cutting into sales, says
co-owner Campbell

By Steve Ricci
Staff Writer

Late last month, Huron Camera closed its South Main Street store in Chelsea, and the future of the Dexter-based company's business on East Michigan Avenue in Saline is unclear.

Although the company has seen decreased print developing business with the advent of digital photography and home printing systems, Milton Campbell, one of Huron Camera's three owners, said last week that the business provides enough services to keep it afloat.

Campbell's partners in the company, which opened in Dexter in 1970, are Robert Clouse and Gerald Schmidt.

The Chelsea store opened in 1994, purchased from the owner of a photo lab who went out of business.

The company leased the Chelsea store, and owns stores in Dexter, Saline, Jackson and Battle Creek.

Campbell said the Chelsea store closed because it primarily handled film developing and didn't have enough space for retail sales.

"The Chelsea store was too small to accommodate any cameras to speak of," Campbell said. "The Dexter store is six or seven times bigger and the Jackson store is even bigger than that. The Chelsea store was more or less just a processing lab."

"We just couldn't stock very much retail to make it work."

Campbell said last week that Huron Camera would sell the building on East Michigan Avenue that houses the Saline store, and close that operation.

But he called later in the week and said the owners would not close the Saline store, which contains retail and developing space, or sell the building because the Dexter store has become too busy.

Campbell said all of the partners are considering retiring within the next few years, which played into talk of closing the Saline store.

Huron Camera has 15 employees, and only one employee staffed the Chelsea store.

Campbell said there wasn't enough business at the Chelsea store to support another employee who knew more about cameras.

It was 4 a.m. Aug. 31 and Sharon Young was awake in bed.

Haunted by TV images and reports of Hurricane Katrina, which battered the Gulf Coast Aug. 29, Young's heart swelled with empathy for the hundreds of thousands of souls whose lives were directly affected by the killer storm.

Deeply moved by their plight, Young emerged from her sleepless night with a mission: She would spend all day soliciting donations for hurricane relief efforts.

Young, accompanied by her 87-year-old mother, Zelma White, and her Pomeranian dog, Ginger, pounded the pavement in downtown Dexter Aug. 31, collecting a total of $1,600 in a one-day effort.

She received donations from 27

Dexter businesses, as well as $470 from several individuals in the village.

A large impetus for Young's altruism comes from her own battle with kidney failure, which taught her the extents to which people rely on each other for help in times of crisis.

Young, 58, a former Washtenaw County Circuit Court mediation clerk, enjoyed good health until a sinus infection destroyed both of her kidneys when she was 40.

She was on dialysis for seven years

Petition drive aims to save Washtenaw County road patrols

Scio Township Trustee Chuck Ream is spearheading an effort to bring a controversial county plan to eliminate subsidies for sheriff's patrols to a public vote.

Ream is a spokesman for the Citizens to Save Our Sheriff's Department, or S.O.S. Committee, which is attempting to gather 15,000 signatures by Sept. 25, the deadline for the committee to turn in a petition to put the issue on a ballot.

The S.O.S. Committee also comprises residents and township officials from across the county, and has the backing of some officials in the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Office.

The Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners was expected to approve a plan yesterday to eliminate subsidies funding sheriff's patrols to local municipalities contracting for services by 2008.

Under the plan, money saved by elimination of the subsidies would be earmarked to build a new county jail and court.

County officials devised the plan after voters overwhelmingly defeated a $314 million proposal last February to fund a new jail and courthouse.

The decision expected yesterday to approve the plan could be nullified by voters, however, if the S.O.S. Committee can gather the signatures on time.

The county published Aug. 11 its plan to issue capital improvement bonds to fund the construction projects.

Bond initiatives can be put through public referendum if at least 15,000 registered voters sign the petition within 45 days of the publication, Derrick Jackson, director of elections at the Washtenaw County Clerk's Office, said Tuesday.

"Only certain issues in state statutes can go to referendums, and bonding is one

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Help available in the county for domestic abuse victims

Despite grant cut, The Domestic Violence Project will continue

By Marsha Johnson Chartrand
Heritage Newspapers

When Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputy Cindy Flint gets called on a report of a domestic assault, she tries to be prepared for anything.

"That's pretty much any run I make," she said. "You usually can't tell what you're up against — drugs, alcohol, or guns — until you get there. 'I don't try to sort it out,' she said. 'If there is an injury, there will be an arrest. And it's up to the prosecutor to determine who's at fault, depending on the evidence presented.'"

In her 14 years with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Flint says she has seen it all.

"The laws have definitely gotten stricter over the years," she said. "But they certainly haven't gone too far. Laws can always get better — what matters most is the safety of the victims."

That is the philosophy of Washtenaw County Prosecutor Brian Mackie, as well. "If (charges) are brought in, it will be reviewed that day," said Sandy Strong, domestic violence grant coordinator for Washtenaw County. "It gets top priority, even if it is at the end of our day. Mackie looks at this as homicide prevention."

Even as local authorities place a high priority on dealing with domestic violence cases, the age-old story of "not enough money" is also part of the story for Washtenaw County's domestic violence unit.

The Domestic Violence

Project was established in 1999 by an $8 million, five-year federal grant and time is running out. Strong's position is about to be eliminated and the four prosecuting attorneys focusing exclusively on domestic violence cases have been reduced to one.

But Strong says the news isn't all bad.

"I don't think this will affect our ability to prosecute domestic violence cases in the future," she said. "Almost all of our attorneys in the office were assigned to the DV (Domestic Violence) unit at one time or another. So they've had that training; they've dealt with those dockets."

"The only place I can see (the elimination of the grant) being a problem is that we may have larger case loads. In that case, you don't always get to do as thorough a job as you want to do."

Strong also says that the increased awareness and decreased tolerance of domestic violence throughout the community has been a benefit of having the program visible throughout the county over the past five years. The prosecutor's office and the courts have each received smaller grants to help continue the program.

"We have the protocol in place," Strong said. "All of the courts started DV dockets. They have one day a week they see nothing but DV charges. Even though we've lost funding, there are many systemic changes — new protocols that make the batterer accountable for his or her behavior."

"We have to keep pushing for it. I see a lot of changes; we have to hope that stays."

During Strong's tenure, she has seen an increase in

— THE FACTS —

General Statistics

• It's estimated that one in three women and one in six men will be sexually assaulted in her/his lifetime (Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape).

• It's estimated that 77 percent of all rapes are committed by someone known to the victim. Seven in 10 rape and sexual assault victims know their attacker prior to the assault (Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape).

• Violence against women is primarily partner violence: 76 percent of the women who were raped and/or physically assaulted since age 18 were assaulted by a current or former husband, co-habiting partner, or date (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

• In one study, 45.9 percent of the battered women who reported abuse also reported being forced into sex by their intimate partners (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

• In a study of 162 gay men and 111 lesbians, 53 percent reported at least one incident of sexual coercion by same-sex partners. Lesbians experienced 1.2 incidents per person, while gay men experienced 1.8 incidents per person (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

Adolescent and Teen Statistics

• Adolescent girls are at a greater risk for sexual assault than any other age group (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

• Approximately one in five female high school students reports being physically or sexually abused by a dating partner (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

• One in four girls and one in six boys will be sexually assaulted by age 18 (Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape).

• More than six out of 10 of all rape cases, or 61 percent, occurred before the victim reached the age of 18 (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

• In one study, more than 50 percent of high school boys and 42 percent of high school girls believe that there are times when it is "acceptable for a male to hold a female down and physically force her to engage in intercourse" (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

College

• In one study of college women, more than 70 percent of rape or sexual assault victims knew their attackers, compared to about half of all violent crime victims (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

• The National Violence Against Women Survey found that of the women who reported being raped at some time in their lives, 32.4 percent were 12 to 17 years old and 29 percent were 18 to 24 years old when they were first raped (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

• A total 13.3 percent of college women indicated that they had been forced to have sex in a dating situation (Michigan Coalition

Against Domestic and Sexual Violence

• Almost half (48.8 percent) of college-age women who were victims of attacks that met the study's definition of rape did not consider what happened to them a sexual assault (Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence).

Since the closing, Campbell said the Dexter store has picked up about 50 percent of the clientele who patronized the Chelsea location.

Campbell said Huron Camera customers are still relying on professional film developing, despite technological advances, and that the stores' retail operations are robust.

Nevertheless, Campbell said newer technologies have resulted in 25 to 30 percent less film processing at Huron Camera over the last three years.

Huron Camera stores develop digital pictures with the same silver halide process that is used with traditional film.

Pictures printed on home inkjet printers last between 15 and 20 years, while silver halide film can last up to 100 years, Campbell said.

Campbell said 80 percent of digital pictures are never printed, and that most are stored on hard drives, which can crash, or on aluminum-plated compact disks, which have lifespans of less than 10 years.

"That's the bad thing about the whole digital revolution," Campbell said.

Huron Camera sells gold-plated compact disks with 300-year lifespans, Campbell said.

He said the business does a better job developing film than big-box stores because Huron Camera analyzes each picture individually before printing.

The Dexter store sells a wide variety of film, film cameras, digital cameras and photo accessories, and also repairs cameras.

Sixty to 70 percent of the cameras sold in the Dexter store are digital, Campbell said, adding that last year Huron Camera's five stores sold about 1,000 cameras combined.

Campbell said camera sales at the company are down about 20 percent because people are increasingly buying cameras on the Internet, adding that many of those cameras are "gray market" products, meaning they are refurbished products.

Campbell said some retailers sell "gray market" cameras, offering in-store warranties because manufacturers will not cover used cameras.

He said film cameras are still popular with purists because their pictures offer more "depth" and "life" than digital images.

Digital cameras are more useful for rapid distribution of photos and for amateur photographers who can see images immediately, he said.

Campbell added that digital photo taking is easily manipulated, rendering it more of an art form than true photography.

As for Huron Camera's future, Campbell said the owners would either sell the business to someone or, if good managers run the locations, they could keep the business indefinitely.

Campbell said the Dexter store draws customers from as far away as Howell, Fowlerville and Brighton.

"New owners" would be crazy if they didn't do what we're doing. This is still a good business," he said.

and received two separate kidney transplants.

Young, whose health is good once more, said her illness helped put things in perspective.

"There are so many people that think 'Hurricane Katrina' doesn't involve me, but that's wrong because I hope nothing serious ever happens to them," she said.

"When I (collected donations), what really shocked me was everyone thanked me for doing this. They said they wanted to do something, but they didn't know what they could do to help."

Young is just one of many area residents who are stepping up to help. As of last week, 400 Washtenaw County residents had signed up to participate in American Red Cross relief efforts in six states, said Pamela Reading-Smith, director of public support for the American Red Cross Washtenaw County chapter.

The local chapter is recruiting more volunteers. Volunteers, who must be 18 or older, receive 10 hours of training, must be in excellent health, have a valid driver's license and be willing to work in hardship zones.

Immediate relief efforts by the Red Cross will focus on providing food, shelter and clothing to displaced residents in the disaster zones.

Anyone interested in volunteering or donating money can contact the local Red Cross chapter at 971-5300 or get more information on the Web at www.wc-redcross.org.

Checks may be sent to the American Red Cross Washtenaw County chapter at 4624 Packard Road, Ann Arbor, MI 48108.

Reading-Smith said some employers have released workers to assist the Red Cross, while continuing to pay their salaries.

"People shouldn't be discouraged because they're working," she said.

Early projections indicate the Hurricane Katrina disaster will cost the American Red Cross about $130 million, equal to the amount incurred for the last 10 United States hurricanes, Reading-Smith said.

The Hurricane Katrina mobilization is the largest for a single natural disaster in the organization's 125-year history, she said.

Ten percent of all business proceeds Sept. 15 at Dexter's Pub will be donated to the Red Cross. Peter Theodorakis, co-owner of Dexter's Pub and Chelsea Grille, said he expects a similar fund-raiser will take place next month at Chelsea Grille.

The Journal Register Co., the parent company of The Chelsea Standard and The Dexter Leader, will match 50 percent of employee contributions up to $20,000 for the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund.

Maj. Barbara Carroll, director of the Salvation

Army of Washtenaw County, said last week that the Salvation Army is only asking for monetary donations right now. Donated items for hurricane relief will be accepted later, she said.

Money is needed now to fund the Salvation Army's feeding efforts, Carroll said. Two mobile units, each capable of serving up to 5,000 meals per day, are deployed in the disaster zones.

Carroll said items such as clothes, books and children's toys could be donated once warehouses are established in the disaster areas. Donated money will be used to buy some supplies to save shipping costs, she said.

Local residents may donate money to The Salvation Army by calling 1-248-443-5500 or sending checks to The Salvation Army, 16130 Northland Drive, Southfield, MI 48075.

Nancy Paul, director of Faith In Action in Chelsea, said last week that planning is in the works for a yard sale in Chelsea to benefit hurricane victims.

Both Chelsea High School Principal Ron Mead and Dexter High School Interim Principal James Bannan said students likely will organize fund-raisers.

Increased gas prices stemming from the hurricane are affecting local municipalities, although officials last week said they have planned ahead for higher fuel costs.

Chelsea Director of Administrative Services Barb Fredette said Chelsea's cost for gasoline has increased by 30 percent.

Amendments to the budget could be made if gas prices necessitate it, Fredette said.

PETITION

of those issues," Jackson said.

The Sept. 25 deadline provides the S.O.S. Committee the 45-day period.

If the committee gathers the signatures, county voters would not see the referendum on the Nov. 8 ballot.

A 60-day period is required to verify signatures, Jackson said, meaning the earliest the referendum could go before voters would be Feb. 28.

The 45-day window to collect signatures gives the committee a tall task, but Ream said last week that it would meet the challenge.

"We will gather the signatures to get the bonding to a vote, and we will defeat it," Ream said. "We could (get all the signatures) in one day."

Ream is no stranger to petition drives.

He successfully led a petition drive to decriminalize medical marijuana in Ann Arbor, putting the issue on last November's ballot.

This time, four township supervisors and Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputy Harry Valentine, the president of the county deputies' union, are on board to collect signatures.

At a Sept. 2 press conference at Scio Township Hall, Ream said county officials are ignoring the will of the people.

"Voters resoundingly said no to the huge jail proposal last February, but the Board of Commissioners repeatedly demonstrates that there is some part of the world 'no' they don't understand," Ream said in a prepared statement. "They now plan to float $30 million in bonds to be repaid over a 20-year period."

Ream said voters who denied last February's millage proposal were not voting to lose sheriff's patrols.

"Every township, village and city in Washtenaw County depends on these core services," Ream said, adding that the committee would need to raise about $20,000 to accomplish its task; most of it spent trying to obtain signatures.

Mike Radzik, a retired sheriff's deputy and a member of the S.O.S. Committee, said a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department presence is needed because it provides essential services, such as Special Weapons and Tactics teams, a detective bureau, and underwater search and recovery teams.

Pittsfield Township Supervisor James Walter said the township has lost more than $1 million in revenue sharing during the last few years, and that it could not afford to hire more officers.

"It is my hope (the petition drive) will get the attention of (county officials), and that they will come up with a reasonable way to finance the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department," Walter said.

Augusta Township Supervisor Kathleen Jackson said the county is not giving municipalities enough time to adjust to the cuts.

"This police contract is like a tenant signing a lease and then finding out five months later what the rent is," Jackson said.

Valentine pledged his support for the committee at the meeting.

"I'm going to push this issue," he said. "County officials want to throw your family and my family to the wolves to get their buildings built."

"I will pledge my 220 people to see that (the petition drive) is successful."

LOVING HOMES NEEDED

MITZI If you are looking for a companion that would love to go on nice long walks, then cuddle on the couch with you I am the one. I am already crate trained, good with other dogs and ok with cats. I am being foster right now, but I would love to find my forever home. Please contact my foster mom with any questions you might have at 734-426-5237.

PEARL is a beautiful Maine coon mix with gorgeous black fur. She's a large friendly girl who came to the shelter as a stray. Her beautiful coat was a mess and needed some serious trimming. Pearl doesn't care for other cats. She's about 2 years old and will need some patient, consistent care to keep her coat in great shape. She's worth it!

REGGIE is a treasure. He is 7 months old and weighs 58 pounds. Reggie is very calm and friendly. He walks easily on a leash and socializes with other dogs very easily. Reggie would really enjoy being a part of a family with children over the age of 5. He was brought to our shelter by his previous owner who did not have any time to spend with Reggie. He has a heart of pure gold. Stop over, take him for a leisurely stroll and see how beautifully he bonds with you.

IF YOU'RE INTERESTED IN ADOPTING A PET, PLEASE CONTACT THE SHELTER AT 662-3585 OR COME VISIT US AT 3100 CHERRY HILL, ANN ARBOR.

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Junior League names new board members

The Junior League of Ann Arbor recently named its 2005-2006 board of directors, which includes a Dexter resident.

The board will guide the nonprofit organization of more than 300 women to help them enhance the outreach, training and advocacy programs to benefit women and children in the community.

The programs include "Hands Are Not for Hitting," which has been designed to prevent abuse and violence by teaching children the skills to peacefully settle disputes; the Perry Nursery School music program; Ronald McDonald House; and the Alpha House Playground Initiative in Scio Township.

Jennifer Pinto of Ann Arbor was elected president. She has been on the board since 2003 as the membership services vice president and president-elect. She has served on the State Public Affairs Board as secretary and is a recent graduate of Leadership Ann Arbor.

The key focus areas during her tenure as president will be the selection of a new community project, enhancement of the Junior League training program and the launch of the redesigned Web site, www.jlaa.org.

