"Steel Cut" Coffee

We've just installed a new Coffee Mill that cuts the berry into small uniform particles instead of grinding it in the usual way. Thus it is not crushed as by the old method, and the little oil cells remain unbroken. The essential oil (food product) cannot evaporate and is preserved indefinitely. Coffee prepared in this manner will make from ten to twenty cups more of full strength coffee than it will if ground in the old way.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION

NOT A LARGE VOTE CAST.

The Sylvan Republicans Cast 187 Votes and the Democrats 12—List of Delegates Chosen.

While Sylvan cast only 199 ballots at the primary election on Tuesday, this was more than twice the number cast at any other voting precinct in Washtenaw county, and Sylvan still maintains its lead as the banner primary reform township in the county, if not in the state.

The whole number of votes cast was 199, of which the republicans cast 187, and the democrats 12. The republican vote cast was as follows:

The vote for Governor was 187, of which Gov. Warner received 186 and Pattengill 1. For Lieut. Governor, P. H. Kelly received 187 votes.

On the amendment for Governor and Lieut. Governor, 177 votes were cast—yes, 175; no, 2.

For the direct nomination of congressman in this district 179 votes were cast—yes, 174; no, 5.

For state senator, 178—yes, 173; no, 5. For representative in the state legislature, 177—yes, 173; no, 4.

For county officers, 177—yes, 172; no, 5. Total number of votes cast for republican delegates to county convention, 2,468, of which Glazier delegates received 2,311, and 157 were scattered among 91 different candidates.

The following delegates were elected: Jacob Hummel, A. W. Wilkinson, W. J. Knapp, F. P. Glazier, L. T. Freeman, O. T. Hoover, R. D. Walker, Martin Wackenhut, W. P. Riemenschneider, Martin Merkel, S. C. Stimson, Timothy Drislane, August Steger, Philip Schweinfurth, August Mensing.

The whole number of votes cast by the democrats was 12.

The vote on the amendment for Governor and Lieut. Governor was 12—yes, 10; no, 2.

The total number of votes cast for the democratic delegates to the county convention was 105, of which 84 were cast for those who were nominated and 21 for a number of different candidates.

The delegates are as follows: B. B. Turnbull, Henry Gorton, James Taylor, H. D. Witherell, Geo. W. Beckwith, C. W. Maroney, Joseph L. Sibley, O. A. Burgess, Francis Beeman, Fred Notten, James Runciman, Peter Merkel, Chas. Fish, Frank Fenn.

GERMAN MUTUAL INSURANCE CO.

Directors Met in Ann Arbor Saturday and Adjusted Several Small Losses. The O'Connor Loss Being Considered.

The directors of the German Mutual Fire Insurance Co. met at the court house in Ann Arbor Saturday and adjusted the following losses:

John Steffe, Ann Arbor township, damage to house by lightning, $10.

John Bohnet, Sharon, strawstack, $35.50.

Geo. Hartmann, Saline, damage to house by lightning, $5.

T. Bauer, Bridgewater, three sheep killed by lightning, $12.

Wm. Haussler, Freedom, sheep killed by lightning last Tuesday, $100.

The members of the board are endeavoring to adjust the loss on the barn of Maurice O'Connor, of Northfield, which was burned to the ground, for which the owner must stand trial.

Bacon-Schneider.

Seldom are grief and joy so impressively mingled in a single social event as they were in Chelsea on Wednesday evening, June 6, 1906, when Miss Marie H. Bacon, daughter of Jabez and Liza Bacon, was united in marriage with Mr. Henry C. Schneider, of Evansville, Wisconsin, by Rev. Dr. Thomas Holmes, of Chelsea. This was one of the most unostentatious events of its kind that ever transpired in our sprightly town. Only members of the immediate family circles were present.

While this event is considered one of unusual propriety and felicity, it was attended with circumstances that forbade the usual manifestations of festive joy. Joy was there and unconfined, but chastened and mellowed by a vein of sadness that could not be disguised.

About three years ago Mr. Schneider took from the same home in the same manner the first of its bright jewels to stand at the hymeneal altar, and eighteen months ago he brought back her lifeless remains, and deposited them in our beautiful Oak Grove cemetery. A girl and a boy, beautiful twins, were left motherless in his care. He has now, with most wise and excellent judgment, taken Marie, almost the exact image of her elder sister, and the most interested person available in the wide world, to be the companion of his life, and the mother of those motherless children. May the blessing of "Our Father" attend them! The most earnest and sincere wishes of this entire community for their prosperity and long-lived happiness will follow them to their home in Wisconsin.

Memorial Day.

Both the Hive and Tent of Chelsea Maccabees observed last Sunday afternoon as memorial day. The members of the order met at their hall at half past two and prepared bouquets for the last resting places of those who have passed away. Headed by the Francisco band with Sir Knight Campbell as chief marshal, and E. D. Walker as escort for the Lady Maccabees a line was formed and both organizations marched to Oak Grove and Mt. Olivet cemeteries and each grave was marked with floral offerings. After the flowers had been distributed the members assembled at the east end of Oak Grove cemetery where the services of the order for the deceased Maccabees were carried out by officers of the Tent. The graves of those who are at the Vermont and North Lake cemeteries were also visited and decorated. The attendance by members of the order was far better than was expected, the inclement weather keeping many at home.

THE STORM WAS SERIOUS

LIGHTNING, HAIL AND WIND.

Large Amount of Timber Blown Down—Some Buildings Damaged by the Storm of Last Thursday.

The storm in the western part of Washtenaw county last Thursday afternoon and evening was the worst one we have had so far this season. About four o'clock in the afternoon Chelsea was visited with a heavy rain and hail storm. No particular damage was done, but for a few moments after the hail began to fall the citizens watched rather anxiously fearing that their property might be damaged. Many of the old residents of Chelsea claim that they had never seen such large hail stones as fell during the few moments the storm lasted and the size of congealed fluid has been placed as large as goose eggs. In the evening a high wind threatened to damage the fine trees about town, but again Chelsea escaped without any damage being done to the trees or property within the corporate limits.

Certain sections of Lyndon was in the track of the cyclone Thursday evening and considerable damage was done to the orchards, timber lands, fences and some of the farmers had their buildings partially destroyed. Patrick Prentegast was undoubtedly the largest sufferer, his barn was moved off the foundation some four feet, and badly damaged and it will require considerable of an outlay in both labor and money to save the building. S. A. Collins had the east half of the roof on his barn blown entirely off. The woods on the farms of Orson and Francis Begman had many fine trees uprooted and on the farm of the Misses Kate and Alice Gorman the large apple orchard was badly damaged. John McKune and Hugh McKone had considerable timber on their farms blown down. There are a number of other property owners in the township who had timber and fences blown down but their loss is comparatively light.

Dexter township in the vicinity of North Lake, seem to have been the center of the storm. The fine grove of W. E. Stevenson, on the shore of the lake was almost entirely stripped of the large trees and from the reports it will take several weeks to clear up the pleasure grounds. H. V. Watts, E. R. Cooke, W. H. Glenn and Frank Burkhardt and Mr. Stevenson had some of the trees in their orchards broken down. The fine row of maple trees that adorn North Lake road were damaged. Geo. M. Webb had 13 apple trees in his orchard uprooted some timber in his woods is down and the large new barn that he built last year was moved off the foundation four inches to the north and the west gable of the building was blown in. Mr. Webb carried a policy in the Michigan Cyclone Insurance Co., of Hastings, and the insurance will fully cover his loss on the building. R. S. Whallan and Sir George Reade had the barns on their farms partially destroyed. The woods on the farm of Samuel Schultz had many fine trees blown down. There are very few of those who reside in the track of the storm but what had their fences and some of the trees either in the woods or orchards blown down.

The storm seems to have been confined to the north tier of townships of the county, but the townships of Lyndon and Dexter sustained the heaviest losses.

The police have been notified of the work of a swindler at Galesburg, Ill., who travels from place to place, posing as a real estate dealer. He claims to be owner of lands in western Kansas, and attempts to dispose of these lands by trades or other means, securing a small cash bonus, and then leaves town with the understanding that he will return to have the papers transferred. The man goes by the name of C. S. Hackaday, and is said to have aliases. He is about 50 years old, five feet, seven inches in height, dark hair mixed with gray, drooping mustache, well dressed and pleasing appearance. Real estate dealers are warned to be on the watch out for him, as he deals with them exclusively. Fifty dollars is offered for his arrest.—Jackson Patriot.

The commencement exercises of the Stockbridge schools will be held in the opera house of that village on Tuesday evening, June 19. The class consists of eight members. A. E. Fletcher, a former resident of Chelsea will present the graduates their diplomas.

"Do you think that Deneau realizes the extent of your treasure, or that he suspects it is hidden in these caverns?"

"I am afraid he is on the right clue," he replied, slowly, "for a few nights ago he visited the hut of an old Indian, who lives on the mountain side, a short distance from our exit, or what is known as Dead Man's Cave. This cavern is visited each season by hundreds of people; and the steamboat lines run regular Sunday excursions from many points to the cave. And the pleasure-seekers, with torches, often penetrate as far as the great stone wall, which is perhaps a distance of a mile from the entrance. The old Indian has for many years reaped a harvest of small coin, by acting as guide to these frivolous explorers. But I am sure he will never enter the mouth of Dead Man's Cave again."

"Why?" I said, greatly interested in the story.

"Well," continued Valdemere, "Old Uza, the Indian, once ventured into the cavern in search of game, which had penetrated a great distance, when suddenly the wall which affords an impassable barrier between Dead Man's Cave and the passages beyond, began to sink into the waters of the lake, and when he saw me step upon the sinking stones, he fell upon his knees, praying to the Great Spirit and trembling in the most abject terror. He thought that the Great Spirit had appeared to him, and taking advantage of his superstition and fright, I placed him in a trance, and led him out into the night, where he fell senseless upon the ground. Resuming my journey, I soon discovered the loss of the ring, but I did not go back for it, thinking I would find it safe upon my return, for I felt sure that the old Indian would never again enter Dead Man's Cave. He must have seized the ring in his flight, and carried it to his cabin, where it was afterwards turned over to Deneau. You will observe that the Counsellors wear a different ring to-night, for upwards of two thousand of the kind in Deneau's possession have been destroyed and replaced by the new."

We had some five hours to wait for the coming of Gershon, Gideon, and the ten men who were to accompany them, and I lost no time in gaining all the information at hand, concerning the Order of "The Invisible Hand," and the great caverns in which the wealth of the conspirators was so effectively hidden away in the bowels of the earth.

"Our committee," continued Valdemere, "can be found at work in every large city on the globe, and even when you were in Australia I was informed at intervals as to your progress."

