Second Camp Period Starts Next Week

Camp Newkirk, near Dexter, the Boy Scout camp for scouts and cubs of Livingston and Washtenaw counties, will open its second period next Sunday afternoon, July 5th. The camp is now in the midst of its second week, with nearly 120 campers and officials present. Of this number 8 are from Troop 1, Chelsea. The Chelsea boys in camp are: Foster Boisset, Dudley Foster, Benny Bacon, John and Charles Panarites, John Bruner, Hubert Ives and Royal McBride.

The climax of the activities of the first week came to a close Sunday afternoon with the Court of Honor, held at the council ring, at which 89 awards were made. A special feature of the court was the presentation of bathing caps to a number of campers, denoting their progress in the art of swimming.

Among special features offered this past week are marksmanship, bugling, axe-throwing, orchestra and work in taxidermy. Campfires during the first week have proved of exceptional interest. A feature of the week's campfires has been the continued account by Robert Shaw of his "bumbling" trip around the world.

About 25 cubs are in camp, under the leadership of Rev. John Shilling, who is assisted by four junior officers who are experienced in work with younger boys.

A field meet is to be held at Camp Newkirk Thursday between Camp Newkirk and the Jackson scout camp. Events will be signalling, knot tying, nature study, archery, and water boiling, making the fire by rubbing sticks.

Both scouts and younger boys, between the ages of 9 and 12 are welcome to attend the second period, and may register at scout headquarters, 324 E. Huron, Ann Arbor, or come directly to the camp. The fee is $5.00 per week.

Salem Homecoming Observance Sunday

Next Sunday, July 5, will mark the observance of the annual homecoming event at Salem M. E. church, near Franciscan. The order of worship includes Sunday school at 10 a. m., and sermon by the pastor, Rev. H. W. Lema, at 10:45. A musical program will be given during the afternoon by the Waterloo Band and Mrs. P. M. Broesamle's orchestra, and short talks will be given by visiting former pastors and church members.

Chicken dinner will be served by ladies of the church at 12 o'clock, to which the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Former members and all friends of the church are invited to attend the homecoming event, which has been growing in popularity each year.

BOONE-FORNER WEDDING

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Marcia Eugenia Boone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Boone of Sylvan township, and Casper T. Forner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forner of Jackson, which took place Saturday, June 20, at St. John's rectory, Jackson. Rev. John G. Wall officiating. The attendants were Miss Agnes Forner and Bernard Riley, sister and cousin of the groom.

The bride was gown in white chiffon with white picture hat, while Miss Forner wore a model of pink silk with accessories of white. Both carried arm bouquets of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Forner will make their home in Jackson, where the groom has a position with the Alloy Spring and Axle Co. Mrs. Forner is a graduate of Chelsea high school, also of the Jackson Business College.

PLANE LANDS HERE

A plane piloted by a Flint business man, who was making calls in this part of the state, landed in a field on the J. L. Sibley farm west of town Wednesday afternoon, the pilot stating that he was lost. After securing the information he desired, he attempted to take off, but misjudged the runway, the undercarriage catching in an oat field and causing the plane to turn completely over. The pilot emerged uninjured, although the plane was somewhat damaged. He was brought to Chelsea by Carl Schneider and Dale Kern, who were near the scene of the accident, and a call for help was telephoned to Flint.

KIWANIS GOVERNOR HERE

Claude Dock, of Detroit, Governor of Michigan District of Kiwanis International, and Forney Clement, of Ann Arbor, Michigan District Secretary, were present at the Monday evening meeting of the local Kiwanis club, held at Sylvan Estates. Governor Dock delivered one of the most inspiring addresses ever heard in a local Kiwanis meeting. More than forty Kiwanians and their guests were present at the meeting.

Do Your Shopping On Friday

Saturday being the Fourth of July, a national holiday, practically all business will be suspended in Chelsea. However, announcement is made by grocers and meat market proprietors that they will be open in the morning until 9 o'clock and will again open in the evening from 6 to 10 o'clock. Practically all other business places will close for the entire day. All business places will be open Friday night to enable people to make their usual week-end purchases at that time, so that all may observe the holiday set aside in memory of the founders of our country.

Former Chelsea Boys Speak At Lodge Meet

In a communication to The Standard, J. P. Cook tells of attending as a guest, a meeting of Lotus Lodge, No. 549, F. & A. M. at Ionic Temple, Detroit, recently. Newer members of the lodge were honoring charter members, and an interesting feature of the event as related by Mr. Cook was the fact that two of the speakers were former Chelsea boys.

