CHELSEA DEFEATS JACKSON RESERVES

Local High School Basketball Team Too Fast for Visitors.

A large and enthusiastic bunch of rooters gathered at the town hall, Friday evening, to witness the first home game of the season. The high school girls went down to defeat before the larger and more experienced members of the alumni team, Clara Holden of last year's high team playing up to her usual form, while Mildred Greening was strong on the offensive. Esther Collins for the high school showed up strong on defense while Helen Vogel and Vivian Gorton were the point winners. The line-up follows:

C. H. S.	ALUMNI
Vivian Gorton	R. F. C. Holden
Helen Vogel	L. F. M. Greening
Gertrude Mapes	C. S. Runciman
Grace Shepherd	R. C. E. Kalmbach
Lura Schoenhals	R. G. G. Schenk
Esther Collins	L. G. D. Schumacher

The real excitement of the evening started when the boys took the floor. In the first few seconds of play Brooks started the scoring getting the jump on his opponent after a held ball under the Chelsea basket. The game was fast and there was much fouling on both sides. However, Mr. Ottmar, the referee, handled the game in his usual good style and satisfied all concerned. It was a close game, seesawing back and forth several times. Jackson had the lead at the end of the first half. In the second half the Chelsea boys took a brace and through the foul shooting of Capt. Wagner and the offensive work of Brooks gradually pulled away. The line-up follows:

C. H. S.	JACKSON
Brooks	R. F. Crary
Kalmbach	L. F. Mygrants
R. Wagner	C. Tetans
P. Wagner	B. G. Bell
Palmer, Lawrence	L. G. Lineback

Score: First half—C. H. S. 9, Jackson 10; final score—C. H. S. 23, Jackson 15. Field goals: Brooks 5, Mygrants 1. Lineback 1. Goals from fouls: Wagner 8, Brooks 3, Kalmbach 2, Tetans 1. Referee: Ottmar.

Louis Heatley.

Louis Heatley, son of Mrs. M. A. Heatley of Lyndon, died Sunday afternoon, February 4, 1917, at his home, 375 Pennsylvania avenue, Detroit. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from Annunciation church, Detroit, following which the body will be brought to Chelsea for interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Sylvan Tax Notice.

Beginning Saturday, December 23d, and until further notice, I will be at the Kempf Commercial & Savings bank Saturdays all day and Saturday evenings to receive taxes.
THEODORE H. BAHNMILLER,
Township Treasurer.

Edmund Rawson Chambers.

Edmund Rawson Chambers, son of Joseph and Mary L. Chambers, was born on a farm near Toledo, Ohio, August 12, 1849. He lived there the first thirty-years of his life, living with his mother and working the farm alone after his father's death in 1865.

On November 25, 1896, he was united in marriage with Miss Clara Core of Toledo and moved immediately to Atchison, Kansas. In Atchison he was engaged in the milk business until his removal to Cass county in the spring of 1891.

In Cass county, he moved with his family on the S. T. Read farm, three miles west of Cassopolis, renting his farm at Toledo and moving to Cass county to be near his mother. Mr. Chambers lived in and near Cassopolis until the fall of 1910, when he moved with his family to Ann Arbor in order to educate his three sons.

After three years residence in Ann Arbor, he bought a farm two miles east of Chelsea, where he lived until his death, February 3, 1917.

He leaves to mourn their loss a wife and three sons; Edmund Read of Houghton, Howard Joseph of Detroit and Allan Core of Philadelphia.

Brief services were held Sunday at the residence, conducted by Rev. Whitney, and the body was taken to Cassopolis yesterday morning, the funeral services being held from the Cassopolis M. E. church yesterday afternoon.

Sinclair-Thomas.

Miss Helen Sinclair of North Girard, Pa., a sister of Mrs. J. H. Boyd of this place and who has many friends in Chelsea, and Mr. Donald Thomas of Detroit, formerly employed at the Hollier plant here, were quietly married this afternoon in Ann Arbor. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will make their home in Chelsea, and left for that place immediately following the ceremony in Ann Arbor.

North Lake Farmer's Institute.

A one-day farmers' institute will be held in the North Lake grange hall on Friday, February 9th. William Burkhardt of North Lake is the conductor and Mr. E. M. Moore of Wixom will be the state speaker. Both afternoon and evening sessions will be held with a picnic supper in the hall between sessions.

