Factory Employees Are Given Incentive Awards

In an effort to discourage absenteeism and to encourage promptness, a 100% Club was formed last spring by the Dexter Machine Products, Inc. at their factory here, and the first trial period has been completed. Every employee of the factory is entitled to membership in the club. As an award for one month's perfect record (no absence and being on time each day), the employee gets a folder containing one silver dollar. An inscription on the folder states: "We hope you will receive this 'medal' with pride—regarding it not as just another dollar but as representing our country of which we are each a part—working for Victory. As a citizen whose nation is at war accept this award as a small token of recognition of your devotion to your job and responsibilities."

In addition to the one dollar monthly "medal," employees who have a perfect record for six consecutive months receive a $25 war bond from the company; if an employee has six perfect months out of seven he is awarded $5 in war stamps, and for six perfect months out of eight he gets $2.50 in war stamps. According to Hugh E. Sorensen, secretary-treasurer of the company, the first six months' trial has proved satisfactory. During this period four employees had perfect records and received bonds. They are: Frank Bishop, Hollis White, Wm. Quigley and Millard Harvey.

PROMOTED TO SERGEANT
Headquarters, Panama Canal Department—Corp. Joseph M. Mallette of Chelsea, Mich., is promoted to the grade of sergeant. It is announced in orders issued by Headquarters of the Sixth Air Force Fighter Command. Sgt. Mallette attended Alpena high school from 1934 to 1936, and Cassidy Lake Technical School from 1939 to 1940. Prior to entering the service he was employed as a machinist. Sgt. Mallette arrived in this Department in October, 1942, and is now serving as an aircraft mechanic with a fighter squadron in the Panama area.

Mrs. Elsie Mallette, his wife, resides at 307 North St., Chelsea.

TWO FIRES LAST WEEK

The local fire department was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stupish, West Middle St. at 11:45 Friday morning to extinguish a roof fire, evidently caused by sparks from the chimney. A hole about 8x12 feet was burned.

On Saturday, some steel shavings outside of Plant No. 5 at the Federal Screw Works caught fire, but it was quickly extinguished by the department.

MRS. MARK CLARK TO SPEAK

Mrs. Mark Clark, wife of the Commanding General of the United States Fifth Army in Italy, will speak at Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, on Saturday evening, November 27, at 8 o'clock. She will also show pictures which were acquired by General Clark in Italy. The public is invited.

Grange Honors Mr. and Mrs. English On 60th Anniversary

An anniversary party sponsored by Lafayette Grange was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. English, celebrating their 60 years of wedded life, and was attended by 22 members, relatives and friends.

The following program was arranged in honor of the event: "Love's Old Sweet Song"—By the assembly.

Talk by Rev. W. H. Skentelbury. Original poem—A. J. Pielemeier. Song—"The Church in the Vale." Reading—"The Bride and Groom"—L. S. Grossman.

Poem—"Sweethearts of Yesterday"—Mrs. W. G. Price.

Song—"Long, Long Ago."

Original poem—Mrs. Florence Howlett.

Reading—"I Go Back Sixty Years"—Mrs. J. C. Bradbury.

Original reading—Mrs. O. D. Luick.

Reading—"The Sixtieth Wedding"—Mrs. F. E. Storms.

Mr. Pielemeier presented Mr. and Mrs. English with a plant in behalf of the Grange.

"Abide With Me" was sung in closing, after which refreshments were served. The table, laid with a lace cloth, was centered with a bouquet of cut flowers, presented by the Ladies' Guild of the Congregational church. The wedding cake was the gift of their niece, Mrs. O. D. Luick. Mrs. Luick and Mrs. Howlett were attendants at the wedding 60 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. English are both natives of New York state. Mr. English was born March 21, 1864 in Hartwick, Otsego county, coming to Detroit in 1881. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. John English. In 1882 he came to Lima township, where on Nov. 22, 1883 he was married to Frances A. Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cooley. Mrs. English was born June 15, 1862 in Fayette, Seneca county, N. Y. and the family became residents of Lima in 1867.

For four years after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. English made their home on the Cooley farm, after which they lived in Branch county for a period of eight years. Returning to this vicinity, they purchased the farm property of Charles Davis on the Manchester road in Sylvan township, which was their home for 24 years, until they moved to Chelsea in 1920.

Mr. and Mrs. English have been continuous members of Lafayette Grange for 50 years.

INCOME TAX INSTRUCTION

An instruction meeting for preparing farm income tax blanks which are due on December 15, will be held at the Supervisors' Room, Court House, Ann Arbor at 8 o'clock next Monday evening, Nov. 29. A. H. Halst of the Farm Management Department, MSC, will be present to explain necessary procedure.

County Agent H. S. Osler announces that plans are being made to have some local person in different communities instructed to assist farmers in filling out their income tax blanks at a nominal charge. The meeting is open to anyone who is interested.

NYA School Will Be Used As Honor Camp

Arrangements have been completed with the federal government by the State Corrections Commission to take over the Cassidy Lake NYA school as an "honor" camp to train "first termers" in prison for jobs in industry. Governor Kelly states that operations at the school will begin at once and will continue for the duration of the war and six months thereafter.

About 25 inmates who are about to be released from Southern Michigan Prison and Ionia Reformatory will start the course under the supervision of either government-trained or inmate supervisors.

The Cassidy Lake camp is the best equipped NYA camp in Michigan and procurement of the school's facilities places $250,000 worth of equipment at the disposal of the corrections commission.

Negotiations for the camp were carried on with the procurement division of the United States Treasury department and the Lyndon township school board, which had priority on the equipment, since it was using it at the time the NYA disbanded.

GETS GUNNER'S MATE RATING

Great Lakes, Ill.—Bluejacket Richard D. Schmidt, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schmidt of Chelsea, Mich., won recognition as a "qualified striker" for the rate of gunner's mate, third class, in recent graduation exercises held for the Service School at the U. S. Naval Training Station here.

