People's Platform

In an advertisement appearing on another page of this issue and signed by the People's Party Committee, the following platform is outlined:

To keep the operating expenses of the village at the lowest possible level consistent with efficient service.

That no extensive program of improvements will be conducted without first having been assured that it is the wish and will of a majority of our citizens and in compliance with the law.

To investigate public utility rates now being charged for both electricity and gas, with a view to securing lower rates from the producers if it is possible under existing contracts.

A strict and rigid program of economy in the expenditure of public funds, in order to lower the taxes for the coming year.

To personally supervise and oversee all outside work or labor performed for the village and not to make any charge therefor. Also to endeavor to distribute equally among those entitled the outside work or labor that will be employed and not to show any favoritism.

To carry out all constructive methods and plans employed by previous Councils and to profit by their experience, to the end that no radical moves or action will be taken without your interests being considered and your right to be heard.

LEGION NEWS

Every job created in the American Legion employment campaign is a contribution to the welfare of the entire community. Numerous hours have been necessary in the past two weeks for the committee to register, segregate as to quality of work, and compile in a tangible form for convenience, the names of those seeking employment—now nearing the forty mark.

At a meeting of the entire Post, held Monday evening, funds were appropriated to the committee for the purpose of paying unemployed Legion men for soliciting work. This is a sincere indication that the local Post has heartily endorsed this campaign.

Every citizen should cooperate in creating work for the unemployed. A blank application for help will be found on another page of this issue.
By mailing in this coupon to the American Legion Employment Committee, Box 438, Chelsea, you will save the solicitor a call. We also solicit your suggestions and criticisms, for only by working in unity may we expect some success.

Don't forget the phone number, 260-W, or call a committeeman for any information desired.

Vogel & Wurster To Feature Dollar Days

Featuring what they believe to be an exhibition of the greatest merchandising values offered to the public for a great many years. Vogel & Wurster announce two big Dollar Days for Saturday and Monday, March 12 and 14.

Preparation for this event has been in progress for several weeks in an effort to make it an outstanding value-giving sale. Buyers for the store have spent several days in Chicago and New York making special purchases, consequently most of the items offered in this two-day sale have arrived during the past few days and were bought at the low point in the market. These exceptional values are being passed on to the public, and it is expected that these Dollar Days will eclipse any like event ever staged by this store.

ANNOUNCES OPENING

K. B. Dexter announces an opening on Friday and Saturday of this week of his remodeled market. Many tion that formerly existed.

Wirt Ives received a letter from Ira sity of Michigan, congratulating them on the splendid record made by their son Roy in the first semester at the University. Roy, who is a graduate of Chelsea high school, received 4 A's and 1 B for this period.

tage of seeing and learning of the actual places where the Good Master lived and labored. The young people of the community are especially urged to attend and meet Dr. Goodrich, for John Steinbach was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening when 35 of his friends walked in to remind him of his birthday. The evening was spent in a social way. Games were played, after which ice cream and cake were served. The birthday cake was decorated in white and yellow. They all wished him many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. E. H. Dancer spent Wednesday with her father and sister of North Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trinkle and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Steinbach at near Manchester.

Mrs. Otto Trinkle called on her sister-in-law, Mrs. Theo. Wolf at the hospital in Ann Arbor Saturday.

Miss Ella Barber of Chelsea was a dinner guest Thursday evening of Mrs. E. H. Dancer.

Messrs. Lewis Mayer, Paul Seitz, Walter Trinkle and son Elmer spent Monday afternoon in Whitaker.

Andrew and Walter Mast of Ann Arbor called at the Fred Seitz home Sunday afternoon.

The only certainty about the weather this month is the uncertainty of it. Something like this:
If March comes in like a lion,
With mane and tail both a-lyin',
He may go like a lamb.
Or a goat, or a ram,
For the weather man may be a-lyin'.

Congress is making short work of things. In fact, they're making short work of the "shorts". They've voted to do away with the short ("lame duck") sessions of Congress; they're starting to investigate the short sellers in the grain and stock markets; the new tax bill will head off a shortage in the federal treasury. Well, go to it, boys, more power to you!

We'll never know how close we've been to war with England. King George declined a set of the new not-a-war. It's always sounded more like a sneeze. If you say it like this, "ku-a-a-shoo".

Another warning has come from scientists that man's greatest enemies are the insects. Which brings to mind a verse that goes like this:
The chink bug gets the farmer's wheat,
The humbug gets his money.

The New England farm hand who found a $25,000 bag of jewels and received a $1000 reward was hungry, homeless and out of work. But he was honest. And maybe a lot smarter than he knows, for he put the whole thing into "a piece of land he'd been wanting."

