Lucky Bridal Couple

Some young couple is going to receive a grand lot of wedding gifts as a result of action taken at the meeting of the Community Fair Association Tuesday evening.

Already lined up as one of the first gifts to be offered is a man's dress suit for the bridegroom and an electric washer. Other gifts will be announced as soon as they are offered by Chelsea merchants.

The gifts will go to the first couple who applies to be married at the Community Fair on opening night, Oct. 1. Justice of the Peace William Pritchard has agreed to perform the ceremony. Application should be made to the program chairman, Paul F. Nichols.

The Fair Association meeting Tuesday was devoted principally to making final arrangements for the program line-up for the four days of the fair.

A tractor-pulling contest is being staged Thursday afternoon. Two classes of tractors will compete, designated as light-weight and heavy duty.

Wednesday is to be children's day, climaxed by the wedding in the evening, and Friday evening the horse show will be the main attraction following the afternoon's pig scramble and fat stock sale.

Saturday, the parade in the afternoon will have the added features of decorated bicycles for the youngsters and a good number of antique cars, including those of the local antique car enthusiasts.

The antique cars are to be on display at the fair after the parade. Saturday evening the queen of the 1952 Community Fair will be crowned and the ever-popular closing feature will be the giving of prizes offered by businessmen of the community and presentation of a live steer to the winner.

Mrs. Elvira Visel and Mrs. Martin Miller are planning an unusually fine flower exhibit for this year, according to an announcement made at the meeting.

Thursday evening's entertainment will be professional acts.

Crash Near Fenton
Injures Four from Four Mile Lake

Mrs. Clarence Moore of Chelsea, Dexter road, near Four Mile Lake, and her three daughters, Martha, 22, Marian, 15, and Margaret, 13, were injured when the pick-up truck in which they were riding, driven by Martha, turned over after one wheel slipped off the road while passing another car.

The accident occurred a mile east of Fenton on the Holly road. The Moores were headed for Holly where Martha was to return to her classes at the Adventist academy.

Martha suffered a chipped bone in her right shoulder, while Marian broke her arm between the shoulder and elbow, and Margaret suffered a concussion. Mrs. Moore received a gash on the top of her head and head bruises.

They were taken to Hurley hospital in Flint and all but Margaret had been released by yesterday.

Damage to the pick-up consisted of a broken windshield, rear and side windows and a bent steering wheel and gear shaft.

First reports of the accident stated that the Moores were injured in a bus accident near Lapeer. Mrs. Moore explained that injured persons from the bus accident, which occurred at approximately the same time, were being brought into Hurley hospital at the time they were taken there, and it was assumed they had come from the same accident.

Lightning Bolt
Kills 13 Cattle
on Duerr Farm

Thirteen head of cattle were killed when struck by lightning on the Duerr farm on Conway road, presumably during the heavy thunderstorm which hit this vicinity about 8:30 p.m. Monday.

Duerr did not discover the loss until Tuesday noon when he found the dead animals under a tree on the hillside where they had huddled for shelter from the storm. Included were six cows, three steers, three calves and one heifer. The three steers were ready for market.

The Vern Hiltz family, living on the farm north of the Duerr place, said they felt two sharp bolts of lightning at 8:30, during the height of the storm and it is presumed the cattle were struck at that time.

Value of the cattle killed was placed at approximately $3,500, the amount being partially covered by insurance.

Several trees were blown down during the storm and a falling tree on the Manchester road, south of US-12 was the cause of power failure for about six hours.

The storm also was blamed for a burned-out transformer which shut off power at the Chelsea Spring plant for approximately the same length of time.

Homer Nixon, Chelsea Electric and Water Department superintendent said the storm caused no difficulty on any of the village circuits.

J. P. Cook Farm

A 10x12-foot brooder house on the J. P. Cook farm on Old US-12, a mile west of Chelsea, was so badly damaged by fire Friday morning that it will be necessary to re-build it. There had been no chickens in the building the past two weeks but 1400 lbs. of straw stored in it were burned. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

The fire was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Cook as they were at breakfast and it had gained considerable headway before it was noticed. The Chelsea Fire department was called to the scene.

