

Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, leaves his post next June 30 to become dean of education at Michigan State College.

The intent listener might hear a gasp as the high school superintendent of the department over who will be nominated by the GOP state convention Feb. 21.

Top men on the pole are Dr. C. L. Taylor, deputy superintendent, and Dr. John S. Haisma, assistant superintendent.

But there is a fly in the ointment. Both men are "available" to succeed their boss—and both men are state civil service employees.

The rub is that according to civil service commission ruling, no worker under its jurisdiction may become a candidate for elective office unless he resigns outright or takes a leave of absence at the time petitions are filed.

From here on it gets complicated. Since this is a spring election no petition will be filed—the GOP nominee will be selected at the state convention.

Taylor and Haisma figure they can keep on working until convention time, and then the chosen one will take a leave of absence until the April 6 election.

But Arthur G. Rasch, civil service chief, announces that it is his interpretation that the political candidacy rule becomes effective when an employee makes any move to win the nomination—and that includes early jockeying before the convention.

The question is—are they candidates before the convention meets to select the party representative? Mr. Rasch says yes. Messrs Taylor and Haisma say no.

Two other gentlemen surely will be interested in the outcome. They are William Emerson, Oakland county school superintendent, and George Schutt, member of the field staff of Central Michigan College.

Robert Poe, vitriolic outspoken lobbyist for the Michigan CIO council, has waxed bitter over Gov. Williams' appointment of James M. Moses, Marshall publisher to the civil service commission.

It would appear that the CIO was thumping for Walter Krapohl, Flint attorney.

Mr. Poe made it clear—as only he can—that his union might easily be very busy with other things when the Democrats look for help in the spring election.

Michigan now has 6,000 doctors. Not an earthshaking statement, but compared to the war years when the number of medical men dropped to 3,900, it's a comforting feeling.

The recent increase in the number of physicians may be partly due to the liberalization of basic science and medical practice requirements in 1952. That year, permit doctors from foreign countries to practice in Michigan on one-year licenses while they are becoming U. S. citizens.

"While we still don't have a doctor for every community," says William J. Burns, executive secretary of the Michigan State Medical society, "we have gained several hundred practitioners in the last year."

Michigan's civil defense corps officially has accepted defeat to its once extensive plans for the defense of the state.

Last year the department asked for $3,000,000. It got $557,778 from economy-minded legislators. It was a blow, but Brig. Gen. Lester J. Matland, civil defense director, with army stoicism, scrapped extensive plans and concentrated on cutting down his staff.

This year budget drafters report he is asking for only $730,782 for 1953-54 to maintain a nucleus organization of workers.

After his elaborate plans and preparedness schedules had been scuttled, Matland was forced to escape his activities into purely administrative functions.

Another year with a sizeable budget and staff would have gotten the program rolling. . . he said. But he says his present staff (the cutback) can handle extension of the corps if disaster strikes, with the addition of a few key workers.

Expectant Mother Classes Begin Today After Postponement

The first of the 1953 series of classes for expectant mothers, scheduled to begin last Thursday, was cancelled because of the bad driving conditions which prevented several of the group from attending. The first session, therefore, is being held at 2:30 this afternoon, Jan. 15.

This first lesson will be on the topic, "How Your Baby Grows Before Birth." The lesson includes movies.

Any expectant mother is welcome to attend.

Lessons will be held on successive Thursdays.

The course is offered by the Washtenaw County Health Department in cooperation with physical classes in Chelsea and Ann Arbor. Miss Belle McKinney, public health nurse, is the instructor.

Expectant mothers may contact the Washtenaw County Health Department or Mrs. James Daniels, if desired.

The lessons are given in the social center of the Methodist church.

Bonding Bid Accepted for Court House

Supervisors Approve Chicago Trust Firm's Financing Proposal

The $3,250,000 Courthouse bond issue bid submitted by the Northern Trust company, of Chicago, was accepted by the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

Interest rate figure on the bonds is 2.25 per cent. This brings the amount of interest on the entire bond issue to $751,437.50.