Selected for this specialized training on the basis of his recruit training aptitude test, scores the newly graduated man has undergone several weeks of intensive study preparing for his new Navy trade. Still higher promotion in the petty officer ratings awaits the newly graduated man after further experience at his new active duty assignment aboard a Navy Man O' War or at a shore station.

MEMBER OF MSC GLEE CLUB

Carolyn Kalmbach, student at Michigan State College from Chelsea, is a member of the college Women's Glee Club. It was announced by Professor Roy Underwood, department head. Miss Kalmbach is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Kalmbach.

The glee club, with 86 members, is directed by Dr. William R. Sur, who joined the MSC faculty last August, coming from the University of Wisconsin.

LADY LEATHERNECK

Miss Ethel Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hale, will don the uniform of the Marine Corps when her boot training begins at Camp Leavenworth, N. C. about December 1. She was sworn into the service in Los Angeles, Calif., where she has been vacationing for the past two months.

OCCUPY CAMP WATERLOO

Three military escort guard companies, commanded by Major William P. Curtis, have moved from Fort Custer to Camp Waterloo for an indefinite stay. The camp was vacated November 10 by a battalion of military police who were transferred to Fort Custer.

By-Product of Soap

Glycerin is a by-product of soap making. Soap is made from fats and oils normally obtained from slaughter houses, cotton seed and coconuts. Coconut oil returns the greatest percentage of glycerin. Now that Pacific imports are cut off, more reliance must be put on domestic sources. The drive to conserve kitchen fats is part of an overall plan to make this country self-sufficient in munitions making.

PEOPLE CHANGING OVER FROM ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON—I asked a Kentucky friend of mine who is the best possible authority on the people if not the politics of the state, for an explanation of the astonishing success of a Republican gubernatorial candidate in that almost stronghold of the administration since the beginning of the New Deal, the state which has two Democratic senators, one the administration leader in the senate. He replied:

"The people are changing over. Jim Farley had it about right in his comment on the defeat of his Democratic candidate in New York when he said the people were tired and dissatisfied with what they have been getting."

"The country, too, is changing over. The local results everywhere cannot be satisfactorily explained in any other way."

The successful Kentucky Republican, Simeon S. Willis, is what is known in politics as "a good man." He is the elderly Kentucky gentleman type, a former judge, honest, friendly.

In the past, the far distant past, when the Republicans wanted to win that border state, they had to put in plenty of money. Willis had no money, at least not of that size. The big money people did not shell out for him, probably were not asked to.

ADMINISTRATION WORRIED

The administration rushed every one of its national powers from Kentucky into the threatened final breach. Senate Leader Barkley and the recently cantankerous Happy Chandler, spent the last three weeks before election on the formerly dark and bloody ground. Some Kentuckians think this was a mistake, too.

Mr. Roosevelt once spoke in Kentucky against Chandler in the early New Deal days when Happy was trying to crash the gate of big league politics and establish the gubernatorial machine he has enjoyed up until last Tuesday. The Democratic candidate was a Chandler man, J. Lyter Donaldson.

Chandler is one of the senators who returned from a world tour recently, with advice for changes in administration world policy which were sharply and publicly rejected by the White House.

When he and Barkley rushed back to Kentucky to get into bed together with Donaldson and call for upholding the President, apparently they did not appear to a majority of the voters to be very harmonious bed-fellows, but rather just tentatively congenial. Donaldson has been described as an ordinary gubernatorial candidate.

In view of this background, the explanation of Democratic National Chairman Frank Walker, that the scattered elections' results did not involve national issues and had no national significance, was somewhat lacking, if not sad.

The Republicans have won before, recently in New York, New Jersey, Philadelphia, but not by these latest majorities. The results indisputably signify that the Republican trend, started in the losing Wilkie race and two years later turned into nearly a Republican capture of the house, has now expanded even wider, continuing in the same direction.

What was discernible elsewhere can now be said to be true—even of Kentucky. The farm vote seems gone, labor split, and radicals (New York city, Detroit) have lost their vote-pulling power. That leaves little to work on.

Whether the President's personality and unrivaled ingenuity can change this, I do not know. I always thought war victory would restore whatever prestige Mr. Roosevelt lost, but this now has gone pretty far.

NO FOURTH TERM

I would say the scattered local election results have an unexpected and the deepest possible significance. They suggest to my mind for the first time that Mr. Roosevelt may not run for a fourth term. There is no better politician than Mr. Roosevelt. The reason he ran for the third term was because he thought he could win without as much opposition as he got.

I doubt that he would choose to blotch his record or make a useless martyr of himself in a losing chance, but might prefer, perhaps, to head "an international organization" described in the Moscow agreements as a hope and expectation of the Big Four nations.

That seems to be the real possibility now.

WHAT STALIN MEANT

Stalin's victory speech gave people here a better understanding of the Hull-Stalin Eden declarations than the generalized text of those documents.

He implemented them, clearly, calmly, confidently.

The impending victory, he said, had freed Russia, and he forecast freedom for conquered and occupied nations of Europe under governments to be chosen by their own people, which would be his conception of democracy.

Thanksgiving

November 25, 1943

When troops at Camp Lee, Va., wanted a supply of turkeys for Thanksgiving they decided to get the biggest and best birds possible. So they visited the nearby Whippoorwill turkey farm and engaged in a martial version of the old-fashioned turkey hunt.

It's a far cry from the Massachusetts Pilgrim of early days to this modern man of war, but the idea is the same. Each got his bird.

After the successful hunt, this private first class plucks one of the turkeys as a third officer of the WACs delivers a few pointers.

Another private with marked culinary abilities seasons a pan of the Thanksgiving dinner's piece de resistance.

This hungry sergeant obliges with a "V" for Victory made of turkey drumsticks. He advised the photographer to make it "snappy." His appetite wouldn't allow him to hold the pose very long.

Here's another symbolical pose provided by a sergeant who made it plain that American soldiers are doing much more than just wishing for victory.