I gave him an incredulous look. He smiled, and continued:

"This system of espionage is so perfectly organized that we are informed of every movement of the Czar; of every step taken by his countless spies; of every prisoner who is sentenced; and of every nihilistic propaganda. Though we are not nihilists, the nihilistic circles are useful to us—they are unconsciously our abettors. They occupy the attention of many secret detectives, and by their futile, though daring, attempts, keep these myrmons on their trail, who might otherwise be directed toward us. We also have a full committee, in the pay of the Czar, who are daily entrusted with the most dangerous state secrets, and who play the dual role of keeping us informed and serving the Autocrat as member of his secret bureau. They truly serve two masters, that they may rightly serve one. When we leave this cavern you will find life less lonely. You will meet people who will interest you, and in the active role, which will be assigned you, you will no longer suffer from ennui, as you have since you have entered our house. Of course, I can't say what work will be assigned you, or what the nature of your duties will be. I do not act with any committee, and I may induce the Council to allow you to remain with and assist me in the work I firmation. Gershon spoke to me in a solemn voice, and reminded me of the gravity of my oath, and impressed upon me the nature of the serious duties I was to perform. This ceremony of confirmation was impressive in many details, and it enlightened me on many points which had hitherto appeared vague.

Valdemere read a paper, he had prepared, and I was amazed at its accuracy. It was a brief history of my life. My mother's exile in the Siberian mines was described vividly. This entitled me to membership in the Order of "The Invisible Hand."

After I had received the band of fellowship and the grip of allegiance, I began to study the features of the men who formed the council.

The more I saw of Gershon the more his commanding personality impressed me. When he fixed his gaze upon me I felt awed, when he smiled on me I felt honored. He had a way of implying a command by a look. His presence, while it did not restrain, seemed to lend dignity to the movements of those about him. I began to indulge in comparisons. He reminded me of the statesman, because I fancied he was a great politician, and could hold people enthralled—then he looked more like a priest, whose smooth face and mellow voice were designed to calm the turbulent souls of mankind; but I now remembered who he really resembled; it was a certain Pope—not Leo. Gershon displayed a nobility of bearing, a calm unflinching face, pur to a fault, but powerful in its purity; strong in its calmness. His eyes silently ruled those about him. He could smile without using his lips; he could frown without wrinkling his brow—and yet this man had felt the lash of the knout, the lacerating sting of the scorpion, and had seen his wife die of prison fever. In that calm exterior there was something more terrible than the tempests of the most dreadful anger.

I watched the men as they gathered around the stone slab, each with a paper in his hand, containing some terrible design upon human life and property.

Pengilly stood apart talking in a low tone to a long thin man. Then they disappeared into one of the passages.

"Who is the long, thin man?" I asked of Valdemere, who had drawn near.

"He is known among us as Romanski, and is one of the most expert engineers in the world. It is to this man we have entrusted the secret entrances of the cavern. Previous to his enrollment we could enter these caverns by only one route—that leading from the old house. It was he who devised the movable hearth-stone, and so cunning was his design that we felt secure from detection even should the house be entered and searched. Then we moved our treasure here."

"And Pengilly," I said, "is associated with Romanski in his work?"

"Yes," he replied, "Pengilly and Romanski will at once devise the means of lowering 'The Avenger,' and then we will prepare to remove the treasure. If we were severely threatened by the presence of gas in these caverns the work will be hurried to a finish, as the treasure must be removed from all danger. Examinations will begin to-day and all necessary steps will be taken."

"But do you anticipate any immediate danger from this source?" I inquired, feeling some alarm from his serious manner.

"I can't say," he replied, "but no time will be lost in making the examinations, which will begin immediately after our departure."

At 2 a. m. we started on our journey, and as we approached the mouth of a tunnel I looked back into the chamber, and the men were moving here and there under the direction of Gershon. I saw on his face a look calm but troubled, serene but apprehensive; then I hastened on in the path that Valdemere had taken.

His Wife's Money.

One upon a time a man married a woman who had inherited $500 from a grandfather. This was all she ever received, but the man never got credit for his efforts the rest of his life. He built a new store. "Did it with his wife's money," the neighbors said. The home was made over and enlarged. "His wife's money did it," was the only comment. The little measly $500 she inherited was given the credit for everything he did during his life, and when he died and his wife put up a monument with his life insurance, "Her money paid for that," was said again. But this is what her money really went for: During her engagement she bought herself a $350 piano and a $150 diamond ring and in a few weeks lost the ring; there was always some regret that she didn't lose the piano.—Atchison Globe.

SENATOR BURROWS.

The Smoot Case Speech and Mr. Burrows' Health.

"I will deliver my speech on the Smoot case when I am able to attend and not before," said Senator Burrows. The senator is known to have prepared a notable effort on the line that Mormons should not be allowed to participate in the government of the United States because they do not yield their first allegiance to that government, but it is not to be denied that the senator is far from being a well man at this time. He has not recovered from an attack of illness of some weeks ago, and shows plainly that he is still very weak. He has not recovered his appetite and says he will try a visit of some days in Atlantic City, in the hope that it will restore him to his accustomed vigor. His report on the Smoot case will be made to the senate, but he will not follow it with his speech until his health is much better than it now is.

TEN MILLIONS.

San Francisco Wants the Government to Loan the Money.

The assistance of the government is wanted by San Francisco in the form of a loan. Therefore, it is asked that the precedent established in the cases of the Pacific railroads, Cuba, national expositions and other instances be followed. It is suggested that congress authorize first a loan to the National Red Cross of $10,000,000 to aid in the rebuilding of the homeless in houses before next winter; second, that the secretary of the treasury be authorized to accept $12,000,000 of bonds, now unsold in the city treasury, as security for the deposit of national money with the banks; and, third, that such other measures be adopted as may be deemed appropriate.

A Test Cremation.

The jury and auditors of the Kabal murder trial going on in Appleton, Wis., were surprised Saturday when Dr. John Murphy, of Chicago, assistant to Dr. John Golden, testified to burning a human body January 23 on the McCarthy farm in order to demonstrate that a body could be cremated with a bonfire, as it is alleged Kabal cremated the body of McCarthy.

Golden testified that the body cremated by him was that of a man of about the size of McCarthy. The cremation was under precisely the same conditions as it is alleged accompanied the burning of McCarthy's body. The cremation was witnessed by District Attorney Krugmeyer, Chief Counsel, Dr. Nolan, Attorney Ryan and Heinemann.

It required four and a half hours to consume the body. Only a clear box full of ashes remained.

Mountains Change.

M. De Varigny, a Swiss scientist, has just published an interesting article on the movements of the Alps. He declares that the Swiss and Austrian Alps, are continually changing, so that an atlas of these districts two years old is no longer correct.

The writer states that many villages in the Bernese oberland and the Canton of Valais have been raised or lowered from six to twelve feet within the last six years, and that the contour of mountain ranges for hundreds of miles has considerably altered.

Eye Torn Out.

Robert Collier met with a serious accident while playing polo on Meadowbrook field, Hempstead, N. Y. In a scrimmage Harry Payne Whitney hit Mr. Collier square in the eye with his mallet, causing a deep wound in the skull. Mr. Collier's eye was torn from its socket and the force of the blow rendered him unconscious. He was hastily put in his own automobile and taken to Nassau hospital, Mineola.

CONDENSED NEWS.

The big machines of the San Francisco mint were put in operation for the first time since the fire.

Mrs. Albert Dabney Storrs, Monrovia, Cal., charged with the murder of her husband, has been discharged.

Wm. Robertson, of Millville, N. J., started to give his wife a second beating, when she drew a gun and shot him dead.

Seven persons were severely injured in Pittsburg by the crashing of a 10,000-gallon water tank through the roof of a building.

The village of San Quilico, near Calagua, on the island of Samar, has been burned by the Pulajanes, but no casualties have been reported.

The strike in the India coal fields has ended. The miners and operators have signed a two years agreement based on the 1903 agreement.

After working a number of days with his neck broken, Joe Meyers, a Gloucester, Mass., fisherman, is dead in a hospital at Vineyard Haven.

Officers of the American Tobacco Co. have been ordered to produce their books before the federal grand jury investigating that company in New York.

It is reported on good authority that a German force operating in the Karas mountains, German Southwest Africa, was recently surprised by rebels and two German officers and twelve men were killed.

By the collision of a Pennsylvania limited with a construction train near Lancaster, Pa., Fireman Charles Brown was critically injured and Engineer Charles McAuley and Baggage-man E. B. Frederick severely bruised.

"We most urgently request that the national pure food bill now before congress be taken out of committee and put upon its passage," is the wording of a telegram received by Speaker Cannon from the National Association of Wholesale Druggists.

Removed from the ministry on the charge of having traded off a horse of one of his parishioners and then reporting to the owner that the horse had died, Rev. Sepka Koster, of Hull, Ia., is trying to have his case reviewed by the convention of the Collegiate Reformed church, in session in New York. G. J. Dijkster, of Holland, Mich., is among those present.

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE TO IMPROVE THE CORN CROP

By W. M. Hays, Assistant Secretary United States Department of Agriculture.

In the first period of corn improvement the Indians moved about and carried seed-corn from place to place, thus introducing each variety to localities suited to it, and their crude method of selecting the best ears further adapted it to the new conditions. Then, too, they planted widely different kinds near enough together for cross-pollination, and the resulting hybrids were the bases ready made for further selective improvements by the white farmer.

In the second period, the pushing Americans eagerly sought out the best kinds of corn, and tested them in each new locality. Unlike the Indians, they planted the corn on the even surface of the plowed fields in straight rows, with every stalk having an even chance with every other stalk. They husked out the ears when ripe, and saved the choicest specimens for seed.

Occasionally, in a more or less systematic manner, some farmer, bolder than his fellows, would mix the seed of two varieties, and after the blood was thoroughly mixed, would submit the hybrid thus produced to selection, through a long series of years and supply the world with a new variety.

Farmers who found profit in seed-corn growing, and seed merchandizing firms, were ever on the lookout for these new varieties, and corn improvement in a rather crude although fairly effective way went steadily forward during the nineteenth century. If we could now grow beside our best varieties of corn fans improve 1 by the farmers, the best kinds received from the Indians, we should have an inspiring comparison. The world has no other such stupendous example of plant breeding; no other species in which so many varieties have been so well adapted to such an innumerable variety of conditions.

The third great epoch in corn breeding began with the establishment of our state experiment stations and the adoption of the contingency method of plant breeding previously used in Europe to make sugar beets out of common beets. An early product under this system of breeding was "Minnesota No. 13," originated by the Minnesota experiment station and first distributed in 1898.

The great work of the Illinois experiment station in changing the percentage of protein and of fat in the grain of corn soon followed, and illuminated the subject of corn breeding. Corn judging soon became a fashion, and the farm boy as well as the farmer saw new interests and new possibilities in the inherited nature of this flexible and easily adapted species.

The agricultural colleges and agricultural high schools taught corn judging. The teachers in rural schools held contests in corn judging and corn fairs in the rural schools. Farm boys' clubs grew corn in competition, and county, state and world's fairs have had wonderful contests of seed corn, where varieties are as definitely classified as are the breeds of live stock.

The state schools of agriculture sent competing teams of corn judging to the great international live stock show at Chicago, and the winning college is justly proud of its victory as if it had gained the championship at football or had won the intercollegiate oratorical contest.

The scientific breeding of corn really began to take form with the new century. Already there is a body of knowledge which, if arranged in pedagogical form, would make a course of study quite as useful in developing brain power as many of our older school courses, yet the threshold of the subject has only been crossed.

The great system of 50 American state agricultural colleges, with their research stations all articulated with that great research university, the department of agriculture, has given a new environment to the species of economically valuable plants of animals.

