Township voters OK police millage

■ Election marked by low turnout.

By Lisa Allmendinger
 Special Writer

Despite bad weather Tuesday, 365 voters in Dexter Township made it to the polls and passed a five-year police millage, 205-160.

"I'm very pleased the voters approved this millage," said Dexter Township Supervisor Robert Tetens. "No one likes to ask people to pay more money, but this issue affects public health, safety and welfare, which are important to a superior quality of life in the township."

"Having sheriff's patrols that are able to quickly respond to residents' needs is an important issue for the residents."

Elected officials had hoped for a 10 percent turnout and got 9.28 percent. A total of 56.16 percent voted "yes" and 43.84 percent voted "no."

Of the 1,362 registered voters in Precinct 1, 129 cast ballots. A total of 74 voted in favor and 55 were opposed.

In Precinct 2, there are 1,512 registered voters. Of that number, 158 turned out to vote. A total of 87 voted in favor and 71 were against.

In Precinct 3, of the possible 1,060 voters, 78 cast votes. Forty-four voted "yes" and 34 said "no."

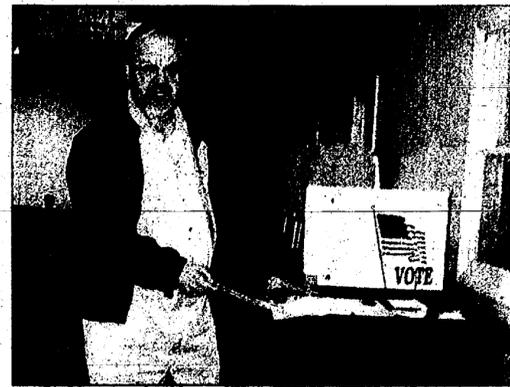

"I'm pleased and relieved that we'll have full-service police coverage in the township," Clerk Harley Rider said after the votes were counted.

Rider said that when he was a sheriff's deputy working out of the Dexter Village substation in the mid-1980s, the township had one part-time deputy who patrolled Portage Lake on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Today, the township has a part-time deputy responding to calls in a township with 5,200 residents. The township has a population larger than Dexter Village, which contracts for four full-time deputies, and Chelsea, which operates its own police force.

"A need for increased police protection is apparent," Tetens said. "The township has grown tremendously and we are consistently receiving more hours

Dan Ellenwood, 8, of Chelsea looks through photographs of previous open houses Sunday during National Fire Prevention Week. Fire Chief Dan Ellenwood talks to the boy.

A look inside Fire department holds open house

By Lisa Allmendinger
 Special Writer

They had actually been fighting a fire, the 14 members of the Chelsea Area Fire Department would have welcomed the periodic downpours. But on Sunday's open house, the corps was hoping for clear skies.

"We've had a better turnout than we thought we'd have," said Fire Chief Dan Ellenwood.

During the first hour and a half, about 125 people had viewed the displays of fire paraphernalia, sat in fire vehicles and watched police dog demonstrations. Later in the afternoon, other demonstrations were planned, including a car extrication.

The open house was held in conjunction with National Fire Prevention Week.

Among the items on display were a defibrillator, which is used for heart problems; a suction pump used for trauma victims; and tools used in fire fighting, including 100 feet of hose.

Each one gallon a foot to the fire department has more than 5,300 feet of hose that stretches a mile long.

Also on display was a red suit used for ice rescues on the area's many lakes.

About 14 of the fire department's 37 firefighters were at the event. They talked to children and explained the uses for the many pieces of equipment.

"This is for the kids, mostly," Ellenwood said, adding that more than 400 people took part

'Lady Godiva' appears in court

■ Judge upholds charge of indecent exposure.

By Sheila Pursglove
 Associate Editor

Alyssa Van Nuys, the 21-year-old Jackson waitress who achieved notoriety as Chelsea's "Lady Godiva" in a nude horseback ride, returned Monday to 14A District Court in Chelsea. Her lawyer filed a motion to dismiss charges of indecent exposure, a one-year misdemeanor, and disorderly person-obscene conduct, a 90-day misdemeanor.

Van Nuys was arrested May 26 when she rode a horse around the block to Art & Soule Gallery on Main Street, and then disrobed.

Chelsea police officers pulled her down from her horse and held up a blanket while she put back on her robe. Then they took Van Nuys to the Chelsea Police Station, where she was fingerprinted and photographed.

The ride, which drew a crowd of about 300 people, was arranged by photographer and gallery manager Harvey Drouillard to publicize his "Spirit of Lady Godiva" photography exhibit and upcoming book.

Defense attorney John Minock said Tuesday that Van Nuys' conduct was in the context of artistic expression and is entitled to free speech protection.

Judge Richard Conlin overruled the argument that the charge violates Van Nuys' constitutional rights to free speech.

Minock said Tuesday that it is an interesting constitutional issue that no Michigan judge has had to wrestle with since Judge Elizabeth Hines dismissed charges against Drouillard four years ago after he staged a nude photo shoot in Ann Arbor.

The case was adjourned until a final pre-trial hearing on Nov. 5. Minock said he is considering whether to appeal. Holz said the offer to plea to a lesser charge of disorderly conduct is still open.

Blaze destroys roof of home

■ Fire officials rule out foul play.

By Will Keeler
 Staff Writer

Area firefighters helped battle a blaze that started Oct. 11 at a single-story home located at 6230 Brand Road, near North Territorial Road, in Dexter Township.

Fire crews from the Dexter Area Fire Department and Putnam Township Fire Department responded to the fire, which was contained to an inner roof of the home. The fire was reported at 7:45 a.m.

"Everything pointed to an electrical fire. There was nothing suspicious," said Dexter Fire Captain Larry Wagner.

A number of renovations had been completed in the past few years, and the fire probably started somewhere between the double roof, Wagner said.

Fire crews contained the fire to the roof and covered the homeowners' furniture with large tarps for protection.

Damage to the house was not estimated at press time, but fire officials said the majority of the damage was to the roof.

Richard and Janice McCullough were home when the fire started. They did not suffer any injuries, Wagner said.

Senate praises local deputy for drug bust

■ New law doubles penalty for drug dealers selling near schools.

By Will Keeler
Staff Writer

The Michigan Senate honored Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputy Mike Babycz Oct. 10 for a recent arrest near Dexter schools' campus.

The arrest was unlike any other in the state. Babycz was recognized for his efforts that led to the first statewide case that was prosecuted under the 1999 drug-free school zone law.

The new law doubles the penalty and fine for the drug charge if the arrest is within 1,000 feet of school property.

Babycz and other deputies arrested the suspected drug dealer earlier this year. The suspect's home was within 1,000 feet of the high school and Cornerstone and Bates elementary schools.

The suspected drug dealer, Govit Maxwell, was found guilty in September of possession of marijuana with the intent to deliver.

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department received a tip from an anonymous caller that Maxwell was selling drugs to high school students out of his home in Walkabout Creek apartments. "We monitored the activity around his home and did a couple of trash pulls," said Washtenaw County Sheriff's Sgt. Mike Trester.

When officers entered Maxwell's house they found cocaine, marijuana and packaging materials, Babycz said.

"I was somewhat surprised that a similar arrest had not been made in a larger town," Babycz said.

This was Babycz's first trip to the state Senate chambers.

"Standing there getting the award was very humbling. It gave me such a good feeling," the 31-year-old Dexter Township resident said.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Dan Minzey, who accompanied the deputy to Lansing, said he was pleased with Babycz and the department's work.

"It is nice to see something like this come full circle, where the Senate can see that the laws they pass are working," Minzey said.

Schools Superintendent Bill Spargur was also thrilled with the arrest and the recognition the sheriff's department earned. "This definitely sends a strong signal that we want to keep drugs away from the schools," he said.

The Dexter School District has been active in combating drugs in and around the schools, said Deputy Paul Mobbs, who patrols the five schools throughout the day and oversees a number of anti-drug projects.

Mobbs said that the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program has been an effective tool.

"Right now we are targeting sixth-graders and trying to tell them the true facts about drugs," Mobbs said.

Sixth-graders were chosen because they are at an age where they start to experience different emotions and become victims of peer pressure, he said.

An introduction to Scouting

Cubs and Scouts to camp together during 'Fun Weekend'

By Sheila Pursglove

Associate Editor

Goats and kids will get together Oct. 26 through 28 on Big Wolf Lake.

No, it's not a 4-H Club meeting or an agricultural fair. It's a "Fun Weekend" hosted by Chelsea Boy Scout Troop 476 at Camp Teetonkah.

Fifth-grade Webelos Scouts, who will cross over to Boy Scouts in a Blue and Gold Banquet in February, will spend a weekend with the Scouts learning more about the troop and about Scouting activities.

Scout parents are invited to camp with the "GOAT" patrol, an acronym for Geritol, Old Age, Tenacity.

Troop 476 Assistant Scoutmaster Jim Leach and Senior Patrol Leader Sean Steinbach will coordinate the weekend, an event expected to draw 60 Cubs, Scouts and parents.

The Scouts will set up on Friday evening before the Cubs arrive. Cubs will be organized into patrols for the weekend and will be guided by two Boy Scouts who will serve as their patrol leaders.

Dan Gauthier will organize a first-aid activity. Andy Ramsey will teach ropes and knots, while Sean Steinbach teaches fire building and Jim Leach Jr. coordinates cooking.

Joe Bob Daly will be in charge of the entertainment, serving as master of ceremonies for an evening of campfire songs and skits.

Joe Turek will organize pioneering, building items with logs or poles and ropes.

"Scouts lash the wood together using special techniques," leader John Daly said. "Towers and rope bridges are examples of more advanced rope projects. Joe's demonstration will more likely be something simple like a cooking tripod or towel rack."

Daly and adult leader Rick Gauthier founded the troop's GOAT patrol.

"Unlike Cub Scouts, where the dens are adult-led, Boy Scout troops are supposed to be run by the boys with adult leaders along to provide training and assure the safety of the Scouts," Daly said.

"Having a separate adult patrol helps to promote a boy-run troop and camaraderie among Scout parents," Daly said many troops have GOAT patrols, each with their own tradition.

"Members are sometimes referred to as old GOATs," he said.

All adults camp with the Goat patrol on campouts. To be an official GOAT, entitled to the patrol patch and medallion, adults must meet four requirements.

They must be a registered member of Boy Scouts; own a complete uniform with proper troop insignia; camp overnight with the troop for three nights and attend three different town meetings; and cook a hot food item over a wood fire for the patrol.

Forget the old standby of S'mores or hot dogs, Daly said gourmet specialties produced by GOAT candidates have included venison, escargots, pot roast, peach cobbler and pineapple upside down cake.

The troop boasts 11 official GOATs, including two moms, Julie Coleman and Daly's wife, Nancy.

Troop 476 meets at South Meadows Elementary School. For information about the Fun Weekend or about Boy Scouts, call Jim Leach at 475-0378.

Troop 476 will host Webelos Cub Scouts Oct. 26 to 28 in a Fun Weekend at Camp Teetonkah. The weekend will introduce the Cubs to Scouting and troop activities. Troop 476 takes part in several activities, including caving trips to Kentucky. Pictured in front are James Bassett (left), Andy Ramsey, Jim Leach Jr., Joe Bob Daly, Robert Guysky and Joe Turek. In the second row are Sean Hankerd (left), James Daly and Jason Allen. ## Wild weather causes problems ■ Tree and power lines block Werkner Road.

By Sheila Pursglove

Associate Editor

It's hard to believe that not very long ago there were water restrictions in Chelsea because of drought.

The recent soggy weather and gusty winds turned particularly nasty Tuesday, bringing down a tree and power lines that briefly caused the closure of Werkner Road early in the afternoon.

Chelsea Fire Chief Dan Ellenwood said firefighters blocked off the road near the Western Washtenaw Recycle Center on Werkner Road while a Dexter firefighter directed traffic at the north end near Island Lake Road. The road was closed for a couple of hours early afternoon until Consumers Power and the County Road Commission cleared up both problems.

Ellenwood said power lines also blew down at 8 p.m. Tuesday on Riker Road, Dexter Township. Detroit Edison crews handled the problem.

Capt. Troy Maloney of Dexter Area Fire Department said a tree blew down across Walsh Road in Webster Township on Tuesday evening, and power lines were blown down on Fourth Street and Alpine Street, both in Dexter Village.

A three-car crash on North Territorial Road Tuesday morning caused morning rush hour problems, compounded by construction areas, Maloney said. There were no injuries.

Choral concert set for Monday

The Fall Festival of Choirs is set for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Chelsea High School auditorium, 740 Freer Road. The concert is free and open to the public.

The sixth-grade choir, in its debut, will perform the American folk song, "Grandfather's Clock," "Solfege Blues," and the American classic, "God Bless America."

The seventh- and eighth-grade choir will present "Eja, Eja, She Sings," and an American tradition, "Rubens Train."

The high school choirs will perform two pieces from the 17th century, "Non Nobis Domine" and "O Domine Jesus Christe."

They will also perform a setting of Edgar Allan Poe's poem, "Annabel Lee," "For the Beauty of the Earth" by John Rutter, the Scottish folk tune "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," "Dream a Dream," and a South African song of healing, "Nginani Na."

The concert will close with "God Bless the USA," sung by the combined choirs.

New teachers benefit from experienced mentors

By Sheila Pursglove
Associate Editor

Beach Middle School teacher Dave Polley describes his early days of teaching in Chicago as "Darwinian."

"It was sink or swim," Polley said. "My first day of teaching was in a community very different and far from home for me. I was nervous. Figuring out the culture and expectations of the place are essential to success."

Polley said problems often were not shared with senior faculty because they could be viewed as a weakness. "We're initiating new teachers into the profession here in Chelsea much better than when I was initiated in my first teaching job," Polley said.

The Chelsea School District runs a mentorship program that matches new teachers with veterans. Its goal is to provide meaningful, personalized professional growth opportunities for teachers who are new to the profession or to the district. Training takes place in early August.

"We give new teachers a three or four year period of time to be teamed up with a veteran teacher," Assistant Superintendent Iva Corbett said. "It helps them become a part of the culture of the Chelsea educational community."

When Corbett started her teaching career in Grand Rapids, she had a mentor for the first three years.

"It was important to have someone to talk to, someone who would put a hand on your shoulder and say, 'We've all been there,'" she said.

Corbett organizes the program, with help from Chelsea High School teacher Jim Winter, who she said has done a "phenomenal job" in creating the training materials.

Winter said that when he entered the profession there were no mentors, only tenured coaches.

"It was not as formal as today's mentoring program and not nearly as effective," Winter said. "I think the most recent statistic I saw was that 50 percent of all people entering teaching leave within the first five years."

"Teaching is not what many people think it is and some people are not very well prepared for what they are going to be asked to do."

Polley meets with his "mentees" — Loren Thorburn, Kim Kopinski and Robin DeGracia — about once a week to discuss lesson plans and unit objectives.

Sue Langen, a teacher-consultant who started at South Meadows Elementary School this fall, has been paired up with mentor Jean Meconi, who teaches fifth grade. The pair shares ideas about students, teaching strategies and the use of materials.

Polley said he also stops by the classroom or leaves notes in their school mailboxes to share ideas.

He also encourages his new colleagues to drop in at anytime, encouraging them to ask questions about such issues as lessons, student management and parent communication. He discusses tips and pointers on events like open houses, parent-teacher conferences, field trips and evaluations.

"As with most things in our society, if it's valued, it will be compensated," Polley said. "I'm quite pleased that the Chelsea contract recognizes this and compensates mentors $500 a year."

South Meadows Elementary School Principal Lisa Nickel said when she started teaching it was scary having no idea when she was even supposed to eat lunch.

Nickel, who tries to match up teachers of similar backgrounds, paired up special education teacher-consultant Sue Langen with fifth-grade teacher Jean Meconi, who has a background as a speech-and-language therapist.

Langen, not a newcomer to the profession, is new to the Chelsea district.

"During orientation we had a speaker explain the whole process of the mentorship program," Langen said. "It was very organized and full of good information for teachers. I've been teaching for eight years and it would have been great when I first started."

Meconi welcomed her new colleague to Chelsea with a basket of goodies.

"Since Monday is kind of nutty, Jean put packages of nuts in," Langen said. "Tuesday is Just Dive In Day, so she put in goldfish crackers and a fish magnet."

Langen said she enjoys learning new strategies and insights from Meconi, whose "calming personality" is very helpful.

This is Meconi's first time as a mentor and she is still learning the role.

Church to hold benefit concert

Peace Lutheran Church, located at 8260 Jackson Road in Scio Township, is hosting a benefit concert by Saline Fiddlers Philharmonic 4 p.m. Sunday.

The musical group, under the direction of Bob Phillips, is one of America's premiere folk fiddling ensembles and has appeared twice in performances at the White House. The group has also toured the British Isles, performed at the Saline Celtic Festival, and has cut several recordings.

The concert will benefit the Fairy Godparents Program, a nonprofit organization providing for those in need. The organization acquires, renovates and supplies household furnishings to enhance the living conditions of clients referred by more than 25 agencies in Washtenaw County.

Top Scholar

Amanda Tarantowski, a 1999 Chelsea High School graduate, was named to the dean's list at Cornerstone University in Grand Rapids. Tarantowski, the daughter of Linda and Rick Tarantowski of Chelsea, is majoring in psychology and family studies, with a minor in writing. She had a grade point average of 3.5 for the spring term. A mentor for youth in Grand Rapids, she was selected for leadership initiative, is the recipient of an honor scholarship, was a committee chairperson for student government and a visitor's assistant for two years.

