Legion Carnival Dates

Set For June 27-28-29

Arrangements are nearing completion for the fifth annual American Legion Carnival, which will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 27, 28 and 29.

The carnival will be held on the lot, corner of West Middle and Wilkinson streets, as has been customary for the past few years. Members of the Legion state that they have found that this location works out much more satisfactorily than on the village streets due to the handicap in parking facilities.

Announcement is made by the carnival chairman that the local Legion Post is most fortunate in obtaining as a free act a troupe which has travelled over the entire United States as well as having been an outstanding attraction at the World's Fair in 1937 at Nagoya, Japan, and in 1938 at the Congress of Dare Devils at Playland, New York. The act is novel in every sense of the word and is called "Los Aeros". As the name implies, aerial airplane swings are used. The three members of the "Los Aeros" perform daring gymnastic feats on a device that appears to be an airplane and all stunts are done while the plane is "on the fly". As a climax to the act a girl on the whirling propeller becomes only a blur of light and a couple on ropes at each wing tip are flying straight out from the revolving ship. Very recently this act has appeared in Atlanta, Georgia, Montgomery, Alabama, Buckeye Lake, Ohio and the Flint Amusement Park in Flint, Mich. The act will be one of the free attractions at the carnival and will be staged each evening on the dates above mentioned.

The regular assortment of concessions and rides, including a ferris wheel, tilt-a-whirl, merry-go-round and a kiddies' ride will make up a part of the many features offered for the entertainment of the public.

TWILIGHT GALA GAME TONIGHT

Starting promptly at 6:30 this evening, Spaulding Chevrolet and Hi-Speed, the leading teams of the Twilight League, will battle it out for first place. The game will be officially opened to the strains of "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," played by the Cassidy Lake Band, while the first ball of the evening will be pitched by the Village President, "Speedball" AT Mayer, who will be supported behind the plate by "Mack" McClure of the Chelsea Standard. Two NYA Ball Leagues Formed In Washtenaw Plans are being completed for the organization of NYA baseball leagues in Washtenaw county for boys between the ages of 14 and 18 years. There are a large number of these leagues organized in the state, most of them being organized on a county basis. However, in Washtenaw county there were so many teams entered that it was decided to divide the county into two leagues, an East League and West League. The West League will consist of teams from Pinckney, Dexter, Chelsea, Manchester, Saline, and one team from Ann Arbor. The games are to be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6:00 p. m., the first game to be on Tuesday, June 18.

The schedule for next week will be as follows:

Tuesday, June 18—Chelsea at Dexter.

Thursday, June 20—Manchester at Chelsea.

The National Youth Administration is responsible for the organization of these leagues, providing regional organization and helping each team by sending three young men to assist in the program. The regional organizer for this area is L. W. Olds of Ypsilanti, and the president of the West League in this county is Mr. Blickey of Dexter.

The Chelsea team will be sponsored by local business men interested in the team and will be under the supervision of A. C. Johnson. Any boys between the ages of 14 and 18 who wish to participate in these games should see Mr. Johnson at once.

From time to time people have remarked --
"When you buy G-E you pay for the name."
Let's get to some facts --

In 1926 a 6 cu. ft. G-E Refrigerator sold for $350.00. Today you can buy a 6 cu. ft. G-E for as low as $112.75, offering a greatly improved cabinet and unit. Yet in Chelsea, today, there are 1926, 1927 and 1928 models of G-E Refrigerators whose users have never spent one dime for service. No other make of Refrigerator can come close to this record of performance!

ONLY GENERAL ELECTRIC CAN SAY:
After carefully testing and retesting the operation and construction of all leading makes of refrigerators and analyzing over-all costs, we believe you cannot buy a refrigerator that will cost you less to own than a G-E.

Prizes Awarded for Essays On Parkway

Winning essays on the advantages of the Detroit-Huron-Clinton Park and Parkway Project were written by Carolyn Kalmbach and Eunice Schweinfurth in the contest conducted in the local high school. Prizes were awarded the winners by the Chelsea State Bank.

