DEFEATED STATE CHECKER CHAMP.

Dr. Andros Gulde Takes Three Out of Four Games.

A quartette of Detroit checker experts, including F. E. Corcoran, state champion; Al. Coulson, Detroit city champion; Mr. Nicholson and O. Henry, both expert players, spent the weekend in Chelsea and played a series of games with local experts, including Dr. Andros Gulde, B. B. Turnbull, Howard and Warren Boyd and John Harris.

The feature of greatest interest to Chelsea people is that Dr. Gulde defeated the state champion, taking three out of four games, and was also able to hold the advantage on the other three players.

The other three Chelsea players, particularly B. B. Turnbull, also made good showings but the Detroit quartette took the majority of points in spite of Dr. Gulde's brilliant playing.

More About "Uncle Dari."

The publication in Tuesday's issue of the Tribune of an original poem by Darius Pierce, a former pioneer resident of Lima, aroused considerable interest among those familiar with the early history of this vicinity, and resulted in several good stories regarding "Uncle Dari," as he was familiarly known.

It is said that when "Uncle Dari" was a member of the state legislature in 1846-1847, he occasionally made the trip to the state capitol, then located in Detroit, on foot, carrying his boots over his shoulder. Upon reaching the outskirts of Detroit, he would resort to the nearest stream or well, wash the stains of travel away and put on his boots, before continuing his journey into the city. This practice, not at all uncommon in pioneer days, resulted in some sharp sallies by his more metropolitan colleagues, but "Uncle Dari" was as shrewd and sharp as they and more than their equal in repartee and debate and invariably turned the joke.

In later years, following the building of the Michigan Central railroad past the Pierce home, just east of Chelsea, "Uncle Dari" some times had trouble with his stock getting out of pasture and wandering upon the tracks. One bull was particularly troublesome and taxed the old gentleman's patience severely. One day, happening to step out upon his front porch, he spied the bull planted squarely in the middle of the track, bellowing belligerently at an onrushing fast train.

"Uncle Dari" calmly watched the slaughter and remarked of the bull: "I certainly admire his pluck, but his judgement was extremely poor."

Washtenaw's Last Wolf.

All that remains of Washtenaw county's last wolf is on exhibition in the window of R. B. Waltrous' office in the Crescent hotel block. The animal is a prairie-wolf or coyote and was killed February 8, 1907, in Sharon township, not far from Grass Lake, by Warren Spaulding. For some time preceding that time the lone coyote had made its home in the "big swamp," south of Chelsea, and was hunted for weeks without success, always returning to its haunts in the swamp.

It is an old animal which probably escaped from some zoological garden or show and finally found a lair in the swamp.

Mr. Waltrous recently secured the mounted hide from the Spaulding Bros. and will keep it on exhibition in his office for a time.

From California.

Writing from her home at Lodi, Cal. Miss Kate M. Canfield says: Well, I see it is about the time of the year to renew my subscription to the Tribune and I inclose check. I certainly look forward to each Monday and Wednesday, when the papers come. Its like seeing a long lost friend and getting all the news. We are now having a few pleasant days, but since Christmas we have certainly had plenty of winter weather, which means foggy and cold weather out here.

BOWLING NEWS.

The Hollier Eight bowling team defeated the Hoover Steel Ball team in Ann Arbor, Friday night. Score 2335 to 2268 in a three game match. The Hoover team will roll a return match here next Friday night.

Last night Carl Bagge defeated Charles Meserva, 551 to 767. Bagge's high score was 210.

Tonight the Hollier team will roll a match with the Chelsea Juniors.

Mrs. Simon Weber.

Mrs. Simon Weber, one of the pioneer residents of this vicinity, died Sunday, January 21, 1917, at the unusually old age, of 98 years, two months and 18 days.

Genevieve Houser was born in Steinbach, Germany, November 3, 1818, and came to this country at the age of 21 years, settling in Lima township where she found employment in the home of General Williams, and where Mr. Weber was also employed. Soon after, on September 18, 1843, the young couple walked from the Williams farm to Ann Arbor, then the terminus of the Michigan Central railroad, traveling thence by rail to Detroit, where they were married at St. Mary's church.

Starting life on a comparatively poor farm of 40 acres, they managed by their thrift and competent management to rear a family of six children and also add to the original 40 acres, from time to time, until they owned 500 acres in three farms which their sons and heirs now own.

Mrs. Weber is survived by five children, Mrs. Jacob Forner of Jackson, Joseph and Simon Weber, Mrs. Peter Merkel and Mrs. Jacob Hummel, of Chelsea, twenty-nine grandchildren and twenty-three great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning, January 24, at 9:30 o'clock, from the church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart. Interment at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Claude Runciman.

Claude Runciman died yesterday at the home of his mother, near Waterloo. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the home of Orville Gorton, followed by services at the Waterloo church.

Mrs. Orrin Parker.

Mrs. Orrin Parker, 84 years of age, died Friday, January 19, 1917, at the home of her son, Clifford, in Scio township, after a long illness. She is survived by her one son. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home.

Diphtheria Fatal.

Word has been received by Peter Winkner of Lyndon of the death of his niece, Miss Marion Armbruster of Valley City, Ohio, from diphtheria. She was twenty years of age and very popular in her home city, where she had been organist of St. Martin's Catholic church for the past three years. A sad feature of her death was that she was to have been married soon to Leo Nigles of Valley City. Four other children in the family are recovering nicely.