Posse Searches
Town Monday for Cassidy Lake Pair

Two youths, believed to be escaped inmates from Cassidy Lake Technical school, were the object of a man-hunt staged in the vicinity of Lincoln and South Main streets Monday night.

The two youths, one 20 and the other 21, were missed at 7 p.m. Police Officer Frank Reed stopped them at the Wahl and Poor gas station at 2:30 p.m. and asked them where they were going. They replied they were "going to the car."

When he asked for their identification, and before he could get out of his car, they fled, heading for the rear of the gas station.

One of the fleeing youths shed his coat in the station driveway and a white shirt was later found in the back yard of a house several doors down the street.

A number of young men who were up-town joined Reed in searching the neighborhood when they learned of the get-away, but no trace was found except the coat and shirt the one left behind.

At last reports the youths had not been apprehended.

Central Fibre
Will Purchase
Tower Bldg.Welfare Building
Included in Transfer from Federal Screw

Donald H. Bacon, president of the Central Fibre Products company, announced yesterday that his firm has entered into an agreement to purchase the Tower building and the Welfare building from the Federal Screw Works. It is expected that the sale will be consummated within the next 30 days.

Both of these buildings have been landmarks in Chelsea for many years. The construction of them was started in 1906 and they were completed in 1907 by the Glazier Stove Works.

Shortly after they were completed, they were taken over by the Chelsea Stove Works, which firm in turn, sold the properties to the Grant and Wood Manufacturing company in 1910.

The properties were acquired by the Flanders Manufacturing company in 1911 and the Tower building was used for the manufacture of motorcycles.

The Lewis Spring and Axle company obtained the buildings in 1915 and as many of the local residents will still remember, that company manufactured the Hollier automobile. Subsequently, the buildings changed hands several times among small manufacturing concerns until 1939, at which time both buildings were acquired by the Federal Screw Works.

The Welfare building holds great interest for the community due to the fact that it was originally designed by Frank P. Glazier, then president of the Glazier Stove Works, as a club building for the employees of that company.

At that time it was very unusual for buildings of this type to be built for the exclusive use of employees, but Mr. Glazier for many years had had the idea of doing something for his employees along this line. In fact, his interest was so great that he sent his son, Harold Glazier, and Henry Stimpson, who was then treasurer of the Glazier Stove Works, to Cincinnati to study the welfare plans of the Proctor and Gamble company, one of the very few companies in the United States having such a plan.

The Proctor and Gamble company had an entirely different program from that contemplated by Mr. Glazier however, and the plans for the buildings were largely the result of his own ideas.

The original design of the building included a large swimming pool in the basement and gymnasium and auditorium, and elaborate facilities for lockers and washrooms.

This advanced humanitarianism was most remarkable in the early 1900's. It was Mr. Glazier's thought that such a building would benefit not only his employees, but the community in general.

Mr. Bacon stated that his company has no immediate plans for the use of these buildings, other than that they will be held for possible future expansion of the Central Fibre Products company.

He did state, however, that it was his hope that the Welfare building might be ultimately used for the purpose for which it was originally intended.

The editor of The Chelsea Standard doesn't like to write obituaries for traffic victims.

Last year, he and his colleagues on Michigan's 400 daily and weekly newspapers had to write death notices for 1,640 persons who died on the highways and streets of our state.

They had to write about 48,418 people who were hurt in auto accidents—many of them permanently crippled. They had to report on 10,687 traffic accidents in 1951. These aren't just statistics; they are people. Some of them are friends and relatives of Michigan editors. Some are friends and relatives of yours.

So that they won't have to cover so many funerals of highway victims—and also so they and their readers are spared the grief that such needless death brings, Michigan editors are uniting to turn the full force of the press toward arousing their readers and fellow citizens to the tragedy that rides in our autos.

In regional conferences throughout the state in the next few weeks, editors will discuss the solution to the problem.

That solution, simply, is this: Bring all the facts to the public. An informed public opinion can be counted on to push through the necessary changes in attitudes and laws.

Basis of the press program is a report by Michigan people to Michigan people on how to check mounting highway injuries and deaths.