First prize was won by Miss Kalmbach with the following essay:
What the Detroit-Huron-Clinton Park and Parkway Project Would Mean to Southeastern Michigan

Recreation is vitally necessary to the health and welfare of any country. It is the spark that keeps the engine of life in operation. Therefore, it is essential that we have recreational facilities. Michigan has glorious prospects. "If we seek a beautiful peninsula, look about you." Why not develop these natural prospects? That is exactly what the Detroit-Huron-Clinton Parkway Project is trying to do.

The Parkway plan provides for development of recreational facilities for five southeastern Michigan counties—Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, and Washtenaw. Its ultimate goal is to provide recreational facilities for the great Metropolitan area of Detroit.

It has a crying need for additional playground facilities. Why not make these five counties into one huge playground for the use of the people of Detroit and its suburbs?

The beautiful Huron and Clinton River valleys are ideally suited to recreation. They inclose Detroit in approximately a 30 mile radius. The plan is to form a scenic parkway around this 30 mile radius, and have this as the connecting link between hundreds of parks, playgrounds, bathing beaches, hostels and other recreational facilities.

These would all be connected with Detroit by new modern highways built overground to insure speedy and efficient access to them.

The cost of the Parkway would be very low, in fact, negligible, in comparison to the increased tourist money that would be spent in this area. Similar projects have worked successfully and prove that it can be done.

The project would require a minimum of artificial construction. For example, note the splendid natural opportunities, in the form of hundreds of scenic lakes, scattered throughout Washtenaw and Livingston counties. Detroit itself borders upon the Detroit River, an excellent prospect for bathing beaches and riverside parks.

The Parkway Playground plan has a host of benefits. That projects of this kind have benefits is proved by similar projects elsewhere. The Parkway plan would result in greater employment of people to construct new overland highways, to lay out and landscape new parks and playgrounds, to provide a source of equipment needed for these various jobs.

Detroit's most prominent industry—automobiles, would be benefited greatly. Under the project, many new highways and scenic drives would be constructed. New highways and more highways call for more automobiles. People who had never owned automobiles could not resist the urge to buy one and move out into the great out-of-doors.

One of Michigan's greatest industries is her tourist industry. This is an essential part of our revenue, and we must exert every effort to continue this source of revenue. The project would be an accomplishment to this end. New recreational facilities would attract great numbers of people to our area, to enjoy the opportunities for play.

More space to play would result in a lower medical bill. It is a known fact that the average per capita medical bill of a city is higher than that of rural districts. This is undoubtedly due to the fresh, invigorating atmosphere of the country.

If the Parkway project were carried out, the benefits of the great out-of-doors would be available to a greater number of people.

A vote for the Parkway-Playground Project would also mean increased land values for Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Oakland and Macomb counties. Nearby recreational facilities would supplement the value of any piece of property.

Children, especially, would be benefited by increased play facilities. Necessary playgrounds are sadly lacking in most large cities, although play is essential to child development.

Juvenile delinquency is a great problem in many communities. If opportunities were given for clean, wholesome play, our juveniles would not have time nor desire for unwholesome activities.

In view of all these striking benefits, I think the Parkway-Playground Project would make southeastern Michigan into one great playground, with fun and enjoyment for all.

Miss Schweinfurth was awarded second prize for the following essay:
The Detroit-Huron-Clinton Park and Parkway Project

The Detroit-Huron-Clinton Park and Parkway Project is a plan for the developing of different recreational facilities in Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Oakland and Macomb counties, especially along the Huron, Clinton, and Detroit Rivers and also along Lake St. Clair.

The idea was started in 1937 with the Huron River Improvement Committee, which changed into the Committee of Seven, and finally resulted in the committee now functioning, the Huron-Clinton Parkway Committee, with Harry B. Earhart as leader. At the last session of Congress, the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Act was passed which gives authority to the five counties to develop a recreational system.

