

Michigan has a grand jury law in name only. All its teeth are gone, according to Attorney General Frank G. Millard.

Lacking today are the right of granting immunity to key witnesses—or even the power of subpoena to require their appearance. These handicaps apply to both the 28-man grand jury and to the three-man grand jury which replaced the old one-man grand jury plan.

Millard does not favor restoration of the one-man grand jury system unless new safeguards are set up. The State Bar of Michigan has recommended several important changes.

It will be disturbing to many citizens to learn from Michigan's chief law enforcement officer that Michigan's grand jury law is weak and ineffective—and hence a wide open invitation for graft and corruption.

● The tang of spring has set legislative noses sniffing. Eyes are beginning to turn toward home and the spring plowing. The house ways and means committee and the senate finance committee are beginning to burn a little late oil to whip appropriation bills into shape.

● Most legislators are resigned to a mid-June adjournment—the usual time for the session's end. The shortage of tax bills yet passed heightens this expectancy.

● Gov. Williams has jugged the civilian defense effort, nudging both Detroit and federal officials. He told reporters the Detroit air raid exercise appeared to be lagging—and slowing up the entire program. He added that federal authorities "must awake to the necessity of establishing priorities for materials and manufacture of items needed for civil defense."

● Menzies, Brig. Gen. Lester J. Matland, State Civil Defense director, recommends consignment of 10-state-owned civil defense fire trucks to Sault Ste. Marie, one of Michigan's most vital bomb targets.

● Michigan's draft quota under the reduced April induction call is 2,124. The call originally was 4,228. Things in Korea are looking up—again.

● Peak defense production in Michigan isn't expected to be reached until next year. Aside from a relatively small volume of passenger cars, trucks, and transport vehicles and other items requiring no re-tooling, the armament orders still are largely in the paper stage. From 1941 through 1945 the automobile industry built 125,000,000 worth of arms.

● Michigan's surplus apple problem may be solved in the near future. The U. S. department of agriculture finds that Michigan apple juice ticks the consumer palate. Like orange juice now on the market, the produce will be concentrated. USDA survey results indicate the most successful concentrate to be 50 per cent. Delicious apple; 20 per cent. Winesap; 20 per cent. Jonathan and 10 per cent. Rome Beauty with 4 per cent acidity.

● State TB hospital situation looks better. When the new Flint hospital transfers Genesee county patients from the Howell sanitarium, 100 beds will be open for Wayne county cases. Wayne has 400 patients in private hospitals and 200 on waiting lists. One hundred beds is but a drop in the bucket for the overall state picture—but it helps.

● State Democrats have been accused of "a disregard of decency" by Cong. George Meader (R-Ann Arbor) following the revelation that a questionnaire was sent out by the state Democratic chairman asking county leaders who they would prefer appointed in case Gov. Williams should have to name a replacement for the ailing Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg.

● Michigan again led the nation in number of licensed fishermen last year, but dropped from second third place in license revenue. The state sold 1,050,766 licenses, taking in $2,008,307. California distributed 1,005,836 permits with a total revenue of $3,093,755.

● With the dry season still in the offing, 21 fires already have burned over 315 acres in Michigan this year. (Continued on page three)

Cancer Detection Film To Be Shown Women's Groups

A new approach to public health is being undertaken by the American Cancer Society as they seek to save lives by education with the showing of a cancer detection film Tuesday, April 3 to the girls of the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades of Chelsea High school.

Preceding the film Mrs. Ren Hutzler, Chelsea chairman of the Washtenaw County Unit of the American Cancer Society, introduced George L. Ennen, president of the Washtenaw County Unit, who told the students that there is no need to develop cancerophobia but that it is important to be aware of the fact that cancer can strike any age and that they should know the technique of finding cancer in its early stage.

He asked the students to discuss the film with their mothers and older sisters and to urge them to attend the general meeting for women's groups in Chelsea on April 18 at Chelsea High school in the study hall at 8 p.m.

JOAN ELLEN SCHNEIDER

Gerald has attended Chelsea Public school all his life. In high school he has participated in many extra-curricular activities, including football, baseball, basketball, Latin club, journalism, Hi-Y, Junior play, and Chorus. While taking part in these activities, he attained a 3.705 scholastic average. He received the American Legion Good Citizenship Award in 1950.

Joan Ellen Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armin D. Schneider and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Schneider is to be salutatorian of the class of 1951 at Chelsea High school.

