New Road To Connect Chelsea With US-12

In a legal advertisement in this issue of The Standard the State Highway Department is asking for bids for the construction of 0.881 mile of highway, extending from the intersection of old US-12 and South Main street to new US-12. The bids will be opened next Wednesday in Lansing.

The work will consist of grading the road, constructing the necessary drainage structures and surfacing with 21-foot stabilized aggregate 6-inch compacted, plant mix.

According to information received by The Standard in a telephone conversation with the highway department on Tuesday, the high-way connecting Chelsea with US-12 will be constructed diagonally across the piece of farm from the south end of Main street, coming into the Manchester road at the curve near the Pelemeier farm.

It was stated by the highway department that if weather permits grading will be started soon after the first of the year. However, if weather conditions are not favorable the work will be delayed until spring. It is planned to grade and surface the road bed with gravel which will be allowed to pack for a few months before the road is surfaced with asphalt.

Judge Geo. W. Sample Announces Candidacy

It was announced Tuesday that Circuit Judge George W. Sample will be a candidate for the office he now holds, at the primary election to be held on February 17, 1941.

A survey has not disclosed that there will be any other candidate for this office, and it is thought by many that Judge Sample will have no opposition.

Petitions for the nomination of Judge Sample are now in circulation among the voters. His name will appear on the non-partisan ballot provided for by the amendment, ratified at the spring election of 1939.

Judge Sample was first elected for the term beginning January 1, 1918, and during his time on the bench he has presided over much important litigation in this and other counties of the state.

His experience and ability are said by his friends to be an important asset in the performance of the duties of this office.

Petitions for nomination must be filed with the Secretary of State on or before January 13, 1941.

Vincent Ives President Of Evening Ag Class

Chelsea's evening agriculture class met on Wednesday night, December 5 and organized for the year. Vincent Ives was elected president; Joe Merkel, vice-president; and Henry Holm, secretary. It was decided to hold ten meetings.

The first of the series of meetings was held last night. John C. Donath of Michigan State College Farm Management Department talked on farm success factors which he has derived from farm records kept by farmers throughout the state and in this area.

Meetings will continue after the holidays, beginning on January 9. There will be five meetings devoted to dairying, two to poultry, one to sheep and the final meeting will be a banquet, held jointly with the Home Economics class.

Ladies' Aid and Guild Hold Joint Meeting

About 100 members and guests attended the joint-meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society and the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church, which was held Friday afternoon at their new church hall.

The meeting was in the form of a Christmas party and opened with the singing of Christmas carols. Rev. Grabowski read the Christmas story from the Scripture and offered prayer. A vocal duet, "O Holy Night," was sung by Mrs. Otto Lucht and Mrs. Oscar Lindauer.

This was followed by an impressive feature of the program, "The Quest of the Christmas Candles," a candle service in which the following took part: Mesdames Herbert Paul, Martha Weinmann, S. J. Bohnet, P. G. Schabbe, Alvin Vail, A. Hilsinger, Julius Elisele, N. H. Schmidt, J. N. Strieter, John Metzger, John Osterle, Walter Mohrlock, and Miss Cora Feldkamp.

The platform was decorated with a lighted Christmas tree and baskets of holly and evergreen were placed throughout the hall. After an exchange of Christmas gifts, each society conducted a short business session.

Plans were made for the distribution of Christmas baskets to the sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Fred Sager was received as a new member of the Ladies' Aid. Mrs. Metzger and Miss Feldkamp were appointed as auditing committee for the Women's Guild.

Mrs. Bush, of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., then gave a short talk and demonstration of the new stove which was recently installed.

A delicious lunch was served in the new dining room, with the tables decorated in Christmas greens and red napkins, and favors of red and green at each place.

The hostesses were Mrs. Wm. Beach, Mrs. N. Schmidt, Mrs. Cora Schmidt and Mrs. W. Schatz.

The Ypsilanti Junior Chamber of Commerce announces they will have the annual Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament for this district at the armory on January 8, 10 and 15.

Chairman of the bouts, Jack Starwas, coach at the Central high school in Ypsilanti, has asked that all boys interested in competing in the tournament apply for entry blanks by writing him at the Ypsilanti high school. He hopes to receive a large number of young boxers from Chelsea.

