● "American security is YOUR security." That's the theme of a sure way to beat inflation. It's also the best protection known against a severe shock of deflation.

The other day we received an urgent invitation from the United States Treasury department to a conference to be held in Chicago. Newspapers were being called upon for a resumption of war-time patriotic service. The stakes were high: Survival of the American system of free enterprise itself.

What was it all about? Well, here's the story:

● The cost of modern war is tremendous. It skyrocketed our national debt to 275 billions at the close of World War. The interest alone is 5 billions each year, $9,000 every minute of the day and night, every day in the year.

Rising price of foodstuffs and clothing has prompted many bondholders—those families in the low income earning group—to turn in their bonds for cash.

During the war these families couldn't buy radios, washing machines, and other things for their homes. Credit was restricted by government. You couldn't buy diamond rings on credit. You had to pay cash.

● And so Americans bought war bonds and, after the war, saving bonds. We waited until the post-war day when this bright new merchandise would be available. And if you have been in department stores recently, you will agree that we Americans have been spending our money pretty freely. Christmas sales were the highest yet, and retail inventories are fairly low.

And yet, despite our rush to buy goods, we—the American people—sold a net loss of 46 billion dollars in Uncle Sam's bonds. That's a lot of money. It is the best bulwark available to cushion us against the shock of depression.

● And so the Treasury Department, in cooperation with retailers and industrial leaders and farmers, is going to ask us to return to war-time saving as a way to lick the inflation. Instead of buying things we could get along without, we are asked to invest in Security Bonds of the United States government. Yes, that's the new name for them.

The Security bond campaign is to open Feb. 15 in Michigan. It will close June 15.

● A recent public opinion survey disclosed that 19 per cent of industrial workers were dissatisfied with the American free enterprise system, and another 22 per cent were "on the fence," neither favorable nor unfavorable.

This minority could become a majority, if the nation were to be plunged into a long depression. Dictatorships thrive when people are willing to trade freedom for food.

How can the effects of the business cycle be cushioned? First by saving money for the proverbial rainy day. Save!

That's why the new Security bond is your security.

Breaks Hip in Fall

Wednesday Afternoon

Mrs. Anna Hoag, who has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. George P. Staffan this winter, suffered a broken left hip Wednesday afternoon of the past week, when she was knocked down by the scuffling of two dogs, one of which belonged to the Staffans. The dog was accompanying her on a short walk, and was joined by a dog that came bounding across the street and in the ensuing scuffle they bumped against her, causing her to lose her balance and fall. The accident happened in front of the Methodist church, a short distance from the Staffan home.

Mrs. Hoag was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, and is reported that she is quite comfortable.

It is expected that she will be confined in the hospital for about nine weeks. Her room number is 478.

CHS Bulldogs Win League Engagements

Roosevelt Downed Last Friday Eve., Manchester, Tues.

By DWIGHT GADD

Chelsea's Bulldogs rang up win number two in league competition this season by whipping Roosevelt High's Roughriders, 35 to 29, last Friday night at the local gym. The game started just as inauspiciously from the crowd's standpoint as the game the week before at Saline. Neither team could hit and at the end of the first period the visitors were on the big end of a 6 to 5 score.

However, both their lead and Chelsea's scoring inability came to an abrupt end in the second quarter. The local quintet found the going to be perfect and scored 13 points while holding the Roughriders to four, to take a commanding 18-10 halftime lead.

After the intermission the Bulldogs took up right where they left off the period before by netting 10 points while holding Roosevelt to only two free throws. With a 28-point lead at the end of the third stanza, Coach Newkirk pulled his varsity and let the substitutes finish out most of the last quarter.

Roosevelt manhandled their smaller and inexperienced opponents during the fourth quarter, outscoring them 17 to 7, but the varsity came back for the last two minutes and protected their lead until the final whistle.

Guard, Oscar Hansen, paced the victors with nine points, closely followed by Emil Birk, Roosevelt forward, who dumped in eight.

The Bulldogs look better with every appearance, a tribute to our new basketball coach, Doug Newkirk. Squad members are overcoming their inexperience, both individually and as a unit. They now have a 3-win and 2-loss record for a .600 average, and it should improve as the season progresses.

Chelsea's "Bulldogs" lost last Friday night to the little Roughriders, 35 to 29. In the second half, they came back fighting after the 22-point lead, but outscored the visitors 22 to 13, but they were just too far down to make it. Brand led the victors with 12 points, while Heydaufl and Crocker were each dumping in six.

Chelsea, 37; Manchester, 27

With revenge in their hearts, the Bulldogs trounced Manchester, 37 to 27, last Tuesday night before a capacity crowd at the local gym, to even up with the Dutchmen for a 54-52 defeat suffered at Manchester in the first game of the season.

Chelsea grabbed an early lead, instead of waiting until the second period as has been their custom in the past few games, and netted 11 points while holding Manchester to one free throw during the first quarter. The Dutchmen came back scuffling, outscoring the locals 9 to 4, and reducing their lead to only 16-10 as the teams left the floor at half-time.

The third period was one of the most thrilling periods from the spectator's standpoint, to be desired as Manchester fought back to tie the score three times and outscore the Bulldogs 12 to 7. At the end of the period the score was tied, 22-22. The excitement at this time was not only high in the crowd but in the players as well, and Way of Manchester and Baldwin of Chelsea were banished from the game for staging a pushing and shoving contest on their own.

For the first three minutes of the last quarter the game remained nip and tuck, the score being tied up four more times, but at that point Miller racked up two buckets as did Bob Vogel and they defended their lead until the end.

Jim Miller, Chelsea guard, took scoring honors for the evening with 19 points on five field goals and by converting nine out of 10 charity tosses. Wayne Trolz, Manchester center, was high for the losers with 10.

Manchester's Coach McCabe stated after the game that Chelsea's improvement from that first game on Dec. 9 at Manchester, until now, is the most improvement he has seen in a team in only half a season. That has been noticed by many of you who have attended the games regularly, too.

Tomorrow night the boys travel to Lincoln High School for their fourth Huron League game of the season. Lincoln is only about eight miles south of Ypsilanti, so let's have a large crowd of Chelseaites there at 7:00.

See you at game time!

AWARD GARBAGE CONTRACT

Robert Lantz has been awarded the contract for garbage collection in Chelsea for the coming year, beginning Feb. 1, 1948. His bid of $2,500 is $500 less than that paid for the service the past year.

Frances Bacon, Eleanor King and Eleanor Schenks, of Ann Arbor, were lunch and dinner guests and spent the afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schneider.

Manchester Still Leads Independent Basketball League

With the schedule now halfway completed, after Manchester, Grass Lake Merchants and Millers won last Thursday night, those three teams stand in that order in the standings as the second half gets underway tonight (Thursday) at the High school gym.

Manchester, in last week's initial game, had little trouble with Cassidy Lake, as they rang up the high score in league play by winning, 87 to 81. Center, Manchester center, came close to outscoring the entire Cassidy team, as he looped in 24 points to lead the victors' attack and also set another league record. Bodo again was high for Cassidy, as he netted 15 points for the losers.

