

● Saugatuck—Here on Michigan's West Dutch coast, just 12 miles south of tulip-famous Holland, is the artist summer capital of the Middle West.

As you approach the village by automobile on U.S.-81, an illuminated sign welcomes you.

It displays an artist's palette, bright with colors.

Landscape paintings are on display at village shops. At the Saugatuck Village Hall, whose architectural lines remind you of New England, you are invited to view an exhibit of paintings from 2 to 6 p.m. daily. An artist's ball is held in August.

● And yet, apparent as it is that Saugatuck is proud of its artists, the artists themselves are not happy about Saugatuck's growing prosperity as a summer recreational center.

Garish electric signs tempt tourists to imbibe at cocktail bars. The blare of orchestra music is in the air. Sale of liquor is abnormally brisk at Saugatuck and Douglas. Like the phenomenon noted by a protesting minister at Rose City, popular first stop for north-bound hunters and fishermen, Saugatuck is a satisfactory place for city people to relax and unwind.

Vacationers, some of whom arrive in luxurious cruisers, are inclined to imbibe freely. The artist atmosphere of Bohemian informality lends itself well to laxness of behavior. Sport clothes are the vogue. Mother does not need to dress up. She borrows daughter's blue jeans and joins her offspring in a sidewalk parade. The jeans seem to fit mama more than they should. Daughter rolls up her jeans and looks at father. He would do justice to Bing Crosby in Hollywood. Just about anything goes.

● At night the crowds throng the cocktail bars and the Pavilion where dancing and motion pictures are featured. The artist atmosphere permits M. Hasselbar, mass production artist, puts on a circus-like act under bright lights. Using a variety of brushes, he rapidly daubs colors upon a canvas.

A sign says: "Direct from artist to you."

Hasselbar, a newcomer to Saugatuck, employs unorthodox and unapproved methods of mass production. He is Henry Ford on wheels, turning out pictures quickly to fit the consumer's purse.

● Contrasted to Hasselbar, who winters at Miami and who arrived at Saugatuck last summer for the first time, is Carl Hoermann, distinguished artist. He is a working artist in the field of dune and desert paintings. Hoermann and his attractive wife, Gibson-Gillich in her wholesome charm, reside at the hillside "Chalet Studio." They have a desert studio home, Rancho Mirage, at Riverside, Calif., not far from Palm Springs.

Hoermann travels to the dunes at 6 a.m. or 6 p.m., preferring the light and shadows at that time in order to catch the mood of nature and transfer it to a working sketch. He has disdain for those who paint from imagination and who will duplicate composition. "House painters," he retorts.

The varying hues of light and shadows, ranging from green, blue, purple to golden brown, make the Hoermann canvas a thing of joy.

● The Chicago Art Institute sponsors a summer school of painting at old Fish-Town along an abandoned channel of the Kalamazoo river near Lake Michigan. Oxbow Inn, where students go for their meals, is an ancient, weather-beaten frame building, forlorn for lack of paint. The "museum" where students exhibit their creations, is simplicity itself. Nothing fancy about Oxbow. Utility is first. More than 100 years ago the town of Singapore arose at the (Continued on page ten)

Independents Win over Grass Lake as Milling Team Loses Close Contest to Novi Amvets

McClanahan, Marsh Picked To Play with Amateur All-Stars

By "BILL" SCHATZ

Chelsea Independents continued their hurricane pace on the local diamond Sunday by blasting the Grass Lake hopefuls, 17 to 2.

The two runs, however, are no reflection of the pitching staff, being the result of embarrassing errors.

Lefty Barth, our good natured port side, took over the pitching assignment and turned in one of the finest pitched ball games of the year, whiffing 14 and walking only 2. This was Lefty's first start of the year and the old maestro was having a man bated, mixing flashy games with a steady ball out of the infield during Lefty's 4 innings of toil. He was relieved in the ninth by Al Wingers, who also did a fine job, but the defense cracked, making 5 errors in that one inning.

Andy Policht got hold of one to his liking and blasted it for a 3-base hit. It was a well-tagged ball, scoring 2 runners. Yes, the boys are really hot, slapping the old apple around, blasting the offerings of the opposition into all parts of the diamond. Slim McClanahan, our big right hander, played left field Sunday, doing a nice job in the garden.

Our regular schedule calls for a game against Novi on Sunday, July 25. This game, however, has been postponed due to an All-Star amateur game in the Upper Peninsula on Sunday. Two of our regulars from the Chelsea Independents have been drafted for this game. Manager Leon Marsh and B. McClanahan. This game represents a selection of what the Michigan Association of Amateur Baseball considers the best in their respective positions, and we are proud to know our battery has been picked for this class.

Had a nice crowd Sunday, thank you folks. Sunday, Aug. 1, we play Pinckney at Pinckney, returning to the local coral on Aug. 8, when we meet Ann Arbor. This Pinckney game should be quite an affair, as Novi then in the first encounter and they are sharpening their tomahawks for this return engagement. The fur will fly.

Former Chelseaite III at Home in Ohio

Maxine Rudd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rudd of North Robinson, Ohio, formerly of Chelsea, is now a patient at Mansfield General Hospital in Mansfield, Ohio, for almost two weeks, returned the first of this week to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stinehelfer, in North Robinson, where the family has been living since leaving Chelsea several months ago.

The Rudds have many friends in Chelsea and Maxine has been showered with cards and other remembrances from them since she became ill almost three weeks ago, according to word received by relatives here on Tuesday. At that time it was reported that she was still seriously ill and had shown very little improvement.

RETURN FROM CRUISE

Fred Kaiser of North Lake, Robert Freysinger, Lyle Chriswell, Jack Walnitz, Don Baldwin, La Verne Haffley and Vernon Conk returned home Monday from a two-weeks' summer training cruise on the U.S.S. Little Rock. The boys are all members of the U. S. Naval Reserve.