CONCERNING CLOCKS.

Never allow the clock to run down. It responds to regular attention just as surely as a human being does and keeps its course truly when made to follow its endless routine.

The hands of a clock should always be turned forward. To set the hands by reversing the right-hand motion is to loosen delicate screws that hold them within reach of various clock slips.

Never allow the clock to be moved from the position where it is well balanced. A deviation of two or three minutes a day from the correct time may be the result of an uneven placing of the clock, and once it is properly adjusted it should not be shifted for dusting or for artistic purposes. This is especially true of clocks that have a pedulum.

IN STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

She Has Guided Thousands to Health.

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Alice Berryhill.

It is a great satisfaction for a woman to feel that she can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only.

Many thousands of cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as she has been.

Mrs. Alice Berryhill, of 313 Boyce Street, Chattanooga, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Three years ago life looked dark to me. I had ulceration and inflammation of the female organs and was in a serious condition. My health was completely broken down and the doctor told me that if I was not operated upon I would die within six months. I told him I would have no operation but would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He tried to influence me against it but I sent for the medicine that same day and began to use it faithfully. Within five days I felt relief but was not entirely cured until I used it for some time."

"Your medicine is certainly fine. I have induced several friends and neighbors to take it and I know more than a dozen who had female troubles and who to-day are as well and strong as I am from using your Vegetable Compound."

Just as surely as Mrs. Berryhill was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills.

If you are sick write Mrs. Pinkham for advice. It is free and always helpful.

FEW OF 10,000 ANALYSES.

Among Them Artificial Water Submitted to New York Health Board.

There is an analytical department connected with the division of laboratories of the board of health, and any person who does not think that it is a body department is mistaken, says the New York Sun. As many as 10,000 demands for analyses are made upon it each year, and the diligence of those in charge is shown by the fact that at the end of the year there are never more than 25 or 30 cases awaiting a report.

Some of the demands are peculiar. One applicant demanded and obtained an analysis of a piece of soap; another, of a "pan said to contain pudding." There were two analyses of ginger, one of honey, one of hair restorer, one of orange marmalade, two of olive oil, one of pie, seven of opium, and one—only one—of whisky.

Only three specimens of candy were sent in for analysis during the period covered by the last report, only two of butter and only two of bread, but there was one analysis of an artificial watermelon, two of ground mustard, two of theater entrance cloths, one of "tea in pitcher," and one of a piece of clay.

There does not appear to have been any analysis of wine alcohol, but there were four of ice cream. There was one official analysis of "beef and."

The chief work of this department of the division of laboratories is the analysis of milk and of water.

CRUEL TRICK ON TWIN.

Freckled Impostor Played It on the Humorist in a Game of Billiards.

Mark Twain told the spectators at the billiard tournament in New York lately what he knew about the game. "The game of billiards has destroyed my naturally sweet disposition," he said. "Once when I was an underpaid reporter in Virginia City, I went out to look for easy marks. One day a stranger came in town and opened a billiard parlor. I looked him over casually. When he proposed a game I answered all right.

"Just knock the balls around a little so that I can get your gait," he said, and when I had done so he remarked: 'I will be perfectly fair with you. I'll play you left-handed.' I felt hurt, for he was cross-eyed, freckled and had red hair, and I determined to teach him a lesson. He won first shot, ran out, took my hair dollar, and all I got was the opportunity to chalk my cue.

"If you can play like that with your left hand," I said, 'I'd like to see you play with your right.'

"I can't," he said. 'I'm left-handed.'

Deadly Serpent Bites
Are as common in India as are stomach and liver disorders with us. For the latter however there is a sure remedy. Electric Bitters, the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Brown of Bennettville, S. C., says: "They restored my wife to perfect health, after years of suffering with dyspepsia and a chronically torpid liver." Electric Bitters cure chills and fever, malaria, biliousness, lame back, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. Sold on guarantee at the Bank Drug Store. Price 50 cents.

Education in Germany.
Opposition is growing in Germany to the present system of education which gives so much time to the learning of dead languages. It is argued that the game is not worth the candle except for those who intend to teach languages.

Dangerous British Coast.
The most dangerous part of the British coast is between Flamborough Head and the North Foreland. Next comes that between Anelsey and the Mull of Kintyre.

Real Regret.
A man has to lose a good deal of money on the races, says the New York Press, to feel as bad about it as he does when he gets sent for a small subscription to a charity.

Russia's Area.
Russia in Europe has an area of 2,000,000 square miles. This is 23 times the size of Great Britain. Siberian Russia has an area of 5,000,000 square miles.

Following The Flag.
When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willie T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of rural route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took 'Dr. King's New Discovery' for consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for colds, coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at the Bank Drug Store. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Dr. Pyle is the proud possessor of a gold bonded Japanese Ily. He has grown it from a bulb and it is now large and in "full bloom." In this part of the world it is a rare plant, and one seldom sees anything so beautiful as it is when in blossom.—Milan Leader.

State Game and Fish Warden Chapman reports 99 arrests for May, 85 of them being for violation of the fish laws. The total of fines and costs imposed amounted to $1,294. Washtenaw county violators of the law contributed to the fines.

Charles F. Farrer, of Howell, has obtained a patent for an automatic mail box to be used on rural mail routes. The Livingston Herald wants the citizens of Howell to wake-up and organize a company to manufacture the new mail boxes.

D. Nisley, of Saline, met with a serious accident Thursday afternoon while he was riding with his son Fred in their automobile. Mr. Nisley, who was guiding the machine, in some way lost control of it and the auto was overturned throwing the occupants out. Mr. Nisley was injured internally.

The Freedom correspondent of the Ann Arbor News is the authority for the following which appeared in that paper last Saturday: "A strange phenomenon, a rainbow by moonlight, very seldom seen was plainly visible here for about five minutes, right after the heavy thunder storm at 2:30 Friday morning. The moon shining brightly through the rain, which still was falling, the rainbow in its pale colors appeared distinctly in the northern skies."

Weak Kidneys Make Weak Bodies.
Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Pains.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down. Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison accumulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever increasing tendency toward diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ills. Albert Coon, of 925 Page avenue, Jackson, Mich., blacksmith employed at the Webster wagon works, says: "I had for years weakness and heavy aching pain across the small of my back just over the kidneys. I could not stoop to lift anything without getting sharp twinges ably at night, but rose in the morning tired and unrefreshed. Latterly the kidney secretions became affected, were highly colored and irregular in action. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box. They helped me from the very start, and one and a half boxes completely cured me."

Ringling Bros.' Excursions.

Special excursion rates on all lines of travel have been arranged for by the management of Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows, and those who wish to go to Jackson where this great circus exhibits Tuesday, June 26, can do so at very little expense. This will be the only point in this vicinity where the show will exhibit this season, and no one should miss the opportunity to witness it. Ringling Brothers' circus has been the leading arena exhibition of America for years, but the show has never been permitted to rest upon its reputation. Although it long ago passed the point of competition, every season sees a greater and grander show. This year's performance is entirely new, and entails the combined efforts of 375 wonderful artists in the equestrian gymnastics, acrobatic, acrobatic and aerial line, together with fifty famous clowns and hundreds of lesser lights. Six hundred and fifty horses are used and a marvelous trained animal department is presented. The circus this season is greatly enlarged by a spectacular production of the Field of Cloth of Gold, a pantomime presentation of the well known and beautiful historical meeting between the young Kings of England and France. The vast menagerie has among hundreds of features the only living pair of giraffes, the first baby elephant successfully bred and reared in America, and the only rhinoceros in captivity. There is a gorgeous revival of the Roman hippodrome races, and many other stupendous features in this great circus. Circus day opens with a brilliant street parade, three miles in length. Don't fail to see it.

An Alarming Situation.

THE MASTER SPECIALISTS OF AMERICA

We know the diseases and weaknesses of men like an open book. We have been curing them for 30 years. We have given our lives to it, and thousands upon thousands of men restored to Vigorous Vitality are today living monuments to the skill, knowledge and success of Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. We never hold out false hopes, we never undertake a case we cannot cure. We have made so thorough a study of all the diseases of men—of Varicose, Stricture, Blood Poisons, Hydrocele, Nervous Debility, Paralysis, Bladder, Urinary and Kidney Diseases, General Weakness, Loss of Vitality, and have cured so many thousands of cases that if there is a cure for YOUR disease you will find it here. When we undertake a case there is no such thing as failure. We charge nothing for consultation and our knowledge, skill and experience are at your service. We will explain to you how and why we can cure you; why the diseases of men require the knowledge and skill of Master Specialists. We do not require to experiment with your case as we know from experience in treating thousands of cases exactly what to prescribe for your symptoms. Don't be discouraged if you have treated without success with Quacks, Fakirs, Electric Belts, Free Trials, etc. You must get cured—and Doctors alone can cure you. Our New Method System of treatment has stood the test for 25 years—why should it fail in your case. Should your case prove incurable you need not pay us a dollar. We refer you to any Bank in this city as to our financial standing. If you cannot call write for a Question Blank for Home Treatment. Consultation Free. Booklets sent Free.

Chancery Order.
STATE OF MICHIGAN—in the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, ss. At a session of the Chancery Court for said County of Washtenaw, held at the Probate Office, in the City of Ann Arbor, on the 28th day of May, A. D. 1906.

Steam Versus Wind.
The sail is not to be dis- used on sea nor the horse on land, no matter what discoveries are made in swifter locomotion. The New York World thus discusses the arrival at New York of the new German sailboat, the largest in the world: "The arrival in this port of a new five-masted German bark from Bremen, which is called the biggest sailing ship afloat, indicates that Kals r Wilhelm's practical subjects agree with the equally practical Maine yankees that the sail is not 'played out' on the wide sea. The Maine yankee would risk his craft schooner fashion for greater ease of handling, distribute his eighth of an acre of canvas over seven or eight masts and employ one-third as many men, but that is a detail. The Rickmers is rated at some 5,000 tons, and as she has to carry comparatively little coal for her 'kicker' engine and winches, her net cargo capacity exceeds that of all but the very largest steamships. Unless some one invents a new and cheaper fuel than coal such craft are likely to grow more numerous. In safety the steamship has no great advantage over them."

We are told that M. H. De Young, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle, was one of the heaviest losers in the recent disaster—and perhaps the most cheerful and optimistic. While he was reviewing the scattered ashes and damaged remains of his extensive holdings a friend stepped up and said compassionately: "Cheer up. It will be all right." Mr. De Young turned quickly and replied: "I don't know about that. Why I—?" "There were many who lost their fortunes," said the friend, "but they will get them back again." At this Mr. De Young became impatient. "That's not what's bothering me," said he. "What I want to know is where I am going to get material to rebuild."

Not the least touching thing in connection with the San Francisco calamity is the character of many of the contributors to the relief fund. Some very large contributions have been recorded, and some as small as five cents. As one reads the lists in the daily papers, he finds streets and bell-boys in the hotels, street car conductors and motemen, office boys, shopgirls and many others whose earnings are small and whose needs usually are great. It is such givers as these who show how wide-spread is the sympathy and how universal is the generosity of the country toward the capital of the western coast.