Kim Scartelli of Canton was named president-elect. She will work closely with the president to help her prepare for the position in 2006-2007. This includes developing a training program for new members and active members and developing strategic goals for the year.

Margaret Talburt of Ann Arbor was named advisor to the board of directors. She is a 20-year league member, and has an extensive philanthropic history in Ann Arbor, which includes her role as executive director of The James A. and Faith Knight Foundation since 2004.

Between 1996-2003, she was the president/CEO of the Michigan Women's Foundation. She co-founded and was a partner at Formative Evaluation Research Associates, where she directed many projects related to philanthropy, education innovations, gender and program evaluation.

Diana Crossley of Ann Arbor was named vice president of communications. She will oversee internal and external marketing and public relations efforts for the Junior League of Ann Arbor, including the updated Web site, the Arbor Accents bimonthly magazine, the membership directory and various advertisements.

Crossley serves as managing director of the Tauber Manufacturing Institute at the University of Michigan.

Heidi Nelson of Dexter was elected vice president of community services. She has been an active member of the Junior League for the last four years.

As vice president of community services, she will work with committee chairs to develop and implement their community projects. These include the educational outreach "Hands are Not for Hitting" program, Community Research Project Development and the Junior League's partnership with Perry Nursery School.

Nelson also educates the league's membership on the impact it has on the community.

She has volunteered with the Alpha House fundraiser Gimme Shelter campaign and the Saline Crop Walk for Hunger (2001-2004).

The Junior League of Ann Arbor is an organization of women committed to promoting volunteerism, developing the potential of women and improving community through leadership of trained volunteers.

domestic violence cases in Washtenaw County, but she attributes it to more public awareness of the problem.

"More people are feeling comfortable calling the police on these issues," she said. "It used to be that neighbors, or bystanders, would turn the other way when they saw or heard something happen. Now, they will take action to help protect a victim."

One of the toughest battles that any player in a domestic violence case may fight is the strange dynamics of violent relationships.

Part of the established protocol is that police agencies will call SafeHouse Center, a free, confidential, nonprofit county organization that helps any victimized person who lives or works in Washtenaw County. Programs for victims include counseling, court accompaniment, information and referrals, emergency shelter and personal advocacy.

A victim advocate also will attempt to contact the victim following an assault.

"Some people we hear back from; others don't want anything to do with it," Strong said. "Some just wanted to be safe for that particular moment... once the cops have left they will say it wasn't that bad. They just wanted him out of the way at that time... nothing happened."

Flint agrees. "You get an arraignment and you get to court and the woman denies anything happened — or she says they're back in love and everything is going to be all right," Flint said.

"Maybe they have a family they want to keep together. It's hard to say — do we win or do we lose?"

"It can be hard to understand, as educated as you get," Strong said. "You work with this every day and you wonder why (the victims) stay."

"Some things you hear, you can't believe it. It's not just poor people, it's doctors or attorneys... and it's not only physical but mental abuse."

Strong knows that domestic violence crosses every invisible line there is — socioeconomic, gender, racial, religious and more.

Another invisible barrier is the stigma of domestic violence.

"Some people actually believe that one parent is making it up to hurt the other person," said Veronica White, a family law attorney who has helped clients in many domestic violence cases. "It's embarrassing to feel like you're going to be ridiculed if you report an assault."

Strong said that the prosecutor's office makes victim safety its No. 1 priority, demanding accountability from the perpetrator is a very close second.

"We need to keep striving at that," she said. "We just hope as new people come in, they will be trained in the proper way of responding to these types of cases."

Flint says there is "never a win" in domestic violence situations.

"If you're getting assaulted, it's better if you go to court and win your case," she said. "It provides some closure."

"But the fact is, it still occurred — it will still be there for the rest of your life."

Help is available. Call the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-SAFE or 1-800-787-3224 TTD.

Dexter Village Breaking and Entering

Classic Pizza, 8015 Huron St., was broken into between 11 p.m. Aug. 30 and 10:30 a.m. Aug. 31. The owner reported to police that after arriving at work Aug. 31, an employee observed a damaged bi-fold door and a chair out of place.

A safe containing $2,179 was stolen from the manager's office. The suspects entered using keys to the building, but also may have used an unlocked window.

Police have a suspect, and four fingerprints were found at the scene.

Disorderly Person

A woman was arrested 1 a.m. Aug. 20 outside the Clark gas station, 8135 Main St., for disorderly intoxication. A clerk at the gas station said the woman almost fell into a display rack inside the store.

Police noticed that the woman had a strong smell of intoxicants, slurred speech, trouble walking and disarranged clothes. The woman did not know where she was, according to a police report.

The woman took a Breathalyzer test at the scene and registered a 0.28 percent blood-alcohol level. A level of 0.08 percent or higher is considered legally drunk under state law.

Breaking and Entering

Someone attempted to steal money from the coin control boxes between 6 p.m. Aug. 10 and 7:30 a.m. Aug. 11 at the Self Serve Car Wash, 7944 Second St. The suspect had tried to pry dead bolts off the door of the office storage area between the wash bays.

The suspect may have had a key to the control boxes because they were not forcefully opened, according to a police report. No entry was gained into the office area and no money was stolen from the coin boxes.

Police have no suspects. The case is considered inactive.

Property Damage

Someone damaged a display window between 11 p.m. Aug. 27 and 8 a.m. Aug. 29 at the Dexter Mill, 3515 Central St. Police could not locate the object that may have been thrown at the window, cracking it and creating a spider web effect.

Damage is estimated between $600 and $700. Police have no suspects. The case is considered inactive by police.

Someone damaged a four-door Ford Explorer between midnight and 7:30 a.m. Aug. 27 in the 7000 block of Second Street. The homeowner had parked her vehicle in the driveway and noticed the rear hatch window had been smashed with an unknown object.

Damage is estimated at $1,000. The case is considered inactive.

Someone damaged a car with a blunt object between midnight and 7 a.m. Aug. 27 while it was parked on the east side of Hudson Street, just south of Ann Arbor Street. The owner of the vehicle said he did not notice the damage until a mail carrier knocked on his door that morning to inform him of the damage.

Damage is estimated at $500. The driver-side front window was smashed out.

Police have no suspects or witnesses. The case is considered inactive.

A Chevrolet Corsica was damaged between 7 p.m. Aug. 24 and 8:30 a.m. Aug. 25 while parked in the 8000 block of Forest Street. The driver's-side window was broken by an unknown object. Police have no suspects. The case is considered inactive.

A Dumpster fire was reported at about 7:30 p.m. Aug. 17 in the Walkabout Creek apartments, located at 2280 Melbourne Drive. Witnesses reported that several juveniles were playing with a lighter near the Dumpster when it ignited. The interior of the container was burned along with the plastic door covers.

The juveniles were questioned and pictures were taken at the scene. The status of the case is open.

Dexter Township Internet Child Pedophile

Police investigated a report of Internet child solicitation Aug. 29 in the 6000 block of Meadow Creek Drive. A child living there reported that she had been in contact online and by telephone with a suspect, who is from New York.

The child's father reported to police that his daughter had plans to meet the suspect at Briarwood Mall. The incident has been reported to the Oakland County Computer Forensics Lab for further investigation.

The officers plan to pose as children and start a conversation with the suspect, according to a police report.

Webster Township Stalking and Death Threats

A man was arrested Aug. 30 in the 7000 block of Walsh Road for leaving death threats on a Webster Township man's cell phone, drug possession and probation violations.

The man is suspected of leaving death threats on the victim's cell phone and was being arrested when a hallucinogenic mushroom stem was found in his car. Police also noted he was on probation from the 22nd District Court in Washtenaw County for charges of assault, resisting arrest, and obstructing and disobeying a police signal.

Special conditions of the probation noted that the suspect was not to engage in criminal acts, abusive or threatening behavior or possess controlled substances without a doctor's prescription, according to a police report.

Larceny and Fraud

A suspect was questioned Aug. 23 for stealing a credit card between November 2004 and March 2005 from a home in the 8000 block of Huron River Drive.

The suspect is accused of stealing and then using the homeowner's credit card

Free ride available to annual Heart Walk

The University of Michigan will provide free bus transportation from campus to the American Heart Association's Heart Walk, which is set for Sept. 24 at Washtenaw Community College.

Registration starts at 8 a.m. and the program begins at 9 a.m.

Area residents are encouraged to park on campus and utilize the free service.

Shuttle buses will leave the Crisler Arena parking lot at 7:45 a.m., 8:05 a.m. and 8:20 a.m.

The 8:05 a.m. bus will provide service for those participants who are attending the walk with their dogs.

The buses will depart Washtenaw Community College for the U of M campus at 10:10 a.m., 10:35 a.m. and 10:50 a.m.

The 2005 Washtenaw County Heart Walk is a non-competitive walking event that raises money to fight heart disease and stroke. Dollars raised provide funds for cardiovascular research and community education programs for adults and children in the Washtenaw County area.

Area residents are invited to participate in the walk with their families and pets. Children's activities, health screenings, CPR and AED demonstrations, music and other entertainment will round out the day.

Funds are raised from walkers who collect donations from family, friends and colleagues. To walk, donate or volunteer, call the American Heart Association at 1-800-968-1793 or go to the Web site walk.americanheart.org.

Schwarz a Republican everyone can respect

There were no babies to kiss, no hands to shake, no bumper stickers to pass out. It was just the Chelsea fair parade — or what my kids lovingly call the "candy parade" — and all U.S. Rep. Joe Schwarz, R-7th District, had to do was stroll down the street, make sure he didn't get any Tootsie Roll on his shoes, and smile and wave.

He looked like he had gotten out of bed too early: like he knew he was in a parade but not which town, like his mind was on vacation. The smile was there, the wave was there, the head turn from one curb to the other was there. But Joe was out cutting grass on the back 40 with Brett Favre.

That's when I stood up. Never passing up an opportunity to embarrass my family, I rose from my lawn chair and called out to Mr. Schwarz: "Are you going to protect our Alaskan refuge?" Politely, of course.

I stopped him in his tracks. Suddenly the grass was cut, the mower put away, and Joe was back in the office. He became Representative Schwarz.

Schwarz is a Republican, but an anomaly, not cut from the current "neo-con" cloth of big-corporation-loving, take-over-all-branches-of-government-at-any-cost, forget-any-American-not-making-more-than-$200,000-a-year congressional right-winger.

He's a moderate. He's against abortion, but supports women's rights. He accepts that some tax increases are fair and necessary. As a surgeon, he supports accessibility to health care and some embryonic stem cell research.

The Arctic National Wildlife Refuge is a vast stretch of pristine wilderness, a living reminder that conserving nature is a core American value. Sadly, oil taken from the refuge would take ten years to get to market and would never equal more than 2 percent of our daily consumption. Sacrificing this jewel would do nothing to reduce gas prices or reduce our dependence on Middle East oil.

There's a greater reason Republicans want to unlock the arctic refuge. They know it would open the door for their Big Energy friends to invade our other wild places — the western canyon lands, ancient forests, coastal waters and national monuments.

"It's about precedent," Republican Congressional leader Tom DeLay admitted when he said this battle is really a fight over whether energy exploration will be allowed in similarly sensitive areas in the future.

Standing in the middle of the street, a gang of scooter-riding Shriners bearing down on him, Schwarz put a hand to his ear. "Are you going to protect our Alaskan Wildlife Refuge?" I called out louder.

He looked me straight in the eye and said, "I will never vote for drilling in the Alaskan National Wildlife Refuge. Never."

He was dead serious.

I gave him a wide smile and a thumbs up, and he strolled on, more resolutely now, symbolically treading just right of the center of the street.

Now there's a Republican even I can like. Roy Schmidt lives in Chelsea. He can be reached at genboxx@yahoo.com. Readers may contribute to Other Voices by contacting Editor Michelle Rogers at mrogers@heritage.com.

Governor Granholm has been accessible

When you are wrong, admit it. This column started out as a critical look at the accessibility of Gov. Jennifer Granholm to the Capitol press corps.

The media makes very few demands on the folks we cover. A good tip here and there, and every now and then, a spiffy quote or two usually keeps us at bay.

However, we do have a bias when it comes to gaining access to the politicians we cover, and any governor is always at the top of the "must-see" list.

When that accessibility is being manipulated, instincts kick in:

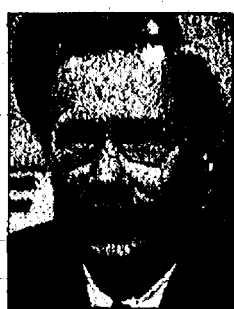

What does the person have to hide?

Are they deliberately brushing off the media to avoid the reporting of flip-flops, foot-in-mouth disease and other embarrassing miscues?

And this governor has had some of those.

For example, during the entire month of August, Granholm had been seen in town only twice: on Aug. 2, when she wanted to see the press corps to gloat about bringing jobs to Michigan from Japan, and the other time, at a brief question-and-answer session after a local media event about 26 days later.

It's true that Granholm has been all over other parts of the state from Grand Rapids to Escanaba. But, frankly, she doesn't get a lot of hardball questions in those markets.

TIM SKUBICK

Was she becoming less accessible to the Lansing press corps?

An informal survey of eight senior members of the Capitol press corps suggested there was less contact with the governor than in the past. Only one saw no change at all. That person is perceived by the administration as a frequent critic.

It's always good form to let somebody know that some critical stuff is coming down the pipe. I contacted the Granholm press office, and the notion that the governor was playing hide-and-seek with political writers.

If you believe the numbers supplied by the front office — and there is no evidence to suggest the contrary — Granholm has made herself available despite the popular wisdom that she was not.

During her first year in office, she held eight formal news conferences. In 2004 there were 19, and so far with half this year gone, she has staged 16.

Those numbers do not include any one-on-one meetings she has held with various news bureaus or any number of friendly "ambush" interviews as she dashes from one meeting to another.

It's true that correspondents are never satisfied on the access scale. Give us five and we want 10. However, one encounter every other week in 2005 is acceptable, and

STREET TALK

By Steve Ricci

With gas prices rising above $3 per gallon, do you think car manufacturers should make more fuel-efficient vehicles, and do you plan on buying a more fuel-efficient vehicle?

"Yeah, why not? Especially with those big cars they want to sell. They should have been making cars with better fuel efficiency a long time ago. They're way behind on that. My husband and I are both 81, and we bought new cars years ago. With prescription drugs, and the price of gas, we won't be able to buy anything like that anymore."

Edna Bridges
Dexter

"I think (automakers) offer a variety of them; it's just that people like sport utility vehicles. I think they could work on hybrids more, and make them more efficient. I'm happy with what I have now for a car."

Mary Helen Davis
Manchester

"They're doing a lousy job. They don't make enough money on (fuel-efficient cars). If gas gets up to $5 a gallon, I think they might change. As for a new car, I'm 86 years old. Does that answer your question? I'm hoping the car I have right now will last me for the rest of my life."

Jack Lane
Chelsea

"I think they're trying. You've got the hybrids coming out. I think they could try harder. For the prices we pay for vehicles, it would be nice to afford the gas we put in them. I'm happy with the car I drive. It gets 28 miles per gallon. We plan to keep our four-wheel drive, because we camp with it."

Common courtesies needed at gas pump

Everyone is rushing to find the cheapest gasoline right now. As a result, long lines grace the pumps every day. Lines are made twice as long when driving a vehicle with a passenger-side gas tank.

On Aug. 31, my patience had ended. A woman pumped her gas in front of me, while another driver pulled up behind her. I was obviously waiting, so as I shifted into drive, I was shocked to see the driver pull forward.

I took a breath and pulled up as far as I could without hitting the car to ensure I was next. Then, behind this pump-stealer, an SUV appeared. The woman who had stolen my spot had started her engine, motioning for me to reverse.

But there was no way I would do so. So, she bumped my car. I looked her in the eye, glared and backed up. She sped away and the GMC driver pulled up into what should have been my spot.

That did it. I laid on my horn. Ignoring me, the driver did the unspeakable and started pumping gas.

Violence at gas pumps has been rising. Articles have been written about incidents in Florida, Iowa, Oklahoma and Alabama. People are frustrated.

Area residents need to be aware that while waiting at the gas pumps, people are ruthless. Courtesy is thrown out the window.

As gas prices increase, I wonder how many acts of violence will erupt throughout our country.

Respect everyone on our roadways

I am part of a local, female motorcycle group that rides with our spouses and we also took a motorcycle safety education course to receive our own motorcycle endorsements.

We have seen our share of close calls resulting from the absent-mindedness of vehicle drivers. Even while riding in or driving cars, we are bombarded by daydreamers, book readers, makeup artists, cellphone jockeys, meal eaters and traffic-light and stop-sign runners.

Not only do we have to concentrate on what we are doing, we have to predict what you will do in your cars as we approach, and that makes us worry even more about our safety.

Not a day goes by as we climb aboard our gas-saving motorcycles that we don't say a prayer for our lives, safety and the safety of fellow riders on the road. We are not out there to anger you, and we don't expect to be angered by you. There are disgruntled drivers everywhere these days.

Please, drivers, be very aware of bikers out there. We are your friends, families, wives, children and husbands, with more out there in growing numbers, just trying to enjoy our freedom to ride motorcycles. We deserve the right to your full attention on the roads. Nothing is more important than to drive very carefully every day, whether or not there is a motorcycle in your presence.

Education trust opens enrollment

The Michigan Education Trust is now offering a year-around enrollment period, marking the beginning of College Savings Month.

Parents, family members and others can now purchase Michigan Education Trust contracts to cover future tuition costs at today's prices.