She was born in Madison, Wis., Jan. 25, 1934, and attended St. Bernard's school there, and later, St. Mary's school in Chelsea. Board Hears Objections to Building Plan

A representative from the Riemenschneider school and a delegation of approximately 25 people from the community attended the regular school board meeting held in the High school Monday evening. The Riemenschneider school representatives made a request that transportation be provided for early elementary pupils at the school who are dismissed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The board agreed to make a more complete study of the situation.

Spokesmen for the delegation from the community stated that the group believes an all-purpose room should be included in the new school building. The group was assured that every effort is being made to include such a room if the money provided proves sufficient for it. Members of the board said they were heartily in favor of including such a room if it is possible to do so.

The new school is now working on the new school plans in an effort to provide the most space possible for the amount of money available. A representative of Lewis C. Kingscott and Associates, of Kalamazoo, who are drawing up the plans, was here Tuesday conferring with school officials on the possibility of including an all-purpose room in the new school plans.

Plans for the school are expected to be completed by the end of the month.

The office proposed for the new school will be provided with a waiting room similar to the one in the present high school building, according to present plans.

An alternative to a special all-purpose room was discussed in connection with plans for the school several weeks ago. At that time it was thought a double classroom adjacent to the kitchen might be furnished with chairs and tables instead of fixed desks. On special occasions the two rooms could then be quickly converted into one large room by means of a movable partition.

At the meeting Monday night, there was some discussion of school plans for next year, particularly in regard to the greatly overcrowded third grade. The discussion is to be taken up again at a continuance of Monday's meeting to be held next Tuesday, April 10.

Bids were opened Monday for 13 tires and tubes for school buses and the bid was awarded to Hankard's service station.

Community Fair Dates Set for 1951

Dates for the 1951 Chelsea Community Fair were officially set for Wednesday through Saturday, Oct. 3, 4, 5 and 6. The action was taken at a meeting of the Fair board held Tuesday evening.

A representative of the Wado carnival company was present at the meeting and a contract was signed for the firm's carnival to appear here during the fair. The company's equipment is described as new and in excellent condition. Fair officials believe the carnival will be well received by the people of the community.

Miss Minnie Allyn has returned to her home here after spending the winter months with Miss Eva J. Kelley in Brighton.

Zion Shuffleboard Teams Enjoy Smorgasbord

Forty-four regular players of the Zion Lutheran church ladies' shuffleboard teams and eight guests enjoyed a smorgasbord provided Wednesday, March 28, by the losing team in the winter's contest. Mrs. May Grossman, captain of the losing Red team, was chairman of the affair held in the church hall at Rogers Corners.

Winners of the contest were members of the Black team. The women have played shuffleboard at the church hall every two weeks during the winter. Mrs. Ed Schmidt is captain of the winning team. Both captains were presented with corsages of red roses.

A surprise feature of the entertainment following the meal was the showing of pictures of all members of the Black team flashed on a special screen belonging to Mrs. Alton Horning. The pictures had all been obtained without the team members' knowledge.

Other entertainment included a story on the two teams written and read by Mrs. Grossman, a reading by Mrs. Norman Wenke, and "lections" by a 22-piece "kitchen band" conducted by Mrs. Harold Elsemann. Members of the band were the Red team.

Remarks by the winning side's captain and by Rev. M. W. Brueckner concluded the program.

The remainder of the evening was given over to playing shuffleboard.

Mrs. Walter Oesterle Struck by Automobile in Saturday Accident

Mrs. Irene Oesterle, wife of Walter Oesterle, suffered serious injuries about 11:30 p.m. Saturday when she was struck in a hit-and-run accident as she walked along the highway on South Main street just outside the village limits.

The young woman was walking with her husband and his mother, Mrs. Theresa Oesterle. She was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, suffering from cuts on the head and legs and has since been reported that she also sustained a fractured pelvis. Descriptions of the car were obtained and police officials began an investigation immediately.

Cancer Fund Drive Now Underway

With $7,000 as the quota of the Washtenaw county unit, an army of volunteers will be calling on the public of Chelsea and Washtenaw county during April, seeking financial backing in the 1951 campaign against what has frequently been called man's worst enemy—cancer.

These volunteers will be participating in the nation-wide drive sponsored by the American Cancer Society and warmly endorsed by President Harry S. Truman, Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Village President Anton Nielsen, and many high officials, both civilian and military.

