Educator Tells of Expansion Needs In Chelsea School

In a recent visit here, L. F. Dow, a representative from the University of Michigan Bureau of Cooperation with Educational Institutions, commented upon a matter which will soon be put to vote before Chelsea citizens—the proposed addition to the school building, providing for manual training and home economics departments. At present, students and teachers are confronted with problems of overcrowded classes in a purely academic curriculum. The existing program of study provides for very little training in subjects other than those required for college entrance. Few alternatives are offered. Apparently little thought has been given to the fact that less than 20 per cent of the high school students plan to attend college. Approximately 80 per cent are forced to earn a living in some field for which they have had no preparation other than the purely intellectual background offered in a college "prep" course. In only those subjects such as English, Physics, Biology, Algebra, Geometry, Latin, World History, American Government, American History, Economics, Civics and Speech.

The only others now offered are courses in Farm Management, Farm Crops, Animal Husbandry, Commercial Law, Bookkeeping, Typing and Shorthand—and a brief course in Vocations in which students are urged to prepare themselves for suitable work, although the necessary subjects are not yet offered.

The result is over-crowded and frequently duplicated classes in subjects which are of no immediate or actual future use to 80 per cent of the present number of high school students. Under the new plan the present study program will be broadened to include such subjects as Shop Work, Home Economics, Junior Business Training, Economic Geography, and General Science. Thus, a student may take, if he so desires, either a four year Science course, three years of Agriculture, four years of Mathematics, two years or three of Home Economics or two or three years training for shop work. From his entering years he may plan through vocational guidance for four years of training in work for which he is most fitted. Those who plan college attendance will not be hindered from continuing in a college preparatory course.

However, a new building is needed to provide for necessary room and equipment. The two new teachers necessary to carry out the proposed curriculum changes would be Smith-Hughes teachers and according to the Smith-Hughes Act approximately 75 per cent of their salaries would be paid by the state. Present conditions demand a change. To quote Mr. Dow in a letter to the Board of Education: "At present the classrooms are badly overcrowded. The proposed additions for manual training, laboratories, and home economics will appreciably decrease the enrollment in the various overcrowded classes. At the same time you will be adding courses which will more fully serve the needs of your community. I hope that the school district will see the wisdom of the plans and that you will soon be able to remedy your present hazardous health condition."

ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dumouchel, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle D. Christwell, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Maroney attended a meeting of the Second District Association of The American Legion and its Auxiliary at Adrian on Sunday.

A business session was held in the afternoon which was followed by a banquet in the Masonic Temple in the evening, at which Raymond J. Kelly, a candidate for the office of National Commander of the Legion was the principal speaker. Judge Geo. Rathbun acted as toastmaster at the banquet.

FAIR DIRECTORS ELECTED
At a meeting of the members of Chelsea Community Fair held in Kolb's hall on Monday evening, the following directors were elected: E. J. Claire, Roy Ives, Lloyd Heydlauff, Russell McLaughlin and James Hendley. These were all elected for a term of two years. Amendment was made to the by-laws to provide places on the directorate for two ladies. Mrs. Paul Schaible was elected for a two-year term, and Mrs. Warren Daniels for a one year term. Reports showed finances in excellent condition, and cooperation by the State whole-hearted and immediate.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED
Announcement is made of the marriage of Blake W. Fisher of Plymouth and Mrs. Florence Fisher, Port Huron, which took place January 14 at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. H. R. Shank, pastor of the M. E. church of Perryburg, Ohio. After a trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will reside in Plymouth. Mrs. Fisher, a former Chelsea resident, has been a teacher in the Michigan College of Beauty Culture in Port Huron the past year.

Specialists To Address Farmers' Night Classes

Four meetings on "Feeding Farm Animals" have been held at the Chelsea high school on Wednesday evenings, January 4, 11, 18 and 25, from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock. The discussions on economy feeding, classes of foods and uses to the body, properties of feeds, feed language, and requirements have been led by Roy Wallis, agricultural instructor. An average of twenty-five members have been present at each meeting.

Arrangements have been made to have Michigan State College specialists present for a special meeting on "Poultry Feeding" on February 8, and "Feeding Sheep, Beef, and Horses" on February 15, at the same hour. It is hoped that additional farmers will take this opportunity for gaining practical knowledge of their problems and attend the sessions.

