Committee issues report on city's water problems

Group recommends keeping city's water softening system.

By Steve Ricci
Staff Writer

A citizens' advisory committee studying Chelsea's water problems is recommending the city continue using its water softening system, provided one major caveat.

The linchpin of the recommendation assumes the city would receive a permit from the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality to release discharge from its reverse-osmosis water softeners into Letts Creek.

On another important issue — one that has contributed to a current building moratorium in the city — the committee recommended two actions should be pursued to increase the city's water supply:

•An emergency interconnection between the Chelsea and Sylvan Township water systems should be established.

•Pumping capacity in one or more of three existing city water wells should be increased.

Steven Wright, a professor at the University of Michigan Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering, heads the eight-member committee, which was appointed by Chelsea Mayor Ann Feeney.

The committee is charged with studying problems with the city's water and wastewater treatment systems, and making water policy recommendations to the Chelsea City Council.

The committee presented preliminary recommendations to the City Council at an Oct. 11 meeting.

Because fixing capacity shortfalls with the city's water supply take precedence, the committee will study wastewater collection and treatment systems for a future report.

Housing development projects in the city are currently at a standstill because of Chelsea's water problems.

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality imposed a moratorium June 2 on issuing new water permits in Chelsea.

The city also has imposed a moratorium on issuing new sewer permits because its wastewater treatment plant cannot accommodate more sewage.

As long-term water supply goals, the committee recommended increasing groundwater pumping capacity by upgrading water wells or building new wells.

It also recommended implementing a public education program focusing on water conservation to reduce peak water demands.

Long-term water treatment recommendations included continuing to use the reverse-osmosis system

Farmers purchase grain elevator

Klaus Bachmann, six farmers are new owners of Chelsea Grain LLC

A familiar Lima Township landmark is in new hands.

The grain elevator at 11800 Dexter-Chelsea Road, owned by Chelsea Grain Co. LLC, is now under the ownership of former manager Klaus Bachmann and six farmers from the Dexter, Chelsea and Stockbridge area.

The new name is similar — Chelsea Grain LLC — and Bachmann serves as managing member of the company, which services about 100 farmers in a 20-mile radius.

The elevator started operating under the new company name Oct. 1.

Bachmann declined to name the six farmers and the price paid for the deal.

Chelsea Grain Co. was formerly owned by the Lansing Grain Co., which started in Jackson in 1922 before relocating to the state's capital in 1931. Lansing Grain Co. connects elevators and producers with grain markets throughout North America, and has grain facilities in Idaho, Kansas and Nebraska.

"LGC wanted to get out of their smaller facilities, and concentrate on Kansas and other parts of the country," Bachmann said. "It was a good opportunity for local farmers to own the grain ele-

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Board of Commissioners could face recall campaign

Group disgruntled with sheriff's patrol cuts looks to change makeup of board

By Steve Ricci
Staff Writer

A petition drive that could force a public vote on the county's plan to build new correctional facilities is expected to throw a monkey wrench into the construction process.

Yet the petition drive, if successful, probably would not force a change in the county's plan to eliminate Washtenaw County Sheriff's Office subsidies by 2008 to fund the projects.

Using money freed up by the police cuts, the County Board formally approved a plan in September to sell $29.9 million in bonds to fund construction of a new jail and courthouse.

Various groups and individuals opposing the police cuts have approached County Clerk Larry Kestenbaum, inquiring about procedures for a recall of individual members of the County Board.

Although no group has officially come forward as organizing such a campaign, rumors are circulating that a recall push could happen.

Kestenbaum said last week that petitions gathered by the Citizens to Save our Sheriff's Department, or S.O.S., Committee will likely amount to enough signatures to force the bond vote, should the board decide to stage such a vote.

As of last week, about 9,000 of nearly 23,000 signatures gathered by the group had been checked by the clerk's office, with a validity rate of about 74 percent. To force a bond referendum, 15,000 validated signatures are needed.

Assuming the 74 percent validity rate holds, the S.O.S. Committee will have about 17,020 signatures, more than enough to force the issue.

"We're getting very close to finding they have enough signatures," the clerk said.

Kestenbaum said, in light of the signatures, he expects the County Board would not proceed with the bond referendum, but would instead look for other ways to fund the projects.

"I think everyone knows if they had this election, it would inflame the issue," he said.

Nevertheless, Kestenbaum said if the County Board decides to nix the bond issue, he doesn't expect the controversy will be pacified.

"I'm not sure that pulling back on the bond issue and proceeding with their plans will calm the waters," he said. "I'm uneasy about it, but, oh well, it's politics."

For recall elections to take place, Washtenaw County residents would need to provide more than 2,000 petition signatures for each com-

Let My Handyman do your Homework!

There's a crack in one of the front porch steps. The hole in the living room ceiling beckons, waiting like a hungry baby bird for that ceiling fan you bought six months ago but still haven't got around to installing—after making the hole in the ceiling, enthusiasm for the whole project, well, ahem---stalled.

Then school started, and on top of having to keep up with the laundry, milk and lunch supplies---that crack in the porch step and that lonely ceiling fan have been pushed to the back burner.

Now the season is changing and with it a whole slew of other little things now need your attention. The gutters may be holding more leaves than the front yard. The crack in the porch step has turned into a fissure and somebody's going to get hurt one of these days if it doesn't get fixed, and when was the last time the furnace filter was replaced and yesterday one of the ceramic tiles came off the wall and landed in the tub, nearly missing your foot while you were taking a shower.

According to My Handyman owner, Dayn Benson, these little annoyances are exactly what have kept him in business for the past 4-1/2 years.

"We fill that nitch. We do all those little projects you don't want to do," Benson smiled. "That stuff that 'grandpa' or 'your sister's boyfriend' say they're going to do but don't always get around to, we come out and take care of it for you."

My Handyman even has a special product for addressing the clogged gutters. They will clean your gutters and install a product to prevent them from getting clogged again, guaranteed for 25 years.

The product is a foamlike substance that installs quickly into existing gutters.

"Compared to Gutter Helmet or some of those other products, Gutter Stuff works even better and sells for half the price," Benson said.

GutterStuff is an anti-fungal, anti-microbial filter that, when placed in the gutter system, allows the water to flow through, but stops debris from clogging the system.

"Leaves land on top of it and just blow off," Benson said. "And we've found that because it's a dark color in the winter time there's fewer problems with ice dams on the roof. It heats up faster from the sun and helps to prevent ice dams."

Moreover, Gutter-Stuff can be installed quickly into existing gutters.

"Nineteen out of twenty times the gutters don't even need to be replaced," Benson said.

My Handyman, based out of Ann Arbor, is staffed with seasoned technicians, who with 25 years of professional experience can tackle any 'honey-do' project in about a half-day's time.

Moreover, there are over 100 My Handyman locations nationwide.

"When I worked in the construction and engineering industry I worked with a lot of contractors," Benson said. "During that time I noticed a real lack in the market for customer service. There were people not showing up for jobs, and at the same time those that did show up were high-pressure sales people. When this opportunity came along the thing that really attracted me was that customer service is a very high priority. Our guys come out to the job on time and they do what they've been hired to do then they leave."

It may seem like a simplistic way to operate a business, but it's proven to be successful for the My Handyman Company.

"Over 70 percent of our customers are repeat customers," he smiled.

Even celebrities are familiar with the My Handyman name. When Oprah Winfrey produces a home makeover show, it's the My Handyman Company that provides the technical expertise.

The Ann Arbor My Handyman has a staff of five professional technicians. One of them, Mike Morton, is a two-time finalist in the National Handyman of the Year Award.

"This is a very high honor for Mike to have earned, and he is the only one who has ever been a two time finalist," Benson said. "The technicians are nominated to this contest and they have to fulfill several criteria."

In addition, at the American Academy Awards, My Handyman is one of the companies included in the celebrity presenter gift bags.

"We are the largest employer of handymen in the country," Benson said.

All it takes to attack that cracked porch step is a phone call. Husband and wife team, Wade and Becky Griffith handle scheduling jobs and customer service.

"It's a relatively easy way to do business. Our customers can usually get an estimate for the job over the phone and usually within a week we can be there to take care of the problem. It mostly depends on the customer's schedule," Benson said.

My Handyman charges for labor and materials, but typically the customer will already have the materials needed to complete a job.

"We can buy the materials needed, but the customer can usually save themselves some expense by purchasing the paint, or door or ceiling fan themselves," Benson said. "We can buy it, but usually people like to pick those things out themselves. We can also tell them what they need too."

Moreover, the My Handyman technicians are available Monday through Friday, and Saturday appointments are also available.

"We guarantee they'll be there on time," he smiled.

In fact, according to a national audit conducted in 2004, the Ann Arbor My Handyman technicians arrive on-time 96-1/2 percent of the time.

"We specialize in those 'honey-do' type of projects. With the holidays around the corner, we're here to take off some of that stress. For instance, we'll hang holiday lights on your house so you have more time for the other stuff," he said. "We really do the stuff you don't want to do or can't do. Once we buried a cat for one of our customers. She just couldn't do it. So we did it."

In addition to being dedicated to quality customer service, Benson also promotes breast cancer awareness with upwards of 33 percent of what he could spend on advertising.

"My wife won the battle against breast cancer a few years ago, so we do whatever we can to help promote awareness of this disease," he said.

Council OKs new car for manager

Steklac chooses Ford Five Hundred over Chevrolet, Chrysler

By Steve Ricci
Staff Writer

Palmer Motor Sales Inc. in Chelsea has made another deal with the city to lease a conservative-looking 2006 Ford Five Hundred sedan for Chelsea City Manager Mike Steklac's use.

Steklac's employment agreement with the city provides a leased vehicle for the city manager.

When Steklac started the job in March 2004, he was provided a leased 2003 Dodge Intrepid.

A three-year lease for the vehicle will expire Saturday.

At an Oct. 11 meeting, the Chelsea City Council approved a three-year lease for the Ford Five Hundred.

The city approached three Chelsea car dealerships, seeking quotes for a replacement car.

Along with Palmer Ford, Faist-Diesing Chevrolet offered a bid for a 2006 Chevrolet Impala and Village Motor Sales Inc. offered a bid for a 2006 Chrysler 300.

Total costs for three-year leases were $12,240 for the Chrysler 300, $11,094.07 for the Ford Five Hundred and 11,054.88 for the Chevrolet Impala.

Each lease allowed 12,000 odometer miles per year.

Quoted monthly lease payments for the three cars were $340, $291.11 and $307.08, respectively.

The Ford Five Hundred lease has a $614.11 down payment, while leases for the other two cars did not require down payments.

The Dodge Intrepid lease cost the city $384.31 per month, meaning the quoted lease prices for the three new cars amounted to less than what the city currently pays.

Steklac, who commented that he tried to keep business in town, said he decided on the Ford Five Hundred after test driving each car.

City Council Trustee Frank Hammer asked which car has the best fuel economy numbers.

Steklac said the Ford had the best gas mileage of the three cars at approximately 21 miles per gallon for city driving and 29 miles per gallon on the highway.

"It's better than the Dodge Intrepid mileage," Steklac said.

Steklac said the Ford Five Hundred's appearance is appropriate for its official capacity.

"The Chrysler 300 looks more like a Bentley than a sedan," he said.

Steklac probably won't be accused of flashing bling-bling with the new Ford.

Many automotive writers have not had kind words for the vehicle's styling, which they say lacks pizzazz.

Ford has rolled out the car, along with the Ford Fusion, as replacements to the venerable Ford Taurus, which won wide acclaim and greatly increased Ford sales in the 1990s but fell out of public favor after a radical 1996 redesign.

Ford will produce its last Taurus next year, ending a 21-year run that is often credited with revolutionizing domestic automotive design.

In his review of the Ford Five Hundred, Pulitzer Prize-winning automotive writer Dan Neil of the Los Angeles Times famously derided the car's appearance.

"There is no soul to this car," Neil wrote, "and it's about as sexy as going through your mother's underwear drawer."

"unless a more economically feasible alternative can be established," and adding third reverse-osmosis unit when treatment capacity needs to be increased, according to the committee's report.

The MDEQ will not allow the city to issue new water permits until the city can increase its water system's firm capacity, a measure of city's ability to supply a historical maximum daily demand level if the city's largest well malfunctions.

If the city were to lose its largest well, it could supply about 1.15 million gallons of water per day to its customers, short of the peak historical level of 1.3 million gallons per day.

Operations at Chelsea's wastewater treatment plant, pictured above, is one issue a citizens' advisory committee is studying in efforts to make water policy recommendations to the Chelsea City Council. Pending a permit from the state, the committee recommended Oct. 11 that the city continue using its reverse-osmosis water softening system.

Wright, who said the city's new water treatment plant must be upgraded immediately, noted that the plant was built on higher ground than the old water treatment plant, demanding pumps to push water with force they were not designed to produce.

"There was no problem with the design of the plant, but there was an oversight with the pumps," he said.

Either water well improvements or building of new wells would allow the city to meet water capacity demands, he said.

The city could supply 2 million gallons of water per day if pumping capacity were increased at all the city's pumps, he said.

Wright emphasized that all recommendations for the water treatment plant are contingent on the discharge permit.