WATCH FOR TULAREMIA

Warning to hunters to watch for signs of tularemia in wild rabbits is given by the state health department. Tularemia is an acute communicable disease which is transmitted to humans by contact with infected animals or by eating undercooked infected meat. In humans, the disease may produce local lesions, high sustained fever and prostration, and even death.

Tularemia has been recognized in rabbits, ground squirrels and other small rodents. Wild rabbits, however, are the animals that are most often infected. The disease is spread among animals through the bite of the rabbit tick, the wood tick and certain species of biting flies and can be transmitted to humans by infected insects.

The following precautions are advised: Always wear rubber gloves when dressing wild rabbits, do not handle rabbits that are found dead, always shoot rabbits on the run—slow or sluggish rabbits are likely to be infected with tularemia; cook rabbits thoroughly so that no red meat or red blood remains; destroy all rabbits whose internal organs are studded with small white spots.

How to win
a Battle

When they took the beachhead at Bougainville, the Yanks fought as a team. Planes overhead... destroyers off shore... invasion barges slipping in with sharp-shooting leathernecks.

It's an old American custom, this business of working together. And it's paying off in victories... on battle-front and home-front alike.

For behind the lines, on this side of the seas, another battle is going on... the battle of transportation... a fight that is growing bigger with every passing day.

As part of the nation's great railway system—which carries 80 per cent of our fighting forces and nine-tenths of the Army's fighting equipment and supplies—we of the New York Central know that this battle is being won... by the same American spirit of teamwork that is winning the war over there.

Teamwork between the armed services, the Office of Defense Transportation, the Interstate Commerce Commission, other government agencies, and the railroads... Teamwork on the part of organized shippers...

Teamwork among the individual railroads themselves, working and fighting together in a common cause.

This is the kind of shoulder-to-shoulder effort that is winning the battle of transportation... that is enabling the railroads to carry, for 1943, record loads of 725 billion ton-miles of freight and 80 billion passenger-miles.

And the endless torrent of loaded trains, rolling day and night across the land, chunders an overwhelming answer to Axis dictators—whose "intuition" told them that free men in a democracy could never work together, and win!

This is you, lady... on some bright tomorrow

Imagine coming home from the store with a package no larger than a lunch box, yet holding enough to feed your family for a week!

That day is coming! For, even now, dehydrated foods are being produced with all water and air removed, condensed down to a fraction of their normal size. Today, these foods are going to war. When peace comes, they will be available for your table... thanks to gas which is used in dehydrating processes.

Gas will do many new and different jobs after the Axis is crushed and the world returns to normal living. It will help American industry to produce the car you drive or the plane you fly. It will aid in turning out the new metals, plastics and other materials born for war and marked for conversion to peacetime uses.

You will find it a still more faithful and efficient servant in your home, too. Features and refinements in the kitchen range, the hot water heater and the house heating system of postwar days will make you want the comforts and convenience that only gas can bring.

Yes, lady, it will be a brighter, happier, more livable tomorrow for you and your family... because of gas!

They don't want your tears

"DON'T CRY. Don't let them see you cry!" whispers the older Red Cross Worker.

And as the litters of wounded come up the gangplank of the hospital ship, the young novice swallows, shuts her eyes for an instant, and nods.

They don't want our tears . . . these boys of ours. Not though they face a future that at first can seem harder than death.

They want our courage . . . they want our resolution. Courage and resolution to match and sustain their own.

Courage to keep us going on with this great task—no matter what it may cost these coming months in blood and sweat.

Resolution to back the boys who are taking these risks, with every breath that's in us, and every dollar that we can rake or scrape.

The boys realize, far more than we can, how fast war uses up machines, ammunition, equipment.

The guns and tanks that took Hill 609 in Tunisia had to be rebuilt or replaced before they could thunder down upon Messina and Naples.

The landing barges that brought our men to the perilous beaches of Salerno must be repaired and reoutfitted before they can drive ashore in France or the Balkans.

We cannot win the war with the bullets our bonds bought last summer. Those bullets are already buried in Jap and Nazi graves. And another horde of the desperate, cornered enemy is coming on.

Bullets and shells . . . tanks and guns . . . ships and planes. These are the things the boys are asking us for . . . the boys at the front and the boys behind them who will never again do things with two hands, or walk with two feet, or see with two eyes.

They don't ask us to give what they have given. They only ask us to skip the easy tears . . . to invest our money instead of spending it . . . to lend the mere money price of Victory.

They only ask us to buy War Bonds.

KEEP ON BACKING THE ATTACK!

CHELSEA SPRING COMPANY

By GENE ALLEMAN

RETAILERS. Because of the serious shortage of manpower, the necessity of transportation priorities for war supplies, and the growing scarcity of merchandise, Michigan shopkeepers who wait until mid-December to buy and mail Christmas gifts are due for abrupt awakening and fearful disappointments. This warning comes from the Michigan Retail Institute at Lansing this week, and it is supported by official statements from Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the war manpower commission, and Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation.

Facts: Michigan retailers are in a jam. They lack adequate labor to handle the normal December buying rush. Many types of merchandise are not available or cannot be replaced readily when present supplies are depleted. Postal service is badly bogged down. Trains are jammed with war supplies, and gifts cannot be permitted to interfere with transportation of arms and supplies to our fighting forces. Packages mailed after the first week of December are not assured of delivery before Christmas—even if then. Moral: If you want to avoid disappointments for yourself and for others, buy and mail your usual Christmas gifts NOW. This is not commercial ballyhoo. We're at war.

INFLATION. Purchase of other than essential merchandise by Christmas shoppers is frowned upon by Messrs. Walker, McNutt and Eastman who emphasize the peril of inflation in a wild buying spree. Michigan consumers have more money to spend than ever before. Farm crops this year are valued at $500,000,000, highest on record, while industrial payrolls are at all-time peaks.