Here's good news! Now you can take your next world cruise on the installment plan—25 percent down and easy payments when you get to deep water. A neighbor over on the left (or) road thinks he'd like to hire his thrashing and silo-filling "crews" on the same basis.

"Ever since they found it's mostly $50 and $100 bills that's been hoarded, I ain't had no one accuse me of hoarding," the hired man confessed.

"Usually the good stock raisers is needed most out on the farm, but now I reckon Walt Street would be good wages to some one that knows how to raise their kind of stock."

"I see where they used airplanes to make a breeze so as to keep frost from hurting the fruit in Texas. They might have held a political caucus to provide hot air for the planes."

"An expert in Illinois says farmers need some kind of an alarm clock that will make them do things on time. I wonder does he include buyin' things on time, too?"

Word comes from the department of Agriculture that the cashew nut is not a nut. It's always sounded more like a sneeze. If you say it like this, "ku-a-a-shoo".

Another warning has come from scientists that man's greatest enemies are the insects. Which brings to mind a verse that goes like this:
The chink bug gets the farmer's wheat,
The humbug gets his money.

The Missouri appropriation for bounties on owls is all spent. George Jordan thinks the owls probably don't give a "hoot".

TOP AGE FORESEEN IN 10,000 YEARS, says a headline. Dog-gone! Here we are just beginning to thaw out from one freeze-up and another one only ten thousand years ahead!

Give this a second thought: A long-ling editor writes: "One of our greatest needs is a revival of that old faith in land." Maybe that faith is returning, because some that had turned their backs ON the farm are now turning back TO the farm.

Question And Answer Dept.

Question.—Some time ago a news item appeared in papers saying that Poland had gone overwhelmingly "wet" on a vote on prohibition. Now I am told on good authority that the vote did not affect prohibition at all. Somebody is badly off. Who is it? Can you give the figures of the vote?

Ans.—The prohibition vote in Poland was what is known as a consultative referendum and has no legal effect until acted upon by the legislature. It was a vote to determine the wishes of the people, and the legislature accordingly repealed their prohibition law. The consultative referendum vote was as follows: For prohibition, 188,708; for repeal, 386,117; modification, 7,160.

Question.—Where did soy beans originate?

Ans.—Unquestionably the soy beans originated in China. According to Chinese history this vegetable was cultivated there more than 8,000 years before the Christian era.

Question.—Will you kindly tell me if it is unlawful for a person to stamp his initials on a United States coin with a steel die?

Ans.—Yes, this is defacing the coin. It is unlawful to deface a United States coin in such a manner that it cannot be put back into circulation, but there is no law against the total destruction of such coins.

Question.—How is it that Will Rogers can "get by" in the use of so much bad English and still hold his high position as a newspaper correspondent and writer?

Ans.—Will Rogers is an educated man and a gifted newspaper correspondent. He has made a nation-wide hit in his humor and philosophy by intentionally posing as illiterate.

Question.—Will you kindly answer in your question department why the 17-year locust is so called when it has been known to return twice in the seventeen years in the same locality?

Ans.—The seventeen-year locusts are divided into broods, and their visitations are due to the very year and month in their cycle of seventeen years. However, it frequently happens that the broods of locusts will overlap in such a way that some particular section will have a visitation twice in the seventeen years—but only one visit from each of the broods. The broods will not mix nor have anything to do with each other. As each brood leaves, it will be exactly seventeen years before that same brood comes back again.

Question.—Are navy officials superstitious in forbidding sailors to whistle while on duty in the navy?

Ans.—Naval routine duties aboard battleships and other naval craft require as little noise and confusion as possible. Although the regulations do not specifically forbid whistling, such a noise might easily be confused with the boatwain's pipe or whistle, by means of which he conveys signals from officers to crew. Accordingly it has been considered uncommensurate for a sailor on duty to whistle, and the practice is not countenanced on naval vessels.

Question.—Did kings of England in ancient times fight in battle? If they did, when was the practice discontinued?

Ans.—Yes. As a rule all monarchs in ancient times headed their troops in battle. But the practice in England was discontinued on the death of George II. Since that time no British sovereign has taken an active part in a military campaign or to participate in a battle. In 1718 George II defeated a French army in Bavaria. That was the last battle in which a king of England took an active part.

Question.—Do the Philippine Islands belong to the United States? Or are they to be given their independence ultimately?

Ans.—The United States purchased the Philippine Islands from Spain, and as a result are termed a "possession" of this country. It is the purpose of this nation to give them independence when they are considered capable of self government.

