To Help Further
Court House Cause

Fourteen Chelsea men have been named as members of the Washtenaw County Citizens Court House committee. The committee has prepared a four-page pamphlet outlining the need for a new court house to replace the old building which is 74 years old.

The pamphlet also gives information regarding the proposed new building and explains the proposal for borrowing the amounts needed for its construction. The pamphlets are being mailed out this week.

Washtenaw county residents will be voting on the $2,500,000 bond issue for the proposed new court house at the Nov. 4 election.

Chelsea members of the Citizens Court House committee are: Anton Nielsen, chairman; W. R. Daniels, Lowell Davidson, Lewis Hasel, LeRoy Kousch, Charles Heydauff, John Kousch, Lambert Mayvans, Paul G. Schable, Hugh Sorenson, Everett G. Van Riper, and Walter Wolfgang.

Playground Accident

Victor Carl Parks, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Parks, is a patient at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where he was taken last week, Wednesday, after he broke his left arm, above the elbow, in a fall on the school grounds.

The arm was put in traction after it was operated on late Wednesday evening. According to present indications he will be in the hospital another week or ten days. His room number is 403.

Plans Announced for Paving North Main Street This Fall

Anton Nielsen, village president, has announced that Village Clerk Robert Devine received a letter Tuesday from the State Highway Department in which it was stated that North Main street is to be paved this fall.

The roadbed was prepared for paving during the past summer, the project having been completed within the past month.

Until receipt of the letter Tuesday, it had been believed the paving would not be done until next spring.

100 New Registrations
Received in Sylvan

Walter F. Kantelehn, Sylvan township clerk, said yesterday that approximately 100 registrations for the Nov. 4 election have been recorded in the past week. Final day for registration is Monday, Oct. 6.

Chelsea's new car dealers have offered to provide transportation to the township registration locations in this area if persons desiring the transportation will call them. Cooperating in the plan are: Alber Motor Sales, W. R. Daniels, Grossman's Garage, Harper Sales & Service, Palmer Motor Sales, and Spaulding Sales and Service.

Elden Moore and two friends, George Christiansen and Gene Cope, of East Lansing, were lunch guests Saturday noon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Moore, while enroute to the Michigan-Michigan State football game in Ann Arbor.

Electric Rates for Water Heating
Will Be Reduced

Beginning Oct. 1, Chelsea electric water heater users will receive a discount of 40 per cent on "that portion of each monthly bill in excess of $4.45 (for 150 kilowatt hours), with the qualification that the discount allowed is regulated by the size of the electric water heater in use.

Maximum discount on a 35-gallon or less heater is $1.40; 35-gallon to 45-gallon, $2.16; 45-gallon to 55-gallon, $2.90; 55-gallon to 75-gallon, $3.65; and heaters of more than 75-gallon capacity, $4.40.

Electric water heater users may further reduce the cost of their water heating by having time clock regulators attached to their heaters. Only cost to the consumer is the price of wiring the clock to the heater. The clock remains the property of the Electric Light and Water Department.

Two of the time clocks have already been installed here, Homer Nixon, Electric Light and Water Department superintendent, announced yesterday. The clocks are now set to shut off the current heating the bottom part of the tank at 10 p.m. and automatically turn it on again at 6 a.m. The upper part of the tank will remain heated to supply the limited quantity of hot water ordinarily used between those hours.

High School Grid
Team Defeated
by Saline Hornets

Chelsea played host to Saline last Friday only to lose a hard-fought game, 14-6. Saline collected its TD's in the second and fourth quarters, while Chelsea collected its lone score in the late minutes of the last quarter.

The first quarter was hard-fought and rough. Saline started a drive from their own 14-yard line and brought the ball to Chelsea's 36. The quarter ended with no score.

In the second quarter, the game resumed with Saline receiving a 15-yard penalty which put them on the 50-yard line, but with a 15-yard pass by Drake to Graf, Saline was still on the march. After another penalty of five yards and a 12-yard loss, Saline made its first TD with Miller going all the way to complete an 86-yard drive. Miller booted the extra point and Saline led, 7-0.

The third quarter was like the first quarter, with fumbles, incomplete passes, and penalties haunting both teams. Chelsea threatened once when they took over the ball on the 38-yard line, but with a 15-yard penalty and an incomplete pass Saline took the ball over on its own 30.

Saline started marching from their 31 in the fourth quarter with Graf going the last 23 yards for a TD to complete a 69-yard drive. Miller booted the extra point and Saline led, 14-0.

Chelsea then came from their own 33-yard line all the way down the field for a TD to complete a 77-yard drive, with Dick Barels carrying the ball over. The try for extra point failed and Saline led, 14-6 at the end of the game.