They left Newport, R. I., on July 4, and went as far as Quebec, where they remained for several days, returning to Newport on July 12.

Hosts Exhibit Spirit in Ninth Inning Rally to Win 9-8

By DWIGHT GADD

Chelsea Milling lost another heart-breaker last Sunday to the Novi Amvets at Novi, as the winners came through with four big runs in the last of the ninth to win, 9-8.

Milling out-hit the victors 11 to 10, but left a total of 10 men stranded on the bases. Walks again hurt the Milling cause as Edw. Chelsea pitcher, walked seven men and saw four of them score. In the field, Milling played better than first as they committed but three errors.

Bahnmler got three singles in four trips Sunday, and Gadd got a double and a triple in as many trips at the plate. Gadd batted out a single and a double also. For Novi, Gow was the leading scorers, with a single and a double. Milling had a big eighth inning as they came from behind to score five runs on two singles, two doubles and a triple to lead 8-6 as the Novi ninth rolled around.

The loss was about that though the better it will be.

All games for the coming week-end have been canceled so the schedule will be moved back one week. At that time Milling will tangle with Ann Arbor for the second time this season.

Three Auto Mishaps Mar Week-End

Three persons suffered injuries and four others were shaken up and bruised in three separate accidents in this vicinity, two of which occurred over the week-end.

On Saturday, about four o'clock in the afternoon, Donald Parsons of Sugar Lake, received cuts about the head which required twelve stitches to close, when the car he was driving collided with one driven by an Eaton Rapids resident. The accident occurred on Clear Lake road, a short distance from the Clear Lake county park.

Mr. Parsons, who was attending a picnic at the park, had started back to his home for his bathing suit and was alone in the car at the time. He was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where his injuries were dressed and he remained home. However, on Monday, infection developed in the cuts and he was removed to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment.

Both cars involved in the accident were severely damaged.

Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Luella Hunn of Lowell, Mich., received injuries of the left arm when the left rear wheel of the car she was driving on North Lake road about 1:30 p.m. and one-half mile from Chelsea, became loose, causing her to lose control of the car. The car turned over, injuring her arm and shaking up and bruising the four passengers in the car, Mrs. Grace Wright and her son and daughter, William and Barbara Ann, of Detroit, and Nancy Bush, of Wayne.

Hunn was treated by a local physician. Police officer Floyd Gentner was called to the scene of the accident. An ambulance was called from Chelsea but upon arrival there within a few moments after receiving the call, it was found that a passing motorist had taken the injured woman to morning, about 10:30 o'clock. Officer Frank Reed was called to the intersection of Kalmbach road and New US-12, where two cars and a truck, all traveling east, were involved in a single accident.

Hazen Leach of Cavanaugh Lake, driving his truck, had made a left turn from Kalmbach road onto US-12 and had proceeded about 150 feet from the intersection, according to Officer Reed's report, when a 1948 Hudson sedan, driven by George R. King of Michigan Center, crashed into the back of the truck. The driver of the third car involved, a 1941 Ford, which was ahead of the Hudson sedan, attempted to pass the truck on the right, leaving the pavement in the attempt and striking a road marker sign, tearing off the right rear fender of the car.

Mrs. Lola Mae King, riding with her husband, was the only person suffering injuries in the crash, and was taken by ambulance to a Jackson hospital for examination and treatment.

The front end of the Hudson sedan was badly damaged.

KIWANIS VISITS DEXTER

Sixteen members of the Chelsea Kiwanis club made the journey to Dexter Tuesday evening for an ad-hoc meeting and softball game. Although a hard thunderstorm had made the ball game a doubtful proposition, it was undertaken and the local club came home victorious by a score of 9-6.

County 4-H Judging Tests Completed

Winners Eligible To Exhibit in District Club Competition

Washtenaw county 4-H clubs finished their judging contests last Wednesday with the completion of the girls project contests at Bethlehem church in Ann Arbor.

For the last two weeks, judging contests have been staged on a county-wide basis for boys and girls enrolled in general livestock, dairy, garden, crops, food preparation, food preservation and clothing projects.

The high scoring individuals in each event will be sent either to Pontiac or to East Lansing to compete in district elimination contests.

The boys selected from the livestock members were Norwin Lesner, Dexter township; Robert Tooley, Lind Branch; Keith Bradbury and Robert Breuninger of Lima, and Herman Engel of Webster. Alternates were Linda Bradbury and Stanley Toney of Lima.

Mary-Hanker, Jay Hopkins and Duane Mannheim, all of Dexter, were selected to compete in the garden judging and identification contests.

The dairy cattle judging tour was held last week under the direction of Nevela Pearson, assistant 4-H club leader. Of this group, the following boys were high scorers: Ralph Erke, Oscar Barick, Jerald Heydlauff, and Jerry Herick of Lima, Lawrence Bristle, Maghester, and Kenneth Proctor of Sylvan. Alternates for this team are Duane Girbach, Freedom, and Earl Cook of Northfield.

In girls 4-H work, high scorers in food preparation were Jean Proctor, Jean Schweinfurth, Gertrude Widmayer of Sylvan, Mary Lou Zeeb and Svea Blom of Northfield. Mary Schneider of Northfield will be the alternate.

The best judges of food preservation were Ira Lou Kar of Superior, Jane Latson of Webster, Linda Bradbury and Betty Pidd of Lima, and Ann Gage of Superior. Alternates are Shirley Toney of Lima, and Joan Page of Northfield.

Considerably more interest was shown in these contests this year than has been shown in recent years. In all, one contest more than 100 per cent more boys and girls participated.

Karen Chase Injured in Motor Bike Spill

Karen Chase, granddaughter of Mrs. Rose Chase, with whom she makes her home here, suffered a double fracture of her left leg, just above the ankle, when she lost control of a motor bike she was riding and fell pinned beneath it as she fell. The accident occurred Wednesday afternoon on M-92 near the Main street bridge as she was attempting to turn around.

