McDevitt wins school race

■ Incumbent of 12 years loses election to challenger.

By Sheila Pursglove
Associate Editor

Conrad Knutsen lost his bid Monday for a fourth term on the Chelsea Board of Education, but kept his sense of humor.

After the results were announced, he said it was "a good run while it lasted."

Knutsen lost to challenger Laurel McDevitt, who earned 454 votes to the incumbent's 274.

Approximately 7 percent of the school district's 10,000 registered voters cast ballots in this year's race.

Laurel McDevitt

Knutsen will attend one more school board meeting on June 23 before ending his reign.

McDevitt will be sworn in and take office July 7, the first board meeting of the 2003-04 school year. She will serve a four-year term.

McDevitt said she was pleased with voter turn-out.

"It's great to see community involvement," she said.

Carol Rauschenberger, a former Village Council trustee who has three young children, said the win is "a mandate for change."

"And there are more challenges coming for the school board incumbents," she said.

"Chelsea's demographics are changing with lots of young new families that want excellence in education, not just what is expedient for administration and management."

Rauschenberger is a member of CCARE — Chelsea Child Advocates' Research Effort — a grassroots move-

Hospital awards two scholarships

Every year, Chelsea Community Hospital awards partial scholarships for high school students who are dependents of hospital employees, volunteers, medical staff and board members.

The scholarship covers 75 percent of tuition through the Youth for Understanding International Exchange Program.

This year's recipients are Scott Longpre, son of Don and Lisa Longpre, who will travel to Ireland, and Jessica Marcovitz, daughter of Michael and Pamela Marcovitz, who will travel to France.

The nonprofit, volunteer-based program offers high school students in the United States the opportunity to experience the world firsthand.

Hospital auction raises $57,000

The 18th annual Chelsea Community Hospital Spring Auction, which was held May 10 at the Chelsea Village Comfort Inn, raised more than $57,000.

Proceeds will help fund the replacement of current equipment with new technology.

A Pause for Pledges raised $9,000 for the purchase of rehabilitation machines for cardiac and orthopedic patients.

Robin Flory joins district library staff

Robin Flory will come on board Monday as head of adult services at the Chelsea District Library.

A Michigan native, Flory, who earned a master's degree from the University of Michigan, has also worked at a public library in Wisconsin. Her field of expertise is in programming and collection development.

Chelsea Alternative High School students celebrated graduation June 4 and were sent out into the world with words of inspiration ringing in their ears.

Superintendent David Killips told students, "The whole world is out there."

"Set the world on fire and continue to do so," he said. "This is just a commencement, it's a beginning, not the end."

The Alternative High School held its graduation at Chelsea Community Hospital, with alumnus Michael Ackerman serving as master of ceremonies.

Joe Cameron, Jimmy Collinsworth, Derek Corser, Shannon Elliot, Jon Klapperich, Stacy Peters, Natasha Robinson-Romero, Amanda Smith, Eric Taylor, Amedio Torrice and Ben van der Waard received diplomas.

Time does not appear to be on the side of the Chelsea Area Fire Authority as board members debate whether to put a millage request on the ballot before year's end.

Members of the Authority Board and Sylvan Township officials discussed the hurdles at separate meetings last week.

The Fire Authority is looking at whether to ask voters to pay a separate tax to fund the Chelsea Area Fire Department. Residents in Chelsea Village, and Lyndon, Sylvan, Lima, Waterloo and Dexter townships would be affected.

Sylvan Township Clerk LuAnn Koch, who was at both meetings, said holding an election in the fall has its

Final day

Chelsea Village manager steps down

By Sheila Pursglove
Associate Editor

On Tuesday, Chelsea Village Manager Jack Myers said goodbye to co-workers at the village offices, where he has been at the helm for the last 12 years.

He also attended his last Chelsea council meeting that evening.

The West Virginia native, who turned 60 in April, gave council 90 days notice of his retirement in early March. The announcement came after several months of tension between Myers and some trustees, although the village manager had received good evaluations from council in the previous two years.

Myers took heat for a water main construction project that caused major upheaval on Main Street last year, although he counts the project — financed with low-interest loans — among his accomplishments.

Other accomplishments he cited included the downtown streetscape project; a new electric and water department building; replacement of the water tower; and the acquisition of 140 Buchanan St. for village offices.

He also cited the resurfacing of several village streets, partially funded through more than $2 million in grants that he obtained, and the growth of Chelsea Power and Light, the major enterprise fund for the village.

The former Marine Corps officer is leaving before Chelsea finally achieves cityhood, although he initiated the upcoming change from village to city status a decade

Jack Myers packed his office belongings in a box Tuesday, his final day as village manager of Chelsea. Myers, who announced his retirement in March, will start Monday as village manager of Stockbridge. At Tuesday's council meeting, he received an engraved mug from council and a watch from the village.

Thank You

for 25 Years

of Service To The Community

Who would have thought a lawn mowing business started by two young brothers would still be growing 25 years later?

Well the answer to that question is simple. Both Todd and Kurt LaButte who were just fifteen and eight when they started mowing lawns near and around their parents home, turned their small dream into the company it is today, Todd's Services, Inc., one of the largest landscaping companies in Southeastern Michigan.

"To have such a great community put their trust in us means so much. We just want to say thank you!"

–Todd LaButte

Todd and Kurt would also like to thank the many employees and family members who over the years have worked so hard to help them achieve their goal. And, to our customers who keep coming back season after season, thank you so much.

Looking forward to the next 25 years!

TSI, Inc. looks forward to another successful season this year. With the continued support of our community, hard work, and a little luck, TSI, Inc. hopes to be around another 25 years. As Kurt puts it, "If we do the things we say we're going to do, customers will believe in us". That's just what we intend to do.

Again, Todd and Kurt LaButte would personally like to thank everyone who has helped and been involved in their operation over the past 25 years!

GRADUATE

Aubrey Starr-McBride — who will graduate later, were also recognized for their hard work.

Student Stacy Peters delivered the student address and spoke of all the changes that have taken place in the world and on a personal level since she began high school in September 1999.

Friends and relatives shared memories of the graduating students before handing out diplomas.

One of the youngest of those was 6-year-old Michael Smith, who presented a diploma to his sister, Amanda. Michael talked of his pride in his sister.

"I am 6 years old, my sister is 18 and she plays soccer, baseball and basketball with me. She reads books to me and buys me toys at Toys R Us. She takes me fishing and made me pick up worms. She takes me to Timber Town to play," he said.

"She is so cool. I love my big sister very much and I am proud of her."

Michelle Hawes spoke for Derek Corser and said he was "a quick learner off to conquer the business world."

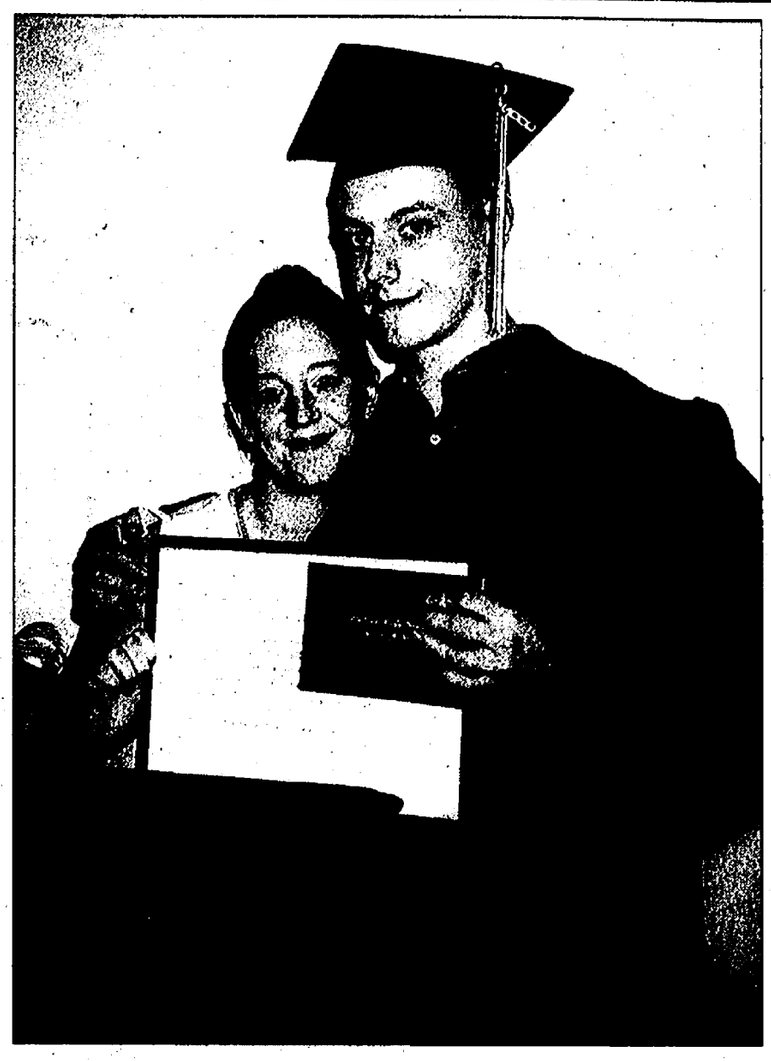

Rose Klapperich presented a diploma to her brother, Jon, who will start Marine boot camp next month. Rose said her family "never thought this day would come."

"My brother spent the first three years of high school goofing off at Chelsea High," she said. "Then, his senior year, he switched to Chelsea Alternative.

"Alternative has helped him a lot. We thank you, Alternative, and a special thanks to Barb (Fisher) for being the only teacher in the history of Jon's school years to say that he was a pleasure to have in class."

Killips reminded students of the impact they have had in the state of Michigan. State House Rep. Rick Johnson, R-102nd District, an advocate of laptop programs in education, has visited the alternative high school and is using the students' success stories as a model.

Embrace changes in your life

STACY PETERS

SENIOR SENDOFF

EDITOR'S NOTE: Stacy Peters was the speaker at the Chelsea Alternative High School graduation. Her speech is published below.

In September 1999, before the turn of the century, I began high school.

However, since that time, much has changed in the world, in my fellow graduates and for me personally.

Global events have occurred that have changed the way that we live and think.

During the year 2000, an election debate made us question the need for change in our Constitution.

Then the horrible events of Sept. 11, 2001, united the nation and straightened our patriotism. The constant fear of terrorism has become a reality, forcing us to change our routines.

Medical research continues to give us longer, healthier lives.

And, closer to home, we have made a big change and elected the first woman governor.

Change has also occurred for me personally. I went from spending school days sitting on the couch watching talk shows to becoming a self-motivated college student who has a dream of retiring to a condo on a beach in Florida.

My goal is to complete my associate's degree in graphic design and then transfer to a four-year college. And I am proud of the fact that I have completed my first college class and received a 3.5 GPA. Change has been good for me.

Fellow graduates, you may not believe that you have changed, but you have. We have all changed.

Your graduation will bring about more changes in your life. Some of you will go to college and others to work.

Continue to change. Without it, you will never reach your potential. We wish you the best, and never stop changing.

Lyndon officials fine-tune plans for new township hall

■ Board decides to save money by installing a unisex bathroom.

By Michael Rybka
Special Writer

The Lyndon Township Board is fine-tuning design plans for a new town hall.

The board met June 3 with architect Carl Hueter and determined individual men's and women's bathrooms would take up too much room in the lower level.

Hueter said a single, unisex facility could be incorporated to save space.

Plans call for a two-tiered structure, with a separate room used for voting and other large assemblies.

At the urging of Supervisor Maryann Noah and recording secretary Helena Robinovitz, an idea was nixed to enclose the upstairs offices with Plexiglas paneling, similar to what is done in banks.

Instead, a rolling door that can be raised and lowered will be used to secure the premises. The concept is used in shopping malls.

Hueter said a handicapped-accessible water fountain is not required under the Americans With Disabilities Act as long as a cooler or bottled water is available.

Noah said a special fountain would have cost the township $4,500.

MILLAGE

disadvantages, particularly if there is another millage request on the ballot.

As of Monday, neither the Chelsea District Library nor the village had requested an election date from the Washtenaw County Election Scheduling Committee, Koch said. The library is considering a millage request to support expansion of the McKune House and the village is looking at a date for residents to vote on whether Chelsea should become a city.

Koch said elections are scheduled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Despite an open field, Koch said she is certain that Chelsea will put in a request for the Nov. 4 ballot prior to the July 4 deadline. She has recommended against putting the Fire Authority's request on the same ballot because it could be confusing to voters.

While all Sylvan Township voters would be asked to vote on the Fire Authority's millage, only a few township residents would qualify for the cityhood question based on whether their property would be annexed under the move.

Washtenaw County requires that 30 days must separate elections, so the Fire Authority still can consider the first week in October or the first week in December, Koch said.

Mark Nottley, a consultant to the Fire Authority who has been asked the best way to promote the millage request, opposes the October date, however.

He told the Sylvan Township Board that he wouldn't be able to hold community forums and get the information out in time.

Koch suggested that the Fire Authority seriously consider the October date, keeping in mind that it could withdraw the request later.

Nottley said setting the date would be premature because the purpose of the public forums is to assess whether there is enough community support for a millage.

"Asking for an election date before the forums would make it look like we're trying to shove something down people's throats, whether they want it or not," said Fire Authority Board Secretary Ron Beyer.

The rest of the board appeared supportive of Beyer's opinion, but did not rule out the October option.

Board Treasurer Andrew Adrian said a December date would come too late for millage receipts to appear on 2003 tax bills.

Koch added that she did not like the idea of holding an election at a time of the year when many senior citizens are out of the state.

Beyer placed an optimistic perspective on the possibility that a millage would not take place this year.

"A longer time frame would allow us more time to inform the public of what CAFA does," he said.

ELECTION

ment formed earlier this year after the board voted to reconfigure Chelsea schools.

The group's Web site at mychelsea.com states its goal is "to build a robust, open relationship with the school board, administrators and teachers."

The group was born out of opposition to the school board's decision to move from neighborhood-based schools. Instead of attending three schools during their academic careers in Chelsea, now pupils will attend five.

McDevitt and her husband, Chris, have three children in Chelsea schools and are members of CCARE.

Knutsen said he was concerned that the future board will be dealing with a "divisive group in the community — CCARE."

"I really hope I'm wrong," he said, "but their immediate past behavior has been negative and divisive. Maybe things will change."

Knutsen said he was grateful to have worked with "many great people — board members, superintendents and administrators."

"The Chelsea board has a lot going for it," he said. "I hope it isn't lost."

