

Bulldog Cage Quintet Wins Season's Opener Last Friday from Vandercook Lake TeamManchester Plays Here Friday for First Home Game*By DWIGHT GADD

Chester's Bulldogs opened their cage season last Wednesday at Vandercook Lake as they downed the "Lakers," 28-16, in a fine defensive game.

The Vandercook Lake gymnasium is smaller than the local gym and while this bothered the Bulldogs a little on offense it helped their zone defense to function very well.

Forward Dave Myers led the Chelsea attack with 8 points, but was closely followed by Crocker with 7. John with 6, and Knickerbocker with 5. The Vandercook center, racked up 7 points in the first half to top Vandercook's Ham, but he did not play in the last half due to a second quarter exchange of words with the officials.

The first quarter was fairly even but the play of both clubs was a little ragged. Vandercook opened the scoring, but Chelsea tied it up.

Second quarter, only to tie the "Lakers" make two quick field goals for a 6-2 lead. The Bulldogs began to "hit" late in the quarter though, and netted five points while holding Vandercook scoreless to take a 7-6 lead at the end of the quarter.

Chester took the lead for good midway of the second quarter after Ham had left the floor, with the score 10-9 in Chelsea's favor. Ham was the backbone of the Vandercook quintet and with him, Chelsea raced to a 15-9 halftime lead.

The Bulldogs increased their margin to 25-11 during the third quarter, and then eased off in the last quarter with a 28-16 victory under their belts.

Tomorrow night, Dec. 3, at 7:00 o'clock the Bulldogs will open their schedule by playing host to the Manchester Flying Dutchmen at the local gym. Manchester will be looking for revenge after their "grid" loss here, and it promises to be a fine game.

Last year most of the officials who worked games here stated that the team and crowd sportsmanship at Chelsea was some of the best they have seen. The fans are well kept in mind. Let's keep this sportsmanship reputation during the season ahead.

See you at game time!

To Introduce New Soap in Chelsea Area

Chester and its surrounding marketing area has been selected by Lever Brothers company of Cambridge, Mass., in which to introduce Surf, the company's new general household detergent, prior to national distribution.

Latest addition to the flourishing family of soaps, dentifrices, cosmetics and shortening produced by Lever Brothers in five major plants, located throughout the United States, Surf is now on sale, or will be very soon, in most Chelsea grocery stores and markets.

All housewives today know the advantages of using soaps—detergents in hard water areas. Because they are entirely immune to the magnesium and calcium salts, which make water "hard" these soaps are ready to do their cleaning job the second they hit the water. For the same reason, they leave no insoluble scum or curds which so often cling to clothes and dishes with other soap-cleaning agents; it is said.

Senior Class Play Scheduled To Be Given December 10

"Strictly Formal," a comedy in three acts, will be presented by the Class of '49 on Friday evening, Dec. 10, at 8:15 o'clock, in the High School gymnasium.

The play depicts the life of a young man, Jane Cutler, and the difficulties she has with her family, her friends, and her future.

To add to the confusion there is constant quarreling between Mr. Cutler and Mr. Ahern, the next-door neighbor, over their peonies.

Agnes, the Cutler maid, is simply disgusted with everything in the house. She does not appreciate the forgetfulness of Mr. Cutler in the least. However, Nettie, Mrs. Cutler's, is very capable of handling her husband.

Mrs. Tilton is such a "nice" neighbor and her daughter Josie has such a sweet personality, which is not fully appreciated by the Cutler family.

These family differences and misunderstandings cause many humorous and interesting situations which are cleared up in a most enjoyable manner.

The cast of characters will be released next week.

Dairy Group To Meet Here Next TuesdayGeorge Parsons To Speak at First in Series of Programs

A few weeks ago a committee of Washtenaw dairy farmers planned a series of dairy meetings during the winter months. The first of these meetings will be held next week, Tuesday, Dec. 7. There will be a forenoon meeting at Ann Arbor at the Farm Bureau store hall at 10 a.m. and an afternoon meeting at the Chelsea High school at 1:30 p.m.