Myron R. Grant.

The body of Myron R. Grant, who died Tuesday evening, January 16, 1917, at his home in Detroit while at the supper table, was brought here for burial, following funeral services held Friday morning at nine o'clock from the home of his son, Myron, 67 Lewis avenue, Detroit.

The deceased was past 80 years of age and up to about ten years ago resided in this village, being familiarly known to his friends as "Doc." He was born in Charlotte, August 7, 1836, and was married to Miss Rebecca Leach of Chelsea on September 30, 1871. Mrs. Grant died in April, 1913. Six children, Mrs. Conrad Schanz of Chelsea, Walter, Emery, Myron, Clarence and Mrs. Blanche Pierce, of Detroit, are left to mourn their loss. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Ann Davis of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Viola Havens of Grass Lake and Mrs. Ida Clark of Lansing, and two brothers, William of Jackson and Henry in the west.

GLEANER SECRETARY CRITICISES GRANGE

Says Politics Caused Failure to Get Results.

Following the lead of Grant Soleum, in Adrian, Wednesday, R. L. Holloway, assistant supreme secretary of the Order of the Gleaners, in district session in Ann Arbor, Thursday, laid the Grange, calling it an organization "which might have accomplished something, but failed because it was so honeycombed with politics that its attempts had become a mockery."

"The Grange has been held up to us as a model," he said. "If it had really intended to do something when in power, it would have managed to get a state board of agriculture with more than one farmer on it."

He said it was the Gleaner organization that put the binder plant in the prison at Jackson.

"The future of the farmer depends upon his ousting the middleman," Mr. Holloway said. "The middleman pays the farmer what he pleases and sells to the consumer for what he chooses. The day of the middleman is passing."

D. C. Wilsey, Ann Arbor, was elected chief Gleaner.

Davis Rogers Carried Mail.

Regarding the article in Friday's issue about the old Dexter-Mason mail pouch, D. N. Rogers advises us that it was Davis Rogers, his brother who carried the first mail instead of his father, David Rogers. Otherwise the article was correct.

High School Basket Ball Games.

Friday evening, amidst the tooting of horns and the cheering of the high school students, the basket ball teams departed for Grass Lake to play the first games of the season.

At 7:30 the girls took the floor and a good brisk game started. At the close of the first half the score stood 6 to 13 in favor of the Grass Lake team. During the second half Esther Collins, Helen Vogel and Vivian Gorton got busy and with the loyal backing of the rest of the team the final score stood 13 to 14 in favor of the Grass Lake team.

The boys teams appeared on the floor a little after eight o'clock and a hard fought battle ensued. At the end of the first half the score stood 27 to 10 in favor of the Chelsea team. The second half started out even faster than the first and at the close of the game the score stood 39 to 20 in favor of the Chelsea team. Kalmbach scored 15 out of 19 free throws and made several sensational plays; Glenn Brooks and Reuben Wagner were right there with the goods, and Paul Wagner and Palmer starred on the defensive. The Grass Lake boys put up a good game and the C. H. S. is anxiously awaiting the outcome of the game that is to be played here between the teams February 23.

HAPPENINGS AT STATE CAPITOL

SENATE AND HOUSE DISPOSED TO WAIT WITH LEGISLATION ON PROHIBITION.

MANY BILLS INTRODUCED

Among Most Important Is One to Take Advantage of Federal Aid in Trunk Line Road Building.

(By W. L. CALNON.)

Lansing—Senator James C. Wood, of Manistique, believes he has found the way to rid the legislature of the mass of small game and fish bills that appear regularly at every session and which in reality are special acts, applying to only some small section, or single stream or lake. His idea, which will be presented to the present legislature in a bill, would strengthen the game warden's department and put the administration of the game and fish laws more firmly in the hands of the game warden.

Senator Wood declares that many of the fish bills, which relate to closed seasons in one stream or another or in one lake or another, really belong under one general head and with the use of a little common sense could be administered by the game department in one general way. Spawning seasons are weeks apart, for instance, as between streams in the southern tier of Michigan counties and those in the upper peninsula. Scores of bills come into the legislature to have particular dates set for particular streams or lakes to procure a closed season covering the spawning period.

Let the game department apply the closed season rules to each and every part of the state according to the spawning time, and care for the whole matter in this way, is Senator Wood's idea. He also would permit each county to say when it wanted closed seasons on any special kind of game or birds and to so notify the game department. Unless the game and fish laws are wisely administered in some general and responsible way, Senator Wood declares, conservation ideas might as well be forgotten as far as efficient results are concerned, for the game will be wiped out and the fish supply depleted.

New Bills Introduced.

One of the most important bills introduced was Representative Thomas Read's, of Oceana county, to take advantage of the federal government's aid in trunk line road building. This bill would appropriate $225,000 a year for the next two years for trunk line roads, the government to contribute an equal sum. The Read bill proposes a way to raise the state fund according to the size of each county and township contributing.

Under this plan a county which has $500,000 worth of assessed value for each mile of trunk line road, will pay 50 per cent of the amount of state aid on its trunk line roads and the percentage to be paid would be graded down to 25 per cent in the case of counties having only $100,000 of assessed valuation for each mile of trunk line road.