Friday, Chelsea travels to Dundee where they will play at 7:30.

Prof. Slosson
Sees Delicate
Peace Ahead

Dr. Preston W. Slosson, professor of history at the University of Michigan, speaking Monday evening at the Chelsea Public Library on the topic, "America in World Crisis," said "America is no longer on the edges of the world crisis, but is exactly in the middle of that crisis, when, where, and if it occurs."

Europeans and the European press are more aware of this than Americans, he said. In 1932 the election of President Roosevelt caused scarcely a ripple in the European newspapers. In 1952 the press reports the daily activities of both candidates for the U. S. presidency.

During those 20 years the U. S. has changed its attitudes, too. After World War I, the U. S. steadfastly refused to join a League of Nations seated at Geneva, Switzerland; after World War II, the U. S. not only joined the United Nations, but permitted establishment of the headquarters at New York City. The U. S. has become not only the political center of the world, but also the financial center (New York), and industrial center (Detroit or Pittsburgh).

This explains why we are honored by the hate of Soviet Russia, who regards Britain and France as American satellites. Just as we regard Bulgaria, China, Roumania, China, etc., as satellites of Russia. This hate is really a tribute to our achievements.

The envy of our former allies is another kind of tribute paid to us. Britain, France, Italy, Latin America, and West Germany are ungrateful, envious, fearful of us; but those feelings are as nothing in comparison to the sentiments pointed in certain other directions. The British find it difficult to sink to second world position, after having led for so long. Britain was equally envied, hated, and feared during her greatest days.

The U. S. never wanted or planned to dominate the world. World greatness was thrust upon us by nature's endowment, the pioneer and inventive spirit, geographical isolation, and military safety. Europe's position has been depressed by having been the battleground (Continued on page seven)

Methodist Home
To Hold Open House

The Chelsea Methodist Home is holding open house tomorrow afternoon, Friday, Oct. 3, from 1 until 4 o'clock for guests who will come from the various churches of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church. People of Chelsea are welcome to attend, also.

Old Fench, well-known radio and television organist, will play during the afternoon on the organ in the recently-completed chapel at the Home. The informal recital will begin at approximately 2 p.m. Guests will be taken on tours of the Home and chapel during the entire afternoon, and tea will be served.

The open house is sponsored by the Chelsea Home Friends of the Detroit Conference.

Announced for Saturday's Parade

George Atkinson, chairman of the Community Fair Parade committee, emphasized yesterday that it is imperative for clubs, organizations, classes or others planning to enter floats in the parade to notify him or some member of his committee so places may be arranged for them in the parade line-up.

In case of rain before the parade starts, one long blast of the fire siren will be sounded to indicate when floats are to proceed to their places in the parade.

Children on tricycles are to assemble in front of the Tiny Town shop on East Middle street and they will be put into the parade at that point. The tricycles are to drop out of the parade at Orchard street after passing the reviewing stand in front of the post office.

Floats are to form in line on Madison and Park streets to East street.

The parade will assemble at the school grounds and the line of march will be north on East street to Middle, west on Middle to Main street, and then south on Main to Old US-12 and the Fairgrounds.

All merchants are being requested to display flags during the parade. There is to be no parking on Main street from noon until after the parade which is to begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

After 12 o'clock noon, also, there is to be no parking on East street from Jefferson to Middle, and Atkinson said it would help greatly in eliminating confusion if automobile traffic would by-pass the school area while the parade is assembling.

Additional groups indicating their intention to enter floats in the parade include the American Legion Auxiliary and the fifth grade.

The school buses will also be in the parade, as well as decorated Vernon's gingerale and Coca Cola trucks and the Dexter Fire Department.

Each float entered in the parade is entitled to have one entry in the Queen of the Fair contest. The Queen of the 1952 fair will be crowned during Saturday evening's program.

Mrs. Paul Frayer, Mrs. Grant Schooley, Mrs. Elmer Mayer and Mrs. Lyle Christwell were in Adrian Sunday to attend the installation of American Legion and Auxiliary district officers. They were also present for the memorial service for deceased members.

Judging Opens
Today for All
Exhibit Classes

The number of entries in Chelsea's 1952 Community Fair passed all expectations, according to chairman of various divisions.

The Fair opened yesterday with the day scheduled as Children's Day and climaxed by the public wedding of Betty Robinson of Stockbridge, and James Ewald.

Many more gifts for the couple were added to the list as announced last week. These included the bridal bouquet for the wedding party which was the gift of the Chelsea Greenhouses, and floral decorations by the Sylvan Flower Shop. A complete list of the gifts was not available as The Standard went to press.

Scheduled entertainment last night included games for children of all ages and a concert by the Waterloo Band.