"Everything we say is based on the assumption that the surface water permit (can be obtained)," Wright said.

The water softening system creates discharge water with high phosphorus content.

The MDEQ has prohibited the city from releasing the water into the creek because of concerns that the high phosphorous levels will contribute to excessive algae blooms in the Huron River watershed.

As a stopgap measure, the city has funneled the discharge to its wastewater treatment plant, where the discharge water is hindering plant operations and reducing sewage treatment capacity.

Wright said that if the permit is granted, the committee sees no reason to scrap the reverse-osmosis system, which was plagued with costly malfunctions for a long period after it went on line.

"The citizens decided at one time that they wanted water softening, and we don't have evidence that feeling has changed," Wright said.

In recent months, operation of the water softeners has improved, although city officials still do not know what caused repeated plugging of the water softener membranes.

City Council Trustee Jim Myles said he felt uncomfortable with plans hinging on the discharge permit.

"I'm concerned that the recommendation is contingent on approval of the discharge permit from the state," Myles said. "I would like to have heard a 'Plan B' if there is no permit."

Chelsea City Manager Mike Steklac said he is concerned the MDEQ might find problems with the water softener discharge besides its high phosphorous content.

Wright said if the permit were not granted, there would be "few alternatives" to shutting off the reverse-osmosis system.

Also, according to the committee's report, if the reverse-osmosis system proves to be prohibitively flawed and costly, there are few feasible water softening options.

There is "conflicting information with regard to relative costs" for a limewater softening system, and lime softening would require more operator oversight, adding operational costs that the reverse-osmosis system would not create, the report said.

Capital costs for an ion exchange system of water softening — currently used in Northern Illinois communities, where naturally occurring radioactivity is more abundant — are higher than capital costs for reverse-osmosis systems, the committee reported.

City to purchase two police cars

Palmer Ford makes sale by offering lowest bid to city

By Steve Ricci
Staff Writer

The Chelsea City Council last week approved purchase of two new patrol cars for the police department totaling $37,950.

The request came from Chelsea Police Chief Scott Sumner, who did not attend last week's meeting where the decision was made.

The city budgeted $52,000 for the purchases, including costs for installation of special police equipment in the cars.

Palmer Family Ford-Mercury, 222 S. Main St. in Chelsea, will sell the police cars, two 2006 Ford Crown Victoria police interceptors, to the city.

The new cars, each costing $18,975, will replace two Chelsea Police Department vehicles — a 1999 Ford Crown Victoria with 119,832 odometer miles and a 2001 Crown Victoria with 88,712 miles.

Chelsea City Manager Mike Steklac said at an Oct. 11 City Council meeting that the $18,975 figure is less than a bid the city was offered for a 2004 Ford Crown Victoria, at $19,600.

This year, aside from Palmer Ford, the city also sought bids for the cars from Signature Ford of Central Lake, which had a bid of $19,000 per car, and Jurgensen Ford of Detroit, with a bid of $19,879 per car.

Steklac said using a state bidding process promotes competitive bids. The city used state and Macomb County bid specifications for the new cars.

"If Palmer Motor Sales is able to beat the low competitive bid price, then I would support buying from the local dealership," Steklac wrote in an Oct. 11 memo.

Steklac said the city typically advertises old police vehicles for bids, although he said one of the cars would be turned over for use with the city's electric department.

The Chelsea Police Department uses three cars for patrol officers and one car for Sumner, as well as a truck for the police department's K-9 officer.

Two of the cars average 28,000 miles per year and two average 14,000 miles annually. The K-9 truck also averages 14,000 miles a year.

For maintenance, cars with 28,000 annual miles average two sets of tires per year, 12 oil changes and two brake sets, including rotors, while vehicles with 14,000 annual miles average one set of tires per year, six oil changes and one set of brakes including rotors.

City Council Trustee Jamie Bollinger suggested Sumner attend the meeting to answer questions about the cars.

Steklac said Sumner requested to be absent from the meeting.

POLICE BLOTTER

Chelsea

Larceny

A store employee saw a woman put a child's grocery cart in her van and drive away Oct. 7 at Polly's Country Market, 1255 S. Main St.

The employee provided Chelsea police a description of the vehicle and its license plate number. Police contacted the vehicle owner, a Manchester resident, and informed her there was an eyewitness account and a surveillance video of her stealing the cart.

The woman agreed to meet a police officer at Polly's and return the cart. Although she returned the cart to the store, the woman became belligerent when a supervisor at the store told her she was no longer welcome at Polly's, according to a police report.

At that point, the supervisor told police she wished to press charges against the woman.

Someone stole a portable wet/dry tile saw Oct. 8 from the Mobil gas station, 1629 S. Main St. A worker who was using the saw, which is valued at $100, briefly put it on an outside table and later discovered it was missing.

A gas station surveillance video showed a vehicle pull into the station next to the saw. Two men entered the store. The driver bought cigarettes and a videotape showed him stealing a pack of condoms. The videotape did not show the other man stealing the saw, but police determined the men were suspects in the theft.

Store employees provided police a license plate number for the car. An officer traced the vehicle to an 18-year-old Chelsea resident, who was ticketed as a minor in possession of alcohol by Chelsea police last month. Police left a business card at the man's home. He later returned to the gas station and told the store's co-managers he felt guilty about the theft.

He said his friend, the passenger, showed him the stolen saw after they left the gas station, then threw it out of a window. The man said he looked for the saw the next morning, but couldn't find it. He also admitted to stealing the condoms.

A store manager told police the man compensated the store for the condoms and "made it right" with the owner of the saw. The saw owner told police he did not want to press charges.

The case was closed without the passenger being identified at the request of the saw owner and the co-managers.

Lima Township

Suspicious Situation

A suspicious man was reported loitering around 10 p.m. Sept. 25 at the Clark gas station on Fletcher Road. A caller reported the man's car had been left at Smith's Towing, 11453 Jackson Road, after friends of the man had driven it to the business.

The man's friends told police that they drove him home from the towing yard. The man said he had been taking OxyContin. Police wanted to make sure he was OK.

Disorderly Conduct

A man told police Sept. 18 that several intoxicated people threatened physical harm to him after he escorted a drunk woman to the parking lot from Stiver's Bar, 11 S. Fletcher Road. The subjects had left the scene prior to police arrival. No physical altercation occurred.

Domestic Violence

A woman reported that she had been assaulted by her boyfriend between 8 p.m. Sept. 14 and 8 p.m. Sept. 15. She told police that her boyfriend punched her face after an argument Sept. 14.

The woman did not want to press charges. She said she only to file a report because she was trying to evict her boyfriend from her home.

Police observed the woman had bruising and swelling on her right cheek, two black eyes and bruising on her left forearm. She refused medical treatment.

When contacted by police, the boyfriend refused to be interviewed. Police found that he had two prior convictions for drunken driving, according to a police report.

The woman was issued a Crime Victims Rights form through the mail. Other relatives of the girlfriend provided police with photographs of her injuries. They told police they were concerned for her and her children's safety. Safe House was also contacted. The case is considered open pending prosecutor's review.

Sylvan Township

Drunken Driving

Police stopped a man for speeding at about 10 p.m. Sept. 20 on westbound I-94 near Pierce Road. He had been driving erratically before stopped, police reported.

The man smelled of intoxicants and failed sobriety tests, according to a report. A preliminary breath test found 0.16 percent blood-alcohol level. A level of 0.08 percent or higher is considered legally drunk under state law.

The man was arrested, fingerprinted, photographed and lodged at the county jail. He was charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Scio Township

Larceny

A man reported property was stolen from his vehicle between 9 p.m. Oct. 6 and 9:30 a.m. Oct. 7 while it was parked in the 4300 block of JoAnne Street. A Leatherman tool, a Swiss Army knife and Maglight flashlight were taken, estimated at $150 in value. Police questioned neighbors, but have no leads.

A man reported his wallet stolen from his vehicle between midnight and 4 a.m. Oct. 12 while it was parked in the 3000 block of Tuscany Court. Police found that someone had already used the man's credit cards, which were in the wallet.

The victim was advised to report the incident to the credit card companies.

A man told police his locked car was smashed between 6:30 a.m. Oct. 11 and 4:30 p.m. Oct. 12 and items were missing while it was parked in a public parking lot at Miller Road and M-14. Property damage to the passenger-side vent window is estimated at $150. Stolen items include a briefcase and other items totaling $240.

An unlocked truck was broken into between 9:30 p.m. Oct. 6 and 5:45 a.m. Oct. 7 while the vehicle was parked at a home in the 4000 block of JoAnne Court. A wallet with credit cards and a digital camera were missing. The property is valued at $430.

The credit cards were fraudulently used at a Clark gas station at 601 Main St. in Ann Arbor to purchase cigarettes. Police were able to capture surveillance pictures of the suspect.

A woman reported her shoulder bag containing an i-Pod audio player, a picture phone and a set of keys were stolen from her vehicle Oct. 13 while the vehicle was parked at Panera Bread, 5430 Jackson Road.

Money and a pocketknife were reported stolen from an unlocked truck between 11:30 p.m. Oct. 6 and 6:20 a.m. Oct. 7 while the vehicle was parked in the 5000 block of Green Knolls Lane.

A woman reported her husband's vehicle had been stolen between 8:30 p.m. Oct. 6 and 6:45 a.m. Oct. 7 from the garage of their home in the 4000 block of JoAnne Court. The vehicle was later recovered at about 3:20 p.m. Oct. 7 in the 800 block of West Delhi Road, where it was left abandoned.

The suspect left a cigarette lighter, three cartons of cigarettes and the receipt for the purchase in the vehicle.

The suspect is believed to have stolen a truck and wallet from the same residence.

A van was broken into between 2 p.m. Oct. 7 and 9:30 a.m. Oct. 8 while it was parked in the Covenant Presbyterian Church parking lot, 5171 Jackson Road. The owner said a CB radio, valued at $200.

Indecent Exposure

A man reportedly exposed himself to a woman while she was walking down Pratt Road toward West Delhi Road at about 10 a.m. Sept. 27.

The man was driving a black Jeep. He passed her and then stopped, and jumped out with his jeans around his ankles. The woman said she held up her cell phone and the man jumped back into the vehicle and headed down West Delhi Road toward Dexter-Ann Arbor Road.

The suspect is described as a tall, white man with a medium build. He was last seen wearing jeans and a black T-shirt. He was driving an older model Jeep with a spare tire on the back and a soft top.

According to a Metro Parks officer, the man has exposed himself at both Delhi Park and Hudson Mills Metropark on three occasions.

A man reportedly exposed himself to a woman Sept. 28 at the McDonald's restaurant at 101 Baker Road while he was walking around the parking lot. The suspect is described as a black man, 5-foot-9 to 5-foot-10, in his early 30s, medium build with dark complexion and no facial hair.

Injury Accident

A 23-year-old man was injured in an accident while driving on Huron River Drive, east of Zeeb Road, Oct. 7. Witnesses said they were expecting him at a friend's home. When he did not show up, the witnesses went looking for him and found debris from the crash in the roadway and his vehicle near the railroad tracks.

The driver was found face down outside the vehicle. Witnesses called for police and paramedics. The car had rolled over and the victim had been ejected from the vehicle. Two unopened cans of beer were found in the victim's front pockets. He was taken to University of Michigan Hospital.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Taxpayers taking on the city's problems

I read with interest the article about Chelsea planning to build two new water wells in the Oct. 13 edition of The Chelsea Standard.

I want to know why the city would hire Tetra Tech to draw up a "request for proposal" for the wells. Does the City Council think Tetra Tech would do a better job at this than it did with the reverse-osmosis treatment that never works?

I don't know about other people in the city, but I'm tired of opening my bill every month and seeing it rise and we aren't getting any better water.

I think the moratorium on new housing in the city is a fantastic idea. If people keep building houses and subdivisions in this town, our home value is going to keep going down. Maybe the City Council needs to take a drive around town and see all the houses in the city limits that are for sale — and some have been for sale for over a year.

If people just keep building in the city and don't put a check on construction, nobody will be able to afford to live in the new subdivisions.

Our treatment plant is at capacity, our water supply is at capacity — what's next? Will our garbage bags go up because we need a new dump?

New sidewalks only a Band-Aid solution

As a relatively new resident to Chelsea and a graduate student of urban planning, one thing that I am concerned with is the "walkability" of this town.

The downtown is vibrant and one that has received great praise for its functionality with its residents. However, south of Old US-12 is nothing but a corridor of strip malls, car dealerships and fast-food restaurants. The sidewalks along North Main Street are nothing but a joke because no one has the opportunity to walk them unless they parked in the Pamida or former Polly's parking lot.

I'd like to know who is walking these sidewalks because, in my nearly two years of living here, I have seen virtually no one walking them unless they are residents who force themselves to do so.

No one lives south of Old US-12 except a few condos and a couple of homes south of the fairgrounds.

I am for sidewalks created at any opportunity because that gives me hope that more people want to walk, not drive to their destinations.

What this town needs is more mixed-use developments encouraging pedestrian traffic, which can only contribute to the continued success to this great downtown area.