Representative George Leland, of Allegan county, has presented a bill to standardize Michigan apples that are packed for shipment to market. The bill prescribes four classes of apples: Michigan standard fancy; standard A; standard B; and ungraded. Packers would have to brand their shipments according to their class and stamp their names and addresses on the outside of the package also. The state dairy and food department would be provided for violations.

A bill to appropriate $10,000 for the use of the state board of agriculture to find the causes of contagious diseases among bees and suppress the diseases was introduced by Representative A. E. Petermann, of Houghton, by request. Some of the members thought the bill was a joke, intended to "sting" some one, but others insisted that there is danger of bees being wiped out entirely because of foul broods unless something is done. Anyway, the bill went to committee for consideration.

Representative Wells, of Cass county, wants all private banks put under the supervision of the state banking department and compelled to give bonds. A request to print his bill is before the committee on printing. Representative Glaspe, of Oakland, asks in a bill that the annual financial statement and proceedings of the annual meetings of all graded school districts be published in the newspapers.

A standard tread for draft sleighs of four feet, eight inches between runners of not more than two inches breadth, is sought by Representative Ewing, of Marquette. His bill would prohibit under penalty the use of sleighs of any other tread on any public highway in the state outside cities and villages.

An effort to repeal the so-called anti-discrimination act passed at the last session and affecting fire insurance rates; a proposal to have the state handle health insurance as "social insurance," the granting to fraternal societies of the right to insure children of their members; a proposal to tax surrender values of life policies and several other insurance matters of equal importance are said to be sure to appear soon. Should they do so, insurance legislation debates are in a fair way to run second in interest to the proposed prohibition legislation.

The first joint resolution reported out of committee to the house is Representative Croll's proposal to amend the constitution so that drainage districts may be bonded to pay for the expense of drains. The first senate bill reported out of committee is that to provide an $800,000 state office building to house the numerous state department offices now in privately rented buildings around Lansing. The house has had reported out favorably the bill to permit the public domain commission to sell for one dollar a block of primary school land in Lansing to the board of state auditors, on which it is proposed to erect the office building. In this connection, Senator Lyman J. Holmes, of Macomb county, has a bill ready to appropriate $50,000 for a governor's residence in Lansing.

A memorial to the Michigan regiments which fought in the battle of Shiloh in the Civil war is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Robinson for a commission to be named by the governor to select a design. The bill carries an appropriation of $4,500.

Representative Charles Flowers, of Detroit, has introduced a bill to raise the salaries of justices of the supreme court from $7,000 a year to $12,000 a year. Representative Thomas Read has introduced another to provide five additional employees in the state treasurer's office at salaries ranging from $1,200 to $1,800. A constitutional amendment is in prospect to raise the salaries of those state officers whose salaries are stipulated in the constitution. Other salary raise bills also are being talked of, advocates of them charging that Michigan pays its employees poorly in comparison with other states and that the increased living costs make increases more than ever needed now. Many members are not in favor of salary raises, however, and it looks as though any one who gets them allowed will have to prove very conclusively the need of them before the house will adopt the necessary bills.

Two bills to give Detroit and Wayne county more circuit judges have been introduced in the house. One asks for twelve judges and the other for ten. At present there are six Wayne judges, others being "borrowed" from outside circuits to help keep the court calendars cleared up. Both bills leave the appointment of the extra judges to fill the places created by them, to the governor.

Unlawful discrimination in the purchase of wheat, oats, corn, rye, clover seed, beans, hay or potatoes by those who resell or use in manufacture will be costly if a bill presented by Representative Quintel, of Bay, is passed. The bill is aimed at those who attempt to obtain a monopoly or to injure a competitor by paying higher prices in one section of the state than in another and provides $500 fine or six month sentences for those found guilty of such actions.

While much insurance legislation is being proposed in reports of what is apt to come before the legislature in the line of big matters, bills to cover the proposed objects are coming in very slowly. In fact the first three weeks of the session saw only one minor bill affecting insurance. That would exempt from taxation the realty of any sick or accident benefit society that pays $3 a week benefits.

No one seems disposed to be in a rush to put in prohibition bills, the Anti-Saloon measure prepared by the league's attorneys being given first chance by common consent to outline what laws are needed. The league leaders have taken the position that so-called "bone dry" laws are not safe to enact, but that the laws should be so stringent that individuals could not legally possess more than a pint of whiskey a month; a gallon of wine or three gallons of beer.

Monthly publication of the balances of county treasuries will be required if a bill presented by Representative Ezra S. Hall, of Muskegon county, is adopted. Representative Clarence J. Reed, of Jackson county, wants members of township boards of review paid like other township officers on the basis of actual days' work done by them.

Representative Eaton, of Saginaw, former prosecutor of his county, has put in a bill to create the office of "public defender." He would have the defender a county official, elected as the prosecuting attorney is, who will give his services to the indigent, to minors and to incompetents. He also would advise persons arrested who have no attorneys and who ordinarily would see none until the courts named them to act. Representative Eaton also introduced a bill to provide compensation as high as $5,000 for persons erroneously convicted of crimes and sentenced to prison.

Representative Weissert wants the state to establish two more fish hatcheries, one at Hastings and the other somewhere in the upper peninsula, at a cost not to exceed $15,000 each.

