SIX TEAMS ENTERED IN TWILIGHT BALL LEAGUE

Continuation of the sport which has steadily maintained its popularity in Chelsea for several summers is again promised for this summer through organization of a Twilight Ball League of six teams, with plans for a regular schedule during the months of May,
June and July.

At an organization meeting held Friday night at Miller Bros' barber shop, M. W. McClure was re-elected president of the League, and Paul F.
Nichols was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Committees were appointed to get everything in readiness for opening of the season on Monday,
May 2.

On Monday evening another meeting was held at the same place, at which time representatives of six organizations were present to enter teams in the League. Teams entered are St. Mary's, Methodist, St. Paul's Congregational, Masons and American League.

For the opening game on May 2, the Methodist team will oppose the League. The second game will be played on Tuesday, May 3, with the Masons and St. Paul's participating.
On Thursday evening of the same week St. Mary's and Congregational will play. Regular games will be scheduled on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday of each week, postponed games to be played on Friday nights.

Funds necessary for the rental of Holmes Field will be provided by the village council through action taken Monday night. An effort to raise enough money to purchase balls and for other necessary expenses will be made through promotion of a public dance at the public school auditorium within the next few weeks, the date to be announced next week.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL
ASSOCIATIONAlready Talk Of Adjourning Session

Lansing, Mich., April 20.—By the end of another week, possibly before the special session of the legislature called by Governor Brucker is going to provide them the taxation relief so badly needed. Up to the present time the only measures that have been passed and placed before the governor for his signature providing for reduction in state expenses are the bills that cut the appropriations provided for Michigan's two great educational institutions, the Michigan State College and the University of Michigan. So far there has been no effort made to curtail in any form the expenses of other state educational institutions.

The greatest difficulty, and a problem that a leaderless state legislature is trying to solve, is the division of the weight tax money. Six times Governor Brucker has recalled his measure dealing with this subject in an effort to have it meet some of the demands that are coming from many of the hard-pressed counties. The measure at the last end of last week came out of the senate committee without recommendations of any kind and amended in many important provisions.

One of the amendments provides that Covert and other mandatory county obligations be met first by the counties out of the money that may possibly be returned to the counties from that portion of the weight tax that this new legislation proposes to return to the counties.

Underneath the entire consideration of this question lies the demand of road builders for no interruption of the road building program in Michigan. A determined effort is being made to retain as much money as possible in both state and county funds for highway construction purposes. Talk of a recess in road building is unpopular among most of the legislative group from the northern part of the state.

The legislature defeated a measure which had for its object a slight reduction in the pay of the members, but it is giving consideration to another bill which provides a very substantial reduction. Any change in the pay of the legislature must come from a direct vote of the people on a constitutional amendment.

With many amendments attached which materially change it, the administration bill providing for the creation of a commission to fix salaries of state employees in the various governmental branches is on its way to legislative approval. The bill as it appeared in the house provided for the creation of one or two new jobs for secretaries and clerks. Representative Vern Brown, of Ingham county, saw to it that the bill did not provide the new jobs it intended. He had the measure amended so that the clerk of the house or the senate shall do the secretarial work of this commission without additional compensation. This one amendment will save the taxpayers the salaries of two or three persons, possibly more.

It has been nearly one month since the legislature was called into session. There is talk of adjournment next week or the week after. Some members say it will be much longer than that before they can hope to get any really beneficial legislation enacted. The taxpayers will not know until the week of the legislature is entirely finished whether there is to be any substantial benefit coming from it. Meanwhile there seems to be a general tendency not to pass judgment upon the question of whether the special legislative session has been a success or a failure.

HOWELL.—Bird L. Hight was pleasantly surprised Monday morning to learn that he had been recommended for the position of postmaster at Howell by Hon. Seymour H. Person, Congressman from this district. Mr. Hight was born in the township of Cohasset, about two miles from the family residence of Mr. Person, and was a member of the same school district. The Hight family moved to Howell in 1908. (Republican Press.)

Less Taxes?—The Test!