The motor bike is the property of Arden Mushbach, and Karen and several companions were taking a ride on it. She was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor. Her mother, Mrs. Doris Kovacs of Chicago, came immediately upon receiving word of the accident and is staying at the hospital with her.

On Sunday, Karen's father telephoned Mrs. Chase from Anaheim, Calif., to inquire about his daughter. He was advised her condition was flying here and would arrive on Tuesday.

New Postal Ruling Reduces Postage Required on Overseas Relief Packages

Welcome news to many Chelsea residents who have been sending relief parcels of food and clothing overseas is the information received at the local post office from the office of the Postmaster General in regard to reduction of postage rates on such parcels amounting to four cents a pound.

The new rate is now the postage rate on relief parcels sent to the following countries: Belgium, England, France, Germany (U. S. British and French zones only), Italy, The Netherlands, Northern Ireland, Scotland, Trieste, and Wales.

Relief parcels for Greece will require five cents postage, and parcels for the first two pounds, thirty-five cents for the third pound, and ten cents for each additional pound up to the twenty-two pound limit.

According to the postal bulletin a "relief parcel" is defined as one originating in the United States (including its territories and possessions) and consigned by an individual sender to an individual addressee for the personal use of himself or his immediate family. The items which may be included in these relief parcels are limited to non-perishable food, clothes and clothes-making material, shoes and shoe-making material, mailable medical and health supplies, and household supplies existing postal regulations.

They have lived at the Taylor street address since that time. Mr. Mohrlock owned a farm in Sylvan township at US-12 and Decker road which he worked during his lifetime until he became ill.

Final Plans Completed for Cattle Show

Final plans have been completed for the annual Black and White cattle show, sponsored by the Washtenaw County Fair Association, and being held Thursday, July 29, at the R. N. Frainger-Lowell Spike farm, 465 South Freer road, southeast of Chelsea, one-fourth mile south of US-12.

Fifty dollars in prize money is being contributed by the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce and the Association is giving a number of show halters. Prizes are to be awarded to exhibitors under 20 years of age. Free-winning tries by adults will be awarded ribbons in each of the various classes.

FOE Civic Service Award for June Will Be Presented to Local Chamber of Commerce

Rate Hike Hearing for Mich. Bell Co. Scheduled To Close

Lansing—Formal hearings in the $10,400,000 Michigan Bell Telephone Company rate case were scheduled to close this week—just 11 months after the company filed its application for a rate increase.

The bulky record in the case contains over 4,000 pages of testimony and some 140 exhibits ranging from single-page charts to one document of nearly 300 pages. Hearings began last October.

Latest testimony to go into the record was an admission from consultants employed by the state to re-determine Michigan Bell's Federal income taxes by nearly $2,000,000 in a forecast of company operations. Testimony also developed that their forecast for 1948 had revenues on the high side and expenses too low, on the basis of actual experience for the first five months of the year.

The company objected to a claim that its books over-valued its properties by $6,500,000, most of which was attributed to a 1904 entry when the Michigan Bell Company was organized. It pointed out that an extensive investigation of the company's properties in 1920 had shown substantial agreement with the records and that successive commissions have accepted the book figures for more than 40 years.

Consultants also admitted errors in forecasting operations of Western Electric Company, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, including a $16,000,000 omission in Federal income taxes.

Miss M. Chriswell Undergoes Serious Operation Recently

Miss Mary Chriswell, who was injured several weeks ago when she was struck by an automobile near Grace Hospital, in Detroit, underwent a serious operation at the hospital on Monday of last week as an aftermath of the accident. Her mother, Mrs. Lyle Chriswell, has spent most of the time since then at the hospital with her.

Miss Chriswell graduated from the Grace Hospital School of Nursing in May but still has some time to make up. At the time of the accident she was returning to duty and was crossing the street with the green light. The car which struck her had allegedly run the red light and continued without stopping after striking her down.

Two priests who witnessed the accident gave chase and forced the hit-and-run car to the curb. It was reported that the woman driver of the car had been drinking.

Commerce Members Make Plans To Attend Black-White Show

Meeting at the Legion cottage on Cavanaugh Lake Tuesday evening, the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce made plans to attend the Black and White show being held Thursday, July 29, at the Frislinger-Spike farm on Freer road.

Committees were appointed to notify all members of the event and arrangements are being made to have a picnic lunch prepared so businessmen may go directly to the show after closing their stores Thursday noon.

Discussion of the "Chelsea Days" affair brought unanimous agreement to hold a similar event again next year.

Youngsters Appear on Radio Program

Three Chelsea youngsters have appeared on the radio over Station, WPAG, Ann Arbor, in the last two weeks.

On Saturday, July 10, Shirley Atchison, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Atchison, played a piano selection called "Under Southern Skies," by Elizabeth Blackburn Martin, during the Children's program beginning at 11 a.m.

At the same hour, on Saturday, July 17, eleven-year-old Connie Ann Steinbach and her brother, Raymond, who is fourteen, each played piano numbers, the former's offering being "Valse Brillante," by Durand, and the latter's, an amusing modern work by Raymond Scott, called "Toy Trumpet," which was a "musical description" of a boy learning how to play a trumpet.

Award Made for Work in Promoting Chelsea Days Event

The F.O.E. civic service award, given at intervals by the local Aerie of the Order, on the basis of outstanding community service for a certain month, is to be awarded next Thursday evening, July 29, to the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce for its promotion of the Chelsea Days program which the Eagles' organization feels was an exceptional outstanding event in Chelsea.

The award, in the form of a civic service certificate, is to be accepted for the Chamber of Commerce by its president, Lloyd Heydlauff, in appropriate ceremonies to take place at the Eagles' Home on Main street at 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Presentation of the civic service award is made solely on the basis of noteworthy civic achievement or service by any individual or organization. Membership in the Eagles' organization has no bearing in determining who is to receive the honor.

