Mrs. James P. Wood.

Miss Sarah A. Freer was born in Bolona, New York, December 8, 1835, and died at her home in Detroit, Sunday morning, April 2, 1911.

She was brought by her parents to Michigan when less than one year old, and the family settled in Lima where she spent her early life. The deceased was united in marriage with Mr. James P. Wood, December 1, 1858, and for more than 50 years has been a highly respected resident of this place. The residence on Harrison street has been the home of the family for many years. Three children were born to this union, all of whom died in childhood. For the past year Mrs. Wood has been in failing health. She was a member of the Chelsea M. class in the Sunday school.

The remains were brought here Tuesday and taken to the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Runciman. She is survived by her husband and a foster daughter, Mrs. Wm. Schhaitman, of Detroit.

The funeral was held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, April 5th, from the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Runciman, Rev. J. W. Campbell officiating. Interment Oak Grove cemetery.

The annual township meeting of Sylvan was called to order at one clock Monday afternoon by Supervisor Beckwith. The afinual report was read by Paul O. Bacon clerk, which on motion was accepted and

The electors voted to raise the folowing amounts for the ensuing year: Highway Improvement Fund, $2,000; Highway Repair Fund, $1,000; Contingent Fund, $1,000.

The township last year raised $2,000 for the contingent fund, but the board in view of the fact that $1,100 of the fund remained on hand, that only the sum of $1,000 be raised this year. As $288 remained on hand in the poor fund it was deemed unnecessary to raise any money for the coming year.

Chelsea Bowlers Open Tourney.

Jackson Patriot: The Inter-City tourney was ushered in Tuesday night with at least two performances above the ordinary, both of which were by Chelsea bowlers who, with Miller's "Odds," were first to roll. Seitz, of the visiting crowd, hung up a total of 623 in the singles, and Broesamle 597, while in the doubles Broesamle and Bagge shot 1163,

But two five-men teams, four sets of doubles and two singles were rolled, considering which the records made indicate a strong tournament in the matter of scores. The Chelsea crowd lacked just one pin of a 2500 total in the five-men event, while the Odds shot, 2436. The visiting five rolled consistently, their totals ranging from 480 to 533,

In the two-men event the Chelsea men showed better scores than the local bowlers who competed. Besides the big score of this event. Laros and Seitz came through with 1052. Neither of the local pairs reached

While the results show but two Chelsea men in the singles, the entire visiting squad started to roll, but had not time enough for all to finish so the others withdrew in order to give the two who had the best start a chance to finish their games.

These same two, Broesamle and Seitz, were the only bowlers who finished their entire nine games last night and each had a good total for the "all-events." Broesamle did better than his townsmen with 1713 pins, an average of 190 1-3, while Seitz had 1653 for an average of 183 2-3.

sette Very Apt to Get a Severe Everywhere Peter of Servia Goes.

HAS LITTLE KINGLY DIGNITY

For the sake of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Quirinal, it is now back in his capital, was as amusing in Rome as he was in St. Petersburg when he made a state visit to the exar last year. He startled the ministers and attaches, who were drawn up in one of the great halls of the winter palace to receive him, by his unkingly remarks. "How's your Tittle shah?" he asked the Persian ministe: And to the representative of a South American republic he said: "I used to know one of your compatriots in Paris. He was exceedingly rich, and how he went the pace!" His majesty has a perfect command of Parisian slang, and the last phrase, as It fell from the royal lips in the form "Comme il a fait la bombe," was peculiarly astonishing.

But the king of Servia is not accustomed to the rigorous etiquette of a great court. At his palace a ball is a very easy going affair. A special room is reserved for the diplomatic corps, because—so they say—delicate young attaches are unable to support the smell of garlic which pervades the general company in the ballroom. From time to time a brave diplomat dashes out and hurries through the zazzle-dazzle of a waltz.

BEYOND $2,000,000 EVER BEFORE RAISED FOR STATE PURPOSES.

Only Absolute Cost of Maintenance and Necessary New Expenses Will Be Allowed.

Chairman Chambers, of the house ways and means committee, has put in the general purpose bill. It calls for the sum of $2,060,000 for the year 1911 and $1,063,000 for the year 1912, an amount in excess of anything that has ever been appropriated.

It begins to be evident that the total appropriations will run well beyond the $12,000,000 mark and may even run to $12,500,000, though every effort is being made to hold the figures down. This will be at least $2,-000,000 beyond anything ever before raised for state purposes.

In the general purposes bill for 1911 $761,000 is to take care of the deficiency, $1,199,000 for the expenses of state not cared for by special appropriations and $100,000 for a working balance.

During the second year $963,000 is raised for general purposes and $100,-000 for a working balance. The second year is so much smaller than the first year because of the deficit payment and because the expenses of the legislature, amounting usually to about $160,000, are cared for the first Chairman Chambers says that more than $3,000,000 will be cut from the appropriations asked for by the institutions. Only the absolute cost of hardtack? They forget the horrors maintenance and the absolutely necessary new expenses will be allowed.