Under this plan parks, picnic grounds, hiking trails, bathing beaches, overnight cabins, youth hostels, bridge paths, wildlife sanctuaries, and nature museums will be established in these five counties.

At the election in November 1940, the people of Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Oakland and Macomb counties will vote for or against the Detroit-Huron-Clinton Park and Parkway Plan. If the majority of the people of two or more adjacent counties vote for it, the project will start in those counties. If others vote in favor of it at a later date, it will then be started there.

In southeastern Michigan the people have only about twenty per cent of the needed recreational grounds and facilities in order to be up to the United States' standard. Even New York, with its millions of people, has a higher standard than this.

Another result of this project will be decreased traffic problems and automobile accidents, because parkways will be built which will pass over or under the existing highways, so intersections and traffic lights will be done away with as much as possible.

Michigan has the largest tourist business in the United States, but most of it goes to Northern and Western Michigan, rather than to this part. With new and improved facilities to entertain them, more people will visit Southeastern Michigan, bringing more money into this part of the state. More tourists will also help to cut the overproduction of farm products in this area.

The proposed project will give work to many men, while the constructing of parks and playgrounds is going on, and Michigan's unemployment problem will be decreased.

Because of the shorter working day, people have more time for recreation. If they are given better ways to spend this time, it will be more profitable to them, and improve their health. It will also cut the crime and destruction in this part of Michigan.

The school children, especially those from the cities, will have more opportunity to play in fresh air and sunshine. They will be happier and healthier children, and grow to be better citizens.

Better roads, beautiful scenery, and recreational facilities will tend to increase the value of the land near this project, perhaps as much as four times its value now.

The cost of this project will be very low, especially when the benefits to be derived are considered. At the most in any year it is not expected to cost more than twenty-five cents per person.

All individuals are urged to consider carefully this plan, to think of the benefits that will be derived at the small cost, and to vote "Yes" in November, making better counties, and healthier citizens.

First Band Enrollees Arrive At Cassidy Lake

First enrollees in the NYA band and orchestra have arrived at the Cassidy Lake Resident Work Project, where opportunities for experience in music are being made available to 60 unemployed Michigan youth. Besides playing in the band and orchestra, these youth will receive instruction from competent instructors in the various techniques of musical composition and knowledge such as phrasing, harmony, and technique.

Interested youth between the ages of 18 and 21 inclusive who are certified with their local Michigan State Employment office are eligible for participating in this new program which will get underway as soon as the quota of 80 is filled.

In initiating this new addition to the Cassidy project, Orin W. Kaye, State NYA Administrator, stated there was a pronounced need for a project providing young musicians with an opportunity to gain experience that will increase their chances of obtaining employment in their particular field.

At the same time, he pointed out, music represents an important addition to the exploratory opportunities now being presented at the project, where 240 youth are engaged in part-time work and related training for which they are paid by the Michigan National Youth Administration. Youth receive $30 a month from the NYA for work performed, and after deductions have been made for various maintenance costs, approximately $10 remains for personal consumption. Applications for the band and orchestra are still being taken, Kaye announced.

Record Attendance At State Parks Predicted

Lansing, June 7.—Longest attendance of record is likely to be clocked in Michigan's nearly 60 state parks this summer.

Previous high was the 9,000,000 attendance mark hung up in 1937.

This is to be the summer which travel authorities have agreed, will witness the greatest expression ever of the American's urge to be on the move.

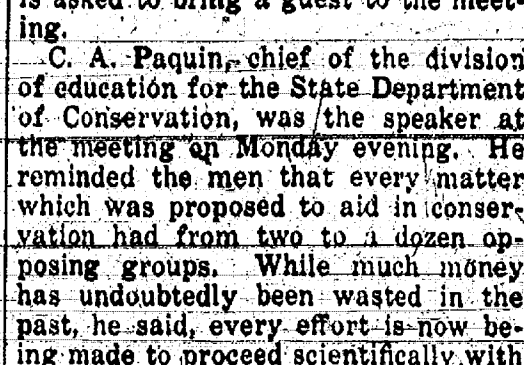

In other summers, Michigan's state parks have attracted scores of thousands of visitors from other sections of this land and from other lands.