That's the sub-title of the report by the first Michigan Highway Safety Seminar held on the Michigan State campus last spring. The report was unveiled yesterday at a meeting of the Michigan State Safety Commission called by Fred M. Alger, Jr., secretary of state and commission chairman.

Michigan editors are just one group of 100 different organizations that are joining forces to battle the appalling increase in death, injury and loss that mar our streets and roads.

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, was seminar chairman. General Motors, the Gas and Oil Association of Michigan, the Michigan Automobile Club and the Michigan Press Association were just a few of the organizations which took an active part in the seminar.

All of these organizations, representing every type of industry, commerce and profession in Michigan, realize that only the public can make highways safer.

The attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Michigan and their sons and daughters spells the difference between carnage and safety on our roads.

Do these incidents sound familiar?

"Can't you get a driver's license for my father? Sure, he's 78 and doesn't see well but he needs to drive to get around. Remember, I worked in the 17th Ward for your boss, the sheriff, last election?" So grandpa gets a license and eventually a headline reads: "Aged Driver Stricken at Wheel; Three Dead in Crash."

"Yep. Made it from Tawas to Detroit in three hours! Had it up over 100 plenty of the time, too!" And the headline: "Speeding Car Leaves Road; Driver Maimed."

"Yes, I guess Junior drives a little reckless some times. But after all, he's only young once and a kid's got to have some fun." "Hot-Rodders Race on Highway; Four Cars in Fatal Collision!" "Look, Judge, Can't you fix this ticket for me? After all, I slowed down at the intersection."

"Mother hurt as Car Runs Stop Sign."

Those darn cops are always trying to stick somebody on a speeding charge. Why don't they go out and catch crooks instead of picking on an honest citizen?" "Speeder Kills School Child."

All those headlines are taken from Michigan newspapers. You have undoubtedly heard enough of the comments to realize that they are accurate, too.

Until Michigan wakes up to the grim toll of highway tragedies, until Michigan realizes it isn't smart, traffic laws, highway deaths will outnumber those of any battlefield.

It's to wake up his readers, to mobilize public opinion to wiping out unsound and unsafe laws, practices and public acceptance that your editor and his fellow news-men are embarking on an intensive campaign to make streets and roads of Michigan safer for you and his readers.

One of the more decorative aspects of the Lansing scene are the "queens" of various Michigan festivals who call to pay their respects at the Capitol. One of the most charming is Dione Coval who returned over the Romeo Peach Festival this week-end.

She passes out the information that peach trees, like field crops, have to be rotated. Apple trees are the alternate crop. Peach trees last 8 to 10 years, bear after the first two years. Apple trees last twice as long which makes rotation a problem.

The annual average crop in Queen Dione's kingdom is 20- to 30,000 bushels.

If you read your who-dun-its in paper-backed volumes, you've been

Three Local Youths Attend Conference of Honorary Scouts

More than 2,200 members of the Order of the Arrow, honor group of the Boy Scouts of America, met in Oxford, Ohio, on the Miami University campus for their 17th conference on the 37th anniversary of the Order.

The honor campers, representing 425 Boy Scout Councils in 37 states and the Philippines and Germany, were housed in university campus dormitories for the three-day meeting, Aug. 29-31.

This was the largest and best of the meetings ever held, according to those attending. The opening session was held Friday, Aug. 29, when the groups convened to hear Charles Helstead, national Boy Scout program director.

Throughout the week-end a colorful program of Order of the Arrow skills and ceremonies was presented. Among these were the best Indian dance teams and ceremonials in the world, and the famous Brotherhood chorus. Saturday evening the Order held its traditional campfire ceremony. The meeting closed Sunday morning, following a worship service and the final conference session, at which Dr. E. Urner Goodman, founder of the Order of the Arrow, was the principal speaker.

Attending from the local Munhakee Lodge No. 88 were Richard and Douglas Schneider, Conrad Hafner, and James Keizer, accompanied by Vernon Adams of Ann Arbor, as advisor. The local group made the 500-mile trip by automobile.

Free Orthopedic Clinic To Be Sponsored for Crippled Children

An orthopedic clinic to be held at the Child Health building, 1135 East Catherine, Ann Arbor, is being planned for Sept. 23. This clinic is being sponsored by the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission, Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Washtenaw County Medical Society, and the Washtenaw County Health Department.