Appropriations Asked.

The following appropriations have been asked in new house bills:

PROUD MEN I HAVE MET

TO RELIEVE COAL CAR SHORTAGE

I. C. C. PRESCRIBES DRASTIC REGULATION DESIGNED TO OVERCOME SITUATION.

BECOMES EFFECTIVE FEB. 21

Issuance of Order is Culmination of Investigation Commission Has Been Conducting for Months.

Washington—Drastic regulations designed to relieve the shortage in coal cars and help bring about a lowering of present high prices of coal have been prescribed by the interstate commerce commission. The regulations require return to original owners of all coal cars as fast as unloaded.

The commission's order also requires the railroads to apply the same regulations to refrigerator, heater, ventilated and insulated cars.

The new order becomes effective February 21 and continues till May 1. The committee which the railroads are called on to appoint should be vested, the order states, with plenary powers and should co-operate with the commission in seeking relief for the shortage of other types of cars. Unless such a committee is appointed the commission declares it will act independently.

Issuance of the order is a culmination of the investigation which the commission has been conducting for several months.

COAL SHORTAGE IS ACUTE

Railroad and Factory Orders Will Be Given Preference.

Saginaw—The Consolidated Coal Co., which controls practically all of the output of the Michigan mines, notified its retail dealers that it will cease filling their orders so that railroads and industrial plants will not have to close. Dealers under contract will be taken care of, but other orders will be filled only as there is a surplus.

Most of the dealer customers are located in Saginaw, Flint, Bay City and other valley points. The Pere Marquette railroad, unable to get enough coal from the valley mines, sent its cars south to get coal. The mines have to have these cars or shut down entirely, which would mean a shut down of many Flint, Bay City and Saginaw factories.

NEW SURGICAL ACHIEVEMENT

Piece of Rib Used As Material for Making Fingers and Thumbs.

Berlin—German medical papers report a striking innovation in surgery that has been tried by Dr. Neuhaeuser in one of the army hospitals—a new method for growing new fingers to replace amputated digits.

The earlier method was to graft a toe upon the amputated finger or thumb, but Dr. Neuhaeuser has successfully used a piece of rib as material for fingers and thumbs, getting at the same time a covering for the new members in a flap of skin taken from the breast just outside the ribs.

Claiming unlawful exaction of storage charges on cars held on the Dow Chemical Co.'s spur at Midland, Mich., that company has filed complaint against the Pere Marquette railroad with the interstate commerce commission.

After hitting his wife on the head in an attempt to kill her, Williams S. Buman, of Jackson, drank carbolic acid. He died on the way to the hospital. Domestic difficulties prompted the act. Mrs. Buman was not seriously hurt.

As a result of the state-wide dissatisfaction with the methods of the state tax commission, a conference is to be held in Lansing to formulate a general bill to remedy the situation. The conference will be held simultaneously with the annual meeting of the state supervisors' association.

ENDANGERS NATIONAL GUARD

Officers Believe Federal Act Will Force Dissolution of Body.

Lansing—Whether the Michigan National Guard can survive under the new federal regulations of the defense act will be determined within the next year, or, at the utmost, two years.

This is the opinion of high officers of the guard who see in the future the disintegration of the guard because of the membership requirements of the war department. Under the regulations imposed by the federal defense act, the Michigan National Guard must at the end of five years from the passage of that act last year, number 12,000 active and reserve members. The guard now has 4,300 members, or somewhat above the minimum for a starting point. The rate of increase cannot be maintained, it is feared, for at the end of one year there must be an increase in every department, particularly the artillery, cavalry, signal corps and engineers and, except there be assurance of active service, enlistments are mighty slow.

SERVED AS FIREMAN 47 YRS.

Ludington Man Tenders Resignation After Long Record.

Ludington—Lowell E. Andrew, for 45 years a member of Ludington's volunteer fire department, has tendered his resignation to take effect April 1. Before entering the Ludington fire department, Andrew served two years as a member of the department at Hillsdale, which gives him a record of 47 continuous years as a volunteer fireman. This is believed to be the longest term of service rendered by any fireman in Michigan.

MUNITIONS PLANT BLOWN UP

English Censorship Withholds Details of Catastrophe in Chemical Plant.

London—Hundreds of British munition workers are believed to have been killed and property damage amounting to millions done by a fire and series of explosions which demolished a great chemical plant in which war munitions were manufactured, near London, England.

A carefully censored official statement, given out in London, shrouds the identity of the plant, but admits that the destruction was terrible.

British censorship delayed for 16 hours the publication in the American press of details of the explosion.

CRAZED DOCTOR KILLS WIFE

Believed He Had Discovered Method of Restoring Human Life.

Billings, Mont.—Crazed by drugs and believing he had discovered a method of restoring human life, Dr. J. C. Hunter, well known physician and research worker, tried the experiment by killing his wife at their home at Hysman, Mont., several days ago. Dr. Hunter is a post-graduate of Johns Hopkins and studied a year at Heidelberg, Germany. He was sent to an insane asylum.

Proposal of a plan whereby stockholders in the defunct Battle Creek Building and Loan association may secure a settlement of nearly 50 cents on a dollar instead of half that amount, was made at a meeting of stockholders. The plan proposed by Marion Rogers, of Athens, at whose call this meeting was held, is to reopen the association as a going concern with all members shareholders on a basis of 40 per cent.

