repertoire Theater and has held many lead roles in other performances.

Sponsoring Karen in the state pageant are: The Michigan Group Realty, Jeannie's Barber Shop, Clean & Sweep Contractors and University Marketing & Student Affairs of Eastern Michigan University.

In its 10th year the Miss Junior America pageant offers its contestants an experience of a lifetime. Many previous winners, like Tiffany Amber Thiessen who has appeared in the feature film "The Son In Law" and Ashley Johnson who has been seen in the long-running television show "Growing Pains" have been past contestant winners.

Master Gardener Fritz Will Speak at McKune

Master Gardener Barbra Fritz will be the featured speaker at the third program in McKune Memorial Library's 1994-95 Grapevine Series. Her presentation, titled, "Time to Bring Your Garden Indoors," will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 26 at 7 p.m., upstairs at the Library.

Fritz will present tips to help insure the successful transition of houseplants, herbs, perennials and annuals from the outdoor to indoor environment.

Fritz received her master gardener designation by successfully completing the training program at the Washtenaw County Extension Office through the Co-operative Extension Service at Michigan State University.

"This presentation will definitely be more than 'before the first frost bring your plants inside,'" Fritz stated.

"I use slides and actually illustrate how to use symptoms to narrow down the causes of your plant problems."

Fritz would like participants to bring plants with them that have puzzling problems. She will discuss plant disorders, help you to diagnose your plant's problem, and suggest appropriate solutions. She will also distribute useful handouts, and suggest additional readings for those who want to learn more about this topic.

McKune's Grapevine is a series of presentation-discussion programs featuring interesting people talking about topics of interest to readers. Presentations are free and open to the public.

The Grapevine Series is co-sponsored by Friends of McKune Memorial Library of Chelsea, Maureen's and Serendipity Paperback Book Exchange.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Sylvan Township

Recovered Stolen Vehicle

A 1985 Chevy S-10 pick-up was recovered on Pierce Rd. near Bush Rd., Sept. 9. The vehicle, valued at $2,000, was reported stolen out of Jackson county. A deputy found the vehicle while investigating another complaint. The vehicle was discovered upside down in a ditch. No passengers were inside. The owner of the truck is a Grass Lake resident.

Dexter Township

Found Property

Several items belonging to a Grass Lake man were found on Hanker Rd. near Noah Rd., Sept. 9. The items, which included a pair of boots, a jacket, gloves and miscellaneous property, were discovered in the bushes while a deputy was making a property check. The owner's identity was made via a mailing label found at the scene. The owner told police the property was inside his truck, which was stolen. The truck was later recovered in Sylvan township.

A woman's wallet was found in the 11000 block of North Territorial Rd., Sept. 10. A 15-year-old boy mowing the lawn found the wallet buried in the grass. The wallet belongs to a 21-year-old woman identified through her driver's license. Police will contact her to pick up her property.

Malicious Destruction of Property

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 11400 block of North Territorial Rd., Sept. 9. A deputy found an Ameritech pay telephone ran over. The post it was mounted on was uprooted from the ground, but the phone was still operational. A tree was also damaged during the attack.

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported in the 14000 block of North Territorial Rd., Sept. 10. A 42-year-old township man told police he noticed the latch to his screen door was damaged. It appeared to be pried and its metal frame bent. Damage is estimated at $10. It appears, however, no one took anything from the residence.

Frank Home Being Nominated To National Historic Register

By Lloyd Baldwin

The home of John and Jacquelyn Frank, 138 E. Middle St., Chelsea, has been undergoing a historic restoration since 1991. To celebrate the house's unique history, the Franks have decided to nominate the house for inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places.

The National Register was established in 1966 to catalogue and document historically and architecturally significant buildings, structures, sites, and objects of at least 50 years of age. The nomination is being prepared by Lloyd Baldwin, a recent graduate of the Master's Degree program in Historic Preservation at Eastern Michigan University.

The 1950's and 1960's were periods of vast change in the American landscape. Urban renewal and suburban development projects were resulting in the demolition of countless historical assets across the nation.

Congress responded to the concerns of preservationists by creating the National Register, which is administered by the Department of the Interior. The goal was to promote the preservation of significant elements of our past which could physically illustrate the history and progress of the American experience.

Inclusion on the National Register is primarily a symbolic honor, offering very little protection for a property. For many, the honor of having a property recognized as carrying historical or architectural significance is the primary benefit.

Owners are bound only by local regulations, and may, within local limits, alter, move, even demolish a National Register property. Of course, major changes or demolition can result in the property being removed from the Register.

Once the National Register nomination is completed it will be sent to Lansing. There it is reviewed by the State Historic Preservation Office. After review by this office it is sent to the State Review Board for their approval or rejection. If the Board determines that the property, in their opinion, meets National Register criteria, it is then sent to the Department of the Interior for their review and final decision.

The Frank house appears to carry a strong significance both architecturally and historically. The house is a brick-veneered Queen Anne. The design of the house was meant to be dramatic and solid, yet give an impression of fluidity. The multiple gables with their heavy wood trim seems to hold the house in place, as do the corbelled caps of the slender chimney stacks. The stone detailing of the house is especially dramatic on the bay unit, which links the bay to the rough-faced stone foundation. The large windows in the foundation indicate that the basement area was used for much more than storage, possibly as quarters for a servant and/or a kitchen for doing the less refined work involved in cooking a meal for one of Chelsea's leading families. The use of servants was planned in the design of the house. Rear stairways give access to all levels of the house without the servant "bothering" the family. A "speaking tube" connects the servants quarters to the kitchen. Food from the kitchen reached the dining room through a pass-through built into the wall unit cabinets that separate the two rooms.

Each room in a Victorian house had specific functions. The front parlor was exclusively for formal entertaining. On sad occasions this room would also be used for funerals. A second parlor was designed for day-to-day relaxation, and behind this might be a private study for the man of the house. Doorways tended to be quite wide. Privacy could be provided by closing the large pocket doors, normally hidden behind the walls. To mark room transitions the designers added delicate panels of wood spindle work. Floors were often embellished by elaborately designed parquet borders which were different in each room. The large windows of Victorian houses were commonly embellished by panels of colored glass. 138 E. Middle is no exception. Colored glass panes mark the transom over the main entrance, the arched window of the formal parlor, the second parlor window, and the stairway.