MENTORS

"I'm really enjoying working with Susan," she said. "She is a veteran teacher, so I'm gaining as much from the experience as she is."

Sandra Dunn made the switch from school psychologist to special education teacher last year. Special education teacher Nancy Cooper is her mentor.

"When I was a psychologist, I enjoyed mentoring new psychologists and having interns," Dunn said. "Now I'm on the other end."

"Finding time to talk with Nancy isn't a problem because we work side by side in the classroom, ride on the bus together during field trips or talk on the phone in the evening."

The program meets with unqualified enthusiasm from school principals. North Creek Elementary School Principal Sharon Whitmore said mentors serve as a "guide on the side" for teachers.

"There is a relationship of trust and commitment to each other that is truly special," Whitmore said. "Each benefits as they grow together by discussing issues, brainstorming and trying inventive ideas."

When selecting mentors, Pierce Lake Elementary School Principal Lucy Stieber said she looks for someone in the same or close grade level who is a master teacher, supportive in a constructive sense and can convey information and ideas.

"I've always encouraged staff members to assist a new person but the formalized process gives greater weight and value to the system," she said.

Beach Middle School Principal Bill Wescott assigns new staff to experienced teachers and they meet throughout the year.

"The experienced teachers can give advice on classroom curriculums, building procedures and classroom management," Wescott said. "These professional relationships are so important to our new teaching staff just beginning their careers."

Chelsea High School Principal Ron Mead said mentors

Dennis Strzyzewski

would have been a big help to him in his first two jobs. He said they help new teachers learn the "nuts and bolts" of what is happening at the school.

"The better ones really assist the new teacher with typical struggles of all nature, including lesson planning, curriculum understanding, classroom management and building politics," Mead said.

Beach Middle School teacher Dennis Strzyzewski works with veteran educator Mary Baker. "Mary has been a great help for me," Strzyzewski said. "She has shared a lot of her expertise in teaching reading and writing to middle school students."

Chelsea has a second component to the program, the Beginning Teacher Network, co-sponsored by the Chelsea Education Association. The Washtenaw-Livingston Education Association provided funds last year to the CEA to pilot this program.

"The Beginning Teacher Network lets newer teachers determine what their needs are and they, in turn, can draw upon the resources of the district or the union," Polley said.

The two programs complement each other, Corbett said.

"It's great to have mentor teaching but sometimes new people need to get together with other new teachers and share thoughts that they may not want to share with veteran teachers or the administration," Corbett said. "That's where the peer component of the program run by the CEA comes in."

Teachers Mark Arrigan and Alicia Rey are co-chairing and serving as facilitators for the group of new teachers that meets about once every two months.

"The network was established last year as an additional resource for new teachers to the district," Arrigan said. "Our job is mainly to facilitate discussion.

"Meetings last year focused on parent-teacher conferences and knowing your benefits and financial options. We also discussed any other issues teacher

New fifth-grade music curriculum under way

SHAWN LEWIS-LAKIN

ASK THE SCHOOLS

EDITOR'S NOTE: At the Oct. 10 "Dialog with the Superintendent" meeting at South Meadows Elementary School, the main topic of discussion was the fifth-grade music curriculum. Shawn Lewis-Lakin, assistant principal of Chelsea High School, who administers the music curriculum, explains the changes in a new column called "Ask the Schools."

Band, orchestra and choir classes are now an integral part of the curriculum for Chelsea fifth-grade pupils, a result of action taken last spring when the Chelsea school board approved a revised music curriculum for the school district.

Changes include a new curriculum for the general music program in kindergarten through fourth grades; the replacement of general music with band, orchestra or choir in fifth grade; and a move to "whole class" instruction for sixth-grade band and orchestra.

Each fifth-grade pupil attends a music class twice a week at the end of the school day. At the beginning of this school year, pupils were introduced to each of the three music performance areas of band, orchestra and choir.

In the fourth week of school, they were given the opportunity to elect a music class. Parents attended meetings to learn more about the three music programs, meet the teachers and understand instrument rental and purchase options.

Students began their band, orchestra and choir classes in late September. A total of 114 fifth-graders chose band, 73 selected orchestra and 47 opted for choir.

On their designated music days, band pupils are bused from their schools to the high school; choir and orchestra pupils travel to Beach Middle School.

Pupils enter the school buildings through doors adjacent to the music rooms and go directly to the rooms, preventing any mixing between fifth-graders and middle or high school students.

At the end of class, fifth-graders at the high school are transported to Beach Middle School to either take a bus back to their elementary school or board their regular bus for end-of-day transportation.

Transporting pupils is necessary because of space limitations in the elementary buildings. In addition, offering programs at central locations allows multiple staff members work with each performance group, allows groups to break down into sections and enhances the instruction.

At the Sept. 17 parent meeting, choir director Steve Hinz explained that through the program of general music education in kindergarten through fourth grades, pupils develop a good skill base and individual musical interests. In fifth grade, they have an opportunity to explore music in performance classes, focusing on specific instruments or voice groupings.

Orchestra Director Jed Fritzemeier explained that music is a performance art. To truly appreciate it, students need an opportunity to be in performance classes.

The changes also allow for improvements in scheduling at Beach Middle School, allowing sixth-grade band and orchestra courses to be scheduled as whole groups.

Beach Middle School Principal Bill Wescott said the changes in fifth-grade music have had a wonderful impact on sixth-grade schedule, improving gender and class size balance. Also, having fifth-graders in the building should help their transition to middle school next year.

The Chelsea music staff is carefully assessing the experience of students in this implementation year, making adjustments as needed, and planning future program improvements.

The Chelsea Music Boosters revised its bylaws at its Oct. 1 meeting and added the Instrument Exchange Committee. The group will work to provide alternatives to rentals for students in need of instruments, making instruments more accessible to a greater number of students.

Trying something new is difficult, but with challenge comes the opportunity for learning and growth.

Local home-schooled students visited Veterans Park in Ann Arbor in mid-September to examine macro invertebrates in the Huron River. The group is trying to clean up rivers and streams, starting with the Huron River watershed in Chelsea. The group includes Carolyn Paul, Antonia Silverio, Lilly and Conner Karatzas, Athena Eyster, Tony and Annika Corazol.

Students clean up watershed

Local families who teach their children at home are taking part in the Huron River Watershed Program to monitor macro invertebrates in the water. "We hope to work with the people living in the watershed to improve the water quality," said parent Lucy Silverio. The group hopes to clean up rivers and streams, starting with the watershed in Chelsea. By improving the water quality of the Huron River, the death rate of insects and other aquatic animals should decrease. Silverio said the average American family uses up to 36 pounds of dishwasher detergents a year, creating two pounds of phosphorus. The phosphorus can stimulate the growth of up to 1,000 pounds of algae. Phosphorus is one of the biggest water quality concerns. The group suggests keeping grass at a 4-inch level, allowing grass to stay healthy without fertilizer. Grass clippings provide a natural fertilizer that saves homeowners money and helps the river. Consumers should check labels for phosphorus content of cleaning agents and select low-level brands. Silverio said that everything that goes into the storm sewers within the village goes straight into the stream that the home-schooled students are monitoring.

Silverio said residents should be careful not to drop oil, gas and other solvents onto the pavement. People who live along the water should have a green barrier between the yard or pavement and the water to stop run off. Planting trees, shrubs and bushes along the water's edge will improve water quality and enhance natural beauty.

'Halloweekend' slated Oct. 26

The Chelsea Merchants Association is celebrating Halloween early this year with a "Happy Halloweekend" event Oct. 26 and 27 in downtown Chelsea.

In addition to the fall Moonlight Madness sale, stores will pass out candy and offer patrons a chance to win door prizes.

Halloween music and sound effects will play on Main Street both days, and harvest trimmings will adorn downtown sidewalks.

Cider and doughnut stands will be set up at various spots, including the corner next to McKune House. This location will also host a straw maze for kids of all ages.

There will be free hayrides on Saturday. In addition, the First Congregational Church, 121 E. Middle St., will host a "hallowed" warming center for all.

The church is also the starting point for a guided tour of a local cemetery. Local historian and Civil War re-enactor George Till will provide an insightful walk back in time through the Oak Grove cemetery and give detailed information about some of Chelsea's most well-known and unknown residents buried there.

The tour may also include some interesting facts about some of Chelsea's most revered homes, especially those thought to be haunted.

Chelsea Little Professor Book Center, 1250 S. Main St., will host author and master storyteller Annick Hivert-Carthew 7 p.m. Oct. 27. She will tell ghostly tales and tales of terror from her books.

Store hours will be extended in the evening to accommodate late-night shopping.

The event is co-sponsored by the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce and the Chelsea Downtown Development Authority.

Red, White and Blue Day

South Meadows Elementary School celebrated Red, White and Blue Day Sept. 18. Paul Cobb (left), teacher Mary Poley, Luke Midura and Colton Veal were among those who dressed in patriotic colors for the occasion.

DOG BITES
 When a person suffers an injury from a dog bite, he or she most likely can successfully pursue a personal injury lawsuit against the dog's owner. In most instances, homeowners insurance will cover the claim. During the litigation of a dog-bite case, the plaintiff's attorney will want to get complete veterinary records for the dog. It may have exhibited vicious behavior in the past that its owners may not be willing to admit to without documented proof. A subpoena may need to be issued to get these records. It is also important to take photographs of the injury as soon as possible. The appropriate health authorities should also be contacted to make sure the victim did not contract rabies. Pets who bite others often surprise their owners as well as the victim; a sudden move, illness or injury; all can adversely affect the temperament of an otherwise friendly pet. On the other hand, owners that have trained animals in their care to attack, or to act in a vicious manner can be held liable for assault should an injury occur, and may also be brought up on criminal charges. To discuss the legal aspects of your case, call the LAW OFFICES OF KITCHEN & STRINGER, J.D., located in Dexter at 3249 Broad Street, at 426-4695 to schedule a free consultation. HINT: It is important to get witness statements in dog-bite cases, as they will help get the case settled.

Seminar to address growth issues

Washtenaw County is one of Michigan's fastest growing counties and local communities are searching for tools to manage growth responsibly.

A seminar called "How Should Washtenaw Grow?" will offer citizens concerned about land use some tools to address growth and protect the environment. The conference will be held 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the Washington Street Education Center, 500 E. Washington St., in Chelsea.

Joan Nassauer, a professor in the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources, will give a keynote address called "New Ecologies for Cities and Farms: Helping People and the River." Nassauer will discuss ways to reduce the impact of development on the watershed through reduced use of grass and pavement. She has done a citizen preference survey in Washtenaw County and will share the results.

The talk will be followed by a panel discussion called "Saving Farmland in Washtenaw County: Building a Winning Coalition" to talk about the next steps in farmland preservation. Panel members will be Dale Lesser, a Dexter Township farmer; Barry Lonik, executive director of the Washtenaw Land Trust; and Rob Ewing, a Washtenaw County real estate agent.

Busy Bakers

Jessica Lodewyk (left) and Douglas Zygnier stir up some tasty ingredients as they prepare for the Friends of the Library Youth Bake-Off slated for 11:30 a.m. Saturday at the Chelsea District Library, 500 Washington St., in Chelsea. Bob Pierce, Joan Birgy and Craig Common will be the celebrity judges. Prizes will be awarded in two age categories, ages 8 to 11 and 12 to 15. For information, call the library at 475-8732.

MILLAGE

than we contract for."

But on Monday night, neither Tetens nor Rider knew what to expect in terms of turnout and outcome.

"Only voters with strong opinions one way or the other will turn out," Tetens said.

Rider said he had 163 requests for absentee ballots. On Monday, 64 had been returned. He said 698 absentee ballot applications were mailed to voters.

"Twenty-three percent of the absentee applications requested a ballot," Rider said.

This was Rider's first election as clerk. Although he said he was a little apprehensive about some things, he said he frequently had been on the phone with the former clerk asking questions.

Rider also said he had a number of experienced election workers who returned to man the polls.

No problems were reported at any of the three precincts.

Voting machines were put through a trial run last week and everything went smoothly, Rider said. The new machines are optical scan machines. The final totals were in by 8:05 p.m.

Rider said that he had 12 election workers, four at each polling place, from 7 a.m. until the polls closed.

Rider said that the special election cost the township approximately $5,000.

Tuesday's vote approves a 2-mill levy for two deputies for five years. The money will be used solely for police.

For a home valued at $200,000, it means $200 per year. The additional millage will appear on the December tax bill.

"This is more than we need for two deputies, and because it passed, I plan to ask the board for a third officer," Rider said. "This will give us 120 hours a week for patrols."

Currently, the township contracts for four hours of patrol and the deputy splits time between Dexter Village and the township. With new contracts beginning Jan. 1, the option to contract for less than a full-time deputy no longer will be available.

If the millage hadn't passed, the township would have had to rely on the Michigan State Police.

in last year's open house.

About 10 fire vehicles, ranging in size from a tanker to a personal watercraft used for rescues on lakes, were parked on the grounds. Also showcased was the newest vehicle, a medical rescue truck.

Ellenwood talked about the changes in fire fighting that have happened throughout his tenure and noted that many of the calls are for medical help.

"Fire fighting has gotten very diversified in the 25 years since I got involved," Ellenwood said.

The fire chief said 25 calls used to be considered a busy year when he first started. This year, the fire department is nearing 1,000.

Ellenwood said there was only one house fire last year compared to seven in the village this year.

"Three to five (structure fires) is the norm," he said.

The large crowd at the open house watched two K-9 police dogs in action, one from Chelsea, as they searched for drugs in a car that would later be cut up during the extrication demonstration. The canine police officers also performed a scent search for several items and did an attack demonstration.

Chelsea Police Officer Jeff Staebler said of his partner, Tango: "These dogs live with us. They are highly trained, but they get in the garbage like other dogs and chew things up."

Canton Township Police

Officer Todd Koch, who Staebler credited for his training with police dogs, said of the four-legged officers: "These are the only bullets you can call back."

Lisa Allmendinger is a freelance writer and Sylvan Township resident. She can be reached at 433-1052 or by e-mail at yankee@izy.net.

We would like to express our thanks to the Chelsea High School, Class of '59, for making a memorial contribution to the Chelsea District Library for our father, Richard "Dick" Foster. Your kindness and thoughtfulness are appreciated.

Introducing a new joint effort in our community.

Chelsea Community Hospital welcomes Gregory J. Golladay, M.D., orthopedic surgeon specializing in total joint replacement. He performs minimally invasive knee replacement and "no wear" hip replacement.

Minimally invasive knee replacement means smaller scars and a quicker recovery than traditional total knee replacement. "No wear" hip replacement uses a new bearing surface that shows no evidence of wear after more than 30 million steps, or the equivalent of 30 years of use.

A graduate of Louisiana State University School of Medicine, Dr. Golladay completed his orthopedic surgery residency training at the University of Michigan Hospital and fellowship at the Massachusetts General Hospital of Harvard University in Boston, where the "no wear" bearing surface was developed.

Dr. Golladay resides in Ann Arbor with his family. His hobbies include running, cycling, and swimming. He completed the Boston Marathon this April and has competed in several triathlons.

Dr. Golladay joins Chelsea Orthopedic Specialists with Drs. William Lee, B.J. Page, and Mark Pinto, and invites new patients to call (734) 475-4028 for a consultation.

Breast Cancer Awareness

It's time to bring a spotlight on breast cancer and the importance of early detection. If caught in the early stages, breast cancer can be treated very successfully. Talk to your doctor about self-examination and have a mammogram done regularly.

Please remember early detection is the key to beating breast cancer.

Do monthly self-exams. Get regular mammograms.

Do it for yourself. Do it for those who love you.

Breast Cancer

The Facts

More women in the United States are diagnosed with breast cancer every year than with any other cancer except skin cancer. This year, about 180,000 cases will be diagnosed and about 44,000 women will die of the disease. Many of these lives could have been saved by early diagnosis.

Who Is At Risk?

Most women who get breast cancer have no family history of the disease or other risk factors. Breast cancer can occur at any age, but it becomes more common as a woman gets older. Although some women are at slightly higher risk—women whose mothers or sisters had breast cancer, women who have never had children, and women who had their first child after age 30—the biggest risk factor for breast cancer is being a woman.

Pick Up A Phone Save A Friend's Life

The American Cancer Society, which is the largest single event in the country, will be the month of October. In the month of October, 11 women over the age of 40, these days, hundreds of at least five of their friends, co-workers, age 40 and message about breast cancer.

Statistics show that breast cancer is up to 97% survivable when detected early.

Help deliver this life saving message. It's estimated that 1,000 local women will collectively call over 5,400 women during this year's Tell-A-Friend campaign.

The Best Defense: Early Detection

The earlier breast cancer is detected, the easier it is to treat. The American Cancer Society recommends the following guidelines for early detection:

Age 40 and over

- Have a mammogram every year
- Have a clinical breast exam by a health care professional every year*
- Do a breast self-exam each month

Age 20-39

- Do a breast self-exam each month
- Have a clinical breast exam by a health care professional every three years.

*The clinical breast exam should be done close in time to the scheduled mammogram.

'Guys on Ice' makes a nice getaway

STEVE DAUT

PLAY REVIEW

"Guys On Ice," developed collaboratively by Fred Alley, James Kaplan and Frederick Heide, is the opening play for the 2001-2002 season at The Purple Rose Theatre Co. The play is pure funny, beginning with an absurd premise of three guys singing and dancing in a windblown shanty on an icy Wisconsin lake.

"Guys on Ice" gives us a glimpse at a day in the life of ice guys Marvin and Lloyd as they wait for the other guy to show up and put them on television. Meanwhile, Ernie "damoother" shows up to borrow some stuff and surreptitiously slips a bag of venison jerky into his pocket before the guys notice.

