KEMPF BANK STAGES UNIQUE CONTEST

One Hundred Dollars in Cash Awards Will Be Given Winners in Contest Which Includes Village and Rural Schools.

A contest, unique in character and yet affording much inspiration and interest on the part of public and parochial schools both in Chelsea and in rural districts, has just been announced by The Kempf Commercial & Savings Bank, of this place.

Under the plans of the contest, as explained by John L. Fletcher, vice president of the bank, an elaborate calendar, bearing a handsome lithographed picture of Washington at Valley Forge and entitled "In The Hour of Trial," has been placed in each of the schools in the competing territory. Essays of 600 words will be written by as many pupils as care to enter the contest and for the winner in each of the different districts a prize of $5 in cash will be awarded. Second best will receive a prize of $3 and third $2.

In the territory in and around Chelsea, ten different competing districts or classes have been arranged. Each allotted district is a contest unto itself and is not competing with schools in other districts. Each district will have a set of three prizes to be awarded winners. The districts are:

- No. 1—Grades 7 and 8.
- No. 2—Grades 9 and 10.
- No. 3—Grades 11 and 12.
- Parochial schools, three sections: No. 1—Grades 4, 5 and 6.
- No. 2—Grades 7 and 8.
- No. 3—Grades 9, 10, 11 and 12.
- Rural school have been divided into four districts:
- No. 1—Rural schools of Lyndon township and the southwest corner of Dexter township.
- No. 2—All the rural schools of Sylvan township.
- No. 3—All the rural schools of Lima township.
- No. 4—Rural schools in the north half of both Sharon and Freedom townships.

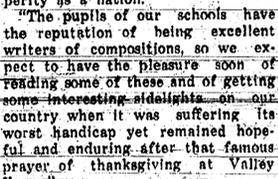

The calendar has been presented to each class-room in these schools by The Kempf Commercial & Savings Bank. The picture it contains is a reproduction of one of E. Percy Moran's celebrated paintings, George Washington, Commander-in-Chief of the American Army, is shown after his arrival at Valley Forge where he and his 11,000 followers went in to winter headquarters. It is a solemn and impressive picture, the chaplain of the army standing before the fire and giving thanks to God for the safe arrival of the worn and weary fighters at Valley Forge.

"It seemed fitting to us that at this time," said Mr. Fletcher, vice president of the bank, "that we instill in the youthful minds of our land more of a veneration for the Father of Our Country, and his brave helpers, such as Lafayette and others who aided the nation through that darkest winter in its history. Surely the prayer of thanksgiving that marked the safe arrival of the American Army at Valley Forge was the beginning of our present prosperity as a nation."

"The pupils of our schools have the reputation of being excellent writers of compositions, so we expect to have the pleasure soon of reading some of these and of getting some interesting sidelights on our country when it was suffering its worst handicap yet remained hopeful and enduring after that famous prayer of thanksgiving at Valley Forge."

LEADING CITIZENS TO PROTECT THEMSELVES

Sylvan Township farmers have installed five extinguishers to help each other in case of fire. We now predict that other progressive townships in the County will follow out the movement. Sylvan farmers, realizing they have had little protection against fire, as they had no means of checking it, have purchased portable fire extinguishers, thus automatically forming a volunteer chemical company, for with our good roads and automobiles these men can get in case of the fire in short order.

Second number on Lyceum Course at Town Hall, Tuesday evening, Jan. 15, 7:30.

Births recorded with the village clerk during the past year exceed deaths recorded in the same period by one, according to figures given out following tabulation at the close of 1923. Total births numbered 29 and deaths 28. Births to Chelsea residents at the hospital in Ann Arbor are recorded there and are not numbered in this report.

In the township 18 births are reported for 1923 and eight deaths for the same period. Two of these latter met death in an automobile accident near the A. Spenser home in Sylvan.

SWANSON PROMOTED TO SAGINAW OFFICE

Howard Pett Will Succeed As Superintendent of Jackson Branch, Consumers Power Company.

After nearly four years as district manager of the Consumers Power Company in Jackson, John K. Swanson has been promoted to the district manager at Saginaw. This advancement for Mr. Swanson has been brought about by the resignation of George L. Erwin as district manager at Grand Rapids and the transfer of John Cleveland from Saginaw to that office. The policy of the Consumers Power Company is to promote its executives when desirable or necessary, and in line with this custom, Howard Pett, assistant manager here, succeeds to the Jackson district manager.

Announcement of the changes in the company's district managers was made Friday by Charles W. Tippy, vice president and general manager of the Consumers Power Company.

Mr. Swanson was appointed district manager in Jackson, February 1, 1918, having won promotion from general office man at Saginaw about five years before that, to the position of chief clerk first in the Bay Camp in the time of 12 to 6.

KELLY GREENS COP ANOTHER FAST GAME

Take Ypsilanti High Reserves Into Camp in the Time of 12 to 6. Will Play at Jackson Friday.

St. Marys Kelly Greens defeated the Ypsilanti High Reserves in a game at St. Mary hall on Monday evening by a score of 12 to 6. Although original plans called for a game between St. Marys Reserves and the Ypsi team, Manager Hindelang of the local team adjudged the Kelly Greens capable of handling the visitors and total results proved his contention. The game was fast from the start, the Greens displaying a rapid fire of short passes which succeeded in thwarting efforts of the Reserves.

A. Eisele was high scorer with five baskets while Lunn was high scorer for Ypsi with 6 points. The line-up and summary:

Wheeler	rf	Lunn
Hoffman	lf	Babcock
Eisele	c	Cook
Keusch	re	Baier
Howe	lg	Wedemeyer

Score at end of first half, 12 to 4. Baskets made from court, Eisele 5, Hoffman 3, Lunn 3. Fouls, Wheeler 0 in 2, Wedemeyer 2 in 2.

Substitutions, Eder for Keusch. Time of quarters, 8 minutes. Referee, J. Eder.

The Kelly Greens will play the St. Marys High of Jackson Friday night and a hot game is expected. A large number of fans from here are expected to accompany the team. Cook, who was absent from Monday's game on account of injuries is improved and is expected to be in the Jackson game.

GROVE BROS. WILL ADD NEW LINE MERCHANDISE

In order to make room for a new line of merchandise to be placed on their shelves in a few days, Grove Bros., local variety store proprietors, in this issue are announcing an extensive shelf clearing sale which is expected to be far-reaching in its scope. A stock of dry goods is to be added to their large stock of variety goods.