A well-known player tells an amusing story of an unsuccessful comedy. When the curtain rose at a matinee in Brooklyn, there were 15 persons in the house. In the front of the house there was only a young girl in the second row. In the first row of the balcony sat one young man. As the leading man spoke his first line: "The sea is purple; have you, too, noticed it?" the voice of the young man in the balcony responded: "I don't know about the young lady downstairs, but I can see it very plainly."

Prof. W. R. Hart, of Nebraska, in a recent address took the ground that the study of agriculture in our public schools would afford the best possible material for mental discipline. Not only is the farm life and its occupations full of material to cultivate the power of observation but it is all connected with the life of the student. What knowledge the country child has is certain and vivid. He has been dealing with realities instead of with symbols and abstractions.

Betsy Sims, a splendidly handsome amazon, has been in court at Raleigh, N. C., charged with moonshining. She is 26 years old, gifted with any amount of nerve and well known how to use the revolver she habitually carries. Three deputy sheriffs tried to capture her in Rutherford county, but five men rushed to her rescue and she escaped. Later she came into court voluntarily and soon will be brought to trial.

Chicago's city hall has long been in bad condition, but no one has known exactly what was the matter with it. Now all is clear. A committee of expert engineers has inspected it and reports that the building has "circumflex fractures," that its lateral trusses "show great fatigue," that its "angle of repose has been tampered with," that its "metacentrum has shifted at least five inches" and that it "suffers from a deflection of gyrations."

According to recent report Judge Brumback, of Kansas City, was presiding at the trial of a case in which a piano player sued a railroad company for $25,000 damages. Plaintiff had had the fingers of his right hand cut off. The injured man's hand was being examined by the jury when he began to cry. His honor, fearing that the display of emotion might prejudice some of the jurors in plaintiff's favor, discharged the jury and now the piano player will have to file suit again.

MICHIGAN EVENTS NOTED

TWO MEN KILLED IN CYCLONE WHICH DID VERY MUCH DAMAGE.

WRECK STREWN PATH

Some Baby Cyclones and Thunder Storms Do Injury in Several Places in the State.

The Ravages of a Storm.
Two men were killed and heavy financial loss was suffered in several places in Michigan as a result of thunderstorms and cyclones Thursday afternoon. Allegan, Genesee, Oakland and Washtenaw counties were visited by the storm.

Wm. West, of Martin, killed in destruction of barn.
Alexander Ferguson, aged 70, near Mt. Morris, killed by lightning which struck his barn.

Wm. McGregor and two children, of Martin, seriously injured in collapse of barn.

Wm. Snyder, of Athens, severely injured in wreck of his home.
Alonso Watkins, of Athens, badly hurt in destruction of his home.
James Finnegan, of Jackson, knocked insensible in his house.

Taking refuge in A. C. Monteith's barn in Martin on the approach of the storm Thursday afternoon, William West was killed by falling rafters when the building was lifted from its foundations. William McGregor and two children, who were with him, were seriously injured. West was 54 years old, and is survived by a widow and two children.

The storm, which developed into a cyclone, swept a territory two and a half miles long and a mile and a quarter wide. Fences were blown down, barns wrecked and orchards damaged. The financial loss will be heavy in the aggregate.

Struck dead by an electric bolt as he was doing his chores Thursday evening, Alexander Ferguson, aged 70, of Flint, narrowly escaped cremation in the destruction of his barn by fire originating from the lightning. Mrs. Ferguson dragged his body from the building, which was consumed with six calves, two horses and several cows.

One wheel of a gypsy wagon, struck by the cyclone which passed two miles east of Athens was carried 50 rods and landed in the parlor of William Snyder's residence, which had been partially unroofed. Alonso Watkins' cow was also partially unroofed, and six large barns wrecked in this vicinity.

Several persons were injured and houses burned or damaged in Jackson. James Finnegan's house was burned. Mrs. Finnegan was rendered unconscious. Mrs. Brown, of 618 High street, broke her ankle in getting out of the Finnegan house.

Mrs. Charles Anderson, while ironing in her home on the opposite side of the street had her arm broken by a brick hurled from the chimney when her house was struck. E. E. Everett, while driving to his home four miles west of the city, had his horse killed and was himself stunned. The houses of Frank Ferrell and Robert Douglass were also struck.

A trail of wreckage, two blocks wide, was left in the wake of the tornado, which swept the western part of Pontiac. Oak trees were uprooted, barns blown down and residences damaged. Lightning did damage to the extent of over $2,000 at the farm of Chris Wislogel, two miles from Albion. Five valuable dairy cows were killed in an open field. Two houses in or near the city were partially destroyed.

Thousands of dollars worth of property in Calhoun county has been destroyed. The storm swept from Battle Creek to Athens, leveling fences, trees, windmills, outbuildings and small bridges. H. L. Hollinger's barn was wrecked and grain and stock in the barns of S. W. Holmes lost in the storm. Little damage was done in Battle Creek. The Haskell home, an adventist institution, was struck by lightning and the plaster stripped off the many rooms.

The storm unroofed the large brick house of Albert Muehleberg in Lenox and removed John Thelen's new barn from its foundation at Smith's Creek village. John Hagen's house was moved from its foundation. Pat Keely's barn was unroofed, and Manley Hawley's house and barn badly damaged. Buildings and property near Cadillac were seriously injured.

The Methodist Protestant church in Plainfield was totally destroyed. The loss is $3,000 with no insurance. It was built in 1868 and Rev. W. F. Ostrander does not know whether it will be rebuilt.

Several small buildings in the outskirts of Lapeer were destroyed by the storm. The new $15,000 Michigan Central depot was struck while a large crowd was waiting for a train. Several women fainted, but little damage was done. A second time the bolt knocked a hole in the roof 10 feet square, and Night Operator B. F. Myers got a slight shock.

Pontiac manufacturers secured a cut of 5 per cent in their assessments as a result of their kick to the board of review. The rolls now show an increase of $59,000 in real estate assessments and a decrease of $144,000 in personal.

SALARIES RAISED.

Several Michigan Postmasters Will Get More Money.

Changes in Michigan postmasters' salaries under the annual readjustment are as follows: Flint, $2,900 to $3,000; Fushing, from $1,000 to $1,400; Gladstone, from $1,800 to $2,000; Gladwin, from $1,300 to $1,400; Grand Haven, from $2,200 to $2,300; Grand Marais, from $1,200 to $1,300; Greenville, from $2,200 to $2,400; Harbor Beach, from $1,600 to $1,800; Hart, from $1,700 to $1,800; Harford, from $1,500 to $1,600; Homer, from $1,500 to $1,400; Howell, from $1,800 to $1,900; Ironwood, from $2,200 to $2,400; Jonesville, from $1,500 to $1,600; Lapeer, from $1,100 to $1,200; Lake City, from $1,100 to $1,200; Lapeer, from $2,100 to $2,200; Laurium, from $2,000 to $2,100; Lawrence, from $1,100 to $1,200; Lawton, from $1,400 to $1,500; Ludington, from $2,400 to $2,500; Marine City, from $1,600 to $1,700; Marlette, from $1,500 to $1,600; Mason, from $1,800 to $1,700; Midland, from $1,700 to $1,800; Milan, from $1,500 to $1,600; Millington, from $1,100 to $1,200; Montague, from $1,100 to $1,200; Munising, from $1,600 to $1,700; Muskegon, from $1,100 to $1,200; Negaunee, from $2,000 to $2,100; West Branch, from $1,200 to $1,300; Ontonagon, from $1,400 to $1,500.

Two Were Killed.

Charles Wood, of Grand Rapids, and William Baker, of Muir, in charge of whitewash cars, were killed in a collision between a northbound freight and a southbound wrecking train at a curve near Cadillac on the G. R. & I. late Tuesday afternoon. The trains had orders to proceed cautiously, but they came together with a crash. Wood leaves a widow and one child in Grand Rapids, while a widow and four children survive Baker at Muir. Passenger trains are transferring at the wreck.

Pat Wanted to Know.

Patrick Gleason, a well-to-do Lapeer farmer, drank carbolic acid and after some hours was pronounced dead. Preparations were made for his funeral and the undertaker was making ready to entomb him the day when Pat woke up and asked: "Hey, what are you going to do?"

Pat had been mentally deranged for some time, and plans were being made to send him to an asylum when a nephew from Brown City said he would take care of him.

Two Boys Drowned.

While wading in Paw Paw river Lester Thompson and Benny Runyan, each 11 years old, of Watervliet, got beyond their depth and as neither could swim they were drowned before men could reach them from the paper mill nearby. John Runyan, aged seven, was rescued and was restored with difficulty.

MICHIGAN IN BRIEF.

A new state bank is being organized in Vicksburg.
E. J. Thrasher has been appointed game warden of Genesee county.

The Republican state convention will be held in Detroit on July 31.

There are numerous cases of whooping cough in Camden, many adults being affected.

H. G. Henderson, aged 26, former agent of the Pere Marquette at New Richmond, was drowned while canoeing in Kalamazoo lake.

Attorney General Bird has held that primary day is not a legal holiday for banks and courts, but the law provides that the saloons shall close.

Fire destroyed the canning factory of Bernes & Cooley in Marquette. The loss is $12,000 with only $2,500 insurance. The origin is unknown.

Mike Kasun, of Calumet, was acquitted of the murder of Martha Strans. Strans, by mistake, entered Kasun's home under the impression that it was his own. He was fatally shot.

Sam Matson, a timberman in No. 5 shaft of the Tamarack mine, was killed Saturday by a blast. The charge exploded prematurely, and Matson was terribly mangled. A large family survives him.

Gilbert Dowey, aged 70, a pioneer resident of Mt. Morris township, died from injuries received by being kicked by a horse seven weeks ago. He had lived on the farm where he died since he was 11 years old.

The twenty-eighth annual encampment of the G. A. R. of Michigan, will be held in Jackson, June 15. The first business session will open at 9:30 a. m. in the Masonic temple with the department commander presiding.

The Oliver Mining Co. is to purchase the holdings of the Cedar River Land Co., embracing over 60,000 acres in Menominee, Dickinson, Delta and Marquette counties, mills and other properties. The consideration is $700,000.

William Neubling, aged 23, died Thursday night from the effects of a sunstroke received while working on a farm in Lode township. He became ill and in a dazed condition went to the home of his parents in Freedom township, where he died.

A phenomena is reported from Freedom, where on Friday morning, at 2:30 o'clock, a rainbow was seen. The moon was shining brightly while a heavy shower was falling in another part of the sky and during this time a moon rainbow appeared.

Geo. A. Meyers, of Kalamazoo, has an incubator which hatched a chicken with four legs, two directly behind the others. It is alive and lively.

Mrs. J. T. Morgan, of Pentwater, has learned of the death from appendicitis of her son, Chester, aged 21, in the general hospital in Look Shin, China. He was on the battleship Oregon when taken sick.

Johnny Kiser, aged 4, of Royal Oak, and three playmates, drove off with the Kiser carriage without the parents' knowledge, and the horse upset the carriage. Johnny's leg was broken, but the other children were uninjured.

NOT ONLY USEFUL, BUT NECESSARY.

