PAT BEEMAN, data processor at Chelsea State Bank is the lucky person entrusted with the task of keeping the new LaserImage computer operating smoothly in processing checks written by the bank's clients.

Chelsea State Bank Installs New High Tech Check Handling System

Chelsea State Bank has changed its checking filing and storage system, that is sure to make customers and other banks take notice. The bank is changing its paper filing system to "LaserImage," an ATT and NCR computer system that stores and laser copies high-quality check images front and back and sends them to customers every month in numeric order.

The new statements will include a digitized laser image of checks written that customers can store in a free three-ring binder the bank is issuing to new customers, said John K. Mann, Chelsea State Bank's president and chief executive officer.

And efficiency is the name of the game, he said.

Previously, check storage used to be done on microfilm, which was tedious, and could cause items to come up illegible. Thus they were unusable if a customer had to go to court, said Scott Tanner, executive vice-president and cashier for Chelsea State Bank. Comparing microfilm to computer laser images is like comparing the quality of phonograph records to compact disks, Tanner said.

Storage and processing is obviously an important function as the bank receives 2,000 to 10,000 checks a day from the bank's 6,000 checking and 18,000 savings customers. These figures are all the more amazing considering Chelsea's 3,800 population. Many customers thus come from other towns drawn by the bank's excellent reputation and services, Tanner said.

And for the new check filing system, he said, which other banks try to emulate.

It works like this: A cashier feeds the checks into a high-speed automatic sorting and scanning machine that reads the check serial numbers, sending and retrieving digital codes to and from a computer disk. The checks are fed through the machine and filed into specific piles. Images are created as the checks are read. Thus, time is saved through elimination of manual sorting, risk of misfiling. The images are transferred onto a hard disk at the main branch and onto tape at archives at another building, thus safeguarding data. This way it is virtually impossible for information to be lost, he said. Banks are only required to keep records for seven years, but the LaserImage system will allow people to access information 100 years from now, Tanner said.

If a person has a question about a check, a service representative can call it up on a computer screen, then print or fax a copy out.

The route of data depends on whether checks are local or national, he said.

Before, the check statements would come off a tear-sheet computer printer, which was rather cumbersome, Tanner said, in contrast to the present as statements are laser printed.

"If a customer has written 36 checks, the system will tell you," he said.

The new image filing system is apparently more efficient and satisfactory work than the old paper system was. Pat Beeman, data processor at the bank, said she likes the new system much better.

"It doesn't jam up as much and it's quicker," she said, and it makes bookkeeping easier. Only one employee is needed to run the image system versus two for the microfilm system, and record finding is instantaneous, whereas it might take five minutes to find microfilm records.

The system provides savings on postage, time, handling, sorting storage and filing, more efficient item research capabilities, and thus a savings in money in the long run. It will not be immediate, as the system had a $250,000 purchase price.

The system is a savings in time for employees and this allows employees to concentrate on other tasks, Mann said.

"This helps us serve the customer more efficiently," he said.

Benefits for the customer are better quality statements, check images already in numeric order and improved record retention system. All of this helps add to a continued low cost checking product, Tanner said.

At present, the system does not offer computer-to-computer communication over phone lines, since most customers do not have home computers, Mann said, although this may come in the future.

Although changing from a paper to a computer based system might be seen as a big step, it has a 99 percent customer acceptance rate, he said.

This change may in fact help the bank gain new customers that want the new type of checking service, he said.

Although the bank is able to save labor by using the new system, it is not planning to lay off any employees, Tanner said. This can be insured by keeping the number of employees small and not unnecessarily increasing staffing, he said.

Moreover, officials believe the new system gives the $136 million bank an edge over competitors, especially larger banks.

Mann said Chelsea State Bank wants to be the leader in technology, and this ability to change will be a benefit to the customers and the bank.

The software is made by Dataworks, a San Antonio, Tex. based company specializing in products for the banking industry.

The system has been in use since August 1995 in the new bank office at 1010 S. Main. Chelsea State Bank was the first bank in the county to use the system, which other banks may likely follow.

"Our reputation is nationally known for being lean, and for being second to no one," Tanner said.

School Board Hires New Operations Manager, Study Air Conditioning

The board of education passed all five items in their Monday, Oct. 16 meeting, including agreeing to build three new K-5 500 to 600 student elementary schools within the next three years, the baseball team field trip request, hiring of a new operations manager, high school inclusion aide and the school audit by Curtis, Bailey, Exelby and Sposito.

Each school is to have a $2 million annual budget. Most parents like schools with this configuration, said Edward Richardson, school superintendent, and most parents wanted children to attend the same school as siblings.

The motion to build three new kindergarten through fifth-grade elementary schools was passed by the board 5-3.

"It will be a wonderful experience for all kids," said board member Jane Diesing.

Needs for middle-school students were spoken for, as well as elementary students.

Andrea Klassen, a seventh and eighth grade teacher at Beach Middle School, and Jeannie Hicks-Cassille a sixth-grade block teacher, also at the same school gave special presentations about the need for middle school restructuring.

They spoke about the importance of having small groups of students and of the importance of academic performance and health and fitness. In ideal teaching students would be kept in flexible groups that could be easily rearranged, if need be. That situation could allow one teacher to borrow time from another teacher's class, if need be, Hicks-Cassille said.

"We need to insure the success of all students," Klassen said, and the need for staff to be certified, she said. Students learn best when teachers coordinate information with each other and avoid overlapping, she said.

"Ten hours of homework a night is not the answer," she said.

Hicks-Cassille said: "Teachers need to have interest in each other's subjects."

Ultimately, flexible teaching would improve motivation, self-esteem, and peer relations of students, she said.

Ed Lynn, chief engineer for Kingscott, a Kalamazoo firm, spoke about installing new air conditioning in the school buildings, especially North Elementary school, with several options.

One basic system would have a central unit chilled water system. It would have a high initial cost but a low running cost, he said.

Lynn compared two pipe vs. four pipe systems.

A two-pipe system would have either heating or cooling capabilities, but not both at the same time. A four-pipe system could have both, but would have a much higher cost.

"You will always have complaints on a two-pipe system," he said, as it takes a great deal of maintenance to switch the system from heating to cooling, or vice-versa, and because temperatures fluctuate in the spring.

A third option would have a central inducting unit, and a fourth would have a self-contained unit in each classroom. The problem with the fourth option is maintenance costs go up and the units get noisy, Lynn said.

The ideal system would have both heating and cooling, minimum maintenance, he said, and would likely be option three.

The board unanimously approved the hiring of Ronald D. Livengood for operations manager, a position requiring handling the physical assets of the school district, creating a safe and attractive environment through cost-efficient, professional business practices. This would be a two-year contract, with benefits offering a salary of $59,000 a year starting in December. Previously, he worked as plant manager at Cavanaugh Lakeview Farms for the past seven years. They are moving to Oklahoma.

The board decided to create the position because of $47 million of construction the school system is planning for the future, said Conrad Knutsen, school board member.

The council approved and hired Annika Strayer as a high school inclusion aide to help disabled students.

The board approved the audit submitted by Doug McMillan, of Curtis, Bailey, Exelby and Sposito.

Revenues of $17 million were noted with expenses of $16 million for the school board, McMillan said. Property taxes brought in $2.5 million revenue, he said. However, this does not mean the district has a certain amount of cash on hand, Richardson said. Although there was a surplus, there was a significant rise in retirement costs this year.

The board proposed discussing a memorial for Joe Piascecki, late Chelsea school superintendent at a Nov. 5 meeting from 3-5 p.m.

Village Council Okays Cable TV Owners Change, Will Not Abandon Alley

Chelsea Village Council approved a franchise agreement transfer from Clear Cablevision to Continental. Continental is in the process of purchasing N-Com, the parent company of Clear Cablevision.

A public hearing was held regarding the abandonment of the alleyway located between E. Middle and Harrison Sts. Residents of Harrison and E. Middle St. affected by the alleyway presented a petition to Village Council at the previous meeting asking for upgrading of the alleyway.

Village Manager Jack Myers indicated that money was not available for resurfacing as many streets in the village need attention at this time.

It was council's decision not to abandon the alley. Village crews are to hot patch the alley and install lighting.

Electric consultants, Cummins &

Barnard, presented a feasibility study to council on gas generated from the Werkner Rd. Village landfill. Gas generated from the landfill would be used for the generation of electricity or gas heating purposes.

Consideration of the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority Agreement was tabled until the Oct. 24 meeting when a representative from AATA will be present.

An annexation request was received regarding the Vogel property on Sibley Rd. Council voted not to accept the annexation at this time and also voted unanimously to support a resolution putting a moratorium on annexations for the next year.

A petition was presented to council regarding a request for a 15-minute loading/unloading zone on Maywood St. Council approved the posting of "No Parking" signs on the west side of Maywood St. to read from 8:30 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. during school days.

Bids were received for the proposed electrical equipment for connecting Chelsea Milling Co. to the Village electrical service. These bids have been reviewed by the Village electrical consultants and will be finalized at a future date.

Man Complains Neighbor Cuts Branches

At 12:01 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 7 was dispatched to the 100 block of Wilkinson St. where a man complained his neighbor at the corner of that street and W. Middle had trimmed some tree branches off a tree on the complainant's property without his permission.

The tree, a large walnut tree, is on the northeast corner at the edge of the property line, and had several limbs cut off. Some limbs were hanging over the property on Middle and on both properties.

The complainant was advised by the officer that he would contact the village zoning inspector.

Music Boosters Thrilled With Car Wash Results

Each year our community is bombarded with the regular fund-raising sales of candy, wrapping paper, flower bulbs and who knows what else for each and every organization and group you can think of. We parents yell "Enough is enough!" and threaten to boycott it all. However, the Chelsea School Music Boosters have come up with a unique idea—one all-around fund-raiser that every one in that department can actually enjoy working on and everyone in town can benefit from—The Car Wash. Not just "a" car wash but The Car Wash!

On Saturday, Sept. 23, the Music Boosters held their second annual Car Wash to raise money for all those extras that make our program great but don't quite fit into the budget. The students asked for pledges from members of the community. And the fantastic thing was that the kids were honest enough to tell people that one penny per car was all they really needed to pledge. Of course they would take more if forced! Then these students held a FREE Car Wash on the most sunny beautiful day that mother nature could offer this time of year.

