

Independents Turn Back Ann Arbor Sunday While Millers Trim Grass Lake

Continue Unbeaten, Untied Record with Easy 14-3 Victory

By "BILL" SCHATZ
Coming from behind Sunday, the Independents literally swept the Ann Arbor nine off their pins, Junior Miller winning with a comfortable 14 to 3 margin.

Coupled up with the excitement of runs, runs, runs, the A. A.ers tried every conceivable way in a vain effort to rout the Independents. Arguments with the umpire were often heated, and a bit abusive, but they always lost those decisions, along with the lop sided score.

It is much better, much, much better, to play the old ball game and forget amateur dramatics. What a razzle, dazzling the crowd handed the boys from the educational center. This was Ann Arbor's second try at our fast paced ping-pong and here are the net results of the two encounters. Chelsea Independents 18 runs, Ann Arbor 3. Sort of an anemic low sided total.

Stan Policht (fire chief), came up with 4 hits out of 6. Stan has been in the doldrums most of the current season, but the old boy has regained his batting eye in the last two encounters. Leon Marsh, catcher-manager, was out of the lineup with a broken finger received at our encounter with Pinckney a week ago Sunday. Leon is yelling to get back in there as soon as possible.

In the meantime, Ted McClanahan is doing a swell job at the hot spot. B. McClanahan relieved J. Miller on the mound in the fifth after Miller had momentarily lost control, leading the bases. Big Mac put the fire out quick, getting number two on strikes, number three on a slow roller, pitcher to first.

Louis Birch made a fine running catch of what looked like sure Texas leaguer, robbing Ann Arbor of a hit.

The lineup:

On Sunday, Aug. 15, the Independents played the Saline nine at Saline. Holding the initial win over them we try to cop this second game to keep our brilliant record "all wins, no defeats" intact.

Several local members of the Holstein-Friesian association were in attendance at the annual state Black and White show held Aug. 6 at the C. B. Smith farm near Howell near Williamsburg. This show is now the largest one of its kind in the United States.

Kenneth Proctor, Jr., won a fourth-place award in the 4-H Club cattle judging contest, and Leonard Burmeister was awarded first place in the Junior Yearling Bull class, with the same entry he exhibited at the local show on July 29.

Reports are that some of the finest blooded cattle ever seen in Michigan shows were exhibited this year and competition was exceptionally keen.

Local FFA Is Entered in State Contest

Represent County
in 'Best Chapter'
Competition for '48

The FFA chapter at Chelsea, Washenaw county's entry in the 1948 Michigan Best Chapter contest, has completed the record program by submitting its record of chapter accomplishments to the association's headquarters in Lansing.

This contest is sponsored by the Michigan Association of Future Farmers of America for the fifth consecutive year in cooperation with the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, which provides plaques for the 15 winning chapters and cash awards totaling $425.

In addition, the food chain will provide for the 105 officers and advisers of winning chapters an educational tour of food handling and distribution facilities in Detroit. This tour, inaugurated last year as a part of the contest program, will include a visit to the Detroit Art Institute and luncheon at the "Book Cadillac" hotel, according to Luke H. Kelly, FFA executive secretary.

The tour, scheduled for Sept. 2, will coincide with announcement of winning chapters, the top ten of which will represent the state in the National Best Chapter Contest concluded each October at the national FFA convention in Kansas City.

Marshall F. Richards, vocational agriculture teacher, is adviser of the Chelsea chapter, which has a membership of 48 boys. Officers of the chapter who will make the Detroit tour of food handling facilities among the first 15 are: Paul Bolinger, president; Richard Schulze, vice-president; Robert Bauer, secretary; Keith Bradbury, treasurer; Bill Lyons, reporter; and Richard Kaimbach, sentinel.

Chapters are scored on the basis of a possible 1,000 points, with programs of work, submitted with contest entries in January, receiving up to 250 points and chapter accomplishments scoring a possible 750 points.

The Michigan Association of Future Farmers of America is part of the vocational agriculture program being carried out in the secondary schools of the state. Harry E. Neuman, chief of the agriculture education division, State Board of Control and Vocational Education, is state FFA adviser.

Joseph W. Mallette, age 20, has enlisted in the Air Forces.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Observing 70th Birthday of Telephone in State

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is quietly observing the 70th birthday of the telephone in the state while engaging in the largest construction and improvement program in its history.

N. E. Beckman, manager here for the company, pointed out that the first telephone exchange serving 63 subscribers was opened at Detroit on Aug. 5, 1878, by the Telephone and Telegraph Construction Company, direct ancestor of Michigan Bell.

Five weeks later, the first directory of subscribers to the "speaking telephone" system was published. It listed 133 customers but no numbers.

The license to operate a telephone company under Alexander Graham Bell's patents was obtained by William A. Jackson and George W. Balch through direct negotiation with the great inventor himself and Gardner G. Hubbard on record.

Preparations Underway for 4-H Show

Annual Club Event Will Be Held at County Fairgrounds

Washenaw County's 4-H clubs will again hold their annual show Aug. 26, 27, 28 at the old County fairgrounds.

Plans are being made for a larger exhibit in every department than has been held in recent years. The general plan of the show will be similar to last year in that the exhibit will be placed Thursday, judged Friday and taken home Saturday. The outstanding exhibits will be held over and entered in the State 4-H show at East Lansing.