The Chelsea institute will be held the following day, on Saturday, February 10th. The complete program was published in Friday's paper.

Homely Wrinkles

After boiling salt beef leave two or three carrots in the liquor until cold. The carrots will absorb the salt, and the liquor can be used for soup.

Grease stains on delicate fabrics should be covered with starch or fuller's earth till the grease is absorbed. Put on fresh starch as often as necessary.

One or two calves' feet added to the kettle in which the bouillon is cooking will cause it to jelly. Do not use gelatin. Jellyed bouillon should be served ice cold.

To remove stains from paring rub the hands with the inside of apple or pear parings before using soap.

To clean water bottles put a tablespoonful of tea leaves and one of vinegar into the bottle and then fill with water. Shake, then let stand a little, after which rinse in clear water. The bottle will be bright and clean.

Put the children to bed early. The pathetic, tired, dull eyed little children we sometimes see falling over the drafts floor in exhaustion should not be.

Limit the amount of meat for children if they are irritable, fretful and nervous. Give none at all after the noon hour if they wake up during the night.

To make a tough steak tender rub both sides with vinegar and olive oil and allow it to stand two hours before cooking.

The test for beating eggs for a sponge cake is to beat them until they are so dry the dish can be turned upside down.

Pork tenderloins roasted in the oven are improved by a sprinkling of powdered sage with salt and pepper.

I. O. O. F. MEETING.

All persons interested in Odd Fellowship are requested to attend a meeting on Wednesday evening, February 7, at 7:30 o'clock, in Woodmen's hall, over Faber's barber shop. Meeting called by H. G. Shutes of Home City lodge No. 536 of Jackson. Plans for organization will be discussed.—Adv. 4311

GAS SHORTAGE IS INCONVENIENT

Chelsea Housewives Resort to Many Expedients to Cook Meals.

An explosion in the exhaust room of the Washtenaw Gas company in Ann Arbor, Saturday morning, resulted in serious injuries to one man, Charles May, and minor injuries to another, George Beckas. Both are recovering nicely.

The explosion wrecked a part of the equipment, known as a "booster," which pumps the gas from Ann Arbor to Chelsea and as a result the supply pipes were shut-off about 7:30 Saturday morning. The gas in the holder was sufficient to supply Chelsea patrons until late Saturday evening but since then there has been no gas.

Many Chelsea families do all their cooking on gas stoves and many expedients have been resorted to during the gas shortage. Some cooked in furnace, others used alcohol lamps or rejuvenated gasoline stoves. Those who had coal or wood ranges were not seriously inconvenienced.

As a result of the gas shortage the Tribune's typesetting machine has been put out of business and we have been obliged to resort to the old hand-set methods. Fortunately, some of our old type was still available so that we have been able to get out a paper, although under difficulties.

We received notice at noon that the gas would be turned on some time during this afternoon.

Chelsea Ice Co. New Firm.

Two young men, Evert Benton and Wilber Riemenschneider, embarked in business for themselves yesterday when they took over the equipment and stock of ice formerly owned by H. R. Schoenhals, and will continue the business under the firm name of The Chelsea Ice company. Both members of the new firm are hustlers and hard workers, which are the best of assets in any new enterprise or undertaking. We predict for them the best of success as the reward for honest merit.

Mr. Schoenhals, who retires from the business which he has successfully conducted for the past ten years, is not yet decided upon his future line of business, although he has several opportunities under consideration.

MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANIES

Are Successful in Michigan.

Over 100 mutual insurance companies are now operating in the State of Michigan, and they have been so successfully managed that no mutual insurance company in the state has failed during the past fifteen years. It is said these companies saved their members over a million dollars each year.

Under the present management most mutual companies assess at the beginning of the year, which creates a surplus fund so that the companies are able to pay promptly as the losses occur during the year.

Under the mutual plan each member is protected as it is the duty of the company to pay for the losses as provided for in the policy. On the other hand, where one becomes a member of a mutual company, he becomes bound by the charter, by-laws and rules of the society, and the member is liable for his assessments occurring while he is a member. The Supreme Court of the State has passed upon this point many times, and the law is now well established.

It is not often that a responsible man will attempt to avoid the payment of his assessment after receiving his benefits as a member, but the law is clearly established so that anyone desiring to cancel his policy may do so (after he has paid his assessment) by sending in his policy.

