Voters elect officials, decide issues

■ Lyndon police millage fails; Minzey wins sheriff race.

By Lisa Allmendinger
Staff Writer

On Tuesday, local voters faced rainy, cold and windy weather as they headed to the polls to decide which candidates and ballot proposals they'd approve.

At press time, several races were too close to call, and all totals are unofficial.

Statewide, there was a hotly contested race between Mike Rogers (R) and Dianne Byrum (D) in the 8th Congressional District. At press time, all votes had not been counted. In Washtenaw County, Rogers held the lead, 18,544 to 16,789, while statewide the tally was 143,841 for Rogers and 143,517 for Byrum.

State Rep. John Hansen (D) was re-elected to his seat in the 52nd district, easily defeating Scott Wojack (R) by a count of 30,068 to 16,028.

"I'm thankful that the campaign wasn't as partisan as the last election," Hansen said.

"I've worked really hard to represent all people and this time around I'd like to move more quickly to serve all the people without having to get past partisan barriers."

Statewide ballot proposals, Proposition 00-1 for school vouchers and 00-2 for local rule, both were voted down by Michigan voters. Final numbers were not available, however.

The school voucher proposal was not supported by local school officials and the local rule proposal faced the same sort of opposition from local township officials.

Countywide, the race between incumbent Sheriff Ronald Schebil (R) and challenger Dan Minzey (D) came down to the wire. Minzey received 68,666, Schebil received 60,574 and a third candidate, Gaia Kile (Green Party), got 6,291 votes.

Joseph Yekulis Jr. (R) retained his District 1 Washtenaw County Commissioner seat, soundly defeating Wendy Burkhardt (D) by a vote of 7,230 to 4,305.

"I am grateful to my friends in western Washtenaw County who have continued to support me during the last four elections and I'm looking forward to another two years," Yekulis said.

Police investigate murder in Lyndon

■ Howell man charged in apparent strangulation.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies are investigating the murder of an expectant mother in Lyndon Township Sunday.

Officers responded to a 911 call at 9935 Beeman Road, where they found emergency medical personnel giving CPR to Anna Sell.

Police said the cause of death is still under investigation, but the preliminary indication is that Sell was strangled. Police say she was 25 weeks pregnant.

Autopsy results were expected to be released soon, but were not ready as of press time.

Police said a 28-year-old female friend came to Sell's home and witnessed the assault. She drove to a pay phone to call police.

The exact relationship between the victim, suspect and witness is unclear, police said.

Sell, 22, was still alive when taken to Chelsea Community Hospital, police said, but both she and the unborn child were pronounced dead at 2:20 p.m.

Robert Temple, 25, of Howell, was arrested at the scene, and subsequently taken to Washtenaw County jail pending arraignment.

Temple was remanded without bail on an open charge of murder, said Lt. Brian Miller of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

There was a restraining order out on Temple, Miller said, but whether he is the father of the child is still unclear. It is also unclear whether Sell and Temple were living together in the house.

Sell's parents own the home in the northwest portion of the township.

"This is the first murder in Lyndon Township in a while," Miller said. "It appears to be a case of domestic violence, and that's everywhere."

A preliminary court hearing has been set for Nov. 14, Miller said.

Funeral services for Sell will be held 11 a.m. today at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Chelsea.

Sell is survived by her parents, Charles F. and Wilma Sell. Her brother, Charles E. Sell preceded her in death.

The family asks that memorial contributions be made to the Ann Arbor Domestic Violence SAFE House.

Sylvan residents sign petition against Ameritech

■ More than 30 residents sign petition about aerial cable.

By Lisa Allmendinger
Staff Writer

More than 30 residents on Sylvan Road upset about aboveground telephone lines going in their neighborhood signed a petition and sent it to Ameritech last week.

Residents say they understand the need for more telephone lines, but they say the new lines are so low that when they look out their bedroom windows they can see them. They are complaining that the lines hang lower on the poles than electrical wires in their neighborhood.

"I sit on my deck and it runs overhead. It's an eyesore," resident Ron Fulton said.

The residents' main concern is that downed trees in the heavily wooded area could cause them to lose phone service in the winter.

Burying the lines underground, Fulton said, would require the company to bore under two driveways. He said there is an old, cable right of way that could be used.

"We've been trying to get Ameritech to stop work until we can get an answer on why the aerial lines were chosen," Fulton said.

Resident Ray Zazarowski said he thinks Ameritech is hanging the lines as a cheap and easy way around the problem. But he and his neighbors want the new lines to go underground.

"We live in a nice, rural area. We don't want these ugly, bulging lines hanging everywhere," he said. "You should see this."

Phone lines along Sylvan Road are being strung from utility pole to utility pole like Christmas lights. In some places they sag badly, while in others they are so close to homes that people can almost touch them.

The petition says residents are dissatisfied and disappointed in Ameritech's decision to change from buried service to aerial cable.

Residents say the Sylvan Road area has been served by underground service for decades.

"It is a highly wooded, rural area," the petition says. "The intrusion of aerial cable detracts from the natural beauty of the landscape, not to mention the future service disruptions that will be caused by downed trees."

Amy Wood, a spokeswoman with Ameritech, said Monday that the aboveground lines are temporary.

"We are aware of the petition and the

DEQ approves leaf burning

■ First of two weekends goes relatively smoothly.

By Lisa Allmendinger
Staff Writer

Following approval from the state Department of Environmental Quality, residents in the Stofer Court area began burning the piles of leaves that had accumulated in their neighborhood last weekend.

Under the close supervision of Chelsea Fire Chief Dan Ellenwood, about 30 permits were handed out for the first four-day period allowed for burning.

Ellenwood said he received no complaints.

The compromise for limited leaf burning included two four-day burn periods, Nov. 3 through 6 and Nov. 10 through 13.

In the event of rain or bad weather this weekend, an additional weekend will be added.

Resident Patty Cooper, an outspoken critic of leaf burning, said Friday that the smoke was so bad that she had to leave her home. She said the smoke was billowing because residents were burning wet leaves. Cooper, however, said she did not call the fire chief to complain.

Township Supervisor Robert Tetens mailed a letter to residents in the neighborhood Oct. 27 explaining that the township was not imposing the proposal on the neighborhood.

"The township burn ordinance and state air quality regulations still govern open burning," he said in the letter. "Our intent in participating at the meetings was to assist the neighborhood in resolving a local problem."

The letter outlined 10 conditions for the limited burning of leaves.

- The limited burn option is being implemented with the understanding that violations of either the township or state law will not be tolerated.
- Weather permitting, burning of leaves will be allowed from sunrise to sunset on two weekends, Nov. 3 through 6 and Nov. 10 through 13.
- If necessary, due to weather limitations, another weekend will be scheduled at the discretion of the Chelsea fire chief.
- Burning of branches and twigs is still allowed year-round in accordance with the township ordinance and the state law.
- Permits are required for all open fires. Permits are not required for burn barrels, although the same standard of "interference with the comfortable enjoyment of life and property still apply."
- The fire chief will determine that appropriate weather conditions exist before issuing a burn permit. Permits will not be issued when conditions are unfavorable, such as windy or wet.
- The fire chief will also limit the number of permits issued each day to a reasonable number to avoid an excessive number of fires at the same time.
- Residents are also encouraged to dispose of leaves using non-burning opportunities such as composting or removal.
- If residents burn leaves during the weekends identified, they are encouraged to use methods that produce less smoke such as hotter, drier fires. DEQ suggestions include burning on a grate supported by cinderblocks or frequent stirring or raking of a smaller burn pile on the ground. The intent is to provide sufficient air under the leaves to feed the fire.
- Fires must be supervised at all times. All fires must be completely extinguished by sunset. Smoldering leaves after sunset is a violation of both the township ordinance and state law.

In addition, Ellenwood has suggested residents haul the leaves as far from Forest Court as possible. He said that a high-pressure day is the best for burning leaves.

Except in this specific area, where complaints were filed with the state Department of Environmental Quality, township residents are able to burn leaves.

Council OKs bond ordinance

■ Trustee Richard Rigg opposes move.

By Lisa Allmendinger
Staff Writer

Chelsea Village Council adopted an ordinance Nov. 1 that finalizes a new $6.185 million water system.

Plans call for a new well and water treatment plant with a state-of-the-art water softening system. Village water customers will no longer need individual water softeners in their homes.

The village surveyed approximately 1,800 village water consumers and 75 percent of those responding were in favor of spending an additional $2 a month for the softening system.

Consumers will pay the cost of the new system through water rates.

Don Keime, bond counsel for the village, explained that the new ordinance says the village promises to set rates to pay for the 1995 bonds in addition to the new bonds.

The ordinance combines with the 1995 ordinance and addresses how the village will collect the fees for the new system.

The bonds will be sold to the Michigan Municipality Bond Authority. The interest rates will not be determined until the day of bond pricing.

Keime said the interest rates likely will be between 5½ and 6 percent. There is a cap of 8 percent.

The village president and village manager will be able to authorize the rates once the financial adviser gives them the rate numbers.

"The costs to the bond authority are figured into the $6 million to cover the project costs and costs of the bonds," Keime said.

The council was turned down for state drinking water funds. But if the village becomes eligible next year, the council can refinance the bonds at the lower rate, Keime said. It can also pay off the bonds before they mature.

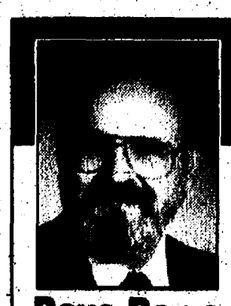

The council voted 4-3 to move forward with the new system at a meeting in October following a heated discussion.

This time around there was one lone "no" vote and that came from Trustee Richard Rigg.

Rigg said he'd like to see a way whereby long-time users of the system were charged less than the new customers.

Construction bids for the new well and treatment facility expire Dec. 1. Keime said he thought the closing on the bonds could occur before the end of the month.

The village hopes to have the new system up and running by next winter.

Area senior centers will open their doors and hand out dinner plates as many await the Thanksgiving holiday.

Chelsea seniors can get a head start on Thanksgiving festivities. Seniors can enjoy a turkey dinner at 6 p.m. Friday at the Washington Street Education Center.

Cole Funeral Chapel will sponsor the dinner. The cost is $7, while seniors with a November birthday pay $6.

Those with November birthdays also will get a carnation, donated by Chelsea Greenhouse.

Senior volunteer Earlyn Figg said that there is always entertainment at the dinners.

Figg said that Betsy Beckerman will sing. She also will play the guitar and a hammered dulcimer at Friday's dinner.

Dexter seniors can enjoy an extended Thanksgiving dinner when they go to the Seniors Get Stuffed dinner at 1 p.m. the day after Thanksgiving at the Dexter Senior Center.

Jan Davis, senior center program director, said that Busch's Valu Land will donate the turkey and all its fixings.

The fixings will be pre-made when it arrives from Busch's, Davis said.

Paul Cousins of Cousins Heritage Inn will prepare the turkeys.

"This is a way that Busch's would like to thank the community for all its support," Davis said.

"Last year, which was the first year, we had over 110 people come by, with 30 or more shut-ins," she said.

Davis said a number of volunteers helped deliver the meals to those who are homebound.

Students participate in program

The Purple Rose Theatre Co.'s Arts Outreach Program Kid Purple recently completed a workshop featuring a focus group of Chelsea area middle school students and their parents.

Participants assisted in creating a new script for the touring production titled "Talk to Me." They attended three consecutive evening sessions, Oct 10, 17 and 24 to watch an excerpt from material written so far for the production and engaged in feedback and discussion with Purple Rose artists regarding their thoughts on the presentation.

"Art and music are the drugs of choice for millions of kids," says teacher Fred Babb.

"If we expect them to just say no to a chemical high, we must recognize the healing alternative: their own creativity. Demand and support the real anti-drug program-arts in education.

Babb's statement serves as the mission for Kid Purple, as well as for the "Talk to Me" program. The overall goal of the script and production is to open the lines of communication, specifically between middle school students and their parents.

The project was launched two years ago by an essay contest that was open to all Michigan middle school students. Students had to answer in essay form one of three questions based on their beliefs, fears and experiences. Over 1,700 essay entries to the contest were received and then narrowed down to 18 to represent the middle school group.

The 18 students who were chosen were interviewed on videotape by Purple Rose Theatre staff and were asked more extensive questions about their essay topics. The students' interviews and essays, as well as the actors' personal experiences, are being used as the inspiration for the script.

The Purple Rose Theatre Company's Arts Outreach Program held a workshop in August to create a script for the program, a touring show for middle school students and their parents.

Eighteen professional actors, including Purple Rose mainstage regulars Sandra Birch, Michelle Mountain and Suzi Regan, participated in a week-long workshop at the Purple Rose Theatre Company's rehearsal space.

The actors, led by Purple Rose Artistic Director Guy Sanville, collaborated and shared ideas to create the innovative original "Talk to Me" script.

For more information on the project or on Kid Purple, the Arts Outreach program at the Purple Rose, contact Beth Watson, Arts Outreach coordinator for the Purple Rose Theatre Co. at 475-5817.

PETITION

cables in the air are for now a short-term solution."

Residents say Ameritech has known for at least five years of a "failing" and "inadequate" underground cable, but has done little about it.

"Ameritech has had ample time to replace the cable in a manner satisfactory to area residents and chooses now to rush in, with no notification to residents, with the aerial cable," the petition says.

"We wish to remain an area with underground service. Please do not force your aerial service upon an area that does not want it."

Wood said Ameritech is a growing company and is trying to bring service to the area as quick as possible, and that's why the lines are going above ground.

Residents hope Ameritech, which has experienced its share of consumer complaints in recent months, considers the petition seriously.

"We wanted as many people as possible involved in this," Fulton said. "No one wants to see these lines overhead."

Fulton said every neighbor in the 2-?-mile area where the new lines have been hung signed the petition.

He added residents are trying to get answers from Ameritech, but the engineer who made the decision to string the lines on the poles is out on sick leave.

Fulton, a building inspector and former contractor, said he hasn't been idly sitting around while the work continues. He went to the Ameritech offices and told a company official that the petition was in the mail.

What residents don't understand, he said, is why the decision to run the lines aboveground was made. They're also concerned that no one can answer their questions.

An Ameritech representative said last week that the company's policy is that once lines are underground they're usually kept that way.

No phone connections have been made yet and residents don't know what Ameritech plans to do.

"I'd like to think there is something we can do," Fulton said.

Bavarian visit deemed success

■ German visitors share their music, art.

By Sheila Pursglove
Staff Writer

Aufwiedersehen.

The last oom-pah-pah has died away, the lederhosen and musical instruments packed, the artwork stowed for its trip to the Cranbrook Institute in Detroit.

The Bavarian visitors have left town.

"When we were approached in late July about doing the exchange, I was excited about the opportunity for our community," said Steve Hinz, executive director of the Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts.

A vocal music director at Chelsea High School, Hinz also teaches music at North Creek Elementary School.

"I was most interested in the process of creating a collaborative effort amongst five units: the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, the office of our county commissioner, the Chelsea School District, the Ann Arbor Area Convention and Business Bureau and our Center for the Development of the Arts," he said.

"I never dreamed we would experience such success and have such a great time in the process."

To Hinz, the success of the exchange weekend is an indication of the quality of individuals who make up the local community.

"They make it the special place that it is," he said. "I have always been proud to be a teaching artist here in Chelsea, and I'm even more convinced of the significance of this connection after the exchange weekend," Hinz said.

The CCDA hosted the art exhibit, "Out of the Heart of Europe," a display of more than 72 pieces of artwork, including sculptures and paintings.

"Our historic building proved to be a beautiful place to display the Bavarian art," Hinz said.

"In addition to our regular traffic of students and families, we saw a over a hundred other people come through our doors to view and appreciate the incredible exhibit."

The German guests — musicians and business people — arrived in Chelsea on Oct. 27, to be greeted by a reception and dinner sponsored by the German Park Association and Schwaebischer Unterstuetzungs Verein Association.