The speaker at both meetings will be George Parsons, of the Dairy department, Michigan State college. Mr. Parsons will discuss the importance of inheritance in breeding dairy cattle for milk and butter-fat production. He will also discuss the importance of breeding and cross breeding, as well as other phases of inheritance.

Mr. Parsons says: "It takes time and costs money to grow calves into producing animals. A good knowledge of inheritance will do much to lower the cost of milk and butter-fat in efficient producing animals. Producers should first be fed out of them."

A discussion plan of procedure will be used in these meetings so that all dairymen having special problems will be given an opportunity to discuss them. The same subject will be discussed at both the forenoon and afternoon meetings.

Advisory committee assisting the County Agricultural Agent, H. S. Osler, in arranging these meetings is: Glenn Bird, Superior township; Everett Van Riper, Lima township; Bert Amrhein, Augusta township; Noel King, Superior township, and Ed. Simons, Ann Arbor.

Other dairymen who assisted in planning the winter program include Horace Whitney, Webster township; Roland Stein, Northfield; Albert Gall of Saline; Leonard Burmeister, Freedom township; Clifford Bradbury and Lowell Spike of Lima township.

Varied Program Is Planned for MSC's Farm Week Event

No matter what your farming interest is, you'll find that a program at the Michigan State college Farmers' Week has been arranged to bring you the newest information on the subject, according to Dean D. L. Anthony of the school of agriculture.

The week set for Jan. 24 to 28, 1949. Beginning on Tuesday, a number of special programs are scheduled. Agricultural economics and farm management will feature marketing, agricultural policy, and planning the 1949 farm business, buying and selling, and making a farm pay.

Structures and equipment, hay and grain handling, irrigation, and use of woodland products will be considered by the forestry department. Dairying will spotlight feeding, management, and nutrition. Fruits, vegetables, and flowers will take the attention of the horticulture department.

Rounding out the poultry program will be sessions on management and marketing. Sociology and anthropology will feature talks on rural churches, health, and family living.

Adult Education Courses Will Be Resumed by U of M

Ann Arbor—Adult education courses for workers, temporarily suspended for review, will be resumed by the University of Michigan. Immediately following the Christmas holidays, according to an announcement made by President Alexander G. Ruthven, this last week.

The University head said he based his announcement on a report he had just received from the Director and Executive committee of the Extension Service, who have administrative responsibility for the reorganized program. Plans will not be brought to completion, he continued, until they have been discussed with the original Advisory Committee made up of representatives of labor and the public. This committee has been invited to meet soon.

Dr. Ruthven said the Extension Service is developing "a program which will meet the practical needs of workers. The courses and other offerings should help the worker on his job and as a citizen."

Present plans call for a wide range of subjects in which workers have had an interest. President Ruthven asserted. As many of the courses as possible will be conducted by members of the University faculty, several of whom have already indicated their willingness to serve as teachers. In the development and conduct of the program, due regard will be given to the University's responsibility to all the people of the state.

Red Cross Issues Annual Call for Christmas Gift Packages To Cheer Hospitalized VetsFarm Economists See Bright Outlook for Coming Year

Every farmer likes to get the opinion of others when he's planning his next year's farm program. Michigan State college farm economists this week presented a brief outline of the prospects for 1949. First, they say, strong demand for most farm products is expected in 1949. Farm product prices and cash receipts from farm marketings in 1949 may average about as high as in 1948. High farm production costs, however, are likely to cause a lower net income to farmers in 1949.

A number of favorable factors are at work, say the farm economists. Consumer incomes will continue high in 1949 which means they will continue to be able to buy the farmers' products. Private spending for construction of homes, factories, stores, and public utilities will continue high and help maintain full employment.

Lower grain prices will mean more profitable livestock production for Michigan farmers. Farm price supports, too, will cushion most price declines with a 90 per cent of parity floor.

Of course there are a few things which tend to make the picture less bright. Marketing costs will be high. Transportation and wage costs are still going up. The farmer will get a smaller share of the consumer's dollar. But, barring a radical change in our economy, the economists say Michigan farmers can expect a good year in 1949.