Knutsen said his greatest frustration during his years on the board was his inability to explain to the general public how the school board operates.

Board President Scott Broshar said while the board will miss Knutsen, it will welcome McDevitt.

"With this change we obviously lose the history and experience that Conrad brings to the table, but we will gain a different perspective from Laurel," he said.

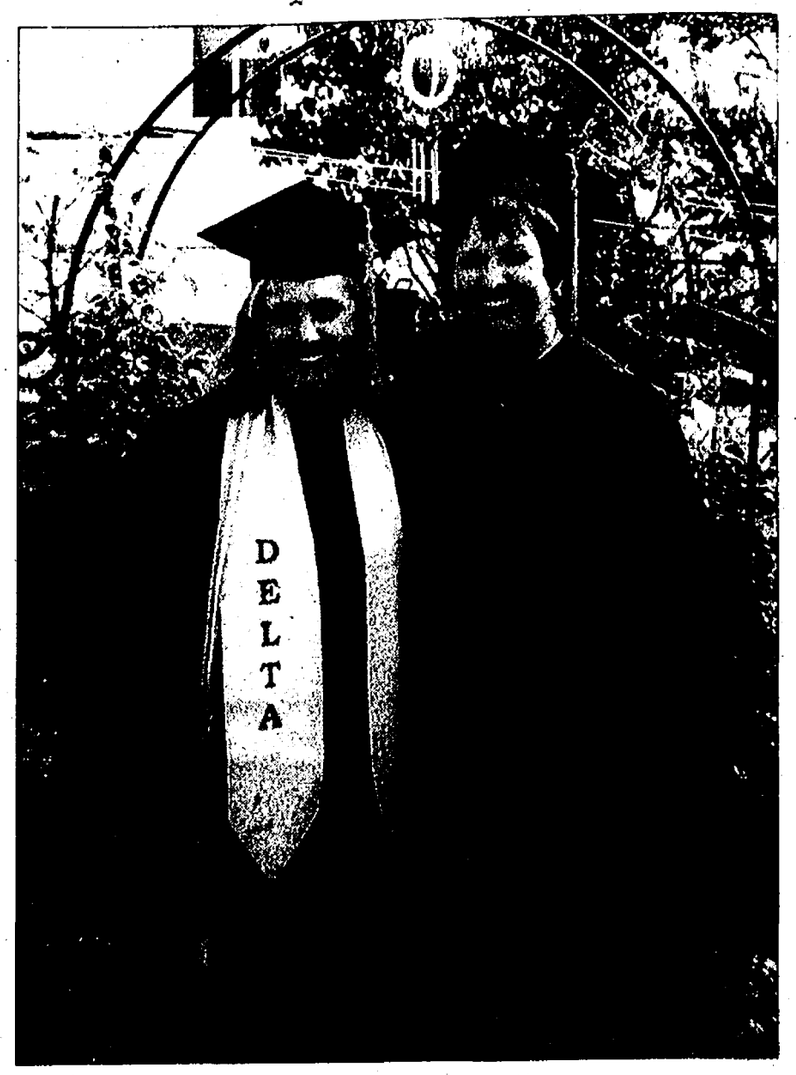

"We, as a board and as a district, will certainly be challenged in the upcoming years, both educationally and fiscally, and I am optimistic that Laurel will help us meet the challenges."

Broshar congratulated McDevitt on her win and expressed appreciation to Knutsen for his years of service.

McDevitt said good communication will be imperative for the coming year.

"It's important to realize that even though our family has changed, we're still a family," she said. "As a community, as a family, challenges can be conquered."

AS REPORTED
If you were involved in an accident and a police officer responded at the scene, there was likely an accident report written up. In some cases, the police report will point to the fact that a driver violated a specific section of the Vehicle Code and that the violation contributed to the accident. It may even make mention of the fact that the officer issued a citation. In other cases, the responding officer may briefly note that there was negligent driving. In any case, if there is a police report that mentions a Vehicle Code violation or other evidence of careless driving, it can provide you with a great deal of support showing that the other driver was at fault.
The confusion and excitement that usually follows a car accident can make it difficult to rationally determine which steps to take. Remember to ensure that everyone involved is safe, to get the other driver's factual information, never to admit guilt, and to speak to your attorney immediately. District hires speech pathologist

■ Chelsea resident chosen from field of seven applicants.

By Sheila Pursglove
Associate Editor

Vicki Kellogg has been brought on board as a speech pathologist for the 2003-04 school year. The Board of Education approved the hiring Monday.

The position opened up because of a change in the Washtenaw Intermediate School District's Region V special education services.

Speech services to children younger than five years old was previously provided through a bill-back arrangement with Dexter Community Schools and contracted services through a private provider, Assistant Superintendent Iva Corbett said.

Under the new special education arrangement, preschool children in Dexter and Whitmore Lake will return to their home districts. The Chelsea School District will assume responsibility to provide preschool services for Manchester and Chelsea special-education pupils using Chelsea staff.

"The reduction in contracted services and bill-back costs will offset the cost of hiring the speech pathologist," Corbett said.

The position, which was posted both internally and externally, attracted seven applicants.

Kellogg, a Chelsea resident, is already a familiar face in the school community. She has served as a long-term substitute for special education staff.

She holds a bachelor's degree in speech and language pathology from Washington State University and a master's degree in speech and language pathology from Indiana State University. She is certified through the American Speech and Hearing Association.

Kellogg has worked in both educational and therapeutic settings since 1987, in New Mexico, Romulus, Plymouth, Ann Arbor and Chelsea. Her most recent position was as a speech therapist with the Dexter School District.

Kellogg's salary is $42,241 a year.

Lima supervisor offers land transfer

■ Village would have to provide utilities to a portion of township.

By Michael Rybka
Special Writer

Lima Township Supervisor Ken Unterbrink has offered to release land along Dexter-Chelsea Road to the village if Chelsea provides water and sewer to homeowners within a quadrant bordered by Trinkle and Freer roads and East Old US-12.

The Lima Township Board approved the proposal June 2.

The land only can be ceded to the village, however, if property owners Gary Adams, Martin Merkel and Duane Downer agree to the annexation.

If they do, Unterbrink said the village would be expected to reimburse the township 3 mills of each given year's average taxable value for the land every year for 50 years.

He called the arrangement a "conditional transfer."

Unterbrink said he does not know, for example, what would happen if Merkel, whose property abuts Adams' land to the east, wanted to join the village but Adams did not.

"These are details that will have to be worked out," Unterbrink said.

Adams, the only affected property owner in attendance at the June 2 meeting, said he was uncertain what his decision would be.

Those who would benefit from the township's request to have the village provide municipal services within the Trinkle, Freer and Old US-12 quadrant include David Sporer, Jane Wolf and a subdivision.

Trustee Gregory McKenzie said he agreed with the Dexter-Chelsea Road plan, but reluctantly went along with the second option, saying it was not in keeping with the township's goals.

Unterbrink said township attorney John Etter, who drafted the documents, said both plans were meant to derail outright annexation.

Other issues were also addressed at the meeting.

The board accepted the resignation of Terry Wesner, vice chairman of the Planning Commission, effective Aug. 4. He also will have to vacate his seat on the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Unterbrink said that he would recommend Vince Spade for the planning post at the board's July 28 meeting.

MYERS

ago. The proposed city charter is currently up for the governor's approval.

Myers won't let the grass grow under his feet in retirement. On Monday, he will start his new position as village manager in Stockbridge. Stockbridge Village President Dan Dancer has been serving temporarily in the post since Jan. 6, when Stephen Penn was terminated.

First, Myers will spend some time with his two daughters, Anna, 7, and Sarah, 14, who just started their summer vacation. He also says his wife, Nancy, has a long list of chores for him.

Myers said Monday that he would miss his staff in Chelsea.

"We have a very fine staff working for the village, and a great working relationship with unity and team spirit," he said. "I'm sad about leaving that behind."

There were some long faces around the village offices earlier this week.

Myers' secretary, Georgia Beeman, said Monday that her boss will be greatly missed.

"Jack contributed a great deal to Chelsea over the years as the village went through many changes," she said.

Electric Department Superintendent Bob Shepherd, who was hired by Myers 10 years ago, said that Myers had built the department into what it is today.

"I've always enjoyed our working relationship," Shepherd said. "Jack was very cooperative with the electric department, attended meetings and conferences, and backed the department," he said. "Jack made his mark on Chelsea, and a lot happened under his tenure as regards to infrastructure."

Village Engineer Christine Linfield said she enjoyed the time she spent working with Myers.

"I know he will do a great job at his new position with the village of Stockbridge," she said.

In the search for Myers' successor, the Chelsea Village Council Personnel Committee — comprising Village President Richard Steele and trustees Dale Schumann and Howard Holmes — has narrowed a field of approximately 50 candidates down to about 10, Schumann said Monday.

The council has a work session today to discuss the applicants and narrow the search further.

Parks group eyes property

■ Committee plans to negotiate with developer for parkland.

By Kent Ashton Walton
Special Writer

The Ad Hoc Committee for Chelsea Parks, a nonprofit organization, has elected a board of directors.

The group met June 3 at Chelsea Community Hospital, naming Lyndon Township resident Lynn Meadows, president; Chelsea Village resident Marvin Carlson, vice president; and Chelsea attorney Robert Ponte, vice president. Colleen Houle of Chelsea was named treasurer and Kathie Gourlay of Lima Township was elected secretary.

Also attending the meeting were Chelsea Village Planning Commission Chairman Chris Rode, the Huron River Watershed Council's Suzy Morse, former Lima Township Supervisor Gary Adams and Chelsea resident Diane Kyte, a member of the Committee for Chelsea Parks.

The committee has been unsuccessful in persuading the Chelsea Village Council to submit an application to the Department of Natural Resources for a grant to help the committee purchase land on the north side of Dexter-Chelsea Road, west of Freer Road, for a park. The council has subsequently approved a 350-home subdivision called Heritage Pointe at the location.

Prior to the council's decision, the Committee for Chelsea Parks had collected 500 signatures from people in support of a park on the property. The group now wants to enter into negotiations with the subdivision developer, Steven Fisher of FFH Enterprises, to purchase the land.

The committee hopes to pursue grants and raise enough funds to pay for the purchase. An amount was not discussed.

The committee is also considering other sites in Chelsea for new parks.

Carlson, who owns a farm adjacent to the proposed subdivision, said at the committee's organizational meeting that the Village Council acted contrary to public opinion when it approved the development.

In addition, Carlson said the developer's plans do not meet the Department of Environmental Quality's requirement for a 1,000-foot setback from the Chelsea sewage treatment plant.

Rode pointed out that the developer's plans provide for open space near Letts Creek in the proposed subdivision. The site includes wetlands that have the potential for development, but are not being considered by the developer for housing sites.

Rode said that attempts are being made to amend the Chelsea Village Comprehensive Plan to include an ordinance for parks. As a result, he said parkland and the concept of "open space" would have to be defined.

Also at the meeting, resident Suzy Morse shared stories of groups that have been successful in preserving parkland and open space from development. In one instance, she said neighbors who opposed a development purchased the land that was for sale.

Morse said that some developers who have challenged the decisions of municipal boards that voted against their plans have seen their cases thrown out of court on the basis of what's in the best interest of the community. She said litigation should never be regarded as hopeless.

The committee also met to consider a draft survey of community interest in parkland in Chelsea. The six-page survey was designed to elicit responses from Chelsea School District residents on residential history, transportation, government, taxes, land use and environment, as well as parks and recreation.

Sylvan Township holds hearing on special assessment for sewer

■ East Cedar Lake residents to be assessed $14,300 each.

By Michael Rybka
Special Writer

Residents of East Cedar Lake Drive in Sylvan Township had one more opportunity June 3 to express their opinions about a special assessment district to be established in their neighborhood.

The Sylvan Township Board hosted a public hearing to take comments on a proposal requiring homeowners on East Cedar Lake Drive to connect to a soon-to-be-built municipal sewer system at a cost of $14,300 each payable over 19 years.

The state's criterion to establish a district — those in favor of it must represent 50 percent or more of the land — can overrule the wishes of smaller landowners even if they comprise the majority of the residents.

The district was approved at a public hearing last month. Last week's hearing was intended to solicit any objections to the assessment.

Township Treasurer Arlene Grau said if those assessed could not afford it, they may apply for aid from the state.

Township resident David Brooks asked Gregg Simon of the consulting engineering firm Jones & Henry what the impact would be on the assessments if those who didn't want to be part of the district were not forced to join.

"No difference, probably," Simon said, but then added that it was a legal issue.

Township Special Projects Coordinator Gerald Dresselhouse said Brooks' point was moot anyway.

"The district has already been created," he said. "This is about the tax roll."

Nick Reo, who lives nearby, asked that his property be included in the district. He said his work on ecological matters has made him more aware of the dangers a septic field can have on a lake and its surrounding wetlands.

Reo said he prefers a septic field to municipal disposal, but fears that his system could fail.

Louis Galante and Gary Burkhardt asked if a swap could be made, allowing Reo to join and for them to be released. They were told it was not an option, however.

Trustee Earl Heller stressed that the sewer system is being installed for environmental reasons concerning the lake.

"But my wetland is contiguous to the lake," Reo said. "It's all the same water system."

Galante said he does not believe the environment is the primary objective of the municipal sewer system.

Also at the meeting, the board voted to allow the Chelsea Amateur Radio Club to install a 5-foot-high antenna at the top of the Sylvan Township water tower.

Russ Rhoton, president of the club, said the antenna would be an integral component in emergency preparedness.

Rhoton said the club practices broadcasting on emergency power, a need that could arise amid a tornado or terrorist attack. He said a demonstration will take place June 28 in Manchester's Carr Park.

OFFERS & COUNTER-OFFERS - Part 1
The beginning of negotiations is usually the end of many months of hard work for the buyer or seller. The work ahead requires skill in order to maintain a strong position.
Sellers can lose their advantage if they do not counter an offer that a buyer has made. Even if the opening offer is beneath what the seller feels is reasonable, it is advisable for the seller to respond with a slight reduction from the asking price. The most important component in negotiating is good communication.
The best way to handle a low offer is to counter it with definite terms that are favorable to the seller. A counter offer has two advantages: 1) it keeps the buyer interested, and 2) it moves the negotiation forward and gives the buyer the opportunity to submit another offer that the seller is more likely to prefer.

