Timber Town Using Children's Input

Timber Town would have no name, logo or design if not for the efforts of the Children's Committee and the input of all the children in the Chelsea area.

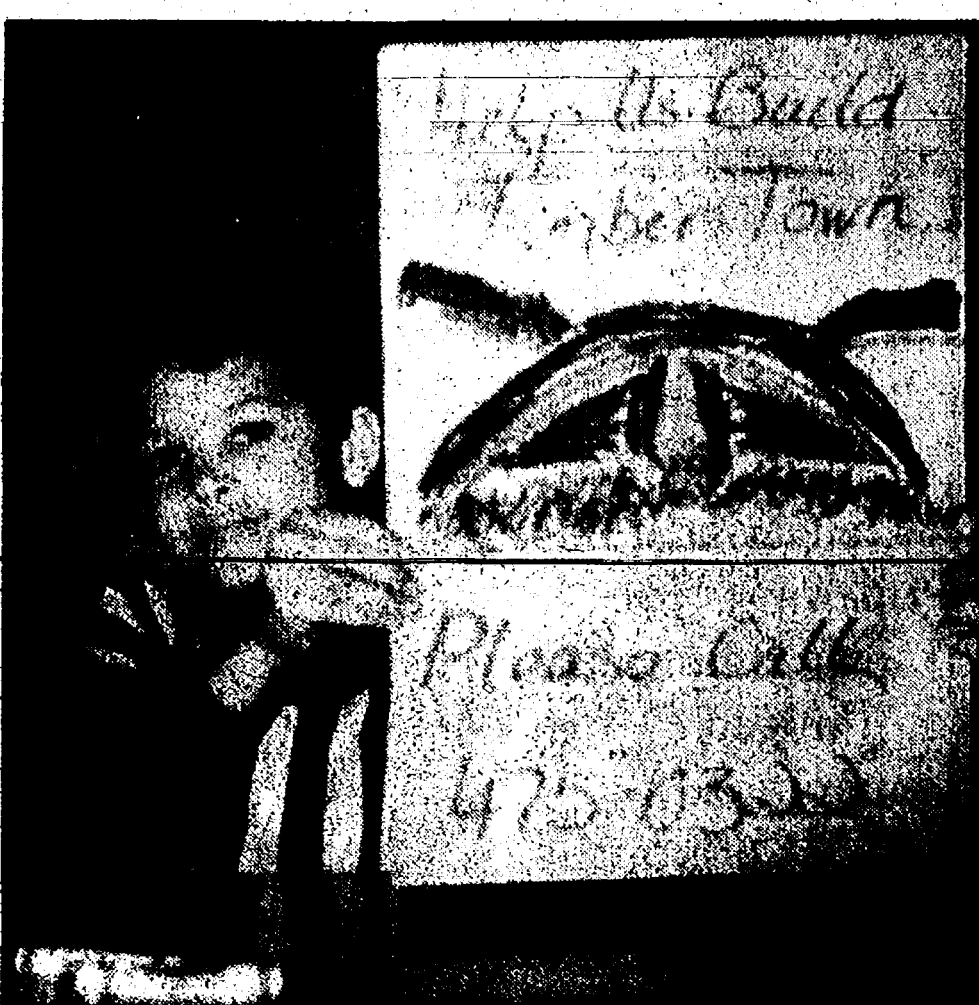

The Children's Committee is made up of 27 students from North and South Elementary Schools and includes Andrew Baibak, Martin Bragalone, Tom Bloomfield, Joshua Cottrell, Cameron Hawkins, Anna Llouise, Stefan Kalmbach, Ryan Kelly, Julie Kueker, Doug Kueker, Jessica Lodewyk, Nicole Lodewyk, Bryan Olejniczak, Scott Parisho, Aaron Robinson, Rachel Severin, J.P. Severin, A.J. Suffety, Ben Tallman, Maris Turner, Zoe Zuidveld, Bryan Dunn, Austin Feeney and Alex Stephens.

The committee is headed up by Mary Lou Severin with teacher representatives Beth Newman and Crystal Heydlauff.

The children of the community have been involved from the onset of the project, naming, designing, and fund raising for a playground they can truly call their own. Nicole Lodewyk, a second grader at North, named the play structure "Timber Town" and Maris Turner, a fifth grader at North, applied his considerable artistic skill in developing the logo.

Attractive cream-colored tee shirts featuring this logo are available in children's sizes for $10 and adult sizes for $12 and will be sold during the building of Timber Town or by calling Anna Dunn at 475-9301.

Children in Chelsea had the opportunity recently to own a piece of the playground through the "Buy-A-Board" campaign, organized by Toni Kinsey. Children were able to purchase one board for $3 or two for $5, as well as solicit volunteers among family and friends. They received a wooden nickel as a token of appreciation for their hard work. They raised over $2,000 and purchased the sand digger for the playground through these efforts.

The Timber Town Times, written and illustrated by members of the Children's Committee and Tracy Heydlauff's fifth grade class, was produced and distributed to over 1,250 students at the end of April. The eight-page publication was packed with articles, poems, drawings, mazes, crossword puzzles, jokes, music and lyrics for a song about Timber Town, comics, and even a recipe for Timber Town Trail Mix to "Feed the hungry Timber Town volunteers."

Polly's Market donated 1,200 bags for the children to decorate and request volunteer help on. These bags were distributed by Polly's to their customers beginning the first weekend in May. Check your grocery bags for your very own original piece of Timber Town memorabilia.

Children's Committee is collecting individual snack packs of chips and pretzels and packages of cookies to feed the hungry 2,500 Timber Town volunteers during build dates June 12-16. Drop boxes are located in the principal's office at the elementary schools. During the month of June, they will be collecting apples and oranges to feed the hungry helpers.

Members of the fourth and fifth grade classes are collecting empty coffee cans and milk jugs to help with the organization of nuts and bolts at the building site. The Children's Committee will be painting large two-by-three-foot wooden signs to help identify piles of building materials. Call Mary Lou Severin at 475-9637 if you have scrap plywood or leftover white wall paint that you could donate.

And if you can volunteer your time, please call Ann Riemenschneider at 475-0322.

Reaction Is Moderate To School Drug Search

By Scott Bishop
Staff Writer

The police dog search of the Chelsea High School parking lot May 3 discovered marijuana or drug paraphernalia in three student vehicles, surprised many in the community, and seems to be eliciting some cautiously positive reactions.

The three students found to have marijuana or paraphernalia in their vehicles could be charged with misdemeanors or other crimes, but prosecutors will make that decision only after the confiscated evidence has been analyzed.

According to Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall, the evidence has not yet been sent to the state crime lab for analysis.

Chelsea School Board President Jane Diesing indicated she had not received any comments on the incident from parents or students since the May 3 incident.

High School Assistant Principal Robin Raymond, who accompanied the police on the search, said he'd received eight calls from parents regarding the incident.

Raymond termed five of those calls supportive of the school-approved police search, while three parents questioned the legality of searching the student vehicles.

Sara Walters, president of the Chelsea High School Student Council, explained that the group had discussed the issue but taken no action.

In her estimation, CHS students were generally approving of the police search.

"I think the ones who didn't have anything to hide were very happy that (school and police officials) were finally doing it, because (students) know that there's a problem."

"I only heard a few students who felt that it wasn't fair, and some of them might have been kids that could have had stuff, and others just didn't support it. They thought it was an infringement on their rights," Walters said.

One mother of a high school student, who wished to remain anonymous, said that not only was the search appropriate but that it should have been done earlier.

Noting that she was a CHS graduate, she contended that drug use among students has been a long-standing problem.

Deb Borders, mother of eighth grader who will attend CHS next year, voiced cautious support of the school/police action.

She observed that Chelsea's small-town atmosphere might mislead parents and others into believing no serious drug problem existed.

Borders hoped that a highly visible action like the police search of the parking lot would create a solid deterrent, discouraging CHS students from drug use.

Walters thought it would do just that. "I think it will be a fairly large deterrent, just because they know that, at any time, they could be caught, on any given day," she said.

Commission To Revisit Mobile Home Question

By Scott Bishop
Staff Writer

On April 18, Chelsea Assistant Village Manager Bruce Pindza received a request from developers Steve Tracy, Phil Jenkins and Martin Merkel to rezone roughly 117 acres of village property to allow a mobile home development.

The developers also hope to pursue rezoning of 40 adjacent acres in Lima Township, for purposes of fusing the two parcels into one development.

The property is located on Dexter-Chelsea Road, to the north and west of the intersection of Dexter-Chelsea and Freer Roads. Ownership is controlled by Merkel.

A public hearing on the village rezoning request is scheduled for the May 21 meeting of the Chelsea Planning Commission, 7:30 p.m. at the Sylvan Township Hall.

The issue is a familiar one for Chelsea and Lima Township officials.

A lawsuit is pending in Washtenaw County Circuit Court, involving the developers, Chelsea Village and Lima Township.

The developers charge that the village and township have conspired to obstruct a mobile home development.

Approximately 95 of the 117 acres now requested for rezoning were annexed by Chelsea village last fall. The lawsuit seeks to overturn the annexation.

Three motions for summary disposition of the lawsuit, two from the township and one from the village, and a request to file an amended complaint from the developers are under the consideration of Circuit Court Judge Betty Widgeon.

Widgeon is scheduled to rule on the four motions by May 21, the date of the public hearing.

Questioned about the seeming contradiction of pursuing jointly rezoning approval from Chelsea Village and a lawsuit that would retract the village's authority to rezone the property, Tracy's explanation was matter-of-fact.

"At this point in time, our property (is controlled by) the village. We want to proceed with our project."

"We're just chasing our property from municipality to municipality," Tracy said, adding that the developers would pursue the mobile home project irrespective of whether the property ultimately resided in Chelsea Village or Lima Township.

Elementary School Ceremonies Set

The Chelsea School District will hold Groundbreaking Ceremonies Wednesday, May 22, at the sites of three of its projects slated to begin in late spring.