Newkirk, Miller's high scoring center, came within two points of outscoring the opposition in the second game by dropping in 21 points, as Millers dumped the Grass Lake Church outfit, 87 to 23. Snyder, as usual paced the losers with 12 points.

With second place at stake in the final game, the Grass Lake Merchants tripped-up Products in a low scoring affair, 29 to 13. Havens was high man for the winners with 10 points, while Kusterer looped in 11 for Products' losing cause.

The first five scoring leaders for the half season just completed, are as follows: Bodo, Cassidy forward, 64 points in four games for a 16.0 average, and Newkirk, Miller center, 50 points in four games, for a 12.5 average. Snyder, Grass Lake Church forward, and Kusterer, Chelsea Products center, each having appeared in all five of their teams' games, are tied at 64 points and a 16.0 average.

Gutson and N. Fielder, forward and guard, respectively on Manchester's league leading outfit, are tied for the fifth position with 44 points in five games for an 8.8 average. Worden, Grass Lake Merchants forward, just missed as he netted 43 points in five games for an average of 8.6.

Tonight (Thursday), in the first game at 7:00, Products tackles hapless Cassidy Lake; at 8:00, Millers and Grass Lake Merchants battle for second place; and at 9:00 league leading Manchester meets the Grass Lake Church boys.

Chelsea's game is free, so come down to the gym around 7:00 (tonight) for a whole evening of basketball.

4-H Tractor Clubs To Hold Auction Sale of Used Farm Machinery

The Washtenaw County 4-H Tractor Maintenance Clubs are laying plans for a farm machinery auction sale at the Paul Cheney Implement store, 4101 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor.

This sale should furnish an opportunity for farmers to sell their used tractors and machinery, which are still in great enough demand to bring high prices at sale, that could be realized at trade-in values.

The 4-H tractor clubs hope that through sponsoring an organized sale they will be giving a real service to Washtenaw farmers.

Ord. Price of Stockbridge has been secured as auctioneer. Several pieces of equipment have already been acquired for listing and an advertising plan has been set up.

The sale will be held on a consignment basis with the 4-H boys retaining five per cent of the sale price of the machinery. Bringing in over a hundred dollars. Ten per cent of the sale price of items selling for less than one hundred dollars will be retained. This money will be used to pay for advertising and expenses of the sale. Any money left over will help finance the annual 4-H plowing contest.

Proceeds from this sale are used by the Kiwanis Club to help the crippled children at University hospital. Second place went of Chelsea corner from Old US-12, adv.

Grade PTA Hear Talk on Eng. Schools

Former Exchange Teacher Tells of Chelsea, England

Miss Josephine Davis, a teacher in the Mack school in Ann Arbor, speaker at the Elementary PTA meeting in the Home Ec. room at the High school Wednesday evening, Jan. 21, very charmingly described her year as an exchange teacher in England. Of special interest to her listeners was the fact that for five months of her stay in England she taught in school at Chelsea. For that reason, she said, she was happy to talk to the people of Chelsea, Michigan, about her experiences in the English Chelsea.

She said that her idea, when she went to England, was that she would attempt to interpret American education to the English, but found that English education was meeting the needs of the English children just as American education is meeting the needs of American children.

The friendly feeling between parents and teachers that is found to be general in America, does not exist in England, she said, and parents were not even welcomed at some of the schools. Parents there, she said, seemed somewhat indifferent to the educational needs of their children; of paramount importance to parents in America, was the procuring of food, clothing and shelter for their families which is very hard to do with all the shortages of the bare necessities of life that is being experienced in all European countries.

Miss Davis spoke of the scarcity of fuel for heating purposes, her schoolroom never being warmer than forty-five degrees. She lived in one of the better houses there and the only heat had only one jump of coal left to use and all gathered around the fire to eat their meals to get the benefit of what heat there was. Miss Davis was in England last winter, which was one of the coldest in many years, she returned to Ann Arbor in August.

One thing that impressed her, she said, was the exceptionally friendly attitude of the English people toward the Americans.

She was handicapped in her work there, she stated, by the complete absence of any kind of Chelsea, all having been destroyed during the war. She suggested that it would be a very friendly and appropriate gesture for some organization in Chelsea, Michigan, to take the responsibility of sending to Chelsea, England, a box of children's books and possibly other necessities, such as food and clothing.

Miss Davis described the meals she had in England, saying the standard breakfast was tea and toast, supplemented once a month by an egg; lunch was potatoes and cabbage, and dinner corned beef of very poor quality with a dessert of cream-of-wheat without sugar or cream. For variety the food was colored a different color each evening.

In conclusion, she told of her happiness to be back in America. The meeting was opened with the Parent-Teacher prayer by Mrs. R. W. Wagner and a short business meeting was presided over by A. D. Mayner, president, in charge.

Following Miss Davis' talk refreshments were served by the committee for the month, Mrs. George Barlow and Mrs. Charles Cameron.

County 4-H Clubs To Help Kiwanis Annual Rummage Sale

Washtenaw County's 4-H clubs will be giving their support to the Ann Arbor Kiwanis Clubs annual rummage sale, Jan. 29, 30 and 31.

The 4-H club members, as they have in previous years, will sell eggs, canned goods, vegetables, dressed poultry, baked goods, groceries, clothing, popcorn, butter and other saleable farm products.

Proceeds from this sale are used by the Kiwanis Club to help the crippled children at University hospital. Second place went of Chelsea corner from Old US-12, adv.

WEEK-END AT HOUGHTON L.

Donald Edder and Duane Luick spent the week-end at Houghton Lake on a fishing trip. Saturday evening they were invited to the opening of Pine View Lodge, where the queen of Roscommon county was crowned. The lodge is very beautiful, according to the boys, and has a nice dance floor. They also report a nice ski run there.

Walt's Cafe now features complete entertainment; beer, wine, fish and chips, dancing and television. Second place went of Chelsea corner from Old US-12, adv.

Singing Sentinels' Will Appear at St. Paul's Ev. Church

Through the courtesy of the Kaiser-Frazer Corporation at Willow Run where they are members of the Public Relations department, the Singing Sentinels, four harmonizing vocalists of wartime Kaiser shipyard fame, will appear in Chelsea next Thursday, Feb. 6, at 8:15 p.m., at St. Paul's church hall. Their appearance here is sponsored by the Young People's League of the church and the public is cordially invited to attend the performance. There is no admission charge but, a free will offering will be taken which will be added to a fund being raised by the Young People's League of the Evangelical and Reformed churches in this area for purchase of a campaign of their own.

The four Sentinels are all professional singers—Ken Rogers, bass; Herman Klieck, tenor; Del von Zeuthen, baritone, and Chuck Faris, music director and tenor. The story of their singing together goes back to Pearl Harbor. Eager to get into war work, they found no plant protection men in the Kaiser shipyards in Oregon. Because they liked to sing, they formed a quartet and their uniforms, naturally suggested the name "Sentinels."