The trust and the Michigan Education Savings Program will host several College Savings Month activities around the state, culminating with a ceremony on the Capitol steps Sept. 29.

"Today is always the best time to think about saving for college," State Treasurer Jay Rising, who chairs the Michigan Education Trust Board of Directors, said in a press release. "Given the many options available to MET purchasers and the popularity of MESP, these programs will continue to play an important role in keeping higher education affordable for Michigan families."

In the new, 12-month enrollment period, Michigan Education Trust, the nation's first guaranteed tuition program, will continue to offer a graduated pricing structure, with contract prices dependent upon the age or grade of the intended beneficiary, as well as the option of purchasing contracts by semester.

The state's college savings program has consistently been rated among the nation's best, with more than 143,000 accounts and assets of more than $1.04 billion. Money Magazine in August 2005 rated it one of five recommended college savings programs in the country.

"MET and MESP offer different ways to save for college but also work well together to ensure thousands of Michigan children will live the dream of attending college," Rising said. "Both programs also offer important state income tax deductions, as well as tax-free growth, when used for qualified higher education expenses."

As part of College Savings Month, Michigan Education Trust will conduct a laptop computer giveaway. Students 18 and older, and parents of minor children, can enter the contest by attending one of the College Savings Month activities or by downloading an entry form from the Michigan Education Trust Web site at www.met4kid.com. The winner will be announced Sept. 29.

and back off when you are behind us. Think three times before pulling out in front of us; we don't have four wheels to lock up. We cannot swerve out of your way without probably laying our bike down or heading for the nearest yard, tree or another vehicle.

You can't know whether a biker has several years of experience or only a few months, so treat us all as beginners and give us plenty of space.

Whether we drive a car or a bike, we all put our lives into our own hands, as well as the hands of other drivers every day.

How can we help law enforcement crack down on these inattentive and sometimes dangerous drivers for all of our safety?

I believe awareness and preventive driving is our best solution.

Put yourself in our position. Please be very aware out there on the roads, and give us plenty of space.

at various businesses in Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

The suspect told police that while he was living with the victim he always received permission to use the credit card.

Larceny

A woman reported that her husband's Visa credit card and notification letter had been taken from their mailbox between Aug. 22 and 24 in the 5000 block of Merkel Road.

The woman canceled the card through the bank, and the bank did not report any activity on the card.

Police have no suspects and the case is considered inactive.

Domestic Assault

Police were called shortly after midnight Aug. 25 for a report of domestic assault. A woman at the residence reported that she had argued with her husband earlier that evening when he accidentally scratched her on the neck and arm.

According to a police report, he was threatening suicide, so she decided to call the police.

The suspect was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor to undergo a psychiatric evaluation.

The woman did not want to press charges against her husband.

Kick Off

The Chelsea United Way, an independent nonprofit fund-raising organization, will kick off its 2005-2006 campaign tomorrow at half-time of the Chelsea Bulldogs' game against Tecumseh. Board members will throw soft footballs and teddy bears with the Chelsea United Way logo into the crowd to stir interest in the campaign. The organization, created to generate and allocate financial resources to help local individuals and families build better lives, has set a goal of $132,000. The campaign will run through Dec. 31. Board members pictured are, in front, Doug Worthington (left), Julie Ballow, Mary Underwood, Ed Hostetter and Thuy Bui; back row, Dave Hermann (left), Wanda Killips, Cyril White, Robert Stephens, Doug Beaumont and George Olsen.

certainly well above the bar set by a certain occupant at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. in the nation's capital.

But as any governor moves into a re-election mode, there is always a temptation for handlers to keep their candidate in a bubble, out of reach of note pads and microphones. Let's hope that is not the case with this governor, who understands the role of the media, asking those tough accountability questions.

But we also have another responsibility, which is to admit when we are wrong. And the premise of what was going to be the original column this week was just that.

Helping others

Volunteer coming to victims' aid

By Emily Burton
Heritage Newspapers

Jerry Kehoe is a man on a mission, a mission to aid those people affected by Hurricane Katrina.

Kehoe is the former disaster teams coordinator for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, which is the second largest in the country, after New York.

Kehoe had to resign late last year from that position because of heart problems. He still acts as a volunteer, but not in a leadership role.

But even these health difficulties can't stop him from helping others.

Kehoe departed last Thursday for Montgomery, Ala.

"I've been a volunteer for 11 years and when you see people in need you want to do what you can to help, and they need help down there," he said before he left.

Kehoe has plenty of experience working in disaster-stricken areas. He has helped with numerous fires in the metropolitan Detroit area; helped tornado victims; comforted families whose loved ones had been swept away by flood waters in West Virginia; and vividly remembers the three weeks he spent in New York bringing comfort to families whose loved ones were lost in the attacks against the United States on Sept. 11, 2001.

"I'll probably be assigned to a shelter, but won't know for sure until I get there," he said.

Working in a shelter is stressful, he said. In those situations, volunteers perform what Kehoe called, "mass care."

"Normally, volunteers help with everything from registration (and more), they do feedings down there and they'll have a nurse assigned to the shelter to help with any physical or mental medical needs," he said. "I could be doing anything, from passing out food to escorting people to cots and beds; it just depends on where they want to put me."

Kehoe began as a Red Cross volunteer after health problems forced him to retire from Ford Motor Co. in River Rouge in 1994.

As stressful as it is to be a shelter volunteer, Kehoe said it is even more stressful to call a shelter home.

"When you lose all your personal belongings, your mementos, it leaves people in shock," he said. "With Andrew and other operations, the insurance companies weren't the quickest in getting in there."

"It takes time to get the debris cleaned up so they can get in there, and with the floodwaters being so high, in some areas they can't even get to those homes, it's going to be a long process."

"The Federal Emergency Management Agency will come in and do what they can, but with something this large, it's going to take a long time to get those people situated and unfortunately, that's the way it is."

He is scheduled to return home Sept. 22, but that could change.

"They may cut our service time to 10 days or two weeks due to the high stress level of the volunteers. It's what they call a 'hardship job,'" he said.

His wife, Cheryl Lee, and his adult daughters, Nicole and Annie, "worry about me and they would really prefer that I stay at home," Kehoe said. "But I really want to go out there and help people and they understand."

Of what he expected upon arriving at the shelter, the 51-year-old Trenton resident said, "I'm hoping that everything is calm, but when you get there the stress level of people is high. A lot of times, for safety reasons, the police won't allow them in. It's really tough on the families. All we can do is make sure they've got a roof over their heads and provide them with a little moral support, and food in their stomach until things get better."

Ways to save on gas

Follow speed limits, share rides to work

By Bobby Ampezzan
Heritage Newspapers

As gas prices exceed $3 per gallon, federal and state lawmakers scramble to ameliorate conditions.

One of those suggestions is to carpool, an idea some have pushed even before Hurricane Katrina struck.

In August, the Southeast Michigan Council of Government received 270 additional applications for its RideShare program, which matches car and vanpool partners based on neighborhoods, work sites and hours.

At $3 per gallon, sharing a ride with just one person for a 20 mile commute may save a person $1,500 annually.

Call 1-866-510-7665 or visit the Web site www.semcog.org.

For those not yet ready to share the radio, there are simple strategies for improving fuel economy.

According to the Web site www.fueleconomy.gov, planning and combining trips not only saves time and mileage, but a warm engine is more fuel efficient.

Remove external attachments such as roof racks and, when possible, pickup tailgates and remove excess weight, which can decrease fuel economy 1 to 2 percent for every 100 pounds.

Adhering to speed limits can improve fuel economy up to 33 percent. Each mile per hour over 55 mph is a 1 percent loss in fuel economy.

Also, open windows to cool the interior. However, on the highway, running air conditioner is usually more fuel efficient.

Doctor to host events

As communities worldwide celebrate the 11th annual Kids Day America/International, a health, safety and environmental awareness day, a Chelsea business owner will be joining in with one of her own.

Dr. Lisa Olszewski will host the event from noon to 3 p.m. Sept. 17 at her office, 1600 Commerce Park Drive, Suite 200.

Olszewski will provide information on crime prevention, child safety and environmental awareness. She plans to donate child identification cards to every child who attends. Bill Ballagh of State Farm Insurance in Chelsea will provide children's identification booklets.

The Chelsea Police Department will be on hand to provide free fingerprinting of children and a dentist will be screening for identifying markings on children's teeth for their dental record. In addition, the Chelsea Area Fire Authority will have a fire truck on site and will teach fire safety tips.

Kids Day America/International is being represented by spokesperson Jonathan Lipnicki, star of such films as "Jerry Maguire" and "Stuart Little 1 and 2."

Olszewski will provide free spinal exams, and will distribute information on disease prevention and specific health issues that affect children.

"We will also provide free snacks and have special give-aways and prize drawings," she said in a press release.

In addition, Olszewski will accept donations for Faith In Action, a human services organization based in Chelsea that serves western Washtenaw County.

LABOR

To that end, he and his staff have canceled all flights with the airline.

Babson said there is other support out there.

"I think there's a lot of sympathy for the circumstance those workers face," he said. "A lot of people will try to support the strike in any way they can."

Fraternal fracture.

Lester also is looking to see what the outcome of the AFL-CIO shake-up will be.

On July 25, the Teamsters and the Service Employees International Union split from the AFL-CIO. The United Food and Commercial Workers soon followed.

The Teamsters and the SEIU made up three million of the organization's 13 million members. Those in favor of the break had concerns over a long-term decline in union membership and said the AFL-CIO had fallen behind the times.

"All working people are going to hurt from that," Lester said. "If we ever needed a strong union in our country, we need it now."

Though he hated to see it happen, Lester said he's "seen unions in and out of the AFL-CIO since the very beginning."

The break saddens him, but it also gives him purpose.

"I am not throwing my hands up in the air and quitting because a few people pulled out of the AFL-CIO," Lester said. "I am going to be that (much) more determined to take care of the workers in our country."

His first step, he said, will be to join his brothers and sisters in tomorrow's march.

From regression to rebirth

Like Lester, Babson still sees hope in the labor movement's future.

"There has been, I think, regression," Babson said.

He measures that in the loss of the once-commonplace pension plans and dwindling defined benefits.

Labor will make a comeback, he said, but it may not be along the same identifiable lines.

"It's obviously going to be a different labor movement from the one in the past that we associated with manufacturing and labor," Babson said.

The new face of unions will be found in areas such as health care, education, service industries, retail and clerical work.

"Most of it is relatively difficult to export," Babson said. "I think there is a whole range of areas where unions are involved in a struggle to organize."

Local graduate's life cut short in accident

Jessica Bullen had advocated bicycle riding, advantages of public transportation

William Bullen learned a lot about his daughter — things that he never knew before until just recently.

Unfortunately, he learned how much she was admired as he watched his daughter Jessica's many friends and colleagues speak at her memorial service July 6 in Madison, Wis.

Jessica Bullen, 29, died July 3 from injuries suffered in a June 30 bicycle accident. The 1994 Dexter High School graduate was hit from behind by a vehicle while riding her bicycle near her home in Cottage Grove, Wis., near Madison.

"Folks created a picture of Jessica that sometimes parents don't see," William Bullen said. "I knew she was a young lady full of energy since the day she was born."

Mourners described a woman who was a take-charge person, a trusted confidant and humble when it came to her achievements. She was passionate about preserving the environment and an advocate for bicycle riding and public transportation.

Bullen accomplished a great deal in her short life. After graduating as a straight-A student at Dexter High School, she earned a bachelor's degree in geology from Earlham College in Richmond, Ind.

She added a master's degree in urban and regional planning, natural resources and environmental planning from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Among many honors and accolades, Bullen received the Outstanding Student of the Year award this year from the Urban Planning faculty at the university. She also received the Dane County Bicycle Association's Andrew Muzi Yellow Jersey Fellowship Award.

Bullen spent a semester as an undergraduate in Venezuela and also had an internship in Australia as a graduate student.

After graduation, she worked in Chicago for the Safer Pest Control Project, which advocates alternatives to pesticides.

While a graduate student, she worked as a research assistant in the Department of Urban and Regional Planning at the university. She later worked as consultant for The John Heinz III Center for Science, Economics and the Environment and as a planning intern for the Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

Both her parents are in awe of what she was able to accomplish in her lifetime.

"You sit here as a parent and read it and say, 'Damn, she did a lot of stuff,'" said William Bullen, who lives in Dexter.

Shirley Bullen, Jessica's mother, said she is amazed how the community in Madison had taken her to heart when she had only lived there for three years.

"She had such an impact on everyone that she met," said Shirley Bullen of Ann Arbor. "I'd rather have Jessica back, but it's nice to know she was so highly regarded."

Bullen's involvement with the outdoors and transportation did not stop in the classroom or the workplace. She poured much of her energy into the Quann Community Garden, which enables people who live in an apartment or condominium to have a garden to care for.

More than 150 people attended her memorial service in Wisconsin. The mayor of Cottage Grove sent a representative, and a moment of silence was held in her honor at the following City Council meeting.

News of Bullen's death made headlines and TV news reports in the Madison area. Shirley Bullen said she has friends who tell her that many people in Wisconsin have heard of her daughter.

The Bicycle Federation of Wisconsin has kept her memory alive with the formation of the Jessica Bullen Memorial Fund. More than $10,000 has been collected so far to begin a motorist education program that will help prevent other needless deaths.

The driver of the car that hit Bullen is expected to be charged with negligent homicide.

This has provided some comfort to the Bullen family. With the recent death of Charlotte Marcotte — an Ann Arbor resident who was recently killed while riding her bicycle on Dexter-Chelsea Road — the Bullens know that more people need to take precautions, both as bicyclists and drivers.

William Bullen said he knows that accidents will always

Local artist pens book on craze

By Sheila Pursglove

With 17 generations of artists ahead of her, it's not surprising Susan Pickering Rothamel embarked on a career in the art world, albeit rather belatedly.

After planning a career in medicine, Pickering Rothamel decided to pursue her artistic talents in her mid-20s. Art, she says, can do more to heal a soul than medicine.

Pickering Rothamel, president and founder of USArtQuest, an art materials manufacturing and distribution company located near Chelsea, recently launched Home Studio International, a new direct sales venture offering art parties.

She also has just released her fifth book, "The Encyclopedia of Scrapbooking," and will sign copies from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday at Chelsea's Scrapbook Memories store, where much of the book was created.

Scrapbook Memories Owner Patti Pietryke turned over the store for product shots and 36 scrapbookers answered a call for entries, lining up at the door with pages for inclusion in the book.

Despite her art lineage, Pickering Rothamel was 24 before she turned to art after what she describes as a "spiritual revelation."

"I gave myself permission to pick up a paint brush," she said. "This is my passion. This is my calling."

Her artwork, with its strong Biblical themes and contemporary impressions of the work of the Old Masters, reflects that passion.

"My work is inspired and directed from God's word," she said. "I use the Old Testament to derive visual images and stories that are transformed into what I call my 'good art.'"

Artist Susan Pickering Rothamel (left) works with Ginger Sissom, the former director of Chelsea Center for the Arts, at her business just outside of Chelsea. Rothamel has penned "The Encyclopedia of Scrapbooking: Tools and Techniques," and will be signing copies from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sept. 10 at Chelsea's Scrapbook Memories store.

"The Old Testament has such good stories and visual imagery, with its kings and temples, starkness and grandeur. It reaches a larger audience, and that's appealing to me."

The Pennsylvania native's first foray into art was oil painting. Since then, she has explored graphic arts, watercolor, acrylic, papermaking, pottery, ceramics, enameling, mixed-media collage, metalwork and weaving.

"My work has evolved and matured as a natural course of events," she said.

Her particular passion is working with paper arts, or mixed-media, an interest she says was probably sparked by growing up the daughter of commercial printers.

"When I discovered paper, I realized I could create a brush stroke effect with it," she said.