Irving Fisher, noted economist, warned a few days ago, "the general public and many in Congress have not been waked up to this fact: Inflation is already upon us." Fisher cautions that continued financing of the war "raising money not by taxes, not by loans out of savings, but by the 'invisible greenbacks' issued by the banks" is a certain path to "terrific inflation." His recommendation: Save more, spend less. Best Christmas gift: A U. S. war bond!

REVOLT. The Michigan Retail Institute reports that the numerous directives of the OPA, containing 11,000,000 words as used by 857 lawyers, had flooded merchants with an epidemic of confusing orders. Statement by Otis Cook, managing director: "How can any man in business hope to understand all the various rulings and restrictions which have been designed to control his business?" Result, says Cook: 32,000 retailers are in revolt against government controls.

HOAX. When town officials and merchants of Sparta made an exodus for the north woods this month, H. J.

Kurtz, newspaper publisher, printed a special edition which featured this startling headline: "Crime runs rampant as buck fever gets mayor. Moonshiners display wares on street corners as police chief and other city officials vacate city hall. Slot machines block traffic when Spartans line up for chance at jack pots. Gamblers have Roman holiday." Pictures of the mayor and police chief illustrated the sensational story. Actually, the edition was a hoax, printed after the regular issue and given a limited distribution.

Gasoline facts: New B and C coupons, due Dec. 1, are publicized by OPA as means of reducing clerical work, for coupons will be worth five gallons. However, Washington observers unite in forecasting further reduction of coupon value after Jan. 1. Reasons: We are using oil reserves fast; North Europe mechanized invasion is coming; increased air assaults are consuming vast amounts of high octane gasoline.

INVASION. Slow progress of American and British troops in Italy and further reports of German morale tend to substantiate the viewpoint of U. S. military authorities, as expressed recently to Michigan leaders at Fort Knox, Kentucky, that collapse of Germany is not yet in sight. The government conference sought to curb (1) German hopes that Americans will become weary of war; (2) turnover of war workers which has reached serious proportions; and (3) over-optimism that war will end in a few weeks. American official view is that an invasion must come from the west before Germans surrender unconditionally.

EXCESSIVE. The OWI survey of war plants revealed that it is necessary today to hire 17 workers to get a net increase of three for every 100 employed. Here are the highlights: More women than men are quitting jobs. In September 800,000 persons left their jobs, a total exceeded during 1942 only in August. Reasons given for change to "better and more essential jobs." "Because of unsuitability for their work, because of general restlessness and because of home duties." Summary: "The present excessive rate must be substantially reduced or the whole pattern of war production will be jeopardized, WMC officials say."

BONNIE'S TALK. While Gov. Kelly renewed his pledge for a Michigan soldiers' and sailors' war bonus, Congress was being asked to approve uniform payments of $12 to $15 a week for 26 weeks to demobilized men who fail to find jobs. When Germany surrenders in 1944—such is the Allied war timetable—Michigan war plants may expect some scaling down in government contracts. Production for air and sea forces will be maintained at high levels. Land forces today are taking only one-third of our total war production, and inventories in ground ordnance—tanks, guns and shells—may be about large enough to carry war against Japan. End of the war in Europe will have a limited deflationary effect. That's the dope as the experts see it.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS. The resolution by the National Grange in convention at Grand Rapids last week, endorsing American participation in a world court or league of nations, has been interpreted as another illustration of how public opinion has changed since the days of Woodrow Wilson. The Foreign Policy association in a booklet, "American Foreign Policies," written by Prof. Thomas A. Bailey of Stanford university, puts a new light on our recent post-war isolationism.

Bailey says that Wilson by his refusal to accept reservations to the peace treaty, defining our obligations under the Covenant of the League of Nations, "actually slew the League of Nations with his own hands." Bailey adds that the Republicans in 1918, led by Henry Cabot Lodge, did not expect to defeat the treaty and that even Harding had favored an Association of Nations. If Wilson had accepted the reservations, the United States would have been in the League and post-war history might have been different, so the author concludes.

Railroads Planning For Big Post-War Business

Washtenaw county, which has an important stake in the nation's huge travel business, is one of the regions of the country that should benefit considerably as a result of the aggressive post-war plans of the competing factors in the transportation industry.

Railway Age, reporting a survey of railroad executives in its current issue, says that the railroads are going out vigorously after more business when the war is over. The executives interviewed unanimously declared their intention of "doing everything in their power" to make railroad travel far more attractive to the public.

At perhaps the most alert and foresighted point in their history, the railroads are now blueprinting new, lightweight, streamlined trains, more luxurious cars to increase the fun of travel, high-capacity low-fare cars and generally reduced passenger rates, the survey shows. To top it all off, the rail chiefs look forward to a vigorous merchandising and advertising program.

That the railroad industry is making these plans is good news for all of the areas of the country which share substantially in the prosperity of the travel business, and good news for all Americans who love to travel. Sure winners in the post-war battle for traffic will be areas like Michigan where the appeal to the travel instinct is great.

Slats' Diary

Sunday—Pa said he could not go to S. S. and church this a. m. because he gotta go to a meeting of the party committee to help carry the election. Ma said he wouldn't ever get to Heaven thataway and Pa replied and said Well mebbe not but there are a bunch he wants to help get to the other place. Wherever that are witch I don't no.

Monday—The editor sent Pa to see a Dr. and ask him to do some advertising of his profession and etc. in the newspaper. Pa arrived back to the office and said the Dr. declined because he said it would be unethical. The editor said he guest the Dr. were right but he has noticed he advertizes heavy in the cemetery. I wonder what the editor ment.

Tuesday—As us kids was a going home from school a man in a otto stopt and ask us how far it is to the next town. Jake up and replied and said Well mister it seems farther than it is but it isent. Then the man just drove ahead and I dont think he got the information he ast for. Enney how he didnt thank us or hand no boddie a dime. I thot it would of been as esen to tell him and mebbe get the Pliteness offen pays Ma says, and dont cost nothing.