County Crusade Chairman James L'Angelle of Ypsilanti, in making this announcement, explained that the entire month of April has been designated Cancer Control Month by President Truman and during this month a total of $14,665,000 will be sought nationally to finance the society's campaign of research and education. This effort seeks to discover the cause of cancer, perfect its treatment and provide (Continued on page ten)

Red Cross Tops Quota

Chelsea's Red Cross contributions to date in the 1951 drive for funds have passed the $1,600 mark. Mrs. John Fischer, Chelsea chairman of the drive, said yesterday.

Promised contributions still to come in, Mrs. Fischer said, should boost this amount to approximately $1,700, committee believe. This year's quota was $1,350.

Last year's quota was $1,250 and Chelsea's amount raised was more than $1,600.

Joseph C. Hooper, chairman of the Washtenaw county drive, expressed optimism that the county would go "over the top" and exceed the 1951 quota of $59,380. At the present time $52,617.28 has been raised.

Chelsea's neighbors show the following results: Dexter raised $1,015.15; quota $900; Ann Arbor raised $39,512.10, with a quota of $36,650 (91 per cent); Ypsilanti raised $9,308.57 with a quota of $11,850 (82 per cent); Manchester raised $1,087.20 with a quota of $950; Saline raised $799.91 with a quota of $950 (84 per cent); Milan raised $1,000 with a quota of $1,950 (74 per cent).

VEHEMENT PROTEST

New Ceiling in Municipal Banquet Hall

A new acoustical ceiling, designed to absorb noise, has been installed on the third floor of the Municipal building during the past week. Other remodeling on the third floor to make it comply with state fire marshal standards, include closing in and flooring the first, second and third floor elevator shaft space. This elevator shaft was considered a fire hazard by inspection officials from the fire marshal's office.

The stairway from the second to the third floor has been relocated also to comply with fire officials' recommendations. The "U" turn has been eliminated and the door to the upstairs auditorium has been put in nearer the front of the building. This arrangement prevents the fire marshal's approval.

Upon completion of the work the third floor will be opened again for use by the public. The floor has been condemned for use for the past year since village officials were unable to make the recommended improvements because of a lack of funds.

Impractical Jokers

Residents living near the Chrysler proving ground have been bothered by persons seeking work on the project. Signs have reportedly been erected near the project stating that workers were needed. If such signs do exist they were not posted by authorities as there is no hiring nor employment gate on or near the area.

Plans Complete for Basketball Honor Banquet

Plans for the basketball banquet to be held here April 19 in honor of the Chelsea High school team, are now almost completed, according to Donald Alber, chairman of the event.

The banquet is being sponsored as a non-profit project by the Kiwanis club and the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce.

Mothers of the seniors at Chelsea High school will prepare the meal which will be served in the High school gymnasium, next Thursday beginning at 6:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained at Kuss, Chelsea Cleaners, Gieske's and Alper Motor Sales, committee spokesmen announced yesterday.

Civil Defense Group Will Meet Monday

Donald Alber, Chelsea's civil defense director, has announced that an organization meeting is to be held in the council room in the Municipal building Monday evening, April 9. He urges all civil defense groups and other interested persons in the community to be present. He hopes to lay plans Monday for a good start for the civil defense program here.

TANK TRUCK MAKES INITIAL RUN—The new tank truck purchased jointly by Sylvan and Lima townships and manned by Chelsea Fire department personnel, made its maiden run at 5:20 p.m., March 26, to a Cavanaugh Lake grass fire which threatened the Robert Rudd property and other cottages on the northwest side of the lake. Firemen believed the blaze, which burned over two acres of land, was caused by a lighted cigarette carelessly discarded by some passing motorist. The tanker was not used at the fire but stood by in case it was needed. Fire Chief Ted Balmer (left) and Assistant Chief Kenneth Schanz are shown above, beside the newly-completed and freshly-painted tanker truck which was delivered Thursday, March 22. Balmer said the tanker will follow the regular truck on all runs. Three men will man the tanker and four men will be on the fire truck, he said. Townships other than Lima and Sylvan, who request use of the tanker, will be required to pay for any runs made. Under the agreement between Sylvan and Lima townships and the village of Chelsea, the village will house and man the tanker.

Chief Balmer and Assistant Chief Schanz are shown at the right inspecting the suction pump which fills the tank and is mounted on the front end of the truck. The entire pump is surrounded by a water jacket through which the water from the truck radiator circulates, much the same as in an car heater, to prevent the pump from freezing on a run in cold weather. Completely equipped and with a full 1,000-gallon tank load of water, the outfit weighs 18,240 pounds. Six minutes are required to fill the tank from a water source and about eight minutes to unload the water into the regular pumper trucks.