The Sentinels made more than 1,500 appearances as shipyard guards. They were the voices that launched 743 ships in the Puget Sound area. Henry B. McFarland, Vancouver area, the Menzies, a secretary of the treasury heard them sing in Portland and got them to make a movie short, "America's Answer," for war bond drives. They traveled through several states, singing their way in to the heart of Fraser's 1946 "came to Kaiser."

Although all the Sentinels have broad backgrounds of training and experience in music, they prefer the songs that most of the ordinary folk sing. There is no head man among the Sentinels. Chuck Faris is music director and he and Rogers have composed several tunes with words for their own use and for commercial distribution. Den von Zeuthen often acts as master of ceremonies and he and Klieck take charge of ribbing notable at public gatherings, at which the Sentinels are adept. All are soloists. Klieck is a relative of Mrs. E. H. Grosbowl.

The four Sentinels and their wives will be guests at the 4-H church dinner of St. Paul's church which will be held in the church dining room at 6:30 o'clock preceding their performance.

Lima 4-H Member Honored for Work

In recognition of his superior 4-H dairy project, the state 4-H club department has submitted the name of Jerry Herick of Chelsea, to the Michigan Jersey Cattle Club as the winner of the state Jersey award.

The award will be a purebred Jersey heifer taken from one of the best Michigan Jersey herds. Jerry was selected because of the excellent job he did with his grade Jersey dairy club project last year.

He accompanied Thomas Bust, county 4-H club agent to Farmer's Week, Monday to meet the Michigan Jersey Breeders at the annual meeting.

Jerry is a member of the Lima 4-H club under the leadership of Jack Bradbury.

Rowena Lantz, who suffered a deep cut on the left knee when she fell as she was leaving the yard at her home on Old US-12 to board a bus about a week ago, is improving. She had been confined to bed until the first of this week, but is now able to move around the house.

Kiwanis Members Hear Report on District Convention

George Doe, Kenneth Runckman and Dr. Parker Sharrard, who attended the Kiwanis District convention at Grand Rapids last week, gave their reports of the convention at the regular Kiwanis meeting Monday evening at the Municipal building. Their reports showed that thirty-six clubs from all over Michigan were represented by the two hundred delegates in attendance.

Lowell Davison, chairman of the combined Kiwanis and Chamber of Commerce committee appointed to head the project of sponsoring a move to bring the proposed change to a city form of government in Chelsea before the voters, led a discussion on civic government, which completed the evening's program.

Another Story About 'The Good Old Days'

A handbill found among the effects of the late William Schatz, owner of the Corner Barber Shop at North Main and East Middle streets for many years, was brought in to The Standard office recently by his son, William, present owner of the business. The handbill gives very interesting information on the price of the "staff of life" in other words, the price of bread, which now sells for eighteen cents per loaf in most cases.

The handbill, which is thought, was printed early in the 1900's, or possibly even as early as 1898, lists bread "at the same price it is sold for in Detroit and Jackson—4 cents per one-pound loaf, or seven loaves for 25 cents."

It was evidently not necessary to buy all seven loaves at once because seven bread "tickets" were advertised for the price of 25c, or anyone could get three dozen cookies or fried cakes for the same amount of money.

The reason given for the low price was the "drop in the price of flour."

Proprietor of the Central Bakery that had the handbill printed, was J. G. Earl, who will possibly be remembered by some of Chelsea's older residents.

Allocation of State Sales Tax Fund Made

Allocation of Michigan state sales tax under the sales tax diversion amendment, as listed by County Treasurer Clyde Fleming, shows Chelsea's share for the last three months of 1947 to be in the amount of $2,324.08, making a total of $18,049.28 allocated here since the diversion of part of the sales tax to local units began Dec. 5, 1946. This does not include the amounts allocated to the schools here. Figures for the various school districts in the county for the last three months of 1947 have not yet been prepared, the total amount for the entire county being $117,367. Computation for school districts is made at the rate of $5.59 for each school child and for cities, villages and townships, at the rate of $1.48 per capita, based on the 1940 census.

FOUNDER'S DAY

A "Founder's Day" program is to be given at the February meeting of the High School PTA which will be held Monday evening, Feb. 2, at the High school. Miss Mabel Fox and Mrs. Martin Steinbach are in charge of program arrangements and parents are urged to attend the meeting and learn of the origin and aims of the PTA movement as brought out in the Founder's Day program.

Refreshments will be served.

John Bacon, of Empire, spent Saturday here visiting relatives and friends.

Methodist Church Conducted January Teaching Mission

During the month of January the local Methodist church conducted a teaching mission for four Sunday evenings. There were two study divisions in the program each Sunday evening beginning at 7:30, the adult division met on the ground floor of the church while the youth group met in the church study.

The adult division made a thorough going study of the text, "Committed Unto Us," written by Dr. Willis Lamott at the request of the Missionary Education Movement of North America. Dr. Lamott who had been a missionary in Japan, and educator, who served on many national and international Christian Education commissions, gave his thought in the book to the study of the evangelistic impulse, the heart of Christian Missions, throughout the world. Those of the local church leading in the timely discussions were: Philip Olin, Dr. Joseph Finner, Charles Cameron and Miss Mabel Fox.

The youth group made a careful study of the text, "For All of Life," written by Wm. and Charlotte Wiser who had lived in different periods in India. The course was conducted by Mrs. Orville W. Morrow who was generously assisted by several of the young people.

Following each study period there was an assembly when the evening participants enjoyed and were inspired by a fine selection of "sound" motion pictures of the "A" class.

Each evening was concluded by light refreshments and fellowship. Committee chairmen, Mrs. Edwin Gaunt, Mrs. James Nutt, and Mrs. Jay Weinberg were assisted by Mesdames Burk, Chaplin, Kelley, McClain, Sorensen and Wolfgang.

March of Dimes Drive Is Falling Behind

If last year's total of about $700 is to be equalled in this year's March of Dimes drive here, contributions will have to come in at a faster rate than they have been to date, according to a check made by the local chairman, Mrs. Walter Mohrlock. A number of contributions from local organizations have been received, she said, and many contributors, such as the local factories, etc., will be turning their donations in by the end of the week.

Mrs. Hickman Price, Jr., of Ann Arbor, county chairman of the drive for funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which marks its tenth anniversary this year, has stated that the reserve fund from previous years is now nearly depleted and the county chapter will depend solely on this year's campaign for its successful handling of polio in 1948. For that reason donations this year should really be increased wherever possible.

Discussion on Gov't Change Held Monday

Meeting Poorly Attended; Lively Interest Is Shown

John Iglauer, of the Michigan Municipal League, was present at Monday night's meeting of citizens of Chelsea, sponsored by the Kiwanis club and the Chamber of Commerce. Monday night's meeting was a follow-up of the meeting held two weeks ago, and was called for the purpose of giving the people of Chelsea an opportunity to ask questions in regard to the proposed change-over from a village to a city form of government here and to receive authoritative answers from a man whose business it is, as a representative of the Municipal League, to give such answers.