FINDS EASY ROAD TO RICHES

COAL COMPANIES JUST FORCE CLERK TO TAKE MONEY.

Donate from Three to Five Cents on Every Ton Purchased to Agent of Railroad.

Philadelphia.—That he accepted gifts of stock amounting to $16,000 from coal mining companies during a period of about three years was admitted Wednesday by Joseph Boyer, chief clerk, in the office of A. W. Gibbs, superintendent of motive power of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. Boyer purchases the fuel coal used in the locomotives of the company and the donors of the gifts were the coal companies which furnished the fuel to the railroad. Mr. Boyer named five companies which allowed him from three to five cents on each ton sold to the railroad company. He declared that he never asked for the allowance, but accepted it because he believed he was following a custom of the department. In fact, one of the coal company officials told him that he had paid it before and wanted to continue paying it to the witness.

A. W. Gibbs, Mr. Boyer's superior officer on the stand, said he was unaware that such conditions existed in his department.

Mr. Boyer said he was at first disinclined to accept the money, but after thinking it over decided that he was doing nothing unusual.

M. K. Reeves, assistant to Vice President Pugh admitted that he had accepted stock from Col. George S. Huff and David E. Williams. Col. Huff, he said, purchased some of his holdings in the Keystone Coal and Coke company, paying him $300,000 for it. Mr. Reeves stated that he has known Col. Huff since boyhood and declared the latter knew he was not in a position to favor him when the stock was presented.

Philadelphia.—Joseph K. Alken, chief clerk to A. G. Mitchell, superintendent of the Monongahela river division of the Pennsylvania railroad, admitted owning stock in numerous coal companies, some of which was given to him while for the other shares he paid a privilege price. He testified to having paid to Joseph Boyer, former clerk to A. W. Gibbs, five cents a ton commission for fuel coal which one of his companies furnished to the railroad.

Philadelphia.—W. G. Spangler, local agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Milton, Pa., before the interstate commerce commission Friday testified that in addition to his duties as railroad agent he also acted as sales agent for the Keystone Coal and Coke company. He said that the greater portion of the coal tonnage for Milton had been shipped over the line to the Reading company until he became sales agent, when the Pennsylvania's tonnage was increased about 1,000 tons monthly. He was made sales agent after a conference with Robert K. Cassatt. He received a commission of 2 1/2 cents a ton.

Indiana, Pa.—The new mining town of Ernest, on the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad, five miles from here, was the scene early Friday of a conflict between a detail of state constabulary and striking coal miners, in which eight strikers were wounded, three of them fatally.

Three Lives for Hat.
St. Paul, Minn.—Dennis E. McQuinn, O. J. Nordby and John Sag were drowned while fishing in Bass lake. The wind lifted the hat from the head of one of the men, and he jumped up suddenly in an attempt to catch it, capsizing the boat.

Limited Train Derailed.
Cheyenne, Wyo.—The Los Angeles limited, on the Union Pacific, was derailed east of Pine Bluffs. The engine, tourist car and diner left the tracks, as did one of the trucks of a Pullman, but none was seriously hurt.

To Play World's Champion.
London.—A tennis match has been arranged for June 15 between Jay Gould, of Lakewood, N. J., the American champion, and C. Falces, champion of the world. Falces conceded 15 and one disque.

Oil Stove Kills Three.
Syracuse, N. Y.—The explosion of an oil stove in an apartment here resulted in the death of Mrs. Desmond Davis, aged 26, Mrs. Hosmer Alexander, sister-in-law of Mrs. Davis, and three-year-old daughter, Gladys.

Oklahoma Hotel Burned.
Lawton, Okla.—Fire early Friday destroyed the Palace hotel at Waurika, in Comanche county, near here, causing a loss of $50,000. Half a dozen persons were injured slightly by jumping from windows.

Firemen Killed in Collision.
St. Louis.—A collision between passenger trains occurred on the Iron Mountain road near Menigo, 115 miles south of here, early Friday, resulting in the death of a fireman and injuries to three trainmen.

Deneen Names Flag Day.
Springfield, Ill.—Gov. Deneen Friday issued a proclamation designating Thursday, June 14, as Flag day. The proclamation urges citizens to display from business houses and homes the flag of the country.

PACKING HOUSES CLEANED

BETTER CONDITIONS APPEAR AT CHICAGO YARDS.

Proprietors Provide New Toilet Rooms, More Fresh Towels and Additional Dressing Rooms.

Washington.—In response to a request from the house committee on agriculture, President Roosevelt Friday forwarded to Representative Wadsworth, the chairman of that committee, the report made to him by a committee of the department of agriculture regarding conditions in the Chicago meat packing houses. Accompanying the report was a letter from the president, in which he points out that there is no conflict in substance between the Neill-Reynolds report and that of the agricultural department experts.

The president quotes a letter received from a most competent and trustworthy witness in Chicago, to the effect that the packing house proprietors are manifesting almost "a humorous haste to clean up, repave and even to plan for future changes." New toilet rooms are being provided, with additional dressing rooms and clean towels. The report says that "the haste towards reform would have been amusing if it were not so nearly tragic."

The president's correspondent says his investigations have not been completed, but that "enough has been developed in my judgment to call for immediate, thorough-going and radical enlargement of the powers of the government in inspecting all meats which enter into interstate and foreign commerce."

EIGHT KILLED IN MINE.

White Damp Fills Corridors After Fire, Carrying Death to Workers and Rescuers.

Anaconda, Mont.—One of the most serious accidents in the history of coal mining in Montana has occurred in the mines of the Northern Pacific at Rocky Fork, near Red Lodge, Carbon county. Eight men are dead, all victims of the deadly white damp that filled the corridors of the mine after the fire which started Wednesday. Their bodies have been recovered, but the story of the work of rescue parties is a tale of unexcelled bravery and heroic self-sacrifice.

Of the dead, two were members of one of the parties that entered the mine in the effort to reach the men known to be there.

The fire which caused the trouble started in incline No. 6 Wednesday. This was believed to be under control after a long, hard fight. At 7:30 Thursday morning the rescue party started down No. 6 incline, proceeding cautiously, as it was found that there were still traces of the fire. When they reached a depth of 1,200 feet all was overcome. Seven managed to struggle back to where they could be reached.

NEW SENATOR FROM KANSAS

Gov. Hoch Names Foster Dwight Coburn to Succeed J. Ralph Burton, Who Resigned.

Topeka, Kan.—Foster Dwight Coburn, the widely known agriculturist, was appointed United States senator by Gov. E. W. Hoch late Monday afternoon to succeed J. Ralph Burton, who resigned Monday morning. Mr. Coburn has not definitely accepted the appointment. Mr. Coburn was not a candidate for the appointment, nor has he been a candidate for the election to the senate seat to be filled by the legislature next year. Mr. Coburn was born in Jefferson county, Wisconsin, in 1846. He served in two Illinois regiments during the civil war and settled in Kansas in 1867. He has served for the past 16 years as secretary of the Kansas state board of agriculture, and is well known all over the world for his agricultural reports. Mr. Coburn's home is in Kansas City, Kan. He was a commissioner of live stock exhibits at the St. Louis exposition in 1904.

Guatemala Rebels Elated.
Mexico City.—News received early Wednesday from Gen. Toledo, in command of the revolutionary party, says that he has, in two engagements, badly routed Cabrera's troops and that his forces are being reinforced by the arrival of large bodies of men he has no doubt of his success and triumphant advance to Guatemala City.

Favors Pensions for Miners.
London.—The Miners' International Congress held its closing sitting Friday under the presidency of J. P. White, president of the American Miners' association. Resolutions were adopted in favor of miners' old age pensions and the nationalization of mines.

EASTERN ONTARIO STORM

Streets of Chatham Filled with Debris from Unroofed Houses and Fallen Trees.

Detroit, Mich.—Eastern Ontario was swept by a terrific wind and rainstorm Friday afternoon. Chatham suffered severe property loss from the storm, which unroofed houses, blew down trees, felled wires and filled the streets with debris; but no loss of life resulted and no one was seriously hurt. Considerable damage is reported from small towns and farms between here and Chatham.

A torrential rainstorm, accompanied by a 40-mile wind, swept Detroit from before six o'clock Friday evening. The rainfall in less than an hour measured 1.36 inches, and the wind in five minutes sprang from a gentle state-mile breeze to 40 miles an hour.

North Branch, Minn.—A tornado passed about one-half mile east of here at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon doing heavy damage.

The storm is known to have destroyed at least three farmhouses near town. Mrs. Mygran and Benjamin Lagoo were badly injured. Physicians have followed up the path of the storm and indications are that several persons have been killed and many injured.

The village of Wyoming was also in the path of the storm. The home of Mr. Funk at that place was completely destroyed and some members of the family hurt.

La Crosse, Wis.—Six persons were seriously injured and ten buildings were leveled by a tornado near Stoddard, Wis., Wednesday.

The hurricane centered, apparently, one and one-half miles east of Stoddard, Vernon county. It passed up Coon valley and Mormon Coulee, striking Stoddard and Brinkman most heavily.

A windstorm also did damage at Leon, Wis.

Many farms are reported to be completely devastated.

SENATOR GORMAN DEAD.

Well-Known Democratic Leader Passes Away at Washington After Long Illness.

Washington.—Arthur Pue Gorman, United States senator from Maryland, died suddenly at his residence in this city at 9:05 o'clock Monday morning. While Senator Gorman had been ill for many months, he had shown some improvement lately. Heart trouble was the immediate cause of death. He leaves a widow and six children.

The senate adjourned immediately upon receiving the announcement of Senator Gorman's death.

The house also adjourned when the announcement of the death of Senator Gorman was made.

Senator Gorman long had been a notable figure in the national congress. He first took his seat in 1881, and served continuously for 18 years, and nearly all of that time he was the leader of the Democratic party in the senate.

Winning early a reputation for sagacity, and the keenest judgment in congressional affairs, he attained prominence not only as a leader in the senate but in the country at large, and by many men was considered the most available man in his party for the presidency. He was chairman of the executive committee, and managed the campaign that resulted in the election of Cleveland in 1884.

KANKAKEE ASYLUM PROBE.

Insane Woman Who Gave Birth to 'Babe' Appears Before Grand Jury.

Kankakee, Ill.—Purchasing Agent Charles Armistage, of the Illinois Eastern hospital, was summoned before the grand jury Friday afternoon with the records of coal purchases made by the state institution for three years. Later, it is said, subpoenas will be issued for officials of the railroad companies that haul the coal in order to see if the institution's records correspond with the railroad way bills.

Kittle Ward, the insane patient who recently gave birth to a child, was the first witness. Miss Ward apparently had no knowledge of the character of the proceedings and gave incoherent answers. When asked if she knew the father of the child she named one of the questioners. A general laugh followed and the interrogation was brought to a sudden end.

Frank B. Liseney, a teamster, and Charles Zedori, a farmer, testified that they saw an attendant strike a runaway patient named Merrill on a road near the hospital a few days ago.

May Trade Expanded.
New York.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Current distribution of merchandise is largely dependent upon the weather, which varies widely according to locality. On the whole, the week's results were encouraging and monthly reports for May show splendid gains over last year's figures.

