Grid Team Loses First League Tilt

Friday's Contest Against Roosevelt Is Key to Season

Chelsea High's Bulldogs dropped their league opener to Lincoln last Friday night in a fumble-marked game.

Lincoln tallied in the second quarter as Steve Lindemeyer passed to Tom Hodge for a 25-yard gain to place the ball on Chelsea's 10. On the next play Lindemeyer carried on a cross buck. Kerry Decons scored the extra point in a drive up the middle.

Chelsea had two fine scoring chances but saw fumbles ruin both. In the first quarter the Bulldogs moved from their 30 to Lincoln's 28 before a fumble stopped the drive. The offensive line of Jay Ferguson, Joe Bauer, George Collier, Don Mahan, Glenn Weir, Tim Squille and Bud Guest sparked the drive as they opened nice holes for the backs. John Jones contributed a fine 15-yard run in the drive.

In the closing minutes of the first quarter the Bulldogs started to drive again. A strong running attack featuring the sweeps of Jones, Jim McLaughlin and Odie Richardson moved the ball to the Lincoln 11 where a heartbreaking fumble lost the ball and a chance for a possible tie.

Lincoln's Bulldogs will play the key game of the season. A loss will drop them two games behind the league leaders. A win will place them only one game behind and in excellent position to overtake the leaders.

Roosevelt will furnish the opposition for this week's game, to be played at the athletic field starting at 7:30 p.m. Roosevelt also will be seeking its first win of the season. They dropped their opener to Clinton 20-18, and last week lost to Milan, 12-7.

Kiwanians had as their guests at Monday's ladies' night meeting and guest night, the teachers of the Chelsea schools. The teachers were introduced by Superintendent of Schools Charles S. Cameron.

The program feature of the evening was a talk by Robert Brown of Swartz Creek, who told of his experiences in Germany as a good-will representative of approximately 150 organizations of the United States. Brown actually lived the life of the German people during his stay and gained a thorough understanding of their ways and their opinions about the division of their country as well as their opinions of the United States and the world situation in general.

Brown, who is a high school teacher, was introduced by H. T. Moore.

Monday's meeting was held in the social center of the Methodist church.

A board of directors meeting, scheduled for last night, was postponed until Oct. 5.

NO MORE GRINDING—"Manny" and Sarah Bahnmiller will discontinue grinding feed at their place of business on Madison street on Saturday of this week after operating the E. J. Bahnmiller feed mill for 19 years. Mrs. Bahnmiller has been helping her husband at the mill the past few years, having started during the war years when help was hard to find. With the exception of seven years early in his career when he was an engineer at the Glazier power plant, "Manny" has been connected with the feed and grain business in this community during all his working years. In 1915 he began business operating a custom thrasher which he stored in a shed on the present feed mill location. He first used a steam engine threshing outfit, later converting to gasoline. Even after starting his feed mill business he continued his threshing for farmers of the area for two years. He sold the outfit in 1938. Mr. and Mrs. Bahnmiller said they plan to "take things easy" after their many years in business.

Rod-Gun Club Annual Jamboree Scheduled Tonight

The annual "jamboree" of the Chelsea Rod and Gun club is being held tonight at the Chelsea Implement company building on Manchester road, with approximately 200 members and guests expected to attend.

This get-together, according to the club president, William Schatz, is where sportsmen meet to exchange yarns, have a "swell" dinner and spend an evening in good fellowship. For many years, it has been a social highlight of the club's annual activities.

Scout Court Of Honor Set For Tuesday

A Boy Scout Court of Honor is to be held in the South Elementary school next Tuesday, Oct. 4. It has been announced. Mothers of the boys have planned a pot-luck dinner to be served at 6:30 p.m.

The evening program will include awarding of all merit and advancement badges which have been earned the past summer.

Jim Bailey, Ann Arbor Boy Scout who attended the international jamboree in Toronto recently, will be a guest at the meeting.

Keith Poulson, new Scoutmaster here, will preside at the Court of Honor.

Scout activities of the past week included a "mystery rendezvous" for the fall camporee last week-end and a dinner for executive board members and their wives at St. Mary's school dining room Tuesday evening, Sept. 20.