An earlier generation of Americans made war in defense of the principle that "taxation without representation is tyranny." In our own times it is a question whether we are not oppressed as much by the representation as by taxation. For it is increasingly apparent that every government activity has its special pleaders. Let abolition or curtailment be urged, and immediately, a horde of ingenious advocates becomes vocal and epistolary. To these patriots the "status quo" is paramount. Whatever scale of government activity and expenditure is in effect must be regarded as untouchable and inviolate.

What this resistant state-of-mind signifies in the national bookkeeping is now becoming ominously clear. Today, one dollar out of each five dollars we earn goes to the 260,000-tax-gathering and tax-expenditure agencies we have set up in this democracy. From eighteen to twenty million of our citizens are now dependent upon tax pay rolls for their support.

When one-fifth of a nation's income goes for governmental activities, most of which are non-productive—the breaking point is at hand.

The Federal Government is on the road to bankruptcy. Its expenses such as 7 million dollars more than its income. Despite this, headlong pace of outgo, groups here and there are urging more appropriations for this and that, demanding more activities on the part of city, county, state and the Federal Government, while delinquent tax sales mount and cities and states are unable to pay their school teachers.

"Let Government do less" has become the national slogan of thoughtless, indifferent Americans.

If they would only take stock of the state and the nation, they would quickly see that the people of the United States are facing an economic paradox. For it is a matter of record that, while business firms, factories, and individuals are paying their taxes to the government in order to make money, the cost of government continues to mount. The anomaly of that situation is plain enough. Money for the support of government comes directly or indirectly from the incomes of the people. All the legislative sleight-of-hand, all the political mumbo-jumbo in the world cannot get around that solid and unyielding fact. The powerful Federal Government cannot create one single thing, cannot spend a dime, it must take it away from its citizens.

Government bureaus now sympathize with our citizens in more than 250 lines of business—from agricultural marketing, manufacture of aircraft, tractors, awnings and auto license tags—on through the alphabet, in wardhousing.

Government bureaus now "serve" every activity; tell the farmer how to farm, the merchant how to sell goods, and the laborer how to think.

With twenty millions of our people now dependent upon tax pay rolls, and with bureaucracy organized with military effectiveness, the job of cutting governmental activities is no child's play.

The sooner we deflate government, the sooner normal living and working conditions for all of us will return. To bring this about, each citizen should insist that his representative cut existing expenses, and he should uphold his representative when he votes against increasing expenditures at this time.

We should understand that, simply because something should be done, is no reason why the government should do it, and that the only way to reduce taxes is to reduce activities.

The man, the corporation, the business association, the trade organization, which asks for tax reduction and then runs to Congress pleading to have restored to the budget an item which provides for an activity hitting near home, is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils.

"The true test of patriotism is not alone found in the battle field; it is to be found no less in the pocket, the purse, the bank account, the stock market."—Merle Thompson, in "The Nation's Business."

Science and Crime
Playing at War
What Is Education?
It's the Public's Fault

Makers of big guns and armor plate have long competed, armor plate makers trying to develop steel that no bullet can penetrate; gunmakers perfecting guns able to penetrate anything.

A similar conflict for supremacy exists now between crime and science, with crime, as yet, far ahead.

Science's latest hope is a device of tubes and coils that will photograph a burglar, sounding an alarm at the police station and sending the burglar, as well, besides turning on bright lights the moment he crosses an "invisible ray." Burglars will cut off the invisible ray. As they now cut telephone wires and poison watchdogs. The only way to discourage crime is to make it more dangerous and less profitable. Our present conditions make it highly profitable and not dangerous.

In New York, for instance, a criminal in a holding, in the absence of police, knows that he is the only armed man present. Think of that advantage.

One hundred and four surface ships, including ten battleships, have completed maneuvers off the Pacific coast, the core of the big guns cutting dishes in Pasadena, back of Los Angeles.

Two hundred aircraft were included in the mock warfare, thank heaven, and the number was two thousand if it would have been about half enough.

The public, the President, the war and navy secretaries do not get all the facts concerning war practice.