Lowell Davison, chairman of the joint Kiwanis and C. of C. committee appointed to head the movement here, presided at the meeting and asked a number of questions which he had received in answer to his offer in The Standard to procure authoritative answers to all questions sent in to his committee. Mr. Iglauer gave concise, easily-understood answers to all of the questions put to him, and Mr. Davison stated Tuesday morning that the questions and answers would be ready for publication in next week's issue of The Standard.

Although the question of changing Chelsea's village government, in force since 1896, to a city form of government is a very important issue, only a handful of citizens were present at the meeting. Mr. Iglauer was asked if other villages which had changed into cities had seemed as apathetic and disinterested as seemingly was the case here, as evidenced by the small number attending the meeting Monday night. His answer was that it very often was the case, and that he had observed that in most municipalities small groups of interested and public-spirited citizens were responsible for pushing the proposals through successfully.

Petitions requesting an election on the proposal will be presented to the Village Council at their regular meeting next Monday evening.

4-H Clubs Seeking Garden Seeds To Help Europeans

The 4-H clubs of Michigan are doing something to help the people of Europe—it's a prize garden will help these people to help themselves.

Beginning now, 4-H Club groups are working to provide packages of vegetable seeds for hungry Europeans. The packages, while weighing only a little over two pounds, will produce up to 10 tons of vegetables. The seeds included are enough for a garden for a family of four and the selection was made by authorities on gardening. The program is conducted in cooperation with the American Seed Trade association.

Among the 24 vegetables included in the assortment are peas, beans, beets, carrots, onions, radishes, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumber, lettuce, tomato, turnips, and many others.

Twenty-three countries are listed for the donor to choose from. The assortment can be sent to an individual, to the Church World Service, Inc., or to the War Relief Services.

Learn of Death of California Relative

Miss Ida Kusch received a letter this week from her cousin, Mrs. Fred Freer, of Burbank, California, telling of the death of another cousin, Leo Staffan, in Phoenix, Arizona, Jan. 16. Mr. Staffan, who was also a resident of Chelsea, was born in Chelsea and lived here until he was a young man. His parents were Jacob and Aleda Staffan.

Chelsea relatives who survive include five cousins, George Staffan, Ed Kusch, Mrs. Ed McKune, Mrs. Henry Fenn and Miss Ida Kusch.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gaunt attended the graduation exercises of Redford High school which were held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at Cooley High school, Detroit. Their nephew, William R. Gaunt, was a member of the class, graduating cum laude. He was a member of the National Honor Society.

Ceramic Tile Bathrooms

Although ceramic tile has been manufactured for more than 6,000 years, its widespread use in American bathrooms dates only from the 1920s. Two factors, the popularity of the apron-front bathtub and the increase in showers, were primarily responsible for more extensive employment of this material, according to construction experts. As a direct result, volume of tile production, valued at only two million dollars in 1900, rose to nearly 28 million dollars by 1928.

GM Hydra-Matic Drive optional on all models!

Today, Pontiac announces a series of notable advancements in the car that has already won the wholehearted endorsement of more than a million owners and friends.

Foremost among these advancements is the great General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive—now offered as optional equipment on all Pontiac cars. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car in the world to provide this great mechanical masterpiece—which shifts gears automatically, and completely eliminates the clutch pedal. Coupled with this great engineering triumph is a striking improvement in beauty and luxury. New exterior smartness extends from the new radiator grille to the streamlined rear bumper.

Interiors, too, are remarkably improved. Upholsteries are more beautiful and are expertly blended to achieve new attractiveness and charm. Instrument panels are finished in a smart design adapted from quarter-sawn mahogany—and an adroit use of chrome moulding adds a deft touch of modernity.

Engine and chassis have been refined wherever possible—but they remain, basically, the same engineering masterpieces which have become synonymous in the automotive industry with goodness and dependability.

There are many more things we could tell you about the new Pontiac, for there are countless improvements which add to its traditional quality and value. But we feel that, for those who know Pontiac, we need only say—

—here is, by far, the most beautiful Pontiac ever built —here is the most luxurious Pontiac ever built
—here is the most dependable Pontiac ever built —and it is now available with GM Hydra-Matic Drive—optional at additional cost.
We wish only to add that it is here—on display in our showroom—and that you are most cordially invited to see and inspect it.

Former Chelseaite Elected to Radio Club

Chelsea friends of Walter Mayer of Essexville, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mayer of Chelsea, and a former Chelsea resident, will be interested in the following clipping, taken from a paper in that territory.

Walter Mayer, 184 Plummer street, Essexville, radio engineer at the state police post, has acquired membership in the DX Century club, society of amateur radio operators who have made two-way short-wave radio contacts with at least 100 countries.

Mayer's amateur station, W8CVU, is the 89th station to achieve the 100 mark rating since the war. Actually he has contacted 134 countries but has received written confirmation of but 105 of the total.

The radio engineer says other confirmations are coming in periodically and he hopes to extend the total well above the 100 level.

Frame House at Lodi Plains Once Home of Early Educational Academy Founder

(Editor's Note: This is one in a series of articles on historical spots and monuments in Michigan based on information in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.)

Few persons know it, but a white frame house at Lodi Plains, about six miles south of Ann Arbor, once was the home of the founder of an educational academy there one hundred years ago.

The house was owned by Prof. Rufus Nutting, a Presbyterian minister, who gambled that a private academy to train young men and women as teachers and to enter colleges and universities would succeed.

Built sometime after the academy began, the several-times remodeled house now is owned by Karl D. Weavie. It is located on the southeast corner of Saline and Textile roads, adjacent to the spot where the academy building once stood, according to Dr. Clevor Bald, assistant director of the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

Prof. Nutting founded the academy, called Lodi Plains Academy, in 1847, following his resignation as principal of the Romeo branch of the University of Michigan. He had held the position from 1842 to 1846, but no longer found it profitable after the University, for lack of funds, withdrew its support of the branches.

In the Michigan Historical Collections is an academy catalogue of 1849-1850 which indicates that there were 136 students of both sexes at that time. There were 652 in the classical department and 71 in the English department.

Tuition fees for the three terms varied from $7.00 to $15.00 per year, according to the courses selected. Each student also paid "for fuel and the care of the house" 25 cents for the winter term and 12 and one-half cents for each of the other two terms, the catalogue said.

Most of the students lived with farmers in the neighborhood, Dr. Bald declared. Board and room could be obtained for $1.25 to $1.38 a week, although many students paid for this by doing farm chores.

After Prof. Nutting's death, a Prof. Patchin continued the academy until about 1864. The property later was sold and the academy building was torn down. Opposite the academy was a Presbyterian church, built in 1837, which a number of years later was moved to North Adams, where it is still in use.