If anyone was in a grumpy or depressed mood that Saturday, they needed to come down to the Chelsea State Bank. Their frowns would have turned to smiles quickly. At one particular time I bet there were at least 100 kids washing down cars and shining them dry. That doesn't even start to count the parents which I'm sure were equal in number. Brian Meyers brought in loud speakers and played the best selection of music, including performances from our own talented students. It could be heard clear across the road into Polly's lot. The Chelsea High Pep Band played on the corner of Old US-12 and Main drawing in the cars. Not only were the vehicles getting washed but the dancing of many workers was incredible. (Bill Gourley even proved how light on his feet he could be while squirting a hose.) There was a student who drove through at least three times that I know of (in different cars each time). He convinced me he was just bringing his neighbor's cars up for them. I did find out, however, he had just gotten his license on the Friday before!

I am truly impressed with the overwhelming but fantastic job that Renee and Don Warren did in organizing this event. The attitude of all the kids and adults made this fun. I hope that our new directors Andrea Miller and Krista Blomgren were impressed with the enthusiasm as well as wondering what they got themselves into when hiring into our school district. Lynn Culver, if the school ever has a cut back—I know where you can get another job!

The generosity of Chelsea State Bank was way above and beyond the call of duty! Each one of the merchants throughout the town who helped advertise and make pledges can't be thanked enough. To all the parents who donated hoses, towels, dryers to dry all those towels and all the supplies needed to pull this off.

I would like to issue a challenge for next fall. This wash is patterned after one in Saline. They make an average of $10,000 each year on one given day washing cars. Next September when the "Little Yellow Car" is seen around town advertising, call up the nearest music student you know and please make that pledge. A penny a car will cost you maybe $5 to $6. Then on the designated day, drive your car, your neighbor's car and any other vehicle you can, right on down. Show Saline what The Car Wash is really about!

By KAREN MEIER

National Fire Prevention Week is being observed this week. It's scheduled now, near the eighth of October, because it was Oct. 8 when in 1871, Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over that kerosene lamp in that downtown Chicago cowshed and started the "Great Chicago Fire."

Things were a lot different back then. First of all, there were cowsheds with cows in them in the middle of the city. And second, not a lot of thought went into fire prevention or building codes or even fire safety awareness. And that is why 250 people perished, 100,000 were left homeless and 17,000 buildings were destroyed. Yet out of the ashes something good arose. Better built, stronger, fire-resistant buildings were constructed. And a keen awareness of the swift and brutal nature of fire came to pass. And eventually, Fire Prevention Week.

Now I didn't know much about this, Fire Prevention Week and its history, until a couple of weeks ago when the Fire Chief told me a little about it while offering advice on conducting my own fire safety program right at home. It was sheer coincidence that what I, on my own, had thought of doing what fire departments across the nation encourage everyone to do during the early October observance of Fire Prevention Week.

No cows or kerosene lamps were the impetus behind my unofficial Fire Prevention Week. Instead, a stranger burning leaves and branches on a windy day in our neighborhood rather near our house was. The flames appeared to shoot 10 to 12 feet high and every time more brush got thrown in, sparks showered upward toward the trees and flew everywhere.

The children worried. And I worried. But then, I worry about spontaneous combustion in the clothes closet. I worry about the furnace this time of year when it first is put into use after months of being dormant. And I worry about our cozy fireplace. And I worry about the wires criss-crossing behind my walls and coming into contact with unknown flammable things in there and the dreaded, unexpected, inexplicable short circuit and the clothes dryer with its flame right behind that bottom panel. And at night, when all of the children are snuggled in their beds fast asleep, sleeping peacefully and knowing all is well, I worry that all might not be well. And so, after seeing those shooting flames against the night sky a couple of weeks ago, the worry translated itself into our unofficial Fire Prevention Week.

This is how it went. First, we talked. We discussed how each of us can avoid fires. Most of that was review, of course I cover these things periodically throughout the year on an as-needed, I don't-have-time-to-explain-it-all-right-this-second-just-do-as-your-re-told-right-this-second-or-you-won't-be-safe-anymore basis. But this time explained calmly and clearly. I explained why the kitchen is off-limits for throwing games and bumping games while I'm cooking and baking. And why the family room becomes a non-rumpus room while I'm ironing. And why the fireplace is best enjoyed from a safe distance. And why something as small as a match can be a monstrous danger.

As I talked about these dangerous, rather frightening things with the children, I wondered if I were perhaps doing them psychological harm. Was this going to lead to nightmares?

But then I realized that not knowing what to do in a situation where fire is involved goes way beyond frightening; it goes straight to deadly. So I figured a little bit of psychological harm today and a nightmare tonight might be necessary to save tomorrow.

So we discussed. And then we tested the smoke alarms. We talked about crawling or moving like a snake on the floor and feeling doors before opening them and not hiding in a closet or under a bed and how we should always, always leave THINGS behind and think only of getting to safety.

We talked about the fire extinguishers we have on each floor. We looked at the escape routes I'd drawn on paper. And then we had a fire drill, which put everything we'd talked about into action.

I can only imagine (and I hope that's all I'll ever have to imagine) what a real fire emergency would be like. And I realize that even though the practice, drills and calm discussions will have preceded such a situation, panic will flare up anyway just like the flames. But knowledge will be there to help neutralize, to squirt water on the panic.

So even though that stranger's fire a couple of weeks back was scary and bad, good arose from it, just as good arose from Mrs. O'Leary's cow and the great Chicago fire of 1871. Awareness, I'm convinced, is always good.

New, natural plant oil treatments against mites—a deadly enemy of domestic honey bees—are being tested by the Agriculture Department. Small-scale laboratory and field tests already have proven the blends of plant oils are effective agents in the fight against tracheal and Varroa mite infestation. Beekeepers currently use synthetic chemicals to contain mite infestation in their hives, but these chemicals are expensive and labor intensive, and some experts fear the mites are becoming resistant to the treatments.

Money Management

Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants

★ Tax Gains for Casualty Losses

If you awake on Nov. 1 to find that some local ghosts and goblins have wreaked Halloween havoc on your property, you may be entitled to a tax deduction. According to the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, damage, destruction or losses incurred as a result of an identifiable event that is sudden, unexpected or unusual are deemed "casualty losses" by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Although vandalism or theft resulting from Halloween night would qualify as a casualty loss, the tax law is specifically designed to provide financial relief to victims who have suffered substantial property loss from more serious casualties, such as earthquakes, fires and floods.

It is not necessary that the destruction totally destroy a home or other property. Partial damage to property also is considered a casualty. However, you can't claim a loss as a casualty loss deduction if it occurred over a period of time, such as damage caused by termites, drought, normal aging and weathering.

Determining Amount of Your Loss

Your casualty loss is the lesser of two amounts: 1) the decrease in the property's fair-market value as a result of the casualty or 2) the adjusted basis of the property immediately before the casualty. The fair-market value is the amount a willing buyer would pay to purchase the property on the open market without any obligation to buy it. Adjusted basis refers to what you originally paid for the property plus the cost of any improvements.

Insurance Plays Important Role

Once you calculate the amount of loss incurred, you need to reduce it by the proceeds of any insurance reimbursements you receive or expect to receive. According to the tax law, you are not allowed to claim a casualty loss deduction if the loss is covered by insurance and you choose not to file a claim—even if you fail to submit a claim for fear the insurer will cancel coverage or hike your premiums. The way the IRS views it, a casualty loss deduction should be your last resort.

Qualifying for Deduction

Once you've determined the unreimbursed amount of your casualty loss, you must then subtract $100 for each loss during the year. If several losses are incurred as a result of the same event, only one $100 reduction applies, no matter how many pieces of property are involved.

There's also one more hurdle: losses are deductible only to the extent that they exceed 10 percent of your adjusted gross income (AGI). For example, if your AGI is $40,000, your loss has to exceed $4,000 before you can claim a deduction. You would compute the amount of your loss on Form 4684, Casualties and Thefts, and transfer the deductible amount to Schedule A.

When To Deduct Casualty Loss

Normally, a casualty loss can be claimed only on the tax return for the year in which the loss occurs. However, a special rule applies when the loss occurs in a disaster area that is eligible for federal assistance. Losses to property that qualified for federal disaster relief occurred in 24 states in 1994. If you suffer a casualty loss as a result of a declared disaster, you're given the option of deducting that loss in the year in which the disaster occurred, or in the preceding tax year. By declaring the loss in the earlier year and amending your return for that year, you may receive some badly needed cash.

Proof and Recordkeeping

To deduct a casualty loss, you not only have to meet strict requirements, but also produce good records. You need to show what happened and when it happened, and prove the value of the damaged or stolen property. Newspaper clippings about a storm, photos of the damage and insurance reports all can help. If the property was stolen, be sure you obtain a police report.

For more information about casualty losses, consult IRS Publication 584, Nonbusiness Disaster and Casualty and Theft Workbook.

VIEWS ON DENTAL HEALTH

GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S.

ON TOOTHPICKS

The next sentence may surprise you: Toothpicks are okay! Not recommended to be used in public, they do have value in helping to keep teeth clean and gums healthy.

The history of toothpicks is rather interesting. They were used as early as 3500 B.C., in the form of twigs, reeds and pieces of grass. A wealthy, ancient Greek would probably carry a ring with several impressive looking toothpicks dangling from it. These toothpicks might be made from gold, silver, ivory or ebony. Others were delicately carved or embedded with jewels.

Dentists object to the abuse of toothpicks, not their use. They should be used gently or they will injure your gums. A dentist should really instruct you on how to use them.

A toothpick can be a lifesaver if you've just finished a steak and can't reach that maddening spot. A soft, flat wooden toothpick, not a bobby pin or a sharp instrument, can free the debris stuck between your teeth and make you feel instantly more comfortable.

I refuse to accept the idea that the "lens" of man's present nature makes him morally incapable of reaching up for the "oughtness" that forever confronts him.

DEPTH PERCEPTION

Many people don't understand what depth perception is. Does everyone have it? How important is it for normal vision?

Depth perception is an ability, possessed only by humans and probably a few other primates, to sense the relative near-distant relationship of objects. The development of depth perception occurs in early childhood, and will occur only if vision is good in both eyes, and the eyes are properly aligned. People who were cross-eyed when young, for example, or had poor vision in one eye, may never develop normal depth perception.

To demonstrate your depth perception, try this simple test: hold both arms straight out in front of you, with your index fingers pointing up, but pull one arm in just a little closer to you. Now close either eye. You'll notice that with one eye closed it's much more difficult to judge which finger is closer. Persons who have had normal depth perception, but then lose vision in one eye find that they are clumsy for awhile — they may miss things they reach for or be unsure of where they are stepping. But those without normal depth perception learn to use other clues to judge nearness, such as the relative size of objects, shadows, and the relative movement of objects at different distances. These people adapt well and function very normally.

