Christmas In April Successful Again

According to Chelsea's Christmas In April Chairman Dick Shaneyfelt, this year's campaign, held Saturday, April 27, ran more smoothly than any of the previous four.

Seventy-two volunteers worked throughout a cold but bright Saturday, doing significant renovations to four area homes while doing more cosmetic work like raking and cleaning on four more local residences.

For each of the past five years Christmas In April volunteers have repaired and refurbished a similar number of area homes, primarily for handicapped, elderly or economically disadvantaged homeowners.

The Chelsea Rotary Club took responsibility for one site, the Chelsea Lions Club another, and other volunteers, many representing Chelsea's various church congregations, refurbished six more.

Work began at the eight sites at 9 a.m., with the nourishing help of donuts donated by the Village Bakery.

The volunteers converged at the Faith In Action building for lunch, which was donated by Thompson's and Domino's Pizza, while Pamida supplied discounted beverages.

Chelsea Glass pitched in, offering free glass repair. Work concluded by 4:30 p.m.

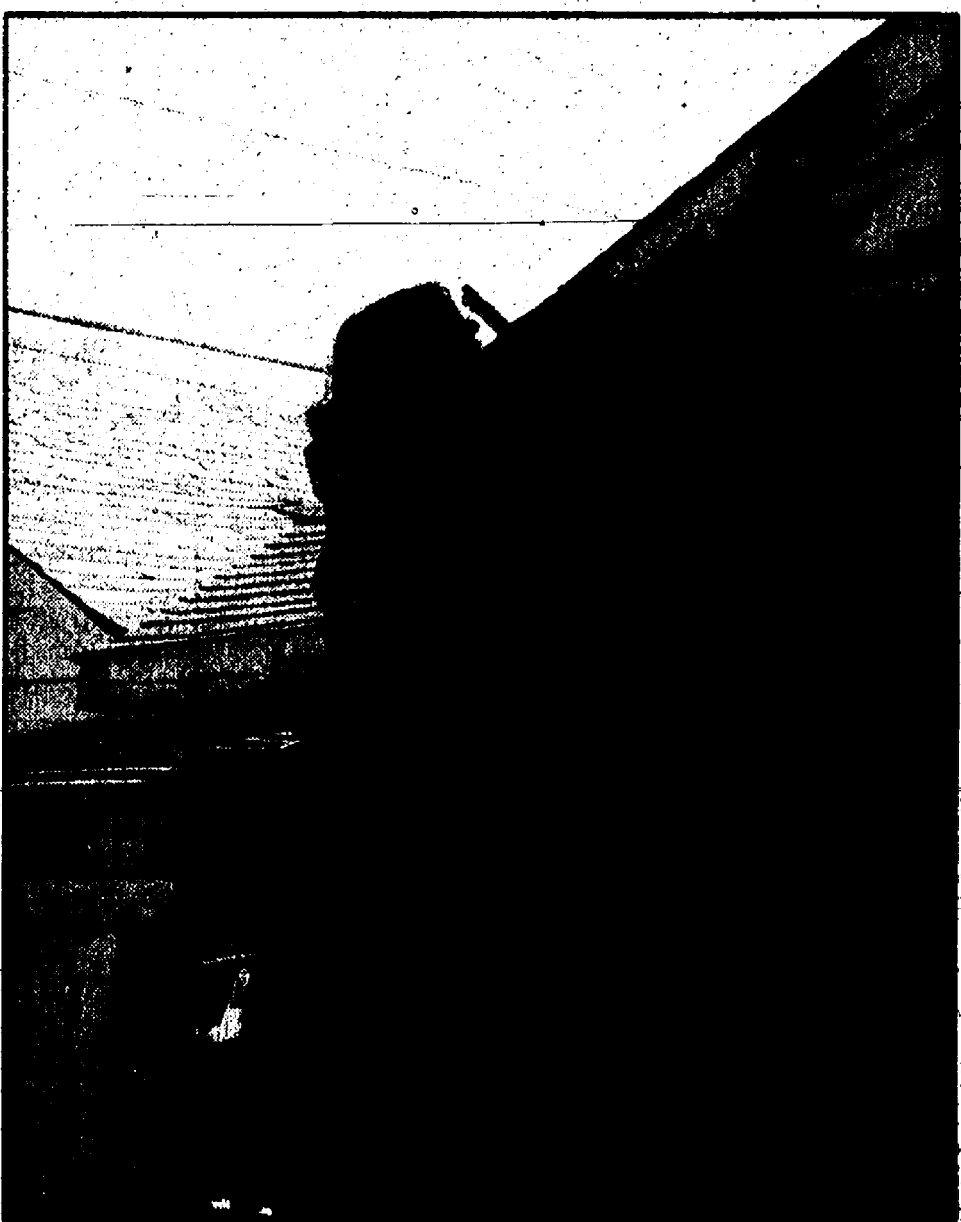

"All in all, it went real well," Shaneyfelt said, noting how appreciative homeowners were for the repair and cleanup help.

"The volunteers were a very hardworking and congenial group and it was a pleasure for me to meet the new people and reacquaint myself with the older ones."

"They really felt good about being able to get out and do the work," Shaneyfelt concluded.

WWRA Seeks Assessment Extension

By Scott Bishop
Staff Writer

Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority formed in 1991 to address waste and recycling issues. Six townships and two villages, including Chelsea, compose the WWRA district.

The WWRA funds its facility and operations through a 10-year state grant, revenue generated from the sale of recycled materials and special assessment funds levied throughout the district.

Village households are assessed $30 per year, township households $17 per year. Only village residents receive curbside pickup service.

The special assessment was fixed in 1991 to run for five years. The WWRA Board of Directors, composed of representatives from the participating municipalities, proposes extending the millage for another five years.

A recent WWRA press release indicated a millage extension was necessary.

"Although this project is funded by special assessments and the sale of raw materials, the value of these materials is not sufficient to cover all program costs."

"The WWRA, in conjunction with the Washtenaw County Department of Public Works, will soon hold public hearings explaining the need to continue the current special assessment to ensure the WWRA's operation and future growth," the release stated.

The public hearings are scheduled for August and September.

Doug Parr, chairman of the WWRA Board, said that while the WWRA was working toward financial independence as a goal, he couldn't guarantee that the special assessment could be dropped in another five years.

place a 1989 Mack truck and particularly requires more storage space, Reding indicated.

Currently, baled materials are kept in two semi-trucks while a 60 x 75 foot pole barn is under construction for storage. When complete, it will more than double the present storage space.

Storage space is a key issue, Reding explained, to allow the WWRA to take advantage of the fluctuating market for recycled raw materials.

For example, last summer the price for cardboard increased dramatically.

With additional storage space the WWRA could save cardboard for opportune market times, and get the best price for larger amounts of material.

Without storage space, the WWRA must sell whenever its limited facilities are full, regardless of market price.

Reding observed the irony that the facility had brought in more recycled material than expected in 1991, but didn't have the storage to maximize its resources.

"It has done better than they anticipated as far as (amounts) of paper and cardboard."

Condominium Development Approved

Final plans for a development titled Village Place Condominiums, which will be located on 9.4 currently vacant acres west of Pierce Park across M-52 and south of Pierce Street, was approved by Chelsea Village Council Tuesday, April 23.

A development of 50 units is planned, 10 buildings housing 4-6 living units apiece, along with a management building.

Though the property is adjacent to M-52, there will be access to the project from the thoroughway.

Rather, Taylor Street south from Pierce Street will be extended and connected by an S-curve to Taylor Street north from Old US-12.

Presently the two Taylor Streets do not connect.

The developers will extend and connect the roads to meet village standards; ultimately Chelsea Village will own and maintain all of the enhanced Taylor Street.

Access to Village Place Condominiums will be off of Taylor Street.

Two private roads into the development will be owned and maintained by the developers.

While Assistant Village Manager Bruce Pindzia indicated that the developers were hoping to begin work this construction season, developer George Riedel was unavailable for comment.

Meeting Coordinates Timber Town

By Scott Bishop
Staff Writer

Timber Town and Village officials met last week to iron out construction details prior to a massive volunteer project that will erect the Timber Town play structure.

The structure will be part of Dana Park, south-west of the intersection of M-52 and Sibley Road.

June 11-16, up to 3,000 local volunteers will work under the direction of three construction engineers contracted by designers Leathers & Associates.

The April 24 meeting was to ensure village and Timber Town understanding of how construction details would be handled.

The village will allow use of some of its machinery, supply electric and water hookups, collect the project's trash and construction waste (the latter will not be a donated service) etc.

A key topic of discussion was insurance for the project. Village Manager Jack Myers read a letter from village insurance carrier Meadowbrook Insurance Group which addressed the question.

"The Village will be covered for injuries sustained by the volunteers, if the injuries are proved to be the Village's fault. The Village's Workers' Compensation coverage will not provide medical or lost wage benefits to the volunteers."

"Currently, no coverage exists for injury to the volunteers if the Village is not at fault. These volunteers can either go to their own health and disability coverage or purchase a separate health policy."

Each volunteer should sign a waiver of liability that states the risks involved in building a play structure and holding the Village blameless," the letter stated.

Timber Town representative Julie Rutherford confirmed that each volunteer would sign such a waiver, indicating that volunteer injuries would be covered by the individual's health insurance.

Volunteers will sign in each day; no one will be allowed on the site without doing so. Children will not be allowed on the site. However, there will be two off-site areas, one for child-care and another for older children to help in the process through tasks like washing tires used in the structure.

The sign at M-52 and Sibley Road points the way to what will become the Timber Town playground this summer.

Village trustee and Recreation Council member Brian Cashman stressed the importance of not only on-site pedestrian control but denying access to anyone not signing an insurance waiver.

"It's critically important to have people not only sign in, but the first time they sign in, sign a waiver. And also not allow people who haven't signed in onto the site," Cashman said.

The letter from Meadowbrook Insurance also addressed liability coverage.

"Since the project is on Chelsea property and will be the Village's play area, the liability coverage does apply to damages incurred by third parties. Again the village must be held legally liable," the letter stated.

Leathers & Associates will provide insurance for the three independent contractors they hire.

While Myers has indicated that village insurance premiums will rise because of assuming liability for Timber Town, it is still not clear how much that increase will be.

Timber Town Site Captain Jim Myles presented a construction site layout for the June 11-16 construction project.

It showed the locations of material staging areas, electrical and water service entry points, a center for volunteer sign-in, a phone and first aid service, a food service area, restrooms, parking, a dumpster, etc.

Child-care and the children's work area are located off-site.

Cashman suggested that a separate account be set up through the Recreation Council to direct funds needed to maintain the playground. The account will be opened with any monies left unspent from the playground construction.

Federal Screw Workers Go on Strike Wednesday

By Scott Bishop
Staff Writer

Tuesday at approximately 3 p.m., employees of Federal Screw Works in Chelsea voted to strike when their then-current contract ran out at midnight. And at the appointed time they followed through.

According to plant UAW representative Steve Kincer, workers were locked out of the plant when they attempted to return to work at 3:30 p.m.

Over the phone, Kincer read a statement from the Federal Screw Works employees.

"In the light of the huge profits the company has made in the last three years and the huge raises they gave themselves, 47 percent and 25 percent a year, and the unwillingness of the company to give us a decent raise (they offered us 20 cents an hour raise), the union finds this unacceptable," he said.

Federal Screw Works plant manager Fred Hoffman declined any comment when contacted Tuesday afternoon.

Kincer said a rally at the Federal Screw Works plant was planned for midnight Tuesday, and that the union had made its final contract offer to management and awaited a response from Federal Screw Works.

Uncle Apollo

Some people have written in about Timber Town, confused and disoriented about why we are spending all of this time and money on another playground for the younger kids when teenagers still don't have any good place to hang out around Chelsea.

They don't seem to understand that teenagers are kids that are in the process of morphing into adults, so in order to ease the transition, we ignore them. Eventually, of course, they will become full-fledged adults so we can compete with them and be rude to them and sue them like we do with any other adult.

Still, I agree that we should do something for teenagers, so I propose that when we are done building Timber Town we start drawing up plans for Teen Town. I have a few ideas to help to get the planning started.

One thing we could do is get a bunch of old cars and sit them around so that the teenagers could sit in them and talk to each other. This is one of the favorite recreational activities of teens and it would provide a safe place for them to do it that would save a lot on auto insurance.

The we could have another place that has a all these upside-down couches where kids would sit and talk on the telephone with each other.

