KILL THE LICE

The summer crop of lice and mites find a cozy refuge during winter on the heavily feathered chickens, cutting down the egg supply. Now is the time to use LEE'S LICE KILLER. It is easiest and best. Inexpensive. No handling of chickens. A liquid applied to roosts, etc. It kills lice on bodies of chickens roosting over it, as well as lice and mites about the roosting place. Try it. 35c and 60c.

Automobile Wrecked.

A head-on collision of automobiles occurred about 10 o'clock Saturday night just west of the Letta creek bridge. A large Hupmobile containing five Lansing residents and the Ford auto owned by the family of the late John Clark, of London were both badly wrecked. The Clark car was being driven by Joseph Clark and he was accompanied by John and Daniel O'Connor and Jacob Walz, and they were on their way home and the Lansing party were coming to Chelsea. Mr. Clark was on the right side of the road and when he saw that the cars were liable to come together he shut off his power. The impact of the two machines was sufficient to throw Mr. Walz from the Clark car and he received a severe scalp wound and one of his shoulders was badly injured. None of the others were injured.

Losses by Score of 34 to 6.

The football game Friday afternoon between Chelsea high and the reserve of the Ann Arbor high school resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 34 to 6. The Chelsea boys played a great game in the half during which time the Ann Arborites were unable to penetrate the Chelsea line. After that the home boys weakened and their tackling was poor. In the latter part of the third quarter Chelsea took a brace and carried the ball to the reserves' eight yard line by line plunges and a few end runs. Freeman carried it over from there. Freeman was the shining light of the Chelsea team, and the Ann Arbor boys roused him up considerably. The Ann Arbor Times News in its report of the game said: "Speaking of good football players, this man Freeman is a classy back and if he was on a larger high school team would receive lots of notice."

Conrad Finkbeiner.

Conrad Finkbeiner was born in Wurttemberg, Germany, August 1, 1837, and died at his home on Madison street, Friday evening, October 22, 1915.

Mr. Finkbeiner came from his native country to Chelsea in 1860, and resided in this vicinity for a few years. He was united in marriage with Miss Christina Alber September 28, 1864, and shortly after marriage they settled on a farm in Sharon, where they resided until 1882, when they moved to a farm just east of Lima Center. For the past seven years Mr. and Mrs. Finkbeiner have been highly respected residents of Chelsea. Mr. Finkbeiner was a member of the German Evangelical church. He had been in failing health for about a year.

He is survived by his wife, five sons, Conrad, Jr., of Grand Rapids, John, William, Charles, of Lima, and Earl, of Portland, Oregon, four daughters, Mrs. Christina Koebbe and Mrs. Minnie Maroney, of Chelsea, Mrs. Bertha Hoeft, of Lima, twenty-one grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. George Gutekunst, of Lima, and Mrs. George Klumpp, of Sharon. Two children died in infancy.

The funeral was held from the home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Rev. J. Kirm officiating. Interment at Oak Grove cemetery.

Within the past four weeks three new business places have been opened. Every dwelling house in the village is occupied.

SOAKED SYLVAN.

The Board of Supervisors Increased Sylvan's Valuation $414,900.

The board of supervisors seem to have a hunch that Sylvan should be the goat, and for the last two years the assessors have black eyes at their hands that are certainly peaches. The increase for the two years totals $827,558, last year's raise being $412,658, while this year the boost was $414,900.

The total real value as assessed was $1,414,108, and was equalized at $1,833,008. The total personal is $397,675, which makes a total of real and personal as equalized of $2,230,683. Lima with an assessed valuation of $1,854,500 received a cut of $310,437, making a total as equalized of $1,544,063.

Lyndon with a valuation as assessed of $557,920, received an increase of $12,597, making a total of $570,517.

Dexter township assessed at $648,650 received a cut of $4,120, the amount as equalized being $644,531.

Freedom drew a cut of $47,934, being equalized at $1,010,707.

Sharon was lucky and got off with a decrease of $92,284, their total being $1,047,176.

Millen vs. Potter.

Ann Arbor Times News: Attorney A. F. Freeman was in Lansing Thursday and Friday where he presented to the supreme court the arguments in the case of Homer C. and May Millen vs. Nathan S. Potter and the Michigan Portland Cement company.

This case is the result of the decision of Judge E. D. Kinne, who gave the Millens a verdict of $66,666.66 in their suit against Mr. Potter for the possession of certain stock which the Millens claimed. In an effort to have the verdict set aside Mr. Potter carried the case to the supreme court. Mr. Freeman is attorney for the Millens.

State and County Taxes.

The following from the supervisors' appointment committee, shows the amount of the state and county taxes of the several townships in this vicinity.

Sylvan—State tax, $8,252.52; county tax, $3,122.95.

Sharon—State tax, $3,873.55; county tax, $1,406.04.

Dexter—State tax, $2,383.72; county tax, $902.32.

Lyndon—State tax, $2,100.81; county tax, $798.72.

Lima—State tax, $5,712.04; county tax, $2,161.68.

Freedom—State tax, $3,738.61; county tax, $1,414.98.

Princess Theatre.

SATURDAY.

"The Bomb Boy" a comedy-drama in three parts. The Portnightly Bulletin says: "Without exception this is one of the best offerings of the season. The remarkable acting by Ernest Truex, the delicious humor of the story, the thrills and rapid action all combine to justify the word 'immense' in connection with it."

"Terribly Stuck Up" a side-splitting comedy.

MONDAY—FEATURE NIGHT.

World Film Corporation presents Clara Kimball Young in "Lola" by Owen Davis, a Shubert feature photograph in five acts. "There is a Divinity that shapes our ends, rough hew them as we may." The truth of this saying is exemplified in the unfolding of the thrilling story of "Lola."

The story of "Lola" is one of the most remarkable that has ever been put on the screen and there is no doubt that on its release it will be a subject of widespread discussion and divergence of opinion. Was Lola really dead? Was her father justified in his scientific experiments? Was Lola to blame for the inexplicable change in her character or was she the victim of some inscrutable fate? These are some of the questions that will be asked. What ever the answers may be, it will be universally conceded that in the adaptation of Owen Davis's play, pictured by Clara Kimball Young, has found a vehicle which enables her to give full vent to her unique gift of emotional characterizations and at the same time, portray a story of extraordinary interest.

WEDNESDAY.

Tenth episode of "The Exploits of Elaine" entitled "The Life Current." "The Ford Weekly" and two comedies complete the program. Adv.

Stole Hickory Nuts.

On Sunday, October 17th, two large autos from Detroit containing ten or twelve men raided the hickory trees on several farms in Lima. At the home of Mrs. Fred Niehaus, the thieves were discovered in the act and her sons Julius and Paul, succeeded in making them give up one sack that they had gathered, but they probably did not succeed in getting all that had been picked up after they had shaken the trees. The men were very independent and claimed that they would do as they pleased and apparently had about all of the liquor aboard that they could readily carry.

At the farm of J. J. Wood the men did about as they pleased and informed Mr. Wood that they would do what they wanted to and he could not help himself; and they did. They stripped the trees and drove away. One of the men displayed a badge and claimed to be an officer. Mr. Wood secured the numbers of the license tags, and wrote to the secretary of the state who informed him who the owners of the autos were. Mr. Wood visited Ann Arbor where warrants were issued and placed in the hands of Sheriff Lindenschmitt.

The party also visited the Thos. Morse farm and gathered a quantity of nuts. According to reports other farmers premises were visited.

Infantile Paralysis.

With the prevalence of infantile paralysis in various sections of Michigan, information about this disease, which seems to be little understood, should be of great interest to parents as well as all others. In reply to an inquiry for information, Dr. D. Murray Cawie, clinical professor of disease of children in the University of Michigan, furnishes the following:

"It is impossible to diagnose acute infantile paralysis known as anterior poliomyelitis, until the mischief is done. There are, however, premonitory symptoms in most cases, but these are by no means different from the symptoms of many other conditions developing during the same months (July to October), save possibly one—pain in the legs and back."