Judging of all exhibits is in progress today. The grandstand program this afternoon will open with the tractor pulling contest at 1 o'clock. A 4-H tractor operating contest is to take place at 3 o'clock and professional entertainment will include, in addition to previously-announced attractions, an acrobatic act by Itonia Bradley, clown and juggling act by Billie D. Armo, and comedy and xylophone act by Johnny Morrison.

Afternoon charge in the grandstand today is 25 cents, while the charge this evening will be 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for high school age, and free admission for children under 12.

Friday night the grandstand arena feature will be the horse show. There is to be a charge of 25 cents. Friday afternoon will feature the fat stock sale and sale of poultry, in addition to the pig scramble for FFA boys.

The Plymouth Kiltie Band, which will appear in the parade during the afternoon, will go to the Methodist Home after the parade and play for the residents there. In the evening, members of the band will give a concert in the grandstand at the Fair.

The prizes given free by merchants of Chelsea and vicinity will be awarded Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jones and Mrs. Mary Binder, of Jackson, were Sunday callers at the home of Mrs. George Scherer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Marriott of Dearborn, were dinner guests Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vogel and later called on Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Oesterle and daughter, J.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS—Michigan's 4-H Dairy Judging Team, of which Donald Proctor is a member, won first place in the National Dairy Congress contests at Waterloo, Ia., Monday. The team was selected for the honor after competing with 30 teams from all over the United States. Nevels Pearson, center, assistant state 4-H club leader, accompanied the team which had been selected for first place at the Michigan State 4-H Show in August. The young people are: David Vanden Heuvel, 17, Hart; Marilyn Tyne, 16, Traverse City; Bob Meyer, 17, Ypsilanti; and Donald Proctor, 16, Chelsea. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Proctor. Winning first place in the national contest entitles the team to a trip to England, provided the $5,000 necessary for expenses can be raised.

Red Cross Seeks
List of Local Nurses

for Disaster Readiness

Mrs. Leigh Palmer, Chelsea Red Cross chairman, has announced that Mrs. Charles Howe has been appointed to be in charge of the disaster preparedness program here.

Principal aim of the program at present is to obtain and register the name of every registered nurse in the community. The names will be kept on file so nurses may be contacted as quickly as possible in case of disaster or emergency.

The plan is being carried out throughout the county. Cards for registration have already been sent out to 11 known registered nurses in the community. Any registered nurse in this area who does not receive a card within the next few days is asked to notify Mrs. Charles Howe, who may be contacted evenings.

The survey of available registered nurses in a given community is a very important part of the disaster program and all nurses are requested to register as soon as possible.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

● If you're an epileptic, a habitual drunkard or in your danger, you're going to be hurt by a centralized driver's licensing bureau. You won't be able to get a driver's license by telling a hard-luck story or because the sheriff is a good friend of your brother or because some bored clerk in the bureau is too lazy to give you a test. But if you're the average Michigan motorist, you're going to be mighty happy to know that the driver of that truck hurtling down on you isn't apt to have a seizure and crash head-on into you. You'll be glad to know that a driver's license is positive assurance that some near-sighted driver isn't going to run down your wife because he couldn't see her in the twilight.

● If you're a habitual traffic violator, if you drive while drunk, if you think it's smart to pilot your jalopy like a super-sonic jet, the "get tough" policy by which prosecutors and judges is going to hurt you.

● You're going to find that the days of a slap on the wrist for traffic violations is all over. You're going to be rapped with as heavy a fine for endangering lives with your car as if you had threatened them with a gun or a pistol. You're going to spend many a night in jail instead of squaring yourself with the law with a small fine.

● You're going to find that Michigan doesn't like killers or maimers whether they do their bloody work in a speeding car or with a blackjack and pistol.

● But if you're just John Q. Michigan, you're going to be happy that the potential traffic player of your three-year-old daughter will be scared and punished into obeying safety laws.

Through Michigan Press Association, embracing all daily and weekly newspapers in the state, editors have pledged the cooperation and the tremendous power of their newspapers to the Highway Safety Seminar.

Rev. Loren Campbell, pastor of the Dixboro Methodist church, and vice-chairman of the Board of the Washtenaw County Social Welfare department was the speaker. In his talk on present-day affairs he told grangers present that those who advocate more and more "security" through government channels seem to lose sight of the fact that the more security obtained in this way the less freedom of action remains for the individual because he must abide by prescribed rules and regulations.

Group singing opened and closed the program period. Refreshments were served at the close of the program. Approximately 30 persons attended the gathering.

Miss Mary Gianforti Becomes Bride of Sgt. Louis Birch

A wedding of interest to Chelsea friends of the bridegroom and his family was solemnized in Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic church in South Enola, Pa., at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, when Mary E. Gianforti became the bride of Louis V. Birch, son of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Birch.