Another reception and an art tour followed at the CCDA

The seven musicians, who received gift bags with donations of items from the community, were then made guests in the homes of several local families.

Ken and Ellie Unterbrink invited all the families and guests to their home on Saturday evening for a dinner supplied by Paesano's in Ann Arbor.

"The Bavarian guests shared gifts with us, and Andreas Friedlander, the head master of the Kreissmusikschule in Mitterfels, spoke about camaraderie and future connections between our two communities," Hinz said.

The Bavarian musicians, dressed in traditional folk costume, entertained with a selection of German music, as did the Ann Arbor Opera Theater.

The musicians played at morning mass at St. Mary Church in Chelsea.

"The music they shared on the clarinet, trumpet and organ was impressive and filled the church with beautiful sounds that truly enhanced the worship service," Hinz said.

The grand finale was a Sunday night concert at Chelsea High School auditorium.

"Our high school marching band, orchestra and choir shared traditional music from America, while the Bavarian musicians played in the form of clarinet trios, and brass quartets. They also shared traditional folk music from Bavaria at the lobby reception after the concert," Hinz said.

"It was so impressive to hear such an amazing quality of music in the auditorium. I don't believe there is any better place to hear a chamber music concert than in this beautiful concert house."

Hinz believes it was beneficial for his students to hear the result of dedicated study in such an excellent caliber of music performance.

"Their attention to phrasing, tone, ensemble, and the real language of the music was very present in their performance," he said.

Despite the obstacle of the language barrier, Hinz enjoyed sharing experiences and music with the German visitors.

"We found so many similarities between our communities and their appreciation of the arts, and the many aspects of our lives that make us passionate about music and the arts," he said.

The visit, while brief, was invaluable.

"I am personally committed to making this cultural exchange only a first of many opportunities between the CCDA and Chelsea students and the Kreismusikschule in Mitterfels," Hinz said.

"We look forward to traveling to Bavaria in the very near future to share our American music with our own professional musicians, students, and interested travelers.

"It would be a shame to let the connections we've made go to waste. Sigi Baumann of Mitterfels is an important connection to opening the door to many opportunities for us in Bavaria, other parts of Germany, and neighboring countries."

Hinz also paid tribute to the sterling efforts of his fellow members on the cultural exchange planning team: Ann Feeny, Ed GreenLeaf, Brian Hamilton, Norma Hushcke, Mary Kerr, Richard Steele, Ric and Penny Sauer, Sue Starkey, Ken Unterbrink and Joe Yekulis.

The proclamation commemorated the recent Bavarian-Washtenaw County cultural exchange, when German musicians, artists and businessmen spent three days in Chelsea.

cite health concerns for their stand. They say the heavy canopy of trees and the direction of the wind in the area forces the smoke into their homes.

They say burning should not be allowed in their neighborhood and refer to the state regulation that says, in part, "a person shall not cause or permit the emission of an air contaminant or water vapor alone or in reaction with other air contaminates ... that cause the unreasonable interference with the comfortable enjoyment of life and property."

Continuing efforts have taken place for more than three years between township officials and area residents. Limited burning is seen as a temporary solution.

POLICE BLOTTER

Dexter Village

Warrant Arrest

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies arrested Donald M. Pitzen, 39, of Chelsea Nov. 4 outside of Dexter on a warrant. Pitzen was wanted on a domestic violence warrant. Police took him into custody and transported him to Washtenaw County Jail.

Chelsea Village

Warrant Arrest

Patricia A. Hammock, 43, of Detroit was arrested Nov. 5 on outstanding warrants in St. Clair Shores. Chelsea Police arrested Hammock when they saw her pickup truck on the curb of M-52 and North Street.

Police said that Hammock and her friend were intoxicated.

Police contacted the St. Clair Shores police and were told that they would come and take Hammock into custody if she could not pay her bond.

St. Clair Shores police picked up Hammock at the Chelsea Police Department.

Scio Township

Property Damage

A resident in the 1600 block of Snowberry Ridge near Scio Ridge called police Nov. 4 to report a someone in a car driving by and destroying mailboxes. A nearby resident reported his wood crafted mailbox and post, valued at $150, was destroyed.

Breaking and Entering

Police were dispatched to the 5400 block of Park Road to report a breaking and entering Nov. 3. The homeowner said she left for work around 7:45 a.m. and came home after 11a.m. to find her door pried open.

The homeowner said that approximately $2,000 in cash was taken from several areas of the house.

Police took fingerprints from several items in the home and talked to neighbors about any suspicious activity. Neighbors said they had not seen anything suspicious.

Runaway

A 14-year-old girl ran away from her home in the 2000 block of S. Wagner Road Oct. 25. The girl left a letter to her family saying that she needed to go to a bigger city, like Ann Arbor.

She also said that wherever she goes she will call her mother collect.

The mother of the runaway said she believes her daughter is with a 19-year-old man, who is living in his car.

A 38-year-old mother reported to police Oct. 26 that her 16-year-old son ran away from their home in the 4000 block of Eyrie Drive at Eagle Pointe apartments.

The mother said that her son left the house without her permission around 7:30 p.m. to play basketball with a friend. The boy never called his mother while he was out.

The mother was worried because her son did not show up the following morning when the two were to appear at Washtenaw County Juvenile Court.

Police called several of the runaway's friends, but did not turn up any leads.

Vehicle Larceny

A 47-year-old man reported Nov. 1 that someone had busted the driver side window of his 1988 Chevy Corsica. He told police someone must have broken into the car overnight while it was parked in his driveway in the 4000 block of Corey Circle.

The man also told police that approximately 30 compact discs were missing from his car. Value of the CDs is approximately $100, and damage to the window is estimated at $100.

Someone broke into a 1984 Chevy Corsica Nov. 1 in the 3000 block of West Loch Alpine Drive in Loch Alpine subdivision.

The 52-year-old owner of the vehicle told police that the car, which was parked in the driveway, was broken into.

Someone had damaged the right rear passenger window. The trunk lock also had been broken open.

The car owner said that his car stereo system, a large amount of CDs, and a cellular telephone were missing. The missing items are valued at over $1,000.

Webster Township

Warrant Arrest

A 43-year-old Webster Township man was arrested Nov. 1 at his home on charges of third-degree child abuse and domestic violence.

Police were dispatched to the residence on a report of domestic assault in progress. A 5-year-old boy and his 44-year-old mother were the targets of the abuse.

Police arrested the suspect and took him to the Washtenaw County jail. SAFE House was contacted on behalf of the family.

Larceny

A 40-year-old mother contacted police Oct. 25 to report that her daughter's scooter was stolen.

The mother said that her daughter normally rides her scooter to the bus stop every day and she picks it up later in the morning.

When the mother arrived around 10:30 a.m. she noticed the scooter was missing. The scooter is valued at $80.

Campaign urges safe driving

As part of the national Operation ABC Campaign this Thanksgiving, Michigan will partner with Mothers Against Drunk Driving to spread the national message on Red Ribbon Day that the biggest threats to children are riding with a drinking driver and riding unbuckled. In Michigan this enforcement wave will be called "Click it or Ticket."

The Chelsea Police Department will be participating along with other agencies in the Click it or Ticket enforcement campaign. The Chelsea Police Department special enforcement task force has declared zero tolerance for adult drivers who put children in danger either through drinking and driving or neglecting to ensure that they are properly restrained. Click it or Ticket is scheduled Nov. 20 through 26.

Rules of the Road

All children under the age of 4 must be properly restrained in a car seat when traveling in a motor vehicle in Michigan.

If you have children under age 4, you should know:

- A new law that became effective March 10 requires children younger than 4 to be restrained in a car seat when riding in either the front or rear seat of a motor vehicle.
- Police can stop and ticket someone if a child younger than age 4 is not in a car seat.
- If you are issued a ticket for a car seat violation, the fine will be a minimum of $10 plus court costs.
- Police can stop someone if a child between the ages of 4 and 15 is not using a safety belt.
- If you are issued a ticket for a seat belt violation, the fine will be $25.

Choosing a car seat depends on the child's weight and age.

- Infants under 1 year should face the rear, be semi-reclined and be snugly fastened in the car seat.
- Toddlers between 20 and 40 pounds should face the front, sit upright and be snugly fastened in the car seat.
- Kids between 40 and at least 60 pounds should ride in a booster seat used with a lap or shoulder belt and face the front.

Remember, police say, never place a rear-facing infant in front of an air bag. The back seat is the safest seat for kids to ride.

American Education Week
November 12-18, 2000

79th Annual Observance of EDUCATION WEEK
The Future Begins in Today's Schools, Homes & Communities

Celebrate Education Week by praising those in our community who support lifelong learning and who strive to serve our children with dedication, professionalism and compassion.
The National Education Association's theme for 2000 is "Children-Schools-Parents: Helping Students Achieve." This theme reflects the cooperation and hard work of all education staff and the many parents, community and business members involved in helping students achieve.
These collaborative relationships are very important, especially those that bring together parents and the professional and support staffers working in America's public schools. We all need to get involved to contribute our talents as concerned adults in the education of future leaders of our community. During Education Week, we urge you to ask how you can become more involved in your local public schools. Reach out to your community if you haven't already done so. Helping students achieve at school, as well as in life, is a goal we can share with great pride.

READING IS FUNDAMENTAL

RIF is the nation's largest children's and family literacy organization. By the end of 2000, RIF will have placed 200 million books in the hands and homes of America's children. They develop and deliver children's and family literacy programs that help prepare young children and motivate school-age children to read. Visit www.rif.org for more information about how you can help in our community.

Council attends conference

Nearly 300 county Extension Council members from 64 counties attended a statewide conference Sept. 18 at Michigan State University.

Representing Washtenaw County were Rosalie Cohn of South Lyon, Karen Edman of Saline, Nancy Geiger of South Lyon, Richard King of Ypsilanti, Dianne Schwab of Manchester, Sen. Alma Wheeler Smith of Salem Township, Erica Stevens, 4-H Youth agent, and Nancy Thelen, Washtenaw County Extension director.

The purpose of the conference was to bring together members of county advisory councils to learn about emerging demographic trends, explore current issues, learn new leadership skills and share ideas.

Keynote speaker Mary Lou McPherson, Extension Community Development specialist, highlighted social and economic trends shaping Michigan communities and suggested ways that county councils can use information on these trends to connect Extension's educational programming with current local community issues.

Conference workshops explored a wide range of topics, from land use and technology to building youth assets and food safety. Leadership development sessions focused on topics such as marketing extension programs, identifying community issues and building partnerships.

A proclamation signed by Gov. John Engler declaring Sept. 18 County Extension Council Day was presented by Wheeler Smith and Lisa Curtis, representing Rep. David Meade. The proclamation was accepted by Donna Aird, MSU Extension and Experiment Station Council member, on behalf of the more than 1,000 county council members throughout the state. Washtenaw County's Karen Edman is the past chairwoman of the State Council.

The annual Friend of Extension Award was presented to former state legislator John Gernaat of McBain for his lifetime of involvement with MSU Extension. Gernaat is a member of the MSU Extension and Experiment Station Council and the Michigan 4-H Foundation Board of Directors.

FARM FACTS

Many of us look forward to sleep as a respite from the worries of the day. But it is not as free from care as we might hope, according to a scientist at the University of Luebeck in Germany. Even as we doze, our brains somehow keep track of our daily schedule and signal the release of a stress hormone one hour before we have to get up.

CATS provides helpful service

MICHAELENE PAWLAK

CATS CORNER

Most of us take mobility for granted.

We can move, walk, and drive with ease, and get from point "A" to point "B" without difficulty or second thought.

However, mobility is an issue for a significant number of individuals in the Chelsea area.

Aging, disabilities, temporary or long-term health issues, distance, or day-to-day surprises such as our vehicle's mechanical problems can impact health or income if transportation is unavailable.

Difficulty obtaining transportation is found to be associated with fewer physician visits; hospitalization rates are higher for area residents who have trouble getting to medical appointments.

Finances are affected when we are unable to get to work because vehicles are in the shop, or jobs may be placed in jeopardy when people take time off work to transport non-driving family members having chronic needs.

A strong community transportation system is an answer to these problems.

Chelsea Area Transportation System has served the senior and disabled population since 1976.

CATS has accepted the accelerating mobility challenges of both Chelsea's aging and general populations, and is working toward community mobility solutions.

Michaelene Pawlak is the director of CATS. She will be contributing a monthly column to the newspaper offering up-to-date news on CATS' expansion efforts, answers to area residents' mobility questions and transportation resources available in Washtenaw County.

Questions may be mailed to: CATS, P.O. Box 272, Chelsea, MI 48118-0272.

Students earn scholarships

Five local students have been awarded scholarships from Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary based on their academic achievement and interest in a health-related field.

Scholarship winners are Molly Edman of Chelsea, a pre-med major at the University of Michigan; Annalise Hofing of Chelsea, a nursing major at Purdue University; Katie Parker of Chelsea, a nursing major at Eastern Michigan University; Lisa Zimmerman of Chelsea, a pre-med major at Michigan State University; and Emily Parr of Manchester, a health sciences major at Grand Valley State University.

Zimmerman was also awarded the A.A. Palmer Scholarship, funded by the Chelsea Painters.

Grad on team

Rebecca Porinsky, a junior at Wisconsin Lutheran College, is a member of the college cross country team.

Porinsky, the daughter of Mark and Carolyn Porinsky of Dexter, is majoring in mathematics and Spanish.

Wisconsin Lutheran is a liberal arts college located on the west side of Milwaukee.

Approval of local ballot questions was split. Proposal A, which asked for .35 mills for 15 years to renovate and reconstruct the county courts, was defeated by voters, 56,162 to 73,770.

Locally, most township candidates ran unopposed. There were contested races in Sylvan, Lima and Lyndon townships.

Township Candidates

In Sylvan Township, Gerald Dresselhouse chose not to run again and will be replaced by Charles Burgess (R), who defeated David Brooks (I) by a margin of 1,678 to 1,056.

"It feels good. This is the first time anyone in my family has run for office. I'm a real virgin in all of this," Burgess said.

Incumbent Clerk LuAnn Koch (R), who ran unopposed, garnered 2,289 votes, while fellow incumbent Treasurer Arlene Grau (R) received 2,269 votes.

In the contested race for trustee, Earl Heller (R) and Reuben Lesser Jr. (R), both current trustees, faced Scott Cooper (I) and James Hudler (L) for the two open seats.

LeeAnn Shanahan (R), Kathryn Francis (D) and Thomas DeKeyser (I) squared off for two trustee seats. Shanahan and Francis were victorious with 638 votes and 536 votes, respectively. DeKeyser finished third with 372 votes.

Voters in Lyndon Township were also asked to approve a local ballot question regarding the formation of a township police department.

The special ballot question called for 2.75 mills in the first year and 1.5 mills for the next five years. Residents soundly defeated it, 803-392.

Career walk raises $40,000

More than 280 volunteers and residents turned out for the Christy Yenkel Cancer Fund 5 K walk at Hudson Mills Metro Park on Sept. 9.

The walk's initial effort raised $4,000 and the second annual event brought in almost $40,000.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the Circle of Care, the joint collaboration of The University of Michigan Comprehensive Cancer Center and McCauley Cancer Center.

Yenkel, who recently died, was diagnosed with breast cancer in 1999 and held a walk-a-thon last year to benefit other cancer patients.

For more information about Yenkel and her efforts, there is a web site: www.christywalk.com.

Teens discuss underage drinking

Underage drinking is a serious problem for Michigan's youth.

That's the word from Michigan's teen delegates reporting from the second National Youth Summit to Prevent Underage Drinking held earlier this month in Washington, D.C.

Underage drinking is the nation's number one drug problem, killing more than six times as many young people as all other illicit drugs combined.

On Oct. 26 in Lansing, the youth delegates representing each of Michigan's 16 Congressional Districts met with key lawmakers leading government officials and citizen activists at Michigan's first Town Hall Meeting to prevent underage drinking, a MADD-Michigan hosted event.