To Abolish Pardon Board.

Rep. Glasner, of Barry county, has introduced a bill abolishing the pardon board and vesting the powers now conferred in them on the governor. The bill is said to have the sanction of the governor. It revives the story that he has had trouble tradited from Mexico. with the members of the pardon board and that at least two of them expect to resign by or before May 1. It is claimed that the governor has practically deprived the board of the services of a secretary by keeping the executive clerk, M. H. As the board considers some 1,000 cases a year the governor would necessarily have to hire clerical assistance to do the work that is now being done by the board.

One county is subtracted from Michigan's dry column as the result of local option election in 18 counties. Thirty-nine counties are now dry and 44 wet. While at first glance this fact seems but an insignificant victory for the wets, the fact that the Anti-Saloon League lost by varying majorities the four counties which are the most thickly populated of the. 18, where there are the most saloons and where they put up their flercest fight, indicates the magnitude of the wet victory.

But two small new counties. Montcalm and Iosco, are added to the dry list, while the wets gain three of the largest counties which have been in the dry column for two years-Genesee, Jackson and Calhoun.

The drys carried ten counties having a total population of 241,693, while the saloon forces were victorious in eight counties with a total population of 311,396. Only 36 saloons were put out of business in the territory where the Anti-Saloon League was victorious, while the counties in which the wets won have 181 saloons and six breweries, a net gain for the wets of 145 saloons

The vote was the closest that has been polled in local option contests in several years, and it is probable eering department of the University that recounts will be demanded in many counties by the losers. Montsummer, as a great many of the frills sulting engineer for the electrical and morency county, for instance, went dry by 5 votes, Jackson went wet by a majority under 100, and this was also true of other counties. The wet victory in Kalamazoo, where the drys waged perhaps the hottest fight of the campaign Saturday and Sunday, was a decisive one, and the majorities rolled up in Calhoun and Alpena

50,000 Volunteers Wanted by Diaz. One of the best evidences of the determination of President Diaz to put down the rebellion in short order is the movement inaugurated to raise and equip a volunteer army of not less than 50,000 men. In Pachuca 2,-000 men have enlisted as volunteers during the last few days. In the military zone that embraces the state of Nuevo Leon, Tamaulaps and Coahuila rapid progress is being made in organizing volunteer forces under the direction of Gen. Geronimo Treuvono, commander of the zone. In the districts of Galeana, Rayones and Montemorelos, state of Neuvos Leon, volunteer organizations each several hundred strong, have been formed. In the different districts of the state of Jalisco, Colima Sinaloa and Zacatecas many volunteer companies are being made up. For the most part these volunteer organizations will be used for home protection of their respective communities.

100,000 MAJORITY. The Entire Republican State Ticket

The Republican state ticket was swept into office on the crest of a wave of 100,000 votes majority in Monday's election. In no county did the Democrats put up much of a fight except on the questions of circuit judges or local issues. The vote was light and little interest save in those counties where local option was an issue was noted.

Even in the selection of mayors Republican victories were noticeable, many cities putting up no opposition. There were a few contests on circuit judges, but most of them were reelected as they were renominated at the March primaries.

Saginaw voted to revise the city charter with a view to organizing a commission form of government. In Washtenaw county Judge E. D. Kinne, who has been waging one of the hottest fights in the state for reelection, was sent back to the bench by a majority of 550.

The primary school fund consti tutional amendment, so far as the early returns indicate, carried in most of the counties.

EXTRA SESSION OPENS WITH UN-USUAL AMOUNT OF INTEREST IN THE MEETING.

CHAMP CLARK CHOSEN SPEAKER AND IS GIVEN OVATION AS HE TAKES UP GAVEL.

Tells Democrats They Must Prove to People by Deeds They Are Worthy of Confidence.

Tuesday at noon the sixty-second congress was called to order in special session in the presence of the biggest crowd that ever jammed the legislative halls, and this in spite of every attempt to limit the crush.

Both Michigan senators were on hand, Senator Townsend being sworn in and taking the seat that formerly belonged to Senator Frye. Reps. Doremus, Wedemeyer, J. M.

C. Smith, Hamilton, Sweet, Sam Smith, McMorran, Fordney; Dodds and McLaughlin were present in the house, the Democrats, Doremus and Sweet, being on the new majority side. Loud and Young were absent. The blind chaplain, Rev. Mr. Couden, of Port Huron/ Mich., for 16 years holder of this office, and the only Republican appointee to be retained by the Democrats, opened the house with prayer.

In the vote for speaker the Michigan delegation, except the two Democrats, voted solidly for Rep. Mann, the new Republican leader. Reps. Doremus and Sweet shouted "Clark" when their names were called.