Of course, it's in the Village ordinance that you must have a speaker tower that blasts out a gazillion megawatts of pure, raw, decibels. If the music is bad enough, that would have the added benefit of keeping parents away.

One other thing that would be very important would be a house of mirrors. When teens go through this morphing process, very often they lose track of what they look like on a regular basis, so they need lots of mirrors. Maybe we could even have mirrors that could show them what they are going to look like when they finish morphing and become adults.

If we did that, though, we should probably have one of those Peter Pan windows just beside the mirrors so that could fly away to never-never land and never grow into one of us. I wouldn't blame them.

On second thought, maybe we should have one of those Peter Pan windows on Timber Town itself. After all, it's very painful to be a teenager, so maybe we could nip it in the bud. Getting stuck as a teenager for all eternity could be worse than ending up as a vampire. At least when you're a vampire, you enjoy pain. Not that I'm an authority or anything, but that's what I heard.

Anybody out there who is ready to start working on Teen Town should drop me a note. We'll get started right away.

Schools Should Not Be Soft on Drugs

I was saddened, but not surprised, to see the issue of school drug abuse on the front page of last week's Chelsea Standard, and I commend the paper for bringing the story to the public.

For years, I listened with concern to my alcohol and drug-free teenage son talk about the increasing peer pressure he had experienced from his fellow students to try various drugs. For years, I have listened to the frustrations of local police officials when the schools rejected their efforts to impose stringent investigation, search, and enforcement procedures on students.

Certainly, as Margaret Spaly stated, this is not a problem that only the schools can address, but the schools can take a strong anti-drug stance, which will assist and augment the efforts of concerned parents.

To hear superintendent Ed Richardson express "disappointment" at the rampant drug and alcohol use and encourage parents to "talk with their children," while noting how "interesting" it would be to see how students could perform without drugs is a primary example of the lax attitude the school have taken and continue to take.

Personally, my reaction is not mere disappointment, but outrage and anger. I also despair for our future if the schools that are suppose to be educating and nurturing our children do not see fit to provide a strong anti-drug message, assistance to students in dealing with peer pressure, and a zero tolerance stance where it comes to drug use.

Children learn what they see, and if they see a permissive, passive acceptance of drug problems, the frustration and lack of strong guidance that drives students to drug use in the first place will only increase.

The schools should allow police officials to use their 29 unit to search out drugs in the schools, and the discovery of illegal substances in any quantities should result in the expulsion of the student. If we can afford to support the schools with new facilities and services, then we cannot afford to let them undo all the good we're trying to do by being soft on drug use. That will ultimately destroy the benefits we are fighting so hard to create.

Thanks again to the Standard for bringing this issue to the front page. Now it's up to the rest of us to make sure we respond in a positive way.

Opening Remarks

By Brian Hamilton

So this is spring?

It used to be that I could just about mark the arrival of decent weather with the arrival of my bees.

I've been a beekeeper for six years now, having been introduced to the hobby while working on a story about local hive inspectors Bob Bullock and Eric Smith, who during the other nine months of the year were teachers and South and North schools, respectively. Bob has gone on to bigger things in Grass Lake as a principal, while Eric still has the most interesting classroom at North.

While I watched them that day, Bullock and Smith were inspecting former South school principal Bob Benedict's hives. I got stung good, my arm got hot and swelled way up. For some reason, it didn't deter me, and I haven't gotten stung as bad since then. Yes, stings are a fact of life in beekeeping, just as groupies are in pro sports. Beekeepers might actually appreciate the analogy because bees love to crawl up your legs or get in your shirt if given half a chance.

Bullock located my first hive, from a Jackson County bee inspector. I well remember the first time I opened that hive all by myself, thousands of bees swirling around me, all of them looking for an entrance to my clothes, or at least it seemed that way. It's clear that you really have to want to be a beekeeper or you'll never survive the initial experience when the temptation to panic and run is very high.

I've learned not to open the hives during cold or wet weather, and I'm beginning to wonder if I'll ever get the chance this year.

I still talk bees with all three of these guys when I see them, and I'll add Beach principal Darcy Stielstra to the list (yes, we have this little Chelsea cult, of sorts). They've all helped me learn the art by answering my questions, but as much as anything, I've come to realize that the bee mites, which have caused so much havoc for beekeepers statewide and have killed thousands of hives, are stronger than all of us.

Anyway, it used to be that the arrival of my packaged bees from Georgia meant warm-weather was here and the first yellow dandelions were showing. Not this year, though. When I picked up the bees at the Ann Arbor Post Office last Friday (they used to deliver them right to my door, but for some reason they haven't for the past few years—probably the fear-factor), the guy on the loading dock was wearing a heavy coat and I could see his breath.

I "installed" the bees on Saturday, and as this is written we still haven't had a decent day for bee foraging. And still haven't seen my first dandelion.

Planning Continues for Timber Town Construction

(Continued from Page One) the organization hoped to raise funds beyond its original goals and found a "Friends of the Park" committee, both to aid the village with maintenance costs.

The initial day Tuesday, June 11 will be a site and volunteer preparation day. Sites for play structure posts will be affixed and dug out.

The actual construction will begin at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning and continue at an industrious pace in order to finish by Sunday, June 16 or, if needed, Monday, June 17.

"The only time we stop is for lightning or a tornado," Myles said. It's hoped that working through the darkness won't be necessary, but if it is lighting will allow the construction to continue.

Chelsea Man Named Saline Principal

Joe Rossi of Chelsea has been named principal at Saline High School, effective July 1.

Rossi, 49, whose wife Janet is a fourth grade teacher at North School in Chelsea, served as assistant principal at Chelsea High School from 1990 to 1993.

Prior to that he taught as a math and computer science teacher with Saline Schools.

Following his stint as CHS assistant principal, Rossi returned to Saline in 1993, where he has been SHS assistant principal.

None Seriously Injured in Dramatic Township Crash

Deputies in the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department Traffic Enforcement Division are investigating a crash last Friday on M-52 near Grass Lake Road in Sharon Township.

Alcohol is likely a factor in the three-car collision, according to Deputy Lanny Dunigan.

"We're not for sure, but we got a search warrant for (the driver's) blood," Dunigan said Tuesday.

Todd R. Kuhl, 29, of Grass Lake, was passing a tractor-trailer on a curve when he hit an oncoming car head-on and struck another vehicle after becoming airborne. Three witnesses told police Kuhl was driving recklessly.

Kuhl refused a chemical test to determine his blood-alcohol level, but a judge authorized a search warrant to obtain a sample. Test results are still pending.

Kuhl's truck hit a car driven by Scott R. Neff of Manchester. Neff's pregnant wife, Carrie, 28, was rushed to the University of Michigan Hospital, where she delivered her baby and was listed in good condition.

Christopher Larrigan, 22, of Brooklyn, was the driver of a pick-up truck following behind Neff. He suffered minor injuries.

Kuhl was listed in fair condition over the week-end. He was the most seriously injured of the four people involved.

"They are all very lucky because they had seatbelts on," Dunnigan said.

The crash remains under investigation.

Millage Renewal Sought

board and glass (collected). But the thing is, it doesn't pay for itself yet," Reding summarized.

Noting that he was a taxpayer himself, and reluctant to pay more than was needed, Reding still contended that the recycling millage benefited residents.

He explained that $30 per year equated to under 58 cents per week. For that fee, Chelsea village residents have their recyclables collected at the curb.

If there were no recycling pickup, volumes of garbage would increase, resulting in more expense for residents, who buy garbage bags for village pickup at a cost of $1.50 per bag.

"I think, in essence, if you do recycle, you can save yourself more than that $30 that you're paying to run (the WWRA) truck around," Reding contended.

Further, Reding explained that the recycling issue was larger than just determining how it was paid for.

"The way I feel about it is it's not only to make money. We're not here to make money. We're here to serve the people. They're the taxpayers."

"And the other thing is, keeping this (material) from going in the land. We're not putting it in the ground, burying something that won't ever rot, like plastics. That'll lay there forever."

"And I think this is why people should recycle. I've got grandchildren. They're going to live a long time. What's it going to be like in 2050?"

"I think it's been a success and we've kept a lot of debris out of the landfills. In my way of thinking, that is what (the WWRA) is here for, more than to save everybody so much big money."

"I'm not going to say we're going to save anybody any money, but I think they'd better think about their children and their grandchildren down the road," Reding said.

Parr concurred, hoping that when area residents look at how the WWRA millage fits into their budget, they see the expense as an investment in the future.

"The public has got to make a decision. Do they want to spend a few dollars and recycle, or pay to have a landfill (nearby)," Parr concluded.

Senior Citizens Tutoring Elementary School Kids

Since November, volunteers from the Chelsea Senior Citizens have been assisting youngsters at North and South Schools, giving their time for the "Grandparents Tutoring Children" program.

Ten senior citizens were trained by Chelsea School's Curriculum Director Dr. Laurie Kotchenruther and then met with first graders twice a week to help boost the children's reading skills.

A grant from the Chelsea Education Foundation, as well as funds from Chelsea Schools and the Chelsea Senior Citizens, funded the program and bought a supply of colorful books written for beginning readers.

State Court Seeks People For Foster Care Board

The State Court Administrative Office of the Michigan Supreme Court is seeking volunteers to serve on the Washtenaw County Foster Care Review Board.

The Michigan Legislative established the Foster Care Review Board Program in 1984 in an effort to improve children's foster care programs through the state utilizing citizen review boards.

The five-member board meets one day each month to review a representative sample of cases of children who have been removed from their homes and placed in foster care due to abuse or neglect.

At these reviews, board members interview parents, foster parents, caseworkers, attorneys, and other interested parties who may be involved in planning for the ward. Advisory recommendations are formulated and mailed to the court, child welfare agency, prosecuting attorney, parents, and other interested parties.

The purpose of the review is to insure that all agencies, including the court, have established a plan for the ward and progress is being made toward achieving permanency.

The Foster Care Review Boards are comprised of citizens who reflect a broad cross section of their communities. Minorities and men are especially encouraged to apply. The program is seeking volunteers who have demonstrated leadership in other settings. Employees of the Department of Social Services, juvenile court, or private child placement agencies are prohibited by law to serve on Foster Care Review Boards.

Currently, Foster Care Review Boards operate in Clare, Genesee, Ingham, Isabella, Jackson, Kent, Lenawee, Macomb, Midland, Muskegon, Oakland, Saginaw, St. Clair, Washtenaw, and Wayne counties.

Each volunteer who is selected must attend a two day orientation training in Lansing on July 25-26, 1996. This training is a requirement to serve on a board. Also, board members attend yearly training which is held in different locations throughout the state. Expenses for training are reimbursed.

Citizens interested in volunteering for the Washtenaw County Foster Care Review Board should call (517) 373-4835 for an application. The deadline for receiving applications is May 15 and interviews with prospective candidates will take place in May and June.

County Department Offers Local Services Through July

Washtenaw County Commissioner Joseph Yekulis, Jr. (District 1) has announced that the Washtenaw County Department of Environment and Infrastructure Services will be offering its services via a satellite office in western Washtenaw County May through July.

Camp Timber Town helps

Volunteers' Kids in June

Camp Timber Town will be open for business June 12 through 16 for children of parents who will be volunteering their time and talents to construct the Timber Town playground. There is no charge for this service being offered to all Timber Town workers.

Miriam Sass-Zuidveld and Jackie Maveal are the co-chairs for the Timber Town Child Care Committee. Miriam and husband Fred, who have lived in Chelsea for eight years, have two children who will be using Timber Town - six year old Zoe and three year old Jan. Jackie and her husband, Gary, moved to Chelsea two-and-one-half years ago and have four children - Jamie 15, Trevor, 13, David, six, and Kelly, four.

As co-chairs, it is their responsibility to procure the services of over 200 volunteers to help in caring for the children. A first-rate, high-quality, and adequately staffed childcare program is being planned.

On June 12-13, their operations will be based out of the preschool wing at the high school. Friday, Saturday and Sunday they will move to South School. There they will have use of the cafeteria, gym, media and music rooms, as well as the playground.

Others who will be performing at Camp Timber Town during the construction days are storytellers LaRon Williams, Linda Day, and Bill Casello, magician Jeff Boyer, and Tricky The Clown.

Children ages two-and-one-half through nine years will receive the primary care. Children 10 through 13 are encouraged to sign up as childcare workers or they may use the facility to receive care. In addition, 10-13 years old have the option of working on the construction sight on a one-to-one basis with an adult. Meals and snacks will be provided. The center will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. during the five-day construction period.