The student delegates characterized the state's underage drinking culture as pervasive, accepted by many of their peers, tolerated by parents and ignored by authorities. They say violations are often dismissed or handled as a "slap on the wrist," signaling to their peers that alcohol use is permissible.

The delegates then presented their recommendations that could potentially impact the access, availability and attitudes about underage drinking to the guests gathered from across the state.

"MADD believes teens advocating for underage drinking prevention can help save lives and impact one of the most urgent life-imperiling problems encountered by today's youth," said Shirley Walker of Fenton, chairwoman of MADD-Michigan.

"Because young people can understand and communicate the impact of alcohol upon their peers, they are also uniquely qualified and credible in creating effective policy-level solutions to those problems.

"These youth advocates are making a difference in helping to solve the problem of underage drinking and to create a better and safer future for themselves and their generation," she said.

Darnell Jackson, director of the Michigan Office of Drug Control Policy, joined the teen delegates and the audience of about 100 made up of judges, elected officials, law enforcement, school officials, parents, clergy, policy-makers, and alcohol-prevention experts about the efforts now being made in Michigan.

Panelists, invited audience members and the public exchanged ideas on the challenges and most urgent actions needed to address underage drinking.

The four top recommendations from the National Youth Summit are:

• Requirement of magnetic strips and bar codes on all

Deer population on the move

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department would like to remind citizens that the fall season means that the local deer population will be on the move.

Although the animal's heightened, aggressive activity increases the chance of a vehicle-deer crash occurring, there are ways in which motorists can avoid these unforeseen dangers as they travel the rural roads of Washtenaw County.

"According to the Department of Natural Resources, Wildlife Division, statistics show that there were 67,640 vehicle-deer crashes statewide in 1999. Of that number 1,319 occurred in Washtenaw County alone," said Sheriff Ron Schebil.

"The DNR also reports that 55 percent of vehicle-deer crashes occur in the southern-Michigan area, from Bay City to Muskegon (approximately 40 counties), with 52 percent of the crashes occurring during the months of October, November and December," Schebil said.

"It is wise for citizens to remember that many rural, and even some urban areas of Washtenaw County still offer shelter for deer," Schebil said, "which means they have a lot of area to roam.

"Also, as daylight hours decrease during this time of the year, motorists must travel to and from work and other activities in the dark. This can add to the ever-present danger of encountering deer on county roads as they venture out into open areas in search of food."

Statewide, the current deer herd population stands at 1.9 million, which is down about 5 percent from last year due to population reduction efforts. As a result, Michigan roads carry an increased risk of vehicle-deer crashes now and through the end of the year, with most collisions occurring within the first two hours after sunset.

At dusk, visibility of these animals can be extremely limited as they hide amongst trees and brush along roadsides, leaping out unexpectedly onto the path of on-coming motor vehicles.

Motorists can, however, avoid a vehicle-deer crash simply by following a few safe driving tips:

• Be particularly cautious wherever "deer crossing" signs are posted. This is a warning to motorists that deer are frequently sighted in these areas. It is important to remember, however, that deer can emerge from any area at any time. Although they are more commonly found in rural regions, they also roam in heavily populated areas as well.

• Turn on headlights at dusk. Statistics show that vehicle-deer crashes most frequently occur between the hours of 5 to 8 p.m. It is important, too, to look beyond headlight beams and watch for the shining eyes of deer near the road. Also, dimming the vehicle's interior panel light will increase outward visibility.

• Reduce speed at dusk. Slow down when approaching wooded areas, crops, or wherever tall vegetation grows close to the road. A deer's coloring is its natural camouflage, but it also enables them to easily blend into the roadside's dry grassy areas prevalent during autumn months.

• Be alert. If you see a deer, be on the lookout for others.

Remember veterans on Saturday

JOAN DYER-ZINNER
HERITAGE NEWSPAPERS

HOME FRONT

On the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918, the world rejoiced when an armistice was signed, ending "the war to end all wars."

Nov. 11, 1919, was set aside as Armistice Day to honor those who died in the service of their country during the four years of World War I, and some 20 years later, Congress voted to declare Armistice Day a federal holiday. We know it today as Veterans Day.

As we look back, it seems rather naive for people of that day to have believed that World War I was to be the last major war to be fought by this country. I can only image that the huge loss of life and the horrors endured by those in that war seemed to be evidence enough of the futility of war and a clear message to avoid further armed conflicts.

But, that was not to be true. Even though thousands of men died on both sides of the war and countless others suffered wounds, the horrors of the conflict were not enough for nations to turn their swords into plowshares.

World War I was long before my time, but I remember stories about my father's cousin, Jack Cavanaugh, who was a veteran of that conflict. He suffered severe injuries from "poison gas" in the war, and returned home in frail health.

He spent his post-war years — I think he lived to be in his 60s — propped up with pillows on a couch so that he could breathe. Although he was a survivor of the war, he suffered from his injuries for several decades after the Armistice.

Our family remembers another veteran during this time of the year, Victor Malenfant, who served in the Air Force during the early days of World War II.

He flew cargo planes over the "Hump," as the Himalayan Mountains were called by the fliers during the early, dark days of the war in Southeast Asia. Supplies for the troops in Burma were airlifted from India in a desperate effort to keep them from being overrun by the invading Japanese armies.

The planes were routinely overloaded in order to get the maximum amount of desperately needed supplies to the troops in Burma. On his last flight, Victor's overloaded plane crashed into the mountains and he was killed.

When I first heard the story from my parents, I wondered why the plane was overloaded. Surely, I thought, those in command must have known of the danger.

Recently, my questions were answered when I watched a program on the History Channel that told about the war in Burma. Soldiers were not only short of ammunition but also were lacking food. Their survival was so precarious that extreme methods — such as overloading supply planes — were implemented.

On Veterans Day, my family and I will be thinking of the two veterans in our family — one who came home as an invalid and the other who never came home.

Take a few minutes on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month to think of members of your family and all of the other individuals who served their country to protect those at home, and hope that the uneasy peace we have today can be expanded and preserved.

Joan Dyer-Zinner is editor of The View, a Heritage newspaper serving Belleville.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Club trying to raise money for bleachers

Once again, I find myself having to reply to an article that baffles me on what people expect in return.

I believe the individuals who went to the school board requesting additional seating for Chelsea's football field had good intentions. Based on what I read, I can only bet that these individuals are not very active in the Chelsea Athletic Booster Club, or they did not talk with Athletics Director Wayne Welton.

If they had, they would not have had to take time to discuss this issue with the school board.

Everyone who has been involved with the football program over the years realizes that the seating at the field is somewhat limited for special events. The Chelsea High School Athletic Booster Club has and still is trying to raise enough funds to provide new seating arrangements at the field.

But like Superintendent Ed Richardson said, it is expensive and your local tax money is not earmarked for such a project, and I totally agree with his assessment.

So, for those parents who have students in the football program now and in the future who want to see this project completed, you need to be active with the Boosters to help come up with some ideas on how to raise enough money to provide additional seating.

I hope the next time someone goes to the school board they are presenting a check to them with the recommendation of completing the project.

Tell-A-Friend deemed a success

More than 130 women were reached through the Tell-A-Friend program during October's Breast Cancer Awareness month.

Seventeen women in the area participated in the program by making calls to friends, family and loved ones to remind them about the importance of getting a regular mammogram.

To further success of the program, several women who could not afford a mammogram were directed to the Breast and Cervical Cancer Control Program, which provides free or low-cost mammograms to women who qualify.

All of the women who made those calls and made a difference in the lives of women they called should be applauded.

I enjoyed working with each person and hope to continue the effort of spreading the message about getting regular mammograms and providing direction for those who otherwise have no means of getting one.

Together we are making a difference.

Library should not remove two houses

Although I live in the state of Maryland, I have been a frequent visitor to Chelsea for more than 20 years. We have family and friends there and avidly follow the news of the community. I am most interested in the current news of possible library expansion and how it might eventually affect Orchard Street, where my family lives.

This is a beautiful residential street that is already somewhat affected by the increasing traffic in town.

The fact that the library now owns the Robert Riemenschneider property and wants to own the George Staffen property can only mean one thing: the library and the Downtown Development Authority want to open access to Orchard Street from the coming parking lot on Park Street.

Not only would two beautiful homes be removed, but asphalt and traffic going both ways would replace them. There is no other reason for the library to own these properties. In the interim, the Riemenschneider house will either sit empty for years or be removed.

Everyone agrees that library expansion in its current location is desirable, but that needs to be accomplished without removing houses or diverting traffic onto Orchard Street. Furthermore the library, the Village Council and the DDA should keep all residents accurately informed about their intentions.

Concerts showed off town's musical talent

This past weekend, this small but growing community was the scene of a remarkable series of well-attended musical performances.

Saturday was the Chelsea House Orchestra performance; Sunday was the Bavarian festival with the high school chamber singers, symphony orchestra, marching band, choir and German musicians all performing; and Monday, the annual Halloween concert with the sixth-, seventh- and eighth-grade orchestra performing.

It was an amazing three days of musicality that should not go unrecognized.

The support of the Chelsea community for these events was inspiring and heart-warming. More impressive to me is the support of the parents of this community who have given to music through encouraging their children to learn to play an instrument or sing bars of music.

These parents should be very proud of the commitment they have made. The days of driving to practices, uncounted expenses, patience extended to listening to errant notes all deserve recognition.

The children did learn the notes and the directors and teachers did their job extremely well. The school board deserves some credit, too. But it's the parents of the young musicians who deserve the greatest praise.

Congratulations to you all. What a great gift you have given us and to your children.

Fire, police agencies respond to emergency

We would like to recognize the Chelsea Area Fire Authority and the Chelsea Police Department for their quick response to our chimney fire on the night of Nov. 1.

After 911 was called, police and firefighters arrived almost immediately with a variety of impressive equipment and things were quickly brought under control. No damage resulted.

It is reassuring to live in an area with such well-trained and equipped personnel.

We would also like to recognize our neighbor, Ian MacLeod, who immediately notified his parents upon observing the flames and sparks coming out of our chimney.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The letter below was submitted after the deadline for election letters. The letter writer asked that it appear in the newspaper after the election.

Lyndon doesn't need its own police force

In accordance with the call to get out and vote in the national election, I wanted to plead with Lyndon Township residents to vote down a tax increase for a township police department Nov. 7.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars is a lot to pay for speed traps, baby-sitters and dangerous high speed chases.

Small police departments are notoriously corrupt and unprofessional.

Current statistics from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department indicate that a police force would have a hard time keeping busy. Idle hands are the devil's tools.

Despite a conservative platform, Lyndon Township Supervisor Maryann Noah's proposed police force is a classic example of unnecessary government spending. Lyndon Township doesn't have big problems. We don't need big solutions.

America is based on a government of the people, by the people, for the people. So, it is up the people to enforce the system of checks and balances with their power of the ballot.

We need to scrutinize the "conservative" policies of our township supervisor because they affect us so directly.

If the results of the Oct. 26 Township Board meeting are any indication of resident's views, then Maryann Noah and the Township Board are severely out of touch with the priorities of the residents.

Considering Maryann Noah said: "The Lyndon Township Board has a tremendous spirit of cooperation among themselves," it is unfortunate that this spirit does not extend to the residents, the county and other local governing agencies.

If we don't get involved, we get the mandates of Maryann Noah, not the mandates of Lyndon Township residents.

The travesty of Maryann Noah running unopposed on a conservative ticket blatantly demonstrates that Lyndon Township residents get the government they deserve.

Any input or comments are welcome. Call me at 475-2819 or e-mail me at mmarzec@umich. edu.

We need an affordable option for the library

Recent references in The Chelsea Standard have indicated there are plans proposed to build a new 24,000-square-foot Chelsea District Library.

I would like to suggest that such a plan is overly ambitious and considerably more than is needed in this community at this time. Such a facility would require professional and non-professional staff, maintenance and operational costs, and other needs that would, as I see it, greatly strain, if not overrun, the existing library budget.

The McKune House provided approximately 2,000 square feet for the Chelsea library. The current rented facility is approximately 7,000 square feet. A new facility, 10,000 square feet with design for future expansion, would provide a library that should adequately serve the community into the future.

I would suggest that the community should be seriously considering at this time what is needed, affordable and practical.

drivers' licenses and identification cards issued by the state for age verification and detection of fake IDs, and requirement of all alcohol sales establishments to use electronic ID and license scanners to verify age.

• Increased excise tax on alcoholic beverages with the revenue to be used to fund alcohol-awareness and prevention programs.

• A totally federally funded national media campaign for the prevention of underage drinking.

• Restrictions prohibiting alcohol advertising from airing prior to 10 p.m., as well as trendy prime-time equal length anti-alcohol ads paid for by the alcohol industry and funds received from excise taxes to counter every alcohol advertisement aired.

Speakers and audience members were challenged to complete "commitment cards" to describe what they would do within the next 30 days to help reduce underage drinking in Michigan.

In 1999, state indicators show Michigan's teens are at risk. In the month previous to the survey, 49 percent of high school students reported having at least one alcoholic drink, almost one third reported binge drinking and one third of students rode with a driver who had been drinking.

One in eight students drove a car or other vehicle after drinking alcohol and 1,623 underage drinkers were arrested by Michigan State Police with .02 blood-alcohol content level.

While progress has been made in reducing alcohol-related traffic deaths since MADD was founded in 1980, traffic deaths continue to be the leading cause of death of youth in the United States. In addition, alcohol kills 6? times more young people than all other illicit drugs combined.

Underage drinking is America's No. 1 youth drug problem, causing death and injury to thousands of young people every year. Underage drinking costs America $53 billion annual, according to MADD.

Nationwide, underage drinking is a factor in the top three causes of death — motor vehicle crashes, homicides, and suicides — for young people between the ages of 15 and 24. Last year, 2,238 youth ages 15 through 20 were killed in alcohol-related traffic crashes in the United States.

According to the surveys, more than 2.5 million teens don't know you can die from alcohol poisoning. According to MADD, more 10th graders will get drunk this year than will go on to graduate from college. The organization says these statistics point out the need for ideas to address the problem of underage drinking.

DEER

Deer are herd animals and usually travel in groups of two or up to a dozen.

• Do not veer from your traffic lane or the roadway. Do not attempt to dodge a deer as the animal may make an erratic movement, bounding ahead or running zigzag across the road.

Also, swerving increases the likelihood of the motorist losing control of the vehicle. It is better to slow down, flash your headlights or blow your horn to try to detour the animal. Then proceed with caution until you are well past the crossing area. (Note: If the driver must brake, remember to check the rearview mirror for approaching traffic. A person is more apt to be seriously injured from a rear-end collision, than by hitting a deer.)

• Buckle up. Not only is it the law, but also the sudden impact of a deer can cause extensive damage to a vehicle. The average damage is $2,000, and there is personal injury to both the driver and passengers. In 1999, six people died from vehicle-deer crashes, compared to four deaths in 1998.

"By following these common sense rules, most vehicle-deer collisions can be avoided," Schebil said, "but if you are involved in a vehicle-deer crash, it is also important to remember that you are required by law to report the collision to your local police agency, the sheriff's office or the Department of National Resources."

Although the driver of the damaged vehicle is entitled to claim the animal, it is unlawful to possess a highway-killed deer without obtaining a highway deer kill permit. A conservation officer can issue this permit, as can any police officer, deputy sheriff, state trooper or metropark ranger.

If an accident report is required, the officer at the scene will issue the permit. If the driver of the damaged vehicle elects not to claim the animal, the deer may be salvaged by another individual, but a permit is still required.

Most vehicle-deer crashes in Washtenaw County are reported by telephone. If your vehicle is drivable, you may leave the area to contact the appropriate law enforcement agency and then return to the scene.