The opening ceremonies of the house had an unusual interest. It was the first time in 16 years that the Democrats had taken up the conduct of affairs in the lower branch of the national legislature. New hands were at the wheel. The transition from a month ago was complete. New faces were everywhere. Democrats not only filled the side of the chamber allotted to them, but poured over into the erstwhile sacred precincts of the Republicans Members of the house, always tardy on ordinary days, began to arrive with the earliest of the spectators and the floor was crowded almost as soon as the galleries. Everybody appeared to be in the best of humor. The Democrats wore smiles that would not come off, while the Republican minority also smiled-a grim sort of smile, which meant that they were going to try to even up for the troubles caused by the Democrats during the days of Republican supremacy. The opening program in the house, always an interesting spectacle, was followed with uncommon keenness. It included the calling of the house to order by Maj. Alexander McDowell, the veteran Republican clerk of the house, who is soon to be replaced; the calling of the roll; the election of the speaker, his speech of acceptance; the swearing in of the members by state delegations and the drawing for seats. There are always a few privileged members who are allowed to choose their seats in advance of the drawing. They include usually the oldest member of the house, in point of service, Gen. Bingham, of Pennsylvania; the minority leader and one or two others, as the house leaders may designate.

When the drawing for seats begins the floor of the house is cleared. The members retire to the cloakroom. Marbles numbered to correspond with the numbers assigned to members on the alphabetical roll are placed in a large box. A page does the drawing. As each member's number is called he goes into the chamber and selects a seat on the Democratic or Republican sides, as the case may be. Oftentimes the most obscure of the new members get the choicest seats.

The weather for the opening of the new congress was atroclous. A steady rain, driven before a cold east wind. made the day one of the most disagreeable of the winter. Visitors thronged the office of nois; 16 for Henry A. Cooper, of Wisconsin, and 1 for George W. Norris, of Nebraska. The three last named are Republicans. Forestalling action by the Democrats in the house, Rep. McCall, of Massachusetts, introduced the Cana-

Southerner Evolves the Panama Cook tall Which Makes Man Thought ful of Wife.

Russell Hopkins, a southerner, who lives in the St. Regis, is responsible for the Panama cocktail. He and Charles Luther Burnham were talk ing over Hopkins' latest concoction which had been placed in the little book kept by the bartender.

"You take half a pony of brandy, half a pony of curacao, a third of dry gin and French or Italian vermouth, and there you are there's your drink before dinner," said Hopkins.

"Yes," interposed Burnham, "it's a cocktail, all right. One of your friends came in here the other day with more than $300 in his wallet. He was initiated into the mysteries of the Panama cocktail. He seemed all right when he left, but he was found the following day in a ferry-house hugging a set of furs he had bought for his wife. From what could be gleaned from him he had, on a passably warm day, thought his wife ought to have new furs, and, with that idea, he went to a store and spent all the cash in his pocketbook for a set.—New York Press.

HAVE HAD SEVERAL CLASHES AND FEEL THEY WERE IG-NORED IN THE MARTIN E. BROWN CASE.

is Possible That Another County May Be Created by Taking Portions of Cheboygan and Presque Isle.

> By L. C. Ward. Pardon Board May Quit.

It is said here that differences have arisen between Gov. Osborn and the pardon board which may result in the board resigning in a body. The board and the governor has clashed several times since he appointed two members, Judge Russell and Dr. J. B. Bradley, and last week there was almost an open rupture when Gov. Osborn paroled Martin E. Brown, of Kalkaska, charged with wife desertion. without consulting the board, although it was in session in another room of the executive suite.

It seems to be assured now that another county is to be created by taking portions of Cheboygan and Presque Isle counties. The county will be named either Forest or Osborn. The name in the bill as presented by Rep. Morford gives it the name of Forest, but friends of Gov. Osborn in that section want it changed to honor the executive, A petition signed by some 1,500 people in the section involved have petitioned the legislature for the act.

Stevenson Bill Passes.

Another taxation measure which is very important has passed the House. That is the Stevenson bill, which provides for a tonnage tax on all vessels. At present all steamers and other craft are taxed add valorem, while in other states there is a specific fee or a tonnage tax. As a result, while thousands of craft are owned in Michigan the greater part of them are "hailed" from ports in other states where the taxes are lower. Then, too, the fleet of the Pittsburg Steamship Co., which means the steel trust, have gotten around the tax question by hailing from Isle Royale. The island is owned by the steel trust and comprises one township of Keewenaw county. As the steel trust controls it and there is practically no local taxes to pay, the trust een escaping nearly all taxation | day." on its great fleet of ore carriers.

Compromise Possible on Central

Board. After being defeated by one vote on Tuesday the Stewart central board of control for all state institutions was revived on Wednesday and now stands a chance of passage in an amended form. When it was taken from the table, Rep. Lord succeeded in getting adopted an amendment which placed only the penal institutions under the board, instead of all the asylums and paternal institutions, except the educational institutions. There was a long parliamentary battle following, but the bill was finally referred back to the committee to have it fixed up to conform to the Lord amendment. It is possible that it will be passed in the amended

Boxers to Meet.