"The usual symptoms preceding the paralysis, or muscle weakness, are slight fever, nausea, vomiting and sometimes constipation, chilliness, pains in the legs and along the spine, which at times are quite severe. In a few hours after the onset of these symptoms, or at the latest three or four days the paralysis or muscle weakness shows itself. The paralysis remains stationary from one to four weeks, when almost invariably improvement begins. The final paralysis, known as residual paralysis, is always less, and usually is much less than the initial paralysis."

"The young are most frequently attacked. The greater number of cases have occurred during the second and third years. Adults are less susceptible, but even the aged are not exempt from infection."

"The disease is contagious and is caused by a micro-organism as yet unknown. This organism is very minute. The virus may be passed through the finest filters and produce the disease when injected into monkeys. The virus is present in the nose and tonsils of the infected."

"The organism is easily killed. Scrubbing the hands carefully with soap and water is probably sufficient to accomplish hand sterilization. One would feel safer if he followed the scrubbing by immersing the hands in bichloride of mercury solution, one part to four thousand parts of water."

"Knowing these facts, which have been established by experimental medicine, we really have in our control if the public will force itself to carry out a few very simple but at the same time very rigid rules."

"1. Isolate the patient with a nurse or attendant for three weeks.
"2. Always scrub hands with soap and water after touching the patient, his bed, or anything that has touched him."

"3. Do not allow your clothes to come in contact with infected material."

"4. Destroy all nasal discharge and sputum by burning or soaking in one part to four thousand parts bichloride solution."

"5. Kill all flies in the patient's room. Prevent flies entering the room."

"It has been definitely shown that a germicidal chemical substance known as hexamethyleneamin, when taken in sufficient quantity, get into the spinal fluid. This substance kills the germ that causes the disease if it gets to the spot in sufficient amount. We are uncertain that it does, accordingly the best thing we can do is to recommend that all persons, especially children who have been exposed, and all children who have any of the symptoms described, particularly fever and leg pains, and who reside in neighborhoods where cases of paralysis have occurred, should take this chemical under the direction of a physician. This substance is not without harmful effects if continued too long."

BURGER SUED BY WILLIAM LINDER

WOUNDS RECEIVED AT CHARIVARI PARTY BASIS FOR COURT ACTION.

FIVE THOUSAND IS ASKED

Bridegroom Who Is Alleged to Have Shot Into Crowd Is Defendant in Damage Suit.

Hillsdale—William Linder, one of the six victims of the charivari given the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Burger in Osseo, has commenced suit in the circuit court against Fremont Burger, the bridegroom, for $5,000 damages.

The action grows out of the serious injuries Linder sustained on the evening of September 4 when friends of Mr. and Mrs. Burger went to their home for a charivari in celebration of their marriage. The serenading party had a gun and a revolver and Mr. Burger fired a gun, he says, to frighten the celebrators away. Mr. Linder and five other young men were wounded. Mr. Linder being the only one who was unable to return to work for a few days.

Burger is on bail, awaiting criminal action against him and the trial is set for November 3.

WILL VOTE ON ROAD BONDS

Oakland Supervisors Put Million Dollar Bond Issue Up to Voters.

Pontiac—The Oakland county board of supervisors Friday afternoon voted to submit to the electors at the next April election the question of whether the county shall bond for a million dollars to construct a system of good roads.

The plan is to sell $250,000 of the bonds each year for four years which it is estimated is the time that will be required to complete the system of trunk and country trunk lines already mapped out. At the end of that time the county would have good roads connecting every township and village, making a total of 359 miles.

Owosso Gets Next Meeting.

Jackson—The principal business to come before the Michigan branch of the International association of King's Daughters at the closing session Friday was the election of officers and the selection of a meeting place for the 1916 convention. Owosso was tendered the latter honor and the new officers are: President, Mrs. J. N. Lewis, Detroit; vice-president and treasurer, Mrs. D. H. Hunt, Detroit; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. C. Rexford, Detroit; recording secretary, Miss Lottie Clark, Jackson.

Schools at Flint Closed.

Flint—Acting Health Officer C. D. Chapel Friday closed the Homedale school and issued an order preventing all children from attending theatres or other places of amusement for a week.

These steps are taken to prevent the spread of infantile paralysis in this city. Records at the health office show that there are nine cases of infantile paralysis in Flint.

There have been 18 cases in all, one resulting in death.

Detroit Man Gets Verdict.

Ann Arbor—After deliberating eight and one-half hours, a circuit court jury Friday night awarded Henry Schwesinger, of Detroit, $3,000 damages from the Detroit, Jackson & Chicago railway for the death of his son, Henry, Jr., in a street car accident. Young Schwesinger was in an accident near Wayne in November, 1913. He was a member of the Detroit Western High school football team, which was returning from a game at Ypsilanti.

EIGHT KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

GRAND TRUNK TRAIN STRIKES CAR CONTAINING FARMER AND FAMILY.

CRASH COMES AT CROSSING

Machine Is Struck Squarely in the Middle and Seven Occupants Are Killed Outright By Collision.

Mt. Clemens—Grand Trunk flyer No. 18, leaving Detroit at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, at Fraser, Macomb county, Sunday noon crashed into an automobile truck in which William Stoldt, Avon township farmer, was driving with his family.

Seven of the eight passengers were killed outright and Stoldt was fatally injured.

Those who were killed are: Mrs. Rachel Stoldt, aged 44 years, Mrs. Stoldt's sister, Miss Minnie Engel, of Romeo, and Mr. and Mrs. Stoldt's five daughters, Pearl, 17; Esther, 5; Hazel, 12; Mabel, 10 and Martha, aged.

The awful spectacle of seven dead bodies strewn along the railway tracks for a quarter mile was what churchgoers saw before Coroner Sperlich arrived.

There were no eye-witnesses to the tragedy excepting the train crew. The train stopped and a hasty examination showed that all were dead except Stoldt. He was taken on the train, in charge of Conductor Harry Harris and Engineer Charles Lane, and brought to the Washington hospital here.

Sheriff Hartway was notified and, with Coroner Sperlich and Prosecutor Kent, was on the scene of the accident within 15 minutes. A flat railway truck was employed by the coroner to gather up the bodies.

Just how the accident occurred is all conjecture, but there are indications of carelessness on the part of the driver, Stoldt, in the opinion of the authorities. There are two crossings at Fraser station, one about 100 yards south of the depot and the other 200 yards north, within the limits of the railroad yards. It was at the latter point where the accident happened. On the corner west of the tracks and toward the station from the road, is a house and a grove of trees.

Train No. 18 is not scheduled to stop at Fraser. Two persons stated the whistle was properly sounded for the crossing. Stoldt, if he saw the train coming, was probably under the impression that it would stop and that he was in no danger in making the north crossing, or he may not have noticed its approach until it emerged from behind the house and the trees and was almost on the tracks, in the opinion of the investigators.

The train was a few minutes behind time and going at a high rate of speed. That the automobile was hit squarely in the middle is evidenced by the fact that the front trucks were found close to the tracks on the right side, hurled through the fence of a cattle guard, and the rear truck was carried nearly a quarter of a mile and dumped on the left side. Other parts of the machine were found in the field several hundred feet from the right of way.

Killed Working On Drill Press.

Jackson—Peter J. Harpowski, son of a former patrolman, was killed while working on an electric drill press at the factory of the Knickerbocker company. Working with him on the press was W. E. Dougherty. Both men fell off a platform only a few feet high on which the press rested, and Dougherty sustained no serious injuries and was soon on his feet. Harpowski's neck was broken. Both sustained electric shocks from a short circuit.

ITEMS OF STATE INTEREST

The State Federation of Gleaners will meet in annual convention in the auditorium of Port Huron, December 1 and 2. Grant Slocum, of Detroit, one of the founders of the order, and others prominent in the Gleaners will speak.