These companies have succeeded best where they have taken on a select membership who pay promptly, and the present showing indicates that the companies of Michigan, which are operating in the small towns and country districts, will have a successful year. Adv.

New Industry for Detroit.

It is estimated that $10,000,000 worth of the 1916-17 fur exports will pass into the American channels before next June. The manufactured product, of course, will more than double these figures, for every one who touches a skin increases the profit which the ultimate purchaser must pay to the animal industry. The cream of this new business will center in Detroit, one of the big fur manufacturing points of the country, New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, St. Louis and other cities.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You say to the drug store man, "Give me a small bottle of freezeone." This will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, dries up and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that freezeone dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without irritating the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezeone tell him to order a small bottle from his wholesale drug house for you. Adv.

ATTENTION GIVEN INSURANCE LAWS

OTHER BILLS INTRODUCED

Liquor Legislation Cause of Heated Arguments Between the "Bone Drys" and "Moist Drys."

(From Our Special Correspondent.) Lansing.

The repeated prediction that insurance legislation would loom large at this session is beginning to be borne out. The codified insurance laws of the state, which the last legislature ordered the attorney general's department to prepare for submission to this legislature, has been completed and is expected to appear in the legislature in the form of a bill.

A revision of the laws was permitted in connection with their codification, but Insurance Commissioner Winship says that the changes in the laws are few. The most important, he thinks, is a provision added to the anti-discrimination act to increase the powers of the insurance department so that it may prevent unfair rates in fire insurance.

"The anti-discrimination law," the commissioner explains, "is really an anti-rebate law and nothing else. It permits us to stop discrimination in rates through the giving of rebates. It does not give us power to act in case of unfair rates being charged. That is the aim of the addition in the new code."

Coincident with the completion of the new code, Senator Burrell Tripp, of Allegan, introduced a bill in the senate to repeal the anti-discrimination act. There was a long battle in the last legislature to get this law passed and the move to repeal it will reopen the fight. The act has been attacked by former Insurance Commissioner Milo D. Campbell, Mayor James B. Balch, of Kalamazoo, and others, since it went into effect. This attack will be carried into the new debates on the bill. Senator Tripp proposes that in place of the present anti-discrimination act the insurance commissioner be given the power to adjust rates that are unfairly raised or lowered, either by a single company or by compact between two or more companies.

Another insurance argument is expected over a bill introduced in the house by Rep. Ormsbee, of Flint, by request. This proposes to tax the cash surrender value of life insurance policies as personal property. Strong opposition to this bill was in evidence as soon as its introduction was announced. It went to the house committee on general taxation.

Debate Embargo Resolution.

The liveliest debate in the senate this year was had over the resolution offered by Senator Koehler that the Michigan delegation in congress be asked to support an embargo on the exportation of foodstuffs and fuel to warring nations. The resolution recited that owing to present high prices the foodstuffs and fuel should remain here. The high cost of living being brought up, Senator Scully, of Almont, came to the defense of the farming interests and declared that they were not getting any enormous profits from foodstuffs, but that the big profits complained of by city consumers were going to food speculators. Senator Murtha suggested changing "embargo" to "restrictions" and passing the resolution, but Senator Scully led a charge on the whole resolution and it met virtual defeat through reference to the agricultural committee.

Opposition to Soil Survey.

Opposition to the proposed soil survey of the unused lands of the state, with an expenditure of $45,000 a year for the purpose, has developed. Herbert Baker, of Cheboygan, former speaker of the house and now legislative agent of the Gleaners, voiced two main objections he has to the plan at a public hearing on the bill. He contended that most of the land in question is owned by companies who stripped it of its timber, or by those who hold it for speculative purposes and pay no particular taxes on it while it is ranked as worthless. The survey, if it showed values, would only result in profit to those who will do nothing for it themselves, he said. He also declared that any one who could not tell whether the land was any good or not by actually looking at it could learn nothing more from maps.

Proposes Torren's System.

Reports that Mr. Baker will work for the introduction of bills proposing the Torren's system of land transfers and for a tonnage tax have been current for several days. They were a surprise at first, as announcement that the granges would not press them at this session had been made in advance of its opening and these oft-debated propositions had not been talked of especially since the session got under way.

Liquor Legislation.

A peace plea made by Lieut. Gov. Dickinson to all drys in the legislature featured the developments in the legislative prohibition program during the past week. Reported strong growth of "bone dry" sentiment through the state, and its reflection in letters and personal appeals to members of both houses from their constituents brought on an amount of argument that perturbed the lieutenant governor, who is ranked generally as the dry leader in the legislature.