Everyone is invited to attend a 30-minute presentation planned for each location. Chelsea School Superintendent Ed Richardson, Chelsea Board of Education President Jane Diesing, and representatives from architectural firm Kingscott Associates, Inc., and Granger Construction Company, construction managers, are among those who will speak.

At 5:30 p.m., the ceremonies will commence at the site of the future Pierce Lake Elementary School, located on Old US-12 and Freer Road. Attendees are requested to use the bus garage entrance.

At 6:15 p.m., dirt will be turned over at South Elementary School, where extensive renovation is planned.

North Elementary School, where thorough renovation is planned as well, will be the location of the third and final groundbreaking ceremony, scheduled for 7 p.m.

This occasion will celebrate the passing of the bond issue, the designing of the facilities, and the start of new construction. All community members, and especially children, are invited and encouraged to be part of this momentous event in the history of the Chelsea School District and the Community of Chelsea.

Shovels will be provided for all wishing to turn over some dirt. Refreshments will be served at North Elementary School following the ceremonies. One's own transportation to each site will be required.

Third Row - Matthew Kennedy, Catherine Heffenbecker and Sylvia Jorgensen. Not Pictured - Katie Cong.

Chelsea's Felicia Hermosillo stayed with the Castillo family during her time abroad. Castillo family members have also spent time with the Lee family of Chelsea. From left are Fernando (1993), Roberto (1982), David (1982), and Jorge Castillo, with their father, Felicia, and Poncho (1981 in India) and Rafael (1987).

Grad Spends Year Abroad In Mexico

Felicia Lynn Hermosillo, a 1993 graduate from Chelsea High School, will be returning home, after a year in Mexico, the last week in May.

She spent last summer in the Yucatan peninsula dedicating her time to missions work. Felicia used most of her summer to volunteer in a small hospital established for people who struggle to make ends meet. She also spent part of the summer with construction teams building a house and additions to the hospital.

In August, she started school at I.T.E.S.M. in Monterey.

Felicia is a student at the University of Detroit Mercy and is in a bilingual chemical engineering program which requires its students to study in Mexico at the I.T.E.S.M. one year. She is living with the Castillo family whose five boys each studied their senior year at Chelsea High beginning with Fernando in 1993 (in between were Jorge, Rafael, and David). The five boys all stayed with the Richard Lee family.

Felicia comments, "I have had a really wonderful experience here in Mexico, from my mission work in the summer to studying at the I.T.E.S.M. in Monterey. Living in another country has opened my eyes to many things and helped me to see my own country through more truthful lenses. This year abroad has also helped me in that being away from my family I had to learn to have a lot of faith in Christ. I am so thankful for this opportunity that He granted me and His constant love and protection."

Felicia plans to return to Mexico frequently if possible because she says, "I am part of a family here and it, along with Mexico, as a whole, are now a part of all the things that make me who I am."

Man Dies in House Fire

A house fire on Congdon Street claimed the life of a Chelsea man May 10.

Thomas M. Brosnan, 56, formerly of Jonesville, died after inhaling smoke during a fire originating from a hot plate in his kitchenette.

The victim initially approached a neighbor about checking his residence for smoke. The woman followed him, but turned around to retrieve her shoes. When she returned, she could hear Brosnan yelling for help from his second-story apartment at 311 Congdon St.

Neighbors called the emergency telephone number 911. Chelsea Police provided the first rescue unit on the scene. Officer Riley Sumner attempted to save Brosnan, but the smoke was too dense.

Chelsea fireman Randy Stowe and other firefighters entered the second floor and found Brosnan face down on his bed making gurgling noises. He was holding a flashlight in one hand.

The fire was ruled accidental by the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal Division and a team of local investigators. A hot plate in the kitchen was determined to be the source, but as of Monday officials did not know what caused the fire to ignite.

Brosnan had reportedly been drinking alcohol earlier in the evening. Fire investigators also discovered there was no battery in his smoke detector.

A small dog was rescued from the home. No one else was reported as injured.

Brosnan was pronounced dead at Chelsea Community Hospital after CPR was administered.

Federal Screw Stopped

Employees at Federal Screw Works in Chelsea went on strike in the early minutes of Wednesday, May 1, and as of Tuesday afternoon, May 14, the shutdown continued. And according to plant UAW representative Steve Kincer, no end was in sight.

Kincer said workers tried to return to work Sunday, May 5 but were locked out, as they have been since.

Two negotiation meetings have failed to solve disputes over base wages, a profit-sharing guarantee and incentive pay, Kincer explained.

Further, the UAW representative indicated on Tuesday that no further meetings were yet scheduled.

"Federal Screw Works General Manager Jeff Harness does have a very large stockpile he's got prepared for this. So we figure it might take two to three weeks before his stockpile dwindles down, before he's really willing to talk," Kincer contended.

Harness and plant manager Fred Hoffman did not return phone calls Tuesday.

Marion Benton of Chelsea has been honored for her work in policymaking.

Chelsea Woman A Policymaker

Marion Benton of Chelsea graduated from the first class of Michigan Partners in Policymaking on May 4 in Lansing. Since September, Benton has been learning how to work with officials who shape public policy affecting persons with disabilities as a part of Michigan Partners in Policymaking. This project is coordinated by the Association for Community Advocacy (ACA) in Ann Arbor and is funded by the Michigan Developmental Disabilities Council in Lansing.

Preservation Group Forms

A core group of about 18 Chelsea residents has formed Preservation Chelsea, an organization devoted to preserving the historical look and feel of the village.

The group's mission statement sets out the goal of involving the ideas and input the merchants and residents of Chelsea in preserving the history and charm of the village.

The group is focusing on issues concerning a new village municipal building, possible alterations to or bypass of M-52, and the status of the Glazier building as Chelsea's only designated historic district.

A meeting is planned for Sunday, May 19, 7 p.m. at 138 E. Middle Street. For information call 475-6059.

leadership training designed to give individuals the necessary skills to effectively work with legislators, state agencies, and others whose decisions have an impact on the lives of persons with disabilities. The training enables Partners in Policymaking participants to go beyond the usual advocacy work by providing extensive training in issues concerning persons with disabilities, such as independent living, integrated education, community organizing and family support. Similar programs exist in 35 other states.

Michigan's first class of Partners were chosen from among individuals with disabilities and parents of young children with disabilities. To supplement participants' first-hand experience, the Partners project conducted a series of eight two-day training sessions over an eight-month period. It brought in recognized experts in the fields of disabilities, lobbying, communications, and public advocacy.

"Ms. Benton can truly make a difference in Chelsea and in Michigan", says Pat Carver, coordinator of Partners in Policymaking. "By learning about current issues in disabilities as well as policymaking, Partners participants are equipped to advocate for the best opportunities for citizens in their communities."

For information about Michigan's second class of Partners, call Carver at (800) 890-6084.

Chelsea Area Players Looking For Cast

Chelsea Area Players are planning a new look at an old classic. This July 25-27, CAP will stage Rogers & Hammerstein's "Carousel" at the George Prinz Auditorium. Producer is Brian Myers and Rebecca Groeb of Saline is artistic director. Matt DeLong will handle the vocal direction, Myers will serve as technical director and Adam Ricinto will direct the orchestra.

Auditions for the production will be held at Beach Middle School (445 Mayer Drive) on May 17, from 7-9 p.m. and May 18, from 1-4 p.m. Groeb is looking for a cast of all ages, seven years old and up, and says that there is a part for everyone. There are 13 speaking women roles, five of them principal parts, and 16 speaking men roles, with four of them as principals. No experience is necessary to audition and Groeb is looking for up to 50 cast members.

Persons auditioning for an ensemble role should bring a prepared song from a musical comedy and persons auditioning for a principal role should prepare a song from the show. All persons auditioning will be taught a short dance to audition with and will read a selection from the script.

If you would enjoy working backstage, there are many places that you could be used. Call Myers at 313-475-3269 to offer your assistance.

Baton Twirlers Bring Home Honors

On Saturday, April 27, Michigan Magic sponsored the National Baton Twirling Association Miss Majorette of Michigan Pageant. The contest was held at Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes campus.

The competition involves competing in three different events: modeling, strut and solo, and then an overall pageant winner is named.

Four Chelsea Baton Corps members competed and brought home top honors.

Danielle Varadi, a six year-old Pinckney student, competed in the Basic Skills Pageant 0-8 division. Danielle won first place in Open Basic Skills Basic strut, second place in Pageant basic strut and basic skills solo. She placed third overall in the Basic Skills Pageant, in her first Miss Majorette competition.

Jillian Lawrence, a Chelsea eight year-old, competed in the Basic Skills 7-9 division. Jillian won third place in her Pageant Best Appearing event. She also competed in open solo, strut and modeling, in her second Miss Majorette competition.

Stephanie Mitchell, a Dexter 12 year-old, competed in the 10-12 Beginner Pageant. Stephanie won a fifth place award in open Beginner Best Appearing and third in Open Beginner solo. She also placed third in Beginner Pageant strut, which led her to a fifth place overall finish in her first Beginner Pageant.

Brittany Bourdon, and eight year-old Dexter student, won top awards. She earned first place in open Beginner Modeling and a second place in open Basic Skills solo. She also took second place in Basic Skills Pageant Best Appearing, Solo, and first place in Pageant basic strut. These honors led Brittany to be crowned the 1996 Basic Skills Pageant winner in the 7-9 division.

The girls are members of the Chelsea Baton Corps, coached by Susan Usher.

Eight other twirlers from Dexter and Chelsea competed in the Miss Majorette of Michigan pageant, capturing an array of trophies.

Michelle Eldred, a DHS junior, won first place in the Int. 10-12 pageant. This qualified her to compete at nationals for Int. Miss Majorette of America, to be held at Notre Dame University this summer. Michelle also won first in open modeling, first in open strut, and third in open solo.

