Brief biographies of each of the four candidates were prepared as a service to electors of the school district.

In addition, a list of five pertinent questions was submitted to each of the candidates. Their answers are printed on page 12 of this issue of The Standard.

The biographies of the four candidates are listed in alphabetical order as their names will appear on the ballot.

The regular school board meeting will be held June 10, instead of June 11, at 8:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the office of the superintendent and will begin immediately after the certification of the results of the annual election.

The 40th anniversary class will be seated at a special table and following the banquet, will go to the home of Mrs. William Geddes for a social hour.

Mrs. Edwin Gaunt, Mrs. Leon Shutes and Mrs. Harold Spaulding have contacted members of the class and most of them plan to be present.

Final plans for the reunion of the Class of 1917 were also announced this week. The tenth anniversary group will gather at the Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake from two until five o'clock in the afternoon, preceding the banquet.

School Superintendent Charles S. Cameron will be the principal speaker at the banquet, taking for his subject "Looking Ahead."

The dinner is to be served at 6:30 p.m. in the gymnasium at Chelsea High school by the ladies of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed churches.

The dance which follows, from 9:30 until 12:30 p.m., is to be open to the public.

The Ray Louis orchestra of Ann Arbor, will provide the music for the dance.

Committees are urging that tickets for the banquet be procured before June 8, if possible. In charge of ticket sales are Arnold Steger and Winans and Foster's stores.

Conlin Okays Differential Tax Levy

Probate Judge John W. Conlin ruled on Tuesday of last week that the Chelsea School District (Sylvan No. 1, fractional) and the Manchester Public Schools, both "inter-county" districts, may levy a "differential" tax rate this year.

It was pointed out that Judge Conlin made the ruling so that can be a court test of whether such rates are legal.

County Treasurer William F. Verner, chairman of the Washtenaw County Tax Allocation Board, holds that tax rates within a school bus district must be "uniform."

He was opposed by School Supt. Lyle Torrant, chairman of the Jackson County Tax Allocation Board, who held out for the differential rates in the two districts.

Verner contends that if the differential rate is legal it could be carried to the extreme of allowing the county to levy different tax rates throughout the county.

Year-End Picnics Scheduled for High School Thursday

Next Thursday, June 13, is the date for both junior and senior high school picnics. Buses are scheduled to leave the high school at 9 a.m.

High School Principal Charles Lane emphasized that all high school students must ride the buses to be considered as participating in the picnics. None will be given permission to drive cars to the picnics.

The buses will return the students to the school after the day's outings.

Junior high students will have a picnic at Silver Lake, while the senior high group will go to Pleasant Lake in Jackson county.

Elementary school pupils are having class picnics or trips at their own convenience, some beginning the series of outings yesterday. The end-of-school affairs will continue through next Thursday for the elementary

Dr. Smith is co-author of the book "The Board of Education and Educational Policy Development" and has written many journal articles.

He was appointed to the Michigan State University staff in July 1956, leaving his post as superintendent of schools at Highland Park to accept his present position.

A native of Buchanan, he received an A.B. degree in 1931 at the University of Denver; a master's degree at the University of Michigan in 1938; and doctor of education degree at the University of Michigan in 1952.

Before his work as superintendent at Highland Park he had been a science and music teacher at Animas, Colo.; principal and later superintendent at Reading, Mich.; and superintendent at North Muskegon from 1940 until 1947 and at Niles from 1947 until 1951.

Commencement week activities for Chelsea High school seniors will begin with the baccalaureate service at the Methodist church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Thomas Toy pastor of the Congregational church, will deliver the sermon.

Three Win Interlochen Scholarships

At the band concert given Tuesday evening in the Chelsea High school gymnasium by the school's beginning and junior bands, four band members were honored by being presented with music scholarships. Three of the scholarships were presented by the Chelsea Band Boosters organization and one by the Kiwanis club of Chelsea.

The presentations were made on behalf of both groups by Mrs. Willard Pearson, Band Boosters president the past year.

The Band Boosters awards were presented to Sharon Smyser, a ninth grade student who plays clarinet; Ruth Prentice, an eighth grader who plays the flute; and Byron Pearson, eleventh grade cornet player.

Carol Reddeman, who plays a tenor saxophone, received the Kiwanis scholarship award. She is in the eighth grade.

All but Byron Pearson will go to Interlochen music camp for the all-state division in July. It was pointed out that selection of all three Chelsea students for the all-state program is considered an unusual honor since an involved selective process is used by the music camp acceptance committee in deciding on students to be accepted.

Pearson will attend the national music camp at Gunnison, Colo., which will be a workshop session.

This is the first time the Band Boosters club has awarded such scholarships. The Kiwanis club, however, had given one last year.

The scholarships, called half-scholarships, pay approximately half of the students' fees for the period they attend the camp.

Selection is based principally on outstanding musical ability, character and citizenship of the students chosen for the honor.

In addition to those awarded the scholarships, it was announced that three Chelsea students will travel to Interlochen for the full eight-week period this year. They are Carol Cameron, an eighth grader, who plays bass clarinet; Marketa Young, also in the eighth grade, who plays clarinet; and Ellen Fisher, a seventh grader, who plays the oboe.

The eight-week period begins in June.

VETERANS PARK DEDICATION—Roland Spaulding, at left in upper photograph, was master of ceremonies for the dedication of Veterans Memorial Park last Thursday. He is general chairman of the park committee for the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce. Shown taking part in the ceremony of unveiling the monument, plaque and memorial drinking fountain at the park are Darrell Larson of the Village Council park committee, (with back to camera), Merle Barr, Jr., and K. R. McManis, Village Council members. The Council members were chosen for the unveiling as representatives of the people of Chelsea. In addition to voluntary contributions—financial, labor and material—the Village has provided approximately $1,200 for the park during the past three years.

In the lower photograph, Judge James K. Breakey, Jr., is shown as he delivered the dedicatory address. Across the top of the monument are wreaths and sprays presented by Mrs. Winifred Coffron for the Woman's Relief Corps; Mrs. J. V. Burg for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary; Mrs. David Strieter, American Legion Auxiliary; Henry Notten, VFW Post; Charles Smith, Jr., Legion Post; Charles Lancaster, Chelsea Chamber of Commerce; and Village President Donald Alber on behalf of the Village.

Mrs. R. Schairer Signed To Conduct Co-Op Nursery

Members of the Chelsea Cooperative Nursery were informed this week that Mrs. Raymond Schairer has been signed to conduct the nursery during its first year.