COUNTY COMMITTEES BEING FORMED FOR RELIEF LOANS

County committees, now being formed as rapidly as possible, are the authorities through which farmers who need funds should apply for crop production loans from the $50,000,000 allocated to the Secretary of Agriculture for that purpose by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act. Henry S. Clarke, National Director of 1932 Crop Production Loans, said in outlining the procedure to be followed in applying for loans.

Mr. Clarke emphasizes that loan applications must be approved by the county committee. These committees are being selected and full local publicity will be given to the selections as soon as they are complete. In counties where there is a county agent, he can usually give farmers information regarding loan applications. If a loan application is satisfactory to the county committee, they forward it to the regional office where it is checked by the regional legal department and also by state representatives who are familiar with conditions in the region from which the application comes.

To obtain the loan of $400 or less the farmer must prove his need for funds to purchase seed or fertilizer, feed for work animals or fuel and oil for motor driven farm machinery. Loans, it is stated, will not be authorized for any other purpose. The security demanded will be a mortgage on the crop of 1932. The two states ineligible to loans have no state law authorizing such a mortgage, it is stated.

The interest rate on all loans is five and one-half percent a year.

OUR NEIGHBORS

MANCHESTER.—People have mentioned seeing birds flying north which reminds the old inhabitants of the village of the great droves of pigeons that darkened the sun at times, their number being so great. They used to light on the land north of Prospect hill (now Ann Arbor hill), and men trapped them and shot many of them day after day during their flight. There have been no pigeons seen here in 50 years, nor anywhere else. The reason is that hundreds of men from Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities visited their breeding places in northern Michigan and shot them until they had destroyed all of them.—Enterprise.

BROOKLYN.—Nelson Taylor has signed contract to pitch ball for the Haskell Indians this year. The Indians will start on an eastern tour already booked, leaving Paulding, O. in April. Shortly was pitching in Paulding several times last season and made it so hard for the opposition that he looked good enough to sign by the manager of the Haskell team.—Enterprise.

DUNDEE.—Shooting a single fox squirrel out of season cost Ernest Wares, Dundee, a jail term of 30 days. Wares pleaded guilty to the charge before Justice E. Alliger after he had been arrested by conservation officer Charles Powell. The penalty is believed to be the largest inflicted for that particular offense in several years in Michigan.—Reporter.

MILAN.—The local milk station which has been operated for some time by the Ebeling creamery company was closed Monday of this week and the local milk supply is going to Britton and Adrian at the present time instead of directly into Detroit. Local milk producers were notified some time ago that the local station would be closed March first and officers of the Milan Chamber of Commerce have been working on a plan whereby the local station would remain open. The plan failed to materialize, however, and starting last Tuesday morning the local milk went in the other direction.—Leader.

GRASS LAKE.—Damage estimated at $11,000 resulted from 17 fires in this community during the past year, according to the records of the village fire department. Property endangered by these fires had a total valuation of $116,000. There were eight calls within the village, eight in the township outside the village and one call outside the township. The fire truck was driven a distance of 48 miles in responding to these alarms.—News.

NORTHVILLE.—The distribution of funds taken in by the Northville Community fund has already started, a member of the association informed the Record. The money is being distributed according to the budgets of the organized charities, the ones spending the most receiving the most money from the fund. Through a survey made by the association it has been ascertained that 77 families are receiving welfare support.—Record.

HOWELL.—The pastors of the Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist and Evangelical churches of this city have planned a series of pre-Easter services to begin Monday, March 14th. The meetings will continue up to and include Wednesday, the 23rd.—Republican-Press.

Cooking With Electricity!

It has often been said that if a sink had digestive organs it would be the healthiest thing in the house; that is, in the house where vegetables are peeled, cooked in a large amount of water, and then served after the liquid has been drained off into the sink.

Of course it is encouraging, when you come home late and are hurrying to get the meal ready, to see steam escaping in great clouds from the pan. But it doesn't mean anything except that you are wasting heat. After all, water will get only so hot, and potatoes will cook only so fast. The only way you can hurry them is to cook under pressure or out them into smaller pieces. And so, with speedy units, and being able to use small amounts of water (because it is not lost through evaporation), you can really complete the cooking operation just as quickly, if not more quickly, on the modern electric and do it better.

Public Library Notes

Until June, the supply of adult books at the new Chelsea library will be somewhat limited. Owing to this fact, the librarians in charge are letting the books out for a period of one week instead of two weeks as was previously announced.

If there is any type of reading or some special book that you would enjoy that we have not on the library shelves, will you make your wants known and the committee in charge will be glad to obtain the book or books for you within two or three days after receiving your request.

The library was not organized as a money-making scheme but is a project catering purely to the pleasure and literary tastes of the adults and children who wish to patronize it.