Kiwanis Club Picks Officers for New Year

H. T. Moore gave his reports on the Amateur Show and the Hal-loween party, at the Kiwanis meeting held Monday evening in the Municipal building, at which time also, the winning team in the ticket sale contest, captained by G. L. Staffan, were dinner guests of the losing teams.

Miss Mabel Fox was the evening's speaker and gave a thought-provoking talk on educational policies of the day. She pointed out that the scarcity of teachers will become more marked unless the teaching profession is made more attractive to young people choosing their careers. She mentioned specifically the comparatively low salaries paid to teachers who spend years in acquiring their training when many untrained workers receive the wages they now do.

The new officers of the Kiwanis club here planned to attend the divisional training conference which was to be held yesterday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 in Ypsilanti. In charge of the sessions were to be Mike Losetti, Kiwanis governor of the Michigan district, Secretary Frank O. Staiger, of Port Huron, and the lieutenant-governor of Division 6, Ralph C. Keyes, of Ann Arbor.

Chester officers who were to attend were John Keusch, newly-elected president; H. T. Moore, vice-president; El. F. Niehaus, secretary; Robert Foster, treasurer; Guy Hopper, Rev. O. W. Morrow and Lawrence Riemen-schneider, newly-elected directors for two years, and James Daniels, Wally Grossman, H. D. Lange, and Kenneth C. Runciman, directors who remain in office another year.

It was announced that the Chelsea school football squad will be guests of the Kiwanis club at the Dec. 13 meeting.

Junior Livestock Show To Open Next Week at Detroit Stockyards

The annual Detroit Junior Livestock show is taking the attention of Michigan's 4-H club livestock feeders in 25 counties as they prepare their entries for the three-day event beginning Dec. 7.

Sponsoring the event will be the commission companies at the Detroit stockyards, the Michigan Department of Agriculture, and the Michigan State college 4-H club department.

Steer entries are expected to number 220, according to a report by A. Freeman, assistant 4-H club leader at MSC who is acting as superintendent of the fat cattle department. Harold Foster, district supervisor for the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, is superintendent of the fat lamb department where 180 entries are anticipated.

The steer feeding class is lead by Tuscola county with the largest number of entries. Calhoun and Lapeer lead in the lamb competition.

Schedule for the show includes bringing the animals in on Dec. 7, judging and the award banquet on Dec. 8, and the auction of the animals at the stockyards on Dec. 9.

Early Response Is Urged To Avoid Disappointments

During the past week, Mrs. Leigh Palmer, chairman of the Chelsea Red Cross unit, received a letter from Mrs. G. H. England, vice-chairman of supply, of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross, in which she states that it is again time for the annual ingathering of Christmas gifts for veterans at Percy Jones hospital, some of whom have been patients there for as long as four and five years. The letter mentions the fine response to this annual project that has always been experienced in Chelsea in the past, and expresses the hope that this year will be no exception.

Those who plan to give gifts for these veterans are requested to turn them in to Mrs. Palmer as soon as possible so that those who plan the Christmas celebration at the hospital can make their plans for distribution before the last-minute rush of Christmas.

The following are some suggestions as to what the veteran patients would like: toilet articles and cases, tobacco pouches, poker chips, cameras, shaving mirrors, pen and pencil sets, cigarette lighters, pen knives, bed lamps, key cases, picture frames, brush sets, clothing brushes, handkerchiefs, T-shirts, olive drab socks, scarfs, gloves, ties, shoe shining kits.

All gifts should be wrapped in Christmas wrappings and labeled as to what they contain with a removable label on the outside. The donors' name may be included in the package, if desired.

Fruits, nuts (both shelled and salted), candy, fruit cakes and Christmas cookies are also very acceptable, but should not be included in the Christmas gifts since they are perishable. Boxes containing food should be labeled as to what type of food.

There is no limit to the items in the gift packages—even gifts of a single item will be acceptable. Taking into consideration the fact that between two and three thousand veterans of World War I and II are hospitalized at Percy Jones, it can readily be seen that many gifts are needed if none is to be forgotten on Christmas Day. Providing one or as many more gifts as possible for these veterans is a most worthwhile Christmas project, not only for clubs, factories and organizations of all kinds in Chelsea, but for each individual as well. It has been said that if each donor of a gift could see for himself the pleasure and cheer his gift provides he would be amply repaid for any effort or expenditure of time and money he may have made.