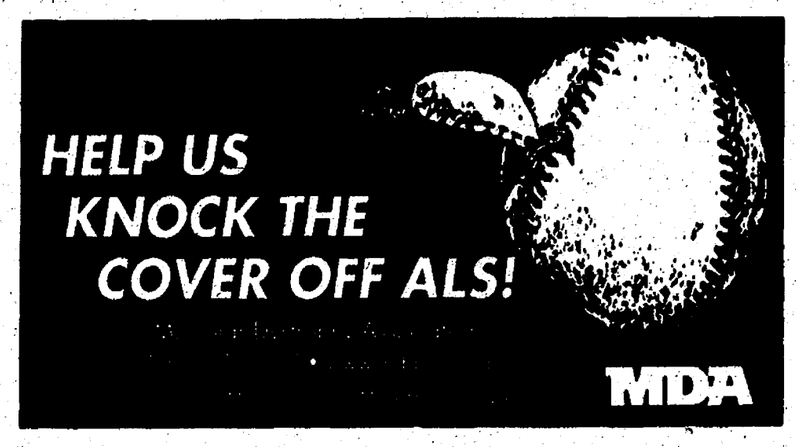

It is important to note, however, that the deer should be left at the scene until a permit is obtained. If you leave the area, you may want to conceal the animal to deter others from taking it. If another motorist stops and removes the deer while you are reporting it, they are in illegal possession of the animal and subject to prosecution.

"As you travel throughout this colorful autumn season, please remember that only through careful observation and reduced speeds can vehicle-deer crashes be avoided," Schebil said. "Always remain alert and be prepared for these and other potential roadside dangers. Your safety and well-being is our foremost concern."

Veterans Day Tribute

Chelsea resident shares memories of World War II

By Sheila Pursglove
Staff Writer

Silence and darkness are Deborah Bacon's strongest memories of landing on Omaha Beach.

"Our vessel landed on the beach in the dead of night. It was pitch black, absolutely silent and still," she says.

The calm was in stark contrast to the carnage on those same Normandy beaches six weeks prior to her hospital unit's arrival in late July 1944.

"Our landing craft opened its jaws like a huge whale and the tanks came out first. Our medical unit followed them onto the beach," Bacon says.

Doctors and nurses climbed into open trucks, drove off, and promptly got lost.

"We didn't have a clue where we were in the dark, and drove around aimlessly along the top of the cliffs until we reached St. Mere Eglise, where we were so exhausted we just slept on the ground," she says.

The 94-year-old Chelsea Retirement Community resident was among 50,000 women serving with the Army Nursing Corps in Europe. She shares her story as veterans across the United States are recognized on Veterans Day Saturday.

The New York native trained as a nurse in 1930 during the Great Depression, drawn to the profession by the job security it offered.

After spending two years near the Arctic Circle as a missionary nurse in Alaska, she returned to New York City to earn her bachelor's degree in public health.

In 1941, she spent six months in Chicago studying obstetrics.

"Every day I walked past the university football field, where there was a young soldier on guard.

"I was longing to step out on the field and throw a forward pass. He threatened to shoot me if I did," she says.

Neither of them had any knowledge of the top-secret activity below the football field: the building of the atomic bomb.

After Chicago, Bacon spent the next 18 months as head of a tiny hospital in the backwoods of Kentucky.

On Dec. 7, 1941, the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor. America was at war.

The following September, Bacon signed up with the Army Nursing Corps, and spent her first 18 months moving west across the continent with a mobile hospital unit.

"We were taking in the wounded from the Pacific Theater and the Aleutians," she says.

"Ours was one of three hospitals experimenting with a brand new drug: penicillin."

Her hospital continued to move west.

"We almost had our feet in the Pacific Ocean, which we were all none too happy about, since there was an awful lot of action going on in Guadalcanal at the time," she says.

"The next thing we knew, we were ordered to board a train, and 40 doctors, 40 nurses and 200 enlisted men traveled all the way back across the country to New Jersey."

The unit crossed the Atlantic in the second largest convoy ever to cross that body of water, with 95 ships carrying every possible kind of material except gasoline.

Bacon's memories of the devastated city of London, pounded by German bombs, remain very strong.

"I remember women and their children, huddled together on the train platforms of the London Underground," she says. "They would spend the nights down there during the nightly bombing raids, then resurface the next morning and go about their lives."

Bacon and her coworkers were delegated as a poison gas unit, ready to take medical action if the Germans used the deadly weapon.

Retired Army Corps nurse Deborah Bacon, who lives in Chelsea, followed American forces across Europe during World War II.

"We spent the night before the D-Day invasion huddled around a radio listening for news because we felt if the Germans were going to use poison gas, this would be the time," she says.

"Not that we had a clue what to do if there was a poison gas attack. The only equipment we had was gas masks."

Operation Overlord, the largest amphibious assault ever that started the liberation of occupied Europe from Nazi Germany, began in the early hours of June 6, 1944.

Thousands of American, British, Canadian and French soldiers stormed a 50-mile stretch of beaches in Normandy, successfully breaching the German-held territory.

After landing at Omaha Beach, Bacon's mobile hospital unit followed the American troops across Europe, moving every three weeks and staying 15 miles behind the battle lines.

"Ours was the first hospital the wounded would reach. We did triage and moved them on as quickly as possible," Bacon says.

"I can remember telling one young man, 'You hear that plane? Well he's coming back for you and you'll be eating supper in England tonight.'"

Having had a French governess as a child, Bacon spoke fluent French, and acted as translator for her unit.

"We had about 17 languages in the unit, but I was the only one who could speak French. Of course, that wasn't much help when we got to Germany," she says.

The only time Bacon recalls any real sense of fear was when the hospital was strafed by a

Beach Middle School math and science teacher Loren Thorburn and eighth-grader Bryan Dunn admire a model of the universe.

Thorburn comes from long line of teachers

TEACHER FEATURE

By Sheila Pursglove
Staff Writer

Loren Thorburn got a taste of teaching at an early age.

The Beach Middle School math and science teacher was in sixth grade when his teacher didn't show up because of an illness.

"The administration didn't realize we were without a teacher. We all sat there in the classroom for a while wondering what to do," Thorburn says.

"A few of us whose parents were teachers decided we could read the lesson plans laid out by the teacher and teach the class."

A few hours passed before the school principal realized the sixth-graders were conducting their own class.

"Since we were marching right through the lessons with no behavior problems, the principal decided we were doing fine, and other than checking on us periodically, left us to carry on."

A substitute teacher was finally found, much to Thorburn's disappointment.

"We thought we were doing pretty well by ourselves in the morning. I believe this situation was a real confidence booster for my later career," he says.

Teaching runs in the Thorburn genes. His mother, aunts, uncles and a grandmother were all teachers. His father was a school custodian and a great uncle was a school board president for 20 years. Tornburn's brother, Lucas, is studying to be a teacher.

Thorburn joined the faculty at Beach Middle School in the fall. This was his second taste of teaching in Chelsea. He did his internship at Chelsea High School, where he taught earth science, biology and physical science.

Born in Lansing and raised in Ionia and Dansville, Thorburn graduated in 1994 from Western Michigan University with a bachelor's degree in hydrogeology, and a minor in mathematics. He met his wife, Tara, at college.

"I spent four years as an environmental consultant using hydrogeology — the study of groundwater and soil — to help people and corporations with environmental issues such as leaking underground storage tanks and toxic spills," he says.

"I wanted a field that would get me outdoors and work with people in solving problems. Plus, helping the environment is a great cause."

Thorburn returned to school in 1998 to earn a teaching certificate in general science and earth science, and started his career teaching ninth-grade biology and 10th-grade physical science at Williamston Community Schools.

A year later, he made the move to Chelsea schools, where his wife was teaching at South Meadows Elementary School.

"I've always enjoyed helping people understand concepts," Thorburn says.

"I enjoy rediscovering material in each subject I have taught and passing along that knowledge to my students."

Last year he helped a student who was failing in biology, working one-on-one with her a German plane.

"I dove under my cot like greased lightning, although since it was canvas it wasn't much use as protection," she says.

"Most of the time we were just too busy and too focused to have time to be scared."

Bacon remembers the German V2 rockets arching overhead on their way across the English Channel to London.

"The V2 Doodlebugs made a sound like someone tearing silk," she says.

"As long as you could hear the sound you were OK. When the noise stopped, the bomb was falling from the sky."

When General George Patton and his troops made a rapid move to Le Mans, Bacon was among the forces entering the town.

"We felt like Roman emperors returning in triumph," Bacon says.

"The French poured out into the streets to greet us. When we took off our helmets and they realized we were American women, they went crazy."

Bacon met Patton a couple of times, remembering a larger-than-life character with a reputation as a great bridge and poker player.

Bacon earned five battle stars during her time in Europe.

One battle was at Falaise Gap, where American forces took hundreds of German soldiers.

"Every morning at roll call, there would be a dozen or so more prisoners than the previous day," Bacon says.

"The Germans weren't stupid. They were giving themselves up and coming in for aid, and to get treated with penicillin."

Bacon crossed the last bridge over the Rhine at Remagen, an allied victory depicted in several movies, including "A Bridge Too Far."

"The Germans were supposed to blow the bridge as they retreated, but someone didn't give the command in time," Bacon says.

"Had that been an American soldier, he would have used his common sense and just gone ahead and pressed the plunger.

"The German soldier was so disciplined he wouldn't detonate without the command."

The bridge held and the allied forces poured across it to pursue the retreating German army.

Bacon has fond memories of the men she nursed.

"When things are tough, our American troops are the most wonderful in the world. However, at other times they were like rowdy teens," she says.

Bacon has little respect for colonels, dismissing them as "desk men."

"Most of them didn't have the sense to come in out of the rain," she says.

"On the other hand, the army sergeants were the best, most practical men."

There were lighter moments among the devastation.

"One time, we were told there was some entertainment, so we went and sat on our helmets in a quiet, sunny, harvested field," Bacon says.

"Bing Crosby sang for us. By the time he got to singing White Christmas, we were all in tears.

"Afterward he visited the wounded and signed their casts," she says.

Bacon remembers a concentration camp in Germany as the neatest, cleanest place she had ever seen, with well kept paths bordered by white rocks.

"The inmates were a terrible sight. They were only fed enough to give them sufficient strength to work," she says.

Her mobile unit followed the army for 800 miles across France almost as far as the border of the former Czechoslovakia, where they met up with a unit of Russian soldiers.

"We realized later this was set up as a photo opportunity," she says.

"The soldiers were farmers and peasants, with no knowledge of modern amenities. They didn't know what a flush toilet was and tried to wash their feet in it."

As her unit returned from the Czech border, Bacon recalls that middle Europe looked like an "anthill."

"People were scurrying about on their way home, walking, riding bikes, riding wagons, everyone waving flags," she says.

After the war ended, she got a 48-hour leave and went to Paris, a city that was still reeling from celebrations.

"The American troops let the French divisions drive through the Arc de Triomphe, just as invading German divisions had done earlier," she says.

Her unit was driven around in army trucks to see the damage that had been inflicted on the city.

"I remember seeing machine gun bullet holes in walls at chest height, where people had been lined up and executed," she says.

Bacon brought home an unusual souvenir, a piece of blue tile from the swimming pool at Hitler's Eagles Nest hideout in Berchesgarten, Bavaria.

"His hideout was on a mountain top, two stories underground, with a generator, kitchen and a beautiful pool lined with blue tile.

"The United States Air Force flew over and dropped a bomb right in the pool blowing it to smithereens," she says.

After the war was over, Bacon spent four months studying French literature at the Sorbonne in Paris, where she had the thrill of meeting Gertrude Stein.

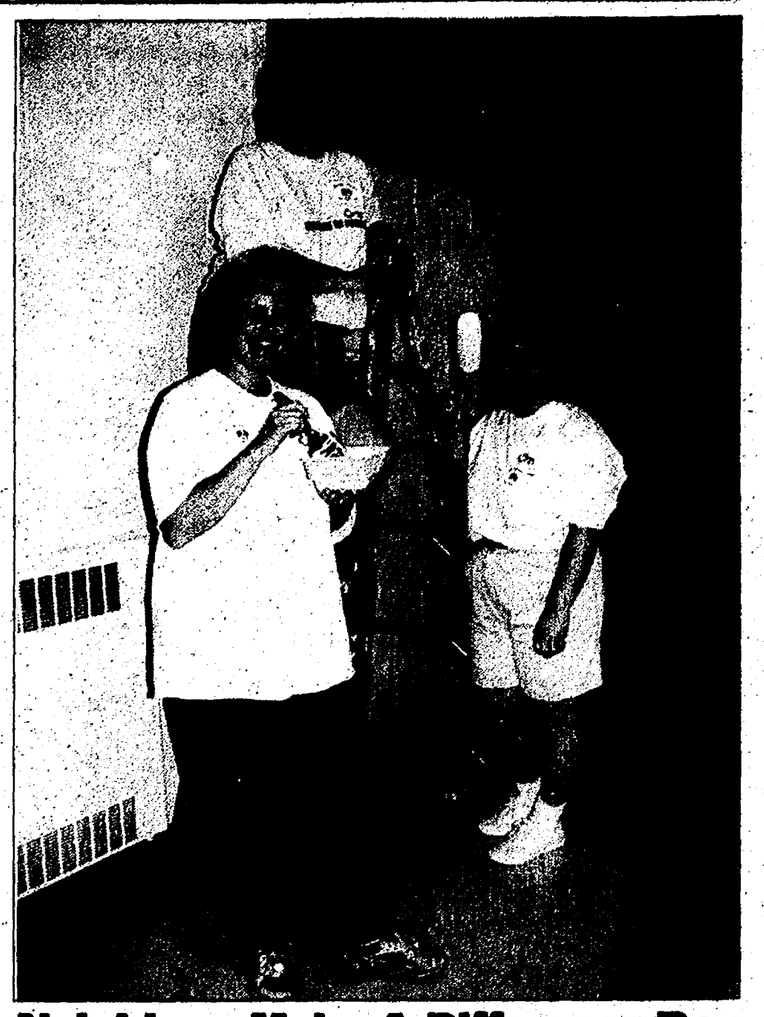

After returning to the United States, she earned her master's and doctorate in English and comparative literatures at Columbia University.

Bacon was dean of women at the University of Michigan from 1950 to 1960, before becoming associate professor of English literature and humanities.

"The G.I. Bill of Rights was one of the finest things our government ever did. Some of the finest students our country ever had were returning veterans," she says.

Bacon retired in 1968, to spend 10 years in southern California, before returning to Michigan.

few times a week for several weeks.

"At the end of the year, when I told her she had passed, she smiled from ear to ear," Thorburn says. "This girl didn't have many successes in school and I felt good to help her succeed."

Thorburn aims to move in the direction of a mastery teacher, one who is looked upon by his peers as having reached the highest level in teaching.

"I've also always enjoyed the school environment and the people in it, from the students to the administrators, teachers and parents. You can learn from anybody," he says.

Thorburn believes math is crucial to understanding science, technology, trades and everyday situations.

"Often students do not get the feel of how or why math is so important," he says.

Thorburn exposes his students to the real world applications of math. In a recent field trip to Chelsea Lumber, his eighth-graders learned about measurements and estimating from company employees.

"The more students see the usefulness of math and apply it, the more likely they are to internalize and master the subject," he says.

While he likes to put his students at ease with jokes and laughter, the math teacher has high expectations.

"I want my students to do their best and complete quality work. If I don't receive a student's best effort, I conference with the student and their parents to find a way for improvement," he says.

Thorburn enjoys the energy he sees at the middle school level.

"My students want to succeed and do well," he says.

"Kids of this age are discovering who they are and how others see them. I enjoy helping them find their way at this stage of their life."

Thorburn particularly enjoys the one-on-one interaction that happens during class, before or after school.

"Students will surprise me daily with insight into areas of study that I haven't thought about," he says.

Thorburn and his wife, Tara, currently on maternity leave, have one child, Foster, who just enjoyed his first Halloween dressed as Winnie the Pooh. Bass, a Rottweiler, completes the family home in Stockbridge.

Thorburn, who lists reading, running and triathlons among his interests, enjoys the state land found around the Stockbridge and Chelsea area.