The winning bid and one by Halsey, Stuart & Co. of New York, were the only ones submitted.

The Halsey, Stuart & Co. bid was for an interest rate of 2.2974 per cent. Amount of interest at that rate would have been a total of $783,933.75, or $32,496.25 higher.

The bids were opened Tuesday morning at the Courthouse at Ann Arbor, in the presence of County Clerk Luella M. Smith, Prosecutor Edmund F. DeVine and John H. Nunneley of the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, bonding counsel for the Board of Supervisors, and representatives of the two bonding companies.

According to company plans, the money, when turned over to the county, is to be invested in short-term government bonds to help pay the interest as it becomes due before actual construction begins.

School Board Given Report on Noon Hour Supervision

At the school board meeting Tuesday evening a report was given on the arrangements for noon-hour supervision at the new elementary school. Mrs. Robert Hochrein is in charge of the all-purpose room where pupils eat the noon lunches they bring with them and where they may remain if the weather is bad or if they do not care to play outdoors.

Two high school girls, Shirley Weir and Mary Bauer, assist with the noon-hour supervision, one being in charge of the west side playground for later elementary grades and one supervising the early elementary grades who have their playground at the south side of the building.

Children who live any distance from school are permitted to bring their lunches when the weather is bad.

It was noted at the meeting that at present, approximately 50 additional children are being transported to school by bus and bus routes are being studied as to possibilities for improving service.

Plans were discussed for filling in the playgrounds and the hollowed-out spot in front of the building in preparation for spring work on the grounds.

Announcement was made that Supt. Charles S. Cameron is to attend the meetings of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, in Grand Rapids, Jan. 22 through 24.

During the war he served as Director of Planning for the War Manpower Commission and also as advisor of Manpower and Labor Relations in the Office of War Relocation and Reconstruction.

He has also served as a consultant to many state and national commissions and committees in his field. He has been a member of the National Advisory Council on Social Security and of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission. As State Relief Administrator from 1933 to 1937, he was responsible for the administration of the emergency relief for Michigan. As Executive Director of the National Refugee Service in 1939-41, Dr. Haber has also had a major responsibility in connection with the immigration of refugees.

Safety Council Offers Advice on Winter Driving

"The motorist gains when he uses chains," Chief of Police George W. Doe said today in a statement about "sound advice for snow and ice" to Chelsea motorists.

"The worst winter driving conditions are probably still ahead of us," the chief said in explaining his statement, "and my department is making an all-out effort to combat winter driving hazards and thus reduce accidents and traffic tie-ups."

The chief then quoted a scientific test report about special tires and tire chains on both snow and ice.

He furnished him by the National Safety Council. It's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards, made up of automotive experts from state and federal public safety officials, reported to Chief Doe as follows:

Re Special Tires

"Motorists must realize that all tires, excepting big truck tires, are now largely made of synthetic rubber. Synthetic tires wear better, perform normally on dry and wet pavements and have other advantages; but on ice and snow they skid about 8 per cent farther and have 14 to 35 per cent poorer average forward traction ability than pre-war natural rubber tires."

"During recent years, a wide variety of special tires, intended to increase traction on slippery surfaces, have been put on the market. Some of these special tires have been produced by cutting or lacerating the tread of a conventional type of tire. A somewhat similar surface treatment has consisted of imbedding minute particles of a number of materials, such as salt, sawdust, steel chips, etc., in the tread. All of these tires with these types of surface treatment have been intended to improve traction on hard slippery surfaces, such as glare ice and hard-packed snow. Other specialized tires are of special tread design, such as the mud-snow and lug types, generally characterized by deep treads, studs, or knobs. These are, of course, intended primarily for giving added traction in snow. Still another type of specialized tire for winter driving consists of a basic lug-type tire which has been given some kind of surface treatment. The latter types are intended to give superior traction both on snow and on ice."