If you are waiting to meet a friend, come in and pick up a magazine and read in the library where you are always welcome, feeling free to make it your library and use it.

Klager Hatchery Will Open Chelsea Branch

Announcement is made in this issue of the Standard for the opening of the Chelsea Branch of Klager's Hatchery. The opening date is set for Saturday of this week, when their large 22,000-egg electrically controlled incubator will be put in operation. The plant is located on the second floor of the Original plans of Erwin I. Klager and Luther G. Klager, owners of the hatchery, called for the opening of the local branch in December, but due to an extended delay in delivery of their equipment they were unable to open at that time.

Klager Bros. have operated a hatchery in Bridgewater for the past six years, and they will continue to operate that plant, which has a capacity for hatching 23,000 chicks weekly.

Alvin Eismann of Manchester, who has been employed in the Bridgewater hatchery for several years, will be in charge of the Chelsea branch.

In addition to having chicks for sale, custom hatching is a part of the Klager operations. They guarantee all chicks to be free from disease when they are delivered to their customers.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB MEETING

The Fellowship club of the Methodist church will meet on Tuesday evening, March 15 in the parlors of the church, and a most interesting program is promised. The long promised drama, "The Man on the Korb," a thrilling story of an unemployed man facing the question of stealing for his family or suicide as a way out, etc. There is a royalty of five dollars on the drama, proving that is worthwhile in the giving of it. This drama will be staged by young people from the Wesley Guild in Ann Arbor. Dr. Blakeman of the same place will also give a brief address. It is planned to give the program in the church auditorium and the public will be welcome at the time it begins, possibly 8:00 p. m.

POULTRY

DAMP FLOORS ARE MENACE TO FOWLS

Owners Who Tolerate Them Are Inviting Big Losses.

Damp floors in poultry houses are inevitable, in the opinion of E. H. Green, agricultural engineer at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment station. Poultrymen who tolerate them are inviting heavy losses in their flocks and a general reduction in the efficiency of the birds that survive.
 A dry wooden floor may be made of two layers of boards with building paper between, the top layer to be a good grade of matched flooring, so that it may be kept clean. Many poultrymen find it desirable to keep the floor 12 to 15 inches above the ground and to leave the south foundation wall open for air circulation. The other sides should be closed tight to keep out cold winds.
 For a dry concrete floor, either of two methods may be used. The first is as follows: Build the foundation wall; level the ground inside, do not remove any soil, fill in with 6 to 8 inches of coarse sand, gravel, or cinders; and place 2 1/2 to 4 inches of concrete floor on top. In this construction, be sure the foundations are high enough for the floor of cinders and the floor. This raised floor with insulating fill will be dry.
 The other method is to lay a two-course concrete floor with a layer of roofing paper between.
 Sometimes the floor itself is not the cause of dampness. Then the remedy must be sought in a study of the care of the house ventilation, litter, or sunlight admitted.

Highly Concentrated

Foods Hurt Turkeys

The turkey has a rather large digestive system and long intestine, accompanied by an overdeveloped crop, so that if it is fed on highly concentrated foods, its digestion is almost certain to fail.

If this is not immediately relieved, death will follow, and usually within or, better still, within a few days.

Plenty of green food is essential to young turkeys, such as alfalfa (if quite tender), clover, lettuce, chopped onion tops and dandelion leaves. All green food supplied to turkeys should be cut a little away up from the ground to avoid black head contamination that may come from the soil.

Fertile Eggs Reason for Paltry Returns

Nature intends the egg to hatch a chick. To get the best results from eggs we have to defeat nature's purpose by producing infertile eggs. A fertile egg is just as good as an infertile one if it is used as such, but it won't hold up under market conditions.

Sell or consume the fowls as soon as the breeding season is over. The hens will lay just as well without the male in the flock. Using early hatched cockerels is a good breeding practice on the farms. Selling them as soon as your hatching season is over saves a big bill of from 60 cents to $1.50 each. If you have particularly valuable fowls, cull them.

Difficult to Decide Sex of Young Poults

It is difficult to be absolutely sure of the sex of young turkey poults. The males will usually "show the red" and show development of the fleshy growth on the head a little sooner than the females, and they are also likely to grow more rapidly than the females. With the brooder variety of turkeys the sex can also be detected by the plumage color as soon as they are well feathered. The breast of the females show the characteristic white tips to the breast feathers, while the males will show dark tips.

Changing Breeds

Several years ago it was common advice to avoid changing breeds of poultry. That was before the days of the large hatchery when poultrymen established a flock with a few settings of eggs, possibly bought at a high price, and then spent several years in developing their own flocks. A change meant starting all over. In many cases birds of both breeds would be retained and soon a pure bred flock became a flock of crosses followed by a flock of mongrels.