"I Can't Understand Your God"
Dear Friends and Neighbors,
Years ago a lady came to my door to discuss religion. She was from a religious group which does not believe in the "Trinity." The "Trinity" refers to the Bible teaching that the Father, the Son (Jesus), and the Holy Spirit are each separate, and each God, yet there is only one God.
After I briefly stated our beliefs, this lady said in a challenging tone of voice, "I can't understand your God."
Just then a thought occurred to me, and I answered, "That's good! I can't understand my God either, and I'm glad. If I had a God I could understand, I'd be as intelligent as He is, and He wouldn't do me much good. It's very comforting to me that I have a God I can't understand."
Oh, in a way every Christian would like to be able to understand the relationship between the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. And all of us would like to understand many other things: We'd like to understand why God does many things the way He does, for example why He allows relatively good people to suffer.
Yet His answer, very often, is, "Be still, and know that I am God" (Psalm 46:10). That answer certainly puts us mere human beings in our place. But that answer also gives us comfort – the comfort of knowing that He's in control, and He knows what He's doing.
And when we see what God did for us by sending His Son Jesus (the so-called "Second Person of the Trinity"), we are assured that everything God does is for our good, out of love for us.
Please worship the true, "Triune" God, with us this Sunday, "Trinity Sunday," at 10:00 a.m.

Chelsea librarian receives Award of Excellence

Linda Ballard, head of circulation and human resources at Chelsea District Library, has received the Michigan Library Association Award of Excellence.

The award is presented to library employees who have made an outstanding contribution to effective and improved local library service.

Ballard was nominated by Josie Parker, director of the Ann Arbor District Library and former youth librarian for the Chelsea District Library. Parker mentored Ballard in Chelsea.

"I've always been particularly impressed with Linda because she came to her job in the Chelsea library without library experience and almost immediately grasped the fundamental importance of libraries to the quality of life in a community," Parker said.

"Everything she did after that — whether it impacted on her colleagues or the public — was done with the view that promoting and maintaining quality library service is essential in a community."

Ballard started at the library in 1995 as an administrative assistant.

"I had always been an avid reader and felt like I had stumbled onto my dream job," she said. "Josie and I hit it off right away and I went to her with many of my questions about the library. She taught me how to be firm but fair, and that I shouldn't ask others to do anything I wasn't willing to do also."

"She is dignified, happy, encouraging, engaging, empowering and very well informed."
Metta Lansdale
Library Director

Library Director Metta Lansdale said Ballard has a great ability to work with people.

"She is dignified, happy, encouraging, engaging, empowering and very well informed," Lansdale said. "She has that rare ability to deliver difficult news in a positive and supportive light.

"She has the ability to make her staff feel good about their role in the library and their value to the library, and to give them the tools and guidance to be successful in their work."

Linda Ballard, head of circulation and human resources for Chelsea District Library, recently received the Michigan Library Association Award of Excellence. Pictured are Library Board Trustee Nancy Schumann (left), Library Director Metta Lansdale, Ballard and Library Board President Kathy Sprawka.

Fire Authority discusses locations for substations

■ Decision to affect millage request.

By Michael Rybka
Special Writer

Whether the Chelsea Area Fire Authority decides to call for a millage request this year or next, Fire Authority members and officials in Sylvan Township have decided that nothing should be done until it's determined where future facilities will be located.

Sylvan Township Clerk LuAnn Koch attended both boards' meetings on the issue June 4.

"We can't call for a vote on facilities without knowing where they are going to be," she said. "Without specific locations identified, no one would be assured that anything would ever happen."

Fire Authority Chairwoman Maryann Noah added that the Fire Authority will not be able to refurbish the main station on Middle Street because it's beginning to sink.

A clause in the Fire Authority's articles of incorporation states that the main station must be located within the village limits. This factor, in addition to firefighters agreeing that a new main station should be located south of the railroad tracks, no longer makes the idea practical to have a satellite station in the area of M-52 and Interstate 94.

Noah has approached the Chelsea Fair Committee about donating a two-acre site on the southwest corner of its 51-acre site for a new fire station.

Sylvan Township Trustee Earl Heller questioned the logic of the location.

As long as the village hesitated on a proposed bypass, he said a donation of land by the committee would have a main station relying on a byway that may never take place.

Heller noted that Coliseum Drive abuts the proposed land donation and is a dead-end.

At that same meeting, Koch told Mark Nottley, a consultant hired by the Fire Authority to help the board with the millage proposal, that there is land to the west of the Sylvan Township Hall that was purchased for the sole purpose of housing a substation.

However, she said any facility built on the property would be leased until the other townships found their own land for fire substations.

Heller said he prefers Sylvan Township supporting the Fire Authority by way of a special assessment, rather than by a millage, if the assessment could be levied equally among residents and not based on property values.

Nottley said the approach would not be legal, although Koch disagreed with him.

Heller said to do it based on property values would fly in the face of the township's stated goal to preserve farmland.

Trustee Reuben Lesser said he prefers a millage because it is less of a governmental imposition than a special assessment.

The board also discussed how to present a millage proposal on the ballot.

Nottley suggested a single millage proposal, incorporating operational funding and funding for facilities.

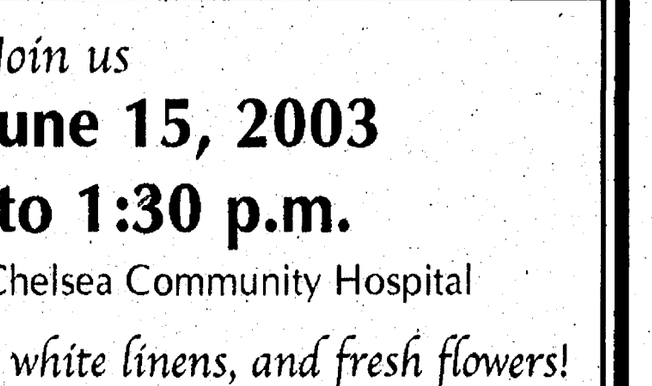

Koch said she was under the impression that they had to be separated.

Nottley said it was apparent that there was no consensus among the Sylvan board members other than agreeing that locations for future facilities need to be determined.

Nottley said the precise cost of new facilities should be determined before an election is set.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Water belongs to Michigan residents

In the past year, mid-Michigan has become the center of an important debate over the ownership and appropriate usage of Great Lakes water.

Ice Mountain, a water-bottling company owned by Swiss-based Nestle Corp., has begun to withdraw more than 200 million gallons of spring water yearly from a well site in Mecosta County.

Through the sale of this water mainly outside the Great Lakes area, Ice Mountain stands to gain more than $1.8 million daily in private profits.

Michigan citizens find the activities of Ice Mountain objectionable for various reasons. The project not only poses a serious threat to Michigan waterways and wildlife, the water Ice Mountain is withdrawing and selling belongs to Michigan citizens.

Water is a right and not a commodity; therefore, it should not be given without the public's permission to private corporations that stand to make enormous profits from its sale.

Legal attempts to stop the project are ongoing. A suit brought by three Michigan Indian tribes against Nestle was dismissed from federal court in May 2002. A new suit being brought by Michigan Citizens for Water Conservation began May 4 and is still in process.

In tandem with these lawsuits, consumers and businesses throughout Michigan have begun a statewide boycott of Ice Mountain bottled water.

Perhaps the greater question is why do we drink bottled water? It all comes out of someone's back yard. The plastic bottles leach chemicals into the water so it is not as pure as it may have been when it came out of the well.

If you don't like the taste of the water from your tap, buy a simple charcoal water filter, for your tap, pitcher or bottle. And fill a glass bottle that you can use over and over again.

Drink water, but drink your own. Ice Mountain and others can't sell it if we don't buy it.

Gun salute is a tribute to veterans

I normally don't respond to letters to the editor, but the letter that I read in the June 5 Chelsea Standard from Arnold Stieber was not one that I could let go without a few comments.

I completely understand Mr. Stieber's desire to teach children to handle conflict without violence. I am a teacher and I have always tried to teach children this. In our home, we use our words to handle problems and we don't allow any weapons or weapons play.

However, what Mr. Stieber fails to understand is that the 21-gun salute and the aircraft flybys are not expressions of violence, but tributes by members of the military to other members who have paid the ultimate price in service to our country.

For the past nine years, Memorial Day has been very difficult for me personally. You see, my husband is an F-16 pilot and one of the members of his squadron, who happened to be the husband of my good friend, died when his aircraft went down in the fall of 1993.

John did not want to leave his wife, and 3-year-old and 3-month-old sons, but he felt very strongly about this country and his duty to it.

One of the most difficult things that I have ever had to endure was the 21-gun salute and missing man formation flyby at his funeral. However, it was also one of the most important, because it was an acknowledgement of the sacrifice that he and his family have made for this country.

I would hope that, in the future, Mr. Stieber would accept this gesture for what it is — a tribute from the men and women of the military and their families to those who have died in the service of our nation.

Memorial Day program could be enhanced

A patriotic salute goes to the editor for opening up a Chelsea community "dialog" on the Memorial Day program, as is evidenced by a recently published letter on the matter. With all due respect to that writer, can I add my two cents?

Memorial Day is our national patriotic holiday and I am mostly satisfied with how the community honors it. The student band is terrific. However, I'd really like to hear all sorts of patriotic songs played as often as the band can play them, such as "America the Beautiful," "God Bless America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Further, Memorial Day being a holiday honoring those who gave their lives so I and my family can live free in the greatest country in the history of mankind, I wouldn't mind hearing "When the Saints Come Marching In" and "Amazing Grace," and other gospel marches. And bring on more bagpipers.

I was delightfully surprised by the fighter jets and I'd like the community to include other types of military vehicles in the Memorial Day parade. It's a real source of interest and pride when I see military equipment passing by on the highway. As a child, I was endlessly fascinated by fighting vehicles and all the complicated mechanical "triggery-jiggery" on them.

Perhaps seeing these machines up close would inspire more Chelsea youth toward careers in engineering and service to their country.

Our family makes a short pilgrimage every Memorial Day to place an American flag on my father-in-law's grave. He wasn't only a decorated World War II soldier who fought fascism and barbarism, he was also the finest man I had ever met, and Memorial Day is one of his gifts to me and my family. A 21-gun honor salute is recognition the nation gives back to him on this special day.

New library should fit Chelsea's needs

I am deeply disappointed in the village of Chelsea.

This is a community that has proudly supported the best in education and opportunities for growth for its citizens. We have a world-class hospital and a professional theater group that you would never see in any other community of our size.

Our schools are top notch and we have local services that are the envy of other communities.

So why are we willing to consider a new library that is too small to meet the needs of the community's current population?

It's my understanding that the library building committee has gotten feedback that this community will not support a new building large enough to accommodate the resources to service the area's current citizenry, let alone have room for expansion as the population increases over the next few years.

It has been suggested that the building would be too large and conspicuous in the downtown area and that the community will not pass the funding needed for erecting that building.

First of all, a building of any size will change the appearance of the downtown area. The area will look "different" with the addition of any building. If there is going to be a change, it might as well be one that will actually fulfill its purpose.

The committee is going to great lengths to design a building that will work in harmony with the downtown area in terms of materials and building style. And, of course, it will work with McKune House.

Secondly, erecting an inadequate building now with hopes of adding to it later is poor use of resources. It would mean that the library would attempt to run for another unspecified period of time without the space it needs.

They would have to order a smaller collection of materials with the hope they could order additional materials for a more adequate collection later when the building was enlarged.

When there is lack of space, there is, of necessity, a limit on materials that can be offered. There would also be a limit on the types of programming they could offer for all age groups.

Also, construction costs are at an unusual low right now. If you want the most product for the money, now is the time to build a space that will serve the needs of this community for many, many years.

Raising a little money now, building an inadequate building and then asking for more money in six or 10 years to dramatically increase that space does not seem a good use of the resources of the community.

The last time that there was a bond issue for the library on the ballot, I voted against it. I voted against it because I wanted the library board to have a clear vision, so it would know it was asking for enough money and so we would know what we were supporting.

Now, I would gladly vote in favor of a bond issue as long as it was for a building plan that was large enough to generously serve the needs of the community and the district.

I sincerely hope that the community will become more vocal about supporting the library in the same ways it has supported the many other important services and educational opportunities of Chelsea.

I am proud to be a resident of the Chelsea area. I am also very proud to be a frequent patron of our library. I want to see both thrive and continue to serve the people who are lucky enough to live here.

Chelsea parents made picnic special

I am just writing to you to tell you and the world how much parents still do for teenagers. Yesterday, the class of 2007, which is currently eighth-graders, had their end-of-the-year picnic at Hudson Mills. We had a blast even though the weather was not so nice.

It was 53 degrees and rainy, but the parents still came out with us. They brought with them food galore and tons of cards, games and sports balls. In return for all the help that they gave us, we gave them a little entertainment — a water gun fight.

Most of us were very wet from the rain, but we were soaked from the fight. Even when we waddled back to the buses saturated to the bone, I saw no parents run away from us.

I would like to thank everyone, parents and teachers, for helping us out all through our lives even on rainy picnics.

MIA/POW flag has another meaning

I marched in the Memorial Day parade. It was the first time I noticed the POW/MIA flag in downtown Chelsea. Then I read the article "Finding answers" by freelance writer Gail Turluck in the June 5 Chelsea Standard.

I'm a Vietnam infantry veteran and I've just started to research this flag. It raises several issues.

The intent was to remember those who never returned. To some it also means hate for the Vietnamese people.

When we invaded Cambodia and Laos, our military did not wear U.S. uniforms, nor carry U.S. weapons, nor carry U.S. identification. Thus, when someone was killed, there was no way for the body to be identified.

And, since we weren't supposed to be there anyway, the soldiers were listed as missing in action. There were also some cases of our military just walking out of base camps and never returning. I have personal experience with one. He liked Vietnam and wanted to stay. One day he was gone. I suspect he was listed as MIA.

Our bureaucrats love war. It generates billions for a select few. And to have wars, you need hate and fear. We have enough hate in this country. We need to direct our efforts at our government. They generate the wars and the killing and the pain. It's not about "protecting our freedom," it's about money.

I oppose anything that fuels hate. The symbolism of the POW/MIA flag has some things in common with the Confederate flag.

We need to work at peaceful conflict resolution in families, in communities and in government.

The Facts Behind Father's Day

Day was inspired by the daughter of a daring pioneer, who bore a great love and respect for the man who took over the rearing of his children after the death of their mother on the Western plains.

Bruce Dodd came up with the concept of 'Father's Day' in 1909 out of love and appreciation for what her father and others like him ved. It took a year of working with politicians, religious leaders, businessmen and the Spokane, Wash., YMCA to bring her idea to life.