Selection of the Chamber of Commerce for this month's award was considered especially appropriate because of the widespread interest in the Chelsea Days event and the good-will and clean fun and entertainment it provided for such a large number of people.

State To Observe Farm Safety Week Along With Nation

Michigan will join the rest of the nation in observing Farm Safety Week, July 25-31.

Ever Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college, says that farm folks have an extra stake in safety precautions. Disabilities resulting from accidents sometimes wipe out a lifetime's work and savings.

Farm Safety Week will highlight the need for cutting the number of farm accidents and preventing thousands of needless deaths and injuries.

In proclaiming the week officially, Gov. Kim Sigler of Michigan pointed to the 175 people who were killed accidentally last year on Michigan farms and the hundreds more who were seriously injured and endured suffering.

"The goal of the 1948 observance," Governor Sigler said, "is the elimination of specific farm hazards, and the long-range aim is to make every American farm and every American farm resident as safe as possible."

It is estimated that 30 million safety hazards exist on American farms.

Practicing safety isn't a week-long affair either, Roth points out. He believes that the elimination of unsafe practices and hazards is an activity that the family can take part in 52 weeks throughout the year.

Cpl. C. Colquhoun Is Returned to U. S. by Plane for Discharge

Cpl. Cameron Colquhoun, who has been stationed with the Marines at Camp Catlin, Oahu, Hawaiian Islands, the past 18 months, telephoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Colquhoun, about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, a few hours after his unexpected arrival in San Francisco by airplane.

Corporal Colquhoun, who expects to receive his discharge about Aug. 1, at Great Lakes, Ill., has been in the service since Sept. 5, 1946. He sailed for Hawaii on Jan. 29, 1947. The trip back across the ocean by airplane Monday night was a surprise to Corporal Colquhoun as well as to his parents who had received word from him recently that he expected to sail for the States July 21. Corporal Colquhoun was one of four servicemen flown to San Francisco, leaving Honolulu at 6 o'clock Monday evening, Honolulu time, and arriving at San Francisco at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, Honolulu time (about noon, Chelsea "fast time").

Mr. and Mrs. Colquhoun had been planning to drive to California to meet their son when his boat was to dock, and remain to visit relatives there before returning home. This plan, however, was gladly relinquished when they heard of his earlier arrival and prospective discharge.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Installs 50,000th Rural Telephone Since V-J Day

Installation of the 50,000th rural telephone in its territory since V-J Day was announced recently by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

N. J. Pratkan, manager for the company, said the gain since 1945 has brought the total number of telephones in Michigan Bell's rural area to the 130,000 mark.

Pointing out that the 50,000 gain since V-J Day equaled the company's entire rural "telephone population" before the war, Pratkan said the relative demand for service in farm areas today is ahead of that in urban centers.

"The extent of that demand is shown by the fact that we started the year 1947 with 12,000 on the waiting list in our rural territory and ended the year with 18,000—despite an increase of 16,000 in the number of rural telephones in service during the year," Pratkan said.

The heavy rural demand was attributed by Theodore H. Dawson, head of Michigan Bell's farm-line development program, to the company's liberal construction plan under which farm lines are being built and to improved rural service, together with the known increase in farm income.

Under a plan established in 1940 and further liberalized two years ago, no charge is made for construction up to one-half mile of farm line. Thus, telephone service is available to 85 per cent of the rural families in the company's territory without any construction charge.

Dawson also cited the extension of dial service in rural areas and reduction in overloaded farm lines. The company's two objectives, he said, is to achieve 100 per cent dial operation and to reduce the number of parties on rural lines to a maximum of eight. Today, only 14 per cent of Michigan Bell rural lines have more than that number.

Introduction of new construction methods the last few years that have brought about greater economies have aided the rural program, Dawson continued. He cited such developments as long span wire and the use of buried wire in certain areas. Still in the experimental stage as to economy of operation is the use of carrier equipment on telephone and power lines.

In addition to its own lines, Michigan Bell provides switching service for some 480 user-owned companies with 6,450 telephones in rural areas. Their facilities are gradually being improved in a cooperative program in which Michigan Bell provides technical counsel.

Dawson visualizes even greater strides in the future with the introduction of extended-area service, recently authorized by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Others from the Dexter-Chelsea area include Marilyn Fetsch, Theresa Reffett, Milton French, Coyne Holliday and William Ackland. More than 1,000 delegates from 36 states and several foreign countries are on hand for the convention. Reports given have shown a 20 per cent increase in the number of rallies throughout the United States and Canada the past year. More than 200 rallies have started since July, 1947. The number of rallies in existence around the globe is now 1,900.

Plans for the World Congress on Evangelism at Beatenberg, Switzerland, from August 10-22 have been outlined in detail. Five hundred delegates from the 46 countries of the world in which rallies exist are expected at Switzerland. Peter Porter of Detroit will be the speaker at the next rally to be held in the Municipal Building in Chelsea, Saturday, July 24, at 8:00 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

A good way to cool off in hot and humid weather is to take a restful and relaxing shower or tub bath of instant hot water. Hot water removes the dried film of perspiration that clogs the pores. This lets the skin breathe and you feel cool and refreshed.

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

To be sure of plenty of instant hot water any time you feel like taking a bath, install an automatic GAS water heater. Because GAS heats water instant—almost as fast as it is withdrawn from the tank. And because gas is constantly on the job day and night—no idle periods when you are without hot water. Ask your dealer, your plumber or the Gas Company to install an automatic GAS water heater.

SHORT STORY

Waiting For Something

By TED M. RIDER

UNCLE JAN twisted in his wicker chair on the front porch when he heard Carol's heels clicking swiftly on the sidewalk. Bax Hammond towered one step behind her and was pretty mad because the thin scar on his cheek looked twisted under the blaring light of the street lamp.