George Naeskel gave a talk which was an analysis of various groups and individuals comprising the lodge, and was the keynote speech opening the ceremonies.

Oscar Schettler gave the principal speech of the evening, taking for his subject: "The Legend of the Lotus," a legendary explanation of the presence of the Lotus lilies near Monroe, Mich. This talk was especially appropriate because it was this flower which gave the lodge its name. The Lotus beds near Monroe are especially interesting, and there is only one other place in the world that they grow, and that is on the banks of the Nile in Egypt.

Post and Gatty Pass Over Chelsea Wed.

(Unofficial)

Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, globe girdling aviators, are reported to have paid a "passing" unofficial visit to Chelsea Wednesday afternoon on their way to Cleveland from Edmonton, Alberta, where they landed Tuesday. Anyway, a plane answering to the description of the "Winnie Mae" was sighted over Cavanaugh Lake about three o'clock, headed toward Chelsea, Detroit and Cleveland, and flying at a high altitude as these world flyers have been doing.

Post and Gatty landed in Cleveland at 4:30, which time would make it possible that the report of their flight over here is authentic.

This is the second time Chelsea has been honored by being visited by globe girdling aviators, the Graf Zeppelin having passed over the town in 1929.

ENTERTAINS FOR GUESTS

Mrs. R. E. Jolly delightfully entertained a company of young people at her home Thursday evening at a party given in honor of Mr. Jolly's brother, Fred Jolly of Ann Arbor, who recently graduated from the engineering department of the University of Michigan; her nephew, Donald Ross, a graduate of Farmington high school, and her house guest, Miss Betty Johnson of Harvard, Ill. Guests were present from Detroit, Farmington, Ann Arbor and Chelsea.

Summer flowers were attractively arranged about the rooms, while the lawn was prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns. Following a six o'clock dinner, games furnished an enjoyable pastime, and high honors were awarded Lawton Steger of Chelsea, and Miss Charlotte Rueger of Ann Arbor.

A. R. BAILEY DIES

A. R. Bailey, engineer-manager of the Washtenaw county road commission, died Monday afternoon in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor. Mr. Bailey's death was the result of injuries received last Thursday when his car struck a tree after he had swerved it on US-12 west of Ann Arbor to avoid striking a runaway horse.

BUS CRASHES

A bus operated by the Eastern Michigan system crashed through the guard rail of the Mill Creek bridge, about 7 miles east of Chelsea on US-12, about 1 o'clock Saturday morning, and came to rest at the creek bottom. There were 29 passengers on the bus and all escaped injury.

WILL PLAY TWO GAMES

Chelsea Independents will go to Sand Lake on the Fourth, where they will play the Onsted baseball team. On Sunday, the 5th, they will journey to Pontiac, where they will oppose the Pontiac Colored Giants.

Speak Nuptial Vows At Pretty Church Event

At a beautiful rainbow wedding, which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church, Miss Dorothy Marie Dancer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Dancer, became the bride of Richard Kenneth Braund, son of Mrs. Martha Braund, of 910 South West Avenue, Jackson.

Amid an attractive arrangement of palms and ferns, interspersed with tall baskets of Madonna lilies, delphinium and Columbia roses and flanked by silver candelabra lighted with ivory tapers, the marriage service was read by Rev. C. S. Risley, of Deerfield, former pastor of Chelsea Methodist church. White lilies marked the pews for the immediate families. The bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Philip Broesamle, and preceding the ceremony, "Beloved, It Is Morn," by Aylward, was sung by Mrs. A. A. Palmer.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of bridal blush satin, with close-fitting bodice and flowing skirt, the long sleeves forming points over her hands. A narrow belt of satin fastened in front at the natural waist line with a buckle of rhinestones.

Her long veil was held in place by a fitted cap of tulle, caught on either side with a cluster of orange blossoms. White satin slippers completed her costume and she carried an arm bouquet of Killarney roses and swansonia, tied with a large white satin bow.

Miss Helen Dancer, who attended her sister as maid-of-honor, was attired in pale yellow chiffon, fashioned over a slip of yellow taffeta. She wore a yellow horsehair hat, yellow moire slippers and long white gloves, and carried an arm bouquet of tallies.