The audience is on the edge of its seat asking two all-important questions: Will Lloyd reunite with "da one dat got away," and will Marvin get to see the tattoo on the grocery store girl?

That's all folks! That's as complicated as it gets. It's a wonderful, stress-relieving getaway, giving us many humorous and often touching glimpses of what it means to be an American on a sheet of ice.

This play should be assigned therapy for everyone in the country, especially those guys in Florida who wouldn't know a leaning shanty from a hanging chad.

Joseph Albright plays Marvin, the erstwhile owner of the shanty, and he shows a new side of himself here, with a clear and booming singing voice.

Paul Hopper plays Lloyd, the kinder and gentler of the two. He treats us to some moments when it is possible to actually laugh and cry at the same time. Particularly memorable is the moment of silence and beauty on a frozen lake in the middle of the night.

Tom Whalen plays Ernie, providing pickled eggs and comic relief to break up the other comedy, as well as the audience.

Set design by Dana White, and lighting design by Bartley H. Bauer put you right there on the ice. The costumes by Colleen Ryan-Peters are a lot of fun. The more you look at them, the more interesting bits and pieces you see. The illusion is supported by Richard Alder's sounds and music. You can visualize the snowmobiles as they come roaring up, and the backstage piano blends in so perfectly with the voices that you don't even wonder if it's going to fall through the ice.

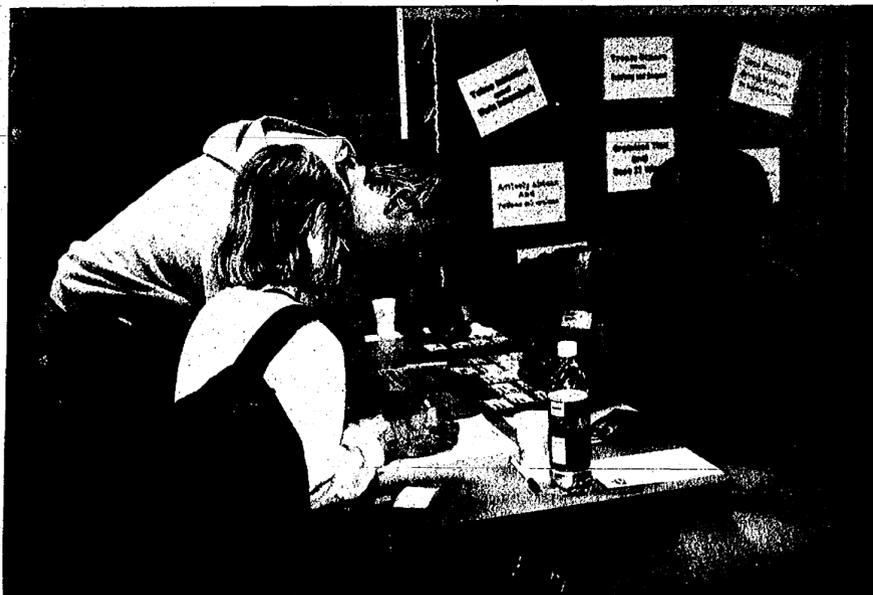

Director Anthony Caselli has

Band to play concert

The Dexter Community Band begins its 19th year of concerts Oct. 28 with a Halloween costume concert.

The concert is set for 3 p.m. at the Wylie Middle School gym, 3060 Kensington St., in Dexter.

The band, led by Bill Gourley, will present a variety of musical selections related to the Halloween season. The concert will mark the local premier of a new work, "Cauldron," by Scott Boerma.

Among the band's selections will be a medley of tunes from "The Wizard of Oz" arranged by James Barnes and "Night on Bald Mountain" by Modeste Moussourgsky, scored by William Schaefer.

The band is sponsored by Dexter Community Education and has members of all ages from the Dexter and Chelsea area.

Those interested in participating in the band should contact Dexter Community Education at 426-4008.

used these bits and pieces deftly, creating an atmosphere that is mostly funny, sometimes moving, and with some creative bits of magic. For example, the shanty, with its wall full of paraphernalia, becomes the fourth character in the play as fishing poles magically transform into canes and beer cans become TV cameras.

Stylistically, "Guys on Ice" falls somewhere in between "Escanaba in da Moonlight" and "Dumb and Dumber." The gentle humor and audience interaction is perfect for your whole family. Make this one a family treat.

Tickets for "Guys on Ice" vary in price from $22.50 to $32.50, depending on the day of performance.

Performances are scheduled for Wednesday through Sunday ending on Nov. 25. Reservations can be obtained by calling the Purple Rose Theatre box office at 433-7673. The box office is open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and on performance days beginning one hour prior to curtain.

What Would Jesus Do?

Dear Friends and Neighbors,
This question, "What Would Jesus Do?" has become very widespread in the past several years, with WWJD bracelets and logos seen quite often. I noticed the question on a church sign in Indiana this summer.

The question has some validity for Christians. The Bible does, in a general way, encourage Christians to have the same attitude as Jesus Christ, and to follow His example.

But there are limits. Jesus came for a very specific purpose, namely, to be the Savior of the world. In order to do this He lived a unique life. For example, as far as we know He refrained from marriage, and He didn't even have a home He could call His own. Not every Christian is called to imitate these aspects of His life; in fact, very few are. Many of Jesus' actions, such as healing and performing miracles, aren't even possible for most of us.

More importantly, Jesus' primary purpose in coming was not to be our Example, but our Savior. Yes, He lived a morally perfect life, and it would be ideal if we could imitate His moral perfection. But here on earth we'll always be sinners, and the good news is not that we can do what Jesus did, but rather that through faith in Jesus, God counts Jesus' moral perfection on our records. For Jesus sake, God looks at us as righteous. He declares us righteous, He justifies us.

A far more important question than "What Would Jesus Do?" is, "What Did Jesus Do?" Through His perfect life and innocent death He has given us eternal life. Only when we know that, then are we motivated, in thankfulness, to lead a godly life.

Please worship Him with us Sunday morning. Starting this Sunday our worship time will be 9:30 a.m. until further notice.

Local nurse to speak on women's health issues

By Sheila Pursglove
Associate Editor

Karita Zarley says sometimes women forget to have fun.

Zarley is one of the guest speakers at the Women's Fall Health Expo scheduled from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Oct. 27 at the Washington Street Education Center, 500 Washington St., in Chelsea.

Zarley, a nurse for 20 years, will be presenting two breakout sessions at the Expo. One session will be about menopause and the other on meditation.

The talk on menopause will address how women can smooth the midlife transition, both medically and with some alternative measures.

Zarley will also discuss

Karita Zarley
women's heart disease, preventative measures, and such issues as medication and lifestyle changes women should consider as they approach the post-menopausal years.

Her second session, "Guided Meditation," will focus on how brains function in various states of alertness and how this impacts a body's state of relaxation and health. She will then guide participants through a session of guided meditation.

"It's important for women to come and hear all of the information because women often don't take the time to care for themselves, yet they are the primary caregivers for their immediate families, extended families and sometimes other friends and community families," Zarley said.

"We'll also do a couple of fun sessions, playing drums with each other in a circle and learning how to be more organized. Women are so busy they sometimes don't take the time to play."

A variety of other topics also will be discussed, including breast cancer, osteoporosis, relaxation techniques such as therapeutic touch and meditation, and coping with being a member of the "Squeeze Generation," caught between the demands of children and aging parents.

Dr. Patrick Munson, a Chelsea Community Hospital emergency room physician, will do a presentation on the body, mind and spirit connection.

Zarley, who moved to Chelsea three years ago from Minnesota, has been a nurse for 20 years. She said it's a career that has also taken her to Alaska, Iowa and New York.

Zarley currently works as a medical advocate, helping health care providers see the complete picture of patients and their health issues. She has led a variety of classes, workshops and retreats in the Ann Arbor area and in Minnesota.

The conference keynote speaker will be Greg Yank, speaking on "Communication: the Key to Effective Relationships between Men and Women." Yank studied with John Gray, author of "Men are from Mars, Women are from Venus."

The lunchtime keynote address, "Taking Action," will be given by motivational speaker June Kenny, who will discuss how participants can turn the ideas they have picked up at the conference into life-changing action.

"We're very excited about this program because it's the first time that Chelsea Community Hospital and the Community Education departments of Chelsea, Manchester, Stockbridge and Pinckney have all worked together to provide a program of this scope to the community," Zarley said.

Zarley and nurse Lynn Spencer are also sponsors of the event.

For information and registration, call Chelsea Community Education at 433-2206.

POLICE BLOTTER

Scio Township

Warrant Arrest
A 36-year-old Ann Arbor man was arrested on a warrant at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 8 at his home in Scio Farms Estates, 6655 Jackson Road.

Deputies found the man after they met with his ex-girlfriend. The woman was standing near the entrance of the mobile-home park when police arrived.

The woman wanted the deputies to escort her back to the man's trailer to get her belongings.

Police later found that the man was wanted in Livingston County on a warrant for failing to appear in court.

The man was arrested and custody was transferred to the Livingston County Sheriff's Department.

Attempted Larceny

A 22-year-old Ann Arbor man tried to steal a large bag of empty pop cans at 4:45 p.m. Oct. 9 from Bel-Mark Lanes, 3530 Jackson Road.

The man noticed the bag of cans near an employee entrance of the bowling alley. He said he was walking behind the back of the building when he saw the cans. The suspect said he wanted to take them so he could get money to buy cigarettes.

The man was arrested and taken to the Washtenaw County Jail.

Larceny

Someone broke into a van and took several compact discs between 9 a.m. Oct. 7 and 5 p.m. Oct. 8 in the 850 block of Scio Meadow Drive.

The unlocked van was parked in the victim's driveway. Approximately 20 compact discs valued at $400 were taken.

Between 5 p.m. Oct. 6 and 8 a.m. Oct. 8, someone stole $100 from an unlocked car that was parked in the 1100 block of West View Way.

The money was in the glove box of the car. The 26-year-old victim isn't sure who may have entered the car.

Two cellular telephones valued at $300 each were taken from a car between 11 p.m. Sept. 28 and 7:30 a.m. Sept. 29 in the 4800 block of Hidden Lake Brook Lane.

Both phones were taken from an unlocked car. The owners of the cars are not sure who may have stolen the phones.

several golf clubs from an open garage between 11 p.m. Sept. 11 and 7 a.m. Sept. 14 in the 700 block of Doornoch Drive.

The garage door had been left open several times and the homeowner wasn't sure when the items were taken.

The clubs and the bag were worth approximately $2,300.

Between Sept. 26 and Oct. 10 someone stole 75 sheets of plywood from a construction site in the 3000 block of Walnut Ridge Drive.

The wood, valued at $1,500, was being stored at the work site when the contractor noticed it was missing. The contractor asked his work crew about the missing plywood, but no one noticed anything suspicious.

Someone stole a $3,000 snowmobile trailer between 6 p.m. Oct. 7 and 8 a.m. Oct. 8 from a lot at Nicholson Motorsport, 4405 Jackson Road.

The victim left the trailer chained to a service vehicle in the lot that was awaiting repairs. The chains were found cut and the trailer was missing when the store opened the following morning.

Property Damage

A total of 28 new cars were damaged between Oct. 9 and Oct. 11 at the Subaru dealership, 4255 Jackson Rd.

The cars were parked in a lighted area on the east side of the building.

Someone used a sharp blunt object to scratch the cars, causing $12,000 worth of damage. Damage was found on the hoods and the quarter panels of the cars.

Suspicious Incident

Someone left a suspicious message on an answering machine at 3 p.m. Sept. 29 at a home in the 3000 block of Bellaflower Court.

The person left a message asking the homeowner, a 41-year-old woman, if her children were OK.

The message was difficult to understand because it kept on cutting out. The woman cannot think of anyone who would have called because her number is unlisted.

Phone Threats

Someone called and made threats to a gas station employee at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 29 at the BP gas station, 2252 Zeeb Rd.

The employee answered the phone and asked if the caller could hold, and the caller said that he was next.

The employee asked the caller if it was a joke and the caller asked him if it sounded like a joke.

The employee called 911 and closed the gas station until police arrived.

Dexter Village

Breaking and Entering

Someone broke into a home and stole two bottles of medication between 5 a.m. Oct. 2 and 5 a.m. Oct. 3 in the 2400 block of Dongara Court in Walkabout Creek apartments.

Someone cut a hole in a screen from an opened window to get inside the house. The prescription medication was in the master bedroom.

A total of 20 pills of Darvacet and 12 pills of Vicadin were taken from the house. Both drugs are considered a controlled substance.

Chelsea Village

General Assistance

An officer found a Canton woman trying to hitchhike at 11:30 p.m. Oct. 11 on Main Street near Pierce Park.

The 41-year-old woman was recently released from Chelsea Community Hospital and was standing in the rain trying to catch a ride to Canton. She did not have enough money for a taxi.

Officers gave the woman a ride to Ann Arbor.

Suspicious Telephone Call

A 95-year-old Chelsea resident received a suspicious telephone call 5 p.m. Oct. 11.

The caller told the man that he was to stay at home that evening. The man called his son and police. Extra officers patrolled the area that evening.

Property Damage

Someone smashed a window at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 13 in the 700 block of North Freer Road.

Someone threw a large object at the front window, causing approximately $250 in damage.

The homeowner heard a loud noise in the front of the house and immediately ran to see the shattered window.

Civil Dispute

Police helped a 44-year-old woman gather her personal belongings after she and her roommate started arguing and fighting at 7:15 p.m. Oct. 14 at a home on Grant Street.

The two started fighting after the woman was told that the truck she was driving belonged to her roommate's boyfriend. While the two were arguing, the boyfriend broke the side window.

Drunken Driving

Police arrested a 44-year-old Jackson man for drunken driving at 1 a.m. Oct. 13 near the intersection of South Main Street and Village Place Drive.

The man was driving 41 mph in a 25 mph-zone. When officers stopped the man, they could smell alcohol on his breath and gave him a Breathalyzer test. His blood-alcohol level was .085 percent. A blood-alcohol level of .08 is considered legally impaired.

Police remained with the man for 30 minutes and then gave him a second Breathalyzer test. The second test resulted in a .72 percent blood-alcohol level. The man was later released.

We can manage area's growth

GREGORY PARKER

COMMUNITY ROOTS

It's been about a month since residents packed a Chelsea Planning Commission public hearing to speak against The Vineyards, a 352-unit subdivision proposed for the northeast corner of the village.

For some of us — at least, for me — the experience was a rude awakening. I had hoped that after a display of public opposition to the project, the Planning Commission would be able to turn it down. But it's a little more complicated than I had imagined.

The Planning Commission's power resides in whether proposed developments adhere to the zoning restrictions and ordinances set forth by the Village Council. They don't pass moral or ethical judgments on property owners and developers. They just make sure the proposed use of property conforms to village law.

It can ask for studies or more information, or even send a proposal back to a developer to address certain concerns.

When the Planning Commission is ready to make its final decision, it relays a non-binding recommendation to the Village Council. The council gets the final say, and even it has a hard time turning down development proposals for subjective reasons.

Let's say, for the sake of discussion, that all of the Planning Commission members oppose a project because it's distasteful and disrespectful to the character of Chelsea.

But, say, this hypothetical project meets every criteria of every village ordinance and zoning restriction. It's meticulous in its adherence to village law.

The only realistic choice the Planning Commission has is to recommend that the village approve the development. Sure, the planners can attach a statement that notes causes for concern, but if the development meets all village criteria, what choice does the commission have?

If they turn down a development for moral or other subjective reasons, they open themselves to attack on many fronts — most of them juridical. After all, landowners' rights to use private property as they wish are held sacred in America.

I've left one thing out of the story so far and that's the comprehensive plan.

The comprehensive plan is best described as the mission and vision of the future development of Chelsea as defined by the Planning Commission and Village Council, with public input. It contains fact-finding reports on traffic and land use and demographic data; it contains brief histories of issues important to village growth.

It may sound dry, but it's a fascinating document if you're interested in the future of Chelsea, or if you're interested in urban planning.

The comprehensive plan is so important because much of it is subjective. It outlines the spirit of Chelsea; it talks about ensuring that future development lies in the scope of the rural, agricultural character of Chelsea. And if you're versed on the latest trends in urban planning — new urbanism, multiple-use buildings, etc. — you'll appreciate the thought and consideration of these trends in the ter plan.

When considering proposed developments, the Planning Commission also determines whether they're in the spirit and follow the intent of the comprehensive plan. But it's hard to turn down a project because it doesn't meet part of the plan's subjective criteria.

How does one tell if a subdivision fits with the rural and agricultural heritage of Chelsea? I can tell by looking at it, and so can others. But arguing about such matters in court — where the village would probably land if it rejected proposals for strictly subjective reasons — is a costly proposition for the village.

Our hands are tied, right? Not really.

Many American towns have grown teeth to enforce their planning goals by setting forth strict development guidelines in local ordinances and zoning restrictions. In a sense, they've made restrictions and ordinances out of the subjective issues found in comprehensive plans.

Nantucket, R.I., is a good example. It has a Historic District Commission that must review every development and make sure it fits into the historic character of the city.

It's too bad that landowners and developers don't look at community values, environmental impact and social consequences when using their land.

When they don't, the entire community suffers. And because many developers fail to put impact in front of profit, communities must protect themselves.

The Chelsea Village Council needs to open the Pandora's box of zoning restrictions and village ordinances and rework them to fit with Chelsea's rural and agricultural heritage.