Laura Roskowski, a junior at CHS, placed third overall in the Adv. 10-12 division. She will compete for the title of Miss Majorette of America at nationals this summer.

Erica Bloomensaas, a CHS freshman, took second place overall in the Intermediate 13-15 pageant, third in open model, and second in open strut.

Sarah Skyles of Chelsea won the Beginning 13-15 pageant, her send-off to nationals for the Beginning Miss Majorette of America title.

Sally Soroosh, an eighth grader from Mill Creek, captured fourth place overall in the Int. 13-15 division. She also won second place in her open strut event.

Bridget Buto, a fifth grader at Wylie Middle School, competed for the first time and participated in the Basic Skills Pageant as well as open modeling, strut and solo events.

Bekah Soroosh, a Wylie sixth grader, won third place overall in the Int. 10-12 pageant, as well as second place in her open Fancy strut event.

Jenna Haas from Chelsea placed second in the Basic Skills pageant in the 10-12 division.

New Phone Technology

According to Black, a convergence of technology advances and statutory changes makes competition in local telephone service possible.

"The advanced fiber-optics cable we are now installing throughout our service areas has substantially greater capacity than the coaxial cables that are being replaced. We are building a comprehensive electronic communications network which will ultimately provide two-way transmission of entertainment information, high-speed data and voice transmission."

"The Continental telephone operation, Black said, will be managed at the state and local level just as the cable television system is managed. Decentralized management, Black said, will make Continental's service responsive to local needs. At the same time, Continental's telephone systems will have the support of an international telecommunications company which is the third largest cable operator in the United States. The pending merger of Continental and U S WEST Media Group will add to the company's ability to provide state-of-the-art telephone services.

"The only changes consumers will notice will be for the better competition in setting of rates, higher system capability and enhanced special features. They will still have seamless integration with other telephone service providers, both local and long distance. And they will have the quality that can only be provided through fiber optics."

Continental Cablevision, Inc. is a Boston-based broadband telecommunications company with interests in domestic and international cable television operations, cable programming networks, consumer satellite delivery systems and other telecommunications services.

THE ANIMAL LANE People & Pets

Never Lose a Pet Again!

Nearly all of us have experienced the pain, sorrow, and expenses of trying to recover a lost pet. There is now exciting, economical new technology to protect your beloved pet from becoming one of the 12 million dogs & cats put to sleep each year. In animal control agencies across the United States, HomeAgain is the new pet retrieval system now available in our hospital. The HomeAgain system provides permanent identification by means of a tiny microchip implanted quickly and safely in your pet. The microchip, approximately the size of a grain of rice, is programmed with a unique, unalterable identification code. The code is read by a hand held scanner that is similar to a hand held scanner used in grocery stores. These scanners are in use in thousands of veterinarian's offices, humane societies, animal shelters, animal control agencies as well as Chelsea's own police department. When your lost pet is taken to one of these locations, the HomeAgain identification code is retrieved and called into the AKG Companion Animal Recovery Database, and you are contacted and provided with the location of your pet. Please call and ask us about further details about this new service provided to you.

LANE ANIMAL HOSPITAL provides both large and small animal veterinary services. Please call 475-8696 to schedule an appointment. Office hours are: Mon.-Wed. 8 a.m.-7 p.m., Tues. 8 a.m.-6 p.m., Thurs. 8 a.m.-8 p.m. Fri. 8 a.m.-6 p.m., Sat. 8 a.m.-3 p.m. 475-8696

A new line of caps is available for women who have lost their hair due to chemotherapy.

Special Caps For Women With Hair Loss

A line of caps for women who have undergone medical treatment and have experienced hair loss is now available from Susan's Special Needs.

They were created by Susan Thomas, who discovered after her experience with breast cancer and a full course of chemotherapy, that the choices for women with special needs were limited.

After experiencing her own hair loss and being fitted for a wig, she found that wigs were not always the most comfortable option. Thomas explained, "I found that I needed something comfortable that I could wear out running errands or taking the kids to their activities."

Locally, you can find the caps at Women's International Support Environment of Michigan, 225 Northwest Ave., Jackson, (517) 782-8302.

Since their introduction in March of 1994, two basic designs have proven to be most popular. The ClassiCap and Susan's Cap are designed to provide full coverage of the head while providing stylish choices for comfort. Available in a wide variety of different fabrics, Susan's Special Needs caps have grown in popularity and are now carried in more than 220 stores nationally.

As the customer base for Susan's Special Needs continues to grow, Thomas is looking into new products for women with special needs. She has developed a fanny pack to comfortably carry drainage tubes after surgery, a soft fabric pouch to carry prosthesis and a children's cap for kids who have undergone medical treatment and have experienced hair loss. Susan's Special Needs is also a distributor of a line of shampoo developed especially for chemotherapy patients.

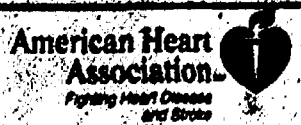

A portion of the proceeds from Susan's Special Needs is donated to the Medical Oncology Fund at Grace Hospital in Detroit.

Many are leaders in their field - specialists in primary care, geriatric medicine, and skilled in the latest surgical and medical techniques...helping you improve or maintain your health and well-being.

On the way to Chelsea, we made some pretty exciting discoveries.

Deep inside the Venezuelan jungle, a genetic disease has plagued the inhabitants of a small village for generations. Moved by their plight, we went there to better understand the disease. Not only did we accomplish our mission, but our research led to the discovery of the gene that causes Huntington's disease. Proof again that knowledge heals.

'Driven by a passion for improving health care, we've traveled to the far corners of the Earth. To places like the countryside of Japan and a small shipping town in Costa Rica. Even to outer space to conduct research.

Everything we've learned we've brought back to you, through the physicians and medical staff of the University of Michigan Health System.

Now we are pleased to announce that our next destination is a little closer to home. In fact, it's right in your neighborhood. Because now the U-M Health System has physicians and health centers near you. So you'll not only have access to the U-M

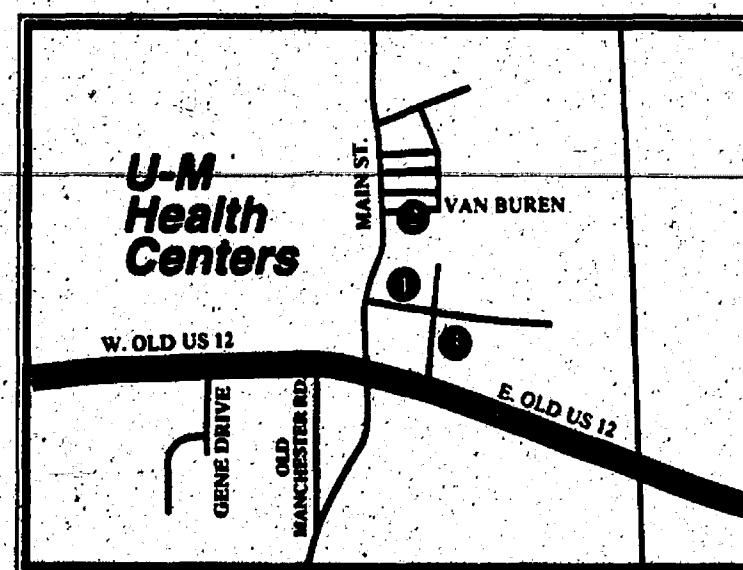

Health System and its world-renowned facilities and programs like C.S. Mott Children's Hospital and the Comprehensive Cancer Center, you'll also have a conveniently located primary care physician for your routine care. To locate a physician near you, call 1-800-211-8181.

She spoke at McKune Memorial Library Wednesday, May 8. Guthrie was in Chelsea as part of her plan to walk five miles in every state to commemorate her 50th birthday. At the suggestion of local resident Jan Grenier, who saw an article about Guthrie in Prevention magazine, the author chose Chelsea as "the most beautiful walk in Michigan."

Middle College Proposed

Last week, Washtenaw Intermediate School District Superintendent Michael Emlaw and others pitched a proposed middle college to the Chelsea School Board.

"The middle college concept has high school students attending an optional high school on a community college campus. A different setting generally, often a different curricular emphasis," Emlaw began.

He added that there were 21 middle colleges in the nation, including one on the campus of Mott Community College in Flint.

"All of the middle colleges have a particular emphasis and are aimed at a particular kind of student or student body.

"In our case, our 10 school districts and Washtenaw Community College are looking at a concept that takes advantage of the technical education facilities and programs at WCC," Emlaw explained.

The high school alternative would open in the fall of 1997 on the WCC campus, under the direction of the WISD and serving 100-150 students.

The program would initially be open to 10th and 11th graders, eventually becoming a four year high school with up to 500 students.

Graduates would have the option to stay a fifth year and emerge with an associate's degree as well as a high school diploma in just five total years, rather than the typical six.

The appeal of the middle college, Emlaw said, would be the technical training it could offer and the high-skill, high-wage jobs graduates would be prepared for.

Emlaw and WISD Associate Superintendent Bill Miller stressed that the middle college concept was aimed at the academic middle of high school classes, designed to meet the needs of students who might not graduate from or excel in four year colleges.

Even successful graduates of four year institutions, they said, were often frustrated by the difficulty of achieving professional and economic success in the modern economy.

"What are we doing to open doors to young people and help them understand how they are going to take their place in a high-skill, high-wage economy?" Emlaw asked, proposing the middle college as potential remedy.

Funding would come from per-student Foundation Grants, and students from any of the 10 public Washtenaw County schools could attend Washtenaw Technical Middle College.

Board members questioned the arranging of travel and its incurred expenses, the appeal of a school without extra-curricular options, and the potential to undercut technical classes already offered to Chelsea student through a consortium of area schools.

In response, Miller left open the possibility that middle college student could participate in extra-curriculars in their home school districts, and the Foundation Grant funds could be shared to facilitate services like transportation.