Lima, O.—Fire which swept the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railway shops did $200,000 damage in less than an hour.

San Francisco—Lloyds of London is betting even money in any amount that the world war will end by September of this year. Instructions to issue insurance policies on this basis have been received at the local offices of the company. The cabled instructions also advised that odds of 80 to 25 would be given on the war ending in 1917.

FOUR KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

JACKSON MAN, DRIVER OF MACHINE, ONLY ONE TO ESCAPE INSTANT DEATH.

DEAD MEN WERE FROM OHIO

Party Was Returning From a Cock-fight—Snow Storm Probably Obscured View of Train.

Jackson—Driving an automobile upon the Michigan Central railway tracks in front of eastbound passenger train No. 26, four Ohio men were killed and Henry Reiser, of Jackson, was injured about the head and his leg was broken, Sunday morning at Leoni village, seven miles east of Jackson.

The dead are: A. H. Leippely, 45, Cleveland, O.; Gustave Rost, 35, Cleveland, O.; Albert Cottle, 38, Cleveland, O.; William Webber, 45, Alliance, O. The men were returning from a game cock fight, which had been stopped by the sheriff, it is said. A snow storm is believed to have prevented the men from seeing the approaching train.

All four of the men killed met death instantly, the bodies being carried on the pilot of the engine about 100 rods. The automobile was wrecked. Reiser, who was driving the automobile, was the only man alive when the train stopped.

The train was running about 60 miles an hour and was behind time. The engineer, W. A. Newton, of this city, did not see the machine until it was nearly upon the crossing.

A relief train was hurried to the scene and the injured man and the bodies of the dead men were brought to Jackson. More than $2,000 and a quantity of valuable jewelry was found on the bodies.

The dead men were well known in sporting circles in Michigan.

MORE TROOPS ORDERED HOME

Withdrawal Order to Gen. Funston Will Leave About 50,000 on Border.

Washington—Orders to facilitate the withdrawal of the Pershing expedition from Mexico were issued by the war department. General Funston was instructed to select 25,000 men of the military organizations now on duty on the border to return to their homes.

The department declared the selection of the troops to be sent north would be left entirely to General Funston in order that he may accommodate the withdrawal of the militia to the general military situation. It was stated, however, that the movement of the troops to their homes would be started as soon as General Funston selected the units to be relieved.

The withdrawal of the 25,000 men will leave about 50,000 state troops on the border. This number, it was stated, would remain on duty for the present. No further withdrawal orders are expected for the militia until the Pershing expedition has been safely brought back to American soil and conditions on the border have assumed more stable form.

BOSTON REVIVAL IS ENDED

Billy Sunday Collects $50,000 in Ten Weeks' Campaign in Hub City.

Boston—Billy Sunday closed his 10 weeks' Boston revival by preaching to 70,000 persons in four services. With a check for $50,828.64, representing free will offerings to himself made by his audiences through the mail or in the collection pans he left for Lawrenceville, N. J., to visit a grandson at school.

After a few days' rest at his home in Winona Lake, Ind., he will open a revival at Buffalo.

Boston's cash gift to the evangelist brings the total of free-will offerings he has received since conducting revivals up to approximately $600,000. Collections for expenses for Boston were $90,438.75.

At the tabernacle 60,510 replied to the evangelist's appeal to "hit the sawdust trail."

The Spirit of Victory.

"Nothing can beat this," says a French Journal, commenting on an article published by the Austrians in a little paper in Montenegro called the News of Cetinje. The little paper notes that on Mount Lovcen will be erected a colossal monument to recall to future generations the conquest by the Austrian armies of this Gibraltar of the Adriatic. The sketch of this work presented to the Emperor Francis Joseph but a short time before his death by the artist, was approved by the aged ruler. It represents the Spirit of Victory. Its enormous hands are crossed upon a gigantic sword and it looks toward a horizon "beyond which now trembles the traitress Italy."

Too Ill to Walk Upright. Operation Advised. Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This woman now raises chickens and does manual labor. Read her story: Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak with troubles from my age that when I had to go up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, did all kinds of garden work, shoveling dirt, did building and cement work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. ## WOUNDS OF HORSES

Fistulas May Exist in Any Part of the Animal's Body.

FOLLOW BRUISES AND WOUNDS

Among More Common Causes Are Chafing by the Halter or Heavy Bridle, Blows From Whip and Horse Striking Head.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The word fistula is applied to any ulcerous lesion upon the external surface of the body which is connected by ducts, or passages, with some internal cavity. Fistulas may exist in any part of the body, but the name has come to be commonly accepted as applicable only to such lesions when found upon the withers. Poll evil is a fistula upon the poll, and in no sense differs from fistulous withers except in location. The description of fistula will apply, then, in the main, to poll evil equally well. Quittor presents the characteristic tubular passages of a fistula and may, therefore, be considered and treated as fistula of the foot. Fistulous passages may also be developed upon the sides of the face, through which saliva is discharged instead of flowing into the mouth, and are called salivary fistulas. A dental fistula may arise from the decay of the root of a tooth. Again, a fistula is sometimes noted at the navel associated with hernia, and fistulas have been developed in mares, following difficult parturition. Fistulas may arise from wounds of glandular organs or their ducts, and thus we have the so-called mammary or lacrimal fistulas.