Probably the most distinguished academy graduate was Edwin Willets, Dr. Bald said. Following his graduation in 1855, Willets went to Monroe and became a teacher, lawyer, newspaper editor, member of the State Constitutional Commission, member of Congress from 1877 to 1883, principal of the State Normal School at Ypsilanti, president of Michigan Agricultural College (now Michigan State College) and Assistant Secretary of Agriculture under Presidents Harrison and Cleveland.

GOOD YEAR
MAKES A BLOWOUT HARMLESS WITH LifeGuard Safety Tubes

How LifeGuard Safety Tubes Can Save YOUR Life

ORDINARY TUBES

1. Ordinary tubes have but one air chamber. When tire blows, tube blows too.
2. Instantly both tire and tube go flat, frequently throwing car out of control.

LIFEGUARD TUBES

3. The LifeGuard Tube has two air chambers. In case of blowout, only outer chamber gives way.
4. Reserve of air in emergency inner chamber supports car long enough for a safe, gradual stop.

LifeGuards are good economy, too. One set of LifeGuard Safety Tubes will outwear as many as three sets of tires.

SHORT STORY

Richer Harvest

By MICHAEL TIFF

MELISSA FINCH would have fainted from shock if Joe Sutton had told her she was a pretty girl or even smiled at her. His pale, did that right along, which was fair enough.

But Joe did like her cooking. Otherwise she'd have gone away before this; but today was definitely her last day as housekeeper for Jake Sutton and his son, Joe. Melissa hoped she had taken at least a part of the place Joe's ma had left some six years ago when she had passed beyond. She knew that Joe lived with the memory of his ma; acted as though she were in the next room. Melissa had never lost the idea of being an intruder.

"I'm leaving today," announced Melissa. Joe kept moving toward the door. "I'm leaving today," Melissa repeated. Joe stopped, and she could see his great fingers clench.

Melissa went back to the pump and sink. She began washing the dishes. At the same time she remembered that this was her last day. Three years ago she had started in this house of the Suttons—Jake Sutton and that son of his, Joe. She had nothing against Jake because Jake had the sense to look at her as if she was a human being. But that Joe—he was a born woman-hater if ever she saw one. Then she considered—wiping the damp towel over the plates—that Joe had lost his ma.

She watched Jake come in for a packet of carrot seeds. Jake didn't glance at her as he rummaged in the seed pile.

"Beckon as how Joe an' that Blossom Appenzeller gonna be hitched come this fall," Jake announced quietly.

Joe wouldn't marry any girl, not even Blossom with her fancy ways. Melissa thought. And, as for herself, she had stood about all she could. If Joe hadn't noticed her for three long years he sure wasn't going to change overnight.

HER suitcase was packed, and she sat down on it to close it tight. Then she wondered what Joe was doing. She could see him through the window plain as day. She had to admit that he looked mighty like a man as he wheeled that tractor round the field. He'd make any girl a providing husband.

So Jake thought Blossom Appenzeller was for Joe. Maybe Blossom would have liked to nab Joe but Joe had no eye for painted-up lips and chalked-up eyes.

That blue dress on her suited her blue eyes. Melissa stood straight up in front of the dresser glass. Her hand halted midway to her face powder box. She was looking at Joe's ma in an old photo encased in a frame of glued wood. For the first time, though she had seen that picture every day, Melissa could see why Joe remained aloof from girls. How could any girl come up to Joe's ma?

On her way down, carrying the suitcase, she wanted to cry but sobbed.

Melissa was awfully small; a speck of dust blown here by the wind.

bing eased that sickening feeling of departure. As she came out into the afternoon sunshine she could see Jake looking at her from the chicken yard.

"Joe!" Jake shouted. "Ain't you goin' to say good-by to Melissa?" And then she saw Joe stop the tractor and turn to stare at her.

Melissa felt another lump in her throat as Joe stood near her, like a great pine tree. She was awfully small; she was a speck of dust that had been blown here by the wind and now was being blown away.

"Why don't you look at me," he said, very low, and his voice came from a distance. She looked up and winced because he was aloof, "wasn't certain," he said, "but now I know. It's the way you kept Louise. Ma had blue dress like that. You're like her."

He took the suitcase from her. Without knowing it, she walked at his side, back to the house. The sun was hot on the fields, a white butterfly floated toward the cabbage patch, and Joe's arm felt good around her waist.

Bad Chimney Can Cause Disastrous Fire

During the winter months, most dwelling house fires start from defective or over-heated chimneys and smokepipes, says Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college.

Roth points out that unused chimney openings should be sealed with cement or tight metal stops. Stove pipes, furnace and boiler pipes should have a clearance of 18 inches from wood surfaces, or protections should be provided by insulation.

Mrs. Emma Clayton is staying with Mrs. Mabel Buss at her home on East street.

Miss Ruth Barnes of the English department at Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti, spoke on the topic, "The Epic Quality of Comics." She mentioned that there is really nothing new about comics except that they are dressed up in twentieth century fashion. She said that as long as there seemed nothing else to do but accept comics which have become a fixed institution, the thing for parents to do was to help children select the proper ones to read. She said it was her opinion that harmful radio programs and movies influenced children much more than comics.

Business conducted at the meeting included voting to make a donation to the March of Dimes Fund and to take charge of the Mile of Dimes board in front of the Chelsea State Bank on Friday and Saturday both, instead of just the one day as voted at the last meeting.

Mrs. Russell Baldwin read the names of those that are to act on committees for the card party next week and it was announced that for the next meeting, Feb. 10, the club will meet at the home of Mrs. A. D. Mayer on South Main street at 12 o'clock noon and go to Ypsilanti to visit the Rackham Children's Institute.

Uncle Sam Says

What would you do if you learned that the worker next to you at the office or in the plant was taking home extra pay every payday and you could do the same? You'd use the Plan for Savings Bonds. The Plan for Savings Bonds actually provides extra pay because it accumulates Savings Bonds for you which pay off at the rate of $4 for every $3 in 16 years. All you have to do is to authorize your employer to hold back a stipulated amount which he will hand back to you in a better form of money—money which earns interest—U. S. Savings Bonds. Savings Bonds are extra pay. For example, if you take part of your pay in Savings Bonds at the rate of $2.15 per week, the Bonds become $2,161.44 in 16 years. U. S. Treasury Department

What is more pleasant on a cold winter evening than looking over seed and shrub catalogs? It's a pastime that we all enjoy.

To help you in making selections of shrubs for landscape planting, the Michigan State college Extension Service has issued a new bulletin called, "Hardy Shrubs for Landscape Planting in Michigan."

The bulletin describes all types of shrubs that can be grown in Michigan. A short history and description of each plant is included with the cultural suggestions.

Saline—A wind-whipped fire apparently touched off by chimney sparks destroyed the one-story brick home of George Luckhardt on Lohr road, a short distance north of Ellsworth road, Wednesday. The Saline fire department responded to an alarm turned in by neighbors, but was unable to save the dwelling. Luckhardt, an elderly widower, who lived alone, said the blaze broke out about 3 o'clock. He reported hearing a persistent crackling on the roof but believed it to be melting ice and paid no attention.—The Saline Observer.