Sports ticket prices may rise

■ Athletics director says prices haven't changed in a decade.

By Sheila Pursglove
Associate Editor

Bulldog fans may have to pony up more to cheer for their favorite teams if the Chelsea Board of Education approves an increase in ticket prices.

Chelsea Athletic Director Wayne Welton asked the board on Monday to raise ticket prices to sports events for the next school year. The board will vote on the matter June 23.

Welton, who said ticket prices have not been changed for more than a decade, said the athletic department's preliminary budget calls for an increase in revenue of $10,000.

Welton proposes a hike in ticket price from $3 to $5 for varsity football. Tickets to other varsity sports — basketball, soccer, track, swimming, wrestling and volleyball — would increase $1, from $3 to $4.

There still would be no charge for regular season events in cross country, tennis and golf.

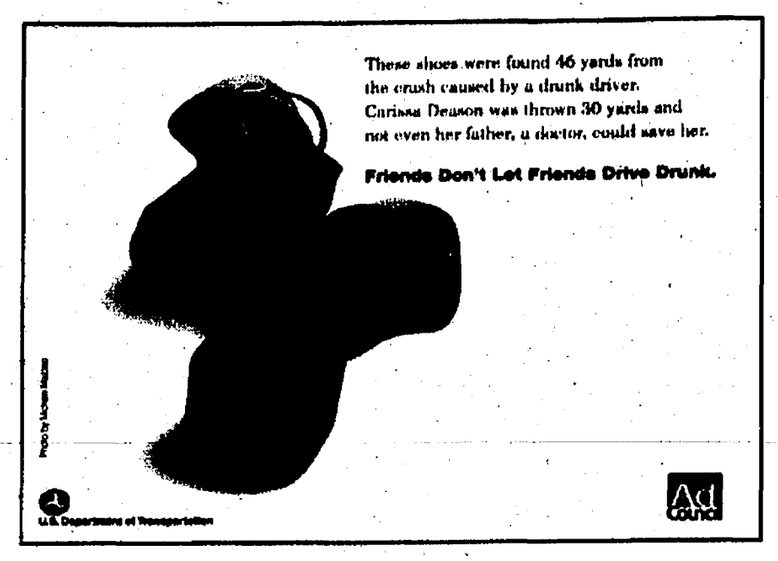

Freshmen and JV events would cost $3, up from $2. Tickets to seventh- and eighth-grade events would cost $2, up from $1.

Employee passes, which currently cost $15, would cost $25.

Welton recommends an increase from $1 to $2 for admission to baseball and softball games, as well.

He said half-price pre-sale tickets would be sold through the high school's student store and the Chelsea Community Education office.

"These recommended ticket price increases will also keep us in line with area schools," he said. "Many SEC schools are already charging the recommended fees."

Students named to deans' lists

Several local residents have been named to deans' lists at their colleges and universities.

Justin Swain of Chelsea was named to the dean's list at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

Susan Kattula, a 1999 graduate of Chelsea High School, was among more than 400 students named to the dean's list at Alma College for outstanding academic performance during the winter term. She is the daughter of George and Carol Kattula of Chelsea.

Several Chelsea residents were named to the dean's list at Hope College in Holland for the second semester. They are Vincent Scheffler, Ryan Cox, Karen Kuhl, Amy Sporer, Ryan Barwick, Lindsey Brink, Phoebe Booth and Molly Martin.

Chelsea residents named to the dean's list at Western Michigan University are Deanna Fulton, Samantha Hepburn, Keith Jaynes, Doris Moore, Anthony Scheffler, Melissa Seyfried and Rebecca Williams.

Kathryn Murphy, Corey Piotrowski, Amanda Souder and Zachary Zenz, all of Grass Lake, were also named to the list, as were Melony Aeschlimann and Katherine Paris of Gregory.

Chelsea softball wins regional championship

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

Four games and counting.

Last weekend, Chelsea softball captured a Division II regional championship at Carleton Airport. In winning the crown, the Bulldogs (34-4) shut out Milan 11-0 in the regional semifinals and blanked Trenton 3-0 in the title game.

In Chelsea's four state playoff contests, including two district victories, the Bulldogs have yet to be scored upon.

In its past four games, Chelsea, the defending Division II state champions, has outscored its opponents 25-0.

The Bulldogs have been getting it done, both offensively and defensively in the playoffs.

Against the Big Reds, Chelsea pitcher Jenna Connelly was masterful. The junior baffled the Milan hitters, facing 15 batters, striking out 11, allowing one hit and walking none. The game was cut short due to the mercy-rule.

Chelsea's Jenna Connelly won two consecutive games last week, helping lead the Bulldogs to a Division II regional championship. In both victories, Connelly didn't allow a walk.

While Connelly commanded the circle, the Bulldog hitters ruled the box.

With the score 0-0, Chelsea batted around in the second inning, exploding for eight runs in the frame.

"We just started hitting the ball, and it became contagious," said Chelsea coach Kim Reichard.

Senior first baseman Alison Mann led the second inning attack, connecting for a single, double and two RBIs.

Junior second baseman Missy Morcom had a RBI triple, while junior catcher Katrina Moffett and leftfielder Brynna Darwin each had RBI singles.

Senior shortstop Anna Arend singled, while Connelly had a RBI triple to finish out the high-scoring second.

In the third stanza, Moffett had a sacrifice fly as Chelsea scored two additional runs, increasing its advantage to 10-0.

In the fifth inning, the Bulldogs iced the contest, as Danielle McClelland's RBI fielder's choice brought home Morcom, who had earlier walked.

Chelsea belted out 12 hits against Milan.

In the regional final, the Bulldogs battled a determined Trenton squad.

In the second inning, Mann tripled and was brought around by senior third baseman Cynthia Johnson's RBI double.

With the Bulldogs leading 1-0, the Trojans threatened in the fifth frame.

With one out, and runners on third base and second base, Trenton appeared ready to take the lead. But Connelly had other thoughts, bearing down, striking out the next two batters and ending the Trojans' rally.

"She took charge out there," Reichard said of Connelly.

Reichard said that inning was a turning point in the game. For practically the first time in the state playoffs, Chelsea was challenged. Instead of wilting, the Bulldogs responded, taking the fight to their opponent.

"It was really emotional," Reichard said. "We had some calls go against us. It became really heated out there."

To show Trenton who was boss, Chelsea put the game away in its next at bat, scoring two runs, and putting an exclamation point on a hard-earned 3-0 victory.

"The moral of the story is when the pressure came on, we took charge," Reichard said.

Instead of cracking under the pressure, the defending state champions stood tall, turning the tables and forcing the underdog Trojans to lose their poise, when it was winning time.

"We've been there before," Reichard said of her state tournament-tested ball club. "We have a little more confidence and maturity."

In the sixth inning, Moffett tripled, while Arend and Darwin each had RBI singles for the Bulldogs.

Connelly picked up the win from the rubber, scattering three hits, striking out 11 and walking none.

Reichard said Connelly's control in the circle has been impressive.

"No walks is big," she said. "You're not letting people on base. In two (regional) games, only four runners reached base. That's huge."

Late last Tuesday, Chelsea made it five straight games without giving up a run, as it shut out Detroit Renaissance 9-0 in a Division II state quarterfinal in Saline.

The Bulldogs next square off against Gladstone (29-10) tomorrow 1 p.m. in the Division II semifinals at Diamond No. 1 at Battle Creek's Bailey Park. The Upper Peninsula club defeated Howard City Tri-County 1-0 in its quarterfinal game.

The other Division II semifinal pits Comstock (32-8) versus St. Clair Shores Lakeshore (24-11) tomorrow 1:30 p.m. on Diamond No. 3 in Battle Creek's Bailey Park.

If successful in the semifinals, Chelsea will play in the Division II state championship game 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Bailey Park.

The Bulldogs' 34 wins are the most of any squad remaining in the playoffs.

"We can't look past anybody," Reichard said. "We have to continue to play our game. We have to go out and attack, scoring first, making plays defensively and getting the job done pitching."

Manville, Stankevich soccer MVPs

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

Chelsea seniors Sarah Manville and Beth Stankevich were named co-MVPs of Chelsea girls' soccer last week.

Both players earned the honor last year, as well.

Also, both Manville, who will continue her soccer career at Hope College next season, and Stankevich, who is headed to the University of Michigan, but will concentrate on her studies, were selected All-District.

Receiving the Most Improved Award were seniors defender Michele Oberholtzer and forward Genny Gourlay.

Named Offensive Player of the Year was freshman Jaime Franks. Franks scored a team-high nine goals this season.

Presented the co-Defensive Player-of-the-Year Award were junior Sharon Dault and sophomore Danielle Stahl.

Earning All-Southeastern Conference first-team honors were Stankevich, Dault and Franks.

Named honorable mention All-SEC were senior Sarah Kaminsky, Manville, Stahl and Gourlay.

Receiving the SEC Sportsmanship Award was junior captain Brittany Denison.

Overall this year, the Bulldogs finished 9-11-1 and 5-4-1 in the league.

Chelsea advanced to the district final for the first time since 2000.

In the district final, the Bulldogs fell to Mason 4-0, May 31 at Jackson Northwest.

"It was a real good game," said Chelsea coach Chris Orlandi. "The score looked a lot worse than it was. We gave up a goal in the first minute of the game. We were out shot 9-1 in the first half."

Mason led 1-0 at the end of the first half.

Bulldog senior Genny Gourlay beats an Eaton Rapids defender to the ball. Chelsea defeated the Greyhounds 2-0 in a Division II district semifinal at Jackson Northwest.

Early in the second half, the Bulldogs had a chance to tie the contest.

Franks drew a penalty. Teammate Kaminsky took the penalty kick, blasting a shot just off the cross bar.

"That took the wind out of our sails," Orlandi said.

A minute later, Mason scored, taking a 2-0 lead.

The Bulldogs would add two additional goals for the final margin.

Despite the season-ending defeat, Orlandi said his squad gave a strong effort.

"The girls left the field knowing they gave all they had to give," he said. "You want to go down swinging, especially since it was the seniors' last game. I was proud of them."

On May 29, Chelsea defeated Eaton Rapids 2-0 in the Division II district semifinals at Jackson Northwest.

"The intensity level in that game was electric," Orlandi said. "We had never played them before."

At halftime, the score was knotted at 0-0.

In the second half, the Bulldogs dominated.

"We wore them out," Orlandi said. "We out shot them 17-3 in the second half."

Stankevich scored both Bulldog goals.

"She really stepped up," Orlandi said. "As a senior, she took over."

Assisting on the goals were Franks and Denison.

On May 27, Chelsea beat Fowlerville 2-0.

The host Bulldogs out shot the Gladiators 28-3.

Franks scored 1:45 into the game for Chelsea.

Denison scored the game's final goal with seven minutes left in the first half.

In the second half, the Bulldogs buckled down defensively.

"The defense was outstanding," Orlandi said. "We played the majority of the second half in their (Fowlerville's) half of the field."

Orlandi said despite his team's 9-11-1 overall record, it was still a memorable season.

"This was a special year," he said. "This was virtually the same team as last year.

Hard working Dawgs end track season

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

The Chelsea boys' track and field team wrapped up its season last week with an end-of-the-year banquet.

Senior sprinter Darl Bauer was named the squad's MVP. He earned All-Region and All-League honors this past season for Chelsea.

"Darl Bauer has been a top-notch sprinter for four years," said Chelsea coach Eric Swager. "I wish him well in his college football career."

Bauer, a hard-hitting running back/defensive back, will play football at Hillsdale College this fall.

Receiving the Most Improved Award was senior thrower Chris Bauer. He qualified for the Division II state meet in the shot put this year.

Bauer also finished as Southeastern Conference White Division champion in the shot put. He earned All-Region and All-League honors, as well, in the shot put and discus.

Presented with the SEC Sportsmanship Award was Hugh White.

Besides Darl Bauer and Chris Bauer, the Bulldogs' other All-Region performers include shot putter junior Joel Powers and senior Trevor Bach in the 800-meter run.

Earning All-League for Chelsea were Adam Ellis (sprints), Dan Lewis (distances), Jason Danielson (discus), George Royce (high jump and long jump) and Powers (shot put).

Lewis captured an invitational championship at Mason in the 3,200-meter run. He also was part of the Selby meet 3,200-meter relay first-place foursome. Joining Lewis on the team were Andre Bravo, Tony Reifel and White.

Besides Chris Bauer, also qualifying for the state meet were Powers

Chelsea's Ryan Houle was one of the Bulldogs' top all-around performers this past season. During the year, the senior scored in six different events for Chelsea.

High scoring JV kickers excel

Chelsea's JV girls' soccer team finished the 2003 season with an impressive 11-3-4 overall record. The Bulldogs placed first in the Southeastern Conference White Division with a mark of 6-1-3.

"We had an outstanding season," said Chelsea coach Chad Scaling. "We played really well as a team. The girls worked well together."

For the year, the Bulldogs scored 40 goals, while giving up 12.

Bekah Sauers, a sophomore, was named MVP for the squad. She finished with two goals and four assists on the year.

Earning offensive MVP for the Dawgs was junior Ashley Gadbury. She scored a team-high 14 goals and had five assists.

Receiving defensive MVP honors was freshman Emily Woodruff.

Anna Drow, a sophomore, was presented with the Most Improved Award.

Besides Gadbury's team-high 14 goals, other top scorers for Chelsea were sophomores Rebecca Reesman and Stacia Morrison, who each had five goals, and freshman Angela Koich, who tallied four goals.

Chelsea sophomore Bekah Sauers was named Bulldog JV soccer MVP.

Scoring two goals on the season for the Bulldogs were junior Betsy Boyd and sophomores Hanna Taylor, Anne Seelbach and Sauers.

Notching one goal for Chelsea were sophomores Brenda Satterthwaite and Anna Hillaker.

Pacing the squad in the assist category was Satterthwaite with 11.

Morrison and Gadbury each added four assists, while Koich and Sauers both ended up with four assists on the year.

Finishing with two assists were junior Erin McLaughlin, Taylor and Reesman, while sophomore Taryn Hammer and Seelbach each recorded one assist for the Bulldogs.

and the 3,200-meter relay group of Lewis, Bravo, Reifel and White.

"Our team this year was without any state-caliber superstars," Swager said. "We were a true-blue collar team, based on hard work and guts.

"Although we scored zero points in the state meet, we were second in an extremely tough conference. We sent athletes to the Jackson All-Star (Selby) meet in every event but one.

"I was truly proud of our team attitude. This group of guys got the most out of the talent they possess, which is all I can ask."