The next session will be on Wednesday evening, February 1, from 8:00 to 10:00, at which time the subject of "Comparative Prices of Feeds" will be analyzed.

Local Boxers Display Talents In Tournament

(By George Woodward, Cassidy Lake Tech School)

Entrants in the Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament from Chelsea and Cassidy Lake Tech displayed their talents as ring pugilists with zest at Jackson last Thursday night. Cassidy Lake and Chelsea combined forces and really showed opponents many worrying moments. Out of the twelve boys entered, ten were from Cassidy and two from Chelsea. Four won their fights on decisions, and one on a knockout. Good sportsmanship was the keynote of all the bouts, win or lose. They all took their medicine without a squabble. The boys were in good condition, as the result of weeks of training, under the direction of Morrey Hoffman, local boxing enthusiast, and George Hansen, director of athletics at Cassidy Lake. All the bouts were marked with slugging sessions galore. The lads really went out to win.

In the first bout Whitey Griffin, a lad from Cassidy, put up a great fight in a slugfest which ended with the decision in favor of his opponent. The second bout was very much the same, although in different weights.

Otto Urdla, Cassidy boy, slugged it out with Tuttle of Jackson, but lost the decision on points. The third bout ended with Dewey, Cassidy, on the receiving end of another hard fought decision, although he tried gamely. The only boy from Cassidy who failed to live up to expectations was Jack Erskine, who lost on a technical K. O. in the first round to Leonard White, a colored lad. Montgomery, fighting out of Chelsea, tried hard for a knockout, but was outclassed by his opponent when he also lost on a technical K. O. in the second round. The most promising of the younger crop at Cassidy is young "Corporal" Sylvester, 105 pounds, who looked in great form, taking an unanimous decision from Barker, 112 lbs., from Jackson.

The seventh bout ended in another technical K. O. of Bob Kotyuk, Cassidy, kayoed by Simmons, colored fighter. Other promising fighters were Ralph Leathberry, Cassidy, and Walt Savage, Chelsea. Both won close decisions in hard fought battles. Cox, another Cassidy boy, was a decision victim when he lost to Fay Greene, Jackson. This fight was another slugfest.

The last two representatives to fight for Cassidy were Carl Demorey, welterweight, who outfought and outclassed Bert, when the latter tired in the closing rounds. Bob Anderson, 135 pounds, might be called the hero of the night as far as Cassidy is concerned, being responsible for the only Cassidy knockout, his opponent being H. Kelly, a tough customer.

The winners of last Thursday's bouts will fight again Thursday, Jan. 28. The boys are all determined to step ahead in quest of the Jackson championship in their respective weights.

All in all, it was a successful evening as far as showings were concerned. Every last one of the fighters did his best, win or lose. A great deal of credit should be given the boys for their aggressiveness, stamina and courage. The best of luck, you fighters!

AUXILIARY SPONSORS COURSE
The American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring a nine weeks' course in "Child Development", which will be given by Mrs. E. W. Mallory of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Mallory is a well known social worker and authority on child behavior problems and was formerly attached to the University hospital in Ann Arbor and has recently been appointed field worker in a new parent education program.

This course will begin on Friday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock in room 14 in the high school building. If there are any persons unable to attend the opening of this course owing to a conflicting engagement they may call Mrs. E. W. Eaton for further arrangements on enrollment.

Republicans Want To Woo Favor of "Forgotten Man"

Lansing—A group of liberal Republican legislators, among whom is Senator Harold Little of Lansing, is determined to woo back the favor of the "forgotten man" in Michigan. Too long has the Republican party, they aver, been associated with industrialists and "big business" in general.

Restored to power at Lansing, the party has an opportunity to demonstrate its friendship with the working man as well as the farmer, so the liberals declare. Among the bills favored are those to outlaw deficiency judgments after property has been repossessed and to protect the worker from stringent garnishment of his wages. Governor Fitzgerald has been making overtures to organized labor to appease leaders as to restrictions in the proposed labor relations act.

This all augurs well. As Republican leaders put it, it's the "square deal" instead of the "new deal." Talk alone, however, doesn't pass bills. Friends of labor are watching these New Year's resolutions with candid skepticism.

Gunning for Van Wagoner

Certain members of the legislature are making no bones about it that they are "gunning" for Murray D. Van Wagoner, No. 1 Democrat and titular head of the state highway department.