Joint Picnic Is Held By Jersey Breeders

The Washtenaw and Livingston county Jersey breeders held their annual picnic on June 27 at Glennbrook farm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Glenn. About one hundred enthusiastic Jersey breeders brought their families to the beautiful beach on Half-Moon Lake, located on the Glennbrook farm.

At a spirited business meeting, after a basket lunch at noon, plans were made for exhibiting cattle at the annual Southeastern Michigan Parish show. It was decided that an elimination show would be held at the Washtenaw County Fair and anyone wishing to show at the Parish show must first qualify their cattle by showing at the Washtenaw County Fair.

A committee, appointed by President E. C. Simmonds to handle the elimination show, reported that all cattle showing in that show would be blood tested for Bangs disease at that time. This would eliminate the necessity of having a veterinarian making trips to the individual farms. It would also comply with the rules of the Southeastern Michigan Parish show requiring that all cattle be blood tested within sixty days or less before showing.

The committee, George Cooper, Bert Stuart, Fred Notfen, and Chas. McCalls, in charge of the elimination show, urged all breeders to exhibit so that Washtenaw county could make its usual good showing at the Parish show.

George Cooper, president of the Michigan Jersey Cattle club, made an announcement of the Michigan Jersey Cattle club summer picnic to be held July 16, at Cowden Lake, two miles east of Coral, in conjunction with the elimination show and 4-H calf club exhibit which will be held by the Montcalm county Jersey Cattle club. After the business meeting was adjourned a fast and well-played baseball game was played between teams representing Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to inspecting the excellent herd of Jerseys at Glennbrook farm and to boating and swimming.

Michigan Happenings

Resignation of Dr. William F. English as Saginaw county health officer was asked by the board of supervisors to clear the way for laying claim to a share in the subsidies of the State Health Department and the Rockefeller Foundation for counties operating approved health units with full-time health officers. Both subsidies have been withheld since last October, when Dr. English was appointed. The appointment never has been approved by the State Health Department, because Dr. English has given only part time to the county job, maintaining his private practice.

A stomach analysis of 27 weasels, 189 muskrats, 500 raccoons, 500 foxes and 180 skunks made at the School of Forestry and Conservation of the University of Michigan has revealed some interesting facts about the diet of these so-called predatory animals. About half of the fox specimens contained berries; the skunks lived mostly on insects and fruit; and the diet of the weasels consisted largely of mice, although it was found that a few had eaten shrews, a sixth had eaten rabbits and a tenth small birds.

At the opening session of the annual meeting of the board of supervisors of St. Clair County, at Port Huron, Roy T. Gilbert, Algonac, supervisor of Clay township, was for the eleventh consecutive time elected chairman. A slight flurry in an attempt to groom City attorney Patrick H. Kane for the position failed, as the roll call revealed, not one dissenting vote. In his acceptance talk, Supervisor Gilbert said that St. Clair County has a cash balance of $1,600,000 and has not had to borrow.

While his 12-year-old brother and four other playmates battled a swift current in Grand river in a vain rescue effort, 10-year-old William Mans, of Grand Rapids, was carried to his death. His brother, Raymond, was pulled under the surface of the water, but was rescued by his playmates. Two unidentified men stood on a bridge and failed to assist in the rescue, although the water was less than five feet deep where the boy was drowned. A widowed mother survives.

Flint firms doing a credit business are asked to refrain from instituting garnishment proceedings for a year in a proposal made to the city commission by Mayor William H. McKeligan. The mayor also proposed reductions in gas, water and electric rates, street car and bus fares, and milk prices. The water department is the only municipally-owned unit affected by the proposal. Each of the commissioners was appointed to head a committee to investigate the feasibility of the plan.

Existence of the Eaton County fair was officially ended with the announcement Charlotte had purchased the fair grounds for $7,630, the amount of the indebtedness of the Eaton County Agricultural Society. The West Michigan Conference of Seventh Day Adventists had accepted an offer of the society for the purchase of the grounds for a permanent camp meeting site, but the society decided to sell to the city, which wants the grounds for an airport site.

Carey was starting a fire in the kitchen range with kerosene at 6 a. m. when the half-filled can exploded. The explosion attracted neighbors, but Carey's dog, standing guard, delayed their entrance to Carey's relief until he was critically burned.

Bennet Langtry, 28 years old, of Port Huron, an employee in the power sub-station at Bunce Creek, was electrocuted while throwing a switch.