Not The Answer

"The Committee's tests have shown that there is quite a range in performance with these types of tires. Some of them perform quite well under specific conditions but many of them do not do a really good all-around job. In other words, some of these tires may give improved forward traction or pulling ability on ice, but provide little or nothing over a conventional tire on snow. After studying some 25 different tires of this type in its several test projects, the Committee has concluded that while the

Basketball Team Wins from Milan

Meet Flat Rock in League Contest Friday Evening

Chelsea's Bulldogs opened the new year with a 49-43 victory over the Milan Big Reds last Friday evening on the home floor.

A hard-fought game gave the spectators a demonstration of some fine shooting on both sides. Better cooperation on the part of some members of the local team, plus a better pattern of team play is probably responsible for the improved showing of the squad. Further improvement in team play may well see the Bulldogs through a successful season.

The first quarter score was tied at 13-13 with only seconds remaining, when Neil Buehler took a long shot and broke the tie as the first quarter ended, 15-13.

The second quarter was just as exciting with Milan at Chelsea's heels trying to tie the score, but Chelsea held its own during the better part of the period as the half ended, 28-24.

At the end of the half Bob White held scoring honors, with seven points. Bob Bertke had added six. Dearly Masters sank 11 points for Milan.

Chelsea held its lead during the third period as the quarter ended, 41-30.

The final quarter was tense and exciting as Milan closed the gap between the teams and victory was many Chelsea spectators a mild case of heart trouble for a time. The Bulldogs never gave up and came out on top, 49-43.

Bob White earned the scoring honors for the evening as he led the Bulldogs with 17 points, followed by Joe Greenwood and Dick Bares with 11 and 9 points, respectively.

Chelsea made 71 per cent of their charity tosses, while Milan made 69 per cent.

The Bulldogs put a hard-fought game as they put up one of their toughest battles, only to lose to the "B" team, 39-25. Dave DeCharme paced the victors with 12 points.

Tomorrow night Chelsea travels to Flat Rock for another real challenge. Game time is 6:45.

Spears 38-inch Pike Through Ice at Half Moon Lake

Mrs. Julius Herman, fishing through the ice in three feet of water near the shore of Half Moon lake last Friday, hauled in a 38-inch pike that weighed 14 pounds.

She said she had been out only about 15 minutes and was fishing from the shanty near the shore because the ice was thin.

The huge fish gave her considerable trouble before she managed to land it after spearing it.

The day before, hauling in the huge pike, Mrs. Herman had caught four white fish of the variety known as ciscoes.

MARCH OF DIMES MAIL—The pleased expressions on the faces of Mrs. Herbert Sanborn and Postmaster Carl Mayer in the above photo, is the result of the fine response being given the annual appeal for funds for the fight against infantile paralysis. Mrs. Sanborn is chairman and Postmaster Mayer, treasurer of the 1953 March of Dimes campaign. Dime cards mailed out to rural residents are enclosed in envelopes bearing an Ann Arbor return address but the inner envelopes in which the cards are to be returned, are addressed to the Chelsea post office and proceeds are thus credited to the Chelsea fund. The dime cards are sent to residents of the community who might not otherwise be reached. Contributions from this source are considered an important item in the total results of the campaign.

Injured Spikehorn Deer Undergoes Leg Amputation

A 70-pound spikehorn buck is recovering from an operation for the amputation of approximately eight inches of its left hind leg which will probably be ready to be released and returned to its natural state within a week, according to Conservation Officer Donley Boyer, at whose home the operation was performed Sunday afternoon.

Boyer believes the deer will be able to fend for itself very well as soon as the leg is healed.

The operation was performed by Dr. Wilfred Lane, assisting him in holding the animal on an improvised operating table at the Boyer home were Dr. L. J. Paul, Roland Spaulding, Tom McClear, Charles Lane and Boyer. A local anesthetic was administered.