"3-D" viewers and movies are able to provide a sensation of depth by providing each eye with a view of a scene from a slightly different angle, but to a person without depth perception the scene looks flat. Hopefully your visual "third dimension" works well.

ABWA Chapter Plans Enrollment Dinner for Oct. 24

Chelsea-Dexter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold a dinner meeting for anyone interested in joining their organization.

The meeting is Tuesday, Oct. 24 at Reddeman Farms Golf Course. Social time is, at 6 p.m. with dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Wendy Biggs from Dexter Village Family Physicians is scheduled as guest speaker.

The American Business Women's Association supports women in reaching their career goals. Each year several local women receive scholarships from this chapter.

Costume Rental Service Starting

Chelsea Area Players will open up their costume and props barn to the public for the first time in CAP history. Costumes and props will be available for a nominal rental charge. It is stressed that the players do not have many items for children and that the costumes available are items used in previous plays. The typical Superhero venue will not be found here, says CAP president Mark Nelson; however, the barn does contain vastly more exciting and different items than the average person may have lying around in their basement. A quick once through the barn and somebody is sure to find something to wear to that upcoming Halloween party.

School Enrollment Jumps

Population figures seem to be on the up-and-up for Chelsea and Dexter, especially when it comes to school enrollment.

Ron Mead, principal of Chelsea High school, said the number of high school students has increased from 667 in 1990 to 815 this year. Every class from 1995 on is expected to be over 200, he said.

The total number of students for 1994 was 2,678, according to a school board projection sheet.

Grade figures are as follows: For kindergarten, there were 214 students; 1st grade, 180; 2nd, 199; 3rd, 221; 4th, 240; 5th, 220; 6th, 197; 7th, 206; 8th, 219; 9th, 203; 10th, 185; 11th, 208 and 12th, 158, with 28 special education students.

Chelsea will continue to attract more people with school age children, Mead said.

Since the bond issue was passed, a new high school with a 915 student capacity having an 85 percent utilization, an elementary school, and a community center are scheduled to be built within two to four years.

The Chelsea school district includes Sylvan, Lima, Dexter, Waterloo and Lyndon townships.

Dexter schools, like Chelsea, have seen 4 to 6 percent growth since 1990, said John Hansen, superintendent of schools.

In 1990, Dexter school system had 2,015 students. By 1995, the number was up to 2,574 students, an increase of 6 percent over the previous year, in comparison to 1992, which had a 4 percent increase.

Grade figures are as follows: For kindergarten, 211; 1st grade, 187; 2nd, 205; 3rd, 204; 4th, 223; 5th, 216; 6th, 206; 7th, 205; 8th, 183;

9th, 214; 10th, 199; 11th, 172 and 12th, 149.

Much of the growth isn't in the village of Dexter, he said, but in other areas, such as Scio, Lima, Webster, Northfield, Hamburg and Freedom townships. The reason for this is because the townships have large areas of open land which have potential for subdivision development, which in turn bring in large numbers of school-aged children, increasing school enrollments and necessitating construction of new schools. Dexter plans to build two new elementary schools in the next few years, he said.

"We can see areas where we might grow in a hurry," Hansen said.

Your lawn could be a key battleground during this year's invasion of white grubs. But luckily for most of us, low-maintenance lawns rarely have grub problems. One sure clue to whether you have a grub problem is whether you have raccoon and skunks around your yard. They love to dig up your yard to find the tasty morsels.

Halloween Party Slated Oct. 31

Chelsea Kiwanis Club will once again be sponsoring their annual Halloween party for the young people on Tuesday evening, Oct. 31.

This year the party will be held at Beach Middle School cafeteria.

Costume judging is to begin promptly at 6 p.m. with categories in most original and best looking in six age groups.

Judging will be by Chelsea area businesspersons and each child will receive a participant ribbon.

After the judging, Jim Gaken, with his antique fire truck, is to lead the costumed children around the circular drive at Beach school and back to the cafeteria for cider and doughnut refreshments.

After refreshments, first-, second- and third-place winners will be announced, and photos will be taken by The Chelsea Standard.

"We hope the move to an inside location will be a great plus for the event," said general chairman Lucy Stieber. "Many times in the past, the event has had to endure cold and rain, so this year, enjoy the new site," Stieber added.

Swim Team Loses Meet in Dexter Pool

Chelsea girls varsity swim team lost at Dexter, Thursday, Oct. 12, at Dexter, 124-62, putting its record at 6-3, and 2-3 in the SEC.

Sophomore Kim Grossman's second-place swim in the 500 freestyle qualified her for the state meet to be held at Eastern Michigan University, Nov. 17-18.

The 200 medley relay team, Erin Armstrong, Sarah Broshar, Cara Heitman and Erin Hack was second. Chrissi Tracy, Beth Vogel, Hillary Smith and Michelle Dymond were fourth. Dreamala Koch, Mascha Brunn, Jill Wesolowski and Alicia Vogel were fifth.

The 400 free relay, Baird, Bowers, Grossman and Broshar, was second.

Taylor, Stephanie Wesolowski, Armstrong and Heitman finished fifth.

On Tuesday, Oct. 10, the Lady Bulldogs traveled to Pinckney for the second show down of unbeaten teams in the SEC. Pinckney and Chelsea were both 4-0 in the SEC and vying for leadership in the league. Chelsea came away with a strong 43-23 win over a tough group of Pirates.

The Chelsea girls got off to a good start behind a tough defense led by seniors Heidi Kemnitz and Jessica Inwood, while the offense was led by junior point guard Kasie Ruhlig who had two three-pointers as Chelsea took a 10-4 lead.

Offensive leader Annie Terpstra was held to just three points in the first half as Pinckney covered her with two or three players. Chelsea continued to dominate on defense as they held Pinckney to just three points in the second quarter, taking a 21-7 lead into half-time.

Pinckney came out tough in the beginning of the third quarter, but the Chelsea girls refused to yield as they began to get the ball inside to Terpstra later in the quarter and Chelsea extended the lead to 32-16.

Pinckney continued to play hard and pressed with great intensity in the fourth quarter, but just could not overcome their own shooting woes.

Kasie Ruhlig came away with the scoring honors as she picked up a season high of 17 points, while Heidi Wehrwein also did a fine job on the Chelsea press along with Kemnitz and Ruhlig.

Coach Waller commented that "It was a great night as Chelsea took the lead in the SEC."

On Thursday the Bulldogs faced the Saline Hornets at home and took a 40-30 win. After a tough first quarter Chelsea took an 11-10 lead in a very even game. Both teams came out pressing and forced the other team to turn the ball over. Annie Terpstra was again double and triple teamed inside, but managed to shake herself loose beginning in the second quarter as Chelsea began to pull away, taking a 24-14 lead at half. Carrie Williams and Melissa Carly both hit from three-point range as Chelsea went out in front.

Chelsea continued to have trouble scoring, but managed to maintain its 10-point lead to the end of the game. Terpstra finished with 15 points and 22 rebounds while Inwood had seven points, Heidi Kemnitz had six (and played a super game on defense) Carrie Williams had five points and six assists in starting her first game of the year.

JV Gridders

Win Over

Tecumseh, 6-0

The Bulldog JV defense gains its fourth shut-out in as many games as Chelsea JV gridders improve their season record to 4-1-2. "The defense continues to improve and gain more confidence. With only 14 players available for the game, a couple of times we had to put players in positions they had not played before. But each time, they stepped up and did the job for the team. I have a lot of confidence they will continue to play well the last two games of the season," coach David McWhorter said.

Offensively, the team scored the first time they had the ball. After that they played on their end of the field most of the game. They had a total offense of 289 yards compared to Tecumseh's 129 yards. "Two times we went in for touchdowns and they were called back because of penalties. Another time we had a chance to go in for another score and we missed three passes in a row. This week we have to work on completing our passes. Our ground game continues to do well with 229 yards," McWhorter added.

The Bulldogs have now improved their SEC record to 4-0-2.

CHELSEA DEFENSE played tough in the early part of the game. Here they stop a Tecumseh runner for short gain. Christian DeSarbo is No. 42.

CHELSEA DEFENDERS move in quickly from all directions to stop the Tecumseh runner. No. 88 is Jay Schick and No. 24 is John Tyrrell.

Chelsea Gridders Lose to Tecumseh 14-0

Friday the 13th turned out to be a very unlucky number for the Chelsea Bulldogs, who lost to Tecumseh 14-0 in an away game.

"We simply weren't able to put it in," said coach Gene LaFave, who also attributed the loss to a bad second half.

The first half was scoreless, but Tecumseh managed to score all 14 of its points in the third quarter, with a scoreless fourth quarter.

"We had major breakdowns in pickups and returns- we didn't play very well," LaFave said.

Rushed for 19 carries and 67 yards were John Schick; Justin Strong, 7-29; Peter Straub, 4-(10) and Jamie Holzhausen, 1-4, all with totals of 30-89 yards.

Dusty White had 4 carries with Strong rushing for 99 yards and passing for 51 yards.

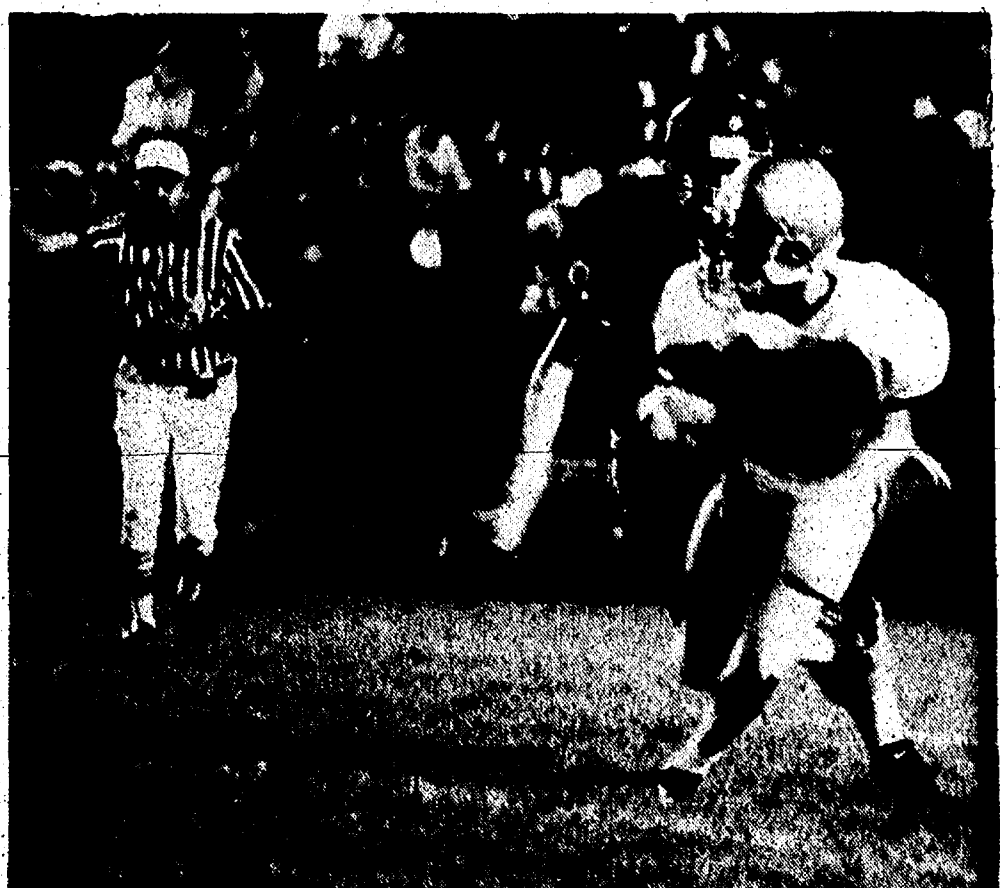

Paul Bragalone caught 5 catches for 38 yards; Casey Wescott had 2-7 and Straub 1-5.