The Village Council must quantify and codify the small-town nature of Chelsea to ensure its preservation.

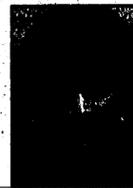

The Village Council must give the Planning Commission a set of regulations that allows planners to retain the character of Chelsea.

And if the community is involved in the process, then we can all have our say.

Let's keep Chelsea unique, historic and desirable. It may cost a little in time and money in the short run, but the intangible benefits in the long run are worth every penny.

Visit to VA hospital an eye-opener

MAVIS MCKINNEY

HERITAGE NEWSPAPERS

HOME FRONT

You can laugh. You can cry. You can acknowledge with a sympathetic nod.

You can listen, whether you want to or not, to the patients with their families and friends, talking quietly, waiting endlessly.

You can think your own thoughts, perhaps comparing why you are there to what you're hearing. Perhaps not wanting to be there at all.

But you can't ignore the pull of your heart as you sit at the John D. Dingell Veterans Affairs Medical Center in Detroit or, for that matter, any VA hospital among people who have handed their lives over to their country, and not always gotten them back whole.

It's a cold, gray Thursday and I'm here with my dad and my husband. My dad flew with the Royal Canadian Air Force in World War II, and we have brought him to the VA Medical Center for a service-related physical and evaluation.

In dealing with my father and his service-related problems, one of the wonderful things I have learned about benefits for servicemen and women is that the Canadian and U.S. governments have reciprocal agreements about caring for one another's citizens.

So, instead of taking dad to London, Ontario, or points farther east and north, we are able to drive from Warren to downtown Detroit in about 25 minutes and schedule all of his appointments in one day. The folks at the medical center then fax the physicians' reports directly to Veterans Affairs Canada's Ottawa office, and we get to go home.

By 10:15 a.m. on this sunless day, most of the chairs are taken in the waiting alcove across from the pension and compensation desk. Dad and I manage to scrunch into two, side by side, and my husband folds into another across from us.

Like the others who line the walls of the waiting area, my dad has a story. But we know what it is — and, as a family, don't talk much about it. The immediate curiosity about his wartime experiences on bombing runs over Germany is gone, but not the respect and awe we feel for what he and others have done for their countries.

Men and women who protected their countries are here waiting on this day.

A young man plunks down, cocky in lacquered cowboy boots, Garth Brooks-style hat and black vest. His jammed-full backpack seems a bit out of place with the snakeskin boots and the country-western attire.

He is from Port Austin and spent time in Bahrain during his tour of duty. He has recurring problems. At one point I almost decide that talking too much is one of them. Then I catch myself. He's a ways from home, probably nervous and he did serve his country.

So, I end up chatting with him about his five children — ages 2 to 13 — how he and his wife like to go camping with all of the kids and his dream to "get hold of a few acres and start raising horses."

Across from him is a husky, healthy looking man in his mid-30s. He's wearing jeans, his blond hair in a ponytail, looking relaxed, even a bit bored.

Then it comes out, that he's back for more radiation and possible surgery on a tumor in his leg, a tumor that was misdiagnosed several times while he was serving overseas in Germany.

Side by side across from me are a husband and wife, near my age. He was in the Navy, serving on submarines. He, too, has recurring health problems. We don't learn what they are.

When he leaves to see one of the many physicians whose examination rooms dot the hallway, his wife volunteers to no one in particular that they have raised five children. They frequently make the trip from the Muskegon area to Detroit for her husband's treatments and medication.

A small woman comes in with her daughter, and they talk urgently about the mom taking tamoxifen, a potent cancer-fighting drug. The woman looks drawn and tired, and she's so thin.

"It's your life, Mom," the girl says.

So, it is, I think. But what part of it was given to her country — and what part is left for her family? The fresh-faced look of the daughter is a sharp-relief mirror image of the woman whose arm rests against hers.

As we wheel my dad to another floor for hearing tests, we pass the area where doctors and nurses and therapists treat patients who have lost limbs.

A gray-haired, timeworn man expertly guides his wheelchair through a doorway, what remains of his left leg stubbornly pointing the way to his next destination. I immediately wonder what his life was like before he suffered the injury that changed his options forever.

I wonder how he feels about choices. He is intent on his maneuverings, though, and looks up only to see the way as he glides quietly around a corner and down yet another corridor.

From these and other bits of overheard conversation and glimpses of others' lives, it would be easy to glean hundreds of stories a week from the hallways and waiting rooms of Veterans Affairs Medical Center.

As you listen and observe, you can laugh. You can cry. Sometimes you feel like doing both — at the same time.

But you can never ignore these people who have given so much.

We live in a throw-away society

JOAN DYER ZINNER

HERITAGE NEWSPAPERS

OVERVIEW

When I spoke to a woman involved in the Chinese Shar-Pei Rescue of Michigan recently, I told her that I was somewhat surprised that the wrinkled breed was in the need of rescuing.

I was aware of the Doberman Rescue group and I've heard of Greyhound Rescue, which finds homes for former racing dogs. But why, I wondered, does the charming dog with a skin too big for its body need to be rescued?

Every breed has a rescue group, she informed me — cute or not, dogs are "disposable items."

I guess I shouldn't have been surprised. We live in a "throw-away society" where we toss out everything from old model TVs and cassette recorders to slightly used and bruised furniture. (Just check the curbside on trash day in your neighborhood.)

We throw away last year's coats, shoes and sweaters and discard anything else that doesn't meet with the current season's fads and fashions.

Our society even throws away relationships when we get tired of them, resulting in a 50 percent divorce rate in the United States.

So, I guess it makes sense that if we don't bother to take the time to make a relationship work we won't bother keeping a less than perfect pet.

The Shar-Pei rescuer said the reason people discard their dogs often has nothing to do with the pet's behavior or demeanor. Sometimes, people move and their dog "doesn't fit" in the new house or new neighborhood.

Maybe, their pet is no longer among the top favorites in the dog world, and so he is replaced with the breed that won the last American Kennel Club's best in show.

Sadly, some loyal house pets are discarded because they have grown old. Just like humans, an older dog may develop health problems and become a bit slower and less energetic. And, just as we sometimes cast aside the elderly members of our families, our throw-away society also discards its aging pets.

Sometimes, the popularity of the breed can work against it, the rescue worker said. When a breed becomes extremely popular, puppy mills may place too many dogs on the market. Then, when the fickle public turns to another breed, the supply of the former most popular breed exceeds the demand.

Why are pets discarded? For all of the above reasons and more, said the Shar-Pei rescuer. Thus, there is a need for groups, like hers, to assist by temporarily boarding homeless dogs and finding new homes for them.

Animals do have some good friends who are ready to adopt an unwanted pet, but there are not enough good-hearted people to take them all, especially the older ones.

There's someone I know who adopted a skinny kitten dropped off in his neighborhood during the winter. I've also seen children with good hearts collect food and blankets for animal shelters.

If you need a reason to befriend a dog, think of Mark

Twain's observation about canines: "If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. That is the principal difference between a dog and a man."

50 years of The Herdsmen

Leroy Heller's legacy marks golden anniversary

By Sheila Pursglove
Associate Editor

In 1951, local farmer Leroy Heller started a 4-H club for a small group of children living close to Rogers Corners at Waters and Fletcher roads.

His son, Bob, was already a member of two other 4-H clubs, Lima Livestock and Lima Shepherds.

"We got our heads together and decided to start our own club, and Dad took on the job of leader," Bob Heller says.

The small group of five included Bob, his cousin Earl Heller, David Grossman, Norman Loeffler and his sister, Arlene (Loeffler) Bareis. Today, as it marks its golden anniversary, the club boasts a membership of 60.

"I was in 11th grade at Chelsea High School," Heller recalls about the club's beginning. "Arlene was a year behind me, and the other three were five or six years younger. We all showed steers. Later, the livestock expanded to include sheep, swine, dairy and other animals."

The infant club met in the Heller farmhouse. As membership grew, it moved to the Lima Township Hall on Jackson Road. The annual 4-H Youth Show was held at Veterans Park in Ann Arbor, before it moved to its current location at the Farm Council Grounds on Ann Arbor-Saline Road in Saline.

"It was quite a struggle to grow - a major undertaking to help the club succeed," Heller says. "It gradually increased each year. We've all been thankful it kept going as it has been thriving ever since."

The club currently numbers approximately 60 members, ranging in age from 5 to 19. All Herdsmen show some type of livestock animal.

When Heller was too old to be a member, he joined his father as a leader, a position he held for 33 years. He has also been a livestock judge for many years.

Heller says membership in 4-H, with its pledge "To make the best better," gives young people an excellent feeling of accomplishment and success.

His daughters, Sue, Nancy, Beth and Laurie, all followed him into 4-H. Sue Rodgers is a leader today, and her children, Austin, Alyssa and Ben, are all continuing the 4-H tradition.

"Being in 4-H gave me the opportunity to do a lot of things I might not otherwise have done," Sue Rodgers says. "I went on a trip to Washington, D.C. with 4-H kids from all over the state and was also a livestock judge in Harrisburg, Pa."

Rodgers' kids share her enthusiasm for the fun and friendship of the Herdsmen.

"I get to tell the judges what type of knowledge I have about my project," Alyssa Rodgers says. "I also like to be a buddy to my friends and help them learn what I know."

In mid-September, Sue Rodgers hosted a 50th anniversary party for past and present members of the club. Participants enjoyed a dessert potluck at the Rodgers farm and an afternoon of reminiscing.

"I think the youngsters enjoyed hearing that we were mischievous back then, too," Heller says. "Being in 4-H was a great environment to grow up in. It's also the best boy-girl meeting place there is."

Heller shared memories with Arlene Bareis, who was a Herdsman for two years.

"It was a group of neighbors who lived within a mile of each other who would get together," Bareis says. "4-H is a very valuable tool in teaching leadership and values to children. It also gives them a great time."

Her children, Judy Bareis, David Bareis, Diane Bareis and Cheryl Quinn, were all members of the club, showing sheep, lambs and rabbits.

Judy, a teacher consultant at South Meadows Elementary School, says 4-H taught her responsibility, cooperation and the value of hard work.

"I was able to save the money I earned from the sale of my sheep and use it to pay half my college tuition," she says.

Cindy Fischer, who grew up on North Territorial Road, joined the Herdsmen when she was 15 years old. She enjoyed being reunited at the anniversary party with leaders from her teen-age years. They included Bob Heller and Archie Bradbury, a former dairy leader who came down from Midland with his family.

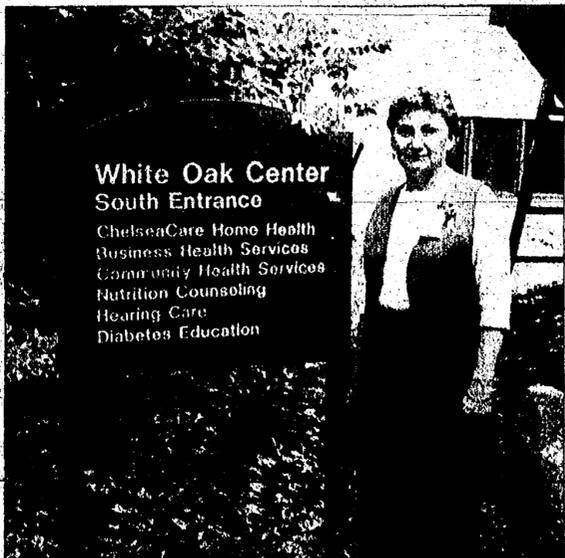

Fischer's three children, Stephanie, Christopher and Garrett, are all Herdsmen.

Stephanie, 15, a sophomore at Lima Township farmer Bob Heller (above) has been involved with 4-H since his childhood. His father, Leroy, started Rogers Corners Herdsmen in 1951. The club has grown from five members to approximately 60. Heller's granddaughter, Alyssa Rodgers (right) continues the tradition. At left, Herdsmen Garrett Fischer of Dexter takes a break during July's 4-H Youth Show.

Webster Township resident Klara Danner works as liaison for the Congregational Nurse Connection, a new program providing volunteer parish nurses for local congregations. The program recently received a grant of $15,000 from the Chelsea Community Foundation.

Reviving tradition Parish nurse helps local congregations

By Sheila Pursglove
Associate Editor

Klara Danner, liaison for the new Congregational Nurse Program, brings a wealth of personal experience to the position.

Two years ago, Danner lost her father and sister to cancer. During their illnesses, the Missouri native spent time in her home state helping with their care and preparing for their deaths. Both were able to die at home, with hospice care, as they had requested.

"The love and help my family received from friends and volunteers, often through their church, was a priceless, precious gift," Danner says. "My dad and sister became important spiritual teachers to me as I watched them face death."

Danner started work at Chelsea Community Hospital in January as the Congregational Nurse Connection liaison. She meets with clergy, nurses and community groups to spread the word that the service is free and open to all denominations.

The project was under development for a couple of years before getting off the ground this year with help from a hospital fund-raising effort and a grant of $15,000 from the Chelsea Community Foundation.

"I believe the CNC program makes a difference because it openly includes spirituality in health care," Danner says. "That makes this program so unique and why it appeals to so many nurses and community members and clergy."

The program is based on a volunteer model of health care delivery in which nurses volunteer to function as a parish nurse in their congregation.

Parish nurses wear many hats in the roles of health educators, health counselors, referral resources and volunteer coordinators while developing their ministry. They do not provide hands-on care such as injections, wound-care or home-care services.

Working in tandem with pastors, they strive to meet the program goals of fostering physical, mental, emotional and spiritual well-being within the community.

An extension of the program is the development of a health care ministry that includes volunteer care professions.

Danner says some parish nurses are willing to go to congregations that do not have their own parish nurse to deliver health-related programs such as blood pressure checks and living will education.

"When a volunteer identifies a health care need and wants to develop a program, she and I work together to locate community resources and educational materials," Danner says.

Churches currently in the program, which covers the entire hospital service area of Chelsea, Dexter, Grass Lake, Pinckney, Manchester and Stockbridge, are the First Congregational Church of Chelsea, Zion Lutheran Church in Chelsea and Shalom Lutheran in Pinckney.

Danner says several area

HERDSMEN

Dexter High School and this year's Chelsea Fair Queen, says she is in 4-H for the learning opportunity and to meet new people.

"I've made a lot of lifelong friends through 4-H and I'm glad to be in it," she says.

The club enjoys plenty of success, with 25 livestock grand champions this year alone.

"The kids also participated in other areas of 4-H, including cooking, craft, woodworking, sewing, photography and story writing," leader Kathy Grau says. "Several project areas also received honor awards and best of show awards."

Her daughter, Cindy, says 4-H has been a great experience, teaching her time management and responsibility.

"People think that 4-H is about living on a farm, but really it is about meeting people from around the county and state," she says.

Leader Sharon Vaassen's two daughters, Rachael and Patti, are in the group. Both girls were helped out by the club's Big Buddy program that matches teens with newer or younger members.

"Rachael is now a Big Buddy herself," Vaassen says. "She helps kids out at meetings, with showing techniques and with craft projects."

Herdsmen also give their time to community projects. They have shown their rabbits at Chelsea Retirement Community and they have sung carols at the retirement home and Silver Maples Retirement Community.

Members have sponsored a team in the American Cancer Society Relay for Life, planted a garden at Cobblestone Farm in Ann Arbor and hosted a recent bake sale fund-raiser for the families of New York City firefighters and emergency personnel who died in the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center.

Bob Heller is well satisfied at the results of the little 4-H club his father started 50 years ago.

"If my time and efforts have helped some young person make this a better place to live, I'll be more than compensated," he says.

Associate Editor Shella Pursglove can be reached at 475-1371.

NURSE

churches are looking for nurse volunteers and will probably sign up for the program shortly.

Dannar recently delivered a sermon at a Sunday morning service at the First Congregational Church of Chelsea, presenting the concept of parish nursing and its history. She and parish nurse Linda Smith then carried out blood pressure screenings and health surveys among the congregation.

Smith, a registered nurse with 30 years experience, works part time at Foote Memorial Hospital in Jackson and at the Chelsea Retirement Community. She and her husband, Richard, have lived in Chelsea since 1988 and have belonged to the First Congregational Church for the past six years.

"I'm very excited about this program and feel that there is so much that I can give," Smith says. "Many of our congregation are older people who need support, counseling, or who are lonely. I hope I can help with education and support, and I have Klara for further help and resources."

Smith, who has been an oncology nurse since 1983, hopes to take a class in Parish Nursing. She is also a CPR instructor and hopes to teach classes to parishioners.

The church's pastor, the Rev. David Cleaver-Bartholomew, says the program is enabling churches to recover a very old tradition.

"Churches were always concerned about the body, as well as the spirit, and a lot of churches started hospitals," he says. "Through this very valuable ministry, churches are rebuilding a long-established tradition in which both the body and the spirit need to be treated."

Cleaver-Bartholomew says he was excited when presented with the concept.

"I hadn't experienced the program before, but I know it's been popular in larger churches for at least a decade," he says.

"Since Linda is a member of our congregation, there is already a relationship of trust between her and patients, and people are willing to go to her with their questions."

Dannar says seniors may get the most benefit from the program, but it is intended to serve across the lifespan.

"Certainly though, seniors typically have many complex health care needs, and the availability of a CNC volunteer can make a dramatic difference in quality of life," she says.

Dannar moved to Ann Arbor in the mid-1970s to pursue her nursing career. After graduating from Washtenaw Community College in 1982 as a Registered Nurse, she then finished her bachelor's degree in nursing at the University of Michigan, where she is now pursuing a master's degree in community health nursing.