Draft Deferment Due Enlistees in National Guard

Selective Service deferment for men 17 to 18½ years of age who enlist in the Michigan National Guard was authorized today in a proclamation issued by Governor Kim Sigler in order that the Michigan National Guard may discharge its responsibility to the security of the nation.

The proclamation was issued in accordance with the provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1948 upon the request of Brigadier General George C. Moran, the Adjutant General, and with the concurrence of Colonel Glenn B. Arnold, State Director of Selective Service.

The lifting of all recruiting ceilings on army and air units of the National Guard last week by the National Guard Bureau in Washington prompted issuance of the proclamation to insure adequate strength for Michigan units.

Recruiting will be continued by National Guard units until they reach authorized strength or until new ceilings are imposed by the National Guard Bureau. The national ceilings will be reestablished when total strength of the Guard reaches 341,000 authorized for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949.

Expansion of the Michigan National Guard has been at a virtual standstill since passage of the Selective Service Act June 24. Under the provisions of that act only certain veterans and men outside the draft age were available as potential Guard recruits.

Currently the Michigan National Guard has a strength of 8,365 officers and men. More than 7,000 additional recruits will be required to bring units now organized up to authorized strength.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leggett, of Traverse City, are spending this week at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leggett, of Cavanaugh Lake, who plan to accompany them home and spend the week-end in Traverse City.

John F. Schlee Dies in Ann Arbor at Age of 81 Years

The body of John F. Schlee, of Ann Arbor, was brought to Chelsea for burial in Oak Grove cemetery Tuesday afternoon, following funeral services at the Muehling chapel in Ann Arbor at the late afternoon hour.

He died early Sunday at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Schlee, who was 81 years old, had been manager of Wahr's campus bookstore in Ann Arbor for 50 years at the time of his retirement in 1938.

His wife, who died in 1944, was the former Gertrude May Judson, a relative of the Dr. H. W. Hurler. She resided in Chelsea as a young girl, and was a graduate of Chelsea High school.

Mr. Schlee is survived by a son, Herbert, of Chevy Chase, Md., a grandson, John S. Schlee, a student at the U. of M., a granddaughter, Jean Schlee, of Ontario, Calif., and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Howard of Jackson, and Mrs. Julia Cook and Mrs. William Weed, of Ann Arbor.

Howard and Donald Wals, Francis Trunzer and Mrs. Susie Hulce spent the week-end at the home of the latter's son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Hulce, of Austin. The men in the party enjoyed some hunting but had no luck. Enroute home they sighted seven deer huddled in a group right out in the open but dared not shoot because they could not get close enough to distinguish whether there was a buck among them.

CORRECTION

Because of an incorrect report to The Standard the name of Mrs. Emerson Lessor was given as being the person in charge of a quiz program at the meeting of the Western Washtenaw Farmers' club at the home of Mrs. Charles Clayton, Nov. 19. It was Mrs. Herbert Rank, who was the chairman in charge of the quiz contest.

HOW MUCH WOULD IT COST TO REBUILD YOUR HOUSE?

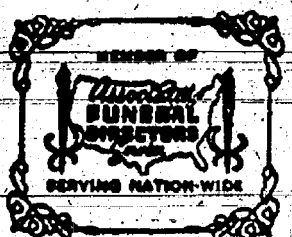

HOW MUCH FIRE INSURANCE DO YOU CARRY?

The average home is only 40% insured against fire nowadays. Many folks have forgotten that their homes have increased greatly in value; and they have not increased their insurance accordingly.

MR. and MRS. DONALD PASSOW

Hopper-Passow Vows Spoken at St. Paul's Church Last Wed.

Miss Phyllis Hopper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gurney Hopper, chose the twenty-third wedding anniversary of her parents as the date of her marriage to Donald Passow, of Ann Arbor. The candle-light service took place in St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church at nine o'clock Thanksgiving Eve, with Rev. P. H. Grabowski officiating in the presence of the immediate families of the couple. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and pom-pom mums. Her veil of silk illusion, was finger-tip length and was held in place with a tiara trimmed with clusters of orange blossoms. A double strand necklace of pearls completed her costume.