Winners of the Ypsilanti Golden Gloves will compete in the district tournament at Adrian, and from there they will go to Jackson to decide who will box in the State Championship bouts held in Grand Rapids.

The boxing show will be held in two divisions known as the novice and the open class boxing. The open class includes those boys who have had previous experience in Golden Gloves competition, while the novice division includes those who have had little experience.

Special emphasis will be used by Mr. Starwas to match boys of equal ability so that no one will fight out of his class.

Wants Stabilization

New Orleans, La., Dec. 12.—In a major address at the annual meeting of the National Association of Commissioners, Secretaries and Directors of Agriculture here today, Michigan's Commissioner of Agriculture, Elmer A. Beamer, said that the American farmer of today wants a stabilization of his farm income.

"While agriculture is the oldest industry in the world, and the most important," Beamer said, "no industry of the present or past has gone on its way with more unsolved problems than has this basic industry. The problems of tomorrow are going to be how best we can market and distribute the products of our fields and orchards.

"The problem of the future is not going to be how many acres of this or that the farmer is permitted to raise, but rather that he be encouraged to market nothing but a first class article for which he can receive the cost of production and a reasonable profit. In a great many cases the surplus represents that portion of the crop which should never be offered to the consuming public."

Beamer pointed out that markets are developed by creating in the minds and hearts of consumers a desire to possess the product which the other fellow has to dispose of. Many plans have been devised to induce the consuming public to purchase the products of farms and factories, he said, but the lasting market will be created by producing the highest grade article possible and offering it to the public truthfully branded as to its quality.

One thing I believe we should keep in mind in our effort to solve some of the problems that are affecting agriculture at the present time is that the agrarian dollar does not have the purchasing power or the ability to discharge an obligation that the industrial dollar has at the present time. Based upon a ten year period when conditions were considered to be normal, the federal authorities estimate that the agrarian dollar is worth seventy-six cents while the industrial dollar is worth one dollar and five cents.

We can never hope to have a prosperous agriculture while this condition exists.

"I am a believer that the American market should be preserved for the American farmer," Beamer stated. "What I would like to see is the American farmer getting the benefit of the tariff upon that portion of his product which he sells at home the same as does the industrialist."

Beamer concluded that the economic future of the American farmer depends on several factors: The protection of the American market for the American farmer. The encouragement by our agricultural colleges, experimental and extension divisions to use the very best foundational stock in the production of these things which are in the greatest demand in our home markets. Federal and state grades for all fruits and vegetables so as to broaden the market for farm products. Proper arrangement for the transporting of farm products from those sections that have a surplus to the localities in need. The removal of all trade barriers between states that do not have for their purpose the safeguarding of the health of our people or our protection from insects and plant diseases.

By Gene Alleman

Lansing.—The "hot stove league" has convened at country general stores, and one of the choices, timely topics is Governor-elect, Murray D. Van Wagoner.

What will "Pat" try to accomplish during his administration? How will he get along with a Republican legislature and an administrative board which he can not control?

Folks take their politics seriously in the "hot stove league" when the snow drifts grow higher and skies are overcast and the northwest winds whistle outside, the Van Wagoner administration should get a lot of free advice, all for the listening!

On the basis of campaign remarks, press statements and Lansing analysis, here is a fairly good picture of what is to come.

Business Administration

First, Governor Van Wagoner will emphasize a business administration. Mr. Van Wagoner intends to seek a gradual liquidation of the $29,000,000 state deficit, a bookkeeping result of fund juggling, by having a specified amount of state revenues set aside each year out of the reach of pressure group spenders.

When times are good and the sales tax and liquor revenues are mounting, this thrift program should be no hardship on anyone. The sales tax this year is expected to reach the $70,000,000 mark, proof enough that it is productive if not ideally fair to the low-income group.

The governor-elect is confident that a more business-like collection of taxes, through a centralized agency, will enhance the productivity of the sales tax. This is a sore spot in state government, and it evoked a nasty situation last spring in Wayne county where rumors were thick that many retailers were being favored and that exemptions and adjustments were being made entirely too promiscuously.

Budget Revision

Under the present budget arrangement, the legislature appropriates funds for use of state institutions and departments, but there is no legal power to penalize or check state officials who exceed their appropriations. For example, Budget Director Gus Hartman, who has earned a reputation for being hard-boiled as an army top sergeant, has risked fire and brimstone by refusing arbitrarily to grant additional funds in excess of allotted budget sums.