George Nolan, who entered the house of a neighbor named Jens, near Hadley, one night several months ago and shot Jens' two sons, William and Herman, pleaded guilty in circuit court in Lapeer to a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Lois Ellar, 14-month-old baby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellar, Meauwatika, rocked her chair against a large table in which beef was being boiled and upset the contents on herself. She was scalded to death. The child suffered terribly for a short time before death came.

Hobart M. Stewart, 40, of Thetford township, Genesee county, farmer, was instantly killed when his motor car was wrecked by a southbound Saginaw & Flint car at Chlo.

At the annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of the seventh district at Port Huron, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Kittie Copeman, Metamora; vice-president, Mrs. Kittie Schanck, Metamora; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mina Wallace, Capac; recording secretary, Mrs. Arminia McLean, Port Huron; treasurer, Mrs. Harriet Deland, Memphis.

GIVING TESTIMONY IN NEW HAVEN PROSECUTION

CHARLES S. MELLEN.

New York—Much information is being given by Mr. Mellen in the government's case against former officials of the New Haven railroad. His memory of details of the various deals that resulted in the wrecking of the road has surprised the attorneys on both sides.

THIRTEEN MEET DEATH

Twelve Young Women and One Man Were the Victims of a Factory Fire.

Pittsburg—Thirteen persons were killed and eight injured by a fire in a four-story building, the two upper floors of which were occupied by the Union Paper Box company, on the north side here Monday afternoon. Of the dead all were young women employed by the company except one. Many of the bodies were so badly burned as to make identification difficult.

The flames started in a pile of straw in the rear of the feed store of James Brown & Co. on the first floor of the building. William C. Kimbel, general manager of the box factory, at once went to the third and fourth floors and warned the girls employed there to leave quietly. The flames gained headway so rapidly, however, that escape by means of stairways and fire escapes was soon cut off. Some of the girls attempted to go to the dressing room for their hats and there huddled on the floor firemen found a majority of the bodies.

One of the heroes of the fire was Peter Vallon, who is among the dead. When the fire was discovered he was working in the building. He groped his way through the smoke to the street, where he heard girls frantically calling for help from the upper floors. Tying a handkerchief about his mouth he rushed into the building. Six times he staggered to the street with the unconscious form of a girl in his arms. When he failed to appear the seventh time, however, spectators called the attention of the firemen, who instituted a search and found Vallon's charred body on the second floor. Near him lay the body of a young girl whom he had evidently tried to rescue when overcome by smoke.

CHARLTON IS FOUND GUILTY

Young American Is Given Very Light Sentence By Italian Court.

Como, Italy—Porter Charlton, the young American, was found guilty Monday of the murder of his wife, Mary Scott Charlton. He was sentenced to six years and eight months in prison.

Deducting from this period the amnesty granted him under the law and the time he already has spent in prison, Charlton will serve only 29 days in prison. The jury found Charlton only partly responsible, and that there were extenuating circumstances.

Porter Charlton killed his wife in their villa on Lake Como June 9, 1910. He was 20 years old and she was nearly 40. At the time of their marriage, a short time prior to the tragedy, she was Mrs. Neville H. Castle, a daughter of Henry H. Scott, of San Francisco.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Dan Evans, of South Lyons, was killed and three others were injured when Tom Barrett's auto turned turtle in a ditch at Ionia.

Dr. William de Klein, head of the state board of health anti-tuberculosis campaign, states that out of 85 cases examined in Wexford county, 40 were found to have tuberculosis, 28 positive and 12 suspicious.

Mrs. Sarah Talmadge died at her home in Newton township Calhoun county Monday. She was 87 years old and died on the same farm where she was married 72 years ago and had lived ever since. Seventeen children, 52 grandchildren, 41 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren survive her.

M. C. CLERKS GO ON STRIKE TUESDAY

EFFORTS TO SETTLE CONTROVERSY BY MOFFIT ARE IN VAIN.

RECOGNITION WAS DENIED

Officials of Road Refuse to Treat With Committee Representing Organization and Walkout Follows.

Detroit—Refusal of the Michigan Central railway officials to meet a committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks precipitated a strike at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. Work stopped in the shipping offices of Detroit, Chicago and Toledo. In more than 50 smaller places of the western division, including Kalamazoo, Joliet, Chicago Heights, Michigan City, Battle Creek, Bay City, Cheboygan and Wyandotte, all freight clerks, baggage men and ticket sellers are out and business is seriously handicapped.

John A. Moffit, mediator for the United States department of labor, had been working since Monday, trying to bring the two clashing sides into a conference. He gave up and left Detroit at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening.

At the same time the ultimatum issued by the brotherhood went into effect. Word was sent to the 30 clerks on the night shift at the Michigan Central freight house at the foot of Third street and they walked out. The house was locked up. At 8:45 o'clock 12 uniformed policemen were detailed to the freight offices to prevent any outbreak. They patrolled the streets adjoining all night, but there was no crowd or any sign of disorder.

Trouble has been brewing between the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and the company since last May. The clerks demanded an increase of about 20 per cent in wages and recognition of seniority rights, and made other stipulations. Some increases were given, but the clerks declared they were only spurs thrown to prevent a break.

J. J. Forrester, of Cincinnati, international president of the brotherhood, came to Detroit a few days ago to take charge of the situation. He requested that the railway officials meet a committee to discuss the demands of the clerks. The request was refused. E. D. Bronner, general manager of the road, said Tuesday night that the policy of the company was to hear any grievances from committees representing different cities, but that it would not treat with a committee representing the organization.

NEW MINISTER FROM CHINA

Kai Fu Shah Is Recalled and Dr. Koo Takes His Place.

Washington—The United States government has been officially advised of the intention of China to send Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo to Washington as minister in place of Kai Fu Shah, who is being recalled. Monday's announcement from Peking followed receipt of word there through American Minister Reisch that the American government would be pleased to receive Dr. Koo.

The change in ministers is considered of much significance. Dr. Koo is a protégé of President Yuan Shi Kai, and for years has been private secretary and interpreter. Since the resignation of Sun Pao Chi from the portfolio of foreign affairs, it has generally been understood that his friend, Kai Fu Shah, the present minister here, also would resign. It is said the new minister favors a monarchy for China.

TELEGRAPHIC FLASHES

Toronto—Stevenson McGordon, the aviator who, with John Kilpatrick, is chief instructor of the Thirtieth Aeroplane school, one of the largest in the world, looped the loop 21 consecutive times Saturday at a height of 3,000 feet.

Rome, via Paris—All the belligerent powers have granted the request of Pope Benedict that Sunday be made a day of absolute repose for prisoners of war. Several of the countries in their replies said that they already had been observing this rule.

Harold Messacora, 16 years old, is dead as the result of falling from a chestnut tree at his mother's home in Maple Grove township, Barry county. When his younger brothers and sisters wanted some chestnuts, Harold climbed on a branch near the top, which broke. He fell 25 feet and never regained consciousness.

Washington—The armored cruiser San Diego, flagship of the Pacific fleet, was awarded the Spokane trophy for the navy's highest score with turret guns for the year 1914-1915.

Washington—Charles E. Lova, postmaster of Saginaw, Michigan, was elected vice-president of the National Association of First and Second Class Postmasters.

Cleveland—Ottawa, Canada, was selected as the 1916 meeting place by the eastern general committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors.

The Woman's Benefit Association Of The Maccabees

The Largest, Strongest, and most Progressive Society of Women in the World.

Non-political and non-sectarian. Offers more opportunities to women than any other society. Good training and future success, love of humanity and protection of helpless little ones.

A splendid opportunity for broad-minded and sympathetic women to join this great fraternal chain of one hundred and eighty-six thousand women banded together for the betterment of their own sex. This Organization has a national reputation for this great work in the interest of women, and has already paid into homes of deceased and distressed members over twelve million dollars, every dollar going into some home in time of want and distress. We cannot begin to record the deeds of loving kindness and sympathy that have gone hand in hand with these disbursements.

This Organization has risen to high position in Fraternal Insurance through the hearty co-operation of its members and has built up by the management of its officers, a reserve of over eight million dollars.