Grove Bros. Variety Store is a comparatively new firm in Chelsea, having come here less than two years ago and in that time have made a deep impression on the business community through their courtesy and the quality of the goods placed on their shelves.

Second number on Lyceum Course at Town Hall, Tuesday evening, Jan. 15, 7:30.

PAVING WILL BE DONE IN SPRING

Communication From State Highway Department States Local Work Will Be Started With Opening of Spring Season.

Reading of a communication from the state highway department to the effect that they would be ready to proceed with the paving of South Main street from the end of the present pavement near the D. U. R. tracks to M-17 as soon as the spring construction season opened and that the village should be ready to proceed with any cross drains, sewers gas mains and electrical conduits which might interfere with the pavement, was about the extent of business transacted at the regular meeting of council on Monday evening.

Requests of the state that such work as the village desires to do should be done before paving is commenced follows statement of the department that any work done after completion of the pavement which results in damage to the paved surface will be repaired at the expense of the village.

Reading of the minutes of last meeting and allowance of bills rendered completed the evening's session.

MERGER MEETS WITH APPROVAL

Expressions of Satisfaction Heard on Every Hand Indicate Change Will Find Welcome.

That consolidation of The Chelsea Tribune with The Standard will meet with approval on the part of patrons, both subscribers and advertisers, is evidenced by the many expressions of approval heard since the deal was announced last Thursday. Concentration of effort through one really strong medium will mean a real benefit to the advertiser without the burden of double expense and probably will mean increased aggressiveness on their part. To the subscriber it will mean paying for one paper instead of two as was the case in many instances.

In checking over the circulation lists the Standard management finds a large number of subscriptions are either expired or will shortly. Because of the greatly increased number of papers to be printed following the consolidation it is absolutely necessary that these subscribers pay up to date or in advance. The cost of carrying delinquents is too expensive to warrant credit being extended on subscriptions for any great length of time. One subscriber is being sought.

TWO MORE CONVICTS ESCAPE TUESDAY

Escape From Dormitory Early Tuesday Morning After Guard Had Made Morning Rounds.

Henry J. Zenick and William Milner, sent from Jackson prison to work in the cement plant at Four Mile Lake, escaped from the dormitory there between 4 and 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, according to word received at the prison.

The men, who had been working as painters, were in their beds in the dormitory at 4 a. m. according to the guard, but were missing when called for breakfast an hour later. It is believed that they made their escape through a window. No trace of the convicts has been found as yet.

Prison records give the following information concerning the two men. Henry J. Zenick, white, aged 22, weight 145 pounds, height 5 feet 6 1/2 inches, sentenced from Jackson circuit court October 11, 1923, for larceny. Term, six months to five years. Number 15738.

William Milner, white, aged 28, weight 134 pounds, height 5 feet 8 3/4 inches, sentenced from St. Joseph county October 26, 1923, for burglary. Term one and a half to five years. Number, 15800.

Escape of Zenick and Milner makes three who have escaped here since the state took over the cement plant, one having made a get away only a few weeks ago.

It is believed by authorities that the escaped prisoners appropriated the Chevrolet touring car belonging to Arthur Wacker of Jerusalem. The Wacker machine disappeared Monday night and the prisoners are said to have taken a southerly route from the plant east of town. An effort was made by the automobile thieves to take a car belonging to Geo. C. Hatt near Jerusalem but failed because of the need of repairing on the Hatt machine. From there they went to Wacker's home. The latter machine was insured.

Editorial

YOUR YEAR

The first of January was like many other days of the season. The sun rose in the east, as is customary, and retired behind western hills, as is frequently the case. The day was not much different as regards temperature from others.

But nearly everybody regarded it in the light of a new beginning, an opportunity for retrospection, reformation and inspiration. Such days irresistibly make one think seriously of life and what we're doing with it. We become acutely conscious, on the first of the new year, what we have only vaguely realized during the preceding twelve months; that we're not as good—or as noble—or industrious—or thrifty—or tolerant as we ought to be. So we set in and say to ourselves, "I will reform."

It is a natural, a universal impulse to check up faults and start over again on that day. Reformation would be much easier, however, and we dare say more permanent, if two conditions are observed: first, getting straight in one's mind what he wants to add to his life and what he wants to be freed from; second, absolutely sincerity from the start. The latter is impossible without the former. Vague, hazy desires to get more out of life and to put more in, based on equally hazy ideas of one's virtues and faults, gets nowhere. If a woman knows for sure she is a carry-gossip, or a man realizes, and admits he neglects his family, and both are zealous for improvement, they can get something done.

This periodic taking stock must be an individual matter. At least nine hundred organizations in America are busy trying to get men to break bad habits and make good ones, but their influence is only indirect. The motive and staying power must be found within. Hence so few New Year resolutions in good working order February the first. We poke fun sometimes at those who make yet and their effort to change their spots and make a failure, but it is an occasion more for pity and self-inquiry than blame. Bad habits and prison chains have much in common; neither should be scoffed at.

Neither should those who fail to keep their resolves be disheartened when the first of March brings back old conditions. It is wearing on soul standards to be constantly trying and failing, but it is both fatal and cowardly never to try at all.

Since the New Year is also Leap Year, virtuous maidens with honest hearts though unsought lips see, according to tradition, an opportunity for taking the initiative, object, matrimony. Jest is flying fast about this prerogative, but we think many girls and those who twenty years ago were girls will take advantage of it. Why shouldn't they? Surely the next New Year would find more happy homes, ended loneliness, justified hopes, joyous hearts. If women thus speak their right to happiness.

Is it too trite to suggest that 1934 is YOUR year; to be whatever you want to make of it? Nothing could be more simply stated, yet more fraught with significance. Happiness or misery of a mean which shall be neither content nor actual satisfaction—tranquility that comes through honest work honestly performed or the lethargy of conscious idleness—the uplifted spirit which comes of earnest purpose or the depravity of following false gods—the choice will continue 365 days. As each must choose, so each may reap the reward. Destiny's steering wheel has room for every hand.

BLUE COLLAR JOBS

A Philadelphia building-trade journal finds by a questionnaire that less than one-third of a large number of young men would like to enter a building trade. This disproves the general theory that high wages would take into such a field men better fitted for other occupations paying much less.

If we may call professions and office positions white collar jobs, we may call the trades blue collar jobs. Although paying as high as $20 a day, bricklaying, for instance, seems little more attractive than a decade ago. Those youths who were not interested in such work gave their reasons. Nearly all agreed; no advancement seemed probable; they did not like to associate with such people; the work was too dirty and hard; inside work was better. The work was unsteady, others said. Rigid union rules were another objection. Many desired to use brains instead of brawn. Interesting sidelights on a situation which, contractors say, is pressing; they can't get enough recruits. Perhaps 1930 will find us paying $35 a day to men who build our airplane hangars.