It was pointed out by the cooperative group that nursery school is the enrolling family's first brush with its children's education and many times is the only time that education and family life go hand in hand, intentionally.

The cooperative nursery school will offer a workshop for the child, teacher and parent in which each will enrich the development of the other.

Mrs. Schairer will devote her time to the educational program of the pre-school child, using parents of the "coop" as assistants in the classroom.

The nursery school will offer the parent a variety of experiences with more than one child of the same age. He will learn new techniques and gain reassurance through contact with several children and their parents who face the same problems. He will gain perspective on his own child without losing closeness to him. Child and parent will find a special common bond in sharing a nursery school day.

Cynthia Klingler, 12, Wins Girl Scouting's Top Award

At the Girl Scout Court of Awards, held Wednesday, May 29, in the Home Ec. room at Chelsea High school, Cynthia Klingler was presented with the coveted Curved Bar award, highest in Girl Scouting.

She is believed to be the youngest girl ever to receive the award in this area. At the same time she also received her first class Girl Scout award, completing a list of 17 awards she has received.

The awards include animal valise; needlecraft; photography; travel; home nurse; personal health; health aid; cook; foods; good grooming; child care; conservation; adventure; skating; sewing; garden flower and first aid.

The awards Wednesday were presented by the leader of Girl Scout Troop 68, Mrs. Ted Balmer. Her assistant is Mrs. Ralph Klingler. Cynthia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Klingler.

The Court of Awards program was planned and carried out by the girls, themselves, with Judy Lee as mistress of ceremonies.

The refreshment table was covered in white with green trefles scattered about on the surface. Yellow candles in crystal holders helped carry out the traditional Girl Scout color scheme.

The table was centered with a beautifully decorated cake, topped with the Girl Scout Emblem and with "Troop 68" inscribed across the front of one of the tiers.

The program opened with a welcome by Ava MacDougall, followed by the regular opening flag ceremony and a brief history of scouting by Cynthia Klingler.

Demonstrations were given as follows: fashion show for the adventure badge by Elaine Pearson, Donna Snyder, Nancy Carter and Linda Koengeter; a skit for travel badge by Betty O'Nell, Judy Lee, Joanne Wojcikowski and Cynthia Klingler; personal health and photography badges, demonstrated by Cynthia Klingler; and knots, fires and conservation badge by Joanne Wojcikowski and Cynthia Klingler.

The county board will organize and elect its 1957-58 officers at the first July meeting.

Re-Elect Saline Woman to County Board of Education

Mrs. Grace Stierle of Saline, was unanimously re-elected to succeed herself as a member of the Washtenaw County Board of Education at the biennial election held Monday evening in the County Building at Ann Arbor. The term is for six years, beginning July 1.

Her present term and that of George Schlecht of Ann Arbor, expires June 30. Both have served since the county board was organized in 1947.

Schlecht declined to run again and Clarence W. Markham, an Ann Arbor insurance agent, was elected to a six-year term in his place.

Others who were nominated for the post included Howard Flintoff of Chelsea, and Jack Bradbury of Dexter.

Other Washtenaw School Board members are Helen H. Vandenberg of Ypsilanti, this year's president of the board, Carl Mast of the Dexter School District and Horace Whitney of Webster township which is now a part of the Ann Arbor school system.

Five-Year-Old Waterloo Girl Severely Injured When Bitten by Dog

Susie Parker, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Parker of Waterloo, was severely bitten on the top of her head by a neighbor's dog. The mishap occurred about 10:30 a.m. Tuesday as the child was leaving the neighbor's yard to return home.

The dog, a collie, was tied at the barn door. No one witnessed the incident. The neighbor, Mrs. Walton Bohne, heard the child's cries and went to her assistance.

Mrs. Parker started for Foot hospital, Jackson, with the child in her car and was met on the road by an ambulance which took them the rest of the way.

The dog is to be kept under observation for 10 days for possible rabies infection.

Muskrat Is Most Widely Distributed Animal in U. S.

Ann Arbor — If you see a huge "meadow mouse" with a slightly flattened tail lurking in your window-well, it's probably a muskrat and you'd better not tangle with him, warns Prof. Warren W. Chase, chairman of the department of wildlife management at the University of Michigan. "Muskrats, out of their normal habitat, occasionally become aggressive when cornered and bite people," says the wildlife expert. "It's not uncommon this time of year to see muskrats pretty far from their natural environment of stream and marsh," he reminds. "They're on the look-out for food and, since the breeding season begins in April, they do a lot of fighting this time of year. In fact, in late winter some of them are so badly scarred from incessant strife that the fur isn't worth anything to the trapper."

Getting back to that big mouse in the window-well! Professor Chase advises setting up a slanting board covered with burlap or a rug so he can climb out. He describes the muskrat as about the size of a small house cat. It is dark brown on the upper parts, silver tipped on the belly. The small, head-like eyes are almost hidden in the thick fur. The large hind feet make it an excellent swimmer. The tail, which is black, scaly, nearly naked and just about as long as the head and body, distinguishes the muskrat from all other Michigan mammals.

According to Professor Chase, "The muskrat, living in Michigan's stream areas, will have two kinds of houses. First, there is the bank den. But if banks are not possible because of lack of depth of soil along the edge of the stream or marsh, the muskrat will build a house of cattails, reeds, grasses and other material that can be put into a pile three to eight feet in diameter at the base and three or four feet high.

"Curiously, muskrats know about how high to build his house so that he will not be flooded out. In winter time, muskrats keep the ice open around their houses so that they can get out on top occasionally. By gnawing at the ice, they keep it from freezing solid and imprisoning them."

"The house usually has one or more small under-water openings leading to the living quarters where, within a few inches of the top, on a shelf-like projection, the young are born in early May. Usually in the spring of the year the male and female muskrat live close to each other, often in the same house. There will be an average of four or five young. Mortality is high, however, so by fall there are often no more than five, including the mature ones, in one house," Professor Chase says.

The muskrat is one of the most widely distributed animals in North America. They are found from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic Ocean. The point of numbers and total value, the muskrat is more important than any other fur-bearing animal in North America. The fur is used in so many ways that it always brings a fair price, Professor Chase says.

Chase advises setting up a slanting board covered with burlap or a rug so he can climb out.

He also welcomed four new boys who came into the troop as Webelos from the Cub Scouts. They are David Winans, David Runciman, James Schneider and Victor Parks. The four boys were assigned to patrols.