EDITORIAL

Hello, Hello, I say! May I introduce myself? I am a little bug called "Annoyance." I appear quite often at basketball games where I delight in getting under the skin of a teen-ager sitting near an interested adult. I catch a boy or girl thinking about going after "Coke," a hot dog, or some other form of refreshment, and just as he is deciding, "No," I jump in and bang! he changes his mind. He gets up and begs to be excused as he goes through a line of excited spectators, pulling their clean scarfs off onto the floor, or stepping on their nicely-polished shoes.

After all of this then he has to come back again through the same line of disgusted onlookers. Say, I think I recognize you! Aren't you the one I was with last Friday? Why didn't you get up when I tugged at your conscience? What's that? You knew I was there but you've had experience to how the people get disgusted? And you don't think I'm needed any longer because you've had speakers explain the importance of behavior at games? I guess I'll have to be on my way now because I'm no longer needed. Honestly! How can those Chelsea High students be so considerate of others?

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
One McCLEAR day the family started to go hunting and fishing. We got in our OTTO and just as we got started the GEERS refused to work. We repaired our LYONS and started. We walked into the WOODS and spread out MALLOTT of lunch. The adults drank JARVIE and the children drank LEHMANN-ade. The we started hunting. We soon met a FOX, but we had no weapons. Father picked up at LATIN CLUB and with one CONK on the head Father had SLANE it. We decided to go fishing so we got into our boat and ROWE(d) to the middle of the LAKE. Because there was nothing to HINDERER, Mother fell into the LAKE and we had to FISHER out. It was hard to HAIST her in because she did NOTTEN to help herself. After Mother recovered we cast our LYONS out again. Soon we caught a blue GILSON. We spent the rest of the afternoon fishing and we caught several MOORE. As we came near the dock we saw the MARSHALL; we knew there was a strict REULE against fishing in this pool so we SWILL away.

When we reached the car we saw the GAGE registered empty. We started walking to a gas station, but when we got there we found we had only a HAFLEY dollar. We had to BAUER enough gas to get us home. After all our trouble we finally reached home to find our LIGHTER were out. We had to USEWICKS. This ended our day.

SMALL TALK

What has happened to Bill Lyons? He actually seems to be reading his lessons now and then. Did you know that there is more than one Einstein in the world? The physics students say they have a "Junior" one in their class.

How much would you pay to have that smirk wiped off Dave Knick's face? B. Stofor was willing to pay five cents in American History class.

The Latin club gave an ice skating party at the Colosseum in Ann Arbor. No broken arms or legs, and very interesting characters were the reports. More fun.

What is a "peachy Indian?" Ask M. A. Gage, she seems to have the answer.

Why do the Freshmen boys play so hard to get?

Poor Miss Fox! Will the Journalism students ever get all their assignments in on time? We doubt it!

Carl O'Dell gave a sliding party the 16th, that really "conked" Vernie. They were going down hill when they hit an asphalt causing Vernie to be hit on the head.

Another casualty was Rowena Lentz. She had to have her knee stitched up from frantically trying to make the school bus one morning. Why don't the boys come to noon dancing on Thursday? There are plenty of girls to pick from.

Signing off for this week... Your Snooping Reporters.

ALL-HI PARTY

Many people gathered in the CHS gymnasium last Friday night after the basketball game between Chelsea and Roosevelt. Two new records were being purchased by the school to play at the dances. They are "Gonna Get a Girl" and "Good-bye for Now."

Many of the seniors of '47 as well as underclassmen attended the dance. They seemed to be enjoying themselves very much.

GAA NEWS

The GAA basketball team redeemed its honor, which was momentarily lost to the Saline girls two weeks ago, by defeating the Dundee team last Tuesday night with a score of 25 to 8. The starting CHS forwards were D. Howard, M. A. Schrader and J. Hughes, while the guards were P. Schaubel, M. Johnson and M. K. Palmer. Dundee players were M. Siler, J. Riger, J. Corbin, M. Bowser, S. Siler, M. Bort and M. Briggs. Home team girls who acquired the highest points were J. Hughes and D. Howard.

Although the Dundee girls were defeated, they were very good sports. Following the game, both teams enjoyed a snack of coca cola and potato chips.

Chelsea girls will play the Manchester team at 4:00 p.m., Jan. 27, in the Chelsea gymnasium.

PEP MEETING

To show the boys of Chelsea High that girls' basketball could be as exciting as the boys' game, GAA presented a "typical girls' game" last Friday at the pep meeting. The skit opened in the locker room where the girls were making the necessary (?) arrangements before the battle with the Bridgewater team.

The Bridgewater team consisted of Pat Scott, Sara Geer and Mae Slane. The Chelsea team consisted of Joyce Hughes, Mary Ann Schrader, Marilyn Johnson as the starting players, with Becky Hallfield, Jean McClure, Dorothy Howard and Joanne O'Dell as substitutes.

The crowd roared at the spectators for Chelsea, who was Gloria Fouty. Mary K. Palmer refereed the game as "Choo-Choo Lamore."

Speeches were given by Mr. Newkirk and Mr. Cameron. Dee Eisemann played the part of our coach, Miss DeRose.

BAND NEWS

The High school band has decided to play at all home basketball games. The purpose is to keep the spectators in their seats during intermission.

The Junior and High school bands played for the grade school (grades one through five) on Wednesday.

FFA

The agricultural classes have been carrying on well in Mr. Richard's absence.

RADIO PROGRAM

The fourth grade enjoyed its trip to Ann Arbor very much. They put on the radio program about the "this month's birthdays of famous men." Since the whole class went, two mothers went along, Mrs. Geddes and Mrs. Olin to help Miss Brown. Everyone had a very exciting and enjoyable time.

GRADE NEWS

Kindergarten Jane McLaughlin is going to Florida. The group will miss her very much and hope she has a wonderful time.

They are also studying about how to keep their teeth in perfect condition.

Fifth Graders Bill Clunkett and Raymond Shepherd have left. Raymond moved to Whitmore Lake. Bill moved to Illinois.

They saw a movie on spelling. They hope it will improve their spelling.

Before Christmas Edson Whitaker took a trip to California. He brought back many interesting things for his class to see. He brought some red earth, rock and sand from the desert, and also many pictures. Last summer George Batsakis also took a trip to California and he brought back exhibition material also. These contributions of the west have helped to make geography classes more realistic.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Friday, Jan. 23, sixth grade had its January class party. The program committee was Cynthia Paul, Beverly Smith, Jerry Lesser and Billy Hallfield. The program, consisting of a quiz, was carried on while the refreshment committee passed out suckers. The refreshment committee was Marjorie Robards, Donald Rowe and Sandra Baldwin. All had a good time.