The Bulldogs got 139 offensive yards, 9 first downs, 4 punts for 27 yards, and fumbled once, with 3 penalties for 20 yards.

On the positive side, Darcy Hammer was on defense, with Straub and Mike Sayer playing very well, LaFave said.

At present, the Bulldogs have a win-loss record of 1-6 and 0-6 in the South Eastern Conference.

Food safety experts said that eating raw cookie dough is a bigger gamble than it used to be. The reason is the possible presence of Salmonella microorganisms. Salmonella is killed by cooking, which is why makers of Raw Cookie Dough Ice Cream use pasteurized liquid eggs.

DUSTY WHITE, Chelsea quarterback takes a pass from Justin Strong and runs left to pick up a few valuable yards in Friday's action against Tecumseh.

JUSTIN STRONG attempts a sweep around right end for a short gain in first quarter action. Defense was the name of the game for both teams in the first half of action.

Equestrian Team Takes 4th Consecutive Title

COACH KATHY KENTALIA offers some words of advice for jumper Debbie Pierce on her horse "Lefty."

Chelsea Equestrian Team swept their fourth consecutive Division title on Oct. 8 at the Wayne County Fairgrounds. The team is now ready for the three-day State Championship meet at the Detroit Fairgrounds Oct. 20-22. State Championship competition is intense and exciting for three straight days.

Coach Kathy Kentalia says her team believes that this is the year for winning the State title. The coach of the championship Dexter High School team seems to agree. After scouting the Class A Championship schools this season, Coach Bob Kibbie has declared Chelsea is his most serious rival to seventh state win.

Chelsea dominated the last divisional meet, frequently placing three or four riders in each class of 16 riders. Individual placings were as follows.

Western Showmanship- Kyle Kentalia, 4 Alix Ryder.

Saddle Seat Showmanship- 1 Jocelyn Dohner, 2 Jennifer Swope, 6 Kelly Kentalia.

Saddle Seat Bareback- 1 Jennifer Swope, 2 Meghann Ziegler, 5 Alix Ryder.

Hunt Seat Equitation- 3 Kyle Kentalia, 6 Jocelyn Dohner, 7 Kevin Grifka.

Hunt Seat Bareback- 1 Jennifer Swope, 3 Alix Ryder, 5 Kyle Kentalia.

Speed and Action- 6 Ben Potocki.

Two Person Relay- 3 Jocelyn Dohner and Ben Potocki, 6 Chris Potocki and Sarah Wilson.

Other varsity finishers were Karen Pieper, 21:47; Melissa Hand, 22:04; Sarah Jedele, 22:22; and

Girls CC Team Wins Mason Invitational Despite Rain

The girls cross country team took first place out of seven teams in the Mason Invitational with 40 points despite a very rainy 50 degree, Thursday, Oct. 5. It was undoubtedly "influenced by Hurricane Opal," said coach Pat Clarke.

Other schools were Haslett, with 56 points; Nottawasaga, 90; Dexter, 91; Perry, 105; Leslie, 115; and Portland, which didn't finish.

"This race was run in a torrential rain," he said. Despite the conditions, many of the runners still managed to turn in good performances.

Jeanne Spink "was outstanding in winning the race" with 20:35 and senior co-captain Katie Spink ran her best race of the season finishing fourth, 21:24, with Megan Smith turning in a personal best of 22:48, he said.

Other varsity finishers were Karen Pieper, 21:47; Melissa Hand, 22:04; Sarah Jedele, 22:22; and

Jennifer Space, 23:04.

Junior varsity finishers were Katie Henry, 23:29; Sarah Metzler, 23:40; Melissa Williams, 24:13; Jessica Gillespie, 24:41; Rachel Schoenberg, 24:42; Leigha Young, 24:59; Jill McKinnon, 25:29; Emily Wineland, 25:47; Dana Meza, 26:11; Louisa Hubbard, 25:09; Kim Niehaus, 26:12; Lauren Turek, 25:14; Angie Beul, 26:46; Becca Williams, 26:55 and Katie Parker, 28:55.

Clark said the team did so well because the girls are used to practicing in adverse weather conditions.

"They don't go home just because the weather is poor," he said.

Despite this it was not the best performance the team could have, he said.

"We are improving but we need to continue if we are to be successful later in the year," he said.

Boys CC Takes Fifth in Invite, But Enjoys It

Chelsea boys cross country team took fifth place out of seven teams for 101 points in the Onsted Invitational at Sauk Valley Farms on Saturday, Oct. 14. Other teams were Hudson, 51; Marshall, 54; Onsted, 78; Tecumseh, 98; Blissfield, 128 and Columbia Central, 168.

They didn't finish very high, but they enjoyed it, said coach Eric Swager.

Runner Mike Smith 18:01, who ran well and earned a medal for 20th place said: "I loved the hills, especially the big one at mile two. I could run here all day."

"All in all the boys had a good workout and enjoyed themselves," Swager said.

Other varsity finishers for Chelsea were Tim Lawrence, 18:01; Ashley Coy, 18:11; Mike Smith, 18:26; Aaron Ruhlig, 18:30; Aaron Atlee, 19:20; Dan Weir, 19:26 and Aaron Sporer, 19:37.

Junior varsity finishers were Chris Dronen, 19:25; Curt Street, 20:06; Jason Atlee, 20:23; Jason Zatkovich, 21:21; Bob Armstrong, 21:39 and Jeremy Peace, 21:40.

Beach 8th Grade Cagers Lose to Saline, Dexter

The 8th grade girl cagers were not having a good week as they lost to Saline 38-9 Monday, Oct. 9 and to Dexter 22-10 Wednesday, Oct. 11.

Playing a home game, Coach Cheryl Vogel said the Bullpups faced a Hornet team that came ready to play and dominated the game with speed and quickness.

Lindsey Brink was the high scorer for Chelsea with 5 points. Deb Postiff led in rebounds with 3. Lindsay Powers had 3 steals.

The Bullpups faced Dexter, also in a home game. Chelsea was ready to play as they did a great job on defense, Vogel said, by holding Dexter to just 7 points in the first half. Chelsea held to within 4 points of the Dreadnaughts and took the lead in the third quarter, but it wasn't enough. They let up in the fourth to lose, Vogel said.

Earlier in the week the girls lost for a second time this season to a very strong Jackson Northwest team. The singles players all lost to their opponents: at 1st Liz Holdsworth lost in three sets 6-2, 4-6, 0-6; at 2nd Aubri Shermet lost 0-6, 4-6; at 3rd Anne Frederick lost 6-7, 2-6; at 4th Claire Issaz lost 2-6, 3-6.

Soccer Win Streak Reaches Total of 8

Chelsea varsity soccer team continued its winning ways with five victories in as many games over the past two weeks. Chelsea's strong defense continued its great play, allowing the offense to begin to find its rhythm.

Chelsea played a lackluster game against Fowlerville, but again prevailed by a slim margin. Despite having 38 shots on goal to Fowlerville's nine, Chelsea's only shot to reach the net came from the foot of senior Sam Morseau on an assist from senior David Pieske. Senior goalie Nate Benjamin recorded the shutout.

Final score: Chelsea 1, Fowlerville 0.

Two days later, Milan came to Chelsea for an SEC rematch. The excellent starting defense of seniors Kevin Holmes and Brian Jedele, and sophomores Kyle Christensen and Mike McPike and the strong mid-field play of the Chelsea team totally frustrated its opponent, allowing no shots on goalkeepers Nate Benjamin and sophomore Adam Erskine. David Pieske accounted for all of Chelsea's scoring on a penalty kick and assists from Sam Morseau and senior Ben Potocki.

Final score: Chelsea 3, Milan 0.

Chelsea traveled to Dansville for a very different game with a similar outcome. Again the strong midfield play of seniors Josh Hofing and Scott Holmes, and sophomore Nate Cooper, controlled the game. David Pieske had two goals and Scott Holmes added another on two assists from Josh Hofing, and one from sophomore Mike Kolesar. Goalie Nate Benjamin continued his fine play in recording the shutout.

Final score: Chelsea 3, Dansville 0.

Next came SEC opponent Lincoln. Chelsea dominated with 31 shots on goal to Lincoln's four. The scoring was provided by David Pieske with three, Sam Morseau with two, and Mike Kolesar with one. Assisting on the goals were Josh Hofing, Sam Morseau, Nate Cooper, Ben Potocki and sophomore Brent Young. Goalkeeper Adam Erskine recorded the win.

Final score: Chelsea 6, Lincoln 2.

Ypsilanti came to Chelsea for a first-ever meeting, and like so many other teams, left town completely frustrated. Chelsea's midfield and defense totally dominated the game, allowing the hard-working offense to pummel the opposition's goalies with 30 shots. The scoring was spread around the entire Chelsea squad with two goals by Sam Morseau and Mike Kolesar, one each from Josh Hofing, Kyle Christensen, Nate Cooper and David Pieske. Nate Benjamin played a tremendous game in goal, stopping 10 shots, including two penalty kicks, to record his fifth complete game shutout and ninth shutout appearance.

Final score: Chelsea 9, Ypsilanti 0.