The ceremony was performed by Msgr. George D. Mulhachy, pastor of the church, in the presence of the immediate families and close friends.

The bride is a daughter of Frank Gianforti and the late Mrs. Gianforti, of 217 South Enola Drive in South Enola. She is employed as a secretary in the Bureau of Employment Security, Harrisburg, Pa.

The bridegroom is a sergeant first class in the U. S. Army and at present is stationed at Indian-town Gap, Pa.

For her wedding, the bride was gowned in gleaming candlelight satin featuring a fitted bodice buttoned down the front and finished with a Peter Pan collar of lace adorned with tiny pearls. The long, tapering sleeves formed points over the hands. The skirt was very full and extended into a wide train. A cap-shaped headpiece of lace and seed pearls held her veil which was fingertip-length, and she carried a white prayer book with a shower of white satin ribbon knotted at intervals with stephanotis.

Mrs. Frederick W. Koeper of Penbrook, Pa., sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a gown of blue taffeta and nylon net fashioned with a full skirt and fitted jacket. Matching mitts and a bonnet-like headpiece finished with streamers completed her costume. Rubrum lilies and matching pompons formed the bouquet she carried.

Charles Ritter was best man and Leo F. Visel was an usher. Both are brothers-in-law of the bridegroom. The bride's brother, Anthony J. Gianforti, of Harrisburg, Pa., was also an usher.

A wedding breakfast for the bride party and the immediate families was served, after the ceremony, in a Harrisburg hotel. At 11 o'clock, approximately 100 guests attended a reception at the home of the bride.

Following a week's trip in the Great Lakes area, the couple will go to Harrisburg, Pa., where they will be at home, after Oct. 6, at 4602 Jones avenue.

For going away the bride wore a black two-piece suit of jersey and velvet with black accessories and a corsage of white pompons.

Rev. A. A. Schoen Dies Tuesday at Dexter Home

Rev. Albert Anton Schoen, who was pastor of St. Paul's church here from 1901 until 1920, died unexpectedly early Tuesday morning at the home in Dexter where he and Mrs. Schoen had lived since he retired from the ministry in 1941. He had been in failing health for several years.

It was during Rev. Schoen's pastorate here that the Young People's Society was organized in January 1902. The Society had planned to invite him to the golden anniversary banquet which is scheduled for the end of this month.

Born Oct. 12, 1871, in Freedom township, he was a son of Anton and Christina Beutler Schoen. He attended confirmation instruction in classes for two years in the school conducted by Rev. Paul Irion, pastor of Bethel church, Freedom township, and later graduated from Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill., where he had studied five years, and from Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo., which he attended three years.

Rev. Schoen's first pastorate was the combined charges of Bainbridge, Pipestone and Nowagiac while he made his home at Waterliet. He came from there to Chelsea in 1901.

In 1920 he became pastor of Emanuel church, Manchester. Before going to Dexter, where he was pastor of St. Andrew's church, he served as pastor of the church from 1932 until his retirement. He served for a short time as pastor of Salem church in Farmington. While at Dexter, he also served as pastor of Salem church, Albion.

Rev. Schoen had been a member of the board of directors of the Angelical Orphan Home for 25 years; was secretary of his church's Michigan District from 1917 until 1930 and a board member of Federated Churches.

He was married in 1911 to Bertha Charlotte Polk of Dayton, Ohio. She died in 1914 while Rev. Schoen was pastor of St. Paul's church here.

He was married in 1917 to Hannah Eisen Koffberger, who survives. Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Hedwig Gaff, of Pontiac; a son, Rev. Victor H. Schoen, of Cincinnati, Ohio; one brother, Jacob, of Dexter; five grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services are to be held in St. Andrew's church, Dexter, at 2 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday). Rev. H. H. Schow, present pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial is to take place in Oak Grove cemetery here with Rev. P. H. Grabowski, pastor of St. Paul's church, in charge of the graveside service.

The body will lie in state at the church from 11 a.m. until the time of the service.

Supplementing Farmers in Granville County, one of North Carolina's oldest tobacco counties, are rapidly turning to livestock and dairy enterprises as important sources of supplementary income.

PTA Council To Meet Monday Afternoon at High School

The Parent-Teacher Council will meet Monday, Oct. 6 at 3:40 p.m. in the Home Economics room at the High school. The first Parent-Teacher Council meeting was held March 15, 1951. The objective of this organization is to improve the educational program in the Chelsea Elementary school.

The Council is, and should be, considered advisory in nature. It helps to provide a systematic plan for cooperative planning on the part of parents, teachers, administration, and members of the board of education.