The arguments were between the two forces that have come to be known as the "bone drys" and the "moist drys." The former are supporting the McArthur bill to cut off all intoxicating beverages, and the latter are supporting the bill drafted by Anti-Saloon league attorneys and which would permit the importation of a very limited amount of liquor by individuals.

Apparent increase of sentiment for the bone drys was the cause of the arguments between the two forces growing warm, although the bills themselves still had a week or two in which to actually appear in the house for consideration. The lieutenant governor made his appeal to all drys to respect the convictions of every one and not to allow severe condemnation of one set of ideas by those holding another. He asked that everybody hold their tempers until the bills are up in the legislature and then work earnestly for the dryest possible measure.

The lieutenant governor also made the suggestion that prayer meetings be held in the churches throughout the state on Sunday, February 18, at which divine aid be asked for the legislators to guide them during their deliberations.

Among the rather warm comments that were being made in advance of the Dickinson statement were those in support of "moist" editorials, copies of which were distributed on leaflets among members; and those of bone drys who did not like the editorials.

Who put out the leaflets was not known definitely, but Rep. McArthur voiced the feelings of the bone drys when he inquired if some of the funds that all drys had contributed to the state campaign were being used to provide "one jag a month" in place of absolute prohibition.

Rep. McArthur introduced another prohibition bill aimed at the sale of liquor in drug stores. If passed, this bill would go into effect this year and concern the sale of liquors in drug stores even before the statewide prohibition laws take effect. It would require that no mixed drinks be sold at drug store soda fountains, for only liquor in original packages could be handled and none of it could be drunk on the premises. The bill also provides that only government stamped goods may be sold by druggists. This is a so-called "pure booze" clause.

To Straighten Wayne Tangle.

Wayne county's fight in court over the justice of the assessments made by the state tax commission, has gotten the county into a mess from which the legislature is asked to extricate it. Because of the court action Wayne county did not get its tax rolls, and because it didn't have the tax rolls, it couldn't get the taxes. As a result it stands a chance to be on the delinquent list all in one bunch, with a four per cent penalty for everybody to pay. To avoid this the legislature is being called upon to provide by law that in case a county doesn't get its tax rolls on regular schedule, the penalties are put off long enough to cover the time lost in getting the books.

Proposal for Commission Government.

The house also had a lively tilt over the proposal of Rep. Wm. H. Martz, of Detroit, that the legislature abolish itself and substitute a state commission form of government by having one commissioner from each congressional district. The house members spent some time in jesting argument over the bill and then disposed of it by referring it to the committee on revision of the constitution.

Military Courses in Schools.

In these days of war talk, Rep. Culver, of Detroit, chairman of the house military affairs committee, has come to the front with a bill to have military courses installed in all the high schools of the state. He would make the course optional with the student, but compel the school board members to install it on penalty of being fired out of office.

New Bills Introduced.

Rep. Warner, in a bill, proposes that county supervisors be paid for not to exceed six days for sessions held in April or for special sessions of the county board.

Bills have been introduced both in the house and senate to permit deer hunting parties of three to six to kill one extra deer for purposes of eating in camp, and to allow parties of nine to twelve three extra deer. The bills also propose a closed season on partridge until 1920.

Senator Bryant proposes to send to prison for one to twenty years any one who drives a motor car while intoxicated, and who hits any one else.

Senator Tufts has put in a bill to punish with five year sentences or $5,000 fines any one who destroys ginseng beds, golden seal plants, golden seal roots, golden seal seeds or any other medicinal plants, seeds or roots. Senator Penney has introduced a bill to pay a bounty of 50 cents each on weasels and to increase the bounty on wolves from $25 to $50.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Kalamazoo.—Oscar Roggegan, a former employee of the Bryant Paper company of this city, was killed on the Sonoma front December 6.

Grand Rapids.—Arnold Osgood bit his tongue nearly off when he fell while coasting. His chin struck the rear of his sled. He is four years old.

Marshall.—En route to Ellsworth, Kan., to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. B. L. Gardiner Mrs. Mary Westfall, wealthy resident of this city, became ill on a train and was removed to a hotel in Kansas City, where she died.