Emlaw indicated that the goal of the middle college would be to create much greater interest in technical programs and thus more students focusing on technical education.

If that didn't happen, Emlaw said, the middle college program would be a failure.

The board took no action on the issue. The WISD will continue to study the still indefinite plans for a WCC-based middle college.

year-old woman told a sheriff's deputy her live-in boyfriend became enraged when she wrote him a letter asking him to move out of the home they share. The suspect retaliated by dumping a pitcher of orange juice on his girlfriend's head. It was noted in the report that police have been called to the residence at least six prior times for complaints of domestic abuse. The victim told police she fled the home this time before he could assault her.

The suspect tried to prevent his girlfriend from leaving by pulling the wires out of her van. She managed to escape by leaving in a truck and calling police from her neighbor's home. The suspect found her, however, and dismantled her vehicle before fleeing the area. Police escorted the woman back to her residence pending an interview with the suspect. The interview never took place because the suspect died in an auto crash the following day.

VIEWS ON DENTAL HEALTH

GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S.

TRENCH MOUTH

Trench mouth (also known as Vincent's Infection) is an inflamed infection of the gums with the formation of ulcers. It is often accompanied by fever and a "blah" feeling. The bacteria which cause the trench-mouth infection are found in the mouths of all of us—so anyone can get it under the right circumstances. These factors include the neglect of oral hygiene, lack of sleep, alcoholic excess, poor nutrition and stress. That is probably why so many of our soldiers had this disease during World War I, when it became known as "trench mouth."

In contrast to other types of gum disease which develop over a long period of time, in trench mouth, the gums become swollen, tender and sore suddenly. While the bacteria of trench mouth are always present in the mouth, infection takes place only when general resistance is lowered and oral hygiene is poor.

If the symptoms of trench mouth occur, see your dentist at once. The disease is helped by antibiotic treatment in its early stages, but the most effective treatment is thorough and repeated dental cleanings and home care.

The Way It Was

Farming Has Changed Considerably

By Kathy Clark
Special Writer

The farms surrounding the Village of Chelsea have always been an integral part of its trade, growth and life. Many area farmers can still recall the early steam tractors and related machinery.

A "commercial thrasher" or "separator" owned by Martin Wenk (1876-1962) who lived on Fletcher Road, and his brother John is shown in the above early 1900 photograph. The tractor pulling it is a 19 h.p. Port Huron steam tractor which was an early version of a tractor.

The crew of five are resting in the foreground. Martin Wenk is second from the right, and Reuben Grieb, an uncle, is in the center. Martin and John owned a second steam tractor, and two Nichols-Shepard grain separators which they rented to neighboring farmers.

Martin Wenk served many farmers, even into the 1950s by threshing, baling hay, hulling clover seed and husking/shredding corn.

One of Martin and Martha Wenks' six children, Ernest Wenk of Chelsea, recalls how the rigs were used.

"The Wenk threshing operation covered parts of four townships, namely Freedom, Sharon, Lima and Sylvan. (The Port Huron steam engines were rated 19 h.p. but would probably out-pull a dozen modern 150 h.p. automobiles). To operate a steam-powered rig required a fireman engineer, a water boy to keep the engine supplied with water, a blower man, and a machine man. The water supply tank was pulled by two horses.

"The threshing crew usually slept in the farmer's barn. They had to be on the job early to build a roaring fire to get enough steam pressure to start operations, and set off a steam whistle telling the farmers it was time to get on the job.

"Each farmer was required to have on hand enough coal to do his work. Farm wives were popular for putting on super good meals."

A few other farmers I talked to had similar memories of old-time threshing. One retired farmer was even able to imitate the slow chunk-a-chunk-a-chunk mechanical noise of a tractor starting to percolate.

In summary, the equipment would be set up and anchored next to the farmer's barn. The thrasher was lined up with the tractor. Pulleys and a flat belt were hooked up to drive the separator from the tractor. Then wagons full of bundled shocks of field crops—wheat, corn, barley, oats—were parked next to the thrasher. The crew would pitch the bundles into the thrasher one at a time to separate the grain while a blower blew the straw up into a pile. The grain was then bagged and stored in the "granary" rooms of the barn. Straw was used for bedding animals in the winter.

Some of the old family farms served by Wenk threshing crews (many were in the 4,000-acre Chrysler Proving Grounds area) were lands belonging to William Pritchard, Reuben Grieb, Walt Wolfgang, Sylvester Weber, Tony Jeweck, Arthur Weber, Lewis Helm, Frank Wright and the Maroney family whose farm buildings were located where Chrysler's main engineering building is now standing.

One of Wenk's competitors, but also a good friend, was Emmanuel Bahnmiller, whose machinery sheds were located at the corner of Jackson and Madison Streets.

Ernest Wenk knew many capabilities of his father's equipment. "In 1916 the Wenk sawmill was moved to Webster Township northeast of Dexter to cut lumber for erecting a new barn. The farmer used his own woodlot. This move probably took all day seeing the engine's top speed was about 3 m.p.h."

Today most farmers have bought their own equipment and gasoline tractors. Many of the tractors have enclosed cabs with air conditioning and a radio.

Washington Street Show Choir performed their annual "Cabaret" Saturday.

Show Choir Performs

The Washington Street Show Choir, a talented group of high school students, performed "Cabaret '96" at George Prinzing Auditorium at Chelsea High School last Friday and Saturday evening. The Show Choir consists of 42 members—singers, dancers, musicians and technical crew, all under the direction of Steven P. Hinz and assistant director Lisa Hinz Johnson.

"Cabaret" was a combination of all previous shows as well as additional solos, duets and small group numbers.

Saturday night's performance was an evening of recognition and a chance to say goodbye to the 13 seniors who staged their final performance with the show choir. They were Tracy Dufek, Heather Greenleaf, Ryan Guenther, Heather Hick, Genevieve Humenay, Michael Huschke, Erinne Kellman, Kristi Lentz, Brett Salyer, Megann Thrasher, Jenny Walker, Melissa Williams and four-year bass player Hillary Smith. This talented group of seniors will be sorely missed, but Hinz promises the Show Choir will be back next year with more entertainment and energy.

Andy Wetzel, a 1994 alumnus of Chelsea High School was Master of Ceremonies. He seemed to make a lot of friends who would like to know his Mother's response to "Happy Mother's Day, Mom, guess who's coming to dinner?"

The choir, an extracurricular activity founded by its director six years ago, has proven to be a wonderful experience for hundreds of kids who have been a part of this multi-talented program. This talented young group put in a lot of hours this year rehearsing songs and choreography with the assistance of their dance captains, Michael Huschke and Bekah Knight.

They have performed many concerts this year, including for the Agriculture Banquet in March and performances at North and South Elementary Schools.

Tea Time Set

It's tea time again. Area residents are urged to visit the Chelsea Retirement Community for tea and tours at its special May 21 event, "Exotic Tea From Around The World," in the Dancey House Town Hall from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

An added attraction will be a display of some of the residents' favorite teapots and a few very special antiques from the exhibit in our Heritage Room Museum, which is currently closed for renovation.

For more information or directions, call Elizabeth Titus at 475-8633.

Seniors in the Washington Street Show Choir performed their last show Saturday. ### Palmer Scholarship To Be Awarded

The A.A. Palmer medical scholarship was established in 1972 by a group of local physicians as a memorial for Doctor A.A. Palmer. Palmer was born and raised in Chelsea and graduated from U of M Medical School in 1917.

After serving in the Army at Walter Reed Hospital, he joined the medical practice of his father, Dr. George William Palmer (himself a U of M graduate) and they shared an office upstairs at 110 E. Middle St. (presently McLaughlin Law Office). He dedicated his whole career to the health care of the community. They also operated a small hospital on Park Street.

The Chelsea Painters, a group of 30 local artists, have funded the scholarship since 1974 through the sale of their art at their annual art fair in June on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Since 1974, the painters have given more than $12,000 to this fund.

Last year's recipient was David Klemer, a graduate of Chelsea High School. He is at tending The Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City.

This year's fair will be the 23rd Annual and will be held on June 1-2 at Chelsea Community Hospital from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Area award-winning artists will exhibit and sell original fine art including watercolors, acrylics, oils, prints, drawings, collages, and note cards.

The A.A. Palmer Scholarship is administered by the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary and recipients are chosen by a joint committee from The Chelsea Painters and the Hospital Auxiliary.

Again this year the auxiliary will serve refreshments and there will be entertainment by "Cameleon".

The event will be held rain or shine and is open to the public.

Candidate Night Set May 21

The Chelsea Schools will host a "Meet The Candidates Night" Tuesday, May 21, 7 p.m. in the Board Room at Chelsea High School.

Jill Taylor, Robert Turner, Anne Williams and Scott Broshar, the four school board candidates in the June 10 election, will each make a short statement and take questions from the audience.

The public is invited.

By Michelle Rogers

Joe Nellis is calling the re-opening of Terrace Place restaurant a Godsend.

It has been eight months since a fire caused the Dexter Township restaurant and lounge to close. It took five months to get the necessary approvals. By month's end or early June, Nellis expects to be back in business with a new name and look.

"It has been a long, hard struggle for a lot of people working for a common goal," conceded Nellis, a 59-year-old Whitmore Lake resident.

"We are very excited and very proud because of what we've done to change the interior. It will be an experience people will remember because of the ambience, and the food quality will far exceed whatever we've done in the past."

Renamed Shooter's Neighborhood Grill and Pub, the facility will cater to an adult crowd. It will feature two former staff from the upscale Chuck Muer restaurant chain, and will be unique in that it operates as a restaurant and night club with dancing during the evening hours. Dinner will be served until 10 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and Sunday until 7 p.m. The night club will be open until 1 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

Nellis has owned the popular country-side restaurant the past four years. The restaurant's country setting and close vicinity to a string of lakes was appealing to the entrepreneur. He also saw a potential money-maker, especially in the summertime when the parks open and lake population increases.