Miss Patricia Hopper was her sister's only attendant, wearing for the occasion, a pale gold floor length gown. Her corsage was of Amazon lilies.

Jack Cole, of Ann Arbor, assisted the bridegroom as best man.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents at Cavanaugh Lake. Bouquets of yellow and white mums and lighted candles decorated the living room and the library, while yellow candles and low bowls of bebe mums flanked the bride's cake on the table from which the refreshments were served.

The young couple joined the bride's parents and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gribben, of Chelsea, and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Hopper, of Vanowen, B. C., for Thanksgiving dinner at the Hopper home before leaving for a trip to Washington, D. C.

SHORT STORY

Interview

By W. JOHN STEVENS

MISS ALICE DAVIDS sat in her office marking the exercises of her high-school English classes. There was a timid tap on her door. The knob was turned gently and a face peeped in.

"Yes, Miss Hanson?"

Ruthmary Hanson's pretty little girl's face peeped. "Miss Davids," she paused, unhappily. Then, as if her courage had been gathered up, "May I ask you a personal question?"

Alice Davids smiled. "Why yes, Ruthmary, but I can't promise to answer."

The words began bubbling out. "Miss Davids, I know you'll think I'm awfully fresh, honestly I'm not—I just have to know. Why didn't you get married instead of being a teacher?"

Alice Davids had had many experiences with students' questions. Now she felt she had underestimated Ruthmary. Her cheeks colored. She looked at the girl, who stared back miserably, looking like a goldfish as she opened and closed her mouth, trying to say something that wouldn't come.

Quickly her mind ran over what she knew about Ruthmary. Not too bright, just a good passing student. Ruthmary and she were friendly, but then she honestly liked all her students, and they liked her. Boy friends? Yes, there was Jim Townley, nice boy, good brains, son of Ruthmary, and she seemed to like him. Ambitions? Yes, that was it! Boy friend ambitions; that motion-picture magazine that Ruthmary tried, unsuccessfully, to read one day in class. She smiled at Ruthmary, suddenly remembering that this child was just graduating and was eighteen.

Ruthmary, on the verge of tears, smiled back. "I'm sorry, Miss Davids, I guess I shouldn't have."

"Ruthmary," Miss Davids interrupted, "you and I have always been pretty good friends, haven't we?"

"Yes'm," she gulped.

"If I tell you, will you promise to keep it a secret?"

"Oh, yes, Miss Davids, I won't tell a soul, honest I won't. I just had to know for . . ."

"I don't have to be told, Ruthmary. You must have a good reason. It's a rather odd question but I don't mind answering at all. Not to a nice understanding girl like you. I like teaching very much."

Miss Davids went on. "Yet, I know that if I had my choice, I wouldn't be here. My John and I had such plans together, such exciting plans." Miss Davids sighed. Ruthmary was now on the edge of her seat.

"We were brought up together. Went to the same schools, had the same ideas about life. We both liked people, and we wanted our home and—but all that is over now, has been over for many years. Yes, dear, I like teaching, but most . . ."

"Why didn't you get married instead of being a teacher?"

people aren't made to live alone, and that is especially true of women. No matter how much you like your work, no matter how successful you still feel the emptiness of knowing that you have no one really close to you."

Miss Davids smiled sadly. "Here's a picture of us just a few months before he left me for her."

Ruthmary looked, through tears, at the handsome man who stood grinning at a much prettier Miss Davids, and then carefully put it down. She left the office without a word.

Alice Davids went back to her desk, and picked up the picture. "You know," she mused, "you're rather a good-looking fellow at that. Wait till you hear how you broke my heart."

Still grinning she put the picture down. She was about to start looking for stationery. Then she thought—the themes.

"I've got to grade them first, dear brother, the letter from your broken-hearted sister can wait." Still grinning at her lawyer-brother she resumed grading papers.