Fistulous tracts are lined with a false membrane and show no disposition to heal. They constantly afford means of exit to the pus discharged by the unhealthy parts below. They are particularly liable to develop at the withers or poll because of the exposed positions which these parts occupy, and, having once become located there, they usually assert a tendency to further extension, because the vertical and laminated formation of the muscles and tendons of these parts allows the forces of gravitation to assist the pus in gaining the deeper-lying structures and also favors its retention among them.

Causes.

Fistulas follow as a result of abscesses, bruises, wounds, or long-continued irritation by the harness. Among the more common causes of fistula of the poll (poll evil) are chafing by the halter or heavy bridle; blows from the butt-end of the whip; the horse striking his head against the hayrack, beams of the ceiling, low doors, etc. Fistulous withers are seen mostly in those horses that have thick necks as well as those that are very high in the withers; or, among saddle horses, those that are very low on the withers, the saddle here riding forward and bruising the parts. In either of these locations ulcers of the skin, or simple abscesses, if not properly and punctually treated, may become fistulas. They are often caused by bad-fitting collars or saddles, by direct injuries from blows, and from the horse rolling upon rough or sharp stones. The pus burrows and finds lodgment deep down between the muscles, and escapes only when the sinus becomes unchained or when, during motion of the parts, the matter is forced to the surface.

Symptoms.

These, of course, will vary according to the progress made by the fistula. Following an injury there may be soreness or stiffness of the front legs, and upon careful examination of the withers small tortuous lines running from the point of irritation downward and backward over the region of the shoulder may be seen. These are swollen and painful to the touch. In a day or two a swelling is noticed on one or both sides of the dorsal vertebrae, which is hot, painful, and rapidly enlarging. The stiffness of the limbs may disappear at this time, and the heat and soreness of the parts may become less noticeable, but the swelling remains and continues to enlarge.

A fistulous ulcer of the poll may be first indicated by the opposition which the animal offers to the application of stable brush or bridle. At this time the parts are so sore and sensitive that there is some danger that unless handled with the greatest care the patient will acquire disagreeable stable habits. The disease in its early stages may be recognized as a soft, fluctuating tumor surrounded by inflammatory swelling, with the presence of enlarged lymphatic vessels and stiffness of the neck. Later the inflammation of the surrounding tissues may disappear, leaving a prominent tumor. The swelling, whether situated upon the head or the withers, may open and form a running ulcer, or its contents may dry up and leave a tumor which gradually develops the common characteristics of a fibrous tumor. When the enlargement has opened, carefully examine its cavity, as treatment will depend wholly upon its condition.

Treatment.

In the earliest stage, when there is soreness, enlarged lymphatics, but no well-marked swelling, the trouble may frequently be aborted. To do this requires both general and local treatment. A physic should be given, and the horse receive one ounce of powdered saltpeter three times a day in his water or feed. If the fever runs high, 20-drop doses of tincture of aconite root every two hours may be administered. The local application of cold water to the inflamed spot for an hour at a time three or four times a day, has often proved very beneficial, and has afforded great relief.

Cooling lotions, muric acid of ammonia, or saltpeter and water; sedative washes, such as tincture of opium and aconite, chloroform liniment, or camphorated oil, are also to be frequently applied. Should this treatment fail to check the progress of the trouble, the formation of pus should be hastened as rapidly as possible. Hot fomentations and poultices are to be constantly used, and as soon as the presence of pus can be detected, the abscess wall is to be opened at its lowest point. As with any simple abscess, if drainage can be so provided that the pus will run off as fast as formed without remaining within the interstices of the tissues, the healing will be rapid and satisfactory.

Application of Caustics.

If the abscess has already opened, giving vent to a quantity of purulent matter, and the pipes and tubes leading from the opening are found to be extensive and surrounded with thick fungoid membranes, there is considerable danger that the internal ligaments or even some of the bones have become affected, in which case the condition has assumed a serious aspect. Or, on the other hand, if the abscess has existed for some time without a rupture, its contents will frequently be found to consist of dried purulent matter, firm and dense, and the walls surrounding the mass will be found greatly thickened. In such a case the application of caustics will cause a sloughing of all of the unhealthy tissue, and will also stimulate a rapid increase of healthy material to replace that destroyed in the course of the development and treatment of the disease. Threads or cords soaked in gum-arabic solution and rolled in powdered corrosive sublimate may be introduced into the canal and allowed to remain. The skin on all parts of the shoulder and leg beneath the fistula should be carefully greased with lard or oil, as this will prevent the discharge that comes from the opening after the caustic is introduced from irritating or blistering the skin over which it flows. In obstinate cases a piece of caustic potash (fused) 1 to 2 inches in length may be introduced into the opening, and should be covered with oaks or cotton. The horse should then be secured so that he cannot reach the part with his teeth. After the caustic plug has been in place for 24 hours, it may be removed and hot fomentations applied. As soon as the discharge has become again established the abscess should be opened from its lowest extremity, and the passage thus formed may be kept open by the introduction of a seton. If the pipes become established in the deep tissues beneath the shoulder blade or among the spines of the vertebral column, it will often be found impossible to provide proper drainage for the abscess from below, and treatment must consist of caustic solutions carefully injected into all parts of the suppurating sinuses. A very effective remedy for this purpose is one ounce of chloride of zinc in half a pint of water, injected three times during a week, after which a weak solution of the same may be occasionally injected. Injections of Villate's solution or alcoholic solution of corrosive sublimate, strong carbolic acid, or possibly oil of turpentine will also prove beneficial. Pressure should be applied from below, and endeavors made to heal the various pipes from the bottom.