The blue collar job continues as noble, as useful, as honorable and as limiting as of old; no more so. It will undoubtedly draw more ministers, doctors, teachers and lawyers, attracted by its better pay. But they won't stay; money isn't the only, even the biggest, thing in life. College and technical training don't add a halo to working in dirt. Brains demand a better outlet than a saw or trowel after academic cultivation. Even unschooled refinement rebels at grime. Most trade workers would prefer to get out; they long, naturally, for an easier lot; they find the extra money eight months in the year less desirable than rewards elsewhere. This disdain of youth for such work is not all purely fastidiousness or aversion to toil. If they aspire to something with a bigger future, a more extended horizon, a higher social standing, more opportunity for helping self and others, they should not be lightly condemned.

THE PULPIT AND POLITICS

The insistence of a Detroit layman, sufficiently prominent that his views carry weight, that churches should divorce themselves from politics and concentrate on spreading and interpreting the gospel, has awakened new controversy on a subject which has been debated fruitlessly for generations. He, like many other equally earnest churchmen, wants to hear only the gospel on Sundays, not discussions of political, sociological and international problems. He wants the church to refrain from activities such as the Anti-Saloon League, which he feels are without its scope. Even he, with others claim, is the sole mission of the church. Opinions have been widely broadcast for both sides. It is evidently one of the most vital interests, and most live issues, of our time.

Since the function of the church is and should be the betterment of mankind through the practice and dissemination of Christian principles, it is not clear how the pulpit, any more than the pew, can neglect problems which deal with man's moral self, or material welfare. Community administration reveals evils to be corrected right at home. Should not the minister deal with those, if so, any not state, national and world civilities? And, if the church relinquishes moral leadership of the world, who pray would or could hold up the standard?

Church purists have reasons which, up to a certain point, are valid. The Church could not emphasize religion too much, nor dwell more insistently on practical Christianity. But religion is without value if unapplied, and how shall it be applied if not on man's social and political life? And what encouragement or example shall man have, thus to exercise his beliefs if his mother church must not?

Politics being concerned with man's welfare, morality and happiness (these terms are not synonymous), offers a big field for applying church teachings as well as testing them. Christianity could not desire more convincing proof of its efficiency than the cleansing of politics. There is no field today which needs soap more urgently. There is no system or institution or tradition which more needs seasoning with the morality idea than our mode of election and government. And, we repeat, if the church is allowed to have no part in this; if organized religion is immune, why should individuals feel the urge?

Again, in most communities, the church is the only public forum, the only opportunity people have for hearing live issues discussed authoritatively. Newspapers, through mechanical and other limitations, cannot depict much more than purely local aspects, even if the spoken word did not have more influence than the most able editor. The few may not always agree with the pulpit, but the former is at least stimulated to think seriously. Debates and discussions during the following week will make for further good. What can be deplored in this? Religion, even Christianity, is simple, elementary, easily grasped, like the multiplication table. But of what avail unless it is applied to actual life, to conditions which sadly need improvement? The church stands for all things good; but shall he accomplished by a man or lodge or institution standing for something without effort to effect those principles. Faith, and also religious, without works is dead.

Northwestern University is to add a course in walking to teach the proper poise. Certain Boston schools, we understand, teach socially prominent girls how to sit down properly. When they get ready to teach how to sneeze gracefully at the dinner table we want to know the rates.

The government has discharged a draft evader who convinced authorities love for his mother, and not lack of patriotism, kept him at home. Occasionally we see a streak of humanness in a very matter-of-fact organism.

SPICY NEWS

When the wife of the Belgian Ambassador refused to march "in to dinner with the Ambassador from Germany at a recent White House event, newspapers played up the slight and inferred international insults. Yet it seems evident the lady was actuated from an exaggerated sense of patriotism, or appreciated fully the relief of certain newspapers for such items of interest.

Human nature is a perennial enigma, never solved. There is no telling how any person will act, even one we have known for years. Nor is it safe to guess at motives; one is frequently misled. This lady may have thought of Prussianism; and the wrong done the little country she helps to represent. Even so, she will not be widely applauded. The world has discarded its hate with armament. It may never forget, and may be slow to forgive. Yet personal poise, broadness and consideration for others, to say nothing of what we vaguely include as Christianity, demand something more adult, shall we say, than such displays. High rank, even a war, should not exempt politeness.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS

Every single person whose net income for the year 1923 was $1,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, and every married couple (living together) whose net income was $2,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, must file an income-tax return.

Broadly speaking, gross income is all income received by the taxpayer during the year from salary or wages, business, trade, profession or vocation, dealing in property, interest, rent, or dividends, or from the transaction of any business carried on for profit. Net income is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, bad debts, taxes, etc.

The exemptions are $1,000 for single persons, $2,500 for married couples (living together) whose net income for 1923 was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 for married couples whose net income was in excess of $5,000. An additional credit of $400 is allowed for each person (other than husband or wife) dependent upon the taxpayer for chief support if such person is under 16 years of age or incapable of self-support because physically or mentally defective.

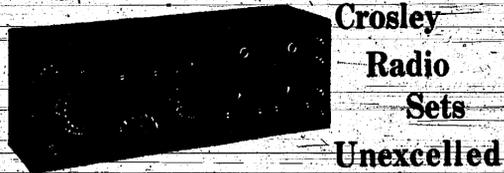

The normal tax is 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the exemptions and credits and 8 per cent on the remaining net income.

Coeds Learning to Be Expert Rifewomen

Lieut. Roy Green, United States army official stationed at the University of Cincinnati and in charge of the military training division there, has discovered that many of the girl students are excellent rifle shots. He has organized the coeds into a rifle company and three times a week they have indoor and outdoor rifle shooting practice, using the regulation ranges. Girls have qualified at target practice to permit their becoming regular members of the company.