Efforts are being made at Cheaning to obtain recognition by the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. of the heroic action of 14-year-old Herbert McCalpin, who rescued Mrs. Frank J. Walser, a bride of less than a week, from drowning in the Shiawassee river. Mrs. Walser and her mother were bathing at Community Park when the former got beyond her depth and sank. The boy, a member of the Cheaning group of the Saginaw Rural Y. M. C. A., leaped into the water and supported her until help came.

Judgment for $9,000 was given James Berry against Otto Benjamin by a jury in Circuit Court at Pontiac for injuries he suffered January 31, 1929, when an automobile in which he was riding was struck by a Grand Trunk train. Berry named the railroad company defendant in the action, but it was absolved of responsibility. Benjamin was owner of the car, driven by his brother Ray, killed in the accident, in which Berry was riding. Berry testified he is injured so that he will never be able to walk.

Bids have been received by the Macomb County Road Commission at Mt. Clemens and the construction department of the Ford Motor Co., for relocation of approximately three-quarters of a mile of Jefferson avenue where it passes Edsel Ford's estate, just north of the Wayne County line. Mr. Ford will pay for the project, taking the present winding highway for private purposes. The lowest bid submitted was $64,144. The work will be done under the supervision of the county road department.

Demolition of the old St. Mary's Catholic Church in Jackson has been started to provide a site for a new parochial school. The school will cost about $60,000 and will be the second educational unit operated by the parish. The old church was erected in 1881. Since 1928, when a new church was dedicated, the old church has been used for parish entertainments and gatherings.

A runaway mule team caused the death of Allen Meyer, 22, farmer's son, living on a farm near Jamestown. The team ran away while pulling a large hay rake. In attempting to restrain them, Meyer was thrown to the ground and impaled on two ties of the rake. The team galloped across the fields to the barns dragging Meyer's mangled body.

Farm lands and buildings in Shiawassee County have decreased in assessed valuation approximately $8,000,000 since 1920, according to 1930 census figures. Total valuation in 1930 was $30,977,573; 1920, $22,558,293. Livestock numbers declined, particularly hogs which dropped more than 20,000 in the decade. Poultry alone increased.

A bolt of lightning killed Earl Cliff, 28, a Huron County farmer, while he was working in his field. He had started to drive his horses to the barn to escape the storm when struck. When the horses came in alone, Mrs. Cliff went to the field and found her husband. He had died instantly. Besides his widow he leaves four small children.

Ward Mangus, Saginaw painter, was arraigned before Judge William Wolf, on a charge of defacing and mutilating the American flag. Mangus was painting a house using the large flag to cover the steps so that paint would not drip on them, and was walking back and forth across "Old Glory" when neighbors complained to the police.

A Port Huron motorist complained to the police that Isaac Baumhann, employed at a used car market, was driving an automobile bearing the complainant's license number. The police, after investigating, arrested Baumhann on a charge of repainting and altering his 1930 license plates.

The county board of supervisors has authorized the building of an eight-foot steel fence around the Isabella County Jail in Mt. Pleasant. The fence is expected to hinder the escape of prisoners and prevent outsiders from rendering aid. Three inmates escaped from the jail recently.

Epictetus left no written works, but his essential doctrines are embodied in some of the writings of Plutarch, Arrianus. The best known are "Discourses of Epictetus" and the "Enchiridion" (handbook). MANCHESTER—It is recorded that Gilbert Row and James Taylor cut the first bee tree ever felled by a white man on the site where Manchester now stands. It was said to have been an immense tree and was filled with the choicest honey. The exact spot where the tree stood was on the property now owned by Mrs. Ella Keit-Nestell and the land was taken up from the government by her father, John D. Keit in 1832.—Enterprise.

BROOKLYN—Cement City cement plant will open again on July 1 according to late report from the plant management. The mill closed this spring after all cement storage space had been filled with the product and little was moving out. Gradual demands have lessened the supply, and while no big boom is seen the men will be put back to work for a month or two to again build up the stock. About 100 men are on the payroll when the factory is in full operation.—Exponent.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—I am curious to know what kind of a noise the giraffe makes when in distress or otherwise?

Ans.—The giraffe is almost voiceless. When in distress it utters a very feeble groaning sound characteristic of its specie. When mating it produces a mellow, purring sound not a great deal unlike that of a cat.