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees was founded in Michigan by Michigan women in 1892; the cornerstone of its own building, laid in Port Huron, October 22, 1915, being the first woman's benefit association in the world to erect its own building.

Your loved ones are protected by our death benefits; we will see that you have proper burial with our burial benefits. We will take care of you when sick through sick benefits and hospital service.

First in Fraternity, First in Stability
First in the Hearts of its Members

We want a competent woman to act as organizer in this locality. For further information write Mrs. Alberta V. Droelle, Great Commander for Michigan, 411 St. Aubin Ave. Detroit, Mich.

School Notes.

A little chap when asked what a "coop" is, replied, "It is a place where they put people in jail."

Twenty-five of the Kindergarteners received gold stars for having perfect attendance the last month.

The Sophomore class of the Chelsea high school held a Halloween party in the Maccabee hall last Saturday evening.

Miss Ethel Davidson, formerly of the Chelsea schools, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davidson.

The first grade entertained the third grade Wednesday from 2:00 to 3:00 p. m. They were asked to bring their own apples from home for refreshments.

The Junior class, joined by the Seniors, are planning a Halloween party for November 5th. The delay is due to the State Teacher's Association, which is to be held at Saginaw, Thursday and Friday of this week.

The Teacher's Club has been notified that Earl V. Moore will give the first number on the University extension service, Wednesday evening, December 15th. This entertainment is free to the public, and a great treat is in store for our people.

The girls have taken up basket ball with a great deal of interest. They have recently received the message that the Saline girls wish to contest with them at a later date. This will mean a great deal of hard practice, but the girls are equal to it.

The girls have reorganized their Junto Literary Society. They are proud of the fact that the Victrola is completely paid for, and that they are only ten dollars in arrears on the records. The candy sale last Monday afternoon will bring down the debt to a marked degree.

County Road Commissioners.

The county highway commissioners, W. S. Billie, Frank Dettling and Samuel Schultz, presented their final report to the board of supervisors last week, and having completed their work, were discharged. During their term of office they have constructed 215-8 miles of road in various parts of the county, which with the care that is usually given the roads after construction will go to pieces within about three years.

Curfew Ordinance.

Dexter has an ordinance that prohibits all persons under sixteen years of age from being on the streets after 8 o'clock p. m., unless accompanied by their parents or guardians.

The council says that this ordinance will be enforced. If any thing like that should occur in Chelsea there would be some youths who would get better acquainted with their homes, instead of being around raising "cain."

MANCHESTER—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirchhoffer celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS.

Chelsea Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Chelsea citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Chelsea citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

Charles Hyzer, stationary engineer, Madison St., Chelsea, says: "I had suffered from kidney trouble, backache and pains through my kidneys that made my work hard. If I stooped, I couldn't straighten again. Finally a friend who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results told me to try them. I did and they soon gave me relief. Three boxes cured me."

SYNOPSIS.

Confederate Sergeant Wyatt of the Staunton artillery is sent as a spy to his native county on the Green Briar by General Jackson. Wyatt meets a mountaineer named Ned Cowan. They ride together to a house beyond Hot Springs. In the house Wyatt and Taylor meet Major Harwood, father of Noreen and an old neighbor of Wyatt, who is sent to bed while the two other men talk. Wyatt becomes suspicious, and finds that Taylor has murdered Harwood and escaped. Wyatt changes to the U. S. cavalry uniform he has with him, and rides away in the night, running into a detachment of Federal cavalry, to whom he identifies himself as Lieutenant Raymond. Third U. S. Cavalry, by means of papers with which he has been provided, Captain Fox finds Harwood's body, and follows Taylor's trail. Fox and Wyatt believe Taylor to be old Ned Cowan. The detachment is ambushed. Wyatt escapes to the Green Briar country and goes to Harwood's apparently deserted home.

CHAPTER VI.

The Mistress of the House.
I stood with eye pressed against the panel, fingers gripping the butt of my revolver. An ordinary latch held the door closed, and I pressed this, opening the barrier slightly. The movement made not the slightest noise, and gave me a glimpse within.

In front of a small grate fire, her back toward me, snuggled comfortably down in the depths of an easy chair, sat a woman reading. I could see little of her because of the high back of the chair rising between us—only a mass of dark brown hair, a smooth, rounded cheek, and the small white hand resting on the chair arm. I knew vaguely her waist was white, her skirt gray, and I saw the glimmer of a pearl-handled pistol lying on a closed chest at her side. Still she was only a woman, a mere girl apparently, whom I had no cause to fear. The sudden reaction caused me to smile with relief, and to return my revolver silently to the belt. Her eyes remained on the page of the book. I think I would have withdrawn without a word, but, at that instant, a draft from the open door flickered her light, and she glanced about seeking the cause. I caught the startled expression in her eyes as she first perceived my shadow; the book fell to the floor, her hand gripping the pistol, even as she arose hastily to her feet. The light was on her face, and I knew her to be Noreen Harwood.

"Who are you? Why are you here?" she asked tersely, a tremor in the voice, but no shrinking in those eyes that looked straight at me.

I moved forward from out of the shadow into the radius of light. It was only a step, but the girl recoiled slightly, the pearl-handled pistol rising instantly to a level with my eyes.

"Stand where you are!" she ordered. "What are you doing, creeping about this house in the dark?"

"Not in the dark exactly," I answered, seeking to relieve the strain, and holding my hat in one hand, as I bowed gravely, "for my lamp is on the stairs."

I marked the quick change of expression in her eyes as they swept over me. There was no evidence of recognition; scarcely more than a faint acknowledgment that my appearance was not entirely unfavorable. Yet surely that alone was all I could hope for. Except for that one chance encounter on the road we had never met since we were children, and she would not likely associate the son of Judge Wyatt with the man now confronting her, attired in the wet and muddy uniform of a Federal Lieutenant. Indeed it was better she should not; and a feeling of relief swept over me as I realized her failure to connect me with the past. No memory of my features found expression in her face, as her eyes fell from mine to the clothes I wore.

"You are Union? an officer of—of cavalry? I—can scarcely comprehend why you should be here." Her attitude no longer threatening, the gleaming pistol lowered. "There are Federal troops at Lewisburg, but—but I do not recall your face."

"My being here is wholly an accident," I explained quietly. "I supposed the house deserted, and sought entrance to get away from the storm. There was a broken window—"

"Yes," she interrupted, her eyes again on mine questioningly. "I found that when I came; someone had broken in."

"Robbery, no doubt."

"I am not sure as to that. I have found nothing of any value missing. Indeed, we left nothing here to attract vandals." She hesitated, as though doubtful of the propriety of further explanation to a stranger. "I—belong here," she added simply. "This is my home."

"Yes; I supposed as much; you are Miss Noreen Harwood?"

Her blue eyes widened, her hand grasping more tightly the back of the chair.

"Yes," she admitted. "You knew my father?"

"Slightly; enough to be aware of the existence of his daughter, and that this was his plantation."

"Then you must be connected with the garrison at Charleston?"

"No, Miss Harwood; I belong to the Army of the Potomac, and am here only on recruiting service. A word of explanation will make the situation clear, and I trust may serve to win your confidence. I do not have the appearance of a villain, do I?"

"No, or I should not remain parleying with you," she responded gravely. "The war has taught even the women of this section the lesson of self-protection. I am not at all afraid, or I should not be here alone."

"It surprises me, however, that Major Harwood should consent to your remaining."

"He has not consented," she interrupted. "I am supposed to be safely lodged with friends in Lewisburg, but rode out here this afternoon to see the condition of our property. Word came to me that the house had been entered. The servants have all gone, and we were obliged to leave it unoccupied. I was delayed, seeking to discover what damage the vandals had done, and then suddenly the storm broke, and I thought it better to remain until morning."

She laughed, as though amused at her own frankness of speech.

"There, I have told you all my story, without even waiting to hear yours. 'Tis a woman's way, if her impulse be sufficiently strong."

"You mean faith in the other party?"