"I enjoy the country serenity here, and the growth in the area has been pretty dramatic over the past couple years," Nellis said.

It took seven months of renovations to turn the former Roadhouse restaurant into Terrace Place during 1992. Three years ago, the facility was expanded by 3,200 square feet with the addition of Shooter's Lounge.

Over $300,000 worth of recent renovations to the smoke-ridden restaurant include cathedral-high ceilings, neon decor and an elaborate light and sound system. Mirrors

Lets Go Bulldogs!

Softball Team Splits Twinbill

By Phil Lozen
Staff Writer

Chelsea varsity softball team split a recent double-header with Tecumseh, creating a logjam atop the SEC standings.

The Bulldogs, the Dreadnaughts of Dexter and the Tecumseh Indians are tied atop the league with 8-2 records as of press time with the SEC tournament this weekend at Saline.

Chelsea won the opener 4-1 with Lisa Beard picking up her ninth win of the year against one defeat. She threw seven innings, striking out nine and allowing just five hits.

Chelsea opened the scoring in the second. Kyle Kentala singled and a fielder's choice off the bat of Danielle Long drove her home.

Tecumseh tied the game in the third, and both teams then went scoreless until the Chelsea half of the sixth.

Tina Richardson walked and was later drove in by a Beard double. Beard then stole third and came home on a sacrifice fly from Sarah Petty. The Bulldogs added an insurance run in the seventh when Richardson singled home Long.

Things were a little bit different in the nightcap, which Chelsea lost 4-3 in nine innings.

Beard took the loss in 8-2/3 innings of work. She struck out eight and allowed just three hits and actually held a no-hitter through five innings.

Chelsea's downfall came with seven errors in the field.

"Lisa didn't walk anyone, didn't hit any batters and she didn't have any wild pitches," said coach Joe Beard. "The errors just killed us."

Chelsea jumped out to a 2-0 lead after the second inning and held it until the sixth when Tecumseh tied the game.

In the first, Richardson singled and Beard sacrificed her home and in the second, Kentala singled and Casey Ruhlrig doubled her home.

The score remained 2-2 until the top of the eighth when Chelsea picked up one more when Beard just beat the throw home after a fly ball from Petty.

Tecumseh tied it in the bottom of the eighth and then won in with two outs in the ninth.

"We are playing well, but the league is so wide open right now," said Beard. "This weekend will be real interesting."

The Bulldogs went 2-1 at last weekend's St. Joseph's Invite, but statistics were not available at press time. Chelsea is 16-6 overall.

The Kiwanis Club of Dexter will present former U of M assistant football coach, Jerry Hanlon, to speak to the Dexter community. The event will be Thursday, May 30, 1996, at Cornerstone elementary School beginning at 6:45 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7:00 p.m. Tickets are $15 with all proceeds going to Dexter student scholarships.

For additional information and ticket reservations call 426-4991 days and 426-2546 evenings.

Chelsea's Kacie Ruhlrig prepares to slide into home during an earlier game this season.

Beach Girls Set School Records

Beach Middle School girls track team set two school records at last Friday's Pinckney Invitational.

Mora Arnold ran 1:02.75 in the 400 meters to shatter a 20-year-old record set by Theresa Hoffman in 1976.

"Mora is one talented runner and her record setting performance was amazing," said coach Ann Schaffner.

Lindsey Brink followed with a record-breaking time of 33.07 in the 200 hurdles. The previous record was set last year by Katie Henry.

Chelsea girls earned 27 medals and third place in the 12-team meet.

First places went to Kim Touroo with a 28.31 in the 200 dash and Ashley Augustine with a 6:09 in the 1600 run.

All four relay teams placed. The 400 relay team of Amanda Taylor, Emily Royce, Tia Schiller, and Arnold won in 57.5.

Second place went to the 800 relay team of Caroline Wineland, Jesse Cole, Carrie Poxson, and Touroo with a time of 2:01.6.

The 1600 relay of Brink, Poxson, Sarah Skyles, and Augustine finished third, and the 3200 relay of Joscelyn Temple, Diane Richardson, Deb Postiff, and Deb Adams took fifth.

In the long jump, Touroo and Arnold had a season-best effort of 14'3 1/2 and 14'1 to place second and third, respectively.

Tabbitha Gale placed fourth in the shot put at 28'6 1/2.

Jesse Cole and Amanda Taylor took fourth and fifth in the 70 dash.

Sarah Skyles ran the 800 in 2:53 for fifth place and Royce took fifth in the 100 at 13.8.

Others who ran and just missed placing were Tia Schiller in the 55 hurdles, Jennifer Young in the 200 hurdles, and Caroline Wineland in the 100.

Last Wednesday the girls went to Saline and were beaten 64-46. Because of the weather conditions, neither hurdle race was run.

Chelsea placers included Gale, second in the shot put; Arnold second and Touroo third in the long jump; Wineland, Wells, Cole and Touroo first in the 800 relay; Skyles second in the 800; Augustine first in the 1600; Royce first in the 100 and Wineland third; Arnold first in the 400 and Poxson third; Cole second in the 70 and Amanda Taylor third; Touroo first in the 200; and Taylor, Royce, Schiller, and Arnold first in the 400 relay.

Japan-Bound Students Plan Fundraising, Book/Bake Sale

May 18 and 19 Beach Middle School's Shimizu exchange students are hosting a Book Fair/Bake Sale at Beach Middle School cafeteria. The times are Saturday, 10 to 5 and Sunday 12 to 4.

Over 500 titles have been selected. The books are being provided by Waldenbooks of Ann Arbor. A variety of subject matter will be presented to fill everyone's needs.

Prior to selling books that weekend the students will be busy baking to fill the tables on the side with baked items.

Proceeds will be used to sent Beach students to Japan this summer.

Soccer Week Ends On High Note

By Phil Lozen
Staff Writer

With districts just around the corner, Chelsea's soccer team was looking to earn some wins in the last few games of the season. They were successful in doing that last week, but lost to Pinckney and tied Jackson Northwest before beating Lincoln to end the week.

The Pirates handed Chelsea a 3-1 loss Tuesday in Pinckney. Helde BeGole scored the lone Chelsea goal in the game's 13th minute to give the Bulldogs a 1-0 lead.

The teams went into the locker room at halftime tied 1-1 but Pinckney got two more in the second half to cruise to victory.

"We didn't play our best at all," said Coach Chris Orlandi. "But it was a good sign that although we were not at our best, we were still in the game."

In conditions that resembled more a swamp than a soccer field Friday at Jackson Northwest, the teams played to a 2-2 tie.

Beth Nimke scored both Chelsea goals with assists going to Alicia Vogel and Jeanine Mouilleseaux.

"They scored a fluke goal to tie it," said Orlandi. "The ball kind of sat in the mud and our goalie (Leslee Parker) just overran it. In a normal field, she would have had it. It was frustrating to us because we thought we had them. Hopefully we will see them at districts."

Chelsea next beat Lincoln 8-0. Parker and Andrea Gordenier split time in goal as Chelsea won its fourth game and first Southeastern Conference game of the year.

BeGole scored the first three goals, Sarah Martell put in the fourth goal, Nimke scored next and Vogel finished the first half scoring. Martell got her second and Mouilleseaux finished the scoring.

Christy Dean, Gordenier, Angie andell and Vogel all picked up assists.

Chelsea faces Tecumseh Friday in the last home game for seniors. Chelsea will face Marshall in the first round of districts Monday afternoon at Marshall.

Piasecki Runs at Adrian

Nicki Piasecki of Chelsea, a sophomore middle distance runner, set the 1996 standard for the Adrian women's track team in the 800 meter run, with a time of 2:45.6.

Piasecki also contributed to the best time the team achieved in the 1600 meter relay, running a leg for a team that finished in 5:06.

Planning to purchase a home soon? Want to pump up your buying "muscle" and achieve greater strength when negotiating with sellers?
Sweeten your purchase offer with a generous helping of earnest money. Instead of trying to get by with a modest earnest money deposit of $100 or $500, try offering $2,500, $5,000 or even $10,000. It can trigger greater seller interest and result in a more favorable purchase. Here's why.
Most buyers, often out of fear of losing their deposit, offer as little earnest money as possible. To sellers, this approach raises a caution flag, and carries the message that the buyers may not be sincere.
Sellers may be especially wary of a purchase offer which requires them to compromise their price when the offer is accompanied by little earnest money. They may reason that the buyers are unsure about completing the purchase, while boldly asking for a compromise.
What are the risks assumed by purchasers who tender a substantial deposit? If the buyers are qualified to make a purchase, and motivated to complete the transaction, little risk is involved.
First, a check offered as earnest money is not even deposited until the purchase offer is accepted by the sellers. Second, when the earnest money check is deposited, it is held in an escrow or trust account until the transaction is closed. It is not given to the sellers, nor can it be disbursed to anyone else prior to closing the transaction.
Earnest money is a symbol of the buyers' commitment to complete the purchase. It is a signal to sellers that they are serious. Buyers who offer a substantial monetary consideration gain credibility and strength when bargaining with sellers.

Potocki, Kirsten Steiner, Allison Knight, Sarah Wilson, Alix Ryder, Meghann Ziegler, and Kelly Kentala. Not pictured are Shelly Williams, Debbie Pierce, Heather Kern, and Jeanette McDougall. ## Chelsea Girls Track Team Defeats Dreadnaughts

Chelsea High School girls track team defeated Dexter 82-46 last Tuesday to raise their record to 4-1, 3-1 in the Southeastern Conference. The Bulldogs turned in some of their best performances of the season as they won 11 of the 16 events and had over 30 season's bests.

One of the meet highlights for Chelsea was a sweep in the long jump, with all three jumpers over 15 feet. Erin Hack was the winner at 15'-6½", her best leap ever, with Katie Henry second at 15'-4", also a best, and Katie Spink third at 15'-1, a season's best.