"I like open spaces and small communities, where people know each other. I grew up in similar communities, and feel very comfortable in this environment."

The couple has belonged to the Free Methodist Church in Chelsea for three years, where they enjoy the fellowship and worship.

"In association with the church, we've also been active in community outreach, like passing out free pop at the fireworks in past years," Thorburn says.

The couple is impressed by the community-feel of Chelsea School District.

"Students, teachers, administrators, and parents really care about others," Thorburn says.

"When Foster was born, the outpouring of support from the Chelsea community was tremendous.

"There is not a day goes by without someone saying asking about my wife and baby. We feel blessed."

Last second heroics sparks Chelsea to regional final

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Most quarterbacks would have been shaking in their cleats.

Down by one, the ball at the 15-yard line, 2:50 remaining on the clock and 85 yards between you and the game-winning score, most quarterbacks would have wilted under the pressure.

Most quarterbacks would have looked at that situation and thought to themselves, "No way."

But Chris Brigham is not most quarterbacks.

The Chelsea senior signal-caller looked at his predicament and said to himself, "I can do this."

"I knew the way our offense was playing and with three time outs everything was in our favor," he said. "We were ready to go. We were confident."

Indeed.

Eight plays and 85 yards later, Brigham connected with senior running back Chris Cooper on an 8-yard game-winning touchdown pass with 24 seconds left, giving Chelsea a thrilling, 35-28 win over Monroe Jefferson last Friday night in the Division III district final.

The pass hit Cooper in the middle of the end zone as he was falling backward between two Jefferson defenders.

The victory advances the Bulldogs to Saturday's regional final at defending state champion Farmington Hills Harrison (11-0). Kickoff is scheduled for 1 p.m.

The pass, according to Brigham, is the Bulldogs' "bread-and-butter" play.

"We must have run that 10 times tonight," he said. "It always seems to work."

With third and goal at the 8-yard line and less than a minute remaining, Chelsea called time-out. It was then that the Bulldogs decided to run their bread-and-butter play.

"When we were on the sideline, everyone was saying let's run it," Brigham said. "We can get it (touchdown)."

The touchdown pass was a result of excellent blocking up front, according to Brigham.

"My read is supposed to be to Cooper (first, then) to (Tony) Scheffler," he said. "I saw Cooper and he wasn't open, so I looked to Scheffler. I had a little extra time since our line did a great job blocking.

"I (looked back), saw Cooper standing in between a couple guys in the end zone and threw it.

"I was thinking, 'just catch the ball.' "

As one might expect, Cooper had the same thought.

"All I was thinking was, 'I have to make this catch,' " he said. "I had to make it. I had made so many other mistakes before. I couldn't let the team down."

Cooper said he made an adjustment on his game-winning TD pass route.

"I saw one of the outside linebackers already out in the flat, so I just ran straight up the field and tried to find a hole. I found one and he (Brigham) got me the ball."

Getting the ball to teammates was something Brigham did a lot of Friday night.

He ended the game 17-of-21 for 269 yards and three TDs.

Scheffler was often the main recipient of Brigham's tosses, snaring 13 passes for 253 yards and two touchdowns.

The senior wideout's total reception yardage was 36 yards shy of surpassing the state record of 289 yards.

Chelsea coach Brad Bush marveled at Scheffler's effort Friday.

"I don't know if I've ever seen a high school receiver make that many big-time catches in one high school football game," he said. "Those were some big-time plays."

Bush said he was confident as his squad took the field to begin its final game-winning 85-yard drive.

"In that situation, what you have to do is think about players and not plays," he said. "We have seniors with great experience and we (coaches) just had to think of different ways we could get the ball to those seniors. And we needed to give Chris time to throw.

"The play on the goal line there to score was just a great play. He (Cooper) made a great catch and Chris (Brigham) did a great job of ducking underneath the pressure and throwing the ball on the run."

One could say Friday's game started and ended with Cooper.

On the night's first play from scrimmage, Cooper took a pitch from Brigham and raced 59 yards untouched down the left sideline for a touchdown.

With senior Mike Radka's extra point, it was 7-0 Chelsea before the Jefferson faithful could even find a seat.

But the tradition-rich Bears (1994 state champions and regional finalists last year) were not going to be intimidated.

With 10 seconds left in the opening quarter, Jefferson senior fullback Adam Servey scored on a 2-yard dive.

The 2-point conversion pass from junior quarterback A.J. Eppler to senior receiver Adam Ely was good and the Bears led 8-7 heading into the second quarter.

It wouldn't last for long.

On Chelsea's ensuing possession, the Bulldogs would hit pay dirt as Brigham connected with Scheffler on a slant pass over the middle for a TD.

The pass, on fourth and six from the Jefferson 11-yard line, put Chelsea ahead, 13-8.

The 2-point conversion pass to Cooper was successful and the Dawgs upped their lead to 15-8 with 9:18 remaining in the half.

After a Chelsea turnover deep in its own zone, the Bears took just three plays to cross the goal line.

Servey (6-foot-3, 215 pounds) scored his second touchdown on the night with another 2-yard plunge. The 2-point conversion attempt was stopped and Chelsea clung to a 15-14 lead.

The Bulldogs (11-0) refused to hang their heads, however.

On its next possession, Brigham found Scheffler on a nifty 15-yard fade pass in the left corner of the end zone, increasing Chelsea's advantage to 21-14 with 4:28 left in the second quarter.

The scoring drive took five plays and covered 56 yards.

To begin the third quarter, Jefferson retook the lead executing a textbook nine play, 57-yard drive, culminating in Servey's third touchdown, a 5-yard burst.

Servey's 2-point conversion run was good and the Bears led, 22-21.

Back came Chelsea, however.

After taking over at its own 41-yard line, the Dawgs took just eight plays before Radka found the end zone on a 6-yard scamper around left end. The score flip-flopped Chelsea back on top, 27-22, with 5:12 left in the third.

But on the first play of the fourth quarter, Jefferson climbed back ahead.

Servey scored his fourth TD of the night barreling in from the one on a fourth and goal.

The 2-point pass attempt was picked off by Bulldog junior defensive back Dan Mueller and the Bears held a slim, 28-27 lead.

On Chelsea's next possession, the Dawgs drove all the way down to the Bears' 27-yard line before Brigham was sacked on a fourth and seven play.

With the sack, Jefferson took over at its own 33-yard line with 7:02 remaining.

After seven plays, the Bears were forced to punt by a fired up Bulldog defense.

Chelsea retook possession at its own 15-yard line with 2:50 left on the clock.

Eighty-five yards later, Brigham found Cooper for the game-winner.

But according to Bush, it was the defensive effort late in the ball game that turned the tide for his club.

"I thought in the second half the key to victory was getting that (late game) stop and getting the ball back (at 15-yard line)," he said.

After the contest, when Bush gathered his troops for a post-game speech, he was overheard saying that the late game defensive stop was, "one of the best

Bulldog tankers swim to second in SEC White

By Don Richter

Second place isn't that bad.

In fact, it's pretty darn good when one considers the competition.

Last weekend at the Southeastern Conference girls' swimming and diving competition, Chelsea finished second behind Dexter, ranked No. 2 in the state in Class B-C-D.

The Bulldogs accumulated 296.50 points to the Dreadnaughts' 402.

The meet was hosted by Michigan's No. 1 ranked Class A team Ann Arbor Pioneer.

In the newly revamped SEC, the nine-team league is divided into two divisions.

The Red Division consists of Pioneer, Monroe, Bedford, Adrian and Saline.

The White Division includes Chelsea, Dexter, Tecumseh and Ypsilanti Lincoln.

Pioneer won the Red with 628 points, followed by Saline with 402 points.

Chelsea coach John Crispin felt his squad had a good meet despite the high-quality competition.

"Almost everybody had their best performances," he said. "Those girls whose season ended with Friday's preliminaries were exceptional. We're very proud of them."

Earning special mention by Crispin for their efforts were Emily Drinkwater (2:29.05), who took 18 seconds off her previous best time in the 200 freestyle, and Rachel Boyce (1:18.25), who trimmed eight seconds off her previous best.

On the second day of the two-day meet, the Bulldog tankers came out with a fire in their belly.

"Many of the girls who swam are being tapered for the state meet in two more weeks," Crispin said. "That just means their primary focus was not the SEC meet, so on Friday they were a little sluggish.

"But they came alive on Saturday with some great performances, maybe inspired by the football team's fantastic win Friday night. But whatever the reason, it promises even better results at states."

In the 200 medley relay (1:53.93), the foursome of Ashley Augustine, Alise Augustine, Julie Mida and Kayla Hack set a varsity record in placing third. The Chelsea "B" group of Mary Paul, Sarah Manville, Katie Minnick and Kelly Varady finished 11th.

In the 200 freestyle, Hack placed 10th and Katrina Moffett was 12th.

In the 200 individual medley, Rebecca Armstrong finished 10th, Jennifer Adams, 15th and Shevaun Wacker 16th.

In the 50 freestyle, Ashley Augustine (25.48) placed second, narrowly missing the varsity record (25.32) she set in preliminaries on Friday. Alise Augustine finished 12th, Sarah Tschirhart, 13th, and Jessica Bassett, 14th.

In diving, Kari Ceo (249.55) ended up 16th.

In the 100 butterfly, Katie Minnick finished 15th.

Hack took a fourth in the 100 freestyle, followed by Jennifer Minnick in seventh, Bassett in 10th and Tschirhart in 11th.

In the 500 freestyle, Moffett was seventh, followed by Chris Broshar in 13th and Tracy Stetson in 16th.

The 200 freestyle "A" relay team of Alise Augustine, Jennifer Minnick, Danile Hughes and Broshar finished fifth. The "B" relay group of Mida, Bassett, Tschirhart and Manville ended up 11th.

In the 100 backstroke, Ashley Augustine placed second, with Armstrong seventh.

Alise Augustine swam to a fourth-place finish in the 100 breaststroke followed by Manville in ninth and Mida in 11th.

Kattula leads Chelsea at state finals

Chelsea capped a memorable season last weekend by finishing 10th in Division II at the state boys' cross country finals.

The Bulldogs ended up with 334 points.

Big Rapids finished first with 103 points.

The meet was held at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn in front of approximately 16,000 fans.

"A top 10 finish is an outstanding accomplishment," said Chelsea coach Eric Swager. "I am proud of the entire team and the way they conducted themselves throughout the year."

Leading the pack for the Bulldogs at MIS was senior Mike Kattula (16:34), who finished 46th overall.

"Mike finished his career with a lifetime best," Swager said. "He nearly made All-State. He amazes me with his toughness."

Other top performers for Chelsea were Jared Daniel (16:59), who finished 98th; David Fedele (17:13), who placed 126th; Kyle Brown (17:15), who ended up 131st, and James McKenzie (17:19), who finished 139th.

All four runners recorded personal best times Saturday in the biggest race of the year.

Other top Bulldog times were turned in by Trevor Bach (17:24), who placed 146th, and Nathan Zeigler (17:44), who ended up 174th.

"I am satisfied with our solid effort throughout the year," Swager said.

On Monday, the Chelsea squad celebrated its "wildly successful season" with a banquet.

Earning Most Valuable Runner award was Kattula.

Most Improved went to Nate Hinderer.

Earning a varsity letter were Kattula, Daniel, Zeigler, Brown, McKenzie, Fedele, Bach, Hinderer, Chad Fortner, George Fairley, David Stone, Greg Cook, Aaron Turek and Levi Hyssong.

JV awards were given to Eric Lawrence, Caleb Spence, Mike Worthington, Keegan Peters, Zach Christman and Ryan Montgomery.

"We are truly blessed to have great support from parents and the school," Swager said. "We have been kept safe and healthy all year and I want to personally thank all who support Chelsea cross country."

The Chelsea girls' basketball squad played intense, pressure defense and defeated Ypsilanti Lincoln, 62-31, last Thursday.

The Bulldogs held Lincoln scoreless in the second quarter and jumped out to a commanding 38-10 halftime lead.

Chelsea continued the onslaught throughout the third quarter, building a 50-18 advantage heading into the fourth and final frame.

Sophomore forward Ali Mann led all scorers for Chelsea with 13 points.

Junior guard Stephanie Crews and senior power forward Michelle Dettling added 10 points each.

Senior guard Betsy Ruhlig finished with seven points and senior forward Josie Wells and senior guard Lindsey Baker each netted six points for the Dawgs.

Despite the lopsided win, Chelsea coach Todd Blomquist knows his squad can play better.

"Even though we won handily, we played a pretty sloppy game," he said. "The girls were happy with the win, but disappointed with their play."

Understanding The Law

with Leonard K. Kitchen, J.D. and Thomas L. Stringer, J.D.

MAKING A CONFESSION

Generally, in criminal cases, confessions obtained under the influence of fear or the hope of immunity from the charges may be deemed as being obtained by involuntary means and, as such, would be excluded from evidence. If, however, an otherwise admissible confession arises during an illegal arrest, the confession is not necessarily inadmissible. In such cases, the court would take into consideration the circumstances of the custody or arrest when determining whether or not the confession was given voluntarily. A prolonged period of questioning does not necessarily make a confession involuntary. A prolonged interrogation combined with forms of deprivation, however, may be seen as coercive, leading to a ruling that the confession gained under these conditions is inadmissible.

If your activities are currently under criminal investigation, your first step should be to engage an experienced attorney. In practice for over thirty years, the attorneys at the LAW OFFICES OF KITCHEN & STRINGER invite you to call 426-4695 to schedule a private consultation, free of charge. In addition to criminal defense, we also handle cases involving personal injury, family law, real estate, wills, estate probate, civil litigation, and medical and veterinary malpractice. The Ann Arbor Youth Soccer Association named Kaitlin Ehman of Chelsea player of the week.

Ehman shared the award with Catherine White of Ann Arbor.

Both Ehman and White play on the boys U-11 Brazilian American Youth Soccer Association (BAYSA) Brazil team.

"I'm happy the two girls were recognized for their play," said Ricky Suassuna, coach and owner of the Brazilian Soccer School in Dexter. "They both play in an all boys league and hold their own against tough competition. They are good team players."

The Brazilian Soccer School promotes each player's personal excellence in soccer, which, in turn, improves their self-esteem, and confidence in other areas of life.

The school works with BAYSA to develop individual, team and coaching skills.

How Do You Get Lutherans Excited?
(Faith Lutheran Tests a New Hymnal)

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

It's not always easy to get us Lutherans excited, but there is definitely an atmosphere of excitement at our church. For the next 6 weeks we will be testing out a "new" hymnal, published by our church body, the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod. The title of the hymnal is Christian Worship: A Lutheran Hymnal, and technically it is not new; it was published in 1993, and our choir has sung a number of hymns from it. But it will be our first experience with it as a congregation.

Of course, considering anything new can cause problems. You may have heard how many Lutherans it takes to change a light bulb: Ten; one to change it, and the other nine to stand around saying they liked the old one better. We've waited 7 years to take a serious look at this hymnal, since there hasn't been any widespread clamor for change; and we at Faith Lutheran do not believe in forcing change unnecessarily. (Why, up until 5 years ago I was still using my trusty TRS-80 computer.)

I'm not worried. At Faith Lutheran we have been blessed with the spirit of unity. This is because virtually every member realizes faith in Jesus Christ is the center of our church life. The question of which hymnal we use is secondary - as long as the Bible message is unchanged.

This might be an ideal time for you to visit one of our worship services. Most of us will be almost as inexperienced as you, except that we are acquainted with many of the hymns and other elements of worship which were carried over from our current hymnal. Please come Sunday morning, 10:00 a.m.

defensive efforts I've ever seen on this field."

Cooper agreed.

"That defensive stop was huge," he said. "That's the best defensive series they've played all year. They came up huge. They came up big in crunch time."

Brigham was a bit more effusive.

"Oh, I just want to hug and kiss everyone of those (defensive) guys," he said.

Jefferson coach Marc Cisco, in his 35th season, said he felt Friday's game would come down to whoever had the ball last.