The organization does not administer, nor does it set down rules of procedure. Its functions are entirely as an advisory organization. The reason for its being better informed. The school administrators alike, feel that an informed public is necessary if we are to improve our educational facilities and instructional program.

If this organization functions as a democratic group, it will have the advantages and disadvantages of any democratic organization. The decision may be reached slowly and may not be in complete agreement with all groups or individuals, but in most cases the final decision will be for the best interests of the majority of people concerned.

Five Local Teachers Attend Curriculum State Conference

Five Chelsea teachers, Principal John Griffin, Jeanette Prieskorn, Mabel Fox, Jack Musser, and Leo Johnson, attended a curriculum conference at Walden, Wis., Sept. 26-28, sponsored by the Department of Public Instruction.

More than 100 teachers from southeastern Michigan, under the leadership of members of the Department, considered the general theme "Taking A Closer Look At Education." Resource people were from Michigan State College, Michigan State Normal College, Wayne University, and the University of Michigan.

Considered were such problems as are involved in curriculum planning and administration at both elementary and secondary levels; meeting needs of individual children, and of exceptional children; classroom procedures and techniques; the value of textbooks, and many others.

Feeder Outlook To Be Discussed at County Meeting

This year farmers will be interested in factors supporting our high level of national economy. High investments will need good management to return a profit. What's the comparative position of the beef cattle industry today? Drought conditions have been evident in sections of the U. S. What has this done to the cattle business?

Will this be a good year for the livestock farmers?

These and many similar questions will be answered at the Washenaw county Feeder Outlook meeting to be held Tuesday, Oct. 7 at the Washenaw county Farm Bureau store, Fourth avenue, Ann Arbor, at 8 p.m.

Don Stark, Economics specialist, and William Finley, Animal Husbandry specialist, will be on hand to discuss these questions.

Local Deer Hunters
Meet To Form
New Organization

A group of Chelsea's most rabid deer hunters met a week ago Tuesday night at the home of Vincent Hult. The highlights of the occasion were the celebrating of the official opening of the deer hunting season, and the desire of those present to start a local chapter of the Michigan Deer Hunters Association.

The new club was formed and the following officers were elected: Roland Spaulding, president; J. V. Burg, keeper of the privy seal; Leon Chapman, secretary, and Jerome Burg, treasurer. Jerome immediately resigned because of previous governmental commitments and Dick Schmidt was elected to succeed him as treasurer.

Harold Baker of Ann Arbor, showed some very interesting color scenes of deer camp life and woods scenes. The remainder of the evening was spent with a progressive euchre game and the spinning of tall hunting tales.

Bob Wals won the euchre tournament and received a pair of fur-lined ear muffs to take north with him this coming hunting season.

Ruben Lesser was in true form when it came to telling hunting whoppers and the club followed a suggestion by Ferd Merkel that the tall tales be postponed until the next meeting to be held about the first of the year, so that the rest of the club might have more time to try to match Lesser.

(Ed. Note: After much painful research the above alphabetical mixture was determined to stand for "The Loyal Order of Confirmed Deer Hunters and Deer Slayers of America, Amalgamated.")

The largest crowd in the history of the American Legion Auxiliary, Herbert J. McKune Unit No. 31, were guests at the regular October meeting and installation of officers, held Tuesday evening. Nineteen units were invited to participate in the house-warming and dedication of the lovely new

24 Years Ago...

Thursday, Oct. 4, 1928—The U. of M. Forestry department has had a number of truck loads of cedar trees taken up on the land north of Chelsea and taken to Ann Arbor, where they were transplanted around some of the University buildings.

John Young of Lyndon has on exhibition in the show window at F. W. Merkel's store, a Hubbard squash that weighs 44 pounds. The squash was grown on Mr. Young's farm.

Between 25 and 30 automobiles are parked every day on Harrison street which are driven here by pupils from the rural districts who are attending the Chelsea High school. A number of cars are also parked on Congdon street by the students who are in daily attendance at St. Mary's school.

Chelsea High romped over Northville, 20-6, Friday. The second victory for Chelsea this year. The team has the "winning habit" now and we hope they don't break it. However, the high school would appreciate an increase of support on the part of the townspeople.

Thursday, Oct. 3, 1918—Mrs. A. A. Harper has purchased the Clara Hammond residence on East street.

Deputy Game Warden Otto Rohn has placed 60 ring-necked pheasants on farms in Washtenaw county. The state game department is endeavoring to secure a large number of flocks of pheasants in every part of the state.

Audubon Society Arranges Annual Lecture-Picture Series

Once again the Washtenaw Audubon Society and the Adult Education department of the public schools have arranged a brilliant motion picture-lecture series, offered in the interest of wildlife protection, wise use of natural resources and conservation education. This non-profit screen forum brings the finest of our natural history lecturers—who personally present the best in all-color outdoor motion pictures on a variety of wildlife subjects.