Dannar completed a parish nurse preparation course this year at the University of Detroit-Mercy Hospital.

Her nursing experience includes psychiatry, pediatrics, physical rehabilitation, hospice and home care.

Six years ago, Dannar moved from Ann Arbor to Webster Township, a rural area that reminds her of her Missouri roots. She and her husband, Peter Dooley, a health and safety educator for the United Auto Workers union, got married on the front porch of their old farmhouse five years ago.

"I'm delighted to have the chance to return to the country, surrounded by fields and woods," she says. "I'm happiest when I'm home and surrounded by friends and family playing volleyball, having a campfire, eating soup around a wood burning stove."

In her spare time, Dannar enjoys organic gardening, vegetarian cooking, playing piano, spiritual exploration, journal writing and camping on Bois Blanc Island.

She is a member of Webster United Church of Christ, where she has helped with the Webster Fall Festival, the Bailey Youth Forum, the Ministry in Mental Illness, the Guild, and the Hunger Coalition.

Dannar is trying to establish a Health Care Ministry at Webster church and is talking with the church's pastor, the Rev Laverne Gill.

Dannar will hold a meeting for nurse volunteers and nurses interested in hearing more about the program, from 7 to 9 p.m. Nov. 8 at the White Oak Center at Chelsea Community Hospital. For information on how to be a member of the Congregational Nurse Connection, call 475-3992.

Chelsea First Congregational Church is one of the churches using the Congregational Nurse Connection. The Rev. David Cleaver-Bartholomew is pictured on the steps of the church with his children, Audrey and Lydia, parish nurse Linda Smith, parishioner Wendy Hava and parish nurse Klara Dannar.

Members of Shalom Lutheran Church in Pinckney are looking forward to the dedication of a new church sanctuary on Nov. 4. Pictured are Building Committee Chairman Bruce Spencer (left); the Rev. Kurt Hutchens, pastor of the church; Treasurer Dennis Lange; and Music Director Anthony Giamanco.

Church to dedicate new sanctuary

Shalom Lutheran Church in Pinckney is completing construction of its new sanctuary that has space for more than 450 people — more than doubling the current worship space.

The new addition to the church on M-36 features state-of-the-art lighting, sound and video that will allow for great flexibility in many future uses of the facility.

Shalom, a congregation that has grown in numerous ways from its humble beginnings with 30 families at the Pinckney Depot, will celebrate its 25th anniversary throughout next year.

A dedication ceremony for the new sanctuary will be held 3:30 p.m. Nov. 4. Bishop Robert Rimbo of the Southeast Michigan Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America will participate, as well as a delegation from the companion synod in Tanzania, Africa.

The new components of the sanctuary will be dedicated and the program will feature aspects of the church's music program, including brass, woodwinds, tympani, bells, choirs and the Praise Band.

A reception will follow. The community is invited to attend the event.

The new sanctuary is intended to provide a multi-use community haven, in addition to various worship services throughout the week. In conjunction with the "Bring the Arts to Pinckney" group, it is hoped that one or two musical productions can be produced on this site each year, as well as various musical programs throughout the year.

Shalom's Music Institute, led by Tony Giamanco, will be housed in the new addition. The institute provides music instruction in instrument and vocals for anyone in the community who is interested.

Jenn Christensen, Youth and Family director, has plans for the former sanctuary. Outreach to Pinckney area youth will include "The Magnet," a safe haven for kids after school and on-weekends where they can experience a sense of belonging and find resources to help deal with everyday challenges. A coffeehouse atmosphere will take shape and will include Christian music.

The Rev. Kurt Hutchens, pastor of Shalom, envisions a campus providing for spiritual needs.

In addition, the facilities and services will be created with a holistic approach to meet the various needs of the Pinckney-area community.

A preschool is being planned, youth programming is well under way, music programs are expanding and numerous Christian-based education services and programs are offered.

The long-term future may include a counseling center and athletic facilities.

Yo-Yo Extravaganza

Marvin Beresford, of USA Yo-Yo Extravaganza, entertained pupils at South Meadows Elementary School on Sept. 18 with extraordinary yo-yo feats. Beresford performs across the world, has appeared at Disney World and the White House, and is frequently seen on Nickelodeon and the Family Channel. Jenna Albert (left), Matthew Sauer and Ella Skrocki all tried their hand at wielding yo-yos, watched by teachers Susan Harris and Mike Barelis and Beresford.

Students named as AP scholars

A total of 18 Chelsea High School students have been named AP Scholars by the College Board in recognition of exceptional achievement on the college-level AP exams.

Only about 13 percent of the more than 840,000 students in 13,680 schools who took AP exams in May performed at a sufficiently high level to merit such recognition.

David Widmayer qualified for the AP Scholar with Distinction Award by earning an average grade of 3.5 on all AP exams taken and grades of 3.0 or higher on five or more exams.

Katherine Bach, Christine Broshar, Eli Gerstenlauer, Corinne Kistka, Michael Konieczki and Daniel Wright qualified for the AP Scholar with Honor Award. They qualified by earning an average grade of at least 3.25 on all AP exams taken and grades of 3.0 or higher on four or more of them.

Calltin Biedron, Nicole Blair, Charles DeGryse, Erin Dronen, Nicole Kleber, Kaitlyn Kooyers, Erica Miller, Jessica Oberholtzer, Christopher Strahler, Molly Welton and Kathryn Wheeler all qualified for the AP Scholar Award. They qualified by completing three or more AP exams with grades of 3.0 or higher.

There are 35 AP exams consisting of multiple-choice and free-response questions, except for the studio art exam that evaluates students' original artwork.

Most of the nation's colleges and universities award credit, advanced placement or both based on successful performance on the AP exams.

Beauty Queen

Erin Nelson competed in the 2001 Miss Michigan American Co-ed Pageant held May 24 through 28 in Detroit. She won first place as Most Photogenic, and received a crown, banner, plaque and $100. She also was cited as the Most Promising Model, winning a plaque and a $500 scholarship to the John Robert Powers School, where she will take commercial acting classes this fall. She placed second runner-up overall out of a field of 54 competing in the Junior Teen age group. She is now eligible to compete at the national level at Disney World in November. A junior at Chelsea High School, Nelson has been involved in dance for eight years. She was a baton twirler with the Chelsea Baton Corps for five years and has completed modeling school.

Still unbeaten

Chelsea football conquers No. 1-ranked Huron in tight battle

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

No sweat. In what was billed as the contest that would end Chelsea's 22-game regular season win streak and knock it from the ranks of the unbeaten, turned out to be what Bulldog faithful have come to expect — another Blue and Gold victory.

Make it 23 straight regular season wins.

With a supreme defensive effort and just enough offense, Chelsea (8-0, 3-0) defeated Division I, No. 1-ranked Ann Arbor Huron 21-14 last Friday night.

It was the Bulldogs' fourth straight victory over the River Rats (7-1).

"I think we just played our game," said Chelsea coach Brad Bush. "Our kids had a lot of confidence going into the game. We didn't do anything extraordinary."

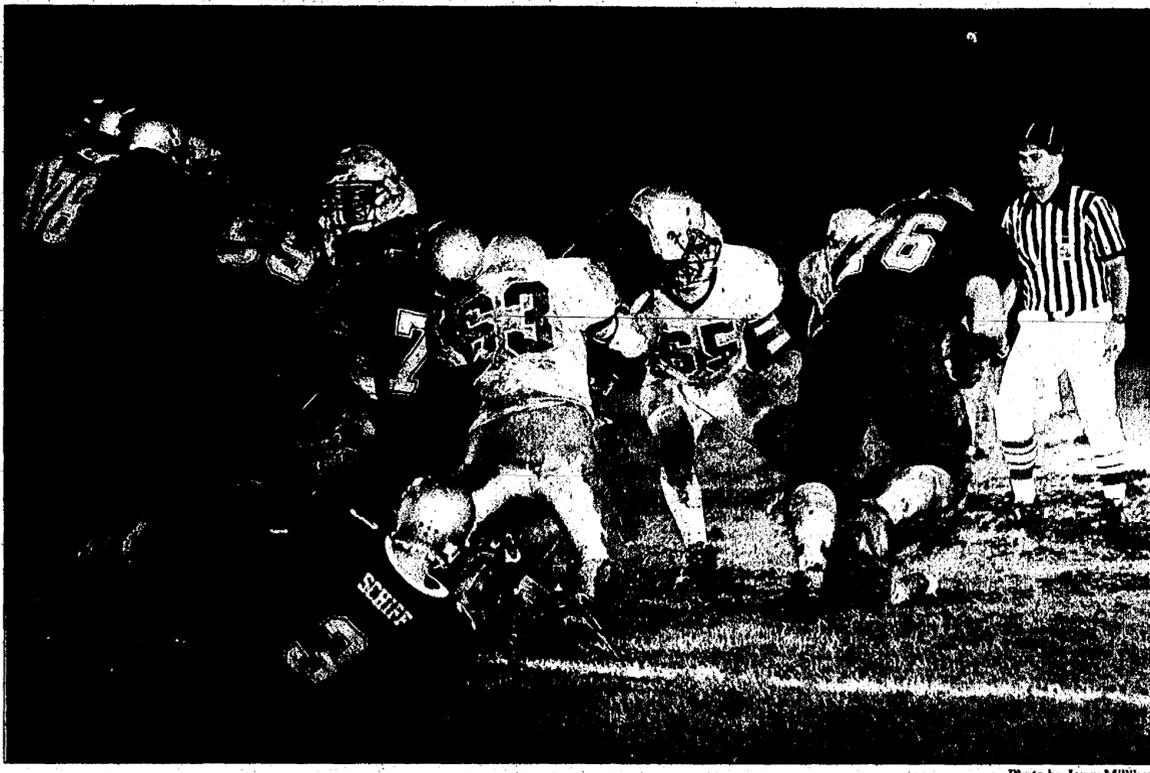

Not if you call ordinary limiting arguably the state's best wide receiver prospect, Carl Tabb (6-foot-2, 185), to just one reception for 17 yards, or holding a Huron team that had been averaging close to 40 points a game, to a measly 14.

"We just played good football," Bush said.

Division III, No. 5-ranked Chelsea scored first in the much-hyped match-up, on senior running back Eddie McClendon's 9-yard run.

With senior Kent Reames' successful extra point, the Bulldogs led 7-0.

Huron answered right back as senior Jeff Jenkins (117 yards on 23 carries) hit pay dirt on a 17-yard sprint.

Chelsea junior Tony Kimmen wraps up a Huron ball carrier as Mike Milliken (65) closes in.

The extra point was unsuccessful, making the score 7-6 Chelsea.

In the third quarter, the River Rats took the lead as junior speedster Marcus Moore exploded for a 50-yard touchdown run.

The 2-point conversion rush by Jenkins was good and Huron led 14-7.

To end the third quarter, McClendon broke free on a 40-yard touchdown burst.

Reames' extra point tied the game at 14-14, as the two undefeated state powers headed into the fourth quarter.

With 3:27 left on the clock, McClendon scored touchdown

No. 3 on a 34-yard run.

With Reames' extra point, the scoring ended at 21-14.

The Chelsea defense stepped up in the fourth frame, intercepting three passes.

Bulldog senior Andy Montero snared the last one with 49 seconds remaining on the clock.

Reames had the other two picks.

Bush said there were two key plays in the game.

"I thought Reames' interception when it was 14-14 was huge," he said. "And McClendon's TD run late in the game, was obviously big."

Bush said his team played with a bit of a chip on its shoulder.

"Our kids had read a lot of things about how good Huron was," he said. "They felt like they were being underestimated."

"We were loose and excited to play."

McClendon finished the game with 97 yards rushing on 10 attempts. Junior Darl Bauer ended the night with 70 yards on 17 carries.

Chelsea quarterbacks Zack Miller and Jake Freeman passed for 36 and 104 yards, respectively.

Bulldog senior Tim Bentley caught six passes for 129 yards, while McClendon had one reception for 15 yards.

For Huron, Moore ended up with 72 yards on 12 carries.

"He's as good as Jenkins," Bush said. "I think he's a Division I prospect, too."

River Rat quarterback Dan Schiff finished with 68 yards on 4-of-18 passing.

Bush said his defense mixed its coverages to try and defend against Tabb.

"Surprisingly, he's only averaging three catches a game," he said. "He's not always featured

Bulldog netters finish third at regional, one point from states

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

The Chelsea girls' tennis team finished third at the Grosse Ile regional last Friday and Saturday.

The Bulldogs ended up with 17 points.

To advance to the state finals, a team needed to score 18 points or finish in the top two.

"It's not much fun being a bridesmaid," said Chelsea coach John Capper. "This was our best ever performance at regionals."

Capturing the regional was the host Red Devils with 26 points, while Dearborn Divine Child finished second with 19 points.

The Bulldogs advanced to three regional final matches, winning two and losing one.

At No. 2 singles, unseeded Alyssa Warren finished first.

Warren won 6-3, 6-7 (5), 6-1 in her second-round match over a Carleton Airport opponent. The match took four hours to complete.

Capper said he was amazed at Warren's stamina.

"Her level of fitness is tremendous," he said. "One of the rallies in the match went 42 times over the net, for just one point. That's the longest match she's ever played."

It didn't get any easier for the Chelsea senior.

In the semifinals, Warren defeated the No. 2 seed from Riverview 6-1, 2-6, 6-0. The match was stopped after the second set because of darkness.

"She was exhausted, but she got her rest," Capper said.

In the regional finals, Warren shined.

"That was her best performance of her career," Capper said.

Chelsea's other first-place finish was at No. 4 doubles.

Bulldogs Jenny Parker and Cynthia Johnson captured the title, beating a duo from Airport in the finals 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

"That was a fantastic comeback after losing the first set," Capper said. "They played their best tennis."

To get to the championship, Parker and Johnson defeated the No. 2 seed from Grosse Ile 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

Also advancing to the finals for Chelsea was No. 3 singles player Amy Baker.

Baker fell in the championship to the No. 1 seed from Grosse Ile 6-0, 6-3.

"She put up a great fight," Capper said. "All the points were contested. The score doesn't reflect how close it actually was."

In her semifinal, Baker won 6-4, 6-0.

"That was the first time Chelsea has ever had three regional finalists," Capper said.

At No. 4 singles, Kirra Sheremet finished third.

In her second-round match, Sheremet prevailed, 6-0, 6-4. In her semifinal match, Sheremet fell 6-3, 6-4.

In No. 1 doubles, the Chelsea combo of Rochelle Stafford and Lindsay Tye lost in the semifinals to the No. 1 seeded Riverview duo 6-3, 6-7, 6-1.

In their second-round match, Stafford and Tye won 6-3, 6-1.

At No. 2 doubles, Kourtney Barlow and Jessica French defeated Detroit Western's duo 6-0, 6-0, before falling to the No. 1-seeded Grosse Ile twosome 6-1, 6-1 in the second round.

At No. 3 doubles, Lindsay Parker and Nancy LaDuke

Chelsea's Cynthia Johnson (left), Amy Baker, Alyssa Warren and Jenny Parker reached the regional finals last weekend at Grosse Ile. It was the first time the Bulldogs ever had that many advance to the championship round.

blanked their first round opponent 6-0, 6-0, before dropping a 6-1, 6-2 match to the No. 1 seeded Grosse Ile team 6-1, 6-2.

At No. 1 singles, Chelsea senior Andrea Daane lost in the first round 3-6, 7-6 (2), 6-3.

"It was so close," Capper said. "It was sad somebody had to lose."

It was also disappointing being one point and one place shy of advancing to the state finals.

Despite winning their flights, neither Warren nor Jenny Parker and Johnson will go to the state championships. Only at No. 1 singles can a player advance, if her team fails to do so.

"It would have been our first time going to states," Capper said. "I'm so proud of the girls. Despite being a bridesmaid, it was a great way to end the season."

Chelsea boys' cross country second at Gabriel Richard Invite

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

The Chelsea boys' cross country team finished second at the 18-team Gabriel Richard Invitational at Hudson Mills last Saturday.

The Bulldogs ended up with 88 points.

Dexter captured the championship with 57 points.

Rounding out the top five were Birmingham Groves with 104 points, Marshall with 127 points and Onsted with 141 points.

"It was a decent showing," said Chelsea coach Eric Swager. "We knew that it should be us or Dexter."

David Fedele was the top finisher for the Bulldogs, placing sixth with a time of 17:01.

Trevor Bach was 17th in 17:35. James McKenzie finished 20th in 17:41, followed by Levi Hyssong in 22nd with a time of 17:54 and Kyle Brown was 23rd in 18:00.

Joel Gentz placed 24th with a time of 18:00, while Nate Hinderer ended up 44th in 18:38 for Chelsea.

"We ran through this meet, meaning that I did not rest our guys very much," Swager said. "This coming Thursday (today) will be the first meet where our team is fully rested."

"I am anxious to see how we fare."

Swager said his squad's strategy was to run the first mile and a half very fast.

"We did this, but our hard training took its toll during the third mile," he said. "Rested, we should be able to carry our race all the way through."

In the invitational's JV competition, Chelsea's Andre Bravo placed first with a time of 18:34.

Jeff Fitch finished second in 18:47, Justin Fitch placed sixth with a time of 19:08 and Dan Lewis ended up seventh in 19:12.

Nick Parker was 11th with a lifetime best time of 19:20, followed by Mike Worthington in 15th in a lifetime best 19:43.

Aaron Turek in 19th in 20:00 and James Daly in 23rd with a lifetime best time of 20:28 for the Bulldogs.

Ryan Montgomery finished 30th with a time of 20:45, followed by Zach Zeigler in 38th in a lifetime best 21:19 and Keegan Peters in 68th with a time of 23:18.