The members of the Senate of 1907, the famous "Boxer" session, in which the upper house was split 16 to 16 ch all important measures, is to have a reunion on April 7. A committee consisting of Senators Kline, O. B. Fuller, John D. M. MacKay, Arthur Tuttle, Huntley Russell, Fred C. Wet-more and Michael H. Moriarty has the arrangements in hand. Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Kelley will preside as toastmaster. Of the crowd in that Senate only two are left in the present Senate, Senators Kline and Moriarty. Fred C. Martindale is secretary of state: Huntley Russell is land com-missioner: O. B. Fuller, is auditor general, Fred C, Wetmore, is United States district attorney for the western district, but the others have retired to private life.

Governor at Battle Creek.

It turns out that Gov. Osborn is not n the north, but has been down at Battle Creek resting up and getting away from the cares of state. He is not in the sanitarium but is at the home of Dr. Kellogg and is putting in some time at the sanitarium each day preparing himself to resume the duties of his office.

Game Commission Bill In. The last administration bill to be presented to the legislature was turned in this week, when Senator Watkins introduced a measure to do away with the present fish and game department and substitute therefor, a nonpartisan commission to serve without compensation. A similar measure is in the House, but as yet has not progressed very far. Another bill by Taylor, gives the governor, the board of regents, the board of control, or any other controlled. trolling board of a state institution authority to begin proceedings for the ndemnation of property for public

Employes Get Seven Days Pay After holding the matter up practically all session the supreme court has decided that the employes are entitled to seven days' pay and as a result all of the House and Senate workers are around with big bunches of money. Many of them, however, have a fine bunch of notes down at the bank to take care of and all are cussing out Speaker Baker for raising the question which cost them each a considerable sum in interest. Still they didn't borrow as much as they now draw and as a result a number of them have saved money which they would not otherwise have done.

Many Petition for Unit BIII.

The House is being flooded with petitions in favor of the Fitzgibbon unit bill, which makes the city, village and township the unit of submission of the local option question instead of the county. The petitions are coming in from both dry and wet counties and the names which have already been received number many thousand. The fate of the measure, however, is still in doubt, as there is members to avoid any liquor legisla- follows: tion this time, because of the effect it. will have on the campaign of next year. That is also the idea of Gov. Osborn.

Reforms Pass in Committee.

The initiative, referendum and recall bills have passed the House committee of the whole, but there is little chance now of their passing the House when the resolution comes up for final passage. There was no debate on the propositions of any general character and but little interest was manifested in the measures. The opponents are sure that the necessary 67 votes cannot be secured and the friends of the reform measures have come to about the same conclusion. in any event they have no chance in the Senate.

Baker Fights for Indian Equality. Speaker Baker went down on the floor of the House to fight for an amendment to the Martz liquor bill, which would allow the sale of liquor to Indians on the same footing as any other person. Speaker Baker declared that a Chinaman, or a negro. or the person of any other race could purchase liquor, but that a man, although he might be practically white, but have a touch of Indian blood, is not given an equal footing with the white man. The amendment was lost, however.

Saloons to Open on Holidays.

The Martz bill, which allows saloons to keep open on New Year's, Washington's birthday, Lincoln's birthday Columbus day, special election days and on general election days after the polls close, has passed the House committee of the whole and seems sure to pass the legislature. The only amendment made in the House was to more clearly define the meaning of "general election

Scott Gets Normal School.

Senator F. D. Scott has succeeded in shoving through the Senate the bill which appropriates $35,000 for a new normal school at Alpena. The vote in the Senate was unanimous, but it is going to have hard sledding in the House. The matter has been up in the legislature several times before, but Senator Scott has succeeded the popular will. in getting further with it than any one else ever has.

Townsend Not an Insurgent.

Senator Townsend addressed the House on Tuesday and frankly told the members that he was not an intoo conservative and the west too negotiated and as transmitted to consurgent. He said that the east was radical, but that Michigan stood for wise but slow progression and that in the senate. In my transmitting that was the attitude he intended to message of the 26th of January, I fully assume in the Senate. While he did not mention it in his speech, when questioned he sald that he was in favor of reciprocity.

Then they both got busy and patched things up and are considering bills in their regular or der, but are still angry.

Central Board to Die.

A roll has been made of the Senate which shows that even if the central board bill passes the House it has no chance on the other side of the capitol. There are 23 senators openly against the measure and only three who will say they are for it, the others being non-committal,

Many Bills Being Passed.

With the end in sight both houses are getting away at a tremendous rate and the bills are pouring through each day. Although it got started late, the legislature is going to be well un with the total number of bills passed, although by far the most of them are not very important.