Sunday, Oct. 22 there will be a film and tour of Sandhill Cranes sponsored by the Waterloo Natural History Association. The film will be shown at the Eddy Geology Center at 2 p.m. There is a $4 vehicle permit charge to park at the Center.

At 3 p.m. Stew Robinovitz will meet everyone at the entrance to the Portage Lake Campground for a tour of the fields in the Waterloo Recreation Area where the cranes are always seen. The final stop on the tour will be the Audubon Haehnle Sanctuary to view hundreds of these magnificent birds flying into the marshes to gather and roost prior to their final migration.

Dress warmly for the tour, especially the Haehnle stop, since the observation hill overlooking the marshes is always a chilly and windy spot. Bring binoculars if you have them. Stew will have telescopes for viewing.

Waste Reduction Workshop Set for County Schools

Daily activities in school classrooms, lunchrooms, offices and maintenance areas produce an estimated 2.5 to 3.5 pounds of solid waste per student per day! In Washtenaw county alone this accounts for approximately 12,000 tons of solid waste per year! For this reason, schools are considered to be "major generators" of wastes.

Washtenaw county's Solid Waste Plan, as required by the state of Michigan, sets a goal of reducing its waste by 30%. In order to meet this goal, co-operation in waste reduction programs is required of all major generators of waste, including schools. With some planning and commitment, waste reduction and recycling programs can be easily and effectively implemented in any school.

To help schools devise and implement waste management plans, Washtenaw county is offering a free training program. Three workshop sessions will show schools how to perform a waste stream evaluation, develop and implement a comprehensive waste reduction and recycling plan and evaluate on-going success. All sessions are hands-on and interactive.

The workshops are for all interested parties including superintendents, business administrators, food service, transportation, custodial and maintenance directors, and selected teachers, high school students and principals. The workshops will be held on various Wednesdays over the next few months on Oct. 18, Nov. 15 and Dec. 6 from 8 a.m.-11:30 a.m. The venue will be the WISD Teaching and Learning Center.

For further information on how to attend the workshops please contact Susan Swindlehurst at Washtenaw County Public Works Division, (313)994-2398.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor

At approximately 1:10 p.m. on Oct. 5 my wife left her purse in a grocery cart outside Polly's Market. The purse contained money, credit cards, driver's license, etc. The purse was turned into the store (Polly's) with all the contents intact. The lady who turned the purse in had departed the store by the time we got there. She did not leave her name. Whom ever this lady may be reflects the uniqueness of your community and why it is always a pleasure to visit with my daughter, son-in-law, and children who reside in Chelsea. Again I express my thanks to this lady of integrity and to the office staff and customer services personnel at Polly's Market. James T. Bennett Lampasas, Tex.

Sandhill Crane Festival Slated at Geology Center

Sunday, Oct. 22 there will be a film and tour of Sandhill Cranes sponsored by the Waterloo Natural History Association. The film will be shown at the Eddy Geology Center at 2 p.m. There is a $4 vehicle permit charge to park at the Center.

At 3 p.m. Stew Robinovitz will meet everyone at the entrance to the Portage Lake Campground for a tour of the fields in the Waterloo Recreation Area where the cranes are always seen. The final stop on the tour will be the Audubon Haehnle Sanctuary to view hundreds of these magnificent birds flying into the marshes to gather and roost prior to their final migration.

Dress warmly for the tour, especially the Haehnle stop, since the observation hill overlooking the marshes is always a chilly and windy spot. Bring binoculars if you have them. Stew will have telescopes for viewing.

Chelsea Lions Club Opens Haunted House

Ghouls, goblins and things that go booo! That's what the Chelsea Lions Club will be providing at the ninth annual Haunted House.

The Haunted House will be at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, one block west of the corner of Old US-12 and M-52, Thursday, Friday and Saturday,
Oct. 26-28, from 7 to 10 p.m.

"Our goal has always been to provide a professional scare, yet not leave the little ones in nightmares," said Lion Doug White. "Over the years, we've visited numerous haunted houses, learning new techniques in production, then we bring the best of those ideas to Chelsea for our show."

Construction of the Haunted House has always been a challenge for the service organizations. "With the availability of the Chelsea Community Fair barn, we've been able to add some larger and more elaborate scenes. We work hard each year to make sure our 'victims' have a good time," White added.

Tickets for the haunted house will be available at the door.

Man Reports Wife Threatened By Son

A 42-year-old man reported to two police officers at 9:40 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 10 that his 41-year-old wife had been threatened by their 17-year old son with a BB gun. The youth, who has a history of violence, was on a tether program for automobile theft. There had been several previous domestic assaults between the victim and the suspect.

The man was contacted by his wife at work saying their son had threatened her and she was afraid of him. The officers met with the couple in their front yard. The woman said she was afraid to go back into the house, as the son had said he was eventually going to kill her, she said.

She had come home from work at 5:45 p.m. The youth was irritable and got angry at her, because of the dog, when she attempted to put the laundry away. He was calling his mother names and she got scared when he told her she wouldn't bring him uptown because of the tether program. She tried to calm him down to no avail. He went to get a BB gun, which was loaded, said he was going to shoot up her car and pointed it at her several times.

The woman took the dog for a walk to get away from her son and to call her husband, who was at work at 9:37 p.m. and called 911. He later returned home.

While talking with the couple, the officers could see the youth lying on a sofa in the front room. He saw them watching, got up and went into another room. The officers opened the side door of the house and called for the youth but he did not come out of the room. They did find the gun with BB's in it.

The youth came out of a bedroom and said the gun was his and that it was loaded. He released a valve on the gun, in which the officers heard exhaust. He admitted to arguing with his mother but denied threatening her.

The officers went back outside and spoke with the parents, saying there was cause for arrest. When the youth came out of the house, he was advised of the charge and his rights. He was handcuffed and taken to the Washtenaw County Jail. The parole officer was called by the father at 1:05 a.m., who said he had found a marijuana pipe and a green leafy substance.

BILL HARTER (center) was officially inducted into the Chelsea Lions Club on Tuesday, Oct. 3. Bill (sponsored by Norm Colby on the right) and his wife Lisa recently moved to Ann Arbor where he is a research chemist for Parke-Davis. Bill and Lisa are avid outdoors enthusiasts who especially enjoy bird watching and hiking in the woods. The induction ceremony was performed by Region Chairman Ernil Jones (left).

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Crash at Central & Third Sts.

A two-vehicle crash was reported at Central and Third Sts., in the village of Dexter at 2:05 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 1.

Deputies Ford and Mesko responded to the crash report. A violation was issued Patrick Ryan Flynn of Cavanaugh Lake Rd., Chelsea, after investigating officers determined he failed to stop at a stop sign on Third St. and collided with a 1987 4-door Honda driven by Geraldine Marie Przeslawski of Pinckney.

Incident at Mugg-N-Bopps Parking Lot

Deputies Ford and Davis investigated an incident reported at 4:15 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 1, in which a vehicle apparently backed into another owned by Timothy M. Craft, then left the area.

Woman Given DUIL Citation

A Pinckney woman was cited by Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department deputies for D.U.I.L. (driving under the influence of liquor) after the deputies observed the vehicle she drove, without benefit of headlights, collided with a second vehicle, as its driver was attempting a turn onto southbound Baker Rd. from westbound Hudson. The driver of the second vehicle was unable to see the first vehicle, deputies explained in their report.

Series of Larcenies Reported

A series of larcenies was reported during the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 3, and/or early morning hours of Wednesday, Oct. 4, in the vicinity of Lombardy Dr. and Riker Rd., deputies reported.

A Chelsea woman reported a $10 bill was taken from a car parked in her driveway by unknown culprit(s). She told deputies that she heard a noise about 2:30 a.m. Oct. 4, but thought it was just an animal passing through the area.

Robert W. Knight reported a laser level (valued at $3,000) in a yellow plastic case was missing from his truck parked in a driveway in the same vicinity.

Rhonda Denny and her father reported hand tools (valued at $153) and a visor-mounted cassette tape holder were taken from two vehicles parked in their driveway. A black leather purse was also listed as missing from one of the vehicles.

In yet another incident reported, a bag of change was listed as missing from a vehicle.

On nearby Riker Rd., a transportable cellular phone, two flashlights, $15 in rolled quarters, was reported taken from a vehicle parked in a driveway.

Two dollars in change, and two flashlights, one angled, the other disposable, together with $3 in quarters, were all listed as missing from another vehicle parked at the driveway of a home on Riker Rd.

A tool belt with various assorted pliers, snips, hammer, screwdrivers, in addition to a flashlight, electronic tester and probe, a Makita cordless drill in blue plastic case (with charger and extra battery), a Milwaukee Sawzall reciprocating saw, a Milwaukee hammerdrill (hole hog) were reported missing from another vehicle parked in a driveway on Riker Rd.

The intruders apparently missed a plastic bag full of rolled coins, but took $2 in quarters from the center console of a vehicle in a driveway on Riker Rd. during the same series of larcenies.

Bicycles Reported Taken

Deputies investigated a report of a 10-speed girls Murray Roadmaster bicycle, valued at $165, from the Portage Lake vicinity. The reporter explained the bike was purple with pink handle bars. The report was made on Friday, Oct. 6.

911 Call from Tot

"I learned how at Safety Town," a little five-year old girl told deputies and fire rescue workers who responded to her 911 call from a home on Grand St., Dexter. Both groups were very impressed with the tot's composure when she called to say her Daddy was sick, Tuesday morning, Oct. 18.

Construction Site Vandals

Deputy Skip Davis was dispatched to investigate a report of damage apparently caused by vandals at a construction site on North Territorial Rd., east of Madden. The report was received Monday, Oct. 9, and was thought to have occurred between 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 7 and 6 a.m. Monday, Oct. 9.

A total of $500 estimated damage, including a small sliding glass window broken out from an office trailer, and a door clasp broken off, but the door lock left intact.

From a smaller equipment storage trailer, a clasp had been broken off the door (with lock still attached).

Deputies learned that a group of teenagers showed up at the location the previous week. They drove a newer blue extended-cab pick-up, loaded off a Honda Odyssey ATV, and started racing it around the site.

A construction site official and Dexter township supervisor, James Drollett had contacted the group and advised them to leave the area.

The bill of the Australian pelican can be up to 18 1/2 inches long.

On the way to Chelsea, we made some pretty exciting discoveries.