"I was really concerned with that," he said. "They have such a good receiver in Scheffler. We tried to play a zone with him and some man-to-man. We did the best we could."

Despite the heartbreaking loss, Cisco said he was proud of his team.

"We played harder than heck," he said. "We've had a lot of success this year. It was a great effort tonight."

Cooper ended the game with 18 rushes for 153 yards. He also caught three passes for 15-yards.

Senior Cory Picklesimer added 14 yards on six attempts.

For the game, the Dawgs had 435 yards of total offense.

For the Bears, Servey finished with 129 yards on 36 carries. Junior Moe Cobb added 92 yards on 15 attempts.

Eppler was 5-of-6 for 85 yards.

Jefferson ended with 284 total yards.

In the aftermath of Friday's last second win, Brigham and Cooper reflected on what they and their teammates had just accomplished.

With the victory, Chelsea set a school record for wins in a season and has now advanced farther in the state playoffs than any other Bulldog team in history.

"This is one of the best feelings I've ever had," Brigham said.

Cooper concurred.

"There's nothing else like it, nothing else in the world," he said. "It's the greatest moment of my life."

Defending state champ Harrison awaits Chelsea

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Welcome to the big time, Chelsea.

Saturday, the unbeaten Bulldogs travel to Farmington Hills Harrison to tangle with the Hawks (11-0) in a Division III state football playoff regional final. Kickoff is scheduled for 1 p.m.

The winner advances to the state semifinals at a site still to be announced.

In Harrison, ranked No. 1 in Division III, Chelsea faces not only a strong opponent, but also a formidable program.

With an .821 winning percentage, the Hawks have the most successful prep football program of any high school in Michigan during the last 30 years.

Harrison has won three consecutive state titles and a Michigan High School Athletic Association record 10 championships overall since the MHSAA began its football tournament in 1975.

The Hawks have competed in 13 state final games over that period and have won six of the last seven state championships in its division.

On top of that, Harrison's coach, John Herrington, in his 31st season, is fifth all-time in Michigan with 282 victories.

Last week, the Hawks destroyed a quality Allen Park squad, 46-7.

The Jaguars came into the game, 9-1 overall, but were no match for the explosive Hawks.

Harrison was so far ahead that a running clock was used in the second half.

The Hawks are averaging 42 points per game and giving up just seven. For the year, they have scored 469 points and allowed 76.

The least amount of points Harrison has scored in any one game is 28. The most it's allowed is 14 points, twice.

The Hawks, Western Lakes Activities Association champions, possess the most team speed Chelsea has faced all season.

"They really don't have any weakness," said Chelsea coach Brad Bush. "Their team speed is outstanding.

"We're going to have to play our game and hopefully have a chance to win it in the fourth quarter."

To do that, the Bulldogs will have to play their best game defensively. Any missed assignments or tackles and Harrison can take it the distance.

The Hawks are young, but talented.

Agim Shabaj (5-foot-10, 185 pounds) is the top weapon in an arsenal of firepower for Harrison.

Last week against Allen Park, Shabaj, who possesses 4.4 speed, scored three touchdowns.

His first was on a 46-yard reverse play. His second was on a 16-yard run and his third on a 67-yard interception return for a score.

The junior is a multiple threat for Harrison lining up at quarterback, running back and receiver throughout the game.

For the year he has thrown for

Augustine, Moffett and Hack finished fourth. The "B" relay of Tschirhart, Armstrong, Broshar and Bassett placed 11th.

Earning All-White Division honors for Chelsea in relays were the Bulldogs' "A" foursomes.

Individually, Hack in the 100 and 200 freestyles, Armstrong in the 200 IM, Ashley Augustine in the 50 freestyle and 100 backstroke, Moffett in the 500 freestyle and Alise Augustine in the 100 breaststroke each earned All-White honors for Chelsea.

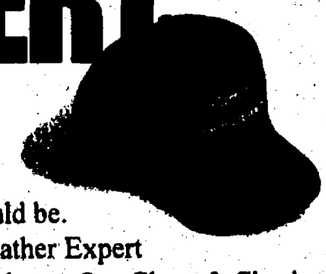

The Bulldogs next compete in the state meet Nov. 17 through 18 in Holland, Mich.

Champion gymnasts awarded third at Judges Cup

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Despite difficult standards and top-notch competition, the Champion Gymnastics club rose above the fray to finish third at the prestigious Judges Cup Sectional held at Eastern Michigan University Oct. 28 through 29.

Champion, a Washtenaw County-based youth club dedicated to providing gymnastics training for girls and boys ages 2 through 18, continues to make its mark on the statewide gymnastics scene as it tunes up for the state finals later this year.

The club, which competes in Levels 5 and 6, was awarded a third-place finish in both divisions at EMU. In youth gymnastics, athletes can compete in levels as high as 10.

Despite not capturing first place, Champion officials came away pleased.

"The judging was tough but the girls performed well," said Terri Marks, Champion office manager and organizer. "The girls would have liked higher scores, but the judging was difficult."

In Level 5 competition, earning all-around medals in the 9 to 11 age group were Mari Couasnon, Carly Dalton, Kristine Hintz, Chelsea Larsen and Brittney Psychas.

In the 7 to 8 age group, first and second place all-around medals went to Christine Coffman and Rebecca Pape.

Level 5 gymnasts also performing well during the high-profile competition were Emily Bednar, Ellissa Black, Emily Black, Mary Cebula, Cassie Coffman, Camille Hanks, Stacie McCartt, Raechel Pape, Eleanor Stewart and Cassie Vincke in the 9 to 11 age group.

In the 12-years-and-older age group, Sarah Gilley and Alyse Seedott earned special mention for their standout efforts.

In Level 6, all Champion gymnasts received medals.

In the 7 to 11 age group, medalists were Lisa Hoeft on bars, Rachel Marks on bars, beam and all-around, and Alexandra Miller on bars, beam, floor and all-around.

In the 12 to 14 age group, Marissa Garza medaled on vault, beam, floor and all-around. Ashley Newvine medaled on vault, bars, beam, floor and all-around.

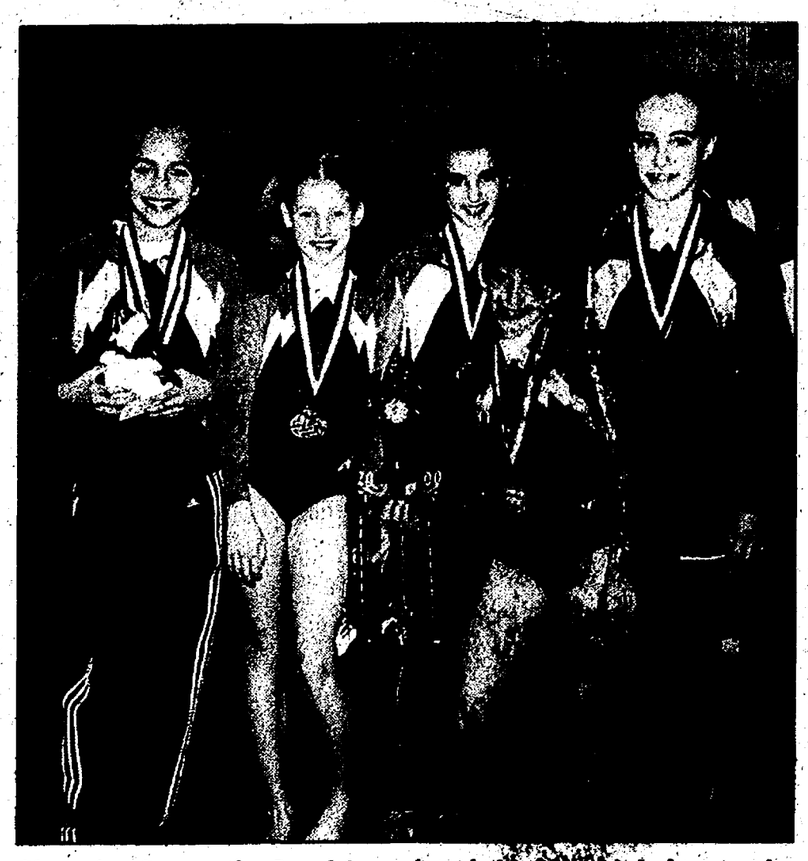

Next up for Champion will be the Kaleidoscope Gym Sectional in Port Huron Nov. 11. Six members of the Level 5 group will compete in the meet.

The Kaleidoscope is the last sectional before the state competition, Dec. 2 through 3 in Battle Creek.

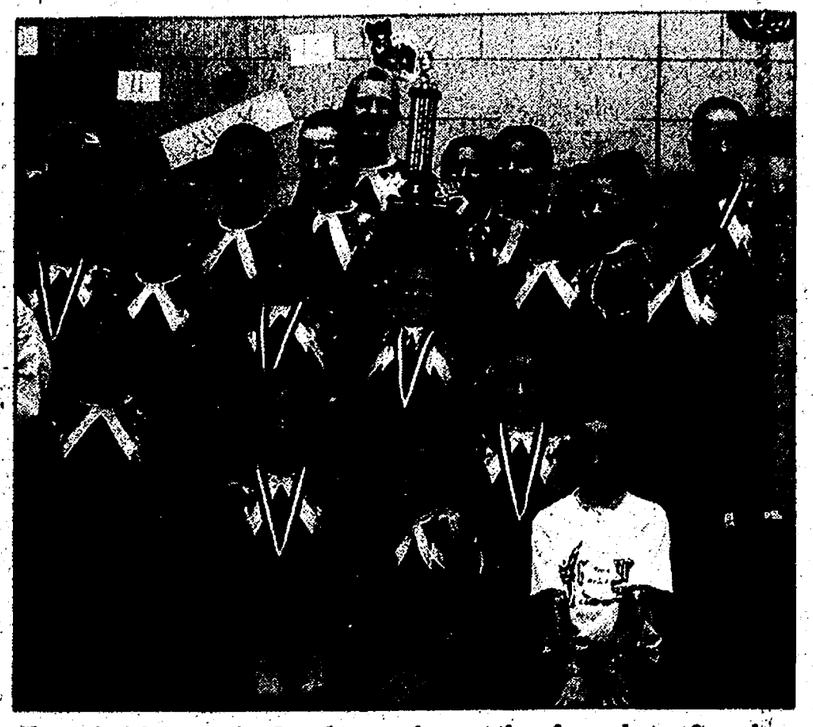

Marks said Port Huron is important for Champion Level 5 because it's the last time members from that unit can qualify for Battle Creek.

After Port Huron, the entire Champion club will travel to Muskegon to take part in the Sand Cassell Classic, Nov. 18 through 19.

According to Marks, Sand Cassell is more of a warm-up for the squad before the state meet. It is not a sectional.

Champion Gymnastics Level 6 members hold their third-place trophy after competing in the Judges Cup Sectional meet at Eastern Michigan University. Members are Marissa Garza (left), Alexandra Miller, Lisa Hoeft, Rachel Marks and Ashley Newvine.

Champion Gymnastics Level 5 members gather for a photo after placing third at the Judges Cup Sectional at Eastern Michigan University. Members in the front row are Cassie Vincke (left), Chelsea Larsen, Emily Black, Brittney Psychas and Stacie McCartt. In the second row are Carly Dalton (left), Eleanor Stewart, Christina Coffman and Rebecca Pape. In the third row are Sarah Gilley (left), Camille Hanks, Ellissa Black, Cassie Coffman, Rachel Pape and Emily Bednar. In the back row are Alyse Seedlott (left), Mari Couasnon, Mary Cebula and Kristine Hintz.

Prior to EMU, Champion Level 5 placed third and Level 6 placed second at a sectional in Hartland in mid-October.

Champion's season began Oct. 7 and ends after the state meet.

After Battle Creek, the club takes a hiatus until January, when training resumes once again.

JV basketball rips Lincoln

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Behind Julia Arnold's 12 points, the Chelsea JV girls' basketball team defeated Ypsilanti Lincoln, 38-24, last Thursday.

The Railsplitters actually led after on quarter, 8-7. But the Bulldogs outscored Ypsilanti 9-4 in the second frame to take a 16-12 lead into the locker room.

In the third quarter Chelsea blew the game wide open, outscoring Lincoln, 12-2.

Both teams tied in the fourth and final stanza, 10-10, for the final tally.

Chelsea overcame poor field goal shooting (27 percent) and free throw shooting (32 percent) to record victory No. 17 on the season against just one loss.

In Southeastern Conference play, the Bulldogs are a perfect 5-0 with one game remaining.

Besides Arnold, Chelsea was paced by Anna Arend with six points and Julie Inwood, Courtney Bentley and Tracy Carter with five points each.

Rounding out the Bulldog scoring were Sarah Brigham with three points and Jenelle Vlcek with two points.

Arend led the defense with three steals.

Chelsea tops rival Dexter

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

The Chelsea seventh-grade girls' basketball squad ended its season on a winning note last week, defeating rival Dexter, 13-10.

The Bulldogs came back from an 8-4 halftime deficit to outscore Dexter, 9-2, in the second half.

A 6-0 third quarter run by Chelsea (8-4) was the difference in the game.

Hannah Myers led the way for the Dawgs with four points.

Shannon Olinyk and Tawny McSweeney each added three points, while Haley Eder chipped in with two points.

Rachel Severin got into the scoring book, draining an important foul shot.

According to Chelsea coach Ann Schaffner, Emily Woodruff's return from an injury in the second half sparked the Bulldogs in their comeback.

On the boards, Kat Fitzgerald hauled down four rebounds and Kara Reed and Rachel Vreeland had three each to pace Chelsea.

Vreeland also led the defense with four steals.

According to Schaffner, other team members who contributed to the Bulldogs' fine season were Jackie Daane, Kelly Jo Milliken, Jenny Carty, Ariel Scheppers, April Adams, Mary Mahoney, Katherine Lixey, Sarah Iverson and Meghan Grau.

"It was a joy to coach these girls and I look forward to their continued play in the Chelsea girls' basketball program," Schaffner said.

322 yards and four touchdowns; rushed for 316 yards and three scores; caught 26 passes for 563 yards and eight touchdowns and returned 12 punts for 228 yards and a TD.

If teams manage to control Shabaj, they still have to contend with Marcus Woods (5-7, 165 pounds).

The sophomore tailback (4.5 speed) had 141 yards on 16 carries a week ago.

For the season, Woods has rushed for 1,098 yards on 132 attempts. He has crossed the goal line 19 times and has TD runs of 71, 53 and 43 yards to his credit this year.

Out of the backfield he has caught 10 passes for 189 yards and three touchdowns.

Harrison's quarterback, when Shabaj isn't inserted, is junior Drew Stanton (6-3, 180 pounds).

The first-year transfer from Oregon was 11-of-19 for 118 yards last week against Allen Park.

For the season, he is 65-of-90 for 1,262-yards with 17 TDs and three interceptions.

He has thrown for four TDs in a game twice this year with a season-high 203 yards passing. He has completed 72.2 percent of his passes in 2000.

Other weapons for the Hawks on offense include junior fullback Jason Reed (5-10, 230 pounds), the team's strongest player, and senior Will Pyant (6-5, 230 pounds) at tight end.

Upfront, Harrison isn't unusually big, but the Hawks are disciplined and quick.

Defensively, Shabaj, Stanton and Terrill Mayberry (5-11, 155 pounds) lead from the secondary.

Last week, that unit picked off four passes.

Junior Aaron Kennedy (6-1, 225 pounds), senior Marcus Mencotti (5-10, 175 pounds) and Pyant control things in the trenches.

Senior Tim Doig (6-2, 190 pounds) is the top linebacker.

Despite all that offensive and defensive power, Herrington knows Chelsea will be a different ballgame.

"Next week is going to be a real challenge," he said, as quoted in VarsityOnline. "I'm not entirely surprised with what we've done so far, but there are always traps out there and Chelsea could be one."

The Bulldogs come into Saturday's game brimming with confidence.

With its last-second 35-28 win over Monroe Jefferson last Friday, Chelsea (11-0) set a school record for most victories in a season.