Anyone under 21 years of age who has a bone, joint, or other orthopedic condition and is not receiving medical care, is eligible to attend. A referral is requested for children currently under a doctor's care when the doctor feels a consultation with the orthopedic surgeon attending the clinic is desirable.

Children who have had poliomyelitis and are not under medical care are urged to attend the clinic. Even though there has been no apparent paralysis, two check-ups a year apart are advised. An orthopedic specialist will examine and will advise necessary care and treatment. There will be no fee for the examination or for the x-rays which may need to be taken. A report of the doctor's examination will be sent to the family physician of each patient. A representative of the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation of the state of Michigan will be invited to the clinic.

King-Seeley Scio Plant Is Building Fourth Addition

It has been announced that a 45,000-square-foot addition is to be constructed at the King-Seeley plant in Scio township, with work scheduled to begin this week. The new addition is expected to be completed early in November. Approximately 250 employees will be added to the force of more than 1,000 already employed at the plant.

Overall size of the plant, when the new addition is completed, will be 225,000 square feet.

The newly-added space will be devoted to defense production for the Navy and for storage and possible expansion of other government contracts.

In addition to the defense work, the company manufactures household equipment and various auto accessories. The Scio plant has been in operation since December, 1948, and the present addition is the fourth since that time.

Concealed Century
It was a conceit of the 16th century to put perfumes in tiny bottles which were enclosed in small cases that resembled books, the covers of which were stamped in gold or in colors.

Our Neighbors

Northville—An appeal is being made to villagers who have had new trees planted on their property by the village to water these trees frequently.

John Miller, of Green Ridge Nursery, who supervised the planting for the village, states that the trees cannot survive unless they are given sufficient water.

New trees were planted on Cady, Wing, Dubar and Rogers streets.

Northville Record.

Grass Lake—Blacktopping of streets in Grass Lake has been postponed until next summer for several reasons, according to Robert Simonds, village president.

On examining the streets recently, President Simonds and Trustee Corey doubted the advisability of applying the blacktopping this year. They consulted Engineer Peter Kurzy and the Road Commission, and all agreed that because the grading was not finished as soon as had been expected and because of the lack of rain in the past month this condition prevailed.

Grass Lake News.

Saline—Miss Ester Landwehr, who returned on Friday from a month's visit to Europe, gave her first report on her observations following the worship service in St. Paul's church on Sunday. During her stay in France, Germany and Switzerland she had opportunity to discuss some of the religious problems arising from the present international tension. Her talk was described as a report of one person's attempt to build a bridge of understanding between nations.

Saline Observer.

Rochester—A veteran of World War II who had lost both eyes, a leg and a large part of his face when a land mine exploded in Italy, said:

"Of all my experiences, this is the finest."

He had graduated with honors from the school here operated by the Leader Dog League for the Blind, one of the most noteworthy services to the handicapped made possible by the unusual school.

During the first six months of 1952, thirty-seven persons were "graduated" from the four-weeks training course at the League's school here. The program has been stepped up from an average of 60 graduates per year in previous years.

Rochester Clarion.

Buchanan—A few weeks ago the Record carried a story on two terminally ill men who, it seemed, were a bit high-handed in dealing with a local widow. The two unknowns approached her on a treatment for her house. The lady was hesitant stating that she could not afford over a certain amount at that time.

But they shouldered in, treated the house and then handed her a bill which she paid. It was over three times what she had said she could afford.

Last week an alert businessman spotted the men on a job here, again, and called police. Rather than stand suit on the woman's charges they refunded two-thirds of the money she had paid them and left town with a promise not to return.

Berrien County Record.

Pinckney—Despite the weather which was a bit chilly, two good crowds turned out last Friday and Saturday nights for the Masonic Minstrel show which was put on in old-time Dockstadter and Primrose make-up. The event was staged on the lighted athletic field with bleachers and reserved seats circus style. The minstrel cast numbered 25. Mrs. Winifred Aberdeen was director.

Pinckney Dispatch.

Milan—There weren't many of them there, but the loyalty for their old school remained as deep as ever when a group of 15 former Town Line school pupils gathered at Wilson park last Saturday.