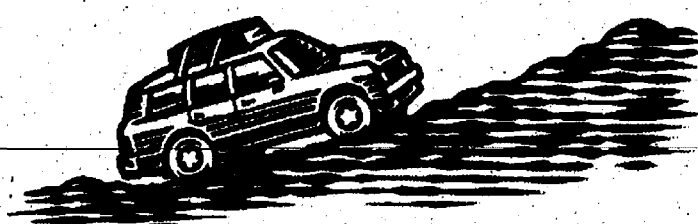

Deep inside the Venezuelan jungle, a genetic disease has plagued the inhabitants of a small village for generations. Moved by their plight, we went there to better understand the disease. Not only did we accomplish our mission, but our research led to the discovery of the gene that causes Huntington's disease.

Driven by a passion for improving health care, we've traveled to the far corners of the Earth. To places like the countryside of Japan and a small shipping town in Costa Rica. Even to outer space to conduct research.

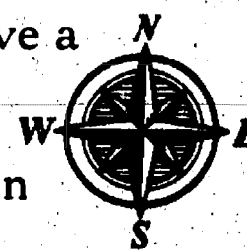

Everything we've learned we've brought back to you, through the physicians and medical staff of the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Now we are pleased to announce that our next destination is a little closer to home. In fact, it's right in your neighborhood. Because now the U-M Medical Center has physicians and health care centers near you. So you'll not only have access to the U-M Medical Center and its world-renowned facilities and programs like C.S. Mott Children's Hospital and the Comprehensive Cancer Center, you'll also have a conveniently located primary care physician for your routine care.

There's no better time to take advantage of these benefits than during the fall open enrollment period where you work. So make sure your health care plan gives you access to the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Beach 8th Grade Cagers Lose to Saline, Dexter

The 8th grade girl cagers were not having a good week as they lost to Saline 38-9 Monday, Oct. 9 and to Dexter 22-10 Wednesday, Oct. 11.

Playing a home game, Coach Cheryl Vogel said the Bullpups faced a Hornet team that came ready to play and dominated the game with speed and quickness.

Lindsey Brink was the high scorer for Chelsea with 5 points. Deb Postiff led in rebounds with 3. Lindsay Powers had 3 steals.

The Bullpups faced Dexter, also in a home game. Chelsea was ready to play as they did a great job on defense; Vogel said, by holding Dexter to just 7 points in the first half. Chelsea held to within 4 points of the Dreadnaughts and took the lead in the third quarter, but it wasn't enough. They let up in the fourth to lose, Vogel said.

Brink was the high scorer with 4 points. Elly Wheeler, Mary Torrice and Postiff scored 2 points each. Jessica Hendricks led with 5 rebounds; Jill Drexler and Traci Kern each with 4; Liz Menge, 3; Mary Torrice and Postiff had 2 each. Elly Wheeler, Carrie Harris, Brink and Powers had 3 steals each; Traci Kern and Postiff, 2 each. Brink, Postiff, Menge and Powers each blocked a shot.

Also playing were Katie Taylor, Meredith Davis, Chloe Chamberlin,

Frosh Girls Cagers Win One Lose Two

The freshman girls basketball team recently played three games, winning one and losing the other two.

The Bulldogs defeated Tecumseh 35-33 when they scored their final basket with less than 10 seconds in the game. Each team led several times during the contest with the outcome in doubt until the end.

Chelsea had a balanced scoring attack with nine different players contributing. Brooke Stolski, Susan Kattula and Amelia Botsford led the way in rebounding and Karen Kuhl and Megan Holefska ran the offense.

Lumen Christi came to Chelsea with an excellent team, said coach John Ruhlig. In the first half, the teams traded baskets with the visitors leading by three.

"This was easily our best half of basketball," Ruhlig said. However, the second half went in favor of Lumen Christi and they won the game by a score of 44 to 20. Karen Kuhl and Megan Holefska led the way in scoring.

Chelsea had a repeat contest with the Dreadnaughts winning 35-25. After a slow start and only 8 points at the half, the freshman girls "came out" in the second half and played an aggressive game that was close until the final moments, Ruhlig said.

Seven of the eight Chelsea members scored with Lindsey Williams, Kristen Ellis, Susan Kattula and Katy Long as top scorers.

All of the girls played well in the game as they continued to compete well, Ruhlig said.

Senate Proposal Would Stop Ethanol Fuel Tax Exemption

A bill has been introduced in the U.S. Senate to phase out, over three years, the 5.4 cents-per-gallon federal excise tax exemption for fuels blended with ethanol produced from agricultural commodities receiving federal price supports.

Although the measure, S. 1066, would still allow an excise tax exemption for ethanol produced from unsubsidized crops, it would not be allowed for ethanol derived from corn, the main feedstock for ethanol production.

"The federal excise tax exemption is a major incentive for ethanol production," according to Bob Boehm, commodity specialist for the Michigan Farm Bureau. "Without it, little, if any, ethanol production would be economically feasible. Ethanol-producing facilities have gained a great deal of efficiency over the last 10 to 15 years, and now produce a lot more ethanol per bushel of corn."

Here's some advice from the Michigan Beef Industry Commission to help you keep your picnic sandwiches from getting soggy. Pack vegetables like lettuce and tomato separately. And spread a thin layer of butter, margarine or mayonnaise on the bread.

He had been quite ill for several years but during that time continued to do the things he loved best: gardening and lawn work, cheering favorite sports teams, and soundly trouncing the unwary at cribbage. He maintained a keen interest in the world around him, playing close attention to global and local events.

Man Eats Crackers in Store; Arrested on Separate Charge

At 8:41 p.m. on Oct. 9 an officer on patrol responded to a complaint of a shoplifter being chased through a supermarket by two employees at 1101 S. Main St. and later arrested him on an unrelated felony warrant for burglary.

The officer met the manager who was with an 18-year-old Gregory man and his 14-year-old brother. The manager said the 18-year-old was walking through the store eating crackers he didn't pay for. The manager advised him he would have to pay for the crackers. The man talked back to him and he was advised to leave the store. He went to get a soft drink and got in a check-out line to pay for it.

The manager ordered him out of the store, and he refused. At that time the police officer arrived. The manager told the officer there would be no charges filed against the man, he just wanted him out of the store.

The officer obtained the man's driver's license for lien and found the man had a felony warrant out for his arrest from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department for burglary. He was taken to Chelsea Police Department and held until being taken to to WCSJ jail on the burglary charge.

No information was available on what happened to his brother.

OPEN HOUSE at Chelsea Fire Dept. Sunday was to celebrate National Fire Prevention Week. With the Chelsea fire trucks and related equipment on display, visitors were able to mix with firemen and ask ques-

"THE JAWS OF LIFE," the firemen's best friend in auto crash rescue operations (and also the victim's best friend) were demonstrated Sunday at the Chelsea Fire Department Open House. Firemen used the jaws to remove a door from the wrecked vehicle so a victim could be safely and quickly extricated. Firemen demonstrating the process are, from left, Steve Jaskot, Ken Bauer and Jerry Kraft.

Timber Town Playground Seeks Design Day Help

On Wednesday, Nov. 8, the children of Chelsea and other members of the community will have an opportunity to express their ideas for the Timber Town playground project. In an event called Design Day, John Dean, a designer from Leather & Associates, playground consultants, along with volunteers from the community, will solicit suggestions from the children at North, South and Middle schools throughout the day. Prior to Design Day, the art teachers at the schools will be working with the children to create drawings of how they envision the playground.

At 7 p.m. Wednesday evening, at the North Elementary school caferia, the rest of the community is invited to give its input on what type of playground structure it would like to see in Chelsea. At this Design Day meeting, John Dean will share drawings and ideas that were submitted by the children, and those present will be given an opportunity to give their input. A slide show of other playgrounds designed by Leathers & Associates will also be given. On-site child care will be available.

Behind the scenes, Mary Lou, the Children's Committee chairperson, is already hard at work preparing for Design Day. Children from both North and South schools, and student representatives from Beach Middle school, will be working with Mary Lou and the rest of her committee to prepare for Design Day, as well as continuing involvement in Timber Town after Design Day.

The Children's Committee is comprised of students, parents and teachers. It is its goal to connect the people who will build the play area with the people who will use it.

This is the one opportunity for children and adults to play an integral role in the design of Timber Town. It's hoped parents will discuss Timber Town with their children, and allow them the time to give this project some thought prior to Design Day.

If you have questions regarding Design Day, please contact Mary Lou Severin at 475-9637.

Frosh Grid Team Ties Tecumseh 6-6

Chelsea's freshman football team played to a 6-6 tie with Tecumseh, Tuesday, Oct. 10, in a true defensive battle. Although Tecumseh held the ball more than twice as long as the Bulldogs, Chelsea's solid defense came up with some big plays to hold the Indians to just one touchdown.

Neither team could do much offensively in the first half, but Tecumseh did get to the Bulldog five-yard line late in the half with the help of a pass-interference penalty, and a long-pass completion. However, Chelsea's defense held with the key play being a fourth-down stop short of the goal line as the half ended.

The Bulldogs returned the opening kick of the second half to near midfield, but lost the ball on a second-down fumble. Tecumseh then drove 14 plays using seven minutes and scored on a six-yard run. The conversion run was no good.

Dan Seward returned the ensuing kick-off 85 yards for the Bulldogs to tie the score at six, but the conversion run was short.

"We would like to kick the extra point in that kind of situation, but we haven't been able to put together the parts of a place-kicking game," said coach Bill Bainton.

Linebacker Derek Olberg led the Bulldog defense with 16 tackles. Vince Scheffler had two interceptions to stop Tecumseh drives.

"We never could get anything going consistently on offense," said Bainton. "We just seemed out of sync. We mishandled the ball a couple of times, and got some penalties. Their defense played very well."

The tie gives the freshmen a 2-2-1 record with two games to play.

Man Arrested on Loitering Charge

Mission Health--a network of caring

Mission Health has united four well-respected names in health care: Providence Hospital in Southfield, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, Saline Community Hospital in Saline and McPherson Hospital in Howell.

A community-based health care network, Mission Health provides quality, accessible health care to residents across Southeast Michigan. In our four hospital units and more than 40 outpatient and specialty centers, we provide patients with virtually every medical, surgical, therapeutic and rehabilitative service with the outstanding quality and compassionate care that have hallmarked our organizations for decades.

Mission Health ranks as one of the largest health care providers in Southeast Michigan with:

- 1,250 acute care beds
- 1,444,000 outpatient visits annually
- 9,070 births each year
- 1,880 physicians

Making a difference in our community

But Mission Health is more than just a big health organization providing traditional kinds of health care. It's an organization committed to making a difference in the health of our communities by providing health education classes and developing programs to keep people healthy.