Cub Scouts Receive Achievement Awards at Pack Meeting

A Cub Scout Pack meeting was held at the high school Thursday evening, March 29.

Following the opening flag ceremony, each den presented a skit representing some foreign country as follows: Mrs. Hugh Sorensen's den, Canada; Mrs. William Geary's, Norway; and Mrs. Lloyd Keen's, India.

Charles Cameron, assistant Cubmaster, gave an interesting talk and appealed for more help from parents of Cub Scouts and other adults in the community who might have time to give to the work.

Cubmaster Donald Fogg presented achievement awards as follows: Douglas Collyer and Bill Sorensen, gold arrows.

A former Cubmaster—Willard Pearson, on behalf of the Pack, presented Mrs. Clinton Collyer with a gift in appreciation for her work with the Cub Scouts.

The meeting closed with an amusing pantomime in which "Dr. Tinker" portrayed by Charles Cameron, deftly bisected a "patient" (Donald Fogg) with the able assistance of two "nurses," Mrs. Collyer and Mrs. Hugh Sorensen.

Fire Department Commended on Job

The following self-explanatory letter was received this week by Fire Chief T. D. Halmer from Henry C. Dykema, director, Mill Lake camp.

"Sometime ago your department responded to our call for assistance in putting out a fire at Mill Lake Camp. Although I was not present, the staff members who were here informed me that it was only through the promptness and efficiency of your department that the fire was checked and the building saved. The Conservation officials upon inspecting the damage the following day, marveled that the damage was not greater.

"I wish to commend you upon the excellence of the Chelsea Fire Department and to express my personal appreciation to you for the services rendered."

Mighty Osage River

Roughly, two-thirds of the Osage basin lies in Missouri, and the river winds along for 515 miles from its rise in east-central Kansas to its mouth on the "Big Muddy." About 305 miles of this twisting course is through Missouri. In size alone, the Osage basin ranks as one of Missouri's most important, for the entire watershed has an area of 15,300 square miles.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

LIKE SPRING, the probe of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was bursting out all over, and in the meantime, the administration bill to reorganize the big lending agency—was a determined Republican—southern Democratic coalition attack and survived in the house by a bare 18 votes.

In another move, the same coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans defeated an administration measure to give the President power to reshuffle government agencies.

The vote was 227 to 187. It was the President's first major defeat in this congress. The house later voted down an administration housing program which would have provided $3,000,000 to ease the housing strain and congestion in overcrowded defense areas. However, the senate is at work on a similar bill, and there is a chance the legislation might be salvaged.

Objections of southerners was voiced on the theory the President might use the reorganization bill for authority to create another fair employment practices commission similar to that set up by President Roosevelt under similar circumstances during World War II. Despite the fact that the legislation plainly set out that the President could not "create new functions," 46 southern Democrats joined with 181 Republicans to kill the bill.

Another probe is about to get under way. The house ways and means subcommittee is about to undertake an investigation on government tax collecting policies of the internal revenue bureau. Chairman Cecil R. King, Democrat, California, said attention would be paid to tax frauds by gamblers and racketeers. The house has voted $30,000 to finance the inquiry.

Both house and senate voted quickly during the week to pass the first money bill of this congress, the first deficiency appropriation bill providing for $331,155 in funds for cash-short operations of congress itself. The fund included $12,500 each to the widows of the late Senator Virgil Chapman of Kentucky and Congressman John B.

Sullivan of Missouri; $16,500 for salaries of the senate sergeant at arms and doorkeeper; $400,000 for senate probes; $200,000 for senate "housekeeping" and miscellaneous items such as telegrams, telephone calls, local telephone service, news ticker service, janitors etc.; $35,000 for salaries of house appropriations committee members and $150,000 for expenses of house special and select committees. In the meantime, a score or more employees of the rent control agency have gone without salaries from early February until now, because congress failed to replenish their exhausted funds.

The probe into the election of Senator John Marshall Butler of Maryland has brought out information to the senate committee that a Chicago publicity man and a Chicago Negro were imported into Maryland to run the senator's campaign, and that much of the material which flooded the state of Maryland was prepared in the office of Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin in Washington and in the office of the Washington Times-Herald, owned by Colonel Bert McCormick of the Chicago Tribune.

In the meantime, one of the charges made by Senator McCarthy against Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland which played a part in Tydings' defeat has been backfired. McCarthy charged that Senator Tydings "whitewashed" the probe of Communist infiltration in the state department, in part by letting Earl Browder, former No. 1 Communist, get by without answering questions. Browder was cited, however, for contempt of congress for refusal to answer, but Federal Judge F. Dickinson-Letts threw the case out of court, saying he was not concerned with any political implications or who was "whitewashed."