Ques.—Our class would like to know what is the size of the largest American flag known, and where it is kept if not in Washington?

Ans.—The largest American flag that we have any record of is 90X165 feet. This mammoth American flag may be seen in J. L. Hudson's department store in Detroit.

Ques.—Can you tell me in your question department the day of the week and the date of the battle of Bunker Hill? Was it fought before independence was declared?

Ans.—The Battle of Bunker Hill in the American Revolutionary War was fought on Saturday, June 17, 1775, which, of course, was before the declaration of independence.

Ques.—Will you please settle this bet: A says that Reno, Nev., is farther west than Los Angeles, Cal., and B says that it is not. Which is right?

Ans.—A is right. Reno, Nev., is about 100 miles farther west than Los Angeles, Cal. This is due to the fact that North America does not lie straight north and south with the parallels. It extends from northwest to southeast.

Ques.—Is Marconi, the inventor of the radio, still living? If so, what is he now working on?

Ans.—Marconi is very much alive. He is now working to control electricity by radio whereby he can light up distant electric light bulbs without the use of wires. To this end he has succeeded in sending electricity 11,000 miles to close a gap and lighted thousands of bulbs.

Ques.—Will you kindly answer if it is correct to say "anthracite coal," as it has been disputed?

Ans.—To say "anthracite coal" is incorrect English, notwithstanding this expression is commonly used. "Anthracite" is not an adjective; it is a noun derived from the Greek word "anthrax" which means "coal." Literally, then, if you said "anthracite coal" would be equivalent to saying "coal coal."

Ques.—What is the amount of money each person should have in order to have his average share of wealth in the United States?

Ans.—The wealth in the United States is very much concentrated. If the total wealth of the citizens of the United States was divided up equally among all in this country, each person would have $3,000. If you haven't that much, then you are below the average.

Ques.—When did President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State visit the United States? And what was his mission?

Ans.—President Cosgrave's visit to this country took place in 1928, and his purpose was to convey his nation's thankfulness for the unfailing assistance given by Americans to Ireland. He arrived here on Jan. 21, 1928, and returned to his native land in Feb. 4 following.

Ques.—Will you kindly tell which had the greatest cost in the World War—the Allies or the Central Powers?

Ans.—The cost of the World War to the Allies was more than twice that of the Central Powers. In round numbers the Allies' cost was one hundred and twenty-six billion dollars, while that of the Central Powers was sixty-one billion dollars.

Ques.—What aviator had the most victories to his credit in the World War?

Ans.—Edward V. Rickenbacher of Detroit, who brought down 26 enemy planes.

Ques.—Why was June 14 set aside as Flag Day instead of the Fourth of July?

Ans.—June 14, 1777, is the date that our flag was officially adopted by Congress.

Ques.—I would like to know what could be worse than the "hit-and-run" driver? If you are so smart, answer that!

Ans.—Nothing much worse. However, some girls may think it is the "kiss-and-run" driver.

Ques.—I have often wondered why a man "wishes he were dead." Can you explain this unnatural desire?

Ans.—Probably it is because he can't marry the girl he wants or else he has married her.

Ques.—How many days did it take Christopher Columbus to cross the Atlantic ocean?

Ans.—Christopher Columbus' sailing vessel, the Santa Maria, was 70 days on its voyage across the Atlantic ocean.

"Ben Franklin"

Statue at Philadelphia Recalls Memory of Great Patriot.

On January 17 all Pennsylvania, as well as other states, pay tribute to the memory of Benjamin Franklin on his birthday anniversary. Here is his statue at the Post Office building in Philadelphia, and it marks the spot where he stood when he flew the kite in a thunderstorm and discovered the first rudiments of electricity.

Benjamin Franklin lies in a little cemetery at the corner of Fifth and Arch streets in Philadelphia. The burial ground is somewhat neglected.
The claim has been advanced from time to time that Franklin's remains should be removed to Boston, the city of his birth, or to Washington, where a memorial should be erected in his honor to match that of Lincoln. Owing to the fact that this was known to be contrary to Franklin's own wishes,
the movement never progressed far.

It is one of the paradoxes of mankind's reverence for dead heroes that the simpler the memorial the less attention it receives. And yet there is much to commend this simplicity, all the more so when it expresses the character and wish of the man himself. Great and varied as was Franklin's life, he never lost the unaffected naturalness which was his birthright, even when he was the host of the most sophisticated court in Europe. Simplicity was part of his charm when living. It is part of the distinction of his final resting place.