Report cards were handed out yesterday. Chelsea plays its first home game of the season with Manchester, Dec. 8. The annual Football Banquet of the season will be given by the Kiwanis club on the evening of Dec. 13. The guest speaker will be George Cicham, backfield coach of the U. of M. Pictures of the Michigan vs. Minnesota football game will be shown. The Senior play, "Strictly Formal," will be presented Dec. 10. Basketball team plays Dexter, Dec. 14.

DO YOU CHEW GUM?

The gum-chewing girl. And the cud-chewing cow. Are somewhat alike. Yet different somehow. What is the difference? Oh, I see it now. It's the thoughtful look. On the face of the cow.

—Anonymous.

Gum-chewing, even though it is against school rules, is becoming quite the thing, especially with cherry bubble gum. It is now coming to the point where it isn't even safe to walk down the halls without the fear of someone's bubble gum catching in your hair.

Perhaps you may think that this is only a child's pastime, but some of the most profound users are juniors and seniors who walk down the halls, very distinguished looking, indeed, with one side of their mouth puffed up to the size of an apple because of a wad of gum. Maybe it tastes good, but it doesn't look good.

Another of the gum-chewers' unpleasant habits is the depositing of their gum in the waste baskets where it belongs. This is one of the worst habits, but it can also be found in other places, such as desks.

Let's try to make our school a better-looking place and try to stop chewing gum, at least until after school hours. And above all, let's try to obey all school rules.

FEATURE

The scene is in study hall, where we find all the studious people, dreaming! We can't interview all the dreamy-eyed girls so we pick out one of them. There's Virginia Quiatt. She looks so peaceful it's a shame to disturb her. I know, let's quietly steal into her dreams. Now everyone sharpen up your imagination, for here we go.

Princess Virginia, lovely daughter of King Quiatt, is standing on a balcony viewing the lovely autumn day. There is a sound on the stairs. Turning around, the princess screams, for standing in front of her is the ugly old witch. "I have come for you, fair princess, for you are going to marry my son." "No! No!" cries Princess Virginia.

Oh, the distance is the sound of horses hoofs. Lo, into eight comes a gallant knight mounted on a lovely white horse. "Curse to all. My plan has failed." As she turns to flee, the knight rides up and with drawn sword kills the wicked witch.

"Oh, gallant knight, to show my gratitude, I will bestow upon you a kiss." The knight takes off his helmet and whom do we see? Of course! It's Corky Dreyer. Corky like any gallant prince, gets off his gallant steed to help his fair lady to mount.

GAA

The girls have scheduled their first basketball game with Manchester tomorrow after school at 4:00 p.m. They have been practicing their full forty-five minutes on Tuesdays and Thursdays, which the boys have so graciously granted them!

The girls out for basketball this year are: Seniors—M. Heydlauff, J. Hughes, M. Palmer, and M. Slane; Juniors—W. Franklin, S. Geer, B. Hollifield, D. Howard, J. McClure, E. Pickett, V. Quiatt, P. Schaible, M. Schrader, P. Scott, and G. Widmayer; Sophomores—L. Eisele, R. Louie, T. Simon, and P. Kelly; Freshmen—J. Hughes, J. Murphy, S. Pierce, B. Speer, M. Tobin, J.

Weinberg, and J. O'Dell. Here's hoping they have a successful season!

THE VACUUM CLEANER

WE PICK UP ALL THE DIRT!

Why don't the Freshmen get initiated like they used to? All the old timers (Seniors through Sophomores) feel that it just isn't fair. Besides, you miss a lot of fun this way.

Why was Ted McClear a bit ill last week? Was it something he ate?

Why do the basketball boys try to hog the gym so? The girls usually end up with a pretty good record in spite of all the pushing around they get!

Just what is this game of "Consider Dan"? Ask some of the students in the Senior play; they seem to know.

Why do the art students always feel like ringing Cannonball Joseph's and Dick Seely's necks? Couldn't be that they talk a lot, could it?

Miss DeRose, why are you so hard on the typing students. It's expensive, all that paper they have to throw away because of one little mistake.

STUDENT COUNCIL CONFERENCES

Nov. 12, 1948, was the day of meeting in Ann Arbor for several hundred student council members from high schools throughout the state of Michigan.