The Bulldogs also swept the shot put with Heidi Wehrwein first at 33'-4½", Bekkah Burby second at 31'-7½" and Cindy Richard third at 31'-2, her best ever.

Wehrwein and Burby went 1-2 in the discus with throws of 110'-10 and 98'-1. Karla Detling rounded out the scoring in the field events with a tie for second in the high jump at 4'-6.

The Bulldogs had their best times of the season in three relays with the team of Jeannie Spink, Meghann Ziegler, Melissa Hand and Karen Pieper winning the 3200 in 10:25.9 and Henry, Katie Spink, Jennifer Space, and Angie Carpenter winning the 800 in 1:54.9.

Richard was first in the 100 hurdles in :17.2 with Emily Wineland second in :17.8.

Henry turned in her best time, winning the 300 hurdles in :48.9.

Jeannie Spink ran her best times of the year, winning the 800 and 1600 in 2:38.8 and 5:39.0. Megan Smith was second in the 800 in 2:41.2.

Space won the 400 in 1:04.1, her career-best, with Katie Spink second in 1:04.5. Pieper was second in the 3200 in 12:31.9, with Sarah Jedeled third in 12:32.2, both career-bests. Rachelle Skelly was second in the 100 in :13.9.

Coach Bill Bainton explained the time drops were due in part to the competition and part to the weather.

"Dexter runs well against us year-in and year-out, and last year we were a little flat and really struggled against them. We stressed that this year. We were also looking for some good regional entry times. Put that together with probably the best running weather we've had all season and you can get some really good performances like we did."

The girls beat Tecumseh Thursday, 67-29, in a meet shortened by storms. Even though four events were not completed, the Bulldogs won because they already had more than half of the 128 points possible in a dual meet. If a meet is canceled after a team reaches that score, the result is official.

Chelsea got off to a great start, taking 33 of a possible 36 points in the field events.

For the fourth time this season, the Bulldogs swept the throws. Wehrwein took first in the shot at 34'-5 with Burby second and Richard third.

Wehrwein won the discus at 103'-10, with Burby second and Kim Herrst third with her best ever throw of 91'-9.

Space was a double winner for Chelsea, winning the high jump at 4'-8 with Karla Detling tying for second. Space also won the 400 in 1:03.3 with Hand second in 1:04.4.

Freshman Henry had a big day as a double winner. Henry and Katie Spink each jumped 15'-2 in the long jump, with Henry being awarded first on the basis of the better second effort. Henry also ran an excellent race in winning the 300 hurdles in :48.4, a season best. Heidi Kemnitz added a third in :54.5.

The Bulldogs won the 3200 relay in 10:44.4, with a team of Ziegler, Megan Smith, Pieper, and Jeannie Spink. Richard won the 100 hurdles in :17.2, with Jill McKinnon third.

Rachelle Skelly was third in the 100. Ziegler won the 1600 in 5:49.4, with Sarah Jedeled second in 5:51.8, both season bests.

The win gives the Bulldogs a 4-1 record in the SEC, tied for second with Pinckney who was Tuesday's opponent.

Chelsea's girls finished third out of 10 teams in the Jackson Northwest Relays on Saturday. Chelsea scored 94 points. Haslett won with 110, with Corunna second with 100. Northwest was fourth with 68.

The Bulldogs got off to a good start, winning three of the first four events and setting a meet record.

The shot put team of Wehrwein, Burby, and Richard set a meet record for the second week in a row as they threw a combined distance of 94'-10 to win the event.

The shuttle hurdle relay team of McKinnon, Richard, Emily Wineland, and Kemnitz took first in 1:13.2. It was the Bulldogs third hurdle relay championship in three tries this season.

The 6400 relay of Pieper, Ziegler, Jedeled, and Jeannie Spink took first in 23:54.3.

Chelsea also had another first when Erin Hack, Katie Spink, and Henry combined to win the long jump in 40'-8½".

Wehrwein, Burby, and Kim Herrst threw 292'-3 to place second in the discus. Jeannie Spink, Pieper, Ziegler, and Smith were second in the 3200 relay in 10:47.4. The Bulldogs had a third in the Boonie 5-Girl relay with the team of Skelly, Henry, Space, Katie Spink, and Hand.

Space, Henry, Jeannie Spink, and Katie Spink were third in the 1600 relay in 4:30.6. The 800 relay of Katie Wells, Carpenter, Traci Kramer, and Richard placed sixth in 2:02.2.

Girls Golf Team Playing Well

Friday, May 3 the Chelsea Girl's golf team traveled to Concord to play at Whiffletree Hill Golf Course in the Jackson County Western Invitational Golf Tournament. There were 15 schools competing. The meet was won by Saline, with Chelsea finishing fourth.

Playing for Chelsea were Elizabeth Holdsworth shooting a 101, Jessica Inwood with a 103, Lesley Davis with a 105 and Corrine Foytik shooting 110. Erin Armstrong shot a 111.

On Monday the team played at the University of Michigan Golf Course against Ann Arbor Pioneer. Chelsea lost 191-224.

Holdsworth shot a 50 for her best score ever on this difficult course. Davis shot 55, followed by Inwood at 57 and Armstrong with a 62.

On Tuesday, Ypsilanti came to Chelsea to challenge the Bulldogs. Playing exceptionally well, Chelsea came away with a win 203-234.

Davis was medalist with her best score ever at 46. Jessica Inwood was close behind with 48. Armstrong shot a 52 and Holdsworth shot 56.

The individuals keep improving as the season is finishing up but they need a little more consistency in their play, said coach Cheryl Vogel.

Also playing varsity were Foytik with 60 and Tina Wiese with 73. Playing J.V. were Jennifer Saarinen, Amelia Botsford, Shannon Stanley, Rachel Mead and Megan Morgan.

The overall team record is now 6-7. The team has three more matches and regionals next week and the league meet the following Thursday.

Boys Track Runs By Rival Dexter

By Jon Royce
Special Writer

There is something about the cross-county rivalry between Chelsea and Dexter that gets these respective athletes' adrenaline pumping.

Tuesday, May 7 was no exception. The Bulldogs boys track team slipped its leash and nipped the Dreadnaughts, 74-63.

Chelsea had a deluge of personal bests (indicated by *). Eight athletes pushed themselves past previous limits to give the team the extra boost it needed to achieve its first SEC victory.

Two key runners were Jesse Wiese and Deacon Holton. Wiese got second in the 300 hurdles with a time of :45.9*, edging out a Dexter runner. Holton earned personal bests in both the 800 run, where he placed second, 2:11.6 and the mile run, where he got third, with a time of 4:54.

Wiese and Holton were named Athletes of the Day by Coach Pat Clarke and Coach Eric Swager.

WCC To Honor Elvira Vogel On Saturday

Commencement at Washtenaw Community College this month will honor a local citizen who has dedicated her life to providing academic opportunities for everyone in Washtenaw County.

Elvira Vogel of Manchester will receive the WCC 1996 Award of Merit during commencement exercises Saturday, May 18.

The award, the highest honor bestowed by the college for exemplary service, recognizes a local citizen who has made outstanding contributions to the development and advancement of WCC as a comprehensive institution. It also underscores Vogel's dedication and devotion to the idea of education for all people, an apt description of her life's work.

Elvira Vogel's association with WCC began over 30 years ago when she joined other community leaders to charter the college. Over the years she has served on a number of WCC committees including mortgage committees, the 1975 Residential Search Committee, and the WCC Manchester Advisory Committee.

She has also been a champion of special education and continues to be an advocate for students with special needs. For 31 years she served as a member of the Washtenaw Intermediate School District Board of Education before retiring in 1989. She began her tenure on the board in 1958 when she completed the term of former board member Horace Whitney. She went on to be re-elected to five, six-year terms, serving in every capacity from trustee to president.

While a member of the WISD board, Vogel also served on the board of Directors of the Michigan Association of School Boards. Among her many MASH assignments, she served two years as chair of its Education and Curriculum Committee and chair of its Inservice, Conference and Seminar Planning Committee. She also was a member of the School Improvement Council and the Chapter I Committee. Her lifelong dedication to education was recognized in 1992 when the Washtenaw Intermediate School District Board named the new WISD Conference Center in her honor.

When she was not attending the board meetings, Elvira Vogel worked with many local services agencies, including the American Red Cross and the Washtenaw United Way.

The Manchester High School Building Committee, the Manchester United Way Drive and various committees of the Manchester Fair Board have also benefited from her tireless energy and support. Vogel set a precedent when she became the first woman to serve on the governing board of her local church, United Church of Christ conference committee.

Her commitment to her church was recognized in 1990 when she received the Michigan Women's Fellowship Woman of the Year Award sponsored by her church organization.

Over the years, Elvira Vogel's enthusiasm for WCC has taken her into the classroom where she and her husband, Lou Vogel, continue their studies and reinforce their belief in lifelong education. Vogel recently shared her experiences with WCC staff when she addressed them as keynote speaker of the 1996 Employee Recognition Luncheon.

The activities were part of their regular curriculum and were also enriched by a grant from the Washtenaw Intermediate School District. Professional development money was given to art teacher Roberta Price and third grade staff to encourage team-teaching and planning for integrated learning.

Temporary Alcohol Ban Set At Metroparks

There will be an alcohol ban enforced at some of the Metroparks until the middle of June. Time and dates will be posted at each park. For further information contact your local Metropark office.

"The alcohol ban is in effect to curtail some of the problems that we have experienced with groups gathering in the parks during spring for end-of-school parties," says William P. Sherman, HCMA director.

At other times of the year, beer and wine are permitted in the Metroparks except in designated areas such as beaches, pool areas and interpretive facilities.

Another Satisfied Customer.

At St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, we work hard to earn the trust and satisfaction of even the tiniest of our patients (not to mention their moms and dads). Maybe that's why our doctors have delivered so many babies at St. Joe's—more than any other place in Washtenaw County. And why, having practiced in the community for years, many of our doctors get to see them come back to visit their newborn brother or sister.