Majority of Cases Curable.

Although the successful treatment of fistulas requires time and patience, the majority of cases are curable. The sinuses must be opened at their lowest extremity and kept open. Caustic applications must be thoroughly used once or twice, after which mild astringent antiseptic washes should be persistently used until a cure is reached. It sometimes happens that the erosions have burrowed so deeply or in such a direction that the opening of a drainage passage becomes impracticable. In other cases the bones may be attacked in some inaccessible location, or the joints may be affected, and in these cases it is often best to destroy the horse at once. The reappearance of the fistula after it has apparently healed is not uncommon. The secondary attack in these cases is seldom serious. The lesion should be carefully cleaned and afterwards injected with a solution of zinc sulphate, 20 grains to the ounce of water, every second or third day until a cure is effected. In fistula of the foot there is the same tendency toward the burrowing of pus downward to lower structures, or in some cases upward toward the coronet. Prior to the development of a quittor there is always swelling at the coronet, accompanied with heat and pain. Every effort should now be made to prevent the formation of an abscess at the point of injury. Wounds caused by nails, gravel, or any other foreign body which may have lodged in the sole of the foot should be opened at once from below, so as to allow free exit to all purulent discharges. Should the injury have occurred directly to the coronet the application of cold fomentations may prove efficient in preventing the formation of an abscess.

Bacterial vaccines composed of several strains of the organisms usually found in these pustular infections of the horse are well adapted to the treatment of these diseases. The vaccine is administered subcutaneously by means of a syringe, but the quantity of the vaccine to be injected and the number of doses to be used should be left to the judgment of a competent veterinarian.

GOOD ROAD WORK IN WINTER

Maintenance of Dirt Roads Is Problem Confronting Farmer—Making Split-Log Drag.

One of the problems confronting the farmer is the question of maintenance of dirt roads. Not only should dirt roads be maintained during the spring and summer months, but the winter months as well; especially is this true where there is not an overabundance of snow, which conditions exist with many of our roads.

The King road drag may be used with much benefit during the winter months, just after thaws or rains. Good work can be done at this time of the year because the soil is crumbly or mealy and pushes easily toward the center of the road.

If the road has been properly cared for during the summer and fall, it will be only a slight task to drag it during the winter when conditions are right. At that season of the year there is little for the work team to do and in early spring the roads will be in shape to turn water and permit of early drying. In fact, the winter-dragged roads will be dry and hard in the spring when neglected roads will be soft, rutty and springy. There is no best time to drag roads. Go after the work and then drag whenever you can during the winter; then your roads will be in good shape next spring. Make a split-log road drag and keep it going on the highway.

D. Ward King, the inventor of the drag, gives the following directions for making a split-log drag: Take the two halves of a split log, ten or twelve inches thick and seven to nine feet long. Set the halves flat sides to the front, fasten 30 inches apart with strong stakes, the ends of which are wedged in two-inch auger holes, bored through the slabs. Put a solid plank platform on the stakes for the driver to stand on. The hitch is made of strong wire or chain, the long end fastened to stake over the top of the front slab, the short end should be put through a hole made in center of the slab and near the end to prevent the back slab tilting forward. Face four or five feet of the ditch end of the front slab with iron. An old wagon tire, worn share of road grader, or any piece of flat steel will answer for this purpose.

As a general rule, always haul the drag at an angle of 45 degrees, moving the dirt to the center of the road.

CHURCH TO HELP GOOD ROADS

Isolation and Solitary Confinement of Women Do Much Toward Filling Insane Asylums.

In a lecture on "The Church and Good Roads" the Rev. James Thomas told the ministers' conference in Denver, Colo., that, "The isolation and solitary confinement of the farm wife and the farm servant girl do much toward making these women form a considerable percentage of the inmates of insane asylums."

The speaker continued, "The good roads problem is one to which the church must very soon give material attention." The church is a force in any undertaking and good roads enthusiasts will welcome its efforts in behalf of rural welfare.—Houston Post.

IMPORTANT DUTY OF PEOPLE

Prompt Repair and Careful Maintenance of Good Roads Is Essential—Farmer Is Interested.

The making of good roads is one of the most important duties of the American people, and their prompt repair and careful maintenance is essential.

There is probably no subject in which the progressive farmer is more deeply interested than that of having roads connecting him with his markets, over which he may be able to haul the greatest possible load.

WELL WORTH THINKING OVER

Two Machines Being Manufactured Where One Would Do If Farmer Gives It Proper Care.

A farm machinery manufacturer made the following statement: "If the farmer cared for his machinery as he should, we would have to manufacture but one machine when we are now putting out two."

Top Dressing for Roads.

A mixture of iron fibers, sand and cement is being used experimentally in France as a top dressing for highways.

Put Roads to Bed. The farmer who "put his road to bed" for the winter in good shape, will thank himself later.