Cadillac.—After spending 66 days in the Wexford county jail rather than pay $2 a week alimony to his divorced wife, Irvin Crittenden of Flint gave the county clerk a mortgage on personal property as a guarantee that he would settle the accounts. He was released.

Flint.—Through the adoption by the Flint board of commerce of plans drawn by Henry Carter, Dort Motor Car company inspector and former Detroit, and the purchase of a gravel pit on West Third avenue, Flint is to have a concrete stadium within a few months.

Battle Creek.—Mrs. Abbie R. Flagg, an installing officer for the Michigan Woman's Relief corps, and well-known in state club circles, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George B. Willard, after a long illness. Her husband, William H. Flagg, was killed in St. Petersburg, Fla., four years ago.

Muskegon.—All efforts to locate Leslie Bogart, beneficiary of an insurance policy taken out by Stanley D. Bogart, his brother, a private in Muskegon Company G, Thirty-second Michigan infantry, who was drowned in the Rio Grande river, near El Paso, Tex., several weeks ago, have proved unavailing.

Marquette.—Murray M. Duncan of Ishpeming, general manager of the Cleveland Iron company, has been appointed vice president of that company. Mr. Duncan is one of the best-known mine operators in the United States. He will continue in his present capacity as general manager in addition to his new duties and will continue to make his headquarters in Marquette county.

Holland.—Arthur Smith, a senior student in Holland high school, proved himself a hero when he jumped into a bobbleigh, crawled to the seat, grabbed the reins and stopped a runaway team of horses. The animals moved down a hitching post and grocery signs and many children had narrow escapes. The team was owned by Joe Baker, a farmer living east of Holland.

Cadillac.—Louis Mabe, a wood cutter, helped Curtis Holland, of whom he had purchased a shack, out of his door with the toe of his boot when Curtis called to collect money due him on the house. Mabe was found guilty of assault and battery and fined. He attempted to draw his wares in advance to meet the fine, but found Curtis had brought garnishment proceedings to collect his debt. Mabe stayed in jail.

Alpena.—William Chatolot, thirty years old, of Onaway, was killed, and Frank Hughes, also of Onaway, was painfully injured when a 12-gauge shotgun discharged as Adam Harscher, who was carrying the weapon, tripped and fell while the men were hunting rabbits. The contents of the gun struck Chatolot over the heart and a few stray pellets of shot struck Hughes in the face and neck.

Harscher, who was carrying the weapon, could with difficulty be prevented from killing himself.

Traverse City.—Local officials of the Traverse City Leelanau & Manistiquette railroad deny the story from Lansing that the road will be sold by the state for taxes and thrown into the junk pile. They say that a friendly suit will be instituted by the state to determine what back taxes are actually due. Prior to three years ago the road was assessed at $500,000, based on property and business during the time that a car ferry was run between Northport and Manistiquette. For the last three years the assessed valuation has been $85,000.

Ann Arbor.—T. Dewitt Henning, who escaped jail here last October while awaiting trial on a charge of passing forged checks, and who was caught in Cincinnati, told of the easy time he had getting away. He had saws concealed upon his person when arrested, he says. After escaping at about eight o'clock in the evening, Henning says he went to the public library and read for an hour and then went to a local roller rink and skated an hour. He walked to the city limits after that and took an interurban car to the Ypsilanti city limits, walked through the city, took the next car to the city limits on the other side of the town and rode to Detroit.

Hudson.—Escorted by Adrian commandery of the Knights Templars, and by many members here of the Masons, the body of Dr. John R. Dodge, oldest physician in Hudson, was carried to the grave. Doctor Dodge was seventy-five years old.

Grand Rapids.—Aldermen George Welsh and Harry Rogers, elected to the house of representatives and the state senate respectively, offered their resignations at a meeting of the common council. Both were refused. They will hold both the city and state offices until May 1, when the new charter goes into effect.

DRUGGISTS HIGHLY RECOMMEND DR. KILMER'S SWAMP-ROOT

Satisfied With Results

I have handled your remedies since about 1885 and today they are regarded by my patrons as very good and reliable medicines and I do not hesitate to recommend them to my customers as such. Several years ago I used Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for catarrh or inflammation of the bladder and gravel and since that time I have not been bothered in the least with these complaints.

Very truly yours,
H. D. PEW, Druggist.

100 Years Old

"The kidneys play a most important part in causing premature old age and death—the more injurious the poisons passing through the kidneys the sooner comes decay"—so says a distinguished physician, who further advises all people who are past thirty to preserve the vitality of the kidneys and free the blood from poisonous elements, such as uric acid—drink plenty of water—sweet some daily and take Anurie before meals.