If you're pregnant or planning a new addition, see why St. Joe's in Ann Arbor sends home so many satisfied families. And now, we have a few more reasons to satisfy you: St. Joe's now accepts SelectCare HMO and PPO (plus Care Choices HMO and lots of other insurances). We also now have a certified nurse midwife on staff.

HOW TO TALK TO YOUR KIDS ABOUT DRUGS.

The best thing about this subject is that you don't have to do it well. You simply have to try.

If you try, your kids will get the message.

That you care about them.

That you understand something about the conflicts they face.

That you're there when they need you.

The alternative is to ignore the subject. Which means your kids are going to be listening to others who have strong opinions about the subject. Including those who use drugs. And those who sell them.

ACCEPT REBELLION.

At the heart of it, drugs, alcohol, wild hairstyles, trendy clothes, ear-splitting music, outrageous language are different ways of expressing teen-age rebellion.

That's not all bad. Part of growing up is to create a separate identity, apart from parents – a process which ultimately leads to feelings of self worth. A step along that path is rebellion of one kind or another – which is to say rejecting parental values, and staking out new ones.

You did it. They're doing it. And that's the way it is.

The problem comes when kids choose a path of rebellion that hurts them, destroys their self worth, and can ultimately kill them.

That's the reality of drugs.

DON'T GET DISCOURAGED.

When you talk to your kids about drugs, it may seem as though nothing is getting through.

Don't you believe it.

The very fact you say it gives special weight to whatever you say.

But whether or not your kids let on they've heard you, whether or not they play back your words weeks or months later, keep trying.

START ANYWHERE.

"Have you heard about any kids using drugs?"

"What kind of drugs?"

"How do you feel about that?"

It's never too early to start.

"Why do you think kids get involved with drugs?"

"How do other kids deal with peer pressure to use drugs? Which approaches make sense to you?"

"Have you talked about any of this in school?"

However you get into the subject, it's important to state exactly how strongly you feel about it.

Not in threatening tones. But in matter-of-fact, unmistakably clear language:

"Drugs are a way of hurting yourself."

"Drugs take all the promise of being young and destroy it."

"I love you too much to see you throw your life down the drain."

SOME DO'S AND DON'TS.

The do's are as simple as speaking from the heart.

The biggest don't is don't do all the talking. If you listen to your kids – really listen and read between the lines – you'll learn a lot about what they think. About drugs. About themselves. About the world. And about you. They'll also feel heard and that, too, is a step along the path towards self esteem.

There are other do's and don'ts: Don't threaten. Don't badger them. Don't put your kid on the spot by asking directly if he or she has ever tried drugs. They'll probably lie which undermines your whole conversation.

If you suspect your child is on drugs – there are all sorts of symptoms – that's a different matter. Then you've got to confront the subject directly.

In the meantime, just talk to them.

It's okay if you don't know much about drugs.

Your kids do.

But they need to know how you feel about the subject.

And whether you care.

For more information on how to talk with your kids about drugs, ask for a free copy of "A Parent's Guide to Prevention." Call 1-800-624-0100.

The eighth-graders spent the morning with Ann Arbor Architects Collaborative in downtown Ann Arbor. They were given some background information about choosing a career in architecture and were able to view some of the employees as they worked on different stages of their projects. The group finished off the morning with a tour of the firm's new office under construction.

Better Business Association Warns About 'Bait'

Summertime is the perfect season to install your own pool. You can enjoy a cool swim or just sit next to it and get some sun. But pools are expensive, right? Well, perhaps not. Suppose you see an ad like this:

Swimming Pool Clearance:

The Midwest's largest pool manufacturer must clear out $1 million overstock of 1995-model above-ground pools. 31'x14' red-wood deck, filter, ladder, chemicals, cleaning kit. Only $999. Ca. (xxx) xxx-xxxx.

Many folks in the Chelsea area see an ad like this and get excited that they can finally afford the pool of their dreams. But we caution that this deal might not be as good as it looks. It may be a classic "bait and switch."

You call the number and make an appointment for a salesman to visit your home. When he arrives, he shows you a couple of simple photos of a poor-quality pool and explains that the price in the ad covers just materials; labor to install the advertised pool will be $1,000 more. He also notes that these are not the highest quality pools; the plastic liners are thin and the materials are not that durable. Naturally you are disappointed, but he has a better idea. Confidentially, in the next few weeks his company is introducing a NEW model pool that is the highest quality you've ever seen. (He may even bring in a beautiful model pool from his car.) He then says that, for promotional reasons, his company needs to locate a few homes in our area to install the pool and write letters of recommendation. They can also bring others around to see your pool to help them sell. If you are willing to help, they'll give you a big discount—50% (or even more) off! That may bring your final price down to "only" 4 or 5 thousand dollars!

Naturally this is a far cry from the $999 pool you expected.

Problem is, they make this offer to everyone. The $999 pool is "bait"; all they want to sell is the expensive model. You may also discover by shopping around that the "big discount" is nonsense. Other local pool companies may be able to sell you a pool of equal or better quality for much less—and they'll be around long after these out-of-town promoters have disappeared.

Frankly, the most important factor when buying any swimming pool is the reputation of the seller. You can check our BBB report on swimming pool companies 24 hours a day by calling us at (810) 644-9100. If you experience this kind of misleading selling tactic, we want to know about it. ## Everybody's Science

By Sean Adams

A chemical scent from German cockroaches may be turned into a lure for baited traps, making the scent a new candidate for controlling this loathsome house pest.

Richard Brenner, a U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist, says the roaches produce the chemical, called an aggregation pheromone, in their rectal glands. They release it in their feces.

Brenner, an expert on roaches, is research leader of a USDA-Agricultural Research Service laboratory in Gainesville, Fla. Lab researchers and colleagues at the University of Florida found that adding the pheromone to the area around the bait increased by more than 50 percent the number of roaches entering a trap.

An extract of the pheromone "has potential for boosting the effectiveness of roach traps," says Richard S. Patterson, an ARS entomologist, now retired, who worked on the study—the first to test this pheromone as a cockroach lure.

Brenner says the research could lead to a company developing the pheromone into a commercial product. (Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture).

Farm Bureau Facts

Consumers need not worry about food price inflation resulting from the recent surge in corn prices. The highest corn prices in recent memory have triggered consumer concern over the impact the prices will have at the grocery store. However, the farm value of a commodity going into a finished product at the retail level is very small, especially in the grain area.

Americans today are still eating lots of potatoes, but the way they are eating the potatoes has changed. They are turning away from fresh potatoes that are boiled, baked and mashed and consuming more potato chips and French fries. In 1973, Americans were eating about 52 pounds of fresh potatoes per person per year. That amount has now dropped to 47 pounds.

Dairy farmers may soon be turning to radio technology to help keep tabs on their cows. In a recent study, a computer was able to identify cows automatically as they left the milking parlor more than 99 percent of the time by reading a radio signal from a tiny transponder in ear tags worn by the cows. The electronic tags could be linked to electronic feeders to more closely control nutrition and to milk meters to closely monitor production. Scientists think that pigs grunt and oink in order to get the attention of their large litter of baby pigs. Pigs can give birth to as many as ten babies at a time. Other studies show that male pigs have a rhythmic snort designed to attract female pigs.

Tomatoes are a leading source of vitamin C in our diet, simply because we eat so many. A 4-ounce tomato has 39 percent of the recommended daily amount of vitamin C, only 26 calories and less than a gram of fat.

A diet rich in fish oil and low in Vitamin E stops the parasite that causes malaria, according to researchers at the Department of Agriculture. That's encouraging news because the malaria parasite is becoming more resistant to antibiotics and is a severe public health problem in some tropical climates.

Watermelon are 92 percent water and 8 percent sugar, which means they don't have a lot of nutrients. Instead of throwing out the seeds, you can roast salt and eat them. The seeds, however, are high in calories and fat.

Sterilizing food by running an electric current through it could revolutionize the food processing industry. The process is called ohmic heating, and it increases a food's temperature much faster than conventional processing, resulting in a fresher-tasting product.

Cold damages tomatoes, so don't store them in your refrigerator. To speed the ripening process of under-ripe tomatoes, put them in a paper bag with an apple or banana. The ethylene gas released by the apple or banana will hasten the process.

American beekeepers operate more than three million honey bee colonies. Ninety percent of all beekeepers are hobbyists with fewer than 25 colonies. Honey bees are vital to U.S. agriculture, contributing an estimated $10 billion each year in pollination services, much of it free in return for honey.

Continental To Provide Phone Service

Continental Cablevision, which owns cable systems in the Chelsea-Dexter area, has begun the licensing process which will bring true choice to local telephone service for both residential and business customers. Continental is the first cable operator in Michigan to take this step toward utilizing the expanded telecommunications capabilities of today's cable technology.

Continental filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) to provide local exchange services in 44 communities in southeast and central Michigan, including Scio Township, with potential service to more than 485,000 homes.

As Continental rebuilds its cable system, service will be provided using the same high-capacity hybrid fiber optics/coaxial cable networks that provide television services to Continental customers.

"For virtually the first time since the invention of the telephone, individuals and businesses will have a choice in who provides them with local telephone service," said Bill Black, Continental Cablevision's director of corporate affairs.

"Competition in long distance service has resulted in substantially improved services and lowered costs. We have no doubt competition in local phone service will provide the same benefits."

The application to the MPSC requests approval for service to communities in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Livingston, Jackson, Ingham and Eaton counties. Ultimately Continental hopes to offer local telephone service in all communities it serves with cable television.

Republican Kirk Tabbey Announces Bid For County Prosecutor Post

Republican Kirk Tabbey has announced his candidacy for the office of Washtenaw County Prosecutor. A Washtenaw County resident for 12 years, Tabbey and his wife, Ilona, currently live in York Township.