Wednesday—The teacher ast the class if they is such a thing as words that hasent got no meaning and what is they if so. I ansereed Yes the name of a pitcher shov. She said that was sent the corect anser but Pa laft and said it are a pritty good I when I told him about it.

Thursday—A book agt. called at are house this p. m. and Ant Emmy bot a book that tells how to cure common ailments like all the fambly gets at 1 time or a nother. Unkel Hen sed look in it and see if they are a remedy to cure I of being a sucker and Ant Emmy lookt like she isent the kind that can take it. As she skowled and told him to mind his own bizness.

Friday—Jane and Elsy baked a cake at Janes house and called I and Blisters in to eat a peace of same. It were sweet and we et it but didnt want no more and told them they must of put sand in it. They sed Well the resipie says put in 3 whole eggs and mebbe they didnt get the shells beet up fine enough. Now I and Blisters dont if we will marrie them.

Saturday—It grieves me to rite it but this fall has so far been a complete failure. We have had sevral weak end sense school started and not enough ice to even think of the old skates. But it are to cold to go fishing tho. On top of all that are schools full. ball teem isent no good. I dont see no thing in life worth living for except mebbe Jane, and she put egg shells in her cakes. I got a noshen to hang my self. But they isent no rush about it.

THANK YOU

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my relatives, friends, neighbors, Methodist Sunday school, eighth grade classmates and teachers, and the night shift of the Federal Screw plant, for all the gifts, flowers, and cards sent me while I was in the hospital and since my return home. Sugar Improves Flavor
Sugar customarily used in canning fruits does improve their texture, flavor, and color, but it does not prevent spoilage.

Any Meat Is Expensive When Allowed To Spoil

Farm families able to butcher, or successful deer hunters, or city families able to purchase plump cockerels or cull hens can save meat ration points by properly canning meat.

But that meat will be "dear" if it spoils—costly to the home budget and stealing from the total red meat supply needed for war and civilian use. Meat canning offers few difficulties if rules are followed closely, according to home economics extension specialists at Michigan State College.

Three essential rules are:
• Be certain meat is fresh and well flavored.

• Pack meat hot in jars or cans.

• Process under pressure by the clock.

Fresh meat may be canned as soon as the animal heat is gone, or the meat may hang for a few days to chill if the weather is cold. Frozen meat may be canned, but the quality is not improved by the freezing. Only good, tasty and tender meat should be canned, the experts say. Tough, tasteless meat becomes no better for being placed in a jar or tin and processed.

Meat is cut in suitable sizes of about one pound for packing. The pieces are pre-cooked with water in a kettle for 12 to 20 minutes in a moderate oven or until the red color is nearly gone from the center of the pieces. Then the pieces are placed in jars and liquid added to within a half inch of the top and the cover put on. Pint or quart jars may be used, but none larger than a quart.

Pressure cooking insures safe keeping for days, weeks or months. At 250 degrees F. or with the dial reading, correctly, 15 pounds pressure, a quart jar of chicken with bones would require 75 minutes of processing. A quart jar of beef would take 120 minutes or soup-stock 45 minutes under similar conditions.

Complete directions in brief form are contained in the Michigan State College Extension Bulletin 204, "Meat Canning," available on request to Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

DEATHS

Mrs. Rose Hitchcock

Mrs. Rose Hitchcock of Waterloo passed away on Monday, November 22 in University hospital, Ann Arbor, following a lingering illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Waterloo United Brethren church, with the Rev. Schade of the local church and the Rev. Scarlett of the Episcopal church of Layton's Corners in charge. Interment was in the Waterloo cemetery.

Rosabel Edmondson was born at Hixton, Wisconsin on Feb. 22, 1876. At an early age she moved to New York state, where she entered the nursing profession. Her name appeared on the first nurse's registry in the state.

On June 29, 1900 she was united in marriage with Allen L. Hitchcock of Massena, N. Y. She established a home with her husband in Malone, N. Y., later living in Barre, Vt., New York City and Washington, D. C.

In 1912 the family moved to the Middle West, coming to Waterloo four years ago from Oak Park, Ill., where they had lived for 25 years.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Hitchcock is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Louis C. Ramp, of Waterloo.

Always devoted to home pursuits, Mrs. Hitchcock's chief interests lay in her family, her home, and her many friends.

American Idealism

By RUTH TAYLOR

"Men fight best with ideas at the end of their bayonets," Spinoza said. He was right. When the ideas of men are the ideals of men, then they become a conquering army, an invincible host.

Idealism is not an escape from reality. Idealism is reality. Only as we look upward, only as we climb upward together, can we permanently realize any of our hopes of a better way of life for ourselves as individuals, or for ourselves as a United States in a world of United Nations.

Our nation was formed by people of diverse nationalities and traditions. Drawn together by a belief in the basic ideal of freedom and equality for all. Today as a nation we have expressed this ideal in the Four Freedoms. These freedoms are not for one group, or for one class, or for one creed, or for one color. They are for all the peoples of all the earth. And it is through the practical application of these ideals that we will win not only the war but the peace to come.

Go back over the history of our nation. When ideals have been ignored, disaster has threatened. When ideals have been adhered to, the nation has grown. It was the idealism of freedom that founded America. It was the idealism of the home that settled it. It was the ideal of the sanctity of man that shaped it. It was the idealism of understanding that gathered to it all the best of different groups and different faiths and made it the greatest nation on earth.

The cornerstone of this nation is the acceptance of the agreement that we men of different backgrounds and faiths will work together for the good of all. We have a traditional ideal of brotherhood, regardless of class, creed or color. We have taken on the responsibilities of unity, the acceptance of the burdens of others, the will to work with and for our fellow men.

Turning from a philosopher of the past to a columnist of the present, Walter Lippman said, "When we pay the ammunition, let us not deny the Lord. Let us not in the name of realism deny the realities and fall into the heresy of believing that our morality is incompatible with our practical necessities. It is not. There is no such horrid dilemma and the events will show there is none."