The fitting and showing contest will again be sponsored by the Ann Arbor Junior Chamber of Commerce. This contest has developed a great deal of interest since it was originally started. Another contest which has been growing steadily is that of selecting the best demonstration teams in each project class. Several teams are now training with this event in mind. The superintendent appointed by the County 4-H council for the various departments are:

Barns—Dean Coy, Frank McCalla, Everett Van Riper and George Brettschneider.
Dairy and Beef—Jack Bradbury and Carl Leskin.
Flora—Edwin April.
Sheep—Dean Coy.
Wool—Raymond Schairer.
Vegetables and Crops—Allen Rinesamle.
Flowers—Helen Ruhlig.
Handicraft—Raymond Schairer.
Merchant's Building—Mrs. Lewis Haselwerdt, Mrs. Arthur Kuhl and Miss Mary Wiseman.
Food Preparation—Mrs. Gordon Larson and Mary Schneider.
Achievement Booths—Lester McCalla.
Demonstrations—Vernagene Kruger.
Rural School—Miss Mildred Walsh.

Preparation for the annual 4-H show at the County fairgrounds Aug. 26, 27, 28, is well under way. It will be taken of 4-H cattle projects Friday and Saturday, Aug. 13 and 14. All 4-H calf club members desiring this service should contact the Agricultural Extension office before Aug. 13.

As in the past the members will be visited by a veterinarian and the cattle tested as a group.

Co. Supervisors Hold Annual Picnic Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broesamle, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stoffer attended the annual picnic for all present and former supervisors and township officials of Washenaw county, which was held Sunday, Aug. 8, at Dexter-Huron County Park. About one hundred and fifty persons were present.

Professor Arthur Bromage, of the Political Science department of the University of Michigan, was the afternoon principal speaker, taking for his topic, "Current Trends in County and Township Government." During his talk he stated it as his opinion that a cooperative spirit between county and city areas would be furthered by the construction of a joint city-county building in Ann Arbor.

Other speakers were Judge Jay H. Payne and Ralph Keyes, general chairman of Freedom Train Week activities, both of whom spoke on the subject of this coming event. Musical numbers were furnished by a quartet from the Second Baptist church in Ann Arbor.

Supervisor Samuel Morgan was elected president of the group for the coming year. Supervisor Carl Mast was named vice president, and Harry Cole was re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

County-Wide Rededication Program Starting Saturday Heralds Freedom Train Visit

Premium Books for State Fair Now Being Mailed Out

Premium books listing $110,000.00 in agricultural and livestock prizes for the Ninety-Ninth Michigan State Fair and Exposition to be held in Detroit, Sept. 3 through 12, are being mailed this week. This sum amounts to 10 per cent more than last year's prizes. Increases throughout all departments have been made with one of the largest increases being in prizes for the Junior-Livestock Show which amounts to $10,000, fifty per cent more than in 1947.

One of the features expected to please visitors at this year's fair will be members of the 2-H Clubs selling apples, pears and other fruit as well as cider and honey in the Agriculture Building. In former years visitors admired the exhibits and almost invariably asked if they could purchase some of the fruit.

A potato show will occupy a large area in the Agriculture Building this year, according to H. R. Pettigrove of Michigan State college, who will direct this show and also that of small grains.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the F.O.E. No. 2636, was formally instituted in ceremonies conducted in the Municipal building here Sunday afternoon by Don Black of Jackson, of the organization department of the Eagles. Assisting in the institution program were Harry "Happy" Chandler, Grand Aerie Conductor, and the ladies drill and ritual teams of the Jackson Auxiliary, who were brought here by special bus.

The ritual team, in pastel-colored formal gowns and the drill team in blue and gold uniforms, very ably carried out the intricacies of the floor work. The precision of the drill team's marching and formations together with the colorful and impressive ritualistic work was an unforgettable sight to the charter members of the Auxiliary who witnessed it.

Officers of the newly-organized Auxiliary, installed Sunday, were as follows:

Marjorie Tucci, Junior Past Mistress; president; Mrs. Paul Messner, president; Estelle Light, vice president; Mary Kniss, secretary; Kathryn Brettschneider, treasurer; Theresa Holzhofer, conductress; Ethel Reed, chaplain; Edna Worden, Evelyn Altenbernt and Cora Miller, trustees; Gladys Doe, inside guard; and Rose Morrison, outside guard.

Charter members of the Auxiliary are Marjorie Tucci, May Messner, Estelle Light, Kathryn Brettschneider, Meta Foster, Estelle Light, Alice Bergman, Anna Hoover, Mary Culhane, Cora Miller, Rose Morrison, Mary Kniss, Juanita DeFanti, Evelyn Altenbernt, Lucille Sanderson, Clarice Worden, Eleanor Embury, Josephine Hennon, Gladys Doe, Catherine Lessner, Helen Otto, Esther Chiswell, Mabel Barr, Eva Hoelzer, Theresa Holzhofer, Gertrude O'Dell, Edna Worden, Eunice Anthony, Joyce Conley, Mamie Hale, May Joseph, Florence Appleby, Dorothy Lentz, Geraldine Kuhl, Ethel Reed, Dorothy Meylans, Louise Altenbernt, Caroline Van Blaricum, Sarah Meyer, Lucille Parsons, Pauline Schiller, Mary Parsons and Gladys Bumpus.

Mrs. Tucci's appointment as Junior Past Mistress President was in recognition of her work as organizer of the Auxiliary. She has been engaged on the project for the past three months and, according to members of the organization, deserves much of the credit for the very promising beginning of the local group's activities.

Motto of the Auxiliary is "For Honor, Country and God." One of the chief aims of the organization is to assist the local Aerie in all of its many community projects.