"Of course; one cannot be conventional in war times, and there is no one here to properly introduce us, even if that formality was desired. So I must accept you on trust."

"My uniform alone should be sufficient guarantee."

She laughed; her eyes sparkling.

"Well, hardly. I imagine you fail to comprehend its really disreputable condition. But—well, you—you look like an officer and a gentleman."

"For which compliment I sincerely thank you. However, Miss Harwood, my story can be quickly told. I am a lieutenant, Third United States cavalry—see, the numeral is on my hat—attached to Heitzelman's command, now at Fairfax Court House. I have recently been detailed to the recruiting service, and ordered to this section."

The Book Fell to the Floor, Her Hand Gripping the Pistol.

I found it strangely difficult, fronting her calm look of insistence, to go on. But there was no way of escape. Beyond doubt the sympathy of this girl was with the cause of the North, and if I were to confess myself Tom-Wyatt, and a Confederate spy, all hope of the success of my mission would be immediately ended. Besides I lacked the will to forfeit her esteem—to permit her confidence in me to become changed into suspicion.

"Then I will go on," I said more slowly, endeavoring better to arrange my story. "I picked up a guide at Fayette, but the officer in command there could spare no escort. The man who went with me must have been a traitor, for he guided me south into the Green Briar mountains. Last night at dusk we rode into a camp of guerrillas."

"Who commanded them? Did you learn?"

"A gray-headed, seamed-faced mountaineer, they called Cowan."

She emitted a quick breath, between closely pressed lips.

"You know the man?" I asked.

"Yes, old Ned Cowan; he lived over yonder, east of here in the foothills. He and—and my father had some trouble before the war. He—he is vindictive and dangerous." She stopped, her glance sweeping about the room.

"I—I have some reason to suspect," she added, as if half doubting whether she ought to speak the word, "that either he, or one of his men, broke in here."

"In search of something?"

"A paper; yes—a deed. Of course I may be mistaken; only it is not to be found. The desk in the library was rifled, and its contents scattered over the floor when I came. I put them back in place, but found nothing of value among those that remained. My father must have removed those of importance."

"Possibly he carried them with him?"

She leaned her head on her hand, her eyes thoughtful.

"I think he once told me they were left in charge of a banker at Charleston—an old friend. It would be too dangerous to carry them about with him in the field. You see I do not know very much about his affairs," she explained. "I was away at school when the war broke out, and we have only met briefly since. My father did not talk freely of his personal matters even to me. I learned of his feud with Cowan by accident."

"It was a feud then?"

"On one side at least. My father was shot at, and several of our out-houses burned. The trouble arose over the title to property. Cowan," she explained, "was a squatter on land which had belonged to our family ever since my grandfather first settled here. We had title from Virginia, but the tract granted had never been properly surveyed. My father had it done, and discovered that Ned Cowan and two of his sons occupied a part of our land with no legal right."

Her eyes uplifted to my face, and then fell again, one hand opening and closing on the back of the chair. She laughed pleasantly.

"I hardly know why I am telling you all this family history," she continued almost in apology. "It is as if I talked to an old friend who was naturally interested in our affairs."

"Perhaps the manner of our meeting accounts for it," I ventured. "But truly I am more deeply interested than you imagine. It may prove of mutual advantage for me to know the facts. Did Major Harwood try to force them from his land?"

"Oh, no," hastily. "my father had no such thought. He tried to help them to purchase the property at a very small price, and on long time. His intention was to aid them, but he found himself unable to convince either father or sons of his real purpose. They either could not, or would not, understand. Do you realize the reckless, lawless nature of these mountaineers?"

"Yes, to some extent; they trust no one."

"That was the whole trouble. Seemingly they possessed but one idea—that if my father was killed they could remain where they were indefinitely. Their single instinct was to fight it out with rifles. They refused to either purchase or leave."

There was silence, as though she had finished. She had seated herself on the wide arm of the chair, still facing me, and I could hear the rain beating hard against the side of the house. Suddenly she looked up into my face.

"How odd that I should talk to you so freely," she exclaimed. "Why I do not even know your name."

"Charles H. Raymond."

I could not be certain that the expression of her eyes changed, for they suddenly looked away from me, and she stood again upon her feet.

"Raymond, you say!" the slightest hardening of tone apparent, "on recruiting service from the Army of the Potomac?" She drew a quick breath.

"I—I think I have heard the name before. Would you mind if I did ask to see your orders?"

"Not in the least," I answered, not wholly surprised that she should have heard of the other, and confident the papers I bore would be properly executed. "I prefer that you have no doubt as to my identity."

She took them, and I noted a slight trembling of her hands as she held the paper open in her fingers, her eyes glancing swiftly down the written lines.

"I have become quite a soldier of late," she said, and handed the package back to me. "And I cannot doubt your credentials. I am very glad to meet you, Lieutenant Raymond, and she held out her hand cordially. "As I have admitted already, I am Noreen Harwood."

"Whom I shall only be delighted to serve in any manner possible," I replied gallantly, relieved that she was so easily convinced.

"Oh, I think the service is more likely to be mine. You confessed you broke in here seeking after food and a fire. Down below we may find both, and it will be my pleasure thus to serve a Federal officer. You have a lamp without?"

"On the stairs?"

She led the way like a mistress in her own home, and I followed. There was a force of character about the girl not to be ignored. She chose to treat me as a guest, uninvited, but none the less welcome, a position I was not reluctant to accept. I held the lamp as we went down the stairs together, the rays of light pressing aside the curtain of darkness.

CHAPTER VII.

Parson Nicholas.

She put aside laughingly my suggestion of assistance. The fire in the grate burst into blaze, and her hands were busily rearranging the table.

"With no servants left, and the house unoccupied for months," she explained, "I shall have to give you soldier fare, and, perhaps, not very much of that. Pardon my not joining in the feast, as I have only just eaten."

She drew up a chair opposite to her, and I sat, supporting her chin in her hands. The light between us illumined her face, outlining it clearly against the gloom of the wall behind.

It was a young face, almost girlish in its way, although there was a grave, stony look to the eyes, and womanly firmness about lips and chin. I had seen a little of her in the days gone by. And here I found her a woman—a woman of charm, of rare beauty even; sweet and wholesome in look, her cheeks aglow with health, her eyes deep wells of mystery and promise.

Her father! I dare not tell her of his death, of his dastardly murder. It was strange she had not recognized me, yet probably the real truth was that she had never before observed me with any care or interest—considering me a mere boy to be laughed at and forgotten. I was only a stranger entering into her life for the first time.

I Noted a Slight Trembling of Her Hands as She Held the Paper Open in Her Fingers.

This expression was in the eyes surveying me as I ate—quiet, earnest eyes, utterly devoid of suspicion.

"You are a very young man," she said simply.

"Not seriously so," I answered, rather inclined to resent the charge. "I am twenty-four."

"You look like a boy I used to know—only his eyes were darker, and he had long hair."

"Indeed!" I caught my breath quickly, yet held my eyes firm. "Someone living about here?"

"Yes; his name was Wyatt. I never knew him very well, only you recalled him to memory in some way. He and his mother went South when the war first broke out. Where was your home?"

"In Burlington, Vermont."

"You are a regular soldier?"

"I was a junior at West Point last year; we were graduated ahead of our class."

Her eyes fell, the lashes outlined on her cheeks, her hands clasped on the table.

"Isn't that odd!" she said quietly. "Do you know Mrs. Hactell's school for young ladies at Compton on the Hudson? That is where papa sent me, and I was at the senior hop at West Point a year ago last June. A half dozen of us girls went up; Fred Carlton of Charleston was in that class, and he invited me. You knew him, of course?"

MOST REAL FRIEND OF MAN
Dog is a Comrade Whose Loyalty Never Wavers, Whose Devotion is Certain.

Your dog is ready to go with you anywhere, at any time, through anything, like Good Deeds in the old play. He is something more than a respectable family possession, a toy, a part of an exhibition; he is a comrade whose loyalty never wavers; whose devotion never obtrudes itself; who responds to your mood without pluming himself upon his tact and who neither commiserates nor flatters.