In my opinion, we are a town conflicted with a great, vibrant downtown, surrounded by urban sprawl dictated by the highway-convenience mentality that will ultimately choke Chelsea and Sylvan Township into the "Anywhere USA" that I've witnessed throughout this country.

We must focus on what is special about this town and why people want to come and visit Chelsea.

Frankly, I am embarrassed when I first arrive into town via Interstate 94 from the south and presented with the corporate sprawl that dictates our zoning and land-use policies.

We must be better than that and show Michigan and the country at large how great communities can grow in a fashion that supports what has made it so successful in the first place.

We only need to look at our history to understand why we come to visit and live in Chelsea. Historic preservation and smart city planning is needed to overcome such obstacles. A sidewalk along M-52 and Old US-12 is only a Band-Aid to a wider, much greater problem.

Thief stole teepee from farm museum

Waterloo Area Historical Society held its annual Pioneer Day Oct. 9 at the Waterloo Farm Museum. Again this year, I set up my grandson's 12-foot high teepee, which my wife and I made of heavy canvas.

The authentic design, with operable smoke flaps, permitted a camp fire to be built in the center much to the amazement of Pioneer Day visitors.

I, along with several family members, was involved in demonstrating outdoor cooking, grape-juice making, sausage making and caring for chickens, rabbits and a young calf. At cleanup time, our vehicles were jammed full and I did not have room in my truck for the teepee covering and a dozen or so poles.

I returned to the farm museum with an empty truck the next morning to take down the teepee and it was gone. It had been stolen during the night.

The long poles were tied at the top with heavy rope and evidently the not-so-bright thief couldn't figure out how to quickly steal the poles. All that he needed to do was to push the pole assembly over onto the ground and remove the rope. It takes all of two minutes.

Since he has to now steal and shape some slender, straight saplings, it may be a while before you see the teepee set up in someone's back yard. More than likely, the canvas covering will lie in a heap and rot. What a shame.

Column should have said 'died of suicide'

Thank you for your column, "Mother of suicide victim was brave," which was published Oct. 13. I, too, am a mother whose adult child died of suicide at age 36. It was a day I will never forget.

My son was married, had a 10-year-old son and a child on the way. He was a child of God and a faithful member of his church and community. However, he had many stresses in life and suffered depression and migraine headaches.

When my son died, my sister, who was an occupational therapist at a mental-health clinic, shared what the doctors had told them. Suicide is a disease that acts like cancer. The negative reasoning eats away and destroys the positive reasoning, so that eventually the victim can only see what's wrong and allows no window for anything that is good.

The negative brain cells eat up or deny the positive cells and victims live in a secretive ven, not allowing others to know their deepest thoughts. This explains why sometimes suicide happens right after someone has been with a doctor, and the doctor neither saw nor heard warning of the planned event.

Surely, we must become more aware of the causes of suicide so we can become more alert to detecting people who need help. Also, we need to be more understanding of those family members who suffer such loss, which leads me to the reason I wrote this letter.

Twice, in the first three paragraphs of the column, the editor used the words "committed suicide." Would you say that a friend who died from cancer "committed cancer"?

There was a day when suicide was a crime of murder, and people who died of suicide were doomed for hell and would not be buried in a Christian cemetery. Therefore "committed suicide" was simply saying, "committed murder".

Today, with our better understanding of mental health, we know that most suicide acts are a result of depression, bipolar disorder and/or other types of mental-health problems. Therefore, this person, like the cancer patient, is unable to choose life over death.

As a mother of a suicide victim, when I hear or read "committed suicide," it causes me great pain. Pain for all the mothers, the children, the spouses, the fathers, the siblings and friends of those who have lost someone they love to this terrible disease.

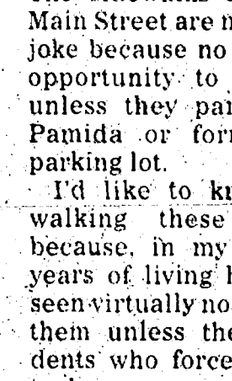
STREET TALK

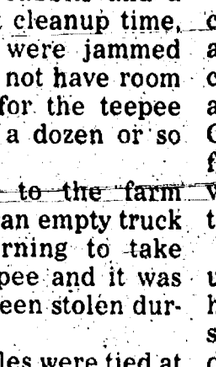
By Steve Ricci

Do you think there are enough sidewalks or walking trails in the area?



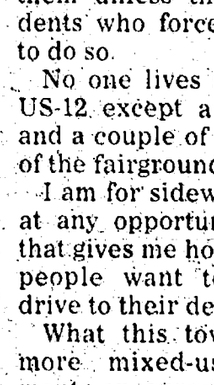
"No. I believe, particularly by Pierce Lake Elementary School and the Chelsea High School side of Freer Road, there needs to be sidewalks. We could also use a bike trail along the railroad tracks between Chelsea and Dexter."

John Temple
Chelsea



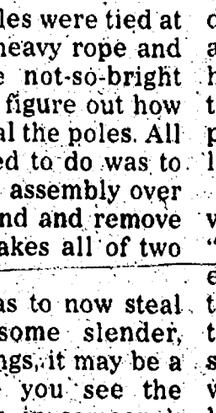
"I think with the town expanding, we probably need more sidewalks. I think it's important Chelsea maintains a kid-friendly atmosphere. Sidewalks would be helpful for kids on bikes and Rollerblades."

Jan Seude
Chelsea



"We could use more sidewalks, at least to get to the shopping areas on the south side of town. I'd like to see a trail system connecting Ann Arbor to Chelsea, if someone could come up with a whole trail plan and finance it."

Ginger Haugen
Chelsea



"I enjoy walking trails, but I just think there are other community needs that are greater. My church group is putting a new roof on a neighbor's house. Dexter has a Christmas in April program, but Chelsea doesn't."

Rising gas prices need closer look

The Michigan Public Service Commission says natural gas prices will climb about 50 percent this season, so I am hoping for a mild winter.

And I am secretly thinking global warming might not be all that bad after all. At least for Michigan residents.

Thankfully, state utilities do not profit on the natural gas they sell us — they make their bucks on the "delivery service" — so they can't price gouge on the product itself.

Gov. Jennifer Granholm last week reminded the state's natural gas suppliers that they'll be under the magnifying glass during the coming season. The Michigan Public Service Commission will be watching to make sure price increases are reasonable, appropriate and legal.

This is the same Granholm who joined with 27 other state governors in a non-partisan bid to get Congress to provide energy assistance funds for the states that will need them the most in the next months. The measure was defeated in the U. S. Senate by two votes.

I know what you're saying: "There he goes again, bringing national politics into this."

But, hey, you have to admit that the contrast is compelling. For example, the federal government gives us lip service about looking into price gouging at the gas pumps months after our tanks and wallets are dry. But nothing happens. We're told: "No evidence of price gouging was found." But I ask, "How and by whom?"

Meanwhile, the governor is doing the right kinds of things here in our back yard.

In September, she called the president of Marathon Oil and asked him to lower Marathon's gasoline prices. He promptly lowered them by 40 cents a gallon.

Of course, Granholm can do that because she's not in bed with the petroleum industry.

ROY SCHMIDT

The Big Oil Ten made more than $100 billion in profits last year. Every time they raise their prices, they tell us that supplies are tight because we don't have the domestic refining capacity.

Case in point: This winter's coming price increases are blamed on the damage hurricanes Katrina and Rita did to refineries in Louisiana and Texas.

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Deer-car accident rates high

Washtenaw County rates second highest in southeast Michigan

By Heather Connor
Staff Writer

While automotive crashes with deer are a problem across the state, Scio Township has the second highest rate of crashes of all communities across southeast Michigan.

According to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, of the 6,196 vehicle-deer crashes that occurred in southeast Michigan in 2004, 150 occurred in Scio Township, second to Rochester Hills in Oakland County at 154.

In Washtenaw County, 1,283 of the vehicle-deer crashes statewide occurred in 2004. The county ranks second to Oakland County in overall crashes, according to a SEMCOG press release. Oakland County had 1,551 deer crashes last year.

In 2004, a vehicle-deer crash occurred every 1.4 hours, according to the press release. While the greatest number of overall crashes occurred between 3 and 6 p.m., the greatest number of deer crashes occurred between 6 and 9 p.m.

In general, the largest percentage of all crashes involving deer occurred between 3 and 6 a.m. (14 percent), followed by 9 p.m. to midnight (9.1 percent).

About 80 percent of all car-deer crashes occur on two-lane roads between dusk and dawn, according to SEMCOG.

The figures were based on crash data received by SEMCOG from the Michigan Department of State Police, Criminal Justice Information Center.

Deer crashes are on the rise as a result of rapid development in previously rural areas, according to SEMCOG and the Michigan Deer Crash Coalition, a group that works to mitigate both the frequency and severity of car-deer crashes through public information, driver education and applied research.

The statewide deer herd is four times larger than in 1970 and 10 times larger in Southeast Michigan, which also contributes to the increase in crashes. Deer crashes have increased from 48,000 in 1993 to nearly 63,000 in 2004. The peak in the last 10 years was in 1996 with 68,233, according to SEMCOG.

Drivers should use caution to avoid hitting a deer. The Michigan Deer Crash Coalition suggests drivers stay aware, awake, alert and sober.

Car-deer crashes occur year round, but are most common in the spring and fall. Drivers also should heed deer-crossing and speed-limit signs.

The Michigan Deer Crash Coalition also advises that deer are most active at dawn and dusk. Deer often travel in single file, so if one crosses the road it's likely more will follow. Drivers are advised to slow down when they see a deer in the roadway.

If a crash is unavoidable, the Michigan Deer Crash Coalition advises drivers not to swerve. Drivers should brake firmly, hold on to the steering wheel and stay in their lane, bringing their vehicle to a controlled stop.

Statistics show that most driver injuries and deaths occur when drivers swerve to avoid the deer and instead hit a tree or another vehicle, according to the Michigan Deer Crash Coalition.

Motorcyclists are especially vulnerable to deer crashes, according to SEMCOG. More than 80 percent of all crashes with deer and motorcycles caused rider injury. Deer crashes comprise 40 percent of all types of motorcycle crashes in 2004.

After a crash, the Michigan Deer Crash Coalition advises drivers to pull off the road and turn on the vehicle's emergency flashers. Drivers should not attempt to remove a deer from the roadway unless they are convinced it is dead. An injured deer's hooves are sharp and can easily hurt a driver.

The crash should be reported to the nearest police station that will arrange to remove the animal. The police or a Department of Natural Resources conservation officer may issue the driver a permit to keep the deer.

If drivers do not want to keep the animal, they can donate it to the Michigan Sportsmen Against Hunger for use at food banks and shelters. The group can be reached by calling 1-313-278-3663 or online at www.sportsmenagainsthunger.org.

For more information about the Michigan Deer Crash Coalition and deer-car crashes, visit the SEMCOG Web site at www.semcog.org/tranplan/trafficsafety/mdcc.

We need to be more compassionate and deliberate in our speech to use the words "died of suicide."

Let's allow God to be the judge of this act, for only God knows the suffering these people endured. As a pastor, I do not believe we can assist a family in their healing until we help to remove the stigma from this terrible disease.

At the same time, the petroleum industry has been gradually shutting down refineries for 30 years. In that time, they have closed more than half of them. (Although, to be fair, total refining capacity has dropped only a bit.) There has not been a major new refinery built in the United States since 1976.

A telephone call from Granholm won't fix this one. She might dial up Lee Raymond, chairman and CEO of Exxon, and urge him to invest some of those record profits in some domestic refineries, but she would have more luck asking him to invest in horizontal drilling under the Great Lakes.

Raymond took home more than $38 million in total compensation last year from Exxon, plus he cashed $43 million in stock options, and still has $65 million in unexercised options stashed away in his strongbox.

Raymond would tell Granholm that refineries are unprofitable. He would tell her that it's too much trouble to build them in a way that safeguards citizens, wildlife, waterfowl, game, waterways, air and crops. And so on. He would tell her that it's easy enough getting our oil from refineries in the Middle East.

What he would not tell her is that when supplies are low, demand is high, and domestic refining capacity is the bottleneck, Big Oil can redouble its profits.

Maybe I'll buy a Hummer, convert it into solar power, and live in it until spring. Oh, and pray for a little global warming.

vator. It's very important to them. They need a place to dump their grain."

In March, rumors surfaced that Chelsea Milling Co. was eyeing the grain storage facility for its Jiffy Mix production.

Bachmann has been managing the facility since 1986, when it was Honniger's Grain, and became a part owner with Lansing Grain Co. in 1999. The facility, serviced by the Norfolk Southern Railroad, has a capacity of 675,000 bushels and handles corn, soybean and wheat.

"We dry it, store it and ship it out," Bachmann said.

Corn is the biggest local crop, harvested in October, and much of it goes to livestock and poultry feed. Soybeans, another fall harvest, make up the second biggest crop, and heads for Canada or to processors in the United States.

Wheat usually comes in July and August, Bachmann said.

"Michigan used to grow white winter wheat, for pastry flour, but with global warming it's not suitable for that anymore," he said.

The facility handles mostly red winter wheat, which is sent by rail to flour mills around the country.