CAPTAINS OF ADVENTURE

By ROGER POOCK

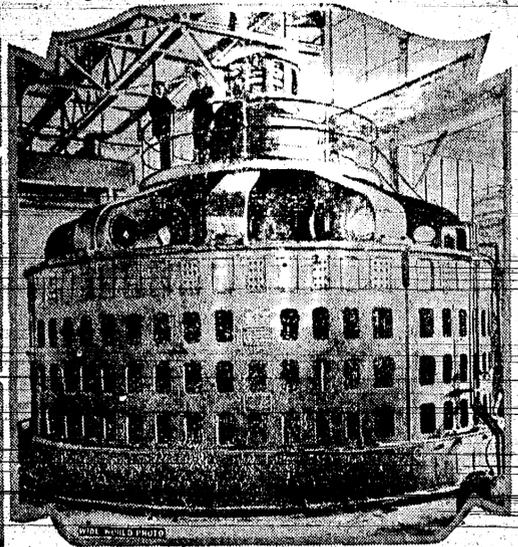

THE EXPLORERS A. D. 1741

From the time of Henry VII of England down to the present day, the nations of Europe have been busy with one enormous adventure, the search for the best trade route to India and the China seas. For four whole centuries this quest for a trade route has been the main current of history of the world. Look what the nations have done in that long fight for trade. Portugal found the sea route by Magellan's strait, and occupied Brazil; the Cape route, and colonized the coasts of Africa. She built an empire. Spain mistook the West Indies for the real Indies, and the red men for the real Indians, found the Panama route, and occupied the new world from Cape Horn up to the southern edge of Alaska. She built an empire.

and man after man died in misery, until only a few were left. The world had not been laid out correctly, but Bering held with fervor to his faith in that official chart for which his men were dying. At last Tschirikoff, unable to bear it any longer, deserted Bering, and sailing eastward many days, came at last to land at the mouth of Cross straits in southern Alaska. Beyond a rocky foreshore and white surf, forests of pine went up to mountains lost in trailing clouds. Behind a little point rose a film of smoke from some 'savage camp fire. Tschirikoff landed a boat's crew in search of provisions and water, which vanished behind the point and was seen no more. Heart-sick, he sent a second boat, which vanished behind the point and was seen no more, but the fire of the savages blazed high. Two days he waited, watching that pillar of smoke, and listened to a far-off muttering of drums, then with the despairing remnant of his crew, turned back to the lesser perils of the sea, and fled to Siberia. Farther to the northward, some three hundred miles, was Bering in the St. Petr, driving his mutinous people in a last search for land. It was the day after Tschirikoff's discovery, and the ship, flying winged out before the southwest wind, came to barren shallows of the sea, and fogs that lay in violet gloom ahead. Like some mysterious coast crowned with white-cloud heights towering up the sky. At sunset, when these clouds had changed to flame-color, they parted, suddenly revealing high above the mountains the most tremendous mountain in the world. The sailors were terrified, and Bering called suddenly to the all-armed crew of the ship, went down on his knees in awestruck wonder. By the Russian calendar, the day was that of the dread Elijah, who had been taken up from the earth drawn by winged horses of flame in a chariot of fire, and to these old mariners it seemed that this was no mere mountain of ice walls glowing rose and azure through a rift of the purple clouds, but a vision of the transfiguration of the prophet. Bering named the mountain Saint Elias.

Huge Hydro-Electric Generator

The largest hydro-electric plant in the world has been installed at the Niagara Falls power plant. Photograph shows the generator, developing 70,000 horsepower.

France, in the search of a route across North America, occupied Canada and the Mississippi valley. She built an empire. That lost, she attempted under Napoleon to occupy Egypt, Palestine and the whole overland road to India. That failing, she dug the Suez canal and attempted the Panama, both sea routes to the Indies. Holland, searching for a route across North America, found Hudson's bay and occupied Hudson river (New York). On the South sea route she built her rich empire in the East Indian islands. Britain, searching eastward first, opened up Russia to civilization, then explored the sea passage north of Asia. Searching westward, she settled Newfoundland, founded the United States, built Canada, wintered the Canadian Pacific route to the Indies, and attempted the sea passage north of America. On the Fujian route, she built a West Indian empire; on the Mediterranean route, her fortress line of Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus, Egypt, Aden. By holding all routes, she holds her Indian empire.

Canada Takes Armenian Orphans

Fifty Armenian orphan boys—recent victims of war and famine in the Near East—are learning to be farmers at their new home at Georgetown near Toronto, Ont. The boys were brought to Canada, with the consent of this government, by the Canadian Near East Relief committee. When they grow up they will be given farm lands in western Canada.

BREVITIES.

Dexter—Thieves helped themselves to half a dozen fine chickens from M. T. Kelly's flock Saturday evening.—Leader.

Dexter—The owners of the Birkett farm have had a number of sheep killed recently by dogs and now they have given notice that any dog running at large day or night will be killed.

Jackson—Total gross receipts for the Jackson County Fair Association for 1923 amounted to $78,843.18. Gross disbursements were $19,979.21, and the gross gain for the year was $27,855.58, says Manager Burris, which is not half bad.—Saturday Evening Star.

Milan—An accident that proved quite serious and very painful occurred last week when Joe Doyle got his hand on a buzz saw while working for Herman Oelke. The fingers of the right hand were badly mutilated and it was necessary to remove the ends of them.—Leader.

Ann Arbor—One case of smallpox was reported to the city health department over the week-end. The case appeared in a student rooming house on Packard street and the department has isolated the other members of the house for protection against the disease spreading.—Times News.

Dexter—Mr. and Mrs. M. Paul of Dexter announce the marriage of their daughter, Lenora, to Wirt Covert of Ann Arbor at St. Andrew's Lutheran parsonage at Dexter on Saturday evening. Rev. Joseph Kreuger performed the ceremony. The couple left for a short wedding trip after the ceremony.

Brooklyn—The road gangs grading the Chicago turnpike were obliged to quit before Christmas on account of weather conditions and only the steam shovel gang in the Irish Hills is now able to continue operations. The New Year freeze was welcomed by residents along the newly graded pike which has been rendered all but impassable by the rains.—Exponent.

Ann Arbor—Road commissioners of Washtenaw county have advertised for bids for the construction of some 6,000 road signs which will be placed on county and state roads in the different counties around Detroit. The Washtenaw county commission will join with Wayne, Monroe, Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties in placing this order and it is estimated that 6,000 signs will be needed for the six counties.

Pineckey—Roy Hannett, the general dispenser of oil, gas and highway information at the Pineckey garage is confined to his home nursing what remains of an amputated finger. While hauling cattle on a truck some time ago his hand was injured and while Dr. Siger has made every effort to save the entire member, it has been found necessary to amputate at the second joint.—Dispatch.