Then the storm broke. "What's gotten into you, Jan? Yesterday, she insisted on buying her own ticket to the barn dance. Tonight, she paid her own way into the movies. Now, I ask you—"

Bax paused to settle his blue eyes indignantly on Carol's bowed head, but she said in a very bored tone, "Girls are becoming pretty independent nowadays, aren't they, Uncle Jan?"

"Well, for the love of Pete!" Bax gasped explosively. "We're engaged aren't we, Carol? And you'll be dependent on me for the rest of your life, won't you? Why, that's taken for granted, and that's the way I want it!"

"Oh, you do? Well, thanks for letting me know that, Mr. Boss Hammond. Now I'll tell you something. Here's your ring back."

She jerked the sparkling diamond from her finger and shoved it into the stunned young man's palm, then slammed through the screen door with a speed that made Uncle Jan blink.

"Bax, why didn't you and Carol get hitched right after your army discharge?"

"How could I marry her, then, Jan? I was stone broke and had to start my automobile agency on a flyer. And you know how things went. First, I couldn't get any stock. Then, my garage burned down and I had to start from scratch again. We're through!"

UNCLE JAN stopped his departure by quickly asking for a match. He had to untangle things somehow. Why, Carol had always wanted to marry Bax. Even two years ago she'd come right out and asked if marriage wasn't a partnership where each person shared rain or shine as it came.

Bax hadn't wanted her when things were going bad for him, so she was wondering why he wanted her now when he was a success. After five long years of waiting, fear had replaced confidence, and her sudden desire to be independent was nothing but a cover-up to hide that fear. Maybe she was fearful that Bax just considered her another step up the ladder for himself, something to be tossed around because he was paying the bills. She wanted proof of his love.

Suddenly, he had an idea for a cure. It would be a pretty drastic one, but it would show them how much they really cared for each other.

HE TURNED to the door and bel-lowed, "Did you say Carol won't marry you because of that bullet scar on your cheek, Bax?"

"Bax," Carol said, simply, "your scar stands for everything fine."

Well, that's something to think about.

In a second, the screen door flew open and Carol stood there, her hand on her shoulder and her heart in her eyes staring down at Bax's white strained face. He'd taken the remark seriously, and Uncle Jan felt suddenly frightened. If Carol didn't handle things right, now—

"Bax," she said, simply, "your scar stands for everything fine; for duty, loyalty, sacrifice—for everything fine I love in you."

Her hands rose to tremble on the mauls riding his jaw grimly. Then, as he stiffened, she stood on tip-toe and kissed the scar.

When he still stood like a granite statue and Carol started to cry, Uncle Jan roared in high dudgeon, "You going to wait five more years to kiss her back, you dumb galoot? That's why she busted the engagement. When a guy makes a girl wait that long she wants something besides words to prove he loves her. Get it?"

MODERN MILKHOUSE AIDS DAIRIES

The modern milkhouse shown here has been designed by James Boyd, agricultural engineer at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. It has numerous features that make it an efficient work-center. These include: a ventilation system that halts moisture condensation and takes out odors; a sheltered porch; a removable casing on the door that will permit large equipment to be moved in and out; and adequate space for all milk cooling operations.

Single copies of plans for this milkhouse are available free by writing to the Farm Building Plan Service, Department of Agricultural Engineering, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan. In quantity lots, a charge of ten cents per plan is made. Plans for a vestibule type milkhouse are also available.

Inspection Dates Set on New Barn Housing ABA Sires

The new barn for housing the bulls at the Michigan Cooperative Artificial Breeding Association is now in use. This unique structure, built to house 88 of the 57-bulls now in use at the bull stud is located on the Michigan State college farm near East Lansing.

The barn was constructed on MSC land leased to the cooperative with funds furnished by the breeding association which operates in about 60 of Michigan's counties.

A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at MSC and secretary of the association, says Tuesday, Sept. 14, has been set aside as the date for inspection and formal opening of the new barn. Each of the more than 120 Associations will send representatives for the event and Michigan's farm people are invited to inspect the facilities.

The new barn is 140x40 feet in size with cinder block walls. The ceiling to the barn or floor to the hay mow is of concrete construction with the roof built of Quonset steel. The mow will hold 130 tons of baled hay and straw.

Rat-proofed grain bins have been installed. There are automatic loading and unloading devices, grain and feed grinders, and gutter cleaners.

Skid-proof asphalt concrete mastic flooring is used throughout the barn to prevent animals from skidding and slipping.

The Counting Mirror
In colonial days a small hand mirror was used by bashful swains to help them propose. The young man would place the mirror face up on a table before the girl of his choice. The young lady would answer yes by smiling at his image in the mirror. If the answer were "no," she would turn the mirror.

SAVAGE SCHOOL DAIRY 4-H CLUB
The Savage School Dairy 4-H club meeting was held at the home of Shirley Williams. The meeting was called to order by president, Sara Geer. The secretary read the minutes which were approved as read. The treasurer's report was then given. The old business was discussed and a demonstration of a discussion of when and where the clipping of the calves would take place. It was decided to be July 25, at the home of the leader, Alfred Williams.

Otto Riegger made a motion that the meeting be adjourned. Bob Geer seconded it. The next meeting will be held at the home of Betty and Otto Riegger. Refreshments of cake and Kool-Aid was served.

Old Fort St. Joseph, Near Niles, Had Colorful History During Pioneer Days

Flags of four nations, figuratively at least, flew over the former Fort St. Joseph at Niles. During its varied, colorful history, the bastion successively served French, British, Spanish and American interests, information at the University of Michigan indicates.

Chief center of civilization in southwestern Michigan for almost a century, the fort was built in 1691 by the French. Its wooden ramparts stood about 30 miles up the winding St. Joseph river at the southern outskirts of Niles today. A huge glacial boulder marks the spot.