The dinner preceded the first fall executive board meeting of the Portage Trails Council. Approximately 50 board members and guests attended. A social gathering for the ladies was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mayer during the business session.

The "mystery rendezvous" for Boy Scouts and leaders began Friday night with Scouts receiving orders in Morse code to proceed to Camp Newkirk where they had a campfire program and camped overnight.

Saturday morning, again in Morse code, they received orders to break camp and proceed to location at the rear of the new high school building in Ann Arbor.

Here the boys who were to usher at the Michigan-Missouri football game were excused to go to the stadium. The remaining Scouts were surprised a little later when a drum and bugle corps arrived and invited them to join a parade to the stadium where arrangements had been made for all the boys to attend the game.

The Boy Scouts returned to the camp in Ann Arbor and remained overnight, returning home early Sunday morning.

A total of 17 Scouts attended the camporee and were accompanied by Scoutmaster Poulson and Elwyn Beach. Other adults who stayed with the boys part of the time included Edwin Dickelman, Dr. E. J. Sutter and Alfred Mayer.

New assistant leaders of Boy Scouts here are Robert Staub and Albert Poul.

Dates Set for Community Chest Drive

Chelsea's second annual Community Chest drive for funds is scheduled to take place Oct. 11 through 24. Alfred D. Mayer, campaign chairman, has announced. The date was set at the September meeting of the Community Chest board of directors held Wednesday evening of last week in the Council room of the Municipal building.

At that meeting the budget committee made its recommendation for the amounts to be raised for the various benefiting agencies and a 1955-56 budget of $9,650 was approved.

Assisting Mayer in the coming campaign will be Lowell Davison, in charge of labor and industry; M. W. McClure, for business and professional solicitation; Mrs. Walter Mohrlock, village and residential; and Mrs. Warren Daniels, for organizations. A rural area worker is still to be named.

A "kick-off" luncheon at the Congregational church at noon, Oct. 11, will officially start the Community Chest campaign. All workers are to attend the luncheon.

At the meeting Wednesday evening Woodrow Gullett was appointed to serve on the Community Chest board of directors to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Earl Osborne.

The budget of $9,650, set for this year's campaign goal, is $650 more than last year's goal of $9,000.

The financial report given at the board of directors' meeting last week made note of the fact that a $1,000 contingency fund, included in last year's budget, has been set aside for that purpose, and $2,843.64 of last year's fund has been put into a reserve fund to be used in case of emergency only.

A resolution to that effect was passed by the board of directors at the September meeting.

Jack Merkel and Don Houle are co-chairmen of publicity for this year's campaign.

Mrs. Holmes is requesting that volunteers who may find it possible to help at the clinic, call her as soon as possible and offer their services. She said that, in addition to the Red Cross personnel, the following will be needed: four registrars, six nurses' aides and two registered nurses.

Special Services To Commemorate Enlarged Facilities

The Congregational church is holding a dedicatory service Sunday morning for the newly rededicated church and for the new Sunday school addition, although the Sunday school rooms are not yet ready for use. Announcement of the service was made by Rev. T. Toy, pastor of the church.

Original plans called for all work to be completed in time to permit use of the church school building early in September. The rededication service was accordingly set for the first Sunday in October and Rev. Coral E. Badger was secured as the special speaker for the occasion. Rev. Badger is assistant to the superintendent of Michigan Congregational Christian Conference.

The service Sunday will be held at 10:30 a.m. and will be followed by a coffee hour in charge of the Women's Fellowship.

When the addition is fully completed open house will be held to permit friends and neighbors from other churches of the community to share in the joy of members of the Congregational church in this noteworthy accomplishment of the past year.

Members of the church, at a meeting Dec. 3, 1954, authorized the board of trustees to proceed with the extensive building improvement and expansion program which is now nearing completion. Plans have previously been drawn by Thomas Tanner of Ann Arbor, for the two-story fireproof addition to the north side of the church to provide adequate housing for a growing church school and to permit worship service and church school to be held simultaneously.

Sunday morning, Jan. 23, a service of commission was held for 20 canvassers who called that afternoon and evening on all members of the church to secure gifts and pledges. The financial campaign proved successful and the contract for the building was awarded to Davis and Winkelhaus, general contractors, of Ann Arbor. Ground was broken for the addition April 10.