Additional thousands may be expected to visit Michigan this summer, drawn here by the state's more than nation-wide fame as a land of lakes and forests, of shining beaches, of historical interest and of present interest.

The millions who will visit Michigan's state parks this summer will enjoy them even more than in previous seasons. A $2,000,000 program of parks improvement is fairly launched.

There are new overnight shelters for hikers in a score of parks, nature guides to show the way to tramps along wooded trails. There are great new beaches, as at Muskegon state park. There are better facilities for campers, and there are many new bathhouses.

Graduate from U. of M.
Two young men from Chelsea are among the graduates of the U. of M. Roger Hinderer will receive his Master's Degree in Business Administration and Frederick Strieter his Bachelor of Science in Metallurgical Engineering.

WORK PARTIES AT SCOUT CAMP
All Scouts and Scout Leaders are invited to spend either or both of the next two Saturdays in a jamboree and work party at the Newkirk Scout camp near Dexter.

The day's program will be in charge of Camp Chairman O. E. Roszel and Assistant Executive Harold Price. All participants in the work party are asked to bring their own tools, paint brushes, etc. and to be prepared for an excellent feed at noon with plenty of ice cold lemonade.

These two Saturday work parties will put on the finishing touches in getting the Scout camp ready for summer use.

The first week of July the camp will be used for a Cub Day camp, and the period from July 7 through August 9 for Scout camps.

Every indication is that the 1940 season will attract more boys than ever before.

Extension Groups Will Aid In State's Beauty

Efforts of nearly 30,000 women, members of home economics extension groups in 88 counties in Michigan to clean up and beautify the state, promise widespread effect according to plans already underway.

With the tourist business second only to automobiles in the state in money value, the need for making the state an attractive one for the many visitors to see, and for the stay-at-homes to enjoy, has lent impetus to the project. It will be a high crime against beauty of the landscape to dump papers, tin cans or other rubbish along the highway or for weeds to flourish uncut in dooryards or roadsides. Like charity, this clean-up and beautifying campaign begins at home and each member of the extension group is asked to look at her own home first.

The committee making the plan lists such concrete ideas as clean off the front porch; fix the fence, repair if needed; plant native trees and shrubs; fix mail box; keep the lawn mowed. Following these suggestions will cost little or no real money and the effort in cleaning up unsightly corners will reflect in every community, according to the committee.

Members who drew final plans from ideas sent from women all over the state were Mrs. E. E. Bjork of Gwin, Marquette county; Annette Wegner, Riga, Lenawee county; Estelle Brown, Mt. Pleasant, Isabella county; and Mrs. Doris Pufferberger, Eaton Rapids, Eaton county.

The community, as well as individual homes, should be included, say these enthusiastic women, who suggest that attention be given to school yards, cemeteries and parks. Playgrounds for young and older folks and publicity to make folks beauty conscious are a few of the ideas. A program of keeping cows off the road and street may sound peculiar to most people in the Lower Peninsula but was included for Upper Peninsula counties where the unfenced roadways create a menace to tourists and to flower beds alike when cattle range unhindered.

The campaign started in a number of counties when seedling trees in paper cups were favors at each place at the dinner on Achievement Day. Over 200 Scotch pine seedlings grown and potted by a 4-H Forestry club were on the dinner tables at the Kent Achievement day. Oakland, Ionia, and Washtenaw followed a similar plan while Calhoun county made their tables gay with gladiolus bulbs wrapped in colored cellophane.

Cost of Boulder Dam
Boulder dam cost approximately $70,000,000.