Chelsea next competes in the Southeastern Conference championship 3 p.m. today at Hudson Mills.

Harriers seventh at invite

The Chelsea girls' cross country team finished seventh at the 15-team Gabriel Richard Invitational at Hudson Mills last Saturday.

Kari Moyle had the Bulldogs' top time, placing 26th in 21:59. Savannah Hyssong ended up 33rd with a season best time of 22:36, followed by Shannon Kinner in 36th with a season best 22:54 and Ashley Houle in 48th with a time of 23:10.

Lauren O'Conner finished 60th with a time of 23:54, while Meghan Tandy placed 70th in a season best 24:10 and Miriam Robinovitz ended up 85th with a time of 24:58 for Chelsea.

"We ran some of our younger runners to give them some experience," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke. "They performed very well."

In JV action, Betsy Boyd led the Bulldog contingent finishing 11th with a season best time of 25:00.

Candell Dickerson placed 18th in the 25:56, followed by Jenna Satterthwaite in 20th with a season best time of 26:12 and Caroline Shanks in 22nd in 26:34. Morgan Seitz placed 27th with a time of 26:49, while Katie Fox Clarke was 30th in 27:03 and Marjorie Sacks was 32nd in 27:43.

Katie Personke ended up 40th in 29:00, while Hannah Fairley finished 54th with a time of 37:34 for Chelsea.

Linksters place sixth at regional

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Chelsea's boys' golf team placed sixth at last Saturday's Michigan High School Athletic Association Division II regional at Raisin Valley Golf Course in Tecumseh.

The Bulldogs finished with a team total of 322.

Winning the regional was Trenton with a 306. The Trojans are ranked No. 8 in Division II.

Placing second was Adrian with a 312. Dexter ended up third with a 313.

The top three teams advance to the two-day state finals in East Lansing tomorrow and Saturday.

Mike Mignano was the Bulldogs' leading performer stroking a 78.

Chris Johnson added an 80, while Paul Newhouse had an 81 and Mike Lucas had an 83 to round out Chelsea's scoring.

"The team was disappointed with their performance because they had a goal of earning a trip to the state tournament this year," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman. "However, when you look at their scores, all but one of them shot below their season average."

"They definitely have improved over last year. They have nothing to be ashamed of," Tallman said he was especially proud of Mignano, the Bulldogs' team captain and their only senior.

"He performed very well on the day and turned in our best performance," he said. "His 78 was well below his season average for 18 holes and he only missed going to the state tournament as an individual by four strokes."

On Oct. 9, Chelsea hosted a Southeastern Conference Quad at Reddeman Farms, placing first.

The Bulldogs finished with a team score of 172.

Ending up second was Tecumseh, also with a 172.

The two teams had to count each team's fifth score to determine a winner. Chelsea's fifth best tally was better than the Indians, giving the Dawgs the victory.

Dexter placed third with a 177, followed by Ypsilanti Lincoln with a 184.

Lucas had Chelsea's low score, shooting a 40.

Johnson finished with a 42, followed by Nate Chamberlin with a 44, Mignano with a 46 and Tim Gregg with a 47.

On Oct. 8, the Bulldogs placed second at Tecumseh's SEC Quad.

The host Indians finished first with a team score of 161. The match was played at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Chelsea ended up with a 166, followed by Dexter with a 170 and Lincoln with a 175.

Johnson led the Bulldogs carding a 39. Newhouse recorded a 41, while Lucas and Chamberlin each had a 43.

JV soccer blanks Lincoln

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

The Chelsea JV boys' soccer team shut out Ypsilanti Lincoln 5-0 last Thursday.

Bulldog Jason Medeiros scored two first half goals as Chelsea out shot the host Raisinplitters 7-0.

Recording assists for the Bulldogs were Steve Koich, Cage Cowan and Matt Neff.

In the second half, Chelsea (9-2-3, 4-0-1) continued its scoring binge, notching three goals.

Steve Lambert, Max Hepburn and John Weber each scored for the Bulldogs.

Recording assists for Chelsea were J.P. Severin and Medeiros. Hepburn's goal came on a penalty kick.

Lambert's score was his first of the season.

For the game, the Bulldogs out shot Lincoln 14-1.

Koich had the shut out in net for Chelsea recording one save.

"The biggest challenge of the game was playing on the muddy turf," said Chelsea coach Jim Hicks. "We had some players step up and have good games."

Hicks mentioned the play of Graham Beer.

"He played stopper for us for the first time and broke up a lot of Lincoln attacks in the middle of the field," he said.

On Oct. 9, Chelsea fell to visiting Ann Arbor Pioneer 3-2.

Despite out shooting the Pioneers in the first half, the Bulldog found themselves down 2-1 at the break.

Scoring Chelsea's lone first half goal was Medeiros at the 23-minute mark.

Cowan recorded the assist.

In the second half, the Bulldogs tied it up on a goal by Joel Wilke at the 16-minute mark.

Severin assisted on the play. Two minutes later, however, Pioneer scored the game-winner.

Chelsea keeper Dan Dewall ended up with four saves.

"This was our first meeting of the season," Hicks said. "Last year we didn't lose to this team and we wanted to keep it that way."

"This was a good, close game between two good teams. The difference was a PK (penalty kick) on an inadvertent handball in the area."

On Oct. 4, Chelsea tied Dexter 1-1.

Medeiros scored the Bulldogs' only goal at the eight-minute mark of the first half.

Host Chelsea out shot the Dreadnaughts 15-6 for the game. Dewall made five saves on the day.

"The tie was disappointing against our biggest rival," Hicks said. "This was an exciting game to watch. Both teams played 70 minutes of intense soccer."

Hicks said Ian Galvin, Cowan, Koich and Neff had a great night in the middle of the field.

On Oct. 2, Chelsea defeated Saline 1-0.

Scoring for the visiting Bulldogs was Hepburn at the 22-minute mark of the second half.

"The score was a scrappy team effort with a number of attempted shots and numerous rebounds before Hepburn pulled the ball out of the crowd, made himself a little room and finished it."

Keeper Dewall finished with four saves.

"We out shot the Hornets and dominated the first half," Hicks said. "The second half was even on shots. We worked the ball better into the Saline half of the field and got off four good shots in their offense.

"Reames was matched up with him most of the game. He was excited. He rose to the challenge."

Bush felt that Huron's easy victories throughout the season might have been a factor in Chelsea's win.

"We've been in tight games before, and they haven't," he said. "But, they're as impressive a group as you're going to see."

Despite those who felt Huron's size and speed would be too much for the Bulldogs to handle, Chelsea believed it could beat the River Rats.

"It boiled down to the fact our kids felt that no one thought we could play with them," Bush said. "The only way to prove we could was to play them. It seems like we always find a way to play well against Huron."

"To beat them on their field is very gratifying. Tecumseh (12-6 2OT victory, Oct. 5) was big in that we won the league championship, but this win gave our program some state recognition."

Next up for the Bulldogs is traditional rival Milan.

Bush, who was named by the Detroit Lions as Coach of the Week, said the Bulldogs would be ready for the Big Reds. There will be no letdown.

"They're still Milan," Bush said. "I told the guys at our meeting today that I know we went 9-0 last year, but it doesn't happen very often. We want to do it again."

"Plus, if we go 9-0 we'll be able to host two or three playoff games."

"To go 9-0 two years in a row, that's beyond anything I ever dreamed. I think the kids can get excited about that."

Chelsea travels to Milan tomorrow for a game at 7:30 p.m.

On Sunday, Fox Sports will hold a "Selection Sunday" show naming the first round playoff pairings at 6:30 p.m.

Beach hoops on win streak

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Chelsea's Beach Middle School eighth-grade girls' basketball team defeated Ypsilanti Lincoln 36-33 Oct. 8.

A 15-7 first quarter was the difference against the host Railsplitters.

On Oct. 4, Beach (7-1) overwhelmed Tecumseh 37-15.

Emily Woodruff paced the Bulldogs, scoring 10 points. Kara Reed added seven points, while Hannah Myers and Katherine Lixey chipped in five points each.

Host Chelsea outscored Tecumseh 14-4 in the first half.

On Sept. 30, Beach defeated Adrian 29-26.

Woodruff led the Dawgs with 11 points.

Sarah Iverson finished with six points.

Visiting Chelsea outscored Adrian 22-10 in the first and third quarters to sew up the "W."

On Sept. 26, Beach bested Saline 32-21.

Shannon Olinyk was high scorer with 12 points for Chelsea.

Myers added seven points for Beach.

Chelsea, once again, started strong, outscoring Saline 20-11 in the first half.

Beach next hosts Springbrook at 4 p.m. Monday.

State-ranked Chelsea, Dexter clash in pool

In a battle of Class B-C-D state powers, Chelsea fell to Dexter 110-76 in girls' swimming and diving last Thursday.

"We swam and dove great," said Chelsea coach John Crispin. "But to beat teams like Dexter, we have to be perfect."

"A lot of good things happened tonight and we will learn and build upon those good things. This is a very good team and we will get even better."

The meet between the two county rivals saw 38 state cuts, two pool records, one All-American relay and one Bulldog varsity record set at Chelsea's Beach Middle School.

As one might expect, the battle between No. 5-ranked Chelsea and the No. 2-ranked Dreadnaughts was intense.

Before a packed and enthusiastic crowd, the tone of the meet was set in the first three events.

In the 200 medley relay, Bulldogs Dani Sawyer, Alise Augustine, Julie Mida and Kara Stiles lost to Dexter's quartet, which set a new pool record with an All-American consideration time of 1:51.81.

"That was a great effort," Crispin said of his foursome.

In the next event, the 200 freestyle, Chelsea's Kayla Hack stopped the clock in 2:01.41, but finished two strokes behind Dreadnaught Katie Hughes.

"That was a gutsy performance," Crispin said. "Kayla really stepped up to the challenge. I'm very proud of her. She's a competitor, a leader."

In the meet's third event, Bulldog Rebecca Armstrong swam a lifetime best 200 individual medley (2:21.86) only to finish second behind Dexter's Lindsey Smith, whose time of 2:10.77 set a pool record.

"That pretty much summed up the meet," Crispin said. "We did really well. Dexter just did better."

In a meet of many highlights, the diving trio of Alie Sayers, Kari Ceo and Danielle Houle stood out with a 3-4-5 finish.

"Out of the 12 events, the divers contributed the most," Crispin said. "We did not expect them to score that well. They did a great job."

Also cited for exceptional performances were Katrina Moffett, Mida and Armstrong in the 100 butterfly. Each swam lifetime bests.

Other top performers for Chelsea were Stiles in the 100 freestyle, with a varsity record of 55.88; Daniele Hughes, Tracy Stetson and Moffett in the 500 freestyle; the first-place 200 freestyle relay team of Augustine, Mida, Armstrong and Hack; and Sawyer in the 100 backstroke, with a season best time of 1:03.67.

Last Saturday, the Bulldogs participated in Dexter's Freshman-Sophomore Invitational.

No official team scores are kept, but Crispin said Chelsea took home its share of medals.

In the 200 medley relay, group of Moffett, Augustine, Hack and Hughes placed second.

In the 200 freestyle, Hack finished second, followed by Moffett in third, Hughes in fifth and Jessica Rohrer in 11th.

Bulldog Katrina Moffett plows through the water in the 200 medley relay against Dexter last Thursday.

Stiles placed first and Jennifer Adams was ninth for the Bulldogs.

Augustine finished fifth in the 50 freestyle, while Liz Skidmore ended up 12th in the 100 butterfly.

Stiles touched first in the 100 freestyle, followed by Hughes in seventh place.

Moffett and Rohrer placed second and sixth, respectively, in the 500 freestyle. The foursome of Tara Jennings, Augustine, Rohrer and Stiles placed second in the 200 freestyle relay.

Kelsey Benton finished fourth in the 100 backstroke, followed by Hack in sixth place.

In the 100 breaststroke, Augustine placed first.

In the 400 freestyle relay, the team of Stiles, Hack, Moffett and Hughes finished first.

Chelsea next travels to Ypsilanti Lincoln for a meet today at 6:30 p.m.

On Saturday, the Bulldogs will participate in the Michigan

Interscholastic Swim Coaches Association Invitational at Eastern Michigan University.

"This is a very fast meet, with the best of all Michigan schools participating," Crispin said. "Classes A, B, C and D (will be there). It's kind of like a pre-state meet. It will be a good experience for our girls. We're excited about it."

Chelsea senior Stephanie Crews squares up to shoot the ball against Adrian last Thursday.

Bulldog hoops gets defensive

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Chelsea's girls' basketball team defeated a pesky Adrian squad 42-33 last Thursday.

With their victory, the Bulldogs (9-3) have won seven consecutive games.

Combined with Chelsea's JV hoop squad's eight game win streak, Bulldog basketball is riding a 15 game unbeaten streak.

"The kids have a lot of confidence," said Chelsea coach Todd Blomquist. "We're getting better every game."

Senior guard Stephanie Crews agreed.

"We're coming along," she said. "Compared to the beginning of the season and now, we've improved."

Against the visiting Maples, Chelsea jumped out to a 22-12 first half advantage.

Adrian cut the Bulldog lead to nine points at the end of the third period 29-20, but could get no closer, as both teams tallied 13 points in the fourth quarter.

According to Crews, defense was the key for Chelsea in its victory.

"It was phenomenal tonight," she said.

Blomquist said defense is a focus every night.

"We set a goal every game of keeping them (opponent) under 38 points or holding them to no double digit quarters," he said. "They (Adrian) did get 13 in the fourth, which was their only double digit quarter, but we did meet our goal of under 38 points.

"Defense is the key to this team. We don't have a ton of offensive weapons, so we have to get it done on the defensive end."

Chelsea buckled down defensively, holding Adrian leading scorer junior Lauren Kohn to 10 points, well below her season average.

"We defended her real well," Blomquist said.

Pacing the Maples was junior Kelly Stephan, who netted 11 points. Senior Sarah Sharp added five points.

For Chelsea, junior forward Alison Mann led the offensive attack, scoring 16 points, including one three-pointer and grabbing three rebounds.

Crews ended up with 10 points, including two three-pointers, a team-high six assists and three rebounds, while senior forward Ashley Richardson chipped in six points and three boards.

Junior Julia Arnold had five points, five assists and a team-high three steals. Junior Courtney Bentley had three points and a team-high of four rebounds, while junior Anna Arend finished with two points and three rebounds for the Dawgs.

For the night, Chelsea was 17-of-33 from the floor for 51 percent. Adrian ended up shooting 22 percent from the field, making 8-of-35 attempts.

The Bulldogs were 3-of-9 from beyond the arc for 33 percent and 5-of-10 from the free throw line for 50 percent.

The Maples finished 23 percent from three-point range on 3-of-13 shooting and 87 percent from the free throw line, cancelling 14-of-16 tries.

Besides Chelsea's fine defensive effort, Crews said ball handling was important.

"They were playing such tough defense on us," she said. "We needed to take care of the basketball."

The Bulldogs next travel to Dexter tonight for a game at 7 p.m.

Earlier in the season, the Dreadnaughts defeated Chelsea 34-31. Since that setback, the Bulldogs are unbeaten.

On Saturday, Chelsea travels to Ann Arbor Huron for a game at 7 p.m.

On Tuesday, the Bulldogs host Ann Arbor Pioneer at 7 p.m.

On Oct. 30, Chelsea hosts Division II No. 2-ranked Birmingham Detroit Country Day at 7 p.m.

The Yellowjackets are led by senior point guard Kim Wilburn (5-foot-7), one of the top players in the nation and a leading candidate for Michigan's Miss Basketball award.

JV basketball wins eighth straight

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Behind 12 points from Missy Morcom and seven points, seven rebounds and five steals from Ashley Gadbury, Chelsea's JV girls' basketball team defeated Adrian 42-31 last Thursday.

With the victory, Chelsea improved its win streak to eight games.

"We avenged an earlier loss to the Maples," said Chelsea coach Paul Terpstra. "Good field goal percentage (45 percent) and aggressive defense were the keys."

The Bulldogs (10-2, 3-0) ran out to a 15-6 first quarter lead before increasing their advantage to 23-10 at halftime.

In the second half, Adrian outscored Chelsea 21-19 for the final margin.

Devon Lixey finished with eight points, while Brittany

Denison had six points, Melissa Koch had five points and Sidney Olinyk and Meghan Reames, two points each for the Dawgs.

Defensively, Chelsea held Adrian to 33 percent from the field.

At the free throw line, the Bulldogs shot 27 percent, while the Maples finished at 70 percent.

On Oct. 9, host Chelsea defeated Temperance Bedford 39-33.

Koch paced the Bulldogs with 10 points and six boards.

Becky Sprague and Lixey each added eight points, while Morcom had six points.

Denison ended up with four points, while Katie Herman had two points and Reames had one point for Chelsea.

The undersized Bulldogs used strong first and third quarters to bring down the taller Kicking Mules.

"We outscored Bedford 23-10 (in those quarters)," Terpstra said. "It was a hard fought (victory)."

After doubling up on the Mules in the first quarter 10-5, Bedford came back to outscore Chelsea 12-4 in the second frame, taking a 17-14 advantage into the locker room.

The Bulldogs responded in the second half, outscoring the Mules 13-5 in the third quarter and 12-11 in the fourth period to wrap up the "W."

Chelsea next travels to county rival Dexter today for a game at 5:30 p.m.

On Saturday, the Bulldogs travel to Ann Arbor Huron for a contest at 5:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, Chelsea hosts Ann Arbor Pioneer at 5:30 p.m.