During the summer the interior of the church, itself, was attractively redecorated by the Schanbacher company of Springfield, Ill., and the entire floor of the worship room of the church was covered with carpet in ecclesiastical red. The chancel platform was enlarged to provide more and better space for the choir and memorial gifts of a new pulpit and lectern added to the beauty of the church interior.

The new pulpit, in memory of Lewis P. Vogel, is being presented to the church by the Lewis P. Vogel estate, while the lectern, in memory of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Baldwin and family, is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jackowski and Mrs. Ivan Baldwin and children. The new pieces match the altar which was presented to the church Jan. 9, 1948, in memory of Kenneth Beach, who died while in military service during World War II.

A reproduction of Salzman's "Head of Christ," is the gift of Mrs. Henry Ahnemiller, in memory of her daughter, Betty Jane, and Mr. Ahnemiller.

Other improvement to the church property included installation of a new roof.

Howard Boyd Writes From Florida Home To Identify Ballplayer

Howard Boyd wrote The Standard from Lowes City, St. Petersburg, Fla., saying, "I just wish to be one of the many who will identify the member of that 1903 baseball team whose picture appeared in the issue of Sept. 8."

Boyd's letter continued as follows: "Many of my classmates are in that picture. Incidentally, I was a member of the organization until they all got too good for me and I was dropped from the roster. I was a member of the Congressional church team which merged with the Methodist church team to form the Junior Stars of 1903."

At the close of his letter Boyd mentioned that he was leaving by plane the next day to visit his brother, Warren Boyd, who is in failing health. The brother lives in San Francisco, Calif.

A number of local people had already identified the baseball player by the time Boyd's letter arrived. Among them were Mrs. J. V. Burg who called as soon as she received her paper Sept. 8, and Fred Haffey who came to the Standard office and related that he had played ball with many of those on the 1903 team.

DOGS

By Farley Manning

SMART DOGS

The more we observe dogs, especially their sagacity, instincts and temperment, the more we wonder whether dogs have changed very much through the years. It is true that the physical appearance of many breeds has been changed over the past century or so, but the mind and instincts of the dog remain unchanged; a fact for which we who love dogs should be thankful.

Away back in 1781, for example a story was told in England about a man who took lodgings in a boarding house under the pretense that he had just arrived from the West Indies. After agreeing on the rent, he said he would send his trunk that night and would come himself the next day. His trunk arrived on schedule and was carried into his bedroom. The story, as written in those faraway days, continues in these words:

"As the family was returning to bed, their little house-dog placed himself close to the chamber-door where the chest was deposited, and kept up an incessant barking. The moment the door was opened, the dog flew to the chest, against which it scratched and barked with redoubled fury."

The story goes on to say that the owners of the house finally opened the trunk, in which they found "to their utter astonishment," their new lodger, who had been carried into the house with the intention of robbing it during the night.

Although this incident took place 174 years ago, the "little house dog" is certainly a hero to all who are reading about him today, as are all canine heroes that carry on his tradition of sagacity and loyalty.

Black Bear's Finer Nature Disclosed In Peanut Butter Invoice

Lansing—A black bear is often looked on by the hoity-toity as a rugged, crude brute, totally without feeling or sensitivity. This is not nice, a rash, inaccurate and kin to certain outrageous feelings, sometimes generated against such noble and misunderstood souls as Reynard Fox, Ferdinand the Bull and Mithabel Cat.

Proof of Bruin's delicate nature turned up recently in a routine invoice of supplies from the Conservation Department's Cusino wildlife station. The bear research project had ordered five pounds of peanut butter.

"Peanut butter?" queried the business manager, another doubting Thomas, "What's that for?"

"For bear trapping," came the prompt answer. "We tried honey, rotten meat, fish heads, garbage, lots of stuff and they like it all okay, but to really get them in a live-trap you got to use peanut butter. That's the one that works best. They're kind of finicky, you know."

The invoice was approved.

Michigan's hard-pressed taxpayers took a breather of a sort when Gov. Williams disclosed an $18 million surplus.

But they still kept paying. The governor said that the increase in collections and a number of economies in state government had built up the surplus from the dust of a $65 million deficit two years ago.

It was at this point of fiscal desperation that the legislature passed the $30 million a year business activities tax. A business boom did the rest.