FLAG DAY

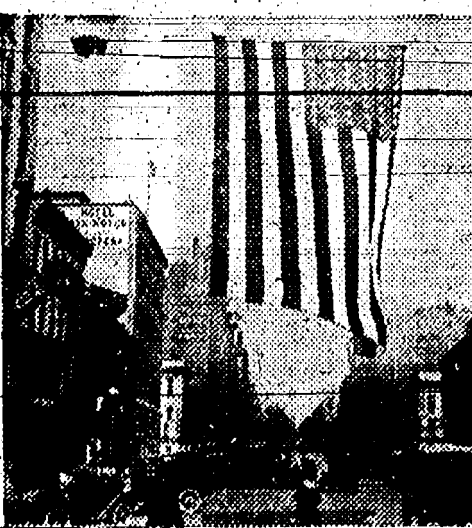

Every American should learn the etiquette of proper display and proper respect for his nation's flag. There's no better time to learn than now, when America pauses to observe Flag Day.

Whenever it is displayed, vertically or horizontally, the flag's blue field of honor should be up and left, as shown here. When a large flag is borne horizontally by a number of people, the blue field is forward and to the right.

In a parade or procession, the flag's place is on the marching right. It may be carried in the center, but should be in front of a line of other flags. It should never be placed over the hood of an automobile, nor should it be used to cover the speaker's desk or to drape the front of a platform. Bunting, with the blue stripes uppermost, serves these purposes. On a float, automobile or boat the flag should be displayed only on a staff.

Suspended above a street, the flag should hang vertically with the field to the north in an east-west thoroughfare and to the east in a north-south thoroughfare. When the flag is strung out from a window or on a pole, the field is to the front. And it should go clear to the peak of the staff unless the flag is to be displayed at half mast.

Tradition dictates that the flag should fly only from sunrise to sunset, although definite hours may be set by proper authority. Give the banner to the breeze briskly in raising it. Lower it slowly and ceremoniously. Never permit a fold to touch the ground.

ROD AND GUN CLUB MEETS
The Chelsea Rod and Gun club met Tuesday evening at the F. W. Merkel cottage, Cavanaugh lake. Moving pictures on fishing were shown by J. A. Park, following which refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed. It was voted to contribute $10 to the Red Cross for the war relief fund.

Longer Wearing Rug
The wear of a rug may be increased from 75 to 125 per cent by placing a thick resilient pad under it, say experts of the national bureau of standards.

Lansing—More money for bullets;

less for books.

That, in a nutshell, may be the 1941 legislative picture for Michigan, and pressure group lobbyists today are giving it serious thought.

While the next state administration will still be wrestling with a large deficit, currently estimated at $30,000,000, there will be no letup by numerous pressure groups in their effort to obtain more state funds.

Ever since the highway people were successful in putting over a constitutional amendment to curb juggling of highway revenues, Dr. Eugene B. Elliott and public school teachers have been looking enviously at the state treasury.

The four tourist associations have been hopeful, too, that the legislature will smile upon them next year with an increase in the tourist advertising appropriation. Nearby states are competing vigorously for Michigan's tourist business, rated in 1939 at $235,000,000. Last year the tourist managers staged a luncheon at Lansing to stress the need for more state aid.

County road commissions through their Lansing representative, Dr. Louis Webber, maintain that they are under-nourished financially and that they merit a better proportion of the tax dollar. A legislative drive will be made in 1941 to reach this objective, perhaps at the cost of highway department funds.

Federal taxes

Merit of these causes is one thing. Chance of getting more money is something else.

The Washington rush to re-arm ourselves at a staggering cost of new taxes is an unknown factor in the 1941 legislative situation.

Here, is how one legislative observer puts it: "This year's national rearmament bill has reached approximately five billion dollars and it is expected to hit the ten billion mark by 1942 and thereafter. These defense expenditures cannot be financed solely out of additional treasury deficit which is now at the federal limit of 45 billion dollars. To do so would merely invite ruinous inflation. The only alternative is more federal taxes, such as a 2 per cent manufacturers' sales tax as recommended by Senator Prentiss Brown, a member of the senate finance committee, or broadening of the federal income tax.