This agreement was the consummation of earnest efforts extending over a period of nearly a year, on the part of both governments to effect a trade arrangement which, supplementing as it did the amicable settlement of various questions of a diplomatic and political character that had been reached, would mutually promote commerce and would strengthen the friendly relations now existing.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

President Wm. M. Wood, of the American Woolen Co., has issued a statement denying rumors that the company intended to close its 34 mills in New England and New York state should schedule "K," of the existing tariff be lowered by congress.

"Brockton, N. Y.," may sound like "Brooklyn, N. Y.," but a failure to distinguish between the two places cost the Western Union Telegraph Co. $100, by decision of the supreme court of the United States. The verdict is won by Grove & Crenshaw, of Richmond, Va., grape shippers, who sent the telegram to a customer in Brockton.

The Congregational meeting house, for nearly 150 years a landmark in New Braintree, Mass., was destroyed by fire which started from an overheated stove. It was the most important public building in the town. When the steeple was burned the old town clock and an ancient bell, prized on account of their long association with the village life, fell into the ruins.

New Geography Party. This party was arranged and carried out by a fond aunt for her little niece aged ten. There were 20 guests and the invitations read-thus:

"Miss Dorothy Brown requests the pleasure of Miss Mary Collins' company at a geography party on Tuesday from four to seven, April 21, at 3425 Spring street. Costumes."

The invitations were sent out a good two weeks in advance to give the mothers time to talk it over and plan the costumes. In many instances what the children had determined the character they represented. For example: The little boy who had a complete Indian outfit went as "The first American," a lad who rejoiced in a good big, fat plaster pig went as an Irishman with a clay pipe and a high hat, a vivid green necktie and a quaint little black swallow-tail coat worn over had their parcels the journey was brilliant green knee breeches.. It was of black velvet and the shoulders had a series of graduated capes of grayish silk, marked "Cape Horn," "Cape Hatteras." Her neck was circled by the isthmus of Panama. On her head she wore a cunningly devised cap of papier mache made from wand, from which blue and white rib- in one place. After the surprise is

One of the amusements was a jolly game called "Mail Bags." The guests blindfold one boy at a time and let sat on chairs in a semi-circle and when the leader called out "The mail is going from Ireland to Mexico," the two children representing these places have three guesses to determine ran and changed chairs as quickly as possible. When the leader called "General Delivery" then every one changed places, a chair being taken out quickly by the leader and the one who was left became the leader when the next "mail went out." Another game proved a great success. A large map of Europe was hung on the wall and each child was given a bit of paper marked "Dan (I must explain that Dan was about to go to Europe for the summer); the game was to study the map first to find the location of Paris; then each child in turn was blindfolded and tried to see how near they could come to putting "Dan" in Paris. Each slip of paper was left just where placed on the map until all had tried. Then it was great fun Only one came any place near Paris.

The Irishman bought a ticket for Cork, and when all 20 passengers were lids or ankles; leg cramps; ready to start they went back to the living room and found a train of 20 chairs waiting to begin the journey. A conductor and engineer were on hand with whistle and punch, and as the tickets were punched each child got off the train and found his or her writing this prescription, but I he city or place of destination on a large map of the world hanging on the wall. A Surprise Party.

A young correspondent wants sug gestions for a surprise party. Personally I do not like "surprises," but if some one of the family is taken into confidence the affair can generally be managed with satisfaction to all. Let each girl prepare a basket or box ofluncheon for two, just as daintily as a globe. In her hand she carried a possible. On arriving pile their boxes bons streamed, bearing the names over I would suggest some good games, such as have appeared in the department from week to week, then him select a basket or box and stand in line with his treasure unopened. After all are supplied, each one is to which girl prepared the refreshment. A Sixth Sense. An interesting discussion arose at a recent college lecture concerning the "instinct of direction" possessed so marvelously by savage races, and by animals. Undoubtedly animals are aided largely by scent. In the case of humans it is different and some of the pupils argued that the primitive man is able to find his way in the densest forest without taking note of the sun, the wind, the lay of the land, or the course of the streams. Therefore it was said he must be guided by a sixth sense, because none of the regular five senses could aid him. Other pupils, however, argued that the Indian found his way in places where there were no apparent guides because he knew how, because he had learned all his life how to do it, just as the writer, for instance, will write John and William Henry Lehmann page after page of copy, spelling all the words correctly, but yet cannot, if asked, spell a simple word. This is because he learned the words long ago, and his spelling is purely mechanical. It is so with the Indian finding his way through the woods.

Invisible Indians.

All Indians seem to have learned a vonderful way of walking unseenmaking themselves invisible like certain spiders, which in case of alarm, caused for example by a bird alighting on the bush their webs are spread upon, immediately bounce themselves The wild Indian power of escaping observation, even where there is little or no cover to hide in, was probably slowly acquired in hard hunting and fighting lessons while trying to approach game, take enemies by surprise or get safely away when compelled to retreat. And this experience transmitted through many generations seems at length to have become what is vaguely called instinct. -John Muir in the Atlantic.