After you have taken a few tramps together you understand each other perfectly, and there is no fear of either changing his mind unless you yourself prove fickle past belief.

And, when you are no longer friends with your dog, you are beyond saving. —Countryside Magazine.

Where Politeness Ends.
The Moors are the politest and most genial people, taken as a whole, that are to be found anywhere, a writer in Travel reports in describing a visit to Fez. Politeness ends, however, it seems, in the vicinity of the mosque of Moulay Idris, founder and protector of Fez. The streets are barred off by poles, and Christians, Jews and even animals are forbidden to enter. "A few days before our arrival a Frenchman had been almost beaten to death for trespassing in this quarter," the traveler says. The tourist naturally made no attempt to take photographs in this section; elsewhere the polite natives did not object to his use of the camera—a western invention not usually welcomed in Mohammedan towns.

Mixed.
"There goes Professor Dobbins, the famous ethnologist."

"An interesting character, no doubt."

"Yes, indeed. Why he knows more about the races than any other man in this country."

"Fancy that! And he doesn't look as if he had ever been on a track in his life."

And He Knew.
Mrs. Bacon—I see it is said as a rule, where earthquakes are most frequent they are most severe.

Mr. Bacon—I have noticed the same thing about certain features; my dear

GOOD JOKES

"AS A RULE—"

Her father is a florist. The other day she bobbed out on the boulevard with a bunch of violets emblazoning the lapel of her nifty coat.

"Some lucky girl, I'll say," her envious female friend remarked. When violets cost the most you wear the most. Lucky you are, I say, to have a daddy that's a florist."

The florist's daughter glanced down at her cluster of violets, then sighed and lamented:

"Gee, but I wish he had a candy shop instead."

And thus it goes—"as a rule woman's a fool, when it's hot she wants it cool; when it's cool she wants it hot, always wanting what is not," or something like that.

Unhappy Reminder.

"There are some cold biscuit and a slice of ham. I have nothing else cooked."

"Thanks, mum. You're a kind-hearted lady. Kin I set here on de steps an' eat?"

"Oh, yes."

"An' one more favor, mum, before you go. Dere's somebody playin' de phonograph inside. Would you mind tellin' 'em to stop till I finished me lunch? Cabarets ruined me an' eatin' to ragtime reminds me of de past."

Figuratively Speaking.

"So they are embarking on the sea of matrimony?"

"Yes."

"I presume they carry a neutral flag?"

"Oh, yes; but I suspect that part of the cargo is contraband."

"Why so?"

"Everybody says the bridegroom has a lot of brass."

ADDED WEIGHT.

Cholly—You weigh more than your twin brother.

Grace—Dat's because he has pockets to put his hands in and he's got awful big hands, too.

Nature's Oversight.

A hungerer would not feel so sad to get the neck, by half. If that old chicken only had been built like a giraffe.

The Way of It.

"What a silent couple! How did they ever manage to make love?"

"Easily. If you notice, she has a speaking countenance and his money talks."

Going Up!

Elevator Boy—I tol' de boss today I wanted a raise.

His Chum—What did he say?

Elevator Boy—He tol' me to get in an' pull de lever.

What Started the Trouble.

Mrs. Bacon—I don't suppose you would give up your seat in a car to a woman unless she were good looking?

Mr. Bacon—Why, my dear, when you say that you are forgetting yourself.

His Birthright.

"Does young Jiggsby come by his erratic temperament naturally?"

"Yes; his mother was a grand opera singer and his father was a left handed pitcher."—Puck.

Natural Consequence.

"The Smiths were furious when they found such a story had been cooked up about them."

"Then I don't wonder they were in a stew."

Reasonable Hilarity.

"You always laugh at the boss' jokes."

"Of course. Not because they're funny, but because they show that he's good-natured."

How to Know a Friend.

"Is that a friend of yours?" said a gentleman to a party who had saluted a man sailing rapidly down the street.

"Can't tell until Saturday," answered the person addressed. "I've just lent him a dollar."—Shamrock.

No Attachment.

Mrs. Church—I see about a thousand servants are attached to King George's household.

Mrs. Gotham—Gracious me! And it's hard for me to get one to become attached to my household.

A WIRE MAN.

"Do you know Owen Meredith's 'Lucile'?"

"I never have anything to do with another fellow's girl."

As Others See Us.

The man who doesn't tell or spin To meet his earthly need, May think he's in the lily class— But he's just a measly weed.

Still Cynical.

"Do you believe two can live as cheaply as one?" asked the sentimental person.

"I do," replied the cynic promptly. "But isn't that contrary to your usual views?"

"Not at all. I was speaking of microbes."

An Idle Boast.

"I understand you proposed to Miss Scadsworth while in the surf with her."

"Yes. But I didn't have the slightest idea that she would accept me."

"Then, why did you propose?"

"I merely wanted to have the satisfaction of saying that I once took a chance on $40,000,000."

A Blow to Altruism.

"I don't believe in trying to carry other people's burdens," said Pilmy.

"Don't you think that a rather selfish point of view?" asked Jobson.

"It may be, but I had a little experience once that cured me."

"What happened?"

"A strange woman gave me a baby to hold and never came back."

Strictly Business.

"You say that couple lead a cat and dog life?"

"Yes."

"Too bad. Incompatibility of temper, I suppose?"

"Nothing of the sort. They conduct a cat and dog hospital."

What Did He Mean?

"It must be a terrible thing to be paralyzed," said the female of the species, as they passed a man in a wheeled chair.

"Yes," answered her male companion absently. "It makes a fellow feel so tough the next morning."

Get in the Game.

Boy Scouts.—There are no girls in the Boy Scouts.

Patrice—No.

"Well, let's get up an order of Tom-Boy Scouts."

Its Ending.

Proud Parent—What do you think, professor, of my son's execution on the violin?

Irate Musician—I think that sort of execution ought to be a lynching.

TOO BAD.

Mrs. Kidder—Her husband was getting better, but yesterday he suffered a relapse.

Mr. Kidder—I guess he saw the bill for his wife's new outfit.

One Drawback.

"My boy Josh knows all about agriculture," said Farmer Cornmossel.

"Then he's a great help."

"He might be, if he didn't take up all the time of the hired help instructing 'em."

AUTUMN IS BEST TIME TO PRUNE GRAPES

(By PROF. J. G. MOORE, Wisconsin College of Agriculture.)

In those sections where winter protection of the grape is advisable, the greater part of the pruning should be done in autumn after the leaves have fallen. There is a variety of systems of training in use, but the one which will require the least attention during the growing season is the Kniffin system, commonly known as the Kniffin system. There are several modifications of the original Kniffin system, but these are modifications of detail rather than principle. The four cane Kniffin is the one most commonly used.

In this system a two-wire trellis is necessary. The bottom wire should be at least two feet from the ground and the upper wire two feet higher. With most varieties these distances should be somewhat greater. The four cane Kniffin system consists of so pruning the vine that two canes are left for each trellis wire, one running in either direction.

A healthy grapevine, after a season's growth possesses several times as much wood as it is desirable to leave for the production of the next season's crop. As a rule the amateur grape grower leaves altogether too much wood on the vine.

Figure 1 illustrates a vine as it appears on the trellis in the autumn after the leaves have fallen. It will be seen that the vine is really composed of wood of three ages; "a" represents the trunk or oldest portion of the vine. From this arises four branches, canes "b," "c," "d," "e," which have finished their second season's growth, and from each arises several shoots "c," "d," "e," etc., which have been produced the past season and which, at or near their base, produced the fruit crop. These shoots of the growing season just past become the canes of the coming season. It will be noted that each of these shoots possess a number of buds. If all were left there would be too many new shoots next season endeavoring to produce fruit, which would result in the weakening of the vine and inferior fruit production. In addition, the vine would soon be only a tangled mass similar to a wild grape vine.