They would like to deprive "Iat" of some of his power. Charging "politics" in management of the highway department, Republican leaders are advocating varied ways to bring about "reform": (1) Create a non-partisan state commission of non-salaried members, such as the set-up for the state conservation commission, who would appoint the

Kiwanis Speaker Tells of Trip Around World

Dr. N. E. Bates of the department of engineering at the University of Michigan gave an address on his trip around the world at the Kiwanis meeting Monday evening. Not a typical globe-trotter talk, it dealt with personal experiences encountered on a more or less forced tour of the world.

When Dr. Bates received his degree from the university, he accepted a position in a college in northern China, only to learn when half-way across the Pacific that war had developed between China and Japan. On arriving at Shanghai he found himself in the midst of the early bombings of that city. In the first, 1200 persons were killed and in the second, some 500. Bodies of the victims were carted along the streets in great trucks, thrown upon empty lots and covered with lime.

After two weeks he was able to leave Shanghai for Hong-Kong where he narrowly missed one of the worst typhoons in history. The day before his arrival in Manila, it experienced a very severe earthquake. For a year he taught in the Philippines, traveling when he could, and finally returned home by way of Singapore, Bombay, Aden, Ethiopia, through Europe into England.

Dr. Bates leaves within a week to take a teaching position at Lehigh University where he enters the department of mechanical engineering.

24 YEARS AGO

Thursday, January 28, 1915

Robert Foster was pleasantly surprised on Monday afternoon when 27 relatives and friends arrived to help him celebrate his 90th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Laros and family, who have been spending the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hinderer, have moved to Flint.

Miss Mary Smith, who on Sunday, January 31, will complete 30 years as a teacher in the Congregational Sunday school, will entertain her class at her home on Friday evening. The class consists of about 60 members.

Miss Katherine Kappler, a former well known resident of Sharon township, died in Jackson on Thursday, January 21.

John Kimer spent several days of this week in Chicago. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. W. O. Cairns, who is enroute to her home in Montrose, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Skidmore have moved from their farm in Lyndon township to Stockbridge, where Mr. Skidmore is engaged in the ice business.

34 YEARS AGO

Thursday, January 26, 1905

Reno Hoppe of Spokane, Wash., who has been spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoppe of Sylvan, will return to his home this week.

A sleighload of North Lakers went to Marion recently to attend a social at the home of R. Glenn. They arrived home the following day. Got lost on the way. Some were sad and some were gay—the girls don't care and the boys had the bills to pay. George E. Marshall has sold his farm in Lyndon township to Charles Doody.

J. M. Woods, who moved to Detroit last week, advertised in the papers of that city on Thursday, the loss of his greyhound, "Guess."

Edwin G. Gross of Lima has been appointed clerk of that township, to fill the unexpired term of County Treasurer Luick, who resigned the position when he assumed his duties as a county official.

Clayton Schenk, of this place, who is attending the U. of M., is making a fine record in the athletic field as a sprinter. In the 40-yard dash at the indoor meets he is showing record breaking work.

"The Minister's Son", a four act drama, will be given at the opera house on Friday evening for the benefit of the Cardinals. Members of the cast are: A. L. Steger, Ethel Cole, Floyd Ward, Edith Boyd, Warren Boyd, L. Buchanan, Karl Vogel, Ethel Bacon, Fred Godding.

News.

DEXTER—Paul Curlett, editor of the Pinckney Dispatch, was doing some research work in Dexter on Tuesday. His errand recalled an incident which occurred in the winter of 1860. At that time a stage coach operated between Dexter and Pinckney and was generally driven by a man called "Grandy". For some unknown reason, this particular day a driver named Walter Pebbles was driving. The weather was bitter cold and it was learned afterward that he made one stop between here and Pinckney to get warm. In due time the coach and horses pulled up in front of the Pinckney Hotel run by J. W. Hinchey, and stopped; but strange to say the driver did not climb down from the seat. Upon investigation it was found he was frozen to death. In bad weather it took four hours or more to make the trip.—Leader.

er it took four hours or more to make the trip.—Leader.