It is a series of six pictures, the first being "The Voice of the Jungle," presented in person Oct. 4 by Dr. Arthur Allen, distinguished ornithologist of Cornell University. He has recorded some of the sounds of the jungle and reproduces them to accompany the film. During World War II the U. S. armed services used this picture to aid the servicemen in overcoming their fears of the unusual jungle noises.

Meetings will be held in the Pottenger auditorium of Ann Arbor High school and program dates are as follows:

Oct. 4—Dr. Arthur Allen with "The Voice of the Jungle."

Oct. 18—Dr. Walter J. Breckenridge, "Paul Bunyan Country."

Nov. 22—Dr. Olin Sewall Pettigill, Jr., "In the Hills of Gold."

Jan. 10—Karl Maslowski, with "Earthquake Lake."

Feb. 14—Carl W. Buchheister, "Wildlife Down East."

March 21—Howard Cleaves, with "Animals Unaware."

Tickets are available for the series from Mrs. Schwenkmeier, 2565 West Ellsworth road, Ann Arbor.

Trailer Families

More than 1,500,000 Americans live in trailers today, most of them staying in the 7,500 trailer parks which provide parking space, electric connections, and sanitary facilities. A greater percentage of trailer owners use their "mobile homes" as year-round residences than ever before.

Our Neighbors

Stockbridge—The Stockbridge Public school opened this year with a record number of pupils enrolling. A total of 642 students have registered and it appears that there are others still to enroll. This is about 25 more than the top enrollment last year.

As of Monday there were 1090 children attending school in the newly reorganized school district with a number still to report.—Stockbridge Brief-Sun.

South Lyon—For the first time in years a passenger train stopped here Sunday, Sept. 28.

South Lyon is one of the communities the 15th anniversary mixed-train special of the Michigan Railroad club of Detroit will stop here.

Operating over the Grand Trunk Western between Detroit and Jackson, via Pontiac, the special train will carry more than 400 persons, all club members or rail fans. The depot at South Lyon is one of the special subjects camera enthusiasts want in their collection, according to requests for picture stops being made to the club.—South Lyon Herald.

South Lyon—Within the past three weeks, six new homes and a garage have been started in and near South Lyon. The garage, a 40 x 60 structure, is being built by Art Walker on Donovan street.—South Lyon Herald.

Rochester—Although Rochester has a modern building code and is prohibiting every type of building which might be below the standards for greatest safety, beauty and utility, there still exists in the business district, as well as in other areas, many buildings which are unsafe and which constitute a fire hazard, it was stated at the council meeting on Monday evening by Village President Cy Millard and by Councilman Frank Revold.

The statement touched off a lively discussion of what means can be used to rush the elimination of these hazards, all of which were built back in the "Good Old Days" before building codes, income taxes and zoning ordinances. Miller advocates condemning the old buildings.—Rochester Clarion.

Dexter—It is known that 89 Dexter residents who are otherwise qualified to vote, have not registered.—Dexter Leader.

Buchanan—A spearpoint dating back to the first men implanted on the western hemisphere, the Folsom Man, was found in this vicinity about three weeks ago by Clarence Dunbar, according to the verdict of members of the Southwestern Michigan Archeologists Society at Sodus, Sunday.

The point was identified by the members as being identical to Folsom objects unearthed by the Smithsonian Institute near Greeley, Colo.—Berrien County Record.

South Lyon—The political campaign is getting red-hot here in South Lyon. We understand that Max Scheel and Luther Freese have made a wager. If St. Francis is elected president, Max will wheel Luther around the business section of South Lyon in a wheelbarrow. If Elsie Lyon in a wheelbarrow, we are all in for a good show after the election Nov. 4.—South Lyon Herald.

We have no idea what Sherman would call the sort of war now going on between the United Nations and Red China.

New Electronic Science Born in Cottage

(This is the last of a series of four articles on the coming of a national television service.)

A small Cape Cod cottage which sits atop a wooded hill on the outskirts of Bridgeport, Conn., is the cradle of a new electronic science. For two years, field tests on the transmission of television signals in the upper regions of the air waves have centered around the cottage. Out of these tests has come a new system of video transmission that will soon have a very real impact on the life of residents of Tazoo City, Miss., and Thief River Falls, Minn., and Wolf Point, Mont.

In many ways, the cottage is a symbol of pioneering in the twentieth century. Its plain white walls, its austere design are a transplant from early New England. The knobby hill on which it rests bears the appropriate Yankee title of "Success Hill."