Meetings of the Auxiliary are to be held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. The first regular meeting of the newly-organized Auxiliary was held at the Eagles Hall on Main street, Tuesday evening, Aug. 10.

At this meeting Mrs. Light resigned as vice president because of doctors orders in regard to an eye condition, and Dorothy Lentz was nominated to succeed her. She will be installed at the next regular meeting which is to be held August 24, at 8 p.m.

Police Take Action To Halt Drunken Driving Offenses

Reports of Chelsea police officers during the past week show that they have been clamping down on drunk drivers of automobiles, two having received stiff fines in addition to five-day jail sentences, and another, because of his youth, having had his sentence deferred until an investigation could be made. He was later sentenced to five days in jail to be served week-ends, ordered to pay $75 fine and costs, and placed on a year's probation.

Officers Frank Reed and Floyd Gentner picked up the first of the Saturday night offenders at about 7:15 o'clock on South street. Appearing in Municipal court in Ann Arbor Monday morning, he pleaded not guilty and was fined $100 and given five days in jail.

The second drunk driver apprehended Saturday night was the 18-year-old, whose home is at Manchester. He was taken into custody by Officers Reed and Doe.

The third driver charged with being drunk while driving was involved in an accident on US-12 a few miles east of Chelsea Saturday night, July 31. His fine, including costs, was $85, and he was also sentenced to spend five days in jail.

In addition to the drunk driving arrests, a Dexter man paid a fine and costs amounting to $35 when arraigned in Municipal court Monday morning on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was arrested in the downtown section of Chelsea Saturday night by local police officers.

Miss M. Wiseman Resigns as County Extension Director

The Washenaw Home Extension Executive Board met at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the courthouse in Ann Arbor to discuss plans for the fall program of Extension groups in the county; the officers' training meeting for all officers of local groups who take office Dec. 1, and the county-wide fall roundup which takes place in October at Ann Arbor.

During the discussion of future plans Miss Mary Wiseman, Home Demonstration Agent in the county for almost a year, announced that she had handed in her resignation to take effect Sept. 1. She gave as her reason for resigning her position that she is accepting a similar position near Cincinnati, Ohio, which is much nearer to home.

The news of her resignation was received with expressions of regret on the part of the board members present, those from this vicinity being Mrs. Wilber Hatt, Mrs. William Dahmiller and Mrs. Leonard Reith.

Lesson meeting dates were announced to take place as follows: Oct. 7 and 8, at Ann Arbor, "New Finishes on Fabrics" (this meeting is not a leaders' training meeting and will not be brought back to be taken up at local group meetings. It is open to all members of Extension groups. The same lesson will be given both days); Nov. 2, "Cooking Frozen Foods."

It was also announced that a special interest lesson on landscaping will be held, probably in October.

Two Cars Destroyed by Fire Following Crash Thurs. Night

Two cars were destroyed by fire shortly after midnight Thursday on US-12 a mile west of M-92, after one had crashed into the rear of another which had slowed up because of engine trouble.

Morton Haidy, of Detroit now at Camp Chelsea was the driver of the car which developed engine trouble and William V. Banks of Detroit was the driver of the other car.

Banks and his three children, riding with him, and the three women in the Haidy car all suffered minor injuries.

The Chelsea fire department made a run to the scene but the fire was beyond control by the time it arrived.

PUBLIC HAM SUPPER

The North Lake church will hold a public ham supper, Saturday, Aug. 14, at the church. Serving will be done from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Every Chelsea Home Will Be Canvassed Next Wednesday Urging Registration To Vote

Saturday, Aug. 14, is the opening date for the activities which will lead up to the date of the Freedom Train's visit to the county next Thursday, Aug. 19, when it is expected, more than 10,000 people will go through it to view the priceless documents and relics for American history it contains. The train is to be on the siding of the Ann Arbor railroad at Ferry Field.

Saturday has been designated "Veterans' Day." The main feature of the day will be a mammoth parade beginning at the Armory in Ann Arbor at 3 p.m. The parade is to proceed along Huron, William and Main streets and wind up at the east steps of the courthouse. Here a program of musical numbers will precede introduction of state officials of veterans' organizations. The main speaker of the day, Senator Homer Ferguson of Detroit, is to be introduced by Ann Arbor's mayor, William E. Brown.

David Eaton and Charles Ritter, commanders of the local posts of the American Legion and the VFW are in charge of arrangements for participation in the parade by veterans of Chelsea and vicinity.

People of the community are being urged to attend church services on Sunday to hear sermons on the topic, "Freedom of Worship."

On Monday, Aug. 16, Civic Organizations Day, ladies and men's groups of the entire county are to take part in a parade to begin at 6:30 p.m.; also in Ann Arbor, center of all Freedom Train activities for the county. Dr. Parker Shar-rard, Chelsea chairman for that day, asks that all members of the Masonic Lodge, K. of P., K. of C., I.O.O.F., Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, F.O.E., Rod and Gun club and any other groups who are planning to take part in the parade, meet at the Municipal building as soon after 6 p.m. as possible.

It is planned that the Chelsea delegation should all leave together for Ann Arbor. The Chelsea groups as to assemble for the parade on US-12 between West Ann and West Miller. The parade is to disband at Ferry Field where an ox roast is to be held. Tree roast beef sandwiches and coffee will be served there.

Governor Sigler is to speak at Ferry Field and there is a possibility that Governor Dewey will be present to speak also.