Republicans said this year's surplus would be more like $13 million. Rep. Rolfe G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of the House taxation committee said:

"The governor seems to be optimistic. Seers at the Capitol immediately predicted that agencies which have been pleading for years for more cash to run their services would renew their requests and the surplus would vanish."

"There will never be a tax reduction in state government," said one bureau chief. "Services may expand and more people may be hired, but no less money will be required."

Gov. Williams took the opportunity to blast Republicans in the legislature for paying down his appeal for more building money for state colleges and universities.

Republicans said the problems couldn't be solved with mere money, that a complete survey of the needs of higher education should be undertaken.

The study is now underway under the direction of Senator Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont), chairman of the Senate education committee.

"I will have something for the 1956 legislature," he said.

Ancient problem of what to do with an overflow of mentally retarded children is coming home to roost.

The governor is getting ready to call a special session of the legislature late in October to cope with the same issues that have bothered lawmakers in regular sessions for years.

The story has been told many times. There are more than 1,800 youngsters with mental problems who cannot be admitted to Lapeer Home and Training School because it already is overcrowded.

"Commitments have become a farce because there's no place to send these unfortunate," said a mental health expert.

During the last session, committees of both the House and Senate fought over bills which would take over tuberculous hospitals at Grayling and Howell for the care of mentally retarded children.

The battles were fought and lost. Tuberculosis officials pleaded that the space would be needed if those who already had contracted the disease could be found.

Grizzly problem of traffic death will also be considered at the special session. An 11 per cent increase in the number of fatalities for the first seven months of 1955 over last year was announced by State Police. This apparently convinced the governor that no more time was lost before taking action.

The legislators will again be asked to pass laws which will tighten driver licensing, reduce highway speeds and provide funds to maintain files of driver records. Existing law provides for files but money must be appropriated if records are to be kept properly.

These and other laws have been recommended in past years by the State Safety Commission, but proposals frequently became enmeshed in politics.

Farm groups have taken new heart in their campaign to move the state fair out of Detroit.

For years the drive has waxed hot and cold with charges flying that the Detroit fair is "a carnival" and that farmers have little opportunity to display their products in the proper atmosphere.

Latest impetus to the take-the-fair-outside campaign came with Michigan State University's centennial farm equipment exposition which drew thousands to the campus.

It was the first test of an out-state function devoted exclusively to farmers and their equipment.

The campaign to move the fair out of Detroit is getting hotter by the day," said George B. McIntyre, state director of agriculture.

Opponents of the idea say that the engineering and industrial exhibits, the sideshows and midway at Detroit is what makes the state fair solvent.

After years of deficits, the fair is now earning a small sum or "at least it's paying for itself," said McIntyre.

The final decision rests with the legislature, however, and its membership is still outstate-minded though Detroit and other metropolitan areas are gaining in influence.

Giant Prehistoric Animals Once Roamed Through State

Ann Arbor—The Giant Beaver, who lived in Michigan ten thousand years ago at the end of the Ice Age, was as large as the modern black bear, according to University of Michigan geologist Russell C. Huxley.

How the prehistoric forest must have reverberated when he slapped his tail! Plainly the beaver that toils in Michigan today would have been no match for that giant creature.

The house of one of these oversized beavers measured nine feet across.

The Giant Beaver was just one of an amazing assemblage of animals, completely unknown to our state today, which came to live here with the return of the forests and grass lands after the ice retreated," he states.

"Skeletons of the Woolly Mammoth, Government reform is continuing in Michigan, though the approach is slightly changed this year.

For five years, the Legislative Committee on State Government Reform has been operating as a research group, studying ways to improve the functions of state government.

There have been a number of notable ideas written into law for the agencies.

That function is now finished and we must promote some of the other ideas we have developed," said Senator Frank Andrews (R-Hillman). He is chairman of the committee working for acceptance of new ideas. Among them: Abolition of the state superintendent of public instruction and the auditor general as elective offices.

Mastodons survived in our state until comparatively recent times, and they must have been common all through the forests of Michigan. But nobody has been able to explain why the elephants and mastodons survived the worst conditions of the Ice Age and then, when getting better, disappeared completely from North America.