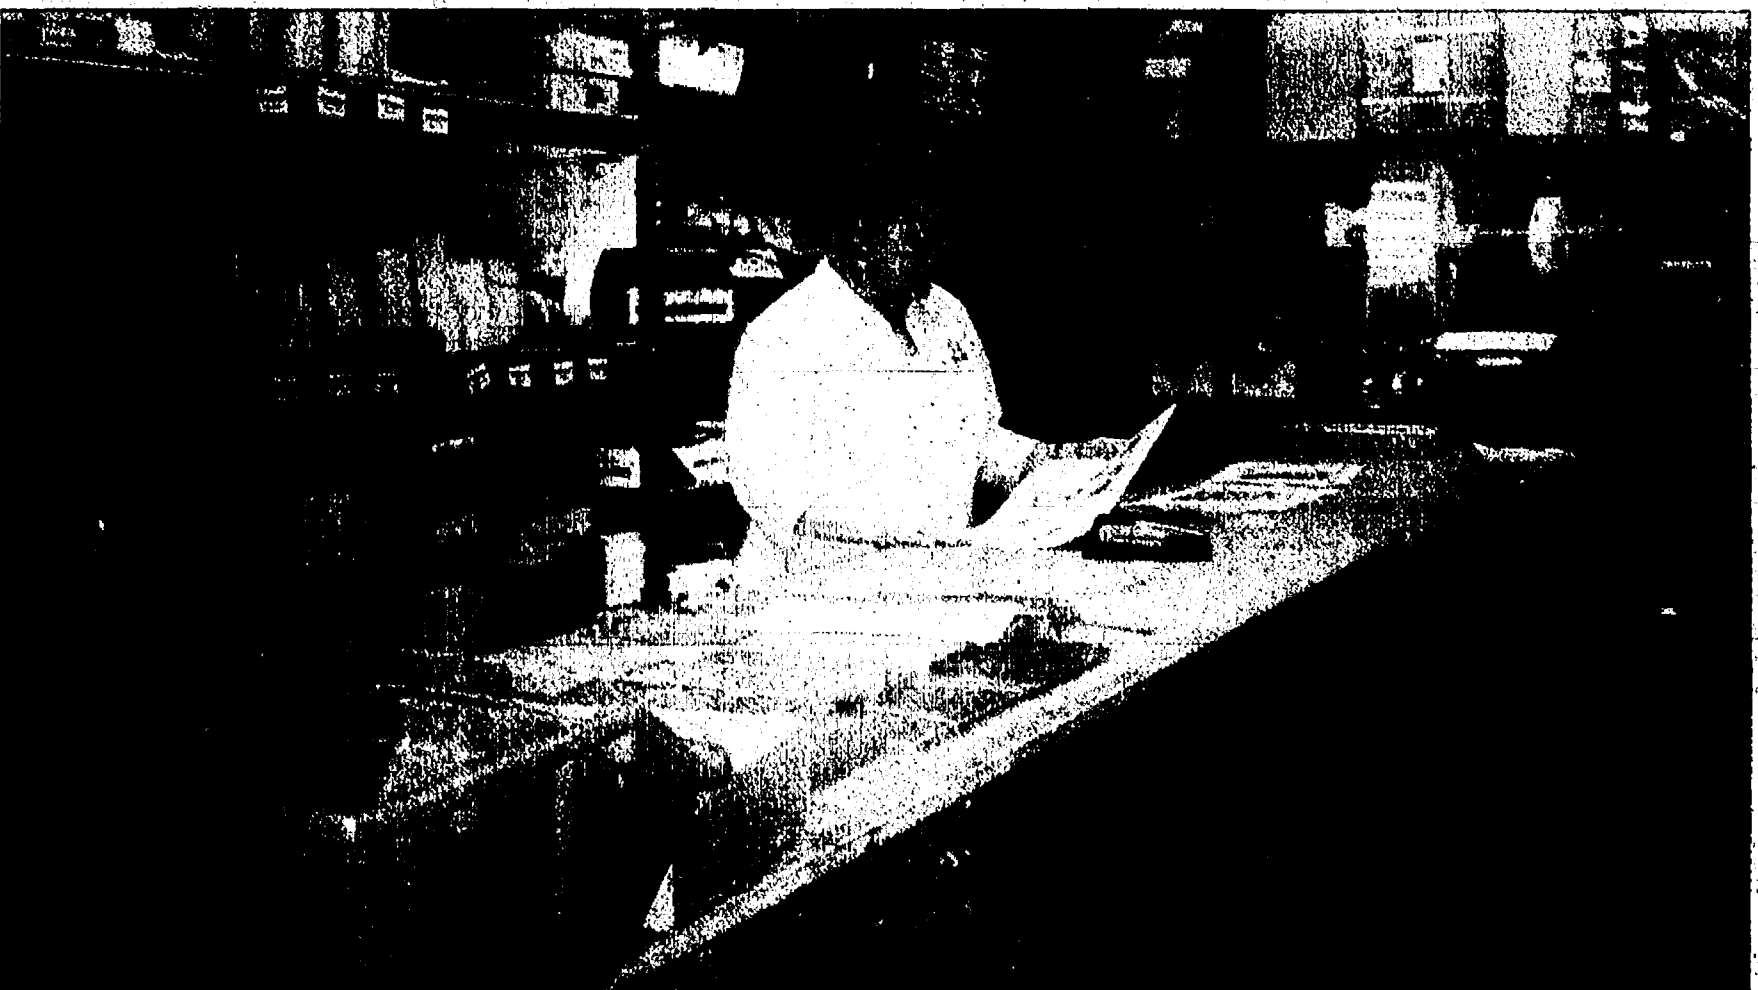

At the outset of her art career, Pickering Rothamel was a young mother working in the middle of the living room floor in the family's Westland home, moving artwork out of the reach of her three children during the day. She, nevertheless, managed to create 60 paintings for her first one-woman show, less than a year after the start of her creative journey.

After moving to Livonia, she and her husband, David, who worked for Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn, converted their formal living room into a studio.

"Working there was a real experience with teenagers wandering in and out demanding computer time, graphics customers sitting at my drafting table waiting for their hand-drawn logos, and my husband begging for dinner," she said.

Symphony to perform

The Chelsea High School Wind Symphony has been chosen to perform Jan. 20, 2006, at the Michigan Music Conference in Grand Rapids.

School music teachers from across the state, as well as faculty from state universities and colleges, will attend the conference.

The local ensemble submitted application materials, including an audio recording of the ensemble in performance, to be reviewed by a committee selecting the performing groups for the conference.

To prepare for the performance, musicians will work with recognized clinicians and learn major musical works from the band repertoire.

While participating in the conference, the group is expected to attend an evening concert by the Michigan State University Wind Symphony, and will have the opportunity to browse the exhibits, possibly attend a clinic session, and talk with faculty from colleges and universities across the state.

WESTERN WASHTENAW COUNTY

Local residents encouraged to participate in walk

Based on a request from the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness, the Healthy Communities Walking Program encouraged all residents of Chelsea, Manchester and Dexter to walk up to five miles on Labor Day.

The Governor's Council expanded the annual Mackinac Labor Day Bridge Walk to individual communities throughout Michigan as a way to link together the state while celebrating Labor Day and good health.

The Healthy Communities Walking Program promoted Labor Day as a chance for residents of the three western Washtenaw County communities to walk on their own, and then report their number of miles walked to the Healthy Communities office. The goal was to have the total number of miles walked exceed 303 miles, which is the distance from Manchester to just over the Mackinac Bridge.

All participants were mailed a certificate congratulating their efforts.

Residents of Chelsea, Manchester and Dexter who participated in the Labor Day Walk can report their number of miles walked by calling the Healthy Communities hotline at 475-6121 and leaving a message, or sending e-mail through the Healthy Communities Web site at www.cch.org. Participants should include the number of people who walked, total number of miles per person and home address.

DEXTER VILLAGE

Child safety program set

A free child safety program will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 24 at LaFontaine Chevrolet in Dexter.

Representatives from LaFontaine are sponsoring the community event. The DNA LifePrint Child Safety Program has been endorsed by TV personality John Walsh, who is a child advocate and crime fighter.

The DNA LifePrint Kit promotes child safety awareness and provides important tools that can help families protect their children against violence.

The event will provide parents with a "child safety journal" that can provide law enforcement officials with all the necessary vital information about a child, along with other important facts they will need immediately after a child is reported missing.

Parents will receive a high-quality full color digital photograph of their child, a super video-CD complete with audio and visual of their child and a home DNA identification kit.

After each child goes through the line, parents are handed a child safety journal with digital photograph, the video-CD and detailed instructions on how to use the DNA identification kit at home. The event sponsor keeps no record on file.

Parents also will be given Walsh's child safety tips. All the information provided at the child safety program is recommended by child safety experts and law enforcement officials to be updated every six months, including video and photo.

HOME HAPPENINGS

Home ownership is a good way to invest

As a Realtor, I receive a lot of questions from people about the home-buying process.

For this column, I thought I'd review some of the most common ones. Whether you're renting, looking to buy your first home or your third, these may help you in making a decision.

Q: Why should I buy a house?

A: In addition to the personal satisfaction that comes from owning your home, a home is an investment — often the largest one a person or family will make.

In addition to savings, a pension or 401(k) and stocks or bonds, owning your own home is part of most people's strategy for a secure financial future.

Over the long term, real estate has almost always increased in value, sometimes beating the stock market. In addition, owning a home provides tax advantages. Mortgage interest is often deductible; check with your tax adviser for your situation.

Q: Is it a good time to buy a house?

A: There is rarely a bad time to purchase a home if you have the means.

Interest rates are at near-record lows, and the slower metro Detroit housing market means there are more houses to choose from. And the continued low interest rates mean it costs less to borrow money, which is good news for first-time buyers and well as those looking to move into a bigger home.

Q: How do I know if I can afford a house — or how much house I can afford?

A: Getting a pre-approval is the answer to both questions.

Pre-approval means you have met with lenders who have done a basic check of your financial situation (credit history, employment, debts) and certify that based on their information, you are approved for a loan up to a certain amount.

Pre-approval is usually not as rigorous a process as a formal loan process, so it does not guarantee that you will be approved for a mortgage. However, it does show that you are a serious shopper, which is something most sellers want to see if you decide to make an offer on their home.

Q: What if I've had some credit problems, like missed car or credit card payments?

A: There are programs today for almost every financial situation, so there's a good chance you could qualify for a mortgage.

You may have to pay a higher interest rate or put more money down, however. Talk to several different lenders for the best deal.

Q: What's the FHA? Do they have something to do with home loans?

A: The FHA stands for the Federal Housing Administration. The U.S. government-operated program guarantees mortgages for buyers who may not qualify for a "conventional" mortgage.

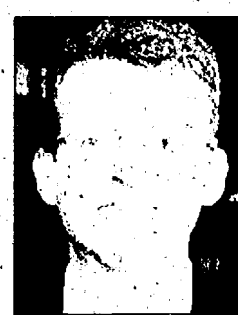

Having the FHA back the loan may mean that buyers can use a smaller down payment or finance more of the closing costs. For some people, an FHA loan may be their only way to buy a house. The lender you choose should be able to explain this to you in more detail.

Q: What are "closing costs"?

A: These are typically up to 5 percent of a home's selling price and are separate from the down payment. These closing costs can vary greatly depending on the type of mortgage you choose.

Again, the lender you choose should be able to explain your options so that you can choose the best type of mortgage and closing costs that will fit your personal situation.

CHELSEA

Group offers outlet for local mothers

Meetings held at Chelsea church

By Rita Fischer
Special Writer

A group that got its start 32 years ago for mothers with preschoolers is still going strong in the Chelsea area.

Mothers of Preschoolers was conceived in 1973 by a group of moms in Denver looking for an opportunity to provide support and affirmation to other moms in the same season of life. The group got its start in Chelsea last fall at the Chelsea First United Methodist Church.

A group of women at the church wanted to start a ministry that was for mothers of preschool-age children. Since other Mothers of Preschoolers programs in the area had long waiting lists and there wasn't a chapter based in Chelsea, the group decided to launch a local chapter.

The chapter is run by a steering committee of 15 women. The co-coordinators are Lori Peterson and Dee Petry. There are 43 mothers, two mentor moms and 61 children.

Mothers of Preschoolers is an interdenominational organization that has grown to include more than 3,000 chartered groups that meet in 12 countries around the world. Moms of all ages, faiths, and backgrounds come together monthly.

Child care is provided so that moms can have uninterrupted time to connect, share experiences and discuss the joys and challenges of mothering young children. A typical meeting begins with a hearty breakfast followed by a short discussion led by a mentor mom who has been through the challenging early years of mothering.

Vanessa Fisk of Stockbridge finds the group a great place to mingle with other mothers, gain valuable knowledge about parenting and relationships, and enjoy a morning of insight and laughter.

"I also love having a sit down breakfast once a month," Fisk said.

Mentors share wisdom from their experiences in practical and meaningful emotional, physical and social needs. Mothers of Preschoolers International and the sponsoring church provide resources to each local chapter. In addition to monthly meetings, participating moms will be included in the MOPS-to-Mom Connection, which brings weekly inspirational e-mails, videos and books into their homes.

Crystal Hayduk of Chelsea attends because it gives her a place to get support from other moms and information about parenting, which is especially important for her since she lives apart from her extended families.

"I like it because it's unique from other similar groups," she said. "It focuses on providing support in an environment that is nurturing to the mother's emotional and spiritual needs. The child care provided is excellent, and those two hours a month really help me to be a better mom the rest of the time."

The group meets the second Friday of the month September through May. For more information, e-mail Peter Peterson at peter-son@chartermi.net. Mothers of preschoolers ways. Discussions are related to the Mothers of Preschoolers annual theme of "Twinkle, Shine like Stars in the Universe."

Most meetings include an outside speaker on topics relevant to the lives of women as mothers, daughters, wives and individuals. Moms then split into groups to discuss the topic in more depth.

Dana Emmert of Dexter Township has four children ages 4 years old and younger. Mothers of Preschoolers allows her to meet other women who have similar needs.

"It's because MOPS meets these needs with outside speakers on a variety of topics, creative activities, and the coming together of amazing women and mothers that I like being a part of such a wonderful group," she said.

The emphasis is on mothers and their own spiritual,

Closing costs can include fees for appraisals, loan origination, credit reports, document preparation, insurance and other miscellaneous items. It can easily add up to thousands of dollars. You'll need to account for these when budgeting your home purchase.

However, closing costs do vary, especially in today's competitive lending environment. You may find some lenders charge less in fees than others. And some sellers may be willing to pay part or all of your closing costs to ensure a sale. Ask about it.

I'll have more common real estate questions in my next column.

Pickering Rothamel studied color theory, chemistry, creative writing and art history at Schoolcraft College in Livonia, and within a year found a niche teaching classes in art materials safety, a hitherto undiscovered territory, even at the collegiate level.

"I became an advocate for providing artists with the information and the tools necessary to work in a safe environment, no matter what their media," she said.

The family moved to their current home on 11 acres in Sylvan Township 13 years ago. There she designed and built a 1,000-square-foot studio, featured in the book "Women's Spaces," from Sterling/Chapelle Publishing. It was here that USArtQuest Inc. got under way after Pickering Rothamel followed the advice of her aunt and business partner, Anne Pickering Turner, and produced two videos on collage and assemblage.

In the videos, Pickering Rothamel demonstrated how to make an adhesive for collage. People started asking her to make and sell the glue. USArtQuest was formed to market both the videos and Perfect Paper Adhesive.

Pickering Rothamel continued her research and development of new and unusual mixed-media art materials. USArtQuest now sells 650 products — fine art materials, and materials for artists, crafters, scrapbookers and stampers — nationwide and around the world.

The business grew so fast in its first four years that it outgrew the Sylvan studio space, necessitating the opening of a second studio and warehouse in Grass Lake.

USArtQuest, in turn, gave birth a couple of months ago to Home Studio International, a direct sales concept. Its mission is to provide opportunities for personal and professional development by supplying innovative art materials and offering instruction that inspires others to discover their own creative potential.

Products include wood, paper and textile products, tools and adhesives, wood stains, embellishments, mica products, glaze, pigments and more.

"There's a large learning curve to the products, and that's where Home Studio comes in," Pickering Rothamel said.

The business is a family affair, with her husband as chief operating officer and three children on board — Matthew as comptroller, Cristina as producer and Jacqueline as a Home Studio art party demonstrator who hopes to become a director.

Ginger Sissom, formerly executive director of the Chelsea Center of the Arts, recently was hired as vice president of Home Studio International. The two women met several years ago at Schoolcraft College, and in recent years, Pickering Rothamel donated art materials to the CCA.

Sissom, who has a background in direct sales, heads up sales and focuses primarily on recruitment, training, coaching and marketing. The new business already has art party hostesses around southeastern Michigan, and even as far afield as Florida.

Pickering Rothamel loves wearing many hats as an artist and entrepreneur. In addition to her two businesses, she exhibits each year in a one-woman show for the Courtyard Gallery in New Buffalo. She also produces "art on demand," creating artwork for books, magazines and scrapbook pages.

She writes magazine articles, appears on television, and, of course, develops and produces new art materials and markets them to stores and consumers.

"My work allows me to create day in, day out," she said. "Developing product from nothing is very satisfying."

"It doesn't get any better than that — when people say they love it."

GRASS LAKE

Parker named to post

The Michigan Humanities Council has added two members to its staff, including a Chelsea-area resident.

Greg Parker, of Grass Lake, was named program and development officer and Cynthia Dimitrijevic of Holt will serve as director of grants.

"The Michigan Humanities Council is strengthening its organization by adding two individuals with extensive experience in grant review and program development," Jan Fedewa, executive director of the Michigan Humanities Council, said in a press release.

"We are excited to bring their leadership and ideas to help enhance public humanities programming across Michigan."

Parker has experience and leadership in program design and development. Since 2000, he has worked in student leadership and academic services at the University of Michigan's College of Engineering in Ann Arbor, where he co-developed the Academic Mentoring Program.

While at the university, he also provided leadership on a variety of policy and search committees.

From 1999 to 2000, Parker was the associate director for the ReadNet Foundation in New York and served as a teaching assistant in the history department at Columbia University from 1998 to 1999.

Notable is his service as a museum intern for the Texas Rangers Baseball Club's "Legends of the Game" Museum in the summer of 1998.

An avid traveler and home improvement enthusiast, Parker earned a master's degree in American history from Columbia University in 1998 and a bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Michigan in 1997.

Dimitrijevic has an extensive background as a departmental analyst and in grant review for the state of Michigan, where she spent 28 years. From 1994 through 2002, she worked in the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality as a departmental analyst and communications development coordinator for the educational outreach section of the department's Environmental Assistance Division.

Dimitrijevic served in the Department of Commerce as an export and departmental analyst, and helped to develop outreach efforts for 13 Michigan Technical Assistance Centers, as well as provide other technical assistance to small businesses.

In addition, she monitored performance and compliance of Housing and Urban Community Development Block grants for the Office of Federal Grant Management from 1990 to 1992.

Dimitrijevic also served as a departmental analyst to then-Governor James Blanchard from 1989 to 1990 and served as an administrative assistant in the Michigan Department of Commerce from 1980 to 1987.