In recent mock warfare off Hawaii, twenty-five transports loaded with troops were supposed to be conveyed by ten fighting ships and attacked by an "immense" aircraft.

Obviously it was reported that, and the war been real the loss of men killed by bombardment of the transports would have been seven thousand, not a high percentage. Officers on their return told friends that had it been real war every transport would have been sunk, all on board lost and many, if not all the conveying warships would have been sunk as well.

What is education?

The mischievous notion, begins, and fifty million Americans can tell you about "the Browns, White Sox, Indians, Cardinals, Yankees, Giants, and 'Lefty' Grove, 'Long George' Kelly, Hurley, Grimes and all the others."

Of the same fifty millions, few could tell you anything about Giordano Bruno, Archimedes, Serenus, Ptolemy, Harvey, to say nothing of Thales, Pythagoras or the big three, Socrates, Plato, Aristotle.

For, in education as it may sound to "parents for the child," any one of the last-named twelve will outlive in men's memories all the baseball players and clubs.

The public learns from Mr. Whitney, head of New York's Stock exchange, that the poor, innocent bears have nothing to do with our troubles.

The public itself is responsible. It should not have gambled so wildly. That teaches the saloonkeepers' remark pointing to the fallen drunkard: "He drank it, I didn't. Why blame me?"

A spokesman for the federal reserve bank says the bank will fight "deflation" which means falling prices, by heavy buying of government securities.

Already the federal reserve has bought two hundred and fifty millions of the nation's securities, and the buying may continue until it reaches a billion.

This will give member banks a chance to change government securities for cash. If they put it in circulation, that will help. If they air it, to increase their "liquidity," that will be not so very good.

Joseph Letter of Chicago is dead. His father, a great merchant, helped, with money inherited by his beautiful daughter, Mary, to make life pleasant for the late Lord Curzon and his British descendants.

Letter, a picturesque figure, spent his life, like many other rich men's sons, fighting, gambling, developing fantastic schemes.

He planned a one million egg incubator in a Chicago office building. In his last days, Letter from a wheel chair watched his horses racing at New Orleans. If he came back, he would probably live the same life again.

He possessed great power, made use of it inherited money.

Colonel Lindbergh, swindled out of fifty thousand dollars by kidnappers, or perhaps by sharpers that successfully posed as the kidnappers, waited near a graveyard while, in the cemetery, an old man paid the money. The child was to be delivered on board a certain yacht. Colonel Lindbergh, who flew to the appointed place, and found no yacht and no child, has said, "I will not pay another penny in ransom until the child has been placed in my arms."

When the present search is ended, it is predicted by his friends, that Colonel Lindbergh will become leader of a movement to abate the present highly organized crime menace.

Department of State
WEEKLY NEWS BULLETINFrank D. Fitzgerald
Secretary of State

Lansing, Mich., Apr. 20.—Five questions are certain to be submitted to the voters of Michigan at the November election. Forms of petitions for four other proposed constitutional changes have been approved by the Department of State, but sufficient signatures have not been filed with the department as yet, to insure places on the ballot.

Three of the questions will be placed on the ballot by mandate of the 1931 legislature. Two of the questions involve changes in election laws and the third is on the subject of pardons for those convicted of first degree murder.

The oleomargarine bill adopted in 1931 and prohibiting the use of colored oleo, has been held in abeyance by the filing of referendum petitions and will be on the ballot for approval or disapproval of the voters.

The first proposal to change the constitution, instituted by petitions, calls for changes in the prohibition statutes.

New Jersey is the latest state to be willing to extend complete reciprocity to other states in laws for passenger and commercial automobiles. A bill authorizing full reciprocity has just been adopted by that state. Twenty-four other states have power to extend either complete or partial reciprocity.

All states interested in this subject are to attend a conference in Washington May 5. Michigan Department of State takes part in these conferences under authorization of a resolution adopted by the 1931 legislature, and a report is to be made to the 1932 legislature suggesting several changes whereby Michigan may reciprocate with other states in securing uniform motor vehicle registration and traffic laws.