Describing still another animal, now vanished from the scene, Professor Huxley remarks that the Musk Ox lives today in Greenland and the northernmost parts of Canada. "When the great glacier occupied most of the Canadian region, southward before the slowly advancing ice front and then when the climate grew warmer, they migrated northward, since their natural habitat was in the colder parts of the continent. Skulls of the musk ox have been found in Michigan and there is a well preserved skull of one of these animals in the University Museum."

"Some of these long-vanished animals may have been seen by the advance guard of Indians who once lived in this region. But they are all gone today and the cause of their disappearance is a profound mystery," Professor Huxley concludes.

The 360-foot long naval tank at the University of Michigan is the second largest in the nation and the biggest in any educational institution. It is used to test ship models.

Needlework Guild Carrying on Annual Membership Drive

Plans for the annual fall ingathering of the Chelsea branch of the Needlework Guild were completed at a meeting of officers and directors held in the Chelsea Public Library Thursday afternoon. The ingathering is to take place at a ten from 2 until 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 16, according to an announcement by Mrs. H. T. Moore, local Guild president. The affair will be held on the third floor of the Municipal building, according to tentative plans.

Mrs. William Gaddes is in charge of the ingathering this year.

Sixteen Needlework Guild groups are already formed or in the process of formation here and a membership drive will be carried on this month simultaneously with groups over the entire county.

Mrs. Elton K. Musbach is membership chairman here.

Principal contributions sought for the Needlework Guild are clothing for children from preschool age to approximately 10 years, as well as household linens such as towels, wash cloths, sheets, pillowcases, etc. The age group of 10 years and under has shown the greatest demand for clothing here.

Customary procedure for contributing to the Needlework Guild is to give two similar articles of the same size. This is in line with the theory that there should be one garment to wear while one is being laundered. Cotton dresses, jeans and T-shirts, girls' slips, underwear and socks for both boys and girls are all in demand.

Money is also acceptable for the purchase of shoes and galoshes since these must be individually fitted.

All contributions are for local distribution or for national emergencies. Recently the local Guild made a financial contribution to the eastern flood relief program. The Needlework Guild observed its 70th anniversary at the annual convention held April 13, 14 and 15, in Philadelphia.

To become a member of a Needlework Guild group requires no dues or meeting attendance obligations. Anyone who contributes two or more items of clothing or household linens or makes a contribution of money is a member.

The Chelsea Social Service Committee has been a channel for the distribution of articles contributed to the Needlework Guild. Members of the Guild pointed out that while the Social Service group benefits from Community Chest funds, the amount allotted would need to be much larger without the contributions of clothing and household linens made through the Guild.

WEST LIMA FARM BUREAU

Mentioned especially was the fact that all officers were present for the floor work.

Mrs. Ren Hutzler and Mrs. Mary Knies who represented the local Auxiliary at the national encampment in Boston recently, gave their reports at Monday's meeting and were commended for the interesting manner in which they were presented.

Monday's meeting was held in the IOOF hall with 18 members and one guest present in addition to Mrs. Boyes.

It was announced at the business session that the local group will assist with the day camp for safety patrol boys of Chelsea, Ypsilanti, Jackson and Plymouth to be held Sunday at Camp Norcom. Also scheduled to assist are older Boy Scouts and representatives of the AAA of Ann Arbor. The camp will begin at 10 a.m.

Other business at Monday's meeting included voting a contribution of $25 for the Community Chest and appointment of Mrs. Iza Carly as legislative chairman of the Chelsea Auxiliary to replace Mrs. Henry Werner. Mrs. Werner had submitted her resignation for health reasons.

It was also voted to send a basket to a Chelsea veteran who is hospitalized.

The local Auxiliary has received an invitation to bring a class of candidates for membership to be initiated at Graf-O'Hara Auxiliary ceremonies in Ann Arbor, Oct. 21. The membership drive opens Oct. 1.

The next meeting of the local Auxiliary, scheduled for Oct. 10, will be preceded by a pot-luck supper. The committee in charge will include Mrs. Charles Carly, Mrs. Albert Boh, Mrs. Joseph MacKel, Sr., and Mrs. Susie Hulce.

A mortgage may be necessary at times, but one's conscience should be kept unencumbered.