Physicians, associates and volunteers at each of the Mission Health hospitals and outpatient centers are dedicated to the organization's Mission and Values:

Building upon the traditions of its sponsors, the Daughters of Charity and the Sisters of Mercy, the purpose of Mission Health is to improve the health of the people it serves by caring for the whole person.

Mission Health's vision is to create a model regional health care network that embodies the values of the sponsors:

- Advocacy for the poor
- Inventiveness to infinity
- Justice
- Mercy
- Quality service
- Respect for human dignity
- Simplicity

On the Mission Health drawing board-- growing the network of care

The St. Joseph Mercy-Oscar Haab Building in Ypsilanti will show the community a new sign and will offer the services of three primary care physicians.

Mission Health continues to expand its satellite network to serve the needs of the growing populations in its service area.

Mission Health signs give familiar landmarks a new look

Passers-by may now notice a new look on signs at Providence, St. Joseph, Saline and McPherson hospital and satellite locations as Mission Health signs go up. The photo at left shows one of the new signs at a Providence facility. The St. Joseph Mercy-Oscar W. Haab Building in Ypsilanti (top), also dons the new exterior look.

Inside the Haab building, things have changed, too, with the addition of several new physicians--internist/pediatricians John Frohna, MD and Naomi Rosenberg, MD; and internists Gerald Stair, MD and Jean Butler Cederna, MD. Continuing to practice in the Arbor Building are the Arbor Medical Group's three internal medicine physicians: Dr. Alex Moyyad, MD; Steve Gao, MD; and Karen Virley, MD.

Other services offered in the Haab Building are walk-in laboratory services, family nursing services and a community room available for group use.

Center, located at 10 Mile and Haggerty roads in Novi, recently opened as home to the three-physician Providence Children's Medical Group: E. Albert Leeel, MD; Regina Z. Rizk, MD; and Marcia J. Newcombe, MD. Additional services planned are Internal Medicine, OB/GYN, imaging, laboratory and community health education, including an outpatient diabetes education program.

Coming in 1996...Mission Health Farmington Hills Center

Mission Health Farmington Hills Center, a 50,000-square-foot facility at North-western Highway and Inskler Road, is scheduled for completion in 1996. It will house urgent care, clinical laboratory, diagnostic imaging, pharmacy, physical therapy and community health education, as well as offices for 35 primary care physicians and specialists.

Coming in 1997...Mission Health Canton Center

The Canton Health Building, located at Ford and Lilley roads, is rapidly outgrowing its space. Current services include adult urgent care, laboratory, radiology, pharmacy, physical therapy and occupational health services, as well as office space for primary care and orthopedic physicians.

By mid-1997, this Center hopes to move to a 70,000-square-foot building in Canton's Summit Park development, where area residents will find adult and pediatric urgent care, laboratory, radiology, mammography, ultrasound and physical therapy services, a pharmacy, community health education and home health care. The new Mission Health Canton Center will also provide office space for primary care physicians and specialists.

Caring for those in need

Mission Health is committed to caring for individuals in other than traditional health care settings, reaching out into the community to help those whose health care needs are under-served.

Providence Hospital is sponsored by the Daughters of Charity; St. Joseph Mercy, Saline and McPherson hospitals are sponsored by the Religious Sisters of Mercy. Both of these congregations of sisters are committed to providing health care to individuals regardless of ability to pay. So, in addition to the uncompensated care that it already provides, Mission Health has made an additional commitment. Over the next five years, the organization will dedicate an additional $10 million to provide for the special needs of the poor in our service areas.

Ann Arbor area

Mission for Humanity of Huron Valley, Grays and Bounds, a primary preventive care program of the Poverty and Social Reform Institute, Catherine's House, on the St. Joseph campus, which distributes clothing and non-perishable foodstuffs, and the Westside School Student Health Clinic for primary preventive care.

Detroit area

In Detroit, Sacred Heart Care, St. Theresa Mercy, Grays and Bounds, Family Services, Inc. of St. Joseph, St. Joseph's African American Community Health Program, and Bishop's Hospital, Catholic Hospital Inc. are primary preventive care programs for at-risk groups.

Mission Health advocates highest standards for humanity build a house in Ypsilanti.

Oncology services at Mission Health-- winning the battle against cancer

One in every eight or nine American women will develop breast cancer...but if it's detected early, the disease is 90 percent curable.

Breast Cancer--early detection emphasized during October, Breast Cancer Awareness Month

Mary Elizabeth Roth, MD, chairperson of Family Practice for Mission Health and Oakland Unit president for the American Cancer Society (ACS), stresses: "A woman's primary care physician will encourage her to do monthly breast self exams and have regular mammograms as recommended by the ACS." These recommendations include a baseline mammogram between the ages of 35 and 40; mammograms every one to two years between ages 40 and 50 and every year after age 50. Breast self exam should become a monthly ritual for women, Dr. Roth stresses.

Deborah L. Peery, MD, an internist on staff at Saline Community Hospital, agrees: "Most women may only see their doctors every year or so. So by doing regular monthly breast self exams (BSE), they're more likely to notice changes. I tell patients that if they feel anything abnormal in their BSE, they need to get to the doctor for evaluation, diagnosis and any needed treatment."

McPherson Hospital's Mary B. Killeen, director for Women's and Children's Services, and Cheryl R. Rusk, McPherson's manager for Radiology/Imaging, concur with the focus on monthly breast self-exam and regular mammography. The two worked with the American Cancer Society and Livingston County schools to develop an innovative educational program to teach high school junior and senior female students the importance of breast self exam. A breast cancer survivor in her twenties shares her experiences and students watch a video, receive BSE instruction and take-home literature to share with other women in their families. For information, call 517-545-6656.

Dr. Roth applauds this sharing of information between the generations: "Our mothers, as women over 50, are at greatest risk for breast cancer, since 75 percent of breast cancers occur in women over 50."

In recent years, there has been controversy about screening mammography for women 40 to 49 years old, according to Maureen E. Forrest, MD, section head of Breast Imaging at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Dr. Forrest and the staff of McAuley Breast Care strongly believe that annual screening is justified in women age 40 to 49, as do the majority of medical associations, including the American College of Radiology and the American Medical Association.

Dr. Forrest notes, however, that "for women whose mothers or sisters had premenopausal breast cancer, screening mammography should begin 10 years before the breast cancer was diagnosed in their relatives, or at age 40, whichever is sooner."

Many Mission Health locations offer breast care services

Mission Health has many locations and services (see sidebar listing on page 9) for breast care and education.

Breast Self Examination

Breast Self Examination (BSE) should be part of your monthly health care activities, done two weeks after your menstrual period starts. After menopause or a hysterectomy, you should examine your breasts on the first day of every month.

Three easy steps help you spot warning signs:

1. With your hands at your sides, look in the mirror to check for lumps or dimpling of your breasts. Then raise your arms over your head, looking for changes in the size or shape of your breasts or in skin texture.

2. In the shower, keep your fingers flat (don't use fingertips) and move your hand gently over each breast, checking for thickening, knots or lumps. Use your right hand for your left breast and your left hand for your right breast.

3. Using your thumb and index finger, gently squeeze your nipple to check for discharge. You should let your doctor know immediately if you find any irregularities or changes during your monthly breast self exams.

"Everything about this outpatient center and our inpatient units...was driven by one guiding principle: providing compassionate, cutting edge care that always puts the patient at the center of the process."

Philip Stella, MD, McAuley Cancer Care Center

(Continued from page 7) McAuley Breast Care offers a complete range of breast care services including screening and diagnostic mammography, instruction in breast self examination, video instruction and educational materials, breast ultrasound, fine needle aspiration biopsy, needle core biopsy, cyst aspiration, needle localization for surgical biopsy and stereotactic localization. McPherson and Saline hospitals and other St. Joseph Mercy outpatient facilities also offer breast cancer care services.

Providence provides a similar range of services through its four mammography centers and the department of Diagnostic Radiology.

The Women's Imaging Center at Providence Medical Center-Providence Park in Novi recently began offering stereotactic breast biopsy. James Selis, MD, director of Providence Breast Health and Education, explains: "Most breast biopsies are benign, but a biopsy procedure remains the definitive way to determine if cancer is present. The conventional biopsy process involves surgery to obtain breast tissue samples and can result in some scarring of the breast. With stereotactic biopsy--a virtually painless procedure that does not leave incision scars--we can extract all the tissue sample we need for analysis through a special hollow-core needle."

If breast cancer is the diagnosis

Should a patient be diagnosed with breast cancer, Mission Health physicians are committed to providing her with treatment options as quickly as possible. Both St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and Providence have formed multidisciplinary work groups of specialists, including representatives from medical oncology, general surgery, radiation, oncology, pathology, radiology, nursing and other support services, who meet to evaluate a patient's case, recommend treatment options, then begin the chosen treatment as quickly as possible.

Treatment options for breast cancer

Today, patients with breast cancer have numerous treatment choices. In recent years, dramatic advances in technology allow surgeons to achieve the same success rate in tumor removal with less radical surgery for breast cancer, as well as for other cancers. Many women, therefore, may be able to choose between a mastectomy, in which the breast would be removed, and a lumpectomy, in which only the cancerous tumor is removed from the breast. Lumpectomy is often followed by a course of radiation therapy. And most women who have mastectomies now are candidates for breast reconstruction. A general surgeon, in conjunction with a plastic surgeon, can help a woman decide whether to have reconstruction and which reconstructive procedure would be right for her.

Through years of research, scientists have learned that by the time many cancers--including breast cancer--are diagnosed, microscopic pieces of the tumor may have already spread to other areas of the body. When this happens, a patient's physician may recommend chemotherapy, which attacks the spread of the disease by killing as many of the cancer cells as possible.

Special care for gynecological oncology patients

Both Providence and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital provide patients with the services of physicians specializing in gynecological oncology--the treatment of cancers of the female reproductive system. Providence offers specialists through an arrangement with the Wayne State School of Medicine and St. Joseph Mercy through a similar arrangement with the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Mission Health offers comprehensive cancer services

Mission Health offers patients a comprehensive array of outpatient and inpatient cancer care services, from research and diagnosis to treatment including surgery, radiation and medical oncology, pain management (please see sidebar story on page 10), education and support services and groups.

Oncology services at Mission Health-- winning the battle against cancer

"Every attempt has been made to provide patient- and family-centered services--including radiation oncology, medical oncology, pain management, educational resources and support groups--in one convenient, comfortable location."

Muhyi Al-Sarraf, MD, Providence Cancer Center

(Continued from page 8) Center for outpatient oncology services, including the Chemotherapy Clinic, a day treatment area for patients and families, and the Fred and Sally Palma Radiation Oncology Treatment Facility.