Stiles attains national rank

Chelsea's Josh Stiles is one of the nation's best tennis players in his age group.

The 12-year-old is ranked by the U.S. Tennis Association as one of its top players in its Midwest and national boys' 12-and-younger listings.

This past summer, Stiles competed in numerous tournaments, reaching the semifinals and finals in more than a dozen events.

Stiles captured the Grosse Pointe Hunt Tennis Open and was a finalist in the Chippewa Summer Classic, the Deer Lake Open, the Saginaw Junior Open and the Battle Creek Championships, to name a few.

He also teamed with Peter

Keshtar to win the Ann Arbor Boys' 12 doubles. He was also a finalist in singles.

"Playing in the boys' 12's should be easier for me next season as lots of the players were older and more experienced," Stiles said. "I'll have a better serve next season if I keep practicing."

Stiles said he had plenty of highlights this past summer.

"The Western Closed was a blast," he said. "I won a round and then drew the No. 8 seed (out of 128 players)."

At the time, he was turning 13 in two weeks.

"I had the lead in the second set and he was going crazy. He was too good for me that day, but Chelsea's Josh Stiles is one of the nation's best 12-year-old tennis players.

"I'll do better next time," he said. Stiles trains at the Varsity Tennis Center in Ann Arbor.

He also plays soccer, baseball and basketball.

Equestrian second in districts

The Chelsea equestrian team finished its 2001 season in second place behind Saine at the Michigan Inter-scholastic Horsemanship Association district finals earlier this month.

The Bulldogs competed in Division B.

Chelsea senior Kelly Jackson led the squad in total points this year with 95.

Senior Ashley Bartlett was next with 80 points, followed by sophomore Halley Sissom, who earned 71 points, and senior Heidi Schultz, who had 33 points.

Freshman Rebecca Reesman had 30 points, Jessica Jarvis had 23 points and Katie Hardcastle had 22 points for Chelsea.

Bulldog senior Callie Wolf participated in one competition for a total of 15 points.

Also contributing to the team effort this season was sophomore Sam Ortiz.

Sissom, a team captain, said she was pleased with the strong community support this year.

"We really appreciate Jim Sexton, Kay Larson and Gail Jackson allowing us to use their horses and we were very fortunate to be able to use the Jackson's wonderful practice facilities," she said.

Chelsea coach Jill Nowatzke-Spero said it was difficult watching seniors Bartlett and Jackson compete in their final events. Nowatzke-Spero said both riders had been strong competitors throughout their high school careers.

Though disappointed seeing the careers of Bartlett and Jackson end, Nowatzke-Spero was pleased with the development of the new team members.

"They all worked hard this season and progressed well as riders," she said.

Last season Chelsea was co-state champion with Pinckney.

"We're committed to recapturing the state title in 2002," Sissom said.

JV grididders beat Huron

By Don Richter
Staff Writer

Chelsea's JV football team defeated visiting Ann Arbor Huron 13-2 last Thursday.

The host Bulldogs finished with 208 total yards of offense.

The River Rats ended up with 121 total yards.

Chelsea (7-1, 3-0) opened the scoring in the first quarter on Brian Kinashuk's 15-yard touchdown reception from George Royce.

With Kyle Franks' successful extra point, the Bulldogs led 7-0.

In the second frame, Chelsea increased its lead to 13-0 as Andy Hurst scored on a 10-yard run.

The extra point attempt was no good.

In the second half, both teams played strong defense and battled inclement weather.

Huron recorded its only score of the game in the fourth quarter on a safety.

"The field was really bad," said Chelsea coach Mark Scheese. "We did what we had to do to stay on top after we scored the second touchdown. It was a game of field position that we controlled throughout the game."

Hurst paced the rushing attack, finishing with 79 yards on 20 carries. Karl Wint added 38 yards on six attempts.

Kinashuk ended up with four catches for 72 yards to lead Chelsea.

Mark Borders and Tony Reifel

each had one reception for five yards and Hurst had one catch for seven yards for the Dawgs.

Royce finished the night 7-of-12 for 89 yards.

Defensively, Chelsea held Huron to 72 yards rushing on 34 carries and 49 yards through the air on 3-of-13 passing.

Ryan Keiser had an interception for the Bulldogs.

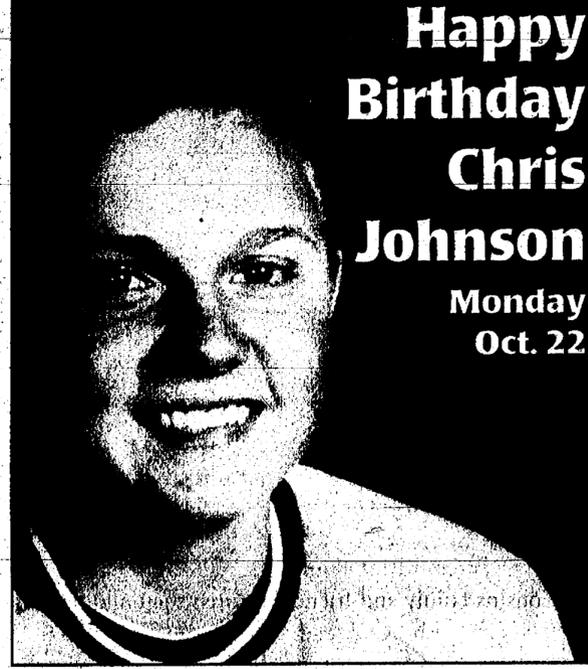

According to Scheese, Steve Tisdale, Lee Woodruff, John Houle and Keiser led the defense.

Chelsea ends its season tonight hosting Milan at 7 p.m.

The farmhouse on Main Street in Dexter that houses Cousins Heritage Inn was built in the 1850's. Supposedly Millard Fillmore's brother built this home along with many other homes in the Dexter area.

Pat and Paul Cousins purchased the home in 1983. The Cousins family and friends restored the building and transformed it into a fine dining restaurant which opened in March of 1984. They operated the restaurant for almost 17 years. In February of 2000, Ray Lance approached the Cousins about the possibility of selling the restaurant to him. It took Ray six months to convince Paul and Pat to sell. The sale finally closed in February of 2001.

The tradition that Paul and Pat started continues under the ownership of Ray. The superb and changing menus of Chef Kirk Williamson always features six to eight entrées, house made soups, and several appetizers. Our fish is flown in fresh from the oldest fish house in Boston, (M.F. Moley). There is an occasional game entrée, seafood items, poultry and other specialty items. Our guests often praise the many fresh vegetables cooked to perfection and served with each of the entrées. The pastries are all house made. The large wine list focuses on quality and value.

People drive from miles around to experience Cousins gracious hospitality in a warm, comfortable and relaxed atmosphere.

 Motion by Laier, supported by Havens to approve the minutes of the regular September 4, 2001 meeting and the special September 17, 2001 meeting. Carried. The treasurer's report was received.
 Zoning Administrator issued four permits and one new address.
 Motion by Havens supported by Laier to approve a Resolution Authorizing the Drain Commissioner to Exceed the Statutory Spending and Assessment limit of $5,000.00 per year for the Finkbeiner Tile.
 Whereas, the Finkbeiner Tile is a drain located in the Township of Lima, which drain was constructed in accordance with the drain code of 1956; and Whereas the Drain Commissioner of Washtenaw County is entrusted with the responsibility of ensuring proper maintenance and repairs are made to said drain; and Whereas, the Drain Commissioner pursuant to statute, has inspected the Finkbeiner Tile, which inspection revealed the repair work is necessary inasmuch as said inspection "The broken tile requires replacement and finish grading", and Whereas, the Drain Commissioner of Washtenaw County has estimated that completing the repair of the Finkbeiner Tile will be approximately $1450; and Whereas, pursuant to the Drain Code of 1956, the Drain Commissioner cannot exceed the expenditure of $5000 for the maintenance and repair of the Finkbeiner Tile unless approved by resolution of the Township Board; and Whereas, the Drain Commissioner has requested the Township Board to pass such a resolution authorizing the office of the Drain Commissioner to exceed the statutory spending limit allowed on the Finkbeiner Tile, to wit: $5,000 per year, so as to allow repair of said drain; Now therefore be it resolved, that the Lima Township Board of Trustees for the Township of Lima hereby approves and authorizes the office of the Drain Commissioner to exceed the statutory spending assessment limit of $5000 per year for the repair of the Finkbeiner Tile in the exceeded amount of $1450.
 Ayes: Havens, Laier, Bareis and Unterbrink. Nays: None. Absent: McKenzie.
 Motion by Laier, supported by Havens to table action on the assessors contract to the November meeting, subject to contacting equalization and the drain commissioners office. Carried.
 Motion by Laier, supported by Bareis to pay bills as presented. Carried.
 Motion by Laier, supported by Havens to adjourn at 9:50 P.M. Carried.
 Respectfully submitted,
 Arlene R. Bareis, Clerk

TAX TIPS

Many people give donations and contributions in all types of form, but make sure to have a proper paper trail if you would like to take a tax deduction.

The most typical donation comes in the form of writing a check and dropping cash or coins into a bucket. Some other examples are giving of your time, donating stock or bonds and properties, such as cars and houses.

These donations are wonderful in many ways, but if you'd like to take a tax deduction, make sure to have the proper paper trail as explained below.

For contributions of less than $250, your canceled check is a sufficient record of payment. Giving of your cash and coins provides no proof of contribution unless you receive a written acknowledgment from the charity.

For contributions of $250 or more, you need a written acknowledgment from the charity showing the organization's name and address, the date of the contribution and the amount or description of the property you donated.

For property contributions that exceed $500, you must attach Form 8283 to your income tax return. This form supplies the IRS with the information that is on your written acknowledgment from the charity.

Many small contributions during the year add up to quite a lot as a total for the year. If you'd like to save tax dollars, take the time to document each contribution made during the year and, when giving money, make sure to write a check directly to the organization instead of giving your cash.

Employees Donate Relief Funds

In response to the recent terrorist attacks, employees of Sheridan Books, Inc. raised $6,250 to send to the American Red Cross. The company matched dollar for dollar, and the parent company, The Sheridan Group, contributed an additional $10,000, for a total of $22,500. In addition to the fund-raising drive and a prayer service, employees also designed patriotic T-shirts to be distributed throughout the company. Pictured are Cindy Beauchamp (left), Ruth Ann Lawrence, Ellen Sable, Steve Roman, Pat Stricker and Sarah Barber.

MULTI-LAKES WATER & SEWER AUTHORITY AMENDMENT TO SEWER USE RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE SEWER DISTRICT OF THE MULTI LAKES AREA WATER & SEWER AUTHORITY

MULTI LAKES AREA WATER AND SEWER AUTHORITY REGULATION NO. 1-B SEWER AND SEWAGE DISPOSAL RULES AND REGULATIONS Rules and Regulations enacted pursuant to the authority of Act 246 of the Public Acts of 1945, as amended, Act 191 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, Act 233 of the Public Acts of 1955, as amended, and Act 368 of the Public Acts of 1978, as amended, by the Multi Lakes Area Water and Sewer Authority and with the concurrence by resolution and ordinance of its constituent municipalities to regulate private and public sewers, sewer connections, industrial waste pretreatment facilities and discharge of industrial waste into the Multi Lakes Water and Sewer Authority publicly operated treatment works and to provide for pollutant limitations, data collection, monitoring and sampling and to preserve, promote and protect the health, safety and general welfare of the persons and property with Dexter, Lyndon, Putnam and Unadilla Townships; to provide for the enforcement hereof; and to provide penalties and remedies for the violation hereof, and to amend certain provisions regarding the metering of flow and imposition of additional charges.

The Multi Lakes Area Water and Sewer Authority with the concurrence of its constituent municipalities the Townships of Dexter and Lyndon, County of Washtenaw, Township of Putnam and Unadilla, County of Livingston, State of Michigan, ordains:

Sec. 1.0 Amendment
The MULTI LAKES AREA WATER AND SEWER AUTHORITY, Rules and Regulations, No. 1, adopted July 18, 1996, are hereby amended by the addition, modification, and substitution of the provisions of this Amendment:

Sec. 2.0
THE MULTI LAKES AREA WATER AND SEWER AUTHORITY WITH THE CONCURRENCE OF ITS CONSTITUENT MUNICIPALITIES, THE TOWNSHIPS OF DEXTER AND LYNDON, COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, UNADILLA AND PUTNAM, COUNTY OF LIVINGSTON, STATE OF MICHIGAN, ORDAINS:

Renumbered: all of Section 3. Definitions

3.2 Applicable County Health Department: The Washtenaw and Livingston County Health Departments.

3.3 Authority: The Multi Lakes Area Water and Sewer Authority.

3.14 Commercial User: An establishment listed in the Office of the Management and Budget's "Standard Industrial Classification Manual" (SICM), involved in a commercial enterprise, business or service which, based on a determination by the Authority discharges primarily segregated domestic wastes or wastes from sanitary conveniences and which is not a residential user, an industrial user or institutional user.

3.25 Equivalent Residential Unit: Shall mean a single housekeeping unit or each unit of a multiunit structure, which unit shall be a common unit for living and sleeping purposes and having a separate bathroom and kitchen facility. Shall mean 6,000 gallons or part thereof of water discharged to the public sewer in any month.

3.73 Sewer Service District: Shall be the area defined by each Township for sewer service, which initially is the area defined in Dexter and Lyndon Township Special Assessment proceedings of 1994, Lyndon and Unadilla Township Special Assessment proceedings of 2000 and such additional area as may be designated by any Township in which sewer and/or water service is permitted by the Township to be furnished from the Authority.

3.87 Township: The Townships of Dexter and Lyndon, Washtenaw County, Unadilla and Putnam Townships, Livingston County, Michigan.

4.3.1 The official notice described in Section 4.3 shall be a written statement signed by the Superintendent or other designated employee of the Authority to the owner stating the date by which connection to the public sewer shall be made. The notice shall be delivered to the owner at the address set forth on the last assessment roll by regular U.S. mail deposited with fully prepaid U.S. postage affixed thereto in the U.S. mails. The notice shall be considered served for purposes of any subsequent proceedings as of the date of mailing.

4.3.2 The owner or owners representative shall complete and return the connection application form and pay to the Authority the connection permit fee and receive authorized sewer permit before any work upon the building sewer or connection is commenced. All work on the building sewer and connections shall be done in accordance with Section 5.0 of these Rules and Regulations.

4.3.3 Upon receipt of such notice, the owner shall apply for and obtain a permit from the Multi Lakes Sewer Authority and County Building Inspector, or such inspector's successor, under the authority of P.A. 230 of 1972, as amended, and complete construction and inspection as required by said Act, these Rules and Regulations; the Township Zoning Ordinance, and other applicable statutes, ordinances, and regulations.

4.3.4 If the owner fails to complete construction, connection and inspection as required above, the Township and/or the Authority shall proceed to enforce these Rules and Regulations and other applicable statutes, ordinances, and regulations in accordance with P.A. 368 of 1978, as amended, and all other applicable Acts, statutes, ordinances, and regulations.

4.3.5 The Authority is not obligated to accept any new collection system or individual user's connection if, at the recommendation of its engineer or superintendent, that the system violates any of the Rules and Regulations of the Authority.

5.1 Connection to Public Sewer: No person shall uncover, make any connection with or opening into, use, alter or disturb any public sewer or appurtenance thereto, or install, disconnect, remove, or repair a Service Connection without first obtaining a written permit therefor from the Authority. No building sewer shall be covered until it has been inspected and approved as being of adequate and acceptable construction, size and location by the Authority and/or the applicable Building Official or the official's successor. The owner of building or premises, or his authorized representative, shall be responsible, at his own cost, for the installation, connection and maintenance of the building sewer for such building or premises up to and including its connection with the public sewer. The owner and, where appropriate, his authorized representative, shall indemnify and hold the Authority and its employees, agents and representatives free and harmless from any and all liability or responsibility for all injury, loss or damage that may result directly or indirectly from the installation, connection or maintenance of the building sewer.

5.3 Building Sewer Requirements: A separate and independent building sewer shall be provided for each building or premises. Provided where one building or premises stands at the rear of another on an interior lot and no private Sewer is available or can be constructed to the rear building or premises through an adjoining alley, court, yard or driveway, the building sewer from the front building or premises may be extended to the rear building or premises; upon certification from the Township to the Authority that the rear building or premises will not cause the number of ERU assigned to the premise to be exceeded.

5.6 Building Sewer Connection: Every connection of a building sewer into a sanitary sewer, including the Sewer Connection, shall conform to the requirements of the Township and/or applicable building and Plumbing Ordinances and Regulations, as now enforced and as hereafter amended, and all other applicable rules and regulations of the Authority, the procedures set forth in appropriate specifications of the American Society for Testing and Materials and the Water Pollution Control Federation Manual of Practice No. 9, as amended, as well as, as may be applicable, all requirements of the State of Michigan, County of Washtenaw, and/or any governmental-agency operating and maintaining public sewers on behalf of the Authority. All such connections shall be gas tight and watertight. Any deviation from these prescribed procedures and materials must be approved in writing by the Authority before installation.

5.7 Inspection: The applicant for a sewer connection permit shall notify the Authority when the building sewer is ready for installation and connection to the sanitary sewer. The connection shall be made under the supervision of the Authority or its authorized representative. No backfill shall be placed until the work has been inspected and approved by the Authority and/or applicable building official.