The house also shows another typical feature: a grand staircase that descends into the foyer. Visitors would be brought into the foyer by a servant. The foyer, actually an ante-room, was a form of intermediate space. The visitor would present his or her calling card to the servant, who would deliver it to the lady of the house. The lady would determine the importance of the guest and which room they would be directed to.

To emphasize the importance of the lady, the grand staircase allowed for a dramatic entrance as she descended from the strictly private upstairs sitting room to the more public spaces below. Multi-colored glass panes above an elaborate staircase window increased the effect by back lighting the lady with colorful effects.

The Victorian house was meant to be more than a home. It was to be a statement of social status and cultivated taste. The Victorian home was also an expression of the technological and industrial power of the nation. Moldings, fireplace mantles, furniture and accessories were machine made and heavily decorated. Even mundane and generally hidden window and door hardware was richly detailed.

A middle class homeowner could outfit his or her home almost completely from a variety of mail order houses across the nation. Mass production made the items affordable, and a strong rail network made shipping quick and cheap.

Just west of this house, at 118 E. Middle, is its twin. The two houses were built at roughly the same time, and the fact that they are the same design indicates the blueprints likely came from a catalogue or pattern book.

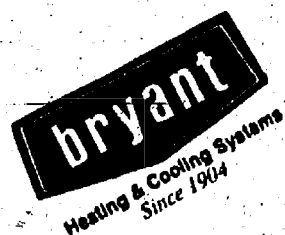

Pattern books and catalogues were popular sources for houses in the 19th century and through much of the 20th century. The popularity of these mass-marketed houses resulted in house styles that can be found from coast-to-coast, regardless of climate or ethnicity, which early on had been key determining factors in what a house should look like.

The Frank house was built around 1885. Previous to this a frame house had been on the site from the 1860's to at least the end of 1884. The land that the house is built on is described in deeds as being lots 36 and 37, block three, of the original plat of the Village of Chelsea. This plat was registered by Elisha and James M. Congdon, the founders of Chelsea, in 1850. (Continued on page 18)

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Bulldogs Endure Close Loss To Milan Big Reds

The Bulldogs endured a 21-20 defeat to Milan in a heartbreaking loss that was almost their first win Friday, Sept. 15.

Milan scored 14 points in the last five minutes to tie the game and then seven points in overtime in the Southeastern Conference football game.

The Big Reds' record stands at 2-1 (1-1 SEC) and Chelsea remains winless at 0-3 (0-2).

"We did fine. We had a nice comeback," said Milan Coach Steve Robb. He attributed the Milan's team 14 and 7 point advances to "a lucky bounce in the end zone."

"When we drove down to the end zone we got our kids pumped up. I think that helped us win," he said.

The Bulldogs scored 14 points in the second quarter to take a commanding lead going into the half.

Chelsea opened the scoring in the second quarter when junior Jamie Holzhausen ran the ball in from the 2-yard line.

Later in the quarter, Bulldog quarterback Dustin White threw the ball 81 yards to Mark Hand to give Chelsea a 14-point lead.

"We had a 14-point lead; the game was ours to lose," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave. "We just have to not lose the game."

After a halftime celebration in which Milan honored past great players, Coach Steve Robb was making some of his own.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, and the Bulldogs were well ahead in the fourth.

With 4:48 still to go in the game, and starting at a 4th and 21 from the Chelsea 31, Milan junior quarterback Greg Koczman threw a pass into the endzone that went through a Chelsea defender's hands and into receiver Jaie LaFleur's arms for a touchdown.

After Chelsea failed to get a first down, Milan got the ball back. Senior Shawn Beaton ran around end and ran 29 yards for a touchdown. Jeff Conly's kick tied the game at 14 as the time ran down.

Beaton scored again in overtime, this time running the ball in from the five. Conly kicked the extra point for Milan's first lead.

But Chelsea had to be given credit for trying.

White threw senior Kent Young a 10-yard touchdown pass to make the score 21-20. The Bulldogs decided to go for the two-point conversion and the victory. But the Big Reds prevented the Bulldogs from scoring, preserving the win.

Girls Basketball Team Defeats Lumen Christi

Chelsea girls basketball team played their best game of the season on Tuesday night, Sept. 12, defeating Jackson Lumen Christi, 70-48.

Chelsea opened with a strong inside game as they pounded the ball into their All-League post player, Annie Terpstra. Annie had 12 of Chelsea's 15 first quarter points. Lumen Christi countered with outside three pointers and a fast transition game to force a tie after one quarter.

Chelsea stepped up the pace of the game with a full-court press to open the second quarter and outscored Lumen Christi 21-9 in the quarter. This gave the Lady Bulldogs a 36-24 lead at half time and they were off to the races.

Chelsea continued the sudden outburst of scoring in the second half as Melissa Carty hit for three three-pointers in a 23-6 quarter for Chelsea. Chelsea let up on the torrid pace in the fourth quarter as Lumen Christi scored 18 points to Chelsea's 11.

However, over-all it was a great night for Chelsea as eight players scored. Co-captain Jessica Inwood had her best night of the year with 16 points, while Terpstra had 18 to lead the team and Kasie Ruhlig scored 13. Carty finished with nine while Heidi Wehrwein had six, Suzy Steele had four, Heidi Kennitz had three, and Carrie Williams had one.

Terpstra dominated the back boards with 15 while Wehrwein and Inwood each pulled down eight.

With no game on Thursday last week the Bulldogs were off until Tuesday, Sept. 19, as they play Williamston at home and then open the SEC League season on Thursday against League favorite Milan on the Chelsea floor.

Frosh Gridders Lose To Monroe Jefferson

Chelsea's freshman football team lost to Monroe Jefferson 34-0 Tuesday, Sept. 12, falling to 1-2 for the year.