"Everything about this outpatient center and our cancer inpatient units--from the layout of the facilities to the actual treatments provided, from support services to clinical research--was driven by one guiding principle: providing compassionate, cutting-edge care that always puts the patient at the center of the process," says Philip Stella, MD, the Center's medical director.

This same emphasis on quality care in a cost-effective, streamlined environment led St. Joseph Mercy to develop multidisciplinary work groups in 1992. "We have been very successful with these groups," Dr. Stella explains, "and now offer them for lung, breast, brain, gastrointestinal, prostate and bladder cancers."

Muhyi Al-Sarraf, MD, medical director of the Providence Cancer Center, says Providence shares the same commitment to multidisciplinary work groups as a means of "providing patients with quality, compassionate care and access to the newest cancer-fighting treatments. Providence has working groups for breast, gynecologic and lung cancers, head and neck cancer, and leukemia/lymphoma." Dr. Al-Sarraf also stresses the Hospital's commitment to laboratory research that "can immediately be used at the bedside to improve patient care."

The Providence Cancer Center provides outpatient oncology care for patients in a free-standing building located on the Hospital's Southfield campus. "Every attempt has been made to provide patient- and family-centered services--including radiation oncology, medical oncology, pain management, educational resources and support groups--in one convenient, comfortable location," says Dr. Al-Sarraf.

National and local affiliations benefit patients

Mission Health hospitals are affiliated with several national cancer research groups, providing patients access to the most advanced and progressive cancer therapies and treatments available. Providence remains the only community hospital in the nation to be a full member of SWOG--the Southwest Oncology Group. Both Providence and St. Joseph Mercy participate in the National Surgical Adjuvant Breast and Bowel Project (NSABP).

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital received one of only 50 grants made by the National Cancer Institute to establish the Ann Arbor Regional Community Clinical Oncology Program (CCOP). This program has expanded research efforts and provided patients with access to the latest cancer treatments, prevention and control trials through affiliations with many national cancer research consortiums.

Radiation Oncology offers specialized treatments

Both the Providence Cancer Center and the McAuley Cancer Care Center offer patients sophisticated 3-D treatment planning which allows the radiation oncologist to look at a targeted cancer site from multiple directions and plan exactly how radiation treatments will be delivered, minimizing damage to surrounding tissues.

Using 3-D technology, Providence radiation oncologists use a recently-developed positioning technique for prostate cancer patients receiving radiation therapy. This technique dramatically reduces the amount of radiation delivered to the delicate tissues near the prostate gland. Providence physicians use 3-D planning before and after brachytherapy, a cancer-fighting technique where tiny cancer-killing radioactive seeds are precisely implanted into tumors.

Radiation oncologists at the McAuley Cancer Care Center also use brachytherapy to treat various cancers including breast cancer, gynecological cancers and lung cancer. In addition, this Center is one of few in Michigan to offer hyperthermia cancer treatment in which microwave-induced applications of heat shrink tumors and enhance the effectiveness of radiation therapy in certain types of cancer.

Attention Deficit-Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)

What do three to 10 percent of America's children have in common with Albert Einstein, Thomas Edison, Tom Cruise, Whoopie Goldberg, Cher and Henry "The Fonz" Winkler? Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD).

"Children, teens and adults can have ADHD," says Pamela Sohoni, MD, clinical director of Outpatient Child and Adolescent Psychiatry at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, and a specialist in ADHD.

"Symptoms of ADHD include inattention, inability to focus on one task for any length of time, distractibility, hyperactivity and impulsivity," she explains. ADHD, seen more in boys than girls, is not caused by environment, she says, "and parents should not feel that they are responsible for a child's ADHD. The disorder is biological and neurological in nature."

It is also treatable, she stresses, with medications and psychosocial intervention.

"The majority of children with ADHD respond to stimulant medications such as dextedrine, ritalin and cylert," Dr. Sohoni explains. "If those fail, we also have other alternatives, including antidepressants."

Before a child is diagnosed and treated as having ADHD, however, a thorough evaluation, which may include psychiatric and neuro-psychological testing, is needed. Significant input from parents and teachers is also important. "Some things that may seem to be symptoms of ADHD may be only normal variants for a child of a certain age. And other problems can co-exist with ADHD," Dr. Sohoni says, "like learning disabilities, defiance, depression, anxiety, and speech and language problems."

"We all have some of these symptoms at various times, but that does not mean all of us have ADHD," she explains. "Sometimes people want to use ADHD to explain all their problems."

Once diagnosed and on any needed medication, the child with ADHD benefits most from a consistent, predictable environment, and from parents and teachers who understand the kind of chronic difficulties the child will face, perhaps even into adulthood.

At home this may translate into setting up specific periods of time for waking up, going to bed, performing chores, doing homework, and enjoying recreational activities. In the classroom, strategies for working with the ADHD child might include providing a great deal of structure and consistency; allowing the child a time for controlled movement, such as watering plants or taking a note to the office. Setting up clear and concise rules for behavior, enforcing the consequences of rule-breaking and rewarding positive conduct are important both at home and at school.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital offers separate eight-week treatment groups, held quarterly, for parents and children with ADHD.

Mission Health behavioral services-- helping individuals and families

Mission Health provides a range of behavioral services

"Mission Health hospitals and many of the network's satellite locations offer children, adolescents and adults a wide range of mental health services from outpatient and partial hospital programs to inpatient care," says Thomas Zelnik, MD, Mission Health chairperson of Psychiatry.

Outpatient services

Throughout the outpatient network of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Saline Community Hospital and McPherson Hospital, a full array of therapies is offered for treatment of psychiatric and chemical dependency disorders. These therapies include brief through long-term psychotherapy, general psychiatric evaluation and psychological testing. Services for patients of all ages are delivered by psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers or nurses in a variety of modalities, including individual, family and group therapy. Some specialty care is available as well, for example, the sports performance psychology service. A number of support groups are also available for patients and families.

Outpatient locations in Ann Arbor, Canton, Plymouth,

Left, Mission Health offers a wide range of mental health services including partial hospital programs which provide intensive outpatient therapy, including activity therapy for patients.

Below, Pamela Sohoni, MD, clinical director of Outpatient Child and Adolescent Psychiatry at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, stresses that Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) is treatable.

Howell and Saline offer at least one of the services listed above.

Providence provides outpatient behavioral services for adults and families at three locations: at Providence Hospital in Southfield, at the Providence Pavilion adjacent to the Hospital's campus and at Providence Medical Center-Providence Park in Novi. Family-centered behavioral services will be added at more Providence satellites in the coming months, according to Elizabeth Donoghue Colvin, operations director for Mission Health Behavioral Services.

Partial hospital programs

For adults who require more care than is afforded through regular office visits, but who can safely remain at home overnight, both Providence and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital offer partial hospital programs. In these programs, multi-disciplinary groups of psychiatrists, psychologists, nurses, social workers and activity therapists provide intensive care for patients in a setting which serves either as an alternative to or a "step down" from an inpatient hospital stay. A similar program for adolescents is also available.

Some partial hospital patients, however, require a safe environment in which to spend their nights, if that need cannot be met at home. To meet that need, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital recently opened a new program, one of only a handful in the country, according to Mary Bleakley, program director for Mission Health Behavioral Services. The Crisis Residential program, located in the Huron Oaks Building on the Hospital's Ann Arbor campus, "provides overnight care for partial hospital patients who cannot safely stay at home, but who do not need the more restrictive medical environment of an inpatient hospital unit." An overnight program is also being planned for the adolescent partial hospital program.

Inpatient services

Providence offers a 25-bed inpatient unit treating psychiatric and chemically dependent adult patients, including "dually diagnosed" patients, who have both psychiatric and chemical dependency problems.

The St. Joseph Mercy Hospital inpatient unit can treat up to 24 adult patients. Through a special agreement that eliminates costly duplication of services, St. Joseph Mercy sends children and adolescents in need of inpatient psychiatric care to the University of Michigan Medical Center.

The Saline Greenbrook Recovery Center in Saline offers residential treatment program for chemical dependency (alcohol and/or substance abuse).

Oncology services at Mission Health-- winning the battle against cancer

Mission Health offers cancer patients the most advanced medical and surgical treatments and a full spectrum of care -- from outpatient to inpatient, including hospice services.

Mission Health is dedicated to providing cancer patients with the most advanced medical and surgical treatments and a full spectrum of care, from outpatient treatments to inpatient care, including hospice care. The inpatient units at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and at Providence have compassionate, committed care-givers, including nurses who have received special training in oncology and the delivery of chemotherapy treatments.

At St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, a multidisciplinary group of health professionals including physicians, nurses, nutritionists, pharmacists, social workers, chaplains and home care coordinators coordinates the care for each patient.

Through a program on Providence's oncology unit, nurse case managers orchestrate each patient's care, working closely with physicians, specially-trained oncology nurses, care givers and support staff members, to streamline the hospital stay, provide home follow-up and save the patient from unnecessary hospital readmissions.

A commitment to caring

Mission Health physicians and health care professionals recognize that cancer challenges the body, mind and spirit of cancer patients and their families. That's why our physicians and staff are committed to providing care that goes beyond the latest technologies to encompass supportive services such as rehabilitative physical; occupational and speech therapy; nutritional counseling; social work; pastoral care; education and support groups for patient and family.

Mission Health Livonia Center--building for the future

December 8, 1994--a snowy, sunny day in Livonia--was declared "Mission Health Day" by Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett as Mission Health officials and city dignitaries broke ground for Mission Health Livonia Center.

The building is the first medical center built by Mission Health, the community-based health care network formed by Providence Hospital in Southfield, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, Saline Community Hospital in Saline and McPherson Hospital in Howell.

Today, Mission Health Livonia Center rises with four stories of steel and a completed roof. The 68,000-square-foot building on a wooded parcel of land at the corner of Seven Mile and Newburgh roads is scheduled to open early in winter 1996.

Mission Health Livonia Center will provide the community with an urgent care facility; outpatient diagnostic and treatment services including x-ray, ultrasound, women's imaging, CT, pharmacy, laboratory and physical therapy. It will also house the offices of 35 primary care physicians and specialists and will provide space for community health education classes.

When this new facility opens, the physicians, staff and services of Providence Medical Center-Livonia (currently located on Farmington Road near Eight Mile Road), will move to the new location.

To help assure that the services offered at the Livonia Center meet community needs, Mission Health has appointed a Community Advisory Council of 10 community leaders who will help Mission Health focus on how best to help improve the health status of the community.