Monday night's parade is to be led by a squadron of 20 mounted policemen from Detroit. Several bands are to participate, including the Detroit Police Band and the Ypsilanti Drum and Bugle Corps.

In both Saturday's and Monday's parades, George Doe, Dave Reid and Jean McClure will be participating on horseback, as representatives of the Huron Valley Riding and Hunt Club. Mr. Doe will be riding his own horse and Miss McClure will be mounted on one of the two horses belonging to Mr. Reid, while Mr. Reid will ride the remaining one himself.

Faith
by Grace Noll Crowell

FAITH takes on the look of silver things:
A shimmering path at night scrotes the sea,
The poles of stars, the silver tips of wings,
The white, still luminosity
Of gleamed rooftops when the moon shines down.
The streets of any town.

Faith is a silvered brightness in the soul:
A shaft set there to point the way to heaven,
And carved upon it is a lettered scroll,
Its words miraculously given
To guide the traveler on his shining way
Upon the road today.

God help me keep my faith undimmed by time,
And uncorroded by the rust of years.

Freedom Train

Day is being arranged for locally by Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Moore who state they are ready to arrange transportation to and from Ann Arbor for all youngsters who will decorate their bicycles for entry in the parade. Bicycles will also be transported there and back. Bicycles at Ferry Field are to follow the parade. All prospective entrants are to contact the Moores and transportation will be arranged.

Fred Brossamie, chairman of Home and Work Day, Wednesday, is arranging with girls' groups of the community to have them canvass every home and remind unregistered voters to go to the Municipal building where both township and village registrations will be arranged for that day only.

Thursday, Aug. 19, the Freedom Train will be open to the public from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m., culminating six days of effort to bring about in this community the remembrance and rededication of the principles of freedom and democracy for all people of the United States.

Carl Mayer, local finance chairman, is busy contacting manufacturers and all organizations in Chelsea for donations to help raise Chelsea's portion of the $7,500 cost of the Freedom Train's visit to Washtenaw county.

N. W. Laird sustained a broken bone in his right ankle when he fell Tuesday afternoon of last week while picking apples in the orchard on his farm.

Believing at first, that he had only suffered a strained ankle he treated it himself and went to market in Ann Arbor on Wednesday. Induced by members of his family to have an X-ray taken, he did so on Thursday after consulting a local physician and it was then discovered that the bone was broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schlatter of Miami Beach, Fla., spent the past two weeks at Cavanaugh Lake and are traveling through the east before returning to their home. Mrs. Schlatter is the former Hazel Hummel.

Longest Train Tour To Rededication of American Liberty

The longest train tour in American history began when the American Heritage Foundation's Freedom Train arrived in Philadelphia on Sept. 17, to start its 33,000-mile year-long trip to every state in the Union.

The seven-car Freedom Train, carrying 127 of the nation's most priceless historic documents showing the foundations and growth of American liberty, operates at all times as a special train.

The Freedom Train is, in essence, the spearhead of the Foundation's program which seeks to recreate awareness among U. S. citizens of their priceless heritage.

Prior to the visit of the train to each community a Week of Rededication is held in which citizens of all age groups rededicate themselves to the American heritage, and pledge themselves to active observance of their duties as citizens.

Security Measures Taken

Since many of the documents aboard the train are irreplaceable, elaborate security measures have been taken to insure their safekeeping. A basic, precautionary feature is the all-steel welded construction of the entire train, and the heavy steel sheathing of the three exhibit cars specially constructed for the train tour.

A fire-extinguishing system employing carbon-dioxide was custom-built and installed in the exhibit cars. This system is entirely automatic and is activated by means of a temperature-pressure device.

Tested protection for the documents has been obtained by the extensive usage of a new type of luster-plastic, manufactured to meet Freedom Train requirements as specified by the document experts of the National Archives and the Library of Congress.

Every one of the valuable documents and books is placed between plastic sheets, which are firmly anchored by bronze bolts inside specially designed steel cases covered with shatterproof double glass sheets and are imbedded into plate steel walls with uniquely designed security screws.

Each plastic "envelope" protecting a document is one-half inch thick on both sides. The plastic, which is clearer than glass, is also fire-resistant, water-resistant and shatter-resistant.

Freedom Train's running schedule was planned so that high speeds are unnecessary. All jumps are short—none longer than from supper to breakfast. The train's maximum speed never exceeds 80 miles per hour. While enroute, the train is accorded high priority security measures.

In addition to the usual maintenance crew, a documents expert is aboard to check the condition of the manuscripts.

Windowless Steel Plated Cars—The exhibition cars, supplied by the Pennsylvania Railroad, are without windows as they are entirely covered, inside and out, with steel plating. The exterior of the cars is painted white with horizontal blue and red stripes. Superimposed on the stripes in large letters are the words "Freedom Train."

The rest of the Freedom Train consists of an equipment car, supplied by the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, carrying a power plant for air-conditioning and other needs, and three Pullmans for the train staff.

The 2,000 horsepower diesel-electric locomotive, "Spirit of 1776," was donated by the American Locomotive company and the General Electric company.

Paris—Fighting of a character that can be nothing less than an immediate preliminary to the first great battle of the European war was reported Tuesday all along the French frontier, from Switzerland to Belgium and as far north in that country as Lorraine, some 200 miles in all.

The cost of living is going up-ward already as a result of the European war. New York butchers quoted meats Tuesday from four to five cents higher. Butter has soared. Sugar has reached new top prices. Raw sugar advanced in a week from 3 1/4 to 5 cents a pound, with little stock on hand. Emanuel Bahnmiller met with an accident at the home of Edwin Ichelindinger of Lima, Monday afternoon. Mr. Bahnmiller was working and got his left arm caught in one of the belts. One of the bones above the wrist was broken and the ligaments of the arm were badly twisted and torn.