Jefferson scored in the first quarter after being held on downs on the Chelsea 5. The Bulldogs couldn't move the ball, and following a partially blocked punt, Jefferson pushed in for a touchdown to lead 8-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The Bears partially blocked another punt in the second quarter and converted a seven-play drive with a touchdown pass.

Vince Scheffler blocked a punt for the Bulldogs late in the second quarter, but Chelsea fumbled away the opportunity and trailed 14-0 at the half.

Jefferson scored on their first possession of the second half, but the Bulldogs came back to threaten, aided by a roughing the kicker penalty and a 17-yard pass from Scott Johnson to Rourke Skelton. However, a mishandled pitch on an option play was returned for a Jefferson TD and a 26-0 lead. The Bears' final touchdown came on a pass in the fourth quarter.

There were few bright spots for the Bulldogs. One of them was the rushing of Dan Seward and Vince Scheffler, who came in at quarterback when Scott Johnson left with a bruised elbow. Johnson was 2 of 8 passing, with two dropped. Johnson and Rourke Skelton each had nice kick-off returns.

The freshmen play again Tuesday, Sept. 26 at home at 7 p.m. in a rescheduled game against Lincoln.

Girls Frosh Cagers Lose To Pinckney

Chelsea freshman basketball team lost an exciting game to Pinckney in overtime last Wednesday by a score of 40 to 35. Each team had the lead several times during the contest with the visitors tying the game with 13 seconds left.

Chelsea had one last chance in regulation as Karen Kuhl caught a long pass but the shot came up short. Pinckney then scored the only five points in overtime.

Kristen Ellis, Karen Kuhl and Megan Holefska led the scoring as Chelsea displayed a balanced attack with seven girls scoring. The rebounding was competitive with Katy Long, Amelia Botsford, Brooke Stalaski, and Tamra Smith pulling down the rebounds for Chelsea.

"This was easily our best effort of the young season as our girls showed much improvement from last week," commented coach John Ruhlig.

Kalitta Wins In Keystone Nationals

Scott Kalitta repeated as Top Fuel champion at the Pioneer Keystone Nationals Sunday with a decisive final round victory over Larry Dixon, Jr., at Maple Grove Raceway in Reading, Pa.

His fourth win of the 1995 season, which included a semifinal conquest of Cory McClenathan, his principal challenger in the race for the Winston Championship, enabled the Chelsea resident to open up a 67-point lead with only three races remaining in the NHRA series.

The 33-year-old veteran drove the Dick LaHaie-tuned American International Airways/Sequent Computers Special to a final round time of 4.801 seconds at 298.90 miles per hour to dispose of Dixon, the recent winner of the U.S. Nationals, who had mechanical problems and slowed to 5.937 at 150.88 mph.

He beat Jack Ostrander and Jim Head in the first two rounds to earn a semifinal berth opposite McClenathan, a duel he won with a time of 4.816 seconds at 303.54 mph. The victory, worth approximately $40,000 in cash and awards, was Kalitta's first since early July, when he prevailed at Denver, Colo.

The tour next moves to Topeka, Kan., where Kalitta will try to win for the second time this season. He won the first of the tour's two Topeka stops last June.

Connie Kalitta did his job in trying to beat McClenathan in the first round. His .447 reaction time gave him an early lead in the second of the AIA entries to 6.671 seconds at 131.27 mph.

Chelsea Police Arrest Dexter Man

Chris M. Hoogerhyde, 18, of Dexter was arrested by Chelsea Police on Main St., Sept. 16.

Hoogerhyde was wanted on a warrant for a probation violation after he failed to pay fines, costs and restitution.

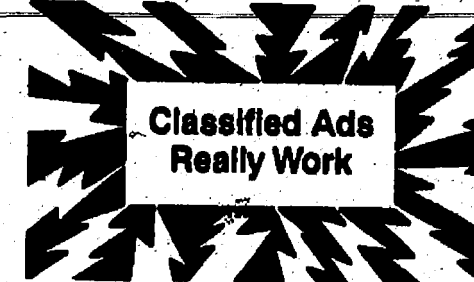

An officer on patrol found the suspect walking near Pierce Park.

CHAMPIONS of the 9- and 10-year-old Washtenaw Amateur Baseball Association League this summer was Baker Baseball Association League. The team posted a 14-3 season record and an over-all record of 16-5. The team consisted of, front row from left, Kyle Brown, Matt Cunningham, Ryan Keiser, Nick Miller and Jeff Johnston. Second row: Tim Gillespie, Doug Demory, Paul Newhouse, Jimmy Baker, Joseph Myers, Michael Herter and Julia Arnold. Third row: coaches Craig Brown, Cindy Gillespie, Dave Miller, Al Baker and Larry Cunningham.

7th Grade Girls Basketball Team Takes Saline Loss

The 7th grade girls basketball team took a 24-18 loss to Saline in their first game Wednesday, Sept. 13.

In their first interscholastic game, the team started out playing well but quickly fell behind. After the first quarter, the score was tied, but the Bulldogs couldn't overcome their early disadvantages.

Michelle Dettling was the high scorer for the team with 8 points.

Melinda Newhouse, Sarah Horozdowsky, Heidi Layher, Caitlin Deis and Tia Schuler added two points each. Josie Wells had four rebounds and Jessie Cole led the team in steals.

Other members who contributed were Sally Compton, Tara Koch, Jenny Diesing, Lindsey Baker, Katie Boshoven, Kate Wheeler, Caitlin Biedron, Betsy Ruhlig, Meagen Hollis and Katrina Hammer.

Girls Tennis Team Continues To Win

Chelsea girls tennis team emerged almost unscathed from their string of meets which began on Sept. 14.

They were 2-1 in meet competition, and enjoyed second place in the Pinckney Invitational.

The girls had their best performance ever at the Pinckney Invitational on Sept. 9, sweeping singles, and losing by only one point to the first-place team, 17 to 18. Liz Holdsworth, Aubri Shermet, Anne Frederick, and Claire Issaz placed first in singles. The pairs of Bree Wireman/Sara Walters and Leslee Parker/Emily Arend were second. Katie Zirolli/Kindra Weid and Laura Hurst/Autumn Allen placed third.