A new budget control bill has been drafted by the "Young Republican" study committee of the legislature to achieve a two-way objective:

1. Consolidate all tax-collecting agencies into a single revenue department.

2. Invest the governor with power to veto individual items of legislative appropriations and otherwise fix financial responsibility on the executive office.

This imposes the responsibility of budget balancing squarely on the governor, as he could check the spending instincts of a legislature which gives way to pressure groups and thus invites fiscal troubles to the state administration.

How Far?

It is one thing to draft a bill, but it is entirely something else to get it passed by the legislature.

This would be particularly true in 1941 when a Republican legislature would be asked, by one of its own study committees, to clip the organization wings of such popular vote-getters as Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly. Mr. Kelly's department collects automobile license fees, for example, and it maintains a comprehensive network of local offices and deputies and clerks to serve automobile and truck owners.

What would be the political effect for example, of having Governor Van Wagoner put in the position of favoring the reduction of Mr. Kelly's powers?

And especially when the Detroit Republican led the entire Republican ticket?

Also there is that important detail of depriving certain departments of constitutional tax-collecting powers, and any revision of state laws must run the gauntlet of a possible court test on its constitutionality. It may be predicted at this pre-inaugural moment that any tax collection and budget reform, no matter how desirable, will face the practical test of political horse swapping between Democratic Governor Van Wagoner and a Republican legislature, plus such prominent vote-getting Republicans as Messrs. Kelly, Brown, Rushton and Elliott.

Agricultural Reform

Because the independent sector of Michigan electorate has chosen repeatedly to throw the "rascals" out every two years at Lansing, whether said rascals be Republicans or Democrats, Governor Van Wagoner has seized upon an issue that sounds to farmers like pretty good "horse sense."

Instead of having a department of agriculture subject to house-cleaning every two years or so, says Mr. "Pat," why not put the department on a non-partisan basis of a commission whose members are appointed for long time terms?

Of course, the new civil service amendment to the state constitution was proclaimed as solving this very problem; but it still falls short of depriving the governor of certain prerogatives of political appointment of the commissioner who sets the pace for the entire department.

The Democrat state executive would like to see a staggered commission select a director on the basis of qualifications and then keep him on the job as long as he performs satisfactory service. The conservation commission is pointed to as affording an ideal pattern.

In this manner the farmer could rely on continuity of policies. The inspectors could become specialists and could enforce the laws without running the risk of political intervention through the local senator or representative. At least, such is the story, and it does sound plausible.

Appeasement?

If all this business-like administration, whether due to Republican foresight or Democratic diplomacy, contributes more money to the state treasury, it would be possible for Governor Van Wagoner to appease the hungry hordes of pressure lobbies with more appropriations.

State aid for the schools could be stabilized, if not slightly raised. The crippled children could have a hundred thousand or so more. The new and empty additions to our state hospitals would be equipped, manned, and opened.

Some 30,000 aged and infirm persons, now eligible for old age pensions, could receive pension checks to which the federal government had contributed, instead of state checks payable only from state welfare funds.

Appeasing the pressure groups, balancing the budget and reducing the state deficit is a three-in-one goal of Governor-elect Van Wagoner. Whether or not he can achieve it remains to be seen.

Our Neighbors

HOLLY—Ice water forced divers who came here to attempt to locate the body of Mrs. Margaret Streets, 40-year-old wife of Harry Streets, missing for two weeks, to abandon their efforts to work in the waters of the lake, Tuesday morning. It was feared that had she met death by drowning, the body might have drifted under the suspended beach, which had been built for use of children, and in that event, not found for some time. Another attempt will be made by divers as soon as the weather has modified sufficiently. Mrs. Streets was missed the evening before Thanksgiving, by her husband, when he returned home from a 20-minute trip into Holly. He immediately notified officers, and until this time, not the slightest clue as to her whereabouts has been found. The lake was dragged the day following her disappearance, and since then, powerful searchlights have been used at night, all to no avail.—Herald.