We are a nation of idealists. Let us not overlook the ideal, which, cynics to the contrary, motivates us. In every emergency in our history it has been the force which has controlled our actions.

Distillers Sell Grain Residue

After distilling their alcohol, distillers ordinarily have the residual slop evaporated and dried. The resulting solids are sold to livestock feeders as "distillers' dried grains" for about two cents a pound.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Miles of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. James Davie, Mrs. Anna Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith and family of Rives will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schweinfurth on Thanksgiving.

KIWANIS NEWS

Pvt. James Daniels, who is home from Camp Adair, Oregon, on a two weeks furlough, addressed the Kiwanis club on Monday night, relating many of his interesting experiences since enlisting in the army nine months ago.

Pvt. Daniels congratulated the people of Chelsea on their splendid record in the War Fund drive, stating that the USO and other organizations supported from this fund mean much to the men in service. He said it makes the soldiers' sacrifices seem more worthwhile when they know the people on the home front are also doing their part.

Reduce Christmas Lighting

The American people have been asked by the Office of War Utilities to confine Christmas lighting decorations to Christmas trees inside private homes. Saving of electricity will mean direct savings of fuel, manpower, transportation, and materials.

With the Thanksgiving dinner costing a great deal more than it did last year, your budget will be thankful for these low, low prices on home drugs, toiletries and accessories—things you'll need to look your best and feel your best on the holiday—and every day! So, make a pilgrimage to BURG'S for your favorite nationally advertised brands. You can't buy them for less anywhere.

FIGHTING HANDS

Your pharmacist is a soldier in the war against illness. Many of them have gone into the armed forces. Those who remain to safeguard the home front are working harder than ever. Remember, this when the pharmacist asks you to wait a few minutes for a prescription. He's working as fast as he can, but he must make haste slowly, double-checking each step and ingredient to assure unvarying accuracy.

THANKSGIVING

Let us be thankful that we are still the best fed, best clothed, and best housed people on earth. We may have to go without some things we are accustomed to—but it might be a lot worse.

Sit tight, buy only what you need and hope that the next Thanksgiving can be celebrated in the old-time manner with all the boys and girls home again.

OFFICE NEWS

School will be closed Thursday and Friday of this week.

The Home Economics club is sponsoring a style show on December 8 in the gymnasium.

The first basketball game of the season will be played at Grass Lake on Tuesday, November 30.

St. Paul's church is giving a play on December 10 in the high school gymnasium.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

The Journalism Club is working hard on a booklet which is to be an aid in December. Do you remember the book that was published two years ago by the Journalism Club entitled "Bulldog Barks"? Were you one of the lucky students to purchase one? This one is going to be twice as good as the last one. This booklet is to contain events leading up to the present time. In it will appear such articles as: organization, sports, faculty, jokes, and many others. By the way, have you done anything lately that would fall in the line of gossip? You had better watch the gossip column for your name. The price of this marvelous thriller is only ten cents.

The editor is Irma Brueckner, and Miss McDonald, sponsor of the Journalism Club, will supervise.

EDITORIAL

Thanksgiving is a day when we should all be thankful. This year we should be thankful because we can still do what we want. Just think how it is over in Japan, Germany and other war-torn countries. They can not do the things they want to, or have the food they need. Most of their homes have been bombed and they do not have places to live; families are broken up. They cannot worship the way they want to.

We Americans do not realize what it is to be hungry, homeless and oppressed. Our American boys are doing all they can and are suffering, while we are home enjoying ourselves. So let's all be thankful for the blessings that we have.

SENIOR NEWS

Play try-outs will be held some time this week. The play will be given in the latter part of January.

Rhea is an ardent basketball fan and player, and in the future she hopes to be a nurse. (Red is her favorite color, and she claims to enjoy A.B. of her subjects.) Chelsea was blessed on April 16, 1925, with Doris Elaine Collins. Doris weighs 100 lbs. plus, and stands 5 ft. 2 1/2 inches tall. She is one of these unusual girls with brown hair and hazel eyes. If she had her way, everything would be blue, for that is her favorite color.

Basketball

Well, basketball season rolled around to dear old C.H.S. last Monday when a large group of boys, who were expected to turn out, started practice.

The first game of the year will be played at Grass Lake on Tuesday, November 30.

Coach Cameron has five lettermen back from last year's squad, plus some capable reserves who will join the boys on the varsity squad. Modack, Poor, Gaken, Orthing and Alber received letters last year and Poor and Alber have received two letter awards. With this squad back Coach Cameron is expecting a fairly good year.

The schedule has not been completed as yet but the first game of the year will be played at Grass Lake.

Football has dropped from the minds of most people at Chelsea but I will try to refresh your memory on the season just completed.

On September 17, Dexter came over to Chelsea to take a licking from Chelsea by a score of 18-7. Modack ran for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage. Andy and Poor accounted for the other two scores.

On September 24, Chelsea took a licking at the hands of a well-balanced Milan ball club, 18-0. Chelsea was outplayed and with the breaks against them they went down to defeat.

On October 1, Belleville came here and with Chelsea still not recovered from the Milan game, handed Chelsea its second defeat of the season by a score of 26-0. The referee had to hand out many penalties during the game.

Chelsea finally got back into the win column from Saline by a score of 6-0. Modack got the only score of the game in the third quarter on a 45-yard jaunt down the sidelines.

Chelsea extended their victory string to two games when they whitewashed Dundee 12-0. Coach Cameron had a change in this game to use every man on the squad.

On the night of October 22, Chelsea went over to Flat Rock to play a team that was unbent and unscored upon. After holding them scoreless for the first half Chelsea went down to defeat by a score of 20-0.

On the following Friday, Romulus came to Chelsea to take the Chelsea boys but Chelsea held them to a 7-7 tie. Romulus scored in the last two minutes of the game to do this.

With Roosevelt in seventh place an overconfident Chelsea squad got beat by the boys from Ypsi by a score of 13-7.