Reservations for summer camp were taken and it was announced that all boys who wish to go to camp must turn in the required $3.00 by next week.

Next Monday the troop will do a "good turn" for the troop's sponsor by distributing handbills for the Kiwanis rummage sale.

During the meeting a short session on first aid was conducted by Danny Mayer, senior patrol leader.

Monday was the last meeting of the year for Girl Scout Troop 71. They discussed their trip to Bob-Lo Island Saturday. Some of the principal activities that the troop participated in during the year were a troop cook-out October 13; making trays under the direction of Mrs. Eva Stoffer, to use as Christmas presents; a Christmas dance Dec. 18; presenting the flag ceremony for the Dad and Daughter's night, March 15; and a first aid course under the direction of Mrs. Frederick Ewald. The troop also gave a Mother's Day tea May 7 at the home of Mrs. John Steele and some of the girls participated in a talent show. Refreshments were served and the girls presented their moms with corsages. May 17 and 18 an overnight camp at Hill Top concluded the special activities for the season.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

Many cars are suffering from rear-end-tail symptoms: back bumper askew and tail lights as glassless as a Hollywood glamour girl. The ailment is most often seen on or near expressways and superhighways that have a bang-up record when it comes to giving automobile trunks that look of smashing success.

While only 12 per cent of the nation's total accidents, both on and off the turnpikes, involve rear-end crashes, 33 per cent of turnpike accidents leave vehicles with sagging posteriors. Charles W. Prior, research engineer of the United States Bureau of Public Roads and head of the Institute of Traffic Engineers, recently stated that unless some means of preventing same-direction crashes is found, new highways will become as dangerous as the old.

The excuse, "I didn't see," is often heard in connection with rear-end collisions. The reason for this excuse is disclosed in reports from both the New Jersey Turnpike Authority and the Pennsylvania Joint Safety Research Group. They discovered that rear-end collisions were significantly higher during darkness on straight-up roadways. In fact, John K. Crosby, assistant traffic engineer with the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, reported that twice as many rear-end collisions occur at night as in the daytime.

Theoretically, rear-end collisions could be eliminated if all vehicles on highways could be made to travel at the same speed. However, highway engineers are quick to point out that enforcing a strict program to slow down speeders and speed up crawlers is almost a physical impossibility and a financial improbability.

A recent nation-wide inspection of more than 1,677,000 motor vehicles showed that more than a fourth—25.6 per cent—of all mechanical defects were rear lights. The results of motor vehicle inspections reflect the higher nighttime collision rate have prompted traffic engineers to call for better rear-end lighting and wide-spread use of reflective materials.

The traffic engineers' suggestions already have been carried out in a number of ways. Some states are covering license plates with materials that reflect headlights from 2,000 feet away and provide motorists with an ever-present safety device. Pennsylvania Turnpike officers check the rear lights of vehicles entering the pike in an attempt to cut down rear-end collisions.

Truck and bus lines are putting reflective sheeting on their vehicles in an effort to reduce rear-end collisions. Greyhound bus lines report that rear-end collisions dropped 14 per cent the first year the lines' busses were reflectorized and 18 per cent the second.

One automobile manufacturer, Plymouth, is experimenting with reflective body paint and another, Ford, is conducting experiments with new devices, especially designed to prevent rear-end collisions.

Traffic engineers are slowly cutting down the number of rear-end collisions, but it is up to all of us—in the individual driver's seat—to take extra precautions ourselves.

U. S. railroad freight car wheels have a 38-inch standard diameter. Placed tread-to-tread the wheels on the 2 million freight cars in service would reach 8,000 miles, a distance greater than the earth's diameter.

GAA members are looking forward to their coming picnic at Silver Lake, June 7, at 4:00 p.m. Plans were made for the picnic at the last meeting, held Wednesday, May 29. Transportation is to be provided by the girls, who will drive.

GAA has had a very successful year, with many activities and is anticipating another as good next year.

The Chelsea high school band marched for the first time at the annual Mayor's Day Parade, May 20. Played were "Hail to the Chief," "Entry of the Gladiators," and "Father of Victory."

On Memorial Day, the band also marched in the annual parade, playing "America the Beautiful," and "The Star Spangled Banner."

The band was very sad at the leaving of the 10 seniors, but looks forward to another great season.

All shop projects are now being finished. The variety of picnic tables and cedar chests is in its final stages. The whole shop is being cleaned up as well as receiving a new coat of paint.

At the start of the year each student makes a down payment of $5.00 toward the material he uses. Now at the end of the year, Mr. Musser adds up all his expenses and either bills him for the amount due or gives him back the balance. Shop will be empty until fall, when normal activity will again be resumed.

Home economics I class has been continuing a unit on furnishing the home, while second year Home Ec. girls have been working on a colors unit in clothing. Projects are being completed in Home Ec. III. The seventh grade is still struggling with sewing.

There were only two movies shown this week. Those movies were "Men, Metal and Machines," and "The Beginning or the End."

The eighth grade has been working hard on a new history project. They are enlarging a map of the world and plan to show all the important battles of World Wars I and II on it. Special groups have chosen from each section to work on the map.

The class enjoyed a movie of the atomic bomb on May 28. It showed the building of the bomb and also its use during World War II. (The bombing of Hiroshima was especially stressed.) It was a very enjoyable and interesting movie.

Friday, May 24, the eighth grade "Basketballs" clashed with the seventh grade "Dribbles." During the first quarter, the Basketballs took the lead with 10 points, holding the Dribbles scoreless. At the half-time the Basketballs were still high, for the Dribbles had only scored two points. The hard playing during the third quarter left the score still highly in favor of the Basketballs. During the last quarter the Dribbles, though there was no hope, still fought on. The game ended at 20-11 in favor of the Basketballs, with their high scorer, Judy Speer, scoring 14 points.

During the school year Journalism students have sent 12 issues of "The Bulldog Bark" to press. As a special project in May each student was assigned to get various historical facts about Chelsea, suitable for a full page ad on Michigan Week.

Every school week but one, students gathered information for a Hi-Lite. Several suppers were planned during the year which enabled the students of both club and class to get together.

The Grade Annual is the latest undertaking of the Journalism students.

A new library is underway for the North Elementary School for next year. Books from the South School were taken over there. Miss Welton made a list of books on subjects which are of interest to grade students.

A set of 80 volumes of the 1957 Encyclopedia Americana was delivered to the library the first of May.