She has a bachelor's degree in community development and public administration from Central Michigan University.

The Michigan Humanities Council, founded in 1974, is the state's independent, non-profit affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

happen, but those that are preventable need to be reduced. He said he has seen drivers doing things, such as reading a newspaper or putting on makeup, that distract them while driving.

He also has seen bicyclists who run stop signs, drive between cars at stoplights and move along a line of traffic between vehicles and the curb.

"I think the accidents, where it's in our own hands or minds, I'd like to see reduced," William Bullen said. "Your obligation as a driver is to be focused forward."

Marjorie Ward, executive director of the Bicycle Federation of Wisconsin, said donations for the fund have come in from across the country. She has high hopes that the safety program will help make a difference.

"We hope to make an impact and not throw money at a problem and not get to the root of the problem," Ward said.

Shirley Bullen said the family encouraged people to give to the fund in lieu of flowers.

"They're doing a fair amount to keep her name going — to keep the issue alive," Shirley Bullen said.

In Good Company

Chelsea High School's Company C, which marked its 15th anniversary last year, will soon reveal its theme for the coming school year.

The musical dance troupe will hold tryouts this month as it approaches its new season, January through May. The group typically practices from 3:15 to 5:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, and more often as performances near.

The two main events Company C puts on are Showcase in February and Cabaret in May.

Steve Hinz is the director and supervises all practices. Dwight Jordan, a choreographer from Chicago, usually works with the students for one weekend to teach dance moves for the main show.

Jayson Gallup (left), Caitlin Dronen and Nathan Taylor perform "Are You Ready for a Miracle."

Students performing with Company C visited Chicago last spring, stopping at Navy Pier and other historical sites. Bulldog kickers overwhelm Mules

Niesen, Laeder and Tapping score for Chelsea in victory

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

The Chelsea boys' soccer team opened its season last week defeating Temperance Bedford 3-1 and losing to DeWitt 3-2.

Against the host Kicking Mules last Thursday, senior forward Kolton Niesen scored for the Bulldogs with 12:00 remaining in the first half.

Assisting on the goal was senior midfielder Ausable Schwiebert.

"Ausable made a great pass behind two defenders to Kolton," said Chelsea coach Chad Scaling.

In the second half, Bulldog senior midfielder Jamie Laeder scored off a rebound, increasing Chelsea's advantage to 2-0 midway through the stanza.

"Steve Tapping helped create the goal by hustling into a ball played in and forced the keeper to give up a rebound, which Jamie slid in past the keeper and defenders," Scaling said.

Bedford trimmed the Bulldogs' lead to 2-1 with a goal with 10 minutes remaining in the game.

Chelsea, however, put the contest away as Tapping scored with three minutes left for the night's final margin.

"Tapping again hustled into a ball played back to the Bedford keeper, blocking his clearance and deflecting the ball into the goal," Scaling said.

Senior keeper Nikolai Voicechovski earned the victory in net for the Bulldogs, making nine saves.

"It was a great game for us as a team," Scaling said. "Everyone did their part tonight and it paid off.

"We felt we needed this win in order for us to get off to a good start in the SEC (Southeastern Conference). It was a very hard-fought game, physical on both sides. It's a great win early in the season."

On Aug. 31, host Chelsea opened the season losing 3-2 to Lansing-area power DeWitt.

"We played a great first half and a great final 15 minutes," Scaling said. "The difference in the game was that they finished their scoring chances and we didn't, especially early in the game."

"Even with our mistakes, we had enough opportunities to win this game."

The Panthers jumped out to a seemingly safe 3-0 lead midway into the second half.

The Bulldogs, however, fought back.

Senior midfielder Bill Hayes scored for Chelsea on a penalty kick with 12 minutes left in the contest.

With three minutes remaining in the game, junior midfielder Mike Sauers scored, trimming DeWitt's lead to 3-2.

Junior defender Robert Guysky assisted on the goal for the Bulldogs.

Despite late pressure, Chelsea was unable to score as time expired.

"We controlled the first half of play and had several scoring chances, but we failed to capitalize on any of them," Scaling said.

The Bulldogs (1-1) next host Adrian 5:30 p.m. today.

On Saturday, Chelsea travels to Pinckney for a game at 12:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, the Bulldogs visit Ann Arbor Huron for a contest at 7 p.m.

On Sept. 15, Chelsea travels to Saline for a game at 5:30 p.m.

Bulldog defense bottles up Kicking Mules in home opener

Chelsea football righted the ship last Friday, defeating Temperance Bedford 35-14 in front of more than 3,000 fans at Jerry Niehaus Field.

The Bulldogs (1-1) were coming off a disappointing 14-7 season opening loss to Novi and, though struggling early, came on strong late in the game.

"We're still trying to find our identity on offense," said Chelsea coach Brad Bush. "We were able to come back and gain control of the game late. But we have to eliminate the big plays."

"Overall we're getting better, but we're not there yet."

On the Bulldogs' second possession of the night, senior running back Zach Gregory scored on a 7-yard run over right tackle. With senior Cam Hawkins' extra point, Chelsea led 7-0 with 3:00 left in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the Bulldogs' defense rose to the occasion.

Early in the quarter, Chelsea junior defensive end Todd Elliott recovered a Kicking Mule fumble, giving the Bulldogs possession at their own 38-yard line.

After nine plays, Chelsea gave the ball over on downs to Bedford (1-1). Six plays later, Bulldog senior safety Adam Gerstler intercepted a Mule pass, returning it to the Bedford 23-yard line.

On the Bulldogs' ensuing possession, junior halfback Adam Connell scored on a 4-yard run. Hawkins split the uprights on the point-after kick, increasing Chelsea's lead to 14-0 with 3:23 remaining in the first half.

In the third quarter, Bedford defensive back Chris Kerekes returned an interception 96 yards for a touchdown. The junior stepped in front of a pass over the middle and ran untouched into the end zone. Jarrod Kaczorowski added the extra point, and the Mules trimmed the Bulldogs' advantage to 14-7 with 9:21 left in the third quarter.

On the following kickoff, Bedford senior Ian Kansorka recovered a fumble at Chelsea's 35-yard line.

The Bulldog defense, however, came up big, again. This time, on a fourth-and-11 play from the Chelsea 36-yard line, senior defensive tackle

Paul Ernst (6-foot-2, 230) sacked Mule junior quarterback Justin Osentoski for an 8-yard loss. With the sack, the Bulldogs regained possession of the ball at their own 44-yard line.

Eight plays later, it was the offense's turn to shine, as Hawkins hooked up with junior receiver Nate Schwarze on a 29-yard touchdown pass. With Hawkins' kick, Chelsea increased its lead to 21-7 with 9:03 left in the third quarter.

Bedford answered, however. See BEDFORD — Page 5-C

Harriers second at Corunna invite

McKenzie, Severin place first and second at meet

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

The Chelsea girls' cross country team began its season by placing second at the Corunna Early Bird Invitational Aug. 31.

The Bulldog A squad finished with 42 points.

Winning the meet was Mount Pleasant with 35 points.

Rounding out the top five was Flint Kearsley, in third place with 82 points, followed by St. Johns with 84 points and Mt. Pleasant's B team with 107 points.

Chelsea's B squad was sixth with 141 points, while its C team was seventh with 193 points.

"We placed second in a fairly strong field," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke. "Mount Pleasant is a strong team, with three seniors in the top five."

Individually for the Bulldogs, Amanda McKenzie finished first overall, with a time of 19:38. Teammate Rachel Severin was second with a clocking of 19:47.

"Amanda and Rachel had outstanding first races to break 20 minutes on a rough and humid course," Clarke said.

Chelsea's Katelyn Ciacio placed ninth in 21:24, while Nicole Bougher crossed the line 11th in 21:52 for the Bulldogs.

"Katelyn and Nicole ran very well," Clarke said.

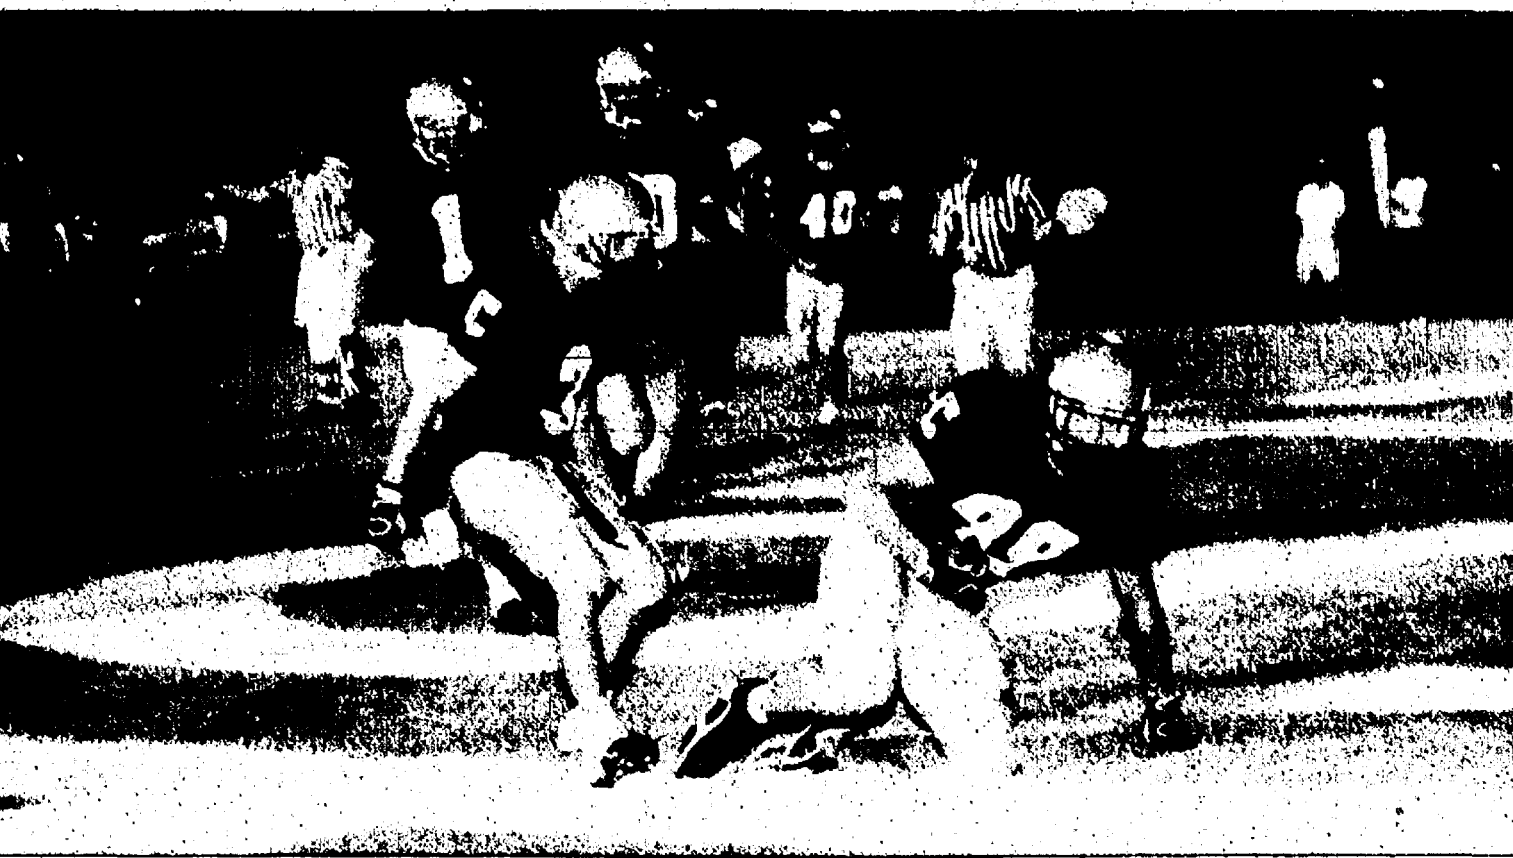

Chelsea junior Kimmi Zimmerman ended up 24th with a lifetime best mark of 23:31 to round out the Bulldogs' scoring.

Other top performers for Chelsea included Laura Oberholtzer, who placed 25th in 23:40; Kelly Catalina, who was 27th in 23:53; Athena Eyster, 31st in 24:12; Leah House, 33rd in 24:14; Nicole Hopp, 36th in 24:29; Jenny Squires, 37th in 24:41; and Katie Lindauer, 42nd in 25:34.

Others running well for the Bulldogs included Caitlin Dronen, who finished 45th in 28:06; Danielle Prince, who was 46th in 28:15; Katie Grabarkiewicz, 51st in 28:49; Kathryn Brieland-Shoultz, 55th in 28:18; Mallory Weddon, 56th in 28:19; and Kelly Hutcheon, 59th in 29:32. "We had some of our varsity out with injuries and illness," Clarke said. "It was a good start to the season. We learned a lot about where we are and what we need to do. We will improve as the season progresses and hopefully get everyone healthy."

Chelsea next travels to Bath to participate in its invitational 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

On Tuesday, the Bulldogs visit Tecumseh to compete in the Southeastern Conference White Division Jamboree at 4:30 p.m.

Teammates Mike Hamilton (3), Drew Wint (1) and Doug DeVol (50) rush Chelsea junior tight end Dan Augustine after his 12-yard touchdown reception last Friday against Temperance Bedford.

FOOTBALL

Turnovers cost Chelsea JV

Chelsea's JV football team lost to host Temperance Bedford 14-6 last Thursday.

Bulldog coach Chris Orlandi said turnovers continue to hurt his squad.

The team gave up three fumbles early, had two late interceptions and couldn't get a punt off deep in our end once," he said. "It's just too great a task to try to overcome these kinds of mistakes."

The Bulldogs fumbled on their first play of the game, and later fumbled on their third and fourth possessions, halting potential scoring drives.

"We put together an 11-play drive on our second possession that stalled at around their 30," Orlandi said. "That was good to get us field position, but we fumbled it away on our next possessions."

The Mules held a 14-0 lead at halftime before Chelsea 1-1 scored in the fourth quarter for the game's final margin.

On the Bulldog touchdown, quarterback Randy Cox scrambled into the end zone on a fourth-and-seven play. The score culminated a 10-play, 44-yard drive.

"Randy's a very good athlete and he made a special play on that occasion," Orlandi said. "We missed the extra point, and that hurt."

Offensively, Chris Schmeltz led Chelsea on the ground, rushing for 83 yards on 13 carries. Matt Heinen added 46 yards on five attempts, while Justin Swarthout had 21 yards on four tries.

Cox finished 5-of-12 passing for 40 yards with two interceptions.

Defensively, the Bulldogs played well. Orlandi said linebackers James Connelly, Taylor Hopkins and Matt Johnson, along with ends Jamie Brooks and Dean Roberts were standouts for Chelsea.

"I thought our inside linebackers played admirably, and I also liked what our defensive ends did," Orlandi said. "In the second half, we really frustrated them (Bedford) on offense. Our defense wouldn't let them do much of anything."

Orlandi said this was a tough loss to swallow.

"I felt badly after the loss because I don't think Bedford was the better team overall," he said. "They were, however, the team that played better that night and the team that made fewer mistakes."

"I think our kids learned a lot from the loss, and that's what's most important."

Chelsea next travels to Tecumseh for a game 7 p.m. today.

FOOTBALL

Freshman drop 19-16 heartbreaker

Chelsea's freshman football team lost a heartbreaking 19-16 game to host Temperance Bedford last Thursday.

The Kicking Mules scored on a 40-yard touchdown pass with no time left on the clock to pull out the come-from-behind victory.

Despite the gut-wrenching loss, Bulldog coach Dennis Strzyzewski remained upbeat.

"I am proud of how we played," he said. "The kids played very hard and showed great improvement. We did everything we needed to do to win the game, but Bedford was able to make a play at the end."

It appeared Chelsea had won the game as John Hillaker nailed a 26-yard field goal with 57 seconds remaining in the contest, giving the Bulldogs a 16-13 advantage.

The Mules, however, refused to wilt, rallying for the hard-earned win.

Riley Feeney led Chelsea offensively with 132 yards rushing on 27 carries. Michael Roberts added 88 yards on the ground and scored a touchdown for the Bulldogs (0-2).

From the air, Roberts finished 12-of-21 for 160 yards passing and one TD.

Receiving-wise, Chelsea's Steven O'Keefe hauled in a 40-yard touchdown bomb from Roberts.

Defensively, Tyler Fishhaber sparked the Bulldogs with 10 tackles and one interception. Scott Rhodes had eight tackles and one interception, while Kevin Rosentreter and Dakota Risner each ended up with eight tackles for Chelsea.

Strzyzewski said his squad would continue to work hard.

"We will improve our turnover ratio, and we will keep the completed passes in front of us and we will have great success," he said. "I see the growth in this team already. I believe they will be ready to compete every week."

The Bulldogs next travel to Tecumseh for a game 4:30 p.m. today.

FIELD HOCKEY

Whippets tie University Liggett

The Washtenaw Whippets field hockey team tied Grosse Pointe University Liggett 1-1 Aug. 31.

Chelsea's Corey Block scored the Whippets' lone goal late in the second half.

Liggett tied the score with a goal with fewer than three minutes remaining in the game.

Earning the tie in net was Washtenaw's keeper Courtney Wonsavage of Saline. In JV action, the Whippets lost to Liggett 3-0.

On Aug. 29, Washtenaw defeated the Ann Arbor Huron JV team 3-1.

Scoring goals for the Whippets were Dexter's Jacqueline McNally, Vicky Moss and Block.