Renumbered: 5.17, 5.17.1, 5.17.2, 5.17.3, 5.17.4, 5.17.5, 5.17.6, 5.17.7

5.17.6 Constructing, extending, enlarging, or connecting any conduit, pipe, culvert, or open or closed drainage facility carrying storm water runoff from any site, within a wetlands area, or any other land use permitting discharge of silt, sediment, organic or inorganic material, chemicals, fertilizers, flammable liquids, or other polluting substances except in accordance with requirements of County, State, Federal agencies, and the Township.

8.2.5 If the Superintendent permits the pretreatment or equalization of waste flows, the design and installation of the plant and equipment shall be subject to the review and approval of the Authority and shall be subject to the requirements of all applicable codes, regulations and laws. R323.2303/4b

8.4 No user shall discharge or cause to be discharged any storm water, surface water, groundwater, water from footing drains, heating or cooling water, water from gutters, downspouts, or geo-thermal water, roof water or water softener regeneration to any sanitary sewer or sewer connection. Any premises connected to a storm sewer shall comply with county, state and federal requirements as well as those of the Authority.

8.13 Not Used
8.15 Not Used

Sec. 10.0 Expansion of District Surface
If the Township & Sewer Boards shall authorize the expansion of sewer service to additional lands, such lands shall be included in the district. All costs of extension of the sewer to new lands shall be paid by the owners of the additional lands, including the costs of expansion of the treatment plant, trunk lines, distribution lines, engineering costs, financial costs, and costs of construction and inspections.

15.1.4 The Superintendent may suspend wastewater treatment service to any Users who willfully and knowingly violates any provision of the Rules and Regulations of the Authority.

15.7 Variance
15.7.1 Any person, upon written application to the Authority with ninety (90) days from receipt of official notice to connect, who shows, in the case of the activity being conducted or operated, that compliance with Section 4.3 or Section 8 of these Rules and Regulations would either be impossible or constitute an undue hardship because of limitations, may be granted a variance; by a concurring vote of a majority of the members of the Authority Board, for a reasonable time, not to extend beyond 6 months from receipt of official notice to connect, at which date all variances shall terminate and after which date no new variances shall be granted. A variance shall not be granted under the provisions of this Section where a person applying therefor is causing a public nuisance or other injury to the general public, or is subject to a National Categorical Standard, and any such variances shown to have been granted under these circumstances shall be immediately terminated. Any variance granted under the provisions of this Section shall not be construed to relieve the person who shall receive it from any liability or penalties imposed by other law for the commission or maintenance of a nuisance.

15.7.2 In addition to the provision for variances in Sections 15.7.1, the Authority Board shall have the power and duty to authorize a variance to these Rules and Regulations, when the Board finds owing to special conditions a literal enforcement would result in a practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship.

15.7.3 Any person who wishes a variance shall request a hearing before the Authority Board by filing with the Authority a Request for Variance which shall be in writing and state the reason (s) for the request and signed by the applicant.

15.7.4 The Authority Board shall hold a hearing within sixty (60) days of receipt of the Request for Variance from the applicant, and grant in full or in part or deny the request within ninety (90) days of the hearing.

15.7.5 In granting this variance, the Authority Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards as a condition of granting the variance. Violations of such conditions and safeguards, when made a part of the terms under which the variance is granted, shall be deemed a violation of these Rules and Regulations, and punishable under Section 15, herein.

Sec. 16.0 Discharge Of Water Softener Regeneration Water
Any person connecting to the Authority's Sanitary Sewer System is prohibited from discharging water softener regeneration water into the system and the owner shall certify on the date of connection to the system, under penalties of perjury, that water softener regeneration water is not discharging into said system and shall not be discharged into said system: Water softener regeneration water shall be disposed of in a manner allowed by law.
(Seconded Paragraph of 18.2)

The Authority may institute charges on commercial, industrial and institutional units based on metered water use. Meters shall be installed to Authority requirements and remain accessible for inspection and reading by an Authority representative. All cost of installing meters on the well supply of a nonresidential user and costs of reading, billing, and collecting monthly meter charges shall be borne by the non-residential user. Monthly charges shall be based upon annualized water usage and adjusted from time to time to reflect the actual usage and all costs of treatment and collection.

18.2.1 Annual metered Water consumption between April 1st to March 31st shall be the basis for determining the maximum required connection charges for a commercial, industrial and institutional user.

18.2.2 A non-residential, institutional and commercial user whose average monthly metered water consumption exceeds the assigned equivalent residential user connection charge(s) shall pay the necessary additional equivalent residential unit connection charges within sixty days. If system capacity is not available, the user must immediately reduce their use or also connect to an approved private sewage disposal system.

18.3.3 A capital charge which shall be remitted by the Authority to applicable Township as necessary to reduce the debt obligation of the Township.

18.3.4 A Connection Charge (direct or indirect) shall be established per equivalent residential unit for each connection made to the POTW and the amount charged shall be established from time to time hereafter by the Authority Board. A user that has been specially assessed for capital cost of the POTW, including transport and treatment facilities, shall be deemed to have paid the connection charge (Paragraph two remains as written)

18.6 There shall be a late payment charge assessed against any payment which has not been made within ten (10) days of the due date on the bill. The late payment charge shall be four percent (4%) of the delinquent charges. Delinquent accounts shall be billed once every ninety (90) days until the delinquent account is certified to the Assessing Officer for inclusion in the tax roll. The late payment charge shall be assessed on each ninety (90) day period that an account is delinquent. After the account is certified to the Assessing Officer, the account, including late payment charges, shall bear interest in the same manner and at the same rate as provided by law for taxes. These late payment charges are declared to be reasonably related to the additional costs incurred by the Authority in the collection of delinquent accounts.

18.7 Charges for sewage disposal service furnished to any premises within the Sewer Service District shall be a lien against the premise. Charges delinquent for three (3) months or more as of August 15 of any year shall be certified by the Superintendent, or other employee authorized by the Authority Board, annually to the proper tax assessing officer of the municipality in which the premise lies. The Assessing Officer shall enter a lien on the next tax role against the premises to which the services shall have been rendered, and the charges shall be collected and the lien shall be enforced in the same manner as provided for the collection of taxes assessed upon the Roll and the enforcement of the lien for such taxes. Such charges and rates shall be collected or returned in the same manner as other taxes are certified, assessed, collected, and returned.

18.8 All customers of the Authority's wastewater system may obtain an annual notification, either printed on the bill or enclosed in a separate letter, which will show the breakdown of the sewer bill into its components for operation, maintenance and replacement and for capital.

18.9.2 Debt Service Fund
Moneys collected as stipulated in Section 18.3.3 and 18.3.4 shall be distributed to the respective Township on a quarterly basis for debt service costs of the POTW.

Sec. 20.0 Right to Amend or Repeal
These Rules and Regulations are adopted uniformly by the four (4) Townships to administer the regional sewer system and meet requirements of EPA. A Township proposing amendments or repeal shall submit a request for approval to the Authority and other Township prior to enacting the same.

Sec. 3.0 The remaining sections of Rules and Regulations No. 1 are hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

Sec. 4.0 Effective Date
This Amendment to Rules and Regulations No. 1 shall become effective thirty (30) days after its adoption by the Township Board and the Authority Board.
Secretary's Certificate

I, C. Steve Paitt, Secretary of the Multi Lakes Area Water and Sewer Authority of Washtenaw and Livingston Counties, Michigan, and hereby certify that the foregoing Sewer and Sewage Disposal Rules and Regulations was duly approved by the Authority Board at their regular meeting of _____ and was published within 39 days after adoption by printing the same in the Ann Arbor News on _____

DEATHS

EVELYN P. ROSENTRERER
Chelsea

Evelyn P. Rosentreter, 84, died Oct. 12, 2001, at Cedar Knoll Care Center in Grass Lake. She was born Nov. 12, 1916 in Chatham, Ontario, Canada, the daughter of Harry and Violet (Fitzthomas) Toon.

Mrs. Rosentreter has lived in Chelsea since 1967. She resided in Belleville the last three years with her daughter, Nancy. She became a naturalized citizen of the United States in 1969. She was a member of St. Andrew's United Church of Christ in Dexter, Women of the Moose Lodge 890 in Ann Arbor, VFW Auxiliary 4076 in Chelsea, and American Legion Auxiliary Unit 557 in Dexter.

Mrs. Rosentreter served as Chelsea Village clerk for six years. She is a former employee of Hoover Ball & Bearing, and was a real estate agent. She graduated from Dexter High School in 1933.

On Oct. 20, 1933, she married Albert F. Rosentreter in Dexter, and he preceded her in death on Feb. 13, 1976.

Survivors include one son, Albert W. (Nancy S.) Rosentreter of Chelsea; one daughter, Nancy J. Rosentreter of Belleville; a daughter-in-law, Dolores Rosentreter; one brother, John Toon of Chelsea; three sisters, Virginia Sinclair of Ann Arbor, Gloria Parsons of Florida and Betty Watson of Florida; eight grandchildren; 17 great-grandchildren; three great-great-grandchildren; special friends Marion Wilt and Kenneth Norris; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Mrs. Rosentreter was preceded in death by one son, Neil; one brother, Harry; one sister, Gwendolyn Toon; and one grandson, Mark Rosentreter.

A funeral was held Monday at Cole Funeral Chapel in Chelsea, with the Rev. Kenyon Edwards officiating. Burial followed at Oak Grove Cemetery in Chelsea. The family received friends at the funeral home Saturday and Sunday.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Diabetes Association or Arbor Hospice.

LILLIAN L. KEEZER
Chelsea

Lillian L. Keezer, 90, died Oct. 14, 2001, at the Arbor Hospice Residence. She was born June 2, 1911, in Chelsea, the daughter of George and Lydia (Bristle) Bauer.

Mrs. Keezer lived and farmed in the Chelsea area all of her life and was a life member of St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Chelsea. She enjoyed needle work, and all kinds of sewing and painting.

On March 14, 1941, she married Donald M. Keezer, and he survives. Also surviving are one son, Edward (Christine) Keezer of Chelsea; three grandchildren, Marcia (Bernie) Holmes, Susan Keezer and Stephen Keezer; and two great-grandchildren, Tyler and Vaughn Holmes. She was preceded in death by four brothers, Edwin, Earl, George Jr. and Albert Bauer, and two sisters, Frieda Mosher Bommer and Magdalena Hinderer.

A funeral service was held Wednesday at Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home in Chelsea, with the Rev. Kenyon Edwards officiating. Burial followed at Oakgrove Cemetery in Chelsea.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to Individualized Hospice, Arbor Hospice, American Diabetes Association or St. Paul's United Church of Christ.

HAROLD E. SIAS
Chelsea

Harold E. Sias, 84, died Oct. 13, 2001, at Whitehall Nursing Home in Ann Arbor. He was born on Sept. 21, 1917, in Lima Township, the son of Arthur and Minnie (Easton) Sias. He had farmed and lived in Lima Township all of his life and attended Dexter United Methodist Church.

Mr. Sias was a 4-H leader, member of the Farm Bureau, Michigan Milk Producers and Michigan Animals Breeders Co-op.

On Dec. 19, 1953, he married Margaret Haas in Dexter and she survives.

Also surviving are two sons, Arthur and Howard Sias, both of Chelsea; one daughter, Jane (Edward) Mamarow of Saline; and three grandchildren, Samantha, Noel and Shannon. He was preceded in death by one sister, Helen Sias.

A funeral was held Tuesday at Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, with the Rev. William Donahue officiating. Burial followed at Easton Cemetery.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to Washtenaw County 4-H.

JERVIS C. WEBB
Bloomfield Hills

Jervis C. Webb, chairman emeritus of the Jervis B. Webb Co., born March 22, 1915 to Jervis Bennett Webb and Maureen Campbell Webb, founders of the Jervis B. Webb Co. in Mt. Vernon New York, died Oct. 7, 2001.

With more than 62 years of service at the worldwide material handling systems company, Mr. Webb, a resident of Bloomfield Hills, was a brilliant leader and an innovative visionary with a strong sense of business acumen.

Mr. Webb began his career at the company in 1937. He was named president in 1970, and six years later assumed the role as chairman. Since 1919, the family-owned business has served leading manufacturing companies as a premiere designer, manufacturer and installer of conveyor systems.

It is headquartered in Farmington Hills and is the world's leading designer, manufacturer and installer of custom material handling systems with 38 operations worldwide, including 15 in the United States and Canada. Webb serves a multitude of industries, including aluminum, aerospace, automotive, airline, transportation, manufacturing, warehousing, primary metals, chemicals, publishing and waste management.

Together with his brother, George H. Webb (currently the company chairman, president and CEO), the company was transformed from a multi-million dollar conveyor manufacturing business into one of the top 10 material handling companies in the world.

Mr. Webb was extremely active in the local business sector as a member of the board of directors for the Economic Club of Detroit, Michigan Manufacturers Association, Detroit Symphony Orchestra, American Automobile Association, First Federal Savings and the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Mr. Webb served as president of the Detroit Athletic Club and Conveyor Equipment Manufacturers Association. He also held leadership roles in the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Society of Automotive Engineers, Machinery and Allied Products Institute and Foundry Equipment Manufacturers Association.

In addition to his role as a dynamic material handling executive, Mr. Webb had a notable dedication to community service. He devoted much of his time to civic organizations and education institutions while serving as president of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Southeastern Michigan, president of the Detroit Rotary Club, and as a trustee of Detroit Country Day School and the Detroit Institute of Technology.

Mr. Webb was an active member of the Detroit Masonic Temple Association. His memberships within the home of the largest Masonic Temple in the world include a lifetime membership of the Free and Accepted Masons of Michigan, Ashlar Lodge 91, the Monroe No. 1 Chapter Royal Arch Masons and the Detroit Commandery No. 1 Knights Templar.

Mr. Webb was an energetic man with a wide scope of interests and accomplishments. An avid canoeist, he charted rivers in remote areas of Canada. As an inventor, he held several patents for material handling devices and authored many articles on material handling, automation and management philosophies.

In his later years, Mr. Webb was an avid guest speaker who addressed high school graduating classes to promote the values of strong education, good work ethics and honest relationships.

Mr. Webb graduated from Principia High School in Elsah, Ill., and earned his degree in mechanical engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston in 1937.

Mr. Webb is survived by his wife, Willie Mae; children, Susan Webb, Jervis H. Webb, Virginia Webb, Christopher J. Webb, Martha Coutinho, Mary Kaweck and Lawrence C. Webb; sister, Joy Webb Clark; and brother, George H. Webb.

A memorial service was held Oct. 10 at Bell Chapel in Birmingham. The family attended a private burial service. Donations may be made to the charity of your choice.

ROBERT B. ROBBINS
Chelsea

Robert B. Robbins, 70, died of natural causes Oct. 9, 2001, at his home and is now with the Lord. He was born Jan. 15, 1931, in Buchanan, the son of Boyd and Myrtle (Stetler) Robbins. He retired from the DaimlerChrysler Proving Grounds in Chelsea after 33 years.

Mr. Robbins was a longtime member of the First United Methodist Church of Chelsea and the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary. He was a member of the Chelsea Police Auxiliary and volunteered at Faith in Action.

Mr. Robbins married Marjorie Proctor Dec. 2, 1950, at Salem Grove Methodist Church, and she survives. Other survivors include two daughters, Darlene (Marty) Straub of Chelsea and Denise (Michael) Murphy of California; two sons, Dale and Duane (Sandy) of Texas; seven grandchildren, Stephen, Peter (Mandy), David, Jonathan and James Straub, and Eryn and Heather Murphy; and brothers and sisters-in-law, Pat (Clarence) Wood, Jennie (Robert) Draper, Don (Sally) Proctor, Jayne (Walt) Bauer, Kenny (Kay) Proctor.

Mr. Robbins was preceded in death by a sister, Betty Russo, and two brothers, Bill and Don.

A funeral was held Saturday at First United Methodist Church in Chelsea, with the Rev. Richard L. Dake officiating. Burial was at Oak Grove Cemetery in Chelsea. Memorial contributions may be made to Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary.

Arrangements were handled by Cole Funeral Chapel in Chelsea.

BARBARA E. BRIDGES
Chelsea

Barbara E. Bridges, 66, died Oct. 14, 2001, at her home. She was the eldest daughter of Michael and Galetta (Kuemin) Jackubeck. She was born Aug. 29, 1935, in Traverse City.

Mrs. Bridges practiced as a registered nurse before the birth of her three children. She graduated from St. Lawrence School of Nursing. On June 29, 1957, she married Lloyd F. Bridges of Walled Lake, and he survives.

Mrs. Bridges enjoyed gardening, quilting, interior decorating, cooking, reading and spending time with her husband in Hawaii.

Also surviving is her daughter, Michele (John Nelson) of Bath; two sons, Jerry and Charlie Bridges of Chelsea; three grandsons, Tim, Ben and Johnathon Casey; her mother, Galetta of Traverse City; five sisters, Eleanor Craft of Florida, Bernadette (Mike) Guffre, Virginia (Tim) Bramer, Josephine (Fred) Powell and Kimberly Irish, all of Traverse City; and many nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her father and two nephews.

Mrs. Bridges was a loving wife, mother and grandmother. Her kindness and deep humanity will be greatly missed by family and friends.

A funeral will be held 11 a.m. Friday at St. Mary Catholic Church in Chelsea, with the Rev. Joseph Renaldo officiating. Burial will follow at North Lake Cemetery. The family will receive friends from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. today at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral, 901 N. Main St. in Chelsea.

Memorials may be made to The Brain Tumor Research Fund, c/o Dr. Larry Junk, Department of Neurology, 1914 Taubman Center, Box 0318, University of Michigan, Health Systems, Ann Arbor, MI 48109.

Nature Walk