Everyone was sorry to hear that Mr. Wesley Cowell, high school science, geometry and chemistry teacher, suffered injuries in an automobile accident on the weekend of May 26. He received a broken arm, bruises, and burns. He hopes to be back to school on June 9.

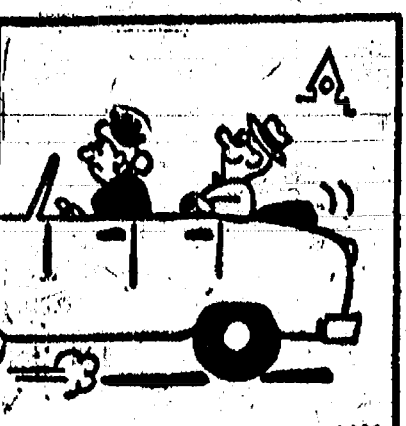

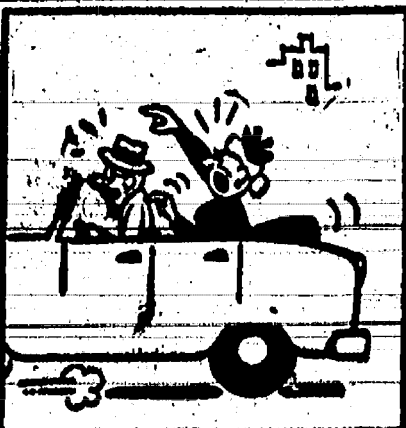

The high school chorus is busily practicing songs for Baccalaureate, Class Night, and Commencement. Unfortunately, the spring concert was cancelled.

The Future Homemakers of America held a fashion show on the eve of May 28 entitled U. S. S. Fashions. Narrated by Martha Wenk and accompanied by Carole Reddeman, the fashion show featured party dresses, sport attire and night-time apparel. After the fashion show, the FHA pins were awarded to the FHA members. Donna Moore was the member with the highest number of points.

Michigan Senators OK Unnecessary Dam for Lansing Area

Those who attended a meeting of the Grand Valley Chapter of Michigan Professional Engineers learned that the Sahara desert has about the same need for a dam as the Grand and Saginaw valleys of Michigan.

Federal engineers explained that the $12,000,000 flood control project for Lansing is not based on any storm in the 100-year history of Michigan. It is not based on the 1904, the 1907 or the 1947 floods. It is based on the storm which hit Missouri at Kansas City or one which struck the Miami valley in Ohio.

There is no flood in Michigan's history that would call for such a flood control scheme at Lansing or Saginaw. The Great Lakes shunts storms around Michigan. They travel south around the bottom of the lakes, following well beaten paths across northern Ohio and across New York to the Atlantic or up the St. Lawrence river valley.

But basing flood control needs on Michigan records would make it plain that Lansing and Saginaw require no such systems as have been designed. So engineers and other experts in the U. S. Corps of Engineers had to borrow storms from Missouri and Ohio, or borrow the figures from those storms, and figuratively dump that water here in Michigan.

It sounds fantastic and could scarcely have been believed had not the federal experts said so themselves in Lansing at this meeting of the Professional Engineers Society.

It would be scarcely less fantastic to say that engineers should design a flood control program for the Sahara desert. History doesn't reveal any heavy rains there but there could be one. Supposing one of the storms which drenches India should take the wrong path. Then huge dams would be needed on the Sahara.

This pork-laden rivers and harbors bill which has passed the senate (helped along by the votes of both Senator Charles E. Potter and Patrick V. McNamara of Michigan) is the true test of a senator's desire for economy. Both Michigan senators preach economy but they don't want it practiced in Michigan. Neither do the senators from the other 47 states want to sacrifice pet projects for their states.

As was pointed out in Life magazine recently, "The pork barrel is the true test of a congressman's fiscal conscience—and most of them flunk on this part of the exam."

The Sahara needs a dam as much as the Grand River valley does the dam designed to handle a storm which has never struck this area and probably never will.

For just a fraction of the cost of the $12,000,000 program, proper safeguards could be taken to handle any flood that has ever been experienced in Lansing—Ingham County News.

Experts Give Hints for Household Safety

The University of Illinois Safety Department has some suggestions for housewives who must do much of their family's cooking. Here are a few of the suggestions offered, which are intended to keep you from dumping a pot of hot squash on junior's head, cutting yourself or others, and experiencing other accidents in the most-used room in your home.

First, prepare most of a meal before mealtime, so you won't have to hurry.

Second, turn the handles of your cooking utensils to the back of the stove to prevent them from being turned over.

Third, check electric cords, be sure to use a safe stepladder and have a special place for knives and other dangerous instruments, which is not in the reach of small children.

Finally, if you are too tired to cook and do not have time to prepare a meal, take the family out to Joe's Joint for a hamburger. Caution should be exercised here also, so no accidents will occur over the question of who pays the bill. There is no general safety rule to cover this situation; with respect to this hazard you're strictly on your own and we're sorry we mentioned it.

Polio Vaccine Again Available for Adult Inoculation

The United States Public Health Service urges all adults under the age of 35, or even 40, to get at least one Salk polio shot as protection against the paralytic form of poliomyelitis.

Too many Americans, the Public Health Service says, have concluded that the Salk polio vaccine is for children only and have failed to take advantage of the new serum. Yet the disease strikes many under the age of 35, and even up to 40 years old; and one or two shots—it takes eight months to get the three shots—will provide worthwhile protection.

Therefore, as a last warning, we urge all those under the age of 40 to consider getting at least one Salk inoculation, and preferably two or three. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis thinks that if adults under 40 would do this, the nation could probably experience a summer without a serious polio epidemic for the first time in history.

For those who have tried to obtain the shots and found a temporary shortage of the vaccine in this area, doctors here report that stocks are again adequate to care for you.

Sometimes we almost hope the scientists will find Mars and other planets uninhabited as we can hardly afford to extend foreign aid any farther.

When a fellow reaches out to shake your hand nowadays you hardly know if he is extending a friendly greeting or just winding his wrist watch.

It is amusing that the man who scorns a woman's fear of a mouse, is himself usually afraid of the woman.

Success doesn't come from lying awake at night but from keeping awake in the daytime!

Tax-bills, which usually mean someone has to pay more, brought relief to financially-distressed bus companies this session of the legislature. Under the bills, any bus company which uses more than 94 per cent of its income to pay expenses, will get at least a partial waiver of gasoline, weight taxes and a state fee.