Senator Ernest W. McFarland, Democratic majority leader in the Senate, is "concerned" over the trend this congress is taking, declaring he favors more legislation and less investigating. The Arizona senator wondered whether the members of the senate would be required soon to wear police uniforms.

Modern Apples

People who complain that modern apples don't have the taste of the old varieties are suffering mainly from faulty memories. All the old apples—Bell flowers, Russets and Peralmas—were definitely inferior in taste to present-day improved varieties of McIntosh and other modern apples.

Scout Roundtable Will Be Held in Ypsi, Tuesday

A council-wide Boy Scout roundtable will be held Tuesday, April 10 at 7:30 p.m., in Charles McKenney hall, Ypsilanti, Boy Scout headquarters announced yesterday. Karl Rigor, council commissioner, will be in charge.

The meeting is for all council scouts, including cubmasters, den mothers, scoutmasters, explorer advisors and all committee members. The group will be divided into three sections.

In the Cub section, Herald Hoffman will lead a discussion on programs for April and May Pack activities and a new Cub filmstrip will be shown.

The Scout section, headed by Ralph Van Volkinburg, Ypsilanti district commissioner, will discuss and work out projects for April and May troop meetings, the Council employee and summer camp participation.

Methods of organizing Explorer Scouts within the troop will be explained by Dan S. Ling, Council chairman of leadership training, and plans will be announced for the Philmont Expedition, for scouts 14 years of age and over, to Cimarron, New Mexico. Scout officials said approximately 20 boys have already signed up for the expedition, among them being Alfred Knickerbocker and Richard and Douglas Schneider of Chelsea.

Plans will also be made at the April 10 meeting for Order of the Arrow activities.

 about her baking ...

Who wouldn't boast about her wonderful new CP automatic GAS range, which has low temperature oven controls that reduce meat shrinkage up to 35%—and bakes and browns evenly on all sides without shifting position in the oven!

No wonder 3,000,000 families bought modern gas ranges last year. No wonder twice as many homemakers bought CP automatic gas ranges in 1950 as the year previous. 27,000,000 homes now cook with gas, because GAS is unequalled for cooking speed, flexibility, economy and cleanliness. Today the modern GAS range offers more cooking conveniences at less cost than any other modern type of range.

 The Beginnings of Sin
 Lesson for April 5—Genesis 3: 1-6
 9:15, 24
 Memory Selection: Romans 6:23

ANY MAN with sound mind and common sense must admit that sin is in the world. All the officers of the law, from constable to king or president, the jails and penitentiaries and all the machinery of justice are ever-present reminders of man's disorder.

The Bible teaches that sin came into the world through the transgression of Adam and Eve. The devil, assuming the guise of the serpent, tempted Eve and Adam to disobey God. And we are told that death came because of sin, and that the tendency to sin came upon Adam's descendants.

As a place of absolute beatitude, paradise was lost to Adam and Eve and their posterity. But, though sorrows and miseries followed hard upon Adam and Eve and also fell upon their children and children's children, a great English poet could sing of "Paradise Regained." How can we fail to think of the lost Eden regained when we sing: "No more let sin and sorrow grow no thorns infest the ground? For Christ comes to make his blessings flow: 'far as the curse is found.'"

Outside the gate of the lost Eden, God promised the woman that her posterity would bruise the serpent's head. This promise is identified with the coming of Christ—and every man can find victory over sin through faith in Him who gives Himself that men may live.

THIS PETTY PACE

BY
BROWN LEE YATES

H ECK! There aren't any flying saucers.

Some spool-spent navy scientist explains that the strange craft seen and imagined streaking through the atmosphere aren't space ships from Mars with "little men" at the controls, as everybody with a taste for the bizarre hoped, but just navy plastic balloons, sent up to discover new atomic secrets.

Doesn't he know there's nothing mysterious and eerie about atomic shenanigans any more to American minds, nourished on the fantastic and way ahead of a few backward scientists who haven't graduated to interplanetary commuting? It can blow us to kingdom come tomorrow, but the atom is old stuff now, and disappointing unless the a-bomb is to be dropped by "little men" from outer space.

Why doesn't that navy scientist pick on something his own size and let those "little men" be? Like inflation, for instance. There's a bugaboo for you! Why doesn't he say it doesn't exist? Maybe it's just a balloon sent up by the chamber of commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers to discover how high prices can go. There's one theory. Or maybe it's just a "government" balloon, filled with hot air, a la administration. Maybe it's Senator Taft flying a kite.