A fire occurred at the home of Mrs. Wm. Wheeler, Sr., of Dexter township, between three and four o'clock last Friday afternoon, when the large basement barn with its contents were burned to the ground. The building was well filled with hay, grain and farm tools. Mrs. Wheeler's sons, Justin, Thomas and Leonard, who worked the farm, were away from the home at work.

The open air concert given by the Chelsea band at the intersection of Main and Park streets Tuesday evening was an excellent one and eight hundred people were in attendance. The program lasted about two hours. Two vocal solos were given by Louis Burg. A movable platform was erected on the street and the crowd filled every available inch of space in the immediate vicinity. The streets were packed with teams and autos.

What every woman ought to know about Dynaflo Driving

Don't shy away, ladies, because we're not going to tell you how Dynaflo Drive* works.

Not even going to explain how this wonder-worker does away with both the clutch pedal and the usual low, second and high gears.

All we want you to get is this:

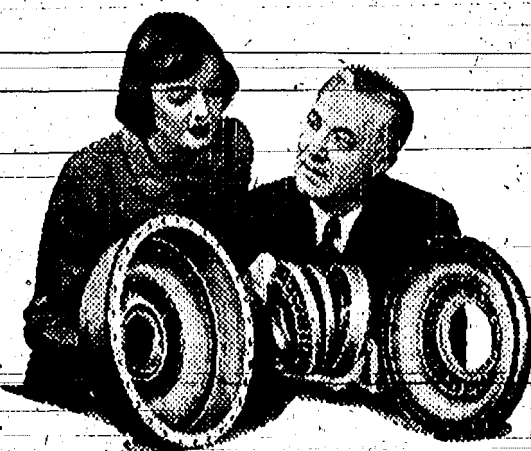

You slip behind the wheel of a Dynaflo Buick, start the engine and set a lever.

From then on, all you do is press the gas treadle and steer.

You move away from a standstill in one smooth, even build-up of power; easy and graceful as the start of a waltz.

You come to a stop light — and simply apply the foot brake. To go again, just feed the gas, without bothering to time your left foot with what the right hand's doing.

You take hills, steep grades, traffic tangles

Five Parts That Work Wonders—Here's the heart of Dynaflo Drive — five simple-looking parts. But they make a clutch pedal unnecessary — and also the usual low, second and high gears!

just by pressing down on the gas treadle. And you do all this without even thinking about gearshifting.

Why — because this drive shifts for you? No — because Dynaflo Drive does away with the need for changing gears in all normal driving.

The power plant does what gears used to do — so only when you first start out, park or back up will you normally have reason to touch the selector lever.

The big bothers of driving are gone. Anyone — man or woman — is a better driver, a smoother driver, with Dynaflo Drive.