Chelsea ended its season in a blaze of glory when they defeated Manchester by a score of 21-0. Knickerbocker, Modack and Poor got the touchdowns while Modack ran the first extra point over, Gaken the second, and Modack placed-kicked the last. Chelsea's final record: Won 4, lost 4, tied 1.

The boys and Mr. Cameron deserve a lot of credit for playing such good ball.

NOON SPORTS

Girls noon sports started Wednesday, November 19. The girls play basketball. The days the girls have the gym are Wednesday and Friday. Joyce Hoffman was elected to take care of the equipment. We hope more girls come out for this.

P.F.A.

Henry Orthing is chairman of the program of work committee. The information that they work out will be used for the best chapter contest. There will be a prize of $50 and a gold plaque for the best chapter in Michigan. The State Board of Agriculture is also giving a $100 prize and they are developing awards.

CONSERVATION CLUB NEWS

A night meeting of the Conservation Club was held Wednesday, Nov. 17. Plans were made to have another night meeting at which the conservation officer from this area would be the guest speaker and conservation movies would be shown. A ruling was made that anyone speaking out of turn is subject to a nickel fine. James Goken is the Watch Dog. Robert Goken and Donald Eder were appointed to the committee for planting trees. Each boy was given seventy-five conservation stamps to sell.

G.A.A.

The girls started basketball practice last week. Letters were written to L. High and Pineknob about playing basketball games with them. As yet no answers have been received. They are still working on splits.

PEEPING TOM

While looking through the window of the room where Physics is held, whom should I behold? Well, none other than Don Schanz making a speech. By the way, Don, who is your English teacher?

What's this! The shepherd (A. Guenther) not looking after his Freshman girls on the stairs at 8 last Thursday.

What was all the laughing about in Room 22? Well Gump, Miss McDonald wouldn't have made that remark if you hadn't been so fascinated by Nancy.

What's the matter with that last hour study hall? Can't they plan their work so they'll be busy from 2:55 until 3:30 and not have to stay after school every night?

My, my, Miss Stevens will have to put cotton in the Physics students' ears. They're forever hearing a bell in the distance.

Say, wait a minute, raise that shade again. Well I swan, I thought it was against rules to pass notes, and on those long notes too.

On guard Irma, you only think you have Hank all pinned up, but it looks like Ruth Ann has a new hobby, namely: fancy designs for boys.

What is this world coming to? At last a teacher admits she is talking too much! (note please, I said "she") and now, Miss Hammond, you can take a front seat with Economics class by admitting you are human.

Is there a doctor in the house? Well come quickly to Miss McDonald's room. It seems she almost fainted. All of her Journalism students turned in their assignments on time.

"Hey, I want that ball." "Save that one for me." Ah me! those boys are back again for another season of basketball which means we poor G.A.A. girls must leave the gym at exactly 5:00 on Tuesdays and Thursdays. All we girls get now is the backseat in the boys' life.

Well kids, I guess I've let you in on a few of the inside happenings at C.H.S., so I'll be leaving now.

HI-Y NEWS

A meeting of the Hi-Y was held last Thursday. Five new members were inducted into the club. A Christmas card sales department was organized. A noon luncheon, which is to be held in the Homecoming Room, is planned for Nov. 23. The Hi-Y is planning to furnish lunches for the players after the basketball games.

A discussion on sportsmanship was held after the business meeting.

WAR COUNCIL

Plans are under way for a Bond Auction to be held December 7. As yet no date has been set for the box social. No regular meeting was held last week as many of the members were excused to attend the movie for the Home Economics classes and the 4-H Club girls.

HOME EC. NEWS

The initiation party was held Tuesday night. It was an informal initiation. The formal candle light initiation will be held for the public at the Style Show on December 8. Virginia Leaser was chairman of the initiation. Refreshments were served.

Plans are now being made for the style show. It is to be held Dec. 8. The public is invited and the admission free. The following committees were appointed:

Writing skit—Joyce Lentz. Invitations—Jane Downer, Donna Pickering and Pat Van Riper.

Publicity—Barbara O'Hara, Shirley Dorer, Pat Van Riper, Virginia Leaser and Donna Pickering.

The Homecoming Club will serve the luncheon for the Hi-Y Wednesday noon.

Seventh Grade

Our stamp sale was $10.70 this week and 10 people bought. That was 27 per cent.

We received our pictures and about all of us wanted them. Some liked them and some didn't.

Our second book report is due on November 23.

R. Stewart, J. Crawford, M. Palmer and D. Knickerbocker wrote us a test on "Current Events." It was quite hard.

We are very sorry to hear Thomas Woolrich is leaving to go to Montreal. We hope he can visit us sometime.

Rowena Lentz has put a Thanksgiving scene on our blackboard and it is quite pretty.

We are doing very well in Junior Red Cross. We are bringing games, magazines and books, and are making scrap books with crossword puzzles, quizzes, jokes and games.

We have a little turtle and we thought it was hibernating, but one day we found out that it wasn't. It was crawling around in the hall, but Miss Fox found it. We thank her.

We all drew Thanksgiving pictures about something we are thankful for. We thought Eugene's, Geraldine's, and Robert's were the best.

We had an eye test this week and about everyone got 20-20 except a few people.

The finest CHRISTMAS present you can give is one of Uncle Sam's WAR BONDS. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

Jaywalkers still continue to jaywalk, and jaywalkers are still being killed. In 1942 approximately 10,000 pedestrians were killed and about 200,000 injured. The pedestrian who is hit always blames the automobile driver, when in most instances, it is the pedestrian's own fault. He is careless and thoughtless when he crosses the street at intersections, in the middle of the block, and does other very dangerous things to invite an accident.

In cities, pedestrian deaths account for over half the death toll. Nearly half the pedestrians killed were crossing in the middle of the block or coming from behind parked cars.

Never leave the curb until you are sure you can make it all the way across the street safely. When you get off street cars, go to the nearest curb and wait until crossing is safe.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"

"In 'The Stars and Stripes'... the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"

"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"

"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control.'