Tabbey began his prosecutorial career in 1983, under retired Washtenaw County Prosecutor William F. Delhey, after spending two years in private practice. Since 1993, Tabbey has been an Assistant Prosecutor in Jackson County, and is currently that office's chief trial attorney, and heads the white collar crime unit.

Tabbey recently authored Computer and Telecommunication Fraud bills for the Michigan House of Representatives. Since 1990, Tabbey has been a legal consultant for the Michigan Computer Crime Task Force and has been an instructor for the United States Department of Justice and United States Department of Treasury.

Tabbey says his foremost concern is the condition of the justice system in Washtenaw County. Tabbey wants to have a prosecutor's office which vigorously prosecutes all criminal offenses and all criminal offenders, but at the same time treats all participants in the system fairly. Tabbey says he strongly believes that the prosecutor's office must protect the rights of victims and witnesses who are thrust into the system unwillingly, and who are too often overwhelmed by the process.

Full cooperation between the prosecutor's office and law enforcement agencies is something which Tabbey says must occur in order for the public to be best served and protected from crime. This cooperation is especially critical to Washtenaw County as the problem of gang violence continues to grow. Tabbey says he is greatly concerned about the increasing criminal involvement of very young children, and believes that there must be early intervention by law enforcement and the juvenile court system, if the problem is going to be curbed.

Tabbey says his technological expertise is fundamental to developing innovative methods of prosecuting gang related crimes, as it becomes ever more frequent for law enforcement to discover criminal enterprises set up with advanced communication and computer systems. This problem is not limited to gangs and traditional white collar criminals, but extends to problems like transmission of child pornography over the Internet.

Technological advances also effect the investigation of crime, and Tabbey would take advantage of available state grants to obtain a reduced price on videotaping equipment which could be utilized by all local law enforcement agencies when interviewing young sexual assault victims.

Lecture On Raising Children Slated

How do you live with a child who can feel the "seams" in tube socks and refuses to wear them or screams for 45 minutes because you cut his toast in triangles when he was expecting rectangles?

How do you discipline a child who refuses to take "no" for an answer and seems to know the perfect trigger to "push your button?"

What do you do when his teacher tells you he's having difficulty listening in class because he's watching the trucks outside of the window?

Join Mary Sheedy Kurcinka, family educator and author of the best selling book Raising Your Spirited Child on Sunday, May 19 at 1:30 p.m. for the First Annual Ellwood Community Lecture and discover what makes kids spirited.

The free lecture sponsored by the University Center for the Child and the Family at the University of Michigan will focus on the spirited child — often called "difficult" or "strong-willed." Learn discipline techniques that work and most importantly, share a sense of appreciation for the joy and excitement of life with the spirited child.

Parenting the spirited child can easily overwhelm parents, leaving them feeling frustrated and inadequate. Spirited kids are by temperament more intense, sensitive, perceptive, persistent and uncomfortable with change than the average child. Mary Sheedy Kurcinka

Blocking System Thwarts Customer Caller ID Option

Telecommunications technology has made it possible for anyone using a telephone equipped with Caller Identification (Caller ID) to see the telephone numbers and subscriber names of incoming calls made from anywhere in the country including private and unlisted numbers.

Here's how to protect yourself:

•Dial *67 before dialing any telephone number to block the called party from seeing your telephone number. If you have a rotary telephone, dial 1167. Blocking does not interfere with a caller's ability to connect to a dialed number.

Are all calls protected by blocking?

You may be unable to block calls, using *67 or 1167, made to:

—800 or 888 Toll Free Numbers

—Emergency Lines.

Who should you contact about Caller ID questions or problems?

Consumers should contact their local telephone company.

For information on other telephone issues contact the Michigan Public Service Commission at 1-800-292-9555.

However, telephone companies have been mandated, by federal actions, to protect the privacy of the called and calling party. Telephone companies are required to make available a free, simple and consistent per call blocking system to customers. Blocking prevents a caller's telephone number from appearing on the called party's Caller ID device.

There are a few steps you can take if you don't want your telephone number made available on calls you initiate.

Head Pain Clinic Gets Reaccredited

The Michigan Head Pain and Neurological Institute here has been re-accredited for a three-year period by CARF... The Rehabilitation Accreditation Commission of Tucson, Ariz. MHNI has been accredited continuously since 1989 by the Commission, a non-profit rehabilitation accreditation body that establishes nationally recognized standards for quality performance of medical rehabilitation programs.

Founded by Dr. Joel Saper in 1978, MHNI is one of the premier programs that deal with severe head and neck pain. Since 1989, MHNI and its affiliated inpatient unit at Chelsea Community Hospital have undergone on-site surveys by CARF, which issues accreditation to medical rehabilitation programs whose quality of service meets or exceeds the standards it has established. Re-accreditation to MHNI was granted after an on-site survey which included discussions with patients, referral sources and medical and administrative staff.

"MHNI has passed a rigorous examination of its total operation, including management and direct services. The survey was conducted by knowledgeable and experienced personnel, applying national standards which were created by authorities in the field of pain management," said Donald Galvin, Ph. D., president and chief executive of CARF.

Following are some comments made about the Institute:

"MHNI's unique, comprehensive services to individuals with head pain have earned the Institute a national reputation for program excellence. The Institute is managed exceptionally well to fulfill its stated mission."

"MHNI is congratulated for its sensitivity to cost containment and affordability."

"MHNI's strengths include enthusiastic, well qualified personnel, excellent leadership and defined programs designed to meet the needs of its patients."

MHNI, the nation's first comprehensive head pain treatment and research center, was founded in 1978 to provide intensive, balanced treatment of headache and related painful disorders. Dr. Saper, a prominent neurologist and pioneer in the treatment of chronic head pain, is also a noted author and educator and is Chair of the Michigan Council on Pain, an advisory group to the Michigan House of Representatives' Health Policy Committee.

TEACHER FEATURE

Helping young children develop is South School first grade teacher Karen Bertrand's goal.

Bertrand Developing Her Career at South

By Scott Bishop
Staff Writer

Finishing her second year at South School in Chelsea, first grade teacher Karen Bertrand looks into her educational future and sees good things.

"I look forward to watching the children grow, and to seeing them in the following years, watching how they've grown and developed.

"I look forward to trying new things. I have lots of ideas that I want to try, lots of teaching styles that I want to try, and I hope that I can grow and develop with those, and be given a chance to use them.

"And to always strive to become the best teacher that I can, to always make myself become better, to always be working on one way that I can become better," Bertrand said.

She's had the chance to watch her current students develop for two years. Bertrand taught the same children as kindergartners last year and followed them to the first grade as part of a pilot program.

While it's known her students will have a new teacher for second grade next year, it's still uncertain whether Bertrand will teach kindergarten or first grade.

The Chelsea teacher couldn't be happier with the age level of the children she works with.

"I went to school especially for early childhood, and I love it. I would not want to be anywhere else.

"I really enjoy the young children because they have so much enthusiasm, and every day they come in with smiles and they still like the teacher, they still like school.

"I think if I can get them early and get them young and really instill a lot of values for learning and excitement for school, then it will help them, as they get older, to keep that excitement," Bertrand explained.

Her classroom is designed for students to best develop independently.

"My teaching style is what you would call unstructured. The children have a lot of freedom in my room, freedom to move around, freedom to work with classmates and in cooperative learning groups.

"I use the center program, where the children work on centers during the day, (where) they manage themselves. I explain the centers to them at the beginning of the week, and then during the week at center time they're free to go from center to center, where they can work at their own level, their own pace and their own speed. When they finish one, they go on to the next one.

"It's pretty loose, unstructured. I try and make sure that the children feel wanted and that they can come to me for anything they need," Bertrand illustrated.

"My goal for them is to have them progress to the highest ability that they are able to progress at, developmentally, for their age level.

"I know that they're not all going to be at the same skill level, but as far as their development level, I hope that I can bring them to their maximum. And just enjoy school, to love school and be ready to go on to the next level," Bertrand continued.

The developmental focus is a growing trend in early education, according to Bertrand, and one she supports.

"I think people are really striving to make it more developmental, not expecting the children to all be doing the same project at the same time, where they're all at the same skill level.

"I hope to see it become even more developmental than it is right now, to see maybe some multi-age classrooms at the lower grade levels, where children at the kindergarten age level and second grade age level are also mixed in with first graders.

"I just would like to see more opportunities for different kinds of programs to better meet the children's needs," Bertrand concluded.

The South School teacher lives in Whitmore Lake and recently earned a master's degree from Madonna College. She graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1991.

decorate the interior, which includes two rooms that can be made into one larger facility. There is also an outdoor dining area.

A sound-proof door divides the indoor dining area from one of two dance floors. A disc jockey will take the place of live bands. Guests may choose from among 800 musical selections with the music focused on the dance floor but filtered slightly throughout the dining area.

Nellis will bring back half of the 20 or so employees who lost their jobs after the fire last year. A total of 30 workers will staff the new restaurant. Jack Ringwood and Bill Sleight will both bring their more than 12 years experience with the Muer restaurant chain. Ringwood will manage the business with Nellis. Sleight is head chef.

According to Sleight, the menu has been improved substantially. "We've taken it up four or five notches in quality," he said.

"Before it was a bar that served food. Now we want to be a complete entertainment spot," explained Ringwood. "We want to increase the value to our guest. We're certainly not a burger and sandwich joint. Hopefully, the menu will appeal to all sorts."

Menu highlights include Louisiana barbecue shrimp, sherry broiled scallops, veal, New York strip steak and daily specials. There are also appetizers, soups, salads, sandwiches and desserts to choose from.

Nellis' business experience is diverse. He operated another restaurant, The Bomber, in Ypsilanti until selling it last year. He also recently sold Country Farms Market, a Spartan food store in Belleville, to free up his time to manage Shooter's Grill. Nellis still maintains an interest in Hawaiian Tropics as a Michigan franchise owner, and Mingo Bay, a concentrated fruit juice and beverage company.