Swager said he would miss the graduating seniors.

"Chris Bauer, Jason Danielson and Dan Maurer are three excellent throwers who will be hard to replace," he said. "Ryan Houle is a versatile athlete that helped out and scored in six different events.

"Andre Bravo is the only Chelsea athlete to have competed in three different state finals in his senior year. Ryan Montgomery is a hard-working distance runner who has helped with the younger runners, and Marius Varner is a gutty individual who showed vast improvement this year."

Swager said the cupboard is far from bare, however.

"We have a solid core of young athletes that should allow us to be very competitive next year," he said.

This season, Chelsea finished fifth at regionals and had a 1-2 dual meet record.

Swager said his assistant coaches were indispensable this year.

"Assistant coaches Lonnie Mitchell, Mike Holik, Shane Rodriguez and Julie Wagner all helped numerous athletes achieve their best performances, and Bert Kruse was again outstanding in his work with the throwers."

"13 years. 200,000 miles. Two engines. But still the original Rhino Lining."

"It began in 1988 when I won a new pick-up at the company Christmas party," said Jens Christy. "I was in construction, so I saw the possibilities of using Rhino Linings® to prevent rust and extend the life of my truck. Today, more than 200,000 miles later, my Ranger is on its second engine - but its original Rhino Lining. "I figure God gave me that truck, so when anyone at church wants to borrow it, I say, 'go ahead.' That bed liner has had paint spilled on it, chemicals, oil, even battery acid. It still works just like it did when it was new." Chelsea's Paige Mason finished first at two figure skating competitions last month. Mason is a member of the Ann Arbor Figure Skating Club.

Local skater shines

Chelsea's Paige Mason, a member of the Ann Arbor Figure Skating Club, participated in two events last month at the Ann Arbor Ice Cube.

The 8-year-old Pierce Lake Elementary School second-grader competed in the Ann Arbor Spring Invitational and in the Ann Arbor basic skills competition.

On May 15 through 18 at the invitational, Mason finished first in the Dutch Waltz Dance and first in the Canasta Tango. She also placed fourth in the freestyle event for low beginners.

On May 31, at the basic skills competition, Mason placed first in the interpretive low beginner event and first in spins for low beginners. She also was third in freestyle for low beginners.

Besides figure skating, Mason also performs ballet with Dance Arts of Chelsea.

The girls learned how to compete at a championship level. There were some amazing comeback wins that they'll always remember."

Orlandi said this year was the first season the girls went to Florida as a team for spring break.

"That made a huge difference," he said. "In prior seasons it took a long time for the team to gell. These girls really loved playing with each other."

The Bulldogs will lose nine seniors, but return a wealth of talent.

"Our entire forward line is coming back," Orlandi said. "We return two starting forwards and two starting defenders, plus we had a strong JV team."

Why are we one of the best soccer clubs in Michigan?

Our premier players successfully compete at the highest level possible in the State of Michigan. Our teams play in nationally recognized tournaments such as the Raleigh Shootout, Jefferson Cup, and Nomads Coaches' Showcase. Our top coaches have national "A" and "B" licenses with ODP and college coaching experience. Our college bound players are actively recruited to play soccer at some of the best colleges and universities around. Our select teams are part of an established program where licensed coaches develop the skills of their players in a supportive environment. If you want to join a competitive program that is recognized state wide as one of the best, join us at the tryouts for ANN ARBOR ARSENAL.

ANN ARBOR ARSENAL

Tryout Guidelines

All players who wish to try out and play up an age group must make a written request to Thomas Olivier at thomas@aaysa.net prior to the tryout dates.

Due to the competitive nature of tryouts, we strongly recommend that you attend all tryout sessions.

All players should bring a ball and water, and a parent must be present prior to the first tryout session. All teams will be announced at the conclusion of the last tryout time for each team, at which time a quick team meeting will be held.

Pedersen wins fitness title

Dexter native Brett Pedersen is a national champion.

The recent Eastern Michigan University graduate teamed with fellow Eagle classmate Chris Roberson to capture the 2003 American Collegiate Intramural Championship national fitness title May 9 through 11 in Orlando, Fla.

The ACIC fitness championship is a four-event competition. It's made up of a dualathon, which is a combination of running and cycling; a speed slide, which is where the fitness partners pull each other 100 yards on a sled with a harness; an obstacle course; and a two-man tug-of-war.

Pedersen, a 1998 Dexter High School graduate, and Roberson, a defensive end on the EMU football team, finished first in the nation in the speed slide, the obstacle course and in the two-man tug-of-war. The EMU two-some also placed third in the dualathon.

Besides a fitness champion, Pedersen is an accomplished lacrosse player. Lacrosse is a club sport at EMU. This past season, Pedersen was named Eagle MVP and first-team All-Conference.

"It feels great," Pedersen said about winning the national fitness title. "We ended up second in our conference in lacrosse. That was a downer. We lost by one goal to Calvin College. This (winning fitness national championship) was a big turnaround. It was an amazing experience."

Pedersen, who graduated with a degree in physical education and a minor in health education in April, hopes to become a teacher.

At the national finals, he said the toughest event was the dualathon. In the running/cycling race, Pedersen ran 1 1/2 miles, while Roberson cycled two miles.

"It seemed like a lot of the athletes there were endurance athletes," Pedersen said. "They kept a fast pace."

Also, Pedersen said the weather conditions in Florida were difficult.

"It was 88 degrees at 7 a.m.," he said. "By competition time, it was 95 degrees. We're not used to that in Michigan."

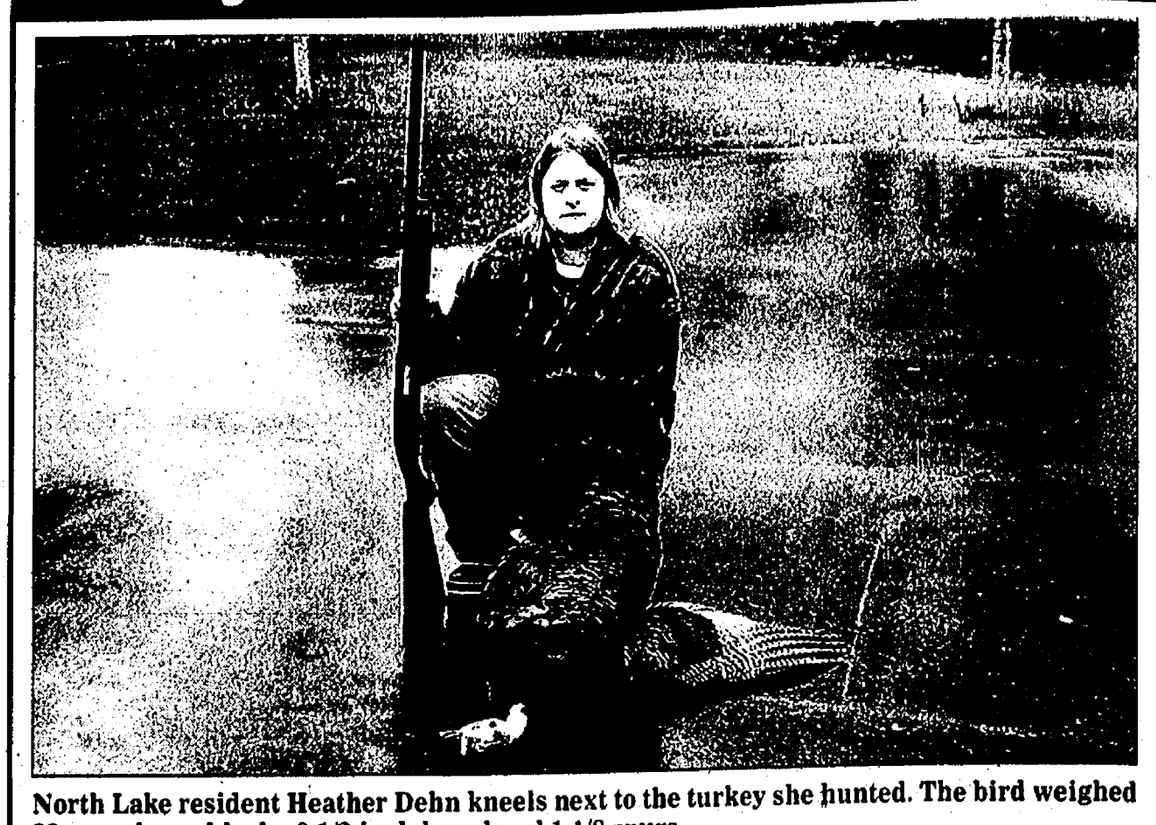

Pedersen said the two-man tug-of-war was an enjoyable event. He and Roberson breezed through the field.

"We never lost," he said. "We really dominated that one."

Pedersen said his most memorable moment occurred at the end of the competition.

"I'll always remember standing up on the podium and receiving my medal," he said. "That was a great sense of accomplishment."

The Chelsea Art Fair

This year marked the 30th anniversary of the Chelsea Painters Art Fair. The event was held last weekend on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital. A group of 29 local juried artists, many of whom have had work displayed at shows and galleries across the United States, had their work on exhibit and for sale. Visitors, who also enjoyed live entertainment and refreshments, had a huge selection of artwork to admire, including oils, pastels and scratchboard. The annual Art Fair helps raise funds for the Palmer Medical Scholarship.

Regina Knudstrup pays cashier John Knapp for four paintings as her husband, Bill, a former member of Chelsea Painters, looks on. The couple bought artwork by Madeleine Vallier, Sandy Knapp, Mae Hostetler and Janice Stevens Botsford.

Alice Swainson looks at the work of artist Delores Boos. Swainson, a member of the Chelsea Painters, was not displaying work at this year's Art Fair.

Ford marks anniversary with special package

On Monday, Ford Motor Co. will mark its 100th year of building automobiles. As part of the yearlong celebration, Ford has launched a special-edition Centennial Package to be offered on key Ford vehicles.

The special-edition vehicles, of course, are offered in "any color you want as long as it's black."

As the legend goes, when Henry Ford's production machine was rolling at full speed at his Highland Park Assembly Plant and the Model T was breaking production records every day, the vehicle was offered in "any color so long as it is black," as Henry Ford himself would say.

Black paint dried faster than other colors, allowing Henry Ford and his team to produce cars more quickly and efficiently. This, in turn, helped drive down the price and made the automobile within reach of the middle-class consumer for the first time.

From an original price of $850, the Model T price dropped to well below $300 by the early 1920s.

Centennial Package

Ford's color palate has grown significantly since the early years, but the vehicles of today — the cars, trucks and SUVs — still represent a value that is hard to beat. Ford is the best-selling brand of vehicle in America, thanks in part to key vehicles such as F-Series, Explorer, Taurus, Focus and Mustang. The special 2003 Centennial Package is offered on these five vehicles.

"They were a natural choice to represent the Centennial for us," said Alain Batty, president and chief executive officer of Ford of Canada. "Like the Model T, they are hallmark products for Ford — the vehicles at the foundation of the brand. They say a lot about who we are and what we do."

In fact, all five vehicles have helped shape Ford Motor Co. and, in their own way, the automobile business.

Ford Explorer, when launched in 1990, helped define and establish the SUV segment. It remains the best-selling SUV in America. It is the best selling SUV in Canada for the sixth consecutive year.

Ford Taurus redefined the sedan segment when it was launched in 1985. It is still one of the top-10 selling vehicles in the United States.

In 1964, when the Mustang was launched, a love affair began that is still alive today.

Since the F-Series was introduced as the Ford F-1 in 1948, the truck has served as the workhorse for America. It is the best-selling vehicle in the United States and has been for the past 25 years. In 2002, Ford F-Series earned the title as Canada's best selling pickup truck nameplate for the 37th straight year.

Focus is Ford's Model T for the 21st century: a great value that puts excellent driving dynamics and outstanding packaging in reach of most new-car buyers.

Ford vehicles with the Centennial Package are offered in black only, with special interiors. Additionally, buyers will receive commemorative gifts from Ford. Production will be limited to 4,000 or less of each Centennial vehicle.

Showcase of Homes set Saturday

■ The local building industry's finest will be on display through June 23.

By Marcia Cavan
Special Writer

For people who love looking at homes or are searching for new features and design elements to add to their existing abodes, Saturday's Showcase of Homes is a must-visit event.

In its 19th year and hosted by the Home Builders Association of Washtenaw County, this year's tour begins Saturday and runs through June 23.

Details on the locations of all the homes can be found at the organization's Web site, www.hbawc.com.

Twenty-seven homes from 26 different builders will be showcased. Houses in the tour cover much of the greater Ann Arbor area, with six homes in the Dexter School District, according to the group's Web site.

Dennis Boychuck and Associates has built a half-million-dollar home at 8274 Trail Ridge in Walsh Farms subdivision.

Priced at $479,900, it's custom built and offers more than 2,700 square feet of living space. Boychuck describes it as an arts-and-crafts-style home located on rolling hills. It includes many architectural details and accents, as well as four bedrooms, 2.5 baths, and an adjoining family room with pass-through fireplace.

This beautiful kitchen is among the highlights of the 19th annual Showcase of Homes tour Saturday through June 23. Details on the locations of all the homes can be found at the organization's Web site, www.hbawc.com.

The kitchen has maple cabinets, granite countertops and a cook-top island. Additional home highlights are hardwood floors, a formal dining room, three-car garage and a 1,100-square-foot walkout, lower level that could be finished for additional living space.

A wraparound porch and rear deck frame the exterior. The siding is maintenance-free and has stone-and-shake accents. Situated on 1.8 acres, the home offers a view of Dexter Township's Peach Mountain.

Each year, the Showcase of Homes spotlight the latest trends in construction, interior design, architecture, technology and landscaping.

Tours are set from noon to 8 p.m. Saturday, Sunday and Wednesday, and 5 to 8 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

The cost is $10 for adults and $5 for children ages 3 through 16. Tickets are available at any of the homes on the tour.

Walk & Wag deemed a success

■ Humane society fund-raiser attracts 120 participants.

By Marcia Cavan
Special Writer

Even though the clouds were heavy and the rain was falling, more than $40,000 was raised May 31 during the Humane Society of Huron Valley's Walk & Wag.

Some 120 people braved the wet conditions to do their part for less fortunate animals.

The shelter, located at 3100 Cherry Hill Road in Ann Arbor Township, was the center of many animal-related activities. Vendors of pet supplies, animal-related ceramics and pet portraits were all present.

The large range of generous corporate sponsors made it the most successful Walk and Wag to date.