All of those present had attended the school at least 60 years ago, but the attendance award went to Mrs. Carrie Finch of Milan, who had crossed the doorstep of Town Line more than 80 years ago.

Milan Leader.

South Lyon—Announcement of the proposed merger of Plymouth's two banks with the National Bank of Detroit met with general favor throughout the community last week-end. Local businessmen were well satisfied with the proposal and little opposition was heard.

South Lyon Herald.

South Lyon—The opening of the 1952-53 school year will be postponed until the week of Sept. 8, according to the announcement made by Superintendent of Schools Frank Bartlett this week. The delay has been necessitated by the inability of the contractor to finish the elementary school addition as originally planned. The strike of carpenters and related trades last spring, set the progress of the building schedule back approximately a month.

South Lyon Herald.

Rochester—Last Tuesday morning as Police Officer Werth was checking the parking meters he came upon a car which had run out its time limit.

Officer Werth proceeded to write out the violation when a voice was heard to say, "You can't do that."

A very surprised look came over the officer's face as no occupants were in the car. He again—the voice said, "You can't do that."

"You can't do that."

Officer Werth by that time thought he was having a nightmare but lo and behold the unknown voice had identified itself in the form of a parrot in the car and whose owner is August Blumberger.

Rochester Clarion.

Standish—More than 300 people visited the first annual Au Gres flower show last week-end and it was a huge success. Nearly 2,000 entries were displayed in the Au Gres school gymnasium.

Arenac County Independent.

Northville—Colorful orange and black pennants began going up in windows of Northville business places Monday and Tuesday for the official opening of the 1952 "Parade of Progress," the second such celebration sponsored by the Northville Retail Merchants association.

Northville Record.

Frankfort—The boat strike, now in its 58th day, became more and more the major topic of local conversation last week even though no settlement of any kind appeared in the offing.

As the strike began dragging into its fifth week local boatmen, and railroad men, all out of work because of the strike, appeared eager to get some settlement and get back to their work. Though several of these men get railroad unemployment benefits, the sum of approximately $37.00 is not enough to defray the expenses of the average family.

Benzie County Patriot.

Rochester—Members and friends of the Homer Wing Post 172, American Legion, celebrated the retirement of a $14,000 mortgage on the post home at 135 West Fifth street Friday night with the burning of the mortgage in a combat helmet atop stacked rifles.

Rochester Clarion.

Buchanan—Buchanan police officers soon may have a more effective way of controlling the problem of speed other than the rather futile game of chasing violators with patrol cars. Today, Chief Krugh has a demonstrator in Buchanan with an electric timing device, such as is now in use in St. Joseph, Niles and most other cities which assume to control speed.

Berrien County Record.

Buchanan—A Benton Harbor man was arrested by the Buchanan police after he had refused to leave the porch of Joe Farrow, 223 Fulton street, when he was an unwanted guest.

The Benton Harbor man, under the influence of liquor, is alleged to have selected the porch of the Farrow home to sleep it off, repelling suggestions by both Farrow and police that he leave.

KEEPING PACE WITH MICHIGAN

Michigan's phenomenal growth and industrial expansion during the 35 years since this organization was founded, have astonished the entire world.

Detroit's population has grown from 1/4 of a million to 3 1/4 million in the metropolitan area—an increase of 433 per cent. Other Michigan cities have expanded to a comparable extent.

Providing this rapidly increasing city population with an adequate supply of the most perishable of all foods—pure, fresh milk—has posed difficult problems. To solve them called for intelligent, far-sighted planning by men who understood every phase of the complex milk supply problem, all the way from the cow to the door-step.

The Michigan Milk Producers Association never has failed in its obligations to both the consuming public and the producing farmer. It has constantly anticipated future needs of both and met them unflinchingly on every occasion.

More than 16,000 dairy farmers working together through their cooperative organization have kept pace with fast-growing Michigan. Today, as always in the past, this Association is carefully planning for the future by stimulating production of highest quality milk by its members and providing the plants and transport equipment to guarantee delivery of an ample supply, handled in the most sanitary method, at all seasons of the year.