Bachmann said farmers shouldn't notice any change.

"Our staff is the same — four of us are full time and we usually have a couple of part-timers, and we're running about the same way," he said.

This is a particularly busy time of year, he said. For 10 months, the elevator operates from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, but is open extended hours in October and November with staff working double shifts.

Bachmann, a city councilman in Blissfield who drives 46 miles each day to work, spent some of his childhood on a farm and studied agricultural technology at Michigan State University. He joined the Farm Bureau in 1964.

"I've been in the grain business for 41 years," he said. "I came here to Chelsea Grain in 1986, and thought I'd be here a year or so. I really enjoy it here, and enjoy working with the local farmers. It has been a good marriage."

RECALL

missioner targeted for recall.

Numbers of signatures needed per commissioner would be based on votes in the last gubernatorial election per district, meaning the required numbers would vary by district.

Recall groups first must get petition language approved by an election commission for each district involved before circulating petitions, which would need to be gathered within 90 days after the approval.

No county commissioner can be recalled during the first or last six months of his or her term.

The deadline to turn in recall petitions for a Feb. 28, 2006, recall election is Nov. 25.

The deadline for petitions for a May 2, 2006, recall election is Jan. 27, 2006.

The last opportunity for a recall election would be Aug. 8, 2006, with a petition deadline of May 5, 2006.

Should commissioners get recalled, political parties would nominate new candidates directly to ensure that new commissioners could be elected quickly.

If any commissioners were recalled in a May 2 vote, for example, Kestenbaum said he expects an August election would be scheduled to replace the commissioners.

Kestenbaum said he believes residents opposing the county plan are not opposed to jail expansion as much as they are opposed to cuts in road patrols.

Scio Township Trustee Chuck Ream, spokesman for the S.O.S. Committee, and Ypsilanti Township Clerk Brenda Stumbo, also a member of the committee, said Monday that they do not know of any organized recall effort.

A recall campaign would target individual commissioners to shift the voting majority of the County Board into one that opposes cuts to sheriff's deputies, Ream said.

Three commissioners would be targeted for recall in such an effort, he said. One of those commissioners would be Stephen Solowczuk, R-District 3, Ream said, adding that the two others would represent rural constituencies, although he said he doesn't know who those commissioners would be.

A look at a county map might provide clues, however. Commissioners Martha Kern, D-District 2, and Wesley Prater, D-District 4, both represent rural areas.

Kern has consistently voted for the sheriff's cuts, while Prater reversed his vote supporting the cuts at a Sept. 7 County Board meeting.

County Commissioner Mark Ouimet, R-District 1, is an unlikely target for recall. Ouimet, who represents the northwest portion of the county, has been a vocal minority on the County Board opposing the cuts.

Ream said he is advocating a 0.25- or 0.28-mill proposal to fund a new jail and courthouse, which he believes would appeal to both city and rural county voters.

"If (the County Board) keeps (a new millage) low and reasonable and allows some community input into the process, some citizens would vote for it," he said, adding that some officials in the Sheriff's Office think another millage might work.

"If everyone feels excluded from the input in the beginning, they will never accept county millages."

For his part, County Administrator Bob Guenzel said earlier this month that he does not think another jail millage proposal would pass.

Ream said he doesn't think the county would vote to rescind the current bond issue and then pursue another one.

"If they did that, people would be so angry," he said. "That would be the last straw."

Backers of recall campaigns could be looking at a longer-range picture.

Although municipalities will have to pay 6-percent annual cost increases for sheriff's patrols, county sheriff's subsidies will not end until 2008.

"By that time, I think (recall supporters) could have a majority of the County Commission," Ream said. "They seem to think it's possible to flip these seats."

CHELSEA-DEXTER SCHOOLS

Student count down in Chelsea School District

Finance director says district will lose $270,000 in revenue

By Heather Connor
Staff Writer

Both the Chelsea and Dexter school districts have fewer students than school officials had predicted earlier this year when drafting their budgets for the school year.

According to official head counts taken for the state Sept. 28, the Dexter School District has 45 new students this year, fewer than the 50 the district initially estimated.

Larry Cobler, president of the Dexter school board, said the lower number of new students will not significantly impact the district's budget. The district calculated a budget with an estimated $100 increase in per-pupil funding from the state. The actual increase was $175.

The count actually balanced out the budget with a lower predicted state funding increase, Cobler said.

Last year, the district had 3,481 students. This year it has 3,526. Cobler said he is encouraged by the increase in numbers.

"Being short by (the estimated) five is a lot closer than last year's estimates," Cobler said.

Chelsea schools fell short by 40 students overall, according to Teresa Zigman, executive director of business and finance for Chelsea schools.

Although counts were not to be finalized until later this week, Zigman said the district counted 2,824 students Sept. 28. The district may be down by at least six students based on a special education review, she said.

Last year, the district had 2,865 students, Zigman said. As a result of having 40 fewer students this year, the district will take a hit of about $270,000, she said.

The count of 2,824 students is likely overstated at this time, as an official count will not be taken until building work papers are examined and all buildings are visited, Zigman said.

Residency and other enrollment issues were followed up on Monday at each building, Zigman said.

The district maintained a sense of optimism during the uncertain budget times, Zigman said.

"We were trying to be somewhat optimistic with all of the new building happening in Chelsea and predicted that we would stay even from last September, but that didn't happen," she said.

Passing the Banner

The Dexter Kiwanis Club hosted a ceremonial banquet Oct. 11 honoring Fred Model as the new governor of the Michigan Kiwanis district. The event was capped by the passing of the governor's banner, which will be displayed this year at every meeting of the Dexter Kiwanis. Model now oversees more than 200 Kiwanis clubs in the state. The banquet was held at the Polo Fields Country Club in Scio Township, with past Kiwanis governor Charles Kincaid of Owosso (left) presenting the banner to Model. Also pictured are Dexter Kiwanis President Joe Medrano and Owosso Kiwanis Club President Paul Kruger. Model is the third governor from Dexter and is the 89th person to serve the Michigan District of Kiwanis as governor.

STATE

Byrnes supports farm legislation

State Representative Pam Byrnes, D-52nd District, recently supported House Bill 4257, which aims to protect Michigan farms from encroaching suburban sprawl.

"Family farming is a great American tradition that is still alive in Michigan, but it needs help," Byrnes said in a press release.

"We are fortunate to have the third-most agriculturally diverse state in the nation. But we're at a crossroads. Development removes some 75,000 acres of Michigan farmland per year, and most of those acres come from mid-size family farms."

House Bill 4257, otherwise known as the Farmland Preservation Bill, allows farmers to enter into special

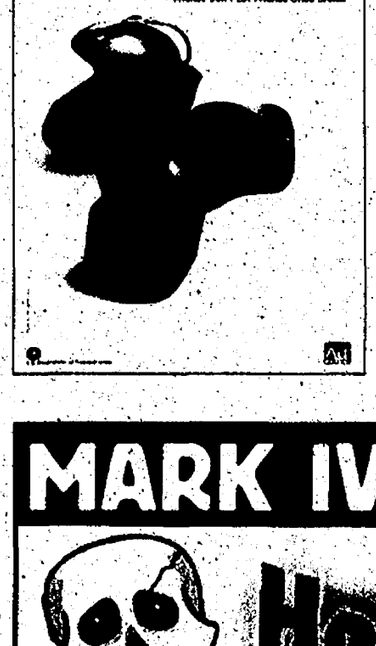
Grants available to help kids, seniors

The Rosebud Foundation is interested in funding projects that will improve the well being of children, youth and seniors in Washtenaw County, and will accept children and youth project applications through Feb. 24 and senior citizen project applications through next fall.

The foundation, based in Dexter, welcomes grant applications from tax-exempt Washtenaw County organizations. Applications for start-up or short-term funding for innovative projects that address new needs and/or demonstrate new solutions to old problems are encouraged.

To receive a grant application packet or to submit a completed application, organizations should contact Rosebud Foundation Administrator Brooke Tracy at 2801 Baker Road, Dexter, MI, 48130, e-mail brookeyt1@msn.com or call 424-0727.

To achieve the foundation's goal of developing the maximum potential of children and youth, and improving the quality of life for senior citizens, grantmaking is directed in the program areas of education, arts and culture, as well as health and human services and personal development.



The family of Bernice Miller wish to thank everyone who helped to make the celebration of her 90th birthday a special day. She received love and memories that will last forever.

agricultural districts to keep their land in agricultural use.

Property owners could claim a credit against either the single business tax or income tax. In exchange for the tax credit, farmers would agree to keep their land out of development for 20 years. The goal is to preserve 200,000 acres each year.

Byrnes also supported an amendment to expand eligibility to protect smaller family farms. The measure was meant to help even the playing field between small and large farms. The amendment failed along party lines.

Citing a recent study completed by Michigan State University, Byrnes pointed to the good news: Michigan's small family farms, which have fewer than $10,000 in annual sales and about 60 acres on average, are on the rise.

Church collecting coat donations

Chelsea Free Methodist Church has launched 40 Days of Community, a program to help the needy.

As part of the program, each Bible study group at the church is participating in an outreach project that will benefit the community and surrounding area.

One of the groups has chosen to collect and distribute gently used coats. Mary Radu, a member of the group, is a teacher in a low-income school district and has expressed a need of her students and their families to have warm coats for the winter.

The church will accept coats of any size, infant through adult. The coats should be clean and in good condition.

Donations may be dropped off through tomorrow at Winans Jewelry Store, In Chelsea Hair Design, Divine Java and Chelsea Hardware.

Janet Kreiling shows off blankets she prepared for soldiers in Iraq as part of the "Blankets of Hope" program through Soldier's Angels, a nonprofit group that sends cards, letters and care packages to soldiers serving overseas.

Care packages for soldiers may contain many things that can be packed into a small box, such as candy, non-perishable snacks, books and DVDs.

Blankets of Hope

Nonprofit group brings care packages to soldiers

Staff Writer

Janet Kreiling of Scio Township wanted to do something for the American soldiers fighting in Iraq.

More than a year ago, Kreiling sought out a way to find soldiers who needed encouragement through cards, letters and care packages. That's when she discovered Soldiers' Angels, a nonprofit organization that ensures that no soldier is forgotten while fighting in dangerous situations, such as the war in Iraq.

Soldiers' Angels was founded in 2003 by Patti Patton-Bader, a mother of a soldier stationed in Iraq who wrote home to tell her that some soldiers didn't receive any mail or support from home.

She contacted friends and family who would write to a solider. Within a few months, the Soldiers' Angels Foundation became an Internet-based community with many volunteers sending letters and care packages to wounded and deployed soldiers.

Kreiling is currently writing to her third and fourth soldiers — an airman and a National Guardsman — since joining the organization. Her first two have been sent home since she first began her involvement.

"Soldiers' Angels really supports any soldier, airman or Marine who is serving overseas," Kreiling said.

The group encourages members to send at least one letter a week and a care package once a month to their adopted soldiers. Kreiling said the effort is not expensive or very time consuming.

Care packages do not require international postage rates because they are sent to military posts within the United States and then forwarded to the soldiers, Kreiling said. She has stuffed as much as 12 pounds worth of goods into a flat-rate box, which usually costs about $7.70.

"It doesn't cost a lot. You can do as much or as little as what you have time for," she said. "Those guys and women appreciate absolutely everything so much. They are so worried that they are forgotten."

A question she is often asked by people who join the program is what should one say in a letter. Kreiling said she talks about everyday things, like her garden and her son's injured ankle.

"Most people just write about their daily lives," Kreiling said. "Most of the guys over there are grateful to get anything from home."

Kreiling said once she sent her National Guardsman six pages of nothing but jokes because she couldn't think of anything to write about. He wrote back and told her he appreciated getting the jokes and sharing them with others in his unit.

There are many different programs that Soldiers' Angels coordinates. One is Blankets of Hope, a program in which volunteers make blankets for soldiers who are wounded and are in a military hospital. Kreiling said the blankets are easy to make and very much appreciated.

Although she cannot share the names of her soldiers, according to the rules of the Soldiers' Angels Foundation, Kreiling received this compliment from a soldier she sent a blanket to:

"Thank you so very much for the quilt you made for us wounded/injured soldiers. It has kept me warm on many nights this far. I shall kept it with me and cherish the thought that someone like you took the time to help me out."

Other programs Soldiers' Angels coordinates include teams of volunteers that send e-mail and another that collects laptop computers to send to soldiers so they can communicate with their families.

Kreiling compared the comfort of a secluded, wooded area to the feelings that care packages and letters provide to soldiers in combat.

When the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11, 2001, occurred, Kreiling drove to a camp her seventh-grade son was attending. The normalcy the group found among the chaos the rest of the country was going through was soothing, she said.

"That's what our letters do for our guys out there," she said.

Soldiers and volunteers are not restricted from contacting each other once the soldier returns home, but most volunteers do not hear from them after they return, Kreiling said.

It's not that they are not grateful, but most are young and lead busy lives supporting their families, she said.

"It's enough knowing that you're able to help someone out a little bit who's doing so much for the rest of us," Kreiling said. "If I can do that for somebody — hey, cheap thrills on my part."