On Sept. 11, the tennis team defeated Monroe Jefferson 7-0. Liz Holdsworth defeated Carrie Swope 6-2, 6-1; Aubri Shermet defeated Karelyn Hemenway 6-2, 6-1; Anne Frederick defeated Stephanie Miller 6-1, 6-0; Claire Issaz defeated Erika Brodie 6-1, 6-0. Autumn Allen and Laura Hurst defeated Stephanie Patterson and Amanda Burgess, 6-1, 6-0. Monroe defaulted at 2 and 3 doubles.

Chelsea's only loss of the week was on Sept. 12 against a very tough Saline team. The only victory for Chelsea was at third doubles, with Sara Walters and Bree Wireman defeating their Saline opponents. "Sara and Bree's victory at Saline was a highlight of the season! We were all cheering like crazy," said Coach Marta Learman. The final score of this meet was 1-6.

The final meet of the week was against Williamston on Sept. 14. Chelsea won 4-3. "It was closer than we had expected," said coach Learman. "Luckily Emily and Leslee were able to take Williamston's first doubles for the match!" Other victorious players against Williamston were Liz Holdsworth, Aubri Shermet, and Claire Issaz.

Chelsea's next home meet will be on Sept. 28 against Riverview at 4 p.m. The girls are 5-1 in regular season play.

NATE COOPER, (11) sophomore and Mike Kolessar, (15) sophomore work together to control a pass at midfield from David Pleske, (13) senior. A very talented Tecumseh team prevailed, 2-0.

Soccer Team Loses 2

In the game played Tuesday, Sept. 12, in Dexter the Chelsea varsity soccer team played a lackluster game against a surprising Dexter squad. While there were some strong individual performances, such as from sophomore defenders Rob Knierper and Mike McPike and senior Brian Jedele, soccer is a team sport and team effort was not evident as Chelsea fell to Dexter. Final score: Dexter 2, Chelsea 0.

On Thursday, Tecumseh came to Chelsea for what turned out to be a tremendous soccer match. Both Chelsea and Tecumseh played with skill and determination. Chelsea, as has become their trademark, played an inspired game against a strong rival. While the end result was similar to the Dexter game, the effort and play was at a much higher level.

The game remained scoreless through the first 60 minutes, thanks to the great effort of the Chelsea defense of senior sweeper Brian Jedele, sophomore stopper Kyle Christensen and sophomore full-backs Rob Knierper and Mike McPike and goalkeepers senior Nate Benjamin and sophomore Adam Erskine.

The efforts of senior midfielders Josh Hofing and Scott Holmes played a major part in Chelsea's ability to stay in the game to the final whistle. In the end, Tecumseh's strong offensive play was able to tally two goals to win the contest. Final score: Tecumseh 2, Chelsea 0.

Chelsea is now 2-3-0 over-all and 1-3 in the S.E.C.

Next home game is Thursday against conference leading Saline, 6 p.m. at IBC fields on McKinley Rd.

Any questions should be directed to coach David Cooper at 475-0990.

7th Grade Girls Basketball Team Takes Saline Loss

The 7th grade girls basketball team took a 24-18 loss to Saline in their first game Wednesday, Sept. 13.

In their first interscholastic game, the team started out playing well but quickly fell behind. After the first quarter, the score was tied, but the Bulldogs couldn't overcome their early disadvantages.

Michelle Dettling was the high scorer for the team with 8 points.

Melinda Newhouse, Sarah Horozdowsky, Heidi Layher, Caitlin Deis and Tia Schuler added two points each. Josie Wells had four rebounds and Jessie Cole led the team in steals.

Other members who contributed were Sally Compton, Tara Koch, Jenny Diesing, Lindsey Baker, Katie Boshoven, Kate Wheeler, Caitlin Biedron, Betsy Ruhlig, Meagen Hollis and Katrina Hammer.

Bulldog Golf Team Takes 2 of 3 Matches

The Bulldog golf team showed solid improvement in winning two matches during the past week.

On Wednesday Chelsea split a three-way match at home, beating Milan 207 to 205 and losing to Pinckney 205 to 169. Medalist for the match was Justin Kors from Pinckney with a 35.

Leading scorer for Chelsea was Justin Kusterer with 49. Other Chelsea scores were Josh Bernhard with 51, Steve McDonald 52, Jake Szczygiel with 53.

Leading scores for Chelsea's junior varsity were Matt Freeman with 49, Ryan McDonald 60, Joe Mignano 62, and Brian Groesser with 63.

On Thursday, Chelsea traveled to Pineview Golf Course in Ypsilanti to take on Lincoln. Chelsea defeated Lincoln by virtue of a tie breaker after the two teams tied in regulation at 186. When this happens the fifth man's score is then used to determine the winner.

Leading scorer for Chelsea and medalist was Steve McDonald. Other Chelsea scores were Josh Bernhard 46 and Gavin Gunderson, Matt Hand, and Matt Freeman, all at 48.

In junior varsity competition Aaron Smith carded a 53, followed by Ryan McDonald, Justin Fusco, and John Carter, all with 61.

The next competition for Chelsea is the Chelsea/Dexter Tournament at Hudson Mills on Monday.

CHS Girls Cross Country Loses To Saline Hornets

Chelsea girls cross-country team lost to Saline 24-33 at the Millpond Park Course in Saline on Tuesday, Sept. 12.

Saline runner Rita Arndt set a new park course record of 20:18, breaking her old record of 20:50 set on Oct. 19, 1993.

Sophomore Jeannie Spink ran only 7 seconds off the course record, with a time of 20:58.

Weather conditions were cloudy and humid with temperatures in the 70's.

Coach Pat Clark said the girls did well, despite having one runner not feeling well. And they also faced tough opponents.

"We had a nice effort, but once again we were running against another top 10 A team," he said. "It was just one of those days where our best effort just wasn't enough. We are improving and hopefully it will produce a win for us soon."

"The team is doing fine and it's coming around," he said.