Washtenaw next travels to Ann Arbor Pioneer for a game tomorrow.

Coliseum hosts Katrina benefit

Chelsea's Arctic Coliseum will host a benefit open skate from 4 to 6 p.m. Sunday to help victims of Hurricane Katrina.

All proceeds from the event will be donated to the Red Cross.

"When you see the devastation that has occurred from this disaster, you want to do something about it," said Arctic Coliseum General Manager Don Wright. "Being a part of the community, we want to give in any way that we can. We hope the local residents will take this opportunity to assist families and the clean-up effort in the South."

The rink is also taking donations Sunday. Contributions may be brought to the front desk at the coliseum.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS

Athletes excel in college

Chelsea natives Clayton Wilson and Bryan Hayes helped lead Albion College to victory over the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh 3-2 and Heidelberg College 4-1 last weekend.

Wilson, a junior, scored the game-winning goal in both contests, while Hayes, also a junior, scored his first goal of the season against Heidelberg.

At Florida Southern College, Chelsea native

Sarah Manville begins her junior year as the Moccasin's keeper. The former Bulldog All-Stater was a part-time starter for Florida Southern last season, giving up just seven goals in 486 minutes of play. She finished the year with a goals-against-average of 1.35.

A transfer from Hope College, Manville was named the Moccasin's Rookie Award winner last season.

er, on its next series. The Mules needed only three plays to respond, scoring on a 66-yard touchdown bomb from Osentoski to Kansorka. With Kaczorowski's extra point boot, Bedford closed the gap to 21-14 with 4:34 remaining in the third quarter.

Midway through the fourth quarter, with the Mules driving for what appeared the game-tying score, Elliott recovered his second fumble, pouncing on a fumbled hand-off attempt at Chelsea's 26-yard line.

On the Bulldogs' following drive, junior tight end Dan Augustine (6-2, 205) caught a 12-yard touchdown pass from Hawkins. With Hawkins' kick, Chelsea led 28-14 with 4:58 left in the game.

A key play in the scoring drive was Gregory's 43-yard pass reception down to the Mules' 19-yard line. Hawkins threw the ball as he was being dragged down.

Bedford coach Craig Trychel said turnovers hurt his team all night.

"We're young and we're going to make mistakes," he said. "We have to learn from this. We made some great plays on both sides of the ball, but when you turn the ball over in a close ballgame, it's going to make a difference."

On the fumbled handoff, Trychel said it was a matter of knowing where people are on the field.

"It was a bad exchange," he said. "The guy (running back) was closer than he (quarterback Osentoski) thought he would be. That's the nature of the game."

On Bedford's next possession, Bulldog junior defensive back Dan Rhodes intercepted a pass, giving Chelsea the ball at its own 45-yard line.

On the next play from scrimmage, senior halfback Drew Wint scored on a 55-yard run around right end with 3:38 remaining on the clock. With Hawkins' kick, the Bulldogs ended the scoring at 35-14.

"We worked really hard this week," Trychel said. "We didn't get beat by anything in particular. They (Chelsea) had a couple of big plays. We did some things at the wrong time that hurt us. We had a couple of drops on a few passes that could have been scores, and that's the difference against a good team."

"If we make those plays, it (game) goes down to the wire and we have a chance to win. If you don't, you end up on the short end."

Wint led Chelsea in rushing with 74 yards on four carries. Gregory ended up with 63 yards on 15 attempts, while senior Mike Hamilton had 25 yards on four tries.

Junior Logan Lynch paced Bedford with 60 yards on 13 carries.

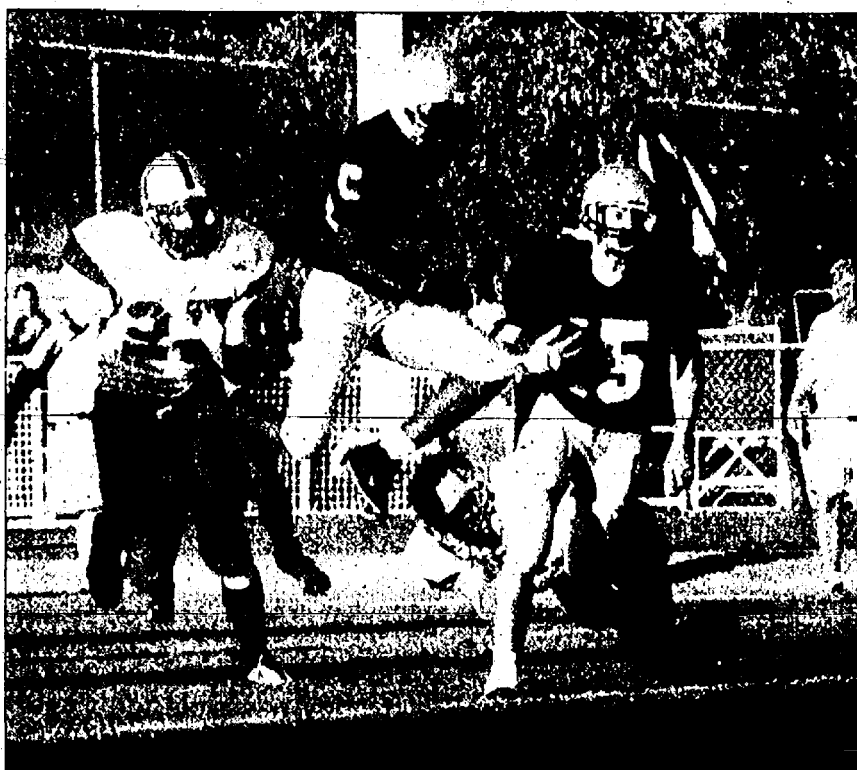

Schwarze finished with five receptions for 91 yards, while Gregory had five catches for 70 yards and Augustine four receptions for 32 yards.

Senior Josh Winter snared four passes for 31 yards for the Mules.

Osentoski ended up 14-of-25 for 177 yards, with two interceptions for Bedford.

Bulldog junior Dan Rhodes goes airborne in an attempt to block a Temperance Bedford punt last Friday.

Chelsea junior Nate Schwarze (15) returns a punt against Temperance Bedford in last Friday's Southeastern Conference showdown.

Hawkins was 18-of-31 for 220 yards for the Bulldogs.

Hawkins (6-2, 215), also a middle linebacker, is filling in for starter senior Joe Welton, who was injured just prior to the season's opening game against Novi.

"The transition for Cam has been difficult," Bush said. "We lost Joe Welton, and Joe had taken most of the reps with the No. 1 guys during preseason. And so really, Cam, in his defense, has basically had two practices where he's been able to concentrate on playing quarterback with the No. 1 team."

"So it will take him a little time to find his rhythm. For us to be good, we have to be good throwing the football. He's struggling a little bit but, frankly, we have to do a better job of pass protecting to give him more of a chance. The consistency is not there, but we'll get there."

What has been strong this early season is Chelsea's defense.

"The defense is playing fine," Bush said.

Leading the Bulldog stop corps last Friday was senior defensive tackle Austin Rodgers (6-1, 230) and junior linebacker Chris Hopkins (5-10, 165), who each recorded nine tackles. Senior linebacker Derek Brown (6-0, 220) and Ernst each added six tackles, while senior linebacker Robbie Moffett (5-10, 195) and Rhodes each had five tackles for Chelsea.

Winter led the Mules with six stops.

Though it was, at times a struggle, Bush said what mattered most was the final outcome.

"Winning is certainly better than losing," he said.

Chelsea next hosts Tecumseh (1-1) 7 p.m. tomorrow.

... POWER POINTS OFFICIAL RULES ...

- Object of the game is to amass as many of the 136 possible points as you can. Simply review the week's schedule of games, listed on entry form, and decide which game you are SUREST of picking a winner in. Write the name of your projected winner on the 16-point line, and so on down to the 1-point line, which game you figure to be a long shot. Next fill in Tiebreaker 1, the total points scored by both teams in the week's designated game. If this step fails to produce a winner, the judges will apply Tiebreaker 2, total offensive yards from scrimmage in this game. If a winner still doesn't emerge, a drawing will be held among those contestants still tied. Decisions of the judges are final! The weekly Midwest regional winner will receive $1000.
- Any entry form that does not contain a legible name, address, etc. will be disqualified.
- Entries that fail to forecast a winner from each and every game will be disqualified, as will entries that fail to distinguish between the Jets and Giants of New York and other similar teams.
- No points are awarded on tie games or in case any game is not played for any reason during its scheduled week.
- Entering POWER POINTS constitutes permission by contestant for his or her name and photograph to be used for news and reasonable promotional purposes at no charge.
- Employees of this newspaper and their immediate families are ineligible to participate.
- Any inquiry about a protest of weekly results must be made by noon on the Friday following the announcement of winners.
- No purchase necessary. Facsimile game entry forms will be accepted. Enter contest by dropping entry form into POWER POINTS container at participating co-sponsors.
- Weekly deadline for entry will be 2 p.m. Thursdays except when noted otherwise on weekly entry form.
- Neither this newspaper nor any co-sponsor will be responsible for legible entry forms or those lost, stolen or damaged in any way.
- Limit one entry per person per week. Each entry must represent the original work of an entrant; group entries, systems or other attempts to enter multiple entries will be disqualified. Filing out extra forms and putting your friends and relatives' names on them violates this rule. Any such entries are destroyed prior to grading.
- Contestants must have reached the age of eight (8) years by the Sunday of any week's play.

Q: What makes your business unique?

A: Our friendly golden retrievers, Boomer and Jessie, and the beautiful gardens and flowers. We are located a little north of town. An artist friend describes our bed and breakfast as eclectic. We live where we work and make new friends every day.

Q: Why did you choose the Dexter or Chelsea area for your business?

A: Close proximity to Waterloo and Pinckney Recreation areas, the Purple Rose Theatre and the Common Grill.

Q: Describe your business philosophy:

A: We foster an environment of escape and pampering. We make sure our guests have a comfortable night's sleep and a delicious hot breakfast, served family style in the morning.

Q: What's the most enjoyable part of owning and operating your own business?

A: Meeting so many people from all over the country and around the world. People who stay in bed-and-breakfast establishments are more adventuresome than people who stay in motels.

Q: What are your business-related goals for the next five years?

A: We look forward to continuing to grow our business through referrals and repeat stays. We don't want to be the biggest, just the most enjoyable.

General Motors to close more U.S. plants

GM lost $2.5 billion in first half of 2005 despite cutbacks

By Joseph Szczesny
Journal Register News Service

General Motors Corp. expects to close more plants in the United States as it restructures its North American automotive business.

GM Chairman Richard Wagoner told analysts last week that its financing unit and global operations outside of North America are on track to meet or exceed their financial targets for 2005.

GM's critical North American operations will not make their original targets. They have lost $2.5 billion during the first half of 2005.

Nevertheless, GM believes it is making progress on getting its North American operations back on track, said Wagoner, who predicted 2006 already promises to be a better year for the giant automaker.

"Some of the key drivers ought to be moving in a better direction," Wagoner told the analysts. "We won't need to absorb the inventory reduction we absorbed this year. We're in transition to run the business very different with key focus on global leverage."

"We are seeing a good reaction to new products we have introduced," said Wagoner, who cited the strong showing by Chevrolet Cobalt and Buick Lacrosse, which has outsold the Chrysler 300.

In addition, Mark LaNeve, the GM executive in charge of sales and marketing, noted Chevrolet sold more vehicles than the Ford brand.

John Devine, GM's chief financial officer, also said that the overall economic outlook for 2006 looks promising and predicted that sales of cars and light-duty trucks should match this year's total, which is expected to exceed 17 million units on an industrywide basis.

Wagoner said GM is confident it will reap significant benefits from its global product initiative that will allow it to utilize its worldwide reach to create new vehicles. The new initiative will help GM reduce its investment costs and put more new vehicles on the road, Wagoner said.

He also said GM is continuing to reduce the scope of its operations by shutting plants and reducing payrolls.

"We need to get to 100 percent or more utilization,

We're formulating plans to reduce the number of assembly and support plants that we have, and we'll announce those at an appropriate time."

"The cost of our people is one of the major elements in our cost structure and it tends to be quite fixed," added Wagoner, who noted the company's staffing level is down 49 percent since 1990, while production has remained level. This has translated into an 80 percent improvement in productivity.

"From 1990, we've reduced the number of salaried employees by 50 percent," he added. "Since 2000 there has been a reduction of 30 percent."

Wagoner said GM's health care costs are a huge issue. But the company is still in talks with the United Auto Workers on ways to reduce costs.

"I am not in a position to update you more than to say that we continue to focus on it," he said. "It's very difficult to carry that kind of burden."

Noren earns honorary membership Association pays tribute to longtime member

By Rita Fischer
Special Writer

Dorothy Noren, a resident of Silver Maples retirement community in Chelsea, has been awarded honorary life membership in the American Association of University Women by the national organization.

Noren was given the award Aug. 26 by Pauline "Polly" Pan, dues treasurer of the Ann Arbor branch, at Silver Maples.

Honorary life membership is awarded to those who have been members of the American Association of University Women for 50 years.

Noren's membership began in 1954 when she joined the local branch in Farmington, and extended with membership in five other branches from Michigan to Maryland to Florida.

The American Association of University Women is a national organization with state and local branches. It promotes equity for all women and girls, lifelong education and positive societal change.

"We condemn all forms of discrimination," Pan said. "We champion gender-fair education, civil rights, family and medical leave, equal pay for equal work, reproductive choice, affirmative action and access to health care."

Noren, a former Scio Township resident, was pleased to earn the award.

"The AAUW was there for me when I had three young children. It was mentally stimulating to talk about things and do the study or interest groups," she said.

Membership is open to graduates holding a degree from an accredited college or university, or a degree from a foreign institution recognized by the International Federation of University Women.

Members of the 1,600-plus branches become involved in community projects, make new friends and develop leadership skills while tapping into a national network. Members support the organization's educational foundation, which funds fellowships and grants for women from around the world.

In addition, the American Association of University Women Legal Advocacy Fund provides support for women in sex discrimination cases.

On May 10, 1902, Mary Markley chaired a meeting of 41 women, forming the Ann Arbor branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, forerunner of the American Association of University Women. They worked to improve educational and social conditions in the community, and by 1905 they had established a loan fund for women at the University of Michigan.

Membership in the Ann Arbor branch this year exceeded 300. More than 30 groups promote learning, social activities, networking

NOTICE OF PROPERTY DEVELOPMENT RIGHTS ORDINANCE ADOPTION

Please Take Notice that the Dexter Township Property Development Rights Ordinance, Ordinance Number 37, an ordinance authorizing Dexter Township to acquire property development rights in real estate within the township and establishing the procedure for acquiring and financing the acquisition of the development rights, has been adopted by the Dexter Township Board of Trustees at a duly noticed Special Meeting on Monday, August 29th, 2005. The ordinance becomes effective seven (7) days after publication of this notice.

The following is the text of the notice, in its entirety:

ORDINANCE NO. 37

AN ORDINANCE authorizing Dexter Township to acquire property development rights in real estate within the township and establishing the procedure for acquiring and financing the acquisition of the development rights.

THE DEXTER TOWNSHIP BOARD OF TRUSTEES ORDAINS:

SECTION 1: Findings and Declaration of Purpose

The Board of Trustees finds that:

(1) Dexter Township is a desirable place to live, work and visit in large part because of the availability of farmland and the relief that agricultural fields bring. Scenic views, agriculture, open spaces and wildlife habitat are all considered invaluable natural and aesthetic resources and should be protected.

(2) The climate, variety of soils and terrain make the Township well suited to the production of a great number of row crops, specialty crops and livestock, including many foods available for direct human consumption. These resources include several thousand acres of land currently in agricultural production, and other woodland, wetland and open lands adjacent to these farmlands. Such lands provide unique, aesthetic and economic benefits to the citizens of the Township and are an important part of the Township's natural and agricultural heritage.

(3) Dexter Township is experiencing substantial residential development, however, because of its location to the highly urbanized areas of southeast Michigan, its attractive landscapes and its excellent public schools. The same characteristics which have made this area so desirable for agricultural production and recreation also make it attractive for residential sites.

(4) The agricultural industry in Dexter Township provides the opportunity to harvest locally grown foods to sell at roadside stands, farmer's markets, local retail food stores and other local outlets in the area. Land suitable for farming is an irreplaceable natural resource with soil and topographic characteristics that have been enhanced by generations of agricultural use. When such land is converted to residential or other more developed uses which do not require those special characteristics, a critical community resource is permanently lost to the citizens of Dexter Township.

(5) It is the policy of the State of Michigan and Dexter Township to protect, preserve and enhance agricultural lands as evidenced by the Township General Development Plan, the Township Zoning Act, MCL 125.271 et seq. and other state and local statutes and policies. Ordinances regulating land use by zoning and subdivision control enacted by the Township also serve these purposes. These measures by themselves, however, have not been effective in providing long-term protection of farmland under the pressure of increasing residential development.

(6) Agriculture in Dexter Township produces a notable array of products, from corn and soybeans to vegetables and fruit to cattle. The Township's agricultural acreage contributes tens of thousands of dollars to the local economy in direct sales of agricultural products at the farm gate.

(7) Generally, farmland which is close to urban centers has a greater market value for future residential development than its market value for farming or open space. Prime agricultural land often has the same features (such as permeable soils) that are components of desirable residential areas. This fact encourages the speculative purchase of these lands at high prices for future residential development, regardless of the current zoning of such lands. Farmland which has a market value greater than its agricultural value does not attract sustained agricultural investment and eventually this land is sold by farmers and removed from agricultural uses.