As the walk started during the early morning rain, there were many comments about some of the smaller dogs needing "mud flaps" after their six-mile walk along dirt roads.

What brought them out for the event was the humane society's commitment to find loving, permanent homes for every adoptable animal in its care and to prevent cruelty to animals.

Chris Roberts of Chelsea and her dog, Ozzie, was among the walkers. Ozzie was adopted from the humane society when he was 9 months old, and has been a happy member of Roberts' family ever since.

"This is a fantastic cause and the walk is a great way to raise money to help the animals," Roberts said.

All of Ozzie's 95 pounds looked very happy and a little tired afterward.

The most popular attendees were the three honorary co-chairs, Zorro and Carlo of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and their "friend," Czar, the Pfizer Inc.-sponsored explosives detection dog for the Ann Arbor Police Department.

Throughout the day, various dogs available for adoption were paraded through the crowds hoping to find their perfect match. Many people had their portraits taken by Linda Chamberlain of All Pet Photography. Proceeds benefited the humane society.

Numerous contests were held with a new one, "The Muddiest Dog," added on Walk Day. Some likely contenders, however, were hosed off before the contest was announced.

At the event, participants learned more about the animal services the humane society provides, including heartworm screening, inoculations, rabies vaccinations, West Nile virus information and micro-chipping.

Even though the crowds were wet, cold and muddy after the walk, knowing they helped so many animals seemed to have warmed everyone's hearts.

Web site offers historic resources

Washtenaw County's Historic District Commission has completed the first phase of a federally funded grant project for a public database of historic resources in the rural areas of the county.

Survey information from thousands of paper documents gathered over the last 22 years, including farmhouses, barns, churches and schoolhouses, has been entered into a user-friendly database. It's a useful tool for historians, preservationists, planners, local officials, students, and historic house owners.

Viewers may look up updated aerial images from last year, along with specific historic sites. The Web site address is histweb.ewashtenaw.org.

Hudson Mills to host disc golf tourney

■ Great Lakes Open set June 21 and 22.

By Chad Livengood
Special Writer

Disc golf enthusiasts will have an opportunity to see the nation's best professional disc golfers compete June 21 and 22 at Hudson Mills Metropark as part of the 21st annual Great Lakes Open.

Park Assistant Superintendent Jerry Cyr said the annual weekend tourney, which is part of the Professional Disc Golfers Association national pro tour, attracts thousands of spectators each year.

"It's a very popular event," he said.

The tournament, which will kick off with the first tee time starting at 9:45 a.m. June 21, followed by a 9 a.m. tee time June 22, is free to the public. Cyr said there should be plenty of parking in the overflow lots.

Spectators will need to obtain a vehicle day pass at the front entrance of the park, located at 8801 North Territorial, for $4 a day or the year-round pass, which costs $20.

The tournament attracts some of the most competitive players from the professional and amateur disc golfers circuit.

Professionals and amateurs from across the Great Lake states and Canada attend, Cyr said.

Terry Calhoun of Ann Arbor, a member of the Professional Disc Golfers Association Board, said that the tournament would be formatted so that amateurs and pros will be playing opposite courses at the same time.

The Hudson Mills courses consist of the Monster Course and the Original Course.

The Original Course, which was built in the spring of 1992, is a 24-hole championship caliber disc golf course.

The Monster Course was built as a temporary course in 1996 to house the event and then became permanent in the spring of 1997, Cyr said. It's a 24-hole championship course, as well.

Calhoun, also a longtime member of the Ann Arbor Area Disc Induced Sports Club, said the professionals will begin play the first day on the Monster Course, then switch to the Original Course in the afternoon.

The professionals will play another game on the Original Course the second day to bring the number of players in the field down to the top four men's pro open and the top three women's pro open for a final showdown of nine holes on the Monster Course.

"This game will be played safari style," Calhoun said.

Safari style is when players make the course more difficult by increasing the distances of throws.

"It makes it much more challenging for the players and exciting for the spectators to watch," Calhoun said.

The final match will be played in a "skins" format in which each hole is worth a particular amount of money.

"If you win the hole, you win the money," Calhoun said.

Meanwhile, Calhoun will join the amateurs in a similar format that will have them competing on the opposite course of the pro circuit, but without the final 9-hole championship June 22.

The tournament, which originated 21 years ago at the Raintree Park in Troy, has been held at Hudson Mills each year since 1995.

The widespread popularity and notoriety of the tournament are the result, in part, to the nationwide promotion done by the Ann Arbor Area Disc Induced Sports Club.

Calhoun said that this year marks the first Professional Disc Golfers Association national tour.

The Great Lakes Open will be the tour's seventh stop as part of a 12-city tour that began Feb. 21 in Los Angeles and will conclude in Flagstaff, Ariz., for the 2003 Professional Disc Golfers Association World Championships.

Calhoun said he and his wife, Shelia, who want to retain their amateur status despite the widespread push to become pros and play for money, will be traveling to Flagstaff to compete in this year's championships.

Disc golfing has become a family tradition for the Calhouns as their son Ben, a recent graduate of Community High School in Ann Arbor, competed in the 2002 Junior World Championship.

In addition to their sons' success, Shelia took home the women's amateur masters world champion crown last year.

"My son and I started playing five years ago, and my wife caught on about 3 1/2 years ago," Calhoun said.

The Ann Arbor Area Induced Disc Sports Club is more than 200 members strong.

Online registration is available for both professionals and amateurs players. Players may register for the tournament online at www.Titledisc.com.

Mandatory pre-registration for the tournament is due tomorrow either by mail or online.

Hospital auction brings in money

■ More than $57,000 raised for CT scanner.

By Chad Livengood
Special Writer

The Chelsea Community Hospital held its 18th annual Spring Auction May 10 at a new location with tremendous success.

The auction, held for the first time at the Comfort Inn Conference Center, raised more than $57,000, attracting 203 bidders.

The proceeds, which netted 27 percent more then last year's auction, will be used to purchase a new CT scanner, said Becky Pazkowski, director of marketing and development for the hospital.

Kathleen Raymond, director of X-ray imaging, said the computed tomography scanner is used to provide a wide range of scans.

The CT scanner will allow Chelsea Community Hospital physicians to perform non-invasive imaging and diagnosis of a wider range of conditions in less time with greater patient comfort, Raymond said.

Pazkowski said the CT scanner will be used to diagnose various illnesses.

"The CT scanner will allow Chelsea hospital to maintain excellence in health-care services with quicker studies, better imaging and be more patient-friendly," Raymond said.

The auction, which had a Mardi Gras theme this year, was composed of items and vacation packages donated by many different individuals, organizations, and businesses.

Bidders had the choice to cast bids in 29 live auctions, 47 silent auctions, and 22 raffle-based auctions. Local auctioneer Steve Gross hosted the live auctions.

Pazkowski said that Gross's personality and performance was one of the highlights of the night.

"He started off by auctioning off a $100 bill." "He got $120 for it!" Pazkowski said.

The auction is an annual event each spring for the hospital.

"It takes place each year the day before Mother's Day," Pazkowski said.

Next year, the auction will return to the spacious Comfort Inn Convention Center.

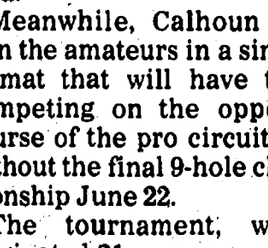

"It's wonderful to have a facility like that in Chelsea to grow our auction," Pazkowski said.

Officials on board

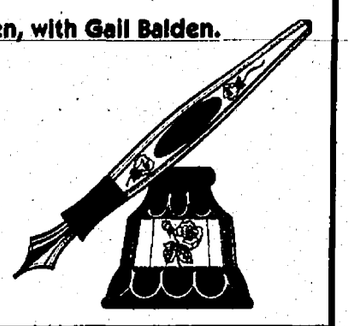

Kathleen Griffiths, president and CEO of Chelsea Community Hospital, and John Worden, retired Summit Township chief of fire department services, have joined the Huron Valley Ambulance Board of Trustees.

Re-elected to another one-year term were Dr. William Barsan, professor and chair of the Department of Emergency Medicine at University of Michigan Hospitals; Richard Lundy of Dexter, a consultant and community leader; and George Cress, chairman of the Board of United Bank and Trust-Washtenaw.

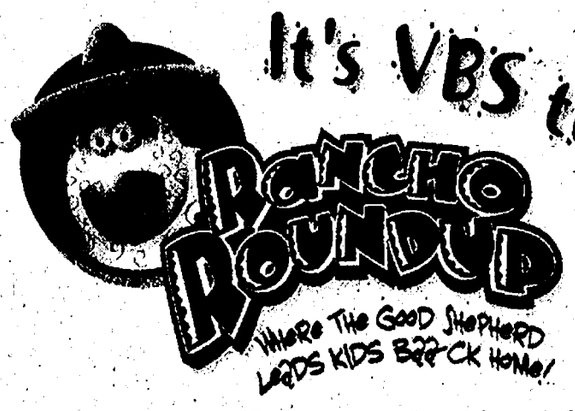

Based in Ann Arbor, Huron Valley Ambulance is a nationally accredited, non-profit community ambulance service covering Washtenaw and western Wayne counties.

Rolling Hills Golf Course

...ently located on the corner of Carpenter ...Township. The course is named perfectly ...ve in walking these nine holes will be ...nding.

One of the world's most challenging aspects of this nine-hole course is the fact that you'll seldom have a flat lie. You'll also have blind shots into several greens.

Course Superintendent Bryin Adey has several projects under way to beautify the track. Planting flowers and mulching around tee boxes as well as areas near greens puts a defining touch on the course.

Owner Mike Lowry has purchased connecting land to turn this course into an 18-hole ...ction for the additional nine could begin as soon ...The new property has a unique structure, a cl...house ...n is being considered as the site of a new Pro S...p.

The cost to play at Rolling Hills is minimal. Weekday rates are $9 for nine and weekends are at $10 to walk. Eighteen holes during the week will cost $14 and $15 on the weekend.

As of now, Rolling Hills has no golf leagues, making it access...le to go... to dusk. The course enjoys the conven... th... who would like to play after work but gen... e... of golf leagues. Rolling Hills is considering h... ...sn't want to take away the open play for al...

First hole, a 325-yard Par 4 — A tree lined left side guards Carpenter Road from errant shots and also diminishes road noise. Intermittent trees on the right make for a difficult tee shot. The green is not visible from the tee up to mid-fairway. A pond is roughly 30 yards short and right of this smallish green and to add to the difficulty, a natural drainage ditch is in your path if your approach is long. The rough up around the green is deep and dense.

Hole 2, 318 yard... ...again, you cannot see the green from the tee. Ho...ver you ca...e two rather large trees on either side of the f...way. Plac... your tee shot to the right side; this gives a better angle to attack the green. As with most of this course a flat lie is next to impossible. One advantage on your approach is that the green is sloped slightly from back to front.

Hole 3, 174 yards, Par 3 — The tee shot is slightly downhill which makes club selection difficult. You have trees short l... this deep but narrow green. Subtle breaks make any putt h... a challenge.

Hole 4, a 178-yard Par 3 — This hole plays longer than the yardage indicates due to the severe elevation of the green. Once again, the green is deep but narrow with two predominant slopes, back-to-front and right-to-left. There are no straight putts here.

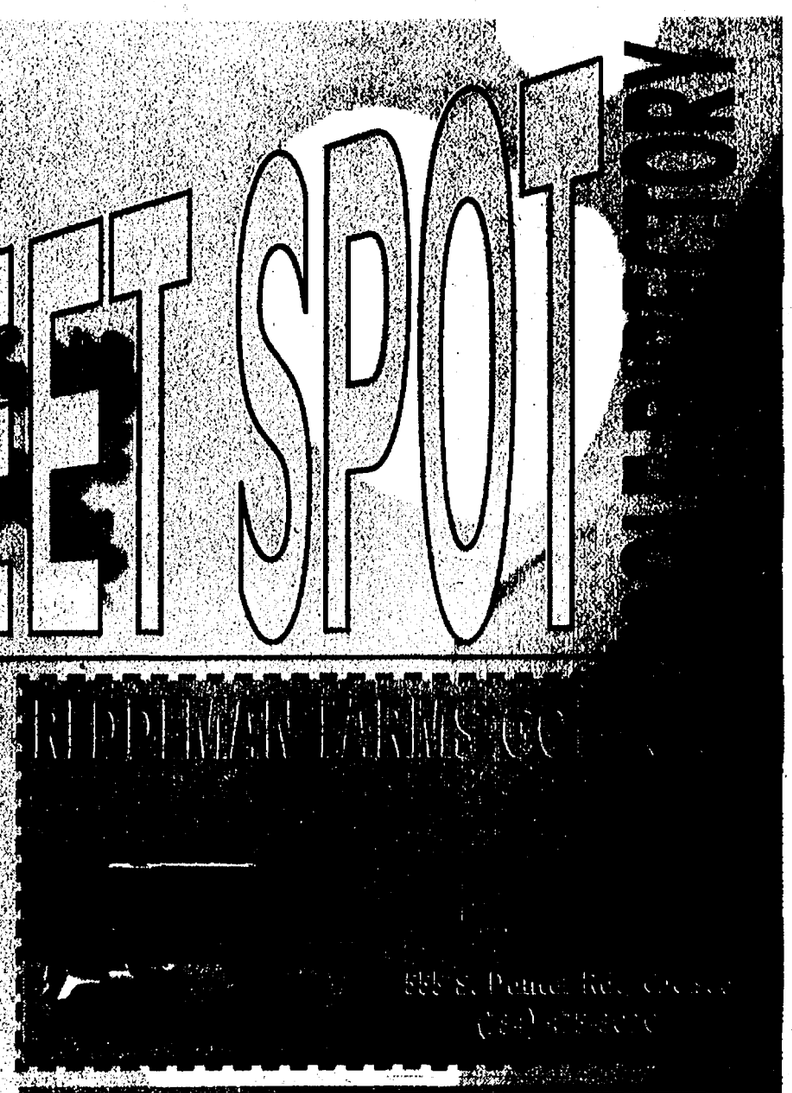

Hole 5 is a 326-yard Par 4 — A beautiful view of a pond is some 50 yards front left for your downhill tee shot. The fairway is a dogleg right to a small-elevated back to front green. This is Rolling Hills at its finest.

Hole 6, 484 yards, Par 5 — A short, yet challenging, par 5. The tee shot is a tricky one: left is out of bounds, while a large tree is in the middle right of the fairway. Get by this tight downhill tee shot and you can get home in two, but it's back uphill once more for a blind second shot. There's not much trouble up near this wide flat green, but reading your putt will be an adventure.