Exchange student finds second home in Chelsea

Hannah Schindler brought to area as part of the Youth for Understanding program

By Crystallee Crain
Special Writer

You don't have to have a newborn baby to add a new addition to your family.

Youth for Understanding, a national exchange student organization, brings thousands of students to the United States from around the world to study and live with volunteer host families.

With the start of the new school year under way, Chelsea High School students will get to know Hannah Schindler of Germany. Her American family, Tim and Lori Bowden, are hoping she learns how American teenagers live.

"My wife took her to the Chelsea fair," Tim Bowden said. "She got to see a demolition derby. They don't have that in Germany."

Since her arrival Aug. 18, Schindler has been acclimating herself, joining the high school tennis team and playing the flute in the marching band.

"She's doing pretty well, making friendships in band and on the tennis team," Bowden said.

The family says they enjoy having another kid in the house. They also like having a positive role model for their daughter.

"We thought it would be good for her to meet intelligent, young, independent women from around the world," Bowden said.

Stephanie Gunther, field director for Youth for Understanding, said the foreign exchange students are in the United States to connect with their host families and experience American culture.

"Students truly become a part of the family," she said.

Youth for Understanding got its start 54 years ago in Ann Arbor and brings more than 2,000 students from around the world to live and study in the United States. Offices are now located in a number of cities in Michigan, including Bridgeport and Detroit.

Gunther said the exchange program is eye-opening for the students and the American host families.

"You realize just how small the world is," she said.

Chelsea High School has housed at least one exchange student since 1977, she said.

About 93 percent of all the host families report to the organization that they enjoy learning about another culture and sharing their culture, according to its Web site.

In addition, 90 percent say they increased their understanding of the differences and similarities between their exchange student's culture and their own culture, and 86 percent recommend hosting an exchange student to their friends and relatives.

WATERLOO TOWNSHIP

Cranes of Waterloo Festival set Saturday

The Eddy Discovery Center, located in the Waterloo Recreation Area near Chelsea, will hold the Cranes of Waterloo Festival Oct. 22.

The event, set from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., celebrates one of the greatest birding spectacles in Michigan, which annually takes place in the Waterloo area, as thousands of sandhill cranes gather in the farm fields and marshes before leaving for wintering areas in Florida and neighboring Gulf states.

"The cranes feed together in cornfields during the day and fly back to roost in small flocks in nearby wetlands at night," park interpreter Kathy Kavanagh said in a press release. "It's truly a memorable sight to see hundreds of these graceful big birds flying overhead."

All activities are free. Programs include a beehive demonstration from 10:30 a.m. to noon, several guided walks throughout the day, a live small-mammals and birds-of-prey exhibit and a kids' gardening program.

In addition, activities that focus on the sandhill crane, including a photography exhibit, video presentation, musical demonstration and a guided sandhill crane tour that begins at 3 p.m.

The Eddy Discovery Center is located at 17030 Bush Road, between Pierce and McClure roads, in Chelsea. A state park motor vehicle permit is required for entry. Permits are $6 for the day.

For more information, contact the Eddy Discovery Center at 475-3170.

WRITING MATTERS

Poetry and prose from the students in Chelsea

Winding Skies

Chance Seymour

I wish I could fly across the crimson sky.

Laugh out loud with the angels of grace.

Touch the houses made of soft cloud.

Smell abundantly the fragrant fast flowing air.

Taste the humid salt air of the ocean.

Feel wind flowing like blood through my veins.

Wonder if I will be able to find home.

Hope I will not suddenly stop and fall.

Fight the powerful winds of friction slowing me.

Speak under my breath, "If only I could"

Speaking True

Kate Lewis-Lakin

I wish I could see beyond my sight. I try to always do what's right.

I laugh at every joke I hear. I cry to make my head more clear.

I dream of a world with no more hate; I forget sometimes and end up late.

I feel I can make a dent if I try; I imagine myself being able to fly.

I pretend I get it when I don't have a clue; I fight for equality between me and you.

I question the truth, as well as the lies; I see the world through two bright eyes.

I don't like those who silence me; I want to be all that I can be.

I hope to succeed in all that I do; I speak of myself, and all this is true.

Sweet Emotion

Hannah Boshoven

I laugh and cry, hope and dream. I want you to know who I really am.

The person inside screaming out loud, I taste sweet emotion building up.

My reflection in the glassy water. Please don't judge me by what you see.

Questions build up inside my mind. All needing an answer, whole and real like a cloud of snow swirling around.

Emotion is a powerful thing. I can't find myself through the thicket. Calm water a deep shade of blue. A thunderstorm angry, it seems, at me.

I need you to help me find myself. But first you need to understand who I really am.

The Lion

Walking proud through the plains, the lion is like a king.

With its crown of fur glistening in the sun and its throne of grass, this is its home.

After a nap, the lion goes freely to roam in the land that he claims as his own.

His muscles ripple as he tackles his prey. With pride in his eyes, he sits down again to start his meal.

His family comes from behind and hungrily joins the feast.

Lazily back to their home, all five of them go. The cubs joyfully play until the sun sets.

And they all lay down in their bed of grass. It's the end of the day and time to rest.

Trapped in Rage

My theme came up to my mind when I thought of the world today and all that is going on. Those things include terrorists, fighting, religion and the effect on nature from the world.

All these things are too much for a young teen to take.

Through this project, I have learned about the effects the world has on me. These things are displayed on the news, in magazine articles and on the Internet. All the things surround me, so that I can't control anything.

In my project, I made a composition of magazine pictures and put them together to display my emotion. I learned that making a unique form by cutting the picture adds more meaning.

I cut the magazine pictures wavy or jagged to display it better. When studying the history of art and looking at pictures by artists, I learned that when there is an important part of the composition, there are some things leading to it.

For example, in the Picasso picture of a portrait of himself and the woman, Picasso put his portrait in a picture frame to display the emotion better and to put focus on it.

When putting the pictures together, it was the most challenging part of the work. I had to make a composition of them while keeping balance, contrast and movement. Eventually, I worked it out so that everything fit together.

In the beginning, I didn't expect to make the whole thing out of magazine clips. However, with this change, I think it displayed my emotion a lot better.

I feel that I was successful in expressing my idea because I put things on my picture that are from around the world, and the things that are the current events in this world today.

Nickolas Forsch

My work displays how the things going on in the world are all around this young teenager and how the things are burning him out from the inside. The teen just wants it all to go away, but it's too much to control.

The emotion is this young teen is trapped in rage. This is important to me because I am tired of hearing about all the crime, war and how people affect nature, like pollution and habitat destruction.

I chose it because so much is going on around the world to this very day and I cannot control it. In order to express my idea visually, I put soldiers representing war, birds and animals for nature, city for pollution and crime and people fighting to represent man vs. man. These things are either on the teen or looking at him.

I made the size of the boy large, covering almost all of the paper to make it seem like he is the world and all these things are directly on him. Then, in order to represent the hope that is still in the boy, I put the lady praying and I made that centered and a focus point so that people get the idea that it is important.

I put the ball of fire in the middle so that it is also a focus point. It represents the burning of all the things around him. I made it look like it was burning out of him by cutting into the paper and fringing the edges.

After I made my composition, I put bright colors around some things to make them stand out and to add more intensity. I also did it to add some balance throughout the picture. All these things related to my emotion and described something in their own way.

The Optimist

At times I question my stability. I wonder if I'm sane or not. I hope to gain the ability to someday connect the dots.

Emily Cote

I've been known to have a crazy wisdom, a peculiar intellectual side. Not a different person I've become; just a different guide, sitting in this endless isolation, lost in my own mind, waiting for salvation. Satisfaction is sometimes hard to find.

Looking at the situation, the way it really is, I came to the realization that life is just a quiz about a lesson that we've never been taught. Instead, we follow our intuition. That way we learn a lot.

So as I carry on this long expedition, I try to live a pleasant lifestyle. Loving every twist and turn, making every day worth my while.

Natu

Matt Bach

Trees and birds
Very peaceful
Nature is so cool
The sound of the wind
Running through my ears
Brushing across my face
Making ripples in the water
Everything is calm
Time has slowed down
The leaves rustle in the wind
All I can hear is nature
Some people don't understand
How peaceful it is
It's so calming
The sounds are a perfect lullaby
I like the feeling
Of being alone in nature
It gives you time
To reflect
Everything is perfect
There are no worries
All you have to do is relax
O I wish I could just sleep
In the soft hands of nature
Everything is quiet and peaceful
I wish I could stay here forever

The Life of a Moody Teenager

"Do you think I'm fat?"

"I'm going to fail the history test!"

"Should I go out with Mike?"

"I really want to break the 200 meter record!"

Just by glancing at the first instant messages that pop up on my computer screen, you start to see what life is like for middle-schoolers.

No longer is there just the pressure to pass every class. Now there are the expectations to get a 4.0 every marking period, be a sports star, look picture-perfect, even on a Monday morning, and to have a boyfriend who could rival Ken.

These pressures all leading us to fear, failure and the idea of not measuring up.

Don't be fooled, middle school is not all hard. It's also where we mature from flower-print jumpers to hip-huggers paired with American Eagle tops, and from one plus one to x and y, and where my dreams have gone from meeting Barbie to being a top journalist and breaking a track record.

My house is no longer filled with dolls, dresses and the knowledge that I'll never call home late. Now, Seventeen, algebra homework and the non-arguable fact that I borrow my sister's clothes fill my house.

Luckily, my family and I have not grown further apart just because I have become a "moody teenager," but instead have stayed close through this emotional time in my life.

Olivia DeTroyer

Middle school is not an easy joy ride, nor is it a boat full of tears. It's a not-so-perfect mix of laughter, tears, friends, boyfriends and bullies.

Bulldogs maul Pioneers

Chelsea puts it all together in win over Ann Arbor

By Don Richter

Adam Connell knew he had to make a play. The junior halfback and kick returner for Chelsea was well aware of the importance of last Friday's game against host Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Connell knew the Bulldogs needed a win to keep their state playoff hopes alive, and he knew getting off to a good start — on the road, in front of a packed and rowdy Pioneer crowd — was crucial for Chelsea.

Connell also proved he knew how to run. With the middle of the field parting like the proverbial Red Sea, Connell sprinted, untouched, 93 yards for a touchdown on the game's opening kickoff, sending the Bulldog faithful to its feet and quieting the Pioneer fans.

"I could have drove a truck through it," Connell said of the gaping hole created on the kickoff by his teammates. "My blockers did a great job for me. I just tried to read their blocks. It (touchdown) gave us momentum."

With the early lead, Chelsea (5-3) went on to post an impressive 41-28 victory over Pioneer (6-2).

The Bulldogs were clicking on all cylinders against Ann Arbor.

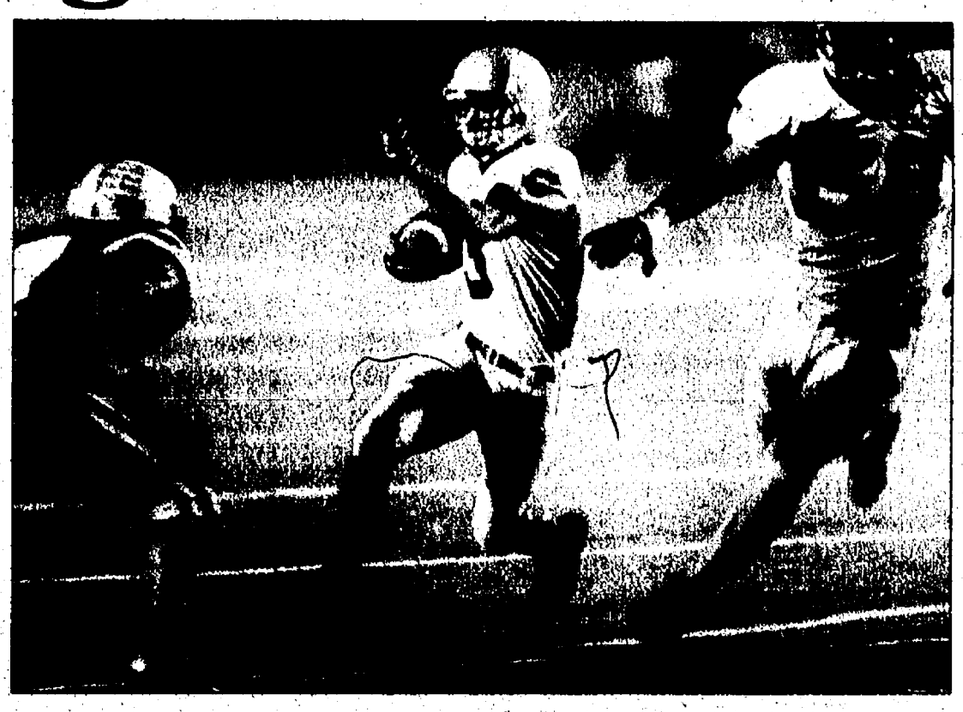
"That was the best performance we've had all year," said Chelsea coach Brad Bush. "We've been looking for a win against a quality team. They (Pioneer) were the best team we've faced all year."

Bush said Connell's kickoff return for a touchdown was key to Chelsea's victory.