The deer had sustained a compound fracture of the leg when chased by three dogs on the John Sullivan farm Friday afternoon. Charles Sullivan had called Boyer when he discovered the outlaw dogs harrying the deer.

Boyer scattered the dogs when he shot at two of them, and with the help of the Sullivans, father and son, cornered the deer and roped it.

It was at first believed the deer was beyond help as it was bleeding from the nose as well as from the leg wound. Using a tourniquet, Boyer stopped the spurting blood and loaded the animal in the trunk of his car and brought it home.

The decision to operate on the leg followed when examination disclosed, after the deer had rested, that there were no further injuries in addition to the broken leg.

It is believed the exhausted deer became entangled in a fence in its efforts to get away from the dogs and broke its leg in freeing itself.

Boyer has been keeping the animal in a hush house. Monday morning the deer got up and actually rested its weight on the injured leg which Dr. Lane had fitted with a special pad.

Until the deer got on its legs Monday morning it had eaten none of the hay, oats and corn Boyer had put within reach. When it began to eat Monday, Boyer said, he was sure the animal would recover.

THE CENTRAL IDEA

Things you'd like to know about your Railroad

You and Your
Salt-Water Railroaders

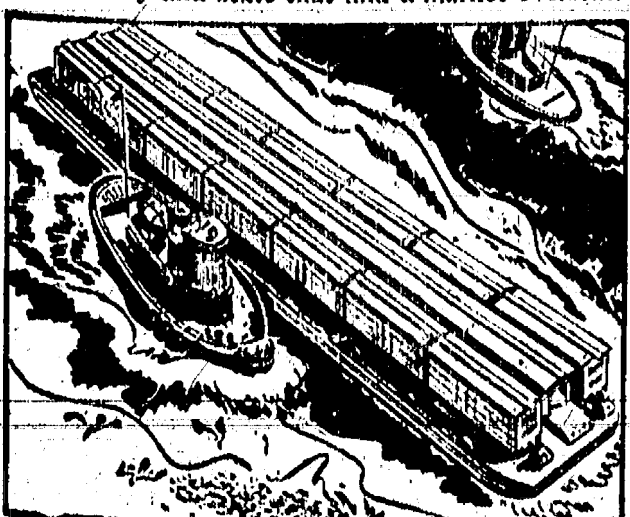

NEW YORK CENTRAL SYSTEM

1. LOOK AROUND YOUR HOUSE. The spices in your kitchen... the rubber on your electric wires... the finish on your furniture came by sea. And New York Central met the boat... just as it catches the boat with products of your community and state that find a market overseas.

2. AT ATLANTIC PORTS, New York Central serves multi-million-dollar docks... like this efficient banana interchange terminal. Here, incoming cargoes of the luscious tropic fruit move by mechanical conveyor from refrigerated ships to refrigerator cars, on the way to your table.

3. THAT'S NOT ALL! Besides great, modern docks, New York Central has its own harbor fleet of tug, lighters and cargo floats. Plus its own "salt-water railroaders" who navigate those vessels as expertly as Central's switch-engine crews sort and shift cars in freight yards.

4. EVEN IN FAR LANDS, you'll find New York Central. For American Express acts as this Railroad's general overseas agent, to follow through on shipments. It's all part of a two-way service that benefits every community along Central's 11,000 miles. And that's the CENTRAL IDEA.

Slippery Roads Cause of Minor Property Damage Accidents

Chelsea police picked up a hit-and-run driver at US-12 and Manchester road Friday after the sheriff's department alerted the local police department to be on the look-out for him. He was arrested and taken to Ann Arbor on a charge of drunk driving and pleaded not guilty. He is to appear for a hearing Jan. 29.

Driving a pick-up truck, the driver, Erell Woods, of Ann Arbor, going east, reportedly drove his car into the westbound lane of the highway, hitting a car and continuing on his way without stopping. The incident occurred east of Jackson near the truck-weighing station.