The win also advanced the Dawgs farther into the state playoffs than any team in school history.

While Harrison's offense is potent, it's no match for Chelsea's.

The Bulldogs have scored 518 points this season. That total is 16th highest all-time according to MHSAA records.

On defense, Chelsea has allowed 203 points.

The Dawgs are averaging 47 points per game and giving up 18 points.

Senior quarterback Chris Brigham comes into Saturday's showdown 96-of-141 for 1,932 yards and 26 touchdowns. He has thrown just three interceptions.

Senior wide receiver Tony Scheffler leads the team with 62 receptions for 1,304 yards and 16 TDs.

Scheffler's 1,304 yards are second all-time in MHSAA history.

The record is held by Ferndale's Elvin Jones, now starting at the University of Minnesota. Jones accumulated 1,424 yards in 11 games in 1996.

On the ground, senior Chris Cooper leads with 976 yards on 129 attempts. He has scored 13 TDs.

Senior Cory Pickelsimer has added 575 yards on 47 carries and nine TDs.

With so many different players capable of making big gains, the Bulldogs are difficult to defend.

Being hard to predict is what Bush hopes will give Chelsea an advantage Saturday against the Hawks.

"What we have going for us is that we are a balanced team," he said. "I don't think they've faced a team as balanced as us.

"But, on the other hand, we haven't faced a team as balanced as them."

When asked if his team might be in awe of the traditionally strong Harrison program, Bush said, "I hope not. I think our guys know we can play with anybody.

"We're going to go down there and give it our best shot."

Saturday will be the first time this season Chelsea will play an afternoon game.

Harrison has played half of its games during the day.

"That might give them an advantage," Bush said. "It will be a whole different challenge for us.

"But I told the guys it doesn't matter if we play them in the morning, afternoon or night. We will be ready to play."

LOVING HOMES NEEDED

Jackie - Log Number 64463
Jackie is a Shepherd mix about one year old. She arrived stray October 3rd. Jackie is 60 pounds of love, play, and loyalty, and she's just waiting for a family to share her life. If her family doesn't come for her soon, perhaps a family like yours can fill that void for her?

Max - Log Number 64485

Renovations under way at store

Construction won't interrupt holiday shoppers.

By Will Keeler
Staff Writer

Nails, sawdust, and the noise of a saw line some of the walls at Dayspring Gifts.

However, in the coming weeks, customers should start to see some of the improvements.

"I'm excited about the possibilities of the new renovations, said Mil Amundsen, Dayspring Gifts store manager.

Construction on the store started in August, a couple of months after Paul Ungrodt, president of Indeation, bought the store from local merchant Doris Perry.

Perry, whose in her late 80s, had previously ran a five-and-dime store for years, and has since retired to the state of Washington.

Tom Ungrodt, Paul's son and Ideation vice president, says the store is looking great.

In the past three months, workers have refurbished the stock room and tore out an old restroom and moved the office.

"Moving the office will allow us to open up more of the selling floor," Ungrodt said.

Amundsen said that he probably would stock frames and other current merchandise where the office once was located.

"We recarpeted the stockroom and moved some of the shelving to accommodate for more space."

Phase 2, which includes detailing the front end of the store, has been completed.

Construction focused on putting in a brick storefront, installing windows and an awning.

The awning should be installed within the next two weeks, Ungrodt said.

The second phase will enhance the overall appearance of the store, he added.

Once the windows were installed, Amundsen said, it really brightened things up.

Most customers haven't been bothered by the construction, he added.

"Customers have been curious and excited about what's going on," he said.

Construction should be out of the way for holiday shopping when the third phase gets under way.

Mil Amundsen, Dayspring Gifts store manager stands outside the newly renovated gift shop. New windows were recentlyinstalled.

"Most of the construction will be upstairs and out of the way for holiday shoppers," Amundsen said.

The third phase will entail renovating the upstairs of the building. It will include construction of three apartments, Ungrodt said.

Some of the rooftop apartments will have a deck.

Ungrodt said that he hopes to add additional apartments upstairs and extend the store back into the alley as part of the fourth phase.

Heavenly inspiration

Local woman finds artistic side after family tragedy

By Lisa Allmendinger
Staff Writer

Seven years ago, Sandy Crews' husband died suddenly, leaving her with three children to support.

"When he died, everything stopped. I just thank God I live in this community called Dexter," she says.

The community pitched in to help, and the homemaker went to work cleaning homes. But deep in her heart was a passion — a passion for making dolls.

"I kept telling myself: 'Some day the dolls will take off and support my family,' " she says.

Crews' dream may become a reality thanks to the efforts of her daughter, who brought one of the dolls into Elaine's Gallery in Dexter.

Elaine Barber, owner of the gallery, wasn't there at the time but remembers one of her associates telling her how wonderful the creations were.

"She popped in again," Barber says, "and I was elated."

And with that introduction, Crews' dolls made an appearance in the gallery window.

"I have the exclusive," Barber says. "She picks such wonderful fabric and there is a great sense of humor."

In addition to the newest exhibit of Santa elves, Crews has other whimsical doll creations in the store.

"Making them takes my sorrow away," she says.

The owner of Fairy Feathers, Crews puts 20 to 25 hours of work into each doll.

"Anyone can make Santas," she says. "I wanted to do something different, something that could be left out all year long."

And that's just what she has done.

Yes, Crews does make Santa elves, but not the kind you need to put away once the season is over. She offers elves dressed in bikinis. Some are dressed as butterflies and others as leopards. She'll also take orders.

The elves are 14 inches to 30 inches tall and range in price from $70 to $200.

"Each one is unique," Crews says.

Upon their completion, the whimsical figures lived in Crews' bedroom. There were more than two dozen of them, but now that they're at the gallery, Crews says her bedroom seems empty.

Barber says the dolls are a wonderful addition to her store. An open house showcasing them was held Nov. 4 and 5.

"It makes me happy to think that someone would buy one of my dolls," Crew says. "I keep saying that I'll keep one for me, but it never happens."

CAPPING FRONT TEETH

If you'd like to improve the appearance of your front teeth because they are chipped, stained or have old-looking fillings, ask your dentist if he would recommend capping. Your front teeth are the first thing people see when you open your mouth to talk or smile. You want them to look as attractive as possible. If the teeth are in good alignment and your gums are healthy, your dentist may suggest two alternatives for capping the teeth in which porcelain will be used. One is veneer bonding; the other is porcelain-fused-to-metal crowns.

Both have advantages, but your dentist's recommendation will depend on the condition of your teeth. Capping your front teeth with porcelain-fused-to-metal has the advantage of strength as well as pleasing appearance. Veneer bonding will give your teeth a natural look, will cover old stained fillings, but will not be as long lasting. They will consume less chair time and therefore be more affordable.

The amount of the principal installments and the payment dates of the principal and interest on the Series 2000 Bonds may be changed without further action by the Village Council to the principal amounts and the dates specified on the Purchase Contract hereinafter mentioned as finally accepted and executed as provided in this Section 5.

So long as the Series 2000 Bonds are owned by the Authority, the Series 2000 Bonds shall bear additional interest as follows: In the event of a default in the payment of principal or interest on the Series 2000 Bonds when due, whether at maturity, by redemption or otherwise, the amount of such default shall bear interest (the "additional interest") at a rate equal to the rate of interest which is one percent above the Authority's cost of providing funds (as determined by the Authority) to make payment on the bonds of the Authority issued to provide funds to purchase the Series 2000 Bonds but in no event in excess of the maximum rate of interest permitted by law. The additional interest shall continue to accrue until the Authority has been fully reimbursed for all costs incurred by the Authority (as determined by the Authority) as a consequence of the Issuer's default. Such additional interest shall be payable on the interest payment date following demand of the Authority. In the event that (for reasons other than the default in the payment of any municipal obligation purchased by the Authority) the investment of amounts in the reserve account established by the Authority for the bonds of the Authority issued to provide funds to purchase the Series 2000 Bonds, fails to provide sufficient available funds (together with any other funds which may be made available for such purpose) to pay the interest on outstanding bonds of the Authority issued to fund such account, the Issuer shall and hereby agrees to pay on demand only the Issuer's pro rata share (as determined by the Authority) of such deficiency as additional interest on the Series 2000 Bonds.

The Series 2000 Bond shall be issued in fully-registered form and shall not be convertible or exchangeable except as herein provided. So long as the Authority is the owner thereof, the Series 2000 Bonds is payable as to principal and interest at the principal corporate trust office of the bank or trust company designated in writing by the Authority, or at such other place as shall be designated in writing to the Issuer by the Authority (the "Authority's Depository"), and the Issuer agrees that it will deposit with the Authority's Depository payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest on the Series 2000 Bonds in immediately available funds at least five (5) business days prior to the date on which any such payment is due, whether by maturity, redemption or otherwise. If the Series 2000 Bond is transferred by the Authority, interest shall be paid by check or draft mailed by the transfer agent selected by the Village Treasurer to the person or entity who or which is, as of the 15th day of the month preceding the interest payment date, the registered owner at the registered address as shown on the registration books maintained by the transfer agent. The date of determination of registered owner for purposes of payment of interest as provided in this paragraph may be changed by the Issuer to conform to market practice in the future. If the Authority transfers the Series 2000 Bond, the principal of the Series 2000 Bond shall be payable upon presentation and surrender of the Series 2000 Bond at the bank or trust company designated by the Village Treasurer as registrar and transfer agent for this issue.

The Series 2000 Bonds shall be sold to the Authority pursuant to a Purchase Contract substantially in the form of Exhibit A attached hereto at not less than 95% of their par value and at a net interest cost not to exceed 8.0% per annum.

The form of Purchase Contract between the Issuer and the Authority, attached hereto as Exhibit A, and on file with the Village Clerk, is hereby approved.

The Village President, the Village Clerk, the Village Manager, and the Village Treasurer or any of them, are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the Purchase Contract in the form approved, with such changes and insertions in such documents as may be necessary or desirable, permitted by law and not materially adverse to the Issuer.

The Village President, the Village Manager and the Village Clerk, or any of them, each is hereby authorized to accept or reject the interest rates and purchase price offered by the Authority, subject to the limitations contained herein.

The Series 2000 Bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity and notice of redemption shall be given in the manner as provided in the form of the Series 2000 Bonds set forth in this Ordinance. The date of first redemption may be adjusted by the Issuer to a date that is not more than one year earlier or nine years later than the date provided in this Ordinance without further action by the Village Council and as evidenced by execution of the Series 2000 Bonds by the Village President and the Village Clerk.

Section 6. Execution of Series 2000 Bonds. The Series 2000 Bonds shall be signed by the manual or facsimile signature of the Village President and countersigned by the manual or facsimile signature of the Village Clerk and shall have the corporate seal of the Issuer impressed or printed thereon. The Series 2000 Bonds shall be delivered to the Authority in accordance with instructions from the Treasurer or any deputy upon payment of the purchase price for the Series 2000 Bonds in accordance with the Purchase Contract. A Series 2000 Bond executed with the manual signatures of the Village President and the Village Clerk is effective upon execution and delivery. A Series 2000 Bond executed with the facsimile signatures of the Village President and Village Clerk shall not be valid or obligatory for any purpose until the transfer agent's Certificate of Authentication has been executed. If the Authority transfers the Series 2000 Bonds, the Issuer shall cause replacement bonds to be printed, authenticated and delivered to the transferee thereof in accordance with instructions from the Village Treasurer, and such bonds shall be executed with the facsimile or manual signatures of the Village President and the Village Clerk and the seal of the Issuer shall be impressed or imprinted thereon. Executed blank bonds for registration and issuance to transferees shall simultaneously, and from time to time thereafter as necessary, be delivered to the transfer agent for safekeeping.

Section 7. Registration and Transfer. Any Bond may be transferred upon the books required to be kept pursuant to this section by the person in whose name it is registered, in person or by the registered owner's duly authorized attorney, upon surrender of the Bond for cancellation, accompanied by delivery of a duly executed written instrument of transfer in a form approved by the transfer agent. Whenever any Bond or Bonds shall be surrendered for transfer, the Issuer shall execute and the transfer agent shall authenticate and deliver a new Bond or Bonds, for like aggregate principal amount. The transfer agent shall require payment by the bondholder requesting the transfer of any tax or other governmental charge required to be paid with respect to the transfer. The Issuer shall not be required (i) to issue, register the transfer of or exchange any Bond during a period beginning at the opening of business 15 days before the day of the giving of a notice of redemption of Bonds selected for redemption as described in the form of Series 2000 Bonds contained in Section 13 of this Ordinance and ending at the close of business on the day of that giving of notice, or (ii) to register the transfer of or exchange any Bond so selected for redemption in whole or in part, except the unredeemed portion of Bonds being redeemed in part. The Issuer shall give the transfer agent notice of call for redemption at least 20 days prior to the date notice of redemption is to be given.

The transfer agent shall keep or cause to be kept at its principal office sufficient books for the registration and transfer of the Bonds, which shall at all times be open to inspection by the Issuer; and upon presentation for such purpose the transfer agent shall under such reasonable regulations as it may prescribe transfer or cause to be transferred on said books Bonds as hereinbefore provided.

If any Bond shall become mutilated, the Issuer, at the expense of the holder of the Bond, shall execute, and the transfer agent shall authenticate and deliver, a new Bond of like tenor in exchange and substitution for the mutilated Bond, upon surrender to the transfer agent of the mutilated Bond. If any Bond issued under this Ordinance shall be lost, destroyed or stolen, evidence of the loss, destruction or theft may be submitted to the transfer agent and, if this evidence is satisfactory to both and indemnity satisfactory to the transfer agent shall be given, and if all requirements of any applicable law including Act 354, Public Acts of Michigan, 1972, as amended ("Act 354"), being sections 129.131 to 129.135, inclusive, of the Michigan Compiled Laws have been met, the Issuer, at the expense of the owner, shall execute, and the transfer agent shall thereupon authenticate and deliver, a new Bond of like tenor and bearing the statement required by Act 354, or any applicable law hereafter enacted, in lieu of and in substitution for the Bond so lost, destroyed or stolen. If any such Bond shall have matured or shall be about to mature, instead of issuing a substitute Bond the transfer agent may pay the same without surrender thereof.

Section 8. Payment of Series 2000 Bonds; Security; Priority of Lien. Principal of and interest on the Series 2000 Bonds shall be payable from the Net Revenues. There is hereby recognized the statutory lien upon the whole of the Net Revenues created by this Ordinance which shall be a lien that is junior and subordinate to the lien on the Senior Lien Bonds created by the Prior Ordinance to continue until payment in full of the principal of and interest on all Bonds payable from the Net Revenues, or until sufficient cash or Sufficient Government Obligations have been deposited in trust for payment in full of all Bonds of a series then outstanding, principal and interest on such Bonds to maturity, or, if called for redemption, to the date fixed for redemption together with the amount of the redemption premium, if any. Upon deposit of cash or Sufficient Government Obligations, as provided in the previous sentence, the statutory lien shall be terminated with respect to that series of Bonds, the holders of that series shall have no further rights under the Prior Ordinance or this Ordinance except for payment from the deposited funds, and the Bonds of that series shall no longer be considered to be outstanding under the Prior Ordinance or this Ordinance.

In addition, the Series 2000 Bonds being sold to the Authority, pursuant to Section 7 of Act 94 the Issuer hereby pledges its limited tax full faith and credit for the payment of the principal of and interest on the Series 2000 Bonds. Should the Net Revenues of the System at any time be insufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the Series 2000 Bonds as the same become due, then the Issuer shall advance from any funds legally available therefor, or, if necessary levy taxes upon all taxable property in the Issuer such sums as may be necessary to pay such principal and interest; provided, however, that such levy shall be subject to constitutional and statutory tax rate limitations. The Issuer shall be reimbursed for any such advance from the Net Revenues of the System subsequently received that have not been otherwise pledged or encumbered by this Ordinance or the Prior Ordinance.

Section 9. Management. The operation, repair and management of the System and the acquiring of the Project shall continue to be under the supervision and control of the Village Council.