Other individual times for the team are as follows:

Meghann Ziegler, 21:59; Karen Pieper, 22:00; Katie Spink, 22:18; Sarah Jedde, 23:46; Melissa Hand, 23:54; Jenny Space, 24:29; Sarah Metzler, 24:43; Megan Smith, 25:14; Melissa Williams, 25:27; Katie Henry, 25:28; Leigha Young, 25:46; Jessica Gillespie, 26:28; Laura Turek, 26:29; Dana Meza, 26:33; Kim Niehaas, 27:13; Angie Bell, 27:52; Emily Wineland, 28:01; Krystal Baird, 28:03; Louisa Hubbard, 28:36; Jennifer Buss, 30:41 and Becca Williams, 30:49.

Chelsea Equestrian Meets Gain Popularity

As these warm days and cool nights of September settle in and children are back in school, we often think of Friday night football games. However, there is another high school sporting event gaining in popularity. Many parents are finding camaraderie and "team spirit" at week-end equestrian meets.

Equestrian meets are horse show competitions between area high school teams. There are three meets in each district culminating in a State Finals competition at the Detroit Fairgrounds in October. The winning A, B, C, and D teams from each district across the state vie for state championship status on this very intense week-end.

For those not familiar with the "horsey" end of things, Chelsea has had an equestrian team for several years. The team has been to State Finals three years in succession now in the class A division. They are well on their way to a fourth district championship after their first meet on Sept. 9.

Chelsea riders managed to outdo some very fine competition from the Manchester, Saline, and Huron-New Boston teams.

Riders are judged on their ability to ride and show their horse in the equitation classes. Speed events are judged according to fastest times on correctly run patterns. Chelsea definitely has some hard working members who have been practicing to be the best!

Members showing at the last meet scored points as follows: Kevin Grifka 7, Kelly Kentala 12, Kyle Kentala 31, Heather Kern 2, Laura Koenig 2, Debbie Pierce 2, Ben Potocki 7, Chris Potocki 4.5, Alix Ryder 16.5, Kirsten Stelner 6, Jenny Swope 23, Shelly Williams 7, Sarah Wilson 4.5.

Other riders on the team include Jocelyn Dohner, Allison Knight, Jeanette McDougal, Layla Rosario, and Meghann Ziegler.

The next meet is Sept. 24 at 9 a.m. at the Wayne County Fairgrounds in Belleville. Coaches Kathy and Jill invite the public to join them as they cheer the team on to another victory!

★ When Old Wiring Needs Replacement

We've all heard the stories about house fires due to bad wiring. They get considerable attention because they are not common. Most occurrences are in older homes.

The main concern with wire safety is the insulation around the metal wire or conductor, not the wire itself. The insulation is like the weak link in the chain. If it is good, the wire will be good. If the insulation is bad, this is probably because there was an overload on the wire.

The different types of insulation, plastic and cloth, will react differently when an overload takes place. Plastic insulation will become distorted and cloth will become hard and brittle. Cloth insulation is older and is the kind about which you should be more concerned. The overload process can happen slowly, over time, or in an instant. If the insulation is unable to protect the wire and it becomes exposed, a fire could result.

The easiest way to know the condition of the wire is to bend it where it has not been bent before. If you can bend it 90 degrees and the insulation does not crack and expose the conductor, the wire is acceptable.

If you expose the metal conductor at 90 degrees or less, the wire is less than acceptable and would be classified as marginal or poor by the trained home inspector. Marginal means the wire is less than acceptable and needs attention in the near future. The situation is similar to a bald tire on a car. The tire will probably stay intact for another few thousand miles if there are no serious bumps in the road. There is no guarantee, though, and there is somewhat of a risk involved.

If the insulation around the wire cracks or breaks when you bend it, the wire is considered poor and needs replacement immediately due to an imminent danger it poses. If the wire were related once again to a tire on a car, the exposed cords on the tire would be showing in this case. Driving on this exposed tire would be a much greater risk.

Generally, if house wiring has the proper size fuses or circuit breakers, it is dependable for 70+ years. In their initial installation, the overwhelming percentage of homes are properly protected. But, in the majority of homes that have fuses that are more than 30 years old, there probably are some compromises.

If replacement is needed, you can expect to pay approximately $125-$175 per circuit. It is generally in homes 50 years or older that a serious rewiring job is needed and, fortunately, this is rare. If you have any questions about your wiring, call a professional home inspector or a licensed electrician.

Your Money Matters

How many times have you managed to save $1,000 simply to end up spending it all? Maybe your plan was to save that money for a specific reason, like furniture or a home improvement. Or maybe you don't have any plans for that $1,000, until something comes along that you just can't resist, like a new stereo system.

Everyone is tempted to spend their savings at some point, but savings are for emergencies and specific goals. If you don't have the discipline to resist spending, there are ways to keep yourself from dipping into your savings unnecessarily. One simple way is to place your money into a certificate of deposit, or CD.

This CD is not to be confused with the kind of CD you play on with new stereo system. This CD, which may also be called a time deposit account, offers a higher interest rate than a regular savings account in return for your promise not to withdraw the money for a specified time period. CDs are available at credit unions and banks and are federally insured. The fact that they are insured means the risk of losing any money is very low.

Say you have managed to save $3,000, or were given a bonus at work. First, you should have 3-6 months of income in a savings account available for your immediate use in case of an emergency or unexpected unemployment. If you don't need any more money in your emergency fund or don't trust yourself not to spend the savings or bonus, you might want to take a part of that money and put it into a CD. If the money is your emergency fund, place it in a short-term CD so you will have access to the money more often.

Credit unions and banks offer a variety of CDs which vary in interest rates depending on how long you are willing to keep your money on deposit. The longer the time length of the CD, the higher the interest rate. Depending on the financial institution, CDs are available from three months to several years. Interest rates will also vary among financial institutions. Credit unions tend to offer higher interest rates than banks. There also may be a minimum deposit required ranging from $100 to $2,500. Call around to various financial institutions to find a CD with an interest rate, time length and minimum deposit that meets your needs.