Dexter Village

Larceny

Larceny was reported in the 7900 block of Grand Street, April 22. A 25-year-old Dexter woman told a Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputy someone stole a necklace valued at $300. The woman was on vacation and her cousin was house-sitting. A friend of the victim suspects the thief was a female friend of the woman's cousin.

Bad Checks

A 38-year-old Dexter man wrote three checks to Hackney Hardware, 8105 Main St., on a closed account. An office manager at the store called police after the man promised to make good on the checks written in March. But the suspect failed to do so on two separate occasions. A sheriff's deputy interviewed the suspect, who blamed the crime on a drinking problem.

Attempted Break-in

Attempted breaking and entering was reported at Pilot Industries, 7931 Grand St., April 23. A 34-year-old Jackson man told a sheriff's deputy someone attacked his 1984 Dodge Charger, causing $100 in damages. The vehicle's door handle was broken and paint was chipped between 5:30 p.m. April 22 and 2 a.m. April 23. Entry was not gained to the vehicle, however.

Domestic Assault

Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 7800 block of Hudson Court, April 26. A 15-year-old Dexter girl suffered minor injuries when her 18-year-old boyfriend attacked her outside her mother's condominium. A sheriff's deputy was called to the home after witnesses called for help. When the deputy arrived, the suspect was seen choking the girl. The Whitmore Lake man was ordered to release the girl and was handcuffed. It was reported that the couple broke up three days prior to the assault and the suspect came over to retrieve property.

Chelsea Village

Warrant Arrests

Eric McDonald, 18, of Chelsea was arrested at BookCrafters by Chelsea Police, April 26. McDonald was wanted on a warrant issued in Washtenaw County for failing to complete treatment ordered by the court.

Noelle J. Niedermeier, 18, of Chelsea was arrested near her residence in the 200 block of E. Middle Street, April 24. Niedermeier was wanted on a warrant for failing to appear in court on charges of assault and battery.

Shawn P. Haibel, 18, of Chelsea was arrested in the 500 block of Wilkinson Street, April 26. Haibel was wanted by the sheriff's department for failing to appear in court on charges of breaking and entering and for violating probation on a criminal sexual conduct charge.

Richard J. Wild of Laingsburg was arrested by Bath Township Police. He was to be transferred to Chelsea Police custody but was released on bond. Wild was initially stopped for driving a vehicle with defective equipment. A computer check revealed he was wanted on a warrant for having open intoxicants in a motor vehicle, and for larceny in Lapeer.

Larceny

Larceny was reported at Chelsea Pets & Plants, 901 S. Main Street, March 24. A 31-year-old Mt. Clemens woman was ordered to return a bird stolen from the store. The bird is worth $80. The store's owner promised not to seek prosecution if the bird was returned.

Liquor Violation

Two Chelsea teens were cited as minors in possession of alcohol and for trespassing at Chelsea High School, April 24. Chelsea Police were initially called to the 700 block of Flanders Street because the boys were making noise and throwing rocks at a window. Police arrived a short time later to check the area. The teens were found on the roof of Chelsea High School, 500 Washington St. Both admitted to drinking alcohol and trespassing, but said they didn't think they did anything illegal.

Dexter Township

Minor in Possession of Alcohol

A 20-year-old Munith man was arrested for possession of alcohol in the 14400 block of Stofer Court, April 21. A sheriff's deputy was called to the home by a 20-year-old woman. The suspect, her former boyfriend, was violating a Personal Protection Order and was parked in her driveway. When police arrived, they found him in possession of beer. The man's blood-alcohol level was tested at .13 percent, which is considered illegal.

Larceny

Larceny was reported on Island Lake Road near Dexter-Pinckney Road, April 24. A 39-year-old Dexter man told a sheriff's deputy someone stole a water pump from a construction site. The pump is valued at $2,000. A six-wheel dump trunk was also turned on and left running. No damage was reported.

Littering and Dumping

A sheriff's deputy investigated a dumping complaint on Stinchfield Woods Road, April 27. A 31-year-old township man witnessed a 38-year-old

Belleville man dumping materials from a construction site in the center and side of the road. The incident happened at 3:10 p.m. Old shingles, insulation and a furnace were found, roadside. The witness followed the suspect back to a

Amanda Warren Wins Award For Writing from Chelsea VFW

On Saturday, April 13, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076 had a pot-luck supper at their Main Street Post in Chelsea.

The guests of honor were Amanda M. Warren, her mother and father Renee and Donald Warren, and her sister Alyssa.

Amanda, a sophomore at Chelsea High School, was the winner of the VFW Voice of Democracy Broadcast/Script-writing program for students 10th grade and up.

Robert Reed of VFW Post 4076 presented her with two certificates, a ball-point pen, $100 savings bond, a medal, VOD patch and pin from Post 4076 and VFW District 6.

Kids Workshops Set at Library

Two workshops, held on May 18 from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Ann Arbor District Library, are designed to assist grieving children and parents of children who are grieving for the loss of a loved one.

These workshops are held in conjunction with the "Art From The Heart" traveling exhibit at the Library and are sponsored by the Care-ousel.

staff Care-ousel is the children's services program of Arbor Hospice. The workshops are as follows:

Magic Memory Machines:

In this workshop, for ages 6-12, participants will make a 'magic memory machine' as a special way to recall times spent with a departed loved one. The project may be then used at home as a non-threatening way for families to remember their departed loved one together.

Memory and Mourning:

This workshop is for adults and seeks to enable participants to better understand how children express grief. Admission to these workshops is free. For more information, contact the Youth Department at 994-2339.

The Main Library is located at 343 S. Fifth Ave., Ann Arbor.

Terpstra Honored by Association

The Washtenaw Chapter of the Learning Disabilities Association has chosen six graduating seniors, including Ann Terpstra of Chelsea, to receive Exceptional Student Awards.

The students were chosen based on the extent of compensation for their learning disabilities, extent of initiative and responsibility for achievement, performance in academic or vocational courses, and involvement in extra curricular activities.

Ann Terpstra is an honor student at Chelsea High, ranking 18th in a class of 230. She is a star basketball player, winning many honors and recognized as the Ann Arbor news Player of the Year. Ann will be attending college but is undecided on her major.

The Washtenaw County Learning Disabilities Association is privileged to present

Exceptional Student Awards to six outstanding seniors. Each has persevered to overcome difficulties and has succeeded in a tremendous way. The students will be presented with a certificate of award and a check at their respective schools' senior awards night.

Palmer Insurance Gets Key Agents Club Award

Palmer Insurance Agency of Dexter has been honored by Citizens Insurance Company of America.

After reviewing the performance of approximately 700 independent agencies in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio that write property and casualty policies for Citizens Insurance company, the Michigan-based insurer selected Palmer Insurance Agency of Dexter for the Key Agents Club awards Club award.

The Key Agents Club award recognizes agencies for exceptional production and underwriting results.

"The success of Citizens depends in great measure on the success of the independent agents who represent the company," said Citizens President James R. McAuliffe. "We congratulate these agencies for solid business performance on behalf of Citizens, as well as for service to our insureds that reflects the vision of the company."

Founded in 1915, Citizens is Michigan's largest writer of property and casualty insurance through independent agents.

A headline in last week's issue should have read "Conservative Union Applauds Chrysler Voting Record," not Consumer's Union.

Farm Bureau Facts

The days of widespread cattle rustling in Texas are gone, but a new, expensive type of rustling — timber theft — has come to the forefront. The problem is so widespread in the south and southwestern part of the country, that some estimates show annual losses of $75 million to raw timber theft. The offending loggers often trespass or ignore neighboring property lines to cut down trees because the price of logs has nearly doubled over the last two years and the number of absentee landowners also has increased. Unlike cattle, trees are not readily identified as individuals and catching a tree rustler, who often performs his work late at night, can be difficult.

U.S. agricultural exports to the European Union are expected to rise 3.4 percent this year. The increase will come from more sales of fruits, vegetables, wine and nuts. Imports of agricultural commodities from Europe are expected to be unchanged from last year. A good share of the imports — nearly 25 percent — come from wine and malt liquors.

How can you tell if beef is cooked to the doneness you prefer? There are several ways, depending upon the cut. For steaks and other thin cuts that are broiled, pan-broiled or grilled, the easiest way to determine doneness is by cutting a small slit and checking the color of the meat near the bone, or near the center of a boneless cut. For roasts and thicker steaks (3 inches thick or more), a meat thermometer is the quickest way to determine doneness.

construction site on Canel Drive and called police from the Trading Post.

Property Damage

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 9300 block of McGregor Road, April 28. A 35-year-old Dexter woman told a sheriff's deputy someone vandalized her 1989 Ford Probe, causing $200 in damages. The vehicle's paint was scratched while it was parked in a business lot from 10:30 p.m. April 27 to 10 a.m. April 28.

Lyndon TownshipLarceny

Larceny was reported at North Lake Country Store, 20941 North Territorial Rd., April 27. A 49-year-old Gregory woman told a sheriff's deputy she accidentally left her wallet on the store's counter. When she called to see if it was still there, the woman was told it was gone. The wallet contained $50 cash and a driver's license. The woman suspects another customer in-line stole it.

Recovered Stolen Vehicle

A 1995 Ford Mustang reported stolen in Ingham County was recovered on Waterloo Road near M-52, April 25. Sheriff's deputies were initially dispatched to a property damage crash. An 18-year-old man said the vehicle struck his, but he never saw a driver. A license plate stolen from a 42-year-old Pinckney woman was also found in the vehicle's trunk. The car is valued at $20,000.

Lima TownshipDrunken Driving

A 40-year-old Ypsilanti man was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor on eastbound I-94 near Parker Road, April 22. The suspect was stopped at approximately 10:30 p.m. for suspected drunken driving. It is his third offense.

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported at Nixon Auto Parts, 8830 Jackson Rd., April 24. A 53-year-old man told a sheriff's deputy someone broke in and stole a cellular telephone valued at $300, a case of soda pop and coins. The incident happened between 5:30 p.m. April 23 and 7 a.m. April 24. There was no forced entry, but the manager claims the business was locked.

Property Damage

Property damage was reported on Dexter-Chelsea Road near Parker Road, April 22. An Ann Arbor man told a sheriff's deputy his driver's side window shattered while driving along the road at 9 a.m. The man said he didn't see anyone in the area. His 1990 Ford pick-up sustained $100 in damages.

Sharon TownshipDrunken Driving

A 29-year-old Grass Lake man was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor on M-52 near Grass Lake Road, April 28. A sheriff's deputy was initially dispatched to a personal injury crash. The suspect driver was pinned in his vehicle and was being treated by fire and rescue workers. Three witnesses reported seeing the man driving recklessly. The suspect was transported to the University of Michigan Hospital with injuries. He refused a chemical test to determine his blood-alcohol level. A judge, however, issued a search warrant and a sample was drawn for testing.

Webster Township Attempted Break-in Attempted breaking and entering was reported in the 4800 block of Northgate Road, April 25. A 38-year-old township man told a sheriff's deputy someone kicked in a window to his home around 2:30 p.m. The man's wife heard a crashing noise but didn't investigate. The $50 worth of damage was discovered at 10 p.m.

Freedom TownshipBreaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported in the 6800 block of Esch Road, April 23. A 43-year-old township man told a sheriff's deputy someone stole a cellular telephone from his unlocked vehicle. The theft occurred April 20 between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. The man said he was re-charging the phone in another vehicle. No one in the neighborhood saw anything unusual during the time the theft occurred.

Scio TownshipWarrant Arrest

Richard D. Miner, 27, of Scio Township was arrested on a warrant in the 4100 block of Sunset Court, April 27. Miner was wanted by Ann Arbor Police for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor. A sheriff's deputy was initially dispatched to Sunset Court for a report of family trouble. A computer check reveal a warrant for Miner's arrest.

Assault and Battery

Assault and battery was reported at Scio Farms Estates, 6655 Jackson Rd., April 20. A 41-year-old township man told a sheriff's deputy he borrowed $20 from a neighbor and the woman's boyfriend threatened him because he did not pay it back when he said he would. The victim was getting in a cab when the suspect approached him swinging a baseball bat. The victim ran back to his trailer and called police and heard the suspect hitting his trailer. The suspect denied wielding a bat, but the cab driver verified the victim's statement.