Those of you whose fantastic guesses have been wrecked by the navy scientist's calm pronouncement can take heart. A few faithful remain. Some of us will not relegate the "little men" to nothingness until one of them lands his saucer on our lawn, or comes paddling up the creek with a spoon, and tells us himself that he is creature of wild imagination, nonexistent, and an apparition seen only by simpletons who over-indulge on hard cider by the light of a new moon.

We stick pins in that navy scientist's balloons! For several years, we've had something to talk about except the weather, and now... Even if those saucers are balloons, why should the navy get all the credit? With all the poisonous ones hovering around the Pentagon, how can the navy claim all the gas bags?

Japan's Social Order
The social order in Japan hadn't changed for centuries until MacArthur's occupation. The old families with their spacious homes of oriental splendor, their heirlooms passed down from generation to generation, their old schools of thought, made up only a small part of the nation. The shopkeeper eking out a bare living in his two-room abode, the coolie and the serf in his rice paddy, and millions of others on the over-populated islands existed on a dried bowl of rice and a piece of dried fish.

LOBSTER OR CRABMEAT makes a good main dish salad if it's served with a tasty dressing. To salad, soured cream, add chili sauce, chopped green pepper and chopped red pimiento.

Fine dish for a ladies' luncheon, or as a shower refreshment uses a slice of avocado on a piece of thin toast. Over this pour Welsh rarebit. Garnish with ripe olives and watercress.

Tomato soup can look like something out of a picture book if you garnish it with salted whipped cream, and over that sprinkle some crisp, crumbled bacon.

You can be prepared for second and third helpings when you serve these sandwiches to the youngsters:

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Pork Hocks with Sauerkraut
(Serves 4)

4-6 fresh pork hocks
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
2 medium onions, sliced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 cup boiling water
No. 2 1/2 sized can sauerkraut
1/2 teaspoon caraway seed.

Brown pork hocks slowly in lard. Add onion, sliced, salt, pepper and boiling water. Cover closely and cook 1 1/2 hours. Meat is tender. Add sauerkraut, heat through. Sprinkle caraway seed over sauerkraut before serving.

spread white bread with strawberry jam or preserves. Top with another slice of bread and dip in egg-milk mixture, as for French toast. Fry until golden-brown.

Chicken salad stuffed into hollowed out crusty rolls make a perfect salad sandwich. So do chopped egg and shrimp with watercress, and so do sliced cucumber and deviled eggs.

If you don't use all the syrup from tart red cherries in the pies you make, sweeten it and add the same amount of red currant jelly, melt and cool. Use for serving over ice cream.

Small baking powder biscuits are lovely for the spring luncheons, especially when you've dressed them up a bit with crumbled bacon mixed in the dough, and then sprinkle the tops with grated American cheese before baking.

Earthquake Belts

The world's chief earthquake belts stretch around the whole Pacific basin; through the Mediterranean and Black Sea areas; and along the slopes of the Himalaya mountains into China.

Well, the swallows got back to Capistrano, the Easter parade played to an appreciative nation, and we're up to our hubcaps in Spring. This is supposed to be the silly season—even for folks who are usually as reserved as a deacon's Sunday cravat. In Spring a young man's fancy is supposed to take a romantic turn . . . although we never noticed any great lull during the last year. It is a time when the ladies go on bonnet buying sprees, fishermen think harder about fish, and vacation literature appears. It's also the time of Spring cleaning. Oh, well, you can't have everything.

Manchester—One hundred and twenty-seven pints of blood were donated by Manchester area residents to the Red Cross when the mobile blood bank was in town. Stanton Roesch, local chairman of the Legion committee here, working with the Legion Auxiliary, expressed satisfaction at the outcome of the project. Most of the blood will be flown directly to Korea. Because of many cases of flu in this area, it was impossible for many who had pledged blood to contribute it at this time.

Poor driving conditions detained the Red Cross doctor from Detroit from arriving at the appointed time. However, when the mobile unit had been set up here at the Emanuel Church hall, local doctor, A. P. Holstein, came to the rescue and directed the procedure until the arrival of the Detroit doctor.—Manchester Enterprise.

From Christina Witschger, Cincinnati, Ohio: I remember when my mother would send me to a country store with a half-gallon tin bucket to get 10 cents worth of molasses, and it was very good. What has become of the good stuff candy the grocer would give us if we bought a few groceries? Good old days are gone forever.