Pruning of this vine will consist in reducing the wood so that it may be kept within bounds and still produce the maximum amount of good fruit without weakening the plant. It is evident that we must select four of the shoots to replace the four two-year-old canes. Two things should be kept in mind in making this selection. First, that the shoots selected should be good, vigorous ones; second, that they should arise as near the base of the canes as possible, as it is desirable to keep the producing wood close to the trunk.

In pruning the vine illustrated in Fig. 1, we will therefore select shoots "c," "d," "e," "f," "g," "h," "i," "j," "k," "l," "m," "n," "o," "p," "q," "r," "s," "t," "u," "v," "w," "x," "y," "z," "aa," "ab," "ac," "ad," "ae," "af," "ag," "ah," "ai," "aj," "ak," "al," "am," "an," "ao," "ap," "aq," "ar," "as," "at," "au," "av," "aw," "ax," "ay," "az," "ba," "bb," "bc," "bd," "be," "bf," "bg," "bh," "bi," "bj," "bk," "bl," "bm," "bn," "bo," "bp," "bq," "br," "bs," "bt," "bu," "bv," "bw," "bx," "by," "bz," "ca," "cb," "cc," "cd," "ce," "cf," "cg," "ch," "ci," "cj," "ck," "cl," "cm," "cn," "co," "cp," "cq," "cr," "cs," "ct," "cu," "cv," "cw," "cx," "cy," "cz," "da," "db," "dc," "dd," "de," "df," "dg," "dh," "di," "dj," "dk," "dl," "dm," "dn," "do," "dp," "dq," "dr," "ds," "dt," "du," "dv," "dw," "dx," "dy," "dz," "ea," "eb," "ec," "ed," "ee," "ef," "eg," "eh," "ei," "ej," "ek," "el," "em," "en," "eo," "ep," "eq," "er," "es," "et," "eu," "ev," "ew," "ex," "ey," "ez," "fa," "fb," "fc," "fd," "fe," "ff," "fg," "fh," "fi," "fj," "fk," "fl," "fm," "fn," "fo," "fp," "fq," "fr," "fs," "ft," "fu," "fv," "fw," "fx," "fy," "fz," "ga," "gb," "gc," "gd," "ge," "gf," "gg," "gh," "gi," "gj," "gk," "gl," "gm," "gn," "go," "gp," "gq," "gr," "gs," "gt," "gu," "gv," "gw," "gx," "gy," "gz," "ha," "hb," "hc," "hd," "he," "hf," "hg," "hh," "hi," "hj," "hk," "hl," "hm," "hn," "ho," "hp," "hq," "hr," "hs," "ht," "hu," "hv," "hw," "hx," "hy," "hz," "ia," "ib," "ic," "id," "ie," "if," "ig," "ih," "ii," "ij," "ik," "il," "im," "in," "io," "ip," "iq," "ir," "is," "it," "iu," "iv," "iw," "ix," "iy," "iz," "ja," "jb," "jc," "jd," "je," "jf," "jg," "jh," "ji," "jj," "jk," "jl," "jm," "jn," "jo," "jp," "jq," "jr," "js," "jt," "ju," "jv," "jw," "jx," "jy," "jz," "ka," "kb," "kc," "kd," "ke," "kf," "kg," "kh," "ki," "kj," "kk," "kl," "km," "kn," "ko," "kp," "kq," "kr," "ks," "kt," "ku," "kv," "kw," "kx," "ky," "kz," "la," "lb," "lc," "ld," "le," "lf," "lg," "lh," "li," "lj," "lk," "ll," "lm," "ln," "lo," "lp," "lq," "lr," "ls," "lt," "lu," "lv," "lw," "lx," "ly," "lz," "ma," "mb," "mc," "md," "me," "mf," "mg," "mh," "mi," "mj," "mk," "ml," "mm," "mn," "mo," "mp," "mq," "mr," "ms," "mt," "mu," "mv," "mw," "mx," "my," "mz," "na," "nb," "nc," "nd," "ne," "nf," "ng," "nh," "ni," "nj," "nk," "nl," "nm," "nn," "no," "np," "nq," "nr," "ns," "nt," "nu," "nv," "nw," "nx," "ny," "nz," "oa," "ob," "oc," "od," "oe," "of," "og," "oh," "oi," "oj," "ok," "ol," "om," "on," "oo," "op," "oq," "or," "os," "ot," "ou," "ov," "ow," "ox," "oy," "oz," "pa," "pb," "pc," "pd," "pe," "pf," "pg," "ph," "pi," "pj," "pk," "pl," "pm," "pn," "po," "pp," "pq," "pr," "ps," "pt," "pu," "pv," "pw," "px," "py," "pz," "qa," "qb," "qc," "qd," "qe," "qf," "qg," "qh," "qi," "qj," "qk," "ql," "qm," "qn," "qo," "qp," "qq," "qr," "qs," "qt," "qu," "qv," "qw," "qx," "qy," "qz," "ra," "rb," "rc," "rd," "re," "rf," "rg," "rh," "ri," "rj," "rk," "rl," "rm," "rn," "ro," "rp," "rq," "rr," "rs," "rt," "ru," "rv," "rw," "rx," "ry," "rz," "sa," "sb," "sc," "sd," "se," "sf," "sg," "sh," "si," "sj," "sk," "sl," "sm," "sn," "so," "sp," "sq," "sr," "ss," "st," "su," "sv," "sw," "sx," "sy," "sz," "ta," "tb," "tc," "td," "te," "tf," "tg," "th," "ti," "tj," "tk," "tl," "tm," "tn," "to," "tp," "tq," "tr," "ts," "tt," "tu," "tv," "tw," "tx," "ty," "tz," "ua," "ub," "uc," "ud," "ue," "uf," "ug," "uh," "ui," "uj," "uk," "ul," "um," "un," "uo," "up," "uq," "ur," "us," "ut," "uu," "uv," "uw," "ux," "uy," "uz," "va," "vb," "vc," "vd," "ve," "vf," "vg," "vh," "vi," "vj," "vk," "vl," "vm," "vn," "vo," "vp," "vq," "vr," "vs," "vt," "vu," "vv," "vw," "vx," "vy," "vz," "wa," "wb," "wc," "wd," "we," "wf," "wg," "wh," "wi," "wj," "wk," "wl," "wm," "wn," "wo," "wp," "wq," "wr," "ws," "wt," "wu," "wv," "ww," "wx," "wy," "wz," "xa," "xb," "xc," "xd," "xe," "xf," "xg," "xh," "xi," "xj," "xk," "xl," "xm," "xn," "xo," "xp," "xq," "xr," "xs," "xt," "xu," "xv," "xw," "xx," "xy," "xz," "ya," "yb," "yc," "yd," "ye," "yf," "yg," "yh," "yi," "yj," "yk," "yl," "ym," "yn," "yo," "yp," "yq," "yr," "ys," "yt," "yu," "yv," "yw," "yx," "yy," "yz," "za," "zb," "zc," "zd," "ze," "zf," "zg," "zh," "zi," "zj," "zk," "zl," "zm," "zn," "zo," "zp," "zq," "zr," "zs," "zt," "zu," "zv," "zw," "zx," "zy," "zz."

It is evident that we must select four of the shoots to replace the four two-year-old canes. Two things should be kept in mind in making this selection. First, that the shoots selected should be good, vigorous ones; second, that they should arise as near the base of the canes as possible, as it is desirable to keep the producing wood close to the trunk.