You recall that President Roosevelt last week called in Harold Smith, national budget director, to outline plans for a reduction in other federal expenditures.

"We are resigned to the prospect of additional taxes from Washington. The national defense crisis has changed the rules overnight. Washington merely beat us to the tax punch. The state legislature isn't going to add more burdens on Michigan taxpayers just after Congress gets through piling 'em sky high."

State Aid Trend

Since the legislature turned to the state sales tax and abolished the state property tax, local government has looked increasingly to Lansing for solution of financial problems.

In two years, from the fiscal 1938-37 to 1939-38, state aid to local governments has jumped approximately $35,000,000—a sum greater than the current state deficit.

To give you an idea of how Michigan has been spending money—and all for good and worthy causes, we hasten to add—here is how the $124,037,881 total of state aid in 1938-39 was expended:

Education $45,726,894.
Relief $35,153,015.
Roads $30,006,941.

Other grants $10,151,031.
To attempt an increase of these expenditures would be political dynamite, so the argument goes, in the face of new blitzkrieg army and navy levies which are expected to affect every pocketbook directly or indirectly. The taxpayer is likely to foot the military bill almost cheerfully, but he can be counted on balking loudly if local politicians even hint about upping state spending.

To phrase it bluntly—democracy can't fight dictatorship now with books; it will have to rely on bullets and lots of them.

Defense Problems

Europe's lessons in Hitler-style military tactics, however, may influence us to make concessions on state expenditures if they are linked directly to national defense needs.

Take for example, express highways. Since modern warfare is largely dependent upon motorized equipment, trucks and tanks, to transport men and guns not only to the battle front but into enemy ranks, at lightning speed, military roads are of paramount importance.

It may seem far-fetched at the moment, but even Winston Churchill hinted the other day that the British Empire may move its capital to Canada in the event of defeat on the continent and on the English isles. Instead of the Yanks going overseas this time to fight a war, the war may move right into our front yard—Canada!

Across the Canadian border at Detroit is Fort Wayne; at Sault Ste. Marie is Fort Brady. Military roads to Sault Ste. Marie and Detroit may be considered vital. In the Van Wagner program for highway spending in the next ten years are Detroit-to-Toledo and Detroit-to-Chicago military roads at a total cost of $177,720,000.

Also imagine trying to ferry over thousands of men and trucks at the Straits of Mackinac, and you will get a faint idea of possible transportation complications.

The European war will have a far-reaching effect on Michigan in many ways other than payrolls. These are a few possibilities which are receiving serious thought at Lansing today.

County Road Mileage Increase Is Burden

Lansing—Appearance of the 1940 vouchers ordering payment of the first half of the $4,000,000 authorized for the counties for the maintenance of township roads, streets, and alleys indicates that the pack upon the backs of the county road commissions is being weighed but no steps have been taken to increase their revenues as the load grows heavier.

Re-certification of township roads, streets and alleys in recorded plats outside incorporated villages and cities by the State Highway Department by act of the legislature has added 4,880 miles to the 62,200 miles of township road maintained by the counties. Louis Webber, executive director of the Michigan Association of Road Commissioners and Engineers, Lansing, said today, but he pointed out, there is still only the $4,000,000 to be divided among the counties.

Industrial counties below the Bay City line are benefiting by the redistribution, he said, because even though the rate per mile has dropped from $64.30 to $59.63, an increase in a county's total mileage will mean a larger apportionment. The total increase in the southern industrial group of 12 counties, including Wayne, Genesee, Oakland and Macomb, is about $90,000, or 1,500 additional miles of road, he explained, while the southern agricultural group will lose about $50,000 and the northern lower peninsula will note a decrease of about $14,000. Although the eastern Upper Peninsula counties will lose slightly, the entire group of 15 U. P. counties will gain $2,800, he stated.