(8) The permanent acquisition of voluntarily offered interests in farmland within the Township, as provided in this Ordinance and as authorized by the Constitution and statutes of the State of Michigan, will permit these lands to remain in agricultural use near developing urban areas and provide long-term protection for the public interests which are served by farmland in the Township.

(9) Properties on which the Township has purchased the development rights should remain substantially undeveloped in order to promote their agricultural use.

(10) The acquisition of interests in farmland as provided in this Ordinance is a public purpose of Dexter Township as provided in this Ordinance and financing such acquisition requires that the Township enter into purchases or installment purchases not to exceed statutory limits.

(11) This ordinance is authorized by Sections 31 to 33 of the Township Zoning Act, MCL 125.301 B 125.303.

SECTION 2: Definitions

(1) "Agricultural Rights" means an interest in and the right to use and possess land for purposes and activities related to open space, natural habitat, horticultural and other agricultural uses.

(2) "Agricultural Use" means substantially undeveloped land devoted to the production of plants and animals useful to humans, including fruits, nuts, vegetables, greenhouse plants, Christmas trees and lumber, forages and sod crops, grains and feed crops, dairy and dairy products, livestock (including breeding and grazing), poultry and other similar uses and activities.

(3) "Chairperson" means the member of the Farmland Preservation Board who is elected Chairperson by the Preservation Board.

(4) "Board of Trustees" means the Dexter Township Board of Trustees.

(5) "Development" means an activity which materially alters or affects the existing conditions or use of any land.

(6) "Development Rights" means an interest in and the right to use and subdivide land for any and all residential, commercial and industrial purposes and activities which are not incident to agriculture and open space.

(7) "Development Rights Easement" means a grant by an instrument whereby the owner relinquishes to the public in perpetuity the right to develop the land as may be expressly reserved in the instrument, and which contains a covenant running with the land not to develop, except as this right is expressly reserved in the instrument.

(8) "Eligible Land" means farmland for which the purchase of "development rights easements" with tax funds and other monetary sources are authorized pursuant to this Ordinance.

(9) "Farmland" means those lands shown in the Township Master Plan as being zoned for agricultural uses, as adopted and amended from time to time by the Township Planning Commission.

(10) "Farmland Preservation Board" means the board formed pursuant to Section 6 of this Ordinance to advise the Board of Trustees in the selection of Eligible Lands for easement purchases.

(11) "Full Ownership" means fee simple ownership.

(12) "Governmental Agency" means the United States or any agency thereof, the State of Michigan or any agency thereof or any Township, City or municipal corporation.

(13) "Owner" means the party or parties having the fee simple interest in land.

(14) "Parcel" means all property under a single ownership that is included in the application.

(15) "Permitted Use" means any use contained within a development rights easement essential to the farming.

(16) "Supervisor" means the Dexter Township Supervisor.

(17) "Value of Development Rights" means the difference between the fair market value of full ownership of the land (excluding the buildings thereon) and the fair market value of the agricultural rights plus any residential development rights to be retained by the owner.

SECTION 3: Authorization

(1) The Board of Trustees is hereby authorized to expend funds to acquire property interests in the farmland described and prioritized in Section 5 of this Ordinance. The property interest acquired may either be the development rights, or any lesser interest, easement, covenant or other contractual right. Such acquisition may be accomplished by purchase, gift, grant, bequest, devise, covenant or contract but only at a price which is equal to or less than the appraised value determined as provided in this Ordinance. The funds shall be used to acquire such property interests only upon application of the Owner and in a strictly voluntary manner.

(2) The Township is authorized to enter into cash purchase and/or installment purchase contracts, and agreements for the receipt of tax deductible donations of easements, consistent with applicable law. When installment purchases are made, the Township is authorized to pay interest on the declining unpaid principal balance at a legal rate of interest consistent with prevailing market conditions at the time of execution of the installment contract for the tax-exempt status of such interest.

(3) The Board of Trustees is further authorized to contract with recognized and legally established nonprofit land trusts (for example, American Farmland Trust and Washtenaw Land Trust) or other experienced and qualified nonprofit groups to participate jointly in the acquisition of interests in eligible lands.

(4) The Township may contract with recognized and legally established nonprofit land trusts or other experienced and qualified nonprofit groups or consultants that would share in the process of negotiating easements and establishing both the baseline studies and the procedures for monitoring of any conservation easements acquired under this Ordinance and would be done in accordance with "The Standards and Practices Guidebook" by the Land Trust Alliance.

SECTION 4: Eligible Lands and Priority of Acquisition

Funds shall be used to purchase property interests in the following lands in the following order of their priority subject to the provisions of Section 7.

Primary Criteria that all properties must meet:

Voluntary application by the property owner and those lands shown in the Township Master Plan as being zoned for agricultural uses, or as rural residential where agriculture is practiced on larger parcels, as adopted and amended from time to time by the Township Planning Commission.

Criteria for Selection:

The following criteria shall be used in determining the order in which applications will be prioritized in any Selection Round to purchase development rights on all eligible lands for which complete applications have been received by the Township. This numerical ranking system has been developed to prioritize farm sites for the purchase of conservation easements. It is the intention of the users of this system to direct efforts toward high quality farmland in areas of the Township where its preservation is most appropriate.

Appropriateness is determined by favorable natural conditions and location factors which make farming a viable undertaking both currently and in the future. Areas targeted for preservation are those lands shown in the Township General Development Plans as being zoned for agricultural uses, as adopted and amended from time to time by the Township Planning Commission.

DESCRIPTION OF THE SYSTEM. The farmland ranking system consists of four sections as follows. The maximum point value is 100, with some additional points possible in the event of a tie.

PART I	TOTAL POINTS
I - Characteristics of the Land	44
II - Stewardship of the Land	18
III - Context	12
IV - Acquisition Considerations	26

PRIORITIES. The point value arrived at through the use of this system will be used to prioritize farm sites for purchase of conservation easements. Higher point values indicate higher priority for purchase. All property in a single ownership may be included in one application. Contiguous properties under the same ownership will be treated as a single entity.

SECTION 5: Farmland Preservation Board

(1) A five-member Farmland Preservation Board (the "Preservation Board") shall be appointed by the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees shall seek the names of nominees for the Preservation Board by the means usually employed for other boards and commissions. The Preservation Board shall determine the selection of eligible lands on which development rights are offered for acquisition by their owners. Selection of eligible lands shall be made by a majority of Preservation Board members.

(2) The Preservation Board shall consist of residents of the Township. The Preservation Board shall include a representative of the Township Board of Trustees, a natural resources professional, a citizen and two representatives who own agricultural land or operate agricultural businesses. The Board of Trustees may appoint ex-officio members.

(3) The Preservation Board may consult experts as it may desire and the Board of Trustees may appropriate funds for that purpose.

(4) Members shall serve three-year terms, except that the initial term of three members shall be three years and terms of two members shall be two years. Members may be removed by the Board of Trustees for good cause as determined by the Board of Trustees. Members shall not be compensated for their services but shall be reimbursed for expenses actually incurred in the performance of their duties. Members may be reappointed to successive terms.

(5) No member shall vote on the selection of individual parcels in which they have an interest or on individual parcels adjacent to property in which they have an interest.

SECTION 6: Selection

The Farmland Preservation Board shall conduct a voluntary property selection process (herein called the "Selection Round") generally as follows:

(1) In each selection round the development rights on all eligible land properties shall be eligible for purchase. In all selection rounds, properties of higher priority shall be purchased with available funds before properties of lower priority are purchased, provided:

a. The Preservation Board may negotiate for a lower price and/or seek outside funding for the purchase of development rights on any parcel offered.

b. In the interest of protecting a significant amount of agricultural land, the Preservation Board may determine not to buy all of any of the development rights on a particular parcel if the Preservation Board makes a finding that it is in the best interest of the program to protect a larger number of acres rather than a smaller number of acres of higher valued development rights.

c. The Preservation Board may receive and act on appeals of any factual nature by affected property owners.

(2) The Preservation Board shall begin each selection round by giving notice in one newspaper of general circulation in Dexter Township. The notice shall describe the properties eligible for purchase in the selection round; the general procedure to be followed in the selection process (including an estimated time schedule for the steps in the process); and shall invite the owners of such properties to make application for purchase of development rights by the Township and to describe the property interest which the owner is willing to sell. Applications shall be submitted to a location to be specified by the Preservation Board and stamped with the date of receipt.

(3) Upon closing of the application period, the Preservation Board shall review each application received to determine the eligibility and priority classification of each property interest and to verify ownership by tax records.

(4) For those properties which meet the requirements of Section 4, the Preservation Board shall cause an appraisal of the applicant's property interest to be made. A "before and after" appraisal shall be made to determine the value of development rights. One appraisal shall determine the fair market value of full ownership of the land (excluding buildings thereon) and one shall determine the fair market value of the agricultural rights plus any specifically retained residential development rights.

(5) Appraisals shall be made by State certified appraisers selected by the Preservation Board. The selected appraiser shall not have a property interest; personal interest or financial interest in eligible lands. The same appraiser shall conduct the before and after appraisals.

(6) Appraisals shall be in writing and shall be furnished to the respective owners for review. Errors of fact in any appraisal may be called to the attention of the appraiser by the Preservation Board or by owners of the property appraised, but corrections of the appraisal may be made only by the appraiser.

(7) Terms and conditions of sale and information on the effect of the sale may be discussed by the entire Preservation Board with owners prior to the submission of written applications.

(8) Written applications by owners who desire to have their development rights purchased by the Township shall be submitted on forms provided by the Preservation Board. These written offers shall include any development options desired to be retained by the owners.

(9) Upon receiving the recommendations of the Preservation Board, the Board of Trustees shall take final action on such recommendations.

(10) Once action to select properties for the purchase of development rights has been taken by the Board of Trustees, the Preservation Board shall draft a baseline documentation report describing through photographic, pictorial and narrative means the condition of the property at the time of the grant and a development rights easement. The baseline report shall contain a signature page where the Owner and the Supervisor sign to state that the report is an accurate description of the property at the time of grant. The easement shall similarly feature a page where the signatures of the Owner and the Supervisor are notarized, following which the easement shall be recorded with the county register of deeds so that it is effective on all current and future owners.

(11) Upon the completion of a purchase of development rights transaction, the Township assessor will be notified of the development rights purchase.

(12) Additional residential dwellings are not permitted on lands from which development rights have been purchased.

SECTION 7: Duration of Acquired Interests

(1) Development rights acquired pursuant to this Ordinance shall be held in trust by the Township for the benefit of its citizens in perpetuity. After 50 years have passed, however, the owner may make application to the Preservation Board that farmland described in this Ordinance has (a) become landlocked with non-agricultural uses, (b) farming is no longer feasible and (c) the release is for the public good. The Preservation Board evaluate the feasibility of farming by determining whether the land is no longer and never will be suitable for any kind of agriculture, with wooded land left fallow not necessarily to be considered unsuitable.

(2) Upon receiving the recommendations of the Preservation Board, the Board of Trustees shall take final action on such recommendations. The Board of Trustees must support the request by an owner to repurchase development rights by a five-member majority of the total seven Trustees.

(3) For those properties for which the Board of Trustees approves the return of development rights as specified in Subsection (1), the Preservation Board shall cause an appraisal of the applicant's property interest to be made at the owner's expense. Payment for this appraisal shall be made by the owner in advance. A "before and after" appraisal shall be made to determine the value of development rights. One appraisal shall determine the fair market value of full ownership of the land (excluding buildings thereon) and one shall determine the fair market value of the agricultural rights plus any specifically retained residential development rights.

(4) Appraisals shall be made by State certified appraisers selected by the Preservation Board. The selected appraiser shall not have a property interest; personal interest or financial interest in eligible lands.

(5) Appraisals shall be in writing and shall be furnished to the respective owners for review. Errors of fact in any appraisal may be called to the attention of the appraiser by the Preservation Board or by owners of the property appraised, but corrections of the appraisal may be made only by the appraiser.

(6) At any time in this process, the owner may choose to withdraw the request for the return of development rights without penalty, while still being responsible for the Township's appraisal of the property as specified in Subsection (2).

(7) If the Board of Trustees approves the return of development rights, the Township shall have a right of first refusal to purchase the remaining rights at the fair market value of the agricultural rights plus any retained development rights, as determined by a State certified appraiser. Upon receiving the recommendations of the Preservation Board, the Board of Trustees shall take final action on such recommendations. If the Board of Trustees chooses to exercise this right of first refusal, an offer to purchase the remaining rights at the appraised value shall be submitted. Acquisition of lands shall not be made with funds authorized for development rights acquisition pursuant to this Ordinance. The owner may at that time choose to not sell the remaining rights and instead retain ownership of the property.

(8) If (a) a request to re-purchase development rights is denied by the Board of Trustees, or (b) the landowner chooses not to sell the remaining rights the Township chooses to exercise its right of first refusal or (c) more than a year passes from the Board of Trustees' authorization for the re-purchase of development rights, the landowner must wait five years before re-applying to re-purchase development rights.

(9) The Township may convey development rights acquired pursuant to this Ordinance to a conservation, open space preservation, historic preservation or similar organization under terms ensuring that the public benefits for which the Township purchased the development rights will be maintained.

SECTION 8: Related Costs

The costs of appraisal, easement development, baseline documentation, legal and other services lawfully incurred incident to the acquisition of interests in eligible lands by the Township shall be paid by the Township. The Township shall not be responsible for expenses incurred by the owner incident to this transaction.

SECTION 9: Supplemental Funds

Supplemental or matching funds from other governmental agencies or private sources may become available to pay a portion of the cost of acquiring development rights, or some lesser interest in eligible lands or to supplement or enlarge such acquisition. The Farmland Preservation Board is hereby authorized to utilize such funds to purchase interests in eligible lands or to otherwise supplement Township funds in the manner provided by this Ordinance and in accordance with the applicable laws or terms governing such grant.

SECTION 10: Purpose

The Board of Trustees finds and declares that the use of Township funds for the purpose of paying in whole or in part the cost of acquisition of interests in eligible lands as set forth herein, including any costs necessarily incident to such acquisition, and the monitoring and enforcement of development rights easements, or to participation with any party for such purposes will promote the public health, safety and general welfare of the people of Dexter Township.

SECTION 11: Development Rights Acquisition Fund

The funds for purchasing development rights on farmland shall be placed in a designated Development Rights Acquisition Fund to be hereafter created in the office of the Treasurer of Dexter Township (here and after "Acquisition Fund"). Money in such acquisition fund may be temporarily deposited in such institutions or invested in such obligations as may be lawful for the investment of Township money.

The funds and any interest received from the deposit or investment of such funds shall be applied and used solely for the purposes set forth in this Ordinance.

SECTION 12: Severability

In the event any provision of this Ordinance shall be held invalid or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not invalidate or render unenforceable any other provisions hereof.

This ordinance shall be effective seven (7) days after publication.

Made and passed by the Board of Trustees of the Township of Dexter, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, at a duly noticed Special Meeting of the Dexter Township Board of Trustees on the 29th day of August, 2005.

Crashes involving teenagers often are more deadly

Drivers between the ages of 16 and 24 make up about 16 percent of the driving population, but were involved in 26 percent of all traffic crashes in 2004, according to a recent study by the Insurance Institute of Michigan.

By comparison, those 55 to 64 years old represent 14 percent of all drivers and were involved in 9 percent of all roadway crashes during 2004.

Crashes involving young people also tend to be more deadly. Among licensed drivers, young people between the ages of 15 and 24 years old have the highest rate of fatal crashes relative to other age groups. In fact, the risk of being involved in a fatal crash for teens in Michigan is more than two times greater than drivers age 55 to 64, according to the study.

Immaturity and inexperience are the two main factors leading to the high crash rate among teens. Michigan's graduated licensing law, which includes a phase-in program for teen driver licensing, has been successful in reducing teen motor vehicle accidents. The number of young drivers in all crashes has declined from 163,239 in 1999 to 151,168 last year.

However, more crashes and more serious injuries result in increased insurance premiums for young drivers. Pete Kuhnmuensch, executive director of Insurance Institute of Michigan, said in a statement.

"A younger person who is the principal driver of a motor vehicle typically pays 40 to 200 percent more for insurance coverage than older drivers," he said. "This surcharge is reduced as the driver grows older and is generally discontinued by age 25."

Premium surcharges are generally much lower for young drivers who use the family car only on an occasional basis. These typically range from 20 percent for 24-year-olds to 80 percent for 16-year-olds, but vary from one insurance company to another.

There are ways for young drivers to save on their auto insurance.

•Drive carefully. Most traffic tickets and at-fault accidents will automatically increase rates.

•Select a car carefully. Cost of repairs and performance characteristics are determining factors in the cost of insurance.

•If you have an older car, consider dropping both collision and comprehensive coverage.

•Ask about special discounts. Some companies offer discounts for good grades, safety features or for insuring two or more cars with the same company.

The Insurance Institute of Michigan is a government affairs and public information association representing 40 property and casualty insurance companies, and another 50 related organizations operating in Michigan.

Its member companies provide insurance to 73 percent of the automobile and 66 percent of the homeowners markets in Michigan.

Dive in Quarries offer snorkeling, scuba diving

If Superman wanted to change in this telephone booth, he would have to nix the blue tights and cape in favor of a scuba wetsuit, mask and fins.

This phone booth is several feet under water — in northern Ohio's White Star Quarry at the 800-acre White Star Park in Gibsonburg.