In pruning the vine illustrated in Fig. 1, we will therefore select shoots "c," "d," "e," "f," "g," "h," "i," "j," "k," "l," "m," "n," "o," "p," "q," "r," "s," "t," "u," "v," "w," "x," "y," "z," "aa," "ab," "ac," "ad," "ae," "af," "ag," "ah," "ai," "aj," "ak," "al," "am," "an," "ao," "ap," "aq," "ar," "as," "at," "au," "av," "aw," "ax," "ay," "az," "ba," "bb," "bc," "bd," "be," "bf," "bg," "bh," "bi," "bj," "bk," "bl," "bm," "bn," "bo," "bp," "bq," "br," "bs," "bt," "bu," "bv," "bw," "bx," "by," "bz," "ca," "cb," "cc," "cd," "ce," "cf," "cg," "ch," "ci," "cj," "ck," "cl," "cm," "cn," "co," "cp," "cq," "cr," "cs," "ct," "cu," "cv," "cw," "cx," "cy," "cz," "da," "db," "dc," "dd," "de," "df," "dg," "dh," "di," "dj," "dk," "dl," "dm," "dn," "do," "dp," "dq," "dr," "ds," "dt," "du," "dv," "dw," "dx," "dy," "dz," "ea," "eb," "ec," "ed," "ee," "ef," "eg," "eh," "ei," "ej," "ek," "el," "em," "en," "eo," "ep," "eq," "er," "es," "et," "eu," "ev," "ew," "ex," "ey," "ez," "fa," "fb," "fc," "fd," "fe," "ff," "fg," "fh," "fi," "fj," "fk," "fl," "fm," "fn," "fo," "fp," "fq," "fr," "fs," "ft," "fu," "fv," "fw," "fx," "fy," "fz," "ga," "gb," "gc," "gd," "ge," "gf," "gg," "gh," "gi," "gj," "gk," "gl," "gm," "gn," "go," "gp," "gq," "gr," "gs," "gt," "gu," "gv," "gw," "gx," "gy," "gz," "ha," "hb," "hc," "hd," "he," "hf," "hg," "hh," "hi," "hj," "hk," "hl," "hm," "hn," "ho," "hp," "hq," "hr," "hs," "ht," "hu," "hv," "hw," "hx," "hy," "hz," "ia," "ib," "ic," "id," "ie," "if," "ig," "ih," "ii," "ij," "ik," "il," "im," "in," "io," "ip," "iq," "ir," "is," "it," "iu," "iv," "iw," "ix," "iy," "iz," "ja," "jb," "jc," "jd," "je," "jf," "jg," "jh," "ji," "jj," "jk," "jl," "jm," "jn," "jo," "jp," "jq," "jr," "js," "jt," "ju," "jv," "jw," "jx," "jy," "jz," "ka," "kb," "kc," "kd," "ke," "kf," "kg," "kh," "ki," "kj," "kk," "kl," "km," "kn," "ko," "kp," "kq," "kr," "ks," "kt," "ku," "kv," "kw," "kx," "ky," "kz," "la," "lb," "lc," "ld," "le," "lf," "lg," "lh," "li," "lj," "lk," "ll," "lm," "ln," "lo," "lp," "lq," "lr," "ls," "lt," "lu," "lv," "lw," "lx," "ly," "lz," "ma," "mb," "mc," "md," "me," "mf," "mg," "mh," "mi," "mj," "mk," "ml," "mm," "mn," "mo," "mp," "mq," "mr," "ms," "mt," "mu," "mv," "mw," "mx," "my," "mz," "na," "nb," "nc," "nd," "ne," "nf," "ng," "nh," "ni," "nj," "nk," "nl," "nm," "nn," "no," "np," "nq," "nr," "ns," "nt," "nu," "nv," "nw," "nx," "ny," "nz," "oa," "ob," "oc," "od," "oe," "of," "og," "oh," "oi," "oj," "ok," "ol," "om," "on," "oo," "op," "oq," "or," "os," "ot," "ou," "ov," "ow," "ox," "oy," "oz," "pa," "pb," "pc," "pd," "pe," "pf," "pg," "ph," "pi," "pj," "pk," "pl," "pm," "pn," "po," "pp," "pq," "pr," "ps," "pt," "pu," "pv," "pw," "px," "py," "pz," "qa," "qb," "qc," "qd," "qe," "qf," "qg," "qh," "qi," "qj," "qk," "ql," "qm," "qn," "qo," "qp," "qq," "qr," "qs," "qt," "qu," "qv," "qw," "qx," "qy," "qz," "ra," "rb," "rc," "rd," "re," "rf," "rg," "rh," "ri," "rj," "rk," "rl," "rm," "rn," "ro," "rp," "rq," "rr," "rs," "rt," "ru," "rv," "rw," "rx," "ry," "rz," "sa," "sb," "sc," "sd," "se," "sf," "sg," "sh," "si," "sj," "sk," "sl," "sm," "sn," "so," "sp," "sq," "sr," "ss," "st," "su," "sv," "sw," "sx," "sy," "sz," "ta," "tb," "tc," "td," "te," "tf," "tg," "th," "ti," "tj," "tk," "tl," "tm," "tn," "to," "tp," "tq," "tr," "ts," "tt," "tu," "tv," "tw

LONG TERM

28 Years of Experience Gives Weight to Statement.

of all the external ills that Michigan horses can be subject to, there are few that a good liniment cannot heal. For instance, E. J. Gamlin, of Orwell, Ohio, says: In the 28 years of my experience with horses, I have cured collar boils, shoe boils, scratches, wire cuts with a liniment which has never failed to heal any sore. This remedy is Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh."

Grateful Mothers Tell Experiences

Mrs. T. Neureuer, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured my boy of a very severe attack of croup after other remedies had failed. Our physician cured his children of whooping cough. I recommend it to every one, as we know from our own experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough. Mrs. D. Gilkeson, Youngstown, O., writes: "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. I tried lots of cough remedies, but she didn't get any better. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to me. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat, and after using one bottle the cough left her."

©This sterling old remedy has been in use for years and is just as efficient for adults as for children. It gives relief for irritated and tickling throat, tight and sore chest, grippe and bronchial coughs.

BREVITIES

STOCKBRIDGE—The business men of Stockbridge have made arrangements to close their business places at 6 p. m., every night after November 15.

JACKSON—The board of supervisors has decided to build a mile of concrete road on the Wildwood avenue road, beginning at the end of the city paving.

GRASS LAKE—A. N. Sova sent an apple to the News which was brought to him by his daughter, who teaches in Norvell township. It measures 14 inches around and weighs 18 ounces. Who can beat it?—News. Bring it down. We'll tackle it.

YPSILANTI—Friday Geo. Spears, an employee of the U. S. Pressed Steel company, working on a die press had an accident and lost the first two fingers on his right hand. About a year ago Mr. Spears lost a finger on his left hand.—Record.

TECUMSEH—The loss in Lenawee county from hog cholera during the year 1914 has been conservatively estimated at $4,000, and every indication points to a greater loss this year. Stringent methods are being employed to check the spread of the plague.

JACKSON—"Grand river, polluted with sewage as it is, has become a public nuisance, and unless local authorities do something to change conditions very materially, the state board of health will be compelled to take action," said State Sanitary Engineer Rich yesterday.—Patriot.

ANN ARBOR—Ex-President W. H. Taft on November 13 will speak to an Ann Arbor audience in Hill auditorium, under the joint auspices of the Women's league and the U. of M. Oratorical association. It is expected Mr. Taft will speak upon some phases of "The Enforcement of Peace in the World."

ANN ARBOR—Fred and Joseph Davis, of York township, will be arraigned in the circuit court on Wednesday, November 3, on a charge of felonious assault with intent to murder. They are alleged to have been implicated in a shooting affray which took place near York church, three miles from Milan, on Saturday, September 11.

CLINTON—Charlie Cooley's family driving horse acted ill last evening when the girl started for home after school, and when near Ernie Gibson's west of town, the animal seemed to have an attack of blind staggers. At any rate it ran off the road and across the ditch and into George Goll's field and in some manner broke a shaft which ran into the horse when it fell, causing it to bleed to death. The girls were quite badly bruised but were lucky to escape without any broken bones.—Local.

JACKSON—The trial of the case of the village of Manchester vs. E. B. Clarkson was begun in circuit court here Tuesday. The suit is to collect $45 sewer tax assessed against some property Mr. Clarkson owns in Manchester. The defense claims the assessment was illegally made because of the failure of the village to get right of way across the Clarkson property for the sewer, releases having been obtained from the other property owners across whose property the sewer extends. The jury brought in a verdict of no cause of action.