Property Damage

Malicious destruction of property was reported at RPS Industries, 300 Jackson Rd., April 25. A 27-year-old Westland man told a sheriff's deputy a 32-year-old employee scratched the pane on his 1995 Jeep Rio Grand, causing $500 in damage. The employee was apparently upset after being given poor performance evaluation and asked to do additional tasks. The suspect admitted to police he caused the damage. He has applied for a transfer of work stations.

Malicious destruction of property was reported at Scio Farms Estates, 6655 Jackson Rd., April 20. A 41-year-old township man told a sheriff's deputy he borrowed $20 from a neighbor and the woman's boyfriend threatened him because he did not pay it back when he said he would. The victim was getting in a cab when the suspect approached him swinging a baseball bat. The victim ran back to his trailer and called police and heard the suspect hitting his trailer. The suspect denied wielding a bat, but the cab driver verified the victim's statement.

Farms Estates, 6655 Jackson Rd., April 25. A 23-year-old township man's 1978 Ford Mustang sustained $500 in damages between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. The vehicle's windshield, rear window and side windows were broken out.

Malicious destruction of property was reported at Scio Farms Estates, 6655 Jackson Rd., April 21. A 28-year-old township man told a sheriff's deputy the skirting along his trailer was kicked in. Damage is estimated at $500. The incident occurred after midnight. When the man woke up in the morning he discovered tire tracks on his lawn and the damage to his trailer.

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported at Viking Systems, 3350 W. Liberty Road, April 26. A 49-year-old Ann Arbor man told a sheriff's deputy someone broke in and caused $12,000 worth of damage to several vehicles and an overhead door. Approximately $30,000 worth of property was stolen, including a floor jack, several sets of jumper cables and new car parts. The business owner told police he would submit an itemized list.

The Way It Was

Hunting Rabbits on Morloch's Farm

By Kathy Clark
Special Writer

Jake and Adam Morloch once owned a farm near what is now I-94 near M-52, just off the main east-west highway from Detroit to Chicago. The rabbits above were hunted by George Wagert, and Jim Howarth of Detroit (both shown in the photo) in the fall of 1940.

Howarth, who still lives in Detroit, recalled how he happened to meet the Morloch family and end up with hunting privileges on their farm for three or four years before serving in the Army in W.W.II.

Howarth regularly traveled to Jackson on business, and one day the sign Corn, 10 Cents a Dozen led him to stop at the farm. "Of course a dozen was 15, or even a bag full." The Morlochs offered him some farm fresh eggs priced at 10 cents a dozen, too. "Why are you selling so cheap," Howarth asked.

They told him they just liked to have people visit, then got to talking about the size of the farm. Howarth asked if he could have permission to hunt small game. They agreed, but it would cost $8 a year to buy the signs to keep all other hunters off the land!

Just this last weekend, Howarth explained how cottontail rabbits, who are night feeders, stay concealed during the day, hide in brush piles and along fence rows. They are easy to flush out. Just by walking along and watching for movement in the tall grass.

A 12-gauge shotgun is a good weapon to use. He never hunted with dogs, and said hunting with ferrets was illegal. In two-hours he could net about 15 cottontail rabbits.

The rabbits were cleaned and taken home for stew, fried rabbit or "hasenpfeffer" (Mr. Howarth is half German, and remembered the rabbit recipe. Skinned rabbits were marinated for five days in a vinegar, water and vegetable solution which permeated the meat for a sweet/sour taste).

Linda Merkel Hahn of Chelsea was the first person I figured had cooked "hasenpfeffer." I called her and she was familiar with a recipe using red wine, and she explained the beef variation would be "sauerbraten." She thought her family may have known the Morlochs and I should call them.

Unbelievably and coincidentally, Linda's parents, George and Nancy Merkel, lived on the Morloch farm in the 1940s and knew that the house was still standing. George recalled it was moved from Decker Road to Brown Drive when the I-94 freeway came through in about 1960.

George's dad, Joe Merkel, Sr. owned the farm for awhile, then sold to Al Brown who raised his family in the tall white farmhouse, and operated a welding shop next door (now Baseline Constructors).

George remembered the Morloch's lost many goats in a barn fire in the 1930s, then built a new barn which the neighboring Quigley family used for a repair garage.

I have not been able to find facts on the current rabbit population around Chelsea. Some say they are mostly killed off by foxes and cars, and their habitat has been cleared. Others say they are plentiful, and a nuisance.

George Merkel went to Ireland last year and remembered reading a news story about a farmer there killing 1,000 rabbits in one year. In Ireland they have plenty of hiding places in the abundant stone fences that date back hundreds of years.

Jim Howarth said he probably wouldn't come back to Chelsea, as he lost contact with the Morlochs right after the war. However, his daughter, Carolyn, works in Chelsea, and may drive by the old Morloch farmhouse. "Hasenpfeffer" sounds delicious to me, translated by Linda Hahn to be "peppered rabbit."

Education Foundation Speaker Forum Set

What began as the Chelsea Education Foundation's annual attempt to bring interesting information to the Chelsea community has ballooned into a major event involving many community groups. Area adults and teens have rallied around the Foundation's Speaker's Forum, scheduled for Sunday, May 6, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Dr. Reuvan Bar-Levav was hired as a speaker for the Forum. Bar-Levav's book, Every Family Needs a CEO, speaks to the need for parents to give children the resources needed to cope with the difficult issues of life. The Foundation wanted to narrow the focus for the Forum.

Members of the Education Foundation, aware of documented difficulties among high school students, decided to poll the students and see what they identified as stressful.

The student council helped prepare and distribute the surveys. The responses were not surprising.

Fifty-eight percent listed school grades as the number 1 stress. Twenty-four percent identified parents and family as their number 1 stress.

Other major stresses included jobs, peers, and extra curricular activities.

Topics of interest to the students included dealing with stress (36 percent), how to talk, be heard gain-respect (37 percent), suicide (25 percent) and depression (23 percent).

The information was forwarded to Bar-Levav with a request he address the issues identified by the teens. In addition to the student concerns, Bar-Levav was asked to highlight parental and peer responses to the concerns.

Next the Education Foundation developed a panel to work with Bar-Levav after the key note address. The panel will answer questions and comment on issues identified by the audience.

The panel represents parents, professionals and high school students from the area. Participants include:

- Diane Howlin, M.D., a local physician caring for adults and teens in Chelsea
- Sue Carter, high school counselor and parent of a high school student
- Edward Humenay, social worker and parent of several high school students
- Edward Tobes, D.O., Psychiatrist working with adolescents and teens
- Sarah Walters, high school student
- Jason Frendeburg, high school student

The issues run deep for students in Chelsea. A series of unsettling and often tragic events has followed current students, stretching limits of understanding and demanding coping skills many don't normally need until much later in life.

Because of busy schedules and school responsibilities they often don't have the time or energy to explore how they feel and what to do about it.

Foundation members recognized the need to not only identify issues, but to provide opportunity for support. The idea of the "Week of Awareness" took shape.

Community groups were contacted. Many enthusiastically embraced the concept and began their own plans to work within the community on these important issues. The "Week of Awareness" grew into an impressive and heartwarming event.

Beginning May 6, sessions on normal stress, coping skills, recognizing normal and abnormal coping mechanisms, depression, suicide, parenting, community resources, and communication skills for families and teenagers will be available. Each session is sponsored by a different civic, religious or profession group. The list is impressive because of the diversity of community members involved.

Monday, May 6, 7-9 p.m. For Teens, H.S. Cafeteria; Teen Stress. What Can I Do About All the Stress I Feel? Pizza & group discussion, call ahead (475-0131, counselors office)

Silver Maples Approved

As expected, the Chelsea Village Council approved rezoning approximately seven acres adjacent to St. Mary's Church on Tuesday, April 23, allowing the Silver Maples retirement community to develop the newly rezoned parcels.

Silver Maples acquired the property just north of St. Mary's so the development could be moved somewhat more to the east than originally planned. It was rezoned into the Medical Center district; previously it had been zoned for residential use.

The Chelsea Planning Commission recommended the rezoning and approved a final site plan for Silver Maples at its April 16 meeting.

In back are Katie Personke (10), Amanda Simmons (9), and Andrea Neff (14). Not pictured are Michael Toshach (9) and Anna Toshach (8).

Sleeping Bear Press To Publish Kirk Gibson's Autobiography

Kirk Gibson, whose dramatic home runs sparked two World Series Championships for the Detroit Tigers (1984) and Los Angeles Dodgers (1988), is currently working on his autobiography entitled Bottom of the Ninth for Chelsea's Sleeping Bear Press.

This marks a new avenue for Brian Lewis' Sleeping Bear Press, which previously delivered the highly acclaimed golf books, The Life & Times of Bobby Jones and The Spirit of St. Andrews. The new baseball book is scheduled for release in early 1997. Assisting Gibson in preparing the manuscript is Lynn Henning of the Detroit News.

Like Gibson during his playing career, Bottom of the Ninth will be dramatic, colorful and inspirational.

After meeting with Gibson to discuss the book, Henning said, "I've known Kirk for 21 years, but in my first five minutes of interviews with him it was clear why this book is important. Sure he has had a dramatic sports career, and that will be covered in the book, but I think this book will be an inspiration for everyone. His leadership qualities touch upon all levels, young and old, athletes and non athletes alike."

As in everything Gibson does, don't expect him to hold back, Henning continued "it will be a very exciting book."

Electric Savings Will Go To Fund

Tuesday, April 23, the Chelsea Village Council approved retaining 75 percent of the savings from fuel cost adjustments for a capital contingency fund, with 25 percent going to village residents. In past years 100 percent of the savings has been passed on to residents.

Chelsea Village gets most of its electric power from the Belle River and Campbell III power plants, of which it owns shares. When extra power is needed, it is purchased from Consumers Power.

Those plants produce electricity through the burning of coal. Savings generated by the economical cost of coal are passed on to the village.

Savings from fuel cost adjustment passed on to residents appear as a separate item on utility bills; they are not part of the basic utility rate. Thus, the change made by the village council will not affect utility rates.

Village Manager Jack Myers estimated that retaining 75 percent of the fuel cost adjustment would raise roughly $150,000 annually for the village, while costing village households $3 to $6 dollars per month, depending on consumption.

Preparing For The Prom

The Chelsea High School gym began its transformation into a Hollywood night for Saturday's annual prom. Many kids, staff, and interested community members help with the considerable amount of work involved every year. The theme this year will feature scenes from many of the most memorable movies ever made.

Chelsea's varsity softball team improved their Southeastern Conference record to 4-0 last week with a double-header sweep of the Lincoln Railsplitters on Thursday at home.

Senior Lisa Beard pitched and won both games, 3-0 and 22-0.

In the first game, Beard was nearly perfect as she struck out 11, walked none and allowed just two hits.

Kyle Kentala provided most of the offense, driving in all three runs, one in the first with a double and two in the third with a single.

Danielle Longe also had two hits for the game.

"It was probably one of the fastest games we've ever played," said Chelsea coach Joe Beard.

In the second game, Beard struck out five, walked two and allowed three hits while the team pounded out 19 hits and played flawless defense behind her.

Hits by Kentala and Sarah Petty did most of the damage in the three-run first inning. Chelsea effectively put the game out of reach in the second with eight runs on hits by Kasie Ruhlrig, Beard, Petty, and McKenna Houle.

For the game, Longe had four hits, Ruhlrig, Houle and Petty had three each, and Beard had two. Petty had a triple and a pair of doubles.

Beard improved her pitching record to 5-0.

The Bulldogs are scheduled to host Dexter this afternoon.

On Saturday, Chelsea lost in the consolation finals of the Chelsea Invitational Softball Tournament to Dexter, which was won by Brooklyn Columbia Central.

Beard gave his younger pitchers, Jessica Ritter and McKenna Houle plenty of opportunity to pitch and learn, which has been his pattern all season.

Chelsea lost their opener, 5-3, to Columbia Central. Ritter pitched and after a shaky first inning settled down to give her team a chance.

Central scored twice in the first on no hits and no Chelsea errors. Central was shut out until the fourth inning when they scored a single run.

Chelsea pulled to within 3-2 in the fourth on a fielder's choice and tied the game in the fifth on a wild pitch. But Ritter began to tire in the sixth, when Central scored twice and Beard was brought in to finish the game.

The Bulldogs didn't provide Ritter much offense, with just three hits.

"We didn't hit as well as I thought we would," Joe Beard said.

Houle pitched the second game, a 12-7 win over Plymouth-Canton.

Houle, like Ritter, was a little wild, but got much better offensive support. She surrendered two hits but walked seven and had four wild pitches.