Sydney Smith's Aversions. Sydney Smith shared Lord North's dislike for musical concerts. "Nothing," he wrote, "can be more disgusting than an oratorio. How absurd to see 500 people fiddling like madmen about the Israelites in the Red Sea!" But Smith's pet aversion was music in the minor key. "It made him melancholy," according to G. W. E. Russell, "and had to be discontinued when he was in residence at St. Paul's." He lived, however, to repent him of his musical heresies. Late in life he said: "If I were to begin life again I would devote much time to music. All musical people seem to be happy; it is the most engrossing pursuit; almost the only innocent and unpunished passion."

It gives occasion for profound reffection; as, at first thought, this: how shall the line be drawn between filial love and duty and the urge of the supreme conqueror of lives—the God of Love? In all oriental countries this problem could not exist; the wildest of passionate love must yield before the ingrained obligation to a parental authority and due. In our own land the parents-not the child-raise the petitioning hand. That is what makes the Kansas girl's act remarkable.

DISHPANS MAY BE MUSICAL

Man Who Sleeps Mornings Thinks They Should Be Keyed to a Diatonic Scale.

"For a long time," said the man who sleeps mornings, "I have been hoping that some one would arise and invent dish pans in E flat and kettles in G major. The family above me apparently always washes its dinner dishes the morning after.

"Yet I do not know that the bang of a dish pan is as bad as the Mozartian melodies dispensed by the occasional hand organ. I have about come to the conclusion, however, that two generations hence mankind will be able to relish any metallic noise as music. There is Richard Strauss, you know, and Claude Debussy. We have got wonderfully used to sheer cacophony and some of us maintain, with what truth I do not know, that we

"If I thought that in 20 or 30 years we would be able to enjoy the dish pan and kettle motifs I would never again complain. But I think that since we are making such strides in the diection of enjoying harsh sounds the inventors might meet us half way by inventing sets of houseware keyed to diatonic scale."

"Pins and Needles." After being for a long time in a constrained attitude a peculiar numbness and pricking is often felt in the arm. leg or foot. This is caused by some interruption to the circulation and can usually be removed by rubbing or

The reason of the sensation, which is decidedly uncomfortable while it lasts, is that pressure for a certain length of time deadens the sensibility of a nerve. When this pressure is suddenly removed (as straightening out the leg after sitting with it doubled underneath the body) sensibility gradually returns to the nerve, and as each nerve-fiber composing the trunk regains its normal condition of sensibility a pricking sensation is felt. and these successive prickings from the successive awakenings of the numerous fibers have not inaptly been called "pins and needles."-From the Family Doctor.

Killing Cougars Saves Deer.

It is estimated that every cougar in the state causes the death of at least 50 deer during the year. Some expert hunters maintain that a big cougar of mountain lion will destroy as many as 100 deer in a single year. The estimate that the lives of 500 dear have been saved through the killing of nine of these wild beasts is rogarded as conservative.

The trip of Winters and Thompson was undertaken for the purpose of killing off as many cougars as possible in two weeks and they returned bringing nine skins as trophies. The huntsmen have already sold the largest skins, one of which measures 8 feet 7 inches in length and the other almost eight feet. By disposing of these $10 aptece, because the present bounty laws require the cutting off of a fore paw.—Portland Oregonian.

Instruction in Cartoons.

I have found that one of the easiest and most interesting ways of teaching my growing boys current events is by having them make a scrapbook of the cartoons that appear in the daily papers and magazines. As soon as the papers have been read, the cartoons and pictures that bear on the leading questions of the day are carefully cut end of the month. -Then we look over them together and save for the scrapbook only the best and cleverest.

It is really surprising what a delightful little recreation this makes for the evenings. It encourages a discussion of current history, in which the father usually joins, and at the same time promises a feeling of good comradeship between parents and chil-

A Special Collection

The children of a certain Sunday school were called upon for a special collection one occasion and each child was required to repeat a verse of scripture as they came forward and dropped their contribution in the box. Things went along nicely and "The Lord leveth a cheerful giver" and similar texts were repeated as they filed past, but the exercises were almost disrupted by one youngster who exclaimed in a loud voice as he dropped in his nickel, "A fool and his money are soon parted." That "text" no doubt expressed his sentiment as well as the gentleman with certificates of stock to sell, each one bearing a large gold seal the latter being the only thing the color of gold the purchaser will ever get. ROMANCE OF the CENSUS
DE BERNARD J. CIGRAND

HE future greatness of the United States as a nation of world-wide power is a theme that has been exploited by many orators, poets and artists in days gone by; but the following quite unknown lines from the quill of Philip Freneau-written prior to the Declaration of Independence—merit especial notice now that a national census is Freedom's established reign, cities and men Numerous as sands upon the ocean shore, And empires rising where the sun descends! The Ohio soon shall glide by many a town Of note! and where the Mississippi's stream By forests shaded, now runs sweeping on, Nations shall grow, and states not less in fame Than Greece and Rome of old."