Manchester—One hundred and twenty-seven pints of blood were donated by Manchester area residents to the Red Cross when the mobile blood bank was in town. Stanton Roesch, local chairman of the Legion committee here, working with the Legion Auxiliary, expressed satisfaction at the outcome of the project. Most of the blood will be flown directly to Korea. Because of many cases of flu in this area, it was impossible for many who had pledged blood to contribute it at this time.

Poor driving conditions detained the Red Cross doctor from Detroit from arriving at the appointed time. However, when the mobile unit had been set up here at the Emanuel Church hall, local doctor, A. P. Holstein, came to the rescue and directed the procedure until the arrival of the Detroit doctor.—Manchester Enterprise.

From Christina Witschger, Cincinnati, Ohio: I remember when my mother would send me to a country store with a half-gallon tin bucket to get 10 cents worth of molasses, and it was very good. Molasses came in barrels in those days. I also remember the days as we bought our flour by the barrel, and the drayman delivered it to us. What has become of the good stuff candy the grocer would give us if we bought a few groceries? Good old days are gone forever.

Ironing Pointers
To prevent ironing from drying out what you complete as much as you have sprinkled. I have several suggestions for you. Purchase a plastic pillow cover that will allow room for a large family's ironing. You will find that you will use less moisture for your clothes if they are wrapped in plastic and that they will not dry out as much while waiting to be ironed. When you have a few pieces left over or pieces that are hard to iron, place them in refrigerator. They will not dry out and due to the coldness they will be much easier to iron.

MATH IN LIFE

The movie, "Your Thrift Habit," tells how to keep a good budget.

The movie began telling about two boys, one a spend-thrift and the other a saver. The spend-thrift wanted to buy a camera but he had spent his two dollars a week allowance for foolishness instead of saving it. The other boy showed him how he saved his money by a budget. The spend-thrift finally worked out a good budget and by doing so he got his camera.

Activities . . .

BIOLOGY TRIP

The Biology class went to the Museum in Ann Arbor. They went on tours through the museum and saw the way cells form and work in the human body. Different species of fish, mammals, reptiles, birds, and man, and how they have adapted themselves to living in the world. The class was brought to the attention of the fact that one of the most interesting things they saw was the right rear leg of a small dinosaur. The museum has a skeleton of the largest dinosaur, too.

Our Neighbors

Standish — Announcement was made Wednesday by officials of the Detroit and Mackinac Island Ferry Co. that passenger service on the line would be discontinued March 31, February 3, 1951, the Michigan Public Service Commission issued an order permitting the company to abandon passenger service.

The company states that services other than passenger, rendered by these trains, will be handled by its subsidiary, The Mackinac Truck Lines, or through other methods arranged by the agencies in question.—Arenac County Independent.

Rochester — The services of a full time fire chief with a chief's car equipped with first aid, two-way radio, a resuscitator and other emergency equipment have been approved for Rochester and for Avon Township, with Fire Chief George Ross, who has been a member of the fire-fighting volunteers for many years, being the new fire chief at $4,200 per year salary.—Rochester Clarion.

Frankfort — The first of what is hoped to be a series of teen-age dances for the youth of Benzie county will be held next Thursday night, March 29 at the Frankfort High School Auditorium.

These dances will be patterned along the same lines as last year's with the difference being that the East End Civic will sponsor all of them, with the financial help of the other organizations of Frankfort.—Benzie County Patriot.

Dexter — Dexter High School will lose its popular principal, Mr. Ray Miller the 1st of April. Mr. Miller is a member of the Air Force Reserve and has been called into active duty. After first reporting to Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Michigan, he will then go to Roswell, New Mexico.

Principal of Dexter High since 1945, Mr. Miller has taught classes in science and mathematics.—Dexter Leader.

Frankfort — Beginning Friday afternoon and continuing until about 5:00 a.m. Saturday morning, March 24, the region endured, what was without doubt, the worst blizzard of the entire winter and the worst in several years. The only thing it lacked was low temperatures.

During the 12 hour period the city snow gauge recorded 12½ inches of snowfall. It is believed that at least five inches more fell but blew out of the gauge or melted. In flat areas out of the wind the snow measured 17 to 18 inches. The storm came without any warning and throughout the worst of it lightning and thunder continued to crash.

Along the highways cars were abandoned in ditches and motorists remained at the nearest farmhouse for the rest of the night. People were stranded everywhere.

A group of local Masons were forced to remain at the Temple on Main street all night because they could not drive home.—Benzie County Patriot.