Hole 7, a 190-yard Par 3 — This is the longest par three on the course. A large tree on the left side, midway to the hole, is visually a problem. The green is large with a back-to-front and right-to-left slope. Trust what you see in reading this putt.

Hole 8 is a 157-yard Par 3 — This hole is picturesque. An elevated tee shot over a beautiful pond guards the front. Go long, however, and the row of bushes grabs your ball. The green runs ...om your tee shot, which is always challenging.

Hole ... 389-yard Par 4 — Another blind tee shot confronts you here. You go uphill then down to a dogleg left. There are two trees that inhibit you from cutting off the dogleg some but you're more than welcome to try. The green is better than average size with subtle slopes on the left side and severely slopes off on the right. It's a wonderful finishing hole.

DEATHS

HARRY DUANE KEALY
Chelsea

Harry D. Kealy, 81, died June 4, 2003, at Chelsea Retirement Community after a long battle with emphysema. He was born May 6, 1922, in Norvell the son of John and Lelah (Chapell) Kealy.

Mr. Kealy worked for Chelsea Milling Co. as a supervisor and driver for 40 years, retiring in 1985.

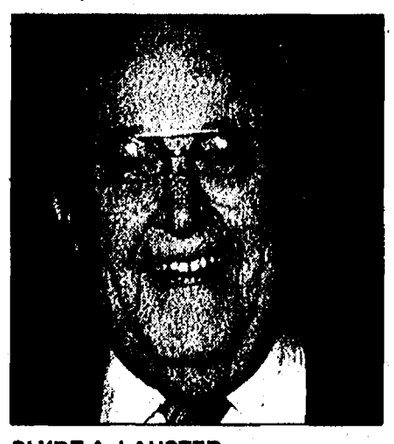

On Dec. 30, 1943, he married Edith McDonald in Chelsea, and she preceded him in death May 1, 1987.

Survivors include three children, David (Mari) Kealy of Havana, Fla., Linda (Tom) Penhallegon of Chelsea and Kathy (Bill) Kushmaul of St. Johns; five grandchildren, Erin (Glenn) Edebohls, Jill (Bobby) Mock, Duane (Melinda) Penhallegon, Roxanne (Dave) Kudwa and Bob Kushmaul; and four great-grandchildren, Ryan Mock, Brandy Mock, Bessie Penhallegon and Noah Kudwa.

He was preceded in death by three brothers, William, Dale and Bud.

A funeral was held Sunday at Cole Funeral Chapel in Chelsea. Burial followed at Vermont Cemetery.

The family received friends at the funeral home Friday and Saturday. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Lung Association.

EVELYN FAIRBROTHER
McKinney, Texas
Formerly Waterloo

Evelyn Alvina Johanna Fairbrother, 87, formerly of Waterloo, died June 2, 2003, in McKinney, Texas. She was born June 3, 1915, in the family farmhouse in Presque Isle County's Moltke to Ella Alma Wilhelmina (Rieger) and Albert Herman Edward Zinke.

She grew up on the family farm and helped with many of the outside chores. Her childhood friends gave her the nickname "Frisky." She married Frederick George Fairbrother Jr. Nov. 8, 1936, in Detroit.

They helped Fred's father operate a grocery business in Traverse City and Leland. During World War II, she operated a metal lathe in a factory in Chelsea, making parts for the war effort.

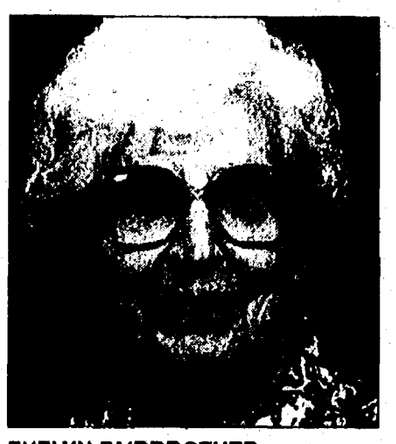

After the war, she and her husband bought a grocery store in Waterloo. They operated the store, expanding and rebuilding, until they retired in 1978. They continued to live in Waterloo until they moved to Texas a few years later.

Mrs. Fairbrother is survived by her children, Ronald (Sandy) Fairbrother of Plano, Texas, Nancy Myers of Plano and Carol Fairbrother of Houston; two grandchildren, William Fairbrother of Round Rock, Texas, and Debora Fairbrother of Snow Hill, Md.; as well as many loving nephews and nieces.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband of almost 50 years; her three brothers, Edward, Arnold and Melvin Zinke; and her two sisters, Leonora (Julius) Wyant and Ethel (Wallace) Poirier.

A memorial service will be held 10:30 a.m. Saturday at First United Methodist Church in Plano, Texas.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Arthritis Foundation or to Gideons International.

CLYDE A. LAUSTED
Chelsea

Clyde A. Lausted, 90, died June 7, 2003, at Chelsea Community Hospital as a result of complications from prostate cancer. He was born Sept. 15, 1912, in Buffalo, N.Y., the son of Edward J. and Augusta (Domes) Lausted.

Mr. Lausted lived in Chelsea for 10 years, coming from Ann Arbor. He retired from General Motors Corp.'s Hydromatic plant in 1977. He was an avid sailor, and a member of the Buffalo Yacht Club.

Survivors include his wife, Bonnie; his stepson, Marc (Kathy) Morhous of Dexter and their son, Zachary; a brother, George (Rita) Lausted of Buffalo, N.Y.; his sister, Edy Lausted of Springville, N.Y.; and one grandson, Zachary.

A funeral was held Wednesday, June 11 at Cole Funeral Chapel in Chelsea. The Rev. Mearl Bradley officiated. The family received friends at the funeral home Tuesday.

Memorial contributions may be made to Chelsea Community Hospital.

BARBARA KAY PHELPS
Chelsea

Barbara K. Phelps, 56, of Chelsea died June 7, 2003, at her home. She was born Aug. 17, 1946, in Herrin, Ill., the daughter of Robert H. and Mary Lucy (Thorpe) Francis. She graduated from Lakeshore High School in St. Joseph in 1964 and had lived in Chelsea since November 1976.

Mrs. Phelps was a member of St. Mary Catholic Church and the Red Hat Society. She enjoyed Karaoke, reading and gardening. She also loved to entertain and have parties.

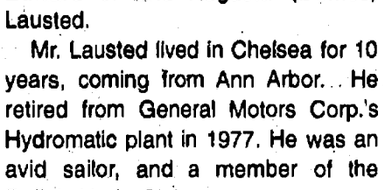

Mrs. Phelps is survived by her husband, John D. Phelps, whom she married Aug. 26, 1972, in Livonia. She is also survived by her daughter, Robin M. (Tye) Jewell of Ann Arbor; her son, Oliver F. Phelps of Chelsea; her mother, Lucy Francis of Chelsea; and sister-in-law, Kwan Fong Francis of San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Phelps was preceded in death by her son, Jason D.; her father; and two brothers, Lester and Bob Francis.

A funeral Mass was held Tuesday at St. Mary Catholic Church in Chelsea. The family received friends at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home in Chelsea.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Louis Center, Pious Union or St. Mary Building Fund.

POLICE BLOTTER

Lima Township

Assault

A 42-year-old man said he was attacked May 31 while checking out a dirt bike that was for sale in the 13300 block of Old US-12.

The man said he stopped in the driveway and honked his horn to get the homeowner's attention. When the homeowner came outside, the victim said the man started shouting at him and using vulgar language.

The victim said a heated argument ensued and the suspect slapped him three times while he sat in his car. The victim said he doesn't want to prosecute, however.

A state police trooper interviewed the suspect, who said he asked the victim to leave his property and slapped him after an argument.

911 Hang-Up Call

A 911 hang-up call received by central dispatch at 12:30 p.m. June 5 prompted a police response to the 1000 block of S. Steinbach Road. A dispatcher told police there was yelling in the background prior to someone hanging up.

When police responded, they found the caller, a 50-year-old man, in his driveway frantically waving his arms and pointing at a vehicle in a field. The man said he saw the people in the car slowly driving down the road and looking around before parking in the field.

Police interviewed two women in the 1994 Honda Acura. They told police that they were on break from work and wanted to be alone. They were told that they were trespassing.

Lyndon Township

Medical Assist

A 69-year-old Gregory man asked police to respond to his brother's home in the 19000 block of Waterloo Road June 3 after he received a letter from his brother on how to dispose of his property. The letter had the brother's house key taped to it.

The man said he tried to contact his brother, but no one came to the door.

Troopers responded and found the victim conscious, but unable to walk. It appeared as if he took too much medication and mixed it with alcohol.

Paramedics with Huron Valley Ambulance responded and took him to Chelsea Community Hospital.

Suspicious Incident

A 54-year-old township man called police June 4 to report a suspicious vehicle in the area.

The resident said for the last three consecutive days, someone driving a Ford Taurus has turned around in his driveway between 6 and 6:30 a.m., but he has been unable to get a license plate number.

Troopers patrolled the area on June 4 and 5 in the morning hours, but could not locate a vehicle matching the man's description.

Sylvan Township

Family Trouble

Troopers investigated a complaint of family trouble June 1. The report was vague, but it appeared as if a 47-year-old man and a 22-year-old woman had a disagreement, but appeared calm when police arrived.

The woman agreed to leave the residence for the night.

Hit and Run

Troopers were initially called June 4 to investigate a case of malicious destruction of property in the 600 block of Glazier Road. The incident, however, turned out to be a hit and run involving two mailboxes.

It appeared as if someone in a car ran off the road into a ditch then back on, striking two mailboxes during the incident. A total of $125 damage was reported.

Scio Township

Threats

A 43-year-old man living on Birkdale Street in Polo Fields subdivision off Zeeb Road called the sheriff's department May 28 to report a series of threatening telephone calls.

The man and his wife, 44, said an incoherent woman called three times and swore at them.

The telephone company has put a trace on their telephone to help police identify the suspect.

Larceny

A Viewsonic Projector valued at $1,700 was reported stolen May 25 from the 300 block of Jackson Plaza. The property was taken during a breaking and entering.

A 13-year-old Whitmore Lake boy told police that he was approached by four teenagers at Quality 16 movie theater at 10:40 p.m. May 31 about buying drugs. The boy said he told them that he wasn't interested and they stole his cellular phone.

The boy said the phone was clipped to the pocket of his pants. When he asked for it back, the teen who took it threw the phone's battery and then the phone at him.

The boy later realized that the subscriber information model card was missing. It's valued at $35.

A 60-year-old township man told police June 3 that someone accessed his home in the 200 block of Staebler Road by entering through an unlocked garage and stole $700.

The incident occurred between May 9 and June 2. The man said the money was from renters and he was keeping it for his brother.

Deputies investigated a larceny May 29 in Scio Farms Estates, 6655 Jackson Road. A 44-year-old man told police his 15-year-old son stole his bank card May 27 while he was sleeping.

The victim said his son had used the card to withdraw more than $400 from his bank account between May 28 and May 29. He wants to press criminal charges against the boy.

Found Property

A cashier at the Truck/Auto stop, 200 Baker Road, called police to turn in a wallet June 4 that was found in the parking lot. The wallet belongs to a 35-year-old man from British Columbia, Canada.

SYLVAN TOWNSHIP
SPECIAL BOARD MEETING — JUNE 4, 2003

A special meeting of the Sylvan Township Board was held Wednesday, June 4, 2003 at 9AM at the Sylvan Township Hall, 18027 Old US 12, Chelsea, MI 48118.

The following board members were present: Supervisor Burgess, Clerk Koch, Treasurer Grau, Trustees Heller and Lesser.

Also present: Mark Nottley, Mike Rybka and David Brooks.

This meetings agenda is to discuss the possibility of a CAFA millage vote. Mr. Mark Nottley was present being hired by the CAFA board to get feedback about the financial situation in Sylvan and how it relates to CAFA. Nottley will gather information from all entities in CAFA and finalize into a report. Nottley will also return to a regularly scheduled Board Meeting to discuss results in a public meeting.

The Board was open to looking at a millage or a special assessment. Requested that CAFA determine actual locations of substations/main station if facitities are included in the millage The Board also felt CAFA should investigate the possible cut back of services due to cost, i.e. medical runs that are not billable, let HVA handle.

Also the timing issue was discussed as it relates to setting a special election. Koch said CAFA needs to request a date at least 90 days in advance of chosen date for special election keeping in mind that the Village/City charter vote will probably occur on November 4, 2003 and any other election will need to be 30 days away from November 4th.

August 5, 2003 is the tentative date Nottley will return to the Board Meeting to present his report.

Motion by Koch, seconded by Grau to adjourn.

LuAnn S. Koch
Sylvan Township Clerk

CHELSEA SCHOOL DISTRICT NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED 2003-2004 BUDGET

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on June 23, 2003, at 6:30 o'clock PM, in the Boardroom, Chelsea, Michigan, the Board of Education of Chelsea School District will hold a public hearing to consider the District's proposed 2003-2004 budget.

The Board may not adopt its proposed 2003-2004 budget until after the public hearing. A copy of the proposed 2003-2004 budget, including property tax millage rate, is available for public inspection during normal business hours at 500 Washington Street, Chelsea, Michigan.

The property tax millage rate proposed to be levied to support the proposed budget will be a subject of this hearing.

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education.

LYNDON TOWNSHIP ATTENTION RESIDENTS NOTICE

LYNDON TOWNSHIP BOARD OF APPEALS WILL HOLD A PUBLIC HEARING ON TUESDAY, JUNE 17, 2003 AT 7:00 P.M. IN THE LYNDON TOWNSHIP HALL, 17751 N. TERRITORIAL ROAD, CHELSEA, MI 48118

AGENDA:

1) To review the application of Spencer L. BeMent (parcel #05-13-300-001, in Hidden Lakes Estates) 5500 Warren Road, Ann Arbor, MI 48103, for a variance from the Lyndon Township Land Division Ordinance, Section V, Paragrah C, which requires accessibility of the parcel to existing public or approved private road. Mr. BeMent would like to split his property although it is not accessible to a public or approved private road.

2) To review the application of Richard L. Kiel (parcel #05-36-100-017) 20976 Waterloo Road, Chelsea, for a variance from the Lyndon Township Ordinance Section 6.4 side yard set back and Section 3.08 F.2 maximum gross floor area for accessory buildings. Mr. Kiel would like to build a pole barn with a side yard set back of 10 feet rather than the required 25 feet because of the location of his drainfield. He would like the pole barn to be 1,680 square feet rather than the required 960 square feet which would be too small for his needs.