Previously this meeting had been for "A" and "B" class schools only, but this year all high schools were invited. Also in years before, accommodations had to be made for all these students for the meeting had been for a day and a half.

Problems that were discussed followed these lines:

1) New ideas for pep meetings.
2) How do other schools choose orchestras for dances, and do they have to raise money by charging higher admission price?
3) How do other schools handle the coke machine?

A few of these do not touch problems in our school, but at least the Student Council would have some idea of how to cope with a new situation if one did occur.

A TELEPHONE COMPANY INVESTOR

You may not own a share of American Telephone and Telegraph Company stock or a telephone company bond, and yet you may be an investor in the Bell System and Michigan Bell.

Many banks and insurance companies are holders of Bell System securities. So, if you have a savings account or an insurance policy, indirectly some of your money may be invested in the telephone business.

But who are the other investors in the Bell System? Altogether there are more than 700,000 of them in addition to insurance companies and other financial institutions. They are school teachers, widows, housewives, farmers, mechanics, business men, telephone workers—people in all walks of life who have put their savings directly into Bell securities.

Few businesses in America are so widely owned by the people they serve. No one person or institution owns as much as one third of one per cent of A. T. & T. stock. There are about 75,000 more owners of the business than there are employees of the business.

These dollars from investors are important to good service. They are used to build and expand the telephone system. As a customer, you expect good telephone service. As an investor, you expect security and a fair return on your investment.

The Past Chiefs of the Pythian

December 7, 1941
Everything Was Normal Until...

Sunday, December 7, 1941, had its peaceful morning too. Up until 2:20 p.m. EST, the day was restful, somnolent, completely uneventful.

It was strictly peaceful. On the West coast Americans were getting ready for Sunday dinner. On the East coast they were getting over it. In Chicago the Bears took the field against the Cardinals in a pro football game. Flowers bloomed in New York after some unseasonably warm weather.

Eggs were selling at 30 cents a dozen and pork chops at 34 cents a pound.

From coast to coast people were talking about when we would get into the war, and everybody had an opinion but nobody knew for sure.

At the same time, in mushrooming army camps across the nation, the boys who had been caught in the draft were speculating on the possibility of Christmas furloughs.

Washington was full of servicemen on leave. Franklin Roosevelt was relaxing momentarily in the White House. On Broadway, "Life With Father" was only 13 months old.

Those who settled down to while away that winter Sunday afternoon reading the newspaper saw that President Roosevelt had made a personal peace appeal to Emperor Hirohito in the face of new reports of Jap troop movements in Indo-China. . . . The Russians were chasing routed German forces west of Rostov and taking the initiative before Moscow.

Sen. Harry S. Truman, chairman of the defense investigating committee, urged the President to appoint a "defense works czar" to eliminate waste.

Russian Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff had arrived in the U. S. and thanked Americans for helping the Soviets in their great trial.

Tucked away obscurely inside many newspapers was a brief news story beginning, "The University of California's 4,500-ton cyclotron, or atom-smasher, is gradually taking shape and will be complete by the autumn of 1943."

In the Pacific an admiral named William F. Halsey was returning with a small task force to Hawaii when his ship's radio began crackling with swift, excited messages.

And 6,000 miles away, in Washington, telephones began to ring in the offices of the press services. The White House switchboard operator was on the line. Press Secretary Stephen Early had an "important" statement. Then Early began to speak:

"I have a statement from the President. The Japanese . . . It was then exactly 8:25 p.m. EST, December 7, 1941.

Sealed proposals for carrying the United States Mail (including parcel post mails) on Messenger Route No. 237480 between the Post Office at Chelsea, Michigan and Michigan Central Railroad (The N.Y.C.R.R. Co. Lessee), Route 109719 each way as often as required will be received by the Postmaster until Dec. 8, 1948.

Proposals must be made at a yearly rate for all service required. Blanks may be procured at the Chelsea Post Office.

P. F. Niehaus, Acting Postmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. George Winans of Peoria, Ill., spent from Wednesday until Sunday at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. May.