De Kalb

Volunteer Who Gave His Life for American Freedom.

The brilliant ideology of the American Revolutionists and their military inexperience attracted gallant and nearly soldiers whose hands were free and whose courage was bright, or whose necessities were great and whose prospects were dim. Great Britain drew upon the German reserves and the French helped America.
John de Kalb was born at Huttenlof, Bavaria, July 20, 1721. He had military experience in Europe, chiefly with the French army, which he entered in 1744. He served through the seven years' war and came out of it with the rank of major general. In 1783 he was sent to America as a secret agent of the French government, and that visit accounts for his subsequent service in the Revolutionary army. Like John Paul Jones
it was his acquaintance with the Colonies and with the American people and their ideas that made him sympathetic and eager to be of service when military service was needed.

De Kalb joined Gates, the general
in command of the surviving American army in the South at Camden, S. C., in August, 1780. Just in time to be involved in the final collapse of that general's reputation and pretensions.
In the defeat the Delaware troops were almost annihilated and the Maryland regiments lost half their number.
The desperation of the resistance offered by De Kalb in this shocking disaster to the American army in the South is shown not only by the casualties in his ranks but by the fact that he was wounded eleven times and when taken was dying.

A monument to his memory was placed at Camden in 1825. Lafayette laid the corner stone of this memorial to his old comrade in arms.

John Sevier

Forever Remembered for Glorious Victory at King's Mountain.

The battle at King's Mountain, S.
C., is known to historians as one of the most brilliant victories in the Revolution. Henry Cabot Lodge described its effect as "electric."

King's Mountain country, still wild and picturesque, was stark wilderness
in the days when the two backwood-men, wearing leather jerkins and bearing flintlock, muzzle-loading firearms, charged up the seemingly impenetrable steps in the face of the from 1,100 well-armed troops under
Col. Patrick Ferguson, a crack officer of George III.

Under leaders such as Col. John Sevier, who had come from warfare with the French and Indians in the West, the valley pioneers gathered to turn the loyalists back to the sea.
Their answer to Ferguson's shout of "Crush the rebels" was to gain the top of the ridge and take more than half his men captive. With Ferguson out of the reckoning, Cornwallis had to concentrate his army. Yorktown was then only a year away.

As a military exploit, despite the thoroughness of the victory, the battle in itself was of small import. Yet in its effect it was another Bennington, coming as it did at a time when hopes were lowest and it seemed the low-burning flame of the patriotic cause was about to flicker and die. It heartened and stimulated the whole country and put an end to the wretched causing of Tory groups which had recruited patriots and driven them from their homes throughout the South.

Kosciuszko

Patriot of Poland Who Fought for Liberty
of America.

More than a century has passed since he died in exile, an impoverished and broken-hearted failure, yet
the world still thrills to the name of Thaddeus Kosciuszko, the beloved Polish patriot, who incidentally, was one of the most useful and popular officers in the American army during the Revolution.

He was less than thirty when in the autumn of 1775 he left Poland
for France, where the conversation was all of the struggle between Britain and her North American colonies.
So enthusiastic did he become over the prospects of fighting on foreign soil for a freedom denied his own country, that in the spring of 1776 he sailed for Philadelphia, where he volunteered his services and was accepted by the American forces, which he faithfully served during the six years that followed.

His first job was the fortification of Philadelphia against possible attack by the British fleet. So well did he do his work that congress gave him
the rank of colonel in the engineering corps. A second achievement of his was the fortification of West Point on the Hudson, the site of which he is said to have chosen. He threw up the fortifications which saved Saratoga and fought brilliantly there and at Yorktown. Later, in the South, he succeeded Laurens in charge of military intelligence.

Days of the Week

The week consisting of seven days is a unit of time which dates from prehistoric antiquity. Each of the seven days corresponds to one of the seven moving heavenly bodies then known. Sunday and Monday are named after the sun and moon; Tuesday was named for Mars (Tues in Norse); Wednesday, Mercury's (Wodan's) day; Thursday, Jupiter's (Thor's) day; Friday, Venus (Freia's) day; and Saturday, Saturn's day.

Famous Civil War Poem

The poem, "Sheridan's Ride" was written by Thomas Buchanan Read. Gen. Philip Henry Sheridan's famous ride through Winchester, his enthusiastic reception at the hands of his troops, his remarkable success in turning a disastrous rout into a brilliant victory, formed a dramatic episode of the Civil war.