If you're not sure about your future financial plans, you may want to choose a short-term CD. That way you can withdraw all or part of the money if you do have a need. The same is true if the money is for your emergency fund. Be aware that there are penalties for early withdrawal. Ask the financial institution about any penalties before you deposit your money into a CD. Even if you have no plans to withdraw the money early, you need to know the consequences—just in case. It's the penalty that will help you keep your hands off that money.

You can use a CD for a specific savings goal because there are no limits on depositing extra money into a CD at any time. If you know you want new windows for the house next summer, you could periodically deposit money into a one-year CD. That way you have the money there and you can't touch it. At the end of the year, when the CD matures, you have your new windows paid in full.

Realize that there are other investment vehicles that will give you a higher interest rate. Those other investments will have a higher risk top. CDs are a conservative investment. Some people don't like having limited access to their money, for others the limited access is a help in teaching financial discipline.

Part of any sound financial plan is a balance between risky and conservative investments. Everyone needs a foundation of savings before they can take on higher risk investments, such as stocks. A CD is a good vehicle to build that foundation especially if you find yourself spending your savings.

Truck Collides with Car in Polly's Lot

A private property accident was reported in the parking lot at Polly's Market, 1101 S. Main St., Sept. 14.

A 45-year-old Gregory woman told police she set her emergency brake, but when she returned from the store she noticed her 1994 Ford pick-up had rolled back and struck another vehicle. The owner of the 1985 Buick struck by the Gregory woman's truck is a Grass Lake resident.

No violations were issued, but Chelsea Police advised the truck owner to have her brake checked.

Local Man Wanted On Bench Warrant

Mark A. Nolan, 24, of Chelsea turned himself in to Chelsea Police Thursday, Sept. 14.

Nolan knew he was wanted on a bench warrant out of Battle Creek for failing to appear in court on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He turned himself into Chelsea Police, but the Michigan State Police at the Battle Creek office said they could not pick him up. Instead, Nolan was told to report to 10th District Court in Battle Creek to answer to charges.

Purse Stolen from Chelsea McDonald's

A Jackson woman who ate lunch at McDonald's Sept. 17 reported to Chelsea Police that her purse was stolen.

The woman said she left the local restaurant, 1535 S. Main St., without her purse. She called a short time later and an employee could not find it. The purse contained $40 cash, several personal checks, prescription sunglasses, credit cards and identification.

Watch Found in Downtown Chelsea

A downtown worker found a wrist watch and turned it into police Sept. 11.

Chelsea Police report receiving found property at 3:30 p.m. last Monday. A local jewelry store employee told police the watch was found on the sidewalk in front of the Common Grill, 112 S. Main St.

The watch, valued at $150, was logged in the police evidence room.

BOB AND BECKY BRUNTON

Musical Ministry of Bob and Becky is Planned for Immanuel Bible Church

The unique musical ministry of Bob and Becky Brunton will be featured in a concert of sacred music at Immanuel Bible Church, 145 E. Summit St., at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 24.

The husband and wife vocal duet team from Eaton Rapids, Michigan, have been touring since 1979, covering almost every state in the U.S. as well as out of the country. Currently their albums are heard from West Africa to Korea and from Canada to Ecuador.

Bob and Becky have become a standard for what ministry in music is all about and their concert will include familiar songs as well as some of their own compositions. A program is planned for all musical tastes.

Bob and Becky were married in 1963 and involved in educational careers for years in the Lansing, Michigan area. Becky was a music teacher for the Michigan School for the Blind and Bob was Director of Payroll for Michigan State University. In 1979 they resigned their positions to begin their full time musical ministry.

Bob and Becky have been praised for their crisp and dynamic delivery which features the use of live piano, synthesizer, violin and taped accompaniments.

Their concert at Immanuel Bible church is open to the public. Prior to the concert hors d'oeuvres will be served in the Church basement fellowship room. The concert will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Meeting. Tuesday, August 8, 1995
Present: President Steele, Clerk Morrison, Village Manager Myers, Assistant Village Manager Pindzia.

Trustees Present: Clark, Rigg, Cashman, Daut.
Trustees Absent: Merkel, Hammer (until 8:27).
Others Present:

The first order of business was public participation and Mr. Jim Machnik, Gene Drive resident, addressed the Council regarding taping and televising the Council Meetings.

Motion by Daut, supported by Cashman, to approve the Consent Agenda with the following changes:

Trustee Rigg asked for clarification as to whether the Village paid for access to use the property. President Steele indicated that the Village did pay for the access.

Trustee Rigg asked for the number of acres that will be required for the next expansion of Wastewater Treatment Plant.

Trustee Rigg addressed Mr. Tracy stating that he did not want a trailer park at the location proposed.

Trustee Rigg addressed Mr. Tracy stating that we did not want a trailer park at the location proposed. Mr. Rigg also stated that we were not opposed to a trailer park and property was zoned for such use on the West side of the Village.

All Ayes. Absent: Merkel, Hammer. Motion carried.
Lenard E. McDougall, Chief of Police, submitted his July, 1995, Police Department Report.

Daniel T. Ellenwood, Chief, Chelsea Fire Department, submitted his July, 1995, Fire Department Report.

President Steele indicated that there would be a Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority meeting August, 16, 1995, at the Werkner Road location.

Trustee Rigg indicated that the Fire Department had met recently to discuss the April ruling regarding OSHA requirements and that there will be a proposal before Council soon.

Motion by Cashman, supported by Daut, to remove from the table the presentation from Washtenaw Development Council.

Ms. Sue Lackey and Mr. Mark Ouimet, both representing the Washtenaw Development Council addressed the Council to discuss current efforts and services.

Motion by Cashman, supported by Clark, to approve an amount not to exceed $2,774.00 payable in at least quarterly payments to the Washtenaw Development Council. Ayes: Cashman, Daut, Clark, Steele. Nays: Rigg. Absent: Hammer, Merkel. Motion carried.

Motion by Daut, supported by Clark, to remove from the table the Village Hall Report. All Ayes. Absent: Hammer, Merkel. Motion carried.

Council discussed the several options before them regarding the Village Hall. The Chelsea High School withdrew its ability to lease a portion of the buildings, therefore, it was removed from the options list.