The companies asked for the relief, calling it the only thing that could keep them in business as private concerns. The alternative, they said, was municipal ownership.

If the 17 major bus companies take advantage of the new law, the state will lose something over $1,500,000 in revenue next year. Only a few are expected to apply for the relief.

Michigan's state government will get a new office building west of the state capitol within three years.

The legislature authorized a special corporation organized for the purpose of erecting a revenue bond issue and construct the building estimated to cost $8,000,000.

State government, with more than 24,000 employees, has been growing out of its quarters for years. The crisis became acute in 1931 when fire damaged what is now the Cass building.

Later, the Stevens T. Mason building was constructed, but a number of agencies still are operating in other buildings while the state pays rent to private landlords.

The new building will also be the first permanent home for the state library since the fire.

Taxpayers will get a better look at their financial future in a series of hearings scheduled by legislators this summer to study how the state gets its money.

Lawmakers, still smarting from controversies of the 1937 session, have ordered an investigation of the tax structure.

Senator Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) chairman of the taxation committee in the Senate, said the special committee would check "every phase" of the system.

"There may be some inequities and some new sources of revenue, but, at any rate, we want to make a complete study," he said.

Geerlings and other Republicans held the last line during the 1937 session against new levies for general fund purposes despite heavy pressure from all sides for more spending.

At one point the corporation proposed since 1940 by Governor C. W. K. only two votes in a House test.

Thursday, June 10, 1943—Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Booker have leased the country home of Mrs. George Wood Hays at Crooked Lake and, with their family, will move here from Detroit this week.

Mr. Booker is vice-president and secretary of Federal Screw Works. With parallel parking now in effect in Chelsea, motorists who cannot find a place to park are still hesitant about using the fine municipal parking lot provided by the village for their convenience. Jokesters have suggested the following inducement: free car wash to every motorist who uses the lot; a stand to furnish free hot dogs to the motorist and his family if he will only consent to park his car in the lot; and finally, have the village hire a pretty blonde attendant for the parking lot.

Richard D. Schmidt reported at Detroit Monday for induction into the U. S. Navy and was sent to Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

George Meader, Washtenaw county prosecutor, has announced his resignation to accept a position as assistant counsel for the Senate Truman committee in Washington, D. C.

NEWS HOLLYWOOD

Sir Carol Reed, British director, is in this country to discuss a proposed renewal of association with the independent producing firm of Hecht-Hill-Lancaster, for which he directed "Trapeze." The properties under discussion are "Tell It on the Drum," based on a novel by Robert W. Knepp, about the theft of diamonds in Rhodesia, and "The Rock Cried Out," a suspense melodrama with a Latin-American background.

In "Witness for the Prosecution," Elsa Lanchester will act opposite her husband, Charles Laughton, on the screen for the first time in nine years. Her role was written into the Agatha Christie play. The film will have Tyrone Power and Marlene Dietrich co-starring.

When "Kings Go North" is filmed in Europe in September, it will have Frank Sinatra and Tony Curtis in the principal roles. Sinatra, by the way, is trying to talk Orson Welles into making a picture with him.

Chill Wills is set to play "Bill" in the Metro "Min and Bill" TV series. Frances Marion wrote the original script for the picture. Chill is set to take a group of stars to Alaska to entertain GI's stationed there over the July 4th holiday weekend.

Rumor has it that Liberace and his tailor have parted company. It is said that Liberace's ideas got so fancy, his tailor told him he ought to hire a dress designer, not a tailor.

Hal March, the popular master of ceremonies of "The $64,000 Question" is scheduled to be in Hollywood this summer for another screen assignment. You may not remember it, but he appeared as a punch-drunk fighter in "It's Always Fair Weather."

After trying for ten years, Sam Goldwyn finally bought the screen rights to "Porgy and Bess" for $650,000. Robert Breen, who managed the fabulous world tour of the stage play, will assist in its production.

The film version of "God's Little Acre," Erskine Caldwell's novel, is to be made near Augusta, Georgia. Susan Hayward, who is scheduled to star in it, will have to drive only about 50 miles from her home to work.

Early Bird May Get Worm But Early To Work Gets Trout

Lanning—The early bird may get the worm, but the early fisherman gets the trout, says angler Donald L. Miller of Eaton Rapids. Miller, arriving early for work recently at a service station, decided to cast his line a few times in the Grand River, just below the dam in downtown Eaton Rapids. To his astonishment, he landed a 17½-inch rainbow trout!

Native of Eaton Rapids can't resist hearing about trout below the dam at any time in the city's history. Of course, eager anglers have been trying their luck since Miller's catch, but with no response from anything except the usual carp and pike.

Rhubarb, often called pie plant because it is used so frequently in pies, is very perishable and the flavor is easily lost if not properly cared for. If it must be kept a few days before it is to be used, cut off leaves, wash the stalks and dry them thoroughly. Wrap them in wax paper or place them in moisture-vapor-proof containers and store them in the refrigerator.

You have read that Michigan has a driver education law, but you didn't know what it was all about.

So, I looked into this matter and found some interesting facts.

For instance the experts tell us that three things are involved in traffic accidents, namely: the vehicle, the prevailing conditions, and the driver. Of these three things the one most responsible for the accidents is the latter, i.e., "people." And usually "the people" in this case is the driver of the automobile. His errors or omissions account for approximately 80 per cent of the accidents. The state

The Michigan legislature must have had this in mind when in November 1955, in special session, it passed the Driver Education Law. This law has three outstanding features. They are:

1. Beginning Feb. 1, 1957, no person under the age of 18 will be licensed to drive on Michigan highways unless he or she has passed an approved course in driver education.
2. Driver education will be made available without cost to all high school students under the age of 18. This includes all public, private and parochial students enrolled in high school grades.
3. Every holder of a Michigan driver's license will contribute to the cost of teaching youth people to drive safely. This amounts to $1.00 for each applicant examined for an original license or an operator's license, and 85 cents for a chauffeur's license; the money being deposited in a special driver education and training fund by the state treasurer.

Out of this fund each public school district receives $25.00 for each student enrolled in the driver education training courses for children of public, parochial or private schools.

Well, that's the story. The effects of the law we hope will be felt in a lowering of the accident rate. Its big effect will be in the years to come because experience shows that graduates of these courses have a much lower rate of accidents over a period of years.

The present investment in buildings, land and equipment at the University of Michigan has a book value of $147,561,150 but would cost at least $275,000,000 to duplicate at today's prices.