Center of Interest
Despite its lack of pretension, the cottage has been a prime attraction in recent months for government leaders, for scores of executives in the radio and television industry, for some of the nation's outstanding electronic scientists, engineers and technicians. Even the Connecticut State Police have been lured there for extra-curricular duties.

Since December 30, 1949, the little cottage on Success Hill has housed the first and only Ultra-High Frequency television station in the nation which operates on a regular daily basis. It has been the field headquarters for the television industry's march into the untapped UHF band.

The station was built by the Radio Corporation of America and the National Broadcasting Company as the culminating move in a long campaign to find sufficient space in the air waves for a national television service. A lofty 200-foot UHF transmitting tower was erected outside the cottage. The interior was stocked with television transmitting equipment. Inside, it looked much like any other station, but its special tubes and circuits were designed for UHF rather than VHF channels now standard for video transmissions.

Bridgeport was picked for the field tests because the undulations of its terrain make line-of-sight television transmission difficult. In addition, it lies in a "fringe" television area, picking up remote signals from New York and New Haven.

Under these extreme test conditions, the Bridgeport station, which was given the experimental designation of K02XAK by the Federal Communications Commission, began picking up the video signals of Station WNET, the National Broad-

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest thanks to our neighbors, relatives and friends who have shared with us during the illness of our dear husband and father, and at the time of his passing. Their expressions of sympathy and their kind consideration will always be remembered. We would also like to express our appreciation to Rev. Brueckner for his comforting words, and the choir for their songs.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to my friends for the many lovely cards, flowers and fruit that were sent me during my illness. Special thanks to the second operation department of the Federal Screw Works for their remembrances.

Turning over a new leaf doesn't count so much as the writing done on it.

casting Company's New York outlet which beams off the Empire State antenna. These signals, in turn, were rebroadcast via UHF to Bridgeport area.

To pick up this broadcast, engineers of the RCA Victor Division designed and built 50 UHF experimental sets, and 50 tuners to permit present set owners to receive both UHF and VHF telecasts.

The test equipment, together with various experimental receiving antennas, was installed in local homes within a 25 mile radius of Success Hill. In about half the homes, there were no receivers and service men installed both UHF and VHF antennas. This permitted comparison of the pictures picked up direct from New York and New Haven with those beamed over the Bridgeport experimental unit.

There were hundreds of offers of voluntary cooperation from residents of Bridgeport and its suburbs. The homes selected for the tests were carefully spotted to obtain a full area study. Engineers made regular rounds of the test homes over a period of months to analyze the pictures and to compile reception ratings.

But even this was not enough for a full picture. A station wagon was equipped with precise measuring equipment and receivers, and a truck was fitted out with a collapsible antenna that could be quickly elevated. The State Police came into the picture here with escorting cars for the mobile unit.

Making Signal Patterns

Up and down parkways, highways, country roads and lanes, the unique electronic caravan rolled along with police cars fore and aft. Frequently it halted to make signal patterns and traffic would detour on police order.

Nearly all of the television industry moved into Bridgeport on the invitation of RCA. Sixty-four manufacturers, in fact, descended on the industrial town to use the UHF signals. In hotel rooms, homes, stores and display rooms, the technicians of the industry designed and set up equipment that would pick up the unwavering signal from Success Hill. They developed tuners to be attached to present sets; they perfected new antennas; they devised effective equipment for combined UHF-VHF reception.

Members of the Federal Communications Commission, headed by Chairman Wayne Coy, visited the workshop. RCA engineers and technicians maintained a steady flow of information into the Commission headquarters, and on the basis of this technical data the plan for a national service began to take shape. In August and September of 1951, Mr. Coy and more than a hundred engineers from TV stations throughout America attended demonstrations of the latest UHF equipment. They saw a clear, flickerless picture brought in by a variety of tuners.

At last UHF was ready. Mr. Coy spoke of 3,000 television stations in America "soon," with two-thirds to three-quarters in the UHF band. "I am sold on UHF," the FCC chairman declared, and the industry echoed his words.

Service to Mankind

This demonstration marked the culmination of a long scientific journey. Scientists like Dr. H. H. Beverage, Dr. H. O. Peterson, Dr. George H. Brown and Dr. Irving Wolf, of RCA Laboratories, and engineers like O. B. Hanson and Raymond Buy of NBC had worked as a team. Their joint efforts harnessed a vast new section of the spectrum to the service of mankind.

One yardstick for measuring the speed with which the country might accept this expanded UHF-VHF service is the growth of radio, the older broadcasting twin. It was just 25 years ago that NBC broadcast the first network radio program to the 5,000,000 set owners in America.