Written comments may be sent to: Helena M. Robinovitz, Office Manager, 17751 N. Territorial Road, Chelsea, MI 48118.

The Lyndon Township Board will provide, if time after the request allows, necessary and reasonable auxiliary aids or services to individuals with disabilities at the public hearing.

Individuals with disabilities requiring auxiliary aids or services should contact the Lyndon Township Board by writing or calling: Linda Reilly, Clerk, 17751 N. Territorial Road, Chelsea, MI 48118, or phone (734) 475-2401.

A copy of this notice is on file in the Office of the Clerk.

The following board members were present: Supervisor Burgess, Clerk Koch, Treasurer Grau, Trustees Heller and Lesser.

Also present: Dave Good, Gary Burkhardt, Beverely Slater, David Brooks, Robert and Betty Dorer, William Altenbrandt, Russ Rhoton, Ferne Hampel, Louis and Linda Galante, Ed Hafner, Scott Cooper, Mike Rybka, Jim Botsford, Michael Williams, Nick Reo, Tom Vandervoort, Bill Wells, Jerry Dresselhouse, Greg Simon, Bob Lange and Tom Caplis.

Motion by Grau, seconded by Heller to approve minutes as presented. Carried.

Motion by Heller, seconded by Grau to pay bills as presented. Carried.

A Public Hearing was called to order at 7:05pm for Sanitary Sewer District #5 - Special Assessment Roll. This hearing is to hear public comment and objections to the proposed Special Assessment Roll for East Cedar Lake. There were no comments regarding the proposed special assessment roll. However, there was much discussion regarding the district which was created at the May board meeting. Motion by Lesser, seconded by Koch to approve Resolution #3 for Sanitary Sewer District #5 - East Cedar Lake. Roll call vote - Carried.

Public Hearing on District #5 was closed.

Nick Reo of 4221 East Cedar Lake asked the board if he could petition to be included in the District to hook up to the sewer. The board informed Reo that the District has already been established and his property is not included.

Zoning Inspector Lange reported 3 zoning permits, 1 waiver and 1 certificate of occupancy issued in May.

Bill Wells of Cedar Lake inquired of the Zoning Inspector for activity on the State Land on the other side of Cedar Lake. Lange will look into it and get back with Wells.

Treasurer Grau reminded everyone of the new Summer Tax Bill going out by July 1st.

Trustee Lesser reported on the CAFA meeting and the possible millage vote this year.

Heller reported on the CAPT meeting.

State Trooper Hatch reported on the activity in Sylvan Township for the month of May.

Motion by Heller, seconded by Grau to approve the Lease agreement with Chelsea Amateur Radio Club, Inc. for an antenna on the Water Tower. Carried.

Motion by Heller, seconded by Lesser to renew the lease with CACA. Carried.

Motion by Koch, seconded by Lesser to amend District #3 - Cavanaugh Lake Special Assessment District to include parcel no. F-06-08-460-018 as a buildable lot with an assessment of $9,800 subject to the owners signing the Wavier. Carried.

Motion by Heller, seconded by Grau to send Bob Lange as a Representative to the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Core Committee to look at a 5-year study of the current and future County Parks. Carried.

Motion by Koch, seconded by Grau to adjourn.

POLICE

Police tracked down the man's parents on the Internet, but they said he is traveling with a carnival and they hadn't heard from him in a month.

The investigating officer told the man's parents that he could pick up the wallet from the sheriff's department's missing property room.

Property Damage

Sheriff's deputies investigated a malicious destruction of property complaint June 4 at Scio Farms Estates, 6655 Jackson Road.

The property manager told police that five pear trees were cut down from the area of Chestnut Boulevard and Sycamore Street.

The trees are valued at $500 each. Police have no suspects.

A 26-year-old Jackson man told police that someone threw a bottle at his car June 8 while he was driving on Jackson Road west of Industrial.

The glass bottle caused $200 in damage to his 1998 Ford Escort after striking the windshield. The man said another car was passing him in the opposite direction at 12:20 a.m. when the incident happened.

Retail Fraud

Minor With Alcohol

A 20-year-old Ypsilanti man was caught stealing a bottle of rum June 4 from Meijer, 5645 Jackson Road. A store detective was watching the man and his friend. The suspect hid the liquor in his coat and then cashed in bottle return receipts.

Police have also requested that the prosecutor charge the suspect as a minor in possession of alcohol because he is under 21 years old.

A 17-year-old Chelsea girl was arrested June 5 at Meijer, 5645 Jackson Road, for retail fraud. She was caught stealing $141 in cosmetics.

The girl told investigators that she had no money and went into the store with the intention of stealing.

She was caught by a store detective while trying to leave the store with the items in her purse.

Suspicious Incident

Deputies were called to the 800 block of Parker Road June 5 to investigate a complaint of stolen anhydrous ammonia from fertilizer tanks.

The incident occurred between 5:30 p.m. June 4 and 7 a.m. June 5.

The colorless, flammable gas can be used to make explosives and illegal drugs, such as methamphetamine.

Webster Township

Warrant Arrest

A 21-year-old Whitmore Lake man was arrested June 1 in the 300 block of Walsh Road. He was a passenger in a vehicle initially stopped for a traffic violation.

A computer check, however, indicated that the man was wanted on a warrant in Livingston County for possession of marijuana. He was arrested and taken to Livingston County Jail.

Larceny

A larceny was reported between 12:30 and 7:30 a.m. May 31 in the 9800 block of Leach Lane. A 42-year-old man told deputies that someone entered his 1997 Ford van, which was unlocked, and stole a pocketknife valued at $40.

The man said the vehicle was ransacked. Similar incidents were reported in the area at about the same time.

Larceny was reported May 31 in the 10000 block of Huron River Drive. A township man told police that someone entered his unlocked truck and stole a cordless drill valued at $50.

The incident occurred between 6 p.m. May 30 and 11 p.m. May 31.

Larceny was reported May 31 in the 7600 block of Base Lake Drive. A 58-year-old woman told deputies that someone entered her unlocked 2002 Mercury Mountaineer and stole 40 compact discs and a staple gun. The property is valued at $1,075.

The items were taken between 9 p.m. May 30 and 8:30 a.m. May 31.

Home Invasion

A 52-year-old township woman told police that someone entered her open garage in the 9800 block of Leach Lane and stole a cellular phone from her unlocked car.

The woman's 23-year-old son told deputies that he received a cell phone call at 6 a.m. and the caller ID showed the call was made from his mother's phone. He said the caller yelled profanities and hung up.

The young man said he woke up his mother and asked her where her phone was, and that's when they discovered the theft.

The family's garage was ransacked during the incident, which took place between 10 p.m. May 30 and 6:30 a.m. May 31. The phone is valued at $400.

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported between 9 p.m. May 30 and 8:30 a.m. May 31 in the 7700 block of Base Lake Drive. A 58-year-old man told police that someone broke a window in his 1995 Ford Econoline van and stole tools valued at $1,269.

Dexter Township

Property Damage

Malicious destruction of property was reported June 5 in the 6200 block of Stofer Road. A resident told deputies that a rear tire on a 1999 Buick was cut and the vehicle's ignition was damaged.

Chelsea Village

Suspicious Incident

A suspicious incident was reported June 9 in the 700 block of West Middle Street. A resident told Chelsea police that there was a scratching noise. Police suggested installing a motion-sensitive light.

Injured Animal

Someone called Chelsea police June 7 to report a sick and injured cat found in the parking lot at Big Boy restaurant, 1610 Main St. Police called Chelsea Animal Hospital, which agreed to help the feline.

Neighbor Dispute

A 29-year-old woman called Chelsea police June 7 to say she felt threatened by her neighbor on Garfield Street. The woman said her neighbor doesn't like her cats and told her that he didn't want to see them running around the neighborhood any longer.

The woman said on May 24, her neighbor's dog chased one of her cats that got out of the house and forced another up a tree. She said the suspect said next time he has to talk to her about her cats, it's "going to get nasty."

The woman said on June 7 she greeted her neighbor and he just asked her where her cats were.

Police agreed to document the incidents.

Attempted Break-in

Attempted breaking and entering was reported June 7 at Zou Zou's coffeehouse, 101 N. Main St. The owner told police that there were fresh pry marks on her door and she fears someone tried to break in. She is not sure, however, the exact date or time.

Arrest

A 39-year-old Howell man was arrested June 6 for driving with a suspended license after police stopped him on Freer Road near Dexter-Chelsea Road for speeding. A computer check showed that his driver's license was suspended May 21.

Larceny

Larceny was reported June 6 in the 600 block of Middle Court. A 40-year-old woman told police that her 11-year-old son had a friend over and the friend stole $100 while he was alone inside the home for a few minutes.

The 11-year-old suspect apparently knew the boy had been saving money for a video game system and knew where the money was hidden.

Larceny was reported June 6 in the Polly's parking lot in the Village Plaza. A 79-year-old Chelsea man told police that someone stole his briefcase from his unlocked car around 2 p.m. June 5. Police have no leads.

Family Trouble

A 21-year-old Chelsea man called police June 6 to report that his 19-year-old brother, an Ypsilanti resident, was leaving harassing telephone messages, insulting him and making rude comments about his job, home and appearance. The man also said his brother has threatened physical harm.

LOVING HOMES NEEDED
SHADOW
Zeek and Shadow are here at the shelter looking for a new owner. They came to the shelter because their previous owner couldn't keep them anymore. Then, they got adopted, and found a new home where they could be happy together. But then that owner couldn't keep them anymore, either, and now they're back here at the shelter again. Zeek is a seven-year-old shepherd mix, and his buddy Shadow is an eight-year-old lab. They go together like Butch and Sundance, like Abbott and Costello, and it would be great to find a home where they could stay together. But that's not always possible, and we're sure Zeek and Shadow will understand if someone is willing to give them a second chance, even separately.
MOBY
Moby is a whole lotta dog! He's an Alaskan Malamute with a sweet, mellow personality. He's three years old, and under all that fur is a heart of gold. He's a very big boy, and he's good with cats (and probably dogs and kids, too!) He's moderately active and walks great on a leash. And, after all those great qualities, Moby has got sweet, loving eyes and a wonderful smile. Yes, he smiles!
BABY
Baby is her at the shelter, looking for a new home. She's a real sweetie, and far prefers getting cozy in a person's arms than being left to her own devices. She's looking for a new owner that will give her lots of time on a lap or in a pair of arms, getting cozy and getting lots of affection. Could you be that owner?

Art Show

Flo and Jim Collins of Sylvan Township admire artwork at the Chelsea Painters 30th annual Art Fair Saturday and Sunday on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Concert set for Saturday

John Touchton, former music director at Webster United Church of Christ, will perform Saturday in a Chelsea Musical Celebrations concert 7 p.m. at First Congregational Church of Chelsea, 121 E. Middle St., in Chelsea.

Touchstone will perform with internationally accomplished pianist William Wellborn as part of a "two pianos, four hands" program.

The duo pianists will perform music by Chopin, Saint-Saëns, Schostakovich, Schubert and Liszt.

Wellborn has performed with the American Liszt Society, the Chopin Foundation of San Francisco, the San Antonio Symphony, the Austin Symphony, and the Sudeten Philharmonic in Walbryzch, Poland, and is on faculty at the San Francisco Conservatory.

Touchton holds advanced degrees in music performance from the University of Michigan and the College Conservatory of Music in Cincinnati. He is currently director of music at Christ Congregational Church in Silver Spring, Md.

This concert concludes Wellborn and Touchton's national tour.

Tickets are $16 for adults, $12 for seniors 60 and older, $12 for youth 18 and younger, and $50 for a family ticket. Tickets are available for advance purchase and available at the door.

Arts center opens studio

The Garage Studio at the Chelsea Center for the Development of the Arts, which opens Monday, will offer three free family programs during its first week.

The week will kick off with a free celebration from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Monday. The event will include a hot dog roast run by Ric Sauer, former president of Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce.

Artist Rick DeTroyer will hold a free youth metal art workshop 9 a.m. Wednesday. Participants, who should pre-register, must bring small, clean tin cans to create a wind chime or candle holder.

A free "Breakfast with the Arts" is set for 9 a.m. June 19 and will celebrate popular songs from the 1920s to the present day. Singers will perform vintage and contemporary tunes, while guests will enjoy doughnuts and coffee. A sing-along of favorite show tunes will follow the student performances.

A series of guest artists will join resident artist Lorin Kummer this summer as they work toward the "Pathway to Renewal" mosaic sculpture to be installed at Timber Town in August.

The Garage Studio will be open 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays through Aug. 14.

Local stained-glass artist Bill Darwin will be on hand next week. His wife, Marsi, will be at the studio the week of June 23, followed by metalwork artist Rick DeTroyer the week of June 30.

In July, artists Janice Stevens Botsford and Nancy Solo will be at the studio.

CCDA Director Ginger Sissom said residents are invited to bring small items or words of remembrance to honor people or events. They will be included in the spiral mosaic pathway.

For more information, call 433-2787 or visit the Web site at www.ccdaonline.org. The center is located at 400 Congdon St. in Chelsea.

COUNTRY CLIPPER
THE STICK WITH AN ATTITUDE!
THE STICK WITH AN ATTITUDE! Single Stick or Twin Lever Steering Available

COME TEST DRIVE A NEW COUNTRY CLIPPER & SEE FOR YOURSELF

- Country Clipper is the only mower to offer the patented Joystick control "go where you point' one-hand steering leaves your other hand free to move branches, hold refreshments, or make operating adjustments.
- Country Clipper has a revolutionary Flip-Up Deck for easy accessibility for cleaning or changing your blades and takes less than 1 minute to flip up.
- Country Clipper has big 23" tires (on 04 and Zeton models) that can handle most steep hills. Ask for a demo to use to see for yourself.
- Country Clipper has an articulating front-end and floating deck (on some models).
- Raising and lowering the mowing deck is made easier with the Deck Height Foot Assist. Change your cutting height from 1" to 4-1/2" from the comfort of your seat with a spring assisted control lever. It is also handy for quickly raising the deck when encountering an unexpected obstacle.
- Get the smooth even cut you want every time with less effort using full floating decks, available in 38" to 72" (deck widths available on different models).
- Conveniently located easy-fill 11-gallon fuel tank with oversized opening and a sight window that allows you to easily check your fuel level.
- True Zero-Turn with Country Clipper's independently operating rear wheels for a full 360 degree Zero Radius Turn.