MASON—One of the biggest mortgages in the United States was sent to the Ingham county register's office this week. The mortgage was given by Armour &amp; Co. in 1923 to secure a loan of $177,234.25 from the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank and the Chase National bank of New York. It covers buildings and other real property in many states. It was originally recorded in 32 states and in four counties in Michigan. Attorneys for the company ruled that because the company has a warehouse in Lansing that the mortgage must be recorded here. The mortgage is in book form and contains 256 pages. The fee for recording is $154.80. Ethel L. Phillips, register of deeds, pointed out that it would have taken weeks to have recorded the mortgage under the hand-copied system. By use of the photostat the recording can be quickly and profitably done.—County News.

JACKSON—The grandstand at the fair grounds on Ganson St. caught fire from a mysterious source recently and caused several hundred dollars damage. Fire department officials were of the opinion that the fire was started by tramps, who were using the building as a shelter. The fire may have been caused by smoking or by a fire built for heating purposes.—Evening Star.

commissioner; (2) Compel the department to live within its own revenues and not ask legislative authorization for matching appropriations from the state's general fund; (3) Require the department to provide highway illumination on state routes through towns and villages, free ferry service at the Straits, and so on.

If Van Wagoner were a Republican, we doubt if legislators would be so zealous. As it is, 1939 is "open season" for the highway leader.

20 Million Deficit?

In view of an official finding, the deficiency in the state treasury is somewhat of an unknown amount. State Treasurer Miller Dunckel, like Mother Hubbard, has found some of the cupboard's bare of cash.

Last summer, just before the primaries, the legislature signed a blank check for $10,000,000 to provide welfare relief. We understand from reliable sources that the state deficit will be closer to $20,000,000 than $10,000,000 after all items are considered. With this financial handicap, Governor Fitzgerald has impressed everyone by his grim determination to effect needed economies. At present there are six budget examiners on the payroll at salaries ranging from $8,600 to $5,800. The budget director gets $7,500; the superintendent of construction, $5,000, and the director of the board of pharmacy, $5,000. Fitzgerald is ready to wield a vigorous axe on what he terms "high salaries" at the very time when deserting Republicans are swarming the governor's executive offices pleading for jobs.

Liquor Again

Getting the "state out of the liquor business", one of the governor's recommendations, will not be easy to accomplish.

Members of the legislature are not in accord on proposed eliminations of state retail liquor stores. Furthermore, evidence is available that local control as a cure for liquor evils isn't a sure thing so long as local officials look upon liquor licenses as a source of operating revenue. As long as most of the license money stays in the community, many city officials are prone to approve any applicant for a liquor license.

At present, the state buys liquor at wholesale, sells it at retail, and otherwise controls the business.

Fitzgerald advocates a return to the private buyer and private retailer with the state acting as a warehouse agent for collection of a liquor tax. The governor puts it this way: "The state should enforce the law and collect the tax, but that is all."

Advocates of the state store system maintain that control is easiest to effect when the state has full responsibility. Otherwise, greed for profits will result in ruinous price-cutting and flagrant law violations, they say.

The legislature is not likely to rush Michigan back to the days of competitive liquor selling. If any action is taken in 1939, it will be after full deliberation of the pros and cons of this problem which is as old as civilization itself. That much is certain.

All major facilities on the campus of Michigan State College are in readiness for the 24th annual Farmers' Week, January 30 to February 3 as agricultural departments of the college complete details in their plans.

No major phase of agriculture in Michigan will be neglected in the program. From horse pulling contests to the lighter touch of the feet of clog dancers in an entertainment skit, the five days of education and amusement are filled with scheduled events.

In 1938 the event drew an estimated total attendance of more than 50,000 rural persons from all sections of the state.

The 1939 program depends largely now upon the weather man, says E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture and general chairman for the week, and R. W. Tenny, short course director.

For the men, the meat of the program will center around latest scientific knowledge in engineering, poultry, horticulture, soils, farm crops, animal husbandry, dairying, conservation, forestry, economics, farm management and entomology.

For the women there will be opportunity to watch a co-ed style review, hear talks and see demonstrations in food, clothing, psychology, home furnishings and home management.

Wednesday and Thursday evenings some of the lighter sides of the week will occur when Demonstration Hall will see a succession of events beginning with a concert by the college military band and terminating each evening with the horse pulling competitions.