"That was huge," he said. "That set the tone. We take a lot of pride in our kickoff return. Over the years, we've had a lot of success at it."

Though the opening score stunned Pioneer, it recovered.

"I thought we were able to bounce back from it," Pioneer coach Chuck White said.



Bulldog senior halfback Michael Hamilton turns up the field as junior offensive guard Doug DeVol escorts him through the line.

On Ann Arbor's first possession of the game, it showed its resolve, scoring on a 24-yard pass from senior quarterback Pedro Arruda to senior receiver Niko Thomas (6-foot-1, 185). With the extra point kick by Arruda, Pioneer tied the contest at 7-7, with 10:05 left in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs answered right back, as junior tight end Dan Augustine (6-2, 205) snatched a 17-yard pass over the middle from quarterback senior Cam Hawkins, in traffic, for a touchdown. With Hawkins' point-after touchdown kick, Chelsea led 14-7 with 5:36 on the first-quarter clock.

Early in the second frame, Pioneer All-State-caliber tailback Richard Franklin (5-11, 215) scored on a 1-yard run up the gut. Arruda split the uprights, tying the game at 14-14.

Midway through the second quarter, Bulldog junior defensive back Dan Rhodes intercepted a pass at Chelsea's 1-yard line, foiling an Ann Arbor scoring attempt.

On the ensuing possession, the Bulldogs scored on Connell's 5-yard TD pass from Hawkins. With Hawkins' PAT, Chelsea regained the lead at 21-14 with 4:50 remaining in the first half.

Four plays into Pioneer's following drive, Bulldog junior defensive tackle Jesse Stewart (5-10, 245) pounced on a fumble at the Pioneer 16-yard line.

Chelsea junior Adam Connell returned the opening kickoff 93 yards, giving the Bulldogs an early lead and momentum against Ann Arbor Pioneer last Friday.

Five plays later, Hawkins scored on a quarterback sneak. His extra point kick was good, and Chelsea upped its advantage to 28-14, with 2:00 left in the half.

After two sacks by senior defensive tackle Paul Ernst (6-2, 230) and junior end Todd Elliott on Pioneer's following possession, the Bulldogs took over on downs at their own 37-yard line.

With 42 seconds remaining in the first half, Hawkins boomed a career-best 42-yard field goal, giving Chelsea a 31-14 lead as the two teams headed for the locker room.

To begin the third quarter, Hawkins kicked a 36-yard field goal, increasing the Bulldog advantage to 34-14.

On Pioneer's opening drive of the second half, Chelsea junior linebacker Chris Hopkins scooped up a fumble caused by Stewart and ran 65 yards down to Ann Arbor's 8-yard line before being tackled.

Two plays later, senior back Michael Hamilton caught a 6-yard pass from Hawkins for a TD. With Hawkins' PAT, Chelsea led 41-14 with 4:15 on the third-quarter clock.

Ann Arbor continued to battle, scoring on a 19-yard pass from Arruda to junior DeMarcus Rich. Arruda nailed the PAT, making the score 41-21 as the third quarter came to a close.

The Chelsea girls' basketball team increased its winning streak to five games last week, defeating Saline and Jackson County Western.

The Bulldogs (8-5, 5-1) have won six of their last seven contests.

Last Thursday, host Chelsea defeated Saline 52-38.

At halftime, the Bulldogs led 23-18.

In third quarter, Chelsea outscored the Hornets 19-5, taking a commanding 42-23 advantage into the fourth frame.

"That third quarter was one of our better quarters of the year," said Chelsea coach Todd Blomquist. "Our intensity at both ends of the floor was very good. This was a very important game for us to reach our goal of winning the SEC (Southeastern Conference) White."

Senior forward Emily Woodruff paced the Bulldogs with 15 points and five rebounds.

Junior forward Rachel Fitzsimmons added 10 points and five boards, while junior guard Hannah Guenther and junior swing player Liz Gunden each had six points. Junior point guard Leah Morrison netted six points and dished off a team-high three assists for Chelsea.

Chelsea vs. Western

On Oct. 11, the host Bulldogs beat Jackson County Western 39-27.

At the break, the score was deadlocked at 13-13.

As it did against Saline, Chelsea came out of the locker room fired up, taking it to the Panthers, outscoring them 17-5 in the third quarter, and opening up an insurmountable lead of 30-18 heading into the final stanza.

Woodruff led the Bulldogs, with 19 points, five rebounds and three steals.

Junior post player Paige Denison chipped in six points and six boards, while Fitzsimmons had six points, a team-high nine rebounds and three steals.

Morrison ended up with six points, seven assists and three steals for Chelsea.

The Bulldogs next host Tecumseh 7 p.m. today.

On Tuesday, Chelsea hosts Williamston at 7 p.m.

On Oct. 27, the Bulldogs travel to Ann Arbor Pioneer for a game at 7 p.m.

JV Basketball

Chelsea's JV girls' basketball team defeated visiting Saline 40-20.

Emily Rabbitt and Samantha Minzey led the Bulldogs (12-1), each scoring 12 points. Rabbitt added three rebounds and three steals, while Minzey had five boards and two steals.

Annie Hollandsworth finished with 11 points, three rebounds and three assists, while Lizzie Bentley had five points, four boards and a team-high seven steals.

Anna Foley chipped in two points, two rebounds and two steals for Chelsea.

The Chelsea boys' cross country team finished third at last Saturday's Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard Invitational at Hudson Mills Metropark.

The Bulldogs ended up with 109 points.

Winning the 13-squad meet was St. Clair with 39 points.

Placing second was Ypsilanti with 104 points, while Orchard Lake St. Mary's was fourth with 112 points and Farmington Hills Harrison fifth with 125 points.

"Overall, this was not one of our best efforts, although we did garner a third-place trophy," said Chelsea coach Eric Swager. "We are getting into the pre-regional phase of our training ritual."

Individually for the Bulldogs, Ian Girard led the way, finishing second overall with a time of 16:54.

Chet Hopp ended up 12th in 17:57, while Jeff Squires was 28th in 18:39 and Drew Hamilton 29th, also in 18:39, for Chelsea.

Nick Heuhl crossed the line 38th in 19:07, while Dolan Personke was 48th in 19:38.

"Nick Heuhl ran resplendently, filling in as our fifth man," Swager said. "He was our runner of the meet. Drew Hamilton and Chet Hopp also ran solid efforts."

In the JV race, Abe Booth paced the Bulldogs, finishing 15th in a lifetime best 20:08.

Teammate Nick Hewitt placed 17th in 20:23, while Mark Smith was 18th in a lifetime best 20:33, Dan Case 20th in 20:41 and Mike Kozma 52nd in 23:47 for Chelsea.

The Bulldogs next participate in the Southeastern Conference meet 3 p.m. today at Hudson Mills Metropark.

On Oct. 29, Chelsea travels to Haslett to compete in the Division II state regional at Haslett.

"The big meet approaches," Swager said of the regional. "We need to be hitting on all cylinders to reach our goal of a state finals berth."

Bulldogs pull out victory in hard-fought game against Indians

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

The Chelsea boys' soccer team defeated visiting Tecumseh 2-1 last Thursday in a game marred by yellow cards, red cards and physical play.

Despite the rough tactics, the Bulldogs (9-4-2) overcame the Indians, using tenacity and superior skill to record the "W."

At halftime, Chelsea trailed 1-0.

"We squandered three great (scoring) chances early in the first half," said Chelsea coach Chad Scaling. "Two times we were at point blank range and failed to capitalize."

While the Bulldogs, ranked No. 12 in Division II, struggled offensively, their defense shined.

Chelsea keeper Nikolai Voicechovski was a standout in net, stopping an Indian penalty kick in the closing minutes of the first half.

"That was a huge save for us," Scaling said. "It kept us in the game, keeping the score only 1-0. That is as big of a save as you can have."

In the second half, with 12 minutes left on the clock, Bulldog senior Ausable Schwiebert scored off a pass from teammate Bill Hayes to tie the contest at 1-1. Schwiebert blasted a missile into the lower right side of the net for the goal.

"He made a great move to beat his man, and a very hard shot that left the Tecumseh keeper in shock," Scaling said.

With time winding down, Schwiebert scored the game-winner. Assisting on the play for Chelsea was Mike Sauers.

"I could have passed to two or three guys and they would have scored, but when I saw the open net, I went ahead and put it in," Schwiebert said.

Chelsea vs. Dexter

On Oct. 11, the visiting Bulldogs tied rival Dexter 1-1. Schwiebert scored Chelsea's lone goal with eight minutes remaining in the first half. Picking up an assist for the Bulldogs on the score was Jamie Laeder.

"With as flat as we played, we were very fortunate to be up 1-0 at halftime," Scaling said.

The Dreadnaughts scored midway through the second half for the game's final margin.

"We played a very unenergetic game and, fortunately, we came away with the tie," Scaling said. "We are going to have to play with a lot more energy if we are going to win the SEC (Southeastern Conference) in our remaining games."

Chelsea, unbeaten in its last seven contests, next hosts Dexter 5:30 p.m. today.

On Monday, the Bulldogs travel to Marshall for a Division II state district game at 6:30 p.m.

If successful against the Vikings, Chelsea would host the winner of Adrian-Coldwater 3 p.m. Wednesday in a district semifinal.

The district title game is 4 p.m. Oct. 28 at Chelsea.

The other teams participating in the district include Dexter, Jackson County Western, Jackson Northwest and Tecumseh.

FOOTBALL

Moore wins Punt, Pass and Kick

Chelsea's Austin Moore, 11, finished first at the Punt, Pass and Kick sectional competition in Saline Oct. 9.

Moore, a sixth-grader at South Meadows Elementary School, bested the field with a total of 269 feet.

With his sectional victory, Moore qualified for the state final at Detroit's Ford Field Dec. 4. The state championship will coincide with the Lions-Minnesota Vikings game.

Moore will participate in the punting and kicking aspect of the competition before the NFL contest. At halftime, he will take part in the passing event.

If Moore wins the state title, he will qualify for the national event later this winter.

Moore, in his first year competing in the Punt, Pass and Kick, advanced to the Saline sectional after winning the local Chelsea event last month.

Dynamo kickers lose to Canton

In Chelsea Soccer Club action last week, the boys' U-10 Argonaughts defeated Dearborn 7-3. Luke Heumann scored four goals to lead the local club.

Jacob Becker, Joe Slusser and Blake Salgat each had one goal for Chelsea. Earning the win in net for the Argos were keepers Keith Hoeflinger and Salgat.

Last Sunday, Chelsea lost to Garden City 2-1. Daniel Klink scored for the Argonaughts. Heumann picked up an assist on the goal for the local team.

The U-11 Dynamos lost to Canton 2-1. Kyle Koseck scored for the Dynamos. Beau Prenovost and Jessie Stebleton also played well for Chelsea.

The U-12 Heat lost to the Canton Storm 3-2. Cole Mauti and Bourke Lodewyk each scored one goal for the Heat. Picking up assists on the goals for Chelsea were Jarred Scheese and Roberto Hughes.

The Heat defeated the Downriver Storm 2-1. Mauti and Hughes scored for Chelsea. Recording assists were Sean Rohlman and Sam Glaubitz.

Playing well defensively were Elijah Arons, Paul Cole-Heiss, Noah Crowder, David Gonzalez and Scheese. In net, keeper Mark Olson was a standout, stopping a Downriver penalty kick from 18 yards out late in the game to preserve the victory.

The U-14 Bulldogs defeated Canton 3-2. Max McLaughlin scored two goals for the local club, including the game-winner with time running out. Joe Gunden added one goal for the Bulldogs.

Playing well defensively for Chelsea were keeper Josh Moffat, Nick Forsch, Lukas Rowland, Trevor Mattson, Jake Hash, Ben Sauers, Zach Schepers and Gunden.

The girls' U-11 Explosion defeated Dearborn 7-3. Scoring for Chelsea were Grace Sauers, Gabrielle Triveline and Allison Fountain. Picking up assists were Zoe Proegler, Fountain and Triveline.

The U-12 Bulldogs lost to Downriver 1-0 last Saturday.

The U-14 Whirlwind beat Downriver 2-0. Jenna McGrath and Corrine Carpenter scored one goal each for Chelsea. Combining for the shutout in net were Lacy Goderis and Emma Argiroff.

The Whirlwind lost to Lakes Area 2-0. Playing well despite the loss for Chelsea were Erica Fredericks, Megan Erskine and Juliannia Ameel.

The U-15 Hurricanes tied Taylor 1-1. Lauren Johnson scored for the local club. Also playing well for the Hurricanes were Kaitlin Barttelt, Kendra Beeman, Sam Keene, Cayla Redmond and Nicole Hopp.

The U-17 squad beat the Downriver Starlights 7-1. The team also lost to the Michigan Hawks 3-0 and to Bloomfield Hills 2-1.

BASKEBALL

Mann named captain

Chelsea's Ali Mann was named a tri-captain on this year's Bowling Green State University women's basketball team.

The squad, along with Falcon coach Curt Miller, made the selections.

Miller said Mann was the first underclassman to be unanimously named a captain during his tenure.