Since the additional mileage brings the per mile allocation down to $59.63, it is quite obvious, Mr. Webber pointed out, that a good share of the 84,200 miles of county highways in use in the state will not receive adequate attention if the average cost of maintenance on gravelled township roads is twice the per mile allocation, or about $125. Many counties, he added, have been using their own county trunkline funds on township roads, streets and alleys to give the public better all-round service.

In addition to the 17,300 miles of county trunkline roads, the 62,200 miles of township roads and the 4,880 miles of streets and alleys just certified, the county road commissions have an obligation of 10,000 more miles of streets and alleys that they must take over if property owners adjacent show that these roads are in use at least three months of the year, he explained.

Every two years the State Highway

Department, according to the McNitt act of 1931, must re-certify the county mileage, and allocations to the county under that act, he said, must be in accordance with any increase or decrease in the number of miles of non-county trunkline road maintained by the county.

The 4,880 miles just certified represents roads in use and maintained by the county commissions since 1937, he stated, and this re-certification was agreed to by the counties before it was adopted by the highway department.

1941 License Plates
Product of Science

Michigan's 1941 automobile license plate, first in the country to be designed according to the findings of science, will sport a maroon-and-white color combination, and will be of the same size as this year's plate.

This decision was reached last week by law-enforcement officers of the state, meeting with Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly at the General Motors proving grounds near Milford. It was based on exhaustive tests made on the proving grounds by automotive experts, assisted by state police and representatives of the Department of State.

For the full-year plate, white letters will be used on a maroon background.
For the half-year edition, the combination will be reversed—maroon letters on a white background.

Visibility tests showed that the white figures on the maroon background were readable from a distance of 158.4 feet, highest rating of the numerous combinations used. The tests also revealed that a reduction in the size of the plate reduced visibility.

More than 100 police chiefs, sheriffs, state police, prosecutors, automotive officials and representatives of motoring organizations met in conference with Kelly before the decision was arrived at by the law-enforcing officers. The secretary of state reviewed the history of license plate development since he adopted the uniform numbering system one year ago.

Reporting on the benefits of the new system, Kelly said it had saved the taxpayers $60,000.00, and had done away with the ordeal suffered annually by motorists who had to wait in line, often out in the cold, to purchase plates during the rush period.
Continued progress, based on scientific research, Kelly said, should enable Michigan eventually to produce a plate that would approach the ideal both as an aid to law-enforcement and as a decorative feature of the modern, stream-lined car.

Recommendations that the names of counties be stamped on 1941 plates were taken under advisement, pending further tests.

Quiz Questions Issued
By M. S. C. Department

This is the first of a series of questions and answers typical of those being used throughout Michigan in agricultural meetings conducted by those in the extension service of Michigan State College.

1. A man has five acres of potatoes.
Which would you recommend as spray material to be used for chewing insects—arsenate of lead, Paris green, calcium arsenate or nicotine sulphate?

2. Cattle lice go to a cow's nose every day to get a drink. True or false?

3. If chickens roost where cows are stabled the cattle cannot catch lice from them. True or false?

4. Plowing alfalfa just before planting beans prevents baldheaded plants. True or false?

5. The safest satisfactory material for fumigating grain for weevils in Michigan is the propylene-dichloride mixture. True or false?

6. For outworms, we suggest poison bait; should it be used morning, noon or night?

Answers, as prepared by C. B. Dibble, extension specialist in insect control at Michigan State College:

1. Calcium arsenate.

2. False, although sometimes the sucking blue lice collect around an animal's nose as well as other places where the hair is short.

3. True. Chicken lice and cattle lice are different types.

4. False. Plowing at this time probably will aggravate the maggot situation.

5. True. Results are satisfactory without danger from explosion or fire.

6. Night, or rather, early evening.