PLYMOUTH—Ice coating the streets of Plymouth has been removed by the city street cleaning crew this week. A grader equipped with scarifier and blade to cut icy pavements has been in operation the last few days clearing ice from the business sections along Main street and Penniman avenue. City officials believe that Plymouth is the only city in the state to use the grader machine for this purpose. The scarifier boots up the ice with its teeth-like prongs, and then the blade is lowered by a hoist to cut the ice from the pavement along the gutter. The machine breaks up ice, clearing the pavement down to the asphalt. The city's street cleaning crew follows the grader and shovels chunks of ice into the city truck.—Mail.

STOCKBRIDGE—Additional loss of farm stock through theft spurred state police to intensified investigation of an apparent gang operating in the Mounth-Stockbridge area. E. J. Terry, Stockbridge farmer, reported theft of a 160 pound hog, several lambs, and 150 pounds of wool. One hundred and fifty sheep were stolen last week from a farm near Mounth-Brief-Sun.

TECUMSEH—Some 200 telephones in Tecumseh were put out of service on Tuesday, when employees of the Consumers Power Company, while erecting a pole on South Pearl street, accidentally cut into a 300-pair cable, buried in the ground, near the office of Dr. H. H. Hammel. Most of the phones affected were in the downtown and western section of the village. "It was the most serious service interruption we have had in Tecumseh," Mrs. Lillian Owen, local manager of the Michigan Associated Telephone Company, said. "However, we were able to call in extra workmen from Coldwater, and in the main all repairs were completed on Tuesday evening."—Herald.

Winter Highway Map Ready for Distribution

Distribution of 100,000 copies of the newly revised winter highway map, which emphasizes Michigan's importance as a winter sports state, was started this week by the state highway department.

The front cover carries for the first time the reproduction of a natural color photograph of a typical winter highway scene. On the reverse side are pictures of winter sports and snow removal operations.

Hints for safe driving during winter are also listed on the reverse side, along with a list of Michigan state parks, their location, convenience, equipment and privileges. Snowplowing and ice-treatment operations are emphasized to assure visitors of safe and pleasant transportation facilities in coming to Michigan.

The map side contains the latest corrections on the trunkline highway system, together with a mileage table, individual maps of the larger Michigan cities, the state ferry schedule, and a list of state game areas, national and state forests. In addition to these features, the map retains the accordion fold of past editions.

Copies of the map may be obtained free of charge by writing G. Donald Kennedy, state highway commissioner.

Some folks still can't believe their eyes

GOING over Buick dealers' reports on our 1941 models, we find an unusual thing happening.

Time and again cars come in for the usual inspections with an extra note of instructions—"Please check the gas gauge needle."

Even after hundreds of miles, people mistrust their eyes when they see its snail-like pace from the Full mark toward Empty—they don't see how it's possible for a car as big as Buick to go so far on so little.

But it does—and for good reasons.

The whole FIREBALL engine was designed and built to get the most good out of modern gasolines.

And the simple secret of Compound Carburetion is that it keeps your engine running on its most frugal diet for all normal driving—and provides full feed only when you need, want and call for the lift of extra wallop.

Meantime even the gears are helping save money—for the regular high gear in a Buick gives you the economy of the so-called "gas-saving" top speeds you hear about.

The big thing is, of course, that this is no small car that's setting these economy figures. There are all the room, size, impressiveness, comfort and downright thrilling performance you expect from a Buick.

So it isn't because the needle's out-of-kilter that it goes down so slowly. It's simply because it's in a FIREBALL Buick.

Michigan Will Aid In Fight Against Paralysis

Michigan has taken up the challenge of an invisible enemy and under the leadership of Abner E. Larned of Detroit, prepared for a record-smashing 1941 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign.

In a message to Keith Morgan, National Chairman of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday, Mr. Larned accepted the state chairmanship for the second time and assured Mr. Morgan that Michigan will put forth its greatest effort in this year's battle against the crippling invader. The state is now recovering from the severest outbreak of the disease in its history.

Governor Larned Dickinson has added his support to the cause and in a message to Mr. Morgan referred to his "deep interest in the fight against infantile paralysis."

Gratified at the prospect of an enthusiastic campaign in Michigan, Mr. Morgan declared:

"Here at National headquarters, our greatest sympathy goes out to the people of Michigan who have suffered such a severe outbreak of infantile paralysis during the year now closing."

"We deeply appreciate the generous support which Michigan has given in the past and we are confident that the 1941 campaign will call forth the same wholehearted response as those which have gone before it."