Birds Not Wanted

Most poultry keepers realize that there are two courses open to them in regard to unwanted males. One plan is to destroy them as soon as they can be distinguished, and the other is to feed them well right from the first day and bring them to a better condition. The latter practice is sound so far as the early cockerels are concerned, but very few poultry keepers approve of it for later breeds. Some poultrymen do not hesitate to can all surplus fowls.

The DAIRY

TEN PRECEPTS TO RULE DAIRYMAN

Colorado Expert Tells How to Produce Best Milk.

Ten commandments for a dairyman, which, if followed religiously, should produce the best milk, were given by John O. Toller, secretary for the Colorado Agricultural Experiment Station, at a meeting of the dairy commission and chief inspectors for the dairy commission, held at the hotel here last night.

1. Thy cow stable and corral shall be kept clean at all times and bad milk shall not be put therein, so that the milk inspector shall say to thy neighbors, "Surely, this milk is a dairyman's."
2. Thy man servant shall be healthy and clean in all respects and his hands shall bear witness concerning his work. Yea, cleanliness is next to godliness.
3. The milk thou sellest shall be cooled at once after it is drawn from the cow.
4. Thou shalt keep thy plant clean in all respects; the ceiling, walls and floor shall bear testimony concerning thy work.
5. Thy product shall be fresh and well flavored. Verily, age is to be rejected, but old milk will not be tolerated.
6. Daily thou shalt labor washing and sterilizing thy milk bottles and equipment so that it may be said, "this milk is worthy of his hire."
7. Use thine own milk bottles and cans lest some man rise up against thee and say, "Thou thief."
8. Pasteurize properly all milk purchased from other dairymen because thou dost not know what once has been taken in producing it.
9. Thou shalt not sell dirty milk nor milk which has been produced in an unclean place. Dirt shall be kept out of milk, not strained out. Yea, verily, dirt in milk is an abomination to man and to God.
10. Thou shalt not water thy milk. It shall sell a good, clean, well-flavored, neutral product which shall cause thy customers to rise up and exclaim, "Thou thief."

Locate Dairy Barns on Well Drained Ground

The dairy barn and lot should be located on a well-drained place of land. Good drainage from the barn and the lot is very necessary. If possible, the building should be located on a hilltop. If this is not possible, then good drainage ditches should be provided so that the lots will drain quickly. The milk barn may be located on the brow of the hill with the open feed sheds and feed lots on the southern slope of the hill. The milk barn should preferably be situated north and south, facing east so that the greatest amount of sunlight reaches the interior of the building. There should be ample room in this stable to allow 600 cubic feet of space per cow, stall, and sufficient light to provide at least four square feet of light space per cow. One of the most serious defects of barns, particularly old barns, is lack of sufficient light. Plenty of light is one of the most essential things about a barn from the standpoint of the health of the animals and sanitation. Unlight destroys germs and where there is plenty of light unclean conditions are easily discovered and corrected. A dark barn is usually a dirty barn. The windows should extend all the way to the ceiling so the sunlight will reach all parts of the floor if possible.

Cleanliness Safeguard for Newly Born Calves

Cleanliness is the best safeguard that can give the newly-born calf. Up to all calves have been arriving in pictures where nature makes things clean. Troubles are seldom encountered under these conditions. But now the calves are arriving in the stable clean box stall is the preferable place. It is a good precaution to disinfect the calf immediately, as much public enters by this source. Given good feed, the calf should do well. A good feed, if the feed pails are kept clean. Dirty feed pails are the cause of more digestive disorders than all other causes combined. Where the farmer will take the trouble to not only wash but scald the calf pails daily he will miss a lot of trouble in calf rearing.

Feed for Calf

A common fault in feeding calves during the first month is to feed too much milk. This is especially true during the first few days. The milk from the dam is not yet fit for human consumption. There is a lot of it. The tendency is to be liberal with the calf and the calf's stomach is adapted to milk little and often. Overfeeding brings on indigestion and scours. The very largest calf should not get over eight pounds of milk daily for the first week.

Makes You Lose

Unhealthy Fat

Mrs. Ethel Smith of Norwich, Conn. writes: "I lost 16 lbs. with my first bottle of Kruschen. Being on night duty it was hard to sleep—days but now since I am taking Kruschen I sleep plenty, eat as usual and lose fat, too."

To take off fat—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a few cents—get it at Burg's Corner Drug Store or any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the SAFE and harmless way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

Don't accept anything but Kruschen because you must reduce safely. Adv.