Washington Report

By Senator Charles F. Potter
The latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan.

FANNIE MAE is a friendly Government gal who has been known to step in and help the modest home buyer with his mortgage troubles. On the Senate floor last week, as debate swirled around Fannie Mae, she was called by her full and proper name of Federal National Mortgage Association and her authority to buy FHA-insured mortgages was expanded.

All this was part of the Senate's new housing bill designed to ease home-buying rules and provide relief for hard-hit home builders and real estate firms. In a long day's work, starting at 10:30 a.m. and ending at 9:20 p.m., we voted to lower down payments on homes, authorized 35,000 federally-aided housing units, approved grants for slum clearance and urban renewal, and empowered Fannie Mae to extend special help to military and cooperative housing, homes for the elderly, and—as mentioned above—increased her mortgage-buying authority.

Total cost of the housing measure—as passed by the Senate—comes to $1.6 billion, as compared with $2.5 billion in the recently-passed House counterpart. The links between the two versions are now being ironed out in a Senate-House huddle.

CLEAN AS A HOUND'S TOOTH should be the standard for American political campaigns, but we all know that some politicians soil easily. Our present election law is a sort of housekeeping piece of Swiss cheese. Campaign spending in 1956 reached an incredible $35 million and experts point out that if it were possible to track down all items, the total campaign bill would be far higher. Much lip service is paid to clean elections, but so far efforts to place tight limits on campaign spending have failed. A modern political campaign is a ravenous, cash-eating tiger, devouring vast sums for television, radio, newspaper advertising and other publicity. Obviously, this can place candidates under obligation to a few large contributors and thus threaten the integrity of the entire American political system.

Several bills to tighten election word is going around that backers of the law have been introduced. The end of this session. Their strategy—and it is a good one—is to get a new law now, well ahead of 1958 campaign pressures.

A NEW PASTIME called "Seaway watching" has been added up at that lovely vacationland around Thousand Islands. Besides their normal rhythm of fishing, boating and swimming, tourists are swarming around the vast dredging and building work of the St. Lawrence Seaway. By late May the two American locks named Eisenhower and Gracie were at least 90 per cent finished and 64 per cent of the Long Sault Canal had been completed. Visitors—many from Michigan—are pouring into these spectacular areas. One travel expert predicts on the basis of inquiries for reservations that the Seaway may become the magnet for a record tourist season.

YOUR GROCERY BILLS are attracting attention at the Capitol. A congressional committee, checking into high food prices, came up with the interesting, if discouraging, fact that filling your family's stomach costs 35 per cent more today than it did ten years ago. Why? Because you eat more meals at restaurants. Because Mrs. America demands more packaged, frozen, pre-cooked, and exotic out-of-season foods. Because Mr. America is not carrying his lunch to work these days; he prefers a restaurant "grab" then "grab" cashing in? Certainly not the farmer, who can show that the prices he receives have dropped. Processors and wholesalers show excellent—but not exorbitant—profits. Wages, of course, have risen steadily.

It all adds up to the fact that food prices will stay high. So relax and try to enjoy it. When you open that box of angel cake, stick or dip into those fresh strawberries shipped up in mid-January, just remember, that freight, wages taxes and the rest will keep food costs high as long as all of us choose to "live high."

TWO GREAT PEOPLES, the Poles and Armenians, observed national "independence" days in May and I was given the privilege of participating. These proud and intellectual peoples have seen their homelands tragically swallowed up by the Soviet Union—but the vanquished will give "indigestion" to their temporary conquerors until the day of freedom dawns. I join the Polish and Armenian communities of Michigan in praying that that day is not far off.

"SAFAC" Saginaw Bay appears on French maps of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries as "Sikonom," "Sakonom," "Sagulum," and "Sagunam."

Death Reported as Suicide
Shortly after midnight Saturday, sheriff's deputies were called to investigate when a 22-year-old Ann Arbor man was found dead in his car parked near the Washtenaw County Airport. The man, identified as Andrew Buku, Jr., of Miller avenue, died of gunshot wounds which, Sheriff's department records state, were self-inflicted.

Too Many Fish in Lakes Prevents Normal Growth

Lansing—The fish situation in some Michigan waters resembles the oldtime boarding house—as the number of tenants increases, the food portions get smaller.
Rapidly increasing panfish populations often create overcrowded conditions in lakes and streams, with sharp competition resulting for a stable food supply. Unlike animals, fish do not starve, as an increase in numbers just means less food per fish.

The result of this condition is an overabundance of little fish, stunted by lack of food. Many lakes contain thousands of tiny perch or bluegills only three or four inches in length.

These stunted fish create a serious problem in fish management.
Fishermen consider them too small to keep and as long as they remain in the lake, the food shortage continues.

One remedy being tested by the Conservation Department is chemical treatment of lakes. Fish division workers "poison out" overpopulated lakes, remove tons of undersized panfish and then restock the lake.

In the restocking part of the program, panfish will be planted along with some suitable predator, such as northern pike, to keep the panfish population in balance with the food supply. The surviving bluegills and perch each get a better share of the available food and grow larger—to the delight of fishermen. Of course, the pike also provide plenty of sport for the angler.

Chemical treatment was carried out on four lakes last summer and eight others are due for treatment this year. In the four lakes tested, preliminary findings show that bluegills from three to seven years of age were running two or more inches short of normal growth.

"We Were Amazed"

Says CAR LIFE,
The Family Auto Magazine

We were amazed as we drove the special four-door hardtop, to find that an automobile could be completely changed yet retain so much of its former appearance and character. The 1957 models have all the familiar, solid Buick virtues.

THE ABOVE brief clipping tells you worlds about the '57 Buick.

It tells you we went all out to make this car completely new—yet we didn't sacrifice a single Buick virtue.

So you still get that unmistakable Buick styling.

You still get that big-car room and comfort and that solid Buick quality.

But you also get so complete a change in the vitals of this car that the driving of it is a wondrous new experience.

You get a brilliant brand of performance that's different from anything else that goes on four wheels.

Words won't describe it. Telling you there's an all-new engine, an instant new Dynaflo,* a completely new power train—none of that will convey this news to you.

What you have to do is get in this car and drive it. Drive it around the block, through town, out on the highway. Actually feel what happens when you press the gas pedal, turn the steering wheel, touch those powerful new brakes.

Then—and not till then—will you know why folks call this "the dream car to drive."