This Anurie is put up in tablet form, and can be obtained at almost any drug store. For that backache, lumbago, rheumatism, "rusty" joints, swollen feet or hands, due to uric acid in the blood, Anurie quickly dissolves the uric acid as hot water does sugar. Discovered by Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

Prevent premature old age by simply sipping a cup of hot water every morning before breakfast, taking a little Anurie before meals and live to be a hundred.

Raise High Priced Wheat on Fertile Canadian Soil

Canada extends to you a hearty invitation to settle on her FREE Homestead lands of 160 acres each or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. This year wheat is higher but Canadian land just as cheap, so the opportunity is more attractive than ever. Canada wants you to help feed the world by tilling some of her fertile soil—land similar to that which during many years has averaged 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Think of the money you can make with wheat around $2 a bushel and land so easy to get. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed farming in Western Canada is as profitable an industry as grain growing.

The Government this year is asking farmers to put increased acreage into grain. Military service is not common in Canada but there is a great demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service. The climate is healthy and agreeable, railway facilities excellent, good schools and churches convenient. The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

VARIOUS SWEETBREADS.

BAKED SWEETBREADS.—Take one pound of sweetbreads, two tablespoonfuls of fat, salt and pepper. Soak the sweetbreads in cold water for fifteen minutes to extract the blood. Remove the pipes and membrane, parboil in salted water and drain. Put them in a baking dish and pour over them the fat, which has been heated. Bake until brown and serve with tomato sauce.

Bolled Sweetbreads.—One pound of sweetbreads, one pint of boiling water, half a teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of vinegar or lemon juice. Soak the sweetbreads in cold water for fifteen minutes, and after removing the pipes and membranes cook the residue in boiling water, to which the lemon juice or vinegar and salt have been added. When they are tender plunge them into cold water to harden and cut or break them into small pieces and serve in white sauce.

Steamed Sweetbreads.—One pair of sweetbreads, one tablespoonful of butter, a quarter of a cupful of stock, salt and pepper. Put the sweetbreads into cold water and bring to a boil. Simmer for three minutes, then put them into a basin of cold water to make them firm. Trim away all gristle and fat, but do not remove the skin. Spread the butter on a plate, lay in the sweetbreads, add the stock, salt and pepper. Cover and steam for forty minutes. Garnish with watercress and serve with white sauce.

Broiled Sweetbreads.—One pound of sweetbreads and salt and pepper. Parboil the sweetbreads and split crosswise. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and broil for five minutes. Serve with butter sauce.

Escalloped Sweetbreads and Brains.—Parboil calf's brains and sweetbreads and throw them into cold water to blanch. Then remove the skin and membranes and chop them together. Add nearly half a cupful of rich milk, three hard boiled eggs, chopped; salt and pepper to taste, a tablespoonful of butter, stir together and put in ramekins. Cover the top with cracker crumbs and grated cheese and bake in the oven until brown. Serve in the ramekins.

The Druids.

The druids were evidently of very great antiquity, for there cannot be much doubt that it was one of their customs that Vergil had in mind when he wrote in the "Aeneid," vi. 142, that the "only means of access for a living mortal to the world of spirits was the carrying of a golden torch which grew in a dark and thick grove." The resemblance of the story to the druidical rite is perfect. The druids practiced their rites in dark groves. If a mistletoe was discovered growing upon an oak a priest severed it with a knife, and a festival was held under the tree at which two milk white bulls were offered as a sacrifice. This was a sacrifice to the sun god, and the mistletoe, from its pale greenish yellow tint, was regarded as a kind of vegetable gold and was accordingly looked upon as being a fit offering to the sun.

Lord Bryce's Message to American Farm Boys

One of the greatest men who has ever represented the English people in America is James Bryce, former ambassador and now Lord Bryce. Here is the message he sends especially to farm boys:

"I am glad to send a message to the farm boys of the United States. Here are the qualities I would emphasize as being essential to your success as men and farmers:

"As farmers, close and constant observation of the land and the crops, watching every change as it comes; close and constant reflection on everything observed, always asking, 'Why is this so?' and always persevering till an answer has been found. Think, think, think!