Brighton—A gate was put up where the Grand River road bends to the east near the school buildings last week so that east bound traffic could be more easily detoured and a watchman kept there day and night. When Governor Groesbeck's attention was called to the matter, he immediately gave orders to have M-16 from Brighton to New Hudson opened for traffic and to be kept in passable condition all winter.—Argus.

Ann Arbor—More than $1,000 in cash and a dozen watches were taken by a robber from students of the University of Michigan living in fraternity houses, Thursday night. As a result of the robberies the fraternities today were considering locking doors at night and giving each member a key. The fraternities robbed were Theta Chi, Phi on Washtenaw avenue; Chi Phi on South State street; Alpha Sigma Phi on Hill street; and Sigma Nu, on Oxford road. In each case the robber is believed to have entered the front door. Cash and watches were taken from the pockets of sleeping students.

Jackson—The board of education voted Friday night at their regular monthly meeting to grant the petition requesting the reading of passages of the Bible in public schools during the opening session daily. This practice was followed for many years and for some unaccountable reason was discontinued of late years. The board feels that it is commendable and a committee was named to secure books and information for teachers whereby a standard of reading may be set and followed. The board also decided to suspend permission to the community service bureau to conduct community dances in the West Intermediate school.

English Banker Hill War Map. A military map and plan, used by the British in the battle of Bunker Hill, was displayed at auction in London last week. It was eight inches long and six inches wide and was sold for $100.

Angler Fish "Flags" Victim. More strange forms are exhibited by the angler fishes than by any other fish family. Living at the bottom of the sea and seeking their prey by stealth, angler fishes do not need powerful swimming muscles, and as a consequence the size of the body and tail has become considerably reduced, so that the head, relatively to the size of the body, is unusually large and alluringly ugly. The rays of the back are long, and the foremost is provided with flaglike flap of skin at the end, extremely sensitive to touch, and which is used to attract prey.

Taking America Off Its Feet!

Overland Success is the Talk of the Country

The year just ended has been the greatest of all the fifteen years of Overland history. A great year made by great cars—the greatest Overlands ever built. Greatest in looks, power, action, comfort—and money's worth! Look at the new Overland Champion, for instance. It brings a quality closed car with features and utilities hitherto unheard of within reach of every purse. America's first all-purpose car—conceded to be the most useful motor car on wheels. The Champion and all Overland models have the bigger Overland engine—brute power with extreme economy. Leaders in economy—leaders on the road—leaders in the many satisfactions they bring to owners. See them. Sit in them. Ask for a sample of their performance.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS REOPENED FOR VETS

The Civil Service Commission announced today a change in favor of ex-service men in the regulations governing the re-opening to the veterans of examinations which have been held and closed. The new regulations follow:

Until further notice, American citizens who served as soldiers, sailors, or marines in any of the allied military forces between August 1, 1914, and July 2, 1921, and those who so served in the American forces between April 6, 1917, and July 2, 1921, will be allowed to enter any examination for which there is an existing register, provided application is made during military service or not later than one year after their honorable discharge from the Army, or termination of their active service in the Navy or Marine Corps. The names of all such persons who pass the examination will be entered upon the eligible register, but preference in appointment will be given to those only who submit evidence that they have been honorably discharged.

A soldier, sailor, or marine who served between August 1, 1914, and July 2, 1921, and who by reason of confinement in a Government hospital under treatment has been prevented from taking an examination for which there is an existing register may be admitted to such examination, provided he makes application within one year after discharge from the hospital.

If the preliminary requirements of the examination are met, disabled ex-service men who have undergone training by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau will be allowed to enter an examination for any Government position for which they have been trained by the Bureau, and for which there is an existing register, provided the application is accompanied by a certificate from the Bureau showing that training will be completed within 90 days after the filing of the application, or the application, accompanied by a certificate from the Bureau showing completion of training, is filed within one year after the completion of training.

Running In Debt Often people run in debt. Yes, that's right, they RUN in. But OH, BOY! They most always have to CRAWL out. That's the trouble. It is so much easier to get into debt than it is to get out. Of course, we have money to loan. That is part of our business. But we urge borrowers to be careful under present conditions. Do not assume a bigger load than you can safely carry. Conservative loans are a requirement of sound banking. $100,000 PEACE PLAN PRIZE AWARDED

Advocates Entering World Court and Cooperation With League Without Full Membership at Present—Suggests League Membership Be Opened to All Nations and Provides for Development of International Law.

The American Peace Award brought forth 22,165 plans and many thousands of letters. Since many of the plans were the composite work of organizations, universities, etc., a single plan often represented the views of hundreds or thousands of individuals.

These plans come from every group. The only possible pathway to international agreement with reference to the complicated and difficult task of international law.

But among them all are these dominant currents. That, if war is honestly to be prevented, there must be co-operation with other nations to achieve and preserve the peace of the world.

It is the unanimous hope of the Jury that the first fruit of the mutual counsel and cooperation among the nations which will result from the adoption of the plan selected will be a general prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all materials of war.

The Question to Be Voted Upon The substantial provisions which constitute the plan selected by the Jury of Award, and upon which there is no one approach to world peace, and that it is necessary to recognize not merely political but also psychological and economic factors.

Statement of Jury of Award The Jury of Award realizes that there is no one approach to world peace, and that it is necessary to recognize not merely political but also psychological and economic factors.

I. ENTER THE PERMANENT COURT That the United States adhere to the Permanent Court of International Justice for the reasons and under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.

II. COOPERATE WITH THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS, WITHOUT FULL MEMBERSHIP AT PRESENT That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States Government should extend its present cooperation with the League and propose participation in the work of its Assembly and Council under the following conditions and reservations:

1. The United States accepts the League of Nations as an instrument of mutual counsel, but it will assume no obligation to interfere with political questions of policy or internal administration of any foreign state.

2. That the only kind of compulsion which nations can freely engage to apply to each other in the name of Peace is that which arises from conference, from moral judgment, from full publicity, and from the power of public opinion.

3. That the United States will accept no responsibilities under the Treaty of Versailles unless in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

4. The United States Government proposes that Article I of the Covenant be continued and applied, or, if necessary, re-drafted, so that admission to the League shall be assured to any self-governing State that wishes to join and that receives the favorable vote of two-thirds of the Assembly.

5. As a condition of its participation in the work and councils of the League, the United States asks that the Assembly and Council consent or obtain authority to begin collaboration for the revision and development of international law, employing for this purpose the aid of a commission of jurists.

STATE FARM GROUPS PLAN ANNUAL MEETS

Thirty different state agricultural associations and groups will hold meetings at the Michigan Agricultural College this year during Farmers Week, which is to be held February 4-8.