Three minor property damage accidents occurred here during the past week, slippery roads being given as the cause.

At 1:20 p.m. Thursday, a car driven north on Flanders street by Mrs. Robert Foster, and a truck driven by Richard Hoelzer slid into each other as the truck was attempting to make a right turn, according to police reports.

A short time later at 1:45 p.m., a minor collision between cars driven by William Kolb and Leonard French occurred on East Middle street at the cemetery entrance. According to police records, the French car was attempting a U-turn at the time of the mishap.

Sunday, Clive Weir's car slid into Delbert White's car on North Main street in front of the Production Machining Co. plant. Damage to cars involved in the three accidents was reported as minor.

The season was considered successful considering the inexperience of the Chelsea team. Much valuable information was gained from the debates.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Pretty "Foxy" Terrier

Talking about dogs the other night—and Sandy Johnson topped everything off with a tall story about his fox terrier, "Bosom."

According to Sandy, "Comes bird season and that dog won't stir if I take down my rifle. Same if it's deer season and I go for my shotgun—he won't move, but he's scratching at the door if I so much as look at my rifle!"

One day, Sandy decided to fool him. He took down both his shotgun and his rifle—and a wjsh, Bosom was on his way! So Sandy put the guns back and took out his fishing rod. He went outside and there was Bosom—digging like crazy for worms!

From where I sit, a dog that can outguess humans is as rare as a human that can outguess other humans. For instance, I like a glass of beer with lunch but I wouldn't think of pouring you one without first asking. Everybody has preferences—and it's finding out what they are and respecting them that keeps freedom from "going to the dogs."

World's newest

with a million miles behind it

HERE, in literal fact, is the most advanced V8 engine ever placed in a standard-production American automobile.

It is the first such V8 to reach an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio, and the first with a dynamic flow muffler that cuts power loss to zero.

It is the first V8 to utilize vertical valves together with a 12-volt electrical system instead of the usual 6. It is also the first designed with new "Y" type intake manifold to replace the "V" type conventionally used in V8s.

It is, quite simply, the first V8 Fireball Engine—the engine that brings electrifying performance to the greatest Buicks in fifty great years—the engine that powers the 1953 Buick ROADMASTER with 188 hp., and the 1953 Buick SUPER with up to 170.

Naturally, this spectacular new V8 has been proved—by eight years of developing, testing, improving, perfecting—and by more than a million miles of driving through desert, mountains, cities and plains. Only then did Buick engineers mark it: Released for Production.

But these hard-to-please engineers gave these Golden Anniversary Buicks far more than new power.

They gave them, too, a still finer ride, more superb comfort, new braking power and handling ease—and a sensational new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive* that adds new quiet and whip-fast getaway to absolute smoothness.

Nothing, we believe, will do more justice to your automobile dollars—or to your love of magnificent motoring—than a visit to us right now.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

now... Free-Swing IMPLEMENTS

ONE master hitchpoint! Around that key idea, Allis-Chalmers has developed a new principle of tractor farming. It's the Allis-Chalmers FREE-SWING system of hitching implements.

FREE-SWING does five important things:

1. Makes hitching minute-quick.
2. Allows implements to go where led.
3. Helps steering. Single master hitchpoint is ahead of rear axle.
4. Permits shorter turns on contours.
5. Lets plow dodge obstructions.

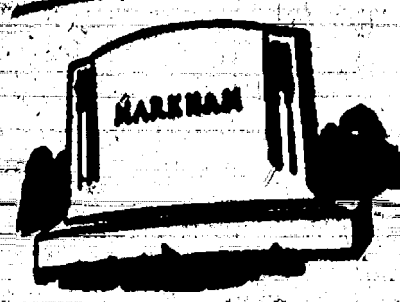

Test Allis-Chalmers FREE-SWING implements on your farm. See us for a demonstration plow, disc harrow, subsoiler, or drill planter.