Motion by Daut, supported by Clark, to remove number 1. Current Building, 2. Current Building/Fire Hall, and 3. Current Building and Adjacent Buildings Purchase from the list of options. Ayes: Cashman, Daut, Clark, Steele. Nays: Rigg. Absent: Hammer, Merkel. Motion carried.

Motion by Clark to remove 4. St. Mary's School & Lot, 5. Park Street Lots, 8. Chelsea State Bank, 9. Chelsea Standard Building, 11. Chelsea High School Property, 12. Wilkinson - St. Property (Salter) from the list. The motion died due to a lack of support.

Motion by Daut, supported by Cashman, to remove 8. Chelsea State Bank, 9. Chelsea Standard Building, and 13. Industrial Park from the list. Ayes: Cashman, Daut, Steele. Nays: Clark, Rigg. Absent: Merkel, Hammer. Motion carried.

Motion by Daut, supported by Rigg, to table the Meabon Property as an option. All Ayes. Absent: Hammer, Merkel. Motion carried.

Motion by Rigg, supported by Hammer, to remove from the table the Merkel Annexation. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

President Steele indicated that he had not received the necessary documents the Council was anticipating regarding the property description.

Motion by Rigg, supported by Clark, to table Merkel Annexation. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

Mr. Machnik addressed the Council regarding what he feels is a conflict of interest by Trustee Merkel on the Merkel Annexation issue.

Brad Smith, Wastewater Treatment Supervisor, asked for a status of the Council's current position.

President Steele provided an update.

Mr. Machnik asked about the 1976 Agreement and asked if the Council was motivated by fear.

President Steele responded that the Council acts in the best interest of the community and that it is not motivated by fear.

Mr. Steve Tracy, along with Mr. Jenkins were present at the meeting. Mr. Tracy spoke for Mr. Jenkins. Mr. Merkel and himself stating that Mr. Merkel had asked the Council to table this matter and their position had not changed. They are pursuing other avenues and the property owner (Mr. Merkel) does not want the Council to take further action.

Bruce Pindzia, Assistant Village Manager, and Trustee Daut updated the Council regarding the Department of Public Works remediation project. Trustee Daut distributed materials regarding "Devolving Existing Sites with Part 213 and Tier 1 Lookup Table for Industrial Land Use." (Attachment A).

Mr. Machnik raised questions regarding additional dumping. President Steele and Dave Bulson, Department of Public Works Superintendent, addressed Mr. Machnik's questions.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Rigg, to accept The Traverse Group's progress report. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried. (Report Attached as Attachment B.)

Motion by Hammer, supported by Rigg, to adopt the Resolution regarding the execution of a Warranty Deed for and on behalf of the Village to Lekrem Associates. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried. (Resolution Attached as Attachment C.)

Motion Daut, supported by Clark, to adopt the Resolution regarding Continuity of Service. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried. (Resolution Attached as Attachment D.)

Motion by Hammer, supported by Daut, to approve a Sales Agreement for lots 4 & 5 in the Industrial Park for an amount of $42,210.00. Ayes: Cashman, Hammer, Daut, Clark, Steele. Nays: Rigg. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried. (Agreement Attached as Attachment E.)

Motion by Cashman, supported by Rigg, to table the request from Harrison Street/E. Middle Street residents to resurface alleyway until legal counsel is able to review this request. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Clark, to block off McKinley Street for a block party on August 20, 1995. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

The Council discussed Chamber of Commerce authorization for food service provider issues. No formal action was taken.

Motion by Clark supported by Hammer, to re-zone 123 South Street from 0-1 to C-5. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

Motion by Daut, supported by Cashman, to hold the next regular meeting on Monday, August 21, 1995, and to post as such. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Cashman, to not accept the counter offer received from the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority (WWRA) and to state that the Council will be progressing with original offer. If there is not a favorable offer received by the WWRA 60 days from August 8, 1995, the truck will be available for sale. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

Mr. Machnik asked when Trustee Hammer would provide solid financial information regarding savings as a result of the recycle project. Trustee Hammer responded after the program had been in place a little longer and at this time all indications were that it was making money.

Motion by Rigg, supported by Clark, to adjourn the Regular Council Meeting—Time: 9:50 p.m. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Suzanne C. Morrison, Clerk.

Rhea Erma Potts

Munith
Rhea Erma Potts of Munith, age 84 died Sept. 19, 1995 at her home. She was born Feb. 25, 1911 in Pelston, the daughter of William L. and Ethel M. (McQueen) Davis.

Rhea had lived in the Munith area for the past 48 years, moving from the Jackson Area.

On May 7, 1935 she married Donald W. Potts and he survives. Her favorite pastimes were knitting and crocheting; however, she made afghans for all of her children and grandchildren, when they got married.

Surviving are her children, Duane W. Potts and his wife, Diane, of Statesville, N.C., Mrs. Shirley Marshall and husband, Justice, of Savage, Minn., Mrs. Arlene Kaiser and husband, Ronald, of Stockbridge; grandchildren, Jerry and Douglas Potts, Sherree Bustie, Randy Gladstone, Sharon Brenner, Tracy Collier, Jennifer and Michele Kaiser, nine great-grandchildren, as well as several nieces and nephews and cousins. She was preceded in death by a brother, Russell Davis, and one sister, Cleo Huyser.

Funeral services will be held Friday, Sept. 22, at 11 a.m. from the Chelsea Free Methodist church with the Rev. Mearl Bradley, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow at Mosherville cemetery, Scipio township. Friends may call at the funeral home on Wednesday from 1 to 7 p.m. and Thursday 1 to 7 p.m.

Memorials may be given to Michigan Cancer Society.

Arrangements by Caskey-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Nancy J. Aiken

Dexter

Nancy J. Aiken of Dexter, age 65, died suddenly on Thursday, Sept. 14, 1995 at her home. She was born Oct. 5, 1929, the daughter of Lyle and Beulah (Baker) Uisler in Des Moines, Ia.

On Sept. 4, 1948 she married Robert Aiken and he survives.

She was a member and past president of St. Andrew's United Church of Christ, past president of the Dexter American Legion Auxiliary, Post 557, and was a treasurer for Dexter. She retired from the U. of M. as a bookkeeper.