In art class last week they made snowmen holding valentines, representing the month of February. They mounted them on colored paper and some of the best were put on the bulletin board. These make the room look gay.

Mr. Colburn wasn't here last week to conduct the dancing class.

WINNING POEMS

The poems of the three local girls, that were chosen in the Annual Anthology of High School Poetry contest are reprinted below.

"LIFE'S SONG"

by Erlanase Wanous
In everything I do and see
There is a bit of melody.
All the trees, the grass, the flowers
With music fill my waking hour.

The hills, the vales, the friendly brooks,
The tears, the smiles, the kindly looks—
These things which mean so much to me
All blend to make one melody.

But only when I trust, not fear,
Shall I in all its beauty, hear,
And only when I love, not hate,
Can I perceive and cease to wait.

When I, at last, have learned to live,
To trust, to love, and to forgive,
Then, only then, my song shall be
A hymn of sublime harmony.

"THE BEAUTY OF WINTER"
by Deloris Eisemann

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employees, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15 1/2 cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employees by an arbitration board in September, 1947.

This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947. Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employees, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7% of all railroad switchmen, the other 93% being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat
The leaders of these three unions spread a strike ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employees in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroad in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 16, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The Railroads accepted.

What Now?
The Unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employees, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employees.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employees than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employees represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 1944 cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947. Expanding the heart of the telephone system in CHELSEA

A lot of folks here still are waiting for telephones. That is because we have had to wait for new switching equipment to handle their calls... and for outside wire and cable to connect their homes with the central office.

Bell System telephone factories, swamped with orders for equipment needed to meet the huge nation-wide demand, have been breaking all production records. And we're happy to say that some new equipment has arrived and we now are at work installing it.

This, of course, takes time. Assembly and installation of central office switching equipment require thousands and thousands of hand-soldered connections. Wire and cable must be painstakingly built into the existing telephone system without interrupting service.

Meanwhile, our present facilities are serving more telephones and handling more calls than ever before. And as the installation of new equipment moves along, still more families will be getting telephones.

THE HI-LIGHT

And when the moon comes out at night
And sheds its rays on glistening white,
To all the world this snowy scene
Brings forth all things so pure and clean.

At night when all the world's asleep
And o'er the earth the snow doth creep,
It makes one wonder at the sight
Of all the snow so sparkling bright.

Why does the snow melt fast away?
Why can't it stay just one more day?
Where does it go into the night,
No more to shed its brilliant light?

"A NATURE STUDY"
by Marjorie Proctor
As I went for a nature stroll,
The autumn's beauty filled my soul,
And in the fresh, pure country air
I found God's gifts, so rich and rare.

I wondered just how could there be
So much green beauty in that tree,
Her arms outstretched to greet the sky
And all the creatures that do fly.

And the beauty of the stream,
Always wholesome, pure and clear,
How can it ripple all day long,
And always seem to hum... a song?

I think now, as I wonder here,
Of all the beauty in the sphere;
How can some, just pass it by,
And let this beauty forever lie?

About twenty pupils have elected to take typewriting for this semester. Five machines are kept busy from eight until four o'clock.

W. W. Maroney, C. J. Dole, J. Kaimbach, H. D. Littler, E. J. Whipple, R. B. Koons, G. Ward and J. D. Colton were among those from Chelsea who attended the Masonic school of instruction at Ann Arbor, Friday evening.

The Chelsea Council of Boy Scouts held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Foster Monday. The following officers were chosen: President, Rev. C. J. Dole; First Vice-president, F. H. Sweetland; Second Vice-president, Rev. A. A. Schoen; Secretary and Treasurer, Ford Axtell.

Robert Foster celebrated the 89th anniversary of his birth last Sunday. Mr. Foster has been a resident of Chelsea and vicinity for the past 67 years. At the age of 19 years he landed in New York from England, where he was born. He made his home in New York City and came to Michigan from there.

A Michigan Central freight, in switching a car of coal on the tracks of the Standard Manufacturing company, sent it through and into the engine room of the company's power plant. The switching train consisted of four coal cars, the tender and engine, and was being backed up at the rate of about twenty miles per hour.

The Athletic Association has decided to present members of the football team with pictures of the team. A new company, Washed Clean Sand and Gravel company, of Lima, filed articles of incorporation last Friday. The company's capital is placed at $50,000. The stockholders are Geo. W. Woods of Ann Arbor, 35 shares; Roland E. Everitt, Detroit, 414 shares; Byron F. Everitt, Detroit, one share.

The company has purchased a gravel and sand bed of 45 acres from C. C. Fahrner, for which he received $3,200, and an acre of land from Wm. H. Bahnmiller, for which they paid $250. The firm has a number of teams at work removing the surface soil, carpenters erecting buildings, and a large cement tank is being built on the premises.

Milan—Well, you've heard of "Eager Beavers," but did you know that there is one on the Milan Fire Department? Rookie, Edward Parrish, takes his duties very seriously. Saturday evening he was relaxing at his apartment, at Celia Bennett's, 100 Tolan street. There was a fire call. With the assistance of his wife he struggled into his outdoor garments, donned his shoes and without waiting to tie the laces, raced to the fire house. Breathlessly asking, "where is it?" He was told "100 Tolan street."

"Why, that's my house," he ejaculated and sprinted back home. It was just a chimney fire and quickly extinguished, but now his fellow fire eaters are accusing him of starting it himself, so he would be there on time. We wonder—The Milan Leader.

Combat Wounded Veterans
May Now Enlist

The time in which partially disabled combat wounded veterans of the Army or Air Force may enlist has been extended indefinitely by each Department.

The Army and Air Force also have opened enlistments to partially disabled combat wounded World War II veterans of the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, such enlistments previously having been reserved for Army and Air Force personnel.

Eligibles must possess, or be trainable in, certain critically needed skills, and meet certain physical requirements to be enlisted in grade held at time of discharge if service was in Army or Air Force, or in equivalent pay grade if service was in the Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard.

Partially disabled combat wounded whose last period of active service in any branch of the Armed Forces was in status of a commissioned officer, warrant officer, or flight officer, may be enlisted in Grade One, provided enlistment is accomplished on or before June 30, 1948.

Disability compensation or Purple Heart awards are not necessarily a prerequisite for enlistment in the Regular Army or Air Force under the new order (WD Pamphlet 12-16). The individual must be a "battle casualty" defined as a person who suffered wound(s) or injury during combat as result of enemy action.

Our two 200 bowlers were Smock with 201 and B. Kaiser with 208. They had a 519 and 520 series, respectively. Nice work, gals.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Are You "Hobby Happy?"

Funny thing about hobbies...

When Ed Carey started making a model of the "Flying Cloud," it was only to rest his eyes from reading. But now he spends every spare moment ship modelling!

Some wives might have resented a husband suddenly shutting himself in the attic every night. But not Ed's Prudence. When she found him working late, she brought him up some beer and crackers... showed a real interest in his hobby... until finally Ed had her helping with the rigging.