Jesuit missionaries had established a mission near there a year or so before and it was after their mission that the fort was named St. Joseph. Standing near where the mission was is a granite cross in memory of Father Claude Allouez who died about 1689.

The region at the time of the fort's construction was described by the French as the best farm land they had yet seen. Today it is the heart of the Lower Michigan fruit belt, and Berrien county, in which Niles is located, is one of the richest horticultural areas in North America.

Governor Frontenac of Canada had ordered the fort put up to prevent the British from moving into that part of the country and to control the Indians.

Important Indian trails leading from Fort Wayne and Detroit to the southern end of Lake Michigan came together near there. The fort controlled not only traffic over these trails but much travel between Canada and the Mississippi by way of the St. Joseph-Kankakee river highway, as well.

The French abandoned the fort about 1697 or 1698, by decree of Louis XIV, but reoccupied it about 1720. Thirty-one years later red-coated British soldiers from Detroit marched into the outpost after defeating France in the French and Indian war.

The British Union Jack came down in a hurry May 26, 1763, when Indians sent from Detroit by Chief Pontiac killed all but 200 of the small garrison in but two minutes of battle. The four, including the garrison's commander, a young ensign, were taken to Detroit as prisoners and exchanged for Indian prisoners the British held.

Never permanently occupied after that, the fort was used as a base by traders. Then in 1781, an expedition of French and Spanish militia from what are now Cahokia, Ill., and St. Louis Mo., struck when traders were absent and plundered the place.

Some have made the claim that the Spanish raised the flag of Spain at Michigan Historical Collection material tends to disprove this belief. As it was, the Spanish group stayed at the fort less than 24 hours, leaving before the victimized traders could organize a raid in reprisal.

Fort St. Joseph came under the Stars and Stripes when the U. S. acquired Michigan from the British in 1796. By that time the fort was in considerable disrepair and it is highly doubtful if the flag of the new nation ever actually flew there.

Applications Received for Allegan's Special Deer Hunting Season

Lansing — Applications already are being received by the conservation department's game division for permits to hunt in Allegan county's special antlerless deer season Dec. 1-10. Deadline for receipt of the applications is Oct. 6.

The doe and fawn hunters in December will have the largest area ever opened to them, as the conservation commission at its July meeting extended the boundary south from Dunningville to Lake Allegan to make the total area open this season 95,000 acres. The number of permits to be issued has been increased from 800 to 500. If more than 500 file applications, names to fill the quota will be drawn by lot. (Applications must be accompanied by the regular deer hunting fee, $3.50, in the form of a bank draft or money order; no personal checks accepted.) Winners can hunt in the regular season, hunt again at Allegan if they fail to get bucks.

In seven years of antlerless hunting in Allegan county, 2,655 gunners whose special permits were validated took 266 deer; while archers in the same period took 178. Together the gunners and the archers have reduced the Allegan herd sufficiently to check damage to farm crops.

Mining Iron Ore
Iron ore, of which 79 million tons were produced last year, came chiefly from the ranges of Minnesota and Michigan.

BIG CHERRY CROP
Frankfort-Fortune has again smiled on the cherry growers of Benzie county as another huge crop of sour cherries is predicted. For the third year in a row the fruit growers have produced large crops. The important price question has not, as yet, been settled, but it now appears that it will run around 10c a pound.

Pickers are in the orchards now harvesting the sweet cherries and the canning companies are taking them in. The canning plants will begin operation in the next few days.—The Benzie County Patriot.

WHAT'S THE PRICE OF A BUICK?

7 out of 10 Guess Too High!

WE'LL admit that this husky two-ton honey looks like something super duper.

When you sample its ride, its handling and the silken liveliness of its big Fireball straight-eight power plant, you are likely to ticket it in the near-luxury class.

So, naturally, when we put the question to a cross section of car-wise men and women — when we asked them to name their idea of the delivered price for a Buick SUPER — 7 out of 10 guessed too high!

The fact is that—in relation to today's values—Buick prices begin at a lower level than before the war.

Dollar-wise, all prices are up — but Buick cars are not up as much as most other things — or even as much as the cost of building them.

So don't jump to conclusions without a bit of shopping around. Get the delivered prices — not only on Buick but on others, too — including cars with far less power, far less lefth, far less room and far less distinction.

You'll find that a lot of folks are paying within a few dollars of the price of a Buick — or maybe more than the price of a Buick — and getting something that can't hold a candle to what a Buick has to offer.

You'll find that price comparison gives you another sound reason for getting your firm order in — particularly since your Buick dealer will take it with or without a car to trade.

Our Four-Square Selling Policy

- 1. NO PRICE PADDING.
We guarantee our prices to contain nothing but the charges which were standard practice in figuring prewar delivered prices. You receive an itemized bill of sale. And we display all prices in our showrooms.
- 2. NO "LOADING" OF UNWANTED ACCESSORIES.
All cars are delivered with accessories as ordered, and prices are figured to cover these. We pledge ourselves to add no "extras" except those each customer orders.
- 3. NO COMPULSORY TRADE-INS.
We will take your order and deliver your car without requiring a trade-in. However, we have many valued used-car customers we would like to supply and we will give you a fair and reasonable allowance on your present car.
- 4. NO COLLUSION WITH "GRAY MARKETERS."
We will not knowingly be a party to the sale of Buick cars to any individual who operates in the "gray market." Our only interest is to deliver new cars to bona fide customers.

THE DUTCH COOKS
On July 14, Jayne Proctor, Jean Schweinfurth, Gertrude, Kathleen and Janet Widmayer attended a 4-H judging contest at Ann Arbor where clothing, food preservation and food-preparation exhibits were judged.

Fifteen girls with the highest scores who were fourteen years, or more, of age, were chosen to go to the district judging contest at Pontiac. Among these were Gertrude Widmayer, Jayne Proctor and Jean Schweinfurth. Kathleen and Janet Widmayer also had high ratings but were too young to be eligible for the district contest.