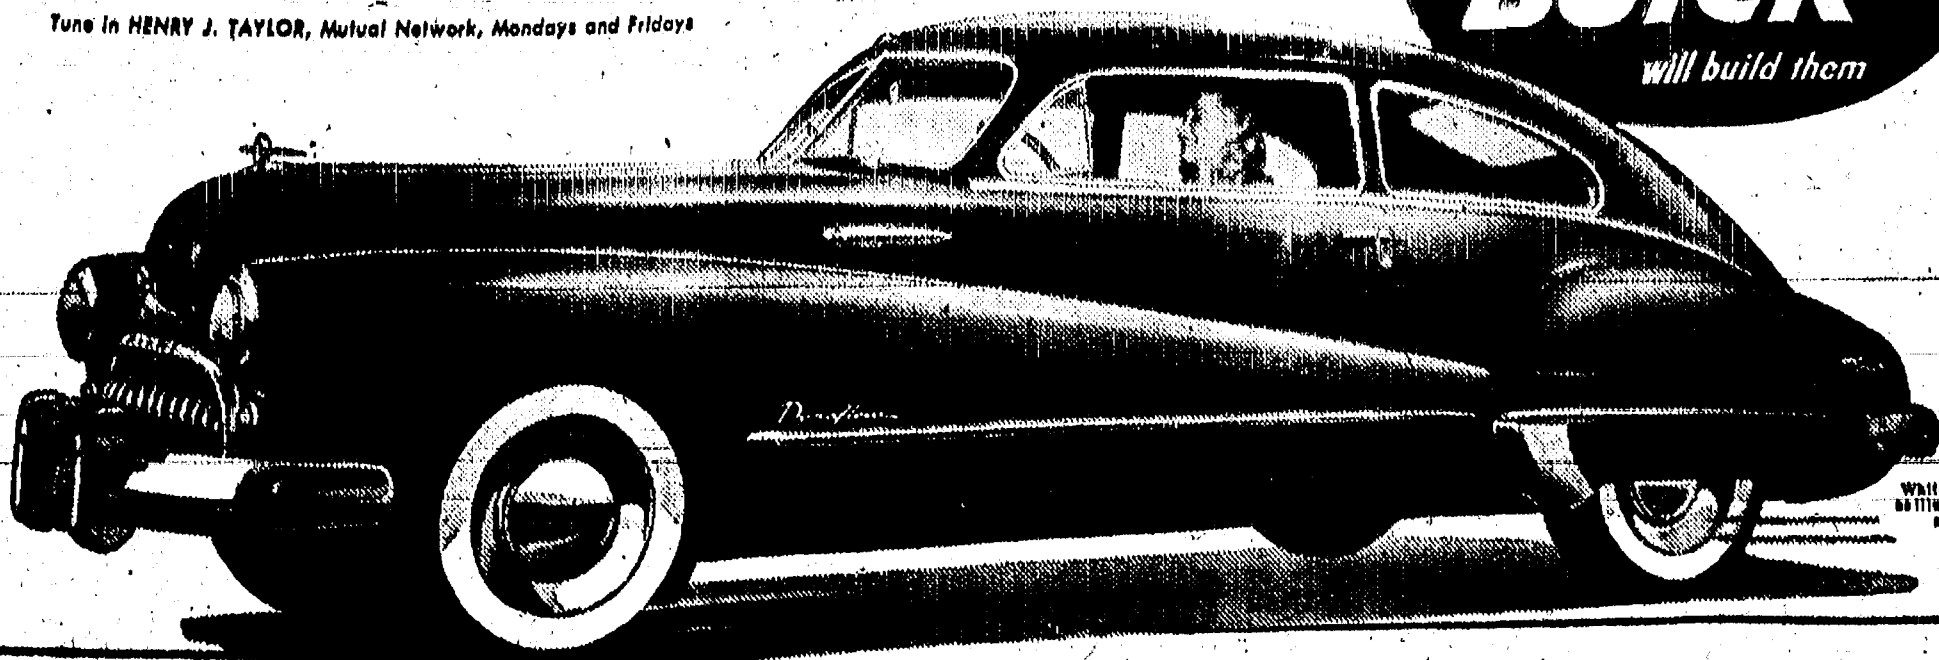

If he likes, let your husband inquire into the technical side of Dynaflo.

As for you — just arrange to try it. In five minutes, you'll be saying, "John, whether or not we trade a car, let's see a Buick dealer now and order a Dynaflo!"

Early Fort Erected on Port Huron Site Blocked British Expansion in 1686

Acting as a French barrier to British advances in the Northwest, a little stockade named Fort St. Joseph stood at the present site of Port Huron, 262 years ago. Erected in 1686, the fort helped defeat two British parties intent on raiding the French-dominated Indian fur trade in the Great Lakes region. Then in 1688, it was abandoned because its commandant, bored with the lonely outpost life, left for Fort Michilimackinac and friends, according to information in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.
The French at that time claimed the entire Great Lakes area as the property of King Louis XIV. They especially coveted the territory because of the lucrative fur trade carried on with the Indians through the trading headquarters at Michilimackinac.
The success of two British parties in trading with the Indians while the French were away from Michilimackinac prompted building of the fort. Since the British had come up the lakes from Albany, N. Y., the French further invaders before they could reach the Straits area and the fur trade. The French were especially irked because some of the Indians liked to trade with the Englishmen as they gave them more for their hard-earned furs than did the French, the records of the Michigan Historical Collections show.
Builder of the fort was Daniel Greysohn, Sieur Duluth, then commandant at Michilimackinac. It was the same Duluth who had added to New France an empire in the Northwest, explored routes from Lake Superior to the Mississippi and made French alliances with the biggest Indian tribes in that area.
It was shortly after Duluth finished the fort that the English came more tried to come up the lakes to trade. Then the little stockade hummed with activity as western Indians in their starting war paint rendezvoused there to assist the French against the interlopers.
Two parties of English traders were captured. Shortly afterwards, Duluth, at his own request, was relieved at St. Joseph in order to do more exploration.
He was replaced by Louis Armand Baron de Lahontan. In his book "Nouveaux Voyages," published in 1703, Lahontan wrote that the banks of the strait below Lake Huron were covered with fruit trees and abounded in deer and other animals, Michigan Historical Collections information shows.
But in spite of the beauty of the region and the fine hunting, the sociable Lahontan grew tired of the tiny outpost during the lonely winter and abandoned it. His pretext was to secure more provisions, but it is reasoned by historians that he wanted more company than Fort St. Joseph offered.
And so the little outpost was engulfed by the wilderness from which it had been cut. It was not until more than a century later that a permanent community was established there.
Although the fort was abandoned, the name was kept alive by the erection of another Fort St. Joseph by the French on the present site of Niles in 1691.

Thief In the Night

By N. G. ADLINGTON
The old caretaker was not surprised when confronted by the man with the gun. He had been expecting something of the sort ever since the publicity in the paper.
He was swiftly but thoroughly searched.
"Where is it?" demanded the gunman.
"In the table drawer," said the old caretaker. "I never carry it with me. I'm afraid of it."
The old man dared to relax. "Thanks," he said. "I was getting kinda tired holding 'em up. Do you mind if I sit down?"
"Yes," he said, with a sigh. "I told Mister John it was foolishness, putting all that stuff in the paper, no good would come of it."
"How right you were," grinned the man with the gun. "According to this spread, he's closed the joint up while he and his wife spend the summer on the coast. Must be nice to have dough."
The old man shrugged. "That's the story the paper got."
"What do you mean," asked the gunman sharply. "Aren't you alone here?"
"Sure I'm alone," said the caretaker hastily. "I meant there was more to 'em closing the house up than the paper was told. Mister John's wife didn't like it here."
"Most dames could stand living in a shack like this."
"They've only been married three months. She liked it here at first, then she said it got on her nerves. Claimed the place was spooky. It's a pretty old place, you know."
"Enough of this spook talk," the gunman said roughly. "Here's what I'm interested in." He scored a few lines on the paper with his thumbnail, then tossed the paper to the old man.
SLOWLY the caretaker read aloud from the society page blurb. "Among the many treasures gathered under the roof of the historic old house is an early Van Gogh. . . . I was going to tie you up first," said the gunman, with another quick glance at the dark passage, "but on second thought I'll let you show me where it is. Let's go."
They were half way through the passage, the caretaker leading, when the gunman stopped and gripped him by the arm.
"What was that?"
"I didn't hear anything."
They entered a couple of rooms that must have been enormous, judging by the time it took to travel them, before the caretaker halted again, this time of his own accord.
"This is the music room," he said. "The painting's on the far wall."
The man with the gun gave a grunt of satisfaction. With the piano as a bearing, it was easy to locate the Van Gogh. He let the light play