Chelsea took a 7-0 lead after three innings. A wild pitch produced one run in the first, hits by Margaret Schick and Beard brought home three in the second, and a hit by Longe, sacrifice fly by Sarah Pruess, and assorted walks and errors gave Chelsea three in the third.

The Bulldogs scored four in the seventh on one hit and several walks and errors.

"It was a big game for McKenna to go all the way," Joe Beard said.

Lisa Beard won a 3-2 decision in the third game over class A Trenton.

However, it took seventh inning fireworks as the Bulldogs were down, 2-0. Longe, Ruhlrig, and Suzy Steele all singled, and with two outs Ruhlrig drove home the winning runs with another single. Chelsea managed just seven hits, two by Ruhlrig.

"It's always been a trademark of Chelsea teams that they always keep going and don't quit," Beard said.

"We fought back and I'm proud of them."

Two more fine pitching performances by Ryan Hubbard and Jake Walker propelled the Chelsea Bulldogs to a double-header victory over the Lincoln Railsplitters last Thursday at home. The victories evened Chelsea's record at 2-2 in the Southeastern Conference heading into this afternoon's action at home against Dexter.

Hubbard improved to 3-0 as he struck out five, and yielded two hits and one unearned run in a 14-1 win in five innings.

Chelsea, on the other hand, had eight hits to go with 11 walks. They left the bases loaded in the second and fourth innings.

The Bulldogs opened the game with four runs in the bottom of the first, the key hit a single by Casey Wescott. By the third inning, the lead was 9-1. Lance Ching ripped a triple in the third.

Dusty White's single highlighted a five-run fourth for the Bulldogs.

White and Ching each had two hits.

In the second game, Walker struck out two, walked one, and surrendered five hits in five innings as Chelsea shut out the Railsplitters 11-0.

Chelsea again scored four runs in the first on the strength of a two-run homer to center by first baseman Don Reilly, and finished their scoring by the fourth. Scott Colvin hit a two-run double in the third and had a run-scoring single in the fourth. Scott Hurst was 3-3 with a double.

"We just beat the downpour," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

Saturday the Bulldogs finished the first round of the Cliff Keen Tournament in Ann Arbor with a 2-0 record.

They whipped Romulus in the opener, 12-2, and stopped Lincoln for the third time in three days in the second game, 11-3.

Sam Morseau allowed one hit and two walks against Romulus to improve his record to 2-1.

Chelsea blew the game open in the first with eight runs on four walks, a hit batsman, and hits by Ching, Jason Sprawka, and a double by Hurst.

Colvin hit a grand slam in the third inning.

Wescott picked up the victory in the 11-3 second game. He allowed five hits and four walks, and struck out four to improve to 2-1.

Unlike the previous Lincoln games, the score was close early as the teams were tied at three after three innings.

However, a six-run fourth put the game away for the Bulldogs as Colvin and Morseau each hit a two-run single.

Ching drove in two runs in the sixth with a single.

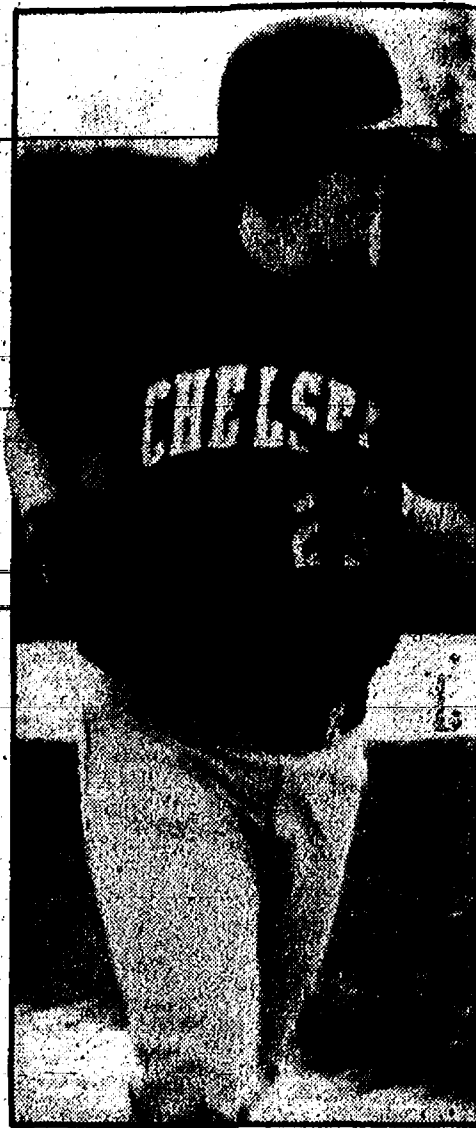

Chelsea had 17 hits for the game, but only two for extra bases. They also benefited from six walks.

Sprawka was 3-4 for the game, and Ching, Wescott, White, Morseau and Colvin each had two hits. Reilly and Wescott each doubled.

"We're playing pretty well right now," Welton said.

"After the tournament I asked everyone who thought we could play better, and everyone raised their hand. We can tighten our defense and offensively we're still waiting for some guys to get on track, which should happen when it warms up."

Don Reilly trots around the bases after smacking a ball for a home run against Lincoln last Thursday.

EXCELLENCE IN ACTION
Goodbye To Confusion!
Imagine purchasing a bicycle for your child's birthday. As you browse through the wide selection, you narrow the choices. Ten-speed or three-speed? Blue or red?
One bike catches your eye, but as you begin to inspect it more closely you notice it has a flat tire. The handlebar grips are scuffed too, and the headlamp has a broken lens. You consider asking the store manager to lower the price, but decide it's wiser to find another make or model instead.
After shopping around, you find the perfect bike in showroom condition and make the purchase. You've bought a bike any child would be proud of—at a fair price.
When making a home purchase, prospective buyers often experience the same situation. They are searching for the home of their dreams. They want to feel pride in the home they select, and they will pay a fair price when they find it.
The contrary is also true. A home offered for sale in less than showroom condition is often passed over by prospective purchasers. After all, why make the largest purchase of a lifetime, and end up with damaged goods? At best, those buyers would expect a deep discount on a home which fails to meet their expectations.
Is this a wake-up call for sellers? It should be. Wise sellers understand that before their home is shown to the first prospect, every needed repair must be completed. The home should display unquestionable pride-of-ownership.
Preparing a home to achieve maximum impact with buyers is critical. Valuable guidance in this area is available to sellers from their real estate agent. Call for your list of 20 steps to get top dollar for your home.

BOWLINGGirls Track Team Finishes Fourth In Mason Invitational

Despite some very untrack-like weather, the girls track team ran well last week in defeating Milan 82-48 on Tuesday and finishing fourth in the Mason Invitational on Friday with 67 points.

Jeanne Spink led the Bulldogs against Milan with firsts in the 1600 in 5:43.8, the 3200 in 12:22.0 and combined with Meghann Ziegler, Sarah Martin, and Karen Pieper to win the 3200 relay in 11:20.7.

Jennifer Space and Heidi Wehrwein were double winners for Chelsea. Space took the 400 in 1:04.9 and the 200 in 28.7. Wehrwein paced sweeps in the throws winning the shot put with 33'-10 and the discus at 108'-8.

Katie Spink won the long jump with a jump of 13'-4. Cindy Richard took the 100 hurdles in 18.2, and Melissa Hand the 800 in 2:45.3 to account for the Bulldog's only other firsts.

Bekkah Burby had seconds in both the shot and discus with Kim Herrst third in the discus and Cindy Richard third in the shot, as Chelsea's throwers continue their domination in dual meets. In four meets this season, coach Bert Kruse's throwers have allowed the competition only one point.

Katie Henry was second and Traci Kramer third to complete a sweep of the long jump.

Also in the field events, Emily Wineland and Karla Detling had their best performances ever in the high jump as they both cleared 4'-6. With places determined by misses and a jump off for first, Detling ended up tied for second and Wineland fourth.

In the running events, Rachelle Skelly was second in the 100 at 14.2 with Kramer third in 14.4. Ziegler was third in the 1600 in a season best of 5:57.8.

Katie Spink was second in the 400 at 1:06.8. Henry had seconds in the 300 hurdles and the 200.

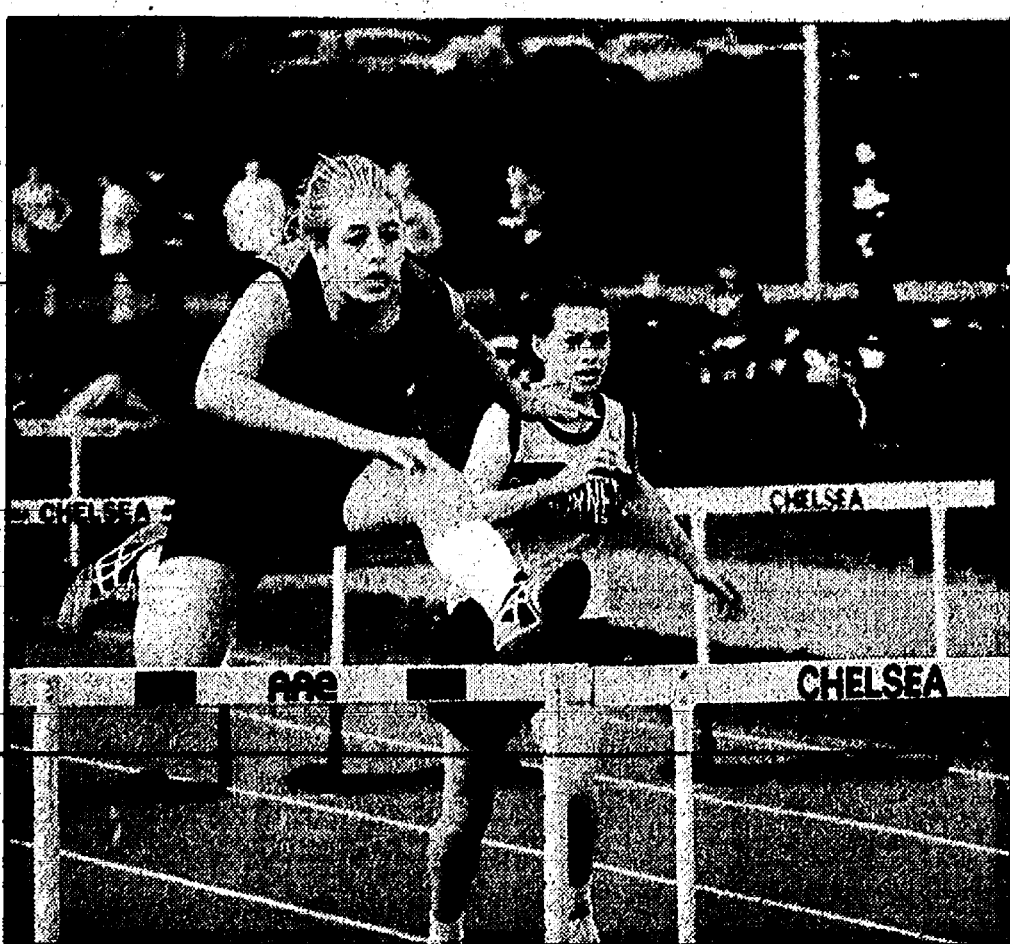

Heidi Kemnitz was third in both hurdle races. Megan Smith took third in the 800 and Pieper added a third in the 3200.

Cheerleading Camp Planned

YMCA Storer Camps will host a cheerleading camp on August 23-27. Instructors for the camp will be provided by Universal Cheerleaders Association (UCA). The camp is open to all high school, junior high school and middle school cheerleaders.

Participants will receive in-depth instruction in new cheers, sideline chants, pom routines, tumbling, conditioning, and safety. They will also participate in private coaching sessions each day.

Special seminars for cheerleaders as well as advisors are also planned for the camp. Further details about the camp may be obtained by UCA at 1-800-238-0286.

Heidi Kemnitz works at the hurdles during an earlier meet this season.

The victory makes Chelsea 2-1 in the Southeastern Conference and 3-1 overall.

With a depleted line-up due to other school trips, injuries, and illness, the girls track team still managed to score 67 points and finish fourth at the Mason Invitational on Friday night.

Holt won the meet with 116 points with Jackson Northwest second with 92 and Okemos third with 86 in the seven-team field.

Wehrwein was the star of the meet for Chelsea as she set two school records while winning the shot and taking second in the discus. Wehrwein's throw of 36'-8 in the shot bettered a fifteen year old school record by almost a foot. In the discus, her throw of 117'-4 broke the record set last season by Courtney Thompson.