Making the World Small
A Wasted Life
If We Had Mussolini
Getting and Keeping

The airplane and courage are making the world smaller than it used to be. Post and Gatty, 35 hours after they started from New York to fly around the world, were telling on the radio from Berlin about their crossing. They are "doers of the word," not talkers, and said little.

The Post-Gatty airplane is the thirteenth to cross the Atlantic since the beginning of the world.
Those, not young, will live to see thirteen hundred airplanes cross the ocean every day, in one day, and attracting no attention.
Write that prediction on your cuff.

Recently the body of a very young woman was found washed up by the surf near New York. Photographs show that she was most beautiful as a child and a marvelously beautiful girl at eighteen. The waves washed up a young woman, barely twenty-five, ruined by alcohol, drugs and the life to which they lead.

Murder had been suspected, but letters written to a man show that it was suicide. One public official says the letters were forged to shield a murderer, but no murderer could have written the notes; the letters are too genuine.

The unhappy girl writes that she made "a sordid, futureless mess" of her life on earth, and did not "want to ruin anybody else's life."

She goes out of this world hoping and believing that there is no life beyond. "If there is an after life it would be a dirty trick, but I am sure 50,000,000 priests are wrong. Nothing makes any difference now."

"It is no one's fault but my own. I hate everything—so life is so horrible. I take dope to forget and drink to try and like people, but it is of no use."

"No fault but my own," she wrote. But it is also the fault of a system that permits selling dope and bottling whiskey to young girls. And there are men, surviving this girl, who know that it is their fault.

Powerful man is Mussolini. He decided in 1928 to wipe out the "Mafia," an organization of blackmailers, dreaded and obeyed in Sicily until Mussolini came. Proceedings in that case ended two days ago, when 124 members of the Mafia, placed in an iron cage in the court, were condemned, 15 imprisoned for life, 100 others to 1,200 years' imprisonment. They were desperate men, cursed the jury and the judge, and one pulled off his boots and threw them through the bars of the cage at the jurymen. But Mussolini is able to deal with them.

More than 300 others of the Mafia had previously been sent to prison, many of them for life, and the "Mafia" is dead.

A Mussolini, if we had one, could soon settle our gangster problem.

Mr. Mason, an editor, wants the best story about "How I Got My Job," only graduates of 1931 classes to answer.

Getting a job is only moderately important. Keeping a job and achieving success where you start is the big thing.

Doctor Kipper, who went ten miles up into the stratosphere with Professor Picard, says fighting in the future will be done twenty miles up in the air, far beyond the sight of those on earth, making anti-aircraft weapons useless. He also suggests that a flight to the moon will soon be possible. Millions will laugh at this, as they would have laughed twenty-five years ago at the suggestion that men would some day fly the Atlantic and Pacific.

"Put money in thy purse," was good advice. Money is frozen labor, that can be released and used as you choose. Money is power; money, to a large extent, is government. Money says "Come," and they come; "Go," and they go.

A new record, made in England, will interest tailors especially and manufacturers generally. John Crowther & Sons of London took the wool from twelve Southdown sheep, made it into cloth and made the cloth into a suit of clothes, all in 2 hours 9 minutes 46 seconds. That is a world record.

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, brilliant young president of the University of Chicago, says "more education" must supply the way out of our troubles. "Our own follies and incompetence" have produced present conditions, and "if education is supposed to train intelligence, we must concede that education has signally failed so far."

Japan intimates that it will let Lindbergh fly over Japanese territory, with permission to land. Eventually, for the air-ocean, there will be a five or ten mile "limit" above the earth. Over that limit, the air will be free to everybody.

That an individual or nation can own the air 540 miles up to the top of the air-ocean is as preposterous as the other notion that a man can own the earth down to the center.

Turtle's Schedule

The exactness of Nature's laws is illustrated by a certain famous sea turtle on the coast of Florida, whom naturalists have learned to know and look for. Once a year, on exactly the same day of the same month, between evening and daylight, she comes in to the same beach from her Atlantic wanderings. At a certain spot she lays her numerous deposits of eggs and departs, not to return for another 905 days.

Old London's Wooden Houses

Timber was employed as a building material for most of London's houses before the great fire of 1666, stone and brick being employed only for churches, public buildings and the homes of the nobility.