Jackson Woman Injured as Auto Hits Utility Pole

Mrs. Muriel Moulton of Jackson, suffered two fractured ribs and her husband, David, driver of the car in which she was riding, suffered shock when their car struck a utility pole at M-92 and US-12 at 4:30 p.m. Friday while attempting to avoid a collision with another car driven across the highway by Alvin V. Burke of Gregory.

As reported by sheriff's deputies, called to police the accident, Moulton was driving west on US-12 and Burke was headed north on M-92 and had reached the third lane of the highway. Moulton told deputies oncoming traffic prevented his driving around the rear of the Burke car so he drove around the front of the car, striking and breaking off the utility pole at the northwest corner of the intersection. The pole is the one which supports the flasher signal and as it fell the flasher light came down on the highway.

U. of M. Foreign Students Make Tour of Local Farms

Accompanied by George Luther, coordinator of special activities for the English Language Institute at the University of Michigan, and Don Johnson, Washtenaw county agricultural agent, 46 foreign students visited the Arthur Kuhl farm on Solo Church road last Saturday as part of the orientation program of the Institute.

The 35 men and 10 women, all from Germany, 2 each from Pakistan and India, 2 each from Egypt, Iraq, and Turkey, and one from each of the following: Spain, the Philippines, Holland, Finland, Mexico, and Paraguay.

The majority of the group are graduate students who are engineers, economists, bankers, teachers and workers in the fields of nutrition and political science.

During the five weeks they have been with the institute they have visited Detroit and were taken through the Ford factory. They visited Greenfield Village, Edison Museum, Toledo Art Museum, the new Tappan school in Ann Arbor, Lincoln consolidated school, and some rural schools as well as Niagara Falls and other scenic spots.

Tuesday they visited the Municipal Court in Ann Arbor and recently they were guests at a meeting of the Tecumseh Grange. They have been entertained in private homes and, as guests of the Exchange Club of Ann Arbor, spent a day last week at the University Fresh Air camp at Patterson Lake.

The orientation period will be concluded next week and members of the group will leave for universities and colleges in various parts of the United States.

In addition to their visit to the Kuhl farm Saturday, the foreign students were taken on a tour of the Carl Maat and LaVerne Coy farms, near Dexter.

Don Johnson was invited to accompany the group and answer any questions regarding farm topics.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

nicked an extra penny sales tax recently.

Because magazines and newspapers are exempt from Michigan sales tax and because the pocket books are handled by news firms, dealers didn't collect the tax until very recently.

"We don't know why the sudden change," says a Department of Revenue spokesman. "Such books have always been taxable and we assume that the dealers have been absorbing the tax in the past."

Trade associations say they haven't bulletined their members about charging the tax. They think the move has been spontaneous.

"Our auditors may have spotted the situation in a regular check-up," says the revenue department. "The grapevine usually spreads such news mighty fast."

Whatever the cause, it costs a penny more these days to find out that it was the butler who scragged Sir Geoffrey Beghery in the marionette mystery.

Are Michigan's "independent voters" too independent for their own good?

At least one political stalwart thinks so and that feeling is growing in circles interested in good government on a non-partisan basis.

"People have crossed party lines so often to vote for the man instead of the party that we are losing our characteristic form of American government," he says. "He doesn't want his name used but he would be considered quite an expert by any observer."

"Because of that habit we've had a Democratic Governor and a Republican Legislature in Michigan these past years. . . and everyone knows the situation isn't healthy."

"There has often been so much political sniping that neither the executive nor the legislative branches have been willing or able to settle down to business. At best, the fact they didn't see eye-to-eye has made cooperation difficult and short-lived."

"We've seen the disastrous results on national levels when Herbert Hoover could get no sorely needed legislation from a Democratic congress. And four years ago when Harry Truman had a GOP congress, Capitol Hill and the White House worked at cross purposes," he cites.

What's the answer? Party discipline, says the commentator.

"Parties should have well-defined platforms and stick to them. Each member of that party should support those basic principles under penalty of being read out of the party. It works in England, it'd work here."

This man, incidentally, like the typical Midwestern manufacturer and politician that he is, doesn't admire England to a fault. He's probably inclined a little the other way but he does concede good points in their political system.