"As men, truthfulness in word and act, which means courage also. You can't be truthful unless you are brave. Consideration for the other man's feelings, trying to understand his position and his claims as well as your own. This means insight and patience, and it helps you to turn many bad corners."

Light as Chaff

The Selfish One.

The young husband who had not found married life exactly a path of roses and who sincerely wished to prove to his wife the depth of his affection went home one evening and said cheerfully:

"Well, Tilda, you can't guess what I have done today."

"Made a fool of yourself, as usual," replied Tilda ungraciously.

"That's as you look at it, dear one."

"Oh, John Henry," said the wife, "if you've done anything more than usually idiotic, out with it and have done with it. What under creation have you been up to now?"

"Tilda, dearest, I have insured my life."

"Well," said the irate little woman, "I always knew you were mean. Insured your life, indeed! Ah, always looking out for yourself first!"

Not Guilty.

A young lawyer not noted for intelligence succeeded in getting a client acquitted of murder. Meeting a friend a few days afterward, the lawyer was greeted with warm congratulations.

"Yes," he said, mopping his brow, "I got him off, but it was a narrow escape."

"A narrow escape! How?"

"Ah, the tightest squeeze you ever saw. You know I examined the witnesses and made the arguments myself, the plea being self defense. The jury was out two whole days. Finally the judge asked what the trouble was."

"Only one thing, your honor," replied the foreman. "Was the prisoner's counsel retained by him or appointed by the court?"

"No, gentlemen; the prisoner is a man of means," said the judge, "and engaged his own counsel."

"I could not see what bearing the question had on the evidence," continued the lawyer, "but ten minutes later in filed the jury, and what do you think the verdict was?"

"What?" asked his friend.

"Why, not guilty, on the ground of insanity."

HIS CHEERFUL RECEPTION.

The Compliment Came After He Made His Little Talk.

A Washington newspaper man was once a member of congress from an Ohio district. He is not an orator and rarely makes a speech. When he was running for congress he got word that he must come to a small town on the edge of his district to attend a meeting. A famous "spellblinder" had been secured, and the candidate was expected to be there, to shake hands and show himself.

"Come right up to the hall," said the chairman of the delegation that met him. "There's a big crowd there, and they are anxious to hear some talking."

The candidate went in fear and trembling. He was introduced and talked for fifteen minutes. He started to sit down, but the chairman motioned him to continue. He went on for another quarter of an hour and by that time had told all he knew or ever expected to know that was of interest to his audience.

Then he dropped into his chair. The man who was presiding came cheerfully forward and said: "We have heard our candidate. Now, if there is any one present who can make a speech we shall be glad to hear him."—Youth's Companion.

TEETH MENDING IN CHILE.

Not an Easy Matter For Foreign Dentists to Practice There.

Not every foreigner who comes along with the claim of being a dentist can practice that profession in Chile. The government sees to it that any one who is to look after the health and preservation of the teeth of its people must first demonstrate his qualifications.

The law provides that before a license may be granted a foreigner to practice dentistry in the country the applicant must secure permission from the rector of the University of Chile to take the examination. His foreign diploma, duly certified and authenticated, must be attached to the permit, and a fee of 500 pesos (about $75 in United States money) must be deposited for the license in the office of the secretary of the university. If the applicant passes the examination successfully the license is issued, and he is authorized to open his office for business.

Any applicant who holds a dental diploma from a school not known or recognized by the Chilean authorities is required to complete the third year's work of the dental department of the University of Chile and must also pass a satisfactory examination before he can obtain a license to practice.—Pan-American Bulletin.

Warning Before Command.

In bringing up my children I found that at night when they were tired they were spared many tears by being warned before I gave them a strict command. Instead of saying "Now it is time to go to bed. Put away your blocks at once," I would say: "It is nearly time to go to bed. Finish your house first and then put away your blocks." In this way the children were fully prepared to go, and there was consequently no begging and no temptation for me to show my lack of firmness by being persuaded to allow them to build "just one more house."

Imagine a mother in the midst of an absorbing chapter being told by one in higher authority to put down her book at once and go to bed. Would it not save a frown of impatience to be told to finish the chapter first?—Harper's Bazar.

A Mummy's Doll.

Among the ancient objects exhibited in the British museum is a doll more than 3,000 years old. When some archaeologists were exploring an ancient Egyptian royal tomb they came upon a sarcophagus containing the mummy of a little princess seven years old. She was dressed and interred in a manner befitting her rank, and in her arms was found a little wooden doll. The inscription gave the name, rank and age of the little girl and the date of her death, but it said nothing about the quaint little wooden Egyptian doll. This, however, told its own story. It was so tightly clasped in the arms of the mummy that it was evident that the child had died with her beloved doll in her arms.