Many U-M Films Are Available to Clubs, Organizations

Ann Arbor—Any club, church or school group looking for something different for future meetings might consider borrowing motion picture films from the Audio-Visual Education Center at the University of Michigan.

Most recently produced by the center is a color-sound film, "The Locks of Sault Ste. Marie," which commemorates the 500th anniversary.

Inquiries should be addressed to the center at 4028 Administration Building, Ann Arbor.

Memorial Plaque Dedicated Sunday In New Courthouse

Washtenaw county's memorial honor roll plaque, erected and dedicated by the Washtenaw county chapter of Gold Star Mothers and the Washtenaw county Council of Veterans, and located in the lobby of the new courthouse at Ann Arbor, was dedicated Sunday afternoon at ceremonies held in the main lobby at 2 o'clock.

The plaque, 5-7 feet in size, is of cast bronze and is inscribed with the names of all Washtenaw county men who "made the supreme sacrifice" during World Wars I and II and the Korean fighting. Additional space for 150 names is provided on the plaque.

Sunday's dedication program was opened with an invocation by Rev. Fr. Joseph P. McGinnis of St. Thomas Catholic church, Ann Arbor, who is chaplain at University hospital and at Matherbury sanitarium, Northville.

The principal address was delivered by Rev. Glenn E. Baumann of St. James Evangelical and Reformed church, Dearborn, a former chaplain with the 28th Marines of the Fifth Division, a unit in which many Ann Arbor area men served. He was present at the famous flag-raising ceremony on Iwo Jima.

Others who participated in Sunday's dedication are Jack L. Craven, commander of the Washtenaw Council of Veterans, who made the introductions; Fred Bentz, chaplain for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 423, Ann Arbor, who sounded taps after wreaths had been placed on the memorial plaque; and a color guard from American Legion Post No. 557, of Dexter. Approximately 200 people were present.

The honor roll committee which was in charge of plans for the dedication included Mrs. Anna Markey, chairman, of Ann Arbor; Oscar Burkhardt, treasurer; Mrs. L. Craven, Mrs. Louise E. Brown, Mrs. Gertrude Murkensturm and Mrs. Esther Heusel of Ann Arbor. Also active in plans for the event was Mrs. Edith Herbert of Ypsilanti, Gold Star Mothers president.

BIRTHS

Twins, Bonnie Ann and John Matthew, were born Sept. 21 to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stauch.

Today's average American's food supply is eight per cent lower in calories than in 1909. Only half as many potatoes and sweet potatoes and half as much flour and corn meal are eaten today as compared to 1909.

Girl Scout Leaders Plan Activities

Girl Scout leaders and adult workers will hold the first Chelsea Neighborhood meeting of the current year Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Congregational church. Duties of committee workers and all people connected with Girl Scout work will be explained by a speaker from Ann Arbor. Films will be used to illustrate the talk.

Mrs. Lewis Bernath, Chelsea Neighborhood chairman, said yesterday that three assistant leaders are still needed for third year Girl Scouts, led by Mrs. Malcolm Reith, while one is still needed for fourth year girls, led by Mrs. Vivian Lealand and one for second year girls led by Mrs. Ted Balmer.

Leaders and troop committees for Brownies and Girl Scouts for the 1955-56 year are listed by Mrs. Bernath as follows:

Troop 50, Second-year Brownies leaders: Mrs. Chester Keezer, Mrs. Elmer Lindow; committee: Mrs. R. J. Martin, Mrs. Robert Devine, Mrs. Alex Mahar.

Troop 49, Second-year Brownies leaders: Mrs. Wilbur Werner, Mrs. Howard Marsh; committee: Mrs. Charles Ritter, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Kramer, Mrs. Donley Boyer.

Troop 57, First-year Girl Scouts leaders: Mrs. Harry White, Mrs. Mitchell Picklesimer; committee: Mrs. Lambert Mepyan, Mrs. Julius Blaess, Mrs. John Miller.

Troop 68, Second-year Girl Scouts leaders: Mrs. Ted Balmer, with one still needed; committee: Mrs. J. V. Fisher, Mrs. Ralph Klingler and Mrs. Frank Wojciehowski.