"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

Order for Appearance
(No. 1047-0)
At a session of said Court held at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor in said County on the 13th day of November, A. D. 1943.

Present: Honorable George W. Sample, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the Bill of Complaint in said cause and the affidavit of J. Don Lawrence attached thereto, from which it satisfactorily appears to the court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, are proper and necessary parties defendant in the above entitled cause, and that the present whereabouts of said defendants are unknown, and further that the names of the persons who are included therein without being named, but who are embraced therein under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cannot be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry.

On motion of J. Don Lawrence, attorney for plaintiffs, it is ordered that said defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered in this cause, within three months from the date of this order, and in default thereof that said Bill of Complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendants, their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns.

It is further ordered that, within forty days plaintiffs cause a copy of this order to be published in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said County, and that such publication be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession.

FARMERS' CLUB MEETS
The Western Washtenaw Farmers' club held their November meeting on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Laird, and 46 members and guests enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner served at 7 o'clock.

The business session, in charge of Mr. Laird, opened with singing of "America the Beautiful," with Everett Heaton as song leader.

"Thanksgiving Thoughts" were given in response to roll call; a piano duet, "Tourist's March," was rendered by Mrs. Anna Storms and Mrs. P. M. Broesamle, and a reading, "The First Settlers' Story" was given by Mrs. J. N. Dancy; other features of the program were two vocal duets by Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Schade of Waterloo and a talk on "Thankfulness" by Rev. Mr. Schade.

Labor Factor in Silk
Chief deterrent to domestic silk culture has been the cost of labor in comparison to the wages paid workers in foreign sources of supply. To be profitable silkworms have to be fed mulberry leaves at proper times, must be placed on twigs or bunches of straw when ready to spin cocoons.

Will Alfalfa for Silage
Another method of making good alfalfa silage is to wilt the green material in the swath to around 60 per cent moisture before putting it into a silo.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

CURRENT EVENTS

BAFFLE NEWS READER

WASHINGTON. — The strikes, wage actions and economic debates from the labor and food subsidy fronts must seem wholly beyond the understanding of even a well-informed news reader.

In truth, some developments are beyond the full understanding of the participants who are splitting statistical hairs and pulling political ones. The controlling forces behind the developments, however, can be set forth with an undeniable assurance which should enable readers to understand the implications of current news.

A real national economic crisis has arisen from the campaign of labor leaders to break the loose economic bounds fixed by the administration on wages and prices. The unauthorized coal strikes, the threatened railroad strike, and similar developments must be traced to that labor initiative.

The seriousness of the situation apparently is not fully understood. Nor has the public been informed of the depth of White House perplexity in trying to find compromise solutions.

The White House plan, however, is clearly discernible between recent developments. The Vinson decision against a full eight cents an hour rail increase to non-operating employees and the War Labor board split decision (7-to-5) in the Illinois coal contract granting a possible $10 a week raise, show the administration is ready to bend, if not officially break the ceilings of the Little Steel formula.

But it obviously wants to hold down the break to a point that will not again throw prices into any higher inflationary ground than necessary.

At the same time, its talented mobilizer Jimmy Byrnes is soft-shoeing his way around inside congress trying to get some arrangement for continuance of the Commodity Credit corporation food subsidies which will make the consumer and wage earner think prices are not as high as they are, by making the treasury stand some of the increase.

In short, the White House method is to compromise at whatever negotiable point it can find, in order to stave off another general wage and price increase. Weeks will be required to work it out, if it can be worked out, and the effectiveness of the results cannot even be guessed.

The crisis has war and political aspects as well as economic significance. Coal production already has broken down to the point where suffering in many localities can be expected this winter. Production initiative was disturbed long before the recent crisis by the fact that sons and friends of miners were able to find other war work—paying higher wages.

Then, also, the railroad brotherhoods are a powerful group, which usually gets what it wants. A rail strike obviously cannot be allowed in view of war necessity, even if it is voted.

All this agitation is, of course, being used by Byrnes to frighten congress into a compromise on a food subsidy, but apparently without much effect.

Even if Mr. Roosevelt's compromise plan is successful, it probably will lead the nation into higher inflationary ground, but apparently he hopes the ground will be beclouded so as not to scare anyone. Also, such negotiated decisions must be temporary.

Both labor leaders and farm leaders apparently justify their existence by planned successive campaigns to increase wages and better conditions without end. Their organizational setups are such that they cannot afford to take a national economic viewpoint—or accept one which conflicts with theirs.

Nor have they overlooked the fact that a critical presidential election is in the offing next year, having recently modified their national political pledges at their conventions to the point of practically inviting the President to fish for their votes if he wants them—and to use bigger and better bait.

An overall, arbitrary-freezing of both prices and wages at the outset of this war (as Baruch demanded) might have obviated the existing difficulties. But with a policy of negotiation and adjustment having proceeded as far as it has, no one seems to be able even to suggest a wholly satisfactory or guaranteed solution.

A WORLD 'POLICE FORCE'
The whole international police force notion dropped almost entirely out of the senate debate. Even New Deal Senator Joe Pepper, who only a few months back, was talking about a world state and an international army, did not bring up the first subject and conceded that an international force was a matter of future discussion a long way off.

This enabled critical Senator Van Nuys to say—and rightly—that the Connally resolution did not promise such a force. The idea seems dead.

INTERNAL REVENUE MAN WILL BE IN CHELSEA ON NOV. 29-30

A representative of the Internal Revenue Department will be at the Chelsea post office on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 29 and 30, to assist people in filing their estimated income tax return due on or before Dec. 15.

Those who desire assistance are required to have the following information: Total earnings expected in 1943 (from salary or wages); net profit expected from business or farming for 1943; estimated tax withheld from wages during the year; both Victory Tax and Withholding Tax, from Jan. 1, 1943 to Dec. 31, 1943; amount of income tax paid in March and June 1943, on 1942 income tax.