Remarkable.

"One of the astronomers claims that he has charted 60,000 new worlds."

"By George, it's remarkable!"

"Not so very when you consider the fact that he has the use of the largest telescope in the world."

"I wasn't thinking of that. What I consider strange is that with so many other worlds in existence the lady who is acting as stepmother for my children had to light on this one."—Chicago Herald.

Weeding Out Process.

"How are you getting along with your new efficiency expert?"

"Remarkably well," answered the head of a large business firm. "In fact, we are quite friendly, although he has dismissed several members of my family."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. FINDING THE ALTITUDE.

How Airmen Measure the Heights to Which They Ascend.

Altimeters or barographs are used by aviators to measure the heights to which they ascend. Both of these instruments are constructed on exactly the same principle as the aneroid barometer. They depend upon air pressure. At sea level, where the air is much compressed by its own weight, the pressure is about fifteen pounds to the square inch, but at greater heights it becomes less. The barometer is governed by the pressure and so indicates the height above sea level.

There are many forms of barometers. The simplest is a bent tube of glass, shaped like a very long letter J and partly filled with mercury. The upper part is closed, and the space above the column of mercury is a vacuum. The lower or hook end of the tube is open and subject to the pressure of the atmosphere. As the pressure becomes less on rising above the surface, the mercury in the long part of the tube falls. The extent of the fall indicates the height.

Airplanes use one of these instruments mentioned, which are practically self registering barometers, and when the airplane comes down the instrument shows how high it has been carried.—Philadelphia Press.

Looking It Up.

He was that type of genteel beggar that "puts up a front," as the fellows say. His face had more tears in it than a cemetery, and he was just getting ready to tell his down and outer's tale when the man at the desk reached into a drawer and brought forth a dictionary, placing it in front of the appealing one.

"What do you want—sympathy?" the man at the desk asked.

"Yes, sympathy," was the half sobbed reply.

"Look in S for it. I saw it there the other day."

The sympathy chaser granted and headed for the door. He wasn't looking for work, just sympathy—in the form of a piece of loose change.—Indianapolis News.

Goose Fat.

Goose fat makes excellent pastry that is absolutely free from any flavor of the bird or of the onion stuffing. The pastry turns out light and "short" when this sort of fat is used. A Belgian recipe is as follows: Throw all the fat left after drawing the goose into cold water with a little salt as soon as the goose is drawn. When the bird is half done ladle off some of the dripping before it browns or becomes strong and as the roasting proceeds leave only enough dripping in the pan to baste with. Next day put the dripping, with the fresh fat, in a stewpan, with slices of apple, and onion if approved. Add salt and pepper. When done clear it and strain it into a jar. Cover it and keep it in a cool place.

About Constipation.

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of these are cheese, tea and boiled milk. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.—Adv.

The Magazines Will Stop Promptly When Time Is Up

A Hint to the Aged.

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.—Ad.

GLASGOW BROTHERS

Noted for Selling Good Goods Cheap
JACKSON, MICHIGAN

First February Showing of Silk Skirts, Coats and Suits.

FOR SPRING, dame Fashion decrees that the Separate Coats will hold first place in milady's heart, with the one-piece dress a close follower.

SUITS are always good. This season demands the covert cloth, serges, gabardines and checks be made up in hip length coats with pleated and somewhat narrower skirts.

SPRING COATS with their swagger loose three-quarters length and daintily gay colors are a joy to every woman who loves the beauty of velvety fabrics. Deep collars, large enough for cape effects, are very, very popular.

Materials are especially interesting, and then their novelty and lovely colorings will make decided appeals to the most fastidious. Gunnalea, Burellas, Wool Tricotines are the newest weaves rivaling the much loved Bolinas and wool velours.

Apple Green, American Beauty, French Blue, gold, chamois and purple form a riot of color, subdued by the usual blues and blacks. The coats are priced at $15.00 to $35.00.

SPRING SKIRTS are of the gathered types—are neatly belted and many are displaying novelty pockets, shirred, and depending from the belt in resemblance to the hand bags. Wide stripes are most popular in the pretty silk skirts priced at $10.00 and up.