"Heidi has been working very hard and has been improving all season. Conditions for throwing were good, and she put together an excellent performance. We were all happy for her," said coach Bill Bainton.

Burby also had an excellent meet in the throws, finishing fourth in the shot at 33'-0 and third in the discus at 102'-5, both career bests.

Katie Spink medaled in the long jump, finishing second with a jump of 14'-10. Skelly earned a third place medal in the 100 with a time of 14.1.

Sarah Jedebe ran an excellent race in the 3200, finishing in 12:42.7, her best time ever, to earn a third place medal. The 3200 relay of Space, Katie Spink, Hand, and Smith also finished third in 11:11.5.

Space finished fourth in the 400 in 1:05.9 with Spink sixth in 1:08.4. Hand was fifth in the 800 in 2:38.8, her season's best. Hand, Spink, Space, and Angie Carpenter were fourth in the 1600 relay with a season-best time of 4:28.0.

Carpenter, Skelly, Wineland and Krystal Baird were fifth in the 400 relay in 5:58.6.

"We only took fifteen people where we normally take around 25," explained Bainton. "The people we had competed very well. Not only did we score well, but we equaled or bettered season's bests 10 times in cold and windy conditions. It was a very satisfying meet for us."

The girls hosted Fowlerville Tuesday, and are at the Corunna Relays on Friday.

Varsity Softball

suffered a 7-6 loss as Houle and Ritter each pitched.

Chelsea again had a chance to win late but couldn't manage the big hit. Chelsea had runners on second and third with no outs and couldn't score.

The Bulldogs pulled out to a 4-0 lead after two innings with a three-run third. Petty, Ruhlig and Steele all singled in the inning.

Dexter tied it in the fourth, but Chelsea took a two-run lead in the sixth on singles by Long and Chrissy Vargo.

The Dreadnaughts grabbed the lead for good in the sixth with three runs.

"Our young pitchers are really growing and I'm very happy with their progress," Beard said.

Chelsea was 10-5 on the season going into Monday's scheduled game with Pioneer.

JV Baseball Scores Runs

The Detroit Tigers must have been pitching to the Chelsea JV baseball team in its game against Lincoln April 25.

Chelsea scored 23 runs in the first two innings and went on to a 31-2 win over the Railsplitters.

Scott Cooper (5 RBI), Adam Erskine and Scott Basar (4 RBI) were all 5-5. Drew Hanson was 3-4 with two RBI. Gary Ostrander 3-5 with 5 RBI and Chris Herter 3-3 with 3 RBI.

Basar struck out eight in five innings for the win.

In the second game, Chelsea held on for a 4-3 win. Sean Stickney went all five innings and struck out three while walking four.

Chelsea scored the tying and go-ahead runs in the top of the fifth to secure the win.

Erskine was 2-2 with a RBI and Ostrander went 1-2 and had the two RBI in the fifth.

Chelsea lapsed in the opener against Airport, losing 11-3 to fall to 4-3 on the year.

Erskine took the loss in seven innings. He struck out five but walked seven. Chene Freeman was 2-3 for Chelsea, which had only three hits.

"We gave this one away," said Coach Jim Ticknor. "We can play much better than this."

Things got worse in the second game, a 17-2 loss. Chelsea pitchers walked 12 batters and the offense had only five hits led by Mike Kolessar's two.

Rindle plays for CMU

Junior Jake Rindle of Chelsea became eligible recently after transferring from Michigan State University. Since then, he's been starring for Central Michigan University's baseball team.

So far, Rindle is hitting .316 with one home-run and five RBIs in six games. He is a DH/first baseman.

Soccer Blanks Opponent

By Phil Lozen
Staff Writer

The Bulldog soccer team jumped early on Monroe Jefferson on April 23, scoring a goal just two minutes into the game.

Chelsea never looked back as it cruised to a 5-0 win.

Angie Crandell took a pass from Alicia Vogel for the initial Bulldog goal. Melissa Carly then buried a pass from Crandell, and Carly hit an open Heidi Begole for the final score of the first half.

"We took play to them most of the game," said coach Chris Orlandi.

"It was good to see us work like that."

Jeanine Moullisseaux scored off a feed from Begole to open the second half scoring, and Beth Nimke got a pass from Jessica McVay to finish the Chelsea scoring parade.

Leslie Parker and Andrea Gordenier shared the shutout in goal.

Parker was busy in the Bulldogs showdown with Saline Friday. She made nine of 10 saves. Unfortunately, Saline's goalie made two of two saves as Chelsea lost 1-0.

"We played great defense," said Orlandi. "We are just off the pace of those upper teams like Saline, Dexter, and Pinckney."

Chelsea hit the crossbar with about 10 minutes left in the game to represent their best scoring opportunity.

This week, Chelsea gets a rematch against Dexter. The first time the teams met Dexter pasted the Bulldogs 7-0. Orlandi expects a different result this time around. "They are not seven goals better than us," he said. "This time we will make a game of it."

The rematch is Friday at home.

—What Happened to Spring?—

Usually softball players can count on tolerable weather for the annual Chelsea Invitational. But last Saturday's tournament had the benches and spectators alike bundled up as though they were watching downhill skiing. Chelsea finished with a 2-2 record for the day.

Chelsea Girls Golf Team Competes Despite Weather

Chelsea High School Girl's Golf team opened their season with a home match against Ann Arbor Huron and Saline. Liz Holdsworth led Chelsea with a 52, Jessica Inwood shot a 53, Erin Armstrong shot 56 and Lesley Davis scored a 60 for a team total of 221. Huron shot a team score of 216 while Saline shot a 192.

On Wednesday, April 10 the team traveled to Saline where they play at Brookside Golf Course, which has a fair amount of water. Inwood led the team with an excellent round of 53, Holdsworth shot a 56, Davis a 60 and Armstrong recorded a 63 for a team total of 232. Saline shot a 196.

Returning home on Friday, April 12 the Bulldogs hosted Brighton and Gabriel Richard. Erin Armstrong led the team with a 51, Jessica Inwood was close behind with a 52, Lesley Davis shot 55 and Liz Holdsworth shot 56 for a team total of 214. Brighton shot a 184 and Gabriel Richard shot 283.

The J.V. team played against Brighton. Megan Morgan shot a 100, Tina Wiese 87, Chrissy Tracy 85, Shannon Stanley 89 and Rachael Mead 94. This was the first time any of these girls had played 9 holes.

"Keep your eyes on these young ladies," said coach Cheryl Vogel. Jennifer Saarinen and Megan Williams also played in all varsity matches.

Monday, April 22 brought rain and chilly temperatures to the golf course but the matches went on. The team traveled to Pinckney to play at Rush Lake Hills Golf Course where they beat Pinckney 204-221. The Bulldogs all played well even with a few problems with a pond.

Armstrong led the team with her best score ever in a varsity match, a 48. Following close behind were Inwood with a 51, Holdsworth shot 52 and Davis shot a 53.

Finally seeing the sun, but struggling with the wind, the team traveled to Huron Hills Golf Course to play Ann Arbor Huron on Wednesday, April 24

Chelsea did not play well and were missing three of their regular varsity players due to the band trip as they lost 234-194. Inwood shot 54, Holdsworth and Davis each had 56 and Wiese recorded a 68.

Chamber Golf Outing Set At Pierce Lake

On Tuesday, June 11 the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce is hosting its 10th annual golf outing.

This year's outing is being held at the new Pierce Lake Golf Course, owned and operated by the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Department. Pierce Lake Golf Course, designed by architects Harry Bowers, is an excellent golf course design and will accommodate beginning golfers to the more advanced.

The format of this year's outing has been expanded and improved to accommodate up to 120 golfers with the day beginning at 8 a.m. with a continental breakfast and a shotgun start for the scramble event at 9 a.m. sharp. During the outing there are several prize opportunities for golfers, including the opportunity to win a new automobile for a hole-in-one, other great prizes for closest to the pin and longest drives for both men and women, as well as other door prizes donated by local businesses.

Lunch and refreshments will be served to all golfing participants during the scramble event followed by a steak dinner provided by the Wolverine Lounge immediately after golf. There are also tickets available for dinner only.

Tickets, which are going fast, can be purchased from John Daniels at Chelsea Lumber Company by calling 475-9126 or 1-800-875-9126.

Ins And Outs Of Bike Safety

They say you never forget how to ride a bike. That may be true, but statistics show that for children, at least, they may forget how to do it safely.

And that's where parents come in, now that summer beckons, and bicycles have taken over for skis and ice skates as the thing to do according to AAA Michigan.

But bike riding can be dangerous when precautions are not observed — or forgotten.

In 1994, the last year for which statistics are available, 17 bicyclists under age 15 died statewide, 59 percent of the 29 bike deaths recorded in Michigan that year. In the same time frame, 1,338 bicyclists 15 and under suffered injuries. Nationally, more than 500,000 children annually go to hospital emergency rooms or doctors' offices with bicycle injuries.

"Parents can play a crucial role by reminding children how to ride safely, what to do and what not to do," said Jerry Basch, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager.

"By reminding their children of safe riding practices, they refresh their own memories, as bicycle riding is a popular recreation with adults."

The Auto Club suggests the following reminders for parents to pass on:

- Bike riders should always wear helmets. About 80 percent of bicycle deaths involve head injuries. (According to a AAA survey of some 280 children, ages 8 to 13, in eight states, 44 percent "seldom or never" wore helmets; 11 percent "occasionally" wore them; and 43 percent said they wore them "always or most of the time.")

- Be cautious when entering roadways from driveways and alleys. Slow down, stop and look for traffic.

- Ride with traffic on the right-hand side of the street.

- Obey traffic signs and signals. Be extra careful turning left because motorists don't expect it. Give cars and pedestrians the right-of-way.

- Don't ride at night.

- Signal before turning and look before changing lanes.

- Wear light and bright-colored clothing so that drivers can see you.

- Avoid broken pavement, loose gravel and leaves, which can cause you to lose control of your bike.

But before the children take that ride, parents should inspect the bicycle to make sure the brakes and tires are in good condition.

Also, that the bike is sized properly. Sitting on the seat, a child should be able to balance the bicycle with the tips of their toes.

TEACHER FEATURE

Suzanne DeVries

DeVries Has Fun

By Scott Bishop
Staff Writer

Suzanne DeVries fourth grade classroom is a reflection of her ebullient personality, the walls covered and the ceiling hung with bright representations of her students work.

"I love to have fun. I think that's very important. I try to turn everything into a game," DeVries said.

The fourth grade teacher, who did her academic work at Hope College, the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University, is completing her 24th year as a Chelsea teacher.

After working a year as personnel manager for a manufacturing firm, DeVries went into teaching. She was effusive about the reasons why.

"I feel like I want to work with people on an individual basis. And I feel that respect and integrity is very important."

"If you show (the students) respect, they in turn respect you. They exude such joy that it's a joyful profession."

"There's lots of other stuff that you could be into but basically, they're always so eager to learn and to have fun and enjoy life, and I feel that's what teaching them, a continuation of enjoyment of life, of learning new things," DeVries explained.

She's taught first, second and third graders in the past, but to DeVries fourth grade is the most exciting level.

"They're starting to be young adults. They're starting to go beyond themselves and look at relationships with each other."

"And they're starting to become more independent in their learning, in their questioning. They're starting to get more depth in their questioning, to have opinions and support them and disagree with each other on a non-personal level."

"So they're really able to develop the higher level thinking skills. And the material, I like the material," DeVries illustrated.

While autonomy and fun are important in her classroom, the disciplinary standards are affixed and firm.

"I believe in a great deal of freedom within discipline. It's the teacher's responsibility to set up the parameters, and to allow as much freedom as possible within those parameters," DeVries said.

Her class studies differences in cultures as big as foreign nations and as small as the student's communities and homes for practice in analyzing, forming opinions and finding supporting details.

"It's really neat to have them start questioning and not just always take things for granted. We have some wonderful literature and it fits with the fourth grade curriculum," DeVries explained.

She went on to outline her goals for students in her classroom.

"I want them to be able to state their opinion and be able to support it. I want them to question everything and realize that there might be one more way to look at things."

"And also it's very important to accept each other as individuals and look at the world realizing that there are many different cultures in the world. Basically to look at their world differently," DeVries illustrated.

All this work to make exploration and intellectual growth fun requires an underlying foundation, she said.

"You have to really care about the kids," DeVries concluded.

Woman's Club Meets

The annual meeting of the Woman's Club of Chelsea was held at the home of Linda Cole on Tuesday, April 23.