Section 10. Rates and Charges; No Free Service. The rates and charges for service furnished by the System and the methods of collection and enforcement of the collection of the rates shall be those in effect on the date of adoption of this Ordinance. No free service or use of the System, or service or use of the System at less than cost, shall be furnished by the System to any person, firm, or corporation, public or private, or to any public agency or instrumentality, including the Issuer.

Section 11. Funds and Accounts; Flow of Funds; Amendment of Prior Ordinance. Section 13(A) of the Prior Ordinance is hereby amended as follows:

(a) The following subsection is added after subsection (2):

(2a) Junior Lien Bond and Interest Redemption Fund Account. There is hereby established a separate account known as the SERIES 2000 JUNIOR LIEN BONDS BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND ACCOUNT (the "Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund"). After the transfers required in (1) and (2) above, Revenues shall be withdrawn at least quarterly (except as otherwise provided in this paragraph) from the Receiving Fund, before any other expenditures or transfers therefrom, and set aside in and transferred to the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund for payment of principal of and interest on the Series 2000 Bonds. There shall be set aside each Fiscal Year quarter on or after December 1, 2000 an amount not less than 1/2 of the amount of interest due on the next interest payment date of the Series 2000 Bonds. There shall also be set aside each Fiscal Year quarter on or after December 1, 2001 an amount not less than 1/4 of the amount of principal due on the next principal payment date. Except as hereinafter provided, no further deposits shall be made into the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund once the aforesaid sums have been deposited therein. Any amount on deposit in the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund in excess of (a) the amount needed for payment of principal installments of the Series 2000 Bonds for the then current principal payment period, plus (b) interest on the Series 2000 Bonds for the then current interest payment period, shall be used by the Issuer for redemption of the Series 2000 Bonds in the manner set forth in Section 13 hereof, or if such use is impracticable, shall be deposited in or credited to the Receiving Fund.

If for any reason there is a failure to make such quarterly deposit in the amounts required, then the entire amount of the deficiency shall be set aside and deposited in the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund out of the Revenues first received thereafter which are not required by this Ordinance or the Prior Ordinance to be deposited in the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund or the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund, which amount shall be in addition to the regular quarterly deposit required during such succeeding quarter or quarters.

No further payments need to be made into the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund after enough of the Series 2000 Bonds have been retired so that the amount then held in the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund is equal of the entire amount of principal and interest which will be payable at the time of maturity of all the Series 2000 Bonds then remaining outstanding.

The moneys in the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund shall be invested in accordance with Section 15 of the Prior Ordinance and profit realized or income earned on such investment shall be used or transferred as provided in Section 15 of the Prior Ordinance.

(b) Subsection (3), Subsection (4) and Subsection (5) of the Prior Ordinance are amended to read as follows:

(3) Replacement Fund. There is hereby established and shall be maintained a separate depositary account designated REPLACEMENT FUND (the "Replacement Fund"), the money credited thereto to be used solely for the purpose of making repairs and replacements to the System. Out of the moneys of the System remaining in the Receiving Fund each quarter after provision has been made for the deposit of moneys in the Operation and Maintenance Fund, the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) and the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund, there may be deposited in the Replacement Fund such additional funds as the Village Council may deem advisable. If at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in the Replacement Fund for the purpose of which the Replacement Fund was established, the moneys so used shall be replaced from any moneys in the Receiving Fund which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) or the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund.

(4) Improvement Fund. Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, after meeting the requirements of the Operation and Maintenance Fund, the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund and the Replacement Fund, there may be next set aside in or credited to a fund to be designated IMPROVEMENT FUND (the "Improvement Fund"), such sums quarterly as the Village Council may deem advisable to be used for additions, improvements, enlargements or extensions to the System, including the planning thereof.

(5) Reverse Flow of Funds; Surplus Moneys. In the event the moneys in the Receiving Fund are insufficient to provide for the current requirements of the Operation and Maintenance Fund, the Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund, the Replacement Fund, or the Improvement Fund, any moneys and/or securities in the funds of the System established by this Ordinance shall be transferred, first, to the Operation and Maintenance Fund, second, to the Redemption Fund, third, to the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund, fourth, to the Replacement Fund, and fifth, to the Improvement Fund.

Section 12. Bond Proceeds. The proceeds of the sale of the Series 2000 Bonds as received by the Issuer shall be deposited in a bank or banks designated by the Village Treasurer qualified to act as depository of the proceeds of sale under the provisions of Section 15 of Act 94 in an account designated 2000 WATER PROJECT CONSTRUCTION FUND (the "Construction Fund"). Moneys in the Construction Fund shall be applied solely in payment of the cost of the Project and any engineering, legal and other expenses incident thereto and to the financing thereof, and shall be fully expended on Project costs within three years after the date of delivery of the Series 2000 Bonds. Payments for construction, either on account or otherwise, shall not be made unless the registered engineer in charge of such work shall file with the Village Council a signed statement to the effect that the work has been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor; that it was done pursuant to and in accordance with the contract therefor (including properly authorized change orders), that such work is satisfactory and that such work has not been previously paid for.

Any unexpended balance of the proceeds of sale of the Series 2000 Bonds remaining in the Construction Fund after completion of the Project shall, in the discretion of the Village Council, be used either for further improvements, enlargements and extension to the System, if, at the time of such expenditures, such use is approved by the Michigan Department of Treasury, if such permission is then required by law, or for the purpose of purchasing Series 2000 Bonds on the open market at not more than the fair market value thereof, but not more than the price at which Series 2000 Bonds may next be called for redemption, or used for the purpose of paying principal of the Series 2000 Bonds upon maturity or calling Series 2000 Bonds for redemption.

Section 13. Bond Form. The Series 2000 Bonds shall be in substantially the following form with such changes or completion as necessary or appropriate to give effect to the intent of this Ordinance:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF MICHIGAN
COUNTY OF WASHTENAW
VILLAGE OF CHELSEA
2000 WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM REVENUE BOND
(JUNIOR LIEN) (GENERAL OBLIGATION LIMITED TAX)

REGISTERED OWNER: Michigan Municipal Bond Authority
PRINCIPAL AMOUNT: _____ Dollars ($___,000)
DATE OF ORIGINAL ISSUE: _____, 2000

The VILLAGE OF CHELSEA, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan (the "Village"), for value received, hereby promises to pay, but only out of the hereinafter described Net Revenues of the Village's Water Supply System (hereinafter defined), to the Registered Owner specified above, in lawful money of the United States of America on the dates and in the principal installment amounts set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof, unless prepaid prior thereto as hereinafter provided, with interest on said installments from the date hereof each installment of principal is delivered to the Village, until paid, at the interest rate shown for each principal installment on Exhibit A attached hereto, payable on _____ 1, ____ and semiannually thereafter. During the time funds are being drawn down by the Village, the Authority will periodically provide the Village a statement showing the amount of principal that has been advanced and the date of each advance, which statement shall constitute prima facie evidence of the reported information; provided that no failure on the part of the Authority to provide such a statement or to reflect a disbursement or the correct amount of a disbursement shall relieve the Village of its obligation to repay the outstanding principal amount actually advanced, all accrued interest thereon, and any other amount payable with respect thereto in accordance with the terms of this bond.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this bond, as long as the Authority is the owner of this bond, (a) this bond is payable as to principal, premium, if any, and interest at the designated office of _____ or at such other place as shall be designated in writing to the Village by the Authority (the "Authority's Depository"); (b) the Village agrees that it will deposit with the Authority's Depository payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on this bond in immediately available funds at least five business days prior to the date on which any such payment is due whether by maturity, redemption or otherwise; and (c) written notice of any redemption of this bond shall be given by the Village and received by the Authority's Depository at least 40 days prior to the date on which such redemption is to be made.

In the event of a default in the payment of principal or interest hereon when due, whether at maturity, by redemption or otherwise, the amount of such default shall bear interest (the "additional interest") at a rate equal to the rate of interest which is two percent above the Authority's cost of providing funds (as determined by the Authority) to make payment on the bonds of the Authority, if any, issued to provide funds to purchase this bond but in no event in excess of the maximum rate of interest permitted by law. The additional interest shall continue to accrue until the Authority has been fully reimbursed for all costs incurred by the Authority (as determined by the Authority) as a consequence of the Village's default. Such additional interest shall be payable on the interest payment date following demand of the Authority. In the event that (for reasons other than the default in the payment of any municipal obligation purchased by the Authority) the investment of amounts in the reserve account established by the Authority for the bonds, if any, of the Authority issued to provide funds to purchase this bond, fails to provide sufficient available funds (together with any other funds which may be made available for such purpose) to pay the interest on outstanding bonds of the Authority issued to fund such account, the Village shall and hereby agrees to pay on demand only the Village's pro rata share (as determined by the Authority) of such deficiency as additional interest on this bond.

This bond or any portion thereof is subject to redemption by the Village prior to maturity at any time at par plus accrued interest to the date of redemption by the Village but only with the prior written consent of the Authority and only on such terms as may be required by the Authority.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the registered owner by mailing of such notice not less than forty-five (45) days prior to the date fixed for redemption to the address of the registered owner as shown on the registration books of the Village. No further interest on this bond or portion thereof called redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the Village has money available for such redemption.

In case less than the full amount of this bond is called for redemption the registered owner shall confirm in writing the amount and date of the prepayment.

This bond is a single fully-registered bond representing an entire series of bonds aggregating the principal sum of $6,185,000. However, should the Authority transfer this bond, then the Authority direct the Village to cause fully-registered bonds to be issued in exchange for this bond, denominated in integral multiples of $5,000, not exceeding for each maturity the aggregate principal amount of each principal installment. The replacement bonds shall be dated as of delivery to the original transferee and numbered in order of registration.

For prompt payment of principal and interest on this bond, the Village has irrevocably pledged the revenues of the Water Supply System of the Village, including all appurtenances, extensions and improvements thereto (the "Water Supply System"), after provision has been made for reasonable and necessary expenses of operation, maintenance and administration (the "Net Revenues"), and a statutory second lien thereon is hereby recognized and created, subject to the prior lien of the 1995 Water Supply System Revenue Bonds (the "Outstanding Bonds") of the Village and of any additional bonds of the Village of equal standing and priority of lien with the Outstanding Bonds.

This bond is a single, fully-registered, non-convertible bond in the principal sum indicated above issued pursuant to Ordinance No. 119 and Ordinance No. 119-A duly adopted by the Village Council of the Village, and under and in full compliance with the Constitution and statutes of the State of Michigan, including specifically Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, for the purpose of paying part of the cost of acquiring and constructing additions, extensions and improvements to the Water Supply System.

For a complete statement of the revenues from which and the conditions under which this bond is payable, a statement of the conditions under which additional bonds of superior standing and of equal standing may hereafter be issued and the general covenants and provisions pursuant to which this bond is issued, reference is made to the above-described Ordinances.

This bond is primarily a self-liquidating bond, payable, both as to principal and interest, primarily from the Net Revenues of the Water Supply System. The principal of and interest on this bond are secured by the statutory lien hereinbefore mentioned. As additional security, the Village has pledged its limited tax full faith and credit for payment of the principal of and interest on this bond. In the event the Net Revenues of the Water Supply System are insufficient to pay principal of and interest on this bond when due, the Village shall advance sufficient monies to make such payment from its general funds or, if necessary, from ad valorem taxes levied on all property in the Village subject to taxation; provided however, that such levy shall be subject to constitutional and statutory tax rate limitations.

The Village has covenanted and agreed, and does hereby covenant and agree, to fix and maintain at all times while any bonds payable from the Net Revenues of the Water Supply System shall be outstanding, such rates for service furnished by the Water Supply System as shall be sufficient to provide for payment of the interest upon and the principal of the bonds of this issue, the Outstanding Bonds and any additional bonds of equal standing with the Outstanding Bonds or the bonds of this issue, as and when the same shall become due and payable, and to maintain a bond redemption fund (including, except for bonds of this issue, a bond reserve account) therefor, to provide for the payment of expenses of administration and operation and Section 14. Bondholders' Rights; Receiver. The holder or holders of the Bonds representing in the aggregate not less than twenty per cent (20%) of the entire principal amount thereof then outstanding, may, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, protect and enforce the statutory lien upon the Net Revenues of the System, and may, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, enforce and compel performance of all duties of the officers of the Issuer, including the fixing of sufficient rates, the collection of Revenues, the proper segregation of the Revenues of the System and the proper application thereof. The statutory lien upon the Net Revenues, however, shall not be construed as to compel the sale of the System or any part thereof.

If there is a default in the payment of the principal of or interest upon the Series 2000 Bonds, any court having jurisdiction in any proper action may appoint a receiver to administer and operate the System on behalf of the Issuer and under the direction of the court, and by and with the approval of the court to perform all of the duties of the officers of the Issuer more particularly set forth herein and in Act 94.

The holder or holders of the Series 2000 Bonds shall have all other rights and remedies given by Act 94 and law for the payment and enforcement of the Series 2000 Bonds and the security therefor.

Section 15. Additional Bonds. The Issuer may issue additional bonds of equal standing with the Series 2000 Bonds for the following purposes and subject to the following conditions:

(a) To complete the Project in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor. Such bonds shall not be authorized unless the engineers in charge of construction shall execute a certificate evidencing the fact that additional funds are needed to complete the Project in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor and stating the amount that will be required to complete the Project. If such certificate shall be so executed and filed with the Issuer, it shall be the duty of the Issuer to provide for and issue additional revenue bonds in the amount stated in said certificate to be necessary to complete the Project in accordance with the plans and specifications plus an amount necessary to issue such bonds or to provide for part or all of such amount from other sources.

(b) For subsequent repairs, extensions, enlargements and improvements to the System or for subsequent repairs, extensions, enlargements and improvements to the System and for the purpose of refunding part or all of the Bonds then outstanding and paying costs of issuing such additional Bonds. Bonds for such purposes shall not be issued pursuant to this subparagraph (b) unless the Adjusted Net Revenues of the System for the then last two (2) preceding twelve-month operating years or the Adjusted Net Revenues for the last preceding twelve- month operating year, if the same shall be lower than the average, shall be equal to at least one hundred percent (100%) of the maximum amount of principal and interest thereafter maturing in any operating year on the then outstanding Bonds and on the additional Bonds then being issued. If the additional Bonds are to be issued in whole or in part for refunding outstanding Bonds, the annual principal and interest requirements shall be determined by deducting from the principal and interest requirements for each operating year the annual principal and interest requirements of any Bonds to be refunded from the proceeds of the additional Bonds. For purposes of this subparagraph (b) the Issuer may elect to use as the last preceding operating year any operating year ending not more than sixteen months prior to the date of delivery of the additional Bonds and as the next to the last preceding operating year, any operating year ending not more than twenty-eight months prior to the date of delivery of the additional Bonds. Determination by the Issuer as to existence of conditions permitting the issuance of additional Bonds shall be conclusive. No additional Bonds of equal standing as to the Net Revenues of the System shall be issued pursuant to the authorization contained in this subparagraph if the Issuer shall then be in default in making its required payments to the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Redemption Fund or the Junior Lien Bond Redemption Fund.

(c) For refunding a part or all of the Bonds then outstanding and paying costs of issuing such additional Bonds including deposits which may be required to be made to the bond reserve account for such Bonds. No additional Bonds shall be issued pursuant to this subsection unless the maximum amount of principal and interest maturing in any operating year after giving effect to the refunding shall be less than the maximum amount of principal and interest maturing in any operating year prior to giving effect to the refunding.

Section 16. Covenant Regarding Tax Exempt Status of the Bonds. The Issuer shall, to the extent permitted by law, take all actions within its control necessary to maintain the exemption of the interest on the Series 2000 Bonds from general federal income taxation (as opposed to any alternative minimum or other indirect taxation) under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), including, but not limited to, actions relating to any required rebate of arbitrage earnings and the expenditure and investment of Series 2000 Bond proceeds and moneys deemed to be Series 2000 Bond proceeds.