The best advice we can give you, by far, is this: Ask your dealer for a trial run today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

SAFETY-BUZZER*

when you drop below that pace.

Get in the fine-car swim
at the low Ford price!

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest-priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!

To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.

But stop inside. That's where you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality! And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!

Five cars are smooth—and their smoother places Ford really shows the steel! Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most expensive automobiles go this far to bring you super-smooth performance.

Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a sweep-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet with the most sound insulation in its field.

Five cars are built to stay solid. No Ford! Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many reinforcing beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford. Yes, in every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

Homemaking Hints . . .
All good cooks are conscious of flavor. However, there are good cooks who ignore a very important factor when planning meals. The often over-looked factor is texture.

Imagine eating a meal of mashed potatoes, cream, chicken, split pea soup and custard. While each dish may taste delicious, the whole effect would be monotonous, texturally.

The French and the Chinese rate texture in foods as high as flavor. Yet Americans, as a whole, seem to be unaware of how textures can add piquancy and appeal to menus.

Texture-wise cooking involves three things: preparation, combination of different textures in various dishes in the menu, and combining different textures in one single dish.

The preparation of foods for cooking regulates the length of time they must be cooked—thus emphasizing the flavor and texture. For example, French string beans merely broken. If this fact is kept in mind and the cooking time shortened, they lose less flavor and crispness.

The interplay of textures in the various dishes of a menu can be achieved correctly by combining the fibers of meat, the smoothness of vegetables and the firm, crispness of a salad.

Combining various textures makes for a very interesting and appealing dish. The Chinese are outstanding in this type of cooking. Crispness and creaminess are the two main texture-contrasts found in Oriental cooking.

Crawford of Lapeer, in a ceremony performed at 11 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Mary's Catholic church, with the Rev. Fr. Leo Laige officiating. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Rose Crawford of Lapeer.

Eileen Hander was the soloist for the wedding service.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Oscar Bareis, was matron of honor and Judith Crawford, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid.

Their wait-length gowns were styled alike of frosted nylon velvety over forget-me-not blue tulle. Petite flower caps in matching blue, and bouquets of blue and white carnations completed their ensembles.

Nancy Hill of Garden City, a cousin of the bride, served as flower girl, wearing for the occasion a short yellow dress and carrying a basket of flower petals.

Keith Rappette was best man; Robert Houle was groomsmen; and William Fisher of Lapeer, and Oscar E. Bareis, brother-in-law of the bride, were the ushers.

At the reception which followed in St. Mary's school hall, Judy Weinkauff was in charge of the guest book; Mary Slocum poured punch; Mrs. Robert Farrell cut the wedding cake; Kay Hornung poured coffee; and Mrs. Keith Rappette and Joan Weinkauff were at the gift table.

FASHION NOTES

American women, as a group are the best dressed women in the world. Of course, this is mainly due to the prosperity found in this country, but the good sense and good taste of American women have had a hand in making this true.

Women in this country, on the whole, want their dollar's worth. Because of this, there are good looking, well-made clothes available in almost all price groups.

Coats, dresses, shoes, lingerie and accessories that are sound fashion and sound investments are seen in stores all over the country.

"We are less prone to wear a design that is a fad or 'in style' at the moment than the women of other countries. Right after the second world war, we went overboard for the new look. The exaggerated length of skirts was accepted.

Looking back, the reason for this seems to be that women were tired of the unattractive short skirts made necessary by shortage of material; they were happy for a complete change. They got it!

However, since that time women have stayed on an even keel. They seem to have completely disregarded that "flat look." After trying it once during the twenties, they have learned a lesson.

Fashion magazines are a big help. They inform women living in small, rural towns of the latest things to be found in the large metropolitan cities. If not followed too closely, a good fashion magazine makes a fine guide.

For most of us, the most important single purchase in a new season is either a new suit or a coat. The reason for this is simple: a suit or a coat represents quite a large outlay of money.

During a season when a great many of fashion changes are being made, the idea of buying some thing new is tempting. It is hard to be sure if the trend is going to be a passing one or whether it would be wise to invest in something that at the moment seems noteworthy.

When faced with this problem, it is a good idea to keep in mind that of course, there is no rule. Therefore, if the new design or cut is drastic, it would be better to choose something more time-tested. This rule applies even when the new design is becoming, if you must watch your dollars.

Recent fashion business is booming. Women like the new spring styles. The reason may be that they are not startling or over-dramatic. The general fashion outlook is pleasing and beautiful and women are allowed a great deal of leeway in their choice. There is a tremendous variety of silhouettes, textures and color.

Classic suit and coat designs do not have to be dull-looking just because they are that. There is a great need in every woman's wardrobe for the crisp, devoid of detailing and handsome suit or coat, made of fine fabric.

Contrasting colored heels on shoes are something new this season. The new heel is very slender and is called "rapiar heel." One interesting pair of fall shoes is the fashion of calfskin in the classic pump design. Their rapier heels are enclosed in an aluminum casing.

One line of shoes has a removable-type heel and comes with a set of heels in three different colors.

Never yank sheets to loosen them from under the mattress to loosen them from several layers of other bedding which you have taken off together. Sheets may tear with such treatments while they are still quite serviceable.

The HERB CORNER
Flavor, Fragrance, Beauty

There are several well-worn, but still very serviceable, rules to observe when cooking with herbs. The most important of these is "Do not use too much." As with salt and pepper, too much for one may be not enough for another; but until you find by experiment the amount most palatable for you, use one-fourth teaspoon of herb or one teaspoon of fresh herb when preparing an amount sufficient for six servings.

Another suggestion which it is wise to follow is, "Do not serve too many herb-seasoned dishes in one meal," but a soup highlighted with an herb is an appetizing introduction to any dinner.

Soup is often seasoned with a mixture of two or more herbs, but with herbs as with people, it is easier to become better acquainted with one at a time. When you serve soup, get acquainted, or stimulate to a higher degree your acquaintance with one of the culinary herbs.

After this we offer the following suggestion: add to a home-made soup the last few minutes of cooking or to a canned soup when it is put on to heat: a bit of savory or oregano to bean soup; bay leaf to beef soup; thyme, fennel, or dill to borghetti, saffron, or bouillabaisse; tarragon, saffron, or rosemary to chicken soup; marjoram to clam soup and thyme to clam chowder; tarragon to clear consommé and savory or saffron to fish consommé; thyme to gumbo; savory to lentil soup; oregano to butternut soup; rosemary to mock turtle soup; tarragon to mushroom soup; marjoram to onion soup; thyme or rosemary to pea soup; chives or leeks to potato soup; rosemary, marjoram or basil to spinach soup; tarragon, oregano or basil to tomato soup; rosemary or basil to turtle soup; and thyme to vegetable soup.