Mention scuba diving and snorkeling and most people's thoughts will turn to exotic spots such as Hawaii, Florida or the Caribbean islands, or exploring shipwrecks in the Great Lakes. But White Star Quarry and Portage Quarry, just south of Bowling Green, are two gems south of the Ohio border, within a 60- to 90-minute drive, respectively, from Washtenaw County.

Both quarries, once used for mining limestone, offer plenty of amphibious adventures, as well as activities for those who prefer to stay on land.

Even though fall is now upon us, the parks are open on weekends and diving at White Star continues through New Years Eve. Sub-aquatic noisemakers and party hats are not recommended.

Some dive clubs hold underwater pumpkin-carving contests around Halloween, something that may startle the quarry critters, including bullhead, bluegill, catfish, bass, yellow perch and pike and trout. Some of these creatures follow divers around like friendly puppies.

Responsible Dog Ownership Day set

American Kennel Club will offer Canine Good Citizenship training

By Jennifer Sinkwitz
Special Writer

The American Kennel Association will celebrate the third annual Responsible Dog Ownership Day Sept. 17.

In conjunction with this recognition, the Canine Good Citizen program will offer a test for area dogs. The program, which got its start in 1989, is a certificate program that rewards dogs that have developed good manners at home and in the community.

All dogs that pass the 10-step program may receive a certificate from the American Kennel Club.

At 7:30 p.m. Sept. 15, dogs will have the opportunity to strut their stuff at the Wight Training Center, home of the Ann Arbor Dog Training Club, 1575 North Territorial Road, in Whitmore Lake. The cost is $10 for the test and an additional $5 to receive the certificate.

A preview of the test is scheduled 7:30 p.m. today. The practice test is $5.

The test is comprised of 10 activities that must be completed at 100 percent. Components include acceptance of strangers; sitting while being petted; appearance and grooming; a feet and ears exam; walking on a leash; being able to turn right, turn left and complete an about turn; sitting on command and staying in place; returning to owner when called; reaction to another dog; reaction to distractions; and supervised separation.

According to the American Kennel Club, the purpose of the test is to ensure that your dog can be a respected member of the community.

"The AKC encourages all dog owners to attend the training and will assure that the dogs we love will always be welcomed and well-respected members of our communities," said Tracy Willoughby, coordinator of the program.

Another test will be available late November or December.

Hill's interest nurtured in 4-H

Local teen aspires to pursue culinary arts or equestrian career

By Rita Fischer
Special Writer

Julie Hill dreams of having her own catering business or training horses someday.

Meanwhile, she says she is happy continuing her education at Washtenaw Community College.

The 2005 Dexter High School graduate is on the right track to achieve her dreams, earning several ribbons in the 4-H Youth Show in July. The local teen says 4-H inspired both her interests and gave her an outlet to hone her skills in both areas.

The former Dexter High School equestrian has fine-tuned her culinary skills as a line cook at Zingerman's Roadhouse and gotten experience as a waitress and floor manager at the Lighthouse

Café in Dexter.

Hill started baking in 4-H when she was 6 years old. She has entered a baking product almost every year in the show since then and has won honors for almost every item. For the past four years, she has entered cheesecake in the dairy category. In 2004 and 2005, she won Best of Show for her cheesecake.

"I like using new products that I learn about at work," she said. "Some are for main course meals and others for baking. But I really enjoy finding new baking recipes, trying them, and then making my own recipe. That is what helped me to achieve Best of Show."

After she finishes her associate's degree, Hill plans to earn a bachelor's degree in hospitality management.

After college, she would like to own her own catering business or bakery, or maybe even have her own private barn for training and selling horses.

Teacher nominations sought for awards

Disney is accepting nominations through Oct. 15 for America's most creative teachers as part of the 2006 Disney Teacher Awards.

Teachers in public, private and parochial schools, pre-kindergarten through 12th grades are eligible to be nominated. Nominations may be made online at www.DisneyHand.com or by calling 1-877-282-8322.

Since 1989, Disney Teacher Awards have been presented to teachers who construct learning environments where students and teachers explore, imagine and engage in a variety of stimulating ideas and experiences.

Specifically, the program honors those teachers whose approaches exemplify creativity in teaching and who inspire a joy of learning in their students, according to a press release from Disney.

"Sixteen years ago, we started celebrating local heroes by establishing the annual Disney Teacher Awards to honor America's finest educators," Terry Wick, vice president of Disney Worldwide Outreach, said in a statement. "We hope all communities will take this opportunity to acknowledge their heroes as well."

Honorees will be selected from the nationwide nominees. From there, they will be celebrated at a red-carpet Awards Gala in July. They also will be featured during a Disneyland Main Street Parade and Ceremony at Sleeping Beauty Castle, and will share teaching strategies with their fellow award-winning teachers.

During the gala, four honorees will be selected as outstanding teachers and one will be named the 2006 Disney Teacher of the Year. In addition, the honorees each receive $10,000, a $5,000 grant for their school and a six-day professional development institute with their principal at the Walt Disney World Resort.

The Disney Teacher Awards is part of DisneyHand, worldwide outreach for The Walt Disney Company. DisneyHand is dedicated to making the wishes of families and children a reality through public service initiatives, community outreach and volunteerism in the areas of compassion, learning, the arts and the environment.

spring-fed depths, divers also will find a sheriff's car with lights, traffic light, hay wagon, bicycle, motorcycle, trucks and small boats, placed there by dive clubs and scuba centers for divers to enjoy.

The quarry has been open to scuba divers for 25 years, and has a small dive center with tank and weights rental and air fill operation, a few dive supplies, snacks, T-shirts, batteries and other items.

When you get tired of fish, there are plenty of flora and fauna in the park, with the lakeshore ringed by a mature forest of cottonwood, maple and walnut trees. For those who prefer pedals to flippers, there are mountain bike trails or you can hike acres of nature trails and come across two historic log cabins and an old red barn.

The park also offers a playground, picnic tables, grills, well water, restrooms, volleyball courts, horseshoe pits, playfield, boat ramp for non-power boats, shelters, day camp area, accessible fishing platform, scuba diving and camping.

White Star Swim Beach is open for swimming from Memorial Day to Labor Day. The campground, open April 1 to Dec. 31, is located across from the park's main entrance and has 24 primitive sites with no hookup for water or electric.

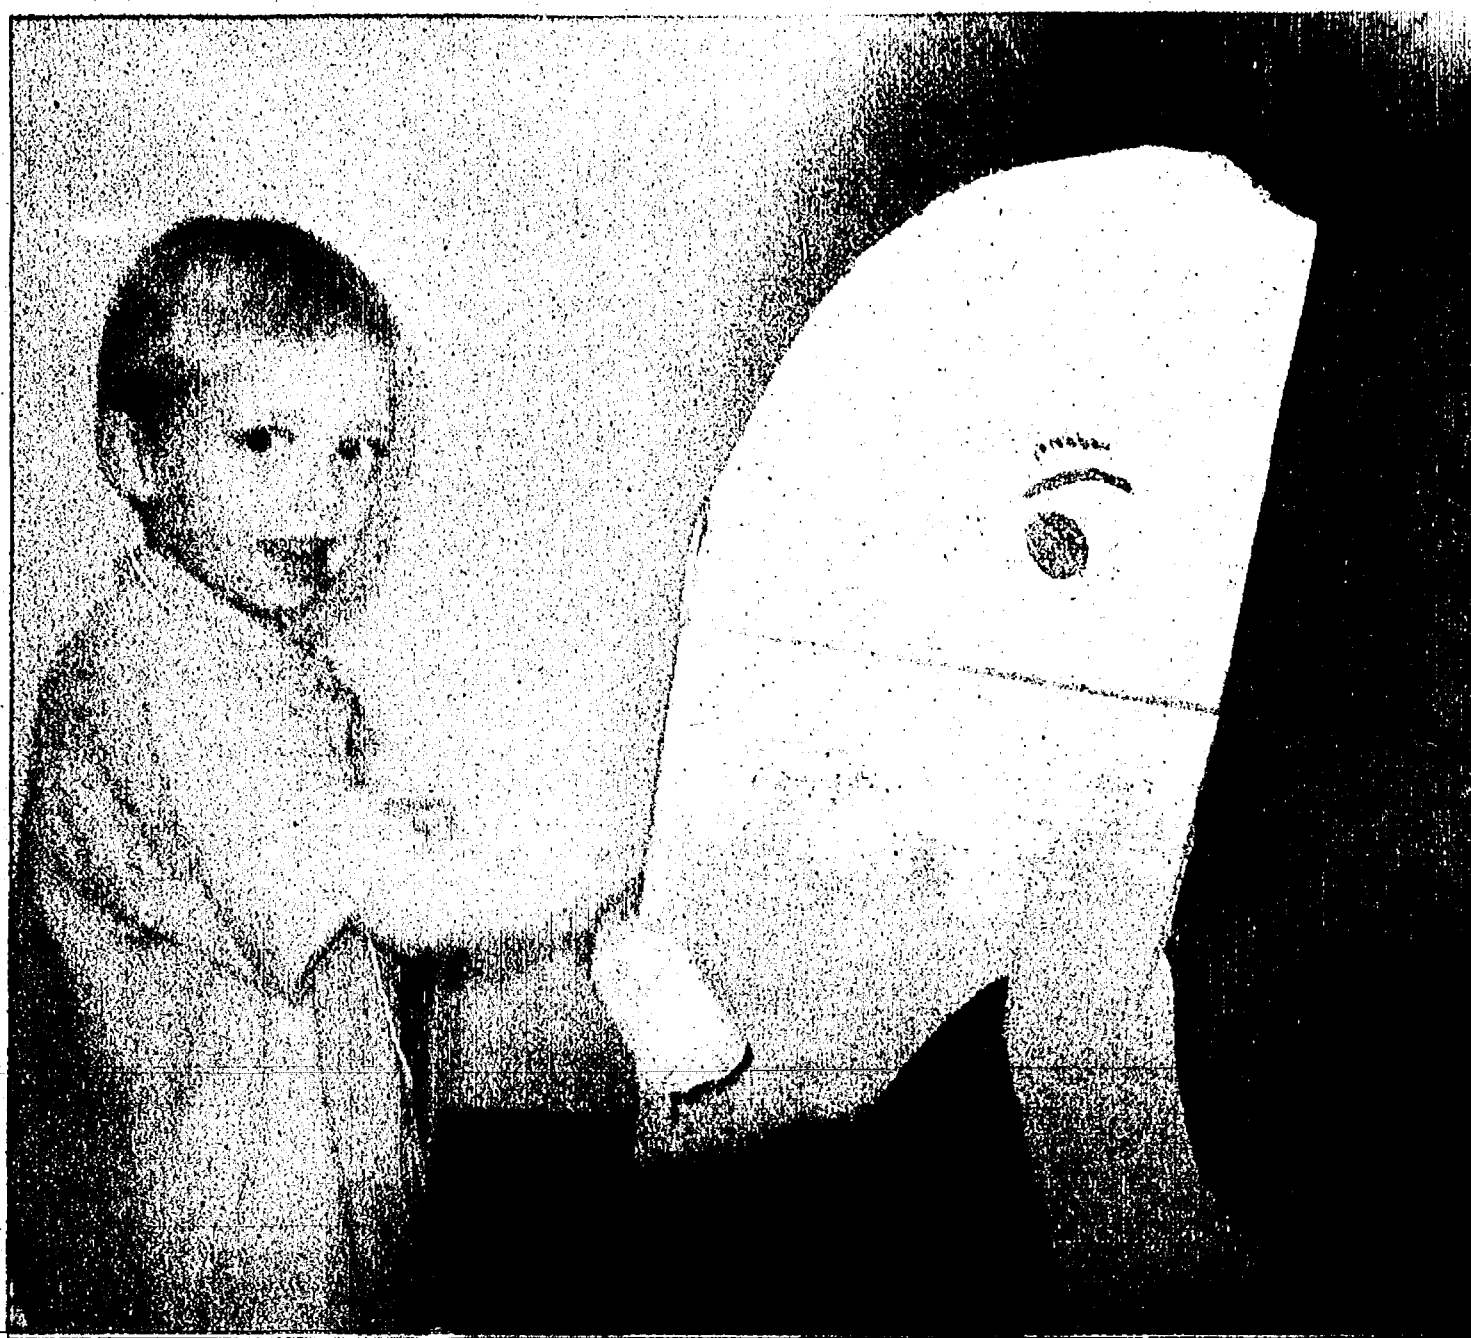

The Portage Quarry Recreation Club offers a similar mix of underwater sights placed for divers' pleasure in its 23-acre lake, including several boats, a small plane, a motorcycle, old cars, a school bus, a semi cab and large tractor trailer.

A sunken silo, a remnant of quarry operations and once filled with concrete powder, lies within 20 feet of the surface so snorkelers can also see its sloping roof. An underwater navigation course also offers challenging fun for divers.

Non-divers can enjoy the 50-acre property that surrounds the lake on three sides with open grass and shade trees. The facility, which often holds special events like volleyball tournaments and concerts, offers campsites, swimming, a combed sandy beach, sand volleyball, and hydro bikes for rent, as well as a gift shop, snack bar, pavilion, picnic tables and a full service dive center.

Visitors can also enjoy walking, jogging, biking, or in-line skating on the nearby Slippery Elm Trail, a converted railroad bed.

Leave time in the day to visit Bowling Green one mile to the north, and explore its historic Main Street. This town of about 30,000 dating back to the early 19th century is also home to Bowling Green State University and offers shopping and restaurants.

Thinking of remodeling? Think HSA!

Clements Addition

David Rhoads

Wayne Clements

AN ADDITION TO TRADITION

When Wayne Clements decided to add a family room and wrap-around deck to his 140-year-old Saline-area farmhouse, he wanted to be sure the modern touches fit naturally with his home's traditional design.

Getting the job done right was important to Wayne. "I was born in this house, and I've lived here off and on for over 70 years. I wanted to work with people who care just as much about my home as I do."

Wayne called David Rhoads at HSA. "I conveyed my general ideas to Dave, and his team created an addition that blends in beautifully—not only with my home, but also with the landscape. There are windows and light all around. It's now my favorite room in the house."

Wayne especially appreciated HSA's superb workmanship and attentive follow-up. "When Dave's people make a promise, they deliver. I haven't had a problem with my addition since the last nail was pounded in."

FREE CONSULTATION: CALL NOW TO GET YOUR PROJECT INTO OUR FALL SCHEDULE.

Help the Victims of Hurricane Katrina

From September through the end of this year, HSA and FDC will contribute a portion of every new sale to the American Red Cross for Hurricane Katrina disaster relief.

For each new remodeling project, we'll contribute $250 to $500, depending on the project's size. We'll also contribute 5% of all new cabinetry sales.

Please join us in helping to ease the pain for the victims of this terrible tragedy.

Since founding HSA in 1985, David Rhoads has overseen more than 600 successful remodeling projects. He also owns First Design Cabinetry, specializing in kitchens, baths, and home offices.

David is president of the Home Builders Association of Washtenaw County and a member of the state HBA. He is certified by Aging in Place to adapt homes for easier living by senior citizens. In 2004, David was selected as Saline's Citizen of the Year in recognition of his community involvement.

Through service and sacrifice, our neighbors become heroes

By Brian Cox
Staff Writer

In the score and nine months since the war in Iraq began March 20, 2003, it has become increasingly easy for Americans caught up in the minutia of our daily lives to relegate to the back of our minds the sacrifices the war has required of many.

News of those American men and women (more than 1,800 as of Aug. 31) who have lost their lives in the conflict, making the ultimate sacrifice for their country, continue to remind us, of course, of the cost in American life, but the lesser sacrifices made by thousands can often go largely unrecognized.

It is necessary to remind ourselves at times that within our community, down our very street perhaps, there are families whose sons, daughters, husbands, wives, and grandchildren are or have put themselves in harm's way at our country's behest.

More than 350,000 reservists have been called to active duty since the war began and have had to leave their homes, their families, and their jobs to serve long months in an hostile environment under the most dangerous and trying of circumstances.

Even as they were called to active duty, as their neighbors, co-workers, and fellow citizens, we are obligated, despite possibly holding differing views on the war, to remain active in our appreciation of their service.

We should not allow ourselves to become inactive in our recognition while they remain active in their duty.

In the following pages are but a few area men and women who deserve our thanks and acknowledgement. As do their families. For it is not only the service men and women who are sacrificing, but their families, who must endure their long absences and the accompanying anxiety.

Represented in these pages are our neighbors, some who have served a year in Iraq, some who are even now shipping out, and others who have made serving a career.

There is Army Specialist Jacob Bauer from Manchester who returned from Iraq last month.

There is Cpl. Jeff Perry of Ypsilanti who is scheduled to ship out to Iraq Sept. 15.

There is Lt. David Kvarnberg, a Navy doctor whose parents live in Chelsea, who has just returned from a second tour of duty in Iraq.

There are brothers Ian and Stephen Skidmore of Ann Arbor, currently serving in Iraq, and brothers Jeffrey and Michael Montange of Chelsea.

There is 1st Lt. James Hale, the grandson of Milan resident Warren Hale, who is serving in Afghanistan with the Army Signal Corps.

There is Lance Cpl. Benjamin

Howison of Dexter and Petty Officer 1st Class Matthew Kwiecinski of Saline.

Many have young children they have left behind, including Stephan Skidmore who has a 2-month old son, Tyler.

These are men and women whom we consider our neighbors because of geography. But because of their commitment, dedication, and sense of duty, honor and patriotism, have earned the right to be considered our heroes.

WE SALUTE OUR LOCAL HEROES!

With special thanks to the Milan Area