To Issue Revenue Bonds
At a meeting of the Dexter Village Council held recently, an ordinance was adopted providing for the issuance of $48,000.00 worth of Revenue Bonds to provide money for improving, enlarging and extending the present needs and to provide for an estimated thirty years of normal needs in water supply.
Inasmuch as Revenue Bonds are self-liquidating this will not mean the assessment of additional taxes to pay for the contemplated improvements. The bonds will be paid off from the moneys received from the water used from the village system.—The Dexter Leader.

"Where is it?" demanded the gunman.
on it, making audible noises of satisfaction. "You can help me—" he began, but the sentence was never finished.
High and clear, came the tinkling notes of a piano. It was as though an invisible hand had brushed over the keys, or lightly ran up a scale. The sound was repeated, but this time the notes were slow and uncertain, as if the unseen player tried to pick out an almost forgotten tune. The circle of light on the painting wavered violently, then jerked wildly down to the piano. By its light the two men saw that the stool was unattended, but at each note sounded a key was depressed by invisible fingers. The old man was touching the gunman, and he felt him go rigid in terror. The next second the room was in darkness as the lamp fell or was snuffed to the floor.
The kitchen door had slammed behind the intruder before the caretaker recovered the lamp. Approaching the piano, he stumbled under the open top, and when he withdrew his arm the music ceased abruptly.
"You little rascal, you!" chuckled the old man, reaching for the stool handle in his hand. "It's good thing for Mister John he told me I could use his piano. But it's no place for a thief to play in."

Evans, County Road Commission, County Board of Education, Scio Township Board and the Huron-Clinton Parkway authority met with the County Planning commission in their offices last week to discuss the expansion of industry into rural areas.

Each of the representatives presented indicated some of the problems they could foresee as a result of this trend and similar trends in business and residence.

He indicated a keen desire in learning about the many problems that could arise with the relocation of industry into areas beyond city limits. Albert Trinkle, Scio township supervisor, expressed the thought that such a meeting was worth while as it pointed out problems that will confront other townships in the future.

GREGORY AIRPORT

Four planes went on the Dawn Patrol flight to Flushing Sunday morning. Joe Savage flew his new four-place Piper Cub and took his wife and another couple along as passengers. Dewey Brenner, Al Gilmore, and Al and Homer Harbourn were the pilots of the other three planes.

The blue and yellow plane, which local residents have seen skimming along at tree-top level, has been applying a dust spray of insecticide on crops.

Ground school classes for students are held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Gregory school and on Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock at the airport.

Al and Walter Barbour of Stockbridge, lost the prop from the Stearman plane they were flying at about 2,500 feet near Pinckney Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Al was in the pilot's seat at the time the accident occurred. He made an emergency landing in the state property behind the Claude Rose Farm on Bull Run road in Unadilla. The bright red plane was owned by Norman Olson of the Gregory airport. Witnesses report that the plane descended at a 45 degree angle, landed on its nose, tore off the landing gear and came to rest on its top. The top wings and tail held up the fuselage which permitted the occupants to crawl from the wreck without injury. Lt. Wm. Watkins, state police of air traffic who inspected the wrecked plane Sunday, stated that mechanical trouble had caused the propeller to come off, but that the rest of the damage was done by careless and reckless piloting. The plane was wrecked beyond repair. It was moved to the Gregory airport Monday afternoon.

New 4-H Club Awards Stress Farm Forestry

FARM OWNERS	OTHER SMALL OWNERS	LARGE OWNERS	PUBLIC
30%	27%	18%	25%

The importance of farm forestry in America is stressed by the fact that farmers own the greatest single share of commercial woodlands. A 4-H club forestry project, symbolized by the young man planting a seedling, offers awards to spur interest in farm forestry.

The stake of farm boys and girls in the woodlands of this state, and of America as a whole, is emphasized by new national and state awards for a 4-H club project in forestry, which include medals for state winners, and trophies and trips for regional winners.

Four-H club members in this community, interested in forestry, are eligible to compete for these awards which include:

A gold medal for the state winner.

One of four regional $200 cash prizes.

One of four trips to the next 4-H club congress in Chicago.

The four areas in which regional awards are being made are the West, South, Central states and Northeast.

The sponsors for these awards is the American Forest Products Industries, a national association of lumber, pulp and paper, plywood and other forest industries.

"Good forest practices on the nation's farms are of major importance," declares Col. William B. Greeley, chairman of the American Forest Products Industries. "Farmers own a greater share of the nation's woodlands than any other group. With our uses for wood increasing almost daily, we must see to it that our harvests of trees are sufficient to meet the needs of our growing population. This means markets for wood, and this means greater and permanent opportunities for farmers who manage their woodlands for continuing forest crops."