Wasn't long before they were working side by side on Ed's bench, sharing a common interest. Instead of keeping them apart, Ed's hobby brought them more together.

From where I sit, a husband's hobby can often be a wife's as well. In fact, I've got the misssus interested in tying trout flies—and, along with that mellow glass of beer, it makes the evenings go by mighty pleasantly.

Horse Care Depends On Use of Animal

The type of feeding and management for young colts depends on the ultimate use for the animal, says Byron H. Good, horse specialist at Michigan State college.

With Thoroughbred and Standardbred to be used for racing, early maturity is the primary objective. For this reason, the cost of the ration isn't the deciding factor in the production of race horses.

An extremely rigid schedule is followed on farms producing race prospects. As a weanling and yearling from October to February they are given 12 quarts of crushed oats daily divided into three feeds. This ration is gradually increased to 16 quarts by August. Many of them are sold at this time or go into training.

Crowding for early maturity isn't so necessary in the case of saddle colts since they usually aren't put to hard work as early as race horses. The grain ration can be reduced to one pound of crushed oats per 100 pounds of live weight.

In the case of colts intended for hunting, jumping, polo, handling stock and pleasure riding, early maturity isn't as important as having a good sound horse at five or six years of age.

A ration for yearlings and two-year-olds of one-half pound of live weight per 100 pounds of live weight is suitable. Salt and fresh water should be available at all times. Colts should be placed in individual stalls for grain feeding. One feed of three to four pounds of clean, high-quality legume hay should be fed daily (alfalfa or red clover). The remainder of the roughage should be good quality mixed hay.

Keep Files Neat

Trout files should not be carried in a box which cramps and crushes them. In the case of dry files shun those flat little boxes which have spring racks for holding the lures in place. Use a deep dry box that will not bend the handles of the files, and don't try to overcrowd the compartments. Also keep used files from messing up a fresh one by keeping in separate compartments.

Baby Chick Need of Riboflavin Is Great

Curled Toe Paralysis Cause of Deficiency

Chick at left is afflicted with curled toe paralysis due to riboflavin lack. Right, same chick a week later after being furnished this vitamin. —Photo, University of Missouri.

utilization of feed within the cells of the body.

Riboflavin is widely distributed in feeding materials. It is present in greatest amounts in milk products, yeast, live meal, alfalfa, cereals, grasses and byproducts of the fermenting and distilling industry. Only a few grams are required per ton of mixed feeds.

Many poultry authorities have stated there is an advantage in using natural riboflavin concentrates in preference to synthetic riboflavin. The natural concentrate generally supplies other important nutrients aside from riboflavin.

When chicks are fed a ration low in riboflavin, they start squinting and develop a condition known as curled toe paralysis.

In the past the lack of riboflavin in feed ingredients has caused considerable economic loss. Baby chicks require greater quantities than older birds. Deficiency in laying flocks lowers egg production and results in inferior eggs or poor hatchability.

BURNING RUINS SOIL

When you burn straw, cornstalks and other crop residues on the field you lose valuable nitrogen and destroy organic matter vital to soil rebuilding and crop production. If the stalks of a 100-bushel corn crop go up in smoke 6,500 pounds of organic matter and 55 pounds of nitrogen are lost. When you light a match to a mature sweet clover crop, you lose about 150 pounds of nitrogen and three or four tons of organic matter. It takes more effort to plant the same materials under than it does to burn them, but an extra 10 to 20 bushels of corn per acre and a more fertile soil should be worth the extra trouble.

New Disease of Sweet Potatoes in the South

A new and distinctive disease of sweet potatoes known as "internal cork" has been the subject of intensive studies by Dr. C. J. Nussbaum, South Carolina experiment station. Sweet potatoes affected with the disease are characterized by the occurrence of dark brown, corky spots of irregular shape and size. There are indications that it may be possible to develop resistant strains. The disease is caused by a virus but little else is known about it.

Farmers' Money Not All Increased Earnings

"What farmers do now with their liquid assets and credit will determine their financial position for the next two decades. It is imperative for them to recognize that much of their present money in fact is not increased profits. It represents the soil fertility sold off the farm, depreciation of buildings, fences and equipment. The money farmers now have, in large part, belongs back on their land—to restore soil—to modernize." The Land.

Trapping Is Good Way To Control Moles

In the spring the activities of the common mole appear to be more noticeable. Unlike rodents, such as rats and mice, moles live chiefly on earthworms and insects. The mole is unpopular with farmers because his tell tale ridges and mounds disfigure the fields, ruin new seedbeds and damage gardens and lawns. Trapping appears to be the most satisfactory way yet found to control the mole.

Winter Manure Use Needs Care To Avoid Loss of Much Fertility

Spreading fresh manure directly on the land should be done with care during the winter months, according to A. G. Weidemann, soils research specialist at Michigan State college.

Manure should be spread evenly, which is difficult when the land is covered with snow. Considerable loss of fertility may result if manure is spread on frozen soil, especially on a slope, as frozen soil will not absorb the water.

If manure is to be spread on the land in winter, it is best to spread it on land that is level, well-covered with vegetation, and having a rough surface, or covered with small pits or pockets that tend to catch some of the water and prevent it from running off.

Help Is Offered Mich. Farmers in Pheasant Program

Landing—If enough southern Michigan farmers want more pheasants on their farms, and enough farms are available where food and cover improvements may profitably be made, the conservation department is prepared to spend several times a normal season's pheasant management budget to help make more attractive living places on the farms for the ringnecks.

Squads of men from the department's game division have begun interviewing a sample cross-section of farmers throughout the pheasant range. They are finding out not only how many farmers want more birds, but the proportion of farmers who will go along with the department in making improvements for wildlife on their land.

"Any action program for improving the pheasant situation depends largely on the interests and attitudes of the farmer," H. D. Ruhl, chief of the department's game division, declared. Farmers' opinions of the pheasant aid plan will be reported to the conservation commission at its next meeting Feb. 10. A budget for the work and operating procedure are to be considered then.

Money for the program is available in the Pittman-Robertson fund. Three-quarters of this fund is supplied by the federal government from taxes collected on sporting arms and ammunition. Details of the plan for increasing favorable pheasant living space will not be settled until farmers' attitudes are known, but it will provide two sorts of assistance: technical advice and material aid.

The technical advice will be supplied by a "game management service" yet to be set up. The service's agents, men skilled in wildlife, soils and farming procedures, will draw up detailed wildlife plans for the farm of each cooperating farm owner. Their suggestions will cover such matters as maintaining fences, prevention of grazing in woodlots,

PAUL F. HICKLE, until recently chief forester of General MacArthur's occupation staff in Japan, on Feb. 1, becomes regional chief of conservation department field activities in Michigan's 34 southern counties. His headquarters will be in Jackson. His work for the department, dating from 1933, has been largely in game management. Faster and more efficient service to the public is one aim of the decentralization move that is putting responsibility for southern Michigan fish, game, parks, forest, law enforcement and other conservation affairs at the regional level.