'Coals to Newcastle' Is Used in Many Languages

Newcastle, England, is located in the center of a great coal producing region. In fact there are two cities in England, by that name, both in coal-producing areas. But the expression "carrying coals to Newcastle" refers to the more populous Newcastle-upon-Tyne, which began to export coal as early as the Thirteenth century. Since Newcastle is in the coal-producing country, it would be unnecessary to carry coal there. Hence, "carrying coal to Newcastle" means to do something that is superfluous; to supply a need already well supplied, and by extension, to throw away one's labor.

The expression is of Seventeenth century origin, or perhaps older. But similar proverbs exist in many languages. There is one in French about "carrying water to the river."

Ancient Greece has one about taking owls to Athens—Athenian coins being stamped with the owl, an Oriental poet speaks of "importing pepper into Hindustan," and the Romans expressed the same idea in "carrying wood to the forest."

Buckingham Palace Built in 1825

Buckingham palace, the London residence of Britain's king, was built in 1825 at a cost of nearly $5,000,000.

Cosmetics Heavily Taxed

When women buy powder, according to the National Consumers Tax Commission, they are paying part of the hidden tax bill on cosmetics of $8,115,000.

How Crown Jewels Were Saved

According to an account written by Sir Walter Scott, 1819, the crown jewels of Scotland in 1852 were preserved from the English by the clever scheme of a Mrs. Granger and Lady Ogilvie, wife of the governor of the castle, where they were then stored.

Mrs. Granger passed through the English lines with an attendant carrying in her lap the crown wrapped up in a bundle of clothes. Her servant carried, apparently, a bundle of flax for her spinning, which actually contained the scepter and the sword. The English permitted the passage through the lines on representation that the women were to visit a relative.

For many years the jewels lay where they were buried, but were removed to Edinburgh castle in 1707.

BOXERS FROM NYA PROJECT
ENTERED IN GOLDEN GLOVES

When the bell rings to herald the start of Ann Arbor's Golden Gloves Tournament, Jan. 31 to Feb. 3, sixteen boxers from the Resident Work Project of the National Youth Administration at Cassidy Lake will be in there punching.

Cassidy Lake is the site of the NYA's greatest project in Michigan—one of the nation's 14 major regional work centers. Over 160 unemployed young men, 18 to 21 years old, from all parts of the state live here and are given valuable work experience in various trades, from sheet-metal work to auto-mechanics, to equip them for jobs in private industry. Boxing has long been one of the main features of the recreational program here and the 16 leatherpushers entered in the Golden Gloves are the cream of scores of boxers in the project.

These youngsters are starting on the path that such clark luminaries as Joe Louis, Dave Clark, Bob Pastor and Barney Boss have trod, and include five featherweights, four welterweights, a single flyweight. The middleweight, light-heavy and bantam divisions have two entrants each. The names, weights and home towns of the fighters are:

First Great American Painters
The first group of American painters consisted of Copley (1737-1815), West (1730-1820), Trumbull (1737-1843), and Stuart (1755-1828). All were at first self-taught and later studied in England. West became one of the founders of the Royal academy and subsequently its second president.

Wood of Old Ships Useful
No electric signs but ancient figureheads from the prows of ships hang before the offices of a famous London firm. The company specializes in breaking up old vessels, the figureheads from these having made its offices a familiar landmark for travelers. Because the wood of old ships is well seasoned and colored, it is in demand for many purposes. Some of the timbers which once sailed the seven seas end up as wine-coolers, others as garden furniture to be set among English daffodils.

How Alloys Are Produced
Alloys are produced by combining two or more metals, usually by melting them together. The combination of different metals may be made to increase specific chemical or mechanical properties or to create properties not possessed by any of the constituents. Steel is an alloy of iron and carbon. Copper and zinc are alloyed to make brass. Nickel silver is a combination of copper, nickel, and zinc, and bronze is an alloy of copper, zinc, and tin.

What's This! A Shadow?

It's not necessarily a shadow, because this groundhog posed for his picture. Tradition says that the groundhog emerges from winter hibernation on February 2, and that we're in for six more weeks of coldish weather if he sees his shadow.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Can the United States deport a foreigner that has been naturalized here if he commits a felony?

Ans.—No. As he is a citizen of the United States he is not subject to the immigration laws. However, he can be punished for a felony if convicted.

Ques.—In an argument one party said there are animals that lay eggs like birds and other fowls; the other fellow said there are no such animals. Who is right?

Ans.—Both are wrong. Because the first party used the plural for "animal", and the second party said there were none. The fact is, there is just one known species of animal that lays eggs—the duck-billed platypus, a curious creature found only in Australia.