With only a little more than one week remaining before May 1, Department of State records show that there are between 300,000 and 400,000 motorists whose old licenses expire on that date and who have not secured new automobile operators' licenses.

WHAT IS OCTANE?

We could give you a long scientific description of what Octane is, and does. We could tell you that it is "C₈H₁₈"...that it's an isomeric hydrocarbon...that the Octane rating in gasoline is the guarantee of anti-knock properties...and that Dixie Gasoline, in addition to its other features, has one of the highest Octane ratings in the industry.

But words won't tell you about performance, so here's the real way to find out what an Octane Rating means, and does: fill your tank with Dixie Gasoline, put through any test you want, just try to make it knock!

MILAN—Rev. Peter E. Soudah, who has been filling the pulpit of the Peoples church for the past few months and has gained an enviable reputation here as a pulpit speaker and pastor was last Thursday night extended a pulpit call by the members of the church to become the permanent regular pastor of the church. Arrangements are being made for his installation and ordination in the Detroit Presbytery. The action was taken at the annual meeting of the members of the congregation by a unanimous vote. —Leader.

SOUTH LYON—Work was begun this week on the new parsonage of St. John's Lutheran church at Northfield, the former parsonage and church having been burned to the ground some time ago. The house, we understand, will be of semi-bungalow style and will cost approximately $4800. It is expected to be finished in 60 to 90 days. Max Scheel of Redford is the contractor. As soon as work on this building is under way, plans will be made for erection of the new church. Both buildings will stand on the site of the burned buildings. —Herald.

STOCKBRIDGE—Howard H. Prinkel, manager of the Stockbridge baseball team, is getting things under way for a big year, calling a practice this week. Mr. Prinkel says he believes the team will be even stronger than last season and expects to see a very successful season. —Brief Sun.

PINCKNEY—Deputy Sheriff Pat Murningham, Howard Gentry and Irvin Kennedy raided the establishment of William Patterson at Silver Lake, south of Hamburg, Saturday afternoon. A large quantity of beer and whiskey was seized and Patterson was taken to the Howell jail and held on a charge of violating the prohibition law. A number of patrons who were there are reported to have hastily left for other parts on the arrival of the officers. A night's lodging in the county bastille evidently did not appeal to them. —Dispatch.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—To settle an argument, will you kindly answer in the question department of your good paper just how to pronounce "Sault Ste. Marie," a city in the northern part of Michigan?

Ans.—The pronunciation of the name of this Michigan town is taken from the French, who pronounced it "Soo Saynt May-ree." This has been slightly modified, so that it is now usually pronounced "Soo Saynt Mary."

Ques.—A certain character in Chelsea boasts that he never eats over two eggs at any meal. I have noticed that he usually orders three. Why is this?

Ans.—How do you know he is lying? If it is the character we think it is, he eats two and puts the other on his vest.

Ques.—What is meant by the word "Soviet" when we say "Soviet Russia"?

Ans.—"Soviet" is a Russian word meaning a "council of workmen, soldiers and peasants."

Ques.—Where can one go to see America's most noted ruins?

Ans.—You can see them at night clubs with their sweeties.

Ques.—Do American vessels going through the Panama Canal have to pay toll the same as other nations, or do they get a cheaper rate?

Ans.—Yes. All vessels must pay toll. This toll is on an equality for all nations, including the United States.

Ques.—In a discussion about Indians, I want to ask you how the Creek Indians were so named?

Ans.—The Creek Indians were originally known as "Munrook," an Indian word meaning "creek." They were so named because of the numerous creeks running through their original lands in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Ques.—Will you kindly answer in your paper if a woman loses her citizenship if she marries a foreigner, but continues to live in this country?

Ans.—Under the present law of the United States a marriage does not affect the citizenship of a woman.

Ques.—To settle an argument will you please answer if a spider's web is any different from a cobweb?

Ans.—Cobwebs and spider webs are one and the same, and are made by spiders. However, there are a few webs that are made by the larva of certain insects.