Troop 71, Third-year Girl Scouts leaders: Mrs. Malcolm Reith, with three still needed; committee: Mrs. Lawton Steger, Mrs. Arnold Steger, Mrs. Charles Cameron, Mrs. Ray Slusser.

Troop 115, Fourth-year Girl Scouts leaders: Mrs. Vivian Lealand, with one still needed; committee: Mrs. Russell McLaughlin.

Leaders of troops of beginning Brownies still to be formed are Mrs. Edmund Kayser, Mrs. Leonard French and Mrs. J. J. Faisl. The committee for this group includes Mrs. Nelson Kreider, Mrs. Richard Riemenschneider, Mrs. Woodrow Griffith and Mrs. Edward Blacklaw.

Officers of the Chelsea Neighborhood of the Washtenaw County Girl Scout Council, in addition to Mrs. Bernath, are Mrs. P. E. Sheppard, troop organizer; Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser, secretary; and Mrs. Louis Burghardt, treasurer.

Chelsea Neighborhood committee chairmen are Mrs. Alfred Mayer, camp; Mrs. Claude Isham, badge; Mrs. Wilbur Pearson, finance; and Mrs. Carl Mayer, registrar.

Brownie Troops 40 and 50 held a tea Thursday afternoon in the all-purpose room of South Elementary school to register members of the two groups. It was pointed out that all former members of Troop 49, now divided to form Troops 40 and 50, should register immediately. New registration for both groups is closed and former members who fail to register in time will be placed on a waiting list classed as new members.

Mrs. Chester Keezer, leader of Troop 49, explained to mothers at the tea the coming year's plans for Brownies.

Young Pine Trees Offered By Conservation Department

Lansing—Nineteen million young pine trees are available now for fall planting from Conservation Department nurseries. The trees are sold mostly for reforestation purposes and some for Christmas tree production, not for ornamental plantings. Red, white and jack pines are available in assorted age classes.

Order blanks and complete information are available from the Department's forestry division at Lansing, 26.

Nutritionists say pork is a valuable addition to the diet, not only because of its energy and its protein, but because it is probably the richest of all meats in thiamine, a B vitamin needed for growth and reproduction.

Judging from what we hear, more people with coughs go to theatres than to doctors.

STRANGE PETS

Man has always had a fascination for creatures of the wild that can be more or less domesticated, and occasionally the comradeship results in a strange assortment of playmates.

The squirrel and raccoon are probably the most common animals chosen for pets from the wild, and both are readily adaptable to human company. Here in Michigan they are protected by law. Hard-to-come-by permits are required to keep them in captivity, and the Conservation Department frowns on adopting for the purpose of exorcising pets. The three Stevens brothers of Lansing have succeeded in taming a porcupine which has become famous for its appearance at sports shows and on television. Lee Smith, Detroit radio commentator, once reared a full-fledged timber wolf named Jim. He was a perfect gentleman, and lived in the Smiths' city apartment. Pressure from nervous neighbors finally sent Jim to freedom on Isle Royale.

But of all pets within our personal acquaintance, the strangest by far are those chosen by Mr. M. F. Delmonego who lives near Cooke Dam on the Au Sable River. Mr. Delmonego's friends of the wild are black-faced hornets!

Friend to Man

The black-faced hornet, according to Delmonego, is the Number One enemy of the world's worst pest, the common house fly. He has kept close check on hornet activities and has discovered a single hornet will catch and kill from three to four hundred flies per day!

If not molested they are completely harmless to man. "When one is flying around you," declares Delmonego, "he isn't after you. He's just chasing a fly that's buzzing nearby."

Hand-Fed Hornets

Delmonego, whose Bissoneite Resort is well known on the Au Sable River, catches flies for his hornet friends and feeds them from his hand and fingers. He has made a movie demonstrating not only this remarkable achievement, but the fact that the hornets permit him to stroke them gently while they're feeding from his fingers—and it's pretty obvious that the hornets really enjoy it!

He has only been stung once, when he accidentally laid an arm on one of his friends.

Mr. Delmonego is now crusading for the black-faced hornet in an effort to avoid destruction of the big, leafy, grassy nests. Next time you're near Cooke Dam, a short drive from Oscoda, stop and meet Delmonego for proof of a believe-it-or-not story that tops 'em all in Michigan Outdoors!