"Our slogan this year, 'Help the Youngster Around Your Own Corner,' will make a deep appeal to the people of Michigan who always have taken care of their own."

"Our greatest present need is an army of volunteer workers who will rally behind Mr. Larned and help him organize the state as it has never been organized before."

The epidemic of infantile paralysis which swept Michigan during the past summer has left scores of men, women and children crippled or confined to iron lungs. The United States Public Health Service reported 1,233 cases of the disease during the first 47 weeks of 1940. This is the highest state total in the nation. Michigan's rate of 25.5 per 100,000 population also is the highest. During the corresponding period in 1939, 906 cases were reported.

The investigation of that bureau disclosed the following as the four major causes of accidents: (Note that in none of them was the automobile to blame.)

1. Speed excessive for conditions—636.
2. Pedestrian condition—417.
3. Driver's negligence—361.
4. Poor visibility—302.

People frequently ask, when coming upon an automobile accident, "How did this happen?" It did not happen. It was caused by one or two drivers who did not consider all the conditions necessary for safe driving.

It is the human equation that is responsible for all the grief on our highways, and it is therefore our individual responsibility to drive safely and sanely at all times.

It's Smart To Drive Carefully!

Laundry File

If you purchase washables that require special handling, don't mislay the tag giving washing directions. It might be a good idea to keep a small file in the laundry for just such data.

Office News

Miss Lord, resident of Chelsea, substituted for Mr. Downing on Thursday and Friday of last week. She took over his Chemistry, Algebra and Geometry classes.

The office is now getting out the six week attendance records, and that is quite a job.

The students have once more received the regular six week marks.

On December 19 Miss McNeil is presenting a program, which is to be given in the high school gym at 7:30.

Girls' Athletics

Two games have been scheduled for the girls' basketball team to be played before Christmas—one with University high school on Dec. 13 and one with Pinckney on Dec. 20. Both of these games will be at home and will start at 4:30 p. m.

There are about 25 girls out for basketball but as yet no regular team has been picked for the first game. A complete schedule of games after these two has not been arranged but there will be more after the Christmas holidays.

F. F. A. News

The F. F. A. held their regular meeting Monday, December 2 in the Chelsea high school. The boys are about to draw to a close the last summer's projects and plan on the next summer's. They also planned on getting games for their basketball teams for the season.

The boys who went to Chicago returned Monday night, Dec. 2. These boys visited the following places: The Shedd Aquarium, Field Museum, the Museum of Science and Industry, the Chicago Board of Trade, the Chicago Livestock Show.

Seventh Grade

(Jean Eisenbeiser and Arthur Paul) Betty Whipple has moved to 203 Thompson St. S. Jackson. We are sorry that she had to leave.

Robert Breitenwischer celebrated his twelfth birthday on December 6. Walter Freysinger became discouraged at the rate at which our committee was getting our wood exhibit together, so he stayed after school one afternoon and finished it up himself. He also got the big stepladder and hung it on the wall. Thank you, Walter.

Some of the pupils are already started on their Christmas things. Just now we are making things out of wall paper.

Joan Shutes and Eldore Carlson fixed our bulletin board again. It looks very nice.

We are delighted that our tests are over for a little while.

On December fifth, our new officers took charge of our meeting. We voted to have a Christmas party and exchanged names immediately.

Our quotation for the week: "When men speak ill of thee, live so as nobody may believe them. Plato."

Soup Diet for Lily
America's agricultural productive capacity may be increased by astronomical figures by a new method of feeding vitamins to plant life. A lily used to test the vitamin "soup" grew an inch a day for 30 days without once being exposed to such a commonplace, old-fashioned plant base as earth. The lily bulb was merely immersed in the soup regularly, and it drank up enough with each dip to support its tremendous growth. Meanwhile it was kept apart from such customary growth-coaxers as sunlight and warmth. It was kept in a room in which the temperature was maintained at about 72 degrees.

Flowers Bring Smiles at Christmas Time

She tore open the wrappings and a smile lit up her face. "What lovely flowers! Bless him, he remembered." They were from a son.

Its breathtaking beauty held her for a moment when she uncovered the fragile orchid. It was from a fiancée.

She blushed as crimson as the roses in the box and felt like a young bride again. They were from a husband.

She smiled and read the card again. "How sweet of him to remember!" They were from a friend.