THE CELEBRATED CASE THAT WON CIVIL RIGHTS FOR INDIANS

Order Issued by Carl Schurz, While Secretary of the Interior, Brought Long-Standing Trouble to a Crisis.

SPLENDID ORATION MADE BY INDIAN CHIEF

Eloquence of Standing Bear, Pleading for His Own and His People's Rights, the Cause of an Ovation in Crowded Nebraska Court Room—Judge Dundy's Famous Decision.

Omaha.—The late Carl Schurz is best remembered in Omaha as the cause of the American Indians being admitted to full citizenship in this country—not through his taking the side of the red man in the long struggle, but because he, as secretary of the interior, issued an order which so aroused the west to the wrongs of the Indian that a crusade was started in Omaha which reached to all portions of the United States, lasted seven years, and ended with supreme court decisions and legislative enactments making the Indian as free as a white man if he choose to be so, and to accept the conditions of civilization.

Schurz had the order issued to Gen. Crook, then stationed at Omaha and commanding this department of the army, and immediately the cause of the Indian was taken up by Thomas H. Tibbles, late vice presidential candidate on the populist ticket; Gen. Crook, John L. Webster, Judge Dundy, and a score of other men prominent in the west.

Previous to the fight spoken of here every Indian in the United States was subject to the orders of the secretary of the interior. The government was an absolute autocrat over the destiny of the red man in the entire country.

Pitiful Funeral Procession.
Back in 1879 a pitiful procession wound its slow way northward from Indian territory, bound for the prairies of Nebraska. There were 30 Indians on foot and one old wagon, drawn by two worn-out horses. In the wagon was the dead body of a child—an Indian boy. The leader of the little party was the father of the dead child; the famous Ponca Indian chief, Standing Bear, a few years later to be the best-known Indian in the entire world—and to speak in every city in the country in behalf of his people.

Standing Bear's party was on route to the Niobrara country, in northern Nebraska, to bury the child in the ancient burying grounds of the tribe. They had started on the long trip, although permission to leave the reservation in Indian Territory, on which they had been settled against their will, had been refused.

Lawyers, every one in Nebraska, and many from the big eastern cities; business men, Gen. Crook and his full staff, in their dress uniforms (this was one of the few times in his life that Crook wore his full dress in public), and the Indians themselves, in their gaudy colors. The courtroom was a galaxy of brilliancy.

"On one side stood the army officers, the brilliantly dressed women, and the white people; on the other was Standing Bear, in his official robes as chief of the Poncas, and with him were his leading men.

"Far back in the audience, shrinking from observation, was an Indian girl who afterward became famous as a lecturer in England and America. She was later known on both continents by a translation of her Indian name, In-sta-the-am-ba, Bright Eyes.

Long and Able Arguments.
"Attorney Poppleton's argument was carefully prepared, and consumed 16 hours in the delivering, occupying the attention of the court for two days. On the third day Mr. Webster spoke for six hours. And during all the proceedings the courtroom was packed with the beauty and culture of the city.

"Towards the close of the trial the situation became tense. As the wrongs inflicted on the Indians were described by the attorneys indignation was often at a white heat, and the judge made no attempt at suppressing the applause which broke out from time to time.

"For the department Mr. Lamberton made a short address, but was listened to in silence.

"It was late in the afternoon when the trial drew to a close. The excitement had been increasing, but it reached a height not before felt when Judge Dundy announced that Chief Standing Bear would be allowed to make a speech in his own behalf.

"Not one in that audience besides the army officers and Mr. Tibbles had ever heard an oration by an Indian chief. All of them had read of the eloquence of Red Jacket and Logan, and they sat there wondering whether the mid-looking old man, with the lines of suffering and sorrow on his furrowed brow and cheek, dressed in the full robes of an Indian chief, could make a speech at all.

"It happened that there was a good interpreter present—the son of Father Hamilton, a well-known missionary.

Standing Bear arose. Half-facing the audience he held out his right hand and stood motionless so long that the stillness of death which had settled down on the audience became almost unbearable. At last, looking up at the judge, he said:

"That hand is not the color of yours, but if I prick it, the blood will flow and I shall feel pain. The blood is of the same color as yours. God made me, and I am a man. I never committed a crime. If I had I would stand here to make a defense. I will not suffer the punishment and make you complain.

"Still standing, half-facing the audience, he looked past the judge out of a window as if gazing upon something far in the distance, and continued:

"I seem to be standing on the high bank of a great river, with my wife and little girl by my side. I cannot cross the river, and impassable cliffs arise behind me. I hear the noise of great waters; I look and see a flood coming. The waters rise to our feet and then to our knees. My little girl stretches her hands toward me and says, 'Save me!'

WEIGHT OF BRAIN

DOES NOT DETERMINE INTELLIGENCE OF MAN.

May Be Defective in Part and Yet the Person May Become Noted for Mental Brilliance.

Other factors besides brain weight are known to influence intelligence. It has long been known that the distinguished character of the human brain is the large number of connecting fibers by which its cells are coordinated. In no other species are they so numerous or complicated. The cells constitute but a very small part of the weight, says American Medicine.

There is now considerable evidence that the same rule applies among individual men and that those of great intelligence have more connections, so that their cells can do more and better "team work."

Some investigations have shown the corpus callosum to have a large cross section in men who had shown great ability. It is also known that the brains of able men are likely to present more convolutions and deeper ones than the average, as if there were more brain cells as well as more connections. A few observations in the lower races point to the fact that their brains are essentially different in microscopic organizations, partly accounting for less intelligence.

All these facts will fully explain why men of intelligence in the higher races may have brains not notably heavy, but they do not disprove the general statement that as a class such men do possess brains heavier than the average.

The mistake arises from the failure to recognize that noted men who have shown intellectual power not infrequently were sharply limited to one or two directions, being very defective in other directions.

Blind Tom was an idiot, in fact—an extreme case of what is quite common at the other extreme was Gambetta, who was not much more than an orator whose cerebral speech centers were found to be highly developed. The rest of his brain was small and his general intellectual power and judgments were decidedly defective. Ability in one or two lines may make a man famous while he is really very defective and his brain proves to be small.

Heavy brains are not necessarily intellectual ones or elephants would be in a class of geniuses. The material might also be pathologic and the possessor an imbecile.

It often happens that men of big brain and great ability suffer from early neglect and are found in lowly employments or may remain ignorant through life. These few facts do not prove that large brains are worthless and not indicative of mental power as a rule. We can not get away from the fact that man as an animal is supreme because of his large brain, that among races the brainiest are the highest and that in any case one race the most intelligent as a rule are those who have the most brains.

Men of small brains are not the leaders and no statistics of the brain weight of a few exceptional men noted for limited abilities can reverse the rule. Universities do not create brains but merely train what exist so that the owners are better fitted for the battle of life. Many a man is sent to college who should be handling a pick and shovel, and he never amounts to much, even though he subsequently makes his living at some very limited specialty.

JEWELRY MATCHES.

Good Taste in Dress Calls for Harmony in Pins, Links and Buttons.

The harmony of color and blending of designs in the repository of men's belongings is not only seen in scarf, shirt, handkerchief, and hose, but also, says Men's Wear, in the scarf, cuff links, studs and waistcoat buttons. A man's dress should be a unit, and should be worn in colors that blend with the tone of the other dress accessories commonly known as "furnishings." It is considered good taste to have the scarf in color and cravat pin, links, studs and vest buttons set with stones as near the same tone as it is possible to obtain. For example, green, in every variation of the shade imaginable, is the color of the season, and a jade stone outfit in jewelry is the newest of fads in spring's color elaboration. Other colored stones brought into vogue by the matching scheme now so prevalent are the topaz, appropriate with the corn colored ground of the shirt, an old gold or canary yellow scarf; amethyst, with scarf in like tone as well as with purple, heliotrope and lavender; tourmaline, alexandrite, and moonstone for evening dress.

Optimistic.

"Jones is one of the most aggressive optimists I ever heard of."
"What's he been doing now?"
"He says he is going to get married, and have a peaceful, quiet home."

Transforms Vegetables.

M. Mollard, of Paris, not satisfied with the usual grafting adopted by floriculturists, has started to transform vegetables. It is said he has succeeded in turning a radish into a potato.

INDICTED.

Rojestvensky Must Stand Trial for His Life.

The naval court of inquiry has presented an indictment against Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky, who commanded the Russian fleet at the battle of the Sea of Japan, and the officers of the torpedo boat destroyer Bledov for surrendering to the enemy after the battle.

The indictment is a crushing arraignment of the demoralization and cowardice of the officers, contrasting their conduct with that of the officers of the torpedo boat Grozny which, in practically the same position, in the Bledov, engaged and sank a Japanese torpedo boat.

The trial of the indicted officers has been fixed for July 4. The penalty is death.

The Rech says Gen. Rennenkampf, who commanded the Cossack cavalry division, during the war with Japan, has preferred charges against Lieut. Gen. Linevitch, for holding communications with the revolutionary committee of the railroad men during the strike on the Siberian railroad.

The drydock Dewey, on its way to Manila, is reported safe by a cablegram from Commander Hosley, who says he expects to arrive at Singapore about June 21.

During a reception in Gov. Vardaman's mansion in Jackson, Miss., a guard of the state militia entered and dragged out a young militia man who was evading drill duty.

S. Bernard, half of them seriously, by an explosion during the burning of the New York & Boston Steam Scouring & Dye Works in New York.

Mrs. Nannie Nuckols, of Cartersville, Ky., shot and killed Mrs. Viana Black, of Conway, Ky., in the presence of 10,000 people attending the graduating exercises of Berea college in Richmond, Ky. A panic ensued.

THE MARKETS.

Detroit.—In the cattle yards, dry-fed steers and heifers brought steady prices with those of a week ago. Common grass grades, however, were dull and were bought at a decline of from 10 to 20 cents from prices paid for the same grade last week. There was a fair demand from the country for stockers and feeders, but they were not very plentiful and purchasers got very few.

Only one or two extra good ones bringing as high as $10. Bulk of sales were made at prices under $10. The close was dull, a few late arrivals being sold. Republican State Convention.

To the Republican Electors of the State of Michigan:

The State Convention of the Republicans of Michigan is hereby called to meet at the Light Guard Armory, in the city of Detroit, on Tuesday, July 31, 1906, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for State offices, for the selection of a State Central Committee and a chairman thereof, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

In accordance with the provisions of law and the action of the Republican State Central Committee, every county will be entitled to one delegate for each three hundred of the total vote cast therein for the Republican candidate for Governor at the last election and one additional delegate for a moiety of 151 votes or more.

Pursuant to law, Monday, the 18th day of June, 1906, is hereby designated as the day on which shall be held in each county, the County Convention of the Republican Party for the election of delegates to the Republican State Convention herein called.

Under the resolutions of 1858, no delegate will be entitled to a seat in the State Convention who does not reside in the county he purports to represent.

The delegates from the several counties in each Congressional District are requested to meet in district caucus at 9:30 o'clock a. m. on the day of the State Convention, and select officers as follows, to be presented to the State Convention for confirmation:

- 1—One Vice-President.
- 2—One Assistant Secretary.
- 3—One member of the committee on "Credentials."
- 4—One member of the committee on "Permanent Organization and Order of Business."
- 5—One member of the committee on "Resolutions."