Distance to Market. Roads shorten or lengthen the distance to market according to their condition.

LONGYEAR BROS., Druggists,
Oct. 8, 1916. Mason, Michigan.

According to the statements received from my customers who have used Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root you certainly have a preparation of great merit. I have been handling it for fourteen years and have the first complaint to receive from its users. It has done what is claimed for it and that is all that can be expected of any remedy.

Very truly yours,
WM. F. LUTZ, Druggist,

A Practical Plan.
"That brisk young man who just now went out is a sort of philanthropist," said the custodian of a skyscraper. "He's behind a movement to get aged-scrubwoman off their knees."

"Well, well! How does he propose to go about it?"
"His plan is quite simple. He's selling a mop with a long handle."

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT, BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Make It Thick, Glossy, Wavy, Lustrous and Remove Dandruff—Real Surprise for You.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Dandarine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandarine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dandarine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandarine from any store and just try it. Adv.

The true new woman of today is a real home-maker.

TO LIVE LONG!

A recipe given by a famous physician for long life was: "Keep the kidneys in good order! Try to eliminate thru the skin and intestines the poisons that otherwise clog the kidneys. Avoid eating meat as much as possible; avoid too much salt, alcohol, tea. Try a milk and vegetable diet. Drink plenty of water, and exercise so you sweat—the skin helps to eliminate the toxic poisons and uric acid."

For those past middle life, for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, as backache, scalding "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "rusty" joints, stiffness, get Amrie at the drug store. This is a wonderful eliminator of uric acid and was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. If your druggist does not keep it send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for trial package and you will find that it is many times more potent than lithia and that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.

Nothing stands as high as a remedy for young womanhood, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's the only medicine for women certain in its effects.

Soon Over His Cold.

Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. George Lewis, Pittsfield, N. Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with a cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him much good until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."—Adv.

What Housewives Are Glad to Know

Smart Walking Suit

The handsome suit for street wear is a semi-empire model, and it is featured in dark green, burgundy, navy blue, taupe, brown or black. The coat is three-quarter length, with panel front and back, and the shirred, belled sides extend into large, flat pockets that give the fashionable long, straight hip. The high roll collar is inset with self colored velvet and edged with seal fur. The skirt has pockets to match those on coat. Buttons are of bone, preferably tinted to match. Design by Franklin Simon & Co., New York city.

Substitutes For Meat That Have Same Food Value

Meat is always high priced and especially so now, says Miss Leonora Richards, assistant in domestic science in the Kansas State Agricultural college. There are many foods which have the same nutritive value as meat, and these may be used as meat substitutes.

Baked beans, cheese fondue, macaroni and cheese, baked rice and cheese, cheese soufflé, corn and cheese soufflé, and rice with lentils may be served as substitutes for meat and are much cheaper in preparation. Eggs are an excellent meat substitute and may be prepared in a variety of ways, but their present high price is prohibitive.

Persons who cannot eat without meat should buy the cheaper cuts, such as flank steak, rump and chuck roasts, heart, liver and chuck steak. These cuts contain the same amount of nutriment as the more expensive cuts, but are not so tender. In order to make the cheaper cuts of meat palatable they should be cooked slowly at a low temperature. Steaming is preferable. Seasoning with highly flavored vegetables and spices improves the flavor.

Kitchen Wrinkles

When boiling meat start it only at the boiling point, then let it simmer till tender.

When you accidentally spill hot grease on the bare floor dash cold water on it at once. This hardens the grease so that it can be scraped up before much of it soaks into the floor.

Tire Saving Device.

An ingenious device consisting of a magnet carried in front of each of the two forward wheels of an automobile and in close proximity to the ground has just been invented, according to the Popular Science Monthly. It will prevent the puncturing of pneumatic tires by automatically picking up magnetic particles such as chips of metal, tacks, nails and the like.

The magnet is pivoted to the front end of an extending arm attached to the front axle wheel spindle, so that it will swing with the wheel during steering and always remain in front of it.

TRAITS OF THE MONKEY.

The Most Prominent Are Affection, Curiosity and Sympathy.

Monkeys have excellent memories and keen observation and are able to recognize their friends in a crowd even after long absence. They are exceedingly sensitive and sympathetic in their natures. Sympathy and curiosity, the two most prominent traits in the monkey psychology, are significantly the two most important facts in the psychology of man.

Monkeys are the most affectionate of all animals, excepting dogs and men. This affection reaches its culmination, as among men, in the love of the mother for her child. The mother monkey's little one is the object of her constant care and affection. She nurses and bathes it, licks it and cleans its coat and folds it in her arms and rocks it as if to lull it to sleep, just as human mammas do. She divides every bite with her little one, but does not hesitate to chastise it with slaps and pinches when it is rude. The monkey child is generally very obedient.

The affection of monkeys is not confined to the love of the mother for her child, but exists among the different members of the same tribe and extends even to human beings, especially to those who make any pretensions to do to them as they would themselves be done by.—Exchange.

At his suggestion I take pleasure in expressing my estimation of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have a family of six children and have used this remedy in my home for years. I consider it the only cough remedy on the market, as I have tried nearly all kinds."—Earl C. Ross, Publisher Hamilton County Republican-News, Syracuse, Kan.—Adv.