Today, there are 2,400 AM and 680 FM radio stations in America. Daily broadcasts reach 95 percent of the country. More than 105,000,000 radio sets have been sold. There are more than 43,000,000 radio equipped homes. It can be claimed, without exaggeration, that in a quarter-century radio has become as much a household utility as the electric light or the telephone.

All signs indicate that television will acquire a comparable status in the next decade. The industry, in typical private enterprise fashion, has gambled millions on the perfection of VHF and the development of UHF. It has paved the way for small-town television, and the speed with which the small towns capitalize on this opportunity is in part a local question.

Under FCC procedure, television station license applications will be accepted for a fixed period. It is then the responsibility of local people—businessmen, educators, newspaper publishers, bankers, labor and religious leaders—to see that local license applications are filed and that the opportunity does not go by default.

The government won't build the stations. The broadcast industry operates under the old American tradition of free enterprise. Industry can provide the equipment; the government can provide the license, but the final decision on whether their towns will be linked to the world via television.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish in this way to thank my many friends for the beautiful flowers and cards during my stay at the hospital and at home; especially the FOE Auxiliary and St. Mary's Altar Society, and a special thanks to Mrs. Rosie McGibney.

Requests Sample of U. S. Skunk Essence

Derrell H. Kniss, predatory animal control officer for the Michigan Conservation department, recently received a request from Finland for a "small amount of skunk essence." The request was contained in a letter from the Finnish Game Foundation of the Game Research Institute, in Helsinki.

The letter explained that interested Finnish trappers wished to obtain the essence for experimental purposes. It seems there are no skunks in Finland.

The letter to Kniss followed publication of his article "Scents and Lures," which was published in Finland's official government game magazine, "Suomen Riista."

Kniss said he has also received requests recently from countries in South America for castors, the dried scent glands of beavers, together with their dried secretions. (Ed. Note: Kniss had no trouble finding plenty of skunks in Michigan. Request complied with.)

HARD LUCK STORY OF THE YEAR

You and I have heard many a tale of woe from fishermen in our time—stories of sea monsters that got away, alibis for coming home empty-handed, and sweeping statements to the effect that there "never were any fish in that lake—anyway."

But the season's most dismal wall, and one that will bring genuine tears to the eyes of thousands of fellow-fishermen, is told by Eugene Elcher of Detroit. Brother Elcher is a reputable business man, vice president of Harry Suffrin, Inc., and is not addicted to exaggeration. Besides, he had many witnesses. "Ike," as he is affectionately known to his many friends, was fishing on Houghton Lake last Memorial Day, trolling leisurely with a fly rod along the edge of one of the many weed banks in search of walleyes, he had a sudden strike, set the hook, and failed to move the fish more than a few inches from the bottom. Actually there was not a great deal of commotion at the beginning, and Ike figured it was another dogfish—a species which is somewhat common to the lake, and which displays these not too sporty fighting tactics.

In fact our hero was so sure of this that he halted a passing boat and mentioned disgustedly that his rod was suddenly supporting a dogfish. Soon the gallery grew larger. A well-strained rod will always draw a pretty good crowd. When the "dogfish" suddenly surfaced and splashed water for 20 feet with the sweep of an enormous tail, Ike and everybody else suddenly found out how big bass can grow in Houghton Lake. After a terrifying and agonizing battle, during which the fly rod lost much of its future usefulness—the monster was boated. Old-time Houghton Lakers gathered in nearby boats, and gasped. Ike just about stopped breathing. It was a gigantic small-mouth bass, all agreed. Out came the tested and proven "De-Liar" pocket scales. The needle wiggled, then settled at 7 1/2 pounds! Every one knew that Ike had a prize-winner this time, for, as every angler can tell you a small-mouth bass of such dimensions is a once-in-a-million-life-time catch. And to cap the climax it was caught on a fly rod!

Ike carefully and thoroughly placed the fish on a strong, snap-hook type chain stringer, threaded the chain between the boat rail and the gunwale, but, in his understandable excitement failed to wrap the end around the rail. Instead, he snapped the end faster back on the chain itself, under the rail.

Soon another boatload of anglers came along, for the big news had spread fast. "Let's see that record-breaking small-mouth," they called. And Ike was proud to grab the stringer at the water's edge, and to hold up the great fish for all to see. As he dropped it back, the weight of that wonderful bass pulled the stringer through the rail. Horror swept the faces of the spectators. The luckless Mr. Elcher frantically and vainly reached for the sinking prize. And hours later, after dragging thousands of square yards of the bottom, the citizens of Houghton Lake gave up. Gloom settled over the community. Eugene Elcher returned to Detroit in exceedingly low spirits, and if any fishermen reading this column have a more fearful tale to tell I have yet to hear it in Michigan Outdoors!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.