Ques.—I wish to ask in your question department who was the author of "The Green Mountain Boys," and when was it written?

Ans.—Daniel Pierce Thompson is the author of "The Green Mountain Boys," and was written in 1840. Mr. Thompson lived for years in Vermont and was Secretary of State in 1850.

Ques.—Who was Confucius? And what religion did he teach?

Ans.—Confucius was a Chinese sage who lived between 551 and 479 B. C. He did not teach any religion, but his teachings were based on an ethical system of moral relations and ancestor worship. The system of Confucianism teaches that the source of all true devotion and morality is filial piety. Chinese jurisprudence and education are based on the teachings of Confucius.

Ques.—How is it that cows do not sweat? Horses sweat freely, so why not cattle?

Ans.—Cattle do sweat, but their perspiration is not so noticeable as it is in the horses and some other animals. The sweat glands in cattle are completely developed in the muzzle and very slightly distributed over the body. The horse's sweat glands are profusely distributed over the body, but has none in the muzzle.

Ques.—Will you be kind enough to answer in the question column what makes cream rise to the top?

Ans.—Cream is composed of millions of minute drops of oil and fat which are lighter than water. For that reason they rise to the top. But being so small, they come up very slowly.

Ques.—What is blackberry winter and what is its origin?

Ans.—Blackberry winter is a cool spell that comes when blackberries are in bloom. Its origin is unknown.

Fat Girls! Here's A Tip For You

All over the world Kruschen salts are appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, trim figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses and does it SAFELY and HARMLESSLY.

In the morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat and "brings that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, graceful vivacity and charming figure.

But be sure for your health's sake that you get Kruschen. A bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but little. You can always get Kruschen at Barr's Corner Drug Store and money back if not satisfied with results after first bottle.

The nearer Congress gets to a balanced budget, the more we are inclined to think there's a balanced Congress.
All this talk about greater economy in government gives one the feeling that 1932 must be election year.
It looks like Mrs. Hoover will be doing her husband's sex if he gets that $74,999 salary cut he is reported to be willing to accept to help the budget.

The latest word is that legislators still have their ears close to the ground. So close that one out in Kansas got grasshoppers in them.

Now that they've found how to make diamonds, we won't need to worry so much about the tariff on them. And at $5 a carat for the home-made kind, the up-to-date farmer will edge his axe and spade with him to save turning the grindstone.
Of course you've heard about the hot weather that popped the corn in the field, and a mule, thinking it to be snow, lay down and froze to death. Well, the story is wrong. That mule didn't die. He's on a farm somewhere in New England and, according to the papers, he has been trained to walk on snow shoes. "Now, bring on your field of popped corn," says he.

Well, by ginger, they've got a new racket. It's rabbits this time. The promoters will sell you five rabbits for only $150 and in two years you'll either be over-run with money or rabbits. Ain't sure which. You pay the expenses by sellin' rabbit meat and make your profit on the hides. Sounds a lot like another skin game," says the hired man.

"I see where they sowed some wheat in Russia by airplane. I don't recollect ever seein' a crop of any kind put in from the air, but when the hoppers came last summer I seen a lot of crops harvested from the air. An' that's nothin' to joke about, either.
"Well, judgin' by the signs, there's goin' to be plenty of codling moths this year to pester the fruit crop. A fellow from town said he'd like mighty well to see one of them moths coddle."

It isn't even news any more when two cars crash and fill a hospital with injured joy-riders. But when two horse-back riders galloped into a head-on collision out in California the other day, it was big city news. Just do something old-fashioned if you want to make news.

Prof. Pickard, the European scientist who went to an altitude of 50,000 feet last summer, plans to send a balloon to 65,000 feet this summer. Which is just about as high as Secretary Mills will jump if the bonus bill passes.

HINDENBURG WINS GERMAN ELECTION. Fifteen years ago the world was madly shouting, "Break the Hindenburg line!" Today they're taking a sigh of relief, and saying, "Good old Paul, he held the line!" For those who wonder who won the war, that's something to think about.