This verse, composed before the union of the 13 colonies, was probably criticised by the practical men of the author's generation as . being manufactured from the "stuff that dreams are made of." But to Freneau's inspired vision the changes he foretold were clearly outfined in time's magic mirror. If the poet were alive today and could read the marvelous sensus figures which come daily from our federal capitol he would find not only every word of his prophecy fulfilled, but discover that destiny had added even greater surprises to the prediction.

The first national census was taken during Washington's administration in 1790, Jefferson, then recretary of state and under whose direction the count was made, expressed disappointment when the final figures-3,929,214-were shown him. On August 24, 1791, he wrote to William Carmichael as follows:

inclose you a copy of our census, which so far as it is written in black ink is founded on actual returns; what is in red ink being conjectural but very near the truth. Making very small allowance for omissions, which

James Wilson or Jimmy as he is called by his friends. Jimmy was rotund and looked shorter than he really was. His ambition in life was to be taken seriously, but people steadily refused to do so, his art is considered a huge joke, except to himself, if he asked people to dinner everyone expected a froite. Jimmy marries Bella Knowles: they live together a year and are divorced. Jimmy's friends arrange to celebrate the first anniversary of his divorce. The party is in full swing when Jimmy receives a telegram from his Aunt Selina, who will arrive in four hours to visit him and his wife. He neglects to tell her of his divorce. Jimmy takes Kit into his confidence, he tries to devise some way so that his aunt will not learn that he has no longer a wife. He suggests that Kit play the hostess for one night, he Mrs. Wilson pro tem, Aunt Selina arrives and the deception works out as planned. Jim's Jap servant is taken if, Bella, Jimmy's divorced wife, enters the house and asks Kit who is being taken away in the ambulance? Bella insists it is Jim. Kit tells her Jim is well and is in the house. Harbison steps out on the porch and discovers a man tacking a card on the door. He demands an explanation. The man points to the placard and Harbison sees the word "Smalipex" printed on it. He tells him the guests cannot leave the house until the quarantine is lifted. The guests suddenly realize their predicament, the women shed tears, the men consider it a good joke. The all important question arises as to who is to prepare the meals and perform the other household duties. Harbison firm ally solves the matter. After the lifting of the quarantine several letters are found in the mail box undelivered, one is addressed to Henry Llewellyn, Iquique, Chile, which was written by Harbison. Aunt Selina is taken ill with la grippe. Betty acts as nurse. Harbison finds Kit sulking on the roof. She tells him that Jim has been treating her outrageously. Harbison fully believing that she is Mrs. Wilson, tells her that she doesn't mean the filing

"You have a stunning color, Kit," Lollie said. "You are really quite superb. Who made that gown?"

"Where have you been hiding, du kleine?" Max whispered, under cover of showing me the evening paper with a photograph of the house and a cross at the cellar window where we had tried to escape. "If one day in the house with you, Kit, put me in this condition what will a month do?"

From beyond the curtain of a sort f alcove, lighted with a red-shaded lamp, came a hum of conversation, Bella's cool, even tones and a heavy masculine voice. They were laughing; I could feel my chin go up. He was not even hiding his shame.

"Max," I asked, while the others clamored for him and the game, "has any one been up through the house since dinner? Any of the men?" He looked at me curiously.

"Only Harbison," he replied prompty. "Jim has been eating his heart out in the den ever since dinner; Dal played the "Sonata Apassionata" backward on the pianola—he wanted to put through one of Anne's lingerie waists, on a wager that it would play tune; I played craps with Lollie, and Mannigan has been washing dishes.

Well, that was conclusive, anyhow. had had a faint hope that it might have been a joke, although it had borne all the evidences of sincerity. certainly. But it was past doubting how; he had lain in wait for me at the landing, and had kissed me, me, then he thought I was Jimmy's wife. 0h, I must have been very light, very ontemptible, if that was what he thought of me!

I went into the library and got a book, but it was impossible to read, with Jimmy lying on the couch giv-ing vent to something between a sigh a groan every few minutes. "You are unjust!" I said, rising and facing him. "I do not like Mr. Harbison-I-I hate him, if you want to know. But as to his being a thief, I -think it quite as likely that you took the necklace."

Max threw his cigarette into the fire angrily.

"So that is how it is!" he mocked. "If either of us is the thief, it is I! You do hate him, don't you?"

I left him there, flushed with irritation, and joined the others. Just as I entered the room, Betty burst through the hall door like a cyclone, and collapsed into a chair. "She's a mean, cantankerous old woman!" she declared, feeling for her handkerchief. You can take care of your own Aunt Selina, Jim Wilson. I will never go near her again."

"What did you do? Poson her?" Dallas asked with interest.

"G got camphor in her eyes," snuffed Betty. "You never—heard such a noise. I wouldn't te a trained nurse for anything in the world. She-she called me a hussy!"