On July 15 a meeting of the Dutch-Cooks club was held at the home of Virginia Quiatt. Some of the girls worked on their note-books while Virginia gave a demonstration on streamlined kitchens for the "Girls' Day" members.

Refreshments were ice cream and cake.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Jean Schweinfurth on July 29.

Virginia Quiatt is to be a junior counselor at the Island-Lake 4-H camp, near Brighton, this week.

Dr. Rayo Palmer left Saturday for Camp Custer, where he is in training with the Officers' Reserve Corps. He will be gone until July 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Vogel and Helen, who was accompanied by a girl friend from the eastern states, left Sunday for Yellowstone National Park, where they will spend two weeks.

An increase of $2,000 over the amount raised last year was voted by taxpayers at the annual school meeting held at the town hall Monday evening of this week when it was decided to raise $20,000 by direct tax instead of $18,000 as voted last year. Election of D. Edward Beach to fill the vacancy caused by expiration of the term of Dr. H. W. Schmidt, and E. P. Steiner was re-elected to succeed himself.

Dr. Rolla Silas Armstrong, one of Washtenaw county's oldest and best known citizens, died at his summer home at Cavanaugh Lake July 10. Dr. Armstrong was the son of David and Sarah Treadway

Armstrong and was born in West Haven Vt., July 23, 1844. He would have celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary in two weeks. He came to Michigan with his parents in the Fall of 1849. His parents settled on the farm owned by his paternal grandfather four miles north of the present site of Parma. In the winter of 1849 Dr. Armstrong's father went to Parma to succeed to a physician's practice there. The following summer he moved his cabin with his family to Parma. Dr. Armstrong was of the graduating class of 1868 at the University of Michigan. He was married to Miss Eliza M. Goodelle of Corvallis, Dec. 18, 1869. Mrs. Armstrong died in 1918 and since then he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Ernest B. Dancer, of Chelsea. Dr. Armstrong came to Chelsea after his graduation and entered the drug business with M. J. Noyes and George P. Glazier. After retiring from the partnership in the Glazier store, Dr. Armstrong engaged in the drug business for himself, and in the Fall of 1898 he sold to Penn and Vogel and retired from active business. Besides the daughter, Mrs. Dancer, Dr. Armstrong is survived by three sons, Ransom of Chelsea, Howard of Milwaukee, and Arthur of Roy, Mo.

At North Lake the Bible Vacation school with Miss Mildred McDaniels as teacher, has been organized and will meet Tuesday and Thursday for four weeks. At present there are twenty four enrolled.

Anthony L. Holden died at his home in Sharon township, Friday, July 18. He was born in the state of Maine, Jan. 1, 1848, and moved with his parents to Ann Arbor in 1867. In 1862 the family moved to Lima, N. Y., where he was married to Mary A. Guerin and in 1873 moved to his home in North Sharon. Mrs. Holden died July 4, 1913. To this union three Michigan farmers will find that two tests devised by a Michigan state college scientist will be of help in making hay or grass silage this year. The first test is shown in picture 1 where Dr. S. T. Dexter, farm crops specialist at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, fits a hay sample in his "oven-type" moisture tester on the exhaust of a tractor.

These tests will be demonstrated at all of the Michigan State College Grass Day demonstration programs being held in lower Michigan during June.

The heat generated by the motor of the tractor drives the water from a sample of hay and permits quick calculation of the hay's moisture content. Equipment needed is a "oven," a round cylinder of sheet metal to hold the sample, a scales and a thermometer. The hay sample is weighed, put in the oven and the motor started. The sample should be turned occasionally and the engine speed adjusted to avoid scorching. When the sample reaches constant weight, the percentage of moisture can be figured by dividing the loss in weight by the original weight of the sample. The farmer can then determine if it is necessary to let the hay in the field dry more before storage.

Picture 2 and 3 show Dexter's quick storage test. Materials required include a quart ice cream box, some ammonium chloride salt from the drugist, and a hay sample. The hay is put in the box with a small teaspoonful of the salt. The cover is placed on the box and shaken 100 times. If the salt is damp and clumped together (as in picture 2) the hay is too damp to store safely. If it remains in its original state (picture 3) the hay can be stored safely under ordinary farm conditions.

Details for the construction of the oven-type tester may be secured by writing to the Farm Crops Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

It's Profitable to Remodel Jamesway

Of course, you're interested in cutting down time every day of the year — in easier work — in less walking and lugging — in more milk, eggs and meat — and in important feed savings. Modernizing your old barn, poultry or hog house is the surest and most practical way to do it. Leading authorities have proved that a saving of only 17% in the time required to care for farm animals justifies a 100% increase in farm building investment. Those figures may be conservative, even when you consider the time and labor saved through the use of Jamesway.

Jamesway water cups, litter and feed carriers, automatic ventilation, more efficient barn arrangement. We'd like to help you fix up that old barn into a profit-producing "milk factory" and a more pleasant and efficient place to work. It can be done at a surprisingly low cost through Jamesway planning and equipment. Come in and see us today.

34 Years Ago

Thursday, July 18, 1914

Forty years ago this week: H. F. Siegfried, formerly miller at the Waterloo mills, opened a general store in that village. The annual meeting of school boys were born, two of whom survive, Edgar W. of Cortland, New York, and Ashley L. of Detroit.

A midnight blaze caused considerable damage to the Freeman department store. Presumably a defective electric wire caused the fire that was kept in the basement due to the steel ceiling and lack of sufficient air to cause a draft. The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Lorenz Bagge, night operator of The Michigan Bell Telephone Co., which has its offices in the front upstairs rooms of the Freeman block. Water from the faucet, usually cold for drinking purposes, was found to be hot when drawn about 11 o'clock, and upon investigation it was discovered that the hallway was full of smoke.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Riemenschneider of Sylvan, Miss Alma Huldah and Howard Marie Boyce of Lyndon were married at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, July 15, Rev. Geo. C. Nothdurt, officiating. The couple were attended by Miss Florence Noah of North Lake and Floyd Boyce of Lyndon, brother of the groom.