Annual reports from officers and committee chairpersons were submitted and a new slate of officers elected for the coming year. They are: President, Jean Schmidt; Vice President, Linda Cole; Secretary, Majorie Hepburn; Treasurer, Dorothy Mielki and parliamentarian, Lois Moore.

A new budget was also presented and approved.

During the past year the Woman's Club has made contributions to United Way, FIA/SS, McKune Library and to the Family Practice Center to be used for the underprivileged children's clinic. Money was also set aside in a special fund for the purpose of furnishing a room in the library expansion program sometime in the future.

The club will finalize its activities for the past year with a dinner at the Common Grill on May 14. They will also host the Marathon Bridge Dinner on May 23 at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

Hostesses for the evening were Linda Cole and Donna Lane.

Food Drive Announced

Saturday, May 11, Chelsea postal carriers and clerks, in conjunction with National Association of Letter Carriers and the U.S. Postal Service, will conduct a local food drive.

They will be collecting non-perishable items that are left on mailboxes for the Chelsea Community for distribution to the local food bank, Faith in Action.

This food drive will be conducted on a national basis. Also, from Monday, May 6 through Saturday, May 11, there will be a container in the post office lobby for food donations.

Supervisor's Salary Raised

Tuesday, April 23 the Chelsea Village Council approved increasing the salary of Village Water Superintendent Dan Rosentreter from $37,962 to $40,580 yearly.

The "equity raise," as Village Manager Jack Myers termed it, brought Rosentreter's annual salary in line with other village department supervisors.

Foundation Has Program

Parents of teens often watch and wonder what is going on in the head of their son or daughter. When the Education Foundation asked the students they responded.

With information provided by the teens, and acknowledging the difficulties of parenting teens, a program is available to learn, to encourage communication, and to identify resources. Families with teenagers, adolescence or school age children will find valuable information during the Forum and Week of Awareness.

For more information contact Chelsea Community Education, 475-9830.

—First Class Train Service—

Fifteen Chelsea Girl Scouts, all members of Huron Valley Girl Scout Troop 145, traveled by train to Chicago Friday, April 26. The girls are: Susan Barkman, Sarah Brigham, Sarah Kaminsky, Karl Moyle, Elise Murphy, Marjorie Sacks, Katie Personke, Sarah Munger, Katie Fox, Jessie Percha, Stephanie Hanna, Natasha Blair, Julie Inwood, Stacy Peters and Sarah Misenheimer. Adult chaperones included Troop Leader Shawn Personke, Co-Leaders Tracy Moyle and Kathy Brigham, Tamme Percha, Sandy Barkman and Carole Murphy. The train made an infrequent stop at the Chelsea Depot to pick the girls up.

Compliance Fees Adopted

Two new fees for residents receiving zoning compliance certificates were approved Tuesday, April 23 by Chelsea Village Council.

Acquiring a compliance certificate for new construction and additions will now require payment of a $50 fee.

Acquiring a compliance certificate for fences or portable sheds of 120 square feet or less will require payment of a $25 fee.

According to Assistant Village Manager Bruce Pindzia, the fees are appropriate because virtually all other municipalities charge for these services. Also, granting a compliance certificate involves, for village officials, not only the office time completing the application but a follow-up inspection.

Generous Donation

A generous donation by Hop-In allowed the Parents for Safety Committee to meet eight percent of its $84,000 goal to install new sidewalks in Dexter. Hop-In donated sales from gas purchases made during a four-hour period April 20. Over 5,000 gallons were purchased for a donation of $5,388.33. Pictured are Eileen Mosher, Hop-In manager; Sue Wethington, Hop-In Director of Marketing; Tim Vander Mel, Area Coordinator/Merchandising and Training Specialist; and Parent for Safety organizers Valerie Marsh, Rhonda Hall and Marilyn Lippert. The committee has received tax exempt status and will solicit area businesses, industry and individuals for money to install sidewalks to make walking to school safer for schoolchildren.

AAA Addresses Drowsy Driving

Q. Why is AAA Michigan donating $250,000 to this effort?

A. Drowsy driving is reaching epidemic proportions. For the sake of Michigan residents and all motorists, AAA Michigan can't afford not to address this serious problem. And any increases in crash prevention mean long-term decreases in medical and insurance costs.

Q. How serious is the drowsy driving problem in Michigan?

A. That's one reason AAA Michigan and Henry Ford Health System are undertaking this research. Although some data exists, more solid statistics are needed. If anything, the problem in Michigan is worse than in other states, due to the high number of shift and factory workers, the longer work hours and the early start times of many local businesses.

Q. Does law enforcement track the number of sleep-related crashes in Michigan?

A. AAA Michigan is working on this with the Secretary of State and Michigan State Police and hopes to announce very soon a new checklist for law enforcement agencies that will provide a specific check-off box for sleep-related crashes. AAA Michigan is also planning to work with law enforcement officials to improve identification of sleep-related crashes.

Q. People in general seem busier than ever before. Can the sleep deficit ever be fully addressed?

A. Being busy doesn't necessarily imply being productive, especially if long hours and lack of sleep interfere with job quality. Sleep experts and federal officials have linked sleepiness to several major disasters, including the Three Mile Island nuclear accident, space shuttle Challenger explosion and the Chernobyl nuclear reactor explosion.

Q. With so many people disabled by head and spinal cord injuries from auto crashes each year, what can be done to help these crash victims?

A. Once an injury does occur, it is important to start treatment as soon as possible to minimize damage to the brain and spinal cord and to promote optimal recovery. Henry Ford Hospital researchers believe it is possible to reduce the amount of brain damage caused by head injury by administering antibodies to white blood cells as quickly as possible after initial trauma. In terms of regenerating damaged spinal cord nerve tissue, this is a long way down the road, but a definite long-term goal.

Q. How does drowsy driving compare to drunk driving?

A. Public safety officials estimate drowsy driving may be a factor in as many as 400,000 traffic crashes per year nationwide. In 1992, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), about 355,000 persons were injured in crashes where police reported alcohol present. We also know that sleep loss and alcohol worsen the effects of the other when combined.

U-M Botanical Gardens Offers Tours Of Trials

The U-M Matthaei Botanical Gardens Conservatory has many exotic plants and bright flowers. Visitors can explore the Conservatory and the Gardens' outdoor trails with a docent guide during the month of May.

Docent-led Conservatory tours for May will take place Sunday, May 5 at 2 p.m. "Flowers and Pollination" will be this month's topic.

Human's are not the only ones attracted to color, fragrance, fascinating shapes and forms of flowers. Flowers attract animals, bees, flies, moths and bats.

Explore with our Docents just how these flowers differ from one another. Participants should sign-in at the front lobby reception desk prior to the tour. Conservatory admission is $2 for adults.

The Matthaei Botanical Gardens is located at 1800 North Dixboro Road, Ann Arbor, MI; 2 1/2 miles north of the Geddes Road intersection.

Homeless Children Experience Losses Beyond Housing

Homelessness among growing numbers of Michigan children adversely affects their physical and emotional well-being as evidenced by the significant disruption which occurs in their daily lives. Experiencing separation from siblings and other family members, losing special toys and other valued treasures, missing neighborhood friends, having no time or space to play, and facing adjustments to a new school are only some of the daily and personal impacts of homelessness on individual children's lives depicted in the latest report from KIDS COUNT in Michigan.

The report, based on interviews with homeless children and their families in emergency shelters throughout the state last summer, catalogs the multiple levels of loss experienced by the state's homeless children.

"No one knows precisely how many of the state's children are homeless, but we do know that homelessness is a growing problem among families with children," said Jane Zehnder-Merrell, publications director for the project. According to the Michigan Department of Education, roughly 140,000 of the state's school-aged children were homeless at some time in the 1994-95 school year.

The purpose of the report, Homeless in Michigan: Voices of the Children, according to Zehnder-Merrell, is an attempt "to understand the human dimensions of child homelessness, rather than to present a statistical profile."

She added that the increasing share of the state's children in poverty, stagnant wages and the proliferation of part-time work, the low level of public assistance which barely covers the cost of housing in many counties, and the dramatic funding reductions in emergency assistance for families—all combine to place more children at risk of homelessness. With a drastic shortage of affordable housing and fewer jobs paying wages that lift a family above poverty, parents are often hard-pressed to maintain stable and safe housing for their children, according to the report.

The typical homeless family in Michigan's shelters consisted of a mother and one or two children. Some families had split up in order to obtain housing, so the younger children, who were more likely to be with their mother in shelters, often talked of missing their older siblings. Few shelters can accommodate two-parent families, and some make separate accommodations for boys as young as seven years old.

The report details the numerous impacts of homelessness on children's lives. These effects have often begun long before the children reach a shelter, according to the report, since many families have doubled up for extended periods with family and friends who are often marginally housed themselves. Most of the interviewed families had moved at least once, and one family reported ten moves before coming to the shelter.

Shelters often lack the resources to provide child care or transportation to assist the families in their transition, as they search for new housing.

KIDS COUNT in Michigan, a collaborative project of Michigan's Children and the Michigan League for Human Services, is part of a broad national effort to measure the well-being of children at state and local levels. The project regularly collects and publishes information about child well-being as a basis for public policy development and community action. The Michigan project is funded by the Annie E. Casey, Skillman, Frey and Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan Foundations, as well as the corporate fund of Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan.

New Alert Driving Program Will Address Injuries, Fatigue

The establishment of a new alert driving program—aimed at combating a driving problem estimated to cause as many as 400,000 traffic crashes per year—was announced today.

AAA Michigan will present Henry Ford Health System with a $250,000 grant that will be used to fund neurosurgery research focusing on how to limit brain and spinal cord damage following accidental injury, as well as research, prevention strategies and public education on drowsy driving.

The AAA Michigan Alert Driving Program will be part of the Henry Ford Health System Sleep Disorders and Research Center. In addition, a large portion of the grant will be given to the Henry Ford Hospital Department of Neurosurgery Research Laboratories for studies aimed at limiting brain and spinal cord injuries.

"There is a growing threat to the safety on our highways," said Ron Steffens, president, AAA Michigan. "It is part of the joint mission of both of our organizations to educate the public on the dangers of drowsy driving."

According to Thomas Roth, Ph.D., division head of the Henry Ford Health System Sleep Disorders and Research Center, some of Michigan's best and brightest are at risk.

"Preliminary data suggests that college-age people, workaholics, individuals with sleep disorders, shift workers and those in the trucking industry get less sleep and tend to fall asleep at the wheel, endangering not only themselves, but other drivers as well," said Dr. Roth, who chairs the National Center on Sleep Disorders Research Advisory Board at the National Institutes of Health.

One in five drivers has admitted to falling asleep behind the wheel at least once. And public safety officials estimate drowsy driving may be a factor in as many as 400,000 traffic crashes per year.

"This should serve as a 'wake-up' call for motorists, as well as those in law enforcement and traffic safety," said Dr. Roth.

Fatigue-related catastrophes...

Sleep experts and federal officials have linked these major catastrophes to fatigue:

- ✓ Three Mile Island nuclear accident, 4 a.m., March 28, 1979. A mechanical failure unrecognized by tired shiftworkers led to the near meltdown of one reactor.
- ✓ Space shuttle Challenger explosion, Jan. 28, 1986. The Rogers Commission implicates the work and rest schedules of key managers, two of whom had less than three hours of sleep each for three nights before the decision to launch.
- ✓ Chernobyl nuclear reactor explosion, 1:23 a.m., April 26, 1986, Ukraine. A series of human errors by sleep-deprived employees working during peak sleep times led to this accident.

Beware of Diet Claims

You see the incredible advertising claims everywhere:

"Amazing New Discovery Melts Away Pounds!" "No Effort, Eat Everything You Want and Lose Weight!"

Folks in the Chelsea and Dexter area are no different from people anywhere else; they have a weight problem and may be cheated if they fall for claims that are "too good to be true." Here are the facts behind some claims:

"Lose weight while you sleep." Sorry, but losing weight requires significant changes in your eating habits and exercise. Claims for weight loss without sacrifice or effort are simply a waste of money.

"John Doe lost 84 pounds in six weeks." Really? Who is this guy? Even if true, such claims have no relevance to your own chances of success. And those photos (before & after) are often faked.

"Scientific Breakthrough ... Medical Miracle." Nope. Weight loss is calories, exercise, and discipline, period. Ignore extravagant claims.