National surveys show that farmers own 80 per cent of the nation's 400 million acres of commercial forest land. Other owners of small tracts own 27 per cent. Medium and large owners have about 15 per cent of the total, and the public owns about 25 per cent.

County Officials Discuss Industrial Relocation with Planning Commission

Representatives of the Washenaw County Health department, County Road Commission, County Drain Commission, County Board of Education, Scio Township Board and the Huron-Clinton Parkway authority met with the County Planning commission in their offices last week to discuss the expansion of industry into rural areas.

Each of the representatives presented indicated some of the problems they could foresee as a result of this trend and similar trends in business and residence.

Dr. Otto Engleke, County Health Director, warned of the dangers of stream pollution and sewage disposal. Kenneth Hallenbeck, county Road Commission manager, spoke on the increased road maintenance and traffic problems. The need of more equitable distribution of school monies where industry was located in one school district and the bulk of the school population in another was stressed by several members of the County Board of Education.

Neil Gustine, president of the King-Seely Corporation, spoke briefly on the development of their new plant in Scio township. He indicated a keen desire in learning about the many problems that could arise with the relocation of industry into areas beyond city limits. As a result of the discussion Mr. Gustine remarked that a county planning group or commission could have been very helpful to them in their search for a suitable location, and in his judgment, now that a County Planning commission does exist, can render a valuable service to other industries seeking rural locations.

Albert Trinkle, Scio township supervisor, expressed the thought that such a meeting was worth while as it pointed out problems that will confront other townships in the future.

next ferry boat. In the Fall the deer hunters, laden with guns and equipment, jam the town, north-bound for camp.

The ferry slide across the Straits is a symbol of old and modern Michigan. Where else in these United States is there such a unique state-maintained transportation service? It exists because Michigan consists of two peninsulas, separated by the Straits of Mackinac between Lake Huron and Lake Michigan.

Michigan's Great Lakes also are the tombs of hundreds of vessels and thousands of men and women. Even modern science and its radar-miracle discovery of World War II have not overcome the perils of the deep.

Capt. Russell Bergh, commanding officer of the Coast Guard Cutter, Sunday brought this grim fact to our attention during a fog-bound cruise from Charlevoix to Beaver Island on Sunday, June 27. Aboard were 124 Michigan newspaper editors and members of their families, all bound for St. James to attend dedication of the marker at the Old Mormon Printing House.

Captain Bergh, a veteran seaman of Norwegian descent, was proud of the boat's radar. In a magic circle a revolving beam illuminated anything two feet above the surface of the water—land or boats. Then the radar equipment jammed due to reasons beyond the operator's control. Outside, the fog was thick as soup. Seamen resorted to the ancient method of sounding for depth. Finally as the cutter drifted dangerously into shallow water, Captain Bergh sent a radio appeal to the coast guard station at St. James, and a picket boat hurried out to guide the cutter into harbor.

You recall incidents, such as this, when you behold the Strait of Mackinac. Drama rides the Great Lakes. It is a vibrant part of Michigan.

J. BELMONT MOSSER

Kiwanis Members To Hear President of International

Officers of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea learned today that J. Belmont Mosser, prominent Pennsylvania industrialist and recently elected president of Kiwanis International, probably will speak in this section sometime during his one-year administration.

Dr. Parker E. Sharrard, president of the club, said that following his election at Los Angeles, the new Kiwanis chief executive had indicated he would launch his speaking itinerary in late summer. This schedule undoubtedly will carry him into a majority of the 29 Kiwanis districts throughout the United States and Canada, Dr. Sharrard added.

Delegates to the largest convention in the history of Kiwanis International named Mosser to succeed Dr. Charles W. Armstrong, Salisbury, N. C., who served as president of the community service organization during the past year.

As president of Kiwanis International, he will represent more than 2,800 clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii, embracing a membership of 190,000 business and professional men.

At the regular meeting held in the Municipal building Monday evening, local club members heard George Meader, Ann Arbor attorney, describe some phases of his work while acting as chief counsel for the Senate War Investigating committee.

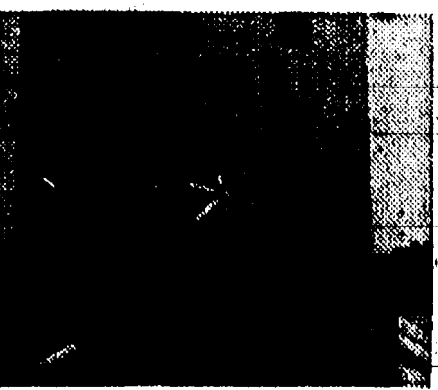

Hay Cured in Silos By Electrical Motor

Mechanical Method of Saving New Hay Crop

Although the barn mow still is more extensively used today than any other place for the mechanical curing of hay and other forage crops, it lately has been receiving some competition from other farm structures—notably the silo.

Use of silos for curing forage crops is gaining favor with farmers who do not have the space required for installation of necessary equipment in their one-story barns, as well as those who desire to use their mows for other purposes. The accompanying illustration shows a typical silo hay curing installation.

In this latest of many newer farm electrification developments, air enters the hay, through vents in the walls and passes into a vertical chamber which extends from top to bottom of the silo. It is exhausted from the structure by means of a fan, located above the entrance. The cost of curing hay electrically by this method with a 5 or 7 1/2 horsepower motor is about $1 per ton, the same as in the case of mow systems. Tests show that the quality of hay, cured in this way, also equals that cured in the barn, being worth from $5 to $10 more per ton in feeding value than that dried by the sun.