In honor of the 78th anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Frank Staffan, a dinner was served on the lawn of the Staffan cottage, Cavanaugh Lake, a few days ago. Mrs. Staffan was escorted by her youngest grandson, George L. Staffan.

Last Sunday Frank Shaver kept an account of the number of autos that passed his residence on Middle street, west. Two hundred and three autos passed from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening.

Miss Charlotte Steinbach is attending the U. of M. summer school, and Miss Helene Steinbach is attending the University school of Music.

B. B. Turnbull has moved his law library from the Freeman block to the suite rooms occupied by John Kalmbach.

Geo. Meyer met with an accident at the residence of J. S. Cummings Tuesday morning. Mr. Meyer and John Visel were tearing down the porch when it suddenly gave away and they were thrown to the ground. Mr. Visel escaped without any injury but Mr. Meyer will be confined to his home for a few days.

Thursday, July 23, 1914

S. P. Foster was in Detroit several days of this week where he attended the state convention of the rural mail carrier's association.

Miss Mary Dupew had a telephone placed in her home on the corner of Summit and Congdon streets.

Married, Thursday evening, July 16, 1914, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Van Orden of Ann Arbor, Miss Louise Simpson and Theron Foster, both of this place. The School Board met this morning and organized for the coming year. The following officers were elected: president, Frank Staffan; secretary, L. T. Freeman; treasurer, Dr. C. W. Palmer.

Forty years ago, Frank Staffan and brother have purchased a lot on the north side of the railroad tracks and have started the foundation for a large cider and planing mill. They have ordered a large and powerful engine.

Stitch in Time
Skirts are getting longer, girls, so why not let your hems down? In doing this you may find that there is not enough material left to give the desired width. Two or three rows of seam tape can be sewed together and used to make the hem wider.

Woman Member of Polar Trip Is Relative of Mrs. J. F. Mohrlock

Mrs. Finn Ronne, one of the first two women ever to set foot in the South Polar region, is a great-niece of Mrs. J. F. Mohrlock of 8078 Old 18th. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Mohrlock, and her father, the late Mrs. Anna Parlette, both of Baltimore, were guests at the Mohrlock home a number of times. Mrs. Mohrlock is expected to visit here again next month.

Mrs. Ronne is the former Edith Maslin of Baltimore. Following her graduation from Eastern High School and George Washington University she was employed by the State Department. Her husband, Cmdr. Finn Ronne, USN, Ret., headed the Antarctic expedition in which twenty-two scientists participated and which lasted fourteen months. The expedition was Mrs. Jennie Darlington, wife of the pilot of the converted 1,200-ton Navy net tender, the SS Port of Beaumont, Texas, on which the expedition traveled to the South Pole.

Mrs. Ronne and Mrs. Darlington had intended to accompany their husbands as far as the Panama Canal Zone and were persuaded to go as far as Valparaiso, Chile. There, the crew's historian became ill and was put ashore and Mrs. Ronne agreed to serve in his place on condition that Mrs. Darlington would also go along. Permission from the government was obtained for the two women to accompany the expedition.

Mrs. Ronne, who is only twenty-eight years old, told interviewers that she had no colds all the while she was in the Antarctic region but two days after landing in New York she contracted one.

An island, discovered by the party, was named Edith Ronne in her honor, according to information received by Mrs. Mohrlock here.

The Ronne home is at Chevy Chase, Maryland.

WHEAT HARVEST ON
Buchanan—A small amount of the acreage of wheat in the Buchanan district has been cut by binders and is in the shock, but by far the greater part is waiting for the summer, which are now scheduled to start the latter part of the week if the fields are dry enough.

While many fields are unaffected by rust, and heads are filled well, it is not expected that the yield will be quite up to the record return last year. The price is starting below the beginning figure of last year. The price quoted at the Buchanan Co-op Tuesday was $2.03 per bushel as compared to $2.12 and $2.13 at the opening of the harvest in 1947.—Berrien County Record.

Weights - Measures

Laws Reach Into Many Channels

The Weights and Measures laws assigned by the legislature to the Michigan Department of Agriculture for enforcement, like so many others, govern items not generally thought of by the public.

Miles A. Nelson, Chief of the Bureau of Marketing and Enforcement, Michigan Department of Agriculture, reports that in the Detroit area, his inspectors were recently checking on trucks delivering a large supply of gravel for the construction of a new building. The purchaser had ordered several hundred yards of gravel, which was being delivered and billed in ten-cubic-yard loads. When department inspectors made routine measurements of the trucks and lots, they found on four lots, two had 6.4 cubic yards, one had 5.8 cubic yards, and the other had 8 cubic yards, or a total shortage of 10 cubic yards on the four loads. After the investigation was made, the additional cubic yards were delivered immediately, to properly fill the contract.

The same law covers measurements of septic tanks. Department inspectors recently found that the public in some instances was being overcharged for cleaning septic tanks on a yardage or content basis.

Director Charles Figg states there are over 100 laws on the Statute books that have been assigned to the Michigan Department of Agriculture for enforcement. Mr. Nelson and bureau inspectors, besides checking on food products and all types of scales, find many other ways in which these Acts protect the public.

mouth of the Kalamazoo river. At one time it boasted of three lumber mills, two hotels and several stores. Lots were at a premium. A total of 672 sailing boats entered the harbor in 1870. Today a drifting sand dune marks Singapore. The town is lost, buried. Saugatuck is unique because of its artists' colony.

But if certain trends continue, artists are fearful it will become a tourist night-life spot like Greenwich Village in New York City.