The Federal Trade Commission has issued its latest warning on weight loss scams. It also reviews the real ways to lose weight. If you want to lose "a few pounds," the FTC suggests revising what you eat and adding moderate exercise to your daily routine. Don't just cut calories; this often makes dieters hungry and can sabotage the effort. It also cuts down on important vitamins and minerals. Instead, try to replace many of the calories from fats with calories from other food groups. The exercise will burn off weight slowly so you will see gradual progress which should keep you motivated.

Here are other tips:

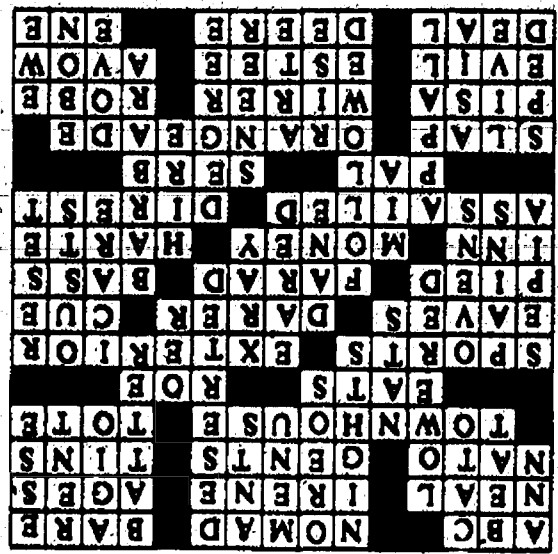

- Before starting a weight loss program, check with your doctor. Some diet plans have been associated with health complications. Make sure your diet is well balanced and meets nutritional guidelines.
- Don't panic if you "backslide." You developed your bad habits over many years; a few false starts are normal before the necessary changes in your lifestyle can take hold. Just start your diet/exercise program again. You can also call us to check our reports on weight loss firms in the Chelsea-Dexter area 24 hours a day at (810) 644-9100. If you have a problem you can't resolve yourself, write us at: BBB, 30555 Southfield Rd., Suite 200, Southfield, MI 48078. Our office serves all of Washtenaw and Jackson Counties.

† Spiritual Viewpoint

By the Rev. David Horning
St. James Episcopal Church

(Editor's note: While this column specifically addresses a concern in Dexter, it could just as easily have been written about Chelsea.)

At the last meeting of the Dexter Ministerial Association a question was brought to our attention by a parent from one of our local churches. Is there a policy regarding school sponsored activities on Wednesday nights? It was noted that Wednesday night was traditionally reserved for church activities. As an Association we discussed this concern. I have also done a little research and thought it would be of interest to share some observations and information.

Prior to coming to Dexter, the majority of years I spent in ministry were in a large city. Policies governing urban school activities did not include concerns for church functions. I called Dr. John Hansen, superintendent of schools, to find out if there was a policy for our Dexter school district.

Dr. Hansen related to me how in general the small town setting has historically enjoyed a positive relationship between school and the religious community. This can be confirmed as the prevailing attitude in our own Dexter Schools. It has been an unwritten policy of the school to take into consideration church related activities on Wednesday nights.

New factors have come into play in recent years which affect Wednesday night activities. With increased opportunities for a variety of sports, and a dramatic rise in female team sports, the use of school facilities has to be carefully regulated. We are delighted with the additional opportunities for our youth, but good stewardship of our resources dictates some scheduling on Wednesday nights.

Interracial sports, involving other districts, make it difficult to leave Wednesday nights open. Band rehearsals for special events and the last week of play practice may also conflict. Further, we must also recognize that some Wednesday activities are not school sponsored. Finally, even if Wednesday nights were open, the youth may not find themselves at church activities. While mutual respect and support continues to be the stance between school and the churches, practically speaking Wednesday is a shared night.

I believe part of our task as parents is assisting our children in establishing priorities. Where there are many options, we have to make choices. Not all children are blessed with a vast array of options. At an ever-increasing rate there are family structures that simply do not have the flexibility to participate in numerous activities. Those parents who can participate are facing a time when many new demands are placed upon them. Organized sports are starting at younger and younger ages. Opportunities abound for all manner of interests. In the modern day family it seems almost necessary to have one person gifted with a keen sense of organization.

Providing opportunities for our children to explore and learn beyond the classroom setting is important. These activities are vital to a child's development: physically, intellectually, creatively, and spiritually. Our job as parents is not simply to see that schedules are full, but we must help determine priorities and set an example of life, balancing those things which are most important to us. Sacrificing our own needs by adding to an already busy schedule does not determine good parenting.

In our Ministerial meeting we recognize that while we yearn for the clarity afforded by the Wednesday night policy, many of our own church functions do not take place on that night. Our recommendation is that all of us take a look at our own lives to see what kind of message we are giving to our children.

What have we made a priority in our family life? There are many activities that not only vie for attention on Wednesday nights, but Sunday morning is also now at stake.

Sporting events, team sports, recreational activities (just to mention a few) are now being scheduled for Sunday morning. It takes diligence and commitment to hold on to Sunday worship time. Spiritual nurture is not as easy to detect as achievements in other areas, yet for the sake of our children's future and well-being we must find ways to encourage and affirm this vitally important aspect of their development.

We must demonstrate that matters of the spirit are important to us by establishing priorities that affirm our belief. It is not enough to tell the children, we must show them by our example.

I wish I could have given a simple answer to our concerned parent's question. That is not possible for we live in an ever increasing complex age. As we meet the challenge of the future may we have the grace to guide our children in the path that leads to life.

AREA DEATHS

MARY J. DETTLING
Chelsea

Age 80, died Monday afternoon, April 29, 1996 at Cedar Knoll Rest Home. She was born Nov. 22, 1915 in Hillsdale, Mich., the daughter of Frank and Mary (McDonough) Carlos. Mrs. Dettling had been a resident of Chelsea for 48 years and was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Chelsea. Mary retired from the Chelsea Retirement Community.

At St. Thomas Church in Ann Arbor on Sept. 11, 1940 she married William L. Dettling and he survives. Also surviving are her two sons, Thomas L. Dettling of Chelsea, and William F. Dettling of Lakeland, Fla.; five grandchildren and one great-granddaughter. She was preceded in death by three brothers.

The funeral mass will be held Thursday May 2, at 11 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church, with the Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis officiating. The Vigil was held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, where the family received friends Tuesday 7-9 p.m. and Wednesday 2-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Burial will follow in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Chelsea.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to St. Mary's Church Building Fund.

MARTIN KOSTEN
Chelsea

Age 92, died Sunday, April 28, 1996 at Cedar Knoll Care Center in Grass Lake. He was born on Feb. 29, 1904 in Grand Rapids, the son of Dennis and Nellie (DeBruyn) Kosten.

Marty moved from Dearborn to Chelsea in 1982. He was the former owner of Brokers Realty in Dearborn and a member of the Masons.

On Feb. 6, 1928, he married Beatrice Bronsteader in Grand Rapids, and she preceded him in death on April 18, 1980. Survivors include one son, Martin D. Kosten of Rochester, N.Y.; one daughter, Mrs. Mark (Lorraine) Katic of Westland; one grandson, Grant Kosten; one great-granddaughter, Kendra; two nephews, Don Kosten of Grand Rapids, and Jack Kosten of Shalimar, Fla.; and a very dear friend, Virginia Cotterman of Chelsea. He was preceded in death by two brothers.

Arrangements by Cole Funeral Chapel.

NEALE GROB
Stockbridge

Age 60, was born March 22, 1936, in Ann Arbor, the son of Edwin H. and Dorothy M. (Chappel) Grob. Neal was a life-long resident of Ann Arbor and Stockbridge and was self-employed as a painter. He was a former officer and member of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, where he was very active and had many friends. Mr. Grob was a veteran of the US Army.

Surviving are his father, Edwin H. Grob; and his friend, Hilman Tervo, of Stockbridge; four brothers, Paul and James both of Ann Arbor, Jerry of Saginaw, Kevin of Lansing; four sisters, Nancy King of Plymouth, Barbara Wood of Ypsilanti, Suzanne Moffat of Marshall, and Karol Mulla of Good-year, Ariz.; his sister-in-law, Joyce (Kelly) Grob of Dexter; and a special friend, Oren Lovely, and several aunts, uncles and many, many nieces and nephews and cousins. He was preceded in death by his mother, and brother, Robert.

Private family interment services were held Wednesday at Washtenaw Memorial Park, Ann Arbor. Friends were invited to share their memories of Neal at a memorial gathering Wednesday, May 1, at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, followed by a dinner at 6 p.m. Expressions of sympathy may be made to the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. Arrangements by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, Chelsea.

Concert Features Culver

The Dexter Community Band Spring Concert will be held Friday, May 3, 7:30 p.m. at the Beach Middle School Auditorium. The performance will feature a guest violin solo by Ben Culver, a student at Chelsea High School.

Culver began playing at age three, instructed by his father, a professor of music at the University of Michigan.

A musician and scholar, Culver is a member of the CHS Orchestra, U-M Youth Orchestra, Briarwood Pops Orchestra and an Honor Roll student at CHS, where he is also a member of the National Honor Society.

The violinist is a founding member of Fiddler's Philharmonic, a 27-piece string ensemble of high school students who recently toured in Scotland and raised approximately $3,000 at a benefit concert for the Children of Dublin.

Next year, Culver will attend U-M and major in the Technology and Music program.

A lover of folk and bluegrass violin styles, Culver said he is "pretty excited" about performing with the Community Band.

WCC Offers Computer Courses

Washtenaw Community College's Business and Community Services is offering six non-credit computer courses this May. In addition to the introductory Microsoft Windows and Internet courses, introductory training is available in computer literacy, Word 6.0, Excel 5.0, and for the Macintosh.

Individuals 65 years of age or older prior to the semester of enrollment and residents of Washtenaw County are eligible for an Emeritus Scholarship. This means that they may register for the computer courses without paying tuition provided the prerequisites are met. Book charges are not included in the scholarship.

—Young Fundraisers—
Students in the St. Mary's religious education program, pre-schools through eighth graders, raised $587.85 through their "Sock It Away" fund-raiser. They donated the money, splitting it between Faith In Action, Operation Rice Bowl and the Holy Childhood Association. These students from the 2nd through 5th grade classes are pictured with religious education teacher Joe Brosnan and Faith In Action President Rev. Dr. Jerrold Beaumont.

—Raffle Winner—
Luanne Haas was a recent lucky winner in the 50-50 club drawing conducted by Dexter Senior Citizens, Inc. Haas is supervisor of nine Hop-In branded food services locations. She stopped at the Dexter Senior Nutrition Site to collect her winning dollars from Paul Clow, who sold her the 50-50 ticket.

Scott Kalitta Qualifies

For the third time in the past four years Scott Kalitta of Chelsea qualified his American International Airways Top Fuel dragster number one for the NHRA Fram Nationals at Atlanta Dragway.

There seems to be a curse with that position, though, as each time the two-time Winston Top Fuel Champion qualifies number one at this event he goes out in round one. Such was the case in Sunday's eliminations when Mike Dunn defeated the Chelsea resident 4.830 to 4.912. Kalitta now is in fourth place in Winston points.

The next event for the American International Airways team is the 2nd annual NHRA Pennzoil Nationals, May 2-5, in Richmond, Va.

Arthritis Foundation Hosts Free Health and Education Series

On Wednesday, May 8, the Arthritis Foundation 1996 Health & Education Series presents Living Well With Arthritis: A Look at Healthy Exercise & Nutrition Guidelines.

Living Well With Arthritis: A Look at Healthy Exercise & Nutrition Guidelines will be presented by a panel of experts from Physical Therapists. The presentation will address managing joint pain and inflammation through exercise, and minimizing the effects of arthritis through proper nutrition. Participants will also learn about the benefits of exercise and discover relaxation, flexibility and strengthening exercises appropriate for people with arthritis.

The panel will also address the benefits of a well-rounded diet for arthritis fitness, helpful hints for good eating, and preventing and slowing osteoporosis. Participants are encouraged to dress in comfortable clothing if they would like to participate in the demonstration portion of the program.

The Arthritis Foundation 1996 Health & Education Series is presented by the Ann Arbor Region of the Arthritis Foundation. The program will be held in the Cafeteria of the Senior Health Building, 5361 McAuley Drive on the campus of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Room 7-9 p.m.

Although there is no fee to participate, registration is required. To register for Living Well With Arthritis: A Look at Healthy Exercise & Nutrition Guidelines, please contact the Arthritis Foundation, Ann Arbor Region at (313) 572-3224.