While the list of speakers who will appear upon the general programs at Farmers Week has not yet been announced, it is understood that a line-up of interesting and instructive platform talent is being scheduled.

Special exhibits, covering almost every phase of rural life and agriculture, are being prepared and will be shown in a new way this year.

Entertainment features will again include the annual livestock parade, moving picture programs, special gatherings for the ladies who attend the conference, and other events of interest.

Crowds at the annual Farmers Week have run above 5,000 in recent years, and plans are being made to accommodate another record attendance this winter.

FRANCISCO

Misses Carrie and Mabel Washburn, who have been spending a couple of weeks with their parents, south of town, left the first of the week to resume their school duties.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walz, were Mr. and Mrs. William Trolz of Sharon.

PALMER MOTOR SALES TAKES ON DEFOREST LINE

Radio fans who like to brag about the distance they can get will be interested to know that the DeForest Radio Tel. & Tel. Co. of Jersey City, N. J. has entered into a contract with the Palmer Motor Sales of S. Main street, whereby the latter becomes a Chelsea agent for the complete DeForest line.

The owners of the Palmer Motor Sales are experienced radio men and are well fitted to take care of the newcomers in radio enthusiasm as well as the dyed-in-the-wool fans.

To possess a DeForest agency nowadays in the radio field is as valuable as to possess an agency in the older established manufacturing industries.

Radio is sweeping the world in its enthusiasm and it is predicted that it will occupy as important and necessary a place in everyday life as does the telephone.

What all fans seek is a receiving set that enables them to get long distance, dependable selectivity and supreme audibility.

All these the Palmer Motor Sales is prepared to guarantee, because the DeForest receiving sets for which they hold the agency have a record for the clearest reception in existence and an easy capability for 3000 miles and more.

The Palmer Motor Sales also handle DeForest parts for those fans who want to "build their own."

THE STRANGEST ACTOR IN MOVIES

The newest Hodgkinson release, "The Mysterious Rider," adapted from the novel by Zane Grey, comes to the Princess Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, January 16 and 17 and has an important actor in the cast who does not appear by name on the screen.

As a matter of fact, no one thought of naming him, despite the fact that he is in some important scenes, and that he drew a salary for every day he worked in the picture.

On the company payroll he was simply listed by his biological variety cognomen—"Porcupine."

All his life he had never been named, for he is one of the two animals with which there is no fraternizing by mankind—the porcupine and the skunk.

"The Mysterious Rider" is the first photodrama in which a porcupine plays a part, and this particular representative of the porcupine family upheld the traditions of the acting profession by being "temperamental."

When he was willing to work all went well, and he proved that porcupines have natural acting ability. When crossed, he lashed out with his tail at the nearest director, assistant property boy or cameraman, and then retired into a compact, bristling ball formation to sulk—and to hold-up the scene until he decided to work again.

The remarkable thing about the acting porcupine in "The Mysterious Rider" is that it acts at all, for its quill armor prevents the sort of training that most animals can be given by the touch of human hands, and porcupines are very stubborn by nature.

This porcupine really does act, and in the splendid comedy, which varies the thrilling love, adventure and pathos theme of "The Mysterious Rider," it plays an important part. It was handled by the famous Barnum and Bailey animal trainer, Charles B. Murphy, who is now the principal animal handler of Almidon.

Unsinkable Lifeboat Accidental Invention

One of the most extraordinary cases of what may be called an accidental invention is that of the lifeboat. A man named Wouldhave was out walking one day when he was asked by an old woman to help her lift a can of water which she had filled by means of a broken wooden bowl.

The bowl was floating on the surface of the water, and as he talked to the woman, Wouldhave turned it over with his finger. It immediately righted itself. Amused by its antics he repeated the performance; then it struck him that he had made a wonderful discovery. The result of his chance meeting was the self-righting lifeboat, which was designed by him on the lines of the broken bowl.

What he had discovered was that anything made of floating material and shaped like one-half of a basin could float only with its convex surface downward. A boat made on these lines cannot remain upside down for more than an instant when it is turned over by a heavy sea.

Such is Fame
The house in Portland, Me., where Longfellow was born, had become a number of years ago a tenement in the poorer part of the city, mostly inhabited by Irish. A teacher in Portland was giving a lesson on the life of the poet. At the end of the hour, she began to question her class. "Where was Longfellow born?" she asked.

"Where was Longfellow born?" she asked. "I don't know," answered his class vigorously. When the teacher called on him, his answer did not seem to astonish the rest of the class, but it was a cold shock to her. "It was in Fatsy Magee's bedroom," he said.

Avoid Taints in Milk by Feeding

Tests Show That Green Alfalfa Produces More "Off" Odors Than Does Corn.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Undesirable flavors and odors in milk produced by feeding green alfalfa, green corn, or turnips may be prevented by giving these feeds at the proper time or they may be reduced by thorough aeration of the milk. These conclusions have been reached by the United States Department of Agriculture after extensive tests in which experienced milk judges who had no knowledge of the samples gave their opinions about the quality of the milk. The results of the tests of green alfalfa and green corn have been published in Department Bulletin 1190, Effect of Feeding Green Alfalfa and Green Corn on Flavor and Odor of Milk, by C. J. Babcock. The results of the investigations on turnips have been published in Department Bulletin 1208, Effect of Feeding Turnips on the Flavor and Odor of Milk, by the same author.

Alfalfa Produces Flavor.
It is shown that green alfalfa produces much more pronounced "off" flavors and odors than does green corn. Even when 25 pounds of green corn is fed one hour before milking the milk is only slightly tainted, probably not to a sufficient extent to be detected by the average consumer. If fed after milking nothing undesirable is noticeable. Feeding 30 pounds of green alfalfa one hour before milking, or as little as 15 pounds, produced objectionable flavors and odors, increasing the time to three hours reduced the intensity but did not eliminate the taints. However, when the time before milking was increased to five hours the "off" flavors and odors were practically eliminated. It was found also that 30 pounds could be fed immediately after milking without any bad effects. The conclusion is that green alfalfa as a soiling crop should be fed immediately after milking, and that when it is used as pasture the cattle should be taken out four or five hours before milking. Aeration will help to remove slight "off" odors and flavors. Green corn, at least up to 25 pounds at a feeding, may be fed at any time.