Fasting is Not New

The custom of fasting prevailed among the Aztecs and Toltecs of Mexico, the Incas of Peru, and other American aborigines. It has been found among the Chinese and Japanese before their contact with Buddhism. Fasting was practiced in Greece in the 7th century, B.C.

Keep It Light

When you're choosing or tinting a color with which to paint your walls, be sure to select a lighter hue than the finished effect you desire. A color that seems exactly right on the color card or on a brushed-out sample will seem much darker when it is used on a large area and when it is reflected by three other wall surfaces.

Report from Washington

By Congressman George Meader

Washington, D. C., April 4—Congressional consideration of the future of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has developed a growing sentiment for abolition of the corporation. I am deeply concerned over this trend, which contains a serious threat to the welfare of American small business.

Putting aside the question of personalities and improper activities or weaknesses of individual Directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and viewing the corporation solely in the light of public policy and structure, the basic consideration becomes: What should be the policy of the United States, under present world conditions, with regard to the future of this corporation?

Before answering that question, we should consider several factors:

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is not—or ought not to be—a matter of political partisanship. It was created by a Republican administration. Its purpose was to meet a severe economic crisis—the depression of the early thirties. It was constituted as a bipartisan law requiring that no more than three of the five directors shall be of the same political party. It was founded on national representation, through the provision that not more than one director should be appointed from any one Federal Reserve District.

Unquestionably, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is socialistic in the sense that it is an agency through which the Government is engaged in the banking business by the lending of public funds to private industry. Also, this government corporation has been a competitor in the banking field. It is not supposed to make loans where private credit is available on reasonable terms, but the use of the word "reasonable" leaves interpretation of this restriction open to a wide field of varied opinions. Large banks, I am reliably informed, always have been unfriendly to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation because they regard it as a competitor.

But even conceding that this corporation is in a sense socialistic and that we in this country, under a free enterprise economy, do not generally favor socialistic activities on the part of our government, there still is another question to be considered.

I am very much concerned about the disadvantage under which small business enterprises find themselves in attempting to grow and expand on the basis of their merit and the capability of their managements.

Securities and Exchange Commission statistics show it is from 17 to 22 times more costly for small business to raise new capital by the selling of stock than it is for large concerns.

The large concern can afford to cope with Government controls and can maintain establishments in Washington leading to contracts with the Government. This is beyond the reach of small business.

A large, established corporation can readily obtain loans for current operations or for expansion from insurance companies or banks. Insurance companies, glad to lend for long terms on fixed assets are inclined to look for companies with a history of consistent profits. It costs them as much to service a small loan application as a large one, therefore, it is more profitable to deal with the large enterprise.

Commercial and savings banks, obligated to their depositors to maintain liquidity and regulated by state and national banking laws, are, by and large, unable to relieve the small concern needing long-term financing secured by fixed assets.

As a result, small, growing businesses are forced to resort to marginal methods of financing, sometimes, as the alternative to bankruptcy.

It is my belief that small enterprises have no adequate sources of credit from private agencies for long-term loans on fixed assets. The only source for the small business enterprise for this type of credit is the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

In addition, the Congress should consider the implications of our defense emergency. A period of conversion to defense production, on which we now are entering, inevitably will cause dislocations intensifying the need for financial aid. This will be most difficult for the small concerns, since our procurement programs seem to be founded upon huge prime contracts with large business. If no financial aid is available to small business during this period of conversion such as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is able to provide, the business failures and the resulting unemployment may cripple our national economy when it most needs to be strong.

I dislike to differ with policies determined by the party of which I am a member. The policy committees of the Republican Party of both the Senate and the House have publicly favored abolition of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. I hope they will reconsider. They should consider carefully the effect on our free enterprise economy if the thousands of small businesses which still make up, fortunately, the bulk of our national economy, are forced out of business by the imposition of emergency economic controls, for which they have no responsibility and which they could not reasonably be expected to foresee.

It is no answer to say that defense production loans make the Reconstruction Finance Corporation unnecessary. The recent evidence of a $7,800,000 defense production loan to three men with only $600 invested makes it clear the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which investigates and services all defense production loans and which objected to that particular loan, is better equipped to exercise discretion in such matters than is the National Production Authority.

I am of the opinion that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation should be continued, at least until some substitute is found to meet the needs of small business in this defense emergency period, through either private enterprise or Government.

Cream of Tomato Soup. Soda added to cream of tomato soup may prevent it from curdling, but it is also likely to destroy the delicate flavor of the tomato and its vitamin C content. If care is used in making the soup, soda usually proves to be unnecessary.