"If we had that party discipline, we wouldn't have such splits as the Dixiecrats and the Northern Liberals in the Democratic party or the isolation-internationalism or conservative-liberal wings in the GOP," he believes.

"The voter would have to be trained, too, to realize that he gets a better government (and usually a more efficient and economical one) if there is party harmony between the executive and the legislative branches."

"If the voter were assured that all members of one party were strictly obligated to carry out its platform, there wouldn't be the need to cross party lines to elect the individual he favors personally."

On a national level this would probably mean an eventual realignment of political parties as we now know them. He believes that a more clear cut distinction would then be made between the conservative and liberal elements in the country no matter what political label they now bear.

"That would get us back to the traditional two-party system where the entire state or national government—executive and legislative—would be voted in or out of office as a body."

On the Michigan level, the change wouldn't be so marked, he believes, because party platforms have never figured so prominently in campaigns.

Republican visitors to the State Fair are apt to give vent to a few pyrotechnics of their own when they see the big fireworks display. One of the pieces will be a glowing portrait of Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The GOP-ers will probably find it hard to accept that this is just a deserved tribute to the chief executive of the state and that it's just a happy coincidence that the jovial governor is a candidate for re-election.

The perennial private industry-government control argument can churn up a couple degrees of temperature by comparing a pair of figures from Arenac county.

More Trout, Inc., a sportsmen's organization, is building a fish-control and rainbow trout impoundment dam on the Au Gres river near Melvor. Their cost will be under $10,000; the Michigan Conservation department estimated it at $22,000.

Sea lampreys, those eel-like destroyers of fine Great Lakes fish, get their come-uppance from More Trout, Inc. As spawning fish and pursuing lampreys move upstream, they pass through a fish sorter. There the lampreys, which have lived off other fish at their lives, are removed . . . permanently. And, in perfect irony, they're ground up and used as fish food.

Week-End Accidents
Damage Cars But
Cause No Injuries

Cars driven by Steve Soloducha of Highland Park, and Edward Shipley of Dearborn, collided on West Middle street, just east of Hayes street, at 12:08 Sunday
 each car.

According to the police department's report of the accident, Soloducha had made a left turn from Hayes street and the Shipley car was headed west in the west-bound lane.

At 3:30 p.m. Sunday, during a hard thundershower, cars driven by Keith Boylan, 618 Taylor street, and Harry Culp of Grand Ledge, collided at Main and West Middle streets when Boylan was making

 drivers was obscured because of the heavy downpour, according to police reports.

Passing Cars in City Traffic Rarely Justified

Chief George Doe called attention today to the fact that passing cars on city streets with parked cars and frequent intersections can be exceedingly dangerous.

He said, "There are not many conditions which justify passing on a city street where parked cars only allow one moving lane of traffic in each direction. The speed limit on most city streets is 25 miles per hour. If the car ahead is going 20 miles per hour the difference in speed is only five miles per hour. To be able to go five miles per hour faster for a short trip will not save enough time to make it worth while to pass.

"Parked cars add a special hazard to passing, and hide pedestrians, especially children, who may thoughtlessly run out into the street. In many areas the block lengths are not long enough to permit passing before reaching the intersection," he added.

All motorists are urged to cooperate with the August traffic safety campaign under the leadership of State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, and sponsored by the Michigan State Safety Commission.

The Chief suggested the following safety tips to help motorists who wish to pass with safety:

(1) Be sure that there is no car close behind you which may try to pass you as you pull out.

(2) Make sure that there is no car ahead of the car you are going to pass which might block you.

(3) Be certain that there is no oncoming car or, if there is one, that it is far enough away so that you have plenty of time to complete your pass before it arrives.

(4) Assure yourself that there is no intersection, driveway, or filling station entrance from which a car could come and interfere with your passing maneuver.

(5) When you are certain of cars behind you and in front of you and of all entrances to the roadway then pass rather quickly so that you do not have to stay on the wrong side of the roadway very long. It is recommended that when highway conditions and the speed limit permit safe passing that you travel about 20 miles per hour faster than the car you are passing. Less than this will take you too long. More than this will make it harder for you to stop in time if an emergency develops.

Obey the official safety slogan "Keep in Line—Don't Cut In."