Board Candidates Answer Questions on School Policies

1. Why are you seeking the position of member of the Board of Education?
2. How do you feel about the choice of possible curricula of some school services as an alternative to asking for additional operating revenue through increased tax millage; if such a move should be necessary?
3. What use do you think should be made of the present high school building after the new high school is occupied?
4. Do you feel teachers' salaries are adequate at the present time?
5. Do you favor a merit system for teachers' salaries as opposed to a rigid salary schedule?

William J. Collins

1. "Because a number of friends, feeling that I had the qualifications necessary to work with others on the Board in attempting to solve the many problems with which it is confronted, asked me to run. Being interested in a well-rounded educational program for the children of Chelsea, I consented."

2. "It is the duty of the Board of Education and the adult population of the community to provide the best possible educational facilities for our over-growing youth population. How this is done can only be determined by continued effort and deliberation by the Board members as they meet each month with school officials."

3. "I have no suggestion for the use of the present high school building, other than that it might be used for a Junior High building, provided the new high school is not adequate to care for both."

4. "Teachers are professional people, and as such, are entitled to a standard of living which permits them to maintain this status in the community. Whether teachers' salaries in Chelsea meet these requirements is something to be studied."

5. "We all like to feel that we have achieved our status in life through merit. Whether a Merit System for teachers' salaries in the Chelsea schools is feasible should be the subject for much thought and discussion."

Reuben Lesser

Candidate Reuben Lesser did not answer the questions submitted to him.

Leon Marsh

1. "As a father of four children, naturally, I am interested in having a broad curriculum, pleasant schools and excellent teachers. As a taxpayer, I am concerned over suggested increase in present-day taxes. I feel that with my experience and background as an efficiency expert and factory superintendent, that I can be an asset to the community by serving on the Board of Education."

2. "I am a firm believer that all problems can be solved. However, no problem can be solved by evading the issue. Without the knowledge of the facts which are available to the Board of Education, my feeling at the present time is that no curtailment of school services or any increased tax millage are justified."

3. "The present High School building has been condemned for the past several years as the public has been told. I feel it should be sold to private enterprise as soon as the new high school is completed. I am sure the Board of Education would never have asked for funds to build a new high school if they had thought the present building was suitable and safe for our children. I can see no necessity for sending good money after bad."

4. "I am unable to comment on the teachers' salaries because I have no knowledge of their present salaries."

5. "I definitely favor a merit system for teachers' salaries. However, based on merit and not on seniority. I feel that a cost-of-living factor and an annual improvement factor that has proved very successful in private industry can be worked into the teachers' wage structure."

John W. Merkel

1. "In addition to an interest in school affairs and in the community, I feel that I can make a constructive contribution to the Board. Having a business interest and being aware of substantial burden taxes impose on all of us, I would promote the most efficient operation of our school system so that we may realize the maximum service from our tax money."

2. "We are all concerned with the present level of taxes. We also know that the schools have a very important function to perform. I would hope that we could encourage greater efficiency and economy in the present operation to avoid an increase in tax millage or curtailment of service. If such a move should be necessary a careful study should be made of the tax structure, the proposed curtailment, and the effect on the over-all school operation. This information should be available before a decision is made."

3. "First of all, it would be necessary to determine the legal status of the title to the property and whether termination of school operations would result in loss of interest in the title. If it is feasible to sell the property at a substantial price and apply this on existing indebtedness we should consider this. Careful study should also be given to the use of the present high school buildings as a possibility for relieving overcrowding in the other buildings. Any decision regarding this property should be such as to eliminate the necessity for any further tax increases at this time."

4. "For many years teachers' salaries lagged behind incomes realized in other fields. Progress has been made in correcting this situation. Our aim must always be to pay such salaries as will enable us to maintain a capable faculty in the school buildings, our children inhabit mean little without qualified, inspired teachers."

5. "This poses one of the most serious problems in the school administration field. We all desire to relate income closely to merit; however, the problem of evaluating teachers' ability is a tremendous one. The effect upon morale and smooth administration is often adverse and damaging. Salary schedules are based on seniority advantages. Perhaps the solution to the problem is hiring good, capable teachers and then endeavoring to keep them."

Kiwanis Club Plans To Meet with Scouts At Bruin Lake Camp

Entertainment at Monday's Kiwanis club meeting in the social center of the Methodist church was a one-act film entitled "Challenge on the Lake." David Pastor, a high school student, served as projectionist. The film, which won the Academy award in 1956 as the best one-reel film, showed Sir Donald Campbell's speedboat record run on Lake Mead near Las Vegas.

Kiwanis guests at the meeting were Ralph Root of Ann Arbor, Harold Thayer of Pinckney and Dwayne Shoemaker, William Swihart, Harold Young and Carl Barnett, of Ypsilanti.

Also a guest was George Winchester, Jr., Mayor, as past lieutenant-governor. Inducted two new members into the Chelsea club—P. G. Schable, Jr. and Henry Thierman, a former Kiwanian at Columbus, O.

Mayor also outlined plans for publicizing the Kiwanis rummage sale scheduled for July 12 and 13 and announced that the first pick-up will take place Monday, June 17. Next Monday, the Kiwanis meeting will be held at Bruin Lake to dedicate the Kiwanis Boy Scout cabin with a plaque. Dinner is to be served at 6:30 p.m.

No Holiday Traffic Deaths In County

Sheriff Erwin L. Klager, in a report of traffic accidents for the Memorial holiday week-end, said there were no traffic fatalities in the county and only five personal injury accidents out of the total of 20 accidents which occurred during the four-day holiday period.

Of these, 16 were property damage accidents, total estimated damage being $6,100; and five, personal injury accidents.

Sheriff's department personnel patrolled a total of 10,000 miles during the long week-end, 4,987 miles being tallied for county highways.

Thursday night Lynwood Noah, North-of-Chelsea, suffered head lacerations when his car went out of control and rolled over. Reports state the car went into a skid as it approached a dip in the road.

The car upset and rolled over-end for 240 feet before climbing an embankment and then falling back down to the road, deputies reported. Noah was thrown from the careening vehicle when it first began rolling over, officers noted.