Ques.—A number of years ago there was a common expression "Let George do it." What does it mean, and when and where did it originate?

Ans.—This slang expression originated in France in the 15th century. In French the expression is "Laissez faire a Georges." It had satirical reference to the many activities of Cardinal Georges, prime minister to Louis XII. It was translated into English and meant "Let George do it." It was adopted in America without any comprehension of its original meaning, and was more or less a meaningless wisecrack.

Ques.—How is the name of the prime minister of France correctly pronounced—that is "Deladier"?

Ans.—The name of the prime minister of France is correctly pronounced as though it was spelled Delad-i-a. The "i" is silent.

Ques.—What causes a mirage of water in the desert?

Ans.—It is not water that is seen in a mirage. The layer of air next to the ground gets heated, usually because the sun overheats the ground, and this heats the air next to it. This hot layer of air bends back the rays of light just as though it were a mirror. So it reflects the light of the sky as a water surface would.

Ques.—What is the oldest mummy ever found?

Ans.—The oldest mummy ever found as the handiwork of man is approximately 5,000 years old. However, a nature-mummified animal was dug up in Wyoming which scientists agreed is about 200,000 years old. The body of the monster beast was evidently dried out by the sun before it was buried in the clay. When this huge animal was found the skin was still preserved, and there were signs of the muscles and the tendons.

Ques.—Can you tell me where the Washington elm is and what it is noted for?

Ans.—The Washington elm was a large tree near the common northwest of Cambridge, Mass. It was under this tree that Washington took command of the Continental army on July 3, 1775. From that time the tree was sacredly preserved and protected. It began to decay and finally fell in 1923.

'Dog Days' Originated in Egypt
The period known as "dog days" has been known as such since the beginning of history and probably originated in Egypt when the dog was worshiped as a god. The Egyptians watched each year for the coming of an unusually bright, white star, much more luminous than any other. It heralded the flooding of the Nile river after which came bounteous harvests. It never failed. Each year it appeared at the proper time, bringing much happiness with its prophecy of plenty for the year to come. Because of its faithfulness they named it the "dog star" (Sirius), known to astronomers as "Canis Majoris" undoubtedly a tribute to the dog and a compliment to the star.

Wild Boy of Hanover, an

Animal-Like Human Being
In the year 1725 Peter the Wild Boy, as he came to be known, was found in a wood 25 miles from Hanover, relates a writer in London Answers magazine. He was thought to be about 13 years old, walked on his hands and feet, lived mainly in trees, which he could climb like a monkey, fed upon grass and moss, and was totally devoid of speech.

In the following year he was brought to England and exhibited to King George I, who had him placed in the keeping of a farmer near London, and allowed him a pension. Peter never learned to articulate more than a few words, and expressed his sensations by various animal-like noises, neighing like a horse when pleased.

His senses were much more acute than those of a civilized man, and he was credited with being able to understand the language of birds and beasts. He aroused much interest among medical and learned men of the time. Peter died in 1755.

WAY BACK WHEN

WALT DISNEY WAS A MAIL CARRIER

WHAT are the secret ambitions of those who serve us, particularly those whose occupations are mechanical or lonesome enough to allow their minds to drift often into the realms of fantasy?

Walt Disney is an example. Born in Chicago in 1901, his first job was as a mail carrier there, at the age of sixteen. As a little boy he liked to draw, and he liked to draw animals; but the famous creator of Mickey Mouse had to make a living delivering mail. He had no chance to express his creative genius until after the World war, when he obtained a job as a commercial artist in Kansas City. In his garage, he experimented with animated newsreels called "Local Happenings," which he sold to Kansas City moving picture theaters. He followed these with a series of fairy tales for local clubs and church gatherings.

This modest success prompted him to try Hollywood, where he started in an unpretentious little building far from the big studios. There he created "Oswald, the Rabbit," but after making 26 subjects, he and his backer separated. The backer owned the rights to "Oswald, the Rabbit," which is still being shown in the theaters, and Disney was left without his most promising character. Out of this adversity was born "Mickey Mouse" and the "Silly Symphonies."

Today, Walt Disney employs a staff of artists to draw his characters but he is, himself, the voice of Mickey Mouse. And his famous little character is the most beloved and the most commercialized of all creations of the fantasy.