Root Crops Not Blamed.
In some regions root crops are used to supply succulence in the fall and winter, and among these crops turnips are one of the most commonly grown. They have long been suspected of being responsible for "off" flavors and odors in milk, and the department's investigation has shown that the dairymen were right about it. Feeding 15 pounds of turnips an hour before milking produced taints, and increasing the quantity fed to 30 pounds greatly intensified them. By feeding even the maximum quantity just after milking practically all the objectionable flavors and odors were avoided. As in the case of alfalfa, slight "off" flavors and odors were removed and strong ones reduced by aeration. The taints were more noticeable in the cream than in the milk.

Copies of the bulletins may be obtained, as long as the supply lasts, by addressing the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Meat Scrap Is Essential to Production of Eggs

That rations for laying hens should contain approximately 12 per cent of meat scrap for efficient egg production is brought out by tests at the Ohio experiment station.

This amount of meat scrap has decreased the cost of feed more than 20 per cent and increased the egg production more than 60 per cent as compared with a ration containing only 2 per cent of meat scrap. This was true of both the heavy and light breeds of poultry.

A ration in which the grain mixture was made up of three parts corn, one part wheat and the dry mash mixture of two parts by weight ground corn, one part bran and two parts meat scrap, has proved satisfactory. The fowls consumed twice as much grain as mash.

Plow Legumes Under for Building Up Fertility

Over 652,000 acres of legumes were plowed under for green manure in 1922 by farmers following the advice of agricultural extension workers on methods of building up soil fertility, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Finding that the soils in which they desired to plant legumes had acid soil, some 48,000 farmers in 1922 followed the recommendation of their county agent to apply lime on these fields. They used for this purpose, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, about 627,000 tons of lime or limestone.

Especially Worth While to Save Supply of Corn

Prof. R. M. Green, marketing head at the Kansas State Agricultural college, believes that it is especially worth the farmer's while to conserve corn. Cattle ranches through the winter and a good feed for the spring market.

While cattle prefer a slightly lower price for a storage building of feed, the more burdensome than last year and production is in no way so much overdone as in the case of eggs.

Wheat Versus Bran as Feed for Dairy Cows

Feed Stuffs Vary in Value According to Other Feeds.

A correspondent asks the value of low-grade wheat at $1.40 per hundred weight, compared with wheat bran at $1.60 for dairy cows. The digestible nutrients in the two feeds show 30 per cent more total feed value in wheat but 25 per cent more protein, and three times as much minerals in the bran. Bran is valued also for its laxative and bulky nature, which makes it good for mixing with heavy grain. Feeding stuffs vary in value according to the other feeds in the ration. Bran would be the more valuable feed in balancing a ration greatly lacking in protein.

Where alfalfa hay is available to supply protein and minerals, the wheat would prove the cheapest feed at above prices. With a ration based largely on corn fodder, cane hay, molasses hay or corn silage for roughage, it would be necessary to feed some high protein concentrate like oil meal or bran in addition to the wheat. Wheat is a heavy concentrate and should be mixed with lighter feeds like barley, oats, kafir or dried beet pulp. Because finely ground wheat is likely to form a paste in the mouth, it should be rolled or crushed rather than ground fine, another reason for feeding it in a mixture. We have no record of experiments comparing wheat bran directly, since wheat is generally too high priced to use as a stock feed. The Dairies consider both wheat and wheat bran are equal to mixed barley and oats, though in the feed-unit tables used in Scandinavian countries wheat is considered one-tenth more valuable than wheat bran for dairy feeding. Charles I. Bray, Colorado Agricultural College.

Select Breeding Stock for Production of Eggs

In selecting breeding stock for egg production choose birds that show signs of best layers, as indicated by trap-nest records and other having egg-laying characteristics, such as deep bodies with good width between the pelvic bones and good depth between pelvic and keel bones. Select birds as near standard type as possible. For breeding, yearling or two-year-old hens are preferred. Hatching eggs should not be kept more than ten days.

N. B. Chapman, poultry specialist at University farm, who gives the foregoing advice, advocates dry, warm, well-ventilated quarters for the flock with plenty of scratching room and range as soon as the weather permits. To insure laying the breeders should be kept in good condition by proper feeding. A laying ration should consist of from 10 to 15 per cent next scrap.

Important Ducks Should Have Plenty of Water

In feeding ducks, a good many folks overlook the fact that they have no crops like other domestic fowls. This food passes from the throat into a roamy duct which opens directly into the gizzard, and for this reason ducks should have mostly soft food.

For the same reason it is also quite important that ducks should have plenty of water to drink in case the food refuses to go smoothly down the passage which takes the place of a crop. A good many people mix a little sand with the mash they feed their ducks, and this assists in grinding and digestion.

Farm Implements Should Have Proper Attention

Before the implements are put away for the season whether under roof or not, it is well to give the wooden parts a coat of paint, and sometimes paint will prevent rust when applied to the metal parts of the frame. The gears on machinery, such as the blinder and the mower, should be thoroughly cleaned and given a coat of some soft oil. The bright steel parts, such as axles and mold boards, should be given a coat of grease in order to prevent rust. This should be done even though implements are housed, because moisture in the air will cause rust to form even in a good shed.

Illinois Station Gives Ration to Fatten Horse

Several years ago the Illinois experiment station carried on some experiments in fattening draft horses. They found about the best fattening ration was a ration composed of one-fourth oats and three-fourths corn, with good clover or alfalfa hay. The horses, which were confined in the stall, not allowed to run loose in the yard, made by far the best gain.

Minerals Not Necessary for Pigs Being Fattened

Mineral supplements are not necessary for pigs being fattened for market. If the ration is in line to supply a deficiency of protein, for instance, in a ration rich in the mineral needed, alfalfa hay is also rich in minerals, especially iron. Fatting and fattening is the best and cheapest means of fattening.

Wash Milk Cans Clean

The cleansing of milk vessels is best done by first rinsing them in cold or lukewarm water to remove the milk after which they should be scrubbed with a brush inside and out. Use hot water and washing powder and then rinse in clean, hot water.

Show Up Poor Cows

Always buy cow can make a profit on pasture, but the feeding of grain and roughage indoors soon shows up the poor ones in dairy-improvement records.

DAIRY POINTS

Speedy Justice Recently Meted Out to Scrub Sire

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
In a special "court" convened in Howard county, Md., the last of October, A. S. Bull, known familiarly as "Scrub," was found guilty of robbing hard-working farmers and their families and was sentenced to be barbed immediately. It was brought out by County Agricultural Agent M. H. Fairbank, who acted as prosecuting attorney, that the accused had been depriving the people of this farming community of many luxuries and even some of the necessities, taking the butter from their bread and cream from the milk.