Last season, Mann averaged 13.8 points and 7.4 rebounds. In Mid-American Conference games, she led BGSU in scoring with 15.0 points per game and in rebounding with 7.8 per outing.

Last year, Mann, a 6-foot swing player, scored in double digits in 24 games, including 11 of the final 12 contests of the season. She earned All-MAC second team honors a year ago.

Spooky Season Strikes; So Does Michigan Contestant in Power Points Contest

Midwest Results Week 5 – It's still three weeks from Halloween, but the bizarre happenings are already upon us.

Which was the weirder scene? First: Penn State Coach Joe Paterno, in answer to a reporter's question about whether the Nittany Lions were back after their 17-10 win over powerhouse Ohio State, saying, "I don't think we were ever away." This after a year-long slide into mediocrity for the once-dominant program. Is JoPa off his meds?

Then, on Sunday night, Cincinnati receiver Chad Johnson caught a touchdown pass, then got down on his knees and began administering CPR to the football! With these as prelude to the spooky season, be careful out there.

Less bizarre but just as noteworthy was an impressive showing by Bob Vadalabene of Shelby Township, MI, who tallied 130 of the possible 136 points to capture the weekly cash bonanza of $1,000 in Week 5 of the POWER POINTS of the Midwest Football Contest.

He entered the contest through the Macomb Daily newspaper in Mount Clemens.

Local high scorers in Week 5 were:

Belleville... Mike Grawe, Belleville (111 points)

Coldwater... Barb Roberts, Coldwater (104 points)

Grand Haven... Molly Milligan, Grand Haven (119 points)

Midland... Steve Taglauer, Midland (120 points). Next four, Blake Robison, Midland (111 points); Terry Bedinski, Midland (110 points); Trisha Stevens, Midland (106 points); Bryan Kruz, Midland (104 points)

Monroe... Mike Drake, Monroe (101 points)

Mount Clemens... Bob Vadalabene, Shelby Twp. (130 points)

Pontiac... Grant Hord, Clinton (106 points)

Saline... Cody Adkins, Milan (110 points)

Southgate... Gern Tabor, Riverview (118 points) and TB1 of 30 beats Charles Harper, Taylor, also with 118 points.

Local $25 winners are:

News-Herald – Matt Siroskey, of Wyandotte. Heritage Newspapers Western Region – Frank Daidone, of Clinton.

PIONEERS

Pioneers scored on a 20-yard pass over the middle from Arruda to senior Matt Cole. Arruda's kick ended the scoring at 41-28, with 8:19 remaining in the game.

With 2:18 left in the fourth quarter, Bulldog senior linebacker Robbie Moffett intercepted a pass, ending Ann Arbor's final scoring threat.

Hawkins finished the night 17-of-23 for 212 yards with one interception. Arruda ended up 13-of-30 for 242 yards with two interceptions.

Junior Antwan McClendon paced Chelsea on the ground, rushing for 117 yards on 25 carries. For Pioneer, Franklin had 97 yards on 21 attempts.

McClendon led the receiving corps with five catches for 61 yards, while junior Nate Schwarze had three receptions for 59 yards and Augustine three catches for 53 yards.

Cole finished with five receptions for 86 yards.

Defensively, senior defensive tackle Austin Rodgers had seven tackles. Senior linebacker Derek Brown, Ernst and Moffett each recorded six stops.

Chelsea finished with 339 yards of total offense. Pioneer had 338 yards of total offense.

"We played hard and got some turnovers," said Chelsea defensive coordinator Grant Fanning. "We had a good week of practice. We felt like we matched up well against them."

Hawkins said the Bulldogs played well offensively.

"We came out in the first half and dominated," he said. "We were able to get a big lead, which was nice. Our game plan was good. We had great play calling, and our receivers caught the ball. The offensive line gave me plenty of time."

White was disappointed in his squad's performance.

"It's not what we would have liked," he said. "They (Chelsea) played really well offensively. That was the first time all year that we didn't play with a sense that we needed to win."

Chelsea next travels to state-ranked Allen Park (8-0) for a game 7 p.m. tomorrow. The Bulldogs need a win to assure themselves of a spot in the playoffs.

"We're playing as well as anybody right now," Bush said. "I think our guys can play with anyone. We have a lot of confidence going into the game right now."

To see if Chelsea qualifies for the state playoffs, Fox Sports Net will be holding its annual "Selection Sunday" program, announcing the 256 teams and first-round pairings for this year's postseason. The program is set for 5:30 p.m. Sunday. Playoff pairings will be posted on the Michigan High School Athletic Association Web site following the broadcast.

JV Football

Chelsea's JV football team defeated host Ann Arbor Pioneer 37-19 last Friday.

Randy Cox finished 12-of-24 for 152 yards with two interceptions and two TDs.

Chelsea concludes its season today, hosting Allen Park at 7 p.m.

Freshman Football

The Bulldog freshman football team defeated visiting Ann Arbor Pioneer 27-14 last Friday.

Riley Feeney led Chelsea (5-3) with 195 yards rushing on 27 carries.

Chelsea ends its season today, hosting Allen Park at 4:30 p.m.

•••• POWER POINTS OFFICIAL RULES ••••

1. Object of the game is to amass as many of the 136 possible points as you can. Simply review the week's schedule of games, listed on entry form, and decide which game you are SURest of picking a winner in. Write the name of your projected winner on the 16-point line and so on down to the 1-point line, which game you figure to be a toss-up. Next, fill in Tiebreaker 1, the total points scored by both teams in the week's designated game. If this step fails to produce a winner, the judges will apply Tiebreaker 2, total offensive yardage from scrimmage in this game. If a winner still doesn't emerge, a drawing will be held among those contestants still tied. Decisions of the judges are final. The weekly Midwest regional winner will receive $1000.

2. Any entry form that does not contain a legible name, address, etc. will be disqualified.

3. Entries that fail to forecast a winner from each and every game will be disqualified, as will entries that fail to distinguish between the Jets and Giants of New York and other similar teams.

4. No points are awarded on tie games or in case any game is not played for any reason during its scheduled week.

5. Entering POWER POINTS constitutes permission by contestant for his or her name and photograph to be used for news and reasonable promotional purposes at no charge.

6. Employees of this newspaper and their immediate families are ineligible to participate.

7. Any inquiry about a protest of weekly results must be made by noon on the Friday following the announcement of winners.

8. No purchase necessary. Facsimile game entry forms will be accepted. Enter contest by dropping entry form into POWER POINTS container at participating co-sponsors.

9. Weekly deadline for entry will be 2 p.m. Thursdays except when noted otherwise on weekly entry form.

10. Neither this newspaper nor any co-sponsor will be responsible for illegible entry forms or those lost, stolen or damaged in any way.

11. Limit: one entry per person per week. Each entry must represent the original work of one entrant; group entries, systems or other attempt to enter multiple entries will be disqualified. Filling out extra forms and putting your friends' and relatives' names on them violates this rule. Any such entries are destroyed prior to grading.

12. Contestants must have reached the age of eight (8) years by the Sunday of any week's play.

Theater offers traveling performance

The Purple Rose Theatre Company is booking performances of "Huck Finn's Mark Twain," a touring educational presentation conceived and performed by Purple Rose Resident Artist Wayne David Parker.

The one-man show has been designed to give students a look at the life of Mark Twain through the eyes of his best-loved character.

"Huck Finn's Mark Twain" is appropriate for elementary and middle schools students, according to a press release from the theater. The performance runs 35 to 45 minutes. Space requirements are minimal.

The show can be performed for large or small groups in auditoriums, libraries, gymnasiums or classrooms.

Parker created "Huck Finn's Mark Twain" during his senior year at Eastern Michigan University. For the last 20 years, he has performed it for young audiences from Massachusetts to Florida to Texas to Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

"I guess I've performed this piece over 2,500 times," Parker said.

"When I was a kid, my favorite part of school was reading. I remember reading 'The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn' when I was 8 or 9 years old. Now, I like to go to schools and get kids interested in reading. And I think it's important to educate kids about our country's history."

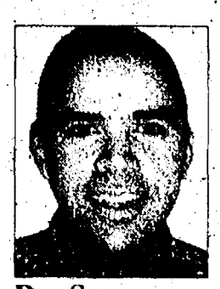
Get the flu shot this year



DR. SCOTT MOORE

Winter is a tough time for parents of young children. No matter how careful we are about hand washing and other disease-prevention measures, it's the nature of the way young children play that they are more susceptible to all the contagious "bugs" going around during the winter months. This includes the influenza virus, commonly known as "the flu."

Flu season lasts from November to March, with the virus in past years striking heaviest during January and February.

Question: What is the flu?

Answer: The flu is a respiratory illness caused by the influenza virus. The virus attacks the nose, throat and lungs, but it's different from a cold. Unlike a cold, the onset of flu can be very sudden, especially in infants.

Symptoms usually appear one to four days after the virus has entered the body, although a person is contagious even when no symptoms are present.

Symptoms can include fever, headache, extreme tiredness, dry cough, sore throat, nasal congestion and muscle aches.

The influenza virus is a serious illness and should not be confused with other illnesses that may look and feel like the flu, but are less severe.

Question: Who gets the flu?

Answer: According to the Centers for Disease Control, between 5 and 20 percent of Americans get the flu every year. More than 200,000 people are admitted to the hospital, and about 36,000 people die from influenza.

The flu itself is a serious illness, but it also causes other, potentially life-threatening, medical problems. These include pneumonia, bronchitis and ear infections.

Most at risk for complications from the influenza virus are children younger than 24 months, people with chronic conditions, such as asthma, and those older than 65 years old.

Question: How do you treat the flu?

DEXTER TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING MEETING NOTICE

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 25, 2005 AT 7:30 P.M. AT
DEXTER TOWNSHIP HALL
6880 DEXTER-PINCKNEY RD., DEXTER, MI. 48130

AGENDA

1) DEXTER TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE For DAY CARE CENTER

The Dexter Township Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on October 25, 2005 at 7:30 p.m. for the purpose of receiving public comment on a proposed children's day care center, to be located within an existing building on an approximately 5.3-acre parcel located at 9477 North Territorial Road (on the south side of North Territorial Road, approximately 1,000' west of Dexter-Pinckney Road). The proposed day care center constitutes a "special land use" according to the Dexter Township Zoning Ordinance. A copy of the application materials can be viewed at the Dexter Township Hall during the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays. Written comments should be received by 12:00 p.m. (noon), October 25, 2005 and addressed to the Dexter Township Planning Commission, 6880 Dexter Pinckney Road, Dexter, MI, 48130. The Planning Commission may take action on such application following the public hearing.

2) DEXTER TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE For HARTMAN FARMS SITE CONDOMINIUM / OPEN SPACE COMMUNITY

The Dexter Township Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on October 25, 2005 at 7:30 p.m. for the purpose of receiving public comment on the proposed Hartman Farms Site Condominium Open Space Community and proposed special land use for a community sewer system to serve the development. The approximately 156.18-acre parcels 04-22-200-001and 04-22-200-002 proposed for the development is located in Section 22. The Hartman Farms Site Condominium project is being proposed and considered under Article 17 (Open Space Communities Overlay District) of the Zoning Ordinance. Article 17 authorizes smaller home sites and higher densities than normally permitted by the underlying zoning district (in this case, the AG District) provided the development plan meets the applicable provisions of Article 17 including setting aside a significant portion of the development parcel in a permanent open space status. The development plan provides for 70 single family home sites and approximately 83.95-acres of permanently dedicated open space. The community sewer system will direct waste water to a below-ground treatment facility prior to it then being directed to a below-ground disposal field. A copy of the proposed development plan and application materials can be viewed at the Dexter Township Hall during the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays. Written comments should be received by 12:00 p.m.(noon), October 25, 2005 and addressed to the Dexter Township Planning Commission, 6880 Dexter Pinckney Road, Dexter, MI, 48130.

A Visit to the Library

Jacob Hofe, 1, of Dexter pays a visit to the Dexter District Library. Voters will consider a request to build and fund a new library Nov. 8.

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Dexter students in performance

Ann Arbor Civic Theatre's Junior Theatre will perform "Dorothy Meets Alice," a play by Joseph Robinette, Nov. 3 through 6 at Washtenaw Community College.

The production will feature Erin Johnson, a freshman at Dexter High School, as well as Dexter High School graduate, Valerie Wilkinson as director and Kiersti Kruzel, a senior at Dexter High, as assistant director.

Directed by Valerie Wilkinson, "Dorothy Meets Alice" finds Judson, a chronic procrastinator, trying to write a book report due the very next day. After watching the movie "The Wizard of Oz" and attempting to read "Alice in Wonderland," Judson falls asleep and finds himself in a strange land between Oz and Wonderland.

Judson encounters characters from both classic stories and the ensuing adventures help him put an interesting spin on the school assignment.

The play will be performed on Washtenaw Community College's campus in the Liberal Arts Building. Performances are set 7:30 p.m. Nov. 3 through 5, with matinees Nov. 5 and 6.

Seating is general admission, and all tickets are $5. All proceeds from the Friday night performance will benefit the Hurricane Katrina relief effort.

Tickets are available at the door or by calling 971-2228.