ROMANCE OF COLD WEATHER

Man Saves Two Lives but Subsequent Lionizing is Much to His Disadvantage.

Two lovers were strolling along a canal bank on the outskirts of Paris the other day when the woman suddenly ran from her companion and threw herself into the water. Though but a bad swimmer, her companion at once jumped in to rescue her, but he was unable to do so, and both were in peril of drowning. At this moment a stranger came along, and seeing the struggling couple, bravely jumped in and succeeded in bringing both the man and the woman to the bank, where they were soon revived. A cheering crowd assembled to congratulate the rescuer who, however, showed great reluctance to be lionized. He was quickly walking away when two policemen came on the scene and insisted that the name and address of so brave a man should be taken. Their surprise was great when they found that the gallant police were anxiously searching. He was taken into custody and will be brought up for sentence. It is expected that the gallant rescue will lead to his dismissal, or at least to a reduction in any sentence that might otherwise have been passed on him for his less heroic deeds.

SCALES ALL OVER HER BODY

"About three years ago I was affected by white scales on my knees and elbows. I consulted a doctor who treated me for ringworm. I saw no change and consulted a specialist and he claimed I had psoriasis. I continued treatments under him for about six months until I saw scales breaking out all over my body save my face. My scalp was affected, and my hair began to fall. I then changed doctors to no avail. I went to two hospitals and each wanted to make a study of the case and seemed unable to cure it or assure me of a cure. I tried several patent medicines and was finally advised by a friend who has used Cuticura on her children since their birth, to purchase the Cuticura Remedies. I purchased a cake of Soap, the Ointment and the Resolvent. After the first application the itching was allayed. "I am still using the Soap and Ointment and now feel that none other is good enough for my skin. The psoriasis has disappeared and I everywhere feel better. My hands were so disfigured before using the Cuticura Remedies that I had to wear gloves all the time. Now my body and hands are looking fine." animals' shelter rang and a woman's voice said: "Say, miss, there is a half-starved cat up here on One Hundred and Fourth street. Can you send up and get her?"

The cierk took the number of the One Hundred and Fourth street house, then the voice at the wire went on: "Say, miss, would you mind calling up this other number for me? It is where my sister works, in the Bronx. Tell her to come down. Jimmy is sick, there ain't a bite in the house, and I haven't got a cent to bless myself with, let alone a nickel to telephone to her, but, honest, there is a cat in the basement, and it's half starved."

The clerk sighed. "Worked again," she said. "That happens with discour aging frequency lately. We have left a small sum of money at certain drug stores to pay for telephone calls in regard to stray animals. Usually the druggist telephones the message himself, but if he is too busy he hands out a nickel, and trusts the person who has found the animal to do the telephoning. Some poor souls who would like to send messages of their own that they cannot afford to pay off have learned where those drug stores are, and ring in their own messages free, begging us to transmit them to the persons they wish to reach. In really serious cases we haven't the heart to refuse. This sounds like a serious case, so I suppose I shall have to telephone up to the Bronz."-New York Press.

HOW PERFUME IS OBTAINED

Beef Fat is Exposed to Fresh Flowers Until It Is Permeated With Their Odors.

By a process known as enfleurage, which is the exposure of beef fat to fresh flowers in close boxes until it is thoroughly permeated and charged with their odors, the perfumes of various flowers are obtained which could not otherwise be so effectively preserved apart from the fresh petals. Those flowers are violet, jasmine, tuberose, rose, orange flower and cassia (cinnamon flowers). From those six there are fifty or more combinations made for the simulation of the oders of other flowers. Sweet pea is made with orange flower and jasmine, hyacinth is counterfeited by jasming

Memorial to French Ambassadors. On one of the walls of the interior of the ministry for foreign affairs in Paris is a black marble slab on which are expressed in letters of gold the names of the officials of the depart ment who died fighting for their country in the war with Germany in 1870. The ministry has decided to place another slab "comme pendant," on which will be inscribed the names of ambassadors and diplomatic agents who have fallen victims of their duties. The list will commence from the time of Louis XIV. A Paris contemporary says it will be long enough, and observes that probably this will be the first memorial of its kind erected in any country. The list will include the plenipotentiaries murdered at Raslatt and those who had to submit to indig nities and cruelties at the hands of the Chinese, which led to the war with the Celestial empire in 1857.

Bishop's Busy Day.

Discarding his horse and buggy Bishop Abram Herr of New Danville, Lancaster county, found it necessary to procure the service of an automobile in order to marry five pairs who lived in different sections of the county, according to a correspondent of the Philadelphia Record. Bishop Herr is a minister of the Mennonite faith, and the weddings were so scheduled that he scarcely had the time to eat a morsel of food at the big feasts that always follow a country wedding.

He married the first pair at his home and then jumped into the auto and was driven to Salunga, where he performed another wedding ceremony. From there the marrying parson was whisked to East Lampeter township, where two pairs were married. He solemnized the last wedding in the evening at Mountville.