According to a representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, "Scrub" was well represented by counsel appointed by the "court," but no arguments could prevail against the overwhelming evidence presented by the prosecution and the damaging testimony of a large number of farmer-witnesses who had been robbed and had seen their neighbors robbed in the same manner by this old offender.

The jury was unanimous for conviction, and J. B. Dawson, of the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture, delivered the funeral oration. Scrub's meat is not of the best, but it was well cooked, and a hungry crowd enjoyed it, in a measure, because they had a sense of doing a good thing for the community. The trial was followed by a sale of pure bred bulls.

One of the unusual features of the trial was a brass band which provided appropriate music during the day. Interest in the "trial" was shown by a large attendance from adjoining counties.

Dairy Cows Improved by Advanced Registry Test

"No one thing has done so much to increase the productivity of pure bred dairy cattle in New Jersey as advanced registry testing," says W. R. Robbers, dairy expert at the agricultural experiment station, New Brunswick.

"The average production of all cows has been given by the United States census as 4,000 pounds of milk a year. Pure bred herds under the advanced registry tests soon develop cows which produce twice that amount of milk without additional feed cost."

"Care in the management of cows increases their productive capacity. It is the care incident to advanced registry testing which often results in the cow doing much better during her second lactating period than her first."

"By means of these tests and the records kept the hopelessly unproductive cows are detected so that the dairymen can eliminate them from the herd."

"It has long been recognized that the bull is the most important factor in improving the herd. Through advanced registry it is possible for the dairymen to observe whether or not the daughters of the bull are better than their dams. In this way superior bulls are discovered and are chosen to raise the standard of the herd."

Feeding Test Made With Corn Silage and Fodder

The dairy cow has long found favor because she is able to convert large quantities of bulky roughage into a concentrated and highly nutritious product. There are, however, certain roughages on which a cow produces much better. As the business of dairying is to produce milk profitably rather than merely to convert fodder into milk, a comparison of the common farm roughages is valuable.

A careful feeding test was made at the Iowa experiment station with corn silage and fodder, alfalfa and timothy hay, and a combination of corn fodder and timothy hay.

The use of corn fodder in place of corn silage reduced the milk production 6 per cent, and the fat production 3 per cent. When silage is worth $4.50 a ton, an acre of corn yielding eight tons, if converted into silage, is worth $36, while if converted into fodder the value is reduced to $16.21.

When alfalfa hay was replaced by timothy in a good dairy ration, milk and butterfat production was reduced 7 per cent. When both alfalfa hay and silage were replaced at the same time by fodder and timothy hay, the milk yield dropped 18 per cent and fat 14 per cent.

If possible get the corn crop in the silo. Timothy hay should be sold and clover or alfalfa bought to take its place.

Wash Milk Cans Clean.
The cleansing of milk vessels is best done by first rinsing them in cold or lukewarm water to remove the milk after which they should be scrubbed with a brush inside and out. Use hot water and washing powder and then rinse in clean, hot water.

Show Up Poor Cows.
Always buy cow can make a profit on pasture, but the feeding of grain and roughage indoors soon shows up the poor ones in dairy-improvement records.

Break them now before they lead to more serious trouble. Dr. King's New Discovery stops coughing quickly by stimulating the mucous membrane to throw off clogging secretions. It has a pleasant taste. All druggists.

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY

Merely a Stone.

The supposed skill of the Tertury period found in Patagonia some time ago is merely a curiously shaped stone and of no scientific value, according to a committee of eminent scientists of the Buenos Aires and Lapland museums of natural history, which has carefully examined it. At the time of its discovery great interest was excited because it was supposed to be the oldest trace of mankind in existence.

CONSOLIDATION OF PAPERS MEETS WITH APPROVAL

scriber may owe for only one year and the amount would not be noticeable, but should one thousand folks be one year or more in arrears the amount is no small figure as can be readily seen. So it is requested that subscribers note the date on their paper and act accordingly.

There is no doubt that it will take some time to check up, transfer and correct the mailing list. It is not expected that the entire list will be corrected without error.

Should this occur on your paper kindly call it to the attention of the Standard and correction will be made forthwith. Every effort is being made to avoid duplication or missing anyone. Co-operation on the part of the subscriber is asked and a little patience may be necessary on the part of both the publishers and patrons.

Inquiries as to disposal of the plant of The Tribune have been numerous. At present it is the intention of The Standard to sell the entire equipment with a very few exceptions. The doors of the Tribune office were closed this week on Saturday evening and this week is being spent in closing up affairs of Mr. Klamsner and son at that office.

To the village, it is expected the consolidation will mean much. A strong newspaper in the community will mean prestige for the whole town and because of the fact that The Standard will be rated as one of the largest weeklies in the state of Michigan, it will attract attention to this village in the newspaper and printing profession.

Policies of the Standard will not be changed from what it has been under the present management. A clean, live newspaper, catering to the best interests of the entire village and vicinity, favoring no one when public interest is involved, and a fair, impartial dissemination of the news happenings of the community will be the aim of the management. To take advantage of the situation to promote selfish interests at the expense of the general public would be an unfair and unethical attitude on the part of the publishers.

SWANSON IS PROMOTED

City office and then in Jackson. For two years previous to his assumption of the district manager's duties in Jackson he was secretary of the Michigan Light Company.

Mr. Swanson has won for himself an enviable place in the business, civic and social life of Jackson and has numerous friends there who will mingle sincere regret for his departure with the gratification they will feel over his well deserved promotion. Mr. Swanson has served efficiently as a member of the Board of Education. He had been re-elected to the board the past fall, but announced Friday that he would resign at once. Mr. Swanson also has been a director of the Jackson Chamber of Commerce and served as president of the Jackson Co-operative Realty Company. He has been active in the affairs of the First Methodist church.

The changes announced by Mr. Tippy become effective February 1 and Mr. Swanson and his family probably will leave Jackson the latter part of this month.

Howard Pett, who will succeed Mr. Swanson, is one of the Consumers Power Company's popular young men. He came here in 1917 after having been local manager at Adrian and had served his company in various capacities, previous to that, at Big Rapids, Muskegon and Grand Rapids.

Mr. Erwin, who leaves the district managership at Grand Rapids February 1, retires to devote himself to private business interests. The Grand Rapids office is considered the most responsible of the Consumers Power string, with Saginaw rating second. Thus Mr. Swanson is placed next in line for the most desirable district managership "plum." The plant at Saginaw develops electric light and power, gas and steam heat.