In addition to her husband, Robert, survivors include four children, Clyde W. (Debbie) of Battle Mountain, Nev., Timothy R. (Erin) of Dexter, Jeffery P. of Phoenix, Ariz., and Grant J. of N.D., nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; one sister, Virginia (Edward) Sayers of Dexter, two brothers, Jim (Janet) Uisler of Chelsea and Jerrold Uisler of Ann Arbor; and many nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her mother and father, a brother, Bill Uisler and his wife, and a son, Gregory E. Aiken on Oct. 11, 1979.

A memorial service was held at St. Andrew's United Church of Christ in Dexter on Friday, Sept. 29, at 1 p.m. with the Rev. Kenyon Edwards officiating. Memorial tributes may be made to St. Andrew's United Church of Christ or the American Diabetes Association.

Arrangements by Hosmer-Muehlhig Funeral Chapel, Dexter.

Two Chelsea Students Named to Honors List

Michigan State University has listed two Chelsea students who have been named to the dean's honors list for the summer semester.

Kelly M. Totten, majoring in psychology, and Richard J. Mason, in criminal justice, have maintained a grade-point average of 3.5 or better on a 4.0 scale to qualify for the honor.

Joseph Ullman

Chelsea
Joseph L. Ullman of Chelsea, age 72, died Monday, Sept. 11, 1995 at Chelsea Retirement Community. He was born Jan. 30, 1923 in Buffalo, N.Y., the son of David and Ida (Bier) Ullman.

Dr. Ullman received his B.A. from the University of Buffalo in 1942. He fought in WW II, receiving a purple heart, and later served as an instructor of Mathematics at Army schools in Czechoslovakia and France. In 1949, he received his Ph.D. from Stanford University and joined the faculty of the Department of Mathematics at the University of Michigan. His area of research was classical analysis, specifically approximation theory. Above all, he was valued by his colleagues for his love of mathematical inquiry, his encyclopedic knowledge of classical analysis, and his willingness to share this knowledge.

After 44 years of dedicated service, he was named Professor Emeritus by the Board of Regents.

He is survived by his wife, Barbara; four daughters, Esther Ullman of Ann Arbor, Ruth Michelson of California, Sara Emberton of Australia, and Katie Ullman of California; six grandchildren, Eli, Leah, Lauren, Daniel, Megan, and Graham; and his sister, Judith Chernoff of Massachusetts.

Services were held Thursday, Sept. 14, 1 p.m. at Temple Beth Emeth, 2309 Packard, Ann Arbor, with Rabbi Robert Levy officiating. Friends and family gathered at the home in Chelsea after the service.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Alzheimer's Association.

Arrangements were by Cole Funeral Chapel.

Make a sound investment in better hearing.

We all joke about our kids not listening to us... but what if your child really can't hear what you're saying? If you think your child might have a hearing problem, scheduling a hearing evaluation by Chelsea Community Hospital's certified audiologist is the surest way to find out.

We can make a big difference in the way your child hears - and that can make a big difference in the way she feels.

A TRAFFIC CRASH on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. at 2:50 p.m. Monday resulted in all four people involved going to the hospital. According to Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Shirley Courtney, 34, of Dexter pulled out of Mark's Auto Service in her 1987 Chevy station wagon and was broad-sided by a 1981 Camaro driven by Daniel Jaynas, 19, of Dexter.

Courtney, who recently moved to the area, was taken by University of Michigan Medical Flight to the hospital with severe injuries. Huron Valley Ambulance transported her 15-year-old son, Daniel Straight, Jaynas and his passenger, Theodore Allen, 21, of Chelsea to the hospital with injuries.

SHOW CHOIR CAMP: Michael Huscke, Bekah Knight, Justin Huscke, Melissa Clairmont, Megann Thrasher, Dan Black, and Amanda Warren enjoyed a week of Show Choir Camp at Walt Disney World that ended with a performance on Cinderella's castle stage. Based on their singing auditions, Clairmont and Black were selected as soloists at the Disney production. All campers are or have been members of the Washington Street Show Choir. Not pictured is Ray Weiner, III.

Center for Development of Arts Accepting Students

Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts is continuing to accept new student registration for its Visual Arts Workshops, the Children's Chorus, and the Voice Studio although openings are limited.

Executive director Steve Hinz is pleased, "We are encouraged by the overwhelming response by the community. The Watercolor Workshop, taught by Madeleine Vallier, and the Collage Workshop, taught by Janice Stevens-Botsford, both geared to the beginning artist, are filling nicely. The Voice Studio, taught by Lisa Hinz-Johnson, is near capacity at 50 students. And the Children's Chorus, I am happy to say, has 40 boys and girls and is still growing.

"These are wonderful numbers and they speak highly of Chelsea's proud tradition in supporting the arts. We look forward to adding more opportunities based on the success of these programs in our opening season."

The CCDA's present roster of classes is being funded in part by the success of last year's fund-raiser.

"Putting It Together," held at the Common Grill. CCDA was also recently honored by the Chelsea Foundation with a $500 grant to help in their goal to provide this community with stimulating environments in which children and adults will have opportunities to develop their creative skills and a greater appreciation for the arts.

As a non-profit organization, CCDA's purpose is to develop, foster and promote the arts as experiences central to the lives of the citizens of Chelsea and the surrounding area. CCDA realizes that more students can be involved by keeping tuition fees as affordable as possible. But, sometimes, even "affordable" tuition is out of reach. The funds needed for scholarships and additional programs can be achieved in another enjoyable way with their Fall Fund-raiser, "Autumn Jubilee." On Friday, Oct. 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea Community Hospital Main Dining Room, the CCDA will host a performance by the talented singers of the Voice Studio. Together with the fine cuisine of Ron Yonkoski and the harp music of Rochelle Martinez-Mouilliseaux, the evening promises to be delightful. Tickets are $35 per person and may be purchased at both the Chelsea Pharmacy and the Common Market.

To receive more information, to order tickets, or to register for any of CCDA's programs, call 475-3792.