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Radon test kits made available

The Washtenaw County Department of Planning and Environment is observing October 16 through 22 as National Radon Awareness Week. The annual event encourages residents to test their homes for radon and take measures to reduce high radon levels.

Radon is a tasteless, colorless and odorless radioactive gas. It's found in nearly all types of soil and rock.

Radon can enter homes through cracks in the foundation, dirt floors, hollow-block walls and openings around floor drains and sump pumps. It does not cause symptoms such as headaches, sneezing or coughing. However, high levels of radon can damage lung tissue and eventually lead to lung cancer.

Radon is the second-leading cause of lung cancer for smokers and the leading cause of lung cancer for non-smokers in the United States.

Research shows that radon is associated with 600 lung cancer cases in Michigan and 21,000 lung cancer deaths in the United States each year.

Although no level of radon is considered absolutely safe, the Environmental Protection Agency recommends taking action when levels are above 4.0 pCi/L inside a home.

More than 3,000 radon tests have been conducted using kits distributed by Washtenaw County in the past decade, according to a press

VILLAGE OF DEXTER NOTICE OF ADOPTIONON ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

Notice is hereby given that the Village of Dexter Village Council has amended Article 2, Definitions for Floor Area, Gross and Floor Area Gross (for the purpose of computing parking only), of the Village of Dexter Zoning Ordinance. The amendments will be effective on November 9, 2005. The new definitions read as follows:

Floor Area, Gross – The total constructed area of a building. This area is computed by measuring to the outside finished surface of permanent outer building walls or from the centerline of walls separating two (2) buildings without any deductions except as noted. All enclosed floors of the building, including basements, garages (heated), mechanical equipment floors, penthouses, balconies, mezzanines, enclosed porches, accessory buildings attic floors space providing head room of at least 7'6" (whether or not floor has been installed) and the like are calculated.

Floor Area, Gross (for the purposes of computing parking only) – Gross floor area shall be the sum of the horizontal areas of each story of the building, measured form the exterior surfaces of the exterior walls. Gross floor area shall include all spaces noted above except for: exterior porches, attached garages, attics and basements that cannot accommodate commercial or office operations other than unoccupied incidental storage.

Information on the ordinance amendment is available for public inspection or purchase at the Village Offices, 8123 Main Street, Dexter, weekdays between 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

SHOT

Answer: Treatment includes plenty of rest and fluids. Since the flu is a virus, antibiotics will not work. Medication can be used to treat the symptoms of the flu.

In some cases, there are anti-viral medications that can shorten the course of the influenza virus. But, in most cases, the best treatment is prevention though vaccination.

Question: Who should get the flu shot?

Answer: The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends an annual flu shot for those who are at higher risk for hospitalization from flu-related complications. This includes all children between 6 and 23 months, children with chronic health problems such as asthma or diabetes.

To further reduce the risk for these vulnerable groups, the siblings and caregivers of these children should also receive an annual flu shot. The flu shot is not recommended for children under 6 months.

Question: If it's needed, what's the best time to get the flu shot?

Answer: The best time to receive the flu shot is at the beginning of the flu season in October. Based on concerns in previous years about shortages, those in higher risk groups should receive the flu shot first.

Dr. Scott Moore is a pediatrician in Chelsea. To reach him with any questions, call 475-4500.

VILLAGE OF DEXTER NOTICE OF ADOPTION ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

Notice is hereby given that the Village of Dexter Village Council has amended Article 15, Village Commercial District, of the Village of Dexter Zoning Ordinance. The amendments will be effective on November 9, 2005. The following Sections are the only sections with language amendments or additions:

Section 15.01 Intent: Proposed building and site design must be sensitive to the district's historical significance. Additions or modifications to historic buildings should be harmonious with the original structure as well as the surrounding neighborhood. Additions or modifications should be designed and constructed so that the character defining features of the historical building are retained and enhanced by the new construction.

Section 15.04C: Rear or side entrances should be provided where parking is on the side or rear of the building.

Section 15.04G: The site design shall be sensitive to pedestrian and bicycle needs. Bicycle hoops are required per Section 5.03 of the Parking and Loading Standards.

Section 15.04H: Architectural standards include the following items: rooflines and cornices, fenestration and brackets, shape and style of windows, shape and style of lights within windows, colors and finish materials. Review of architectural concepts colors and materials will be part of site plan review.

Section 15.04H:

1. General architecture, front facade, and overall building appointments should be harmonious with the historic nature of other structures in the vicinity.

2. Modifications or rehabilitation of an existing historical commercial buildings or conversion of residential structures to commercial structures shall where reasonably possible adhere to the guidelines set forth in the National Park Services, Technical Preservation Services for Historical Buildings 36 CFR Part 68. Detailed information regarding preservation guides and services is also available.

3. Exterior color must derive from a historical color palette and shall ordinarily be consistent with the majority of the established buildings. "Non-traditional" downtown colors are not permitted.

4. Desirable exterior materials include brick, stone (natural and cast), wood siding and glass. Exterior materials not permitted include EIFS (exterior insulation and finishing system), vinyl siding, asphalt or metal siding, composite fiberglass and reflective glass.

Information on the ordinance amendment is available for public inspection or purchase at the Village Offices, 8123 Main Street, Dexter, weekdays between 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m

DEATHS

SUSAN (FAHRNER) KIMBER
Formerly of Chelsea

Susan (Fahrner) Kimber, 46, formerly of Chelsea, died Sept. 18, 2005.

Mrs. Kimber is survived by her precious daughters, Casey and Clancy Kimber and Corrin Kovath; her parents, Norm (Billy) Fahrner and Arlene (Richard) Gilloz; loving sisters, Marie (Bill) Chambers, Jody (Charles) Drainville and Cristy (Ernie) Kovath; and several aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins.

She was preceded in death by her grandparents, Arnold and Bernice Fahrner, and George and Violet Paxton; a special great-aunt, Fran Squires; brother-in-law, Brian Kovath; and an aunt, Lynne Fahrner.

"Though she danced to a different drummer, God's angels played the music," her family said. "She was loved by family and friends, and is at peace with God in his heaven."

Cremation has taken place.

JAEM JANKOVIC
Dexter

Jaem Jankovic, known to many as "Grandpa Jim," died Oct. 14, 2005.

He was the loving

James T. (Cathy) Jankovic, Jo Anna (Gary) Garlacz and Vera (Dale) Jankovic-Boychuck.

Mr. Jankovic was the wonderful grandfather of eight terrific grandchildren, Jamie Lynne (Dan) Garlacz-Allie, Jody Rae Garlacz, Christopher James Garlacz, Brandon Robert Garlacz, Megan Rose Jankovic, Miranda Jo [illegible] James Boychuck and Cora Rose Joanna Ramona Boychuck, and the great-grandfather of Izabella Rae Allie.

He was married to JoAnna Simrak Jankovic, loving wife, mother and grandmother, who died in 1993.

Mr. Jankovic was born in Yugoslavia in 1920. During World War II, he was a prisoner of war.

He worked for Eagle Pitcher Industries until his retirement in 1982, when he moved to his farm in Batesville, Ark. Although he loved his native land of Yugoslavia, he always said, "God Bless America, the greatest land in the world."

[illegible] legacy of self-determination, tenacity for life and the willpower to accomplish things in his own way.

"We will miss him very much and look forward to the time when we are all together again in heaven," his family said. "As Pastor Matt Hook says, 'Honor the dead by loving the living.'"

Visitation was held Sunday at Hosmer-Muehlig Funeral Chapel in Dexter. A funeral was held Monday at Dexter United Methodist Church.

At the family's request, memorial contributions in Mr. Jankovic's name may be sent to Hope

JOHN WILLIAM "BILL" LEWIS
Chelsea

John William "Bill" Lewis, 83, of Chelsea died peacefully Oct. 12, 2005. He was born Nov. 17, 1921.

Mr. Lewis is survived by his wife, Ruth L. Lewis; daughters, Sandra Mets and Susan Lewis; and his grandchildren, Katherine (Christopher) Caines and Erik Mets.

Memorial contributions in his name may be made to the American Cancer Society and Arbor Hospice.

Arrangements were by Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home in Ch[illegible]n.

Dinner to benefit family

The Kemners fall on hard times

By Marsha Johnson Chartrand
Heritage Newspapers

The Chelsea, Manchester and Clinton communities were shocked and saddened when Eric Kemner was killed July 20 in a car accident at the age of 36.

Kemner, a graduate of Clinton High School, left behind his wife, Marie, and their two children, Nathaniel, 7, and Grace, 3, of Manchester.

While still recovering from the tragedy of their loss, the Kemner family, members at Immanuel Bible Church in Chelsea, attended the Riverfolk Festival in August.

"It was really the first time they went out," said Marie (Ball) Kemner's aunt, Ruth Burch. "Nathaniel really wanted to see Billy Jonas."

After Jonas' performance, Nathaniel was playing on the monkey bars at Carr Park and fell off, cracking his orbital bone and requiring a trip to the emergency room.

Several days and several doctors later, as Marie realized that Nathaniel was still seeing double, it was discovered that a tendon had stuck in the fracture. Surgery was performed to correct the problem, but Nathaniel is still having double vision problems.

"Everything happened so fast," Burch said. "Marie hadn't had time to even think about insurance. With this situation, she was forced to take COBRA insurance from Eric's employer. She is stuck because now Nathaniel has a pre-existing condition and a new insurance carrier won't take him on.

"And he will need more surgery before the end of the year," she said.

Learning that continuing the family's insurance policy would cost more than $1,000 per month was another staggering blow to the already distressed family.

"I just started thinking about it — this is my sister's daughter," Burch said. "How can I not do anything?"

Others were wondering the same thing.

David and Sue Allen, who knew the Kemners through school, approached Burch and asked how they could help.

"We got together and David started calling people," Burch said.

"So many people have come forward to help. It's just amazing."

As a result, an all-you-can-eat spaghetti dinner benefit will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday at Manchester High School, 20500 Dutch Drive. Donations will be accepted at the door.

Those who cannot attend but still wish to donate may make checks payable to Immanuel Bible Church "Barnabus Fund" and drop at the Coffee Mill or mail to Attn: Treasurer, 145 E. Summit St., Chelsea, MI 48118. Contributions are tax deductible.

The food, supplies and paper products for the dinner have been donated through community sources, so all proceeds from the event will benefit the Kemner family. Those who wish to donate desserts are requested to bring them to the high school commons between 3 and 4 p.m. Saturday.

In addition to the spaghetti dinner, Saturday's event will include a silent auction with more than 100 items available, ranging from artwork, baseball, hockey and U of M memorabilia, to themed baskets, firewood, Riverfolk merchandise, jewelry and much more.

"There have been so many nice things donated," Burch said. "It is wonderful how the community has responded to this event."

DEATHS

JOSEPH A. STEELE JR.
Chelsea

Joseph A. Steele Jr., 58, of Chelsea died Oct. 16, 2005, surrounded by his loving family at his home. He was born Jan. 22, 1947, in Chelsea the son of the late Joseph Sr. and Dorothy (Fomer) Steele.

Mr. Steele had worked for the U.S. Postal Service for nearly 35 years, retiring in 2002. He was a veteran, serving in the U.S. Navy from Jan. 3, 1967 to Sept. 5, 1972.

Mr. Steele was a member of St. John's United Church of Christ and former council member.

On Oct. 6, 1967, he married Ruth Ann Trinkle, and she survives.

Mr. Steele enjoyed the outdoors and especially liked hunting and fishing with his two sons, Jeffrey (Jessica) Steele of Roy, Utah, and James (Terri Mills) Steele of Grass Lake.

In addition to his sons, he is survived by one grandson Cameron; four brothers, Richard (Margaret) Steele of Chelsea, Paul (Mary) Steele of Chelsea, Don (Hazel) Steele of Kentwood and Tim (Colleen) Steele of Martin; and two sisters, Mimi (Jim) Doolittle of Kalamazoo and Keri (Tim) Johnson of Portage.

He is also survived by six nephews, three nieces and many cousins.

He was preceded in death by infant twin brothers, Kenneth and William Steele.

A memorial service will be held 11 a.m. today at St. John's United Church of Christ. The Rev. Nancy Doty will officiate.

Burial will follow at Mt. Hope Cemetery in Freedom Township.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. John's United Church of Christ or Hospice of Michigan.

KITS

release. Approximately 48 percent of these test results are higher than the EPA's recommended radon level.

Angie Parsons, environmental health educator for Washtenaw County, said any home could have high levels of radon.

"Your home could have radon, even if you don't have a basement and even if your neighbor's house doesn't have radon," she said. "The only way to know for sure is to test."

During the month of October, Washtenaw County Planning and Environment is offering radon home test kits for $5, which includes postage and laboratory analysis.

The kits may be purchased between 7:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday at the Western County Service Center, 705 N. Zeeb Road, in Scio Township.

If a home is found to have elevated levels of radon, a mitigation company can install a system that will reduce the radon. Typical radon reduction systems cost approximately $1,000 in Washtenaw County.

For more information or to purchase a radon test kit by mail, contact the Washtenaw County Department of Planning and Environment at 222-3869 or visit the Web site www.ewashtenaw.org and search for "radon."