ANNUAL PIONEER MEETING.

Held in the Chelsea Baptist Church, Wednesday, June 13—Will Meet in Ypsilanti Next Year.

Eighty pioneers, members of the Washenaw County Pioneer and Historical society, gathered in the Baptist church here, Wednesday, for their annual meeting. Though there are many who are over 80 years, Mrs. Mercy Boyd was the oldest member present, as she passed her 95th mile stone last November. She was for many years a resident of Sylvan Center, though she is now living in Chelsea with her son.

President C. T. Conklin, of Chelsea, called the meeting to order at 10 o'clock, and Dr. Holmes, of Chelsea, opened with a prayer.

There was a musical selection by a quartet consisting of Miss Nellie Congdon, Miss Edythe Boyd, Mr. S. A. Mapes and Roswell Gates.

President Conklin then gave the address of welcome to the visitors, and the rest of the morning was given up to listening to the reports of officers. Of these the one that created the most profound interest was the necrologist's report, which included all of the names of the pioneers that had died during the past year.

A committee, consisting of Chas. Fish, of Chelsea; Isaac Terry, of Webster; L. J. Loudon, of Ypsilanti; A. E. Gooding, of Ann Arbor; Mandey Young, of Saline, and Geo. Rowe, of Lyndon, was appointed to select officers for the ensuing year. The morning session then closed with a violin solo.

The following were chosen officers for the coming year:

President—Herbert Sweet, Ypsilanti. Secretary—Robt. Campbell, Ypsilanti. Necrologist—J. McDougall, Ypsilanti. Treasurer—O. C. Burkhardt, Chelsea.

Vice-presidents were elected from each township in the county. Several good papers were read during the afternoon session.

The meeting next year will be held in Ypsilanti.

Don't Kill the Hawk.

Man has shinned more than any other animal in trifling with nature's balance. Clover crops and the killing of hawks are apparently unrelated yet the hawks eat the field-mice, the field-mice prey on the immature bees, and the bees fertilize the clover-blossoms. The death of a hawk means an over-increase of field-mice and a consequent destruction of the crop.—Country Life in America.

Lioness and the Mouse.

Tess—It's really true then that Martha Strongmind is to be married to Mr. Timid.

Jess—Not exactly. Martha says he is to be married to her.

"Of yes, of course; she has asked you to be her bridesmaid, hasn't she?"

"No; she asked me to be her 'best woman.'"—Philadelphia Press.

CORRESPONDENCE.

WATERLOO.

Mrs. L. L. Gorton and daughter spent the last of the past week in Ypsilanti.

F. R. Snyder, of Stockbridge, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. J. L. Hubbard.

June 24th will be Children's Day here. A fine program is being prepared which will be rendered in the evening.

The Young People's Society will give a strawberry and ice cream social at the home of C. A. Rowe, Friday evening, June 15.

The Gleaners will give a "good luck" social at the home of Charles Vicary, Friday evening, June 22. Come one and all, for if you have good luck, you have a good time, and if you have a good time you have good luck. Ice cream will be served.

SHARON.

Misses Clara and Mamie Reno were Clinton visitors Monday.

Susie Door is visiting her sister, Mrs. Van Arnum, at Port Huron.

Miss Lily Schaeble, of Freedom, spent Sunday with her grandfather.

John Bruestle and family, of Chelsea, were guests of relatives here Sunday.

Chas. O'Neill and wife, of Adrian, returned to their home Saturday, accompanied by their sister, Minnie Belle.

Sanford Middlebrook is assisting Mrs. Clara O'Neill, wife of the late Harry O'Neill, in carrying on her farm work.

We are glad to welcome Miss Alta Lemm back into our midst after an absence of nearly two years in California.

Fred Pohly and wife, of Volka, Mich., have returned home after spending some time with their daughter, Mrs. J. Hesselewerdt.

Children's Day exercises were held at the Center church Sunday. They were enjoyed by all and reflect much credit on the superintendent, Arthur Burch and his efficient helpers.

NORTH LAKE.

This will be a week of bean-planting. Elder Wright made calls about here, Saturday, driving the finest looking horse in a day's travel and chestnut black in color.

Mrs. Wm. Gilbert and three young children will start for the home of her childhood in Arizona early next month. She has made many friends here in the short time she has lived among us.

All the neighbors on Maple avenue were out Saturday, clearing the trees that were damaged and repairing the washouts that were caused by the wind-storm and heavy rain on Thursday of last week.

A good time was enjoyed by all who participated in the exercises at Mary Whelan's last day of school. There was a picnic in the grove at noon, followed by a program of exercises of great variety in the afternoon. Mary is well liked as a teacher. This is her second year here.

Your correspondent, while in Chelsea, Monday, spent a few pleasant hours at the home of Warren Cushman, and T. E. Wood and wife made a call on me at the residence of R. C. Glenn and wife. This is the first time I have met Mr. Wood away from his place of business in a year.

By invitation, the relatives of R. C. Glenn and wife met at their snug home in Chelsea on Sunday, June 10, and spent the day in reminiscences of other days and viewing the large collection of curios gathered in Florida. Mr. Glenn was the recipient of an easy chair and other gifts, to remind him from time to time of his friends. The large cake that graced the table was made by his only daughter, Mrs. James Cooke, and bore the dates of 1835 and 1906. It is left to the reader to guess what these dates suggest.

CARIBOU—A GOOD SWIMMER

Speed Afloat So Great It Takes a Strong Canoeist to Over-take Him.

Clad with a coat of oily wool next his skin, the caribou is covered exteriorly with a dense pelage of fine quills.

Every caribou, indeed, wears a cork jacket, and when this is prime the creature seems on the water rather than in the water. No other quadruped that I know swims as high as the caribou, says a writer in Scribner's Magazine.

Their speed afloat is so great that it takes the best of canoeists to overtake a vigorous buck. A good paddler is supposed to cover about six miles an hour, so the caribou probably goes five. There are many kinds of wood-land and rough country over which the caribou cannot travel so fast as this.

What wonder, then, that they are so ready to take to the water as soon as they find it in their course. Mr. Munn assured me that several times he saw caribou swim a broad bay that was in their line, though a trifling deflection would have given them easy walking along the shore to the same point, and with but little increase of distance.

STUDENTS OF VESUVIUS.

Men of Science Who Have Held to Their Posts Amidst the Awful Upheavals.

Sig. Matteucci, director of the royal observatory, in refusing to quit his perilous post, near the crater of Vesuvius, only followed the example of his predecessors. During the tremendous outbreak of April, 1872, Sig. Palmieri stood by his instruments amid smoke and showers of red-hot stones, while two immense streams of lava, diverted by the rock on which the observatory stood, flowed by on each side. The first student of Vesuvius of whom there is any record, the elder Pliny, may be said to have started the tradition of scientific coolness. It is known on the authority of his nephew that it was "philosophical curiosity" which led him to his doom on the Vesuvian plain in that awful year of 79 A. D.

"When hastening to the place from which others fled with the utmost terror," the nephew wrote, "he steered his direct course to the point of danger, and with so much calmness and presence of mind as to be able to make and dictate his observations upon the motion and figure of that dreadful scene." The brave old philosopher retired to rest that night in the house of a distracted friend. Pliny was so little disturbed that he "fell into a deep sleep, for, being pretty fat, and breathing hard, those who attended without actually heard him snore."

But Vesuvius increased in violence, and the party had to take to the open fields, with pillows on their heads (tied on with napkins), as a protection against the storm of stones. But after all Vesuvius dealt mercifully with the man who left his safe quarters at sea for the work of study and research, for his body was afterward found, as the famous letter to Tacitus tells, "without any marks of violence upon it, exactly in the same posture in which he fell, and looking more like a man asleep than dead."

CATALONIA SHEEPSKINS.

Finest in Spain, from Which Country Vast Quantities Are Shipped Abroad.

Barcelona is an important market for the supply of sheepskins. The finest skins are collected in the province of Catalonia. Not only are they of good quality, but they are, as a rule, more carefully flayed and stacked than those obtained in other parts of Spain. Valencia sheepskins are also of good quality, and are, generally speaking, larger than the others. Next in order of merit after the Catalonian sheepskins may be classed those collected in the district of La Mancha, in New Castile, and, lastly, those shipped from Murcia, which are smaller and often crumpled and badly flayed.

Owing to the political situation in Russia, which, along with Spain and Italy, supplies very large quantities of sheepskins, exports from that country have been greatly interfered with, and foreign buyers have turned their attention more to Spain than they have hitherto, with the natural result that prices have been forced up. German dealers have recently been through Spain buying up all available supplies.

Barcelona alone produces from 400,000 to 500,000 skins annually. Dealers and exporters purchase the skins from the meat contractors, the contracts being made either for a whole year or only six months, in which latter case the skins command a higher price if the purchase be made for six months with the wool on.

The annual contracts are now being made for 1906, the following being the prices that it is thought will be realized: Lambskins, $8.42 to $8.75 per dozen, against $6.62 to $7 last year.

Ancient Royal Headgear.

A queen of ancient Egypt wore over the light blue head covering fashionable for her sex an elaborate head-dress in place of a crown. This was made in the form of some symbolic animal, or less it bore a symbol—a bird, the heads of serpents, or the horns of oxen.

Divine Right of Kings.

An unbeliever in the "divine right" of kings is said to have challenged the Italian monarch: "If thou art king by Vesuvius be still." The carping doubter forgot that "divine right" is limited to holding the royal job.

My Hair is Extra Long

SUMMER HINTS FOR WOMEN

FURNISHINGS FOR THE OUTDOOR LIVING ROOMS

Now would you like to have a violet porch this summer?

Or perhaps you would prefer a yellow one. If so, will be no trouble at all in cutting out either color scheme.

It is probable, however, that a wicker porch will be preferred, and if so, the buyer will have a larger stock to choose from. The manufacturers have placed the market extensive porch supplies in both of these colors. As in the past, the demand for the pretty wicker furniture is greatest. Here, however, many who fancy brown tints which, after the wicker chairs, benches, tables and divans colored in the pastel shades are new this year, and some of the out-door living rooms have been furnished in the new style.

There is, for instance, a wicker table, and the wicker chairs are becoming quite common. In fact, nevertheless, that one order porch furniture in any desired, and the order will be filled.

The wicker tables are replacing the styles for porch use, and some handsome designs are shown. There are round tables, square ones and others with shelves beneath. The distinct novelty is the wicker table that can be wheeled to the lawn. This wagon is made in the style of the pretty mahogany wagons used for indoors.

The day has gone by when old-fashioned chairs were considered good for the porch. Nowadays, the porch furniture is ordered, and it is less expensive than that used for indoor use. It is especially made and attractive. Bamboo screens which roll up and are often useful if the porch is very sunny. A more delightful screen is formed by vines running wire across the sunny end, or a neighbor's porch overlooks own. If the house stands alone, which is cooler if all the sides are open for the air to blow through, vines are only allowed to grow

CRÉTONNE USE EXTENSIVELY.

Crétonne is the popular fabric for summer. With wallpaper to match either in the identical flower pattern and tones or in plain fabric with fringes of the crétonne pattern, the plainest summer cottage is a sort of bower. Among the crétonne patterns this year are striped dimity effects, watered stripes broken by floral patterns, shadow designs and old French stripes. Jungle pictures of strange animals and birds in tropical forests, are novel and desirable nursery folk. Large, conventionalized poppies and orchids are other motifs.

Everything is covered with crétonne in the summer cottage or the boudoir, from the usual upholstery to the upright piano, the bed and foot boards of the beds, and even the old bureau. Different schemes in pretty bedrooms are easily carried out in the crétonne.

One woman who entertains after season, has five bedrooms in as many tones—red, green, blue and yellow. The use of wicker crétonne fringes with plain wallpaper is popular with decorative. Lovely narrow crétonne borders are to be had by the yard.

The window box for summer frocks covered with crétonne or with matching. Frames of these boxes are usually bamboo. All sorts of stands and are crétonne covered and, in the of the homes, may be had of shape desired. The couch pillows and all the bags, big and little, of course, made of the crétonne. There is the sewing screen, and no woman will do without once she owned one.

above the height of seven feet. So many small porches are too much overgrown, and not only keep the air out in summer, but for the rest of the year darken the rooms that overlook the porch.

It is best not to have too many rockers on a small porch, as they take up too much room. Windsor chairs, stained or painted, are always liked, especially by men, and they can be used with chairs of other varieties.

Pots or growing plants, or boxes fastened on to the woodwork of the porch, serve as a screen from passers-by, and are always attractive to those on the porch.

Fern baskets may also be hung in the spaces between the posts, and on the posts there are little brackets can be placed above the other, for holding of growing flowers. Another holder of flowers seldom seen, would be one of the Japanese bamboo, which must be nailed to the posts, and can either be filled with water, and have fresh flowers placed in them, or can be filled with soil, and contain some quickly growing creepers planted in the openings, giving a most attractive appearance to the setting of the porch.

The large growing plants placed on the floor, either in a corner or near the steps, are always an attractive addition, and this is usually the only decoration found on the average porch.

HOW TO PACK.

Don't pack clothes in a trunk which has not been used for some time without airing the latter; it may have been lying in a damp corner.

Don't begin to pack before you have collected together all the things required, else you may, at the last moment, be obliged to squeeze some heavy article in the top of the trunk, and thus crush lighter articles.

LINENS, LINENS, AND YET MORE LINENS

Embroidered linen gowns, while extremely stylish this season, are not for all, since many lack either the time, the ability, or the inclination to make them, and cannot afford the heartrending prices demanded in the fashionable shops. If possible, however, a woman who would be well dressed should try and have at least one such gown. Next in order or preference come the gowns with artistic arrangements of lace edgings, insertions, medallions and buttons.

The patterns of many of the real laces are reproduced in the cotton and linen machine-made products with faithful accuracy, so that even the most fastidious of taste will find satisfaction in them. Point Venise with inserted medallions of machine embroidered linen is the favorite of the moment, Cluny and Irish having had such strong vogue during the winter that we are glad to welcome any change. A smart point Venise trimmed gown has the medallions applied upon the gored skirt, suggesting a founce heading, and the bolero jacket almost a solid mass of point Venise and Cluny.

Another interesting gown is of white butcher's linen, made with a circular skirt, which is slashed to form imaginary panels, the openings filled with double rows of baby Irish insertion. An embroidered design of tulip flowers done in white tops the hem and frills in the gores, the petals punctured into outline with English eyelet work. The same motif decorates the sleeves and plaited lengths of the Eton jacket which fastens with a heavy white linen frog. The use of linen frogs, by the way, is new this season, although years ago—but who care for years ago, as long as we have them now, well bleached prettily designed, and above all, fashionable.

A linen gown seen at a leading costumer's this week, fresh from the box in which it made its Atlantic trip, was given quite a nautical air by its trimming of white linen frogs. No one but Francis could have had such a happy inspiration to lavish upon the making of a mere linen gown. The skirt was box plaited and of walking length, its twelve-inch wide hem topped with two wide bands of heavy Irish lace. The coat was somewhat on the pony order, though more like the white coats worn by the officers of our own United States navy, with its heavy knots of linen cord placed in double rows down the lace inserted coat front, and the lace bands themselves having a suggestion of the military, as they defined the cut of the coat and banded the sleeves like service stripes. The sleeves were long—so take heart all of you who prefer such, for we are again told we may wear them in confidence of their being more correct style as the elbow length. This natty suit will have many admirers and may be effectively copied in hand-woven Russian crash. Imitation Irish or torchon laces may be used instead of the more expensive qualities on the original, and the linen cord may be found in any dry goods shop. The suit would be most effective worn over a blue silk underslip, and accompanied by one of the new toques dubbed the Elsie Janis after the charming little impersonator. It is a very tiny little toque, almost like a Scotch bonnet, trimmed with Richelieu platings of pale blue ribbon encircling a goodly sized cluster of wild roses grouped in cabuchon fashion. Wide blue ribbon strings knot under the chin in most coquettish fashion.

Braids and laces of the types mentioned do not exhaust the field of trimmings for the linen gown, by any means. Mexican drawn work is brought into play most effectively upon a blue linen gown, introduced in flower-shaped medallions outlined with rows of green and white cotton soutache braid. The medallions joined in their designing with leaf-like scrolls made of solidly applied soutache. The jacket reached a little below the waist, and was scalloped with the same outline medallions in bud instead of flower motifs, while the only bit of lace observed occurred merely as an edging softening the finish of the wide bell-shaped sleeves.

The handkerchief linen gowns are dreams of daintiness and elaboration, the finest of them every stitch handmade, and it goes without saying, imported, since it would be quite impossible to turn out such fine work here at as low prices as it costs to import it. But there are many attractive machine-made frocks in sheer lawns and batiste, made cobwebby by insertions of Valenciennes, that are delightful without being over expensive.

The sheer linen gowns share equally with the heavier linens for evening wear in the smart restaurants and hotels, which is rather a departure for the heavier fabrics, but one which was foretold early in the season when a leader of New York's fashionable set was seen to wear pink linen to dinner at Sherry's.

PRINCESS GOWN IN CHARMING COLOR SCHEME.

The princess still retains its supremacy as a most charming vogue for semi-dressy toilettes, as well as for the more pretentious gown. This little gown of corn-flower blue veiling made over white silk is smartly trimmed with Richelieu platings of corn-flower blue ribbon, applied to a band of ecru lace inserted in a panel design about the skirt. The short coat of the veiling has border design in corn-flower broderie Anglaise, with the coat edges of the flower petals embroidered in buttercup yellow. The short sleeves are full-shaped and finished with embroidery, while the hat, of dark-blue straw, has light blue ostrich plumes for trimming.

THE MUSLIN PRINCESS.

Some of the muslin princess gowns are fascinating in the extreme. One seen last week was a fine white mull with a fancy figure in black dots. It had a deep yoke of valenciennes lace, with a fold of black velvet at the top of the collar and another, pointed front and back, about half way down the yokes. The gown itself was little more than a corselet skirt, although the corselet was high enough to pass for a waist. It had shoulder straps or bretelles outlined with velvet folds, and the same folds trimmed the top of the skirt, while, had a deep, pointed scallop in the front. The seams of the skirt were put together with inch-wide valenciennes, and the hem was trimmed with lace. Underneath was worn a slip of maize colored taffeta. The sleeves of the gown were lace, trimmed at the short cuff with velvet folds.

This combination of materials in one costume is a special feature of this spring's fashions. Two or three kinds of silk often enter into a composition, and when skillfully managed are very good indeed. As for lace, all kinds are combined, often with all-over valenciennes as a foundation. Cluny, Irish crochet and guipure are the favorite heavy laces.

To Pickle Cucumbers.

One gallon cold vinegar, one-fourth pound salt (butter salt), one ounce white ginger root, one-fourth pound whole cloves, one-fourth pound stick cinnamon, two ounces peppercorns, two tablespoons ground cloves, one pound brown sugar. Mix and place in jar. Cucumbers can be cut carefully from the vines, washed and put right into this without first being placed in salt, and they are crisp and fine.

MALINETTE BOAS A CRAZE.

Neck ruches of tulle, malinette, and point d'esprit, are showing no signs of a decrease in their popularity. The use of golden brown malinette, even in the hat trimmings, is universal, and considered very modish. The new ruches are being made a trifle longer than at first, and are very artistically designed in two colors. The pictured ruff of black malinette is box plaited and edged with fine but very narrow Mechlin lace. Black and white dual rows of the same material trim the dainty white hat, smartly sharpened with a paradise aigrette of white.

Wm. F. Nuebling, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nuebling, of Freedom, died of stroke last Thursday evening. He had been at work baling hay at Elhardt Reyer, in Lodi, and becoming ill on account of the heat started for home, arriving there in a semi-conscious condition and dying before the arrival of a physician. The funeral was held at Bethel church Saturday morning.

A letter from Charley Foster, of Chelsea, commissioner of schools of Washtenaw county, says that it is a girl and weighs eight pounds. Just to think of Charley Foster as a daddy. He said he wanted to buy a new hat, but thought he would have to postpone the purchase now until the swelling in his head went down a little. His friends will be glad to hear this bit of news.—Fowlerville Standard.

The somewhat infatuated son of a well-known contractor, who is erecting a number of buildings in Chelsea at the present time, became the victim of an amusing little incident near the M. C. depot, Wednesday evening. A friend of the young man informed him after supper that he expected a tall young lady friend of the brunet type from Jackson, and would introduce him to her, if they met him by chance. About 9 o'clock they met near the depot. An introduction followed. The friend had forgotten something. Would they excuse him for a few minutes? Certainly. The couple started for a stroll. They passed near a structure which the young man's "pa" is building, and the youth endeavored to impress that fact upon the young lady's mind, besides making some other remarks with similar intent. Did the young lady follow him? Apparently she was with him. Only her voice was not as feminine as might be. They had walked nearly three blocks. They met some friends, who laughed at sight of them. The young lady (?) also laughed—a wasseline laugh. The infatuated youth found that he had promissed with a machinist, dressed in feminine apparel belonging to some one of the Chelsea House.

rites Oddly Americanized

Chinese in This Country Substitute Greenbacks for Brass in Burial Ceremony.

Unconverted Chinese who have lived in America long enough to be touched by the modernizing influence of the new west, have given a peculiar twist to their already peculiar burial service. It was according to this modernized rite, reports the Philadelphia Record, that many crisp United States dollar bills were buried, together with food, in the coffin of Chin Ying, whose funeral took place on a recent Sunday in this city. The original Chinese ceremony calls for much burning of incense in the room where the body lies in state and at the burial that food and "cash" be interred with the corpse. The "cash," or Chinese money is to pay the guide who shows the departed soul across the Confucian Styx, and the food prevents him from fainting along the way from hunger. But the American-Chinese is no longer particular that Chinese money accompanies the spirit. He reasons that American dollars are as good, and certainly more easily obtained here and that the wanderer can surely find a bank of exchange in the land of spirits where he can convert the sound money of one of the most prosperous nations on earth into any currency the other world requires.
